Dickey home from hospital

LAKE MARY — Circuit Court Judge Alan A. Dickey is recuperating at home and doing much better after being hospitalized earlier this month.

Although he is not yet up to answering telephone calls or for visits from friends, he does appreciate the get-well wishes, cards and flowers he received, his wife, Lori Dickey said.

"He is doing much better. He's getting stronger every day," she reports. "The tremendous outpouring of cards and flowers just made him feel wonderful. He is feeling stronger and he is out of the woods."

Clarification

SANFORD — Regarding the proposal advanced by City Commissioner Whitney Eckstein during Monday night's commission meeting, Eckstein said he wants it to be known that his intent is to have a Seminole County Sports Hall of Fame, containing memorabilia from all areas of the sports world which have been connected to this area, rather than just baseball. "This will be all-inclusive," he said, "because we don't just want another local museum, but a place where all sports fans will want to visit."

Lake Mary drug, alcohol-free work place law ready

By NICK PPRIPAUP
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — City employees may soon by law be drug and alcohol-free in the work place with an ordinance establishing requirements and restrictions ready for first public hearing tonight.

The measure was introduced to the Lake Mary commission in early August. It was to have been brought up for first reading on October 6th, but was held up pending the determination of several points and additional input.

This time, the city staff believes the measure has received enough fine-tuning and clarification that it is ready for adoption.

In addition, the proposed drug/alcohol-free workplace policy has been reviewed by the Office of Public Risk Management of Florida. PRM made several suggestions, mostly in clarification of a few terms, which have also been included in the

Grin and bear it

Youngsters of all ages brought their fluffy friends to school at Pine Crest Elementary School earlier this week for a special sleep over. The bears spent the night in the school's media center where they read a book and were then tagged with information about the book to encourage their human partners to read.

Some of the participants were Tom Quinn, Zoe Kouryomousis, media assistant Jean Lively, media specialist Louise Blackwelder, Ashley Tillman and Tabares Peake. The bears, eager to get back to their reading, did not give their names.

Children are counting on Christmas

By VICKI DeBORMIER
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The number of children in Sanford who could find nothing at all waiting for them on Christmas morning is growing every day.

Spirit for Kids hopes to make sure that every child has at least one toy to play with on Christmas morning.

The group is hosting a toy drive beginning at 6 p.m. on Friday evening in hopes of bringing in enough toys to make this a happy holiday season for everyone.

A recent school district report shows that one quarter of all youngsters in the county live below the poverty level. Those figures are not much better for Seminole County, school officials said.

"We need help," founder Meta Brooks said. "We have only collected two bags of toys so far and there are so many kids who need to have something."

The key to making a child's Christmas bright is toys. Brooks hopes that Sanford will rally for the kids and bring out as many toys as they can on Friday.

Longwood festival blends art, history

Two-day event is filled with crafts, food, nostalgia, tours

By SANDRA ELLIOTT
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — This year's 18th Longwood Arts and Crafts Festival is brimming with reasons to celebrate. The annual two-day festival begins Saturday.

This is the 25th anniversary of the Central Florida Society for Historical Preservation. It is also the year the mortgage was paid off on the society's Bradley-MacIntyre House. The house was moved to Longwood from Altamonte Springs in April 1973. Built in 1885, the house is considered architecturally significant as the last remaining example of the luxurious winter cottages built in south Seminole County before the turn of the century.

The house now sits like an elegant Victorian lady swathed in pale green accented in white just off County Road 427 on Warren Avenue in the Longwood Historic District. Over the weekend, arts and crafts booths will line the streets of the district.

A small reception for festival exhibitors will help mark the society's anniversary and early pay-off of the mortgage.

"We have an invitation out to the vendors," festival chairman John Bistline said. "We are going to have coffee and cake or something for them on Sunday morning at the Bradley-MacIntyre House." In March, the society will have another event in recognition of its silver anniversary and paying off the mortgage more than four years early.

Society treasurer Bill Chandler said the $31,500 mortgage was supposed to be paid off in December, 1998 but the society paid the debt in April.

There were a number of mortgages on the historic house over the years, but Bistline said he did not recall how many.

The house was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in October 1972. Restoration of the structure was completed within about one year of its move to Longwood with the help of a grant from the National Park Service.

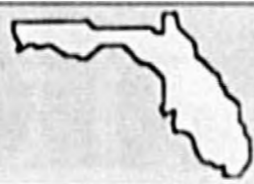

"But there wasn't any furniture in the house," Bistline explained, "so we're still doing a little bit of furnishing as we go along with the money we make, plus the upkeep. I think we'll have a new roof this year. The money the festival makes generally goes for upkeep and when we have some money left over then we kind of purchase some things for the house." Items such as rugs are usually purchased because donated rugs are usually not the proper size.

There are 375 booths rented and about 330 craftsmen signed up for

Second man sentenced in stabbing

FORT LAUDERDALE — The second of seven defendants has been convicted in the bludgeoning and stabbing death of a supermarket clerk who authorities say was killed by a group of friends and acquaintances.

Prosecutors said Wednesday they would ask that Derek Kaufman, 21, be sentenced to death for his part in the July 1993 murder of Bobby Kent.

