Membership Class For Youths Slated In March

A Pastor's class in church membership for intermediates and Junior boys and girls will be conducted at the First Christian Church beginning Saturday, 3:30 p. m., and continuing each Saturday afternoon during the month of March, Pastor Perry L. Stone announced today.

A booklet entitled "We Learn About the Church" will be used along with the Bible. Each session will last an hour. "The purpose of the course", Mr. Stone said, "is to help those who make the decision to become followers of Christ to do so with an intelligent understanding of the vital steps they are taking."

Three Greyhounds Will Be Popular In Featured 9th

Three greyhounds that are certain to be popular with fanciers will meet tonight in the featured ninth race at the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club. They are R. E. Heaton's Steppin Jim, Paul Sutherland's I've Donned and Mrs. M. V. Kirkland Jr.'s Pay Nite.

Though their win scores are low, each one seems to like to finish second. To date Steppin Jim's score is three fraits and eight seconds, I've Donned and Pay Nite have each accounted for two fraits and six seconds.

Two youngsters in this main event seem destined to go places. The Lawrie Kennel's Marvis Mack and R. E. Bennett's Grant's Pass only won their maiden races earlier this season and have since moved up to feature competition. Grant's Pass is a four-time winner while Marvis has accounted for five fraits.

The latest financial report through last Friday night shows the kennel of W. F. Swafford leading in the amount of purse money collected for the season. Jack Herold is in second place and the Huron Kennel in third place.

Unemployment Rise In U. S. May Be Coming To Halt

WASHINGTON — A Labor Department spokesman said today the rise in U. S. unemployment may be coming to a halt—although it's too early to tell for sure.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said early he believes the administration will recommend a tax cut if joblessness continues to climb next month. He said most cabinet members feel the same way.

However, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson said only that his department has the question of a tax cut "under constant study and review." He said he had not yet prepared any "package" proposal for a tax reduction.

A top Labor Department employment expert reported that benefits have been going down, although not as rapidly as usual this season as in recent years. He said claims for jobless benefits apparently "are not going any deeper" and the worst that can be expected now is that claims will level off at a "pretty high" level.

Mitchell said reports indicate about 4,700,000 Americans are jobless this month.

"It's hard to tell at this point whether we're going to start pulling out," the experts said, "but figures indicate we're not headed toward a depression-type need."

He added that it will be another six weeks or two months before the government can be sure that employment will pick up in the normal seasonal pattern.

45 Prisoners Lodged In Jail

There are 45 prisoners lodged in the Seminole County Jail as of midnight last night, Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported this morning.

Of the total 14 are white male, one white male incompetent, 21 colored male, one colored male incompetent, six colored female, and two colored male juveniles.

Sheriff Hobby said that five prisoners were brought in during the 24 hour period ending at midnight last night and one prisoner was released.

The Institute reported that an estimated $4,200,000,000 was paid in health cost benefits during the 12-month period, compared to $3,160,000,000 in 1956.

An Itch Might Indicate Serious Medical Problem

By HERMAN H. BERNHEIM, M.D.
YOU probably can't imagine that anything so trivial as an itch could be a serious medical matter. The truth is, however, that more persons complain of itching than any other skin disease.

Spontaneous itching is actually a modified form of pain. It travels along the same nerves used by pain sensations.

Annoying Quality
The itch is about half-way between the pleasurable tickle and pure pain. The most annoying quality of an itch, in fact, is that it is compounded of pure pain and pain-dependent pleasure—the latter in equal quantities.

Extreme itching, or pruritus as it is known in medical terminology, can be agonizing torture. It can produce pain which often is greater than that resulting from such more dramatic afflictions.

Variety of Causes
Itching can be produced by a vast variety of causes. Temperature changes might cause an itch, or woolen clothing, as common in this weather, might be the villain.

Sometimes the causes are more serious—nephritis, gout, hepatitis, diabetes or other organic conditions. There are psychological causes, too.

For example, I'll bet that you will have to scratch once or twice as you read this article. I get itchy just writing about pruritus.

Most Important
Removal of the cause, whether organic or psychological, is the most important object of treatment. But immediate relief from that often maddening itching sensation is also desired.

Temporary Relief
Scratching will give temporary relief, but the remedy often causes more damage than the affliction.

If you scratch or rub an itching area too vigorously for prolonged periods you may develop flaccid, wheals, blood crusts, blotches or even lichenification. In lichenification, the skin becomes thick and leathery, the normal markings of the skin are exaggerated and a noticeable crisscross pattern develops.

Worse Than An Itch
Believe me, this is much worse than any itch, no matter how tormenting the itch may seem. Your body is covered by approximately 19 square feet of skin which varies in thickness from one-eighth to one-thirty-second of an inch. An itch may occur anywhere, anytime.

It is not, as you can see, as funny as many persons think. QUESTION AND ANSWER
D. T.: My sister is suffering from Lupus erythematosus. Can you tell me something about this disease?

Answer: Lupus erythematosus is characterized by pinkish or reddish-colored patches of various sizes. When these patches heal, they leave thin, white scars. The eruption usually appears on the cheeks and bridge of the nose and does not itch or cause other symptoms.

Its cause is not definitely known.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AT HER NEIGHBORHOOD butcher shop, a lady returned to pay 90 cents a pound for hamburger steak. "There's a shop on the next block offering the same meat for 70 cents," she declared. "So buy it from them," said the butcher. "They're sold out," she admitted.

"Fimph!" snorted the butcher. "When we're all out of hamburger, we sell it for 50 cents a pound!"

The town's leading banker was guest of honor at a fine banquet for his eightieth birthday, and the speaker said some wonderful things about him. Finally it was his turn. "Gentlemen," he said with a broad smile, "I must admit I'd rather hear the lady than the epityph."

Accompanying her mother to a fashionable shoe shop, a little girl asked innocently, "When will I be old enough to wear shoes that are too small for me?"

'Apparitions Of Lourdes' To Be Observed

By ROBERT NUSSEL, United Press Staff Correspondent
LOURDES, France (UP) — Lourdes was a little garrison town scattered at the foot of a great castle in a "loot corner of the Pyrenees" 100 years ago. It must have seemed such an unlikely setting for the story of Bernadette.

Two there it happened, a century ago next week, in the rock grotto of the hill called Massabielle, at the end of Monsieur de la Flite's big field where the poor sometimes trudged in search of firewood on the banks of the River Gave.

This year Catholics the world over celebrate the centenary of what is known in ecclesiastical history as "The Apparitions of Lourdes."

More than six million of them will come as pilgrims to the grotto where the little peasant girl said she saw and spoke to the Virgin Mary.

Became a Saint
Lourdes is preparing to receive them. It is still a small town of about 15,000 in its valley among the towering hills, although several times more populous than it was in the time of Bernadette Soubirous who became Sister Marie-Bernard who is now St. Bernadette.

For many months Canon Marthy, who is the church's secretary-general of pilgrimages, has been preparing for this centenary year.

Some think he is being cautious in his estimate of three times the yearly average of two million for the anniversary. Already there are 650,000 pilgrimages scheduled—80 from the United States—against only 274 for all of last year.

Pope May Attend
Thirty cardinals and hundreds of archbishops and bishops will attend the various functions ending with the festival of the Immaculate Conception on Dec. 8.

There is some hope that Pope Plus may come here during the year — as a pilgrim rather than Pontiff since his official presence would raise his appearance to the formality of a state visit.

