

Mal Boyle Replies To Willoughby's Attack On Press

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK. (AP)—Some Army officers retire gracefully. Others retire like Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, former chief of intelligence for Gen. Douglas MacArthur. They carry their mental wounds back into civil life.

General Willoughby has a grudge. He is mad at a fair segment of the American press for its coverage of the Korean war. Breathing his sword and taking up his pen, he attacks six correspondents, including this writer, and three weekly news magazines in an article in the December issue of "Cosmopolitan."

His general charges against the newsmen are that they spread "distortion," "confused an unhappy battle," and had a "marked tendency to smear General MacArthur." He even goes so far as to assert:

"The nuance of defeat created an atmosphere of tension, uneasiness, and distrust between Korea and Washington. This is believed to have been the major cause of the MacArthur-Truman split."

I do not know who believes this, unless it is General Willoughby himself. And I don't even really believe he does, except on rainy days.

The General accuses the six war reporters of being "often inaccurate, biased, prejudiced, petulant, and their reporting furnished no comfort to the enemy."

Perhaps Willoughby, now being free of military duties, ought to get a job as a cub reporter on a newspaper and find out what the function of a free press is in a democracy. It is this to find out the truth—and then print it.

The duty of a war reporter on the battlefield isn't to gloss over disaster or hide the mistakes of the top brass. It isn't his duty to burn incense before the altar of a two-star, self-inflating ego. It is his duty to find out what is happening in the war—and let the people back home know what is happening. That is what the soldiers themselves want him to do. His only restriction is this—never to write anything that will threaten the actual combat security of the troops.

My own feeling is that General Willoughby has taken up a blind-bus against the press to hide his own blunders.

It was—in the opinion of a member of trained war correspondents on the front—the reporting of General Willoughby himself that gave "aid and comfort to the enemy" and let down General MacArthur.

An top intelligence officer it was his job to give MacArthur an estimate of the enemy's capability under any condition. In the case of the Chinese Reds the Tokyo headquarters intelligence staff diatribe failed to do this.

The White House records of the Truman-MacArthur conference on Wake Island on Oct. 15, 1950, show that MacArthur was asked what the chances were of Chinese or Soviet interference in Korea.

And MacArthur was quoted in reply:

"Very little. x x x We are no longer fearful of the intervention. We no longer stand hat in hand."

The Chinese have 300,000 men in Manchuria. Of these probably not more than 100,000 to 125,000 are distributed along the Yalu River. Only 50,000 to 60,000 could be gotten across the Yalu River. They have no air force. Now that we have bases for our air force in Korea, if the Chinese tried to get down to Pyongyang there would be the greatest slaughter."

Presumably, Willoughby supplied this estimate to his chief. That was his job.

Forty days later the U. N. launched its "win-the-war" offensive. On that day—Nov. 24—1950—the total Chinese and North Korean intelligence in Korea at only 100,000 men.

It was an extremely costly miscalculation. Tremendous numbers of walking Chinese Reds rose up, with the Allied drive and forced a long withdrawal.

On Dec. 9—eight days after the attack began—MacArthur estimated the enemy at 600,000 men, and 1,500,000 Chinese and North Koreans.

How did this vast force mushroom? Why did Allied intelligence have no inkling of it? We have the answer. It was MacArthur down to the last battle near the Yalu River newspapermen or his own intelligence.

General Willoughby's argument is heavy; not with newsmen but with their responsibility.

ARMISTICE NEGOTIATORS AT PANMUNJOM, KOREA, reached complete agreement on a buffer zone (shaded area) which follows the present battlefield across the peninsula. An official United Nations spokesman said the Allies hope to see an end of the Korean conflict by Christmas, but heavy ground and air action continued. The agreed cease-fire line lies mostly inside Communist North Korea. (Central Press)

Alabama Governor Drops Extradition Of Negro Fugitive

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 29—(AP)—A 33-year-old Negro fugitive will not have to return to Alabama to complete a 100-year sentence for robbery.

Governor Dewey said Tuesday that Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama had decided to drop extradition proceedings and let Wesley Mallory, alias Willie Thomas, remain in New York State.

Mallory has been held in Albany county jail since Oct. 29 as a fugitive from justice. His attorney, Donald L. Lynch, was to move in city court today for Mallory's release.

In a telegram to Persons, Dewey said that he regarded the decision as "wise and just."

When told of Person's action, Mallory said he was "pretty well tickled by the whole thing." Mallory, who has three children is buying a home here.

Talks Are Started In Peanut Industry On Price Supports

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29—(AP)—The Agriculture Department called in representatives of the peanut industry yesterday to talk over a price support program for the 1952 crop of peanuts.

Officials sought recommendations on a price support level, and on expected market needs next year.

This year's crop of peanuts grown for eating is being supported at 88 percent of parity or a national average of $132 a ton.

Under farm law, peanuts must be supported at a rate between 75 and 90 percent of parity, the actual level being determined by the size of the supply in relation to the demand. The larger the supply in relation to demand, the lower the supports may be.

The government will determine the actual support level based on its estimates of supply and demand.

Invited to the conference were representatives of major farm organizations, peanut growers' cooperatives and peanut shellers. Peanuts are grown in the South and Southwest.

The supply for the current marketing year is considerably smaller than a year ago. It has been estimated at about 1,855,000,000 pounds of farmers' stock peanuts compared with 2,125,000,000 a year ago. This decline reflects the fact that this year's crop is considerably smaller than last year's.

