Revenge may have been motive; man accused of arson

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — Police believe revenge may have been the motive for the man they have arrested for the Seminole Community Mental Health Center early Tuesday morning.

Daniel Shelby Shy, 23, 1811-D Landings Drive, Sanford, was charged last night with arson and burglary for the fire. Shy was arrested outside the Bay Avenue resident home shortly before 9 p.m., banging on the door. He was subsequently charged with the arson.

Police Cmdr. Dennis Whitmire said investigators had already spoken with Shy's roommates and were preparing the arson charge when he was arrested for the disturbance complaint. Shy's roommates told investigators he told them two to three weeks ago he had a dispute with mental health clinic officials where he was a client and wanted to burn down the building.

Whitmire said the roommates reported Shy also told them he had bought a book on explosives construction and planned to destroy the Sanford Police Station and the courthouse and "would not be taken alive."

Whitmire said the roommates said that on Tuesday night, Shy suggested the three of them go for a ride. They parked in a driveway near the clinic, and Shy got out, telling them to stay behind. He opened the trunk to his car, then walked towards the center. About 20 minutes later, he came running back and told them he had burned down the building, Whitmire said the roommates reported.

SANFORD — A Poplar Avenue man was shot in the arm during a struggle with a home invader last night, police say. The suspect is at large.

Robert Mack, 64, 1002 Poplar Ave., reported he received a knock at his front door at 11:50 p.m. When he opened the door, a man wearing a black stocking cap struck him on the forehead with an unknown object. A struggle followed, with the two falling to floor, shattering the glass front door.

Police Cmdr. Dennis Whitmire said the struggling pair rolled across the room, breaking another glass door, Mack reported. As the fight continued, Mack reported the man pulled a black handgun and fired one shot, hitting him in the left LAKE MARY — Commissioners broke an unwritten rule last night when they allowed a non-resident to speak during public participation at the city commission meeting.

The special guest was S. Claus, who gave his residence as North Pole, which city records indicate has never been annexed to the city.

Making his annual visitation to the heads of city government, he distributed a number of gifts, explaining the purpose of each to the enjoyment of the audience and city staff.

Although City Attorney Ned Julian was not on hand for the meeting, Santa explained he had a residential area. Amid citizen objections and a split vote, only half of the plan is to be presented in ordinance form.

SANFORD — The Sanford City Commission heard a rezoning request Monday for a planned major

The property, approximately 19 acres, is located west of Upsala Road, a distance south of S.R. 46, but bordered on W. 5th Street and Elder Road.

The developers, Leo Trapanier and Lois Paulucci, requested a rezoning from AG, Agriculture, to

On trial for murder

Suspect doesn't remember shooting

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — A New York man charged with shooting his ex-wife in a Lake Mary parking lot testified Thursday he does not recall anything about the Feb. 4 shooting.

San Francisco Goungo told the 12-member jury Thursday he does not recall shooting his former wife, Matilda Ferrer in the head as she sat in a car with her cousin, Hector Rivera, in the Lake Mary Centre parking lot. He said he snapped after seeing the pair together. Goungo is charged with first degree murder and attempted first degree murder in the case. If convicted, he faces life in prison.

Rivera denied on the stand that he and Ferrer were having an affair.

Goungo said he was devastated and confused when Ferrer left without warning and without telling anyone where she was going shortly before Christmas 1992. Although the two divorced in 1980, they lived together off and on.

Miami HMO agrees to $400,000 fine

TALLAHASSEE — A Miami health maintenance organization has agreed to pay a $400,000 fine to the state for violations of quality of care standards and financial concerns, officials said Thursday.

That's the largest fine ever assessed against an HMO in Florida, according to Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher.

The Department of Insurance and the Agency for Health Care Administration will each get $200,000 from Advantage Health Plan Inc., which has some 30,000 subscribers, mainly in South Florida.

Advantage, formerly known as Lourdes Health Services, is being purchased by PacificCare Health Systems Inc., a California company. The $400,000 will come out of the sale proceeds, according to Karen Chandler, a Gallagher spokeswoman.

Community shocked by heroin arrest

VALRICHO — Residents of a retirement park were shocked at the arrest of a 68-year-old resident on charges he is a heroin supplier.

No one had any idea, authorities say, that Clarence P. Haynes was using his cream-and-rust colored mobile home as a base for a heroin trail that started in New York, went through a tidy east Hillsborough retirement community and ended in the Ponce De Leon housing projects in Tampa.

Investigators say they stopped the flow this week when they searched Haynes' home and recovered a quarter-pound of heroin that was so pure it could be diluted as many as 10 times — making it worth as much as $500,000 to $1 million on the street.

Police Lt. Delores Morrill said Haynes, who grew up and retired in New York, made frequent flights to his home state to buy heroin and then delivered the drugs to dealers mainly in the Ponce de Leon projects. The drugs were cut with other dry chemicals and wrapped in aluminum foil rectangles about the size of a postage stamp.

Haynes was arrested Monday on charges of armed trafficking in illegal drugs, possession of heroin with intent to deliver and possession of heroin.

A woman who lived with Haynes, Sheila Ingrid, 47, was also arrested and charged with possession of 5 grams of cocaine also found in the home.

Both have been released on bail.

Fifty shoppers become ill

NORTH MIAMI BEACH — Fifty holiday shoppers became ill when an unidentified chemical, presumed to be pepper spray, contaminated the air in several North Dade stores Thursday evening, fire officials said.

Thirty-two people were treated at the scene and another 18 were taken to area hospitals.

Fourteen people, suffering from sore throats, tightness in the chest and coughing, were taken to Golden Glades Medical Center. All were treated and released, said administrative supervisor Carol Kleber.

Metro-Dade Fire Rescue evacuated shoppers at the 199th Street Flea Market, and neighboring Office Depot, Walgreens and Dominos Pizza stores.

Hazardous materials teams tested the air in the stores but could not pin down the contaminant.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Students volunteer for credits

By VICKI BESORNER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — Learning to serve others is an important lesson all youngsters should learn to become productive members of society.

The Seminole County school board is expected to approve a measure next week which will help high school students earn academic credit in exchange for volunteering time with certain approved institutions.

The superintendent is asking the board to approve the Student Volunteer Service Program.

Florida statute now allows students to receive a half an elective credit for doing a minimum of 75 hours of volunteer work.

Community service is a requirement for students to qualify for the Florida Academic Scholar Certificate Program. To qualify for that scholarship, students need to earn a total of 28 credits.

The scholarships offer qualified students up to $2,500 for each of four years at a Florida college or university.

"It started off with the idea that this would help the students going for the Florida Academic Scholars program, but we believe it will benefit other students as well," explained Dr. Marion Dailey, the district's executive director for instructional support services.

The proposed program would increase the students' credit earning potential from six to six and a half credits during the school year and up to a credit and a half during the summer.

The program will be administered at each of the high schools. All students will be encouraged to participate and the school will provide them with a list of approved agencies.

"How the students' proposed volunteer plans are approved will be different at each school," Dailey said.

At Seminole High School, for example, the school would administer the program through the COMPACT classes, while Lake Mary High's guidance office will direct the program at that school.

To be eligible for the program students will have to complete an application and write a paper in which they identify a community problem, determine how to solve the problem and find the appropriate agency with which to volunteer.

"They have to volunteer at least 75 hours to earn credit for the course," Dailey said. "But we hope this encourages them to continue to volunteer in the community."

At the conclusion of course the students will be expected to prepare a "reflective paper" regarding the volunteer experience.