Kaufman's attorney, Victor Tobin, had asked jurors to convict his client of second-degree murder, saying he did not participate in planning the death.

A few days after the murder, Kaufman led police to Kent's body, found floating in a pool at a rock pit in western Broward County. Kent, 20, had been stabbed with a knife and beaten with a baseball bat.

Prosecutors said the suspects plotted Kent's murder because they were angry with him. After spending several months behind bars, two defendants, Derek Dziwko and Heather Swallers, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder and conspiracy charges and agreed to testify against the others.

The penalty phase of the trial, before Broward Circuit Judge Charles Greene, is slated to begin Nov. 29.

Man charged with flight interference

MIAMI — A New York City man landed in federal court after he asked one too many questions of a flight attendant before the plane took off.

The question had to do with hijacking the plane, according to court documents.

Boris Nitkin, 33, was charged with interfering with a flight crew in the Tuesday incident aboard Continental Flight 1658.

Nitkin, a U.S. citizen who was born in Russia, was arrested by the FBI after the pilot aborted the Orlando-bound flight.

FBI agent Gregory Carl said in an affidavit that while the plane was taxiing on the runway at Miami International Airport, Nitkin asked a flight attendant, "What is the range of this aircraft? Will it make it across the Atlantic Ocean? How far will this plane go if we hijacked it?"

The flight attendant notified the pilot, who returned the plane to the jetway, Carl said.

Nitkin appeared Wednesday before U.S. Magistrate Linnea Johnson, who appointed an attorney to represent him.

Prosecutors said they would ask at a later hearing that Nitkin be held on $25,000 bond.

Guard units deactivated

ST. AUGUSTINE — Four Florida Army National Guard units will be deactivated in August 1995, the Department of Defense said.

The units are the 156th Medical Company and the 316th Movement Control Detachment, both in St. Augustine, and the 199th Air Ambulance Company and the 199th Aviation Detachment Augmentation, both in Jacksonville.

Being cut are 244 positions, or about 2 percent of the total authorized strength of the Florida Army National Guard.

Brig. Gen. Richard Capps, assistant adjutant for the Florida Army National Guard, said Wednesday no armories will be closed.

The Florida Army National Guard has 131 units in 57 cities, with 11,771 members. The Florida Air National Guard has 17 units in five cities, with 1,460 members.

Ballots not given to some voters

CASSELBERRY — Fifty-one residents of this Seminole County community did not get ballots to vote for city candidates, including the mayor's race, which was decided by three votes.

The city ballots have been a hot topic because of the close four-way race for the mayor's office. Bruce Pronovost won by three votes over former commissioner Frank Schutte. The city's canvassing board certified the victory last Friday after a recount.

Poll workers were supposed to give city ballots to all voters along with those for county and statewide offices. Residents sign a polling sheet twice to acknowledge receipt of the city and county ballots.

Residents and commission candidates had complained that some voters had not received ballots, but no one was certain how many. Some residents realized the oversight and returned to the polls in time to vote in the city races, while others did not.

On Tuesday, a review of precinct sign-in sheets turned up the total of 51 who did not get ballots for city candidates.

There was no immediate word from the losers about contesting the results.

Supper to support facilities

Many benefit from sharing center, mission

By VICKI DeBORRINI
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Mayor's fourth annual Souper Supper is scheduled to take place Wednesday, Nov. 23 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center.

The supper is a benefit for two of Sanford's largest facilities for the homeless and the needy: the Sanford Christian Sharing Center and the Rescue Mission of Sanford.

Established in 1986, the Rescue Mission has an open door policy which provides food to the hungry, a clean bed for the homeless and a small supply of groceries for those whose cupboards are bare.

Mother Blanche Bell Weaver has led the mission since its inception.

She is the minister of the Rescue Church of God.

The Rescue Mission is on 13th Street in Sanford.

Donations from local churches, civic groups and private parties keep the doors to the Mission open. The Mission is governed by a board of directors who oversee the operation.

The Sanford Christian Sharing Center was established in 1977 and is the oldest agency of its kind in Seminole County.

During Oct. 1994, 650 people received free groceries or clothing from the charity.

Eligibility for services from the facility is based on need. Assessment is done on an individual basis.

Countries to search for alternatives to traditional medicines

By The Associated Press

FORT LAUDERDALE — Asian countries have agreed to work toward eliminating tiger bone and rhinoceros horn from traditional medicines in an effort to preserve the endangered animals.

The unprecedented action came Wednesday during the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species, which ends Friday. The proposal was submitted by China, India, Indonesia, Japan, Malaysia, Nepal, Korea, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

The resolutions call for consumer countries — including China, the Republic of Korea and Thailand — to work with physicians and pharmaceutical companies to find alternative medicines that do not use tiger or rhino parts.

Tiger bone is used primarily to treat muscular ailments, processed rhino horn for fever reduction.

"We hope this cooperation will continue," said Peter Jackson, chairman of the Cat Specialist Group of the World Conservation Union. "It has to be the tiger maintains its place as the dominant predator in the Asian forest as well as its standing culturally."

Ginette Hemley, director of International Wildlife Policy for the World Wildlife Fund called the resolutions unprecedented.

