FIREFIGHTERS from DeBary and the Sanford Naval Air Station fought a blazing lumber yard fire in DeBary for nearly 12 hours yesterday. Damage was estimated at $80,000.

Arson Being Checked In DeBary Fire

A theft of gasoline and arson combination may have caused the DeBary fire which destroyed $80,000 worth of lumber and supplies in DeBary yesterday, District Two Constable Oscar Pappineau said this morning.

A gasoline cap lock which bore screwdriver marks was found on the running board of a burned truck, the constable said. If the lock had been blown off after the fire started, it would have been found far from the truck, not on the running board, according to the constable.

The blaze at the 321 High Banks Rd. lumber and supply yard started about 2 a. m. yesterday. A lumber truck, car, dynamo and tools were destroyed, as well as half of Mrs. G. H. Davis' adjacent house. The fire was still burning yesterday afternoon. Edward A. Davis is the owner of the lumber yard which was a total loss.

The fire had been burning quite a while when the DeBary volunteer fire department arrived at the scene. Department Director Charles W. Schneider said. The Naval Air Station fire squad worked for about six hours on the blaze and the DeBary department put it in 11 hours at the fire.

Recession Near, Labor Predicts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO predicted today that another recession will occur in the next few years "if the current drift of national economic policies and developments is not halted quickly."

The prediction was made before a special Senate committee which opened an extensive investigation into why the United States has heavy unemployment in an era of general prosperity.

Geneva Telephone User Survey On

Telephone customers in Geneva will receive a post card from the telephone company in the next few days, asking for comments and criticism regarding telephone service and the company that provides it, according to Bob Shedd, local manager for Southern Bell.

Similar post card canvasses are planned for other areas where Southern Bell operates. We're not necessarily seeking compliments," Shedd points out. "The real purpose is to find out which customers have complaints so that the company can try to remove the causes of these complaints."

Penal Tour Set At Chattahoochee

CHATTAHOOCHEE (UPI) — The Legislature's prison committee opened a five-day tour of the state penal system today with the assurance it is "not on any witch hunt."

The legislators and State Prison Director H. G. Cochran Jr., began the tour with the Apalachee Correctional Institution for first offenders and will wind up Friday at the prison for hardened criminals at Raiford.

SANFORD'S OLDEST HOUSE got a final survey Saturday from W. C. Hill, left, who was born in it before it became the office of Hill Lumber & Supply Yard, and vice president of the firm, J. H. Crapps, as it was torn down to make way for the new office of the company. (Staff Photo)

Making Way For Progress

The house where W. C. Hill was born was torn down during the weekend, but there are plenty more in the Sanford area which have part of his company in them.

W. J. Hill, founder of Sanford's Hill Lumber and Supply Yard in 1873, built the house where W. C. Hill was born and put his products into many homes and buildings in this area.

His son, who saw his birthplace demolished Saturday, already had announced plans for a new building for the oldest Sanford business as part of the observance of its 86th year.

Hill Hardware Co. and Hill Implement Co. were started by the father of present lumber company owner, W. E. Hill. The elder Hill started business here with a plumbing and tin shop and a well driving outfit. In 1916 the lumber company staff was Hill, Gus Lovejoy, two yardhands and two horses.

Lovejoy has been with the firm for 43 years, and is now secretary-treasurer. W. E. Hill began running the family corporation upon his father's death in 1916.

The lumber company at 213 W. Third St. buys wood from wholesalers after it comes from lumbermills. Most of the lumber comes from nearby Sorrento, Ponderosa pine, cedar, and an increasing amount of redwood make up the company's principal wood stock-in-trade. Hardware, doors, windows and roofing paints are also in the stockpile.

The market for Hill goods is almost wholly in Sanford. Sales are mostly to individual homeowners.

A new one-story office building to be finished in 30 days will replace the house where W. E. Hill was born 73 years ago.

Third Russian Rocket Races Toward Orbit Of Moon-Earth

Radio Photos Expected Of Unseen Lunar Area

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet press and radio hailed today the success of its third lunar probe and scientists pledged that Russia's space program is not aimed at establishing military bases on the moon.

The moon rocket was racing toward the moon in a great looping curve that was expected to bring it to within 6,000 miles of the moon today and then back toward the earth. It was to pass the never-seen back of the moon and radio back photographs.

Success of the rocket was expected to be determined sometime today.

Evgeny Fedorov, corresponding member of the Soviet Academy of Science, reassured the world today on Soviet space aims. He wrote in Pravda, the official Communist newspaper:

"Soviet scientists are studying outer space with peaceful aim. No one in the USSR is planning to fence off the regions of the moon where a Soviet pennant lies (carried there by the Sept. 13 Lunik II) and start building military bases there."

"It may be this will have some beneficial effect on those inordinately zealous Western brass hats who, much ahead of their practical possibilities, openly dream of keeping whole countries under a threat of 'bombing from the moon,'" he said.

The fate of the probe hung in the balance and the scientist who worked out hairline calculations apparently were powerless to help it. Special transmitters aboard Lunik III were to switch on so its path may be determined exactly.

If the rocket performed as the Soviets expected, the 614-pound "interplanetary space station" contained in the 3,424-pound final stage of the rocket would career around a "corner" near the moon like a car skidding around a sharp turn.

It could skip out of control and plunge into the depths of space. It could stall, burn and plunge back to a fiery death in the earth's atmosphere.

But if the Soviet scientist's calculations have been exact, it could negotiate the corner perfectly, whip around the back of the moon which no man has ever seen, take crude electric pictures of it and radio them to earth.

If perfection is achieved, the rocket could go around the earth as it did the moon, circling both earth and moon in a huge, cigar-shaped orbit for months to come. This, too, may be known today.

Scientists discussing the latest Soviet space triumph said Sunday night it would take a day and a half or two days to determine the course of the rocket precisely enough to say whether Lunik III will achieve its double orbit.

There has been no mention of the exact time the rocket will begin skidding around its corner, swimming some 6,000 miles from the surface of the moon. Today's transmission from the moon probe was expected to disclose that.

