NEWS OF THE STATE

The Lake View hotel at Minneola is no more. A fire originating in the kitchen was fanned by favorably conspiring winds toward the main building, and in a few moments nothing remained but a smouldering heap of cinders and ashes. Help quickly arrived on the scene and had there been anyone else present who understood operating the waterworks engine and connecting up the hose, the building might have been saved, but Miss Elizabeth Straker, the owner of the hotel, was so panic stricken that she could give no intelligent directions and consequently all efforts were devoted to saving the contents.

The revenue law passed by the last legislature, requiring saloons to pay double license by reason of the separate bars for white and colored patrons was declared invalid in a ruling handed down by Judge W. S. Bullock, late this afternoon. This is the first time that the validity of the act has been tested before the courts of this state. The tax collector of Marion county took the position that under the revenue law enacted in 1913 all saloons in Marion county were subject to a double license by reason of operating two different bars, one for white and one for colored. For a test case Maurice Strauss, a well known liquor dealer was arrested for failure to take out the two licenses and the case was heard this afternoon before Judge W. S. Bullock. The court in its opinion held the law to be invalid and ordered the prisoner discharged. It is understood that the county will take the case to the supreme court on a writ of error, but it is the consensus of opinion among the local bar that Judge Bullock's decision will be affirmed by the supreme court.

Great excitement prevailed at Lawtry Wednesday when it was found that the postoffice had been broken into during the night and the safe blown open. Both outer and inner doors were badly demolished, but the safety deposit vault inside the safe was undisturbed. In an interview with Deputy Postmaster Lowery it was learned that about $300 worth of stamps were taken out, but no money. The burglars entered by cutting the panel out of the front door. Five panes of glass were broken out of the office of Dr. Brown, which was next door, and footprints were discovered under each window. They next visited the general store of R. R. Thede, adjoining Dr. Brown's office, where they removed a panel out of this door and entered. The noise made in entering was heard by Mr. Thede, who fired several shots through the windows, which frightened the burglars away. Those who heard the reports of the explosion said it was between 1 and 2 o'clock. No alarm was given out until near daylight, when authorities in every direction were notified to be on the look out for suspicious looking characters.

Sam Hurd, the negro who, according to a death warrant issued some time ago by Gov. Trammell, will be hanged in the Alachua county jail enclosure on Friday, January 30, was making splendid progress toward effecting his own getaway as well as that of others, when Jailer W. M. Torley made the discovery Wednesday morning. Mr. Torley is "always on the job" during the early hours of the morning, heard a noise as if a rivet or tap had fallen to the iron floor from quite a height. This roused the jailer's suspicion, and he was not long in learning that saws were working steadily in the cell occupied by Hurd. When daylight came Mr. Torley and Chief Deputy Bruton made an investigation and found six hacks saws, one file, one coal chisel and a large piece of wood in the cell. Seventeen rivets had been filed off, and the removal of eight more would have given Hurd and those in the cell with him access to the corridor. It is believed that he intended to assault the jailer when he entered the corridor and effect a general getaway.

The conquering hero comes in the person of Sam Park, who will be at the Imperial Theatre Monday and Tuesday night, Jan. 26th and 27th heading a big all star company of fifteen people under the personal direction of that pioneer producer J. H. Brown, who has developed and placed before the American people a great number of our well known stars, and we feel safe in saying that this offering far surpasses all his former efforts.

Sam Park and Little Miss Edna are no newcomers to the people of Sanford and their offerings have always been up to time in every particular, and as the old saying is they grow better with age.

The company is presenting some of the latest successes released for stock productions and we can safely assure you that no plays ever seen south will be presented during the two nights and matinees here.

On Monday night the company will present "The Spell of the Southland," a beautiful story of the new south, and the portrayals of the various characters are fully equal to those seen in any attraction that costs you from $1.00 to $1.50, and the vaudeville we can say without fear of contradiction is the best ever seen in this city.

The prices for this attraction are very near the smallest thing about the show, 25, 35 and 50 cents and we have no doubt that you will all say that the famous Sam and Edna Park are the best attractions you have ever seen.

Sam Park has been coming here for years with the great C. W. Park Dramatic Co., and when we say Park to the amusement going public it is like saying we have the best of what we have.

Death of Mrs. E. T. Harrold

Word was received here yesterday morning that Mrs. Harrold has died suddenly at the home of her son, J. G. Harrold in Gainesville. Mrs. Harrold was in her eightieth year and while seemingly in good health and spirits had not been as well as usual for some time but her sudden death was a great shock to her many friends here.

The remains were brought to this city yesterday, the funeral services occurring from the Presbyterian church, Dr. Brownlee officiating and interment was made in Lakeview cemetery.

Mrs. Harrold leaves three sons, J. G. Harrold of Gainesville, J. A. Harrold of this city, E. S. Harrold of Waynesville, N. C. and one daughter, Mrs. W. W. Long of this city.

None ever entered her home without a warm welcome and left without feeling the warmth of a genuine hospitality, so characteristic of the people of her ancestry. There was no destroy the charm of a kind, indulgent disposition, nor old age diminish her unselfish solicitude for her friends and loved ones. Adhering to the faith of her father she united with the Presbyterian church in early life and loved to attend its services when health permitted. While she has continued to enjoy the society of her friends and relatives, she has for several years realized that her active life was over and with resignation awaited the divine call from death into life.

On her mother's grave with tenderest care gather the robe of life and gold around the form so still and cold. Lay on her bosom, pure as snow, the fairest, sweetest flowers that grow. Kiss and leave her out heart's delight. Her pain is over, she sleeps tonight.

Appleyard for Agriculture

T. J. Appleyard, Jr., will be a candidate for the position of Commissioner of Agriculture in the spring primaries and will make a vigorous campaign. Mr. Appleyard was an introduction to the people of Sanford having resided here in his early youth when Col. Tammus Appleyard was editor of the Gate City Chronicle and the family made Sanford their headquarters many years. Young Tom Appleyard Jr. will qualify to hold the high position which he desires. In fact, he is a great man who ever will give a good account of himself in any position.

Indian Baby Born in Orlando

Perhaps not since the Seminoles tented upon the grounds where Orlando now stands has a baby been reported in the birth of an American. Last night there was born to "Ladies' Engine," wife of "Red Eagle," a brave who has already created a family name in determining the name that the new comer shall carry through life. "Red Eagle" wants to call him "Blue Shirt" while "Ladies' Engine" says it shall be "White Man Showed Him the Light." The Indian family came from the Rosebud Agency in North Dakota, and are a part of the program at Favorite Theatre. Report by Special Agent.

