Panel: No Fewer Than Four Laws Violated

Iran-Contra Panel Blames Reagan For Scandal

vestigators blamed President Reagan today for the Iran-Contra scandal and said he tolerated an atmosphere that allowed his sides to break the law. But the House and Senate conmittees found no proof he knew about the diversion of Iran arms profits to the Contra rebels.

In a long-awaited report, Congressional Iran-Contra committees said Reagan may not have known what his staff at the National Security Council was doing in carrying out the secret sale of U.S. arms.

And it said administration officials defied the law and engaged in a cover-up in trying to hide details of the sordid affair once it was revealed last Nov. 25.

But investigators, who spent 11 months and $4. million investigating secret sales of U.S. arms to Iran and the diversion of profits to the Contras.

said that Reagan bears responsibility for what happened even though he may not have known all the details

"The ultimate responsibility for the events of the Iran Contra affair must rest with the president," the majority report said.

The massive report, however, is not the definitive word on the scandal. Special Prosecutor

Lawrence Walsh is conducting a criminal probe and is expected to seek criminal indiciments by the end of the year.

In its report, the committees said they did not decide whether anyone acted with criminal intent or was guilty of any crime, leaving that to Walsh and the federal grand jury.

But it said, "The committees condemn without reservation the making of false statements to Congress and the withholding, shredding and alteration of documents relative to a pending

"The president created or at most tolerated an environmment where those who did know of the diversion believed with certainty that they were carrying out the president's policy." the report of the majority of the 16 panel members said.

In a statement, Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii, chairman of the Senate Select Committee, which along with the House panel conducted 12 weeks of hearings last summer into the scandal, found that officials who participated in the affair showed 'disdain for the law.'

"The president has also failed to use his 'bully pulpit' to condemn the lies, the obstruction of government documents or the cover-up that has been a matter of public record for months." Sen.

Kiwanis Honors Mercer

By Jame Casselberry Herald Staff Writer

Sanford City Commissioner John Y. Mercer is the recipient of the prestigious Randall Chase Senior Citizen Award presented annually by the Kiwania Club of Sanford.

Mercer said. "This has been a very great award in Sanford and it's very humbling to be chosen. It's a great honor and I'm grateful to the Kiwania Club for choosing me.

He said he knew Randall Chase and worked with him on everal civic projects, adding "He was a rare giant, a tremendous man and everybody that knew him loved him.

Chase's widow, Julia, was on hand today for the presentation at the club's luncheon at the Sanford Civic Center.

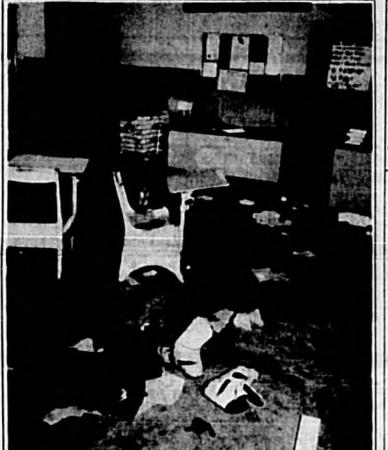

Also attending were 10 representatives of the Sanford Rotary Club, which nominated Mercer for the honor.

The award was established to honor the late Randall Chase described as "a keen businessman, thoughtful neighbor, devoted churchman and a concerned, selfless, community leader" and to give recognition to those who exemplify comparable attributes.

Michael Garner has received at least 45 units of blood, according to a Orlando Regional Medical Center spokesman, which has put a strain on the blood bank.

"We're contacting the Central Florida Blood Bank," Joe Brown said. "and a call may be made to solicit donors.

"The young man (Garner) is still in critical condition but he has stabilized a little bit better. He is still a very sick young man and can still go either way." Brown said.

The primary concern is the left arm, the hospital spokesman said, though the potential for severe infection and adverse reaction by the body to the massive blood transfusions is always a danger, he added.

Senate President Reaffirms Oppostion To Ad Tax

Vogt: Special Session Unlikely

By Brad Church Herald Staff Writer

There will be no special session of the state legislature on the sales tax on services unless the House, the Senate, interest groups and Gov. Martinez can agree on action to be taken beforehand, says Sen. John Vogt. D-Merritt Island, president of the Senate.

Vogt took time Tuesday between meetings he and House Speaker Jon Mills are conducting throughout the state to speak to the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Legislative Affairs Committee and formally open his Sanford

Vogt said the possibility of a special legislative session to deal with the medical malpractice problem is also up in the air, at least until an academic panel appointed to study the crisis releases its recommendations Thursday.

"There is some speculation that neither the trial lawyers nor the Florida Medical Association like what's in the academic panel's report, so don't want a special session," Vogt said. "The FMA is who wanted a special session to solve the crisis, and if they don't want one, then we're not going to go ahead and try to pass some legislation without their support." he said. Vogt also said legislators have no stomach for going back to Tallahasse "and making fools of ourselves if we don't have an agreement on what to do with the service tax problem." He speculated that Martinez may be softening a little in his up-to-now refusal to accept anything short of repeal of the tax. and may soon be willing to talk to legislators about a compromise. "I think fellow Republicans are advising him to put this problem behind him because his approval rating is still very low in the polls." Vogt

Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, agreed that a compromise agreement is more possible now, but said the governor has been willing all along to talk to legislators, but Vogt and Mills have been adamant about keeping the tax intact. Grindle said the series of hearings the two Democratic leaders have been holding around the state has shown that most people are unhappy with

Charter Panel Hears County Criticism

By Brad Church Herald Staff Writer

More comments on the present Seminole County government were heard than comments on the charter form of government Tuesday night when the county's charter advisory commission held a public hearing.

The purpose of the hearing was to hear what Seminole County citizens think about the possibility of charter government for the county.

Maybe the heavy downpour which deluged the county early in the evening had something to do with it, but there was not a wide geographic representation of speakers at the hearing. The hearing was held in the Casselberry City Hall and almost all the speakers were from Casselberry. Most were also apposed to a charter for Seminole

Edith Duerri, a 25-year resident of Casselberry and former city council member, told the commission she is concerned that a charter would give residents of unincorporated areas more power in relation to residents of cities. aggravating a situation that is already unfair.

She said she is worried that a charter would give the county commission more power than it has now, to the detriment of the cities. "Cities are not represented adequately by the county commiston now," she said. "Although commissioners are elected by all voters in the county, they largely represent the unincorporated areas because the people there have no other representation," she said.

She also said city residents are the victim of double taxation. As examples, she said city residents pay the costs of both the county and the city in lawsuits pitting the county against a city; they pay for the sheriff's department and the city police department when city residents aren't dependent on the sheriff's department for law enforcement; and city residents pay for both city

Casselberry Man Charged In Armed Robbery and Assault

A Casselberry man is in custody today after he was identified as the man who assaulted Thomas DeDalis, 59, also of Casselberry, and left DeDalis bleeding by the side of a road.

DeDalis named a suspect in the case and police reported finding and arresting Randall Lee Jones, 26, of Room 1, Pine Grove Motel, Fern Park, at Jack's Place, U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, at about 2 a.m. Jones has been charged with armed robbery and aggravated battery. He was being held without bond.

Casselberry police found DeDalis, 59, lying on the grass near Plaza Oval early Monday after they were alerted to a disturbance in the area.

DeDalis, whose head was bloody, told police that he had been riding in a truck with a man who stopped near the dog track and demanded money from him. The robber said he had a gun and DeDalis told police that he struggled to keep the man from reaching behind the truck seat for a weapon.

When DeDalis got out of the truck, the man followed and hit him in the head several times, possibly with a level, police reported.

DeDalis told police the suspect took two $20 bills from him before fleeing, leaving the wounded DeDalis on the Police asked the man to put his hands on a pairol car so he could be searched for weapons. When the man complied police saw blood on the car and noticed a cut on the man's hand. The man said he had tripped over a tree and cut his

In the meantime, another policeman had found a broken window at the discount store. There was blood on the window frame and a bloody trail led toward where the other officer had stopped the suspect, a police report said.

A representative of the business was called to the scene and said a pipe cutter found near the window did not belong there and a piece of luggage was out of place.

Warren John McCarty, 37. of 101 E. Altamonte Drive #1020, Altamonte Springs, has been charged with burglary. He was being held in Heu of $1,000 bond.

Police Nab Unlicensed Driver

Sanford police who spotted a man known by police not to have a driver's license said the man tried to flee from a car he was driving when he saw police at about 2 p.m. Sunday.

Police mid the driver abandoned his own car and entered the passenger's side of another vehicle on Eighth Street at Magnolia Avenue. As that vehicle tried to pull away, police pulled the runner from the car. During a search, police reported finding a large chain in the man's pocket. Guadalupe Salas, 21, address unknown. has been charged with carrying a concealed weapon, resisting arrest, having no driver's license, having no license tag or insurance and he was cited for not wearing a seat belt. Police reported that they were not sure that Guadalupe Salas is the suspect's real name. That name was on a birth certificate he presented as identification. Salas has been released on $500 bond to appear in court Nov. 25.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Bus Transport To Another School is Denied

Daughter At Risk In School, Mother Says

By Brian Hodberg Herald Staff Writer

A mother who said her daughter was in physical danger at Lake Brantley High School was denied school transportation to another high school in a Seminole County School Board decision Tuesday night.

Diana M. Green of Altamonte Springs claimed her daughter Kelly, 15, was being harassed by fellow students and asked the board to allow a transfer from Lake Brantley to Lyman High School. The transfer was approved but, because of past practice to not provide bus transportation from one school district to another, transportation was denied.

Green said she cannot provide transportation for her daughter and told board members, "She will not be going to school."

Green pointed out that the bus stop for Lyman High school is only three blocks from her home, whereas the Lake Brantley bus stop is two blocks away.

She said she feats for the safety of her daughter after an incident on Oct. 23. A group of girl students known as "Skins," who had been harassing Kelly. cally abused her that night. Green said.

The mother said Kelly has nightmares about the incident and is terrifled to return to the school because of further threats by the aggressors.

Green said she applied for a transfer to Lyman. The transfer was granted but transportation was denied. A doctor who examined Kelly after the assault advised Green to apply for homebound study. For medical reasons, a school may approve a home study program for a student without that student losing any academic credits. Green said that this request was rejected. with officials saying that anxiety could not be diagnosed by a family doctor and that Kelly would need to see a psychiatrist for home study approval.

"I don't feel I should have to spend my money on a psychiatrist when her only problem is that she is terrifled of these girls." Green said. "I'm not asking them to do anything but provide a safe environment (for Kelly)."

Green said she fears if Kelly returns to Lake Brantley, the

Clouds, Rain May Obscure Comet

By Fred H. Cooper Herald Staff Writer

Wow! Rain warnings were given in this space yesterday but with the usual qualifications that it might not be bad, and might not be a part of that weather system which has hit the Panhandle, Baloney.

"Officially," there was less than 2 inches of rain during the past 24 hours. Tell that to the folks who have been sloshing through hubcap-deep puddles in low areas. Tell that to the folks were were driving late yesterday afternoon. That was a rain worthy of Nouh and 4-cylinder arks were needed.

Might as well forget about the comet tonight. Oh, sure, It'll be up there. The western aky just after sunset and before moonrise, it will be visible to the naked eye. So send your naked eye up about 10,000 feet, above the cloud layer, and get a good look. Just in case there is a break in the broken ceiling, get out there and look. Sure. comets scream across the sky annually, but it's always an awesome sight.

Our weather really isn't going to change a whole lot during the next 24 hours. Cloudy, rainy, etc. Temperatures will be moderate though. Seventies for highs and fifties for lows, maybe just to the low 60s. That storm front is still heading our way.

Checked for dame this morning from winds but couldn't establish there was any in Seminole County. There were reports of winds up to 80 miles per hour near the international airport located in a suburban area of Seminole directly to the south. That's above hurricane force and is referred to in weather circles as a squall line. It squalled but did no damage.

Other areas of the nation have not fared as well. Hundreds of people fled to higher ground along the southern Alaska coast when a strong earthquake was followed by the blaring of strens warning residents to prepare for a glant sea wave. but the wave - or tsunamt never materialized and the quake did little damage.