Soviet scientists hailed the third cosmic rocket as "the beginning of interstellar navigation" and that it was a far greater achievement than the moon hit of Sept. 14.

Gloom Hits Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration revealed today it is studying plans to launch another moonrocket from the cape.

No date was indicated, but the brief announcement had the effect of wiping away a little of the gloom that spread among American missilemen with Russia's firing of Lunik III this past weekend.

U. S. scientists had hoped two weeks ago that the weekend would see a satellite headed for an orbit around the moon. The trick was accomplished—but with a bit of variation.

The "U.S." they had planned to mark the satellite became instead "U. S. S. R."—signifying the launching of Lunik III's 967-pound payload toward a programmed cigar-shaped orbit around both moon and earth.

NASA also said estimates indicated that about five months would be required to repair damage at "Complex 12" on the cape.

"Complex 12" was the launching pad for the Atlas Able moonrocket that was supposed to have carried America's own 375-pound satellite toward a lunar orbit sometime early this month.

But the Atlas-Able blew up during a static test Sept. 24 at the cape. The first and second stages of the four-stage behemoth were destroyed, and the pad itself heavily damaged.

NASA said it was considering plans "to conduct a similar experiment using other launching facilities at Cape Canaveral." The satellite remained in storage, but a new moonrocket appeared to be at least several weeks away.

Lunik III, while perhaps less spectacular than Lunik II which plowed into the lunar surface last month, will be considerably more beneficial from a standpoint.

For instance, it is designed to take and relay pictures of the moon's "far side," never before seen by man.

"Hurt, hurt—it really hurt," said one official here. It was a simple recognition that Russia had put even more distance between herself and the U. S. in the space race. The fact was met with calm acceptance here.

Gen. Donald N. Yates, commander of the Air Force missile test center here, had no comment immediately.

The moon satellite that U. S. missilemen have on hand—which also was designed to take pictures of the moon's "far side"—was left at the gate when an Atlas-Able moonrocket blew up during a static test Sept. 24. The shoot had been set for sometime early in October.

Government Intervention In Dock Strike Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government intervention in the five-day-old dock workers' strike was expected today in an effort to end the paralyzing tie-up in Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Federal officials were reported to regard the dock walkout as more critical than the 83-day-old steel strike. Hundreds of ships and millions of dollars of cargo are tied up in ports from Seaside, Maine, to Brownsville, Tex.

Federal authorities prepared to seek a court order to stop walkouts by two New Orleans locals of the striking International Longshoremen's Association (ILA).

If they succeed, it may pave the way for similar injunctions to halt work stoppages at other Southern ports.

Action to halt the pier tie-up on both coasts under the Taft-Hartley Act was expected within two or three days unless there are signs of early settlement.

General Counsel Stuart Rothman of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) planned to ask the five-member board for permission to seek an injunction to halt the New Orleans walkout.

If the NLRB gives Rothman a green light as expected, its New Orleans office will seek a temporary restraining order from a federal judge against the strike by the two ILA locals. Then a hearing on the government's plea for a preliminary injunction would be scheduled. A temporary order could be effective for up to five days.

Floods Slam Southwest Leaving Many Homeless

WORST FLOOD — About 1,000 families are believed to have been evacuated from Stillwater, Okla., as the worst flood in the city's history inundated the community. Shown is a view of state Highway 40.

United Press International

Floods and tornadoes combined to leave thousands homeless in the Southwest today. A five-day snow storm, meanwhile, stranded ranchers in southern Colorado.

At least 6 were dead and 65 missing from the multi-million-dollar floods and tornadoes in Oklahoma and Texas.

The Red Cross estimated that 1,000 homes in Oklahoma were damaged by flood waters. Hardest hit was Guthrie, Okla., which was flooded for the third time in nine days just as 400 families were returning to their homes.

"I've had it, I'm going to look for another location," said one Guthrie resident after the second flood.

Rains of 6 to 10 inches were common in Texas where eight twisters struck nine communities Sunday.

Up to four inches fell in Oklahoma, adding to a foot or more already fallen. Civil Defense Director Tom Trett said this year's flood may prove the most disastrous in Oklahoma history.

An estimated 10,000 head of cattle and sheep were threatened by starvation in Colorado, where most of the west mountain valley has been cut off from civilization since a snow storm struck a week ago.

Roofs of many ranch buildings were demolished under the weight of the four-foot snow fall.

No deaths or injuries have been reported, but an Army helicopter crew made a systematic check for stranded families in the snow-bound area.

The weatherman said shales would be sunny in the area today and the weather would be warmer.

In Oklahoma, some hope was offered that the flood-producing conditions might end. The forecast was for occasional light rain or drizzle.

Elsewhere, it was expected to be generally flat to partly cloudy for most of the area from the western plains to the Pacific Coast and from Georgia northward into New England.

Reapportionment Fight Groups Being Formed

MIAMI (UPI) — Miami Attorney Carl Faircloth said committees are being formed all over the state to fight the legislative reapportionment amendment in the Nov. 3 referendum.

Faircloth, chairman of the Florida Committee for Fair Representation, predicted the amendment would be defeated "by a healthy margin."

"Every day we are receiving encouraging reports of committees being formed throughout the state to oppose this formula which would cut off real representation for populous areas of Florida," said Faircloth.

The amendment would give several more seats to a few populous counties, Faircloth said, but still would leave control of the Legislature in the hands of rural lawmakers who represent a minority of the population. It also would delete a portion of the present Constitution requiring reapportionment to be made regularly on the basis of population, he said.

Faircloth said his group's opposition was "based on the fact that it offers less than a crumb to the populous counties and is an abject surrender to those special interest groups which have fought year after year to keep the populous areas of the state from having a fair share of representation."

He said local opposition committees are being formed in many of the state's population centers, including Broward, Orange, Pinellas, Brevard and Palm Beach counties.

The Hillsborough County Council of Civic Associations, which represents civic groups in the Tampa area, already has gone on record against the amendment, Faircloth said.