Cabbage Palmetto in Disguise

A Florida woman who has just returned from New York declares she was expected to live to eat the cabbage of the palmetto in a fashionable hotel, one of the best known in the country, but that is what happened to her. At least she insists the dish served was nothing more nor less than the regular cabbage of the palmetto. On the dinner list it was announced as "Coeur de palmier," which translates, "heart of palm," and the explanation of the dish was that it is the heart of a palm and is imported from Africa. The Florida woman says perhaps it is imported from Africa, but if so it is certainly a waste of freight money, for Florida could, in her opinion, duplicate that heart of palm by the millions without despoiling the scenery.

Masons Attention!

OVIEDO'S MAIN STREET

The above picture shows part of the district burned in the fire last Wednesday, in which seven entire buildings were destroyed. The brick building in the foreground is the Lawton store, and was the only building left on Main Street. Being of brick it withstood the ravages of the flames. All the buildings destroyed will be rebuilt at once, still built of brick, making a bigger and better Oviedo. The buildings on Smith Avenue are not shown in the picture.

Was a Safe Blower

It is believed that the "blower" who was killed by the Special Agent Lane of the Seaboard Air Line at Wilkesboro, Thursday morning, and which "blower" killed Special Agent Lane before he succumbed to the party who was the victim in the Lawton postoffice last week. In its account of the horrible double tragedy the Herald has been told.

The stranger was a young man, apparently about twenty-five or thirty years of age. There was found on his person a revolver, one chamber of which had been discharged, a flashlight, some outgo, some several stacks of dynamite and about $200 worth of postage stamps. Upon an examination being made of his body it was also discovered that he also carried away from two of the bullet wounds, one on the back and one on his side which he had probably received in a former combat. The fact that he had in his possession such a large number of postage stamps, it is believed that he is the man who robbed the postoffice at Lawton a few nights ago when the contents of the safe had been stolen, including blood money.

Basket Ball

The local ball team of the Sanford High School played the last Varsity team of Stetson last Friday night in DeLand, which resulted in defeat for the local boys.

The defeat was no more than was to be expected as Stetson has the best and fastest Varsity team in the state. The Sanford team had this team down to smallest size, six high school boys to the Stetson team of ten.

The score was 55 to 10.

After the game the Sanford team was pleasantly surprised by a reception given them by the college team.

STORE WRECKED BY DYNAMITE

PLACE IN TAMPA BLOWN TO ATOMS BY EXPLOSION

OTHER HOUSES DAMAGED

NEWS OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA IN BROKEN DOSES FOR BUSY PEOPLE

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 27.—Guillo Casio and Biglion Giuseppe were arrested here in connection with dynamiting the store of P. Ahlert, a grocer, last night. The wrecked store caught fire and several nearby buildings were damaged by the explosion, including two churches. In the belief that the explosion may have been of incendiary origin, officers last night started a thorough examination. Labor conditions were thought last night to have had something to do with the alleged dynamiting of the place, as grocery clerks and drivers in the Latin stores of West Tampa and Ybor City have been on strike for several weeks. Some time ago a store was dynamited in Ybor City, but others have so far been unable to place the blame for the act.

The ceremonies connected with the funeral, delivery and unveiling of the statue of Dr. John Gorrie, of Apalachicola, the inventor of artificial refrigeration, will take place in Statuary Hall of the United States Capitol in Washington on Feb. 4. Representative Emory Wilson and State Senator Dayton will be among the speakers for the occasion. Just before adjourning Saturday the house of representatives passed the following resolution: "Resolved by the house of representatives (the senate concurring): That the state of Florida be, and is hereby, granted the privilege of placing in Statuary Hall of the Capitol the statue of John Gorrie, now deceased, who was a citizen of Florida, distinguished for distinguished civil service." The Florida statue is the first of the two to be placed in Statuary Hall of the Capitol. Florida is entitled in Statuary Hall to the work of John Gorrie, of this city, who has from old photographs and descriptions given him made what is considered by those who know him to be a work of great merit and fine fitness in portrayal of the features and characteristic of the deceased Dr. Gorrie.

$9,715.08 is not a bad wage record for some of the grocers of this city in their berries during the past season. Last night, grocers here were told that they were to pay for the berries from 1 to 2 cents a pound, a change from 1 1/2 to 2 cents a pound of 21 per quart, but the grocers' receipts have more than made up for the smaller price per quart. Plant City Courier.

A man from Orlando, who went to Tampa to place his wife in a hospital for an operation, went out and bought two loaves, incidentally being robbed of $20. This proved on his mind, with the result he walked into a restaurant took a seat at a table and drank brandy. The police rushed him to a hospital and his life was saved.—Gainesville Star.

The Key West Board of Trade have adopted resolutions unfavorable to the location of a colony of Greek sponge divers there. The Key Westers fear that the gathering of spongers by this month will soon annihilate the beds and destroy the industry in that section.

From every county in the state comes the report of very few registrations under the new primary law, which causes the Orlando Sentinel to remark that there is either going to be a very light vote in the June primary or a great rush to register during the last week in February.

The Jacksonville Board of Trade asserts that with proper port facilities that city could handle 800,000 bales of cotton annually.

Our always readable Astor letter tells of the purchase of 4,000 acres of the big Astor land or Manhattan Grant, to Minnesota parties, of which the Lake Region spoke some weeks ago. The purchasers have abundance of money and will develop their holdings and colonize them. Messrs. W. J. Watterworth and W. E. Allen of Duluth, Minn., are in charge of the great undertaking. The location is on and near the St. Johns river and Lake George and other lakes. See Astor and Astor Park letters.—Eustis Lake Region.

UNNECESSARY NOISES

Americans stand for a good many unnecessary nuisances. And one of them is noise. They become accustomed to it and fail to realize that a good deal of it is entirely needless, and also that unconsciously to them, it works a big wear and tear on their nervous system.

The increasing complications of modern living, especially in the larger cities, is productive of confusion as well as of noise. It all has its influence more or less certainly traceable on the robust individual and decidedly deleterious on the nervous and the invalid. It is difficult to determine in dollars and cents the cost of this damage to the public health, but the doctors, some of them, are very plain in their assertions that such injury has actual existence.

It is the undisciplined prerogative of every American, from his earliest boyhood to his declining years, to make just as much noise as he please, when and where he chooses, regardless of how it may annoy his neighbors. If he loses the pitch of his voice, he cuts on the piano at midnight or fails to cut off the muffler of his auto, he wishes it distinctly understood that it is a personal favor and not in any degree because he is obliged to. Yet when signs of desperate illness call for silence, no man on earth is more chivalrously sympathetic than this same American, be he humble or mighty.

What are some of the noises—the needless noises—of our municipal life, that we might do without to our lasting benefit and without serious inconvenience?

