

Tiger Tales

By L. E. HIGGENBOTHAM

"Checkmate" is completed. The last Douglas A3D "Skywarrior" roared aboard the Independence this afternoon terminating the six day exercise. The "Tigers" of Heavy Attack Squadron One had met every commitment and had asked for more as would any battle efficiency award winning squadron.

After six days seeing people in flight suits it was a revelation to see Robert B. Everly, chief aviation maintenance, in his new uniform. We're proud of his promotion.

We're all looking forward to a wonderful visit to Athens tomorrow, an opportunity to put our feet on dry ground and to see a few of the fabulous sights of that ancient city.

We said goodbye to Commander Meshier, chief staff officer, Heavy Attack Wing One this morning and to Lieutenant Wendell W. "Shifty" Powell tonight. Lt. Powell is going to VAH-3 for a tour of shore duty—Bon Voyage, "Shifty."

There is a movie in the "Tiger Den," ready room for tonight, but I think we'll forego it and shuffle papers a bit.

Fellows turn to their letters and scribble many dreams upon paper and vow kindness, and thoughtfulness, and compassion, and we wish we could be home with our loved ones. I just looked outside and there is a big beautiful half moon—What a wonderful night for flying...

Accomplishments Of Little Red Schoolhouse Cited

By DOTTIE HIGGENBOTHAM
Hibiscus blooms decorated the two rooms at the Little Red Schoolhouse Wednesday evening where during the day eight mentally retarded children attend a private school specially equipped and suited to their needs.

The doors were opened to the public for the first time and over 40 guests called during the appointed hours to see what has been accomplished by a few hardworking and determined individuals, assisted by kind-hearted and sympathetic clubs and organizations, in the establishment of this desperately needed school.

Guests who called to see the Little Red Schoolhouse, (which really is white) found one large room and one small room with linoleum covered floors and several desks, where the children sit for a little while each day and draw pictures, color, paste and put things together.

There is a clock with movable hands on the wall, where they can learn to tell time, a two-way telephone system, which can be made to ring and where the children or a child and teacher can talk to each other.

There are large-sized dominoes with big black spots on them with which they might learn to count and a flannelboard, where other felt and flannel pictures and objects can be placed for counting and recognition.

Rhythm band instruments have been kindly contributed by someone and provide a great deal of enjoyment for the music-loving youngsters, who find happiness and pleasure in listening to and making music.

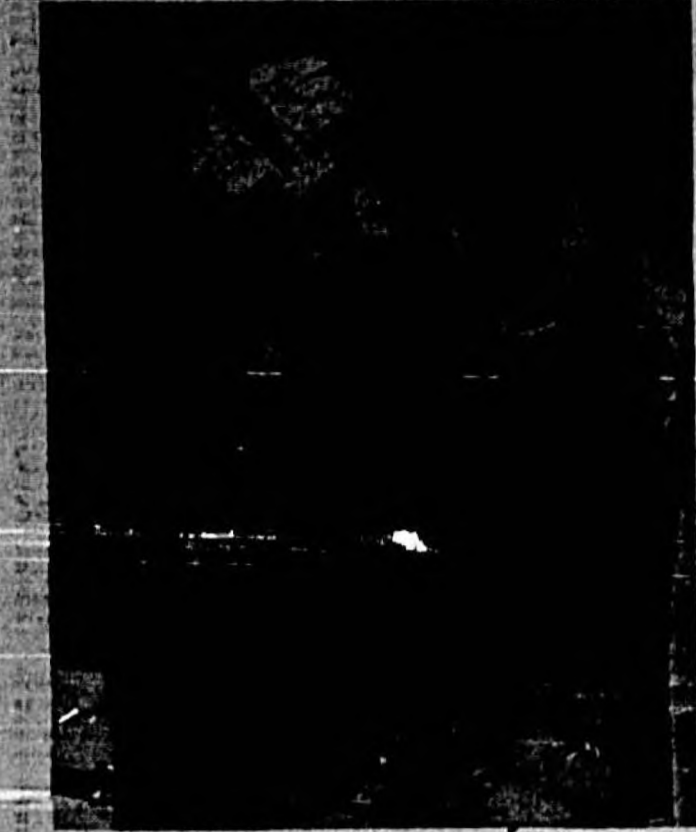

A record player also has been contributed and some records. But the records that the school has are well worn and have been played over and over. Some new ones would be greatly appreciated.

There are several hand, eye and muscle training objects which get lots of use, such as a cloth with a zipper in it, another specially constructed with big buttons and buttonholes, and a wooden shoe that can be laced up.

A bookcase full of toys is in the playroom, along with a long low play table. There are also wheel toys, tricycles and wagons, which are taken outside in good weather to give the children fresh air and exercise.

The teacher, Mrs. Ada Sires, and the helpers who work a few hours or a day or two a week assisting her met guests and showed them around, exhibiting the children's accomplishments and showing the drapes made by one organization, the paint job done by another, the air conditioner contributed by a group, the bookshelves donated by a club and many other contributions which have gone to make up the school as it now stands.

Boland Warns UN Of Fate

NEW YORK (UPI) — Frederick B. Boland, former UN General Assembly president, warned Sunday the United Nations may be in for the same fate as the League of Nations.

Boland blamed both big and small powers for the deadlock at the United Nations. The Irish UN delegate, who also served with the League of Nations, appeared on NBC's "Meet the Press."

"I think," Boland said, "there is the same tendency nowadays as there was then on the part of the major powers to take the view that the world organization should be subservient to their respective national interest. I think there may be also a tendency, which I hope will not materialize, on the part of the smaller members of the organization, to say rather than have serious great power differences: Let us compromise."

Boland said he would "respectfully decline" any attempt to draft him as an interim replacement for UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

He also said he was opposed to the Soviet three-man "troika" proposal for the UN secretariat because it would then cease to be an "effective and impartial international" body.

Cub Pack 534 Sets Meet

Leaders and parents of Cub Pack 534 are asked to attend a meeting today at 7 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

At this time the Pack will reorganize and make plans for an active season program, and the help of all Pack members' parents is needed.

The flight in September, was a long, high altitude over water, celestial navigation and radar bombing training mission to the island of Haiti in the Caribbean Sea and return by way of Savannah, Ga., then a simulated bombing run was made over Jacksonville thence back to Sanford.

Fr. Trainor is a licensed private pilot and has logged over 750 first pilot flight hours in 10 years of flying.

After the flight Fr. Trainor thanked the pilot, Cdr. Ralph J. Mattus, Executive Officer of VAH-3 and Capt. Joseph M. Tully Jr., commander, Heavy Attack Wing One, who obtained special permission for him from the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington, D. C.