And he said the cities of Miami, Coral Gables, North Miami, South Miami and West Miami have adopted resolutions opposing the amendment.

Senate Opens Unemployment Hearing Today

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A special Senate committee opens an extensive investigation today into why the United States has heavy unemployment in an era of general prosperity.

Witnesses from the AFL-CIO, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers were scheduled to testify at the first hearing.

The committee, headed by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), planned to hold other sessions Tuesday and Wednesday to hear labor economists and government officials. Later it will conduct field hearings in various regions of the nation.

McCarthy noted that more than 10 million Americans were unemployed in August. While the jobless figure was lower than a year ago, he pointed out that it was 800,000 higher than before the recession.

"Unemployment is still one of the most complex and distressing problems in our society," he said. "We need to know more about the factors which cause unemployment, about its costs in terms of decreased productivity, about its social effects on family and community life, and about plans to diminish unemployment."

The nation's unemployment figure for September will not be available until the middle of this month. However, there was little hope the total would dip below three million because of lay-offs caused by the steel strikes.

Army Helicopter Crew Hunts Storm Area For Families

WESTCLIFFE, Colo. (UPI)—An Army helicopter crew made a systematic check today for stranded families on snowbound farms and ranches across the wet mountain valley in southern Colorado.

At the same time crews using snowplows, Army weasels and other heavy equipment resumed efforts to open snow-clogged rural roads so rangers could haul feed to thousands of head of cattle and sheep stranded on summer ranges.

Ten persons were brought out of the valley rimmed by the Sangre de Cristo Mountains Sunday by helicopter. Among those rescued were the Don Hanson family, including the Hanson's 4-month-old daughter.

The Custer County sheriff's office said apparently most of the persons isolated had plenty of food and other supplies. No deaths or injuries have been reported.

Most of the valley has been cut off from civilization since the storm struck last Monday night. Four feet of snow fell during the five-day storm. Telephone communications, temporarily restored Saturday, failed again Sunday night. Crews hoped to have lines repaired early today.

Sunny skies and warmer temperatures returned to the area today.

Atomic Energy Meet Set In State Friday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Eight or nine state agencies will send atomic energy experts to a meeting here Friday to bring each other up to date on new developments in their field.

Thrill Ride Comes Apart In Miami Injuring Two

MIAMI (UPI)—Three county commissioners have demanded an investigation into an amusement park accident in which a spinning thrill ride came apart and hurled two teenage boys 65 feet.

Bob Lusnier, 16, was seriously injured with a concussion and possible internal injuries in the mishap Saturday while Walter Budowski, 13, escaped with bad bruises.

Police said the accident happened when metal rods holding the "dive bomber" ride together came loose at the welds because of rust. The boys, who were in the cab of the ride, were catapulted to the roof of another building 65 feet away.

The thrill ride device consists of a 60-foot boom with a cab on either end. The boom revolves like a windmill. Amusement park owner George MacLean said the machinery was in "A-1 condition" and underwent weekly inspections by his staff for safety.

He said a park engineer and insurance man inspected the equipment and concluded that "crustalizing" of the metal caused the rods to break. He said the ride would be operating again after it is repaired and thoroughly checked.

Reds Far Behind In Living Standards, Report Shows

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A private research group reports there is no prospect of Russia overtaking the West in living standards in the foreseeable future despite boasts of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The report, issued by the National Planning Association (NPA) cited production figures to refute Khrushchev's claim that the Soviet Union would overtake and eventually "bury" the United States in economic competition.

Alec Nove, a London University professor and leading expert on the Soviet economy, prepared the new report. It was financed by the Rockefeller Foundation.

NPA Chairman H. Christian Sonne said the report made it clear that Khrushchev had been "boasting-gilding the lily" in his statements that Russia would surpass the West economically.

The document conformed in many respects with a congressional study, released Thursday, which said the Soviet economy was developing faster than this country's in some cases, but not as much as Khrushchev claims.

Sonne and other NPA experts said Khrushchev's mistake was not so much in claiming too little for the American.

They said that even if the U.S.S.R. proceeds at the pace contemplated in its 1950-1955 seven-year plan, its gross national product still would amount to half that of this country.

Editor Warns Nation Hurt By Bureaucracy

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—V. M. Newton Jr., managing editor of the Tampa, Fla. Tribune, warned today the United States is confronted with a huge bureaucracy that is trying to perpetuate itself through secrecy in government.

Newton delivered this warning in a speech prepared for delivery at a luncheon honoring board members and delegates to the Inter-American Press Assn. and given by the northern California chapter of the Delta Club.

Newton said the people of the United States cannot ridicule, criticize or ignore the entrenched bureaucracies in other countries "because we too are confronted with the same dangerous trends that eventually may spell disaster for the freedom of the people and of the press."

"First among these trends, he said, is the 'stifling curtain of secrecy draped over virtually all of the executive branch of the American federal government."

Newton charged secondly that the federal bureaucracy has openly defied Congress by "withholding information of government."

Thirdly, he said it would take a "super-Houdini" to navigate the mushrooming maze of federal bureaucracy, which today places a restraining finger upon every phase of living of every American citizen.

And finally, he charged there is an unhealthy "hostility of attitude" among the millions of federal bureaucrats toward the free American press "and its obligation to print all the facts of free government for the benefit of the free people."

"As an example of the 'stifling curtain' in government, Newton claimed that no records of the federal expenditure of the billions of the American people's tax funds are open to the inspection of the citizen.

"All of the information of the American bureaucrats' spending of the citizens' tax funds reaches the people in the form of press handouts from the 50,000 federal press agents in Washington," he said, "and much of these handouts are little more than propaganda."

But Newton said the American press is not taking the threats to freedom "lying down."

"Our various journalistic organizations have appointed freedom of information committees, which today are vigorously attacking the problems on two fronts."

BILL HEMPHILL
... Takes Over Business
Bill Hemphill
Named New Owner
Of Auto Firm

New owner of Willis Pontiac-Buick-Rambler Automobiles on W. First St. is W. V. "Bill" Hemphill of 106 Pinecrest Dr., Sanford.

