

Declared Langley and Zihlman Took Bribes; Coolidge Stirs Capitol

Representatives, both Republicans, deny they ever misused official influence or received money for doing so and emphatically declare they can prove innocence of the charges.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Representatives Langley of Kentucky and Zihlman of Maryland, both Republicans, denied Friday they ever had improperly exercised their official influence and received money for doing so. The denials followed the publication of their names in connection with the recent charges of the Chicago grand jury that two members of congress had so misused their offices.

Both said they had heard rumors that they had been named and discussed the matter with the news paper men but declared they had received no official information that they were involved at all in the case.

Both congressmen were emphatic in asserting they could prove their innocence beyond a doubt if charges were preferred against them. Langley, chairman of the house public buildings committee and represents the Tenth Kentucky district. Zihlman is chairman of the labor committee and represents the Sixth Maryland district.

Langley on the floor of the house Friday demanded an investigation of the published charges he had received money for exercising official influence. In five minutes of speech he emphatically denied guilt of any wrongdoing. He was cheered by the house when he concluded an appeal for "a square deal."

A resolution directing the attorney general to transmit the names to the house was adopted unanimously after Representative Longworth, the Republican leader, had announced the accused men would have an opportunity to defend themselves on the floor.

Presented to the house by Mr. Longworth said he had been informed the evidence against the two house members had been presented to the Chicago grand jury by "crooks and criminals," and he came up incidentally during the investigation of alleged Veterans' Bureau frauds.

The Republican leader disclosed that he had discussed the situation with Acting Attorney General Seymour and John W. H. Cram, special government counsel in charge of the Chicago grand jury's inquiry, and that the impression was that no action could be expected by a grand jury with regard to the charges within a month.

Puts All Members Under Suspicion. Publication of the grand jury's report, referring to two house members without naming them in the opinion of Mr. Longworth put the entire membership of the house under suspicion and made prompt action to establish the identity of the accused imperative.

This view was shared by others, among them Representative Garrett, the Democratic leader, who initiated the movement to have the names disclosed. The resolution adopted Thursday was a modification of the Garrett proposal, referred Tuesday for an investigation to determine not only the identity of the house members involved but the basis of the charges against them.

Reported by the rules committee without dissenting vote, after two hour session the resolution was brought up within a half hour by Chairman Smead. After 40 minutes' discussion it was adopted after a phrase which called for transmission of the names "if not incompatible with public interest" had been eliminated at the suggestion of Representative Steagall, Alabama.

At the department of justice it was said later that no action probably would be taken in connection with the house resolution before the return to Washington Friday of Attorney General Daugherty.

SANFORD FACTS

WATER TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

Sanford holds the same relative position to Jacksonville as Albany, N. Y., does to New York City. Daily boat service connects this city with Jacksonville, where in turn connections may be made with boats for all ports on the eastern coast of the United States. This means that through freight service from New York and other points along the Atlantic Seaboard to Sanford is maintained. This gives Sanford advantage of cheap rates. A 12-foot channel on the St. Johns river has been dredged to a depth of approximately 200 miles.

Daugherty Makes No Statement in Washington Today

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—The oil committee was told Friday that Daugherty sent a reassuring message to McLean in Florida on the day the publisher was summoned here to testify in the inquiry. Ira E. Bennett, editorial writer on McLean at Washington Post, testified such a message was conveyed in the telegram sent to McLean after the conference with the attorney general. The message included such phrases as "all that is possible to be done will be done by us" and "you know what to expect."

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Attorney General Daugherty would make no statement upon his arrival here Friday from Florida. He went directly from the station to the cabinet meeting. He was met at the station by two secret agents of the department of justice who accompanied him to the White House where he arrived just in time for the meeting.

Upon leaving the meeting Daugherty said he could "hardly answer" a question as to whether the situation in Washington as respected him had changed since his departure from Florida.

Unless he can present new and overpowering arguments why his should remain in the cabinet, there is every expectation in administration circles that he will be asked without delay to retire to private life.

Thursday there was no explanation from any official source regarding the circumstances of the attorney general's unexpected return to Washington. Neither would the White House or the justice department make any predictions regarding his course after he arrives. But it was tacitly conceded that his first duty would be to report to the President, and probably learn without delay of a final decision regarding his retention in office.

Sifting Eligibles. The administration's sifting of eligibles to succeed to the post of attorney general, a process of which there was further confirmation today in administration quarters, progressed during the day to a point where a selection of a successor could be made quickly.

The attitude toward the appointment of the three jurists under consideration—former Senator Kenyon of Iowa, now a federal circuit judge; Chief Justice Wilbur of California, and Federal District Judge Dietrich of Idaho—is now known to President Coolidge.

Friends of Judge Kenyon have reported they believe he would accept, if chosen, despite the fact that acceptance would entail his relinquishment of a life position on the federal bench.

White House Statement First Says Telegram a Reply to McLean Congratulating the President on Lincoln Day Speech, but Later Says Commending Him for Not Asking Denby's Resignation.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Two telegrams from President Coolidge to Edward B. McLean, caught in the drag-net of the oil committee, stirred up another breath-taking commotion Thursday in official Washington.

Shortly after the first message had been read before the committee a statement was issued from the White House declaring it related to a local patronage question in the District of Columbia.

Presentation of the second telegram was followed by two White House statements. At first it was said the message was a response to a congratulatory telegram from McLean on the President's Lincoln Day speech, but a later statement explained that a mistake had been made and that in reality the President was replying to a McLean telegram commending him for not demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby.

Subjects of Hot Debate. Later in the day the telegraph exchange between the White House and the McLean cottage at Palm Beach became subject of a fiery debate in the senate with Republican Leader Lodge defending the President against a scorching attack from the Democratic side of the chamber.

The effect of the whole development was to completely throw into shadow a number of other important moves in the oil inquiry, including an announcement by government officials that civil action to annul the Sinclair and Doheny leases would begin next week and criminal proceedings would follow shortly.

Injunction suits to prevent further removal of oil from the Teapot Dome and Elk Hill reserves, the special counsel announced would be filed in the federal courts in Wyoming and California, and a hearing on the motion given by the Wyoming court at Cheyenne Mar. 13. Annulment of the leases will be asked for on ground of "fraud and illegality" and a special federal grand jury will be impaneled here about Apr. 1 to consider criminal features of the oil disclosures.

While action on the nomination of Samuel Knight to be special counsel in the recovery suit against the Standard Oil Company of California was being delayed in the senate, the White House made public correspondence showing that Mr. Knight had informed Washington before his selection that he

General Debate in Houses Closes On Ford's Shoal Offer

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Close of general debate in the house on Henry Ford's offer for Muskegon Shoals late Thursday, opened the way for a flood of amendments offered as consideration of the McKenzie bill, which would authorize its acceptance, was begun section by section.

Opponents of proposals to make drastic changes in the terms of the proposed contract were submitted, with representatives indicating that many more would be offered Friday when consideration of the measure would be resumed. None of the amendments offered Thursday was put to a vote.

If brief, those seeking to amend the Standard Oil bill would place the Detroit manufacturer under jurisdiction of the federal water power act and limit his lease to 50 instead of 100 years, and make the lease binding not only upon the corporation to be formed by Mr. Ford but also the manufacturer himself.