"These countries put aside their cultural differences to put this measure together," she said. "We're really pleased. It's a first step."

Suspect testifies in British tourist slaying

By ADAM YEOMANS
Associated Press Writer

MONTICELLO — John "Billy Joe" Crumitie, who is standing trial on charges he murdered a British tourist last year in North Florida, says he didn't know anything about the slaying.

The 17-year-old testified on his own behalf Wednesday after prosecution witnesses said he helped plot a robbery that went awry and resulted in the fatal shooting of Gary Colley on Sept. 14, 1993.

"I was at home," said the soft-spoken Crumitie. He said he fell asleep sometime after midnight.

When asked by defense lawyer Mina Morgan whether he shot anyone or tried to rob anyone that night, Crumitie said, "No ma'am."

Crumitie was the only witness who testified in his defense. Closing arguments from both sides are set for this morning.

Another teenager charged in the crime testified Wednesday that he and his friends decided to get their guns, steal a car and rob someone because they needed some cash.

But the plan fell apart when Colley tried to get away from the youths at a rest stop on Interstate 10 near Monticello, said Deron Spear, 19, the driver of the getaway car.

"The man tried to back up and he ran into our car," said Spear, who testified for the state. "That's when everybody started firing."

One of the bullets hit Colley, 34, in the neck, killing him. His longtime companion, Margaret Jagger, was wounded.

Spear testified against Crumitie as part of a plea bargain. Crumitie is charged with first-degree murder and first-degree attempted murder.

Spear said he, Crumitie and Aundra Akins, 15, were sitting around in September 1993 when they decided to commit a crime.

Spear said he and Akins got handguns they had and the three youths stole a car

Attorney: IRS protester was just alerting public to illegalities

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Senior Staff Writer

SANFORD — The attorney for Heathrow tax protester Grant McEwan says his client never intended to seize the Longwood offices of the Internal Revenue Service, only to alert the public to what he claims are illegal acts.

"His action was a gesture on his part to call attention to his issue," said Don Lykkebak, defending McEwan against two federal charges. "It was an exercise in free speech. It really is a kind of gesture."

McEwan, 57, was arrested last Thursday on federal charges of interfering with IRS operations and filing a false claim against the IRS. In October, McEwan filed a $1.1 million lien against the IRS, seeking to reclaim what he says was his 50 percent fee for employees taxes collected on behalf of the IRS and bookkeeping expenses.

McEwan is president of Loss Recovery Services, a bounced-check collection agency.

After being held in the Seminole County jail without bond over the Veteran's Day weekend, U.S. Magistrate Judge Donald P. Dietrich released McEwan on $100,000 bond Monday evening. The decision to release McEwan was appealed by the federal government. A hearing or grand jury indictment is expected by the end of the month.

Lykkebak said McEwan couldn't serve a lien on the IRS at its Longwood office because the IRS does not own the property.

"Do you know of any property owned by the IRS in Seminole County?," asked Lykkebak. "If they don't own any property, how can he serve them with a lien?"

A check with the Seminole County Property Appraiser's Office revealed the IRS does not own property in the county. State IRS spokesman Holger Furlinger said the IRS staff are in offices leased by the General Services Administration on behalf of the IRS.

Making good news

Some people have a tendency to believe there is nothing but bad news in newspapers any more. They refer to crime, government corruption, man made and natural disasters, parents killing children, and dozens of others which we agree certainly don't fall into the category of good news.

But these same people apparently don't read beyond that point. Had they read all of the stories on the pages of the Sanford Herald, especially in the past week, they would have seen there are many "good news" items.

The Golden Age Game stories and results of course, are prime examples of news stories concerning good things happening in Sanford.

Other stories also report on activities that are not only good, but the people involved in them are outstanding. Let's emphasize that they are OUTSTANDING!

Look at the projects which are underway. The Sanford Fire Department has obtained enough donations with which to buy back a 1921 LaFrance fire truck which helped protect Sanford residents for almost two decades.

The Ritz Blitz campaign is well underway, with a trip to Tallahassee to seek support, as well as drives underway to raise donations for the historic restoration and preservation of the old theater.

The Sanford Historic Trust holiday tour homes are being proffered.

The Seminole County Humane Society broke ground Sunday for their new facility to replace the old building which tragically was destroyed by fire last year.

These are just some of the good things which are going on these days. One of the major features in each of them is the fact that citizens are getting involved.

They have helped in fund raising and given donations. They have volunteered a great deal of time to work on these projects, most notably in the Golden Age Games.

When people get directly involved, things get accomplished. If everything was left to local government, much less would get done because in most cases, it would involve the expenditure of more money. And with that would come increased taxation. No one wants that.

The best part of the good events going on is that they never end. Even though the fire truck purchase money has been obtained, more is needed in the future to handle the refurbishing.

With the holidays coming on, people are needed to help man the Salvation Army kettles, and become involved in other projects.

The Christmas parade is in full preparation, and volunteer workers are badly needed by the Sanford Historic Downtown Waterfront Association (SHDWA) to bring that about. The same holds true with SHDWA's plans for the 1995 July 4th Fireworks spectacular already being developed. And all stories we have recently covered.