Carryover of peanuts this year from the 1950 crop was more than double that of a year ago. It totaled about 245,000,000 pounds compared with about 108,000,000 a year ago.

The department has said, however, that there has been some decline in domestic use of peanuts for commercial edible purposes in recent years.

Eligible for price support will be only those peanuts grown on acreages allotted under a marketing quota program announced Monday and designed to prevent over-production. The acreage to be allotted totals 1,673,102 acres.

Farmers, however, may grow additional acreages for crushing for oil. Such peanuts must be sold to the department for disposal.

The price to be paid the producer for the peanuts crushed for oil will be the equivalent of the prevailing market value of peanut oil and meal, less the estimated storing, handling, selling and crushing costs. This year oil and peanuts have been bringing about half the price of those sold for edible purposes.

to the American public. To report the major mistakes of a major general is no criticism of the American Army, as such. An Army is many men, not one. Even in this odd world, I doubt if Willoughby will be able to prove a man can whitewash himself by outbidding the press with a worn tar brush. Surely he must always remember he didn't know what he ought to have known when 100,000 American soldiers marched toward anguish and ambush, hopeful that his wrong intelligence was right.

The men who marched haven't. Was it only a year ago? Has the General forgotten already?

Investment Men Told Of Changes In Blue Sky Laws

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Nov. 29—(AP)—State Blue Sky Laws, which regulate the sale of securities, were widely amended over the nation in 1951 in co-operation with the Investment Bankers Association of America, the organization has been told at its annual convention.

A research committee said that interests of both security dealers and investors are better safeguarded in many states as a result.

The committee said it had emphasized that protection of investors against fraud, with a minimum of restraint on the securities' dealer, was achieved best by making sure of the qualifications of dealers.

It said the soundest type of Blue Sky Law emphasizes the registration and examination of dealers and salesmen rather than the registration of securities by qualification.

The committee report said that with the co-operation of the I.B.A. a complete new Blue Sky Law became effective in Arizona in June and another in North Dakota on July 1. Legislation providing for new laws has been introduced in the New Mexico and Tennessee legislatures, the report added.

A bill embodying a new Blue Sky Law for Illinois is expected to be introduced at the next regular session of the Illinois legislature.

The committee reported amendments to Blue Sky Laws in California, Connecticut, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Oregon, New Wisconsin.

The education committee of the association reported that an investment banking seminar held last year at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania was successful and again is under consideration.

The association will wind up its annual meeting Friday when the incoming president, Joseph T. Johnson, of Milwaukee, addresses the organization.

for grave reasons, including economic. But he warned against deliberate and habitual withdrawal from the primary objective of marriage, "procreation of new life and its education."

Two wars, said the Pope, have inflicted grave wounds on family life. Because of the surge of unemployment, the mother often must seek employment and is unable to dedicate herself to her husband and children.

But, in a clear slap at Communism, the Pope said an even deeper misery is that which strives to degrade the family into a "mere organism at the service of the social community for the purpose of procreating for it a sufficient mass of human material."

Allied Pilots Win Greatest Aerial Battle

Ten Red Planes Are Bagged; Ground Action Quiet As Truce Talks Stall

KEY WEST, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The White House quoted today from a hitherto unpublished secret document to show that the Eighth Army issued orders Monday directing the continuation of hostilities until the signing of the armistice agreement. Presidential Secretary Joseph M. Shertoff read from the document at a news conference in which he denied that ground fighting had been brought to a halt over the Korean battlefield and challenged the accuracy of an Associated Press dispatch from Korea.

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea, Nov. 30.—(AP)—American Sabre jet pilots chalked up the greatest positive aerial victory of the Korean war today, bagging 10 Communist planes in a slashing air battle.

Thirty-one Sabres surprised a flight of 30 propeller-driven bombers and fighter-bombers with a top cover of 10 MIG jets flying in the north-west of the Yalu River in northwest Korea. In a swirling 30-minute battle six TU-2 twin-engine bombers spun to earth and three others were damaged. Three out of 18 LA-9 fighter-bombers were knocked down and one MIG was destroyed in a single blazing pass through the protective screen.

The Air Force said all Allied planes returned safely. Today's 10 Red positively downed was the highest one-day single-flight toll.

One Sabre pilot bagged four of the Communist planes to become America's fifth jet ace. Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., of Lubbock, Tex., shot down three of the TU-2 bombers and the MIG jet Friday. Two other MIGs were shot down and another was damaged.

The Red's phenomenal rush to build up supplies and presumably troops came as the ground fronts went through their third day of intense fighting.

American Medical Association Okays Fluorine In Water

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Treatment of drinking water supply with fluorine to combat tooth decay was approved today by the American Medical Association.

The fluoridation process has been hailed by the American Dental Association and several public health groups on the basis of tests which have been in operation for up to more than four years in 140 communities.

The AMA approval was announced today in the Association's Journal after investigation of the clinical results of the city water supply experiments by its council on pharmacy and chemistry and its council on foods and nutrition.

2 Republicans Want Attorney General To Be Questioned Before Tax Group

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Two Republicans demanded today that Attorney General J. Howard McGrath be called for questioning before the house subcommittee investigating tax scandals.

Boys, Keen of New Jersey and Byrnes of Wisconsin, GOP members of the subcommittee, told newsmen that McGrath sought to be called to explain testimony given by former Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle.

Since the hearings began, Caudle has been fired from his job. His duties had included the prosecution of the fraud case.