Opponents also would have specified in the measure that Mr. Ford be compelled to guarantee surplus power for sale and that the nitrate plants be leased instead of sold; and that more binding guarantees as to the manufacture of fertilizer be required.

Defense Witnesses are on Stand Candler Case

DECATUR, Ga., Mar. 7.—Witnesses in the defense of the character and reputation of Walter T. Candler were introduced today at the opening of the second day's trial of the $100,000 suit instituted by Mrs. Sarah G. Byfield against the millionaire sportsman as a result of an alleged attack while they were passengers on the Benzenaria en route to Europe in the summer of 1922. The plaintiff rested their case late Thursday and the defense began the presentation of evidence Friday.

Byfield Testifies Candler Gave Him $25,000 Check Ten Minutes After Charge of Attacking Mrs. Byfield

(By The Associated Press) DECATUR, Ga., Mar. 7.—Admission on the witness stand by Clyde K. Byfield that he had received a check for $25,000 signed by Walter T. Candler of Atlanta "about 10 minutes" after he had charged Candler with having attacked Mrs. Byfield was the outstanding development in the trial here Thursday of the $100,000 damage suit brought against Candler by Mrs. Byfield.

Byfield also admitted that he signed a paper exonerating Candler from all blame, but that his signature was secured because he was afraid that Candler's friends were about to attack him.

The trial started early Thursday and before an overnight recess had been taken the plaintiff's side had rested its case after Mr. and Mrs. Byfield had testified. Two medical experts were also used by the plaintiff to show that it would probably close its case late Friday.

The suit grew out of an alleged attack upon Mrs. Byfield, by Candler, who is the eldest son of Ava G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta soft drink king, in Mrs. Byfield's state room on board the steamship Benzenaria on July 17, 1922, resulting in the defendant giving Byfield a check for $25,000 to "hush his mouth for the time being."

Candler sued to recover Note. In Paris, France, Candler, after securing a signed statement from Byfield "exonerating" him, substituted the check held by Byfield for a cash payment of $2,000 on a note for $20,500, on which he ordered the payment stopped.

Candler on his return to America from France brought suit against Byfield for the recovery of the note and Mrs. Byfield followed with a suit against Candler charging the alleged physical attack.

Mrs. Byfield, judged recently as being the most beautiful woman in Atlanta, occupied the hand for more than three hours and the testimony of her husband and the defendant. She admitted she had separated from her husband last June.

REBELS CLAIM TOTAL DEFEAT ENEMY FORCES

(By The Associated Press) FRONTIER, Tabasco, Mar. 7.—(By Radio via the Dallas News.)—Complete defeat by federal forces on a 30 kilometer front between Carmen Station and Jalilpam, after conflicts that lasted from Feb. 27 to Mar. 2, is claimed by the headquarters here of Adolfo de la Huerta. Six thousand men were engaged on each side, the statement said. A wide strip of country along the Tehuantepec railroad is reported in rebel hands since the federal retreat, leaving 400 dead, many wounded and large quantities of arms and munitions.

As a result, the headquarters declare 60,000 rebels have been embraced in the area under control of the Huertistas, who are said to control all of the states of Campeche, Tabasco, Chiapas, Oaxaca and Guerrero, the territory of Quintana Roo and part of Morelos, Hidalgo, Michoacan, Jalisco, Colima, Chihuahua, Puebla, Aguascalientes, Nuevo Leon and Nayarit.

Twenty thousand armed men in the state of Tabasco are reported to have volunteered for rebel service.

The revolutionists holding the sections from which the federal units under Generals Izquierdo, Cordoba, Dorantes and Diaz have been displaced have repaired telegraphic and rail communications destroyed by the Obregonistas and have retaken the industrial area of Minatitlan which includes the refineries of the Aguila Company.

Forces of the rebel General Carranzas, have displaced federals at Celestino, Gacaca and Pachucan, according to reports.

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 7.—Obregon believes the republic will be completely pacified within 20 days according to the leaders of the National Pro-Peace committee who conferred with him. Pacifists sought Obregon's approval of plans to bring about the surrender of the rebel leaders but insisted that the president would not approve of any scheme giving Estrada Diezguiz and others an opportunity to leave the country on the promise not to resume revolutionary activities. He agreed that any rebels surrendering under a white flag would have guarantees that their lives be spared.

Chamber Commerce Condemns The Actions of Certain Boat Employees

At its meeting Friday noon at the Valdez Hotel the Sanford Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution condemning the action of certain Clyde Line employees on boats plying between Jacksonville and Sanford. The various committees who are to draw the estimates and plan the improvements, he called at once and have something definite to report soon.

He pointed out the need of additional good roads in Seminole county and stated that just because some opposition had been shown toward the measure was no reason that the plan should be tabled. Mr. Connelly informed Mr. Lake that the local committee in charge of the issue would meet next Monday night and discuss it in detail.

COOLIDGE GETS SEVERE ATTACK SENATE FORUM

Impelled by Disclosure of Telegrams Sent to McLean During Height of Oil Probe, Certain Democrats Bombard Him in Debate While Lodge Defends with Equal Fervor Oil Scandal Stand.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—The senate chamber over which Calvin Coolidge so recently presided Thursday became the forum of debate on his official acts and political fortunes, remarking alike for its solemnity and for its bitterness.

Impelled by the disclosure that he had sent two telegrams to Edward B. McLean while the oil inquiry was at its height, a half dozen Democratic senators turned upon the President the same implements of attack they have employed so often recently against members of his cabinet.

He was defended with an equal fervor by Henry Cabot Lodge, the venerable Republican senator leader from his own state, who not only praised the President's attitude toward the oil scandal, but deplored the tendency toward disparagement of public men which he said had dragged senate tradition to an unbecoming level.

Lodge Attacked. In turn Senator Lodge was himself attacked by Democratic senators as one of those who helped to lead the assault on President Wilson which Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, declared had won the war president to an untimely grave.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, brought Mr. Coolidge's name to the debate with a demand that he personally explain to the country his communications with McLean and not leave that explanation to White House statements issued by his secretary, C. Bascom Slemph.

The speech went unanswered for more than two hours and then Senator Lodge, after communicating with the White House, arose to explain why the President had communicated with McLean and to assure the senate that "whatever record leaps to life, he never will be ashamed."

The pronouncement of the Republican leader was followed by a disclaimer by Senator Harrison that he had attacked Mr. Coolidge in the past because of statements from his secretary could not be acceptable.

Declaring that if the situation were reversed, Senator Lodge would be among the first to lead the fight against a Democratic administration, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, not only assailed President Coolidge, but also charged that Secretary Slemph had not told the whole truth to the oil committee about his trip to Florida.

Senators Caraway, McKellar of Tennessee, and Dial of South Carolina, vigorously assailed Mr. Lodge in connection with the attack on President Wilson, and Senator Caraway charged that the then Secretary of the Senate

Work On Driving Pilings Will Begin Within Two Weeks

That the work on Sanford's $67,000 yacht basin is progressing as much as could be expected under the circumstances is the assurance of those in charge of the work. Over 300 concrete pilings have been made and many others are being constructed daily according to Superintendent Alvarez.

Dredging of the channel preparatory to the placing of the concrete piers, will probably begin next week and within two weeks the pile driver, will arrive to begin the work of placing the huge piers. Slightly handicapped by bad weather together with a shortage of material, has caused some delay and hindered the progress of activities somewhat, but indications are now that the construction will go forward without further delay.