"I think this is a super opportunity we would be offering our students," Dailey said.

If approved, the program would go into effect at the start of the next semester in mid-January.

School board members have offered verbal support for the program when it has been discussed in the past, so it is expected to be passed without controversy at the next meeting.

The board will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 21 at 3:30 p.m.

Consumer confidence up six points

By Associated Press

GAINESVILLE — Floridians' consumer confidence, buoyed by optimism about the national economy, jumped six points in the past month, University of Florida economists reported Thursday.

The statewide index of consumer confidence rose to 89 in December, according to a new survey by the university's Bureau of Economic and Business Research. That was up from 83 in November and 78 in October.

"Our preliminary index confirms other signs of strong retail sales during the holidays," said Florida economist Dave Denlow. "Floridians' confidence now matches the post-election euphoria of last winter but is firmer, being based on jobs and income."

The latest index survey was based on 727 responses collected through Dec. 15. The margin of error is plus or minus three percent for state projections and five percent for regional calculation.

Insurance agents charged for ripping off elderly

By ADAM YEOMANS
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — A state wide crackdown on fraud against the elderly has made its first arrests.

Three insurance agents have been charged with ripping off elderly consumers, including one 89-year-old man who lost more than $80,000, state officials said.

More arrests are expected as the task force of state and local law enforcement authorities continues its probe of complaints from victims and family members, officials said.

"These are outrageous examples of licensed insurance agents abusing the elderly," Insurance Commissioner Tom Gallagher said in a statement. "These types of practices will not be tolerated and agents caught in the act will be put out of business and in jail."

Fraud investigators at the insurance department said the agents, working in teams of two, made false claims and used high-pressure sales tactics to sell insurance to elderly consumers.

Authorities arrested Margaret Ann Edwards of St. Petersburg Monday and charged her with grand theft and elderly abuse. Edwards was accused of defrauding an 89-year-old Ormond Beach man.

While going through the victim's insurance papers in 1991, Edwards discovered the man had $500,000 in municipal trust certificates, according to investigators. Edwards convinced him to give her power of attorney and gained control of his life savings.

Edwards, 34, wrongfully converted $81,528 for her own use, according to investigators.

She also was charged with violating state insurance laws for depositing $30,500 in premium checks on seven other policies into her personal bank account.

Authorities also arrested Michael Todd Garrett of New Port Richey and charged him with grand theft and securities violations.

Santa moves to Florida to escape the cold up North

By Associated Press

KISSIMMEE — Santa Claus moved to Florida to escape the cold weather, and while he loves to spread Christmas cheer he steers clear of shopping malls and "can't tolerate crying children."

Claus, 75, was born Winfred Eugene Holley and had his named changed to Santa Claus in 1981 because "the world needs a Santa Claus."

He makes appearances at schools, hospitals and nursing homes, passes out 160,000 candy canes a year and answers mail addressed to "Santa Claus, North Pole."

But Claus has a low opinion of parents who he says "freak" out their kids by sitting them on the laps of "derelicts" in Santa Claus.

Claus relocated to Kissimmee about a month ago from Utah. His sleigh is a red, 1964 Ford Galaxie 500 with a 390 cubic-inch Thunderbird engine.

"I love this little Ford," Santa Claus said. "I mean, it runs, nothing passes me." His personalized Utah license plate reads

"CLAUSS."

Santa is thinner in person than he looks in his photos. He weighs 165 pounds and stands 5 foot 10. His white beard and long white hair are thinning.

He wound up here because he has a daughter who lives in Melbourne. He considered living in nearby Christmas but found it too dull. Besides, Kissimmee has a Hooters restaurant with pretty waitresses, he adds.

He is divorced, so there is no Mrs. Claus. As a retired interior decorator, Santa is partial to red. He wears red long Johns, red suspenders, red pants and black boots with furry white cuffs. His rented two-bedroom apartment has red lamps, red pillows, a red desk and a red stapler.

Claus lives mostly on his pension and Social Security, and he receives piles of letters from children.

When he answers his door to scores of kids who come by for their candy canes, he recites the reindeer names to the children: "This is Dasher, Dancer, Prancer and Vixen, Comet and Cupid and Richard Nixon."

Shiny bikes for needy kids

Refurbishing done by firefighters

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Sanford Fire Department and Kiwanis Club of Sanford need bikes. Firemen are refurbishing them for Christmas gifts.

This project has been going on for five years. Representing the Kiwanis in the drive, as in the past, is A.A. McClanahan.

According to Assistant Fire Chief Ron Neal, "Our firefighters, on their off-times, are doing all of the work in getting these bikes back into working condition. Some of them need only cleaning or painting, while a few need major work."

Neal said some of the bikes, determined to be in unreparable condition, are being used as parts to repair better ones.

"When we finish," Neal said, "we'll be giving the bikes to Mr. McClanahan and the Kiwanis, and they have arranged through some social service organizations, to give them as gifts to youngsters who really need them."

Neal added, "If this goes as it has in the past, some of the bikes may be the only gift a child has for Christmas."

Several local merchants have gone beyond responding to the request for bikes no longer needed. They have donated a number of brand new bikes which will also be distributed.

McClanahan has been responsible for obtaining many of these new bikes, as well as a number of used ones, having gone almost door-to-door to ask for help in this annual project.

"We hope people will look around their homes and garages," Neal said, "and if they find a bike they no longer need, we wish they would either bring it by the main station at 1303 S.

French Avenue, or phone us if they need someone to come out and pick them up."

Elsewhere in the area, Seminole County Professional Fire Fighters are also seeking bikes to be given for Christmas gifts.

According to Tim Hickman, president of the SCPFFA, "We are asking for old, new, used or broken bicycles to be donated to our annual Christmas bicycle renovation program."

He explained, "Every year at Christmas time, the Seminole County Professional Fire Fighters renovates bicycles donated by individuals, business and community groups. The bikes are then distributed to needy children through community organizations in time for Christmas."

For information regarding the SCPFFA bike repair drive, phone 293-4519.

For information on the Sanford Fire Department bike project, contact the Sanford Fire Department at 322-4952.

Neal commented, "We hope people will do this as quickly as possible because our men have a lot of work to do in repairing some of these bikes and we need as much time as possible."

POLICE BRIEFS

Chase along tracks

Longwood police arrested Michael C. Grooms, 27, of Orlando on Monday. Police said they were called to a business in the 1100 block of C.R. 427 regarding a theft. When they arrived, they reported finding a store employee chasing a man identified as Grooms, down a railroad track near the business, where he had reportedly hidden a motorcycle. Grooms was apprehended and charged with grand theft. Police said he had attempted to take a backpack valued at $300 from the store without paying.

No driver license charged

John Von Hehn, 37, 7 W. Wylie Ave., Sanford was charged by city police with having no driver license and possession of drug paraphernalia. Police stopped him at 9th and Elm streets when they observed suspicious activity, according to the arrest report.

Domestic violence charged

William Steven Jones, 27, 4248 Rocky Ridge Place, Sanford, was arrested Tuesday evening on battery domestic violence and obstruction by disguise charges at a Fern Park hotel. Jones' girlfriend reported he pushed her to the floor of his residence, injuring her hip and arm. A Seminole County deputy reported Jones at first gave him a false name, then his real name after the deputy picked up a wallet with his social security card.

Shoplifting charged

Franklin Garret Harvey, 38, 1513 Meadowlark Ave., Longwood, was arrested Tuesday on a charge of shoplifting 26 packs of cigarettes from the Food Lion on South Orlando Drive in Sanford.