Centered in the Gulf of Alaska, the quake measured 6.9 on the Richter scale and was felt strongly Monday night in Anchorage, 280 miles northwest of the epicenter. The Tsunami Warning Center said the tremor rattled a large area of Alaska and two bordering Canadian provinces when it hit at 11:47 p.m. Alaska Time.

Tsunami warning sirens blared in coastal communities in Alaska and British Columbia, but the warning was canceled 80 minutes later when the earthquake. generated waves proved inconsequential, center spokesman Dennis Traturyk Quakes measuring 6.8 or more are capable of generating a great sea wave, or tsunami. The great Alaska earthquake of 1964, which measured 8.5, caused a tsunami that accounted for many of the 131 recorded deaths.

Monday night's biggest evacuation was in Valdez. terminus of the trans-Alaska oil pipeline, where 500 people were sent to higher ground.

The storm that is now in northern Florida came from Texas and Louisiana. Have late reports from there.

A 15-month-old girl who survived a tornado that sucked her from her mother's arms "like a rocket" and blew her under the wreckage of three mobile homes was released from a hospital after treatment for minor injuries.

Education Budget Approved Teacher Salary Hike Included

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Florida teacher salaries would improve to 24th highest in the country under a $6.6 billion education budget approved by Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet.

Commissioner of Education Betty Castor proposed the 1988-89 education budget Tuesday. It won unanimous approval, though Martinez reserved the right to alter it when he prepares his own legislative budget request early next year.

The budget, which would take effect on July 1, 1988. still must win approval from the Legislature.

It calls for a 14.5 percent increase in spending over this year. Much of that increase, about $200 million, would go simply to cover the costs of educating the 55,000 new students expected to enter the school system next year.

Narrowed Discovery Rules Sought

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Florida's law enforcement community has begun a fight to change discovery rules which may force prosecutors to tip their hand before a criminal case goes to trial.

Florida Department of Law Enforcement Director Robert Dempsey joined other police officials and prosecutors Tuesday in demanding changes in criminal defendants discovery rights. Dempsey proposed repeal of a provision in Florida criminal rules of procedure allowing defense lawyers to take a written deposition from any witness the prosecution plans to call or is even remotely considering calling.

Mbeki Release Only First Step

The release of Govan Mbeki, a longtime leader of South Africa's outlawed African National Congress, after 23 years in prison is cheerful news from an unhappy nation. The move also signals hope for the eventual release of other prominent black leaders, now serving harsh prison terms because of their political beliefs. However, the South African government should not be allowed to bask in the afterglow of this limited action.

Mbeki's release is the result of political, economic and cultural pressure that the world community has exerted on Pretoria. The racist regime's stuttering moves toward reform prove the effectiveness of the pressure. That's why Congress should impose stiffer economic penalties. It's the only language that Pretoria understands.

While Mbeki may have been released to soften the regime's negative image—especially in the United States and Britain, whose governments have not matched their words of condemnation with tough actions—another reason is possible: Mbeki is 77 and reportedly ailing. Pretoria may have released him for fear that his death in jail could unleash violent demonstrations

Mbeki's freedom, however, curbed by unstated conditions, also is likely a trial balloon to gauge black reaction in anticipation of the eventual release of the ANC's most prominent leader, Nelson Mandela. Doubtless, Pretoria will use Mbeki's release to suggest that the government really is committed to reform.

There's much the regime still must do if it wants credibility on that score. It must free all political prisoners, abolish the state of emergency declared in June 1986 and abolish the ban on the ANC.

No political solution is possible without the participation of the ANC, whose leadership many blacks embrace. Pretoria's current effort to establish limited power-sharing with some blacks does not include the country's majority and thus is doomed to failure.

Far from influencing South Africa's political impasse. Mbcki's release may revive black political agitation against a regime whose police and army units now enforce an uneasy truce in the black townships.

Mbeki will live in Port Elizabeth, a hotbed for black political activity, and could become a lightning rod for a protest whose leadership has been shrinking by attrition through imprisonment, death and exile. Perhaps partly for that reason, and partly because he is a member of the South African Communist Party, Mbeki is banned from being quoted by the press.

In accepting his release, Mbeki did not denounce violence as a method to bring down the government. His view that black violence is necessary to overcome an inherently violent system is sadly being proved true. His belief that South Africa belongs to all races raises hopes for the future in the face of intractable problems.

A Tale Of Two Races Evident In Cities

HARTFORD, Conn. — The emotional tug of war oscillates like a bell — pride and despair.

Home for a visit with my three sisters, I shared their pride in the election of the first black woman mayor of a major U.S. city. "Was that little Carrie Saxon who used to come to the library when she was a girl?"

"Mayor Carrie Saxon Perry," corrected my

But what has she inherited?

She has inherited the pride of Hartford, a city that is known nationally as "The Insurance City." She has also inherited the despair of a city so crime-blighted that hoodlums shoot people at random on the streets and treat gang warfare as normally as a bus fare.

One of the 56-year-old Democrat's first goals is to defuse youth gangs and reduce street shootings. She blames drug traffic.

Hartford is "a tale of two cities." And so are Los Angeles and Chicago (both governed by black mayors), where young blacks have raised the inhumanity of ghetto genocide to a murderous art form.

Not only are ghetto lives systematically being wiped out, young minds are being seriously miseducated.

"Yeah, I be worried about getting hurt," said Shellene Arnold, 16, a Hartford Public High School senior, "When they be fighting, they don't know who they be fighting." Can you believe that semantic abuse from a senior?

Emerson Marshall, 15, said: "They'll be looking at you like, 'He looks like he be down with semantic but you're not."

with somebody, but you're not."

A few weeks ago, my Hartford Public High School class of 1942 celebrated its 45th reunion.

None of the 16 blacks in my class of 675 nor any of my black friends used "black English." The Carrie Saxons who lived in Hartford's North End ghetto also were strangers to this semantic bastardy. What has happened since Mayor Perry was a teen-ager? Are blacks going backwards linguistically?

Granted, black cognitive stagnation in Los Angeles and Chicago is not as devastating as murder, but it still is hindering black progress. And the trend is national.

A recent University of Chicago study of 438 high schools in four Southern California counties shows a 10-year decline in achievement in minority schools. Schools with high concentrations of poor minority children showed lower scores on standardized tests in 1985-86 than they had on the same tests 10 years ago. That's why I contend that the recent tiny increase reported in black SAT scores is psychometric darbade.

But if my hometown of Hartford is "a tale of two cities," blacks today are "a tale of two

Despite seeming scholastic regression (and an eight percent decline in nine years of high school graduates going to college), blacks are achieving more scholarships and winning more elections. And athletically, they have inaugurated a quiet revolution.

Ten years ago, a black football quarterback was as rare as a successful Reagan first choice for the Supreme Court. Black fullbacks and linebackers were allowed to "tote that barge and lift that ball," but they weren't supposed to be able to explain how.

Today, black quarterbacks are partially responsible for the national football success.

Border Leaping Expands

AURORA. Colo. (NEA) — Conoco, a major domestic oil company, has an improbable new partner in its petroleum exploration program in Colorado — the Nippon Mining Co. Ltd.

Conoco's joint venture with a Tokyo-based company to search for oil in the Rockies is hardly unique. Both Chevron and Texaco have established similar partnerships with another Japanese firm, the Nippon Oil Co. Ltd.

The $135 million Conoco-Nippon Mining operation also includes gas and oil exploration operations in Alabama. Louisiana, Montana and Texas. At the same time, Nippon Oil is contributing $100 million to each of its new partnerships.

Its agreements with Chevron and Texaco call for exploration in Colorado, California, Kansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Texas, Utah and Wyoming.

Japanese exploration for oil in this country may surprise many people, but the arrangement iljustrates the fallacy of many of the simplistic assumptions being made in the popular debate about trade policy.

In a world where multinational corporations and international joint ventures routinely transcend individual countries' boundaries, the distinction between "foreign" and "American" products is increasingly is blurred.

The automobile industry provides a striking example of that. Japanese automakers have established or expect to open manufacturing facilities in Kentucky and Tennessee, Ohio and illinois.

In California, a joint venture between General Motors and Toyota produces both the Chevrolet Nova and the Toyota FX. Before American Motors was purchased by Chrysler, it was controlled by Renault, a state-owned French company.

Japan's Isuzu, 40 percent owned by GM, manufactures a car marketed in this country as the Chevrolet Spectrum. Japan's Suzuki, 5 percent owned by GM, produces the Chevrolet Sprint.

GM's Pontiac LeMans was designed by West Germany's Opel and is manufactured by South Korea Daewoo. GM's Cadillac Allante is produced in Italy, then shipped by air to this country. Ford's Festiva is made in South Korea.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Who Will Control?

During my recent trip to the Far East. I was compelled to watch the ongoing battle for control of the Supreme Court from a distance of several thousand miles. Rather to my surprise. I found that a useful perspective for distinguishing what is important about the whole matter from what is essentially irrelevant.

The proposition that having marijuana occasionally is a serious disqualification for public office — at least, for high judicial office — is going to create consternation in a great many places besides the Harvard Faculty Club, to which the hickless Judge Douglas Ginsburg apparently belonged when last he tried the weed.

My own observation is that whether one has ever smoked pot is almost entirely a function of age. Anybody born before 1940 (me. for example) probably hasn't; anybody born in or since that year (and therefore 25 or younger in 1965) almost certainly has, at one time or another.

There are, of course, exceptions to both rules: graduates of Bible colleges and other youngsters safely outside the notorious "mainstream" of American life, and idiosyncratic viveurs like my colleague Bill Buckley, who once admitted that he had lit up a joint out of curiosity—though on a yacht outside the three-mile limit, to preserve his reputation as an upholder of law 'n' order.

At only 41, Ginsburg was almost sure to be doomed by an honest answer to a question about pot, and one can imagine the plous amusement that must have rippled through the Senate Democratic chakroom when the news broke.

Mr. Reagan's third try, Judge Anthony Rennedy of the Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seems likely (I had better add, "at this writing") to be approved in due course, and, if so, a lot of ink is going to be squandered on essentially peripheral matters. What follows is an aftempt to stress the basics.

Bear in mind that this is (to repeat) a battle for control of the Supreme Court, and that therefore it will affect many of the legal principles that govern our lives. The current eight justices are split — four liberals and four conservatives. The ninth member will thus contribute the deciding vote, one way or the other — a privilege that his predecessor, Justice Lewis Powell, tended to exercise in favor of the status quo. After 45 years of liberal judicial activism, that in effect meant favoring liberal principles of law.

The liberals who dominate the Democratic Senate aren't so foolish as to hope that President Reagan will present them with a liberal nominee, or even with another relatively safe old maid like Powell. But they fought Mr. Reagan's nomination of an explicit conservative (Judge Robert Bork) into the ground, and lucked out with the unknown Ginsburg by virtue of his having smoked marijuana. What can they expect of Judge Kennedy?

Sores In Mouth Common

By Gayle Young UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — When the days are cold and dry and the nose is stuffy, then mouth sores become an increasingly common problem.

"Your mouth is drier and there is an abnormal balance of bacteria in your saliva." said Dr. Jeffrey Kerner, president of the Long Island branch of the American Academy of Otolaryngology—Head and Neck Surgery. "For people prone to these sores, the colder months can mean a lot more outbreaks."

Doctors have little idea what causes aphthous ulcers, commonly known as canker sores. Because the problem is so common and rarely troublesome, few researchers have spent time sludying its causes and cures.

According to a report from the academy, the sores can appear on the inside of the lips, gums and tongue. They can be as small as a pinprick or involve the entire interior of the cheek. And they can range from unnoticible to painfully irritating.

Doctors said some people are prone to canker sores and others are not.

"There are people who have never had one." Kerner said. "And then there are people who get them all the time."

Some researchers believe a virus may cause the sores — and believe that simply because there is no better explanation. Almost everyone must have been exposed to the virus at one time or another, they theorize, and some people are susceptible to it while others are not.

But even if canker sores are caused by a virus, they are not transmitted through kissing or sharing utensils used in eating and drinking, according to the academy.