Once the work on putting down the piling commences there will be evidence of the work, says Mr. Alvarez. At present it appears that the construction has been going on too slowly, where it really has been progressing well considering the handicaps under which the men were working.

More men will be put to work shortly and construction activities will be rushed, it is said. Mr. Alvarez stated that the basin is expected to be complete soon and that it declares will be one of the finest yacht basins in the state.

J. R. Lyles Announces for Representative

J. R. Lyle announces his candidacy for member of the house of representatives from Seminole county in this issue of The Herald. Mr. Lyles has been a resident of Sanford for many years, coming here from South Carolina where he served for four years in the legislature. He has been a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for more than 20 years. If elected he promises to work for the abolishment of the fee system.

Burton Refuses To Accept Denby's Job

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Representative Burton of Ohio, who has been mentioned as a possible successor to Edwin Denby, as secretary of the navy, informed the administration officials today that he prefers to continue as a member of the house rather than accept a cabinet position.

SENATE TO RUSH INCOME TAX CUT BEFORE MARCH 15

Machinery Set in Motion to Cut from Revenue Bill Provision for 25 per cent Reduction Payable This Year.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Opposition to the bill in both house and senate Friday to proposals for immediate action to reduce by 25 per cent all personal income taxes payable this year.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—Machinery was set in motion in congress Thursday to reduce from the revenue bill the provision for a 25 per cent reduction on personal income taxes payable this year incorporate it in a joint resolution which could be adopted before Mar. 15, when first instalments are due.

Acting on a request from the treasury department, the senate finance committee unanimously indicated its desire to agree to such a procedure, and Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee announced he would place the proposal before that committee Friday. If adopted, Mr. Green said, he would call for a special rule which would permit the house to take the resolution up immediately.

Flareback. A flareback, which leaders into Thursday admitted was growing to considerable proportions, developed, however, and fear was expressed by some members of both parties that removal of the proposal from the revenue bill might leave that measure open to delay in enactment.

In this connection some members also recalled the recent statement of Representative Tilton of Connecticut, Republican member of the finance committee, and a staunch advocate of the Mellon rates which were eliminated from the bill, suggesting such action by joint resolution with the hint of a presidential veto of the measure itself.

After talking the proposition over with some leaders in the senate, Senator Harrison, Mississippi, a member of the finance committee, said it was the opinion of the senate that the reduction should be allowed, perhaps as soon as possible, but that it was probable they would contend for a reduction on the basis of the Democratic income tax rates rather than on a flat 25 per cent reduction on taxes under the present law.

Predict Hot Contest

Should senate Democrats carry out this plan the entire income tax fight would be brought to a head, and leaders predicted such a contest would prevent action before Mar. 15.

The 25 per cent reduction proposal was among the first propositions taken up by the senate finance committee Thursday in starting work on the revenue bill.

Joseph McCoy, government actuary, later presented estimates of the effect of the measure passed by the house on government revenue, showing the bill would result in a loss of $446,270,000 in revenue in the calendar year 1925, compared with the amount which would be collected under the present law. Chairman Smoot has estimated this would fall by $100,000,000 of raising sufficient revenue to operate the government regardless of a bonus measure or other specific appropriation bills.

It is expected that other Arab Moslem countries will follow lead in selecting Hussein as head of the Islamic world.

MADDOO LABORS CHOICE MAIER SAYS IN SPEECH

Labor Leader in Address Before Friday Night Declares the Former Treasury Department Head in Choice of Organized Labor and Edwin M. Hoover as His Running Mate.

Declaring that William Glenn McAdoo for president and Samuel H. Maier for vice-president was the best educated laborer, asserting that the present administration at Washington has been the most unfriendly toward his organization and other labor orders for a great many years, Charles W. Maier, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, spoke earnestly for an hour and a half before a small but attentive audience Thursday night at the court house.

In sponsoring the candidacy of the former Treasury Department head, Mr. Maier refuted the attacks against McAdoo by saying that they were merely made by disgruntled Republicans who realized that he was the one man who could best their nominee in the coming election.

In further support of Mr. McAdoo's activities with the operations of Mr. Doheny in the oil leases in Mexico, Mr. Maier read what Arthur Brisbane had to say in a recent editorial when the latter declared that McAdoo not only had received a legitimate fee for his services but had actually been underpaid.

"The Republican party will never find anything against W. G. McAdoo's record but they are attacking him as a final resort to defeat the Democratic party for the presidency," said Mr. Maier. "Edwin Maier my guest, McAdoo will certainly be the nominee for president and I hope that Ralston will be his running mate, Mr. Maier continued.

The speaker aroused continued applause by his bitter attacks upon the present administration and declared that it had accomplished not one single thing since its inception. Instead, he pointed out, there has been nothing but a continuous revelation of dirty activities by all of the party leaders.

While lauding the efforts of Mr. McAdoo in behalf of labor, Mr. Maier stopped to pay tribute to the memory of the late Woodrow Wilson by his great executive ability and by means of the power which he held, had secured the passage of the eight-hour law, which was one of the greatest victories ever attained by his and other railway employees' organization.

Mr. Maier introduced by Mayor Forrest Lake and in his opening words declared that this was his first visit to Sanford since 1897. He stated that he noted with pleasure the splendid growth of Sanford and predicted that it would one day be one of the foremost cities in the state.

He then made his remarks with a short resume of the activities of his organization since its formation over 40 years ago. He told his hearers that he had been in his present work for 48 years and that his experiences had given him a keen insight into political affairs of the entire nation during that period.

He scolded the attitude of some organizations to strike every time they had a grievance against employers. He declared that the only way to attain a better understanding between capital and labor is to thresh out their differences in conference. Nothing is ever accomplished by strike just the same as nothing is actually accomplished warfare, he further asserted.

He reviewed how the railroad organizations together with various farmers' orders, had defeated prominent politicians in the west. He stated that their unfriendly attitude toward labor, in nearly every case where his organization had defeated prominent Republican leaders, Mr. Maier showed where Washington provided other jobs for them. He mentioned among others Postmaster-General Harry S. New, Frank Kellough, now ambassador to England, and Miles Poindexter, now minister to Paris.

Mr. Maier referred to President Coolidge as "Cautious Cat" and declared that he was the best "stand-patter" that the party had and so of course would be the nominee of the Republicans for the presidency. And of course, if he is nominated and McAdoo is selected by the Democrats, then we will win and don't you forget, he asserted vigorously.

Mr. Maier left Sanford Friday morning accompanied by R. L. Glenn of this city, for Lakeland, where he will make an address there tonight. Later he will go to Waycross and other points in Georgia.

MAJOR LEAGUE TEAMS PLANNING TO STOP NEW YORK NINES THIS YEAR

Disciplined To Stop The Flow Of Pennants Toward Gotham And Are Planning For Big Struggle.

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—In a determined effort to stop the flow of baseball championships toward New York, which has had a monopoly of National and American League pennants for the last three years, major league managers have begun preparing their teams for the 1934 campaign. Fourteen of the 16 teams in the two major leagues have again selected southern training camps at which to hold out the excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and to stage their annual battles between the rookies and regulars. The Pittsburgh Pirates are doing their preliminary work in California and the Chicago Cubs are back again at Catalina Island, off the California coast.