If there hasn't been enough good news in a person's life, there is an alternate. Pick a project, and dive headlong into supporting it. The more people who get involved, the more successful will be the endeavor. (Voting on election day proves that). The result will be more good things happening, and more good news about it.

There is good news, because good people are accomplishing good things, and helping share their goodness with others.

We'll be there to cover it.

WILLIAM A. RUSHER

Realignment has finally happened

As regular readers of this column will recall, I had thought it might be better for the Republican Party in the long run if it stopped just short of seizing numerical control of one or both houses of Congress on Nov. 8. That way, I reasoned, the GOP would be well positioned to boot both Mr. Clinton and the Democratic Congress to Kingdom Come in 1996.

But, not for the first time, I underestimated the American people. It seems likely that the tidal wave that swept over the Democratic Party on Election Day signals the long-awaited fundamental "realignment" that will again make the Republican Party the normal majority party in American politics. If so, there is no point in postponing the change until 1996.

To understand what happened this year, one must first understand what happened in 1980, 1984, 1988 and 1992. The election and re-election of Ronald Reagan, and the election of his vice president and anointed heir George Bush as his successor, were no mere flukes. They were dramatic evidence that the American people had at last firmly rejected the liberal dispensation that had dominated American politics since the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But the Democrats and the liberal media of course were reluctant to admit any such thing.

When George Bush was defeated in 1992, they leaped eagerly to the conclusion that happy days were here again.

They were wrong. After 12 years in control of the executive branch, any party is ready for a rest. Mr. Bush, in addition, walked away from the Reagan legacy rather than embracing it. He broke his own pledge of "no new taxes," and reacted to a mild recession by being photographed on his golf cart denying that anything much was wrong.

Mr. Clinton, projecting youth and energy, depicted himself as a "New Democrat" (which was a code phrase for a moderate one), falsely described the economy as "in the worst shape in 50 years," and promised "change" while cleverly not specifying what the changes would be. So 43 percent of the voters decided to give him a chance to show what he could do.

Once in the Oval Office, however, Mr. Clinton turned out to have no fixed principles and few specific plans, other than to socialize the American health care system — a coup that he calculated was guaranteed to win him a high place in the liberal pantheon.

In short order Mr. Clinton became a prisoner of the leftmost members of his party in Congress — above all the Congressional Black Caucus, whose votes he needed in order to pass almost any legislation whatever. On top of everything else, he was severely tarnished by revelations of his financial and sexual antics as governor of Arkansas. By the time the congressional elections were held, he was an acute embarrassment to almost every Democrat running for office.

The outcome, then, was indisputably a referendum on Mr. Clinton; but it was also much more than that.

In the past 42 years, Republican presidents have held the White House 66 percent of the time (28 years), but the Democrats have controlled the Senate 80 percent of the time (36 years) and the House 95 percent (40 years) of the time.

But, not for the first time, I underestimated the American people.

The wonder of letters, numbers

Time for another of those "a little of this, 'n a little of that, 'n a little of something else" — less intense type of column. Why not right now OK! Let's have at it.

Sam! Oh Saamm!! Hey Sam—Wake up! Would someone please poke Sam in the ribs—gently now—so he can join us in a little fun with the alphabet and maybe our numbering system identification? Sam has frequently said that he likes to have some fun now 'n then. Well, by golly, welcome aboard, Sam.

What was it that you just asked? What alphabet?? Just how many alphabets do you have that you use day in and day out? Yeaasaa!! That's the one. It starts out with: A-B-C and ends up with X-Y-Z. Lets gallup thru the letters and have a bit of fun with most of them.

"A-B-C" single letters—no doubles in sight—yet we really do need a double A, a double B, as well as a double C, as in Aaron, Bobbie and accent. We need 'em, but do we have 'em? No way.

"D-E-F" single letters again—no doubles in the bucket—and we sure could use 'em, as in add, need, and effort.

"G-H-I" more single letters, but with a lesser need for doubles. Gaggle comes to mind, but I draw a blank on H and I. Can think of no doubles.

"J-K-L" no great need for double J's 'n K's, but who can get along without some good old fashioned "Jelly" on toast? Or—even "Jellybelly"?

"M-N-O" still no double letters available for use in Mommy, cannon, or loon, moon, soon. Sure could use 'em.

"P-Q-R" oh boy—poppy and error popping into the bold grey matter, like a jet but...for Q...nothing...big dark void.

"S-T-U" essence and attack as well as vacuum come readily to mind. There is, however, a slight problem. "U" comes in two sizes—single you and double you—which immediately follows.

"V-W-X" savvy and Exxon are no problem. But that other one—that double you—written as "W" but pronounced "double you" Not "you you" as in vacuum. There it is—a very definite need for a double you...and we've got one. It looks like this "W". But do we use it? Not on your life. We mess around with the single letter "U" and say it twice in a row.

"Y 'n Z Or "Y" I draw another blank for a doubles need. Snazzy and dizzy readily show the need for a double zee.

There you have it. Only one place did we need a double you—vacuum—and what'd we do? Muttered two yous in a row instead of one double you. No wonder "English" is so hard to learn.

