Reed Backers Frown Upon Religious Intolerance As Party Issue For Next Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Apr. 19.—(INS)—Religious intolerance within the Democratic party so far as the followers of Senator James A. Reed are concerned will not be a party issue in the campaign of 1928, Missouri leaders of the party stated here today.

Following the widespread comment on Governor Al Smith's reply to the Marshall letter in Atlantic Monthly, Senator Reed's friends here today were pointing to the telegram the senator sent the Young Democrats Jefferson Club last Wednesday night to show that other than religious issues would form the nucleus of the pre-convention campaign.

"The Democratic party should set its face against every form of religious or race prescription," Reed's telegram said. "If America is to remain free, no man should be penalized in his private life or public relations because of his race or religion."

Backers of the Reed-for-president boom here stated "the great duty of the party is to rally to the old standards of democracy to destroy all sins, including factionalism, and to wage a nation-wide battle for restoration of the old-fashioned constitutional liberty as taught by Jefferson and the fathers of the Republic."

Senator Reed's telegram was not discussed in connection with Gov. Smith's candidacy until the reply to the Marshall letter was published.

INTERNAL ROW GIVES CHINESE MUCH CONCERN

Three Or More Governments Are Trying To Function As Several Big Powers Make Demands For Reparations

Many Raids Against Communists Staged

British Flagship Will Sail Up Yangtze As Further Protection Against Trouble

SHANGHAI, Apr. 19.—(INS)—China today is torn with internal dissension and threats from without.

While three Chinese governments—and perhaps more—are striving to function there are indications in Shanghai that the powers are preparing to make naval demonstrations to back up their demands for reparation for the Nanking incidents.

Chiang Kai Shek has created a new Nationalist government at Hankow, according to reports received here. This government is not a rival to the Nationalist government of Peking, of course, but is a separate government.

Meanwhile there are anti-Communist raids in a number of cities and indications that the commanders of the cities may elect to create their own governments, possibly in opposition to Chiang Kai Shek and the Hankow government.

The British flag-ship Hawkins is being made ready to depart up the Yangtze for an unknown destination which is believed to be Hankow. Other British, American, Japanese, Italian and French warships have already proceeded up the river. Officials remain silent, but there is a belief here that concentration of warships are being arranged at Nanking and Hankow to enforce the demands of the powers—which will be made anew in a second note of protest against the Nanking incident.

The American consul general at Hankow has chartered a British steamship to complete the evacuation of the Americans in that district owing to the growing seriousness of the situation.

Japanese field guns, which were hauled from Hankow at Hankow, have been planted at strategic points to defend the Japanese concession at Hankow.

The increasing nuisance at Hankow is causing departure of many Japanese.

Refugees crowded into hastily constructed camps on the hills in the flood-swept areas, and the danger of disease, shortage of water and food is constantly increasing.

The Red Cross, however, declared it was getting the situation in hand as rapidly as possible. Tents, medical supplies and clothing and even food was being distributed among the unfortunates in the stricken districts.

Women huddled their children around them in crude tents, sadly gazing in the direction of the stricken cities that once marked the site of their homes. Either the home was under several feet of water, or it was entirely swept away with furnishings and everything it contained.

Meanwhile, the male folk labored, many without assurance of pay, on the barrier protecting and imperfectly their homes and their warm lands. Thousands of sacks of cement and sand and gravel were used to "top" the levees and seal the stricken districts.

JUDGE PROBES Heated Battle Seen In Legislature Over Drainage Of Glades

Ford-Sapiro Libel Suit Is Postponed Pending An Investigation Of Serious Charges Against Woman

Ford Counsel Will Ask For A Mistrial

Sapiro Lawyer Causes Stir By Charging Ford Sleuths With Influencing The Jury

DETROIT, Apr. 19.—(INS)—The $1,000,000 Ford Sapiro libel suit was adjourned today until Thursday pending further investigation by Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond of serious charges against a woman juror in the case.

Official notice that a mistrial would be demanded as a result of the charges leveled at the woman juror was served on the court by Stewart Hanley, of Henry Ford's counsel.

The illness of Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford's attorneys, was cited by Hanley as an additional reason for the adjournment. The delay was granted by Judge Raymond.

William H. Gallagher, chief of Aaron Sapiro's counsel, created another stir by complaining to the court against the activities of Ford detectives in and about the courtroom. Gallagher said he had been informed that the Ford secret police were talking to jurors whether to learn their state of mind or to influence them, a claim unable to say.

When called upon by the court to produce some proof, Gallagher said he was without evidence necessary for formal action.

The possibility that a mistrial will be declared loomed strongly after the brief morning session. This would eliminate the two weeks of testimony taken so far in the libel case.