Kean said the subcommittee should also ask McGrath for a full statement on the department's policy of "letting men under indictment escape prosecution on account of illness."

Truman Administration Blasted For Trying To Blame Free Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Arthur Krock, chief Washington correspondent for the New York Times, said today in his editorial page column that whenever the Truman Administration gets confused about major events, it tries to blame the free press.

Krock raised the point in connection with President Truman's complaints yesterday about press reports of a temporary halt of hostilities in Korea.

"Whenever this Administration falls into a state of confusion and somewhat of dismay, and when that condition has become a matter of public knowledge and concern, an unusual barrage of official denials of unconvincing news is launched against the free press in a manner to persuade the people that the press is deliberately giving a lying account of the government."

Eighteen Communities Begin New Plan To Solve Housing Shortage

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
 AP Special Washington Service
 WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Nineteen California communities and nine others elsewhere are undertaking a plan to create additional rental housing without new construction.

The idea is to provide immediate relief in housing shortage areas by encouraging owners of large houses to subdivide them into self-contained apartments and to modernize vacant substandard and uninhabitable housing.

Supported by the Office of Rent Stabilization (ORS), the plan was initiated in Lake Charles, La.

One of the first steps in the representing a cross section of formation of a local committee the community and affected interests. Suggested for inclusion on the committee are representatives of real estate firms, banks, labor organizations, banks and other lending agencies, contractors, building supply dealers, local defense plants, newspapers and radio stations.

Officials of the Office of Rent Stabilization reported that local committees have been formed or are in process of formation in these California communities: Vallecito, Santa Maria, Hayward, San Leandro, Castroville, Livermore, Pleasanton, Walnut Creek, and Contra Costa county.

The ORS says the so-called "Lake Charles Plan" is not a cure-all for the housing shortage or for exorbitant rents in areas where military camps and defense plants are located.

However, it is encouraged as a means of easing the rental housing situation within a few weeks time with a minimum drain on critical construction materials and manpower.

To help encourage the conversion of large houses into multiple units in areas where rent controls are likely to be reimposed, the local Rent Stabilization Office is authorized to give a "prior opinion" as to the rents that can be charged for subdivided accommodations so owners will know in advance whether conversion will be a good business proposition.

Outside of California, the ORS reported, the plan is being proposed at Norfolk, Va., Newport, R. I., Mountain Home, Idaho, Presque Isle and Brunswick, Me., and at Camp Edwards, Fort Devens, Westover Field and Lowell, Mass.

Controversial Negro Housing Project Hits

MIAMI, Nov. 30.—A dynamite explosion today badly damaged an apartment building in Carver Village, controversial Negro housing development where another building was dynamited 10 days ago.

An unoccupied eight unit apartment building was the latest target. The explosion shook windows miles around and police were flooded with telephone calls. No one was injured. Alfred Donatelli, a night watchman, said he passed the spot three minutes before the explosion and saw nothing out of order. He said turned a corner when the blast occurred.

Fire Inspector Tom Winston said it appeared 20 to 25 sticks of dynamite and a long-burning fuse were used. They were placed inside an ornamental wall alongside the building.

Two apartment units were destroyed and structural damage resulted to the rest of the building. Concrete rubble was tossed 150 feet.

The "village" was a private development built by John Bouvier and Malcolm Whiteheart in Edison Center, a white development. A concrete wall separates the Negro area from the white project.

Disarmament Talk

Vishinsky said the Soviet Union is ready to continue our efforts and take part in the work of the proposed sub-committee.

He added that he was bewildered by Western claims that the Soviet Union wanted a veto in the International Arms Commission which would supervise disarmament procedures.

Vishinsky declared that Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov had said on Dec. 14, 1949, that while Russia insists on a veto in the Security Council, she would not do so in the arms commission.

This was old stuff to Western diplomats, who have pointed out repeatedly that since the Soviet Union demands that the Commission be under the Security Council, it amounts to the same thing as having a veto in the commission. Any recommendation by the commission to the council would be subject to the veto there.

Vishinsky likened the position of the Western Big Three to the "Trinity"—one in heaven, one on earth and one in the Christian doctrine of God in the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

He expressed the conviction that the amendments proposed to the Western plan by the Soviet Union would "facilitate and assure solution of the task before us."

Mrs. Judd tied the ladder to the head of her mother's bed in a room adjoining her cell.

Attendants said Mrs. Judd had been upset for the last week after another patient told her she would be taken away from her mother and put in a criminal ward.

Mrs. Judd killed her roommates, Agnes Anne Lottol and Hedvig Samuelson, on Oct. 16, 1951. Their bodies expertly cut into pieces were crammed into a trunk and a suitcase and shipped to Los Angeles by train. The contents were discovered when a baggage room employe noticed blood seeping from the trunk.

Mrs. Judd eluded capture for a week, hiding one night behind eggs in a Los Angeles department store and spending the rest of the time in a vacant cottage at a suburban sanitarium cottage. She surrendered to police in an undertaking parlor.

She was convicted of murder Feb. 8, 1952, and sentenced to be hanged. The prosecution contended she killed Miss LeRoi and Miss Samuelson in a jealous rage over the attentions of a prominent Phoenix business man.

