NEW PLAN SUGGESTED FOR CAPITAL REMOVE

If the people of Florida really desire to remove their state capital to a more central location, there is a proposed plan by which the removal can be made, and a new $5,000,000 state capitol erected, without cost to the taxpayers.

While the plan is new to the United States it is not original, as Australia's present national capital was located on the plan herewith suggested for Florida, and in a manner that amicably settled the claims of rival cities.

Here is the plan: When the proposed amendment to the state constitution is submitted to the people of Florida providing for the removal of the state capital to a point in the state more convenient to the people, on the same ballot provide for the appointment, by the governor or the legislature, of a state capital commission, the commission to be authorized, in case the amendment carries, to select and purchase say a ten-mile square tract of unimproved land, the best possible for state capital purposes, a tract with all natural advantages—lakes, rivers, forests and good soil. There are many such tracts in Florida.

In the exact center of this ten-mile square reservation build a $5,000,000 state capitol, with avenues radiating from the capitol like spokes from the hub of a wheel—the plan on which the capital of the United States (Washington) was laid out by a world famous French engineer.

After reserving all the land that may be needed by the state for any and all purposes, the surplus land could be readily sold to the highest bidder (imagine what would be paid for choice sites) at a profit large enough to pay all state capital removal expenses, and for building and equipping the great state capitol in the United States.

The proposed state capital district could be beautified and made sanitary perfect by Florida's (or the world's) ablest engineers, landscape artists and architects—prizes to be awarded for the best plans. A Chicago man was awarded the chief prize for the plans on which the capitol of Australia was laid out.

Provision would be made in the plans for parks, avenues, hotels, stores, factories, residences, office buildings, railway stations, publicity utility plants, etc.—everything that makes for comfort, convenience and utility. In brief, a model capital city for an intelligent, progressive people.

In a state capital district as suggested a city of 10,000 people would spring into being almost overnight.

With no antagonism to Orlando, Ocala, Palatka, Kissimmee or any other state capital aspirant, the writer believes the foregoing plan would solidly unite the friends of state capital removal, and would give the greatest satisfaction to the greatest number of people in the state of Florida, a plan that can be worked out to a successful conclusion, and a plan that would provide Florida with a state capital that the people of all the United States would be proud of.

In November, 1900, the removal of the state capital was submitted to the people of Florida by the state Democratic committee. Four cities were voted for, and Tallahassee got a majority of 1269 over the three other cities, the vote being as follows: Tallahassee, 10,742; Jacksonville, 7676; Ocala, 4917; St. Augustine, 2881.—Titusville Advocate.

James Cathcart Will Resign as Collector Fla. Internal Revenue

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, May 17.—James M. Cathcart, collector of internal revenue for the district of Florida, announced yesterday that he had tendered his resignation to the secretary of the treasury to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor. Mr. Cathcart stated that he was undecided as to his future plans.

The nomination of Dan T. Gerew of Jacksonville to succeed Mr. Cathcart was sent to the senate yesterday by President Harding.

Seminole Fish and Game Protective Association

The above mentioned association, as its name implies, is organized for the protection of fish and game in Seminole county. It has been organized a little over two months and has a membership of upwards of 70 members and those have been enrolled without any special effort on the part of any one.

We are now going to try our membership to a good strong working strength; therefore we deem it proper to set forth some of the aims of the association; which are as follows: We believe in living up to the fish and game laws of this state and to promote the enactment of other fish and game laws if we think it necessary to do so in the future.

We do not believe it proper for any man or woman to set an example of law violation before the youth of our land, the violation of any law may set an example before children that may cause them to be lawless in years to come.

We are sworn to abide by the law ourselves and to report any violation by other persons.

We believe, that never in sport should human life be endangered.

We believe, that people should never kill or destroy willfully or wantonly fish or game.

We believe in respecting the rights and feelings of farmers, and property owners.

We believe in leaving seed birds and game for breeding purposes.

And we do not believe in being a fish or game hog.

We have arranged to hold meetings in several places throughout the county, including Longwood, Oviedo, Geneva, Chuluota, and Monroe and we hope that these meetings will be well attended as we fully believe when the aims of this Association are explained fully that you will be glad to join us in this work.

It is useless for me to call your attention to the open killing of game out of season in this county and you realize that this can't go on at its present rate much longer without some of our game becoming extinct; therefore we hope your good judgment and dislike of lawlessness will lead you to join us.

SALLIE HARRISON CHAPTER DAUGHTERS AMERICAN REVOLUTION HOLD MEETING

Election of Officers and Much Business Transacted

(From Tuesday's Daily) The Sallie Harrison chapter, D. A. R., held their May meeting Friday with Mrs. G. I. Loucks, hostess. This was the annual business meeting for election of officers, the following being elected for the coming year:

Mrs. W. E. Watson, regent; Miss Brenda Morrison, vice-regent; Mrs. A. R. Key, recording secretary; Miss Fannie Reba Munson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Geo. Chamberlain, historian; Mrs. A. K. Rosier, registrar; Mrs. J. N. Whitner, chaplain; Mrs. S. Puleston, Mrs. Anna DeForest and Mrs. Geo. Herring, members advisory board.