The charges against the woman juror, whose name was known but withheld at the direction of the court, were that she expressed strong opposition to Henry Ford. On one occasion, she was reported to have said she would "give Ford the limit" in the libel case.

A number of affidavits, reciting the juror's remarks, were filed with the court.

President Denies Rebuke Of Hoover

WASHINGTON, Apr. 19.—(INS)—President Coolidge today took steps to correct the impression that he had "rebuked" Herbert Hoover when he stated last week that Secretary of State Kellogg was not resigning, and that if he did resign Secretary Hoover would not be appointed to succeed him. Hoover's friends have been worthy over the manner in which the announcement was made.

In the regular press conference today, President Coolidge explained that he did not rebuke Hoover's abilities had been intended. The President explained that he considered the secretary of Commerce highly capable of filling any post in the cabinet, and that he had meant to convey only that Hoover's work in the Department of Commerce was too important to be dispensed with.

Many Drowned When Chinese Ship Burns

SHANGHAI, Apr. 19.—(INS)—Many Chinese were reported drowned today when the Chinese steamship Pengpu, carrying 2,000 Chinese civilians and 1,000 Chinese soldiers from Hankow to Shanghai, caught fire in the Yangtze River.

Panic followed and fear-stricken men, women and children leaped overboard and were drowned before the Pengpu could be moored. After the vessel had reached the bank, the flames were put out, but the ship was badly damaged. She left Hankow April 8.

BILL TO RESTRICT BANK LOANS NOW IN UPPER HOUSE

Senator Hodges Would Put Limit Of Ten Per Cent Of Aggregate Capitals As Money Available For Loans

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 19.—(INS)—A bill that would make it unlawful to loan over ten per cent of the aggregate capital or unimpaired surplus of any bank or trust company in the state was today introduced in the Senate by Senator W. C. Hodges of the eighth district as a means to decrease possible failures of banks.

The state passed a bill introduced by Senator Vagg authorizing the board of public instruction of Palm Beach county to procure a loan of not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of funding its outstanding floating indebtedness.

Senator Caro of the second senatorial district would make it possible for each county in the state through its board of county commissioners to provide for life and disability insurance for its employees, officers, and their deputies on a group insurance plan in a bill introduced today.

Senator Edgar W. Waybright, introduced a bill providing for more vehicles in the state to have liability insurance in order to furnish security for their civil liability on account of personal injuries that may be caused by the automobile or truck. To the extent of five thousand dollars.

In lieu of liability insurance, Waybright's bill would permit motorists to deposit with the state treasurer cash or bonds valued at $5,000 as security for any accidents they might have.

Seven justices of the supreme court instead of six at present was asked in a bill introduced by Representative Fred H. Davis in the House today.

A similar bill to that introduced in the Senate yesterday, requiring physical examination of all men for social diseases fifteen days before applying for licenses to marry was offered in the House today.

Senate And House Committees Both Pass Favorably On Bills With Martin's Plan

Watson And Weed Lead Opposition

Miami Deligation To Visit Capital In Effort To Defeat Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 19.—(INS)—The committee on drainage of both the House and the Senate reported favorably today on Governor John W. Martin's Everglades drainage bills, the first calling for authority to float a $20,000,000 bond issue and the second to authorize the Everglades drainage board to levy an ad valorem tax of any amount if necessary.

Heated discussion in both the House and Senate committees while the bills were being considered indicated that a bitter fight would probably arise on the floors of each branch when the bill comes up for second and third readings.

The Senate committee on drainage, after a meeting that lasted night for a public meeting at which time anyone who wishes to be heard will be given an opportunity to discuss any drainage bills that might be before the Senate at that time. The committee also decided to request the Senate today to set Friday noon as a special time for consideration of Governor Martin's two drainage bills.

Efforts on the part of Senator John Watson of Miami in the Senate and Representative Fred L. Weed of Dade county, in the House, to have last night's consideration of the administrative Everglades drainage bills deferred, until committees from Dade heard, failed, and it was decided by both committees to report the bills favorably.

Senator Watson, before the Senate committee last night, presented telegrams signed by various individuals, organizations and associations of Dade county asking that the committee meeting be postponed until a Dade county delegation could be heard. When he was met by the opposition of all of the other members of the committee, he withdrew the telegrams with the comment that the committee's action was "unfair to the persons who will have to pay the tax. Weede, in the House, asked for the meeting to be deferred for the same reason, and also met with defeat.

Some of Watson's telegrams, presented to the committee in his attempts to have the meeting deferred in order to permit a Dade delegation to be heard.

