State Supreme Court takes up special assesment tax district for lighting and beautifcation

The Supreme Court of Fiorida is hearing oral argu-ments all this week. One, scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Friday, October 6, pertains to the city of Winter Springs.

The city created the Tuscawilla Lighting and Besutification tax district to raise revenue for improye-ments to the existing neigh-bothood, Proceeds would be used to finance bond issues that would pay for improve-ments at Tuscawills, including ments at Tuscawilla, including landscaping, lighting and algnage. The city sued to valudate the bonds, but a trial court ruled that they were legally invalid.

This Friday morning, the Supreme Court wil hear oral arguments pertaining to an appeal on the court ruling.

McLain: 'I feel good'

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Seminole County Commissioner Daryl McLain won a tough run-off election against Bob West, garnering almost 55 percent of the vote and now prepare for a November showdown in the general election against a Democrat, a Libertarian and an independent.

"Like the song says, 'I feel good,' " McLain proclaimed with 90 percent of the vote in. "This was the toughest race I've ever been in, but we pulled it out. We got 55 percent of the vote. That's a McLain received 8,150 votes, or 54.71 percent; while West earned 6,747 votes, or 45.29 percent of the votes cast.

"It's a wonderful day for Sanford," said Mayor Larry Dale, "because it means that we continue to have solid representation on the county level. We will continue to have somebody who was born and raised in Sanford, someone who knows the needs of this city."

During the last week before the election, West and McLain slugged it out through direct-mail campaign pieces. Asked about the tone of the campaign, McLain said he had hoped for less negative attacks.

"I think we ran a good, clean cam-paign, "McLain said. "My volunteers really came through for me. I think what this race shows is that misleading the voters and slinging mud doesn't

Parents question why buses won't enter apartments

Students must cross Lake Mary Boulevard

By Arthur Zielinski

SANFORD - Residents and management at Logan Heights, a new apartment complex off East Lake Mary Boulevard, are upset over the decision by Seminole County Schools Transportation Services not to enter the apartment site to pick up or drop off middle and high school students.

School Transportation offi-clais told Dina Kecake (, lessing consultant for Logan Heights, a school bus would pick up elementary students at the apartments, but the older middle and high school students would have to walk down Rolling Hills Boulevard to Lake Mary Houlevard in order catch the Boulevard in order catch the school bus.

At the present time, Logan Heights has one elementary student and four middle school students. Laura Reeves, Community Manager at Logan Heights, said that number will soon increase when all of the 360 units are rented.

"About 2/3 of our apart-ments will be occupied by fami-lies with children, the remaining 1/3 will be singles and senior citizens," Reeves explained.

Reeves and Kecskes, as well as other parents, are concerned about the students standing along Lake Mary Boulevard

St. Peter's Episcopal Church celebrates the Feast of St. Francis of Assisi by blessing family pets

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — Ace made his annual visit to St. Peter's

Episcopal Church Monday. While he was being blessed by the Rev. Beverly L. Barge, he decided to lick the priest's hand.

A few minutes later, Barge was once again the recipient of a lick after blessing a German shepherd. The rector was not the least bit upset by the slobbery show of appreciation.

There's nothing like puppy kisses," Barge said.

On Monday and Tuesday, St. Peter's colebrated the Peast of St. Francis of Assisi — a time when animals of all shapes and sizes are blessed by Barge or the Rev. Bob Mountford. Seven-year-old Ace, a beagle, has been blessed by Barge for the past five years. "Ace is a big part of our fami-ly," Suzie Pupklewicz sald. "As big a part as any of us are. "Hopefully, with five blessings now, he will live a long time."

Barge has been blessing animals since he became a priest in the late '70s. When he came to St. brought the practice with him.

"I've blessed animals everywhere I've been," he said. "Francis thought animals were important to God. They are God's creation, and they are companions to people who love and care for them.

Saint Francis of Assisi Is the patron saint of animals. According to history, he was born Francis Bernardone in 1182

St. Johns OKs tax cut

Police still searching for attackers

From Staff Reports

The St. Johns River Water Management District's Governing goard has lowered the tax rate for the first time since 1994.

During the second of two public hearings this past week, the board approved a $238.5 million budget with a 0.472 millage rate for the 2000-2001 fiscal year which began Oct. 1.