One of Jacksonville's public institutions—and every city has one or a dozen like it—is "Big Jim." This is the pet name for a great brass-throated steam whistle at the city's waterworks, which is sounded four times every day to announce the beginning and ending of work hours, at 7, 12, 1 and 5 o'clock. Whenever an alarm is sent to the fire department day or night, this great deluge of noise is poured forth on an incontinent public. On a quiet day the noise may be heard from three to five miles away.

Quite recently the serious illness of an honored citizen, whose home was within a few hundred feet of the big whistle, silenced it for a week or more. In that time it was discovered by hundreds and thousands of citizens that they were able to put in a full day's work, to get their meals on time and to enjoy the usual quota of sleep, just the same as if this great disturber had been bellowing an aggregate of seven to eight minutes every day. The fires that occurred in the city were extinguished as promptly and efficiently as if Big Jim had been pounded. In short, thousands discovered, and some admitted, that this mighty noise was needless and a nuisance. But Big Jim had been telling people when to begin work and when to quit, when (but not where) the fires were for so many years that some have come to regard it as actually of some real value to them, but it is their responsibility. In fact it is a relic of the village stage of Jacksonville's development.

There are some other Florida cities that are hampered by the same kind of nuisances.

There is another useless noise. Every city and nearly every hamlet in the state and in the land has it. The statement is made with all reverence and due regard for long established and time-honored traditions and prejudices, but church bells are unnecessary, wholly unnecessary. People don't depend upon bells to call them to the movies, to the theatre, to any place of amusement or entertainment or business, not even to catch railroad trains, which are expected to move at specified moments. They don't need bells to call them to church—they only think they do. They go by the home clock or their watch and the bell is merely incidental. Comparatively few city churches in these days are provided with bells, then why should any churches have them?

To some there is a sort of poetic sanctity in the sound of the distant church chimes floating across the quiet air of the summer Sabbath which inspires to higher and holier thoughts—at least, some say it does. But how about the suffering invalid, tossing on a bed of pain a block away? To him it is an unholy racket bringing torture and adding unnecessarily to his agony. Only custom continues the church bell in these days. Its usefulness, if it ever had any, has gone. Its power of inflicting real harm is recognized.

But when we come to the gasoline-motored machines on land and water, the automobile, the motorcycle and the launch, we have entered a field of almost infinite possibilities for noise-making. Cities in all parts of the land have legislated against it. The use of the muffler has been insisted on and in some places the use of the cut off is punishable by some fines in the municipal courts. In some places the punishment is inflicted—in some it is not.

Unfortunately indeed is the neighborhood inhabited in these days by the popular society girl, who possesses an assortment of "automobile beaux." She returns from some function about midnight, sometimes very much later, and the auto engine is left running while the good nights are said. This often takes fifteen minutes—quite long enough to arouse thoroughly the weary sleepers in the block, and when there is no longer excuse for prolonging the farquels, the motor leaves the neighborhood with the cut-off wide open, as if, in haste, at last, to reach his own abiding place and rest. Of course, there are no police about at that time of the night, and if there were they couldn't catch the noise-maker.

In every city located on deep water, there are the whistles of steam vessels and tugs, and invariably they are used recklessly and senselessly. There are the clanging bells of street cars in charge of men who don't care and who seem to measure their own importance by the amount of disturbance they create. They have the right of way and appear to fear that some one won't know it.

There is in and near every city an inordinate use of the locomotive whistle at all hours of the day and night, but more noticeable at night. That it is largely, if not wholly, needless, is demonstrated by the fact that a heavy fine is imposed for the sounding of a locomotive whistle within the limits of one of the largest cities of the United States. There are scores, perhaps hundreds, of other noises that are inflicted unnecessarily every day and every hour upon the city dwellers, to his harm.

Thoughtful investigators, in this and foreign countries have given more serious attention to this question than have the doctors and sanitarians of Florida. In some matters of health, Florida scientists are leaders. In this they are lamentably far back in the procession.

These are no intangible injuries that are wrought by unnecessary noises. One-third of the average city's population is neurotic or otherwise invalid. We are a nation of nerve-racked people. Any extreme noise aggravates such persons and the extreme extent of their aggravation depends upon the degree of nervousness or the nature of the malady. Unnecessary noises at night bring broken rest to other hundreds and make them less fit for the morrow's work. They are robbed of what belongs to them. The strong, rugged city man is compelled to seek rest in his annual vacations in order to ward off the breakdown, and he seeks it in the quiet of the country where he may escape the noise, which has worn him down perilously near to the breaking point.

What's the remedy? Stop needless noises. How?

If the realization of what we owe our neighbors shall not prevail, and it has never yet accomplished any very widespread good, for the universal brotherhood of man idea is a slow working influence—that is a matter quite within the province of city councils and an insistent public sentiment guided by scientifically intelligent medical men will eventually secure an abatement of this and some other nuisances.

Long French Fishing Grounds.
It is an established historical fact that for more than 400 years, French fishermen have come each season to the shores of Newfoundland and the neighboring banks, except during the wars with England, when French ships were temporarily driven from these seas.

His Position.
"What are your views on the great public problems?" "I haven't any views on public problems, replied the man whose interests are under investigation. "I'm one of them myself."

Language Was Lacking.

"A man might succeed in feathering his own nest," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "if so much of his money did not go towards putting them on his wife's hats."

Quite So.
"Love is a joint stock concern," murmured the girl. "Sort of a holding company," opined the young man, as he gently shifted her to his other knee.

WARSHIPS WILL VISIT FESTIVAL

TO BE IN TAMPA HARBOR GASPARILLA WEEK.

Battlers of Several Nations Will Add to the Bright City is to Show Its Guests.

Warships of several nations will visit Tampa during the Gasparilla festival, February 21-24. Assurance was given the men of the Gasparilla committee early in January that submarines and torpedo destroyers of the United States fleet would be on hand to escort the Gasparilla craft up the bay. Secretary of the Navy Daniels has given orders which set four submarines and a monitor in motion on a leisurely trip from Norfolk, which will bring them into Tampa Bay before the celebration has opened. Torpedo boats of the United States Atlantic squadron are also expected.

The consuls of Great Britain, Italy, Cuba, Spain and France are making every possible effort to get warships from their countries here for the Gasparilla occasion. There is a likelihood also that Germany will have a cruiser in port, as steps were taken through the foreign ministers to this country to secure such action on the part of the foreign navy departments.

Consul R. M. Ybor of Cuba has practical assurance that the gunboat Cuba will be on hand. Vice Consul E. W. Monroe of this city regards the chance of there being a representative of the French navy here as being of the brightest. Consul Colombo is the Italian consul. He is backed in his request by the many Italian residents of the city, and Orlando Italian, which wishes to entertain an Italian warship and crew during the carnival. Consul A. Niall likewise has confidence that the Spanish government will not overlook the celebration, more particularly as the name of a Spanish sea rover, Jose Gasparilla, is commemorated by the occasion.