The sales transaction was completed this morning.

The new name of the firm will be Bill Hemphill Motors Inc.

Open house will be held Oct. 15-17 to introduce the public to the change in management and to display the 1950 Pontiac, Buick, Rambler and Vauxhall models. No personnel changes are planned, Hemphill said this morning.

Hemphill came to Sanford in January 1948. He is married and has four children. A veteran of World War II and the U. S. Navy, Hemphill attended Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana.

He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, the Chamber of Commerce Board, and is a member of the Sanford Rotary Club. Hemphill was manager of Holler Motor Sales before he bought the Willis firm from previous owner W. B. Willis.

Scotland Yard Murder Experts Face Rough Job

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—Two murder experts from Scotland Yard flew here today to try to track down the maniacal sex slayer who has terrorized this resort island.

Detective Supt. Richard Lewis and Sgt. William Taylor plunged promptly into conference with Chief of Detectives Arthur Lodge and other Bermuda officials.

Lodge reported that local police have tracked down the mysterious "man in wet clothes"—so far unidentified—who was seen on Southlands Beach Sunday about the time the murdered, shark-torn body of pretty Dorothy Rawlinson was found nearby.

The detective chief added, however, that the man has not been arrested. It was not certain if he had any connection with the case.

Miss Rawlinson, a 22-year-old English secretary, was the youngest of the three victims believed to have been murdered and mutilated by the sex slayer. His previous victims were 22-year-old Gertrude Robinson, murdered in March, and 39-year-old Dorothy Pearce, found dead in May.

Sixty-year-old Roseleen Keny was attacked in her apartment in July by a man wielding a hoe, but he fled when she screamed.

The crimes have caused widespread fear. Families lock all doors and windows at night, and women are reluctant to go out after dark or even to stay home alone.

Ike Visits California Political Boss Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—President Eisenhower planned a casual visit today with one of the nation's ranking Democratic politicians, California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

Arrangements for Brown to make what he called an "unadulterated courtesy call" on the Republican president actually stemmed from the cocktail party given for the Washington press corps by the management of the La Quinta Hotel. It is on the grounds of this luxury desert resort that the President is spending a leisurely vacation at the home of his friend, George E. Allen.

Brown, invited to the party, arrived Sunday night just as the cocktail party was getting into full swing. Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said earlier that if the governor was in the neighborhood, the President would be happy to receive him socially.

When the governor got here Sunday, the President was entertaining a group of friends in the Allen villa about 200 yards from the main hotel building. Hagerly left word with the hotel manager, Warren Gilmore, that the President would see the governor about noon today.

'Old Man River' Boat Nears End Of History Trail

The steamer "Mississippi" dowager mistress of Old Man River and last of the famous Texas—deck sternwheelers, cast off here today on her next-to-last "low water" inspection voyage.

Maj. Gen. W. A. Carter of the Army Engineers, president of the Mississippi River Commission, announced before embarkation that the colorful old vessel will be replaced within a year by a modern, twin-screw diesel towboat.

Carter said the new ship will be more economical to run, fitted with modern navigational aids, such as radar, depth-finder, radio and automatic pilot.

But gone will be the colorful 77-year-heritage of the old dowager with the Texas bustle on her stern.

The Mississippi's master, Capt. David M. Cook of Memphis, Tenn. described his vessel as "a typical oldtimer with all the tradition and background of a bygone age about her."

"You can look at her and sense everything Mark Twain tried to say about the Mississippi River," he mused. "Walk aboard her and hear her throbs and watch her exhaust and feel the glory-soul of her," he added with affection.

The ancestry of the "Mississippi," third riverboat to bear the name, dates back to 1822 when the first "Mississippi" was built for the river commission. It had to be rebuilt after a fire in 1893.

The first "Mississippi" ferried President Theodore Roosevelt from Cairo, Ill., to New Orleans in 1907 and later took President William Howard Taft from Columbus, Ky., to New Orleans.

Here's Good Health To Two Pioneers

Two venerable Sanford business concerns are observing anniversaries which make them the oldest in the county and probably among the oldest continuous operations in the state.

Chase and Co. is distributing an attractive brochure commemorating its 75th birthday.

Hill Lumber & Supply Yard just turned 66 years old. The significant thing about the anniversary is not that 66 years have existed that long here — it's that both concerns continued progress during the past year and plan for new things in the future.

Hill Lumber said in an announcement: "Soon the old landmark that has housed the business for so long will be replaced by Sanford's newest, most modern salesroom — and remember, we're open for business as usual during alterations."

Chase & Co. concluded their brochure with: "Yes, Chase & Co. is an old company, and the years ahead will bear the mark of the past — but the years ahead will be better than any we look back and say 'Remember the first 75 years.'"

The Hill folks recall their start in 1878: "The automobile was only as yet a fantastic dream; most of the West still a wilderness; baseball, football, the movies, electric lights, the telephone, water-mix paint, Nikita Khrushchev and thousands of names commonplace to this generation were as yet unknown."

"Yes, 66 years is a long time. Four generations have grown up and a fifth is on the way. But Hill Lumber and Supply Yard is still as youthful and vigorous today under the management of its vice president, J. H. Crappe, as when the founder, W. J. Hill, sold his first order of lumber."

Randall Chase, president of Chase & Co., said: "As we commemorate the 75th anniversary of the founding of Chase & Co., we honor with humble gratitude its founders and their associates. Their ability to meet change with change has always meant much. They were men of faith, with unswerving determination to serve the public, to earn a profit for its owners and to serve its employees. These objectives, inseparable from integrity, frugality and a respect for their fellowmen, enabled this company to succeed and survive economic crises and disasters. Believing that honesty begets honesty, and trust begets trust, the personnel have created a way of business that has served well."

To these two Seminole County pioneers, we say "Here's to the next 100 years, gentlemen."

Easier Tax Form In Use This Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Uncle Sam believes he has found a way to take some headaches out of the job of filing an income tax return.