Plans for the coming year's work were discussed and plans for adding to the fund for the American Legion Home. The Chapter at the present time has on hand $563.00 toward this fund for the Legion boys and hopes during the coming year to reach the $1,000 mark. Plans are under way now for a ball to be given June 14th for the benefit of this fund and it is hoped all will co-operate to make it a success in every way. More definite plans and information will be given at a later date.

At the conclusion of the business a social half hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess served most delicious sherbet and cake.

TIGHTER LID WANTED FOR BOOTLEGGERS

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Manufacturers of proprietary medicines are more concerned with the elimination of medical bootleggers than in the sale of beer to the sick. H. B. Thompson, their Washington representative, told the house judiciary committee yesterday at hearings on the bill to tighten up the Volstead act.

"Prior to the enactment of the Volstead law 80 per cent of the makers of legitimate medicines in which alcohol was used were required to medicate it so as to unfit it for beverage," Mr. Thompson said. "We enforced that regulation before the country got the eighteenth amendment, but since then hundreds of permits have been issued under which disguised booze was turned out wholesale. We have nothing to do with beer and are entirely satisfied if you proceed with enactment of a law to prohibit its use."

Mr. Thompson declared the manufacturers were "asking no favors for booze," but simply protection for legitimate medicines. "When alcohol in proprietary medicines is medicated you'd have a fine time drinking it for booze," he said.

MELBOURNE TO HAVE A 9-HOLE GOLF COURSE

MELBOURNE, May 17.—Work has begun on a nine-hole golf course for the Melbourne Golf and Country Club, for which bonds amounting to $15,000 were sold. The club had a six hole course during the last year, having purchased 80 acres of land on the outskirts of Melbourne. Approximately $2,000 was expended on the course at that time. Now it is planned to clear 50 of the 80 acres for the larger course.

High School Commencement Exercises Tuesday Evening Close of a Most Successful Term

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

The exercises last night at the High school by the graduating class, marked the close of commencement for the year and were unusually impressive. The stage was decorated with quantities of ferns, palms and lovely baskets of Shasta daisies, forming a pretty setting for the happy young faces of the young men and women.

The exercises were opened by a selection by the Grammar School Orchestra, followed by the invocation by Dr. Paul C. Burhans.

Supt. T. W. Lawton then gave a delightful talk and explained the rules and regulations regarding the gold medal given by Dr. Edgar Mobley for the pupil with the highest mark in scholarship. This medal was won by Charlotte Smith of the Sophomore Class. Mrs. Leonardi, representing the Sallie Harrison Chapter of D. A. R., presented the medal offered by the local chapter to the pupils making the highest marks in American history. John Musson and Otis Cobb tying for first place were each presented a medal. Velma Venable was also presented a medal for high mark among the girls.

Dr. Walker gave a wonderful address, which he developed along the lines of "What we may do." In doing this he showed the wonderful advance made in the past fifty years and hinted at the possibilities of the future. He next developed the topic, "What we may be," showing that the poorest human intellect, had possibilities that if properly applied would revolutionize the world. Then taking the topic, "What we may hope for," said that by developing only the best that was in us, we may hope for a peaceful old age.

Prof. Claude Oglivie then made a delightful little talk, thanking the patrons, school board, faculty and students in helping make the past two years of school life a success. It is with deep regret that we bid Professor Oglivie farewell, but all join in wishing him success in his new undertaking.

As a token of appreciation of her help and advice the young men of the Civics Class presented their teacher, Mrs. John Leonardi, with a beautiful gold pin.

Diplomas were awarded the following: Curtis Barber, Otis Cobb, Walter Connally, Charles Henderson, Newton Lovell, John Musson, Mina Howard, Julia Laing, Rowena Otwell, Velma Venable, Helen Chorpeneing, Vivian Crosby, Marlon Dietrich, Anna Belle Dyson, Mary Eula Dyson, Sara Warren Easterly, Martha Garrison, Mary Garrison, Elizabeth Houllhan, Ruby Hart, Mildred Kennedy, Sara Wight and Kathleen Brady.

NEW SMYRNA-CORONADO BRIDGE TO BE OWNED BY THE COUNTY

The first step in the development of any section is good roads and free bridges. For many years New Smyrna and vicinity has enjoyed the reputation of having fairly good roads, but the most important bridge in this part of the county is owned by a corporation, and of course toll has to be charged for its building and maintenance. Several attempts have been made to have the county purchase this bridge and make it free, but all efforts have failed until now. A bill has recently passed the legislature to issue interest-bearing time warrants for the purchase of this bridge, and it is understood that the county commissioners will take up the purchase of this bridge at an early date.