The hill of Massabielle has been transformed since 14-year-old Bernadette said she heard the sound of a storm, although there was no storm, and saw emerging from the grotto a golden cloud followed by a beautiful lady who later commanded: "Go tell the priests that I wish them to build here a chapel."

Above the grotto since 1880 has stood the great church of Notre Dame de Lourdes, its basilica holds only 2,000 people and for the celebrations and underground basilica, named for St. Pius X, big enough for 20,000, is being reared to completion.

Many cures and 34 "miracles" have been claimed either from drinking Lourdes water or from prayer at the grotto. The church makes no special point of these. Nowadays it prefers the emphasis to be on faith. Such faith, it says, as the simple peasant girl whose experience in the grotto created one of the great shrines of Christendom.

Uoff Planning New Basic Plant Science Unit

GAINESVILLE — Dr. A. T. Wallace has been named to head the new basic plant science unit being planned by the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, according to Director J. R. Beckenbach. He was today promoted to assistant in charge and is heading up the planning activities for the new unit.

The new unit head came to Florida in 1950 as assistant agronomist at the Main Station, and was promoted to associate agronomist in 1956. In his new post he will also have charge of the cobalt 60 irradiator recently announced by the Experiment Station.

A native of Georgia, Dr. Wallace has an enviable record of achievement in agronomic research since graduating from the University of Georgia in 1948. He was awarded the doctor of philosophy degree in 1950 by North Carolina State College.

Dr. Beckenbach says the plant sciences research center, when complete, will put Florida another notch ahead in scientific agricultural research. It will be constructed on the Main Station grounds in Gainesville, but its facilities will be available to workers at all branch stations and field laboratories throughout the state.

To cost an estimated $50,000, the center will consist of five buildings—four for laboratories and one to house the growth chambers in which climatic and environmental conditions will be under complete control. The scientists will make weather to order.

The building housing the climate control equipment will be patterned after the so-called phytotron designed by a California Institute of Technology worker. Another similar unit is in operation at Furdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, but the Florida installation will be the only one in the South.

In the phytotron will be "light" rooms in which the growing day for plants can be lengthened or shortened at will. There will be "dark" rooms, where plants can be subjected to complete darkness; and there will be temperature rooms in which the temperature will range from zero to 125 degrees F.

This facility will enable the scientist to produce daylight and darkness as well as the change of seasons, at will. If it is his desire to see at what degree of cold a certain insect will succumb, he will be able to subject that insect to lowering temperatures in any stage of its life cycle, and in conditions of its normal habitat.

If the citrus people come up with a spray to protect fruit from severe cold, it can be tested in the "cold" room just as effectively as if they wait for the next hard freeze to hit the citrus belt, which may be years in the future.

In many instances it will be possible to produce four generations of a crop or plant in a single year. Oats are a good example of this. Normally, only one generation is produced in a year. This will speed up work in plant breeding.

The effect of varying degrees of heat and cold on the composition of plants, grains and fruits will be easily determined. After subjecting a green crop to killing temperatures of heat or cold, the scientist will be able to analyze it for changes in content, if any.

Four laboratories included in the project will be equipped for a wide variety of research. These will include radiotelescopes and X-rays, as well as facilities for studies in pesticide residues.

Everything used in the operation of the project will be sterilized, soil, seeds and plants; even the workers. Persons working in the project and visitors will be required to go through a sort of "operation-room" screening upon entering the buildings.

In discussing the establishment of the project, Dr. Beckenbach said its primary purpose is to provide space, equipment and specialized facilities for fundamental research in the plant sciences, including plant pests.

Some of the questions which Dr. Beckenbach hopes can be answered by scientists using the new life cycle of a fungus or insect parasite is it most vulnerable to control and attack? Can control of nutritional balance minimize attacks by disease and of insects? Are there controllable microclimatic or nutritional conditions under which the disastrous effects of frost can be minimized?

Answers to these and many other questions will have a profound effect upon Florida's agricultural economy.

GI Insurance Policyholders Have New 'Home Office'

More than 1,500,000 GI insurance policyholders through the world now have a new "home office" servicing their policy accounts. The accounts just have been transferred from the Veterans Administration Insurance Center in Washington, D. C., to the VA District Office in Philadelphia, the VA announced today.
Affected by the moves are:
1. All holders of U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI), which originated in World War I; and,
2. Those holders of World War II or post-Korea policies of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) who are paying premiums by allotment from either active or retired military pay, or who reside in foreign countries.
The VA said the new address for correspondence concerning these policies is: Veterans Administration District Office, P. O. Box 8079, Philadelphia 1, Penn.

Mighty Good Words Have Come As A Result Of Hard Work

Improvements amounting to nearly $3 million will soon get underway at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Along with the announcement that these funds will be available almost immediately because of Senate action on the debt limit bill comes word from Congressman A. S. "Byd" Herlong Jr. that the Sanford Naval Air Station is a permanent base.

These are mighty good words to the ears and ears of Sanford and Seminole County people who have worked so hard to keep the Naval Air Station here and then "turn-of" so to speak, to see that funds for the necessary improvements and interim expansion were provided.

The Sanford Naval Air Station is a valuable asset to Sanford and Seminole County—more valuable than the mere dollar sign.

Local citizens are proud of the local navy base first because of the wonderful people who have become a part of the community. We are all next door neighbors and we've grown to know and admire one another for the many good traits that people always have.

The Sanford Naval Air Station has meant that Sanford's economy has become more than just a haphazard guess and a mere hand-to-mouth existence.

Navy people have become community leaders—the PTAs are literally filled with mothers and dads who are Navy personnel, civic clubs have navy leaders on their rosters, the garden club has a host of navy people as its members, so does the Women's Auxiliary of the Seminole Memorial Hospital—and we must all admit that the ladies of the Navy serve as some of the foremost leaders in the High Fever Follies.

As for the monetary value of the Sanford Naval Air Station in the Sanford-Seminole County Community—there is just no way of estimating its potential and worth. Hundreds and hundreds of families are dependent upon local stores and business concerns for food, clothing, automobiles and many other necessities. Navy families buy homes and enjoy them. They buy gasoline and oil—we'll we could go on and on with the list.

But what we must point out to our local people is this—the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and its committees have worked tirelessly on keeping the Sanford Naval Air Station in the community.

We're proud of these leaders and all they have done—every citizen of the community should be equally proud of this group of businessmen who have given their time and efforts toward keeping "those we like" here with us.

None of us want to forget that whenever something as big and tremendous as the Naval Air Station program is accomplished, someone has worked hard and struggled with problems that the average person would never suspect existed.

We will always be proud of the Navy and the Navy's Sanford Naval Air Station—we will also be proud too, of the leaders who stand out in front to iron out the problems of a community.

Much Has Been Done By So Many

Each member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce receives, each month, a publication called the "Sem-O-Gram."

This month's issue is so complete with accomplishments of the county-wide organization that we feel all of our readers should know—at least—some of the projects that have been undertaken and accomplished.

For instance: the monthly publication calls attention to the fact that contracts amounting to $2,900,000 will be let by April 30 for improvement of Sanford Naval Air Station facilities.

It calls attention too, to the Seminole County Commissioners' approval of a $1,000,000 bond issue paves the way for completion of a number of projects on which the organization's Long Range Highway Planning Committee has been working.