Warrant arrests made

The following wanted persons were taken into custody:

- Linda Marie Davis, 28, 1011 1/2 Holly Ave., Sanford, arrested at her home Tuesday morning on an aggravated battery warrant charge. According to the warrant information, Davis is charged with striking another woman on Oct. 18.
- Lisa Simpson Dobbs, 24, 900 E. Airport Blvd., Apt. 36, Sanford, arrested on a probation violation for a theft conviction.
- Wade Alan Garrett, 27, 208 E. 28th St., Sanford, served at the Seminole County jail with a battery charge.
- Janice Marie Jacques, 27, 817 Longdale Ave., Longwood, arrested on probation violation charges for drunken driving and battery convictions.

Crimes reported to authorities

The following incidents were reported to Seminole County deputies and Sanford police:

- A Lake Mary woman reported her 13-year-old daughter was sexually assaulted by three 14-year-old boys Sunday afternoon. The girl reported the boys knocked on her apartment door and invited her for a walk, with some coaxing, she did. The children walked around the rear of their apartment building and one of the boys suggested a game of dare. When she refused, one boy pushed her to the ground and the three took turns laying on her and fondling her, the girl reported.
- A money collar containing $179 was reported taken from a Bungalow Place residence in the 3200 block sometime between 8 a.m. Dec. 7 and 5:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Commending derby track organizers

Sanford's new Soap Box Derby track will come into play again this weekend. Both Saturday and Sunday, the city Parks and Recreation Department is hosting the First Annual Holiday Soap Box Rally.

Participants have signed up for the event from throughout Florida as well as from several other states. They see this as an opportunity to test their cars and driving skills, before the official Soap Box Derby trials in Sanford next July.

For the people of Sanford, it is another use of this new track. At the same time, it will be drawing visitors into the area both participants and spectators.

When the track was first built, there was concern that it was a waste of time and money. People said such a large track, used only one weekend a year, was a waste.

Parks and Recreation Director Mike Kirby is proving them wrong. He not only intends to hold this holiday event on an annual basis, he also has plans to put the track to additional use.

Kirby said possibly 40 or more cars will be entered in the competition this weekend. With a minimum of two adults per driver, the figures climb to 120. As the general public is invited, and other youngsters, still hopeful of building a car for next year will be on hand, the event could draw over 1,000 people.

Those from out of town will no doubt go home and remember Sanford and its Derby park. Anything which produces a good feeling is long remembered.

People who enjoy seeing youngsters having fun in competition should attend the event this weekend. Lend support to the continued use of this outstanding facility.

Kirby should be commended for promoting activities at Derby Park. He deserves our support.

Message of Christmas

As we ask the question, we'll receive many answers: Brilliant lights twinkling on Christmas trees pointed heavenward on lawns and in living rooms. Red ribboned wreaths on doorways and walls. Red-suited Santas tugging at the reins of sky-flying reindeer. Department stores crowded with struggling mobs on last minute shopping spree. Families gathered expectantly opening gifts of varied sizes, shapes and contents.

Others would add a touch of the religious: Carols trudging through suburban streets voicing their notes of joy on street corners and in shopping malls. Church choirs echoing cantatas in churches across the land. Others sitting quietly in the pews for midnight mass.

The picture is not yet complete: Ancient wise men pushing across the deserts, following a "guiding" star. Shepherds huddled in the fields, awakened by the angelic chorus, Christmas bells chiming joyfully in small white churches, and in stately cathedrals.

We ask, again, but what is Christmas all about? Amidst the clutter of holiday activities and festivities, we discover the focal and most meaningful point of all. Jesus of Nazareth was born in Bethlehem. Prophets and sacred writings spoke of Him as the Messiah, the Son of God, the one who would bring peace to men and nations. That peace would come as his teachings, his promises, his "gospel", would be translated into the hearts of mankind, changing their ways and thinking.

Changing men's hearts and attitudes is not easy. It means erasing their bickering and squabbling. It means learning to live together in brotherhood, understanding and fellowship. It means learning to live with forgiveness and compassion for those who differ from and with. We may be "hard put" to "change" our ways, but that is the most important message of Christmas. Christmas is not just another holiday. It is a time for celebrating God's gifts and promises to us, as given in the life and message of Jesus.

We need to capture the most important thought, that the Christmas spirit needs to find lodgement, not only in the hearts and minds, but also in our ethnic and political relationships. Peace in the world can only be achieved as Arab and Jew, Gentile and heathen, African and Asiatic, European and American, learn to live together and work together in harmony and respect.

Only as all the world learns to live and practice the message of the "Peacemaker of Nazareth," can they find fulfillment of the angelic promises: "Joy to the World, and on Earth, Peace, Good Will to All Mankind."

SATs failing to predict success

Reconcile these two facts: Women score 50 points below men on the math section of the infamous Scholastic Assessment Test. (The name of this test was recently revised; it was formerly the Scholastic Aptitude Test.)

But women form the majority of high school graduates, the majority of entering first-year college students and the majority of college graduates.

Wait, it gets better. For the first time in history, women won the majority of this year's Rhodes scholarships — 17 out of 32.

Apparently, the mathematical gap on the SAT between men and women doesn't inhibit female academic superiority.

Nor does the even wider gap between black and white students on the verbal and math sections of the SAT inhibit black dominance in basketball and football.

Here's the bittersweet irony. Blacks score significantly lower than whites — on the average — on the SAT. Yet black athletes are being admitted to prestigious schools in order to provide the muscles and skills to win basketball and football games. In turn, they generate millions of television dollars for education.

The paradox gets even worse. So many unjust NCAA regulations control athletes that a large group of black basketball coaches recently boycotted an NCAA national meeting. Instead, they met with members of the Congressional Black Caucus to protest the NCAA's racial injustices.

But these black coaches have got their academic priorities all screwed up. So have women.

If the system keeps you wearing second-class clothes, you can't become first class merely by changing your outer garments. Eventually, Eliza Doolittle mastered "The rain in Spain stays mainly in the plain." But she was still Eliza Doolittle.

On the math sections of the SAT, women are Eliza Doolittles because they score 50 points — on the average — lower than men.

Hoping to correct that inequity, educators have established a series of "for women only" math classes in three California schools.

The classes are so popular that they are expanding the number.

Despite the lack of evidence, separate classes are worth the experiment. Just as separate classes for young blacks may raise their self-respect and, subsequently, their level of achievement.

A few days ago, a national blue-ribbon panel called undergraduate education "a prescription for decline." They're right. But the "whole educational system is broke and needs to be fixed."

Consider the contradiction. If women score below men in math sections of the SAT, but are a majority of college graduates, and if blacks score way below whites on the SAT, but manage to survive academically and excel athletically, then isn't the SAT irrelevant as a predictor of college performance?

Of course it is. That's why it's time for America's parents to demand that tests which treat their daughters like second-class citizens be terminated.

Apparently, the mathematical gap on the SAT between men and women doesn't inhibit female academic superiority.

Drug lord killed by death squad?

WASHINGTON — According to high-level intelligence sources here, the killing of Colombian drug cartel kingpin Pablo Escobar Gaviria, 44, did not take place, as Colombian officials have reported, while trying to escape from a police unit. Rather Escobar was hunted down and killed by a semi-official death squad after his location was uncovered by U.S. drug and intelligence operatives using sophisticated spy technology.

For months, Escobar has been sought by a paramilitary death squad that has had semi-official standing. The group called itself "People Persecuted by Pablo Escobar" (PEPES), and it offered a huge reward for information leading to the death — not the arrest — of Escobar.