It is up to the commissioners to decide whether the bridge will be made absolutely free or not. Taking into consideration that repairs must be made to the bridge from time to time and that a bridge keeper must be employed to open the draw for passing boats, many tax payers favor a small toll for automobiles and heavy vehicles to keep up the expense until the bridge is paid for.

Considering the fact that the bridge is to be paid for by the fifth commissioners district it is only fair to the

EAST SIDE PRIMARY SCHOOL

Closes Most Successful Year in The History of the School.

The charm of childhood ever makes a strong appeal and the attractive program presented at the East Side Primary, Monday morning, under the direction of the supervising principal, Mrs. Stella Arrington and her efficient corps of teachers, was received with appreciative applause by the large audience of parents and admiring friends who had gathered for the closing exercises of this popular school.

A lovely woodland scene was the pretty setting for the quaint and winsome characters of the old but always perennially new jingles of Mother Goose in which each little participant, portrayed his or her part with a spirit and inspiration that compelled the admiration of the spectators. Interspersed with song and dialogue and dances, the play entitled "A Trip to Mother Goose Land" was wonderfully sweet and cleverly adapted.

As we all know, who were once little "earth children" ourselves, Mother Goose plans this entertainment, pictured in nursery rhymes for the children of the earth who were put to sleep by the Sand Man, where dreams come true and the Mother Goose characters pay them a visit introducing them to the wonders of their famous land.

In response to the invitation "Who will go to the woods with me," the merry group of children, representing birds trooped in, while trotting thru the fields came the "Babes in the Woods" discussing the tales of Mother Goose and longing with all their hearts for them to appear in real life. Happily the Sand Man comes. In

The teachers have reason to be proud of their pupils and the excellent exhibit made by the school. A glimpse into the constant training and vigilant development of faculties as given in these annual exhibits but serves to prove an object lesson to the patrons of the school for co-operation and interest. At the conclusion of the program a free-will offering was given by the audience to be applied on the purchase of a Victrola for the school.

of the little earth children, called in fairy sunshine and fairy raindrop to assist her in waking up the flowers, and making them grow. The birds came in as harbingers of spring and after repeated efforts on the part of raindrop fairy and sunshine fairy the flowers finally awoke in all their beauty. The gardeners then came in delighted to see the garden all a bower of beauty. The play closed with a May song from the chorus, the gardeners, the flowers and the birds. Each child performed his part with credit, and the little play left the spirit of spring happiness in the air. The exhibit in all the rooms of the primary school gave evidence of excellent work on the part of both the teachers and children.

FLORIDA FIRST FILMS MADE FOR FLORIDA

WILL PICTURE THIS STATE AS IT REALLY IS WITHOUT ONE FLEA

Most ambitious scenario writers in this section are displaying interest in the Florida First Film, and will employ their best talents in constructing the story-plot to be acted against a background of Florida industries.

Meanwhile, business interests of the state care co-operating to make a stupendous success of this proposition to advertise the progress, industrial activities and the charm of Florida.

The Florida First Film will afford inside glimpses into the scenic beauties and industrial life of Florida. It will inform Florida people on what the rest of the state is doing. It will stimulate pride in the state. And, when sent throughout the country, it will draw attention of the whole United States to Florida.

What Florida is, what Florida has, what Florida is doing and what Florida hopes to accomplish—are impressions worth planting in the minds of the nation. Experience has shown that printed, descriptions of Florida, and such verbal reports as have gone forth, fall short of conveying a true and adequate picture of this perennial summerland.

Florida is not a picture of hanging moss, low, flat lands, ponds, rivers and alligators. It is not a land of mosquitoes, the interior country is not uninhabitable. This is an early impression of Florida that has persisted too long in the minds of millions in the United States whose acquaintance with modern Florida is very distant, indeed.

Florida is a "live" business section. Low lands have been drained, high ground has been improved. Where untouched forests stood, plants, packing houses and mills now are in operation. Where the lone cabin of some hardy Florida pioneer nestled among festoons of Spanish moss, splendid tourist hotels and beautiful tropical gardens and lawns are found today.

The day of the Spanish adventurer, the Indian, and early settler is gone. The old order of things in Florida is passing. Florida today is a fertile field for profitable investments. Florida offers unlimited possibilities for development.

Fortunately for Florida, men of the state who are turning natural resources and geographical advantages into budding fortunes, are men who realize what Florida is, what Florida has, what Florida is doing and what Florida hopes to accomplish.

The great wealth of natural resources, the millions of dollars that Florida derives annually from exports, furnishes ample proof of the solidarity of Florida. While the rest of the country is apprehensive of financial consequences, Florida continues to enjoy prosperity. One of Florida's chief problems is the problem of bringing in new capital.

The tourist comes to see the charm of this semi-tropical summerland, stays out his vacation and is gone. When the enormous profits of manufacturing Florida's raw products into finished products is brought to his attention, the tourist looks at Florida from the standpoint of investment. That is the manner in which Florida grows.