Another very pleasing announcement is that because of Seminole County's growing pains a government survey has been scheduled to determine what facilities, in addition to the present post office building, are necessary to meet the needs of a rapidly growing Sanford area.

An important step in the progress of Seminole County was the recently approved and created Seminole County Zoning Commission culminating efforts on the part of the Chamber of Commerce toward the planned development of the county.

A widespread nationally circulated advertising campaign is also in the making. The promotion will encourage industrial, retirement and tourist use of Seminole County. The advertising will be through magazines and newspapers.

Progress of the Sanford-Titusville project is part of the efforts of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. A recent meeting was called by the local Chamber of Commerce to plan future strategy in view of the "unfavorable" U. S. Engineers' report.

There is a county exhibit displayed at the Central Florida Fair which will attract widespread interest on Seminole County Day. It was the fine cooperation of committee members which accounted for the attractiveness of the booth and display.

Then, there is a last call for memberships to be added to the 1957-58 membership roll. The Sem-O-Gram calls attention to the fact that there are some who have not yet sent in their dues. Certainly, with such a hearty list of accomplishments, no one would want his or her name left off of the "real workers" roster. Un-renewed memberships will be dropped after this month.

Doctors are known for their skill with surgery and medicine, lawyers for their skill in legal practice, machinists for their ability to shape metals into various shapes—the Chamber of Commerce is known for its ability to bring local people together cooperatively and provide leadership in accomplishments.

With this as the gauge, then the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce should be known far and wide.

So much has been done—so many have taken part!

RIDDLE OF THE WASHINGTON SPINX

Inside Washington

BY HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—The nation's most famous building is now the center of the greatest controversy of its kind since Harry Truman built a balcony at the White House.

A bitter fight has erupted over plans to extend the front of the United States Capitol and how it will end in anyone's guess.

In the center of the controversy is House Speaker Sam Rayburn, a 75-year-old congressman from Texas who is recognized by loyal party followers everywhere as "Mr. Democrat."

Former President Truman had his way and built his balcony, but will his close friends be equally as successful? The odds are all on the speaker, a man of tremendous prestige in Congress—if he holds fast. So far Rayburn has given no indication that he intends to back down, but the opposition is mounting daily and growing more vociferous as it does.

TWO YEARS AGO CONGRESS authorized the architect of the Capitol, J. George Stewart, to provide for the extension, reconstruction and replacement of the central portion of the Capitol in accordance with plans originally drawn up in 1905.

Stewart is acting under the direction of a five-member Commission for the Extension of the Capitol, of which Rayburn is chairman. The other members are House Majority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (R), Massachusetts, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland (R), California, and Stewart.

The plan is to extend the East Front of the Capitol, facing the plaza, 32½ feet, to bring the center steps in line with the steps of the House and Senate wings. Seventeen million dollars has already been appropriated for the work and Rayburn said contracts will be let as soon as architects have completed their drawings, the center building's sandstone walls would also be refaced with marble.

The plan also calls for remodeling the West Front facing the Mall to provide a badly-needed restaurant for members, but Rayburn has stated that this portion of the work will be postponed. Additional office space would also be provided in the overall $110 million dollar plan.

THE DRUMFIRE OF OPPOSITION is centered on that portion of the plan which provides for extension of the East Front. Rayburn said he hopes construction will be completed in time for the 1961 presidential inauguration.

Opposition was sporadic in the past, but took a new lease on life this year, so much so that the entire program is now apparently jeopardized.

Powerful support has been provided opponents of the plan, the latest from House Republican Leader Martin, former speaker of the House and a commission member, who now says he is against it.

Bills have been introduced in the House and Senate by members of both parties and committee hearings scheduled. One of the sponsors, Senator Joseph S. Clark (D), Pennsylvania, branded the proposal to extend the East Front as "unnecessary and ill-conceived."

Harsh words were uttered by Julian E. Beria, architect who heads the newly-formed Committee for the Preservation of the National Capitol. He declared that if the extension is carried through, it should be marked with a new inscription, "Vandalized by Congress, 1958."

The Society of Architectural Historians has unanimously voted to ask President Eisenhower to halt the project.

The President, of course, has nothing to do with it. "Mr. Sam," who has been speaker longer than anyone else, will, more than anyone else, decide. So far he's standing pat.

KEEP NAME SECRET

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco have chosen the name for their expected second child but are keeping it a "state secret," Mrs. Margaret Kelly of Philadelphia said today. Mrs. Kelly, mother of Princess Grace, arrived Monday from Monaco for a 10-day visit.

Income Tax Tips

The Florida Accountants Association—an affiliate of National Society of Public Accountants

Alimony and separate maintenance payments are deductible by the husband and must be included in the wife's income if:

1. The payments are made under a decree of divorce or legal separation, or they are made under a written separation agreement made after Aug. 16, 1954, or under a court decree for support made after Mar. 1, 1954, and for payments made after Aug. 16, 1954 under such decree.
2. The payments must be made after such decree or agreement.
3. The payments must cover a legal obligation arising out of marital or family relationship.
4. The payments must not be for the support of children. Child support does not count.
5. Only periodic payments count; lump sum payments do not count.

Periodic payments are those which extend over a period of time greater than ten years, or where it is impossible to figure the total amount that will be paid. That is, where the payments depend on the husband's income; or where the amount of the payments is definite, but termination depends upon an indefinite event, such as death or re-marriage of the wife; also where both definite payments or indefinite termination exist.

Lump sum payments are those where a fixed definite amount is payable immediately following the decree; or where fixed amount can be figured from the terms of the decree that is payable over a period of ten years or less; or where the decree provides for a fixed amount that is payable in one payment or in installments over a period of ten years or less. Further, where a principal sum is payable in installments within a period of more than ten years, then such payments are considered periodic payments taxable to the wife and deductible by the husband, only providing the annual payments do not exceed 10% of the principal sum.

Temporary payments pending divorce or legal separation do not count. Neither do payments intended to repay loans received previously from the wife, or to induce her to turn over community property. Payments for attorney's fees or court costs do not count.

Provided that all payment qualifying, a husband can deduct all payments made to all previous wives during the year, regardless of the number of such payments.

Sanford—
you've loved Mrs. Filbert's
"New Recipe" Margarine...

Now-discover Mrs. Filbert's special recipe Mayonnaise!

Here's why you'll like it:
Mrs. Filbert's is real home-style mayonnaise, made with the same extra care and attention you devote to your own "special" recipes. All mayonnaise is not the same. Mrs. Filbert's has subtle but important differences in flavor and texture—the result of special recipe secrets developed by the Filbert family. Mrs. Filbert's gives your salad combinations a delicate flavor "extra" that enhances their natural goodness.

Here's how the Filbert family does it:
1. We start with the finest whole eggs and we pay a premium to get them... whip them with extra yolks for richness and body.
2. Next, a secret blend of the finest beats of imported spices for a special zest and bouquet.
3. Then we add real lemon juice and aged apple vinegar (expensive extras not found in ordinary mayonnaise), for natural tanginess.
4. Next, a cooler blend of fresh-pressed salad oils, sealed in to make Mrs. Filbert's light and delicate, never too heavy or oily.
5. Finally we whip the whole delicious mix to just the right firmness (look for the distinctive "dimple" when you open the jar—only Mrs. Filbert's has it).