Her execution was set for May 11 but she obtained a stay of execution by appealing to the state supreme court. The court rejected the appeal in 1953. Within 72 hours of the state prison ordered a sanity hearing for the once-ardent, but by then, haggard woman. A jury of ranchers and

Postmaster Suggests Using 1st Class Mail

"First class friends deserve first class mail!" Postmaster Joel S. Field declared today, as the arrival of Christmas cards and gift packages in heavy volume indicated that the Yuletide Season has officially begun.

By way of explanation, the Postmaster said, "Most of our grief is caused each year by hastily scribbled addresses that we can't read, or Christmas cards being sent as third class mail which can't be forwarded or returned if the addressee has moved. Loosely wrapped gift packages are other trouble-makers that can be avoided."

To offset these perennial problems, Postmaster Field recommends that the public begin now to correct and bring their address book up-to-date. "And by all means," he continued, "mail those precious packages and Christmas cards early next week, if possible!"

"Wrap your shipping cartons carefully, with a good cord pulled over and under several times around. Stuff your packages properly to cushion any fragile items they may contain. Use heavy wrapping paper to help insure safe and sound delivery."

This is more than 10 percent, so that the bolita men, in addition to passing on the tax to the consumer, add to their already tremendous take."

"And some unscrupulous runners, taking advantage of the publicity given the new law and the ignorance of their clients, have been charging them an extra nickel, dime or quarter 'for tax.' This, of course, goes into their own pockets."

Negro Schools May Get Military Units

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(AP)—The Federal Office of Education is studying what to do about providing military instruction at Negro land grant colleges in the South. The question arose after a ruling by the agency's legal department that present law requires military instruction at these schools if they are to receive federal funds.

The agency now is making a state by state survey to determine what can be done.

TODAY'S HEADLINE

We fear because we imagine we are friendless. We really have an infinitely powerful friend very near at hand. Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear.—Ps. 27:1.

The seizure of 1,160 gambling machines in Georgia valued at $317,685 and the arrest of 13 persons dealing in them was announced yesterday by the FBI.
Gambling is big business.

Just because 31 Internal Revenue employees were fired the other day for corruption and inefficiency in their work, that doesn't mean that all Internal Revenue agents are bad. But natural prejudices certainly are stimulated when the tax bill gets higher and higher every year.

The federal deficit for this fiscal year which began on July 1 stood yesterday at $6,427,458.- 991.54. That is to say, the government's expenses have already run that far behind its income. Last year at this time, it was $536,521,897.69. We are getting no better fast.

Don't worry about an oil shortage in this country, that is,
if we don't get into a big war.
The chairman of the Standard Oil Co. of California says oil production in this country could be doubled in one year if necessary. And long before it runs out, we will be using atomic power for fuel and energy.

They have a unique way of collecting campaign contributions in Ohio. A CIO official admitted under oath yesterday that $250 was "checked off" from the pay of a Cleveland union in 1950
for use by the Political Action Committee in the fight against Taft. That is to say, you contributed the $250 whether you wanted to or not.

Well, it is about time to start picking out the ten biggest news stories of the year. What would you say? MacArthur's recall from Tokyo? The Keftauer Crime Report? The West Point and other sports scandals? The Middle East crisis? The Korean war? Or something else, perhaps that we haven't thought of like the birth of a baby in your own family, or the girl who said "yes"?

The first hole in the new dyke against unlimited campaign contributions appeared yesterday when the Attorney General ruled that a candidate operating a traveling free movie advertising unit as a business venture may use it in his campaign and not report payments from his advertisers as part of his campaign contributions. Thus anyone who wants to make unlimited contributions to some candidate can do so and simply call it advertising.

It pays to advertise. According to the Ministry of Health in Britain, so many people in England are reading the advertisements for various patent medicines that the doctors are becoming a mere source of free prescriptions and free medicines rather than a source of medical advice. Pills and other prescriptions under the free service of socialized medicine during the past year amounted to $80,556,000. Of course such things are not free at all, but are paid for by the taxpayers.

We gather it was the newspaper that was tight and the other, which promised the following in Right on the deadline, with state city editor of the Dallas Morning News, had an instant change on the press with a

Supreme Court Shift

The 1937 shift of the Supreme Court's position on some of the basic legislation of the New Deal is discussed in Merlo Pusey's new biography of Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes. The jurist is quoted as saying that the alteration in the Court's attitude was actually small, and that the proposal of President Roosevelt to increase the membership of the Court had nothing to do with the change.

The Hughes story does say that the Court took up a new position on state minimum wage legislation. The Court, which had once thrown out a New York minimum wage statute, approved of its constitutionality in 1937. Hughes attributes this about-face to a change of mind on the part of Justice Owen J. Roberts. The Court had been attacked for its previous stand, and now was attacked for changing its mind.

Changes of mind come frequently in private life. They might occur to advantage more often in public life. Officials often persist in wrong attitudes for fear of being charged with inconsistency if they change. On the Supreme Court a reversal of position may sometimes be particularly embarrassing. In 1935 the Court, which had previously tolerated the income tax, reversed itself because of the change of heart of one justice, who has never been positively identified. This striking down of the income tax, after it had been on the statute books for many years, was a damaging blow to the Court's prestige. It took 18 years for a constitutional amendment to be enacted, permitting resumption of the tax.

To all appearances both Hughes and Roberts tended to support New Deal measures from 1937 on, whereas they had previously looked askance at many. They may have previously been so near to doing so that a small change of mind was involved, but the shift in the balance of the Court may have been a turning point in American history.