Fr. Trainor commented "The flight crew of the A3D-2T were for the most part friends of mine, but on an occasion such as this, one begins to realize the true professionalism and dedication of these men. Being a pilot myself, I was in some small way able to acknowledge the accuracy and precision with which these men operate. It brought home to me a deep sense of confidence and security that in these troubled times, should the fate of our nation ever be threatened, I have no doubt that our freedoms and those of the free world will be forever maintained and protected."

Deadline Past, Ford Strike On

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union today called 120,000 workers off their jobs in a nationwide strike against Ford Motor Co., second major strike in the auto industry in less than a month.

The union called the strike when its 10 a. m. deadline passed without a new national contract agreement with the nation's second largest carmaker.

De Gaulle Eyes Dictator Role

PARIS (UPI) — A restless French parliament reconvenes today under the threat of dissolution by President Charles de Gaulle who said he would resume dictatorial powers if the political crisis over Algeria worsens.

De Gaulle, in a nationwide radio-television broadcast, said he will make new attempts to bring the Algerian rebels to the conference table. He said he would hold a national referendum to push his Algerian program through.

Reaffirming his belief in the Algerians' right to dispose of their own destiny, De Gaulle reiterated that he is "ready to seek again an accord with the leaders of the rebellion."

The president also indicated he would not stand for any interference from the Secret Army Organization (OAS), an extremist settler group which has vowed to keep Algerian French.

French Troops Leave Bizerte

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — French troops today left Bizerte following a weekend agreement between France and Tunisia which temporarily settled the question of French rights to the massive atom-proof military base near the city.

Troops from both Tunisia and France returned to positions they held before fighting broke out between them in July.

More than 700 Tunisian soldiers and civilians were killed in the three-day battle. It was touched off by Tunisian demands the French evacuate the base.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Rejected Peace Corps applicant Charles S. Kamen of Miami has been admitted to the University of Chicago graduate school, to work in the field of sociology, it was announced today.

Kamen aroused the ire of Miami Rotary Club members when he heckled a showing of the film "Operation Abolition" during a Rotary Club meeting. He was thrown out.

Village To Meet

The North Orlando Village Council will meet at 8 p. m. today in the Village Hall for the October business session.

North Orlando Voices Grievances

By MONA GRINSTEAD

The North Orlando Civic Assn. Monday night heard and approved a resolution of criticism against past actions of the North Orlando Company.

The statement, scheduled to be presented to company officials early today, cited the past record of "unfulfilled promises" to the community and called for prompt and decisive action by the company to provide a recreational facility and a community building within a reasonable period of time.

It also stated that at the termination of a 14-day period, if no action is taken, the association then will take available steps to build the facilities including the solicitation of cooperation and financial assistance of interests "outside the village."

As a representative voice of the community, the association pointed out that early sales promotions for the Village of North Orlando indicated, verbally and in printed brochures, that homeowners there soon would have a shopping center, schools, recreation and playground facilities in two parks and many other attractions.

"To date," the resolution stated, "recreational facilities consist of empty concrete forms and a 'lake' which has served no purpose other than to provide a breeding ground for mosquitoes.

Continuing, the statement reads: "Just prior to the Annual Fourth of July picnic, the company promised a beach and picnic area to be ready for the celebration. Work was started and labor was donated but the project soon was abandoned by the North Orlando Co.

"Offer of a plot of ground and $2,000 in cash for a civic building later was revised to provide only the land. Both offers then were withdrawn and the company promised a swimming pool, recreational facility and a community building, presumably to be company-owned.

"However, this community is no nearer to the realization of these facilities than the empty concrete forms mentioned previously."

Recognition and appreciation to the company was expressed for assistance with the Volunteer Fire Dept., the Police Dept. and the picnic and fireworks display on July 4. It also was noted in the statement that complaints were not against the village officials.

If you think the pressure is on the The Clock this week... take a look at our county commissioners on civil defense appropriations.

Not many persons around town are aware of it, but there's a massive political row going on inside the local Democratic party as a result of the battle for the Sanford postmaster's job.

When the County Commission comes up with a good idea why does it get bogged down so long in committee. Like the plan they have to take all able-bodied men off the welfare roll. A committee was named to study the matter over two months ago... still no action... and then there's the case of investing surplus funds... in committee for almost seven months.

Don't be surprised if Ken McIntosh's days are numbered as Casselberry attorney.

One final word on the County Home Mess (?). County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick quoted Shakespeare on the charges. "Looks like Much Ado About Nothing," said Mr. Fitzpatrick. Our comment: "The whole horror is in just this dear air... that there is no horror." —Kurpin.

Notice the flag at the stadium last Friday night?

Secretary of State Tom Adams will be the featured speaker at the Chamber of Commerce directors meeting at 7 p. m. Oct. 17 at the Civic Center. Adams will speak on "Florida's Integrated Waterway System."

Kennedy Calls In Military Advisers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today called his top military advisers to the White House for two conferences that appeared certain to deal with the Berlin crisis.

Despite signs of encouraging progress toward formal negotiations with Russia on the German stalemate, Kennedy was believed preparing for any military eventuality that might arise in Berlin.

The President planned to meet with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He set up a 4:15 p. m. session with McNamara, Lemnitzer and Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO commander.

Prior to the defense talks, Kennedy was scheduled to confer with Thanat Khoman, Thailand's foreign minister. The Chief Executive was expected to assure him that the Berlin crisis will not divert U. S. attention from the renewed Communist drive in Southeast Asia.

Africans Pressure Nationalist China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — French-speaking African nations sought to pressure Nationalist China today into withdrawing its veto from the membership application of Outer Mongolia.

Informers said the 12-nation "Brasserie group" was considering sending an urgent appeal to Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek to reconsider his opposition.

The Soviet Union has threatened to veto the membership application of Africa's Mauritania if Outer Mongolia is rejected.

O Yeah! ★ 2 Stand Pat On CD Fund

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — State Civil Defense Director Elmer Yarbington told a convention Monday "there is a definite weakening" of interest by Floridians in civil defense.

Earlier, Yarbington told the Florida Osteopathic Medical Association convention, "there has been too much concern for other matters and CD has been swept under the rug."

County Commissioners James P. Avery and John Fitzpatrick today said they weren't changing their minds over boosting Civil Defense appropriations... governor's investigation or not.

Both Fitzpatrick and Avery were opposed to any warning system for the county as was Ted Williams. Williams was not available for comment this morning.

The commission by a 3-2 majority defeated the purchase of a warning system here. Chairman J. C. Hutchinson and Vernon Dunn favored the system.

Monday, Gov. Farris Bryant ordered an investigation into the county's Civil Defense status.

The commission, meeting this afternoon, is expected to hear from delegations from around the county citing the need for a warning system.

Avery today said, "I would like it understood that I have been for an expanded civil defense program right along. The record will bear me out, he added.

"However," Avery declared, "I am opposed to large amounts of money being spent on sirens. I have asked for an immediate program of education."