The area served by SJR-WMD includes a total of 19 counties including Seminole.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

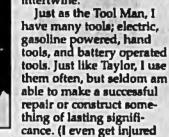

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

I believe in the power of duct tape

Depending on who you are and what you do, everyone has at least one hero. Some have more than one. People who love sports often have sports figures as heroes. Golfers for example, may admire Tiger Woods, Arnold Palmer or others. Trying to drive or putt like we see them do on television however, is extremely difficult and we often become frustrated.

My heroes are Tim "The Tool Man" Taylor, and Red Green (Seminole Herald weekend columnist and Canadian television personality). I can connect with them, as our lives seem to intertwine.

quite often). Last Christmas, I was asked if I needed any new tools. My response was that I could use an additional screwdriver or two. When all the gifts were open, I found myself with 42 new screwdrivers, (three separate sets). But still, I am constantly stripping a Phillips head screw or can't even get a straight head screw to do what I want. What do I end up doing? I call a cabinet maker, electrician, or someone else in the Yellow Pages. It's Tim Taylor all over.

Pfeifauf

Like Red Green, I also am a firm believer in the power of duct tape. I patch many things with duct tape. Over the years however, I have found that once the duct tape is exposed to the sun, it dries and becomes brittle. What is my solution? More duct tape. Like Red Green, I also build things out of leftover materials. Now if I only had more leftover materials, I could repair items I've made in the past which weren't as well constructed as they should have been in the first place.

I admire good workmanship. I enjoy han-dling power tools. I love building furniture out of wood. The only problems is, I'm often not very good at it. Thank goodness my son Ken is around to help correct my errors or solve prob-

Of course, the two I have mentioned are both fictional characters. No doubt someone will say I have a tendency to overlook reality.

In that case, perhaps I should add one real-life person as a hero. Maybe he's the hero to many others, who may not have thought about it. Christopher Columbus is that hero. It is said of Columbus' voyage, "He didn't know where he was going, he didn't know where he was once he got there, he didn't know where he had been after he returned, and he did it all on someone else's money." Now there's a man we can all emulate.

But seriously, I know several people who consider their fathers as their heroes. What an honor. Hopefully, every one of us will conduct ourselves in such a manner as to have that distinction bestowed on ourselves by spring. I could think of nothing better.

Man with a gun Samuel David Fowler, 28, of Willow Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday. Police said they responded to calls from neighbors that reported Fowler was harassing some of them with a handgun. Police said when they arrived to investigate, he attempted to flee in his pickup truck but was apprehended. Officers located a handgun.

Fowler was charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon (without intent to kill), and a weapon offense - using a firearm under the influence of Retail thefts Sara Kate Deluca, 18, of Deltona was arrested by Sanford Police Monday at a retail store at the Seminale Towne Center. Deluca, said to be an employee of the store, was accused of removing price tags from three pair of sun giasses valued at $48 and attempting to take them without paying. She was charged with larceny/petty retail theft.

Diana Lofton, 39, and her 16year-old daughter, of Deltona were both arrested by Sanford Police on Saturday at a retail store at the Seminole Towne Center. Lofton reportedly removed clothing valued at $340 from the store, hidling them in a baby carriage. The two were charged with larceny, over $300.

Drug related

Jonathan Harris, 39, of Atlanta, was arrested following a traffic stop by Sanford Police on SR-46 at Airport Boulevard last Friday. Officers report finding a pipe generally used in narcotics smoking, and cocaine. Harris was charged with possession of drugs (controlled substance - cocaine) and possession or use of narcotics equipment.

Cleveland Gladys Maxzine, 40, of West 14th Street, Sanford, was a passenger in a vehicle stopped by Sanford Police Sunday at 10th Street and Oleander Avenue. a cocaine pipe and narcotics reportedly found in the vehicle by police resulted in Maxzine's arrest on charges of possession or use of narcotics equipment, and drug possession (controlled substance - cocaine).

Open container Pamela Lee Coilins, 44, of Oak Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford Police at 2nd Street and Laurel Avenue Sunday. Officers said when they approached her, she emptied the contents of a cup she was said to be holding. The substance on the ground and cup led officers to believe it was alcohol. She was charged with destroying/tampering with evidence, and violation of the city ordinance - open container law.

Suspicious death

On Saturday, Sept. 30, before dawn, Altamonte Springs police responded to 806 Ravens Circle, Ravens Crossings Apartments, in reference to a suspicious death. Once on the scene, officers discovered a man, later identified as Jason Peter Sanjurjo, 23, of Pembrook Pines, Florida, collapsed in front of building 806.