How can Florida advertise this great attraction for new capital?

Progressive minds of the state are turning to moving pictures as a means of expressing the subtle charm of Florida—the beauties of its scenery, its climate, its natural charm. Besides, the motion picture can show, in rapid order, the endless variety of Florida industries, the active, busy industrial life of Florida and the progressive forces that are forging Florida to the front as the greatest state in the Union.

The growth of Florida has been so rapid as to astonish Florida people themselves, and now the motion picture, The Florida First Film, must show what the growth of Florida really amounts to.

YOWELL-DREW ENTERTAIN FOR THEIR FORCE. Last night, by the bright light of the moon, the force of the Yowell-Drew big department store motored to Sanford for their monthly banquet, about 50 being in the jolly party. A superb supper with every possible dainty from fried chicken to ice cream was served on tables prettily decorated. During the feast short talks were made by various members of the force, each containing very helpful suggestions for the work. Altogether, this was decided to be among the most enjoyable of the many entertainments given by this firm who so liberally consider the pleasures of their employes.—Reporter-Star.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING MAY 24, 1921

Temperature: Temperatures were generally moderate, ranging from 2 to 4 degrees below the normal over most of the section.

Precipitation: The last ten days were unusually wet, some localities reporting that the record for May was broken. The last two days of the previous week and the forepart of the current week gave unusually heavy rains in much of the northern and central portions of the peninsula—especially the west central portion, where seven-day amounts ranged from 6 to 8 inches, or more. The current week was not so wet as the previous one; the weekly totals along the Atlantic coast to the south of Brevard county and to the north of Broward county being light. Some heavy amounts, in inches and tenths, were Tampa, 4.8; Bradentown, 3.1; Bartow, 3.0; Tarpon Springs, 4.0; Jacksonville, 1.2; Miami, 2.5, and Orlando, 2.6.

Condition of Crops: Showers and continued wet soil were unfavorable for work, which was generally delayed. Some fields of cotton, corn and other crops are becoming grassy. Some late cotton has come up since rains began, stands are fair to poor; the progress and condition during the week were poor—some is dying in Leon County. Corn, cane, citrus fruits, and ranges were mostly improved, except in low lands where soggy soil is unfavorable. Melons suffered very much from the continued rains, and shipments were delayed. Tobacco and peanuts are in fair to good condition. Tomatoes and other truck crops suffered serious damage from heavy rains, and some crops were destroyed, especially on low lands.

FORD PRODUCING 4,000 CARS A DAY

Present Production Greater Than for Same Period Last Year. Ford is building cars at full speed. And, according to an official statement from the factory at Detroit, the demand for Ford cars and trucks still exceeds the output, despite the fact that a new high level of production has been reached.

By the first of May the figures representing daily production were in the neighborhood of 4,000 a day, so the May schedule was set at 101,125 cars and trucks, not including the output of the Ford Canadian plant or any of the foreign assembling plants. The output mounted daily; May 12th brought forth 4092, the greatest number that have been produced in one day this year. Since the month has 25 working days, present indications point to a new high record.

A comparison of Ford production figures for 1920 and 1921 discloses the fact that for April, 1921, the output was greater by 34,514 than for the corresponding month of a year ago. The output for May, 1921, will probably overshadow May, 1920, by about fifteen or twenty thousand cars and trucks.

Approximately 43,000 men are at work in the Detroit plant of the Ford Motor Company. The factory is operating on full time, six days a week and three shifts a day.

RIPARIAN RIGHTS BILL IS READY TO SIGN

BUTLER-LINDSAY BILL LOOKS LIKE IT WILL BE A LAW

TALLAHASSEE, May 26.—After working on the Butler-Lindsay riparian rights bill for more than five hours yesterday, the house passed the bill at 10:25 o'clock last night by a vote of 50 to 15, just as it had come from the senate. More than a dozen efforts were made to amend the bill, but none of them were successful. The forces opposed to the bill grew weaker during the day and at night were reduced to less than a score of votes for the various amendments offered to the bill.

Crofton, Bishop and Futch led the forces opposed to the bill. Crofton offered most of the amendments made last night, having half a dozen on the desk when the house opened at 8:30 o'clock. The first one taken up at the night session was one which struck out the words "granting submerged and filled in lands" from the title of the bill.

"Confirm the riparian rights if you wish," said he, "but why grant the submerged lands without compensation?"

Mr. Forster, of Seminole, made a masterly address showing that there was no question of giving to anyone rights which had not been in his possession for many years if he has long been an owner of riparian rights. He told how the act of 1856 operated and said the honor of the state was pledged to maintain the rights secured under it.

Representative L. E. Wade also pointed out that the bill does not seek to injure anyone, much less the state of Florida. If the I. I. board, which is now so solicitous about the welfare of the state, had its eyes open a few years back, it might have headed off a $30,000,000 steal, he said.