"In that way it is very different from the herpes simplex 1 virus, which is very contagious during some periods of time," Kerner said. The herpes virus causes fever blisters, or cold sores, on the lt s.

"Commonly canker sores are found on the Inside of the mouth and cold sores on the parts of the lip where the skin meets a mucous membrane," he said.

The academy reports that some doctors believe emotional or psychological stress, minor injuries and an intolerance to some types of food can contribute to a canker sore outbreak.

JACK ANDERSON

Carlucci Firm Linked To C. Itoh

By Jack Anderson And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Is a Japanese company involved in the illegal sale of submarine propeller-milling machinery to the Soviets about to find a friend high in the Reagan administration: Defense Secretary-designate Frank Carlucci?

This is the question that engrossed investigators for Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., preparing for confirmation hearings on Carlucci.

The question arises out of our stories about the involvement of the huge Japanese trading company. C. Itoh. in the illegal sale to the Soviets. Carlucci had been a business associate of C. Itoh. and was President Reagan's national security adviser when the submarine-propeller scandal broke. Presumably he could deal with C. Itoh again if he returns to private enterprise when the Reagan administration ends in January 1989.

C. Itoh, whose spokesman claims it is the world's biggest trading company, acted as a sort of middleman in the illicit sale by Toshiba Machine Co. of propeller-milling machines that can make Soviet submarines difficult if not impossible to detect. It was one of the most serious breaches of Western security in years, and it has been estimated that countermeasures to overcome the $17 million sale could cost the United States $30 billion.

C. Itoh insists it did not know that

C. Roh insists it did not know that sensitive military technology was involved in the sale.

The Senate investigators' attention is focused on a now-defunct trading arm of Sears, Roebuck called Sears World Trade. Carlucci headed the firm before he was named national security adviser in the wake of the Iran/contra arms seandal last year.

The first head of Sears World Trade was Roderick M. Hills, a former Securities and Exchange commissioner who told us he has "had dealings" with C, Itoh since at least the 1960s. In the fall of 1981, Sears asked him to form a new international trading company, and his first move was to take corporate executives to Asia for a two-week visit, which included a formal luncheon in Tokyo with C, Itoh's top Hills said he recommended that the new Sears unit enter into partnership with C. Itoh, and Sears brass agreed. In late December 1981, C. Itoh became "our chosen, initial partners" in Japan, Hills said.

The following spring, the two companies "exchanged hostages," as Hills put it. C. Itoh hired a Sears man to work in its planning department, and Sears hired one of C. Itoh's top people for its Washington of fitee e Hills said he was anxious to hire old Washington hands for the new Sears enterprise, and in 1982 he persuaded Carlucci, a veteran bureaucrat, to resign as Caspar Weinberger's deputy at the Defense Department and join Sears World Trade as president and chief operating officer.

The C. Itoh connection was crucial to Hills' master plan for Sears World Trade. As Washington Post reporter Stuart Auerbach wrote on April 9, 1984, the "close working relationship" gave Sears the benefit of C. Itoh's "well-established trading network."

Hills resigned as Sears World Trade chairman two weeks later, and on Sept. 19, 1984, Carlucci was promoted to chairman and chief executive. "Frank, who is a perfectly decent fellow, tried to keep all the arrangements in place that I had." Hills told us. This included the relationship with C. Itoh.

In October 1986, Sears closed down Sears World Trade after $60 million in losses, and Carlucci went job hunting. Two months later, he replaced Adm. John Poindexter as national security adviser.

From that strategic position. Carlucci watched this year as congressional fury erupted over Toshiba's sale (through C. Itoh) of propeller-milling machines to the Soviets. But as far as we know, he did not intervene — until Sen. Alan Dixon. D-Ill., sponsored a bill that would punish C. Itoh and another company for involvement in the Toshiba deal.

At that point, both the National Security Council headed by Carlucci, and his former Sears boss. Hills, did their best to block the bill. They also tried to pressure anyone—including the Washington Post and us—who threatened to put C. Itoh in an unfavorable light.

Footnote: Carlucel's spokesman did not respond to repeated requests for comment.

Denver Jetliner Crash Evidence Indicates Icing May Be Cause

DENVER (UPI) - The crew of doomed Continental Airlines Flight 1713 confused the control tower in seeking takeoff clearance, causing delays that could have allowed ice to build up on the wings of the DC-9 as it waited on a runway during a snowstorm. Investigators say.

Officials of the National Transportation Safety Board also reported that the wing design of the 21-year-old DC-9 allowed a quicker ice buildup than newer models, and the jet's manufacturer issued notices about the problem two years ago after another crash.

The disclosures Tuesday supported a survivor's statement that he saw ice forming on the airliner's wings before It rolled down the runway toward the crash Sunday at Denver's airport. Twenty-eight people were killed.

Questions about the experience flying the DC-9 of the flight's captain and first officer also were raised during the news conference. Both men were killed in the crash.

The pilot, Frank Zvonek, 43, of Carlsbad, Calif., was upgraded to captain Oct. 30, less than three weeks before the crash, and had just 33 hours and 23 minutes flight time as captain of a DC-9. Burnett said.

The first officer, Lee Bruecher, 26, of Houston, had bust 36 hours, 36 minutes of flight time in the DC-9, he said.

Deficit Talks Said Promising

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget negotiators looked toward another round of talks today, saying their long struggle to help crase the deficit with new taxes and spending cuts finally was so close to an end they "don't think we can miss."

The talks between more than a dozen members of Congress and several top White House aides face a Friday deadline for developing a plan to shave at least $23 billion from the delicit in fiscal 1988, which began Oct. 1.

Participants said despite the slow pace of the private talks, entering their 18th round today, they expect to meet the deadline with completion of a more ambitious package calling for about $30 billion in delicit reduction.

"From our standpoint, we've made superb progress," Sen. Pete Domenici of New Mexico, ranking Republican on the Senate Budget Committee, declared Tuesday night. "We're close enough (that) I don't think we can miss."

Iranian Official Warns Of Danger From Nuclear Plant Attack

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) - An Iranian official says an lraqi attack on a coastal nuclear power plant was a 'serious threat to the environment" and warned the strike could have "the same radiological consequences as the Chernobyl nuclear accident.'

Reza Amrollaht, president of the Atomic Energy Organization of Iran, asked the Vienna-based International Atomic Energy Agency in an urgent cable Tuesday to send a team of experts to fran to inspect damage at the Bushehr nuclear power plant.

Jim Daglish, a spokesman for the IAEA in Vienna, said. "We have received requests from the Iranians for a safety and safeguards mission, but at this time we are studying our response.

He said the agency had received several messages from Iranian authorities overnight following the attack. "To the best of our knowledge, this is a construction site. The Iranians told us they had begun in February to move nuclear material," Daglish said.

Arms Negotiators Conclude Pact

GENEVA (UPI) - Confident that a treaty on intermediate nuclear missiles is now assured, chief U.S. and Soviet arms negotiators flew home today leaving regular delegations to work out final details.

American delegation leader Max M. Kampelman and his Soviet counterpart Yuli M. Vorontsov held three days of intensive bargaining to resolve last-minute obstacles to the Geneva arms talks.

They made no formal statements today before leaving for their respective capitals but had earlier expressed extreme confidence about concluding the accord.

Vorontsov said a completed treaty "should be ready by Nov. 23" — two weeks before the Washington summit begins Dec. 7.

Kampelman said the two powers were "very, very close (and) on the verge" of concluding a final text.

Coup Plotter's Threats Guarded

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) - The Philippine government, savoring the surrenders of a coup strategist and a senior communist leader, said today it will await the next move of the nation's No. 1 fugitive.

Col. Gregorio Honasan, the leader of a coup attempt Aug. 28, threatened to raid a six-nation regional summit next month in Manila or disrupt January's mayoral elections. "A lot of people are waiting for him (Honasan) to make some moves but so far he has not done anything," said Defense Secretary Rafael lleto after a two-hour Cabinet meeting. "We will have to wait for him to make a move. We cannot pre-empt them."

On Tuesday, Lt. Col. Roberto Navida, 38, the mastermind of the August mutiny, and former National Democratic Front leader Napoleon Dojillo surrendered to the military, handing President Corazon Aquino's embat-tled government an ideological victory.

U.S. Starts Gulf Build-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Bracing for a possible Iranian military escalation in the Persian Gulf, the Reagan administration has secretly positioned helicopters, air defense missiles and Navy special warfare units in Arab nations in the region, U.S. intelligence officials say.

On the other side, representatives of local governments and education groups have argued in favor of keeping the tax. Educators are afraid if the tax is repealed the legislature won't replace all the revenue from it intended for schools.

Local governments know that if the tax is replaced by a one-cent increase in the sales tax, the legislature will most likely take away the authority for local option sales taxes. Vogt "The dialogue is beginning about a state income tax, but there is still a lot of public opposition to it," he said.

An official report on the accident from Walter H. Mertwether, the school district's coordinator of risk management, said Sanford police and rescue units responded to the scene immediately. Garner was airlifted from the school by helicopter to ORMC at 1:37 p.m.

Garner was listed in critical condition when he arrived at the hospital and immediately underwent surgery. During the eight hours of surgery, vascular surgeon Dr. Paul Geary said. fragments of the bomb were removed from Garner's body, including a six-inch piece of metal from the area of his left armpit.

Geary said the explosion caused damage to nerves and bones in the upper left side of his Garner's boxty.

After the explosion, Garner, who was bleeding profusely, was helped back into the building by students from the class. Bobby Lundquist, SHS vice principal. said Garner received first-aid from students, his class instructor Henry Messer, and at least one construction worker. who was nearby at the time of the accident.

"It sounded like a loud bang. I thought somebody had thrown a rock on top of the (school's) administration building. Lundquist said of the explosion.

The force of the blast left a hole about the size of a baseball in the garage-like door of the building. After he was injured. Garner re-entered the building through one of the other doors

Johnson Fears 'Canes Might Overlook Toledo

MIAMI (UPI) - Amid all the talk of bowls and the national championship. Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson said he fears his third-ranked Hurricanes might overlook Saturday's game against Toledo.

"I think there is a real danger of (looking past Toledo)." Johnson said Tuesday. "The main thing we've got to do is be totally prepared for Toledo. We've got to make sure we do everything possible in practice so we go into the game Saturday night with as few distractions as · Before playing Toledo, 3-8-1, the Hurricanes will officially accept a bid to play the Nebraska-Oklahoma winner Jan. 1 in the Orange Bowl. Nebraksa is ranked first and Oklahoma second entering Saturday's showdown.

The Hurricanes also are beginning to think about seventh-ranked Notre Dame, who they will play Nov. 28 on national television. Miami last played a nationally ranked Oct. 3 when it defeated Florida State, and struggled to a 27-13 victory over 1-9 Virginia Tech last week.

Throw all these factors together, and suddenly coach Jimmy Johnson is concerned the Hurricanes, 8-0, will be thinking more about bowl bids and future opponents than Toledo.

"We had such a poor performance against Virginia Tech, so we're looking forward to going out on the field and proving we're better than we looked," quarterback Steve Walsh said. "But we're not looking to put up 100 points or anything. We're just going out to win."

But he also said the team already is thinking about a national championship.

"It's in the back of our minds." Walsh said. "but we know we have a long way to get to that

The first step on the way is Toledo. Johnson said that while the Hurricanes played at less than full intensity against Virginia Tech, they were not as bad as the media made them out to be.

'We have played better," he said, "but the object of the game is to go out and win, and we won. I guess people have gotten so used to winning here that a close victory is cause for concern. The only thing I care about is winning the ball game. I don't care if we win by four or 40 points. I just want to win.

"As much as some people may be surprised, we were extremely pleased in the ball game with Virginia Tech. in that we notified No. 8 in the victory column. I was just happy to get the victory and get on to the next ball game."

SOONERS DROP A NOTCH NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) - Oklahoma's drop into the No. 2 ranking heading into Saturday's game against Nebraska may be just the push the Sooners need to get them hustling. Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer said Tuesday.

Being the underdog is probably a psychological advantage for us, but we won't prepare for Nebraska any differently than we do our other opponents," Switzer said at a press luncheon.