"During the budget conferences held by the commission, when all department heads were called in and the needs for the coming fiscal year discussed, the civil defense director stated to the board that should a warning system not be approved, that $2,000 would be sufficient but the board budgeted 30 percent more than he asked for," Avery said.

"The morning the completed budget was adopted I saw for the first time a letter asking for $25,000 for Civil Defense," he added.

Fitzpatrick said, "At this time I don't plan on changing my mind over any warning system. The governor's order seemed vague to me when I read it in the paper."

Syria Joins 'Non-Align' Policy

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI) — Premier Mamun Al-Kuzbari said Monday night that Syria's new revolutionary government will follow a foreign policy of "non-alignment" with the big power blocs.

He spoke to the first foreign newsmen allowed to enter Syria since last Thursday's revolt against the rule of the United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

"We are not with the west or the east," Al-Kuzbari said. "We are with every country that extends the hand of friendship."

The premier said foreign envoys in Damascus have been asked to recognize the new government and that applications for membership have been sent to the United Nations and the Arab League.

He said Jordan, Turkey, Guatemala and Iran have recognized the regime and there are reports that Nationalist China has too, although no official word has been received from Taipei.

Listeners in Beirut reported that Cairo and Damascus radios had begun a battle of the airwaves, with Damascus urging Egyptians to revolt against Nasser and Cairo calling on Syrians to overthrow the new Damascus regime.

The new premier told newsmen he was not actually involved in the revolution, which ended the 43-month union of Syria and Egypt.

"I was like any other citizen," he said. "I knew about it when I heard the shooting and the radio."

The new premier said former UAW Vice President Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, arrested here Monday and charged with "subversion," will stand trial "like any other citizen" if a board of inquiry decides to press charges against him.

"I want to emphasize one point," Al-Kuzbari said. "His arrest was to protect him from dangers he was exposed to rather than for any danger he might cause." He did not elaborate.

Al-Kuzbari said his regime is deporting Egyptians "for their own safety."

"If some are willing to stay and it's found to be safe to permit them to, they will be permitted to return later," he said.

About 2,000 persons, mostly Egyptians, crossed from Syria into Lebanon Monday.

Al-Kuzbari said three members of Serraj's bodyguard were the only casualties of the revolt—one killed and two wounded defending their chief.

THE NEW Police Assn. building, to be located on Seminole Blvd., should be completed by the first of the year. Police officers, as well as volunteers, have been working on their off-duty hours to complete the facility. (Herald Photo)

Oviedo Adopts New Election Law

A new system of electing town officials was voted Monday night at the monthly meeting of the Oviedo Town Council with the passage of an ordinance which amended Section 1 of Ordinance No. 48 and Sections 1 and 4 of Ordinance 14.

The amendment provides for staggered terms of members of the Town Council and sets up annual elections. It will become effective with the first election in December.

The ordinance provides that municipal elections will be held on Tuesday after the first Monday in December, beginning in 1961. On that date all members of the Council will be elected. The two candidates receiving the highest votes will be elected for a term of two years. The three candidates receiving the next highest votes will be elected for one year.

At each annual election thereafter on the Tuesday after the first Monday in December councilmen will be elected for a term of two years.

This means that in 1962 three councilmen will be elected to a two-year term to replace the three who were elected for one year. Then in 1961 the voters will elect two councilmen to replace those elected for two years. After that three councilmen will be elected one year and two the next.

In other business the Council authorized Mayor Lou Gary to repair the washout in Division Street and replace the necessary drainage pipe.

The Council held a short discussion on the construction of fallout shelters, including a community shelter, and a warning system. It took no action, deciding to await further information on the proposed county-wide warning system.

The Council approved the obtaining of rights of way from adjoining property owners for the extension of South Lake Jessup Ave. Councilman W. H. Martin reported that practically all property owners concerned were agreeable to giving rights of way.

The Council has received one proposal on the purchase of a new police car, but authorization to buy it was deferred until more bids can be obtained.

The call was for 495 physicians, 154 dentists and 67 veterinarians. They will be given 15 days to volunteer for officers' commissions instead of being subjected to actual draft.

The occasion was the 12th international congress of the International Astronautical Federation.

Better Phone Service Assured For Oviedo

The long awaited extenderscope telephone service for Oviedo was promised definitely for Feb. 4, 1962 by representatives of the Southern Bell Telephone Co. Monday night.

When completed Oviedo will have direct dial service to Sanford, Geneva and Orlando, the representatives said. There will be direct intercommunication between Sanford, Oviedo and Geneva, but not between Orlando

Human Fly' Romeo Falls To His Death

LONDON (UPI) — A romantic "human fly" fell three stories to his death here Monday night, clutching the box of candy he apparently hoped to toss into his sweetheart's window.

No one will ever be sure what 22-year-old Michael Wilson had in mind when he set out to scale the wall of the nurses' home where his fiancée, Patricia Wyler, lives.

She thinks he was attempting a romantic delivery of his gift. "It would be just like him," she sobbed today. "I think he planned to surprise me by dropping the box of chocolates through my bedroom window with a note."

The fall term of the grand jury will convene here at 9 a. m. Friday, the Sheriff's office reported today.

Kennedy Faces 'Friend' Woes

LONDON (UPI) — The feeling in Western European capitals today is that on the Berlin crisis President Kennedy has made some progress against his opponents, but still has to deal with his friends.

Specifically, he has to deal with French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer if the West is going to present a united front against the Soviet Union at any Berlin negotiations that may develop. It may turn out to be a tough task, and recall the despairing cry of George Canning, a 19th Century British prime minister: "Save me, oh save me, from my candid friends."

The autumn mist is beginning to gather over the Atlantic and it may be that the view from here is distorted, but a survey of Western Europe shows this is the way things look:

—Kennedy has made real progress in convincing Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that he means business on Berlin. The whole tone of Soviet diplomacy has become more moderate in recent days. As long as Khrushchev thought he could bluff Kennedy, he resorted to bluster. Of late, there has been a moratorium on threats and rocket rattling.

—Kennedy is confronting delicate domestic problems. He is expected in Berlin to be greeted by a crowd of Americans. For this reason he is still in the West making any overtures to the Russians to get negotiations started. He is also cited in his attack upon newspapers erroneous dispatches out of the Congo which pertained to the movements of the late UN Secretary General, Dag Hammarskjöld.

He said he would discuss his visit to Moscow on his Tuesday night program. During his September vacation Paar visited Switzerland and London in addition to Berlin and Moscow.

against surrendering any Western rights in Berlin at all.