Tillman, of Alachua, spoke in favor of the amendment, asking if the present legislature had a right to deprive the child yet unborn of his rights of the sovereignty of the state.

Parriah moved to table the amendment, which was done, 47 to 16, after Crofton had five minutes to defend his amendment.

Crofton pointed out that if the state once divested itself of the lands it would not be able to get them back except after condemnation proceedings in which it would have to pay a big price.

Our Public Schools--The Best In the South

TRULY has it been said that no nation is greater than its public school system. Nor is any state, county or city greater than its schools. Sanford, rich in farming industries, rich in citrus groves, rich in commercial lines, is no less rich in her most excellent system of public schools. Well may the citizens of Sanford be boastful of her schools, for they rank among the very best in the state. Our graduates are admitted on diplomas, without further examination, to any reputable college in the South. And they "make good", while in college, for their preparation has been thorough.

Prof. Claude S. Ogilvie, principal of the Sanford High School, is without a superior in his line in the state, and he has gathered about him a faculty of men and women of high scholarship and successful experience, and the work done throughout the year just drawing to a close is without parallel in this city.

Miss Clara Millen, principal of the Grammar School and Mrs. S. P. Arrington, supervising principal of the Primary Schools, have both been connected with our school system for many years, and stand high in their profession. Associated with them are teachers of marked ability, who are co-operating heartily in making this one of the best schools of the South.

The Board of Trustees, composed of men of large business affairs, willingly sacrifice matters of personal interest in order to serve the schools, and their sound business judgment contributes much to the success of the system.

Patrons, and citizens in general, support the schools with their influence and their money. Especially commendable is the fine work of the Woman's Club, which is always ready to come to the assistance of our educational institutions. And nothing could be finer than the helpful attitude of the churches, Chamber of Commerce, banks and business men, who have co-operated so cordially with the principals, teachers and superintendent in every effort made for the improvement of our schools. The people of Sanford work and vote for school bonds, for special taxes, and for a higher maximum general school tax. No bond issue ever fails to be carried; no constitutional amendment for increased millage for education ever fails; and the people who are willing to work for, vote for, and pay for good schools are sure to have good schools.

While we are building the city substantial for ourselves, we are also building a substantial citizenry to take care of this city after the present builders have retired from their labors. But these boys and girls are helping us to build the city. They are showing to the world what Sanford can do and what kind of citizens will make up the next generation. They are writing essays on "The City Substantial" that present new and greater possibilities for the future, and indicate that they realize some of the responsibilities that will soon be theirs as citizens.

We are building for the future industrially, commercially, and socially, and we are not unmindful of the fact that of more importance than all else are the men and women that our schools are building, for—

"We are all blind until we see
That in the human plan,
Nothing is worth the making if
It does not make the man.

Why build these cities glorious,
If man unbuilt goes?
In vain we build the world unless
The builder also grows."

BACCALAUREATE EXERCISES AT HIGH SCHOOL SUNDAY WERE WELL ATTENDED

Third Number on Program of Week's Events

EXCELLENT SERMON

BY DR. P. BURHANS AND WITH MUSICAL PROGRAM WAS GREATLY ENJOYED

The baccalaureate sermon at the High School Auditorium, the third event in the high school commencement exercises, as usual was well attended and the auditorium was filled to overflowing with the friends and relatives of the graduating class of 1921.

Upon the stage were Professor Ogilvie, Prof. T. V. Lawson, Dr. Burhans, Dr. Brown, Dr. Hyman, H. C. DuBois, G. W. Spencer, S. O. Shubler, Miss Mabel Bowler, Dr. McCall and Miss Sara Mardre. The seniors marched in with the chorists and were seated in the first row of seats.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached by Dr. Paul Burhans, pastor of the Congregational church and was undoubtedly one of the best sermons that has ever been delivered here to a graduating class. Dr. Burhans dwelt upon the physical, mental and spiritual life of the men and women of today.

Dr. Burhans dwelt upon the physical, mental and spiritual life of the men and women of today. He brought out the predominant idea that religion is the strongest element of life that makes it basic.

PUPILS OF THE MUNSON STUDIO GIVE CHARMING MUSICAL RECITAL AT H. S.

It was with the deepest interest that the large audience gathered at the High School Auditorium Friday evening and listened to the program given by the piano pupils of Mrs. Fannie Munson.

The piano pupils of Mrs. Fannie Munson, assisted by Mrs. Irene Halle, soprano; Mrs. R. Deas, accompanist; and the High School orchestra, the latter under the direction of Harold Rasche.

Under the direction of Mrs. Munson the annual May recital in always a great success and a musical event that the city can well be proud of.

The little folk group by Pearl Robson and Marguerite Garner were charmingly played and very wonderful, contrasting happily with the solo recitals.

A new and pleasing addition to the program was the Sanford High School male quartet, a delightful innovation and most popular.