That's our special recipe for real home-style mayonnaise with a fresh-off-the-egg-beater flavor. We're genuinely proud of it. And if Mrs. Filbert's Mayonnaise doesn't please you, we'll cheerfully give you double your money back.

Now...re-usable refrigerator jars
You can scoop out this delicious mayonnaise so easily from the straight-sided jars—no waste at all. And they're perfect for storing leftovers... for preserving... for dozens of household uses.

Men's Fashions Take Colorful Trend For Spring

CHICAGO—There hasn't been anything like it in men's fashions since the court of Charles II.

The powdered wig is gone, and so is the horse-drawn coach that fetched mild to the evening's festivities. But the accent on men's fashions in '58 is still on the traveling man, whether propelled by a sports car or a space vehicle.

Displays at the 40th annual convention of the National Assn. of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers at Chicago show that man is shaking off the conservative Ivy League tradition and putting on the flamboyancy of the space age.

Man will travel light this year. Space-minded moderns may want a lame aluminum dinner jacket with matching cummerbund and tie, satin lapel and satin piped pockets. There's even a pressed paper suit in the experimental stage for the man who wants to wear his years lightly. Also belero jackets.

For the sports car crowd there are wall-length camel's hair capes, extravagant paisley shirts and fur caps right out of the Don Cossack chorus.

Sherlock Holmes cape coats, Scotland Yard checked hats, and black evening capes with red satin linings "the villain he still pursued her", fancy-dress with delicate brocade woven into black, red, green or blue on white, all are available.

Man can be a fur-bearing animal this year. Available are such pelts as wombat, Persian lamb, pony skin, mink, racoon and various synthetic fabrics. One advertisement boasts: Buy yourself a fur jacket to match your wife's.

In general, shoulders are wider, waists more emphasized, fabrics light. The slope-shoulder Italian look is disappearing, tapered trousers are cuffless, and ties are louder.

The nation's clothiers are waging an all-out campaign to dress up "sloppy" American youth, with boys as their principal target.

They grant that blue jeans are fine for play or work, but not for school. They suggest that a boy wear a dress shirt, tie, jacket or sweater, pressed trousers and polished shoes to the classroom.

The trend is well groomed elegance. "We are even trying to bring back the top hat," a spokesman for a leading men's fashion magazine Esquire said. "But it's tough. You can't fit them into sports cars."

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

Tim Prentice arrived home with the VAH-7 detachment and has gone on leave to Connecticut to visit his family. There are many happy families in town now that the boys are back from their long trip.

With the return of balmy weather the Mayfair Country Club is catering once more to enthusiastic golfers. As I passed yesterday I could see Doris Spencer on the practice tee warming up for her match in the club championship.

This is the time for the sanding of boats, children skating and washing of curtains. Spring is in the air, and while the weather man may cross us up again, preparations for Easter are underway.

Terrace sitting is once more in style, and it is most pleasant to sniff the warm air as one watches the sun set in the west. This is the way Florida should be. Soon there will be little to remind us of the hard winter, except the dead trees, shrubbery and collapsed pool-tet books of those who lost so heavily in the freezes. Social activities this week include a membership coffee for officers wives Thursday morning at 10:00 at the B. O. Q., and the benefit card party at the Woman's Club on Friday. The card party will go on both afternoon and night, to give everyone a chance to play. So make up your tables and go!

One of the more pleasant arguments today is that of the sack and chemise versus the good old look, where bulges were permitted in moderation. There is no doubt but what the chemise is pretty cute, especially on the youngsters, and sometimes the sack has its appeal, but Sanford merchants are showing only modified versions of both styles. Colored hose is available in several shops. Ropes of beads are plentiful—and relatively inexpensive. Hurray, for our side!

We have plenty of style right here in Sanford. Also, many, many pointed toe shoes—these are flattering to the legs and handy for kicking husbands.

George Washington Commemorated At Westside School

A patriotic program commemorating the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln was given at Westside School Friday afternoon. Under the capable leadership of their teachers, Mrs. Irene Watt and Mrs. Ruth Clifton, the children of the two second grade classes presented the most enjoyable play. The students of Westside marched into the auditorium while Mrs. Watt's rhythm band played.

To open the program the student body sang "How Are You Today", Mrs. Clifton selected her devotional from St. John after which the children sang the "Prayer Song."

Solos on the program were a piano selection by Mary Hampton and tap dance by Janice Robinson. At conclusion of the program students sang two verses of America then returned to their classrooms accompanied by a march played by the rhythm band.

Children from the two classes taking part were: Mary Hampton, Ann Doudney, Janice Robinson, Linda Stafford, Dannie Ruppe, Brenda Scarber, Dennis Doney, Pat Bethas, Larry Smith, Ronnie Murray, John Rich, Kenneth Riser, Candace Coleman, Gal Redd, Donald Willis, Rebecca Patterson, Sara Presley, Elsie Thompson, Dolores Flanagan, Mariela Jo Brown, Tony Foley, Eddie Padgett, Benny Davis, Pat Brown, Ethel Todd, Offine Moyr, Lora Ann Crews, Bellinda Soles, Chuck Brantley, Wayne Beal, Dale Murray, Gay Echols, Rita Gay Aushorn, Frances Eard, Brenda Carter, Steve Soderblom, Jack Sandler and Kenny Kirk.

Deanna Durbin Prefers Housework To Movie Career

NEUPHLE—LE—CHATEAU, France—Remember Deanna Durbin? Well, she is now a happy French housewife who says nothing could lure her back to Hollywood.

Still a beautiful brunette, though heavier than in her film days, the 34-year-old Deanna says for the first time in her life she is enjoying privacy with her family.

"And I would not change it for the world," she said. Deanna ended a 13-year movie career in 1949 to marry French film director Charles David and retire to this village of 958 people less than 30 miles from Paris.

Her talk with me was her first interview since then. "I was never happy making pictures," she said. "They never allowed me to grow up as a normal child."

Mrs. David said she was determined to spare her daughter, 11-year-old Justine, and her son, Peter, 6, a similar childhood. "Some movie stars say this but don't mean it," said her distinguished-looking, 51-year-old husband. "But in my wife's case, the 'no' on publicity is definite."

The Davids live in a two-story farm house surrounded by a high stone wall. The local saragamen across the road tips them off when "uninvited guests" are seen in the vicinity.

Deanna still practices—one hour every morning. "Now I can sing whatever I like," said the actress who once made $130,000 a picture.

"But the most exciting thing at the moment is Peter studying piano. We go into Paris once a week for lessons. He is not yet in the Mozart stage, but I get a tremendous kick out of singing with him to help him practice."

Deanna drives the family car and does most of her own shopping in nearby markets. The shopkeepers respect her as a canny bargainer and the butcher says he is sure she is a good cook. She and her husband still make frequent trips to Paris to go to the theater and dinner parties.

NEW YORK—Major league spring training opened officially yesterday and the "early line" indicates that more than two dozen have a chance to make the grade in the big time.

Two items are very evident. The accent is on the pitchers and if you're a little fellow with aspirations under the big top you'd better have plenty on the ball.

Because all but one of the rookie phenoms to be inspected—and given a chance to make it—are six feet or taller.

The lone exception of course rated ready is 5-foot-4 Albie Pearson. A candidate for a Washington outfield berth. Albie already is the hallplayer's gold champion and would gladly trade in his clubs and armpits even to a spot in Washington.