TOKYO, Apr. 19.—(INS)—Tightening of Japan's policy toward China was forecast today by the appointment as premier of Gen. Baron Gishu Tanaka, former minister of war and the president of the Seiyu-Kai, or opposition party.

Tanaka succeeds Heijiro Wakatsuki, who resigned with his cabinet when the privy council vetoed their relief of the bank of Formosa. Tanaka has consistently advocated a strong Chinese policy.

Masanaru Hanabara, former Japanese ambassador to Washington, was considered today a possibility for the post of foreign minister in the new cabinet.

The meeting of the Isaak Walton League at the Courthouse tonight is expected to get under way at 7:30 o'clock and will take only a few minutes, according to S. R. Dighton, secretary of the League, who stated this morning that while brief, the session would be an important one.

The amendment to the League's bill, as proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, is to be read for the approval of the members, before it is included in the measure the League hopes to have passed by the present session of the Legislature.

PITTMAN WILL BE RETURNED HERE PENDING APPEAL

Negro Slayer Of Sanford Barbbershop Owner Will Be Brought Back To City From Raiford Late Today

Instead of going to his death in the electric chair today, Robert C. Pittman, negro, convicted of the murder of L. P. Hilton, is returning to Sanford this afternoon, to await the supreme court's decision on his fate, according to advices received by The Herald.

After a stay of execution had been refused the negro by Judge Wallace W. Wright at Raiford on the eve of Pittman's scheduled execution, his counsel managed to obtain a writ of error to take an appeal to the supreme court for a new trial and Governor John W. Martin issued a stay order.

Preliminary preparations had been made for the negro's execution today, but they were cancelled when word was received officially from Tallahassee of the Governor's reprieve of the man.

Pittman was held by police officers and taken to Raiford for his trial. He was held in a cell there until the night of his execution.

There was some discussion among local authorities as to the advisability of returning the negro to Sanford and Sheriff C. M. Hand, who went to Raiford for him, may lodge him in another county jail.

Only a few days will be required for Pittman's case to be reviewed by the state tribunal, it is believed.

German Minister Of Agriculture May Be Sanford Visitor

Dr. Fritz Guenther, minister of agriculture and forestry for the republic of Germany, may be a guest of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce the first of next week, according to plans today that Dr. Guenther will arrive in Jacksonville Thursday for a visit to Dr. E. G. Steinke, German consul.

The visitor is in the United States for the purpose of making a study of the agricultural side of American life, as well as acquainting himself with methods employed in agriculture in this country.

He is to remain in Florida for several weeks and is expected to visit a number of communities in the state that are noted for their production of vegetables and citrus fruits.

A letter received this morning by Mr. Trotter from Joe Jenkins, manager of the state Chamber of Commerce, conveyed the information of Dr. Guenther's forthcoming visit. Mr. Jenkins declared that he believed the German minister would be particularly interested in Seminole County.

The aviator made an unsuccessful attempt to "chute" to safety. He pulled on a willow tree, but the safety device apparently caught in the tail of the airplane and Raney was pulled to death with the falling ship.

ENGINEERS WORK TO SAVE LEVELS IN FLOODED AREA

Only An Act Of Providence Can Prevent St. Francis Basin From Flooding; General Situation Worse Now

MEMPHIS, April 19.—(INS)—With the entire Saint Francis basin in jeopardy from a break in the levee near New Madrid, Mo., government engineers today directed the efforts of hundreds of workmen to prevent a change in the course of the Mississippi River at that point.

Engineers said only an act of providence or a sudden standstill in the waters can prevent the Saint Francis basin from being flooded. The water was still rising steadily today, and efforts of engineers were directed toward "topping" the barriers and otherwise reinforcing them.

Reports that the levee at Farmington on the Little River had broken were denied, but it was admitted that water was lapping over the side. All night long more than 1,000 men labored to prevent the levee from rushing before the pressure of the high waters.

The flood situation, especially in Arkansas, Mississippi and along the lower Mississippi valley became worse today.

A dozen deaths are more or less attributed to the floods, while nearly 20,000 are homeless, according to red cross estimates. Property damaged and the loss to farmers as the result of thousands of acres being inundated is incalculable, but it probably will run into millions.

Refugees crowded into hastily constructed camps on the hills in the flood-swept areas, and the danger of disease, shortage of water and food is constantly increasing.

The Red Cross, however, declared it was getting the situation in hand as rapidly as possible. Tents, medical supplies and clothing and even food was being distributed among the unfortunates in the stricken districts.

Women huddled their children around them in crude tents, sadly gazing in the direction of the stricken cities that once marked the site of their homes. Either the home was under several feet of water, or it was entirely swept away with furnishings and everything it contained.