In Colombia, the exact makeup of PEPES has been the subject of much speculation. Intelligence sources here say it was sponsored and financed by members of the Cali cocaine cartel — the chief rivals of Escobar's Medellin cartel. It was made up of killers hired by the Cali cartel, members of the families of people slain by Escobar and the Medellin cartel, and by members of military and police units that had colleagues murdered by Escobar and his Medellin subordinates.

PEPES had only one mission: Hunt down and kill Escobar. Because of this, it was well known that Escobar feared PEPES much more than the regular police and military. He believed, for good reason, that the Colombian justice system could deal with him if he was ever captured. He was, in fact, in the midst of negotiating for his surrender, asking only that his family receive protection from other drug lords and asylum in another country.

According to intelligence sources here — and they are very familiar with the current situation in Colombia — the latter fact is critical in evaluating what happened to Escobar on the morning of Dec. 2.

According to the official Colombian version, early in the morning a Colombian anti-drug police learned that Escobar and one or more bodyguards were hiding in a house in Medellin. A raid was quickly organized. As a massive force of police swept into the house Escobar and a bodyguard fled to the roof. When they were cornered, the two tried to shoot it out with their pursuers, and both were shot dead.

Many in the intelligence community here don't buy that story.

"Pablo Escobar was not the you'll never take me alive" kind of guy," says one very knowledgeable intelligence source. "Heck, he had spent the past month trying to work out an agreement to give himself up, and his first concern was not what was going to happen to him, but his wife and kids. The only thing that would have sent him fleeing to the roof in his underwear clutching a gun would have been that he recognized all or part of the raiders as PEPES, and he knew they were there to kill him and not arrest him."

When asked to comment, even off the record, sources within the Drug Enforcement Administration only smile and stick to the official story. On the record they freely admit Escobar was located through the use of U.S. "technical means," but other intelligence sources say that Escobar's location was discovered after he had made several phone calls to his family during his surrender negotiations. The calls were monitored and traced through the use of some of the most modern U.S. spy technology, almost certainly operated by specialists from the super-secret National Security Agency, which operates all our nation's most sophisticated spy satellites and electronic bugging apparatus.

"The equipment they had on the ground in Medellin was absolutely state-of-the-art," says the same intelligence source. "It is not the kind of stuff you loan to local governments, no matter how friendly. It is also the kind of equipment that does not work in a vacuum. You have to have a pretty good idea where you are looking even in a city as small as Medellin. That means top-flight satellite work and big computers to crunch a lot of data to separate one call from another."

The almost universal opinion surfacing within the intelligence community is that when the U.S. intercept pinpointed Escobar's location, the information was passed along to PEPES with the knowledge of Colombian authorities. The last thing the government in Bogota wanted was Pablo Escobar back in jail and then on-trial.

"This was the way to do it," says the Washington source. "It was an execution, and one that was long overdue."

It was an execution, and one that was long overdue.

Shuttle mission may have saved science programs

WASHINGTON — The recent success of the space shuttle Endeavour was one small step for NASA and one giant step for government-funded science.

Or as one White House science adviser exclaimed: "It was a home run for our team, science and technology."

Had the Endeavour mission failed to repair the Hubble Space Telescope, funding for an array of programs, including the $40 billion space station, might have suffered. There was more riding on the mission than met the eye.

"The fact that NASA has the ability to do things right will help us greatly," said the White House adviser. "When one sees that one of our most important science and technology agencies has a will to live, this will invigorate sciences and technology bureaucracies everywhere."

Now it's back to earth time for the administration's science scholars, particularly a reserved nuclear physicist named John Gibbons. When President Clinton presented him last Christmas Eve as his new science adviser, he touted him as a "brilliant scientist and gifted administrator." Gibbons' success or failure, however, may turn on how tough of a turf fighter he proves to be.

When Gibbons took over, he immediately issued government-wide directives ordering program administrators to identify every cent of every dollar being spent to support research, and categorize it in one of 10 pre-set subject areas. In an Aug. 17 White House memo to every Cabinet secretary, Gibbons identified the 10 areas, ranging from "manufacturing" and "energy supply and demand" to "food and fiber production."

Gibbons is picking a fight with the goliath of government: the Pentagon. The biggest news in the memo may be the demotion of defense-related research, which is mentioned in the memo as category six — "national security." During the Cold War, more than 60 percent of all government-funded R&D was military-related. Under Clinton and Gibbons, defense goes on a diet while every other category is updated in importance.

As agencies draft their lists, Gibbons is getting a lesson in Bureaucratic Overlap 101. As we first reported last month, Clinton recently announced plans to create a new National Science and Technology Council to implement his new agenda across the government. This reorganization may prove more daunting than the Manhattan Project.

For example, one of the subheadings in the White House memo asks agencies to list any money being spent for "Global Change" research, such as greenhouse gasses and global warming. To Gibbons' surprise, he found that no fewer than 11 government agencies are currently engaged in "Global Change" research — at an annual cost of about $1.5 billion. While the bulk of this money goes to NASA, the federal government has doled out dollars to the Departments of Agriculture, Defense, Health and Human Services, the Tennessee Valley Authority and even the Smithsonian Institution.

Gibbons next step was to force each agency to prioritize its research, enabling the Clinton administration to cancel some programs altogether while boosting others. This is what's giving fits to some bureaucrats. The various departments of government have been ordered to finish setting priorities by February so the cutting may begin — with the steepest changes slated for the Fiscal Year 1996 budget. So far, the bureaucracy is balking.

There was more riding on the mission than met the eye.

Murder

Goungo, 43, said, "I just couldn't believe it. We had our problems but when she did something, she'd explain it."

The defense claims Goungo blanked out after he saw his wife in a car with Rivera. Goungo said prior to his planned meeting with Ferrer Feb. 4, he consumed six to nine beers, smoked five to six marijuana joints in a convenience store parking lot then snorted cocaine in a Lake Mary movie theater bathroom.

Goungo said after he spotted Ferrer in a car with her cousin driving into Lake Mary Centre, he remembered nothing until he reached Jacksonville. He said he didn't realize his gun had been fired until he was in Virginia.

Witnesses testified Goungo blocked the pair's car in their parking space, walked over and fired three shots into the car, two bullets struck Ferrer, then briefly chased Rivera. The defendant then got into his car, left the parking lot and traveled east on Interstate 4.

The defendant testified he came to Florida to interview for a trucking job his former wife told him about and planned to discuss their problems while delivering a check to Ferrer from her former employer, Ferrer agreed to meet Goungo in a public place Feb. 3, when he arrived after driving 20-hours from Rochester to a motel near Sanford. After having drinks, Goungo said the couple went to his hotel and had sex. Afterward, he said Ferrer told him she was confused and left New York because she had an affair on a trip to Puerto Rico.

The defendant said the handgun he purchased in a fast food parking lot in Rochester was for protection if he resumed his trucking career, not to kill his former wife. He said he quit trucking after he was assaulted and robbed in July 1990.

Psychologist Eric Mings testifying for the defense said after conducting tests on Goungo it was possible that the defendant blanked out the shooting incident.

The jury began deliberating after closing arguments this morning.

video movie tapes and electronic game cartridges without paying for them. Orange County investigators reported one distributor has lost $30,000 to the man for similar activities in Orlando.

John William Deter, 30, 12 Carriage Cove, Sanford, was arrested in his 3757 S. Orlando Dr. store Wednesday on two charges of scheming to defraud and two charges of grand theft. He was taken to the Seminole County Jail on $2,000 bond. He was also held for Orange County investigators on two arrest warrants, each charging him with scheming and grand theft.