An opportunity will be given the visitors to the city to go aboard the warships which will tie up at the docks in this city, and there will thus be an educational feature to the celebration for the people of inland towns to see the war boats. There is no doubt that this feature of the celebration will be attractive to many.

Australian Justice.
Recently after hearing his first case an Australian justice of the peace delivered himself thus: "There's been a lot of lies told in this case, and I don't know who's been tellin' 'em. So I'm goin' to fine you £2. If yer guilty yer kettin' off very light, an' if yer not guilty it'll teach yer to be more perticular about the company yer keep."

The Voice a Pearl.
Elihu Burritt says of the voice: "Watch it day by day as a pearl of great price, for it will be worth more to you in the days to come than the best pearl hid in the sea. A kind voice in joy, like a lark's song, to a hearth at home. Train it to sweet tones now and it will keep in tune through life."

Eye Photographs.
Nearly everybody knows that we see objects as pictures on the retina of the eye. Out of this fact, doubtless, there grows up the popular belief, amounting in some quarters to superstition, that "pictures" may be seen in the eyes of dead men.—Harper's Weekly.

It's Dangerous, Being a Songster.
"I notice," said Mrs. Pozosie, "that a choir soloist in Greenwich, Conn., broke an artery while singing a high note. I never heard of an accident such as that before, but I have often feared Mr. Pozosie might rupture himself singing the low notes in 'Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep.'"

MARIAN JORDAN.

Jerry Wayland, saddened by unexpected absence, managed to catch the 10:30 train for Stillwater. He did not unfold the newspaper he had bought, nor did he enter the dining car during the hour's journey. He sat perfectly quiet in a corner of the car, his head down, his eyes on the floor. He had a dream of the glad days of his boyhood, and the glad days of his boyhood were the days when he had seen his father's face when he had been smiling.

might meet her here at the end of the lane—and fly with me—to be my own dear wife forever? "I will," answered Elinor solemnly. Jerry Wayland, white and shaking, leaned against his frail support in the tree. It is given to few men to witness the love scenes between a faultless sweetheart and a more successful rival. What agony endured during that brief interview!

Books for the Children. Care must be taken in the stories given to growing children that evil is always overcome. Book friends are very real to boys and girls and influence their character. There should be effort and conflict in their stories and daring endurance and steadfast purpose. Stories in which the child hero acts rightly are particularly valuable, because what a boy or girl has done appeals more directly to the child's own power. He feels though he may not express it even to himself that what other children have done he can do.

HORTICULTURE IN FLORIDA

Northern Florist Finds Soil and Climate Conditions Ideal for Growing Flowers Few people there are in Sanford or in all Florida who have ever given the subject of growing flowers for the northern market any thought.

He and Mr. Stewart are also trying out the spineless cactus, the great Burbank production that promises so much to the cattleman of Florida for a forage crop and the Stewart farm now has a fine nursery stock of these plants ready to set out.

WILSON WANTS SYRUP

Missouri Man Thinks Sanford Section is All Right Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 23, '14 Sanford Herald: Your valued issue of Jan. 20th has reached me, and as usual has been read with interest.

It is possible, however, that your great state does not produce any more syrup than is needed for home consumption; and that your honorable legislature, realizing that the doctrine of conservation of our resources is now uppermost in the minds of the American people, sought to make themselves more solid with their constituents by enacting a law prohibiting the shipment of "Genuine Ribbon Cane Syrup" out of the state.

subscribers from such bitter disappointment as I have had to endure by reason of my inability to secure this much longed for syrup. This morning my family had for their breakfast, two genuine Florida grapefruit—the best grapefruit in the world.

Hereafter I shall be tempted to advise all my customers to plant their entire acreage to ribbon cane, hoping that within a few years the production of syrup will exceed the local demand, thereby enabling me to have a few ounces, surreptitiously (or otherwise) shipped out to me on some dark rainy night.

I have travelled in some twenty different states; making my first visit to Florida about two years ago. Since then it has been my cherished hope that some day circumstances will permit me to make my permanent home in Central Florida; where I can enjoy a climate the equal of which is not to be found elsewhere in the world; least myself and family upon the richest products of the vine, tree garden; and grow a field of ribbon cane (and perhaps advertise my syrup in the Sanford Herald).

Here to Brother McCuller the grocer, may his business grow and flourish as doth the fruits and vegetables on a Central Florida farm. Long live the Herald, may it continue to disseminate information about the best state in the Union, and may its years of usefulness be many.

GASPARILLA WAS PIRATE CHIEFTAIN

RAVAGED COAST OF FLORIDA IN EARLY DAYS Explains Are Bound Up With the Traditions of the Land of Sunshine. His Story.

They say there is nothing in a name, but that is not true. Could any better name have been chosen for a South Florida festival than the Gasparilla Carnival? Think of the legends that gather like mist over a bay head about the name and fame of Gasparilla! Think of the possibilities for the bazaar and the amusement that the old pirate's history gives!

Who or what is Gasparilla? asks the stranger within our doors. Is it a Pullman car or a breakfast food or a cigar or a face powder? Listen, gentle stranger. Gasparilla was a pirate, and it is his exploits and history that furnish the theme for the Carnival. Tampa is to give on February 21 to 24.

Then, amid the acclamation of their loyal subjects, prizes and honor guard, the king and queen are crowned, at the greatest social event of the year. Seven kings and queens have occupied the Gasparilla throne—ever since 1905, when that feature of the fête was hit upon by the Gasparilla crew.

Gasparilla was one of the buccannars who made the Gulf a refuge to honest seamen in the troubled days at the close of the eighteenth century and the beginning of the nineteenth. Spain's power was fast disappearing. Great Britain, France, Spain and the United States each flew its flag over the shores washed by the Gulf stream.

the bayous of Plaquemine and Atchafalaya, were the headquarters of the ravenous Lafitte. One of the bloodiest of pirates, he gathered together hundreds of violent men and a dozen or so vessels and ruled as a king. In such a kingdom there is always dissension and Gasparilla, after a disagreement with Lafitte over some of the loot, broke away from the band, took the ship he commanded and the bloody crew who did his bidding and sailed across the gulf to the coast of Florida.

Florida was a settlement even then, but down the left stretch of the Florida coast there was hardly another bay that had, even a fisherman's hut along the shore. Hiding places there were in plenty among the bays and bays of the coast. Found Haven on Gasparilla's list. On the island where the phosphate port of Boca Grande is now located, Gasparilla found the haven he was seeking. It blocked one of the entrances of Charlotte Harbor in any one of a dozen of whose smaller bays and creek mouths there was plenty of chance for him to escape prying eyes.