Most-Studied Doctor

The author of the most widely studied medical work in the world is being honored by commemoration of the one thousandth anniversary of his birth. The book was the "Canon" of the Arab physician Avicenna, who is generally supposed to have been born in 980. This would not bring his thousandth anniversary up for almost another thirty years, but his admirers may fear that they might not be around then, so prefer to make sure by celebrating it now.

Avicenna was born in Russian Central Asia, perhaps of a Turkish family. His parents seem to have spoken Persian, and he wrote in Arabic. Thus Russians, Turks, Persians and Arabs all have a claim on him. His "Canon" was a monumental compendium of all previous medical knowledge, Greek as well as Oriental. Translated early into Latin, it was used as a text in the European universities. It remained a book of study till lately in the French university of Montpellier and the Belgian of Louvain, and is still used in some parts of the East. Avicenna influenced St. Thomas Aquinas and the medieval scientist Roger Bacon.

Probably Avicenna's medical ideas would not be acceptable today, but it has often been found that these early physicians had a good deal of shrewd observation. Sometimes they knew remedies which the Western world had not discovered.

Football Hall Of Fame

Electing men to the Baseball Hall of Fame is child's play compared with the task of doing the like for football. Baseball players continue active for many years. But since football players can appear in intercollegiate contests for only three years, they must in the long run be much more numerous. The first group of gridiron immortals has been chosen. Before the selections are concluded, the new Football Hall of Fame at Rutgers University, New Jersey, will probably include hundreds of names.

The Honors Court for football has announced the selection of 32 players and 21 coaches from 25 colleges. This first group is confined to the earlier stars. Army is represented only by Charlie Daly, who played last in 1902, and not by any of its more recent stars. Princeton, which has been at or near the top of Eastern football since its early days, is represented only by Hector Cowan, a star tackle of the '30s. Michigan's players include Germany Schulz, the great center of 40 years ago.

Presumably the omission of players familiar in recent times will be rectified later. The first 32 seem to be a judicious selection. Football followers will probably have many other names to suggest as additions.

New York Visitor Dies Suddenly Here

Valentine Frederick Steinmetz died at 4:15 A.M. this morning at the home of his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Wilke, 420 Summerlin Avenue, whom he had been visiting for the past several weeks.

Mr. Steinmetz's home was in Staten Island, N. Y. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Port Richmond L. I., also the Lutheran Church.

Mr. Steinmetz is survived by his widow, Mrs. V. F. Steinmetz, seven children and seven grandchildren. The body will be sent to Staten Island today for funeral services and interment.

New Candidate Is In Race For State Governor

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The field for governor in next spring's Democratic primary was increased to seven with the entry of George Pagliaro of Lantana.

Pagliaro filed with the Secretary of State's Office formal announcement of his candidacy. He named Nick Tully of Lake Worth as his campaign treasurer and the Atlantic National Bank of West Palm Beach his depository.

In other political developments in the state today:

Dan McCarthy said it looks like the Warren Administration is going ahead with the proposed East Coast turnpike and the next governor won't have much to say about it.

He said if the issue is not decided before a new administration begins he would demand complete information and advice from "impartial and qualified experts" before making a decision.

Two of the candidates, Bill Hendrix of Tallahassee and Bruce Stevens of Tampa, opposed the project outright. Dale Spencer of Kissimmee merely said he wouldn't change a single road under his administration.

Alto Adams of Fort Pierce and J. Bradley Gilman of Sanford said they wanted more information about the highway. Adams later called it a "pig in the poke."

Attorney General Ervin ruled it's legal for Florida candidates to use billboards for their campaign advertising.

Billboards are not on the list of items for which the post office campaign expenditures, but printing is on the list and Ervin said that covers billboards.

Seatrain Service To Savannah Is Begun

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Commonwealth steamship service between the port of New York and Savannah, Ga., resumed today when the freight-carrying Seatrain Havana puts to sea.

The weekly ship service, center of a local controversy between the Seatrain Company and most of the eastern and southern railroads, is the first of the new Interstate Commerce Commission approval to operate "temporarily" for the next six months.

In announcing the service, the railroads have maintained the adequate all-rail service existed between New York and Savannah. The rail men charge that Seatrain is serving as an intermediate carrier.

However, the Commission held that there was "an immediate and urgent need for the proposed service" on Nov. 14. It granted the ship company 180-day temporary operating rights, and is considering a Seatrain application for permanent operating authority.

Truman Vs. Press

presenting as serious a playful remark made and accepted in confidence by the President.

"Merlo Pusey, a careful and reputable journalist, wrote in his authorized biography of Charles E. Hughes that the latter had recommended to the President that he appoint Justice Jackson at the time Fred M. Vinson was appointed chief justice, and that this report had been certified by Hughes to the President twice denied it, asserting Hughes had agreed with him that Vinson was "the better man."

Representative King of California after a phone conversation with Mr. Truman, said he had been promised access to certain secret files. This was promptly denied at Key West.

Terminal Project

pledges until the investigation is complete.

Mr. Hurt said further that if the investigating group should decide against the project, the investors would have the option of withdrawing their pledges. The money already paid in would be returned to them on a pro rata basis after deducting expenses. A motion to this effect was passed unanimously.

To leave the door open for orange county and other outside investors to participate on the investigating committee, J. Malcolm Higgins offered an amendment placing no restrictions on residence or membership on the committee. This was also passed.

Chairman Fitts outlined the two major obstacles confronting the project as follows:

1. The organization is not yet an official corporate group since it lacks approval of the Security and Exchange Commission.