The training season will be of unusual interest to the fans because of the determination of John McGraw and Miller Huggins to get their machines in order to set records of four consecutive championships in their respective leagues and an equal determination on the part of their opponents to break the string of New York championships.

Manager McGraw has taken his charges to Sarasota, Fla., a new training camp, where his principal task will be to reconstruct his scattered pitching staff. The National League champions expect the stiffest opposition from Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, while possible trouble from the St. Louis Cardinals. Pat Moran, manager of the Reds, has the advantage of starting the training season with what is generally regarded as the best pitching staff in the National League. He hopes to strengthen the weak spots of his outfit and with this accomplished the Reds would appear to have the best chance to succeed the Giants. The Pirates, however, must be figured at all times as dangerous contenders.

The New York Yankees start their training season with the championship lineup of 1923 intact. In addition to bolting away the excess poundage of his players, Manager Huggins will endeavor to rid them of excess confidence gained by reason of their victory series in an early survey of the American League teams. Tris Speaker's Indians and Ty Cobb's Tigers appear as the most formidable rivals of the Yankees.

There is much speculation as to what the Athletics will do in the coming campaign. They set a speedy pace for a time last season, but cracked under the strain of the vigorous campaign, injuries and unlucky breaks. Connie Mack has opened up his purse this winter and has obtained several players which will make his team one that will be worth watching. The Philadelphia Nationals appear doomed for second division depths again.

Both Chicago teams have been strengthened for the 1934 race, and while several changes have been made on the two Boston clubs they remain as unknown quantities. Washington will enter the race under a new manager, Stanley Harris, the brilliant, young second baseman, having been named to lead the team. Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, expects to work a big improvement in his team.

Florida is the most popular training state with nine camps. Alabama and California each have two, while Georgia, Texas and Louisiana each have one.

The 1934 training camps are located as follows:

American League	New Orleans, La.
Cleveland	Lakeland, Fla.
Chicago	Winter Haven, Fla.
Detroit	Augusta, Ga.
St. Louis	Mobile, Ala.
Philadelphia	Montgomery, Ala.
Washington	Tampa, Fla.
Boston	San Antonio, Texas

New York	Sarasota, Fla.
Cincinnati	Orlando, Fla.
Pittsburgh	Paso Robles, Cal.
Chicago	Catalina Island, Cal.
St. Louis	Bradentown, Fla.
Brooklyn	Clearwater, Fla.
Philadelphia	Leesburg, Fla.
Boston	St. Petersburg, Fla.

BERLENBACH IS CAUSING QUITE A SENSATION NOW

Meteoric Rise of New York Boxer Causes Boxing Critics To Sit Up and Take Notice.

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Paul Berlenbach, New York's middleweight knockout king and reigning sensation of the indoor fist season, has had one of the most remarkable careers on record. Thrust into the limelight with a record of 23 consecutive knockouts in amateur and professional ranks, critics predict that he is only on the threshold of a great ring career and hail him as a second Stanley Ketchell, a terror in middleweight ranks 15 years and more ago.

Berlenbach was born a deaf mute and an amazing story is told of how, at the age of 18, he suddenly acquired hearing and speech. Five years ago, while serving as an instructor in a Westchester county institution for deaf mutes, Berlenbach one day went to the aid of a youth whose kite became entangled in an electric wire 12 feet from the ground. Climbing a pole, Berlenbach released the kite but in doing so came in contact with the heavily charged wire. He fell to the ground unconscious and those who came to his aid believed him dead.

Also Able To Speak.

First aid, however, revived him and to his astonishment, he found his sense of hearing normal. Medical interest was attracted and subsequent treatment also developed his speech.

Berlenbach's rise to pugilistic fame within less than a year has been spectacular and all the more remarkable because he is one of the few former wrestlers to acquire fist prowess. He won the Olympic middleweight wrestling championship at Antwerp in 1920.

Berlenbach has added 10 straight knockouts to his string as a professional, his latest occurring last night when he flattened Jimmy Darcy, of Portland, Oregon.

Berlenbach originally was a southpaw but his veteran manager and ring mentor, Dan Hickey, has developed a knockout punch in his right as well as his left hand.

BOXING BOUTS TO BE OFFERED BY GUARDSMEN

First of Series of Boxing Exhibitions Will Be Staged Here At Armory On Next Friday Night.

Of interest to local sporting circles in the announcement made Thursday of the first boxing exhibition to be given by the Florida National Guard companies located in this city. On Friday night, Mar. 14 five fast bouts will be offered to fans of Sanford. The bouts will be held at the armory in the Kent Building.

In speaking of the exhibition Thursday Col. George W. Knight, head of the local companies, stated that the matches will be put on from time to time and that they will be staged not as boxing contests to make money but for the promotion of clean, wholesome physical training among national guardsmen as sponsored by the war department.

High army officials, Col. Knight said, have asked that more attention be directed toward athletics of every branch and stress was laid upon the holding of boxing and wrestling matches. In securing two matches in which fast-semi-pro boxers of note will meet, Col. Knight and his assistants in the matter, have gone to considerable trouble and expense. Along with these two matches on Friday night there will be two preliminary bouts with local boys as the headliners and also a battle royal will be participated in by five negroes.

The card as arranged calls for a 10-round bout between Otis Hurst of St. Petersburg and Young Ketchell of Philadelphia. They are lightweights. This bout will be the feature of the card and will be preceded by an eight round match between Joe Mate of Brooklyn and Irish Hickey of Los Angeles.

Just who will mix in the preliminaries, has not been announced as yet but will be given out at a later date.

The Treasury department estimates total amount of tax-exempt securities in United States at $14,670,000,000.

Dickson-Ives Firm Of Orlando Staging Unique Exhibition

Dickson-Ives Company of Orlando is staging a unique presentation of fast color and fast fabrics this spring at its large department store located on Orange Avenue, according to word received here from the management.

Throughout the week, Manager Marion Ives declared, this exhibition of Everfast and Kant-Fade materials will continue and 1933 of striking nature will be made to show the quality of the goods which are used in these fabrics. Numerous flags placed on the awnings have been subjected to a heavy rain and sun has been on them a great deal and still they remain unfaded.

Another test made is a boiling of five to six hours duration on various samples of different materials and in every case the result is always the same—the goods hold their original color without the slightest discoloration or alteration.

In the windows, which were tastefully decorated by C. Walter Johnson, are shown bathing gowns and washing machines, portraying graphically the color-fastness of Kant-Fade and Everfast.

"The colors in Kant-Fade and Everfast are double guaranteed by the manufacturer and by us," said Mr. Ives, "and this week, we are showing the people that there's really nothing that'll spoil them. These exhibitions talks will be made by Mrs. Sidney Ives II, who will also conduct a sewing class on the fourth floor, where practical sewing will be taught.

The management announces that next week will be silk week; Mar. 10-15, drapery week; Mar. 21-25, home serving week. During these exhibitions talks will be made by Mrs. Sidney Ives II, who will also conduct a sewing class on the fourth floor, where practical sewing will be taught.

TEA POT DOME

Something like 300 telegrams received and sent to McLean and others at Palm Beach were examined at the two hours' executive session of the oil committee and more than half a hundred were more than 50 were selected for reading into the public record, probably Thursday, as being relevant to the inquiry.