The new form is printed on two sides of a single sheet compared to the four pages of the present "long" form.

Omitted from the "middle" form are such complicated matters as schedules for income from business, rents, royalties, capital gains, partnerships, estates, trusts, annuities, depreciation allowances and retirement income credits.

A taxpayer may use the "middle" form to report his income and compute his tax liability. His income consisted of salary and wages, regardless of amount. Not more than $200 of it was in dividends and interest. He had no other items of income.

Form 1040W will still allow taxpayers a choice between taking a standard 10 per cent deduction or itemizing deductions.

PAIN RELIEVER

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTERA

CAMP DAVID, Md. — The altimeter of your car reads 1,400 feet. Big oaks and black birch flank the narrow road. A sign reads: "Dear crossing. You are approaching the summit."

And as the late afternoon sun at your back flickers through the jungle-like growth, you make a right turn, and 100 yards ahead is the dead end: Camp David.

You had come here 24 hours ahead of President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev, and the eve of what could be the greatest "summit" meeting of all time. And what you find here now is an atmosphere of autumn serenity.

But you know that when the sun is set again in this position, low over the horizon in the west, this hideout of the world's most important leaders will no longer be quiet.

Now, the only guard immediately behind the front gate — which is merely a crossed telephone pole swung across the road — is a Marine private first class. In 24 hours you'd probably be shot if you ventured this far.

From Washington, this Shangri-la of the Catskills is a mere 90-minute spin by auto. The expressway through Maryland's rolling farmland swings wide around Barbara Fritch's town of Frederick.

Off to the right, at the edge of town, is a secret installation which neither Khrushchev nor any of his party would be allowed to see. That's Camp Detrick, our nation's military germ warfare center, where our scientists are developing the most lethal concentrates known to man.

Ironically, Camp David is nestled only two minutes' flying time from another of our country's greatest military secrets — the "underground Pentagon."

Neither will Khrushchev get to see that installation, which has been gouged deep out of Raven Rock Mountain on the Pennsylvania border. The vast, impenetrable subterranean city of military communications would be one of our last outposts in the event of total war.

Camp David sits five miles on twisting, rapidly rising mountain road above the quaint old commu-

'Unusual' Is Word For Funding Method

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Back there in 1948 the word around town was that there was something unusual about the fund-raising methods in Harry S. Truman's presidential campaign.

And that proves now to have been a fact. "Unusual" probably is too gentle a word to describe one of the fund-raising methods which now is a matter of public record.

A better word for it would be "pernicious." The dictionary says a pernicious act is wicked. The fund-raising story developed this year before the U. S. Tax Court in an action between Wilburn Maycock and the commissioner of internal revenue.

Maycock in 1948 was general counsel of the Democratic National Committee. The Internal Revenue Service challenged his 1948 income tax return. The tax court found Maycock's return in good order, however, and proof against the IRS effort to assess more taxes.

The court's finding of fact stated that Maycock had undertaken to raise $50,000 for the national committee. He sought aid in obtaining this sum to be raised among Jews in New York City. Maycock's appeal for aid was to Louis Markus, president of the American Bowling and Billiard Co.

From William Solomon, New York insurance man, Markus learned and passed on to Maycock the name of William S. Lasdon who would put up a large chunk of political money in return for a favor in Washington. Lasdon was

Washington Calling

BY MARCUS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — In the aftermath of the first tentative and timid thaw in East-West relations it is fashionable to try to prove that nothing has really changed with the old rhythm of Communist crisis and Western response still prevailing.

A case in point is Iran. The alarm bell has been sounded with ominous predictions that Iran will go the way of neighboring Iraq and the regime of the Shah swept away with the same swift brutality. That would spell the end of the late John Foster Dulles' Baghdad to the Central Treaty Organization, or CENTO.

But observers both in and out of government feel that the pessimism over Iran is exaggerated. While keeping their fingers crossed, remembering how little prepared they were for the lightning to strike in Baghdad, they say the regime of the Shah has the backing of the army, which is the decisive force.

There are signs of economic growth in Iran that cannot be readily dismissed. The Industrial and Mining Development Bank, started with New York capital and some help from the World Bank, has attracted Iranian investors. Progress is being made on a power and irrigation project costing more than $100,000 under the direction of a firm headed by David E. Lilienthal, former chairman of the Tennessee valley authority. Here, too, the World Bank is providing backing.

What seems to be happening in Iran is less alarming for the short haul but perhaps more threatening for the long pull. At a press conference the other day the Shah said Iran might accept Soviet economic aid while pursuing the political and military policies of recent years to insure the nation's independence and security.

At about the same time Moscow broadcast denouncing the Shah was stopped. The Soviet ambassador returned to Teheran after an absence of several months and similarly the Iranian ambassador returned to his post in Moscow.

If he accepts Soviet economic aid, the Shah will be following the example of Afghanistan. There conspicuous Soviet projects, such as paving the streets of the primitive capital of Kabul, have created a strong impression. The United States has been financing in Afghanistan the kind of long-term programs that pay off over the years but lack the immediate promise of a leap forward into the 20th Century.

This is likely to be the pattern of competition which increasingly the United States must face. It is competitive coexistence; a kind of competition that the Soviet Union is in many respects better equipped to wage than the

Weekend Traffic Toll Hits 11

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—At least 11 persons died in Florida highway accidents during the weekend, a United Press International survey showed.

Thomas A. Jagers, 14, Wildwood, a bicyclist, died early today after being struck by a car near Wildwood Sunday night.

Frances Yvonne Stratton, 15, died in Jacksonville this morning of injuries sustained when the car in which she was riding overturned.

Ametry Wilson, 25, died in a Jacksonville hospital from head injuries received when he was hit by a car Saturday.

Two persons were killed Sunday near Marion in a head-on collision on Seven Mile Bridge in the Keys. They were identified as Stan Kubik, about 20, Loon Lake, Saskatchewan, Canada and Ted R. Henning, 17, of Key West.