Team by team, the prime candidates are:

National League
Chicago Cubs—Catcher Sam Taylor, 6-foot-1, apparently the best of a big but weak Cub crop. A good hitter but a weak receiver.

Cincinnati Reds—Pitchers Marty Kutyna and Charlie Babe plus outfielder Gil Druce. Both right-handers have fine fast balls and

Philadelphia Phils—Pitcher Roman Bemprock and outfielders Fred Van Dusen and Don Landrum, all a couple of years away.

Pittsburgh Pirates—Right-handers Bennie Daniels and 6-foot-4 George Witt, two stars from Hollywood.

St. Louis Cards—Rightie Frank Barnes, whose fast ball fanned 17 in one game in Omaha, and 6-foot-3 Tom Flanagan, Indianapolis reliever.

San Francisco Giants—Lefty Pete Burnside, who might make it, and outfielder Willie Kirkland, a real power hitter.

American League
New York Yankees—First baseman Marv Throneberry, a power hitter, and rightie Jim Coates, whose fast ball fanned 16 in 226 innings at Richmond.

Baltimore Orioles—Pitchers Charles Beamon and Jim Archer, both strong on control.

Boston Red Sox—Six-foot catcher Haywood Sullivan, who still needs polish, and second baseman Ken Aspromonta, at .334 the PCL batting king but weak affaid.

Chicago White Sox—Six-three rightie Barry Latman, who fanned 161 in 221 innings at Indianapolis.

Cleveland Indians—Outfielder Gary Galger, fast and good power.

Detroit Tigers—Rightie Ron Rozman, whose .18-1 and 1.44 ERA led the Sally League and Hob Shaw, whose team won the Caribbean title.

Kansas City Athletics—Lefty Walt Craddock, 18-8 at Buffalo whose new fork ball changeup could bring him through.

From these, the insiders say, will come the rookies of the year.

Los Angeles Dodgers—Right-hander Larry Sherry, strident king of the Texas League, and outfielder Jon Demster, who hit .309 at St. Paul.

Milwaukee Braves—Right-hander Carlton Willey, fast baller with a 21-6 mark which led the American Association for Wichita.

Philadelphia Phils—Pitcher Roman Bemprock and outfielders Fred Van Dusen and Don Landrum, all a couple of years away.

Riders May Break 100 mph Barrier

DAYTONA BEACH—For the first time in the 21-year history of the Handiebar Derby, motorcycle riders now are beginning to talk of breaking the 100 mph barrier in the Daytona 200 beach and road course here March 9.

What the four minute mile was to runners, the 100 mph average for the national championship Daytona 200 has been to the best motorcycleists in America.

Joe Leonard, San Diego, Calif., winner of the 1957 Daytona 200 has set motorcycleists to talking about breaking the "century barrier."

Until last year riders couldn't seem to get over 94 mph in the race. In 1953 Paul Goldsmith, St. Clair Shores, Mich., averaged 94.65 mph to win the race. The following year Bobby Hill, Columbus, Ohio was the winner with 94.34 mph, just missing the record. In 1955 Brad Andres, San Diego, Calif., set up a new mark with 94.57 mph. John Gibson, Pasadena, Calif., won the 1956 race with 94.21 mph average.

Then last year Leonard, riding a Harley-Davidson, smashed the record with 99.52 mph average. This astounding speed over the 4.1 mile beach and road course and for a distance of 200 miles gave motorcycleists hope of breaking the 100 mark.

Leonard's speed is a far cry from the first Daytona 200, the race in 1937. That Ed Kretz, St. Monterey Park, Calif., was the winner with an average of 73.34 mph.

"I won't be a bit surprised if some rider goes over the 100 mph average. It may be this year, maybe next," says E. C. Smith, Columbus, Ohio, executive secretary of the American Motorcycle Ass.

The AMA sanctions Handiebar Derby week here and the sponsor is the Central Labor Union of Daytona Beach.

SHS Spring Sports Program In Making

By JOHN MILLER

The spring sports program of Seminole High School is getting ready to go into high gear. Plans have been made, coaches assigned and teams worked out. It is going to be a big busy season.

This year there will be four sports in the program. These sports, some of them just now getting into high swing, are track, swimming, baseball and golf. Each coach has an assignment to one of the sports, and he will work with the students playing that sport.

The assignments for track, Jim Pigott, who was the head football coach during the season last year; swimming, baseball and golf. Each coach has an assignment to one of the sports, and he will work with the students playing that sport.

Coach Bud Leyer will work with this year's baseball team, practice for which started Monday. Finally, Fred Ganas, athletic director for Seminole High School will serve as golf coach.

This year's golf team seems to be getting right along as an established part of Seminole High School. Quite a few people went out to be one of the best sports we have.

Spring sports had a very large reception this year. One hundred eight students went out for the various sports and the teams are all ready.

Let's hope they keep going like this the rest of the season.

Kansas Ratings Tops

By NORMAN MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Kansas State topped the United Press major college basketball ratings today for the third week in a row, but if the Wildcats falter, third-ranked Cincinnati faces an excellent opportunity to muscle its way to the national championship.

Among Kansas State's three persistent pursuers for the title, Cincinnati faces by far the toughest schedule during the two remaining weeks of the regular season. Second-ranked West Virginia and fourth-ranked San Francisco have comparatively easy opponents left to be played.

Should Kansas State (18-1) be upset in any of its four remaining games against Big Eight Conference rivals, Cincinnati can stake a strong claim for the national championship by beating St. Louis, Wichita and two backyard foes, Dayton and Xavier of Ohio. Victories over these four would give the Bearcats a 24-2 season record.

Irish Move Up

Kansas State's toughest test shapes up as the regular-season finale against West Virginia (23-1) has only George Washington on its regular slate before competing in the Southern Conference Tournament which it will be favored to win. San Francisco (21-1) has three games remaining against mediocre California Basketball Association rivals.

Twenty-four of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press Rating Board picked Kansas State No. 1 this week. Five voted for West Virginia, three for Cincinnati, two for San Francisco, and one for Notre Dame, which being staged on grass, a surface the foreign runners are accustomed to. This was brought about because the Los Angeles Dodgers share use of Memorial Coliseum and are planting sod on the running track to cover the outfield.

Of the 15 "under-four-minute" milers on the record books, only John Landy, Roger Bannister and Chris Chataway no longer are competing and were omitted from the list.

England and Australia, which have dominated mile running, topped the list of those invited with three men each.

England's Derek Robbison, who has the fastest time on record of 3:37.2 which is awaiting approval as a new world's record, headed the list of those invited.

The other stars sent bids were Dan Waern, Sweden; Jim Bailey, Australia; Don Bowden, U. S.;

Los Angeles — The greatest field of distance runners ever assembled for a single event was in the making as every mile runner in the world in active competition who has broken four minutes was invited to compete in the "Miracle Mile" of the Coliseum Relays.

Stealing a march on rival meets, Coliseum Relays Chairman Willis O. Hunter announced that 15 of the 18 men who have broken the distance barrier by running the mile under four minutes have been sent bids to compete in the event May 18.

And for the first time in the 18-year history of the Coliseum Relays, the running events are made the top 10 group for the first time this season.

The Wildcats' first-place margin was only slightly altered from last week, declining from 34 to 32 points over West Virginia. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first to 10th places.