—Kennedy has another friend in Adenauer. But Adenauer is rock-like in his opposition to permanent partition of Germany. And, as Wellington Long, UPI chief correspondent for Germany, says: "He, of course, opposes any suggestion that the Communist—either East German or Soviet—have any control of the air corridors or the people who use them, and will oppose any suggestion that Soviet troops contingents be stationed in West Berlin to guarantee its free status. Adenauer will oppose any suggestion of Western rights in West Berlin proper. In the last analysis he will go along with whatever deal the United States may make with Russia because he has no choice."

Paar Charges News Slanting

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jack Paar has turned into a critic of his recent visit to Berlin Monday night when he returned to his NBC-TV show after a four-week vacation.

Among those criticized by the comedian during a one-hour, less commercial, counter-attack were: Jack Gould, TV critic for the New York Times; Irv Kupcinet, columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times; and The New York Journal American.

The New York Post. Sen. Mike Mansfield, (D-Mont.) will appear in a motion picture version of "Advice and Consent." Congressmen who toured an Italian motion picture studio and complained they were unable to see Elizabeth Taylor.

Paar's blasts came in connection with his Sept. 7 visit to the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint in Berlin, where he was given Army cooperation for the taping of a one-hour TV program. The Berlin program was aired Sept. 12.

Paar, in charging that the American press gave the American public the slanted news coverage, said the original incident was treated to page one headlines but that last week's follow-up was "back with

Boosters Re-Form; Coalo Named New President

Junior Red Cross Program Planned For Seminole County

Initial plans for organizing a Junior Red Cross Committee in Seminole County were made by 12 teacher-sponsors from schools in the county and Mrs. David Scott, chairman, at a meeting last Wednesday in the Health Center.

Enrollment supplies will be delivered to the teacher-sponsors when they are received from the Red Cross Headquarters, Mrs. Scott said, after which the program will get underway in each locality.

Membership in Junior Red Cross gives a student the opportunity to serve others on a local, national and international basis and, since the work is school centered and community related, Mrs. Scott pointed out individual skills, leadership ability and civic responsibility also are developed.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a man of 36 and the woman I have been keeping company with is 30. I don't know why, but I have never completely trusted her. I have caught her in a few small lies, but she always manages to talk her way out of suspicious circumstances and make them sound perfectly innocent.

She took a vacation for two weeks, but didn't go any place. She said she just wanted to stay home and relax. I telephoned her one night and a man answered. Now she is trying to tell me it was her brother. She told me a while ago that her brother was going to be gone the entire month on a hunting trip. What do you think is going on? NOBODY'S FOOL.

old girl is a bit young for a 19-year-old man.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this at 3 o'clock in the morning, having been just awakened again by a blood-curdling cry. I thought at first it was a child, but my husband says it is a pair of neighbor's cats who just love to make love in our Chinese Elm tree.

My husband has a hunting gun and, if he goes out there and brings back a sack full of game, it won't be rabbits.

We have lived in this home a long time, but the neighbors with the cats are new in the neighborhood. We have never met them. Please give us a solution before I lose my mind. TREMBLING

DEAR NOBODY'S FOOL: I don't know whether you are right in your suspicions—best to hallucinations or a fool yourself. But, either way, I suggest you go on a hunting trip of your own—for another girl.

DEAR TREMBLING: Call on the owners and state your complaint in a friendly way. And tell them, if you are disturbed again, you will call the law.

DEAR ABBY: My parents won't let me date a certain boy because he is four years older than I am. My father is nine months YOUNGER than my mother. Do they expect me to go out with some punk younger than I am? I am almost 18 and this boy is 19. All the boys my age seem so stupid and immature. How can I convince my parents that he isn't too old for me? OLD ENOUGH

DEAR ABBY: In a fifth cousin far enough away for romance? JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: Genetically speaking, yes.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 8365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR "OLD ENOUGH": Sorry, honey, but I am with your parents. Until you reach 18, you are 14. And a 14-year-

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

I see by the papers that John Osborne, the original angry young man of Britain, has taken to sunning himself on a beach and has developed a healthy respect for the very things he once thought he despised.

The young man whose novel, "Look Back in Anger," started him on the uphill climb now confesses that he likes money because it means comfort, that he likes money because it means independence and that he likes money because it means power.

This ought to come as quite a shock to the beatniks who are still running around with their scruffy beards, their dirty tennis shoes and their clothes with a sleep-in look—pretending to disdain success.

The only difference between being a beatnik and having been a beatnik is a little taste of achievement.

With just a little success a beatnik is ready to take a bath, get a shave and a haircut, look for a clean place to live and start conforming.

With just a little success a beatnik begins to look with a critical eye on the stringy-haired, sloppy looking girls he has been pairing off with and to grow impatient with the talk, talk, talk of the do-nothings.

With just a little success a beatnik finds he no longer is a member in good standing of the beat society—for his success is envied and resented by those who still sit back.

In other words you can't be a successful beatnik. Just as you can't remain an angry young man once you've made enough money from your anger to be a successful young man.

Highlights

TV Key Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. (CBS) "Marshal Dillon." Premiere. Where there's "Gunsmoke," there's usually fire. This is the first in a series of reruns from the half-hour series. Lawman Dillon (James Arness) stands alone to face up to mob violence when celebrating cowhands are determined to take over Dodge City. Milburn Stone plays Doc, Dennis Weaver portrays Chester, and Amanda Blake is Kitty.

7:30-8:30 p.m. (NBC) Laramie—"Ladies Day." — Color. In this second episode, Spring Byington makes her first appearance as co-star, playing Daisy Cooper. Slim and Jess need a housekeeper, not to give up adopted orphan Mike. Makes for nice change of pace, with Daisy declining Slim's offer on arrival at the ranch. Eventually, of course, Daisy accepts and joins "the family."

8:30 p.m. (CBS) "Dick Van Dyke Show." Premiere. Several episodes glimpsed in Hollywood by TV Time, including this debut, indicate a winner. The plots are just hooks for laughs by as lovable and zany a cast of comics assembled by any one series. Dick Van Dyke plays head gag writer for a TV comic you'll never see. Rose Marie and Morry Amsterdam complete the gag-writing triumvirate; Van Dyke leaves no doubt as to his talents. And Mary Tyler Moore, as his wife, will catch your heart from the start. Worth noting also is Richard Deacon, in the running role of a frustrated producer.

Church Women Hold Luncheon-Meeting

The Relief Society, a ladies organization of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, met in the beautiful new chapel of the church for a luncheon and fashion show, recently. The event also marked the beginning of the new year for the group.

A buffet luncheon was served at 11 a.m. Autumn colors were accented in the food and attractive arrangements of artificial oak leaves and sea wheat were placed about the room. The luncheon table was centered with an arrangement of fruit, Indian corn, gourds and squash. Following the luncheon, the group adjourned to the spacious foyer where they were addressed by Elder Julius Blackwelder, of the Sanford Ward Bishopric, then treated to a fashion show. Mrs. Norma Beverly was commentator for the show, which was presented by attractive models, who wore fashions of their own creation. This is an accomplishment of the society to teach the ladies to make their own clothes, combining beauty and simplicity.