Meanwhile, the male folk labored, many without assurance of pay, on the barrier protecting and imperfectly their homes and their warm lands. Thousands of sacks of cement and sand and gravel were used to "top" the levees and seal the stricken districts.

75,000 Young Reds In Soviet Schools Get War Training

MOSCOW, April 19.—(INS)—Seventy-five thousand Soviet college students are receiving military training in 180 institutes of higher education throughout the country announces Joseph Unschlicht, assistant Commissar of War, in a speech setting forth the government's demand for militarization of the Russian youth.

Each of these 75,000 students devotes at least 180 school hours a year to military training, and in the summer gives two months to practical military exercises in camps. Unschlicht described the military courses as highly satisfactory, promising to provide a high grade reserve of officers for the Red Army.

According to the Soviet military authorities, the Red Army has not been increased beyond the 600,000 men to which it was reduced in 1924, despite the belief which rules here that foreign countries, probably Poland in the lead, may attack the Soviet Union in the near future. But Unschlicht points out that the Red Army has been materially improved in every respect, in its feeding, its technical equipment, its pay and its personnel.

Natives of Bohemia believe Judas hanged himself on a willow tree, and that consequently this tree has a special attraction for suicides.

Mrs. Lydig Breaks Long Silence To Deny She Sold Son For Two Millions

NEW YORK, Apr. 19.—(INS)—"The story that I sold my boy to a lie which I have been too proud to contradict."

Breaking a silence maintained for many years, Mrs. Phillip Lydig, wealthy society leader, who recently went into bankruptcy, today denied the report that she had received $2,000,000 from her first husband, the late W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., after she had surrendered their little son, W. E. D. Stokes, Jr., to his father following her divorce.

The denial was incorporated in a statement read at a meeting of Mrs. Lydig's creditors.

"You have been told by newspapers that I once received $2,000,000 from the late W. E. D. Stokes after my divorce from him for giving him back his son and the implication is that I probably still have these millions hidden somewhere," the statement read.

"I did not receive a penny from Mr. Stokes for surrendering his son to him. I gave the boy back to his father so that he might inherit his father's estate which he has inherited. The story that I sold the boy is a lie which I have been too proud to contradict in the past."

Mrs. Lydig said she had no hidden assets.

SMITH REPLY TO MARSHALL GIVEN CAPITAL'S PRAISE

Letter Called One Of Most Epochal Documents In Political History; Nomination Chances Called Better

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—Governor Al Smith's reply to the Marshall letter, in which he militantly asserted his belief in the separation of church and state and denied Rome any voice in civil government in this country, was characterized by capital politicians today as one of the most epochal documents in the entire political history of America.

By most of them, too, it was believed that Governor Smith, in boldly grasping a political opportunity of this character and handling it, has taken a long step on the road to the Democratic presidential nomination next year. For the first time in American history it was pointed out, an American Catholic aspirant for the presidency has recognized the political prejudice against his faith and has challenged it on the highest plane.

The issue, it was pointed out, presents men in public life from "mixing in" a political-religious controversy operated today to prevent widespread public comment in Washington on the Smith letter, but the bulk of the private comment was commendatory of the Governor's frankness and courage. His friends in Washington hailed his denunciation of principles as masterly; his bitter opponents were unconvinced and still critical, but the majority of commentators, irrespective of party, agreed that the Governor has helped himself enormously in his quest for the presidency.

The Governor answered intimate and pointed questions concerning Catholic faith and American political doctrine that have been asked continuously for 150 years in American politics—and mostly gone unanswered. To the claims of Catholic extremists that the Roman pontiff is supreme wherever civil and religious government meet and merge, Governor Smith declared he stood with the leaders of American Catholic thought, Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland in this assertion:

"To priest, to bishop or to pope, who should attempt to rule in matters civil and political, to influence citizens beyond the range of their own orbit or jurisdiction that are the things of God, the answer is quickly made: 'back to your own sphere of rights and duties, back to the things of God.'"

The Governor's partisans, irrespective of their own faith, characterized this as being, in effect, a declaration of independence for American Catholics.

No Conflict Exists Between State And Church, Says Smith

(Continued From Page One) by this country in the internal affairs of other nations and that they should stand steadfastly against such interference by whomsoever it is urged.

"I believe in the common brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God.

"In this spirit I join with fellow Americans of all creeds in a fervent prayer that never again in this land will any public servant be challenged because of the faith in which he has tried to walk humbly with his God."