The ownership of the store is vague. Gretchen Mason of the Sanford occupational license office, said Deter applied for a business license transfer Aug. 19 in his name. On Dec. 6, he returned with the $3 payment, but submitted an application which had his name whited out and the name of Leticia Rios listed as the owner, but signed "Leticia Deter." Police say Leticia Rios is his present wife.

According to arrest reports, Deter was arrested after a Roadway Package Systems deliveryman complained he had tried unsuccessfully to collect $4,118 for two November shipments. With each delivery, the RPS driver said Deter gave him a check predated Sept. 2, which was not noticed at first.

Only after receiving the second check, the RPS driver reported he noticed the date and the "Void after 30 days" written on back.

When he went to collect on the valueless checks, the deliveryman reported Deter told him he was only a clerk and he would have to talk to owner. When he returned, the deliveryman said Deter told him the merchandise was at "the other store."

The deliveryman contacted police and subsequently identified Deter as the man accepting the shipments.

Each check was written on an account for Deter and his ex-wife Pam Deter, closed since June 1992. Investigators found the name "John Deter" and the address were marked out, leaving only the name "Pam Deter" exposed. The checks were signed in the woman's name.

Investigators from Orange

County alleged Deter used a similar check-alteration method in Orange County to Deter's USA Video store in Orlando. One distributor was out $30,000. Sanford investigators were told.

In a separate Sanford case, a California company reported they shipped movies totaling $7,356 to the Video Review store in Sanford to a "Bob Smith." Company officials reported the man identified himself as the manager for the former owner of Video Review, who had opened the account with them.

The deliveries were made COD, but no payment was received. After payment was demanded, they were refused. A United Parcel Service driver identified Deter as the man signing delivery receipts as "Bob Smith."

"Ticket to anywhere," for the attorney, who is often called out of town on other business.

For those in attendance, he gave the following:

• Commissioner A.R. "Doc" Jore — Pictures of both an old fire truck and a new unit, in keeping with Jore's persistence in questioning why the old unit was no longer servicable.

• Commissioner David Meador — who has served on the commission as representative of two separate districts, was given a campaign poster with blocks to be checked off, identifying Meador as running for office in either city, county, or state elections, and as a Democrat or Republican.

• Mayor Lowry Rockett — A gold record — with a tape recording of the Mayor (supposedly) singing "Happy Birthday to You, Lake Mary."

• Commissioner George Duryea, who has spoken often on basketball and tennis court needs of the citizens. Santa gave a basketball and tennis racket, challenging Duryea to try playing tennis with such a large ball.

• Commissioner Gary

Brender, a resident of Timacuan, was given a flappy duck wind display for his front lawn.

• City Manager John Litton, who was described as having everything, was given an official city car sticker. Litton, who recently purchased a BMW, is often teased about the city manager's city vehicle.

When he first arrived, Santa commented that he again had trouble landing his sleigh along Lake Mary Blvd. "Last year we ran into a drainage ditch and the road was not fully paved and a real mess," he said.

"This year, I kept running into all of those trees in the median, and kept getting squirted with water from the sprinklers. Won't you people ever get that road finished?"

Santa's appearance was applauded by the commission and citizens. He has made his annual visit to the commission meetings just prior to Christmas for many years.

Shortly after Santa left, Parks and Recreation Director John Holland, who had been absent from the meeting, entered the chambers and took his city staff seat.

room to handle approximately 3,000 more students than we have now."

Lake Mary Elementary School is to go on the Multi-Track operation this coming summer.

Kramer had been asked to give a school report at the request of the City Commission. "In the very near future," said Mayor

Lowry Rockett, "we will be adding possibly three new residential subdivisions, and there will be a population density change in part of Timacuan."

Rockett told Kramer it could amount to 700 to 800 new homes within the next few years.

Commissioner Gary Brender added, "There are also two other communities being planned, and Lake Mary has about 150 acres of additional land zoned residential, which is still developable. Within the next three to five years, we could have possibly 2,000 more homes in Lake Mary."

Kramer said the school board has investigated ten sites in the surrounding area for a place to put a school. "What we are trying to do," she said, "is locate elementary schools in as safe a neighborhood as possible. The problem at times," she added, "is that some people in these neighborhoods don't want a school."

"One thing we will have to consider, is the impact the Seminole Towne Center Mall may have on the area," Kramer continued. "That may open up new avenues for schools in the Lake Mary and nearby areas."

She also commented that sites had been investigated near the Crossings.

Petition

Currently, state inmates serve only about 40 percent of their time because of prison overcrowding, and more than half of those released early commit crimes and are put back behind bars again.

"I think the numbers are closer to 18 percent," Harriett said. "Prisoners are getting automatic gain time at a very rapid rate."

STOP, which is made up of law enforcement officials and victim's rights advocates, seeks to collect signatures of 430,000 registered voters over the next eight months to get the measure on the November 1994 ballot.

"Our first goal is to get 43,000 signatures statewide to bring the matter before the state Supreme Court," Harriett said. "After we reach that goal, we will move on to the next goal of getting it on the ballot."

Harriett said that if each of Florida's 67 counties is able to collect 1,000 signatures, there will be no problem in reaching the first goal set by the group.

"We need to recognize the fact there are evil people out there and those evil people need to be taken off our streets and kept off," said U.S. Sen. Connie Mack, who was among the first to sign the petition at a news conference Thursday.

The Department of Corrections currently has space for about 52,000 inmates. In May, lawmakers met in special session and approved building 6,780 more beds at a cost of $211 million. Corrections officials say it would take yet another 14,665 beds at a cost of $293 million to end early releases by 1996.

PD, Planned Development. They had announced plans to build a multiple-family residential community with 379 dwelling units. Plans called for units to be up to two and three story units.

Rich Holiday, with Rich and Associates, Winter Park, presented the proposal to the commission during the regular meeting. He explained studies which have been made, and basic plans for development.

Controversy arose over access roads. The city staff had recommended two, one on Upsala Road, and the other on Elder Road.

A resident of Elder Road suggested the development of the community would be a detriment, because of traffic on the roadway, which she described as merely a one lane dirt road.

Holiday responded, "Our plan, at present, does not call for an access on Elder Road. Staff wanted the second access and the developer will do improvements for another one later, but there will be no access to Elder

Silver Hawks still perfect

Lake Howell cagers run winning streak to 15 games

By DEAN SMITH
Herald Sports Writer

OVIEDO — Maybe there was a prevailing wind. Whatever it was, the team that was shooting at the goal on the south end of the Oviedo High School gymnasium during Thursday night's Seminole Athletic Conference clash between the Oviedo Lions and visiting Lake Howell Silver Hawks had a big lead.

With Lake Howell running south end in the first half, the No. 1 State-ranked Silver Hawks looked awesome in taking a 41-19 halftime lead, holding the host Lions to only four field goals on 33 attempts.

But in the second half, Oviedo got the proverbial basket and made a game out of it, outscoring Lake Howell 34-22 in the closing 16 minutes. Still, the undefeated Silver Hawks were able to hold on for a 54-41 victory.

Oviedo has a nice team, said Lake Howell coach Dennis Conroy. They're aggressive and physical without getting dirty.

Lake Howell has a number one streak 15 games, while taking command of the SAU with a 3-0

FIFA ruling may give U.S. an easier draw

By RONALD BLUM AP Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS — Thanks to FIFA, the United States should have an easier time advancing to the second round of next summer's World Cup.

