Operating Costs Cut By One Third

National Live Stock Judging Contest in Kansas City next winter; the rejection of a bid of $1230, made by L. B. Hodgins of Sanford, as cost of placing a tin roof on Wilson School at Paola and the authorization to place an elastogum roof on the building at once; the rejection of all bids for school transportation within Sanford District because they were too indefinite and not possible of comparison.

Highlights of the comparative report are as follows:
Total revenues dropped from $266,822.50 in 1931-32 to $197,592.75 for 1932-33, but they advanced to $249,973.39 for 1933-34.

Salaries paid 162 white and colored teachers in 1931-32 totaled $130,621.50; those paid 163 white and colored teachers in 1932-33 totaled $113,189.25, and those paid 153 white and colored teachers in 1933-34 totaled $100,624.

The average annual salary of white and colored teachers dropped from $42.72 in 1931-32 to $65.73 in 1933-34, or nearly 23 percent.

Transportation costs for handling 1177 pupils during 1931-32 were $112.50 per pupil for the year; for handling 1230 pupils in 1932-33 they were $12,755.25, or $12.81 per pupil for the year, while last year costs were $18,189.50 for handling 1280 pupils, or $14.21 per pupil for the year.

Health work expenses fell from $1792.85 to $1274.23 in three years, while administrative costs dropped from $3912.30 to $3764.23.

A $40,000 reduction was made in bonds outstanding during three years, and the time warrants outstanding account was reduced from $3000 to $2000.

Pupil enrollment, including white and colored pupils, for three years was: 4591 in 1931-32; 4880 in 1932-33; 4812 in 1933-34.

Debt service outlay, exclusive of money borrowed and repaid this year was $64,450, including $21,000 paid on bond principal, and $1000 for a time warrant which came due.

Assessed valuation of the county for the past three years advanced from $6,207,281 in 1931-32 to $7,028,888 in 1933-34.

At the request of the state, the value of school property, listed in 1931-32 and 1932-33 as $1,117,055, was reduced to cost for 1933-34, or $1,026,200, on which valuation a total of $468,100 is carried in insurance.

The budget of estimated revenues and expenditures for the coming year indicates a further reduction in operating expenses.

General school millage in all county districts next year will be 10 mills, while the millage for maintenance will be 10 mills in all districts except the Lake Monroe district whose taxpayers asked an eight mill levy for the year. In addition, millage for the Lake Monroe district will be 10 mills for the year.

Broken down into various departments, the 65 5-8 millage which taxpayers in the Sanford district will be asked to pay next year is to be expended as follows: 6 1-3 mills for the state; 35 mills for the school system of which 15 mills is for bond retirement and interest payments; 12 mills for retirement of county bonds and interest payment; and 12 1-3 mills for the actual operating expenses of county government, exclusive of schools and debt service.

The three year report of conditions in the school system of the county, as compiled by Mr. Lawton, is as follows:

AUSTRIA'S FIGHT LAID TO PEACE, POST-WAR EVENTS

Answer To Situation Worrying World Lies In Economics

WASHINGTON, July 27.—(AP)—What ails Austria? Where once Franz Joseph's hussars danced to Strauss waltzes in the world's gayest civilization, despair stalks. Men's hands are turned against each other. A chancellor lies dead, stabbed in his chancellery. The world watches, fearing war. What is the reason? Students, pondering that question, have found much of the answer in economics.

Austria is a head without a body. War performed that operation—and it is proving no more successful in the politico-economic field than it ever did in the biological.

Before the war Vienna was the world's most brilliant capital—sophisticated, sophisticated, savoring the tang of life with a smile. From it, though Budapest was the capital of Austria's partner Hungary, went the royal orders bearing the Hapsburg double eagle. Vienna bankers held sway over the Austro-Hungarian financial realm. The economic life of the empire revolved around Vienna.

There were problems, of course. The diversity of races in the empire taxed the ability of the Hapsburgs to "divide and rule." There were some to say that even then the empire was shaky.

Twenty years ago Wednesday Austro-Hungary broke off relations with Serbia. The war came—and then the peace that for Austria was perhaps worse than war.

The old empire boasted more than 50,000,000 people and over 250,000 square miles of territory. When the surgery of the peace treaties was finished, Austria separated from a dismembered Hungary, had less than 7,000,000 inhabitants, and little more than 30,000 square miles.

Much of the land left her was mountainous, forested, poor for farming. Natural resources were comparatively slender. Around this pitiful remnant, suspicious neighbors began erecting tariff walls.

And in the midst, sat the once proud capital, a head without a body. The old empire, despite defects, had provided free trade and a market for Vienna's manufactures. Now the hinterland was inadequate to absorb her products or to feed her population of nearly 2,000,000.

Honolulu Thunders Welcome To Greet Roosevelt's Party

After the President took his place in his box, troops moved in a huge parade of the Hawaiian division, commanded by Maj. Gen. Halsey Dorey, who was accompanied by Lieut. Col. John N. Greely, his chief of staff.

In order, the Twenty-First Infantry brigade, the Twenty-Second brigade, and the Third engineers, passed. Next came the combined wagon trains of the dismounted units.

The Eleventh Field Artillery brigade followed in line. Then came the combined trains of the Field Artillery brigade, followed by the Eleventh Signal company and the Eleventh Ordnance company, combined as one unit and mounted in trucks, and the 11th Tank company, completing the Hawaiian division.

Next was the 55th Coast Artillery, with its big mobile 155-millimeter guns, and the 41st and 16th Coast Artillery. The 65th Coast Artillery, the Army's largest anti-aircraft regiment, with its motorized guns, machine guns, and loggers was next.