James Harold Rose, 20, Green Cove Springs, died Sunday in an accident eight miles south of Green Cove Springs on U. S. 17.

A 20-year-old Navy man, Paul William Blake, was killed Friday in an accident 15 miles north of Key West on U. S. 1.

Noah Williams, 30, Kissimmee, was killed Friday in an accident on State Road 600 three miles south of his home.

George White, 11, Miami, died Sunday of injuries received Friday when he rode his bicycle into a car in Miami.

DEADLY CARGO FOR MISSILE SUB—A full-scale model of the Polaris rests beside the fleet ballistic missile submarine Theodore Roosevelt shortly before the latter was launched at Mare Island, Calif. The sub, first of its kind to be built on the West Coast, will be armed with sixteen Polaris solid-fuel missiles and will provide an underwater bastion to strike inland targets.

Algerian Rebels Reject DeGaulle's Peace Program

PARIS (UPI)—The Algerian rebel movement called for stepped-up violence against France today in apparent rejection of President Charles DeGaulle's peace plan in its present form.

The move was interpreted by observers as another effort to force the Paris government to deal directly with the rebel government-in-exile as the sole representative of the Algerian people, a step which DeGaulle thus far has refused to take.

An Arab "order of the day" published in Tunis exhorted the guerrillas to continue "the struggle for liberation . . . against the enemy, remain firm, vigilant and deaf to all colonialist propaganda . . . until the sun of liberty rises."

This appeared in effect to be a rejection of DeGaulle's appeal for a cease-fire as a prelude to balloting in which Algeria's people could choose their own future.

Dennis The Menace A TV Success

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dialing and firing. Dennis the Menace, the cartoon character who makes cowards out of baby-sitters and apologetic wrecks out of his neighbors, arrived as a pleasing filmed series on CBS-TV.

My affirmative vote is all the more remarkable when you consider its two handicaps: 1—A built-in laugh track and 2—A commercial that was mistaken for part of the show.

Dennis played somewhat shakily by little Jay North, broke a kitchen table, let a neighbor fall into a paint bucket, sneaked into a movie at night and indirectly led to a neighbor's arrest, all in a half-hour. Far fetched? Not where Dennis is concerned. Herb Anderson plays Dennis' dad and manages his part and the physical resemblance well. Though it's no Leave It To Beaver, it deserves to stick around.

Two noteworthy acting jobs in the concluding half of "What Makes Sammy Run?" on NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase: Norman Fell, as Sammy's brother, Seymour, burst into a cocktail party and, in his brief scene, exposed Sammy's heartlessness and conveyed some of the novel's fire. Otherwise, the two-parter was merely an interesting show that failed to reproduce the full spirit of the Budd Schulberg literary masterpiece. The other fine portrayal was by David Opatoshu as an old-line movie producer, who managed his heartbreak well.

I missed half of Dinah Shore's season opener on NBC-TV to see ABC-TV's new Western, Rebel, starring Nick Adams. A wheezy plot was yanked alive by pungent dialogue, fine directorial touches, and attention to character-development. This one and NBC-TV's The Deputy are the best of the new Westerns in my book.

Back to Dinah, I enjoyed Ince's Johannsson's charm with a song and Gwen Verdon's all-around electricity as a singer-and-dancer.

Jack Benny, Don Wilson, Rochester, Dennis Day and The Sports

men returned for another CBS-TV comedy go-round that exploited all of Jack's tried and true exploitable vanities, weaknesses and strengths. A skit predicted that the show would be the same 30 years from now, and I think it summed up Benny's approach to his work.

The Channel Swim: Jason Roberts Jr. and Eileen Heckart will co-star with Julie Harris and Christopher Plummer in "A Doll's House," the Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation on NBC-TV for Sunday, Nov. 15.

Ethel Merman, who has her "evening" on NBC-TV Dec. 1, guests on CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan show next Sunday.

A new series about police work, is being planned by CBS-TV. Called Charley Paradise, it will star either Ron Randall or Pat O'Neal.

Sunday School Emphasis Month At Church Here

"Christmas in October." Those attending Sunday School at The Alliance Church were surprised to see a brightly lighted and trimmed Christmas Tree on the platform yesterday morning. The congregation joined together to the familiar carol, "Silent Night."

October is Sunday School Emphasis Month at The Alliance Church. This program was the first of special emphases for each Sunday in the month. Foreign missions was the theme, as the premature celebration of Christmas was presented. The Sunday School will be getting together a box of gifts during the month for a missionary family in Peru.

These gifts will be sent to Rev. and Mrs. Paul Carlson and their three children. Mrs. Carlson was formerly Lydia Wieboldt of Sanford and a member of the Sunday School of The Alliance Church.

The Emphasis Month this year is promoting a Fall Enlargement Campaign. An effort is being made to increase the enrollment of the local Sunday School by at least 12 per cent. This is in conjunction with a nation-wide campaign to have 153,000 enrolled in Alliance Sunday Schools this year.

The full name of the national organization with which the local Alliance Church is affiliated is the Christian and Missionary Alliance. Next Sunday a program stressing family worship will be presented. The pastor, Rev. David Carmel, says that any family not

Famed Actress Honeymoon Bound With Millionaire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Actress Eva Gabor honeymooned today with New York millionaire Richard Brown whom she married Sunday night less than 24 hours after he proposed to her.

The internationally-famous glamour girl and Brown were married by Justice of the Peace Oscar Bryan Sunday night at the Flamingo Hotel. Actor Red Buttons gave the bride away and his wife, Helayne, was the matron of honor. Best man was Flamingo executive George Capri.

The marriage came on such short notice that the Gabor clan—mother Julie and sisters Zsa Zsa and Magda—were unable to attend because of prior commitments in New York.

During the late afternoon and evening the bride received calls from her sisters and mother wishing the couple luck.

The 38-year-old actress and the 37-year-old retired textile manufacturer told newsmen they first met more than a year ago through mutual friends and had been dating "off and on" since then.

'Little Joe' Up

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (UPI)—The United States has successfully launched a "Little Joe" rocket carrying a model of the capsule which will take the first American into space.