He was subsequently transported to Florida Hospital Altamonte, but he is said to have passed away en route. Police spokesman PPC Paul Machovina said the preliminary investigation revealed that Sanjurjo had arrived at a friend's apartment, with the friend apparently asked to drive him to a hospital. Before the friend could do so, Sanjurjo collapsed outside the apartment after which the friend called 011.

Tuesday morning, an autopsy was performed by the Volusia County Medical Examiner's office. Machovina said the autopsy revealed no signs of trauma. Drug and alcohol results are pending a toxicology report, and it may not be available for six to eight weeks.

The death however, is being treated as suspicious, and the case is still under investigation.

Neither candidate addresses unequal justice for blacks

The presidential debate season has opened, and voters will hear plenty from candidates Al Gore and George W. Bush about health care, education and Social Security. They'll also be talking taxes, the national debt and a nuclear-missile defense.

There will probably even be a few foreign policy questions: Bush has no doubt boned up in case moderator Jim Lehrer, host of PBS' "NewsHour," throws out a couple of questions about Sierra Leone or Chechnya.

But there is at least one subject about which you are likely to hear little or nothing: reform of a criminal justice system that unfairly penalizes African-American men. Given that the high rate of incarceration of black men represents a gaping hole in the nation's social fabric, you'd think the subject would come up in a presidential campaign.

The numbers are alarming: Almost 10 percent of black men between the ages of 25 and 29 are incarcerated. In all, nearly one-third of black men in their 20s are under some type of correctional control — incarcerated, on probation or on parole. Based on current rates of incarceration, 28.5 percent of black men can expect to be jailed at some point in their lives.

Try to imagine what placing nearly one-third of its men behind bars does to any community or culture. Those years of early adulthood ought to represent the passage into responsi-bility, a time when young men start careers and families. Can there be any wonder that fewer African-American men than women attend college when so many are in prison? Is there any mystery to the disintegration of the black family, with so many young black fathers locked up?

This is no plea, by the way, for thugs or gangbangers. Violent criminals ought to be locked up for a very long time. Black robbers, rapists and murderers represent a greater threat to their own communities than anybody else; poor black neighborhoods get the opportunity for economic development only when violent crime is quelled.

But America has purchased a sense of security by incarcerating not only violent criminals but also non-violent ones. The drug war - actually a war on black America — has played a major role in driving up rates of incarceration. While experts believe that white drug users outnumber black drug users 5-to-1, black men are sent to state prisons on drug charges at a rate about 13 times that of white men, according to Human Rights Watch.

Nor does it seem to matter much whether black men are actually guilty of the crimes for which they are convicted. The release of Ronald Cotton, imprisoned in North Carolina for 11 years for a rape he did not commit, has made headlines because of the remorse of his ····· mistaken white accuser, Jennifer Thompson. But Cotton's plight is not so unusual. Here in Atlanta, Calvin Johnson Jr. was released from prison last year after 16 years in prison for a rape he did not commit.

Since the overriding theme of this presidential campaign seems to be spreading opportunity to those still shut out of the expanding prosperity, you'd think Gore and Bush might have noticed that putting large numbers of black men in prison not only shuts those men out of the economic mainstream, but also limits their families and communities.

But if Gore has noticed, he's not likely to say so. Democrats have been browbeaten by conservatives for decades for supposedly being "soft on crime," so no ambitious Democrat is going to raise the issue of criminal justice reform. That leaves Bush, who has the conservative bona fides to do something daring — to speak out about the burden our criminal justice system places on black America. But his tenure as governor of Texas sug-gests that Bush is quite comfort-able playing the role of tough sheriff. Not only has he presided over 144 executions in less than six years in office, he has also been at the helm during a period when incarceration rates soared. (While Louisiana has the highest rate of incarceration, Texas and Georgia are right behind it.) So don't expect any leadership on this issue from Bush, either.

A criminal justice system so thoroughly tainted by racial and economic discrimination does not bode well for this nation. But if Bush or Gore has given it a second thought, neither has said so. Their silence doesn't bode well.

eled to give birth, have said Jodie's heart cannot support both bodies for more than six months. Her only chance at survival is to be surgically separated from her twin, resulting in Mary's immediate death. The parents vigorously oppose the surgery on grounds that it is never right to take a life. They say they believe in allowing God's will to play itself out without human interference. But a British court last week gave doctors permission to perform the surgery, arguing that it is better to save one life than stand by and watch both die. The parents are likely to appeal the decision.

No parent can read this wrenching story and not wonder what he or she would do. I would choose surgery. God's will doesn't always mean standing back and doing nothing. God's will can also mean slogging through the pain and confusion and making a con-scious choice based on the intel-lect and moral guidance He has supplied us.