Oklahoma, which has been ranked No. 1 every week since the pre-season, dropped to No. 2 behind Nebraska this week.

Oklahoma and Nebraska will play for the Big Eight championship and a trip to the Orange

"We are in the right spot." Switzer said. "We have gone into the Nebraska game as the underdog before. In 1984 they had the better team but we won the game.

In that game, we got the hell beat out of us but won the game. Nebraska was the underdog in 1978 and won the game because we fumbled on the 3-yard line."

Switzer said Nebraska and Florida State are the two best programs in the country, with Miami a

He said he told his players he wouldn't vote them No. 1 because of their past two performances

We have a very good football team and have the ability to be the best team, we just have to go out and prove it. I think it is better for us to be ranked second," he said.

Switzer said the key to stopping the Cornhuskers is shutting down quarterback Steve

Bell Gets AL MVP

NEW YORK (UPI) - George Bell of the Toronto Blue Jays. the league's RBI leader and runner-up in home runs, Tuesday was named the American League's Most Valuable Player In one of the closest votes in the 54-year history of the award.

The 28-year-old outstelder edged shortstop Alan Trammell of the Detroit Tigers by only 21 points in voting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America

Bell received 16 first-place votes and 12 second-place votes for 332 points. Trammell received 12 first-place votes. 15 for second and 1 for third place for 311 points.

The Toronto slugger is the first player from the Blue Jays and the first from the Dominican Republic to be named MVP. Bell, who earned $1,175,000 last season, picked up another $50,000 in a club bonus for dapturing the MVP.

Well you guys know my reaction." he said from his home in the Dominican Republic, "It's the same. Kick back, be happy, I'm happy right now. When you win the MVP it shows you work hard, you're a winner. It's one of the greatest things to happen in the the last three years. Trammell had a great season. It's not that easy to beat him.

"For the people of the Dominican it's a lot. They say, 'Are you going to win the MVP?' and I say, 'I don't know.' Then people can't wait to find out tho's going to win the MVP."

Bell and Trammell were the only players named on all 28 hallots cast by the voting committee, comprised of two BBWAA members from each AL city. The voting was conducted prior to the playoffs.

Minnesota outfielder Kirby Buckett was third with 201 points followed by Boston outflelder Dwight Evans, Milwaukee ihfielder Paul Molitor, Oakland rookie first baseman Mark McGwire, New York first baseman Don Mattingly, Toronto shortstop Tony Fernandez, Boston third baseman Wade Boggs and Minnesota third Baseman Gary Gaetti.

Jack Lang, secretary-treasurer of the BBWAA, said only two MVP races in the past three decades were closer than this year's. In 1961 Roger Maris of the Yankees beat out teammate Mickey Mantle by 4 points, and in 1981 Rollie Fingers of Milwaukee beat out Rickey Henderson of Oakland by 14 points. Bell, who batted .308 and finished second in the league in slugging percentage (.605), set club records for RBI (134), runs (111) and homers (47) in leading the Blue Jays to second place in the AL East. He slumped down the stretch (2 for 26) when the Blue Jays blew the division title by losing their last seven games. but his hitting was largely responsible for keeping the club at the top of the division most of the season.

The Long Road To The Final Four

Hard Work, Team Unity Puts Brantley In State

Pam Wittig

The road to the Final Four is a long, grueling one. Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots have not had to go outside of Seminole County to get there. but earning a berth in the Class 4A State Tournament is no easy

Lake Brantley has had to win five consecutive matches to get to state, including two on one night in the 4A-9 District Tournament. In winning the five matches. Brantley has won 10 games and lost three and scored 176 points while giving up 124.

From the standpoint of a certain onlooker, the five matches have consumed three reporter's notebooks, some long hours on the office computer and caused a nagging case of bleacher butt.

Stats aren't the bottom line, here, though. Nor is the task of turning the Patriots' triumphs into newsprint.

Watching the hard work, determination and impressive team unity of these young ladies pay off in a trip to the state tournament is what it's all about. Coach Stephanie Glance and the Lady Patriots have worked together since day one to build a championship program. They have provided excitement to everyone involved and given Seminole County volleyball a big lift toward state prominence.

'We'd like to win it all, but even if e don't it has been such a great season for us." Glance said. "These girls have come so far and learned so much and going to state is a great experience for the girls and our program."

The road to the Final Four started at the District 4A-9 Tournament. In the first round. second-seeded Lake Brantley disposed of Daytona Beach Mainland, 15-7, 15-6. Although the Lady Patriots had to play better the next day against Spruce Creek

In the semilinal game against the Creek. Brantley had a 5-4 lead when juntor Dawn Gebhart's service string of 10 points in a row gave the Lady Patriots the game, 15-4. Spruce Creek made a game of it in the second game but key hits by Dana Bush and Kim Gunderson kept the Creek from evening the match and Wendy Vickery served the last two points to put Brantley in the finals against DeLand.

DeLand and Brantley split their games during the regular season and the district final match was another battle between the two. Brantley took game one, 15-8, before DeLand got its attack going in game two and won. 15-1.

DeLand took a quick 6-0 lead in game three but, as it has done throughout the playoffs. Brantley pulled together, got its attack cranked and blitzed the Lady Bulldogs. After DeLand's

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The manager for Thomas Hearns said he is "95 percent" certain Marvin Hagler will give him a rematch of their 1985 bout, but Hagler's attorney said the former champion is uncertain if he will fight again.

Hagler stopped Hearns in three rounds to defend his middleweight title April 15, 1985, but lost his title to Ray Leonard last April 8. Leonard gave up the title, and Hearns won the World Hoxing Council middleweight title last month.

Speaking at a news conference with Hearns at his side, manager Emanuel Steward said he has been negotiating with Hagler's camp since last weekend, and said a deal could be reached by the end of the week.

Hearns became the first boxer to capture world littles in four weight classes when he stopped Juan Roldan in four rounds for the vacant WBC title. He said he now wants only two fighters — Hagler and Leonard. Hearns was stopped by both for his only professional losses.

"The only thing that Thomas Hearns wants is the chance to redeem or to get revenge for the two fighters that beat me in my career." Hearns said. "I feel that given the opportunity to do so then there won't be any need for me to really continue fighting."

Hearns was in Washington as part of a celebration of his fourth weight-class title. He is scheduled to meet President Reagan Thursday.

Steward said a Hearns-Hagler rematch, expected to pay the lighters a combined $20 million guaranteed, would likely take place in mid-May in Atlantic City, N.J., or Las Vegas, Nev. Steward said he is "about 95 percent" sure the deal will go through.

Morris Goldings, Hagler's Boston attorney, told The Boston Herald that Steward's statement was "entirely untrue."

"Marvelous Marvin Hagler has not decided if he is going to fight again, or with whom." Goldings said.

Promoter Bob Arum, in Las Vegas, confirmed "preliminary" negotations for a middleweight title fight. But he said whatever talks had taken place were undertaken without the participation or approval of Hadler.

"It's really up to Marvin if wants to fight again, and right now Marvin hasn't agreed or disagreed." Arum said. "But if he did agree, then it's probably 95 percent right that he'll fight Hearns. And if there's a fight, then May 16th will be the date.

"But Marvin has indicated that he might fight again, and if he does, then Emanuel is correct."

Leonard has said he will not fight again. Hearns, Detroit, is 44-2 with 37 knockouts. He hinted he might retire if unable to secure a bout with Hagler or Leonard.

Hearns has held titles in the welterweight, junior middleweight and light heavyweight divisions.

Hearns said in a rematch he would try to avoid Hagler's powerful punches, but Steward said the instincts of the two heavy hitters would likely take

"Even if he fought him toe-to-toe I wouldn't care," Steward said. "I think he'd knock (Hagler) out."

Hearns won the WBC light heavyweight title with a 10thround knockout of Dennis Andries last March

Steward said he believes if Hearns could score a "dramatic knockout" of Hagler. Leonard might be lured from retirement. "The public would just be going crazy," Steward said. But Mike Trainer, an adviser for Leonard, disagreed.

"Emanuel's been known to have a lot of wishful thinking." Trainer said. "I'm not so sure (Leonard's) concerned with who wins even if they do fight. There's no hidden agenda. Ray's Senterd Herald, Santerd, Fl.

Richard, Kyle Petty Duel For 6th Place

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Richard and Kyle Petty are used to competing on the race track, but the last race of the NASCAR season will place the competition on a more personal level than usual.

At stake are year-end honors that could lead to bigger money in 1988. Richard enters the race in sixth place in the Winston Cup standings, 23 points ahead of son Kyle. If Kyle can pass his father in the standings, it would mean an extra $15,000 in year-end bonus payouts.

But if Richard can win the race, for his first victory since 1984's Firecracker 400 at Daytona, he will bump Kyle out of next year's Winner's Circle program, a bump that could be worth as much as $200,000 in 1988.

The 29th and final NASCAR race is the Nov. 22 Atlanta Journal 500 at Atlanta International Raceway.

"I guess it's the first time that Duddy and I have ever been this close in the points." Kyle said. "We've done a lot of racing against each other but it hasn't been anything like this."

"It's made for some interesting discussions between the two of us," said seven-time Winston Cup champion Richard, "but I don't think it will be that big of deal once the race starts Sunday.

"At that point, we'll both be doing everything we can to win the race. After it's over, we'll take a look at the standings and see what we've done."

One thing they will do for sure is become the second father-son team to finish in the Top 10 in the year-end standings. Richard and his father, Lee, both finished in the Top 10 in 1960.

If Kyle can finish eighth or better in the final standings, it will mark his best season ever. Richard is on line for his best year since 1983, when he finished Jourth.

The Pettys say they will drive in the final race of the year with the same strategy they used in the first 28 races — try to win first, then worry about the points after the race.

While beating each other for position may make for some interesting banter at the dinner table after the season, the Pettys say they won't think about it much during the race.

"I think both of us have a lot of incentive to win the Atlanta Journal 500." Richard said. "As far as strategy is concerned. I guess Kyle's will be the same as mine. Do everything you can to win the race and let the chips fall. After all, we're not worrying just about the two of us. There will be 38 other cars out there trying as hard as they can to win. too."

Richard also has a shot at passing Rusty Wallace for fifth place. Petry trails Wallace by 58 points, while Kyle is 41 points ahead of eighth-place Ricky Rudd.

"Daddy's got to think about catching Rusty and not letting me catch him," Kyle said. "I've got to think about catching Daddy and not letting Ricky catch me. I guarantee you, though, we won't be sitting out there, thinking about who is where on the race track.

"It's going to be a deal of going as hard as you can go, doing everything you can to win the race."

Petersen: 15:48

Lake Mary senior Eric Petersen, who ran a personal record time of 15:48 in Saturday's Region 4A-3 cross country meet, was indevertantly left out of Tuesday's prep cross country rankings. Petersen finished ninth in the three-mile race.

Petersen's time puts himfourth in the county behind Lyman's Teddy Mitchell and Nick Radkewich and Lake Mary's Brad Smith.

Bird, Ellis Among Newcomers

United Press International

The brother of an NBA legend and the son of an NBA star make their college debuts

Eddie Bird, the brother of Boston Celtics great Larry, begins play at Indiana State. The Sycamores have had just one winning season since Larry left in 1979 and there are high hopes for the newest Hick from French Lick.

The younger Bird, a 6-foot-6 guard who broke Larry's high school scoring records, sat out last year because of the Proposition 48 academic guidelines. He is expected to contribute, but not immediately.

"Eddie will be on the perimeter for us," Coach Ron Greene said. "His strengths are outside shooting, court awareness and good ball instincts. He must improve his physical condition and strength to be a factor in the conference. With time and added experience, he will help us."

Eddie realizes he will be under added pressure to perform because of his brother and is heeding some advice given him by and is heeding some advice given him by the three-time NBA Most Valuable Player. "Larry said, 'Don't' worry about what people say, Just go and play basketball,"

Eddie said. In Kentucky, where talk of bloodlines is: nothing unusual, 8-foot-11 freshinan LeRon Ellis is expected to become an immediate starter either at center or power forward for Eddie Sutton's Wildcats. Ellis' father, Leroy, played with several teams in his NBA career.