Walsh Opposed to Knight
After the committee had adjourned until Thursday, Senator Walsh of Montana, chief prosecutor in the inquiry, made a formal statement indicating opposition to the confirmation of Samuel Knight of San Francisco, to be special government counsel in the court action for the recovery of California oil lands operated by the Standard Oil Company of California and others.

Walsh said he had been "gladly informed" that Mr. Knight was attorney in California for the Equitable Trust Company of New York, "a Rockefeller bank," and that should this prove to be the case this would be basis for a fight against senate approval of the President's appointee.

Special government counsel in the oil lease annulment suits were unable to complete the necessary papers Wednesday for institution of initial civil litigation in those cases, but it was indicated action would not be long delayed.

Means Subpoenaed
During the day a move was made in the oil committee to endeavor to get at the facts as to reports that Gaston B. Means as a secret agent opening of income tax returns to certain congressional committees.

On the other hand some Democrats have indicated they will not only seek to retain these amendments, but will attempt to broaden the scope of income tax return inspection to make the returns virtually public record.

Although the attitude of Republican insurgents, led by Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, has not been definitely indicated, the insurgent group in the house voted with the Democrats on their income tax schedule until Republicans raised the surtax limit to 37 1/2 per cent and reduced the normal tax rates. A statement issued during the tax fight in the house, by Representatives Nelson and Frear, Wisconsin, leaders of the insurgent group there, declared the "work of tax reform will be further carried out by progressives in the senate."

PILE SUFFERERS! THIS NEW DISCOVERY WILL RID YOU OF PILES (HEMORRHOIDS) FOREVER

Has Completely Cured Cases of Several Years' Standing in from Three to Eight Days. Guaranteed by all Good Druggists.

Perhaps the most amazing discovery of recent years in the field of medicine is the discovery that Piles can now be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful substance called MOAVA. This substance in the form of a suppository is inserted into the rectum where by its soothing, healing action all pain and soreness is allayed and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles causes them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's positively marvelous how speedily it acts. Blessed relief often comes after the use of the first suppository even in cases with profuse bleeding that have resisted all known treatments; often after operation, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

The discoverer of this truly wonderful substance has instructed druggists all over the country to guarantee MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in every case of blind, bleeding or protruding piles, in fact goes so far as to say that he doesn't want a cent of any sufferer's money, even in the worst cases, unless it absolutely does what is claimed for it.

At all druggists.

GRAND JURY

Seymour and to President Coolidge.

Mr. Crim has taken the position that to lay the evidence before a committee of congress might embarrass its presentation to the grand jury, which probably will begin early next week. In this view congressional leaders generally have agreed.

Garrett Resolution.
Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, however, said Wednesday night that in his opinion the resolution he introduced Tuesday for an inquiry by a special committee should be given quick consideration.

"In these hectic times," said Mr. Garrett, "when public suspicion is running so strongly against the different branches of the federal government, it seems to me highly important that the house of representatives should take every necessary step promptly either to vindicate or condemn any of its members charged with wrongdoing."

The Garrett resolution is in the hands of the rules committee, whose chairman, Representative Snell of New York, has conferred with Mr. Crim and has agreed that for the present the question should be left to the prosecuting officer of the government.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY The Third Commandment: Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain...

LOVE Asks nought his brother cannot give; Asks nothing, but does all receive. Love calls not to his aid events; He to his wants can well suffice.

Celery prices continue to climb.

Good prices for celery indicate prosperity in Sanford just as a flood of tourists do in other Florida cities.

Coolidge was very quick to explain that the messages he sent to McLean had nothing to do with the oil case.

The senate rather seems to have gone in for poetry. Some of the senators apparently missed their calling when they entered politics.

Contract has been awarded for the construction of a new library at the state university in Gainesville. This will prove a valuable addition to the facilities there.

Daytona is preparing for a big baseball season. Ten thousand dollars having been subscribed for a baseball team. This will make the summer months attractive for Daytona.

The Times-Union Philosopher says he is for the new bathing suits, because they are all wool and a yard wide. We wonder what kind of girls he means with that a yard wide.

Haines City is progressive enough to see the possibilities of a "Bryan for President Club." There will doubtless be many other Florida cities following the lead of Haines City.

Chairman Snoot says it will take a hundred million more to run the government during 1925, whether the bonus bill is passed or not. Then try to figure out any tax reduction.

There was a gain of twenty-five per cent in the receipts of the local postoffice for the month of February over the same month one year ago. Everything points to Sanford's progress and development.

An impounding officer in Tampa was out killing dogs the other day when he accidentally shot a little girl. The mere shooting of dogs is in itself despicable enough, without endangering the lives of unfortunate by-standers.

If any congressman have accepted bribes, a grand jury investigation will make it hot for them. President Coolidge evidently believes that some members of congress need "investigating."

McLean, although he is but a newspaper publisher, seems to have been a most important figure in the present administration. It is possible that he could give some very interesting testimony if he wanted to.

A meeting of citrus growers will be held at Bartow March 12 and 13 to devise ways and means of overcoming the present unsatisfactory market conditions. There should be a good attendance of representative growers from every section of the state.

The east coast is shipping hundreds of cars of vegetables each week and prices are holding up well which means another good season. Farmers of this section are elated over rising celery prices and after all this season bids fair to be a good one.

Samuel Untermyer, foremost New York attorney, declares that it seems "unthinkable that the Democratic party of Florida could be so dominated by corporations, ridden by railroads and their newspapers, as to lose the opportunity to be represented by so outstanding a national figure, whose presence as a delegate would add so greatly to the prestige of the state in the convention."

No Citrus Over-Supply.

Citrus growers will be interested in the statement made this week by Roger W. Babson, noted statistician, who declares that there is little danger for some time of an over-production of citrus fruits.

This will be encouraging news to those who have planted thousands of acres in citrus trees during the past few years. A trip through the citrus belt will reveal the fact that thousands and thousands of acres are now being cleared up and planted in citrus trees.

In discussing the situation Mr. Babson says: "There is no danger at present of an over-production of good citrus fruit—in fact when a universal market is established for canned grape fruit—(which many believe is superior to the raw fruit) there may be a shortage of grape fruit.

"One of the best barometers of character is the ability of people to co-operate one with another. True co-operation—however, that parties to a controversy meet the other half way. Let the association and the independents form a partnership—neither attempting to swallow the other up.

It is hoped that citrus growers meeting in Bartow this week will be able to work out a plan of co-operation so as to improve present conditions and insure a better season next year.

A Moses Badly Needed.

Revelations that have been made and are now being made at Washington in the course of the Teapot Dome investigation have entirely changed the political outlook of the nation.

"Favorite Sons" have one by one been eliminated by "oil" or have eliminated themselves. Miss Democracy now finds herself almost on the eve of the convention to nominate our next president, without a leader.

Senator Walsh is wielding a great power in Washington today. Perhaps he would be the man to nominate. But Walsh has eliminated himself by his own announcement. The various sections of the country are booming candidates.

If President Coolidge does not get too deeply enmeshed in the oil probe, he will probably be the Republican nominee. But if our Republican friends are consistent even Coolidge will be eliminated by the same process by which they claim that McAdoo has been eliminated.

The great masses of the people are fast losing confidence in the present administration. The Democratic party is today presented with a better opportunity than it had in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson was elected. But the opportunity of 1912 came because the Republican party was badly split and because Democrats refused to listen to Wall Street and selected a man of the people for their standard bearer.