Each model strolled across the foyer in front of a background of autumn colored leaves, falling from a tree, then posed in a frame of gay colored oak and green magnolia leaves. Background recorded music was presented during the entire show.

Models were Mrs. John D. Carlton, Mrs. J. C. Blackwelder, Mrs. R. E. Garner, Mrs. Freeman Baggett, Mrs. Stanley Brumley and Amelia Carter.

Seen among the attractive fashions were a white cord suit, lovely black and white check dress, black after five brocade taffeta, house duster, morning and afternoon cottons and maternity models.

Mrs. Wayne Henson, society president, introduced the new officers and class leaders. They are Mrs. Arthur Pitts, first counselor; Mrs. James Brooks, second counselor; Mrs. Wendell Holmes, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Freeman Baggett, mission representative.

Class leaders presented a lesson preview of the course to be taught later this year. They are Mrs. John D. Carlton, theology; Mrs. Roger Garner, work and business; Mrs. Norma Beverly, literature; Mrs. J. C. Blackwelder, social science; Mrs. James Dunn, work director and Mrs. James Brooks, visiting teacher-leader.

Enduring elegance... with the power to please

With Thunderbird styling... Thunderbird power... and quality craftsmanship that sets a new industry standard... the 1962 Ford Galaxies give you every essential feature of far costlier luxury cars.

Swift as a tumor, silent as a secret, Galaxie '62 has the timeless distinction and talent for travel of the Thunderbird that inspired it. Every quiet mile whispers: here is a new standard of quality. And every luxurious detail confirms it. This is the car that introduces twice-a-year maintenance. Routine service is reduced to 30,000 miles on many items such as major lubrications, twice a year or 6,000 miles on the rest. We suggest you see the new Galaxie and Galaxie/500 (shown above) for yourself. We are confident you will agree: it's pointless to pay more—or settle for less.

Invest Now!

Just when the business men of this area have taken a long and hopeful look at the future in the light of the benefit of the Nova project, along comes a disturbing report that because of our closeness to our situation might leave us "all shook up." It should spur us on to greater things—but it will have to spur us enough to cause the owners of all business enterprises in our vicinity to invest now in the future of the economical life of our community.

Recently the highly-regarded and widely-read columnist Victor Riesel took a look at this nation's storage vaults of armed striking power, where a high percentage of our modern armament will be moved. He comments that from the four big arsenals now in industrial centers will be transferred all the stored armament. An enemy strike on any one of them would put much of our productive capacity out of business.

Then Riesel writes and here's where he is talking more directly to us, Mr. Businessman—"the phasing out of 58 continental bases, airfields, hangars, huge warehouses, radar units arsenals, NAVAL TRAINING INSTALLATIONS (emphasis is ours) . . . is the beginning of a program to save a billion dollars a year."

"However, this disturbs communities. In many areas the Defense department installation is the difference between prosperity and a depressed area. What has alarmed labor and business as well as civic leaders is the knowledge that modern weapons make old installations old-fashioned. The closing of the 52 bases in the continental United States is only the start. We have in all some 6,700 Defense Department installations. Of these, some 1,400 are major ones—and a thousand of these are in the United States. The others are abroad. Thus, hundreds of communities could be affected."

The local business leaders in the Chamber of Commerce are well aware of what our friends at the Naval Air Station and the work they are doing means to us—in many ways, not the least of which is payroll and supply dollars that run through the local economic grid mill. An analytical look at Sanford and Seminole County will convince most astute business men that thus far we don't have enough industry in our area yet to come close as a source of business to our favorite "industry" at the Naval Air Station. It behooves EVERY man who has an investment in a local business to put some money to work now to implement the task of attracting new payrolls to this section.

There are other things that should challenge any far-sighted person that should be done, too—the modernization of the Sanford downtown district, for example. Many elements go into the overall picture that develops a magnetism for new enterprises, and it is up to all of us, teaming up through the Chamber of Commerce as an effective avenue, to see that everything possible is done to impress upon industrialists that HERE is the place for their plants.

Many people know what has been done by the Chamber of Commerce membership to fight the retention of the Navy base here. Now, in the face of these developments of which Victor Riesel tells us, the intense and unselfish work of ALL is more important than ever.

We are not going into the race from a standing start, because our business leaders have an effective tool in the Sanford-Seminole Development Corporation whose function it is to accept investment dollars and channel them into sites, buildings, facilities that will continue to be the backbone of production.

EVERY person with his future tied to the rise and fall of our community should invest (1) dollars in this aid to industrial development and (2) energy in doing his part in promoting the tasks that must be accomplished.

Most of us have been aware of our impending predicament. Victor Riesel has underscored it for us. With the handwriting on the wall, it is time ALL OF US got busy to assure the future of our cities and county.

Dollars invested now could well forestall the "depressed area" or "ghost town" that would mean losses for all and in their stead see a thriving community of diversified industry.

Taxes May Go Still Higher, Says Texan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker Sam Rayburn said today taxes would remain high and Congress might have to raise them to keep the United States in the arms race, and as long as reckless people have hold of weapons that are totally destructive, we must spend," the Texas Democrat said.

Report From Europe

Scandinavia Similar To U.S.

Kaçar, hospitality. (Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles by A. M. and R. H. Haskell who are in Europe.)

COPENHAGEN—(Spl.)—Norway, Sweden and Denmark are certainly the most like the United States of any countries in Europe.

Their citizens are better fed and housed than is the average citizen of any of the other countries. There are these additional factors:

Although all three countries are nominally ruled by kings, they are in fact democracies more or less in the American mold. English is a required subject in the school systems of all three countries and it is rare to meet a person with whom you can't hold a conversation.

In none of the three capital cities did we see housing which would be considered as slums, such as there is in New York, London or Paris. The three capital cities have all grown tremendously since the war. Copenhagen, for instance is now 1,400,000 while before the war it was a little better than 800,000. In this case the capital contains one out of every four citizens of the country.

Traffic on the highways and in the cities is much more orderly and better controlled than in other European countries. The drivers are more inclined to a helpful attitude in their relations with other motorists and with pedestrians. They are more willing to give up their right of way than are drivers one encounters in France or England.

Scandinavian food is marvelous and served in such quantities as to be astounding. We went to an old inn outside Stockholm accompanied by our driver-guide. When we had eaten what to us was a large lunch he was quite obviously ready to go back for more, but too polite to make an extra trip to the smorgasbord table.

Here are a few random notes on the trip:
In Copenhagen there are 800,000 bikes. They are a problem on the city streets, but are well ordered. In the country, in all three nations, there are special paths besides the major highways for the riders.