Basketball

College basketball's newest players come in three varieties this year — freshman, junior-college transfers and players who sat out last year for failing to meet Proposition

Best of the freshman are Eric Manuel at Kentucky, Sean Higgins of Michigan. King Rice of North Carolina, Labradford Smith at Louisville, Dennis Scott of Georgia Tech and Temple's Mark Macon.

"Mark is quite a player," Temple Coach John Chaney said, "He's a dynamic young player and he'll be quite a force. Mark's one of the most complete ballplayers for someone his age I've ever seen."

Among the junior-college transfers, Marvin Branch at Kansas, Michael Porter and Boo Harvey of St. John's and 5-foot-3 Pookey Wiggington at Seton Hall figure to have the most impact.

"Pookey's been injured so we haven't seen him much but what we've seen of him, he's looked good," Seton Hall Coach P.J. Carlesimo said of his pint-sized penetrator.

Foremost among those who will play this year after missing their freshman season because of Prop 48 are Rumeal Robinson and Terry Mills at Michigan, Chris Brooks at West Virginia and Earl Duncan at Syracuse.

"Duncan has surprised me." Syracuse.

"Duncan has surprised me," Syracuse Coach Jim Boeheim said, "He doesn't look like he has missed a lot."

There will also be several familiar players in unfamiliar places because of transfers. Kenny Battle moved downstate from Northern Illinois to Illinois and his playing style is drawing comparisons with Michael Jordan.

"People are asking me to compare Battle to Michael Jordan, which is a little stilly," Illinois Coach Lou Henson said. "He needs to sharpen his defense and ball-handling but he could be a real player for us."

Two former starting centers. Andre Harris at Indiana and Barry Sumpter at Louisville, will join forces after transferring to Austin Peay: Rodney Walker bolted Syracuse for Maryland and Grady Mateen left Georgetown to return to his native state and play at Ohio State.

Mystery Gone From Bowl Selections

NEW YORK (UPI) — Like the end of a movie divulged before its viewing, the mystery is gone from the selection of college football's bowls.

Bids cannot be awarded officially until 6 p.m. EST Saturday. Yet, except for a few details, the matchups of the 18 bowls are known.

"The bowl people have got to get their heads together with the NCAA and change the rule rather than having it as a specific time like the third Saturday in November when they can officially offer or accept an invitation." said Iowa Coach Hayden Fry, whose team is going to the Hollday Bowl, though no officials will admit it publicly.

"They've got to be more realistic because nobody's abiding by it to my knowledge and it puts undue pressure on the fine formation about their games. At Syracuse, N.Y., last Saturday, Sugar Bowl President Jerry Romig gave Syracuse Coach

Of course, in many cases it is the bowl representatives themselves who release information about their games. At Syracuse, N.Y., last Saturday, Sugar Bowl President Jerry Dick MacPherson a sugar cube after the Orangemen's victory over Boston College. End of speculation.

"The solution is to have an official date you can extend bids," said Tim Treadwell, head of the Liberty Bowl's selection committee. "I don't care if its the second Saturday in November or the third Saturday in November. But once the deal is made announce it. This waiting around a week dilutes everything. Let's strike a deal and make a joint announcement between a bowl and an athletic department."

The second or third Saturday in November won't do for some bowls. NCAA bylaw 2-2-(j) states a bid cannot be extended until 6 p.m. EST on the Saturday following the third Tuesday in November.

However, the bigger bowls would love to see that date pushed further back to assure better matchaps.

West Palm's Hands Signs With FSU TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Lorenzo Hands Senior, Dwight Stewart has committed

from Twin Lakes High School in West Palm Beach, the most valuable player at last summer's prestigious 5-star camp in Radford, Va., has signed a letter of intent to play basketball at Florida State University. Coach Pat Kennedy announced Tuesday.

The 6-2, 185-pound guard averaged 19.7 points, five rebounds, and six assists per game as a junior at Twin Lakes. Playing for coach Floyd Andrews, Hands helped Twin Lakes to a 22-8 record and earned all-conference, all-area and all-state honors.

Hands joins Stacey Williams, a 6-10 pre-season All-American center from Alma. Ga., as Florida State's only early signees at this time.

"I feel Lo is the finest guard in the state of Florida," Kennedy said. "In building a national program. Lorenzo becomes a key ingredient. He is a fine athlete, a great player and an outstanding student."

Hands, who selected FSU over Virginia. Southern California, Miami and Minnesota, has twice been selected for AAU's Team

Basketball

Florida, making him one of the few to ever be selected as a high school sophomore. In addition, he placed fourth in the decathion at the National Junior Olympic finals as a 10th grader.

"I consider Lorenzo to be a member of my triple A club," Andrews said, "He has the athletic ability to do the job, the terrific attitude and work ethic and he gets along well with teammates and classmates.

"He is an excellent student as well. Having coached Derek Harper (former lllinois and current Dallas Maverick star) I see that Lorenzo has the potential to leave with the same ability that Derek left with."

In addition to his MVP status at 5-star. Hands also excelled at the Nike and Pitt 2 camps, winning best play-maker at the latter.

STEWART TO FIU

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami Edison High School

senior Dwight Stewart has committed to play basketball at Florida International University for the 1988-89 season by signing a national letter of intent, coach Rich Walker announced Tuesday.

The 6-foot-7, 205-pound Stewart played center on last year's Edison team, starting all 33 games of a 30-3 Red Raider season. A third-team All-Dade County performer as a junior, Stewart averaged 13 points and nine rebounds per game last year.

He is expected to be moved to a forward position this season at Edison and be used in a wing position at FIU. Stewart selected Florida International over other offers from Virginia Tech. South Alabama. Southwest Louisiana and Central Florida.

He is the second Red Raider to sign a national letter in the early signing period. Teammate Reggie Gallon committed himself to Alburn earlier this week.

Sepe: Backbone Of Brantley's Offense

By Scott Sander Merald Sports Writer

If you have seen the Lake Brantley Patriots play this season, you know that they have a running back who is probably the most hard-nosed back in the county: Mark Sepe. Sepe is a tailor-made fullback who doesn't try to avoid contact, but initiates Sepe, a 6-0, 198-pound senior. has knocked over defensive linemen and linebackers like bowling pins this season. Ask any Seminole Athletic Conference coach who the toughest fullback in the county is, and they will tell you Sepe.

Sepe has rushed for 748 yards on 161 carries. He is the third leading rusher in the SAC behind Lyman's Victor Farrier and Lake Mary's John Curry. But the comparison between the three backs end there, because Sepe is a much different runner than Farrier and Curry.

While Farrier and Curry both possess blinding speed. Sepe does not instead of running east and west. Sepe runs north and south. Sepe doesn't try to run away from defensive players, he tries to run over them. He is the bulldozer that makes the

"I'm not fast enough to outrun people," Sepe, who has accred four touchdowns this season. said. "I try to run up the middle and knock people over. I might not have as many yards as Farrier and Curry, but I get all my yards up the middle. I don't think that I have had the chance to outrun the secondary yet this scason.

"I have linebackers and linemen hanging all over me," Sepe said. "I don't even know how it feels to be in the open field because I haven't been in it Mark is one of the best players that I have conched." Lake Brantley coach Fred Almon said. "He is a hard worker, and is all business on the field. He's the backbone of our offense."

Sepe said that his goal is to play college football next year. "I have been gettig quite a few letters from a lot of schools." Sepe said. "I have been working hard this year to get my grades up. I really want to play football at a good school."

One of the primary reasons much improved Brantley of-that Sepe has been running over defenders is his strength. Sepe lifts weights regularly, and has been a member of the Brantley weightlifting team for the past two years. "Lifting has made me a lot stronger, and has helped me run the ball better," Sepe.

To put it simply, Sepe is tougher than most people. Instead of having "regular" pets like cats and dogs, Sepe collects snakes and lizards. "I've always liked reptiles," Sepe said. "They really are pretty nice once you get used to them." Sepe's actions on the field are more like a bull than a snake. He said that he will get every yard possible on every play. "I don't like it when one guy brings me down." Sepe said. "I want to make sure to get as far upfield as I can." Most of Sepe's yards have come after the initial hit on him has occurred

'Mark likes contact, that's all there is to it." Almon said. "We like to give him the ball as much as we can."

Another reason that Sepe has done well in the play of a fensive line. "They are different people out there this season." Sepe said. "The line has improved 100 percent. I owe a lot to them.

Sepe said that he likes running out of the wishbone. "I get to hit somebody on every play." Sepe said. "The wishbone is a perfect offense for us."

At the end of last season. Sepe came down with mono and was in bed for over a month. "That was one of the toughest things that I have had to go through," Sepe said. "I was just doing too much. I am going to take it easier this year.

'Mark has been a pleasure to coach for three years." Almon said. "When I think of having a fullback, there is nobody I'd rather have.

'Dogs Can't Handle Tribe's Offense

It seems as though the football season just started yesterday, and here we are in the last week of the regular season.

Last year, none of the Seminole County teams made the playoffs. Lake Howell came close, but lost in a three-way playoff to

But this season, it is likely that Seminole County will be sending two teams to the state playoffs. Seminole has already won the District 4A-7 crown and will host Land O Lakes, the 4A-8 champ, on Nov. 27. Lake Howell, Lake Mary, and DeLand will play a three-way playoff on Monday, Nov. 23, A site has not been determined as of yet. The winner of the playoff will travel to Jacksonville to take on Sandalwood.

The Rotary Bowl will be played on Wednesday, Nov. 25. Orlando Evans will be one of the teams, but the Trojans' opponent has not been determined.

LAST WEEK - in my prognostication debut last week. I had a so-so week, going 8-5 (63%). I'm very upset with my performance, but would have done a lot better if a few teams that I was counting on hadn't of choked. I'm hoping for a better outing this

Seminole at DeLand

Both teams are coming off big victories. This should be another very interesting matchup.

Seminole (6-3 overall and 3-2 in SAC) has won its last four games. Seminole got a strong offensive performance last week by quarterback Jeff Blake and running back Jerod Jones. Blake tossed two touchdown passes while Jones returned a kickoff 95 yards for the winning touchdown over Lake Howell. The defense, led by defensive tackle Ralph Hardy, also played well.

DeLand (7-2 overall and 4-1 in the SAC) is coming off a crucial 14-0 win over Lyman. A DeLand loss would have elimnated them from the playoff picture, but the win kept the Bulldogs alive.

DeLand is a team that usually gets one big play a game. It also usually turns a turnover into a touchdown. DeLand's offense is boring, but it gets the job done. The 'Dogs run a power formation that is boring to watch, but tough to stop.

Coach Dave Hiss, otherwise known as the eternal pessimist, said that his team is a 5A team playing at a 1A level. The Bulldogs. however, have one of the better defenses around.

The difference in this game will be the Seminole offense. The 'Noles are hungry. and will outscore the 'Dogs in a 'tight' game...Seminole by 7

Lake Howellat Oviedo

Two teams headed in opposite directions Silver Hawks are coming off a tough 26-20 loss to Seminole, but still played well enough to win. Hawks have won four out of Oviedo is 3.7 and has lost five straight. Lions have no offensive weapons, and everybody knows it. Howell, on the other hand, has a fine passing attack complimented by a solid running game.

Oviedo has a decent defense, but Howell's is much better. Howell needs a win before the three-way pluyoff.

Oviedo's only hope is for Lake Howell running backs Cornel Rigby and Marquette Smith to miss the bus to the game Lake Howell by 20

Lyman at Lake Brantley

Lyman has lost its sole offensive weapon in tailback Victor Farrier. Farrier, the leading rusher in the SAC, broke three ribs and punctured a lung against Deland last week. Greyhounds (5-4) have not been able to throw the ball all season, and without Farrier, their offense is in big trouble.

Brantley (4.5) desperately wants to end with a 500 season. Although quarterback Clint Johnson is out for the season with a broken thumb. Scott Meredith did a nice job last week. Lyman has the tougher defense, but the offensive nod goes to Brantley Look for Patriot fullback Mark Sepe to run over Hounds all night long. Brantley by 6

Ditka Not Pleased With Bears' Defense

LAKE FOREST, III. (UPI) -Chicago Bears Coach Mike Ditka. claiming his defensive unit 'stinks." Tuesday threatened to bench several key defensive players.

