Off To The Fair

What a happy choice of timing to have the Seminole County Fair get underway today on the American Legion Fair Grounds on US 17-92 with all the traditional attractions that such a fair promises.

For this is Thanksgiving season. It is also a time for gratitude with smiles for the bounty of the ground produced by the hard work and good planning of our farming community. Make the season live in your eyes! Livestock on exhibition is a challenge to those who do and those who think they do have a competence in breeding and raising.

Housewives can find many things which have come from the homes of our community Yes, indeed, it can be silent but, more often than not it surfaces with kindly and critical wisecracks. All, to be sure, in the interest of good,

For fun is a byproduct which the fair has fr good measure. In addition to the "rides" this occasion also will feature a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving so that those who would like to combine fair-going with turkey-eating can be

If there be any in our county who have not seen the news stories or this editorial com-ment in the Herald—we trust these are either few or non-existent—the Fair itself on welltravelled 17-92 south of Sanford is sure to stop traffic and attract its own audience.

To all of this we say "Well Done" and get ready to make our own visit to the county fair

Brinkmanship

A credit expert, Morris Rabinowitch, i quoted as saying: "I would guess now that one-third of all American families are over-extended in their debts and on the brink of serious trouble." Over-extended is certainly a nice word for it. We suspect Mr. Rabinowitch's "one-third" Interpretive Report estimate is considerably under-extended. — Atlanta (Ga.) Journal.

THE PENNEY STORY

"Price Break! What it mean at Penney's

By ROBERTA NASH

Of course a price break means just what you'd expect-a price that's lower today than yesterday. But at Penney's, there's a different philosophy behind the meaning.

It all began with Mr. Penney's great belief in value. Not occasional value. Day-in-day-out value. Our regular customers know this but what about new ones? Now and then, to get folks to sample Penney quality, we make a price so low it's irresistible. That's how we get more and more new people into our stores, and that's how we build the business.