Several of the pupils displayed a pronounced artistic finish. The little folk group by Pearl Robson and Marguerite Garner were charmingly played and very wonderful.

HUGHES TAKES Military and Civil Authorities Clash Over Prisoner

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The State department has taken official steps to guard more closely the prisoner by which alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes can be obtained in the United States.

In a communication to heads of embassies and legations, the department outlined the issuance and use of certificates by which members of the military authorities.

"We Picked Up Seven Large Snaps Last Morning Using Rat-Snaps." So writes Mr. B. E. Carpenter, of New York.

"The secretary of state presents compliments to their excellencies the state department's communication, and has the honor to inform that he has had the honor to receive the certificates for use in the matter of the rat-snaps."

Oregon Must Assure Safety To Get Treaty

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A definite statement outlining the conditions upon which the United States would extend recognition to the Oregon government of Mexico has been prepared for submission to President Wilson.

Mr. Halle was heard by the Senate on May 23. He was heard by the Senate on May 23. He was heard by the Senate on May 23.

Conditions for recognition, it is understood, are practically identical with those proposed by the Secretary of State in his report at the last session of Congress.

The important features of the communication is said to be the insistence that Oregon must sign some definite document guaranteeing the American and their interests will be properly safeguarded in Mexico.

FREE RANGE BULL WHACKS TRAIN COSTS TWO LIVES

JACKSONVILLE, May 19.—Eight-year-old Roger of Savannah, Ga., received burns from which later he died. Fireman George Henry, negro, of Savannah, Ga., was killed instantly and four others received slight injuries when the engine and three cars of Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 1 overturned at White Oak, Fla., slightly north of Savannah, Ga., early last night.

According to announcement of the local Seaboard officers the train running at a moderate rate of speed, hit a ball, causing the derailment. The engine, a mail car and two express cars overturned. The train was on route from Washington to Florida points.

MODERN STABLE FOR DAIRY FARM

Sanitary and Healthful Home for Herd of Cows.

SILOS PRESERVE FRESH FEED

Sunlight, Fresh Air and Warmth, Three Things That Make Cows Productive and Healthy Are Provided For.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building work on the farm, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 127 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Now that spring is fast turning into summer, it is time for the owner of the modern dairy farm to begin to plan the new buildings he may need to house his herd next winter. For it is an undisputed fact that a modern, sanitary, weather-tight and well-ventilated cow stable and barn is one of the greatest profit producers for the owner of a dairy herd.

Summer is the time farmers are required to build new buildings or remodel the old ones, for in the warm weather the stock takes care of themselves and building operations can go on without inconvenience. However, method of arranging the equipment so that the work can be done easily and quickly is used in the modern dairy barn. Also numerous pieces of labor-saving equipment are installed.

The stall partitions usually are of steel, set into the concrete floor. These partitions are easily kept clean and sanitary. The floors of the stalls are either of concrete or some of the less hard floor materials, such as cork brick or wood block. Back of each stall is a gutter, which permits the refuse to be washed to a drain whence it is piped to a liquid manure tank.

Overhead is a carrier track running over both the litter alleys at the sides of the stable and over the feeding alley through the center of the building. The carrier that is hung to the track provides a means by which the litter can be removed to the manure piles at the rear of the stable and by which the food can be distributed to the stall head.

Drinking cups, which are connected to the pipes from the water pressure system are located at the stall head, one cup for each two cows. These drinking cups or bowls are ingenious devices. They have a valve in them that turns on the water as the cows press down their muzzles, and shuts off the water as the cows raise their heads. Careful watch has been kept on cows in stables where there are drinking cups, and it has been recorded that there is little time in either the day or night when one or more of the animals are not drinking. Records of milk production in the same stables show that where there is a continuous supply of fresh water, the animals give from 10 to 20 per cent more milk.

the quicker the farmer gets his plans and arranges for the construction of the buildings he wants the better.

The advantages and good features of modern dairy barns and cows' stables have been pointed out in these articles numerous times, but they are so important to the man who wants to get the maximum of profit from his herd that they will bear repetition many times.

Sunlight, fresh air and warmth are the three things that make cows productive and healthy. And nature furnishes all three without charge. The dairy herd owner, however, has to supply the building in which nature's gifts may be conserved and put to work for the profit of the dairyman.

A cow stable designed to house the herd in the most profitable way is shown in the accompanying illustration. This is a one-story cow stable, designed so that the milk producers will be kept warm and comfortable in winter, will be supplied with plenty of fresh air, and their surroundings will be sanitary.

The building is 102 feet long and 28 feet wide, and is of frame construction set on a concrete foundation. This building is what is known as the "monitor" type, taking its name from the shape of the roof. Along the side walls of the building are 23 windows, 13 on each side, while in the monitor part of the roof there are as many more windows, equally distributed on either side.