Soccer's governing body on Thursday changed the rules for Sunday's World Cup draw, ensuring that the United States, which went 0-3 in 1990, will have to play only one of the world's top 11 teams in the first round.

"By getting seeded No. 1, we already don't have to play the five strongest teams," U.S. Soccer Federation president Alan Rothenberg said, adding the new rules were "even better."

Under the old rules, teams were ranked based on their performance in the 1982, 1986 and 1990 World Cups, with the host nation and defending champion getting automatic seeds. Because strong teams such as the Netherlands played badly or didn't even qualify for recent World Cups, some top teams would have been in the bowl for third-ranked nations. Instead, all of Europe's strong non-seeded teams are together in the same bowl. The United States, coming from the bowl of seeded teams, won't have to play another seeded team and will play only one from the bowl with the next-best six. The changes left the bowls for the draw as follows:

Bowl One: Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, Italy and the United States.

Bowl Two: Bolivia, Cameroon, Colombia, Mexico, Morocco and Nigeria.

Bowl Three: Bulgaria, Ireland, Netherlands, Romania, Russia and Spain.

Bowl Four: Greece, Norway, Saudi Arabia, South Korea, Sweden and Switzerland.

FIFA general secretary Joseph Blatter said the rule changes ensure that teams from the same continent won't be in the same group, except for Europe, which provides 13 of the 24 teams. There will be one group with three European teams and five with two.

Seminole

"It was like a homecoming game," said Seminole head coach John McNamara. "Several players who graduated from Seminole and Lake Mary, like Kay Kay Mullins and Karen Morris, were here. It was good to see them again, but it was especially good to win. It was a good week after a couple of bad ones."

Tennisista Enson had her third straight 20-point game, tallying 21 to lead the Tribe to their seventh victory against eight losses. Mdee Hampton also was in double figures, scoring 10.

"We basically went with six people and they all contributed," said McNamara. "The individual totals among steals, rebounds and assists were all bunched together, no clear cut leader. It was a nice balance."

McNamara gave special credit to Belinder Morgan, who scored one point and had three steals, but keyed a Seminole defense that came up with 20 steals.

"The six girls all played a real good game, but in my mind Morgan was the key," said McNamara. "She forced a lot of turnovers by dogging people. She had the least number of steals, but she probably caused most of them. She would tie people up and they would float a pass and someone else would get the steal."

Dawn Ferguson led the Rams, 3-8 overall, 0-5 in the SAC, with 17 points. Diane Duber chipped in with 10.

Both teams are off until Wednesday, Dec. 29, when they will both join SAC conference member Lake Brantley in the four-team Titusville-Astronaut Holiday Tournament. Seminole will take on the Patriots at 1 p.m. while Lake Mary will face host Astronaut at 2:30 p.m.

Perfect

With his team seemingly out of sync and losing the momentum, Crodery went to the four-corner offense with 5:00 left in the game.

The move looked to be the right one as Oviedo was unable to take the ball away from the Silver Hawks guard duo of Kelly Kohn and Deanna Graves, forcing the Lions to foul.

But Lake Howell was unable to put the game away at the foul line, missing five straight free throws, including the front end of three one-and-one's, allowing Oviedo to get closer.

Finally, Kohn hit two free throws with 0:31 left and time ran out on the Lions.

"I had to do what I did [go to the four-corners] because we weren't scoring and we were getting in foul trouble," said Crodery.

not give up many good chances to score, but we have to work on our scoring."

Lyman outshot Lake Brantley 14-5 and had six corner attempts to four for the Patriots. Lewis had two saves in goal, while Sean Seaver turned away six shots for Lake Brantley.

Despite the loss Patriots head coach Jim Brody praised his team's play.

"It was a typical Seminole Athletic Conference game," said Brody. "We lost, but we probably played our best game this year all through match. We're just a little off from where we want to be. It took a great shot to beat us. The only place he had to make the shot was at the top corner and he put it right in the 90."

The Greyhounds improved to 6-3-1 overall and 3-2 in the SAC, while Lake Brantley fell to 7-5-1 overall and 3-1-1 in the conference.

Both teams are scheduled to play Gainesville tomorrow (Saturday). Lake Brantley at noon and Lyman at 6 p.m.

SILVER HAWKS BLANK LIONS

WINTER PARK - Jacob Zosky recorded his second consecutive shutout, and fourth of the season, as the Lake Howell Silver Hawks whitewashed the Oviedo Lions 2-0 in a Seminole Athletic Conference matchup at Richard E. Evans Field Thursday night.

The Silver Hawks took a 1-0 halftime lead on a Dean Shields goal after a pass from Ben McKeuby with 21:18 on the clock.

Avoid the 'overkill syndrome'

How to use common items in uncommon ways

One of the mistakes common to the season is referred to as the "overkill syndrome". We tend to "over" eat, "over" spend, and "over" commit our limited resources often to the point of genuine regret.

This year, try a new strategy to avoid overkill. Aim at investing resources in quality rather than using up resources to produce quantity. An investment uses present resources with the goal of returning resources to the investor's future.

Try directing the talents of family members toward one exceptional tradition for the home each year and over time these investments will build. Such projects do not need to be expensive or time consuming. Many times the major effort comes in thinking through the project realistically to be sure that it has lasting value and uses and appropriate amount of resources given its contribution to the overall holiday festivities. Many times the joint family effort in producing such an item becomes an important family tradition in its own right!

Be creative with what you have — use common items in uncommon ways. Group candles together — all shapes, sizes and colors and arrange the tall ones in the back, cascading to the smaller ones in the front. Mix colors of candles or stick to one color. Tie Christmas bows at the stem of each candle.

CONSUMER FOCUS

BARBARA HUGHES/GREGG

Place a basket of cones and greenery near the fireplace. Apples and oranges can be added for color and an old fashioned Christmas feeling. Lights placed on the inside perimeter of the basket create interesting shadows.

Decorate a chandelier. As the light source is already there just trim the fixture with greens or ornaments. Use colored chandelier bulbs to blend in with your festive decorating scheme. Wrap the arms and cordles of your chandelier with velvet ribbon and secure sprigs of holly at the base of each candle or hang your favorite ornaments on the arms of the fixture and let them dangle down.

Don't forget mirrors, clocks and salver trays that can be festively framed with holly, evergreen cones and lights. Just be careful not to over decorate.

Use children's toys to hold arrangements. Fill a red wagon with logs, fresh greenery and apples and tie a bow on the handle. Decorate a rocking horse with a garland around its neck. Place dolls dressed in Christmas dresses in a baby chair or rocker or load a small truck with nuts, cinnamon sticks, or candy canes tied with bright plaid bows.

Try using inexpensive Christmas ornaments to make festive placecards, party favors and centerpieces.

Fill bowls with unusual items. Get magnolia leaves and polish them and place them in a silver bowl with mixed red and gold Christmas balls.

Take the family scrapbook off of the shelf and put it out where family members can look through it. The holidays can give us a time where we can reflect on happy memories and give thanks for what we do have.

Baskets are marvelous for Christmas decorating. They can be painted, trimmed with ribbon, shells, filled with flowers, shells, cones, soaps, candy, cheese, bread and jams. Use your creativity to create a unique arrangement by combining baskets in a grouping or feature one outstanding basket with a living plant. If plants are used, place a liner in the basket to prevent damage to furnishings.

Senior Citizens install officers

Adoption info better late than never

DEAR ABBY: I was 61 when I learned that I had been adopted as an infant by a couple who gave me a wonderful home.