MEET ME IN TAMPA FEB 21-22-23-24-25-26-27-28-29-30-31-1914 GASPARILLA WEEK SHOW IS FREE TO ALL No Fake "Concessions" to Mar Tampa's Big Festival. Though the big festival Tampa plans to give on February 21 to 31 will be the biggest thing of the sort ever seen in the South, it will be free to all. Parades, displays, pageants, fireworks and shows of the sort that can be seen by all will form the attractions. There will be no side-shows of the penny-grabbing kind. Not a cent will be shown given, and there will be no lot shows, no fakers, no dishonest or cheap features to mar the celebration. Everything will be open and free and all visitors will be given access to the many balls that are to be given by various clubs and societies.

Gasparilla had a great eye for feminine beauty and his course of action when taking a ship was always the same. "Overboard with the men; save the women!" was his invariable order. But it was this practice that led to his ruin. His depredations were reported to the United States government and a frigate sent to the Gulf waters to run him down. After a long chase through the Ten Thousand Islands, and up and down the coast the pirate was cornered in Lemon bay as he was trying to make his way through Gasparilla sound into Charlotte Harbor. A bloody battle ensued. The pirate was no coward, and his crew fought as they well knew, with halbers around their necks. Few were left, according to the tradition that was come down. Gasparilla was one of the captives, so the story runs, and suffered the speedy penalty of his crimes. In short, he was hung at the yard arm of his own boat. One legend has it that the frigate burned out the pirates' nest, root and branch, and destroyed that home. Another story has it that it endured for many years, though avoided by the occasional seaman who landed on that coast, who felt that it was haunted. This story has it that the old place was finally struck by lightning in one of the tropical storms that sometimes sweep the keys and destroyed. Certain it is that it is gone, though old residents say remains of the place were still to be seen when they came into that country in the days of the Seminole.

Both houses will be occupied as soon as completed.

A fine pair of horses belonging to E. C. Brady came very near killing themselves several days ago. They were hitched to a wagon and being frightened ran away, and out on the old railroad track that extends over the lake some distance. One horse fell through the trestle but caught on the cross-ties. With his own frantic efforts he gained his footing, only to follow the other horse over the side of the trestle. Fortunately the trestle was not very high at this place, and had recently been filled in partly with chiblogs, which let the horses down easy and they were quickly extricated by people who rushed to their rescue.

The cool weather after the rains of Saturday is the best thing that could have happened to the visitors and letter-writers and the growers are correspondingly happy.

McCall, who will erect a fine big structure on the lot owned by him and situated on the principal corner of Oviedo.

Several business men of Oviedo were in the city yesterday purchasing supplies, among them being W. H. Howard and H. B. McCall. Sanford is enjoying a wave of prosperity that is very noticeable and also very gratifying. Being the county seat naturally draws many people here than would otherwise come. During the present term of court the town has been filled with strangers and visitors. The large sums of money that are paid out by the jurors, witnesses and for other expenses of the court puts money in circulation in Sanford that is helpful to the various lines of trade.

Mr. Walsh is prominent in Michigan as a distributor of cigars and tobacco and is interested in other lines of business. He was induced to stop over in Sanford by F. J. At last, theatre goers will have an opportunity to see "Peg O My Heart," J. Hartley Munnery's comedy which met with tremendous success in New York, where it has been running continuously for nearly a year. Mr. O. Munnery, who is the producer, has cast the play a stupendous mounting, an exceptionally well balanced cast of well known players, among whom are Mrs. O'Dea, Ruth Garland, Marie Koss, Lionel Glenister, Vivian Gilbert, Ernest W. Jauby, Albert Olan and Herbert A. Stupp.

The title role will be played by Marie Blanche Hall, the clever actress, who is sure to please in the great role of Irish brogue.

The story concerns Peg, the daughter of an aristocratic English woman who marries a lovable but unfortunate Irishman. Her family turn their aristocratic backs upon her on account of her marriage. Peg is brought up by her father, after the death of her mother, in New York, and comes to England to be educated by her relatives, according to the conditions of the will, by a brother of her mother's who has left a fortune to her.

The Irish girl, ignorant of the fact that she is an heiress and also ignorant of the ways of the aristocracy is given a cold reception by her high born relatives and made to feel the sting of class distinction in spite of the fact that it is her money which enables her English relatives to keep up appearances. The disagreeable nature of her surroundings and the contrast between her own natural goodness and light heartedness and the false ideas of the aristocratic English family, does not make her less her inherent goodness.

The play is said to be brimful of wit and humor and clever situations from the rise to the drop of the curtain, just before which Peg rests in the arms of the man she loves.

"Peg O My Heart" will be seen at the Lucerne Theatre, Orlando on Wednesday, Feb. 4th.

Reception to New Pastor On Tuesday evening the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy on Magnolia avenue was thrown open to receive the members and friends of the Methodist church to meet the new pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Steinmeyer.

Receiving the guests as they arrived at the door were Mrs. B. L. Marshall and Mrs. M. A. Miot. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. Steinmeyer and Mrs. Kathleen Steinmeyer. Mrs. Abernathy wore a handsome gown of black velvet, Mrs. Steinmeyer wore grey silk with trimmings of velvet and lavender chiffon; Mrs. Steinmeyer wore a pretty evening dress of blue silk, with drapery of white chiffon. The lovely rooms were artistically decorated. In the reception room the color scheme was yellow and white. Under a bower of green and white at the end of the reception room was stationed the punch bowl where Mrs. W. E. Housholder presided. The parlors were in green and white and quantities of white roses and green vines were used. In the library all colors of flowers were used and a beautiful center for the table was a large piece made of yellow and white chrysanthemums. The dining room was most attractive in red and green, red vases being used in profusion and the lights being pretty red shades.

The pleasing program was greatly enjoyed. The first number was a piano solo by Miss Julia Zachery. Mrs. J. W. Housholder gave two humorous readings, the very first Mrs. Powell delighted the guests with vocal numbers and a quartet was sung by Mrs. J. K. Metzinger, Mrs. Claude Herndon and Mrs. W. L. Morgan.

The refreshments were served in the dining room. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Katherine Wilson, Miss Ruth Roberts, Miss Douglas Abernathy.

A large number of people called during the evening to meet and welcome the Steinmeyer family, who have made a splendid impression on the Sanford people and a good year is expected for the church.

The Return Dance In the evening the return dance to the social department of the Woman's club was given. This was the first dance of the season to be held at the Sanford House, and was one of the brilliant social events of the season.