I would try to see the surgery not as killing Mary but releasing her. Mary is on a certain path to death, with or without surgery. The only question is whether we allow Jodie to die alongside her. I would reason that the best way to honor the sanctity of life would be by making sure Jodle had the very best chance at a long and ful-filling one — one that would honor her twin's memory.
That's where my conscience would lead me. But who am I who is anyone - to tell Mary's and Jodie's parents that this is where their conscience should lead them? They, more than the doctors or the judges, must live with the decision. If actively bringing about the death of one child to save the other goes against their most sacred beliefs, no government should interfere. Though Mary is brain damaged and barely clinging to life, she is still their child as much as Jodie is. They love her just as much. They value her life just as much. Whatever the outcome, this young couple will be haunted by this experience the rest of their lives. Maybe they'll find solace at Our Lady of Victory Church or in the kitchens of their neighbors, who overwhelmingly support the decision against support. There is decision against surgery. There is no "right" answer on what to do about Jodie and Mary. It is not a matter of law but of connectence.

These parents must be allowed to follow theirs.

Bush-Gore and the ghosts of Kennedy-Nixon

Jack Kennedy said he felt sorry for Richard Nixon because his 1960 debating partner did not know who he was and therefore was forever trying to decide "which

If so, Bush will need it. Al Gore is, even by enemy accounts, an unflinching student of the political game. He drove himself to understand ethnic and geographic voting patterns. Before anyone else, he hired a pollster to help him match his message to current voter concerns.

He was known for his compassion and patience toward animals, as well as for his fellow man. Two years after his death In 1226, Francis was canonized a saint by the Catholic Church.

On Monday, Saint Francis was remembered for his kindness toward animals — blg and small — and the front yard of St. Peter's church was filled with dogs, cats, fish and rodents

Jean Johnson, Director of Transportation Services for Seminole County Schools, originally told parents the buses could not enter the apartment complex because there was not enough room for the buses to turn around. However, she later said that was not an issue, and the decision for not picking up the high school and middle school students was a school district policy. Johnson pointed out that because of "safety concerns," the older students were required to catch the bus at all main or "arterial highways."

"We really hate to pull off the main roadway," Johnson said.

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month

October has been designated Domestic Violence Awareness Month. On Oct. 17, Safehouse of Seminole is sponsoring a public memorial service for domestic violence victims who have died as a result of domestic violence.

The memorial and dedication will take place at Orlando Regional South Seminole Hospital, Emergency Room entrance, 555 West State Road 434 in Longwood beginning at

Attendance is free and the public is invited.

Safehouse of Seminole Is the certified domestic violence center for Seminole County and is dedicated to ending the cycle for domestic violence.

Safehouse services include a 214 hour crisis Hotline, an emergency shelter, a court advocacy program, outreach and faith community services.

According to Safehouse Executive Director Michele Hickey, there were 212 victims who died as a result of domes-tic violence in 1998 and 1999.

In statistics, she said $5 billion annually is the estimate of health care costs for treatment of injuries due to domestic violence, and 80 percent of violent juvenile offenders and adult prisoners come from homes were domestic violence occurs.

For additional information on Safehouse of Seminole or the Domestic Violence Memorial Service, contact Michele Hickey at 407-302-1731 or Special Projects Coordinator Patti Page at 407-302-4677.

Prevention. More than 200 parents, families and participants of these programs can truly say that prevention does work

Greetings were given by Vernon McQueen, director of the following programs, who are making lives better for parents, families and children of the Seminole County community.

The opening and music was rendered by the Lake Monroe Community Choir. Alpha students and creative poetry was recited by the youth of the pro-gram; "Yes, I Am Somebody", "I am a Girl' and "Sister". Students from the Midway community were a part of the presentation.

Tajiri Arts presented Poetry and Songs; "Determination is the Key to Success" and "Love is in any language."

Strengthening the family program is the key to growth in many families, these sessions are held at the West Sanford Boys and Girls Club, also the education building of the Providence Baptist Church, Lake Monroe (next session, Oct. 24.).

Improving Youth, Boys II Men, Ladies of Distinction through Martial Arts and ABC Ropes challenge all students.

Twenty Century show tunes were entertaining as the group of modern dancers and showgirls gave us "Let's go on with the Show", "Children of the Rainbow" and the well-known "Somewhere over the Rainbow."