SEMINOLE OPINION

NELSON TULLAR

OK! So much for the English alphabet. If you have not mastered your letters by now, all I have accomplished is to further confuse you with a few chuckles. I hope.

Let's sneak a peek at our decimal type numbering system identification and chew on more inconsistencies. Oh yes! They're there all right. Here we go—from the bottom up.

Zero-One-Two-Three-Four-Five-Six-Seven-Eight-Nine. Those, as you know, are the "single digits". Maybe Sam will be good enough to tell us what came up after the singled digits. Sam! Sam?? Oh, for Pete's sake, Sam's dozed off again. SAM—Wake up!

Oh well, sweet dreams Sam. OK! Anybody else? What's that? Right—the "teens"! As we all know, or should know by now "teens" are nothing more than the single digits repeated sequentially with a "one" stuck in front of them. The problem comes with our pronouncing the "teens". Seems as though we have three-four different ways.

Do we say: noeten, oneten, twoteen, threeteen? No—of course not. That would be too consistent—and we sure can't have that. We come up with "ten, eleven, twelve and thirteen. Funny, out of the first four "teens", I heard "teen" only one time. And that followed a "thir"—whatever a "thir" is.

Finally—a genuine "teen" —fourteen. Then we screw up the fiveteen by saying fifteen. From sixteen to nineteen are more of the genuine articles. But then, they're only 50% of the teens.

What's next? Yes! Yes! I know. You've developed a headache. Take two aspirins now and I'll call you in the morning.

I hear you gnashing your teeth so go ahead—start chomping away on that pair. Gently now—don't break a tooth...or worse yet...sprain your tongue. A tongue that is in splints is really a horrible handicap in pronunciation efforts and you end up spitting all over your lower lip.

Have a great day and I'll see you next week.

JOSEPH SPEAR

A curse on thee, Newt Gingrich!

A few days ago, I read a newspaper article about a cache of "curse tablets" recently discovered in a Roman-era well in Israel. These are lead scrolls on which people would engrave curses and cast spells against lovers, lawyers, politicians, whomsoever, and throw them in wells or bury them in graves so that water nymphs or the dead would enforce them. Why in heaven's name did this come to mind at this moment?

Who knows? Let's move on. You requested a n Ask the Curmudgeon column on campaigns and elections. You got it!

Dear Curmudgeon: America has spoken and Republicans reign! From 1860 to 1912, Democrats were an endangered species. Here's to another 52 years of domination! — Happy Harry in Houston.

Dear HHHH: Far be it from me to precipitate on your parade, but it appears that the GOP is facing a faction problem of the sort that has plagued the Democrats for years. You've got moderates, moralists, fanatics, supply siders, nativists, right-wing Christians. Just the other day, tough-talking Texas Sen. Phil Gramm, who would eat an armadillo, carpenter and all, if he thought it was a Democrat, described his Rhode Island colleague John Chafee as part of the party's "little old bitty atrophied left wing." Could it be that the Grand Old Party is going to have a Grand old quandary on its hands?

Dear Curmudgeon: Thank God for Talk Radio. When the public hears the truth from Rush Limbaugh and G. Gordon Liddy, they do the right thing and vote Republican. — Dittthead in Des Moines.

Dear Dittthead: Why are you giving Watergate wacko and ex-convict Gordon Liddy any credit? Rush did it all. You don't believe me, ask him. The Baltimore Sun ran a 1,000 word excerpt of one of his articles the other week and lifted one of Rush's own remarks for the headline: The Torch Has Been Passed to Me." In that excerpt, the Curmudgeon counted 22 "I's" and 12 "me's" and "my's." He's a one-man political machine, old Rush is.

Dear Curmudgeon: Ollie North didn't lose! He just took a tiny step backward. Ollie shall return! — Rose in Roanoke.

Dear RNR: I am positively bursting in anticipation.

Dear Curmudgeon: I find it hard to believe the citizens of California almost sent that empty suit Michael Huffington to the U.S. Senate. What were they thinking of, anyway? — Ann in Ann Arbor.

Dear ANAA: The only thing I can figure is they were simply grateful. Huffington the millionaire has pumped $30.2 million of his personal fortune into the California economy since 1992. He spent $5.2 million on his House race that year, $25 million this year. Another riddle: Why did they send Sonny Bono to Congress? The only thing I can figure is to get him out of California.

Dear Curmudgeon: I know the Republican victory irritates all you scummy liberal media types, but the rest of the country is in ecstasy. Love it or leave it, pal! — Dittthead in Denver.