2. Re-appraisal of costs for construction and investigation into other conditions which might have changed since the original appraisal was made in 1949.

By altered conditions, Mr. Fitts meant whether or not the State Highway Department's attitude toward relinquishing its right of way over Route 178, where the site and warehouse must be constructed.

Fitts admitted that prices have gone up since the first estimates were obtained two years ago. At that time it was estimated that $250,000 would be needed to construct the port terminal and warehouse. To compensate for this, the group has indicated its present goal is $500,000. This would be reached on a basis of 5,000 shares at $100 per share.

Toward that goal Mr. Fitts estimated that already over $60,000 has been pledged. He maintained, he said, that the group since all possible resources have not yet been fully exploited. These pledges have been drawn mainly from Seminole County investors and since this is actually a Central Florida project monetary support from other sections of the area, such as Orlando are expected.

To that end Mr. Fitts promised to send a group, probably the 13 named to the investigating committee, to Orlando to meet with the Orange county groups within the near future.

of military preparedness, our growing population, our rising standard of living, and our great efforts to share our production with those nations which are joining us in the defense of freedom," the acting secretary said.

Because livestock feed supplies are shrinking rapidly, the department wants to give corn and grain sorghum prior claim over all less productive feed crops.

"bright war" and "red" truce negotiators again balked at guaranteeing against an increase in their forces during an armistice.

An Eighth Army communique reported "no significant action" on either the western or eastern fronts.

Elsewhere along the bitterly cold 148-mile front quiet was broken by routine artillery fire and defensive patrols instructed to keep out of trouble.

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators today flatly refused even to discuss the withdrawal of troops from Korea until an armistice is signed.

They also made it clear the U. N. Command will not modify its demand for (1) joint inspection teams behind the battle lines and (2) an ironclad ban on strengthening front line troops.

"We are going to insist upon those principles," Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. negotiator, told the Reds. "We are not going to agree to immediate withdrawal of U. N. Command forces from Korea, is that clear? The sooner it is clear, the sooner we will begin to make profitable use of the time of this conference."

Replying to Joy's 30-minute opening statement at Panmunjom, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il reportedly called the Allied proposal "unreasonable and impractical."

He said joint inspection teams would be "brass interference with the internal affairs of the other side."

The U. N. Command communique described the session in terms frequently used during the long deadlock over fixing the cease-fire line:

"No progress."

of its creation hardly ate or slept, so strong was his urge to write this greatest of all oratorios. This work is to the Christian world as the "Elijah" oratorio is to the Israelite tradition.

The work so inspired King Charles I of England that upon hearing the Hallelujah chorus, he rose to his feet and bowed his head in reverence. This, Mr. Harris declared, has established the present custom of standing when this chorus is sung.

Mrs. Lillian Vickery and Mrs. W. Measinger left today for Hartwell, Ga. where they were called because of the death of Mrs. Vickery's father, John W. Baker. They were accompanied from Crescent City by Mrs. Vickery's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hoke Baker.

Mrs. Carraway Is Hostess At Bridge

Mrs. Andrew Carraway entertained her luncheon bridge club on Tuesday at her home on Elliott Avenue.

Chrysanthemums and hibiscus were used in artistic arrangements in the reception rooms of the Carraway home, and a lovely luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. George A. Speer.

At the conclusion of the bridge games prizes were given to Mrs. Hugh Wheelchel, Mrs. Harry Tooke, and Mrs. Harry Woodruff.

The members present were Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Tooke, Mrs. Speer, Mrs. John Ivey, and Mrs. Orville L. Barkus. Guests were Mrs. Wheelchel, Mrs. G. R. Pearson, and luncheon guests, Mrs. E. A. Neptune, and Miss Lorene Neptune of Kansas City, Mo. who are the mother and sister of Mrs. Pearson.

Officers' Wives Club Are Given Party

Mrs. John R. Miller, Jr., was hostess to the Officers' Wives Club of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station yesterday afternoon at a delectable bridge party which she gave at her home at 101 W. 25th Street.

Mrs. Miller used floral arrangements of bronze and gold chrysanthemums in the living room of her home and a delectable course was served the guests.

Prizes for the afternoon's bridge games were given to Mrs. Stanley F. Donohoe, Mrs. Robert W. Raney, and Mrs. E. R. Brownell.

Those present were Mrs. G. R. Pearson, Mrs. J. R. Her, Mrs. C. A. Blouin, Mrs. S. W. Parker, Mrs. Oscar F. Nicholson, Mrs. Donohoe, Mrs. Ramsey, and Mrs. Brownell.

The tree that furnishes the fabulous ylang-ylang perfume has been growing around Florida's southern tip for generations, so it is somewhat surprising that the Malayan tree has not been more widely planted. Home owners in frost-free sections all ways want their gardens to be tropical. This tropical effect is enhanced by growing some plants that produce pleasant scents.

Ylang-ylang is a tree from the old world tropics that grows there to large size and appears to be quite at home in Florida, although not reaching such size here. The drooping branches are clothed with large, sharp-pointed evergreen leaves that make the sweet odor so penetrating that the outstanding characteristic of the ylang-ylang, however, is the splendid fragrance that comes from the yellowish-green flowers. Ordinarily, this scent is quite strong, and so it is not necessary to have the tree close to the breezeway, patio or porch. The sweet odor is so penetrating that it carries for considerable distances on the moist, evening air.