Seminole Teen Option Program presented mime, "I Believe I can Fly," "Cycles of Peace," Sankofo are programs that keep our youth on the straight path. Don't be afraid to call for information for any programs to strengthen the family (407-327-1765, ext. 200.

Cherish the Ladies October 7, 2000 @ 8pm Tickets: $30.00 Adult $25.00 Seniors

Over the past dozen years, the name of a time honored Irish traditional ig has become equally well known as the name of the most engaging ensemble in Irish music; Cherish the Ladies. They have grown from a ne-time concert concept to an Irish traditional music sensation, literally the most successful and sought-after Irish-American group in Celilo music history. Organized by folklorist/musician Mick Moloney and spon-sored by the Ethnic Folk Arts Center and the National Endowment of the Arts, they began as a concert series featuring the brightest lights in Irish traditional music. Through initially the group won recognition as the first and only all-women traditional Irish band, they soon established themselves as musicians and performers without peer and have won many thousands of listeners and fans in their music. Cherish the ladies are absolutely unique in their spec-tacular blend of virtuosic instrumental talents, beautiful female vocals, cap-

Tofu: It's the tabula rasa of food

Several years ago, I was working at a food magazine when the ultimate disaster happened. The photographer had chosen for the cover of the magazine a dish containing — I know it's hard to believe — tofu. There was no time to re-shoot. The editor in charge made an executive decision: we'd use the picture — bean curd and all - but it would be described in a vague manner. I believe 'Asian Delight" was the phrase he settled on.

"You don't put bean curd on the cover of a magazine; and if you do, you sure don't call it bean curd," he said.

Think of tofu as a tabula rasa for the home cook. Lacking any discernible flavor of its own, it happily takes on those added to it. This makes tofu perfect for a variety of great spicy dishes. The two below are from Nina Simonds' "China Express," and from a new book, "Skewer It!" by Mary Corpening Barber, Rebecca W. De Gery and Sara Corpening Whiteford.

8 ounces firm tofu (see note) 30 fresh cilantro leaves, for garnish

For the marinade:

2 tablespoons olive oil 1 teaspoon minced chipotle (use a canned chipotle chile in adobo sauce)

1/2 teaspoon minced

1/4 teaspoon salt, preferably kosher salt For the bean dip: One 15-ounce can black beans, drained (liquid reserved) 1 tablespoon ketchup

1 teaspoon ground cumin 1 teaspoon ground coriander 1/2 teaspoon minced chipotle (use a canned chipotle chile in adobo sauce) 1/2 teaspoon minced garlic 1 teaspoon fresh lime juice salt to taste, preferably kosher Make the marinade: Combine all the marinade ingredients in a small bowl.

Make the bean dip: Combine all the dip ingredients except the salt in a food processor. Add 1/2 cup of the reserved bean liquid. Pulse quickly until well-mixed, but not completely smooth, about 5 sec-onds. Taste and season with salt, if needed. Set aside. (The bean dip can be made 2 days in advance and refrigerated. Remove from the refrigerator at least 30 minutes before serving.) Cut the tofu into 30 3/4-inch cubes. Toss the tofu in the marinade to coat. Marinate for 15 minutes. (The tofu can be marinated and refrigerated up to a day ahead of

Golden rain trees are blooming all over Northern and Central Florida

Fall is here, golden rain trees are blooming all over the places. It is very exciting to see the trees covered with yellow flowers announcing the change of season.

Golden rain trees belong to the Sapindacea or soapberry plant family, which include the lychee, Spanish lime (mamoncillo), and longan. The golden rain trees are grown for their extraordinary display of beautiful yellow flowers and reddish fruit pods that appear around September in Central

The flowers, produced in very showy panicles, visible above the foliage, often cover the tree. It is easy to see why they are called golden min trees as you watch the large quantity of small yellow petals falling to the ground.

The Tree

Golden rain trees are deciduous and grow about 30 to 40 feet tall. Leaves are pinnately com-pound with leaflets mostly serrated. The small, yellow, fragrant flowers, that last about two weeks, are borne in terminal panicles measuring 1.0 to 1.5 feet long. The fruits, about 2 inches long and containing three round, black seeds, resemble Chinese paper lanterns.

The seedpods are colored pink, salmon or shades of red, before turning tan-brown. Seedpods can hang on the tree for several months. It is not unusual to see the blooms and seed pods on the same tree, at the same time.

There are three species of golden rain trees cultivated in Florida.