The Democratic party must find the right man today. The call is for more honesty in government. No patron of Wall Street or the special interests will do. No employee of the oil interests will satisfy. The man must first be a tried friend to the people. He must be a dry and a progressive. Even the solid South today would refuse to support a candidate just because he happened to be a Democrat.

Just when and how the Democratic party is to select such a standard bearer remains to be seen. It is doubtful that none of the present "prominently mentioned" candidates can stand the test.

AN APPRECIATION OF DUCK WORTH

ORLANDO SENTINEL

Eugene G. Duckworth, mayor of Orlando, resigned yesterday. After four years of service to the city he loved it is fitting that we give him an appreciation of his office. He had his critics and his enemies, he was abused and was admired. All men who have character come in for a certain amount of knocking and hammering no matter what they do.

In retiring from office Mr. Duckworth leaves a record that was honest and progressive. He gave unsparingly of his time, best opportunities to make money and expended a lot of labor because he loved his city. What we say today we said four years ago so it is nothing new or unusual.

Obregon, president of Mexico at this writing, has as fine a sense of humor as he has a keen edge on his courage. After the battle of Celaya, during the course of which he lost his right arm and won the battle against Pancho Villa, General Obregon was asked by an American newspaper correspondent if it was a fact that his military aide had saved his life by tying the sleeve of his shirt around the bleeding stump, thus preserving the future president from the weary feat of bleeding to death.

Two Little Earthquakes. The "Turk's Jolly Life" Ends. A Fussing Husband. Down Falls the Franc. Copyright, 1924

THERE WAS a small earthquake in Costa Rica Tuesday, destroying the United States Embassy. All the occupants escaped.

There was also a small earthquake in Congress. In the lower house. A grand jury has accused two congressmen of accepting bribes—$30,000 is the pitiful little amount mentioned. Where were these congressmen when the oil well spouted?

KEMAL PASHA, new boss of Turkey and the Mohammedan world, tries experiments almost as radical as our prohibition. He will end the Caliphate, doing away with the powers of the all-powerful religious head, supposed to represent Mohammed and insert his authority.

Even MORE serious to many Mohammedans is the forbidding of the pilgrimage to Mecca during this year. That means absolute despair to millions of Mohammedans, preparing for the trip, who believe the new rule will damage their chances of paradise.

What a trip to Mecca and the sacred stone from which Mohammed ascended into heaven means to Mohammedans is shown by the fact that Arabs have been known to look upon that sacred spot, then blind both their eyes that they might not thereafter behold anything less holy.

HOW ABOUT those many wives and eight hundred concubines dwelling in the Caliph's six huge palaces? They are all moving to Egypt. Read Montesquieu's "Persian Letters" to know how those ladies feel—also to learn just how they probably have fooled that poor Caliph from day to day and hour to hour.

A RICH New York man, suing his wife, issues about the fact that she was of illegitimate birth. She says he knew all about it. What differences does it make? Adam and Eve's children were illegitimate as far as marriage by a clergyman or an alderman is concerned. They were all dispossessed and put out of the garden. One boy killed the other, steadily improving, even with such a start.

IT DOESN'T make much difference HOW you are born. The question is "What do you do AFTER you are born?" William the Conqueror was an illegitimate, a great soldier and statesman. Leonardo de Vinci, greatest artist except one, was illegitimate and had to support his legitimate and respectable half-brothers and sisters. Blame the father, not the child.

THE FRENCH franc sold lower than ever Tuesday. Distressing news for those interested in the welfare of France. But the news may help to straighten out European conditions. France, after the exchange closed Tuesday, dropped to four cents each.