In the East Indies, the flowers are gathered to be processed into perfume, but Floridians are pleased to enjoy the all home essence from the living flowers.

From Palm Beach around the peninsula tip to Fort Myers or perhaps Bradenton, ylang-ylang fruits abundantly to produce sufficient seeds for nursery needs. Nomenclature follows Manual of Cultivated Plants, L. H. Bailey, Macmillan, New York, 1919.

C.A.P. Postponing Korean Blood Drive

The Civil Air Patrol has postponed its blood drive here for the benefit of men wounded in Korea. Capt. David Remley, C.A.P. executive officer, stated this morning.

He said that the reason for this was that local Naval authorities had been advised by the Jacksonville Naval Air Station that present facilities for the processing of blood are overtaxed due to the overwhelming response of donors in the Jacksonville area.

Since the acceptance of the Civil Air Patrol blood drive in Sanford, the facilities have become taxed necessitating a postponement of the local drive, he added.

The C.A.P. is said to be disappointed concerning this postponement since so many Sanford citizens have offered their cooperation. Plans for this drive will be announced at a later date, he added. He expressed appreciation for the "overwhelming" cooperation of the ready offered and stated that when

Seminole High To Tackle Red Devil Gridmen Tonight

Packed Stands Expected For Kiwanis Charity Game

By DEERE HUNN-RANKIN
Tonight's the big game of the season for Sanford High and seven varsity football players who will start their last game when they clash with the Lakeview High School Red Devils at Winter Garden in the annual Kiwanis benefit game at 8:00 P.M. on the Sanford high school field.

With the weatherman promising slightly warmer temperatures Kiwanians expect to pack the stands with fans eager to catch the final appearance of one of the top East Florida Conference teams when they take on last year's Orange Cit champions from Winter Garden.

An added attraction to the annual charity game for underprivileged children will be the big half time show previously scheduled for the rainy homecoming tilt against Seabreeze.

Playing their last football game for Coach Bill Fleming and Fred Ganas will be stalwarts of this season's eleven seniors End Ken Gano, Tackle Walter Routh, Guards Jack Schirard and Mike Wheeler in the line and backs Ed Gordon, Stan Oglesby, and Frankie Stenstrom.

Rounding out the Seminole starting eleven will be tackle Joe Pickens, Center Terry Cordell, End Harry Byrd, Tailback Junior Metts and blocking backs J. B. Howell or Harry Rinkavitch.

With a better win-loss record and the advantage of playing on their home field where they haven't lost a game this year the Seminole lads will go into the fray the favored eleven.

But the Winter Garden squad will pose a real threat in such men as 195 pound Center Wayne Goldberg, 185 pound Tackle Marion Lincoln, feet-footed Quarterback Bobbie Fleming and Devil Captain Ray Morgan, a 165 pound half-back.

Seven Hatters To Play Last Football Game For Stetson

DELAND, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Seven members of the Stetson football team will play their final regularly-scheduled intercollegiate game here Saturday.

All are members of the offensive or defensive starting line-ups. Two are backfield men, five are linemen and all are specialists in their departments.

These seniors in the Homecoming game are: Bill Johnson, Fullback Armstrong, Kermit Coble, Dick Henry, Clarence Hughes, Don Martin, and Joe Raffaele.

Bill Johnson, Waterbury, Ohio, is a Hatter quarter-back who was United States All American Honorable Mention in 1950. Bill is 20 years old, weighs 185 and stands six feet one inch. He played football four years at Whitmer High in Toledo, Ohio.

Fullback Armstrong is a Deland boy, now 21 and one of the average heavyweights of 190 who stand exactly six feet. As a fullback, Armstrong carries the punting load for the Hatters. He played three years for Deland High School.

Kermit Coble (Queenie) Coble (Greenboro, N. C.) is president of the "B" Club. One of the oldest players on the team, Coble is 20, only five feet six inches in height and weighs 101 pounds. He played three years for Greenboro High School.

Undefeated Tech Will Risk Record Against Georgia

ATLANTA, Nov. 30.—(Special)—Orange Bowl bound Georgia Tech—the surprise team of the South for 1951—places its bid for at least a share of the SEC title and the school's first undefeated season since 1928 square on the line Saturday afternoon at Grant Field against the Georgia Bulldogs.

Coches Bobby Dodd's Yellow Jackets, picked for the middle flight of the conference in most pre-season ratings, enter their final regular game with 9-0-1 record and with an Orange Bowl bid accepted three weeks ago. Only mar on the slate is a 14-14 tie with Duke. Tech has now played 12 consecutive games without defeat over a two year period.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 will see the contest, 46th in the series between the traditional rivals. Georgia Tech has won 18 previous games, Georgia 22 and five have been ties. Tech won in both 1949 and 1950. Georgia's 1951 record is five wins and four losses.

The Jackets will once again rely heavily on the accurate passing of All-SEC choice Darrell Crawford and the stout work of an 181 pound defensive line. Crawford, named to the United Press all conference eleven last week, did not play in Saturday's 34-7 romp over Davidson. He has completed 58 percent of his passes this fall for 1043 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Tech's lightweight defensive combine ranks among the National leaders, a status which becomes even more impressive in the light of the Jackets' 1951 opposition. The Daddmen's foes have averaged gaining only 110 yards rushing and 83 passing this fall.