Ditka's comments came in the wake of Chicago's 31-29 loss to Denverday night in which the defense. No. 1 in the NFL for the past two years, again was picked apart by the opposition.

"There is not one problem. there are many problems, too numerous to mention," Ditka said of the defense that has given up 109 points in the last four games. "We stink."

After the loss - Chicago's second in nine games this year Ditka said he would consider benching 1985 Super Bowl MVP Richard Dent and William Perry off the defensive line. Perry also fumbled on the Denver 1 in a critical play in the first half that Ditka said was designed to use Perry as a decoy.

Ditka said he wants to get more playing time for rookie linebacker Sean Smith.

Ditka said discipline (Chicago was called for seven offsides penalties against the Broncos) was at the heart of the problem with the defense.

"We've got some players who think football is a right, not a privilege," Ditka said. "Well. we've got some guys who want to spend eight hours just to get a paycheck. The defense has not had a sack in 10 quarters - "since last spring," according to Ditka. The secondary has also been vulnerable because of the lack of a pass rush. Linebacker Ron Rivera, making his first start in favor of the injured Otla Wilson, said the defensive unit should respond to Ditka's criticism.

"I think it will bring us closer together as a team." he said. "We have to look to ourselves = and get better discipline. We still have confidence in our ability."

The Bears also figure to continue throwing the football, in part because the defense has been vulnerable and due also to the problems the ground game has had since the end of the strike.

Quarterback Jim McMahon, who had his best game as a prowith 311 yards and three TDS, suffered a re-injury to his right shoulder and a suffered an ankle injury. Wide receiver Dennis McKinnon also had his knee hurt, and is probable for next Sunday's game.

McMahon said he was fine, but Ditka was less optimistic. "He took a hit on that shoulder in the first half. If he can't go. we'll go with someone else,' Ditka said.

The 2-7 Detroit Lions are next up for Chicago and they have Ditka worried.

"They are probably licking their chops," Ditka said. "They had Washington on the ropes. It will be a tough game.'

BUCS GET COOPER TAMPA (UPI) - Offensive

lineman Mark Cooper, waived by Denver last week after serving as an emergency starter in the AFC championship game and the Super Bowl, was signed Tuesday by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The Buccaneers reduced their roster to 49 by signing Cooper and waiving veteran free safety Rick Woods and rookie tight end Steve Holloway. Center Dave Heffernan, on the replacement injured list with a knee problem, was also released.

Coach Ray Perkins was disgruntled with the play of substitute left tackles J.D. Maarleveld and Marvin Powell

Mike Ditka roams the sidelines. Ditka made it clear that he did not like the defensive performance by the Chicago Bears In Monday night's loss to the Denver Broncos.

Sunday in a 23-17 loss to did not suit up against the Minnesota. Tampa Bay's regular left tackle. Rob Taylor, was placed on injured reserve a week ago with a knee injury. Both Maarleveld and Powell were beaten for sacks by Chris receptions. Doleman, who forced two fumbles recovered by Minnesota.

Cooper. 27. replaced injured Paul Howard at right guard for Denver in the AFC title game against Cleveland and the Super Bowl loss to the Giants. He was waived by the Broncos a week tackle in his five years at Denver.

Woods, a six-year pro, lost his starting job to rookie Ray Isom last week after a poor performance in St. Louis Nov. 8. Woods, who had two Interceptions and two fumble recoveries. on the run.

Vikings and Perkins was impressed by the play of Isom, a free agent from Penn State.

Holloway, also a free agent, averaged 12.7 yards on 10

Sunset May Be Favorite

SOCCER

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

If there is a bonafide favorite in the Class 4A State Tournament it is the Lady Knights out of Mauri Sunset High.

Sunset has complied an im pressive 38-1 record this season and has won its last 25 in a row including a 15-6, 15-4 rout of Haleah Mamt Lakes in the Section 4 playoff last Friday.

The Lady Knights and Seffner Armwood will square off in Friday night's first semifinal game, beginning at 4 p.m. at Lake Brantley High School. In the second semifinal, Lake Brantley takes on Fort Walton Beach Choctawhatchee at 5:30. The times of the matches were officially set Tuesday morning. Friday night's final will begin at Knights won the state title in 1980 and '85 under coach Irene Garriga. Armwood and Lake Brantley are making their first state tourney appearance while Choctawhatchee qualified for state in 1984.

Sunset was one win away from state last year when it dropped a three-game match to Miami Lakes in the section. Revenge was sweet for the Lady Knights this past Friday.

I reminded the girls every five minutes about last year," Garriga said. "We just came out hot and never stopped."

The six starters for Garriga. who has compiled a 108-7 record the past three years, include Holly Moorehouse. Kristine Cousins, Melissa Gailey, Heidi Miller, Natasha Silvan and Jenny Garriga, coach Garriga's sophomore daughter.

If we have an advantage at state it will be we have a very sound all around team," Garriga Sunset's only loss this season was to Class 3A powerhouse Fort Lauderdale Cardinal Gibbons in the finals of the Jaguar Invitational. Sunset had earlier beaten Gibbons in that tourney.

Cavs Hammer Birdless Boston

United Press International Boston and Houston, scmiffnalists in their conferences last year, were handed losses Tuesday night by teams that failed to make the playoffs a season ago. Cleveland hammered the Celtics, who played almost all the second half without an injured Larry Bird, and New Jersey secured its first victory of the season at the expense of the Rockets. The Celtics fell to Los Angeles in the NBA Championship last year. The Rockets were eliminated in six games by the Seattle SuperSonics in the Western Conference semifinals. At Richfield, Ohio, Phil Hubbard scored 17 points and Dell Curry added 16 to lead seven Cavs in double figures and hand the Celtica a 109-88 defeat, their first of the season.

"This is still a win over Boston," Cavallers forward Phil-Hubbard said. "Bird's a great player, but the Celtics are still a great team. Even before he got hurt, we were beating them, so this feels great."

Bird scored 14 points in the first half, but favored his right ankle in the closing minutes and played only the first 24 seconds of the third quarter. The eighttime All-Star and three-time Most Valuable Player missed three games last December with a strained right Achilles tendon.

"It was clear he was limping." Celtics Coach K.C. Jones said. "He had to come out. Right now, we don't know whether it's just his ankles or his Achilles tendons, too. We'll have to see."

At East Rutherford, N.J., Orlando Woolridge made his second start of the season as the Nets collected their first victory.

Woolridge, who was a surprise starter in Sunday night's game at home against Washington. nailed 10 of 16 shots from the floor to revive a lethargic offense with 29 points and spark the Nets to a 114-111 victory over Houston.

Bulle 105, Bullete 101

At Chicago, NBA scoring leader Michael Jordan hit for 26 points and NBA rebounding leader Charles Oakley collected 21 rebounds to lead the Bulls. Jordan hit four free throws in the final 10 seconds to help the Bulls to their fifth victory in their last six games.

Bucks 120, Warriors 108

At Milwaukee, Terry Cummings scored 33 points and Jack Sikma added 25 to lift the Bucks. Cummings scored 20 points in the first half, including 12 in the first quarter, and added 13 in the third quarter as the Bucks ran away from Golden

At San Antonio, Texas, reserve guard Leon Wood sank two free throws with six seconds left in overtime to lift the Spurs. Wood was picked up last week after being cut by the New Jersey Nets. Rookie Reggie Williams scored a game-high 33 points for the Clippers.
Jass 190, Neggote 110

At Salt Lake City, Karl Malone scored 25 points. Thurl Bailey added 23 and Mark Eaton pulled down 25 rebounds to lead the Jazz. The Jazz took a 10-point lead in the first quarter before the Nuggets pulled within 39-34 at the end of the first quarter.

Lahers 143, Trail Blasers 115 At Inglewood, Calif., Mychal Thompson came off the bench to score 24 points and spark the Lakers. James Worthy scored 21 points, Byron Scott 20 and A.C. Green 17 to help the Lakers improve to 7.0, the league's only perfect record. Los Angeles has beaten Portland in 22 of their last 25 meetings. Pacers 126, Kings 111

At Sacramento, Calif., Wayman Tisdale scored 23 points and rookie Reggie Miller added 22 to help the Pacers hand the Kings their third consecutive loss. Miller, the Pacers' No. 1 draft choice out of UCLA. scored 16 points in the fourth

Martina Outlasts Lindqvist

NEW YORK (UPI) - Although her performance fell below her own standards, Martina Navratilova took consolation from the bottom line.

"I played well enough to win." she said following a 6-4, 7-6 [7-1] opening-round victory over Catarina Lindqvist Tuesday night in the $1 million Virginia Slims Championships. "I didn't play well and I didn't play badly. somewhere in between.

"I played well at times. I played bad at times, a little below average, but not too bad."

Hana Manditkova, the fifth seed, was forced to retire from her match against Raffaella Reggi with a pulled left hamstring after the 21-year-old Italian won the opening set, 7.5.

Mandlikova apparently suffered the injury when she was leading 4-2, and was attended to by a trainer during two changeovers. There were eight 6-0 lead. Lake Brantley outscored me Lady Bulldogs, 15-2, the rest of the way en route to its first district title.

"We kind of fell apart in the second game and got behind quick in the third, but the girls never lost the belief they could win it." Glance said. "I've really been impressed with the girls' Intensity and the way they support each other on the floor."

After disposing of DeLand, it was on to the 4A-5 Region playoff against traditional power Orlando Evans. Evans had won its district four of the last five years, took the region three of the last four and had a 20-1 record going into the region match.

So what did all those numbers mean to Lake Brantley - diddly.

The Lady Patriots got impressive performances from everyone in the lineup and rolled to a 15-4 victory in the opening game. Evans regained its composure and won game two. 15-12, but it was all Lake Brantley in the finale. Setter Marianne Rodriguez ran the show to perfection and the front row people did the rest as

Brantley won, 15-6. "We worked hard to get to regionals and were really excited about it," Rodriguez said after the win over Evans. "Now we believe we can go all the way to Believe is what the Lady Patriots had to do in order to get by a powerful Merritt Island squad in the Section 3 playoff.

Merritt Island took the first game 15-12, and built up a 12-7 lead in game two. The Lady Patriots then rallied behind the net play of Gebhart and Gunderson and the serving of Billmyer to score the next eight points to win the game, 15-12.

Obviously shaken after the second-game loss. Merritt Island was reduced from a powerhouse to just another good team. And that's when Lake Brantley moved in for the kill. The serving of Gunderson and Jeanne Seidel broke the game open and gave the Lady Patriots a 12-7 lead. Merritt Island had several chances to pull closer but Brantley made big play after big play to maintain its lead and Vickery then served the final two points of the match.

Friday at 4 p.m., Lake Brantley will try add to its already impressive list of accomplishments as it takes on Fort Walton Beach Choctawhatchee in the state semifinals. The winner plays the Miami Sunset-Seffner Armwood winner in Friday night's final.

Whether they go all the way or not, it has been a year the Lady Patriots will always remember and cherish. As will everyone who has been a part of the excitement created by this tremendous group of young budget negotiators are scheduled to resume talks Wednesday morning in their month-long battle to come up with a plan to reduce the deficit with a combination of new taxes and spending cuts.

The talks between more than a dozen members of Congress and several top White House aides face a Friday deadline for developing a plan to shave at least $23 billion from the deficit in fiscal 1988, which began Oct. 1.

Participants said despite the slow pace of the private talks, entering their 18th round Wednesday, they expect to meet the deadline with completion of a more ambitious package calling for about $30 billion in deficit reduction.

said Mercer, with "his depth and breadth of the qualities exemplified by Randall Chi was the logical choice for this year's numinee."

While professional service as an educator and banker in the community earned him respect and a reputation of thoughtful concerned community service," Dellarco said, "It was a natural development that these attributes would be sought by organizations that rely on the proven competence of a warm. but effective personality."