The Perfect

The common golden rain tree or Varnish tree, Koelreuteria paniculata, with single pinnate compound leaves, and flowers with 4 petals. This tree is the most widely cultivated specie because of its freeze tolerance. The Chinese Flame tree or Bougainvillea Goldenraintree, Koelreuteria bipinnata, have twice-compound leaves, and flowers with 5 petals. The other species Koelreuteria elegans, have bipinnate, continuously serrate leaflets and flowers with four petals. K. elegans and K. bipinnate are typically found in central and south Florida, while K. paniculata is grown more in the northerner parts of the State.

Trees grow best in full sun in a wide range of soil types and pH. Established trees have a high drought tolerance. Requires pruning to develop a strong struc-ture. Dead wood is often present in the canopy and should be removed periodically to maintain appearance. Roots grow deep and are noninvasive.

Propagation
Plants can be propagated from root cuttings or seeds. Seedlings can be found growing under adult trees.

Goldenrain trees can be successfully grown in urban areas where air pollution, poor drainage, compacted soil, and drought conditions are common. It is recommended for parking lot islands, buffer strips around parking lots or for median strip plantings in the highway.

It is an excellent specimen tree, with some value as shade tree or residential street tree.

The seedpods maintain their color after drying and are often used in everlasting floral arrange-

Problems

Occasionally, scale insects may affect this tree. Sprays with horticultural oils can control the overwintering stages. Boxelder bugs may build up large populations and can become a nuisance around this tree. Chemical control is not usually recommended.

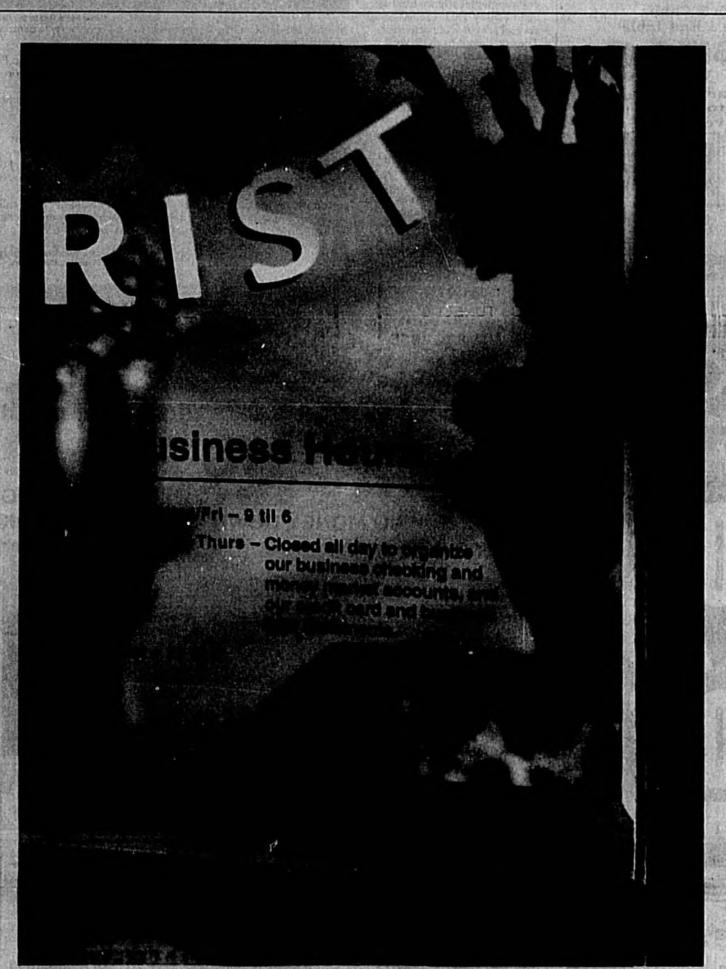

Verticillium wilt disease can affect goldenrain trees.

This disease causes wilting and death of leaves on infected branches. Eventually the entire tree may be killed. There is no chemical control for this disease. Another fungal disease, canker, causes dead and sunken areas on the bark. Minute plnk fungal structures may develop on the diseased bark.

Seeds germinate readily and may create a weed problem. It should be planted in wind protective areas because its brittle wood can break easily in windy weath-

Hamilton Happenings

By Beth Jensen Special to the Herald

Hamilton Elementary School is a Sanford community school located only a few blocks from Lake Monroe on Eighth Street. As a community school we need community support, and there are a number of ways you can show your support for Hamilton's students.