Taxes make a Volkswagen cost $3,000 in Denmark and about the same in Norway and Sweden. This accounts for the well-cared-for ancient vehicles one sees. At these prices it is astonishing how many new cars are making their appearance.

A Danish newspaperman who has worked all over the world told us that Denmark is the place where people live and let live. He said if one is orderly he can do as he pleases. As an example he cited the night, after a party, when he wanted to climb a light pole. He did so. A cop looked up at him and asked what he was doing. The reply was "Climbing a light pole." The cop said "O.K. but be orderly about it."

Copenhagen's new airport terminal is the most beautiful and functional I have ever seen. Russian, British, French, Finnish, American and Japanese airlines, among others, operate out of it. It has a tax-free shop for outgoing passengers. Bourbon is $3 a bottle with Scotch at $2.

The United States Embassy in Denmark is separated from the Russian by a large graveyard. We told this to a Frenchman. His comment: "Just as the situation exists. Russia and the United States with Europe between."

Denmark and Sweden claim to have no particular liquor problem. In Norway they feel differently and are trying to curb drinking. Liquor is sold only at government stores and bars are open from Monday through Friday only between 3:45 p. m. and 11:45 p. m. They are not open at all on week-ends.

Silver and home furnishings are beautiful in all three countries. We were most impressed by Norwegian silver, which is least expensive. Copenhagen has a cooperative exhibit which shows the work of all firms in home furnishings, tableware, and allied lines where a rushed visitor may go to make his selections.

Norway is the least expensive of the three countries. Denmark and Sweden would appear to be about as expensive for a traveler as is the United States.

Since most Scandinavians live so close to water, there are swarms of boats. Our guide in Sweden told us that a 16-foot sailboat, with an auxiliary motor, could be had for about $400.

We were fortunate to have either friends or introductions in both Norway and Denmark. The people are most warmhearted and their hospitality is by way of being overwhelming.

And a further warning to anyone planning a European visit: Don't ever let your bags get away from you. After one month, ours have not reached us and it was supposed to take four days for them to go from England to Paris. It proved one can travel for a month with only one jacket—a summer sports coat.

School Survey

SARANAS LAKE, N. Y. (UPI)—State Education Commissioner Dr. James E. Allen Jr. revealed Sunday that a racial survey of public schools in New York will begin next month in an effort to "resolve the educational disadvantages among minority group children."

Murder Leads

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—Authorities said today they had "some pretty good leads" in investigating the gangland-style slaying of Samuel Homer Shelton, prospective gambling probe witness found shot to death in his home.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Tom has asked a shrewd question that may have bothered you readers, too. So scrapbook this case and be sure to send for the booklet below, for it can be of great aid to everybody. Even if you do not plan to write novels or short stories, it will at least help you write a more interesting personal letter.

CASE K-414: Tom G., aged 20, is a college senior.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I want to become a writer so I have majored in English."

"But recently I got to worrying, for if English courses are so helpful, why aren't more of the teachers of English composition making money selling stories?"

"And is it possible to teach a person how to become a writer or must you be born with that talent?"

HOW TO WRITE

You aren't "born" a musician or writer or orator or salesman or chemist or mathematician genius, etc.

All you get at birth is a physical chassis with a life expectancy of about 70 years, plus a certain mental horsepower or I. Q.

Thereafter you must learn how to bring harmony from the keys of a piano or harmony from associating with people.

And a lot of the very best writers are simply folks who made it a hobby to observe people and find out what interests them. Psychology is thus more vital than English!

It is helpful, however, to take some English courses, but beware lest you become a stickler for "form" instead of "substance."

Always remember that the secret of human interest lies within our own epidermis! So strike at basic motives of mankind.

For example, a reader is normally more fascinated by living things than by stones or inanimate objects.

Artists (and writers are just verbal painters) know that a puppy or a child on the left side of the picture will far outweigh a much larger boulder or huge tree stump on the opposite side.

In art we refer to this fact as "psychological weight" vs. geometrical weight.

PUNCTUATION HELPS

Why do novels attract more interest than textbooks?

Well, the novels deal with people, instead of bricks or chemicals.

Whenever you place a girl and a boy together, anything may happen, from hate to love, from assault to idealistic devotion.

So the novelist starts out quickly by introducing a girl and a boy who are within the proper age limits for possible romance.

The writer can gain even added interest if he begins with a feud between the two, for then there will be greater contrast at the climax when they finally melt in each other's embrace.

A good writer also doesn't waste time with lengthy description but starts right in the midst of some exciting bit of action.

Then he employs the "flash-back" technique to bring us up to date about the background and biography of the main characters.

The movies and TV shows, such as Lawman, use this same "flash-back" technique. It is excellent for catching attention fast.

Short paragraphs also connote more suspense than long ones, for the latter suggest textbookish stuff, dry and devoid of dramatic conflict.

Quotation marks are the most interesting print symbols, for they denote dialogue, which implies at least two people. And two people, especially of the opposite sex, can offer the whole gamut of dramatic possibilities.

For further advice to writers, send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It also contains a section on "Prize Contesting." (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Coffees are blended to produce various desired blends in keeping with the cost of the product.

VEGETABLE GROWERS!

This one-two punch knocks out insect pests all season!

endrin early season!

Phosdrin late season!

Now make short work of vegetable insects with a powerful one-two punch that gives you the ideal all-season control.

Start the season with long-lasting endrin, then later in the season switch to fast-acting Phosdrin insecticide.

Both endrin and Phosdrin insecticides will knock out foliage pests, and Phosdrin can be applied as close as one day before harvest on many crops. It gives fast control, then disappears.

Endrin and Phosdrin are available in a variety of formulations. Ask for the one that best suits your need.

Make this season a high-yield—high-quality season. Use a full-season insect control program with endrin-Phosdrin insecticides. We have endrin and Phosdrin formulations. Be prepared—come in and see us today!

Achievements Of Educational TV Stressed By Principal

"Educational television is not a teacher substitute, but it is a fine teacher aid," says Floyd Richards, principal of Lake Mary school.

Richards and several other local teachers visited educational station WEDU in Tampa to observe the workings of the program as carried out in the surrounding section of the state which includes the counties of Hillsborough, Pinellas, Polk, Sarasota, Manatee, Pasco and Hernando.

The total pupil audience last year was estimated at 100,521 with 75 per cent of schools in the reception area using some television instruction.

It is also estimated that the home audience which watches and utilizes the educational TV system includes more than twice the number of the students.

The programming has now advanced to carry an every increasing number of subjects including reading enrichment, science, tele-math, U. S. history, music, magazine and feature writing, study of religions, career, opportunities, homemaking, national security, world wide events, French, Spanish, Russian, German and English and also singing and dancing.

Daylong programs on WEDU begin before 9 a. m. and continue until 10 p. m. and can be utilized from kindergarten to the college level and for study at home.