Capt. Lamar Wheat and All-American guard Ray Beck, both named to the UP team along with Crawford, spearhead the Tech defensive line. Lum Snyder, hailed by Coach Dodd as "the best blocking tackle in the SEC," leads an offensive forward line. Leon Hardeman, with a net gain of 420 yards,

High School Rule Change Proposed By Branch Rickey

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—(AP)—Branch Rickey, a man with a record for accomplishment in baseball, is going to the minor league annual meeting with a determination to get the high school rule changed.

Rickey, engaged in the terrific job of trying to rebuild the Pittsburgh Pirates into a pennant winning ball club, says a manager should be able to sign a high school youth to a contract.

The present rule forbids a manager from even talking business with a high school student. Rickey says the law is being violated—and often.

He thinks a proposed amendment to the rule that would permit baseball's front office to have a heart-to-heart talk with a high school boy, but forbid a contract, is equally ridiculous.

The Old Mahatmas, who bravely defend the high schools must come to a different definition of amateurism. x x x I believe the parents with the cooperation of their sons should not be deprived the right to make contracts for future services.

But he makes it clear he doesn't believe a youth should let baseball interfere with his education. He thinks a school boy should not be stopped from making definite plans.

Now that the National Collegiate Athletic Association sent its blessing and sanction to the Tangerine Bowl was received jubilantly in all quarters. Recently the NCAA issued a list of accredited bowls and Orlando's Tangerine Bowl was not included. Reason being that the Orlando bowl officials failed to send in their official notice in time to make the NCAA deadline.

According to the NCAA, any team which participated in a bowl game not sanctioned by it, would be subject for expulsion and face a ban from other colleges. Stetson tearing this ban couldn't accept the Tangerine Bowl bid when it was offered last Friday night.

But for the courageous outspoken efforts of J. Ollie Edmonds, president of Stetson University, the Tangerine Bowl would have been outlawed. Edmonds vigorously presented the worthy case to the NCAA. Citing the unusual aspect of the game, namely the charity benefit, Edmonds urged the NCAA to change its earlier edict and with it send its blessing to boot. Yes, there still is justice in our times.

According to the latest information, Sanford need not worry over the Titans decision to abandon their baseball franchise. At least two other major league teams have expressed interest in sponsoring a team here. The Cincinnati Reds and Boston Braves are the two big league clubs desiring to work out an agreement. Florida State League president John Krider is going to Columbus, Ohio, for the Minor League meetings and is expected to bring back a working agreement for Sanford with the major league club.

Not in all probability with some minor league team. A new baseball plant in an expanding league is quite an inducement for any school to sign an agreement with Sanford.

Tonight is the big Kiwanis benefit football game in Sanford. We will be there. Will you? We pick the Seminoles by three touchdowns.

SEC Grid Squads Ready To End Season With Traditional Battles

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ten Southeastern Conference teams relaxed with light workouts today before tomorrow's five traditional tilts marking schedule windups for all.

Georgia Tech, bound for Miami and the Orange Bowl, New Year's Day, and top-ranking Tennessee, which meets Maryland in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, wound up serious work yesterday for their Saturday encounter with Georgia and Vanderbilt.

The other SEC entries complete their grid work for the year with this program: Auburn at Alabama, Mississippi at Mississippi State, Tulane at Louisiana State.

Tech, rated a two-touchdown favorite over fast-improving Georgia, learned that first string safety man Jackie Rudolph would miss the scrap. Jackie, one of the Yellow Jackets' better pass defenders, hurt his knee two weeks ago against Alabama.

Georgia worked out lightly in Athens. The offensive platoon polished its pass patterns while the defensive crew sought the key to Tech's varied attack.

Vanderbilt, with the unenviable task of facing the nation's number one team, continued to work on defense at Nashville. Coach Bill Edwards praised the Commodores for their grit and spirit throughout the season and said of Saturday's game: "I think Vanderbilt will give Tennessee a good game providing we make a minimum of mistakes and keep knocking the way we have in practice this week."

A Knoxville, Tenn. boy, Neyland was in complete agreement with Vandy's Edwards.

"Vanderbilt is an aggressive football team and in Bill Wade possesses one of the finest passers in the country," the Vol coach observed.

Neyland's unbeaten crew held a long workout with most of the contact work reserved for the defensive unit. Pass defense, punt returns and a dummy scrimmage comprised the agenda for the defenders.

Books threw Tulane's first string offensive end, Ferdie Kibboux, for a loss on the eve of his battle with favored L.S.U. The flankman, deficient in his studies, was ruled ineligible for the game. The Greenies concentrated on offense in yesterday's drill.

L.S.U. was spirited in an hour of signal drill and pass practice. Coach Gayle Tinsley said his starting offensive backfield against Tulane would be Cliff Stringfield, Lee Hodges, LeRoy LeBat and Al Doggett.

Coach Ralph Jordan took a 44-man Auburn squad, including eight freshmen, to Birmingham today for a last light drill before meeting arch-rival Alabama at Legion Field. The Plainsmen emphasized passing yesterday and the throwers looked good but the receivers ragged.

In Tuscaloosa, Alabama coaches fretted about the weakened center position. Sophomore Hal Johnson was pulled from the lineup with an infected throat and will miss the meeting with Auburn. O. E. Phillips, out most of the season with injuries, will have to shoulder most of the ball-snapping duties.

Mississippi State and Mississippi concluded their heavy workouts in high spirits for the Saturday scrap at Starkville.

George Billick, 41-year-old gate tender for a railroad, recently scored his eighth 800 game in bowling. The record is 11.