After earning both bachelors and masters degrees, Mercer served in the armed forces from 1943-1948 before beginning his career in education. He taught school in Polk County and was later promoted to supervising principal. Today his teaching abilities are applied as an ad-junct professor at Seminole

Community College.
Mercer left education to go into banking a loan officer in Pt. Meade and Haines City. He came to Sanford to start United State Bank of Seminole in 1984, later taken over by Flagship Bank. He served as president, chief execu-tive officer and director of Plagable until 1978. He is presently on the advisory board of American Pioneer Savings Bank.

Mercer is on the board of directors of the Sanford Rotary Club and is a post president of the organization. His fellow Rotarians recognized him with a Paul Harris Fellowship, A former president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, he is in his 16th year on the Sunford Airport Authority and was chairman in 1973.

He was a descon of First Prosbyterian Church of Banford, which inter elected and ordained him an elder. and county fire protection, but only receive service from city fire departments.

Dr. Duerri sald appointed county boards never fairly represent cities. As an example she asked how many members of the charter advisory board live in cities. When five of the 14 present raised their hands she said. "That's about average - a third from cities, yet more than half of the people in the county live in cities."

She said Seminole County has more conflicts between county and city governments than most counties, but Seminole County government does nothing to alleviate them.

"A charter is no better than the commissioners who interpret it," she said. "A charter would increase the scope of the commission which is interested in power and salf-aggrandizement. What can be put into a charter to improve the cities' representation in county government 1 can't imagine."

Also expressing fear that a charter would increase the county government's power at the expense of cities was Phyllis Sheppard, a member of the Casselberry City Council. She said she is afraid the cities could lose their identity under a county charter and be swallowed up by the county. Commission chairman Martlyn Crotty told Sheppard that most charters give city ordinances precedence over county ordinances, if there is a conflict, so cities can maintain their independence.

Grant McEwen of Casselberry, a leading critic of the county's purchase of Yankee Lake, claimed that a charter would make it easier "for county commissioners and staff to continue the corruption that is already there and to cover it up." He said there is nothing wrong with the present government "except that much of the staff and the commissioners need to be replaced."

Art Davis, who lives west of Sanford and to also a critic of the Yankee Lake project, said his main concern with charter government is that voter apathy could mean the form of the government could be changed by a few voters.

'Most charters, like Orange County's don't change the form of the present government. But later amendments which make changes could be put on the ballot and through voter apathy, a major change could be made by 15 percent of the

Davis said he favors consolidation of some services, such as city and county fire protection. but noted this could be accomplished without a

The purchase of the Yankee Lake property by the county from Jeno Paulucet was approved during a county commission meeting at 2 a.m. Sanford had been negotiating for the same property. County action prompted a suit by Sanford against the county. The transaction is now under scrutiny by a grand jury which held hearings Monday. Gov. Bob Martinez appointed a special investigator for the matter.

John Casselberry, son of the founder of the city of the same name, said he is concerned about the consolidation of services a charter might bring.

The county is spread too thin in providing emergency services now and I think city services could be diluted by consolidating them with the county's" he said.

He said friction between city and county governments was mainly the result of poor communication and that a charter probably wouldn't have much effect on that friction. However, he said making county government more powerful is a negative aspect of charters.

The hearing was the last outside testimony the advisory commission will hear. Subsequent meetings will be for the members to discuss and argue the pros and cons of charter government among themselves, based on the testimony and reams of material it has received since beginning its investigation last June. The commission will then draft a recommendation to the county commissioners on whether it should proceed with appointment of a commission to write or charter

Cook Of The Week

She Changes Her Hat Many Times Daily But Manages To Prepare A Good Meal

By Derethy Greene Horald Correspondent More than just a homemaker.

Betty Jack, our Cook of the Week, wears many hats and they all fit very well. At home. the role of wife, mother, grandmother and all around good cook makes her a very special person to her family. Away from home, working as her husband's business partner and also engaging in community activities. Mrs. Jack's daily schedule can be a hectic one, but one she enjoys every day in every way.

With the holiday season just around the corner, Mrs. Jack is looking forward to preparing her favorite traditional recipes and having small dinner parties for friends and family with possibly a luscious London broil on the menu with all the accompaniments. "I cook a lot of fresh vegetables," she says. "My husband and his friend have a garden and if they have any excess, I put it in the freezer, so we have fresh vegetables all year 'round. I love to do green beans. You really can't tell them from fresh garden beans when I take them out of my freezer. There's a secret to it, I tell you."

Her "secret" to a fresh-picked taste in vegetables starts with blanching them in boiling water for no more than 3 minutes, she says. "The minute you take them out," she continues. "you've got to ice them down and cool them very quickly. I get a great big cooler of ice and work the ice through them in a colander until I get them cooled down. Then I put them in freezer bags and immediately put them in the freezer. When you take them out and cook them, you cannot tell the difference from when they're fresh picked." She follows the same routine with black-eyed peas and tomatoes and this year, for the first time. she made a batch of homemade grape jelly. "I didn't know where in the world to start." she laughs, "but I just kept at it until I got it just fine. I guess I had about 16 jars. It turned out very. very well."

the kitchen began way back when she was growing up in West Virginia, although she claims that she never cooked at home. "My mother is a good cook," she says, "but I didn't of those girls who never really took time to do any cooking at home. I had to go to school real feeling of having a good meal. I'm not a fancy cook, I'm not a gourmet cook, however, my girls think lam, but I'm not."

Mrs. Jack loves a pretty table setting, she says, "and I especially enjoy the holidays. I love getting ready and getting prepared for the holidays. I like to bake ahead and freeze special things. My girls would say that Christmas would not be Christmas if I didn't have my lime Jell-O salad and that can be made a couple of days in advance. It's very colorful and pretty. My youngest daughter could eat the whole thing by

Betty Jack remembers many family gatherings at her parents' home in Charleston, W. Va. "My grandparents lived nearby," she says, "and I had aunts, unclesand cousins and we used to have family reunions where everybody would take a covered dish. Mother baked a lot, and back then we had a garden and she canned a lot. As children, I suppose we did all the things Perhaps our cook's prowess in normal families do." Mrs. Jack's parents, a sister and two brothers all now reside in Schastian, Fla. Our cook was destined to become Mrs. Jack about a year after they met and started datlearn to cook from her. I was one ling. "I was working for a dairy company," she recalls. "They called it a dairy company, but it was a huge chain of stores. They early in the morning, and you had their own products, ice didn't get home until 4:30 in the cream and sandwiches and evening. So I learned to cook things like that. That was my from my mother in-law! I really first job, and that's how I met enjoy cooking. I can't sew - I him. He had a girlfriend and he have no patience for sewing - used to bring her in to eat. One none. I just always like the night he came in alone and he got some ice cream for her. And I'll never forget as long as I live. he said, 'And how are you doing tonight?' and I said. 'Well. I'm doing fince since I've seen you!" Subsequently, a group of friends had congregated to go sleigh riding with Bill Jack among them. "I was recovering from an appendectomy and I thought it was a little too strenuous for me," says our cook, "and it was so COLD. Well, he offered to start up his car and let me sit in the car in the warmth to keep me from freezing to death and bursting my incision open. So that's how it all started."

Marriage followed in February 1953 and the Jacks have two lovely daughters to complete their family circle. The oldest, Diana Foster, is the mother of Jaclyun, 7. Another daughter. Paula (Mrs. Cecil) Simpson, has a daughter also. Alisha, 8. Hoth granddaughters are very much a part of Betty Jack's life. especially Jaclynn, whose mother works as a legal secretary in Orlando. "I have kept Jaciynn every alternoon she was two years old," says Mrs. Jack." In her favorite role as "Nanny," our cook lovingly cares for her grandchild on a daily basis "tending to all her needs and wants." while Alisha also visits frequently and enjoys spending the night. Having been actively involved in school programs, PTA, Girl Scouts. Brownies and the like with her own daughters, Mrs. Jack's close ties to her grandchildren come quite naturally and she treasures the time spent with Jaclynn

Cold winters in Staumton. Va., prompted the Jacks to move south around 1980. "It seemed as if the winters were getting worse and worse," says Mrs. Jack. "and with the type of work my husband did, the weather was just prohibitive — getting out in the anow and rain." While sitting around a card table one night with a group of contractor friends, the impromptu decision was made, recalls Mrs. Jack. "One of the men said. 'Let's all go to Florida." she says. "So the men left and came to Florida! About four or five months later, I came down just to visit for a weekend, and I liked Sanford, so we decided to move." Twentytwo years ago. Sanford Heating and Air Conditioning was born. and the Jacks are now a very vital part of the community.

Mrs. Jack has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for about 20 years and supports the sorority's contributions to the community through its members. She is also a member of the Woman's Club of Sanford Inc. and is on the telephone committee. The club is anticipating a successful tasting luncheon and fashion show planned for Nov. 20 and our cook is eagerly looking forward to modeling some of the newest fashions. She is an avid reader and likes curling up with a good book as often as possible. As the secretary-treasurer for Sanford Heating and Air Conditioning, she laughingly describes herself as "the flunky." Actually, her full-time job is to help keep things running smoothly by taking calls and doing the book work.

When they're not working side by side at their business. Betty and Bill Jack like to get away for a long weekend by way of their Cesana 210. One of their destinations is to Franklin, N.C., where they have another home which her husband buffe "and-i furnished from here, also anyo. More expanded vacation trips have been abroad to places like Italy, Ireland, Spain, France, Switzerland and Stockholm. Sweden. Their most recent trip to Hong Kong was truly a delightful experience, according to Mrs. Jack, "but their food is bland. They use pine cone seeds In many of their dishes." she says. "The people in Hong Kong are so friendly, the friendliest people I ever met. And the subway just fascinated me. You can just hop on the subway for about 25 or 40 cents, our money. and go for miles and miles." She also notes that the countryside and the architecture were beautiful, "But everybody was in such a hurry, running here, running there," she exclaims. "It's such a different way of life."

The idea was conceived by the is slightly thickened, stirring American Cancer Society, which insists that anyone who can live without a cigarette for 24 hours can quit forever.

During the 1966 Great American Smokeout, a record. breaking 23.8 million smokers tried to quit for the day. This represents more than 43 percent of the nation's 54.5 million

Lung cancer is the No. 1 cause of cancer death among both women and men. An estimated 92,000 men and 44,000 women will die of lung cancer in 1967. Breast cancer used to be the biggest killer for women - now it's lung cancer!

A word about smoke-related discuses - emphysema, chronic bronchitis and heart disease: This year an estimated 320,000 will die from one of these. This total exceeds the number of U.S. battle deaths in World War II: It is eight times as many people who die in automobile accidents every year!

A congressional study has reported that health costs from the adverse effects of smoking have reached a new high of $100 billion a year in increased medical bills and lost productivity. The loss in death and disability cannot be measured. (And how does one measure the amount of heartache, remorse and guilt suffered as a result of a preventable, self-induced tragedy?)

What about "secondhand" smoke? Is it actually damaging to non-smokers to be in the presence of those who are smoking? Yes! Furthermore, studies reveal that the children of smokers are more prone to lung problems and allergies than are children of non-smokers.

For years I have begged my young readers, "If you smoke, quit now. If you don't smoke, don't start!" Yet an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 kids light up for the first time every day. Why? Peer pressure, no doubt.

Quitting "cold turkey" is the hardest way to quit, but my readers have told me it's the most effective, and in the long run, the easiest way. Cutting down is less traumatic, but the temptation to smoke is often too powerful to resist while amoking just one, two or three cigarettes a day.

Dear

Abby

Those who are heavily addicted may require professional help to break the habit.

So, if you're hooked on cigarettes, and have been telling yourself. "One of these days I'm going to quit," why not start tomorrow - just for 24 hours?

It won't be easy, but it will be the best Thanksgiving present you can give yourself - and those who love you.

ELSIE SIETSEMA, ARIZONA DEAR ABBY: Next month my son will be 6 and I will be giving a birthday party for him. Some of his kindergarten friends will be invited. They are very normal kids, and it is common to see one or two on any given day playing with war toys or wearing camouflage uniforms. My husband and I both feel very strongly that we don't want our children playing with those kinds of toys.