The committee in charge, L. P. McCuller, W. J. Thigpen, E. Watson and R. J. Holly, with Forest Lake as chairman, met every effort to make it a success, and the equipment in the Woman's club, 250 hats, were used in the decoration. A fine orchestra from Deland was stationed behind a screen of graceful palms, and furnished excellent music for the dancers. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lake led the grand march, taking the many couples through various graceful and attractive figures, showing to advantage the unusually beautiful evening gowns of the fair dancers. Several of the new dances were included in the program and were much enjoyed. In the parlors, punch was served during the evening and at the intermission period the guests partook of light refreshments. A married spirit of gaiety prevailed that assured the success of the affair. Those assisting the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard, Dr. and Mrs. S. Pileston, Mr. and Mrs. Walston, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fields, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman, Miss Florence Frank, Miss Saida Williams, Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. Hal Wright, Mr. T. P. McCuller, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Mr. and Mrs. Boy, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilson of Pittsburgh, Mrs. F. L. Miller, Mr. Eugene Rounillat, Misses Laffer, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Miss Fish, Mr. W. E. Watson, Dr. and Mrs. C. Butt, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Welfare Department Social Two notable social events took place Thursday in Sanford, both being of more than ordinary importance.

In the afternoon at the club rooms, the Welfare Department, entertained delightfully the entire Woman's Club. The rooms were artistically decorated under the direction of the committee including Mrs. R. L. Peck, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. R. J. Holly and Mrs. George Fox. With vines, potted plants, the club colors, red and green, predominating.

The lace curtains were festooned with vines and adorned with red hibiscus, and on the mantel, piano and in every available space were vases and bowls of brilliant red roses. The chandelier was draped in asparagus fern, the lights being softened with red shades. As the guests arrived they were received informally by the chairman, Mrs. R. A. Terheun, assisted by the vice chairman, Mrs. C. M. Thore, the executive committee, Miss Mel White, Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mrs. G. W. Waldron and Mrs. C. R. Walker.

During the afternoon a splendid program was rendered, Miss Aspinwall singing "Love, I Dream of You," and in response to an encore "The Years in the Spring."

Miss Aspinwall's younger sister accompanied her on the piano. Mrs. J. W. Hargis, a talented reader gave two selections which were much enjoyed, and Mrs. Powell, who is an accomplished musician, rendered two violin solos in a splendid way. Mrs. Henry Wright, state chairman of club extension and also corresponding secretary of the Woman's Club of Sanford, then in a most graceful manner introduced Mayor J. L. Thrasher, who during the course of his address expressed his pleasure at the exhibition of the Woman's Club, especially the welfare department, with the Suffolk Board of Aldermen in their efforts for a greater and a better Sanford, and endorsed the action of the council in giving the welfare department to meet with them at their next regular meeting. His remarks were much enjoyed. Mr. C. R. Walker then responded on behalf of the school board, and assured the department their support in every possible way. The city council and the board of education had been invited to attend the next ing, and several members of each body were present, giving the genuine interest in the work of the club. Judge G. C. Herring, who was to have spoken on "Woman under the Law in Florida," was prevented from keeping his engagement by unavoidable circumstances.

The program being concluded the chairman in a gracious manner invited the guests to remain for a social hour. In the refreshments prepared under the supervision of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Chittenden, Mrs. Abernathy, Mrs. Housholder and Mrs. C. E. Walker, the color motif was carried out in a pleasing way. The blocks of ice cream were adorned with red cherries, and the cake fed in white was decorated with green. Coffee was served with this delicious course. The young ladies serving included Miss Mel White, Mrs. Mabel Hand, Miss Carrie Ensminger, and Miss Broda Morrison. This is the second of the four general social affairs of the club to be given during the season; was a most gratifying success in every particular, about nine-fifty members and their friends being present to testify to the fact.

MEET ME IN TAMPA FEB 21-22-23-24-1914

FESTIVAL RUN ON HIGH PLANE

GASPARILLA WEEK IN TAMPA TO FURNISH FUN. Character of Men Who Are Back of the Plan Indicates High Quality of the Entertainment. SPECIAL RATES TO TAMPA.

Back of the great Gasparilla festival, which Tampa is giving on February 21 to 24, as its contribution to the safety of life in South Florida, this winter, are the ledges, social, fraternal and business organizations of the city. The Merchants' Association conceived the idea, its "boosters" committee first bringing it before the merchants. The plan was a bit too large for one organization to take up alone and a mass meeting was called, delegates being invited to attend from every organization in the city.

The result was tremendous. It was the best outpouring of the men who "do things" that Tampa has seen in many a day. The idea had caught on at sight. A steering committee was named and hustled about a bit to formulate a plan of action. It called another meeting of the delegates from the organizations of the city. William Chase Temple was named as chairman of the Carnival committee. C. A. McKay, vice chairman; J. A. Griffin, treasurer, and L. D. Reagan, secretary, were named as the subsidiary committees. The work of the steering committee was to call, hard facts being:

It has been a tremendous job, for it is no light task to whip such an undertaking into shape. It has been done, however, and one of the best festivals ever held in the South is going to be the result. Special rates to Tampa will be in effect for this occasion, not only from Florida points, but from all points in the United States and Canada. Embrace South Florida. Realizing from the start that the idea was too wide to make it an exclusively Tampa affair, the plan has been right along to have it embrace all of South Florida. There are thousands of visitors from other and less favored climes in our cities during the winter, and it was planned to give these people as comprehensive a view of the advantages of South Florida as possible. With this end in view, cities, counties, boards of trade and other organizations through the Citrus Belt have been invited to take part in this affair. Right nobly have they responded, and Tampa can rely not only on their moral backing, but on their more practical support. Another year will see them ever more enthusiastically lined up behind this great festival, for it is destined to develop great power as an advertising feature, and the showy heads who have built up the Citrus Belt will not be slow to realize that fact.