Dear Dittthead: For the record, the Curmudgeon voted on Nov. 8 for a governor, a state comptroller, a state attorney general, a U.S. senator, a member of Congress, a state senator, three state delegates, a county executive, five county councilpersons, a state's attorney, a circuit court clerk, a register of wills, and a sheriff. Eleven of my choices were Republicans, eight were Democrats. What else can I say?

wording of the new ordinance. Basically, the new ordinance specifies four points. They include orders that say, "No employee of the city shall distribute, dispense, possess, use or be under the influence of any alcoholic beverage, malt beverage, fortified wine or other intoxicating liquor or beverage, or manufacture, distribute, dispense, possess, sell, use, or be under the influence of any illegal drug during working hours." While it stresses that no employer shall be involved with any drug use or abuse at any time, it also specifies that no employee, who is being compensated with stand-by pay, shall consume alcoholic beverages. Also, any employee who is subject to recall or return to duty after normal working hours, is urged not to consume alcoholic beverages to the degree that the employee's ability to perform his or her duties shall be impaired. The ordinance also deals with drug testing

Toys

A new toy or a used toy in good condition will be accepted as payment at the toy drive at Cafe Jake's, 112 E. First Street in downtown Sanford. "We want to bring in as many toys as we can," Brooks said. Previous toy drives this year have been unsuccessful, Brooks said. But she believes that now that we have entered the holiday season, the community will rally around the cause and bring toys to the drive.

Director Irene Brown has operated the facility since its inception.

The Sharing Center moved into its own 2,200 square foot building at the corner of Palmway and E. 25th Street in Dec. 1988. Tickets for the Souper Supper are $5 each with children under 12 being admitted free. Brown said the price has been reduced from $10 in previous years, to generate more participation by families. They are available from the Sanford Christian Sharing Center, at the Rescue Mission, from area Jaycees and at the Mayor's office at Sanford City Hall.

"This is like a soup kitchen," Brown said. The original concept of the event was, and continues to be, that people will know what the poor people will be eating," Brown said. She said those attending the Wednesday night supper will appreciate their Thanksgiving feast more, their turkey will be sweeter.

In addition to testing on reasonable suspicion, routine tests may be done for job applications, routine fitness for duty checks, and follow-up.

There is no provision for random testing.

City Manager John Litton is recommending, if the ordinance is passed on both first and second readings, that it become effective January 1, 1995.

The ordinance is scheduled on the agenda for the regular commission meeting tonight. With a swearing in planned for re-elected Mayor Lowry Rockett and commissioners Gary Brender and David Meador beginning at 6:30 p.m., the regular commission meeting will begin at 7 p.m., or as soon after the ceremony as possible. Lake Mary City Hall is located at 100 S. Country Club Road, in Lake Mary.

There will be free entertainment for those who bring a toy to Cafe Jake's on Friday evening. Gene Gizzi will play his guitar and sing for those who attend.

The festivities will begin at 6 p.m. and will continue until the last toy makes its way through the door.

shelter in the 11 facilities opened for the communities area. However, the Red Cross served 350 meals to volunteers working in the disaster relief program. Sherno did not know if any Seminole County residents used the local shelters.

Persons flooded out of their homes should contact the Seminole County Red Cross office in Longwood, Sherno said, for individual assistance in getting shelter, clothing or food.

As the tropical storm swept across the state, it dumped 8.05 inches of rain in Sanford during the past 48 hours. The 24-hour rainfall reported at the Sanford Research Center on Celery Avenue was 1.17 inches this morning compared to 0.88 inches Wednesday morning.

About 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, 24 Sanford streets were closed due to high water but this morning an assistant to public works director Jerry Herman said all streets have reopened. Herman was in meetings and unavailable for comment. Street crews in Longwood worked throughout the day Wednesday to minimize flooding, according to Fernand Tiblier, public works director and city engineer. The major flooding problem occurred in the Wildmere subdivision where works used pumps and opened passages to channel the water overland near Overstreet Avenue.

Sandbags were used in some areas to try to reduce flooding. Tiblier estimated the city received about 7 inches of rainfall from the storm. The vandalism of a pump in Highland Hills subdivision sometime before the storm hit, hampered efforts to divert the flood waters from homes. City workers brought in another pump and worked several hours to remove the runoff.

"We got a lot of positive feedback from the public," Tiblier said, of the department's work during the storm.

In Winter Springs, police Capt. Glenn Tolleson said the water in Gee Creek has receded Wednesday a voluntary evacuation of residents in parts of the Hacienda Village Mobile Home community near the creek was proposed. Street flooding caused motorists problems, Tolleson said, when drivers stalled their cars while trying to drive through the high water. A recorded message playing for callers to the Winter Springs City Hall this morning informed individuals how to deal with soggy car carpeting.

"People would try to drive through the water and stall out," Tolleson said. "Then they'd open their car door and the water would rush in."

In Lake Mary, officials blocked off the right turn lane on Rinehart Road onto Lake Mary Boulevard due to high water and closed Wood Street. Wood Street, a dirt street near Lake Mary Elementary School between Van Buren and Humphrey streets remains closed, said Bill Temby, Lake Mary director of public works. Water from Soldiers Creek overflowed Wood Street causing erosion.

this year's festival. Judging this year's entries are John Caputo from the Seminole Community College Art Department and Shirley Rider, an art teacher from Mattland. Awards for participants are scheduled to be announced Saturday afternoon. Hotline said.

The Bradley-MacIntyre House will be open for tours during festival hours from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The Longwood-Lake Mary Lions Club is responsible for the festival food booths.

In addition, Christ Episcopal Church members will have their annual barbecue while the festival is in progress. As a fund-raiser, Youth Organization members of the church will park cars at the church for a small fee. Free parking is also available at South Seminole Hospital.