Richards said that courses are now being given in colleges in Florida to teach prospective teachers how, when and where to use and utilize television teaching.

Television teaching is also being taught, and surveys and tests made, to determine the results of television teaching, and the design of better and more useful television teaching programs.

Programs are taped so that they can be used repeatedly, after they are shown "live", and each program has study guides, tests and instructional aids prepared along with it, which are given to the teachers and pupils so that they may work or study the subject beforehand and review later.

Of the four charter counties in the area, which would make initial use of Channel 11 facilities, Seminole, Volusia, Orange and Brevard, there are many teachers who are now receiving in-training instruction. These prepared teachers will be ready, when area educational TV begins in the fall of 1963 (if all goes as planned) to start live programming of educational television teaching.

At present, local representatives are drawing up a brief to present to the Federal Communications Commission for their approval. Seminole County Board of Education has pledged $50,000 toward the financing of the establishment of the station.

The whole project received a shot in the arm recently when the Welch Scientific Co. pledged to donate a complete center for the television teaching of Science and Math, complete with all equipment and apparatus needed for all grade levels.

Stengel Names Coaching Aides

NEW YORK (UPI) — Casey Stengel apparently is going to surround himself with other "retired" major league managers in an effort to make the New York Mets a winning baseball team.

The 72-year-old former New York Yankees' manager, who came out of retirement to become field boss of the Mets, named his first two coaches Monday in a laugh-filled press conference at a New York hotel.

Old Courthouse Adequate, Committee Finds

The committee studying courthouse needs will tell the County Commission that the present courthouse is "structurally sound and has a remaining useful life of not less than 15 years."

However, the final report of the committee which will be submitted to the County Commission in about two weeks will recommend that the commission immediately move the county agricultural agent from the courthouse to a suitable remote site; reallocate the remaining courthouse space;

The Commission appointed a permanent courthouse committee of not more than five that would work jointly with a conference of courthouse office chiefs toward the internal solution of courthouse problems.

The comprehensive eight-page report reveals that on Sept. 4, a tour by members of the committee was held and the following conclusions were reached:

- 1—Too much compartmentation has reduced the usability of the available space;
- 2—Most offices could use their allocated space in a much more efficient manner by relocating furniture and fixtures, employing more modern business techniques and equipment and removing large volumes of supplies, forms and little used documents to remote storage space;

- 3—The basement storage areas were in a condition of such complete disarray as to constitute a hazard to the visitor and a disgrace to the administration of the county. This condition has been largely remedied in recent weeks;
- 4—The middle floor vault of the clerk of the Circuit Court is an outstanding example of really efficient space utilization and the official responsible therefor should be commended.

The big problem, the report reveals is providing facilities for the Circuit Court and the clerk of the Circuit Court which must be planned and very possibly carried out within the next five years. The acuteness of this problem can best be appreciated by pointing out that approximately half of the 17,000 square feet in the present building is used to support these two functions.

In addition, the report says, the Circuit Judge now has reasonable requirements for rooms for witnesses, prosecuting attorneys, reporters and jurors which cannot be satisfied.

Other conclusions reached by the committee are that the courthouse is currently adequate to house all offices and functions which have a reasonable requirement to be located there;

The old courthouse and, with one or two exceptions, the offices and functions housed there, are highly compatible with a future "block by block" construction plan which would be programmed over some 10 years;

The most difficult space problem which will materialize prior to 1970 will be associated with the circuit court function;

Other recommendations beside moving the agricultural office out of the courthouse are:

- Move the county judge to lower floor now occupied by the county engineer and county agent, with exception of so-called agricultural meeting rooms;

- Add office space now allocated to county judge on the south side of the courthouse to the tax assessor's office;
- Move county engineer into unused space at the rear of the courthouse presently being used for storage and the whiteprint machine room;
- Expand tax collector's office to space at the rear of the tax assessor's office;
- Expand zoning director space to include the present agricultural meeting room (alternate suggestion may be made here before the commission gets the report);

Circuit Judge to be allocated the present parole office in addition to his present quarters;

The committee also discussed recommending that the commission at an early date agree upon a new courthouse site, which is compatible with future requirements but struck that from the report because they concluded that it was "beyond the scope of the committee."

The committee also met with many citizens and the consensus shows that if a resident lives south of Sanford he favored a small courthouse service facility in the Fern Park-Casselberry areas;

The survey also revealed that citizens are not sentimentally attached to the old building but would oppose a new one which was designed as a "prestige structure."

Members who served on the 10-man Courthouse Committee, chosen from a cross section of the county and of business interests were Chairman J. H. Van Hoy, William Bush Jr., Col. J. O. Gregory, Fred Williams, Roy Britt, H. B. Pope, Ford Cavanaugh, Andrew Caraway, John Williams and Richard Hanks.

Most Office Chiefs Favor Building Fund

One of the questions which was asked of the office chiefs in the courthouse by the Courthouse Committee Survey Team concerned a courthouse building fund plan survey for a possible new courthouse in the future.

The question asked was: "Do you wish to put your excess fees into a general fund to go toward the building of a new courthouse, if it should be decided that a new one is feasible?"

Here are the answers:

- County Judge, Vernon Mize, "Disapprove."
- Tax Assessor Mary E. Walker, "Approve."
- Registrar Camilla Bruce, "Approve."
- Clerk of the Circuit Court Art Beckwith, "No commitment."
- County Engineer, Carlton Bliss, "Approve."
- Circuit Court Judge Vol. Williams, "No commitment."
- Parole and Probation officer, James Lee, "No commitment."
- Tax Collector, John Galloway, "Disapprove."
- Zoning Director Robert S. Brown, "Approve."
- Agricultural County Agent Cecil Tucker, "Approve."

Court Of Claims Hearing Set Here

A hearing will be held here Nov. 13 in the County Commission chamber to take testimony in the case of Grace E. Avery, et al. against the United States government.

The suit was brought by a group of Seminole County residents who live in the proximity of the Naval Air Station. They are asking compensation from the government for abrogation easements.

The testimony will be taken by the commissioner of the U. S. Court of Claims.

The County Commission has granted the government permission to use its chambers for the taking of the testimony.

UAW, Ford Resume Strike Negotiations

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union and Ford Motor Co. resumed negotiations today under government pressure to settle quickly a strike which has idled 120,000 workers and closed 85 Ford plants from coast to coast.

But observers thought UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford Vice President Malcolm L. Denise would not be able to end the walkout before the weekend.

The talks resume at 11 a. m. EDT.

Reuther and Denise conceded there were several major issues still in dispute. But they were non-committal Tuesday night on Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg's plea to end the strike promptly.

Goldberg, speaking for the Kennedy administration, appealed to both sides to exert "every effort" to reach a speedy accord. "This shutdown is most regrettable from a standpoint of everyone concerned," he said.