The festival committee is strictly a co-operative organization. There is not a cent of returned for any of the members in the work they are doing for the success of the big affair. It is all done for "the good of the order," and is a fine illustration of the boosting ability of Tampanians when they really get their minds set on doing a big thing. The expense—and it is likely to run close to $50,000—is met by voluntary subscriptions with gifts from the city and county. Half the expense could have been met had the festival com-chrysanthemum is the flower peculiarly appropriate to this month. FEBRUARY—In the last month of the year, and it is fitting that Prosperity, Success and Contentment should be the thought typical of the month. The keynote to the year of the month, and the pelagetic, typical especially of Florida, is the flower to be used by those who would observe the proprieties. These floats will be built by boats from the various social, industrial, commercial and fraternal organizations of the city, and boats from outside towns in South Florida. Next will come the marching bodies from the various organizations of the city in both historical and weird costumes. Then the city department and next to follow will be a floral automobile parade in which there will be several hundred beautifully decorated automobiles.

mitted seen fit to accept their "floats" but this they have not done. Not a concession has been sold, though much else could have been secured in this way. The committee was determined that none but the highest grade of entertainment should be offered their guests and the "bally-hoo" artists who have tried to get in have been told there was nothing doing. As an illustration of the high order of the Carnival the names of the committee are guaranteed enough. W. C. Temple is chairman of the Carnival Association; C. A. McKay vice president; J. A. Griffin, treasurer, and L. D. Reagan secretary. Executive committee is as follows: W. C. TEMPLE, Chairman; C. A. McKay, Vice-Chairman; J. A. Griffin, Treasurer; L. D. Reagan, Secretary; CLYDE GREEN, T. D. FISHER, T. H. ATKINSON, M. H. MARONEY, J. J. DUNN, J. FRED DeBERRY, JOAQUIN LOPEZ, FRED WALKER. As chairman of the other committees the following may be named. Their names alone are a guarantee of the high grade of the proposed carnival.

YE MYSTIC KREWE OF PIRATES BOLD

WAS FORMED IN 1904 BY GEORGE HARDEE. Modeled on Knights of Comus of New Orleans Mardi Gras Fame. Have Great Times.

Ye Mystic Krewe of Gasparilla, the Tampa organization that has lent its name to the greatest festival and pageant of which it remains the central part, dates back to 1904. It was organized in that year by George Hardee, a government employe, then fresh from New Orleans and the remembrance of its Mardi Gras. His idea was for a pageant, participated in by the young men of the city, which would be an enjoyable occasion on the one hand for themselves, and on the other hand for the public generally.

Ye Mystic Krewe Has Grown. It is his idea, grown and embellished, that has brought out the Gasparilla festival of four days' duration. Just as the band of buccaneers, Ye Mystic Krewe, has grown from about thirty to one hundred, with an honor guard of an hundred more, so has the fest grown from a one-day affair on Washington's birthday to a carnival of nearly a week. This year is the first that the Gasparilla celebration will occupy more than a single day, it will be held February 21-24. Not only are the hundred pirates and the hundred honor guard planning to surpass all former performances, but the Gasparilla Carnival Association, composed of committees from every organization of the city of Tampa is working to make the first "greater Gasparilla" an occasion of delight and pleasure for thousands and thousands of people. South Florida will have a Gasparilla that will truly rival the Mardi Gras of New Orleans, and will claim prominence among all such affairs.

Hot Stockings

A certain large southerly firm lately received an order in Russian, and although the receiver of it had a fair knowledge of the language, there were two words he was unable to translate. Somewhere in the works, however, a real Russian was employed. They brought him along, and he read the letter carefully, but was still puzzled by these two words: Literally, he explained their meaning was "hot stockings," which seemed absurd, but was precisely used by the nearest known Russian synonym for "no hope."

Inculcating Right Views

Some people hold that children should hear and think to cultivate their sympathy. Might it not be just as effectively to teach them to sympathize with gladness? Is it not much easier to weep with those that weep than to really rejoice with those who do rejoice? It is a very hard and heart that is not softened at the sight of pain and distress, and it requires something higher and nobler to be glad, when another has some pleasure or happiness greater than his own.

City's Charter Centuries Old. A 500-year-old charter known by King Edward I. to Aberystwyth, (Carmarthen), Wales, has been discovered by Dr. Lewis of the University College of Wales, in a search for documents for the town council. It was awarded to Llanbarn, the name of the ancient church and parish. In consequence of the discovery in the charter that markets should be held on Monday, Aberystwyth keeps bank holidays on Tuesdays.

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HELL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

The Country Doctor Day in, day out, night out, night in, Where mud is thick and blood is thin, He hustles with his cheery grin To fight, with illa. The drives are long, the nights are cold, He suffers hardships left untold. To call upon some mother old, Across the fields.

Little he says about his pay; Often he gives his skill away, And tho' he's getting old and gray He has no wealth. His life has been an endless trial, His motto has been self denial; Freely he gives from every dol For some one's health.

The gallant soldier goes away While fife and drum and bugle play bravely to conquer or to slay— That is his part. The country doctor rides alone Thru rugged roads, o'er stick and stone To heal them, not to make them moan; God bless his heart! —William Kirk in Atlanta Georgian.

Professor Metchnikoff, in his pursuit of the microbes, announces a new discovery. It is that danger lurks in the uncooked banana, and he warns those who would avoid cancer not to eat any raw fruits whatever. This is not his first contribution on the subject of health. In 1908 Prof. Metchnikoff acquired fame as a "Ponce de Leon" by discovering that one of the greatest secrets of longevity is in the use of sour milk.

That drink, he declared, is a part of the national dietary of the "long lived" Bulgarians, and he advanced statistics to prove that the fluid cleared the intestinal tracts of disease and placed a check on the encroachments of old age. The old fashioned folks who believe that "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," will probably find the noted scientist's latest theory a perplexing one. The professor does not restrict his findings to the banana, but he is equally severe with the husk-calded strawberry, and it is only natural to surmise with the unboiled watermelon.

No raw fruits of any kind are safe, he declares. But he lays especial stress on the banana on account of the fact that there is a popular delusion that the thick skin protects the pulp from microbes. On the other hand, it is a scientific fact that in order to ripen, bananas must be affected by the air germs which reach the fruit after traversing the post. It may be interesting to note in this connection, that in some countries, as for example, in the Hawaiian islands, where they really do cook the banana on occasions to increase its edibility, the natives frequently contract leprosy, not because they cook the banana, but because they eat it. It really begins to appear, from Prof. Metchnikoff's most recent discovery, that a hunger strike in a Turkish bath is the only safe refuge left for helpless humanity.

The secretary of agriculture reports $500,000,000 worth more of food products in the United States this year than last and at the same time he says that living will not be reduced to any appreciable extent, in spite of the fact that the production is up output.

Someone asks why this is the case and why the cost does not apply to reduced cost in the presence of abundant supply, the answer is that middlemen absorb some of it and the farmer may get a little more of the price, but the consumer will receive no benefit.

It is just possible that we may offer another suggestion which goes as far to solve the problem as any other, that is, the cost of getting farm products from the farm to the market place, especially the cost of moving such products from the farm itself to the nearest point of shipment, whether it be by rail or water.

When one figures that it costs an average of 27 cents a ton to move products in a wagon on a common road against about three-quarters of a mill (a move a ton a mile on a railway) and less than that to move the same weight by water, one gets an idea of the tremendous handicap that the ordinary road is on the farmer in the first place and finally upon the retail buyer of farm products.