Runners-up Bunched

Only nine points separated the second, third and fourth-ranked teams in the closest four-club race in the eight-year history of the United Press ratings.

After San Francisco in this week's ratings came Temple, Duke, Kansas, Michigan State, North Carolina State and Notre Dame. The Irish advanced from 13th place, replacing Oklahoma State in the select group.

The coaches based their ratings on games played through Saturday, Feb. 22.

Duke 16-5 made the biggest jump of the week among the leaders, moving from ninth to sixth place. Temple with a 20-2 record and a 19-game winning streak, advanced one notch to No. 8, and Michigan State (15-4) went up two places to No. 8.

North Carolina, last season's NCAA champion, advanced from 14th to 11th to head the second 10 group.

Dinner Should Include Basic Foods You Missed

By HERMAN N. BUNDELMAN, M.D.

YOU'VE had a busy day at the office. And despite all my urging to relax, many of you are still weary at the end of your working hours.

So relax once more en route home. Again, you can read or dose but take these precious few minutes on the train or bus to forget your worries and take things easy.

Before Dinner When you arrive home, it's a good idea to lie down and take a nap, or at least rest for 15 or 20 minutes, before eating dinner. This will give your stomach a chance to become unknotted.

Whether you plan to stay home for the evening or to go out, make sure you eat a good dinner.

What should you eat? Well, that's very simple to answer.

Basic Foods

Each day you should get your seven basic foods in the proper amount. What you don't eat for breakfast or lunch should be made up at dinner time. These basic foods are:

Milk—An adult needs at least two glasses a day. It may be taken by drinking it, mixing it with other foods, or in ice cream and cheese.

Fruits—Two or more servings daily. Take at least one raw fruit and citrus fruits or a tomato each day.

Eat Greens

Vegetables—Two or more servings each day (don't count potatoes); one green or yellow.

either raw in a salad or lightly cooked. Serve vegetable "greens" often.

Eggs—About four or five eggs a week or one a day, whichever you prefer.

Meat, fish, poultry and cheese—At least one serving daily. Occasionally have dried beans, peas and peanuts.

Bread and cereal—Have two or more servings each day. Make sure they are whole grain or enriched. Milk, remember, improves their nutritional values, so have as much milk with your cereal as you desire.

Butter—About two table-spoons daily. Slightly more, if you wish.

Just a word or two about exercise.

Exercise Needed

You know what they say about all work and no play. Well, to live a really healthy day, you must have some exercise.

Walking to and from the railroad station or bus stop helps, of course. But at least once or twice a week spend a few hours bowling, swimming, golfing, skating, playing tennis—whatever you prefer.

And don't overlook dancing. Not only is dancing romantic, it's healthful, too.

Top Stars Will Be Featured In Two SOKC Races Tonight

Top stars at the Sanford Orlando-Kennel Club are slated for action in both the featured tenth event on tonight's eleven-race program and in the ninth race which also has a Grade A rating.

The field for the main event is probably the wingiest yet assembled here this season. John R. Groves' sensational pup, Fable Contessa, will be seeking her ninth win of the season, while three other contestants will be after their seventh victory. They are Divo, Run Happy and Knocker.

All other entries have from three to five firsts in the bag.

As for the ninth race, it boasts the track's wingiest runner, R. F. Bennett's Go Suzzie. She will be shooting for her eleventh victory. Recently Go Suzzie staged a win streak in which she romped home first in seven out of eight starts. The one time she missed she finished second, just a nose behind the winner.

Many Beneficiary Changes Are Made

An increasing number of cases are coming to light in which GI life insurance proceeds must be paid to other than the veteran's immediate family because the veteran failed to keep his beneficiary listing up to date.

This was reported today by Benjamin S. Beach, Officer in Charge of the Central Florida VA Office, for the benefit of any of the 131,189 GI insurance policyholders in Florida who should change their beneficiaries in line with recent changes in family status.

Marriages, divorces, births or deaths are the types of changes in family status which may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings, Beach said.

In many of the recent cases coming to light, the beneficiaries of VA records were the same the veterans had named when they took out their policies years ago, even though they had since married and begotten families, Beach said.

He added the VA is required by law to pay GI insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record, whether or not that beneficiary still is in any way connected with the veteran.

Changes of beneficiaries can be made at any time without notifying the beneficiaries, but they must be made in writing over the policyholder's signature and sent to the VA office servicing the policy, Beach said.

These changes cannot be made in a last will or testament, Beach added; they must be filed by the policyholder with the VA directly to be valid under the law.

Any VA office will be glad to assist GI insurance policyholders in filing beneficiary changes, Beach said.

New York Citizens Helping Promote Cause Of Peace

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — Will the individual citizen grab at the chance to do something tangible about promoting the cause of peace? A remarkable show of public desire is taking place in New York. As part of President Eisenhower's "People-to-people" program, a local bank decided on a trial-run drive to get people to carry a U. S. silver "peace dollar" as a symbol of national peace dedication. It ordered 25,000 of the silver dollars bearing the word "peace" from the Treasury Department through the Philadelphia mint. This special dollar can be had for $1, and the idea is for travelers abroad and Americans at home to carry it as a pocket-piece and conversation-maker in the cause of peace.

The Chase Manhattan Bank made them available in its main office and 90 branches the last three days of last week. By Friday, the bank had to order 50,000 more. The drive began with presentation of the coins to Blanche Theodm, opera singer, and Byron Janis, pianist, who will help represent the U. S. at the Brussels World's Fair.

Only One Issued
The dollar was minted only from 1921 to 1928 and from 1934 to 1935. There is a girl's head, a symbol of liberty, on the front. On the reverse side is an eagle on a mountain on which appears the word "peace". It is the only coin issued by any country in this century so inscribed.

Aside from the presentation to the two artists, the bank has told its customers about the dollar only in pamphlets in the various branches. The idea of a coin as a symbol of international peace, friendship, and understanding came from Veron Brown, curator of the Chase Manhattan money museum of 75,000 pieces in Rockefeller Center.

President Eisenhower launched the People-to-People program in September, 1956, calling on private citizens to work out methods of promoting peace. Many committees of citizens have been formed under the general chairmanship of Charles E. (Electric Charlie) Wilson, the business executive who bossed war production and defense mobilization in World War II and the Korean War.

Brown heads Committee of Citizens for the Peace Program. He says he doesn't know whether other banks across the country intend to follow suit. He did not expect the peace-dollar program to catch on as fast as it has.

THE CARD OF THANKS
 Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
 Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
 There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.
THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE
 It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memorium" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable service brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet, has so beautifully expressed it:
 "How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
 What memory plays an old tune on the heart."
 Most frequently an In Memorium is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.
 If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.
THE RATE
 Cards of Thanks and In Memorium notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

PIRATES, HIGHWAYMEN, early settlers and explorers often were forced to bury their valuables for safe-keeping, or when pursued. It is estimated that lost treasure valued at hundreds of millions of dollars lies buried along our coasts, rivers and pioneer trails. Treasure hunters expect to recover millions of dollars' worth of gold, silver, coin, ivory, church ornaments, and jewelry this year.
 We have available valuable information that every outdoorsman should possess. You can share in an exciting adventure and possibly be one of those who recover over time lost treasures, perhaps some of them near you or the landmarks you pass each day. Protestant Churches Muffling

By LOUIS CASSELL
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 America's Protestant churches are muffling the greatest evangelistic opportunity of this century. That stark verdict was reached by 1,500 Methodist leaders from all parts of the country who met in Washington to discuss what churches are doing—and failing to do—in the downtown areas of big cities.