Low Bid On Graders Loses

The County Commission Tuesday afternoon disregarded the low bid for three motor graders and approved purchase of the graders on the second lowest bid—even though it was $1,900 higher.

Based on the recommendations of the county engineer and road superintendent the commission awarded a $11,900 contract including trade-in allowance for three tractor graders for the road department.

The low bid was turned in by Adams Construction Co. of Orlando for $39,845.

Engineer Carlton Bliss said that the second lowest bid would be the best deal for the county because the grader had extra weight, additional horse power and headlights.

The commission also purchased by low bid, slag for the 1961-62 year and awarded a contract to the Texaco company for motor fuel.

In other business, the commission agreed to set up a five-mile speed limit for boats in a section of E. Crystal Lake in the Little Venice area.

Rejected all bids for 15 radio units after Commissioner James P. Avery said that the board must first put in an application with CD federal matching funds.

Conference With Mayors Called By Commission

The County Commission has called a special meeting for next Tuesday night with the mayors of the county to discuss "mutual problems" and to iron out differences.

The meeting will be held in the courthouse at 7:30 p. m. It was suggested by Commissioner Vernon Dunn at Tuesday's County Commission meeting who said "They seem to be using us as whipping boys."

Last week the mayors of the county met and agreed to try to work out some form of liaison between the two groups pointing out that the commission and towns have to live together and therefore should try to work together.

The mayors were upset about the county's road program which most of them said would leave the municipalities "out in the cold."

The mayors took the position that since most of the county's tax monies come from the cities, these towns should be informed as to how money is allocated and why.

Welfare Roll Figures Withheld

The director of the Seminole County Welfare Department refused Tuesday to make known the number of persons on the welfare rolls at the present time.

She was asked for this year's figures and figures of years past so that comparisons could be made, but she would provide no reports.

"It is not our policy to give out these figures," said Mrs. Abbe Boyd, when a Herald reporter asked for this information. She said that she had made out her current report and that it was in the hands of the County Commission. Then when it was suggested that the figures could be obtained from the Commission she said, "You might get them from the clerk of court."

Mrs. Boyd was asked how many persons on the County rolls had automobiles. She said that automobiles were necessary in this area for persons who wanted to hold jobs. About owning TV sets she said that persons on the rolls would claim that their sets were given to them; that the department's investigators used to ask about this, but indicated that they didn't any more.

Mrs. Boyd said that her department helped persons who usually were unable to get help from any other agency. She said they cared for wives whose husbands had deserted them and wives whose husbands were in jail.

She also said that occasionally an unemployed person would ask for help, explaining that he was caught in between the time he lost his job and before he was eligible to get unemployment compensation.

"Our help is mostly on a short range basis," she said. "Caring for people who need assistance immediately. Each case is different. We are supposed to take cases which do not fit into any other program."

She said that the department conducts a clinic every Monday and has a physician in charge. Indigent cases are treated and medicines are supplied to them, she explained. Hospitalization is provided where needed.

Seating Commies Means End Of UN, China Warns

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Nationalist China warned today that the seating of the Chinese Communists would open "the era of collective aggression" and spell the end of the United Nations.

Chinese Foreign Minister Shen Chang-Huan told the General Assembly the world organization "is now in danger of being perverted to serve the interest of powerful warmakers and international bullies."

Addressing the 100-nation world parliament in Mandarin Chinese, Shen declared:

"There are delegations in this assembly who are bent on strengthening the forces of evil by adding to the United Nations membership those who are clearly disqualified by the spirit and the letter of the charter."

"They base their case on 'realism' and on the so-called principle of universality."

"If they are allowed to have their way, then the era of collective aggression, not of collective security, is upon us. This is a grim state of affairs indeed."

"Unless the majority of the states members accept the reality of the danger and unite their efforts to meet it, the United Nations is destined to go the way of the League of Nations."

Russia's demand that the Foruzsa government of Chiang Kai-shek be ousted from the United Nations in favor of the mainland Communist regime will come before the assembly later in this session.

India was the second major power scheduled to speak today.

All CD Pleas Of No Avail?

The president of the United States, the governor of Florida and the majority of the residents of Seminole County can use all the pressure they want, but indications today were that the County Commission still would allocate only $4,000 for Civil Defense this year.

President Kennedy two weeks ago urged all counties and municipalities in the country to beef up Civil Defense. Gov. Bryant sent down an executive order and also ordered his top CD man to investigate the status of CD here and still the commission held firm.

Tuesday afternoon at the Commission meeting, delegations from Sanford, Chuluota, North Orlando, Longwood, Forest City and Heat Lake asked the board to reconsider its appropriations for Civil Defense and install some sort of warning system and education program.

Chairman J. C. Hutchison thanked the group and said "It will require more thinking."

However, three of the commissioners who voted against a warning system Tuesday, told the Herald they were not considering changing their minds. Ted Williams said "I won't be pressured into raising any taxes here." The other two commissioners opposed to the warning system are John Fitzpatrick and James P. Avery.

Col. J. O. Gregory was spokesman for the group Tuesday and said, "We come here not as a pressure group," and called the matter a public mandate. "It doesn't have to be anything elaborate . . . just a medium program to give us some sort of warning," Gregory said.

Spokesman for the groups said they represented residents who wanted a system "regardless of the cost." Group heads included Mayor A. R. Lormann of Longwood; Art Rhodes of North Orlando; John Kinder of the Chamber of Commerce; Garnett White of the Jaycees; Graham Wilson of Casselberry; Harold McBride of Chuluota, and Clarence Atchley, Forest City.

The Attorney General has ruled that only elected officials serve on the Civil Defense Council of Seminole County. County Commissioner James P. Avery asked for the ruling. Serving now on the council is the Sanford City Manager, Police and Fire Chief. "See that Peterson (Civil Defense Director) gets a copy of that," Avery said at the meeting Tuesday.

Say, what's this about county officials using CD vehicles that are not insured?

The County Commission plans a closed door conference Thursday or Friday to discuss salary and contract agreements for a new county attorney.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Since the County Commission seems to favor a part-time health director, . . . why not a part time county attorney, engineer, zoning director, clerk . . . as a matter of fact . . . let's run the county on a part-time basis.

We've been flooded with letters from groups and citizens over the past few days with items for our Letter To The Editor column. However, the majority have been unsigned. . . . Remember, we can't run a letter unless it is signed.

Gromyko, Kennedy Meet Plans Set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy made plans today for a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko—probably Friday—which could determine the future of negotiations over Berlin.

U. S. officials regard the President's talk with Gromyko as "crucial"—but not in terms of whether or not concrete agreements will be reached at the meeting will lie in the reactions which follow.

It probably will be the last of Gromyko's meetings with U. S. officials before he returns to Moscow this weekend to report to Premier Nikita Khrushchev on the American position.