The review was completed by 60 airplanes of the 18th Composite Wing in flights of six planes echeloned in altitude, the lowest within 10 feet of the ground. Following the passing in review, the planes of the 18th Pursuit group climbed high and in formation made the letters "F. R." in the sky, and passed over Schofield barracks and on over Honolulu in that formation.

Guessing Contest Is Started At Gatchel's

Offering a wagon and scooter as first and second prizes, Forrest Gatchel's Grocery is beginning a 60-day guessing contest tomorrow and in this store's advertisement appearing in this issue of The Herald it is announced that one guess is given free with each purchase, big or little.

The contest centers around a large glass jar, filled with small dried beans, now appearing in one of the front windows of Gatchel's grocery. It was explained that each person may make more than one guess, but that the figure coming nearest to the actual number of beans in the jar will win the wagon and the second nearest number, the scooter.

When the contest closes, Sept. 29, the beans will be counted in the presence of several local persons who will serve as judges.

Guessing Contest - Begins This Week -

Win The Wagon or Scooter For Your Boy or Girl—Free—Free—

How Many Beans Are In The Jar?

A large glass jar, filled with beans, has been placed in our front window. Come in, examine the jar, and guess how many beans are in it. The contest opens Saturday of this week, and will last for 60 consecutive days. Don't fail to turn in your guess.

Costs Nothing To Guess

One guess is allowed for each purchase, no matter whether it is large or small. Each time you come into our store and buy something, even though it is only a box of matches, you are allowed a guess. You may have more than a hundred when the contest closes. All of your guesses count equally and if one of them is the closest to the correct number of beans you win the wagon. The second nearest number wins the scooter.

2nd Prize

The very latest in scooters. Built to stand rough wear. Rubber tires, and rubber foot pads. It will give plenty of exercise to any youngster.

Contest Closes Sat. Night Sept. 29, 1934

Dollfuss Dedicated Self To Upholding Independence Of Austria On Accepting Office

The Austrian premier, Dr. Engelbert Dollfuss, for a time the youngest and one of the boldest prime ministers in Europe was engaged in a struggle to maintain the independence of Austria in the turbulent period beginning in May, 1932, when Austria was starting to succumb to neighboring Germany and political and economic terrors.

With a wide sentiment in his country for "Anschluss," or union with Germany, Dollfuss dedicated himself to the task of maintaining the independence of his country. A foe of both German national socialism and its antisemitic, Marxian socialism, he preached a species of Christian nationalism, guiding himself by the precepts of the Roman Catholic Church, of which he was a devout member, and fervently the day when a common political creed would unite a people already 90 percent dedicated to a common religious belief.

But Austria, divided into two camps by the socialist, communist and fascist movements, was in the country at large, seething and boiling. On Mar. 7, 1933, Dollfuss, after a long and bitter struggle, was elected premier of Austria. He immediately set to work to bring the country back to a state of order and stability.

He raised and closed all Nazi headquarters, arrested 1,000 leaders and forbade political organizations. He made "Heimwehr," a paramilitary force, uniformed rank, auxiliary police. Municipal elections showed Nazi gains and he shut them down further.

But Dollfuss thought he was in a physical status. Dollfuss, however, was not a man of the government and with the dismissal of Dollfuss, the Austrian government was dissolved. Dollfuss, however, was not a man of the government and with the dismissal of Dollfuss, the Austrian government was dissolved.

HITLER NAMED AS FOMENTOR OF NAZI PUTSCH

Dollfuss' death in broadcasts from Austria and urging the nation to Austria. This broadcasting from Germany has caused diplomatic representations. Dollfuss' death was predicted almost daily on the radio.

The minister hurried back to Washington yesterday from a vacation at Rehoboth Beach, Del., to keep in close touch with the situation as it might develop and in position to do his government's bidding.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, both sent messages of condolence to President Miklas of Austria, the President expressing "deepest sympathy" and extending "sincere sympathy" on behalf of the American public.

At Munich, Germany, indications that Nazi plans for the overthrow of the Austrian government were being carried out.

Dollfuss was only 4 feet 11 inches tall and his size was a prolific subject of jest which he would not take on. He was once when introduced at a luncheon as "Europe's youngest chancellor," he chimed in with "and the smallest of them all."

Dollfuss, Austria's "little Napoleon," talked with Benito Mussolini, Italy's stoutly built "Mussolini," to such good effect that he went back to Vienna as a hero. Italy's stoutly built "Mussolini," to such good effect that he went back to Vienna as a hero.

Dillinger's Captors To Get Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON, July 26. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the justice department's division of investigation, announced yesterday that the captors of the gangster Alvin Karpis, who was shot in Chicago, will receive pay increases.

Hoover would not disclose the extent of the compensation. He merely said that the men had been advanced on the grade scale for division of investigation executives which runs from $4,000 to $5,400 a year.

He reviewed the situation at a press conference which followed moves by his department and other government agencies to meet the emergency caused by the combination of a blazing sun and clear skies.

WIDESPREAD RAINS BRING LATE RELIEF

WIDESPREAD rains and generally cloudy skies over the major portion of the nation Friday brought relief after a week of stifling weather with 100 degree and higher readings not uncommon. The heat took a toll of 1,429 lives.

Moisture was far from adequate, however, and most of the country received merely a surface wetting. Prices on the Chicago Board of Trade were higher for corn, but lower for wheat and soybeans. Cotton prices were higher for the first time since the start of the season.

The government's latest report of the cotton crop, which was released yesterday, showed a 24 percent increase in volume in year reported at Tampa.