Ice cream will be sold by Longwood Civic League Women's Club members with the proceeds dedicated to renovations on their building.

them were reconsidered. Library director Jean Rhein said she expected libraries to remain busy because schools are closed. Rhein said leaking roofs at three libraries left damp carpeting, but no other damages. Sections of the boardwalk at Lake Mills Park were damaged, but other parks suffered little damage, she said.

A total of 43 roadways were closed throughout the unincorporated areas of the county due to flooding, according to Sheriff's Office reports. All but two are open to traffic today.

Busy Hunt Club Road remained closed and traffic rerouted to Wekiva Springs Road following a wash-out of a section. Assistant Roads Division Superintendent Tom George said crews will begin work as soon as the area dries. George said he expects the road can be reopened in one to two weeks.

Orange Avenue between State Road 436 and 434 remained closed after flooding damaged a bridge over the Wekiva River, George said. A berm burst, allowing a four-foot wall of water to come washing down the roadway towards the river, damaging the approach and railing to the bridge.

George said the county planned to replace the bridge during the next year and may decide to keep the roadway closed until then.

State Road 426 is still covered with water at Van Arsdale Street, but traffic is allowed to pass, said George.

Cholesterol study could change heart treatment

By DANIEL O. HANEY
 AP Science Writer

DALLAS — The first study showing that cholesterol-lowering drugs save lives could profoundly change the way doctors treat heart disease, making these medicines a front-line therapy for millions of Americans.

The study, being formally presented today at a meeting of the American Heart Association, shows the drug simvastatin reduced the risk of death by 30 percent over five years in people who have had heart attacks and angina.

About a fourth of U.S. heart patients now get cholesterol-lowering drugs. While they have been available for several years, doctors have been reluctant to give them routinely because of doubts about whether they really do any good.

Experts say the latest research should silence the skeptics.

Dr. Joseph Goldstein of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center, who shared the Nobel Prize in 1985 for cholesterol research, said if medical studies were rated like restaurants, he would give this one four stars.

"This is a landmark study in the history of medicine," he said.

Dr. B. Gregory Brown of the University of Washington Medical Center in Seattle said the discovery may be the holy grail of cardiovascular disease.

Treatment with cholesterol-lowering drugs could reduce the need for bypass surgery and angioplasty, said Dr. K. Lance Gould of the University of Texas Medical School in Houston. He plans to recommend cholesterol-lowering drugs for all his heart patients with high cholesterol.

"This could have a tremendous economic impact," he said.

Treatment with cholesterol-lowering drugs costs between $1,000 and $2,000 per year, depending on the brand and dose used. Heart bypass operations cost about $40,000. Angioplasties, in which balloons are used to squeeze open clogged arteries, cost about $18,000 and often must be repeated.

Simvastatin is one of four similar cholesterol-lowering drugs now on the market. It is made by Merck & Co., which paid for the study.

The study was conducted on 4,444 men and women at 94 hospitals in Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden. They were randomly assigned to get simvastatin or dummy pills. Among the key findings after five years of follow-up:

- The overall risk of death was 30 percent lower in the group that took simvastatin, and their risk of dying from heart disease was 42 percent lower.
- 256 patients in the placebo group died, compared with 182 in the simvastatin group.

AROUND THE STATE

Missouri buyer eyes Buc

TAMPA — A Missouri businessman hoping to land an NFL franchise for St. Louis joined an expanding list of prospective buyers for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers on Wednesday. The board of trustees overseeing the estate of late Buc owner Hugh Culverhouse issued a statement saying Stan Kroenke, of Columbia, Mo., expressed an interest in purchasing the Buc during a telephone conference call. Kroenke is chairman of The Kroenke Group, a private real estate and development company. He was involved in an unsuccessful bid to obtain an expansion franchise for St. Louis.

Malone, Sixers roll by Heat

PHILADELPHIA — Jeff Malone scored 12 of his game-high 31 points in the third quarter to lead the Philadelphia 76ers to a 109-96 victory over the Miami Heat on Wednesday. Dima Barros hit 4-of-6 3-pointers and had 24 points and 10 assists, and Clarence Weatherspoon added 16 points for the Sixers. Glen Rice led Miami with 24 points. John Salley added 21 points and 12 rebounds.

Heat charter interrupted

FORT LAUDERDALE — A charter flight carrying the Miami Heat was forced to return to Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport after the cabin de-pressurized. The plane encountered mechanical difficulties shortly after takeoff on its flight to Philadelphia Tuesday night. The team remained in South Florida overnight before making the trip to Philadelphia for Wednesday night's game. Center Matt Geiger's eardrum ruptured when the cabin lost pressure and was unable to accompany the team to Philadelphia because the injury prevents him from flying.

Gators net exhibition win

GAINESVILLE — Andrew DeCletq scored 25 points to lead the University of Florida Gators to a 91-83 exhibition win over the Korabel Men's Basketball Team of Kiev, Ukraine. Vladimir Poliah paced Korabel with 20 points.

Gordon scrubs sports calendar

From Staff Reports

Discretion being the better part of valor, most athletic events scheduled for Wednesday night in Seminole County were cancelled early in the day due to local flooding left by Tropical Storm Gordon.