The Marshall letter, published in the April number of the Atlantic Monthly, challenged the governor bluntly on a number of pertinent issues affecting Roman Catholic principles and American political doctrine, to wit:

(1) Marshall cited the claims of several Roman pontiffs to authority in civil matters where there was a conflict between church and state.

To this, Gov. Smith replied that he could not vision a conflict between church and state in America, the land of religious freedom, as a loyal Catholic, he said he recognized the supremacy of the Pope in spiritual matters, but he repudiated Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland, and Bishop England as denying the Pope any voice whatsoever in American political

MARSHALL ASKS MORE QUESTIONS IN 2ND MESSAGE

"If you will insist that this teaching applies only to the ideal Roman Catholic state. May I ask why it is taught in this United States, which is not an ideal Roman Catholic state? If you say that it has only an ideal application, I ask then why is the instruction given in parochial schools? It is not really instruction given in order to make the United States an ideal Roman Catholic State?"

You will say that every church is trying to convert the American people to its tenets. That may be true, but I know of no other church that accompanies the attempt with the teaching that its head has the right to annul any of the laws or acts of government, or that its religion, being the only true religion, possesses natural rights and therefore is entitled to legal rights which are in theory denied to every other religion as rights."

me to defend as a part of my faith every statement coming from a prelate than I should have in asking you to accept as an article of your religious faith every statement coming from an Episcopal bishop, or of your political faith every statement of a president of the United States."

SUNDAY CLOSING BILL PRESENTED BY PINELLAS MAN

(Continued From Page One) asked in a bill introduced by Representative Davis of Leon county. The bill calls for all egg containers to be marked in large letters and provides heavy penalties for false classifications.

Davis also asked for an appropriation of $10,000 for the construction of a death cell at the state prison at Raiford, with a provision that all prisoners sentenced to be electrocuted be confined in the death cell upon being

RELIEF RUSHED TO THOUSANDS IN FLOOD AREA

Food and medical supplies are in greatest demand by the refugees. Reports from all the flooded areas reported a shortage of food. Governor Dennis Murphy was back today from a tour of the flooded sections in Mississippi. He at once ordered all units of the national guard, red cross and state board of health to various points where suffering is the greatest.

Governor Murphy announced that the state convicts would be put into service to strengthen the levees.

Eight new breaks in the Arkansas River levee, flooding thousands of more acres of land and driving hundreds of refugees from their homes, were reported Sunday.

A special train brought 500 refugees from eastern Arkansas into Memphis and they were being cared for today. The train arrived at midnight last night.

Lauderdale, La., was deserted as levees protecting the town from the Mississippi began to crumble. Four hundred men were at work at New Madrid, Mo., to prevent a break that would probably wash the town away. The town is already flooded with backwaters.

Pine Bluff, Ark., reported today that it was isolated from highway travel. Memphis is virtually cut off from auto travel, three of the main highways leading into the city being used as levees and topped with sandbags.

Natchez, Miss., reported to the state capitol at Jackson that about 4,000 refugees in that city needed aid.

Trumion and Tulot, Ark., were under 10 feet of water while Hickman, Ky., New Madrid and Caruthersville, Mo., were still flooded.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—(INS)—Increasing the burden upon the weakened levees which are holding the swirling waters of the Mississippi and smaller streams below here, the Missouri River today began to swell and will keep the father of waters on the rise for another day or two.

At points where breaks have occurred in levees in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas the streams will spread to further widths and add new acreage to the wide areas already inundated.

taken to the state prison. Under the present statute, one condemned to death must be confined to the single death cell for five days prior to the time set for execution.

Davis would also make it possible for the state supreme court to hand down an opinion when four justices of the court concur without referring to the opinion to the remaining two justices, greatly expediting supreme court cases.

The house today passed house bill 136 creating the twenty-second judicial circuit court out of part of what is now the eighth judicial circuit. The new circuit will comprise Union, Bradford and Baker counties.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE LORD EXALTED:—Be Thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength; so will we sing and praise thy power. Psalm 21: 13.

PRAYER:—O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art My Lord. Help us to "Crown Him Lord of All."

The stingiest man we know won't even pay attention.

It appears that this "Tiny" Chaplin was tiny in name only.

If McAdoo seeks the candidacy again, won't that be a pretty how-dydo?

Our error, The Gators were hungry and the Celerymen did prove to be a most luscious morsel.

Al Smith better be careful about what he says. The Pope is apt to excommunicate him.

The Lakeland Ledger will miss the Mullens, but Messrs. Smith, Farabee, and Mack are a strong combination.

The good will filers landed in Miami Sunday in spite of the fact that the bottom is supposed to have dropped out of everything.

King Ferdinand is out of danger. Logg live the King! Carol can now return to his business of going to Hell.