These windows are one of the most important features of the building. In the first place they face the east and west, so that whenever the sun is shining in the winter the building interior gets the full effect of it. Cows provide their own warmth in winter, and the better they are protected the less heat they throw off. Heat is produced by the food the animals consume. So it can be realized that the less food required to produce heat, the more food will go toward milk production. That is what a weather-tight warm cow stable does toward increasing milk production. The feed the animals consume goes to milk rather than to produce heat to keep the cows warm.

The sunlight admitted by the many windows also has a purifying effect on the air in the barn. It will be noted by consulting the floor plan that the 34 stalls are grouped in four blocks and that the animals face the center of the building. This arrangement throws the litter alleys to either side of the building, where they get full benefit of the sunlight. When it is remembered that sunlight is nature's germ killer, it will be understood that there is a strong motive for this arrangement.

Another feature of the modern dairy barn is its equipment. The factory there are two silos, which combined have sufficient capacity to provide the animals this building will house with fresh feed all through the cold months when the cows are inside.

It is in such stables as this one that present-day dairy farmers are housing their herds and are making them a great deal more profitable investment than under the old conditions. A modern dairy barn or cow stable will pay for itself in increased revenue in a few years.

KEROSENE LAMPLIGHT BEST

Efficiency of the Eye Declared to Be Best When a Yellow Flame Is Used.

There has long been an impression that yellow light is more agreeable to the eye than that containing chiefly the green and blue rays, and it is generally believed, for example, by many medical and technical men that the kerosene flame produces a more "restful" light than other illuminants, especially than incandescent solids.

This supposition has been submitted to careful tests by C. E. Ferrie and G. Rand, and the results have appeared in the Transactions of the Illuminating Engineering Society, remarks the Scientific American Monthly. The experiments have compared the kerosene flame with the light from the carbon incandescent lamp, the Mazda lamp and with Welsbach mantles containing various amounts of ceria, and therefore varying in yellowness.

The standard of comparison is the efficiency of the eye as determined by the ratio of time during which steadily observed type is clear or blurred. The results obtained from numerous careful, prolonged experiments indicate that there is some justification for this impression, as they indicate that the efficiency of the eye diminishes more rapidly with light from the metal filament than with that from kerosene, and decreasing yellowness in Welsbach mantles also diminishes this efficiency of the eye. The authors, however, are not yet prepared to state positively that yellow light is better than white, but merely that yellow is better than green.

To Clean Paintings. A successful way to clean oil paintings is to sponge them quickly with pure soap suds. After drying the surface with a soft cloth, rub the picture with a chamolli skin barely moistened with sweet oil.

India's Cotton. The total estimated yield of the Indian cotton crop for 1919-1920 is 5,963,000 bales of 400 pounds each. India can supply not more than 25 per cent of the textiles for domestic demand.

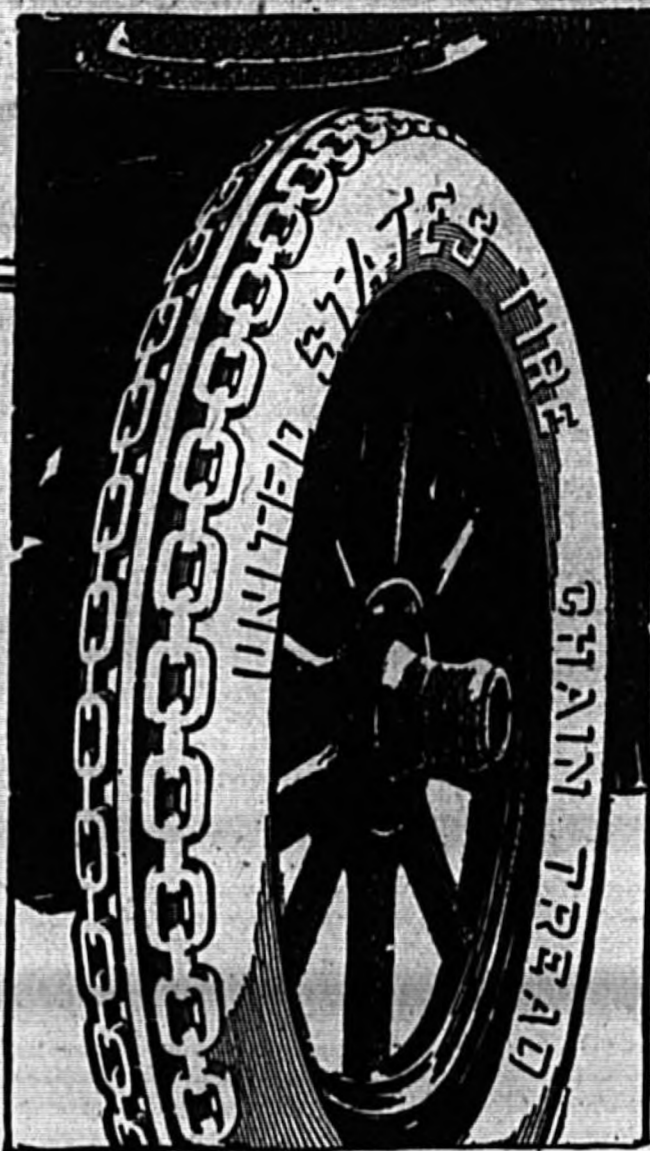

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S. Tire user gets fresh, live tires of current production."