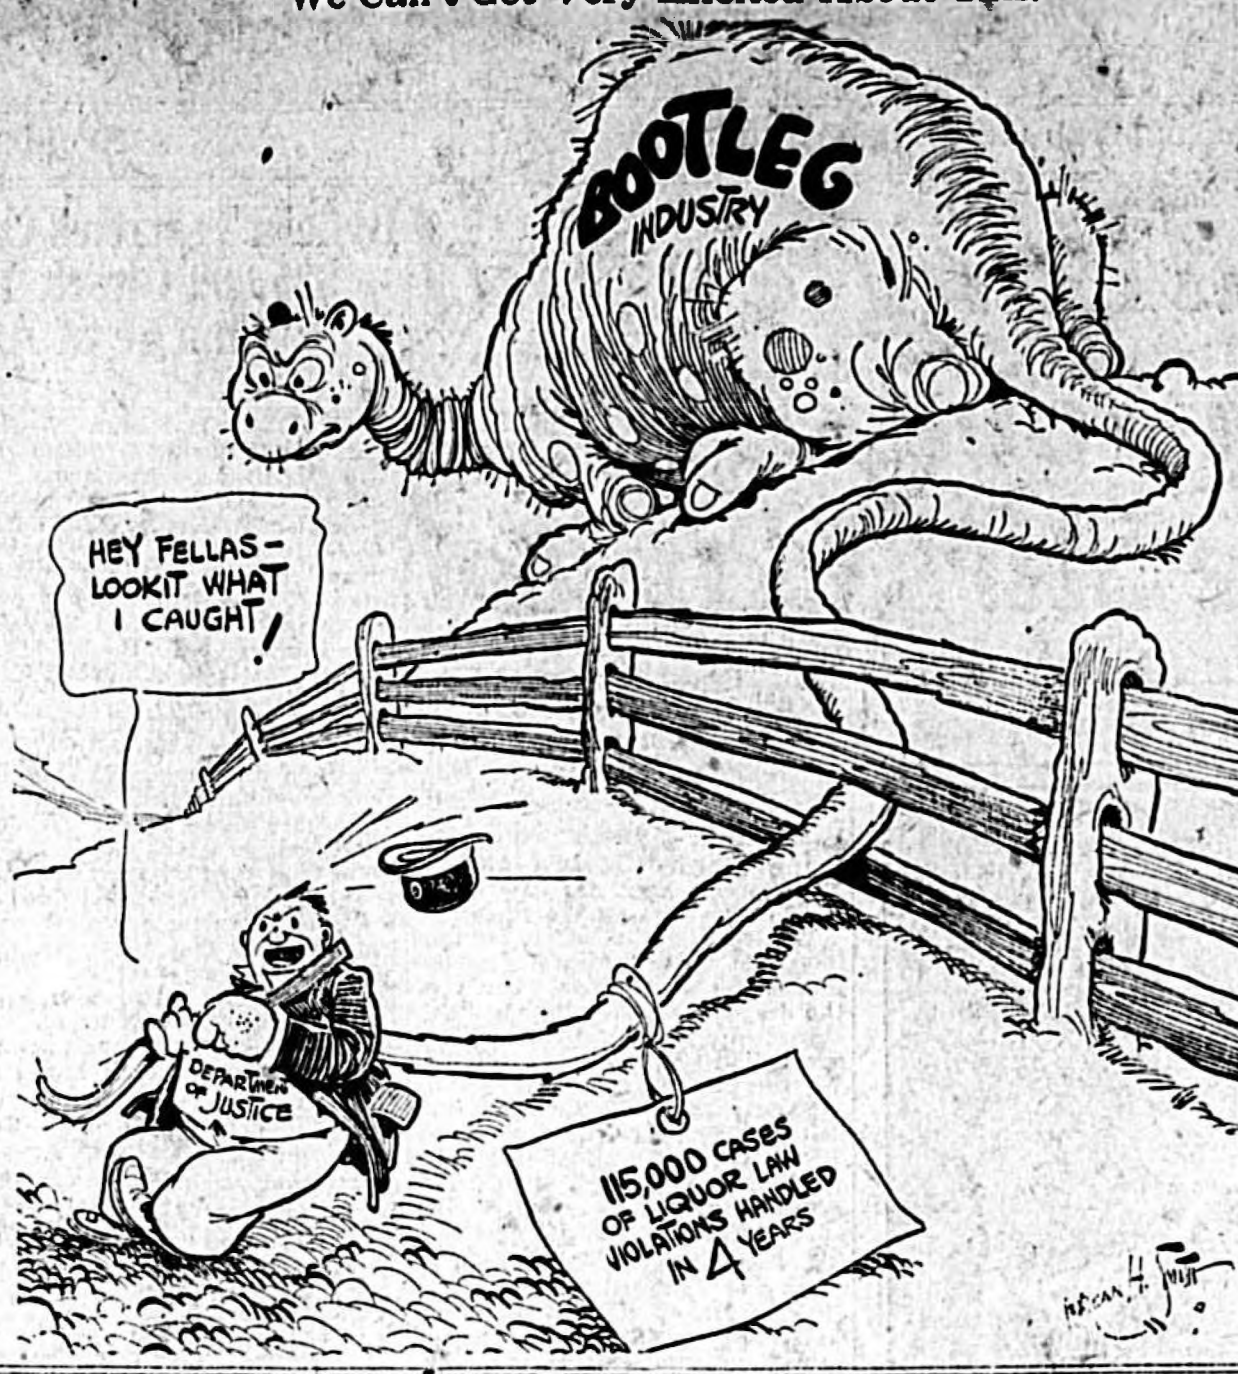

YOUNG GENTLEMEN of Columbia University, senior class vote 119 to 18 against the bonus. They were sleeping in their warm little beds while the soldiers were sleeping in trenches. That helps to explain the vote.

FOUR YOUNG men, Morris and Joseph Diamond, John Farina and Anthony Pantano, according to the keepers, slept soundly in the death house at Sing Sing prison Tuesday night. They all rise early and eat heartily. Lack of imagination is a blessing after you land in the death house. But the same lack of imagination often helps to get you there.

MADAME GRANDJEAN, only thirty-one, took snuff before she went to bed. Her husband rebuked her and she shot him dead. "He made me mad," she told the jury. She will probably go free, for the French are a gallant nation.

How completely snuff taking has disappeared from civilized life! Once it was the badge of refinement. When this writer went to school in France—all but the youngest teachers were snuff takers. The venerable Pere Moyer declared that snuff aided thought and prevented clouds. It didn't hurt him, he said, and was his

TURKEY CUTS OUT THE CALIPH

NEW YORK TRIBUNE

When Ismet Pasha told the Lausanne conference that what Turkey most wanted to get out of a peace treaty was the chance to Westernize herself, the old-time diplomats did not believe him.

Events have shown that he meant what he said. Mustafa Kemal, one of the original Young Turks, has been given rein and more to his modernist and radical views. He destroyed the Sultanate and banished the Sultan. At first he retained the Caliphate, trusting it to the Sultan's heir apparent and shearing him of all political power.

It was not expected that A. Hardee to appoint any one on the Railroad Commission who was not a recognized friend of the railroads. The special interests never had a better servant than the present governor of Florida.—Tampa Observer.

When the Republican administration comes to a close one year hence the Democrats should be in a condition to demonstrate the way a government should be run for the benefit of the people instead of for the oil and other interests.—Clearwater Evening Sun.

A Million Dollars for New Telephone Plant in 1924

More than $1,121,500 will be expended for the construction of new plant and for additions and extensions to the Bell Telephone System in Florida during 1924.

This is a continuation of our active construction program and practically the entire sum is new money we have been able to secure for investment in the telephone business in Florida.

The growing needs of Florida will require an estimated addition of 4,500 new telephones. To accomplish this the telephone workers must handle 18,500 telephone stations during the year—an average of more than 1,500 per month.

More than $325,000 will be expended at the local telephone exchanges throughout the State, and the balance will be required to add 1,196 miles of physical circuits and 282 miles of phantom circuits to the Long Distance System.

The telephone workers of Florida approach this enormous task cheerfully, feeling confident of your continued friendly interest.

HOMESICK
I dream of a smile—and the smile is yours!
I turn the key in my dear dream's door.
To hold you there, yet you slip away,
And darkness visits my dream-born day.

I dream of lips—and the lips are yours!
I press those lips while my spirit soars
To the back of the planets, I wake, and lo!
You've gone to the place where lost dreams go.

I dream of a soul—and the soul is you!
The miles that part us you've traveled through
At the call of my own soul, starved and wan,
I wake, and the soul that is you is gone!

Some time you'll come, as I dream each night
You have come to me; and my spirit light
Will lift its songs to the star-decked dome.
Your smile, your lips and your soul make Home!

Opera Star To Sing March 19 Daytona Beach

Galli-Curci, famous opera singer, will appear at the Daytona Beach Auditorium on Mar. 19, according to a statement received from the management here Friday. Galli-Curci has for the past few years been one of the favorites of opera lovers and her rendition of some of the difficult parts in the leading operas, has brought to her fame throughout the entire world.

Since that afternoon of November, seven years ago, when she made her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto" with the Chicago Opera Company, the world has been marveling at Galli-Curci as some creature of magic—a being set loose in the world by forces not of her own control—the mysterious forces of nature which every once in a while combine to produce a genius.

The embodiment of all that is perfect in the art of song, this eminent artist today occupies in the world of music, the place apart and above. She is a symbol—a justification of the belief that dreams come true, for as expressed by the Philadelphian inquirer, "She has undoubtedly the most beautiful voice of any living vocalist," and the Cleveland News states, "We know Amelia Taliaferro-Curci. We know there is none like her on earth in the present generation."

The very sound of the name, Galli-Curci, recalls to the minds of thousands upon thousands of people, who know nothing of musical technique but love music for the joy and message it brings, the happiest experiences of their lives. With the exquisite beauty of her voice and charming personality, she has touched the heart of the American public as few individuals of a generation are able to do. She brings to all, not only the greatest art of our time, but the simple heart, appeals to which we all respond.

One of the most singular things about Galli-Curci is her apparent spontaneity. Her singing is like that of a bird, there seems to be no premeditation—just a gush of ethereal sweetness. This ability comes most naturally for in her girlhood days it was her delight to visit the haunts of the birds and listen to and study their singing, so there is little wonder that "she sings with the sweetness of the nightingale and thrills with the limpidity of the lark."

In favor of quick action on the resolution Mr. Longworth said Speaker Gillett and Mr. Garrett had participated in the conference which he had had Thursday morning with Mr. Seymour and Mr. Crim and that the meeting was held at the request of the two department of justice officials.

"They explained the situation to us," said Mr. Longworth, "and Mr. Crim stated that a large part of the evidence used in the presentation of the Veterans' Bureau case before the Chicago grand jury came from crooks and convicted criminals, who went far afield in some of their answers, and that he felt obliged to pursue the leads given him."