On October 12th a national campaign called "Lights On" will demonstrate support for after-school programs. Businesses, families, churches, civic organizations, and others are asked to leave their storefront lights, porch lights and headlights on all day to show support for schools that operate after school programs. Hamilton's H.E.R.O. after school program is in operation Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3 until 5:10 p.m. Please leave your lights on and show support for Hamilton.

You can also help support literacy at Hamilton. On Sept. 27th at 6 p.m., the Hamilton staff kicked off its Parents to Kids Program which is being offered to over 50 second grade families. Dinner and babysitting were provided. Through this program, each student receives a backpack with 16 books, eight books for the parents and eight books for the child. Every two weeks the child returns the bag and receives new books. The child will also be able to keep one of the books so he or she can build a library at home. A stuffed animal is included in each backpack so that each child has a reading buddy. This program is free for the families. The program is operated by Mr. Kenneth Bentley, TLC Community Educator, with the help of Hamilton's second grade teachers. For more information about this program and how you can assist, please call Mr. Bentley at 407-320-6050.

There are weekly volunteer opportunities on our campus. Hamilton is offering all H.E.R.O. students the opportunity to participate in club activi-ties from 4:20 to 5:05 p.m. on Thursday afternoons.

According to Mr. Bentley, "H.E.R.O. clubs are the talk of the campus over at Hamilton. There are ten clubs being offered: Clown Club, Thinking Club, Computer Club, Team Sports, Cooking Club, Band

Club, Gospel Choir Club, Cheerleading Club, Magic Club, and Book Club," Mr. Bentley added, "Hamilton's TLC Reading Club will have its kickoff on Oct. 27th at 6 p.m. with a puppet show and reading activities for families. For more information about these activities and how you can get involved, please call Kenneth Bentley at 407-320-6050.

Finally, you can become involved in an exciting project which will eventually benefit all of Sanford. In 1991, Hamilton's Environmental Learning Center was established with a $18,000 grant from the Beautiful Urban and Forestry Grant Program. Trees were planted and pavilion and boardwalk were built. Today Hamilton is asking for contributions to continue the project. Our principal, Nan Parker, sent letters to all of our business partners asking for financial support and/or contributions for this project. The following is an excerpt from her letter:

"I would like to tell you about a new project here at Hamilton. This year, I hired an environmental science teacher Scott Kinsey. He is excited about several school-wide activities. The one I want to share with you is a boardwalk around our environmental area. This will be a concrete walkway that will replace a wooden boardwalk. We would like to have sponsors for sections of the walk. As a business partner, you may spon-sor a section of the walkway and your business name will be permanently on display. The funds we raise through this project will be used to help us buy butterfly plants for a for a new butterfly garden we are establishing.

SANFORD — Now that the mid-point of the Fall season is upon us, all the athletic programs at the seven schools in the Seminole Athletic Conference are starting Seminole Athletic Conference are starting to feel the pressure of making it the post-season starting to wear upon them.

Three teams got a little break from the pressure last week, taking a respite before heading back to the turf for district contests this week.

This will be one of the few weeks in the season where only two SAC squads will be playing each other, with the other five teams playing foes from Orange and Volusia counties.

The only head-to-head SAC matchup SAC, 0-1 in district play) traveling to Sanford to battle Seminole (3-2 overall, 3-1 SAC, 1-1 in district play), which is coming off a huge win over Oviedo, in a Class SA-District 4 game at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

In other 5A-District 4 matchups, Lyman [0-4 oversil, 0-3 in SAC, 0-2 in 5A-4] has the opportunity to turn its season around immediately as it will host state-ranked Mainland (3-1 overall, 1-0 in district play) at Cariton D. Henley Stadium; and Winter Springs (1-2 overall, 1-1 SAC, 0-1 in 5A-4) comes off the bye week to take on a beat-able Pine Ridge in Deltona. In Class 6A-District 2 games, Lake Mary

(2-2 overall, 1-2 SAC, 2-0 6A-2) looks to remain undefeated in district play when it travels to Orlando to take on University: Oviedo (3-2 overall, 3-2 SAC, 1-1 6A-4) looks to end a two-game losing streak when it hosts winless DeLand (0-5) at John Courier Field; and surprising Lake Brantley (4-1 overall, 3-1 SAC, 1-1 6A-4) goes after its fourth straight victory in Orlando against Colonial. All of the games are set for 7:30 p.m.

In addition to the football teams, the cross country, golf, swimming and diving, and volleyball teams will all have busy schedules as they close in on the postseason tournament season. See Schedule, Page 2B and lead the Bengals and Gators (both 1-1) and the Jaguars (0-2). In the Major Division, the Jaguars and Steelers are both 2-0 and the Redskins and Rattlers are both 0-2.