Now that the winter season in Miami Beach is over, the police are closing the "speakeasies" and gambling houses.

Let's celebrate the dedication of the new waterfront bandshell by forgetting that underneath, the new pier empties a huge sewer.

We hope that Billie Sunday's recent attack on Tampa and Florida will be a good lesson to local persons who have a falling for his kind of religion.

It is our humble opinion that legislators who try to pass laws against the teaching of evolution do more to substantiate the theory than Darwin himself did.

In a well known subdivision in the southern part of our city, there is a wisp which deserves a gold medal. He has stung one of the shrewdest business men of Sanford.

These are the days when everybody wonders how everybody else manages to live within his income.—Ocala Star. These are days when very few are doing it.

Ben Cantwell still has winning ways. The former Sanford twirler who led the Florida State League last season, has already won two games with the Jacksonville Tars, and the season is only a week old.

The recent fire in the Sherry-Netherland Apartment Hotel in New York city suggests the possibility of fighting fires from airplanes. The firemen are up in the air about it.

Governor Martin's plan to finance the drainage of the Everglades sounds reasonable, but Seminole county citizens would have more interest in it if it included the uplands of the St. John's River.

Headline on a poem in The Sanford Herald the other day read as follows: "Ce monde est plein de fous." This is just another way of saying "Tout les fous ne sont pas mort." (Any errors are typographical).—Gainesville Sun. So's your old man.

The Palm Beach Independent thought Speaker Davis of the house was a pretty fine fellow after he voiced his opinion of the Baumes' bill, but what does it think of him now that he has suggested keeping newspapers from publishing sport news?

Tampa Times has it all figured out. The Times suggests that the legislature take every ten bills that are introduced, place them in a hat and draw out one for passage. The Sanford Herald figures that one of a hundred would be about right.—Times-Union.

Try Again

The action of the Supreme Court Saturday reversing the decision of Judge Wright in regard to the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District is apt to leave one in the dark as to the next steps advisable for the Board to take. The Supreme Court did not rule that the canal bill was unconstitutional—in fact, did not go into the merits of the case at all—but stopped the Board's suit to compel the County Commissioners to levy necessary taxes solely because the service of the writ of mandamus was made against one commissioner instead of against two as, in the absence of the chairman, is required by law.

A technically, to be sure, and an obvious blunder of the legal advisor of the Canal Board, and does not in itself indicate any defects in the canal bill. However, the attorney for the County Commissioners has pointed out a number of errors, any one of which might result in further delay or the refusal of some taxpayer to submit to assessment. Consequently the logical procedure seems to be an immediate remedy of these defects in order that the work of the Canal Board can go ahead as rapidly and as harmoniously as possible.

For eighteen or twenty years Seminole County citizens have been anticipating, and working for, the construction of some canal joining the upper St. Johns River with the Indian River, and the consequent drainage of many thousands of acres, now worthless swamp lands under water for a great part of the year. Seminole and Brevard county citizens are almost unanimous in believing that such a canal would be the greatest improvement that could be made in this section of the state.

The linking of Jacksonville to Miami by an inland water way—not by a coast-wise route such as the East Coast Canal—but by a beautiful river, two hundred miles in length, winding its way through gorgeous tropical scenery in the central part of Florida, would be an achievement, easy of attainment as it is, of nationwide interest. Hundreds of yacht owners who find it impossible in winter months to avoid the lure of the emerald waters of the South, would be as sure to make use of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal, either on their way down or on their way back, as they are to come at all.

The Canal Board should not be discouraged, but should allow the temporary set-back only to quicken their activities in perfecting the bill and going ahead with a work which will mean more to Seminole county than any other thing ever undertaken, or ever proposed.

Opportunity For All

Florida is getting a lot of good advertising from the exposition train now touring this country. The eastern train which recently visited New York City for a five-day stay attracted crowds estimated at over fifteen thousand persons daily. Considering the vast circulations of New York newspapers, which carried stories telling of the things contained in the various cars, hundreds of thousands of persons undoubtedly read about Florida who did not themselves have time to visit the train.

At the Jacksonville main office hundreds of inquiries are being received relative to practically every phase of Florida development. Among those who visited the train was Frederick H. Gross, who is active in South America Sugar industry. He plans to visit Florida soon to purchase a fifteen hundred acre plantation.

That such widespread interest in Florida continues in the face of bursting bubbles and hurricane winds is a wonderful testimonial to the powerful appeal which Florida has. Many Northern people have lost money in Florida as a result of the real estate boom, yet there isn't the slightest doubt that many of them are just as anxious as ever to return to the land of sunshine and flowers to try their luck again if they can be convinced that Florida still offers an opportunity for them.