Snell Says Grave Reflection
In presenting the resolution for house action Mr. Snell declared rumors in circulation seriously deflected on the integrity and honor of the house, which could not afford to "sit idly by" in the face of the situation.

never had been employed by any oil company. His confirmation will be opposed on the ground of oil connections.

President Coolidge also informed the senate he could not under the law grant its request that the income tax returns of principals in the oil scandal be turned over to the oil committee but said he would be glad to comply if legal technicalities were removed. The senate promptly passed an enabling resolution and sent it to the White House.

Among the other telegrams laid before the committee at its public session was one from Chairman Lenroot to Albert B. Fall at Palm Beach, telling him in response to an inquiry that there had been no intention to empower Senator Walsh, the chief prosecutor for the committee to question Fall at the time he went to Florida to examine McLean. In a previous official telegram to McLean, the chairman had said that Walsh had authority to summon such witnesses as he desired.

Another telegram was signed by Chief Doorkeeper McKenna at the White House and informed McLean on Dec. 22 that Secretary Slomp was leaving that night for the South.

Mysterious "Senator Jim"

There was also an exchange showing that McLean had sought to get into touch with Bernard M. Baruch of New York, while still another telegram exchange by two McLean employees made a mysterious reference to a "Senator Jim."

Senator James E. Watson of Indiana issued a statement saying it could not have referred to him.

Several more of those employed by McLean, including W. O. Duckstein, referred to as "the Duck" in some of the messages, were placed on the stand during the session. Duckstein told of the "Mary" messages received by him and turned over to McLean in Florida, and testified that W. J. Burns, chief of the justice department's bureau of investigation, had permitted him to use a department code book in connection with these telegrams.

ator Fall of New Mexico, had been sent to the White House by the senate to "turn back the covers" on President Wilson's bed to determine what his real condition was.

Senator Walsh of Montana, prosecutor in the oil inquiry, declared as the debate was drawing to a close that Senator Lodge was undertaking to use the prestige of the presidency to minimize the oil disclosures.

Harrison Opens Discussions

Senate discussion of the President's telegrams was opened by Senator Harrison with the declaration that when the American people found out that messages signed by the President of the United States had been sent to McLean "it would cause them further to shudder, to tremble, and lost confidence in my God—in this government of ours."

"It is bad enough," he said, "when men employed at the White

House send messages to Ned McLean

when he admits openly, by his confession, that he has deceived the American people, misrepresented facts, aye, even that he has lied about a matter. It is bad enough when messages go to McLean from employees at the White House when all this is breaking upon the 'teapot' boiling over.

It is bad, too, when secret service codes, known only to the officials of the department of justice, are employed by Ned McLean, and the employees of the department of justice in communicating with each other. But when he faces are revealed that Ned McLean, while all this guilt is being heaped upon him, seeks the President of the United States for information and for consultation.

Charles McLean With Untruth

"Mind you, it was Jan. 11, one day before this message was transmitted, that Ned McLean confessed he told a falsehood when he said he loaned to Fall the $100,000. The papers were full of it. He was a self-confessed liar. Yet the very next day, over the private wires that led from the White House, in which the American people place all their confidence, a message goes to McLean from Palm Beach. This is the message: "Washington, D. C., Jan. 12, 1924. 9 p. m.

"Edward B. McLean, Palm Beach, Fla.—Prescott is away. Advise Slomp, with whom I shall confer. Acknowledge."

WINTER SALADS

There is no more important part in a well-designed meal than the salad, for it furnishes the elements in which our diet is most likely to be deficient. The minerals which are so necessary to the tone of the system, the "roughage" which aids the peristaltic action of the bowels, and the vitamins that are essential to health are all found in uncooked fruits, vegetables and nuts, and are lacking in many of the highly refined foods that we eat. The housewife who serves a large variety of tempting salads at all times of the year is doing much to insure the health of her family.

This is comparatively easy to do in the summer and fall, when fresh fruits and vegetables are cheap and abundant, but it is often difficult in winter, when good salads are especially necessary to good health. In connection with this problem, the housewife should not overlook the dried fruits which are available at reasonable prices all winter and contain many of the elements essential to a good salad.

Dates are especially valuable for this purpose. They are inexpensive and highly nutritious. They contain the "invert" sugar, which is as-

LUNCHEON SUGGESTIONS

BY HELEN HARRINGTON DOWNING

Director Home Economics, Calumet Baking Powder Co., Chicago, Ill.

The planning of luncheon is possibly the most difficult task for the busy housekeeper who has children coming home to lunch, unexpected guests or when a seamstress or other outsider is in the house. In the menus suggested for luncheon, provision is made for utilizing left-overs from the day before, whenever possible, and at the same time selecting dainty and wholesome dishes. The quick breads, hot biscuits and muffins, are exceedingly popular for the mid-day meal. They are easily prepared and nutritious. Copy of "Monograph on Muffins" will be mailed to readers writing to the Home Economics Department, Calumet Baking Powder Company, Chicago, Ill. This monograph contains a number of exceptionally good muffin recipes.

Federal Report On Local Celery

By F. H. SCRUGGS

Preliminary estimates by Federal reporters place the commercial celery acreage in Florida at 3,620 acres. Comparative figures for 1922 and 1923 were 2,920 and 3,200 acres respectively. Last year the Sanford Section comprising the Manatee-Bradenton county shipped 4,433 cars of celery while the Manatee-Bradenton Section moved 1,531 cars. The total shipments amounted to 6,393 cars leaving only 234 cars or four per cent for the other light shipping districts in Florida.

The Federal market reported in Sanford learns that a heavier movement is expected this year for the Sanford Section and the state as a whole. The total is estimated by reliable members of the trade at 7000 cars. A movement of 5000 cars is expected from the Sanford section providing the conditions are favorable.

Through Feb. 29, nearly 2000 cars had already moved from this section. If the estimate is to hold good 3000 must be moved during the remainder of the season. This year the season is considerably advanced over late years in car movement. Through Feb. 28 last year 1370 cars approximately 30 per cent of the total Sanford section shipments had been made while the same date this year shows that approximately 40 per cent of the estimated shipments from this section have already gone out. The following table is given to show comparison of carlot movement through February for last three seasons: (Revised figures.)

1921—Total from entire state of Florida 3140. From Sanford section 1996.
 1922—Total from entire state of Florida, 2043. From Sanford section, 1370.
 *Subject to slight revision with later reports from railroads.

Sanford section includes the whole of Seminole county. Some members of the trade believe there will be a shortage of good celery after April 15 as there will be much less movement ahead of shippers at that time, than during ordinary seasons. The growers are hoarding only the best celery feeling that normal supplies of well blanched celery arriving on terminal markets will insure a strong market. The terminal markets have been stronger during past week with consequent strengthening of the F. O. B. market in Sanford. Most of the Manatee-Bradenton section celery is sold through Sanford shippers.

The Sanford section F. O. B. market was unsatisfactory financially to the growers from the middle of January until Feb. 22. Before the middle of January the F.

that section will have approximately 800 cars to move. California continues to ship 10-20 cars a day but most of it is staying west of the Mississippi and offering no serious competition to Florida celery in the large markets of the east.

Most of the shippers and growers of the Sanford section are enthusiastic over the market prospects for the remainder of the season. They say that there is much less ahead of them this year than during recent years at the end of February. The consumptive demand for celery seems to be increasing each year and with light supplies than usual there seem to be some grounds for their enthusiasm.