The booster rocket, deliberately destroyed a few minutes after it left the ground, shot to an altitude of about 40 miles over the Atlantic Ocean.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said Sunday's firing was the first of a series of planned tests for the "Little Joe."

The rocket was developed for the purpose of testing hardware to be used in "Project Mercury," but will not be used itself to push a man into space.

Big Season Expected For Oranges

LAKELAND (UPI) — Florida Citrus Mutual has predicted a big season for fresh oranges. General Manager Robert S. Rutledge estimated fresh orange shipments would go up 20 per cent regardless of the crop size, which he figured at between 86 and 92 million boxes. Last season's crop totalled 86 million boxes. Rutledge also said fresh orange exports would more than double this year because of relaxed restrictions on artificially colored fruit in foreign markets. He said fresh fruit channels would use 18,000,000 boxes if the total crop is 86 million boxes, and 21,075,000 boxes if the total crop reaches 92 million boxes. The Mutual official forecast exports of 350,000 boxes based on the 86 million box crop and 650,000 boxes if the crop is 92 million boxes. Mutual reported Saturday that groves in the citrus belt were in good condition despite heavy rain all summer. The cooperative said in its first crop condition report of the new season, "More growers are finding a better total crop of early oranges than was expected a few months ago."

Organized Labor Moving To Comply With Puzzling Union Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Organized labor is moving rapidly to comply fully with the new union reform law but finds many of its provisions "puzzling," an informal survey indicated today. The corruption-tainted Teamsters seem to have taken the lead in making sure they conform to requirements of the statute which labor leaders have described as a "killer." Penalties for violation of the act—jail terms and fines up to $10,000—are spurring efforts by union officials to get prompt compliance. To Analyze Law Attorneys of several AFL-CIO unions said, however, that they still don't know what the law requires of their organizations. For that reason, labor lawyers planned to analyze it further at meetings this week. Top government officials, recognizing the need to answer unions' queries on how they plan to enforce and administer the act, have been wrestling with its provisions, too. Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, has announced that he will hold a series of talks with representatives of labor and management after this month to try to answer "many questions raised by the new law."

Board To Decide Miami Integrated School's Future

MIAMI (UPI)—The Dade County School Board is expected to decide Wednesday the future of Miami's integrated Orchard Villa Elementary School. The decision could be to end the token experiment by turning the school into an all-white or an all-Negro school, or to abandon it by admitting more Negroes. The school has a capacity of 400 pupils but has been operating with only a handful of whites and four Negroes since the school term began. The current enrollment is 14 whites. Some board members are reported to be in favor of admitting additional Negro pupils from the predominantly Negro neighborhood. So far, more than 100 Negroes have asked admission to Orchard Villa. However, some observers predict that if large numbers of Negroes are admitted, white students at Orchard Villa will transfer to other all-white schools.

The school board also has on its agenda Wednesday the final assignment of the county's 150,000 pupils, all technically attending schools on a temporary assignment basis. Among them are eight Negroes who have asked to be assigned to all-white schools and are expected to be turned down.

HAPPINESS THROUGH HEALTH BY DR. F. LEO KERWIN

Are you aiding your enemy?

Time is your worst enemy when it comes to matters concerning your health. Time can convert a curable cancer into a fatal growth. The passing of only a day or two can make the difference between a sore throat and a far advanced diphtheria. A very short time can transform a functional heart condition into serious organic heart disease.

—Every minute that passes after the beginning of disease increases the odds which the doctor must fight. There are numerous methods of diagnosis and treatment available today that were unknown a few years ago. Juvenile Judge Denies Kid Glove Handling Here

Seminole County Juvenile Judge Alexander today denied a previously published report that county juvenile offenders are "simply given a stern talking to" when they appear in juvenile court.

Judge Alexander said that many times driver licenses are revoked on many occasions and one juvenile had even been retained because he failed to comply with a county order.

"I have records to back this statement up," Judge Alexander emphasized.

Judge Alexander added also that several parents of juveniles have been fined in county court following a juvenile case.

Judge Alexander's statement today came on the heels of the city commission meeting last week when the group agreed to investigate parental responsibility for law breaking by juveniles.

During the meeting, Commissioner Robert Brown was quoted saying that right now young offenders are simply given a stern talking to by the juvenile judge.

At the commission's meeting last week, the group authorized attorney William Hutchison to work on the parental responsibility law covering all crimes by juveniles.

Judge Alexander noted today that the most flagrant crime was driving violations and that his court was doing everything in its power to bring the problem under control.

MAP OF Russia's new moon rocket orbiting to circle the moon.

Lunik Supposed To Make U-Turn Around Moon

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union's Lunik III makes a "lazy U-turn" around the moon today to give mankind its first look at the side of the moon that is turned forever away from the earth.

If all mathematical computations were correct the moon rocket would pass the moon 4,300 miles out in a swooping curve that would take it slowly behind the moon and bring it back to the earth in 2 1/2 days.

A Tass dispatch said the "automatic interplanetary station" for the first time will photograph the reverse and so far unexplored side of the moon's now one-third dark because of the moon's own rotation.

The "pictures" will be radiated back to the earth. Soviet scientists already have used interplanetary radio for the first time to trigger a radio transmitter aboard the space vehicle.

The Russians announced the moon rocket left the earth's atmosphere at the "second cosmic speed"—about 25,000 miles an hour. The constant pull of earth's gravitation slowed the satellite to a cosmic crawl as it neared the moon.

Were the rocket traveling too fast it would about into space.

Were it traveling too slow it would fall onto the moon. If the calculations are just right its momentum will swing it around the moon and back toward the earth.

Should other calculations succeed the space vehicle would pick up so much speed from the earth's field of gravity it would go around the moon and earth in a cigar-shaped orbit.

The rocket's fate was far from certain. Tass quoted Dr. Alexander Volkov of Estonia as suggesting that after returning from the moon the rocket might become a satellite of the earth.