When I contacted my birthmother, who was 86 at the time, her first response was, "I am not the person you are looking for!" Her family had never known that she had given up a baby for adoption. I had been taken from her as an infant because she was unmarried and, in those days, her parents would not have allowed her to bring her baby to their home because it would have "besmirched the family name."

Shortly after she was contacted, she said she wanted to see me. That first meeting was traumatic for both of us. You see, I was born on her birthday — so yes, she thought of me often. The end result is that I consider myself a very fortunate person, and this very dear birth mother has taken nothing away from my loving adopted family.

My advice to "Just Another Adopted Kid" is to make an effort to locate your birth family. Consult a lawyer and be prepared for a long search, and also be prepared to find out that the birth family may not be all that you had hoped for.

And to all those birth mothers who have decided that they want no contact, please reconsider. You were wonderful to have made the decision to give us a better life than you could provide at the time. Now, please give us the rest of the story. You may use my name.

BETTY BERGSTROM, PORTLAND, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl. Last summer, during a heat spell, I decided to sleep in the nude. That was the first time I was able to sleep soundly and comfortably on a hot summer night. Sleeping in the nude proved so comfortable that as the weather got colder, I just added an extra blanket or two and I was plenty warm.

My problem is my mom. She found out I was sleeping in the nude by asking why there were no nightgowns in the laundry. When I told her, she went ballistic! She insists that sleeping in the nude is immoral and immodest.

Maybe I'm wrong, but I cannot fathom how sleeping in the nude is immoral or immodest. Using my mom's logic, taking a bath or a shower in the nude is indecent. Please help me. Maybe she will listen to you.

NUDE SLEEPER IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR NUDE SLEEPER: Tell your mom that Abby said sleeping in the nude is neither immoral nor indecent. (I suggest you keep a robe handy in case of fire, earthquake or a quick trip to the bathroom.)

Legalize drugs? More die from legal drugs than illegal use

DEAR READERS: Once again we have heard the tired old pronouncement from some medical "experts" that the drug laws in America are the cause of our drug problems and that legalization, taxation, and regulation of the drug supply will lead to reduction in drug-related problems.

While we have gone to enormous public expense to pass laws to protect ourselves and our children from chemicals that poison our water, food and air, toxic chemicals such as heroin and cocaine that destroy mental ability and personal health, lead to antisocial behavior and retard or destroy maturation and learning in children are thought by these people to be acceptable.

As noted, educator Richard Hawley has said, "If substances that do not pack a pleasurable payoff were to wreak the kinds of health and social behavior that psychoactive drugs have done over the past 30 years, we would arise as one to banish the culprits."

What begins as a choice to use these pleasure-inducing, toxic chemicals becomes an irresistible need in the user to repeat the drug-taking experience. There should be no legal right to toxic drug use as a form of self-destruction.

DRUG COUNSELOR

We must learn the lessons that history teaches or we are doomed to repeat them. Throughout history we have seen that legalization of any drug causes it to be used by a larger percentage of the population. The years of the greatest drug use by young people (1960s and '70s) followed the relaxation of drug laws in many areas of this country.

By the early '80s, parents, educators and medical professionals began a unified opposition to drug experimentation and use. States began to reclaim their "decriminalization laws and efforts toward drug abuse prevention in schools, workplaces and the military increased.

Never has a legally accessible drug been used by a smaller percentage of the population.

Ask any doctor who has delivered a "cocaine baby" whether drug use is a victimless crime. The legally available drugs, alcohol and nicotine, each kill more people and cause more pathology than all currently illegal drugs combined.

Traffic crashes caused by people under the influence of alcohol and other drugs is the number one cause of violent death in America, and Fetal Alcohol syndrome is the largest preventable cause of mental retardation in children. Chemicals that destroy brain cells, impair reason and judgment, and impede social and emotional maturity, are harmful to children whether the chemical is ingested by the child or the caregiver. If other toxic and more powerful psychoactive drugs were to become legally available, use of these substances would inevitably increase among our young people.

LET US REPLENISH THE SEED OF FAITH THROUGH ... Regular Church Attendance

A HAVEN FOR THE HUNGRY

In many cities nationwide, there exists havens for the hungry — shelters where individuals volunteer their services preparing nourishing meals for those who, for various reasons, are unable to nourish themselves.

The hungry are a potpourri of the less than elite, many of whom are representative of those who were recently more than self-sufficient. Yet, it has been said that life is not always fair, but God is. Ultimately, are we not all kindred souls in search of the meaning and manna to strengthen us as we travel unpredictable paths?

Then how wonderful there is another haven — a shelter for hungry spirits where all are welcomed and encouraged. God has promised us in Matthew 5:6, "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied." Visit our Father's sanctuary this Sabbath and experience the sustenance only He can provide.

Doors, hearts opened in celebration of Jesus birth

By KELLEY MITCHELL
Herald Staff Writer

As the birthday of our Lord Jesus Christ nears, the excitement of the season fills the hearts, and churches, of the communities throughout Central Florida.

The following is a list of special activities and services provided by local congregations.

● Experience the "True Christmas" event at Holy Cross Lutheran Church on Dec. 19 from 4-9 p.m. as members of the congregation recreate the city of Bethlehem as it was when Mary and Joseph walked its streets. The experience is completely authentic from registering with the tax collector to a meal of camel stew. Children will make crafts and play games from the period as they stroll the streets. Everyone will have the opportunity to dress in Bethlehem attire and watch the live Nativity.

For more information, call Pastor Paul Hoyer at 333-0797.

● First United Methodist Church will offer two services on Christmas Eve.

There will be a special service for kids and kids at heart at 4 p.m. Young and old will celebrate the Christmas story through carols, scripture, and drama. The pre-school, children's and bell choirs will be featured.

A birthday cake for the baby Jesus will follow in the courtyard.

A traditional Candlelight Service will be held at 8 p.m. Communion will be celebrated in regeneration, chancel and bell choirs will provide special music.

Nursery for children two years and younger will be provided at both services.

For more information, call 322-4371.

● The annual Christmas Eve Service at St. James A.M.E. Church, 9th Street and Cypress Avenue, will begin at 7 p.m. Dec. 24, in the main sanctuary of the church.

This year's message will be delivered by the Rev. Dennis Bell, pastor of Ward Chapel A.M.E., Winter Park.

The community is invited to attend this inspirational service.

● First Presbyterian Church, Park Avenue and

3rd Street, will present the Christmas story in music, scripture and a live action Nativity on Sunday, at 7 and 8 p.m.

Bring a lawn chair or sit in the care on Park Avenue for either presentation.

Refreshments after each performance will be served in Fellowship hall.

On Dec. 24, a service of Lessons and Carols will begin at 6:30 p.m. with music and a Lesson from 7-8 p.m.

Then on Dec. 27, senior high members will leave for the Keys to enjoy their annual winter retreat.

Bruce B. Scott, pastor, Nancy L. Long, director of music and Bonnie G. Schumacher, director of Christian education.

● First Baptist Church, 861 E. SR 14, presents "A Sterling Christmas" on Friday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Dec. 19, at 6 p.m. Admission is free and nursery is provided.

For more information, call 339-3817.

● On Sunday, Dec. 19, the Adult Choir Ministry of Central Baptist Church, 3104 W. First St., will present the cantata, "Joy, The Gift of God" written by composer, Don Wytzen and under the direction of Jack M. Thomas, minister of music.

The Christmas story will be told thru beautiful music, narration and drama directed by Sherrill Thomas, beginning at 6 p.m.

The public is invited to worship.