The consensus was that Methodists and other Protestant denominations are concentrating too much of their attention on the relatively prosperous suburbs, and too little on the blighted "inner city" areas where millions of families have no church ties.

Need Missionary Work
 The conclusions of the three-day conference were documented, with typical Methodist thoroughness, by a wide variety of surveys, statistical reports, and sociological studies.

Here are some of the most significant findings:
 A generation ago, the new families moving into the crowded inner section of cities were European immigrants of predominantly Roman Catholic background. Today the newcomers are white and Negro families from the South and from rural areas, with Protestant backgrounds.

Neither the Methodists, nor other major Protestant denominations, are effectively serving this vast "missionary field."

 One survey of 50 "inner city" churches showed that more than half had barely held their own or had suffered a loss of membership during the past 10 years while the population of their urban neighborhoods was rising sharply.

Another showed startling low rates of church membership and attendance among families living in apartment houses and mass housing projects.

No City "Plan"
 Several speakers noted that Protestant denominations have no overall plan for serving the inner city. Individual churches are "left to work out their own problems as best they can." Many of them are in dire financial straits. They find it difficult to obtain ministers. Elderly women comprise a disproportionate large percentage of the typical congregation. Competent lay leaders are hard to find.

The conferees decided that the first step toward a solution of these problems for church members everywhere — especially those in the booming suburbs—to recognize that they share the responsibility for offering a vigorous Protestant ministry to the inner city.

As one report put it:
 "No individual church in a blighted area can stand alone. It must have the moral and perhaps financial support of the entire denomination in the work it attempts to do."

The places where deer and other wild animals come to lick the salt at out-croppings from the earth are known as "licks."

17,000 'Phones Used In Autos

NEW YORK (AP)—There was this rich Texan named Abe and this other rich Texan named Sol, and they were always competing in the field of show-off living.

Abe gets his wife a mink coat. So does Sol. Abe gets a white Cadillac. Sol too. Abe calls up Sol one day and says:

"Guess where I am—I'm in my white Cadillac talking to you over my new mobile car-telephone." Sol gets busy. Next day he phones Abe's automobile number.

"Abe, old boy," he says, "I too am in my car speaking over my new mobile phone."

"Just a minute, Sol," says Abe, "my other phone's ringing."

Let us behold, today, the telephone as an institution. There are nearly 68 million of the noisy things in use in the United States, and about 17,000 of these are in automobiles.

The phone is just getting into private airplanes. This is in the Detroit-Chicago area, on a trial basis. Both cities have radio stations operated by the phone company for mobile service, air-to-ground, and about 25 planes have phones—as does one commercial airliner.

Recently a man in South America telephoned a business associate in Chicago and finally got him in his private plane near Milwaukee.

Another trial run is taking place in Allentown and Bethlehem, Pa., and has been authorized for Columbus, Ohio, in a couple of months. It's a "personal signaling service" in which the user carries a gadget about the size of an overgrown glasses case wherever he goes. When he's wanted on the phone, the operator sends a signal that makes the gadget whistle. The user goes to the nearest phone and calls a pre-arranged number to get his call.

Several doctors, lawyers, delivery men, and priests are trying it out. The phone people are somewhat nettled that there are more two-car families in the United States, 3,700,000 than there are two-phone residences, 3,400,000. But they find consolation that their 63-million-phone national figure beats the 59,106,000 passenger cars now on U. S. roads.

The phone experts have conquered many problems, but admit defeat on one thing—an effective conversation-limiter for teenage girls.

France Confronted With Critical Situation In North Africa

United Press Staff Correspondent
France is facing a critical situation in North Africa. It is embroiled in a serious dispute with Tunisia, its former protectorate, over the bombing of a Tunisian village near the Algerian frontier.

It has come under severe criticism by the United States because some of the planes used in the bombing were American. The State Department says the planes were supplied solely for use in the North Atlantic Treaty defense area in Europe.

To make things worse, the rebels in Algeria have opened a new offensive and have engaged French forces in four sectors.

The Algerian revolt, of course, lies behind the entire situation and behind most of France's present grave troubles. France and Tunisia accepted the diplomatic "good offices" of the United States and Britain in the Tunisian dispute.

Murphy is secretary of state, is now in Tunisia negotiating with President Habib Bourguiba. Murphy is a diplomat "around-shooter" of note. But he seems to be faced with an almost impossible task in attempting to bring France and Tunisia together.

The bombing of the Tunisian village of Sabet-Sidi-Youssef was an offshoot of the Algerian rebellion. President Bourguiba now insists that Murphy must go into the entire Algerian issue in his attempt to mediate.

Premier Felix Gaillardet of France, trying desperately to keep Algeria out of international politics, rejects that demand. Algeria is different. Algeria is not, as were Tunisia and Morocco, a French protectorate. It is politically a part of France itself, with representation in the French Parliament.

Hance Gaillardet holds that Algeria is purely of internal French concern. But every attempt to end the revolt since it broke out on Nov. 1, 1954, has failed. Upwards of 500,000 French troops have failed to crush the rebels. Legislation providing for a large measure of home rule for Algeria has failed to provide a way out.

GOP Accelerates New Public Works Program

Takes Hard Work To Win Trophy

Commander J. J. Tully Jr., commanding officer of VAH-3 at the Sanford Naval Air Station, said that it takes "just plain ordinary hard work" to win the Conover Trophy in one of Heavy Attack Wing One's quarterly bombing derbies.

Cdr. Tully spoke this morning to a capacity audience at the monthly Seminoles County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club.

More than 60 Chamber of Commerce members and visitors heard Cdr. Tully explain the various phases of a bombing derby. The graphic descriptions were available through the use of charts.

Each squadron has three crews in the quarterly bombing competition," he told Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club visitors. The purpose of the derby is to improve efficiency and the esprit d'corps of the unit.

Describing the flying of the route on a chart of "Shape Drop," Cdr. Tully pointed out on the colorful diagram how the route was achieved.

On the RDS chart, the commander pointed to locations where radar ground units fixed "the plane in space" from which the dropping of a bomb could be computed.

The radar scope was described by use of a chart showing a simulated picture on which he described how to designate the target.

"The Conover Trophy is given by the North American Aviation Company in honor of the first pilot to fly a heavy attack bomber," explained Cdr. Tully, who added "when a squadron wins it three times in succession it becomes a permanent award."

"All of us like the Sanford Naval Air Station and we appreciate the attitude of the people of this area toward our problems," concluded Cdr. Tully.

Charlie Morrison, who introduced Cdr. Tully, said "We're awfully glad you fellows are on our side."

Eight officers of VAH-3 accompanied Cdr. Tully to the Coffee Club meeting.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration today pushed a stepped-up public works program to create more jobs and ease the economic recession.

A majority of the House-Senate economic committee meanwhile lined up with President Eisenhower in opposition to a tax cut now as an anti-recession weapon. The President said the time has come to press and accelerate works projects already underway. He added that work will begin on a number of other projects still in the planning stage for which funds have been approved.

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) reported after a conference with Eisenhower that the chief executive had ordered Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton to review reclamation projects which might be speeded up to combat unemployment and strengthen the economy of western states.