In a word, we have come to that pass in our highway situation that the ordinary road, which we will call a bad road in distinction from a good road, eats up profits at such a rate that even an increase of half a billion in a year's crop makes no perceptible increase in the price of living to the citizen. The remedy for such a thing is so plain that it suggests itself and need not be rehearsed here.

The candidates for county offices are coming round inquiring about the family and attempting to kiss the babies and I notice several of them getting very familiar with their enemies of the street and making casual remarks about the present incumbents in office.

I have not had time to go to the court-house lately, being busy with my celery crop and am not in position to say that all the present equity officials will stand for re-election or not. Some of them look to me like their jobs were beginning to be tiresome and are not beds of roses. Offices of a clerical nature should be filled by people of a clerical disposition who have had experience in office work, otherwise the office work will have to be carried on by employees or allowed to suffer for lack of attention and county jobs if they are jobs at all, or else jobs or any other jobs must be attended to in every detail of the incumbent will soon find out that he is not satisfying his constituents or the state or county or city.

The various offices in Sanford caused a mad scramble when they were appointed to office. I have seen him snooping around your place and inspecting the ash cans and other appurtenances that usually adorn the back alleys and if there is anything in your lot that does not come up to 99 per cent purity you will hear from Artie right now. I heard him telling some people the other day about their premises and they stated that never before had any man the generosity to tell them the premises were satisfactory but Artie politely informed them that he was telling them now and intended to tell them in the future or they would be able to tell it to Mayor Thrasher or the police court. He is a new man for the job, having been appointed by the new administration and like the new broom he is sweeping them clean for his belief in a clean city. Artie is probably the only sanitary inspector in the state that owns and operates his own car on the inspection tour and the amount of ground he covers in a day is marvellous.

The bulldog is a joke no longer. The present city council said they would not that bulldog over and they mean to know what they are talking about for they go right ahead and do things and in the last paper was a note that every one interested should read. In this you have not I will reproduce the reading: To Frank L. Woodruff, W. J. Thielen, C. H. Steamship Co., Sanford Hotel and Improvement Co., Florida Fish & Produce Co., Wm. H. and H. H. Adams and the Atlantic Coast Ry. Co., and all other property owners along the Sanford Bulkhead District. Take notice:

The following assessments were made against the following property, for the purpose of repaving the lake front along Lake Meade, and the city council will meet as a board of equalization to hear complaints if any, on the 16th day of February 1914, at 7:30 p. m.

CIRCUIT COURT ADJOURNED AFTER THREE WEEKS GRIND

SEMINOLE COUNTY MAKES RECORD FOR FIRST TERM MINOR CASES THIS WEEK

BUT JUDGE AND JURY WERE ON THE JOB EVERY MINUTE AND WHEELS REVOLVED

The first term of Circuit Court for Seminole county has closed, and passed into the history of the county. The first session occupied almost three weeks as there was a full docket and the matter also occupied several days' time. But in all the first session was very satisfactory to judge, jury and the people. Judge Perkins, State's Attorney Landis, his assistant, Geo. DeCottes, Clerk Douglas and assistants, Sheriff Hand and his deputies and all of the officials who assisted the wheels of justice to go round are to be commended upon their good work, for what promised to be a drag of many weeks has been hauled down to less than three and the cases were disposed of with neatness and despatch.

Deputy Sheriff McCulley of Ocala, had a peculiar experience Tuesday afternoon with a negro prisoner who he was attempting to bring to Sanford to place in jail for firing a gun, another negro out of certain establishments.

The Rec-Cooling Test

The rec-cooling test applied here to a car of lettuce for Chase & Co. and F. F. Dutton was satisfactory in every way and a complete report of the cars will be given in Tuesday's issue. The article was crowded out of this issue, but is so important that Tuesday's Herald will give the figures on the cars and the report of condition upon arrival. This is of great importance to the growers here and worthy of consideration before another season rolls around a pre-cooling plant should be erected in Sanford. Watch Tuesday's Herald for the report.

CHILDREN'S QUARREL

Entangles Parents and Killing Is The Result.

Ocala, Jan. 29.—In defense of his father, who was getting the worst of a three-cornered fight, Irving Miller, a ten-year-old boy, shot and probably fatally wounded Heywood Haile, Wednesday afternoon. The shooting occurred at Miller's grocery store on South Magnolia street.

From what could be learned it is understood that the trouble started several days ago when the two Miller boys and a boy named Redding had a fight. It is said that Mr. Miller found the boys fighting and slapped the Redding boy and Mr. Redding, accompanied by his son-in-law, Mr. Haile, called upon Mr. Miller to inquire what started the trouble.

Mr. Redding entered the store alone after a few words with Mr. Miller several times across the head with a Winchester rifle. At this point Mr. Haile entered the store and, according to the boy's story, took a hand in the fight. The boy who was in the store when the trouble first started, secured a revolver and returned about the time Mr. Haile came into the store. The boy claims that when Haile hit his father he stepped forward and shot him in the stomach.

PRESBYTERIANS WILL BUILD FINE NEW CHURCH HERE

OTHER DENOMINATIONS EXPECT TO FOLLOW IN WORK

CITY OF CHURCHES WILL BE OUR TITLE AND THE CITY WILL BE REPRESENTED BY MANY

Sanford can well be designated as a "City of Churches" for when the Sabbath-day comes around the people of this city lay aside the thoughts of commerce and trade and go to their several churches to worship. These places of worship may not be of the finest but they were suitable for the age in which they were constructed and up to the present time, the congregations have been able to use them although greatly crowded at times.

DEATH OF CAPT. R. H. MARKS

VEGETABLES COST EXORBITANT RATE TO SHIP NORTH

Chicago, Jan. 30.—The rentals paid by the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad in the private car company today was made the subject of inquiry into the Interstate Commerce investigation into returns between railroads and private car lines. H. E. Morgan, general freight agent, testified that the road formerly had a contract with the Overland Refrigerating Company by which the railroad obtained 250 cars and paid salaries of the car line officials amounting to $1,000 for about $150 a month. He would not admit that the rate was unusually low. A new contract was entered into this month; he said, between the railroad and the Atlantic Seaboard Company, of which the roads furnish 200 cars a month at a flat rate of $15 each.

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD AT LARGE INTERESTING TO BUSY READERS

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Washington Inquiry has shown some of the roads not making much money but many of the subsidies are. It was suspected that returns might be found that were not profitable to the railroads but were highly profitable to the subsidiaries. Edward R. Davies, a Chicago lawyer, presented a table, showing a comparison of rates north and south. "A shipment of 100 hampers of lettuce," he said, "would cost $54.32 to send from Chicago to Jacksonville, Fla. It would cost $26 to send them from Jacksonville to Chicago. The same shipment from Chicago to New Orleans would cost $43. From New Orleans to Chicago, it would cost $139."