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

"In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires."

Economy rides on U.S. Tires

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SESSION IN ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

The Presbyterian General Assembly met in St. Louis at 11 a. m. Thursday, and was opened with a sermon by retiring Moderator, Dr. W. L. Lingie, of Richmond, Va.

Dr. A. B. Curry, of Memphis, Tenn., was elected moderator on the first ballot. Drs. H. H. Sweets, of Louisville, Ky., S. H. Chester, of Louisville, Tenn., and I. S. McElroy, of Columbus, Ga., were among the other nominees in the running.

Four matters of importance will claim the attention of the General Assembly.

- 1.—Closer Relations with other Presbyterian and Reformed Bodies.
- 2.—A General Equipment Fund Campaign for $5,000,000.
- 3.—The Work and Office of the Deacons.
- 4.—The Duties and Authority of the General Assembly's Committee of Systematic Beneficence and Stewardship.

The first of these items was quickly disposed of at the opening of the session by postponing the matter until next year that the Ad Interim committee might have time for further consideration and consultation.

Dr. Lingie, the retiring Moderator will be remembered by many Sanford people from his visit here some five years ago. He baptized Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee's first baby. He has been the personal friend of both Mr. and Mrs. Brownlee for some years.

Dr. Ward showed up a clipping telling about some spinach that brought the farmer $5 a ton, cost $3060 freight and was sold to the consumer for $300 a ton. Most like Florida alligator pears, isn't it?—Leesburg Commercial.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF DELAND DIED ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, May 24.—Arrangements for the funeral of Dr. John MacDiarmid, prominent physician and former mayor of DeLand, who died on the train near here last night, it is not known whether his body will be returned to DeLand or sent to his former home in Georgia. MacDiarmid, who was a resident of DeLand for twenty years, was on his way to the hospital here for treatment but died just before the train arrived.

DEATH OF MRS. C. C. PREVATT

(From Monday's Daily) Mrs. Candacia Prevatt died at her home in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon after a short illness. The remains were brought here today and the funeral services occurred from the residence of her son, Solon F. Weeks at his residence on Magnolia avenue this afternoon. Dr. Brownlee, of the Presbyterian church officiated and interment was made in Lakeview cemetery.

PI CAPPA PHI INSTALLATION DINNER AT MONTEZUMA

(From Monday's Daily) The Pi Cappa Phi fraternity of the John B. Stetson University gave their installation dinner at the Montezuma Saturday evening at 9:00 o'clock. Forty covers were laid with the fraternity colors, white and gold. This color scheme featured the entire course, which was as follows:

- Grape Fruit Cocktail a la Montezuma
- Cream of Celery en Tasse
- Celery Olives Pickles
- Croquette Sauté Monniere
- Roast Capon, Cranberry Sauce
- Holiday Dressing
- Candied Yams French Peas
- Native Corn on Cob
- Asparagus Ninagrettes
- Banana Fritters
- Hot Biscuits
- Macedoin Cream of Cheese
- French Dressing
- Pi Cappa Phi Ice Cream Cake
- Coffee Demitasse
- Cigars Cigarettes

The evening was greatly enjoyed by the members of the fraternity. Regular installation ceremonies were carried out with some very interesting talks by members.

It is with a great deal of interest to Sanford to have this fine body of students to hold their banquets here and Sanford extends to them a very cordial welcome and hopes to have them on many occasions again.

The Montezuma is quite popular with the Stetson frats and hopes to have the boys often.

ROADS MUST CUT OPERATING COST OR LOSE CREDIT

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Railroads must make sharp reductions in their operating expenses if their credit and financial stability are to be re-established, a committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which has made a survey of the transportation question, declared last night in a statement.

Necessity of practicing strict economy was urged, the committee pointing out that "readjustment of salaries and wages is in progress in all other industries, and it is to be assumed that railroad wages will in the future, as they did in the past, bear an equitable relationship to wages paid in other activities."

The committee was of the opinion that the grouping of consolidation of railroads must ultimately be accomplished. It also declared that Federal incorporation of railroads was highly desirable.

No additional legislation on the railroad question, however, was needed at this time, the statement said, as it was advisable to have further experience with the transportation and before attempting to modify it.

The committee stated it had come to the conclusion that "even with increased traffic that will come with the gradual return of business prosperity, the business of railroad transportation can not be restored to a profitable basis until the present high operating expenses are cut down."

"It is recognized by the railroad committee report continued, that rates and fares cannot be increased