The old opportunity of fortunes overnight is gone, and very few are there who hope it will ever return; but the bigger opportunity of making a fair and honest living in a healthful and pleasing environment is greater than ever. Those who are looking for fertile soil to cultivate, or ideal sites for industries of practically every description, will find them in Florida.

The exposition trains are doing more than any other one agency to acquaint the people of the country with the fact that real estate is not the only business this state knows.

DOUBLY SATISFACTORY

PALM BEACH POST

Sale of public funds collateral by the Farmers Bank and Trust Company provides double cause for exultation in Palm Beach and Martin counties.

Three-quarters of a million dollars for improvement work here is provided by the transaction which releases funds frozen in the bank.

Faith of bond buyers in the future of Florida and Martin county is demonstrated by the fact that the bonds sold for 94.03 per cent plus accrued interest. That is .03 per cent higher than the figure paid by the bank some time ago.

To Mr. R. W. Erbe, who negotiated the sale, should go the thanks of every public-spirited citizen.

In convincing the Chicago bond buyers he was compelled to prove the worth of the bonds to show conclusively by facts and figures how Martin county will redeem them.

In face of the adverse publicity attached to the closing of banks in both Palm Beach and Martin counties and natural skepticism of northern brokers, that could not have been an easy task.

The sale of the fundamental collateral is of greater far-reaching importance than appears on the surface. The half million released for the Lake Worth Inlet Commission will assure partial continuation of the work on the part of Palm Beach. That this project should be carried out is of prime importance to the county. Part of the inlet fund will be used to redeem $130,000 worth of maturing bonds July 1. The credit of the inlet district, affecting the credit of the entire lower east coast might have been materially impaired if the redemption of those bonds had been delayed even one day.

The town of Palm Beach will benefit to the extent of about a quarter million. Whether this is used to pay for improvements already completed, now under way or in prospect acquisition by the town of a quarter million in cash is not to be minimized.

McNear and Company, of Chicago, are shown to be true friends of the state, as well as good bond brokers. That they be repaid for the interest shown in the communities involved should concern any citizen or firm who might be in a position to transact future business of that nature.

As an indication of the future financial situation in the community, the bond deal should provide its measure of satisfaction to every business man and public-spirited citizen.—Palm Beach Post.

HIGH TARIFF DEMOCRATS

LEESBURG COMMERCIAL

On many occasions the Commercial editor has been "called down" for his assertion that the present democratic party and members of the party who would rather have some calamity happen to them than to scratch a ticket, have become regular old-time high tariff republicans in actual practice.

The recent action of the tomato growers of Manatee county furnishes a new proof that we are correct. A demand is being made for a high tariff on tomatoes from Mexico and, incidentally, protection for the early vegetable crops produced in Florida.

And why not? Industry has tariff walls to protect it in making what its owners term a "living" and there is no reason why the growers of what we eat should not put their feet under the same table. As long as the hash is gro-ing to be passed, certainly all the boarders should be served, particularly the boarders that pay their board without any "rebates" that industry sometimes inveigles the government into permitting.

Repeatedly we have asserted that the democratic party should return to its early principles and base its claim for support upon fundamentals, especially opposition to an extension of the bureaucracy so rapidly developing at present and to the inherent sovereignty of the states.

We democrats apparently have forgotten our slogan of "tariff for revenue only" but we should adopt ANTI-PATERNALISM as our chief plank and make our fight on that line in the next national campaign, not forgetting the old-fashioned but potent cry—"TURN THE RASCALS OUT!"

As Brisbane Sees It

Don't Forget Intelligence. He Had Ambition. Baboons' Blood, Etc. Buying Autographs. By ARTHUR BRISBANE. Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

THERE IS NO life save in proteins." Wise chemists gathered at Richmond, Va., say it and add, "Environment and chemical agency are the dominant factors of life." That may be true, and still you need not accept "the chemical concept of the origin and development of life."

IF INHABITANTS OF another world, where machinery is unknown should study an automobile supplied with gas and electricity and running, they would say, "No life in this machine without gas, iron; gas and electricity are all of that automobile."

They would overlook just one little thing, namely, the intelligence that put the gas, electricity and steel together, mounted them on pneumatic tires and set them going.

So it is with life. Explain it as you please, but don't forget the intelligence back of it.

WE ARE PROUD of our national prosperity and high wages. Boot-lickers are even prouder of their prosperity and high wages. This is shown by Norman Klein, an investigator. One run-running syndicate could afford to invest $10,000,000 and to pay men on their run-running crews $50 a night for a good deal less than eight hours' work. One man tells how he used to get only $30 to $37 a week, "but I was ambitious," says he, "so they put me on a runner, and I got $50 a night."