● Christian Fellowship Church, 1000 Lake Mary Community Building, 260 N. County Club Rd., invites everyone to join them for their Community Candlelight Service on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. Choral selections, carols, reenactment of the Nativity scene by children and youth of the church will be part of the festivities.

For information, please call the Rev. A. Arthur Arvay at 323-3119.

● The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, 2525 Oak Ave., will have its annual Christmas dinner Sunday at 5:30 p.m. with the theme "Christmas Around the World."

The main entrée will be prepared at the church with salad, vegetables and desserts arranged.

Christmas Eve Candlelight service is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. and Christmas Day Festival Service will be held at 10 a.m.

Young members of First United Methodist Church Day Care, donned in their Christmas best, sang their little hearts out during Sunday service in honor of the birth of baby Jesus.

On Sunday, St. Stephen's Day, will be observed with services at 10:30 a.m.

December is known for the busiest month of the year. To some it means gifts, friends, relatives, feasts, sharing with others and fellowship. If this does not apply to you, the Sanford Church of God invites you to come and fellowship with the congregation.

A new ministry will begin on Sunday, Dec. 26. Kevin and Sarah Picklesimer will begin a singles ministry at 9:45 a.m. All singles are invited.

Sanford Church of God will hold its Christmas Dinner on Sunday, Dec. 19, at 6 p.m. in the gymnasium. The meal will be furnished. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish, desert and drinks - enough for your family plus.

For more information, call the church at 322-9442.

● On Christmas Sunday, Dec. 19, beginning at 10:45 a.m., Christ United Methodist Church, 408 Tucker Dr., will present its Sanctuary Choir in a Christmas musical "Joyful and Triumphant."

Written by Bill and Robin Wolaver, this Christmas Cantata blends creatively arranged traditional Christmas music with contemporary new pieces in a way that leaves the listener feeling the true meaning of Christmas.

The choir is directed by Jan Korgan and the narration will be provided by Robert Bruce.

On Christmas Eve at 8 p.m., a unique dramatic presentation "The Stable Restless" will provide a mix of drama and song as Shiny the Shepherd invites the congregation to relive the events surrounding Christ's birth and the effect it had upon his life. The service will conclude with Candlelight Communion.

For more information, please call 322-7900.

Get help now for drug addiction

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm divorced, 40 years old, and the sole support of my two children. About four years ago after taking a second job, a friend gave me some methamphetamine (speed) as a pick-me-up so I could make it through the long days. At first it was a miracle drug because it gave me so much energy, but now I am still snorting it on a daily basis and am unable to stop. I find when I'm not on it, I sleep constantly and my body aches as though I have the flu. Can you give me some helpful suggestions on how to kick this habit? I cannot involve my employer, insurance, or local support groups because I will lose my jobs.

DEAR READER: The amphetamine drugs are addictive. When a person temporarily discontinues such drugs, he or she goes through withdrawal and experiences many of the symptoms you describe. Amphetamines, except by prescription for specific disorders such as narcolepsy, are illegal.

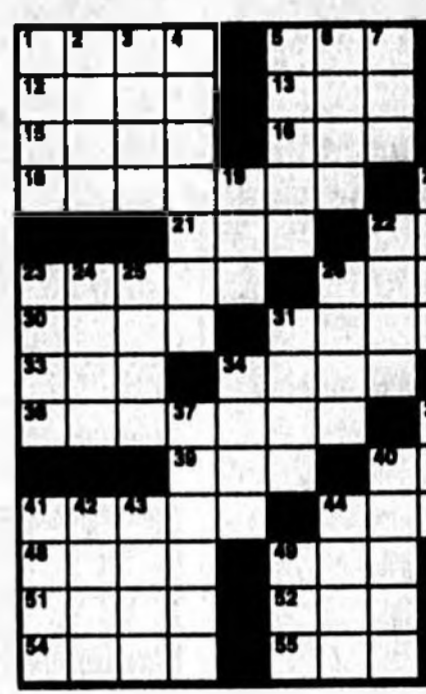

You appear to have developed an addiction, for which professional attention is necessary. If you continue to abuse amphetamines, you'll eventually suffer serious medical consequences, including heart disease and impaired brain functioning.

Therefore, I urge you to seek help, either from a physician, a municipal health department or a 12-step recovery program, such as Narcotics Anonymous, all of which can assist you in overcoming your addiction. The place to start is with your family physician who, while keeping your "secret" confidential, is aware of the anti-addiction resources in your community.

Your first mistake was to take the drug offered by a friend; don't compound this by avoiding the help you need. It is possible for you to obtain assistance without your family, employer or friends learning about your problem. By delaying this decision, you are risking much more because, in time, your health will suffer and your addiction will become obvious, at a stage that may be too late for successful therapy.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder
Despite Ambrose Bierce's claim that opportunity is a favorable occasion for grasping a disappointment, we must, at the bridge table, search for every opportunity to bring home our contract. Even when things look grim, there might be one faint chance to snatch success from the vise of vanquish.

Today's deal occurred during the Australian National Women's Team Championship. At both tables, West led the diamond ace against four spades. Leading the ace from A-K is standard in Australia, and it is moving into the ascendancy in North America too. Seeing dummy's singleton, West switched to a trump at trick two.

The first declarer won in the dummy, played off her A-K of hearts and ruffed a heart in the dummy, hoping to drop Q-J-x.

Now, though, South had no immediate side-suit hand entry. She led the club queen from the dummy, hoping whoever won the trick wouldn't have a trump left. However, East played low, allowing West to win with the king and return another spade. Declarer had to lose four tricks: one heart, two diamonds and one club.

The second declarer, Barbara Travis, saw that the heart possibility could wait. There was another prospect to try first. At trick three, Travis led a diamond to her queen. West won with the king and returned another trump. Winning in the dummy, declarer ruffed a diamond. Suddenly dummy's diamond nine was a winner. Travis cashed the A-K of hearts, ruffed a heart in the dummy and discarded her last heart on the diamond nine. Beautifully spotted!

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Dec. 18, 1993
Your chart indicates you could have greater order and stability in your life in the year ahead than you have had for some time. Difficult developments will seem to sort themselves out with little help from you.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In situations where you put your destiny in the hands of your faith, desirable end results are likely today. Trust in what you believe and not in what circumstances appear to be. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Two friends could play enormously important roles in your affairs over the next few days. One of these individuals helped you make a dynamic, positive change in the past.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)

Your desires for material accumulation could be rather strong today, but you won't be looking for something for nothing. You'll be truly entitled to what you get.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In addition to your aptitude for detail today, you'll also have another dimension that should serve you well. It's your ability to see something in its entirety.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't be overly anxious today regarding matters that affect your material well being. What's presently stirring will make you feel pretty secure when revealed.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you might be required to make a decision that affect others as well as yourself and could have far reaching effects. Fortunately, your judgment should be more astute than usual.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Go all out today, because your efforts will not go unacknowledged by persons who are pertinent to your present plans. Once you gain their respect, they will become allies.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Imitation is the sincerest form of flattery and today you might be a bit surprised when someone you thought disliked you starts doing everything your way.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something in which you're presently involved could produce a much larger payoff than you anticipate. Start examining this endeavor from a more optimistic base.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Generally speaking, you should be able to get along rather well with just about everyone today. However, you are likely to be more dynamic dealing with people on a one-to-one basis.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Materially and financially your prospects continue to look encouraging. Today, however, your rewards may come only from special work or service you perform.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Persons you know socially could prove to be rather lucky for you today, especially in situations where you need their help to open doors you can't on your own.