The House-Senate committee agreed with Eisenhower that taxes should be cut only if the recession worsens after other government actions to stimulate business recovery.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said the administration will ask Congress next month for more than $1,300,000,000 for high "priority" defense programs to meet Russia's space challenge.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce opposed any cut in defense funds. But it called for a 3-billion-dollar cut in the overall 1959 budget as a companion measure to its earlier demand for an equal cut in taxes.

Employment Service Office Here Now Open

The Florida Employment Service office in Sanford, located at 110 West Second St., is "ready to get into full swing," said D. B. Hahn, Jr., local manager.

"We've spent this week getting our office set up and files in shape in order to efficiently take care of citizens of this community," he said.

The major function of the office, which has just been set up here, said Hahn, is to register individuals seeking employment or those employed who want to become exposed to other positions. Explaining the functions and methods used in the local office, the manager said that applications are filed in three types. Those he said are male, female and veteran. Each card filed on the individual is of a distinctive color separating it from the others.

Those making application are interviewed and then notified of possible openings. He said that the applications are kept active in the office files for 30 days unless the applicant is receiving unemployment compensation when the application is kept active indefinitely.

"The office will handle unemployment claims, also," said the local manager. These are for veterans, Florida unemployed people, Interstate claims, and Federal claims.

"At the present time we have 150 active claimants from this office," Hahn stated.

"We want to urge employers to use the service of this office," Hahn emphasized yesterday in an interview with The Sanford Herald.

"We have 19 different classifications of unemployed people that need jobs now," he said. "In Sanford we would like to see local business people, builders, manufacturers, and housewives to use the services that the Florida State Employment office affords," said Hahn.

At the same time, the manager stated, "we want all of the unemployed to register with the office in order that we might help find jobs for them."

Hahn explained that there are

Bystander Hit By Rifle Shot

A bystander, 100 yards and to the right of the direction in which a 22 rifle was fired, was accidentally hit in the back.

Sheriff Luther Hobby, this morning, said that F. F. French of Lake Katherine was shooting his rifle at a snake on Gee Creek when by a freak accident the bullet ricocheted and hit Eugene Orr about 6:30 p. m. last night.

The accident was investigated by Deputy Sheriff L. J. Kriz who said in his report that Orr was taken to the Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

Kriz reported that the doctor revealed that there will hardly be any complications but the man was held overnight in the hospital.

German Girl To Attend School Here Next Year

The Boys and Girls Committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club revealed yesterday that a German girl has been selected as an exchange student to attend Seminole High School next year.

Committee Chairman Douglas Stenstrom said that the high school student will live with Dr. John Wilson and his family during her stay here.

The young lady selected and approved by the committee is Brigitte Geissler, a 17-year-old high school girl of Farnstrasse 15, Boshum Westphalia, Germany.

Her father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. Hans Geissler. He is a merchant in his community.

This is the first participation in the program, Committee Chairman Stenstrom said, for the local club.

BRIGITTE GEISLER, selected by the Boys and Girls Committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club as an exchange student, will probably attend school here for one year.

Herron Hurt As Car Crashes Into Ditch Yesterday

Ray W. Herron, 48-year-old Sanford automobile man, narrowly escaped being crushed to death yesterday afternoon when he apparently lost control of his car on Grapeville Ave. and crashed into a deep ditch.

The 1954 Ford automobile Herron was driving was a total loss. According to investigating officers, the automobile approached a railroad crossing on McCracken Rd. during an afternoon rain. In all probability, an investigating officer said, one of the front wheels grabbed when Herron attempted to slow down for the train crossing at the intersection.

The front end of the automobile was partially buried in the dirt embankment as the car straddled a deep ditch and only a bare inch or so from a concrete culvert.

In addition to the front end being badly damaged, the front windshield was smashed where Herron's head went into it, and the steering wheel was smashed as his body was thrown into it by the impact.

Herron, employed by the Willis Pontiac, was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital where it was determined his injuries were not serious. He received a laceration on the forehead and a chest injury.

The automobile man was traveling north at the time of his accident about 4:40 p. m. yesterday. Investigating officers were Deputy Sheriffs Verne Brewster and A. E. Evans.

No other car was involved.

THIS CAR WENT out of control late yesterday afternoon on Grapeville Ave. at McCracken Rd. Driver of the automobile was Ray W. Herron. The car, investigating officers said, was a total loss. Herron was injured and taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital. (Staff Photo)

Cdr. Deans To Head Unit In Puerto Rico

Commander Thomas Chilton Deans, who has been the Administrative Officer at the Naval Air Station, Sanford, since Feb. 21, 1956, recently received his orders to take command of Fastron-105 based at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico.

Commander Deans, presently a "Sanfordite," is originally from Goldsboro, N. C. He graduated from Lees-McKee College, Banner Elk, N. C., in June 1939 with an Associate of Arts degree.

In October 1939, Commander Deans, at age 19, enlisted with the U. S. Navy and went through boot camp in Norfolk, Va. In December 1939, he was sent to the Hospital Corps School in Portsmouth, Va. After completing the Hospital Corps School in March 1940, Commander Deans worked in the Naval Hospital, N. Y., in the Heart and Cancer Ward. In October 1940, Commander Deans, still an enlisted man, was chosen to be a member of the commissioning group along with recent Chief of BuMed, RADM Lamont Pugh, to put the first Mobile Base Hospital into operation. This included outside detail in which the commissioning group erected the mobile medical facilities. Commander Deans, who was an Operating Room Technician, was detailed to work with Rear Admiral Lamont Pugh in the Operating Room itself.

His tour of duty with the Mobile Base Hospital ended in March 1941, at which time he took Elimination Flight Training at the Naval Air Reserve Base, Squantum, Mass. After successfully completing this phase of training, in July 1941, Commander Deans proceeded to NAS Jacksonville for Aviation Cadet Training and was commissioned an Ensign on January 9, 1942. He was immediately ordered to duty aboard the U.S.S. Washington (BB-56) as an aviator in an observation squadron. In April 1942, he was ordered to an OS2U squadron based at NAS Corpus Christi, Tex. Eleven Schools Will Enter Spelling Bee

Eleven Seminole County schools will participate in a countywide "Spelling Bee" during the first week in April to determine the "Champion Speller" and a runner-up for this county.

Each of the 11 schools will enter three of their champion spellers for the contest that will determine which two of the group will represent the county in Miami for the South Florida Spelling Bee.

For the first time in the history of the "Spelling Bee" there will be a combination written and oral "spell down".

Schools participating are Sanford Junior High, Pinecrest, Sanford Grammar, All Souls Catholic School, Lake Monroe, Wilson School, Lake Mary, Lynnman School, Oviedo, Geneva, and St. Leo's Christian Day School at Blavia.

All of the participating schools are elementary.

R. C. Steele, Seminole County school teacher is in charge of the local spelling bee. The winner comes out with a huge trophy.

The "South Florida Spelling Bee" is sponsored by the Miami Herald and is an annual event which brings spellers from 22 counties to compete in the final spelling contest before sending a representative speller to a national spelling bee in Washington, D. C. June 9-14.

Prior to the countywide spelling bee, each of the schools participating in the event will conduct its own spelling match to determine the school champions.

The winner of the big county event, in addition to the huge gold trophy, will receive $10 in cash. The runner-up receives $5.

It is anticipated that other prizes will be given in addition to the trophies.