He worked on the "converted sub chaser SC-217." Uncle Sam thus supplying the run-running boat at bargain prices. There is nothing like ambition.

A DOZEN LAWYERS, a judge and experts are fighting for possession of the will of Joseph Stanley. They don't care about Stanley, but Button Gwinnett, who signed the will as witness. Gwinnett also signed the Declaration of Independence. His signatures are rare Mr. Rosenbach bought the Stanley will for $22,500.

COLLECTING AUTOGRAPHS is an interesting survival of fetishism, a strange instinct going back thousands of centuries to odd and ends that the medicine man carries in his witch bag, to the strange ingredients that Shakespeare makes the witches put into their hell broth, the finger of a babe born in a ditch—the toe of a frog, baboons' blood, etc. In the same spirit, although they don't know it, men collect autographs, feeling that something magical clings to them. A man might pay $100,000 for the original manuscript of Milton's "Paradise Lost," and refuse to read the poem through if you offered him $100,000 for the reading.

MR. GIBSON, WHO represents us in the league of nations, where we have no business, tells European powers that this league would never allow the league to control us as far as it goes. Why can't we let the league attend to its affairs while we attend to ours?

When the total population of the United States was less than half the population of today's New York City we managed our affairs without Europe's help. Why should it be impossible for 115,000,000 Americans to do the same?

NEW YORK STATE easily sells bonds to yield interest of only 3.65. New York City alone has a debt greater than the whole debt of the United States before the World War.

WHAT A STATE, city or nation should fear is not debt, but unwise use of money got in exchange for bonds.

Instead of spending our twenty-one billion dollars to buy dubious securities in Europe, we might well spend those thousands of millions making this country more comfortable and prosperous.

We might even build an air fleet to keep somebody some fine day from coming over and getting twenty-one billions more without "our leave."

A NEGRO APPLYING for admission to a government training camp is told by the war department that rules make it impossible to admit him. Regulations say colored men must enlist in colored regiments. Camps for colored young men will be established, which may solve the problem.

However, if whites have the right to decide in what regiments and camps colored young men may enroll, it would seem only fair to let the colored young men decide in what particular wars they would be enrolled.

BOLSHEVISTS MIGHT have known that there is too wide a gap between Confucius and Lenin. And for many centuries the Chinese have practiced thinking with Confucius.

A nation, like an individual, forms thinking habits. You cannot change them suddenly.

And now a judge out in Kansas rules that a husband needn't listen to his wife's conversation. It's simply remarkable how many unmarried men have places on the bench.—Marion Star.

What Kind of a Fit Will It Be?

Georgia Editors May Honor Themselves

COLUMBUS ENQUIRER-SUN

A recent editorial in the Greensboro, Ga., Herald-Journal brings to the attention of his colleagues and friends the present need of Editor H. M. Flanders of the Sophron News. It will be remembered that Mr. Flanders has twice suffered most dastardly attacks at the hands of cowardly gangs because of his determination to express his convictions in the cause of right and justice through the columns of his newspaper.

The first of these vile and brutal assaults occurred three years ago when Mr. Flanders was shot down on the street. The result of this murderous act was the almost complete loss of the victim's hearing.

The editor of the Greensboro Herald-Journal, J. C. Williams, calls attention to the heavy financial strain under which Mr. Flanders has been laboring because of the months spent in an Atlanta hospital under treatment of specialists, and he states that the editor's resources are practically exhausted by these and other expenses attendant upon the harrowing experience which he has undergone. It is further pointed out that funds are needed for the services of an able prosecuting attorney to assist the solicitor-general in pressing the case against Mr. Flanders' assailants to the utmost limit, and the editor of the Greensboro Herald-Journal suggests that colleagues and admirers of this resolute and courageous victim of gangsters may wish to raise such a fund. He says:

Although a poor man, Editor Flanders has borne these expenses alone, with the help and loyalty of the best little companions with which God ever blessed a man. The editor's resources are exhausted. We believe that it will be easy to get fifty newspapers in Georgia—weeklies and dailies—to give $10,000 each.

BANKING BILLS

FLORIDA STATE NEWS

Two banking bills made their appearance in the legislature yesterday. Representative A. C. Kanner, of Stuart, introduced the administration's measure in the house, while W. W. Phillips presented a different bill in the senate.

Mr. Kanner's bill seeks the creation of a state banking department with a superintendent to exercise all duties now performed by the comptroller. The measure proposes an appropriation of $100,000 to set up the machinery necessary to the operation of the new law.