How do I get this across to the kids' mome (or do I say it at all) in the invitations and still not step on any toes? I don't want it to appear that a gift is required to attend the party, as it most certainly is not. When my daughter turned 6, her kindergarten teacher gave her a toy gun in a pink holsterf We were appalled; our daughter was delighted. I ended up taking her to the store for a more acceptable item, thanking the teacher, then getting rid of the gun on the QT as soon as possible.

la there a tactful way of dealing with this beforehand without causing burt feelings or an upact 6-year-old? Please anawer quickly, because the time for me to be getting the invitations out is drawing near. C.B. IN SPRING-FIELD, ORE.

DEAR C.B.: It would not be out of line for you to call the mothers of the prospective guests and tell them what you've written me. Let the mothers know that a gift is not mandatory, but if the child brings something, you and your husband are, in principle, opposed to war-related toys.

Back home, where the pace is a little slower, Mrs. Jack enjoys her well-equipped kitchen where she prepares a full-course dinner almost every night. "I always have meat and vegetables," she says. "and sometimes I'll fix a Reuben sandwich. Bill is not a picky eater. It's just good old American cooking."

For an hora d'ocurve type dish. Mrs. Jack likes to serve her easy-to-prepare baked chicken wings. "It's always a hit," she says. Her peanut butter cups are a must at Christmas time, and her mashed potato casserole has a surprise ingredient.

For a sample of Mrs. Jack's 'good old American cooking." he sure to try the following recipes:

BARED CHICKEN WINGS

Chicken wings or chicken "drumettes." Quantity will depend on how many guests you plan to serve.

I large bottle soy sauce

4 cup water Cut tipe from chicken wings. Arrange in shallow baking pan. Pour soy sauce and water over wings or drumettes and bake at 200° for 4 hours. Turn at least once during baking time.

MASKED POTATO CASSE ROLE

Cook and mash potatoes according to number of people to be served, using all ingredients you would normally add. Trans-fer mashed potatoes to caserole dish and add 14 cup grated onions and I small package Philadelphia cream cheese, mix-ing well. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes or until cheese is melted. Stir once during baking time. Pimientos may also be added, if desired.

BROCCOLI CASSEROLE 2 packages frozen brocolt.

2 eggs, beaten 1/2 cup mayonnalec

1 can cream of mushroom

4 tablespoons grated onion I cup grated cheese

salt and pepper to taste Cheese crackers, melted butter and additional grated cheese.

Cook broccoli 5 minutes. Cool and drain. Combine broccoli, eggs, mayonnaise, soup, onion, cheese, salt and pepper. Place in greased casserole. Bake at 350° for 30-45 minutes. After case-role has cooked for 15-20 minutes, top with additional cheese and cracker crumbs which have been mixed with melted butter. Serven 8.

LIMB JELL-O BALAD

1 large package lime Jell-O 1 can (16 ounces) crushed pineapple

I cup small curd cottage cheese

DEAR DR. GOTT - I am very anemic, but the doctors can't find any reason for it. I'd like to start a family, but don't want to harm myself or an unborn child. is there any reason that I shouldn't get pregnant?

DEAR READER — Yes, there is. Pregnancy places a tremendous physical burden on a woman; the presence of severe anemia, causing further stress, could be harmful for both you and the baby. I think that you should avoid becoming pregnant until your anemia has been treated.

I'm also concerned that your doctors are unable to find the cause of your anemia. This means that the common causes, such as iron deficiency or infection, have been ruled out. Therefore, your anemia could reflect a serious undiagnosed ailment. In such a case, you would surely not want to jeopar-dise your health or your baby's

In my opinion, you should request a referral to a hematologist (blood specialist) and identify the source of your anemia before starting a family.

DEAR DR. GOTT - You asked if any of your readers had success in treating skin discoloration with PABA. I take 100 milligrams daily, along with 200 milligrams of pantothenic acid. It completely cleared up the clossma, which had lasted several years after the birth of my

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

If you are baffled by the bidding, the final contract is a result of Roman key-card Blackwood combined with South's unbridled optimism. The response of five hearts to four no-trump showed either two or five key cards (key cards are aces and the trump king) and denied having the queen of trumps. Since South held the other three of the five key cards and the trump queen, he bid seven spades. However, 13 tricks required much more than just solid trumps and five key cards in the two hands, so it was a brash undertaking to bid the grand. Luckily for declarer, he played the hand better than he

He went right up with the ace of spades and led the jack of diamonds from dummy. When East covered, South won the A-Q of diamonds and ruffed a diamond with dummy's spade deuce. Then came A-K of hearts, followed by a heart ruff with a high trump. The hand would have been over had hearts divided 3-3, but such was not the case. Declarer returned to his hand with the club ace and trumped still another heart in dummy. Since his last heart was now a winner, he returned to his hand by ruffing a club and had to hope that trumps were 3-2. They were, and 13 tricks came rolling in.

Thanksgiving Displays Fall Bounty

By Alloon Claire NEA Food Editor Thankagiving is one

American tradition that is celebrated without fail - no matter where we are. It's the most popular time of the year for gathering together family and friends to share in giving thanks for our country's bounty. This tradition stems from the first feast day when colonists were joined by friendly Indiana to celebrate their harvest in the new land.

AUTUMN PUNCK

12 strawberries, sliced 3 tablespoons sugar 3 cups California brandy or cider 2 small oranges, peeled and cut in wedges 6 cups strong colong

3 tablespoons lemon iuice

¼ teaspoon angostura aromatic bitters

champagne or club soda, chilled

Mint sprigs for garnish

Mix strawberries with sugar in large bowl. Add brandy and refrigerate at least 1 hour. Combine orange pieces with tea, lemon juice, bitters and marinated strawberries and brandy. Pour into punch bowl over ice. Gently stir in champagne or soda, then garnish with mint. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 28 four-ounce cups.

Create Your Winter Sensation With Ice Cream

This year create a winter sensation with homemade ice cream decked for the holidays.

The most festive of ingredients — cranberries as the ice cream firms, as the ice cream firms, as the ice cream firms, or mincement — add cream has ripened, it's best to eat it within a these three variations of America's favorite treat.

Homemade ice cream will delight not only family and friends, but also the cook. If you're planning a holiday gettogether, there's no more delicious way to alleviate the last-minute time crunch. The ice cream can be made a few days in advance, then stored away in the freezer until party time.

lee cream is a wonderful dessert for the plan-ahead cook because it needs at least eight bours to "ripen" in the freezer. "Ripening" is the term used to describe the time during which the flavors blend and the cream hardens slightly, making the ice cream smoother. To ripen, remove the ice cream from the freezer canister and place in a plastic container with a tight-fitting lid. He sure to use a large enough container to allow for some expansion as the ice cream firms.

Once homemade ice cream has ripened, it's best to eat it within a week or two. Most homemade ice creams do not contain the stabilizers that commercial ice creams do, so their storage life is shorter. If you use a recipe that calls for eggs. flour or gelatin for your homemade ice cream, store longer because these ingredients serve as stabilizers.

Making ice cream at home is easier than ever before because new types of ice cream freezers are available. You can make from a pint to a half gallon, depending on the size of the unit's freezer.

Baking In The Spirit Of The Holiday Season

Baking is one of the most rewarding of all activities in the kitchen, especially during the holidays. There is something deeply satisfying, almost magical, in transforming simple ingredients into llavorful, mouthwatering treats.

The first kitchen lessons often occur during the holiday season. Baking can be a family time with the children as apprentices. Enthusiasm is the prime ingredient and a natural for young cooks. Add fun, easy-to-prepare recipes and success is guaranteed.

The holidays present an additional lesson for the young baker—that the friendliest gesture we can make is to share the good things from our kitchen. Baked goods as gifts is a festive tradition that teaches the joy of making and the joy of giving.

In the spirit of the holiday season, the Kraft Kitchens have prepared three new holiday treats which are fun to make, great to eat and perfect for a special delivery present. These cookies and cakes also serve well to have on hand for unexpected holiday guests.

Each of these recipes begins with one of the favorite ingredients of the holiday season, cream cheese. "Light" neufchatel cheese with 25% less fat and 20% fewer calories than cream cheese can be substituted in each recipe and will perform the same as regular cream cheese.

The Creamy Orange Rings recipe yields two wreath cakes which makes it perfect to keep one at home and wrap the other as a gift. The dough, already prepared from refrigerated crescent rolls, is simply formed into a rectangle. then spread with a cream cheese mixture and sprinkled with almonds. Easily shaped into a wreath, the cake is baked and then brushed with a powdered sugar and orange glaze.

The cream cheese cookie dough for Yuletide

Almond Cookies can be prepared in an evening and chilled overnight in anticipation of the young bakers in the family helping out the next day to create the finished product. Little ones will delight in shaping the dough into balls and then after baking, dipping the cookies in chocolate and sprinkling with ground almonds.

Butterscotch Ripple Coffee Cake is the answer to making breakfast. mid-morning or afternoon snacks special during the holidays. The batter, made extra rich with the addition of cream cheese, is topped with a butterscotch mixture which is cut through the batter for a marble effect. Sprinkled with coconut and nuts, then baked, the result is a golden brown, homey finger cake treat.

Each of these recipes serves well for baking in the spirit of the holiday season. In further celebration of holiday baking, Kraft is offering a free cheesecake recipe Continued on Page 9

Fresh, Frozen Cranberries Worthy Of Holiday Dishes

The holiday season is definitely upon us. Giant pyramids of canned cranberry sauce, the harbinger of all that good food to come, are cropping up in supermarkets all across the country.

But a side from Thanksgiving and Christmas, when those little red berries appear on dining tables in a supporting role to the turkey, cranberries are relegated to the back burners of our minds.

It's time the cranberry. one of America's three native fruits (the others are blueberries and Concord grapes), be given its culinary due.

Dazzling Delights

Room For Dessert

caution. "Save room for brated for three whole the dessert." as we days, our idea of a great tucked into the turkey. all of us, aunts, uncles, cousins, the gathered family. And save room we do, for we know that Thanksgiving desserts are always a knockout. This year, we take advantage of the seasonal bounty of oranges and grapefruit to team with traditional favorites - and provide desserts belitting the liveliest feast of the year.

Thanksgiving has been rollicking from the first occasion when 90 Indian neighbors, attracted by the irresistible smell of roasting turkey, dropped in to join the fun. The colonists, after a bleak year, were celebrating the richness of their first harvest. The cold weather had also brought juice wild turkey and other game into the sheltered Plymouth barbor. Plenty of food - and new hope in the hearts of the wanderers. Dour as the Grandmother used to Puritans were, they celeparty.

> Now as then, pumpkin pies wind up the feast. This year, we vary the tradition with pumpkin's near relative, sweet winter squash. It teams beautifully with Florida orange juice and grated peel: honey, cinnamon and nutmeg add their flavors. Whipped cream and orange sections garnish the dessert. It is velvety, delectable, and adds a vivid note to the holtday table.

Holiday Strategies Help To Avoid Diet Disasters

weigh heavily on those trying to stay on a diet. Tables groan with traditional, calorie-laden favorites and it's hard to resist the urge to est, cat,

While many individuals are able to cope with eating right and exercising at other times of the year, the Thankagiving to New Year's Day period can be especially difficult for even health-conscious fanatics." said Lee Haiken, editor of Weight Watchers magazine.

Short of wearing a blindfold, though, a few "holiday trimming" strategies can help you survive and conquer temptation.

Haiken recommends you view the period from Thanksgiving to New Year's as a series of separate celebrations. and follow your usual eating patterns in-

It is also important to flexible about what foods you will allow yourself without completely abandoning your weight-control efforts.

Make it clear to family and friends that you're serious about your efforts, and enlist their support, she said. With their help, you can avoid binging on tempting high-calorie foods.

A good strategy is to involve yourself in nonfood holiday traditions that keep you out of the kitchen. Work on crafts, write out Christman cards, go caroling.

Lauve Metcalfe, a corporate health and fitness consultant, agrees that the key to keeping your weight down is to keep your spirits high.

Metcalfe auggests you eat a filling snack or meal before going to a holiday as you'll be less inclined to overdo on rich appetizers.