Two Are Injured In Auto Accident

Mrs. Chenman F. Nicely of Sanford suffered a fractured left arm and other injuries in a two-car collision at 13th St. and Park Ave. yesterday, police reported.

The driver of the other vehicle, C. C. Dodson received a possible neck injury as a result of the accident.

Man Takes Out Anger On World Series Fans

Milwaukee and Chicago and they went over his equipment checking all parts — at exorbitant prices. Everything worked — but no World Series pictures.

Finally, somebody decided to check out the micro — way relay tower at Lathrop. Some of the equipment there was taken apart before the scoring pad was found. Meanwhile, Sunday's game was washed out, because the equipment could not be reassembled and readjusted in time.

"It had to be a TV engineer," said Borgen. "Nobody else would have known how to do it or just where to place that pad."

Everybody thought of Harold William Lindgren, the discharged engineer.

State police were called in and questioned Harold at his home. He admitted everything.

Detective Sgt. Anthony Spratto, of the Marquette post state police, asked Borgen why he put the scoring pad in the tower.

"So they couldn't get the series," said Lindgren.

"What happened when you inserted the pad?"

"It attenuated the incoming signal so it was unusable."

"Why did he do it?" "Strictly spite on my part," said Lindgren. "I was mad at the chief engineer for firing me."

But what charges to place against Lindgren. Could be malicious destruction of public property—that is, if a television picture signal is public property.

Sgt. Spratto said there might be another charge of violating a section of the Public Acts of 1948. He said it says something in there about disrupting communications.

Steelworker Boss Sees Possibility Of Settlement

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said today after a meeting with his Wage Policy Committee that it "certainly is" possible a settlement of the 84-day steel strike can be negotiated voluntarily.

"We have asked for a meeting of the responsible heads of these 12 companies," he said. "We have not received a reply. But this is only noon."

McDonald said the Wage Policy Committee was still standing and would meet again tomorrow at 9 a. m. est.

McDonald said "the strikers will not accept the 'sweetheart contract' offered by the industry," he declared. "We want a fair contract. We shall remain on strike until justice is done."

McDonald was asked to describe the situation.

"Very grave," he said.

McDonald went before the Wage Policy Committee, predominantly made up of rank-and-file members to get recommendations on how to break the contract stalemate.

Paving Problem To Be Settled

Complaints from Pineda St. residents this morning brought an agreement between the county commission and Fralley Concrete Co. representative, G. E. Warren to pave the 1200 foot street off route 427 south of Longwood.

Pineda St. is being ruined by Fralley concrete trucks which make ruts in the road, said Mrs. R. J. Prescott, a Three Pines Subdivision resident.

"We have quite a problem down there. Everybody realizes it," said commissioner Lawrence Swofford. Highland St. which is parallel and adjacent to Pineda cannot be used by Fralley because the street was legally closed in 1956. Swofford explained. Payment will eliminate the holes in the road, commission Chairman John Kridler told the Pineda residents.

Fralley will supply the paving materials, the county will contribute the labor, and Portland Cement Co. will supply the concrete testing services.

WESTCLIFFE, Colo. (UPI)—Stranded ranch families in the snow-battered Wet Mountain Valley of south-central Colorado have been supplied with food and fuel and were reported safe today, but the massive job to rescue thousands of head of cattle continued.

An estimated 5,000 cattle already have been saved from death in the smothering snow. Warm, thawing weather saw some cattle break out of the snow traps themselves.

Road crews worked through five and six foot drifts again today, however, to reach about 6,000 head still marooned by last week's storm.

Rescue units from Ft. Carson, Colo., reported fuel and supplies had been airlifted to all the known hardship ranch families. But many roads leading to ranches south and west of Westcliffe remained blocked.

Invokes Law Paving Way For Talks

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—President Eisenhower today invoked the Taft-Hartley law in the East Coast dock strike, taking the opening step in use of the labor-management law by creating a fact-finding board to report back to him by Oct. 10.

Eisenhower, acting on advice and reports for Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, signed an executive order creating "the board of inquiry to investigate the East Coast port tie-up which started last Wednesday."

This was the first step leading toward the injunctive process which, if followed, would force an 80-day cooling off period in the work stoppage.

In New York, a spokesman for the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. said "We don't like it, but I guess the men will have to go back to work. The men feel we could win a strike, but we aren't going to break any laws. I can tell you that. Whatever the law expects of us, we'll do."

Eisenhower at the same time indicated strongly that his patience with steel strike negotiations is wearing thin and that he might invoke the same law in an effort to get the nation's steel mills into production again.

Through his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, the President expressed a "highly positive feeling toward the new breakdown in steel strike negotiations."

"This seems to be getting down more and more to a trial of strength between two groups and with the American people the greatest losers," Hagerty said.

"I might add," Hagerty continued, "that the President has no intention of seeing the American public being the greatest loser."

Under the executive order, the President found that the dock strike, if permitted to continue, would "impair the national health and safety and affect the flow and utilization of necessary perishable products, including food, for heavily populated coastal areas."

The board of inquiry must report back to Eisenhower no later than next Saturday. The board report will not consist of recommendations for future action, but recite the current facts of the strike.

After receiving the board report, Eisenhower can ask the attorney general to seek an injunction in federal district court forcing an 80-day halt in the dock strike. Or, Eisenhower can decide that the board report does not present sufficient evidence for following the injunctive process.

Key negotiations in New York between the International Longshoremen's Assn., were broken off last Thursday when the strike began.

Youngster Killed In Gun Accident

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 12-year-old boy is dead today because he opened his father's bureau drawer in search of money for a soda.

Police said the boys put the clip into the gun and removed it. The bullet remained in the chamber, however. As they handled the gun, it discharged, hitting young McQueen in the mouth.

His companion was charged with juvenile delinquency. The dead boy's father, Russell McQueen, 42, was charged with violation of the state arms law.

Stempel was the first witness as a House commerce subcommittee opened a four-day investigation of charges that some big name television quiz shows have been rigged.

Before questioning Stempel, the subcommittee turned out the lights