This Saturday (October 7) at Sanford Middle School, the Minor Division has the Raiders taking on the Bengals at 9 a.m. and the Gators challenging the Raiders at 10:15 a.m.

In the Major Division, the Rattlers face the Redskins at 11:30 a.m. and the Jaguars and the Steelers square off in a bat-tle for first place at 12:45 p.m.

MINOR DIVISION Lenny Grace got his big day started by returning a punt 37 yards for a touchdown and James Terry added the extrapoint run to make the score 7-0.

The defenses took over for the remainder of the half as Neil Platt had an interception for the Raiders and the Cators held the Raiders at bay, including touchdown saving pull of the flag as the half ended.

Early in the second half Grace gave his team a 13-0 lead when he sprinted 39 yards for a touch-

The Gators finally got their offense going as Luis Carasas returned the ensuing kickoff 34 yards for a touchdown, cutting the lead to 13-6, and Dennis Broulas picked off a Raider pass to set-up a 32-yard touchdown gallop by Justin Roger to trim the deficit to 13-12.

But Grace put the game out of reach when he ran 29 yards for his third touchdown of the game, giving the Raiders a 19-12 victory.

BENGALS 14, JAGUARS 7 This Jaguars controlled the half, but it was the Bengals who got on the scoreboard as Richard Grey caught a 21-yard touchdown toss from Zach O'Brian and Josh Smith added the extra point, giving the Bengala a 7-0 halftime lead. The Jaguars came back in the second half to equal the score on a 15-yard touchdown run by Chris Jackson and a Deon Lathrop extra point run, but Grey gave his team its first win when he snagged the 12-yarder from O'Brian for his second score of the game.

MAJOR DIVISION JAGUARS 14, RATTLERS 7 Denzell Burke put the Jaguars ahead to stay when he scored on a 45-yard run to paydirt.

Terrell Wesley then picked off a pass for the Jaguars, denying the Rattlers and Mike Lowery scored what proved to be the winning touchdown when he intercepted another pass and ran 18 yards for the touchdown. Lorimel Rivera then added the two-point run, giving the Jaguars a 14-0 lead.

Tavares McGill had an interception in the first half for the Rattlers, keeping the Jag's from building a bigger lead.

The Rattlers cut the deficit in half early in the final period as Jose Menendez returned the opening kickoff 40-yards to set up a six-yard touchdown run by Bruce Hipsher and an extra-point run by Walter Gaines.

But that would be all of the scoring as the Jaguara held on in the pouring rain.

STRELERS SI, RESEINS O Myler Neal got the Steelers going as he returned a punt 43 yards for a touchdown and Shawn Ibister added the extra point for a 7-0 lead. Neal later intercepted a pass setting up a George Easley 29yard touchdown run and Glenn Lee added the two-point conversion run to make the score 15-0. Shane Ibister then picked off a pass for the Steelers, keeping the Redskins from cutting into the lead before halftime.

The Steelers picked right up from where they left off before the break as Lee scored from 27yards out and Adrian Thacker added the two-pointer, giving the Steelers a 23-0 lead. The Steelers looked like they would add to the lead when Neal took off on a 38-yard run, but the Redskins stopped him short, then played great defense to deny a score.

But it went for naught as Thacker pulled a Redskins flag in the end zone for a safety and a 25-0 lead and John Salco closed out the scoring with an 11-vard touchdown run.

Many wives and girlfriends think that this is simply another excuse to avold yard work and other unpleasant tasks, but any true hunter knows that hunting is grueling, hard work.

FISHING FORECAST

Bass action is still fair in the river. The hot weather will not subside, so the best action is early and late. Look for irregular features that are scattered between straight, unremarkable stretches of river. These different types of structure will hold most of the bass. Deep banks, sand bars, and bends are but a few of the things to look for. I also like to look for herons and other wading birds that feed on small baitfish. These birds know all of the good spots.

and bass will not be far away. Sebastian Inlet has good snook action with fish to 20 pounds, and trout, redfish, and flounder can be found in and around the inlet. Large live shrimp or small battfish are top baits.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports fair angling when seas are decent. King mackerel are the most reliable species, and can be found from just offshore to Pelican Flats. Wahoo and dolphin are slow, while sheepshead and flounder are active inside the Port. Trout and redfish are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers. Drum, sheepshead, redfish, tack crevalle and a few flounder round out the action at Ponce Inlet. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trut and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.