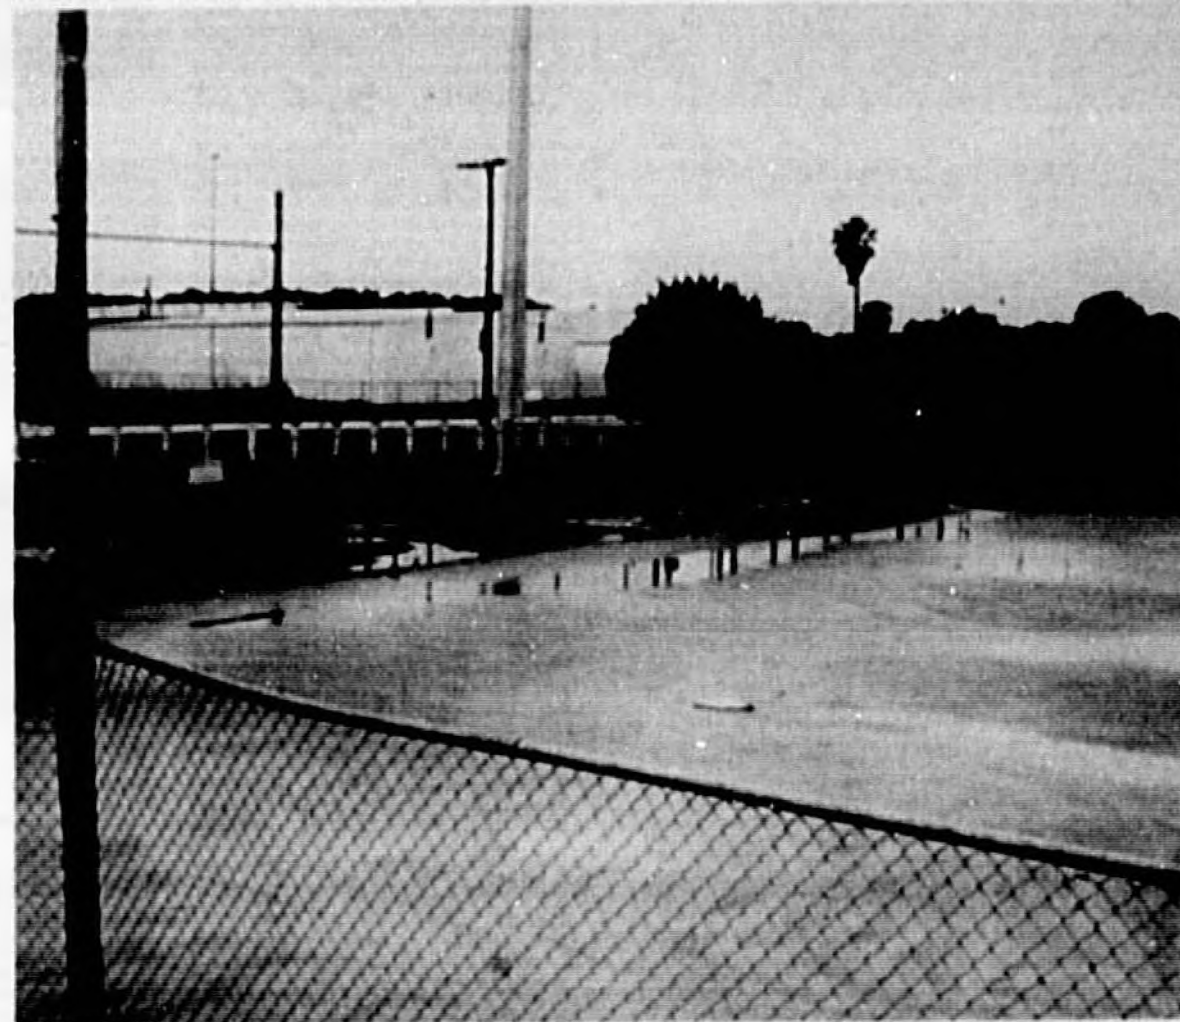

On the high school scene, the boys' basketball jamboree at Lyman High School and the boys' soccer jamboree at Lake Mary were washed out.

With all six county schools scheduled to participate in tip-off tournaments beginning tonight, the basketball jamboree won't be played. There was no word on whether or not the boys' soccer jamboree would be rescheduled.

The only other varsity events scheduled for last night were two first-round games in the Lady 'Noles Classic basketball tournament at Seminole High School. Those games — Cocoa facing Lake Howell and Spruce Creek taking on Lake Brantley — will probably be played some time today.

At Seminole Community College, where classes were cancelled last night and for today, the first home game of the season for the Lady Raiders basketball team — against Indian River Community College — was postponed. A make-up date was not announced.

The Sanford Recreation Department cancelled its two activities Wednesday night, the co-ed power volleyball league at Sanford Middle School and the three-team playoff for the championship of the Wednesday Men's Slowpitch Softball League.

As bad as the softball field at Chase Park looked last night, many roads in the neighborhood were in even worse condition, forcing city and county officials to close off some roads until the waters receded. As a result, most every event on Wednesday's sports calendar was cancelled.

Crew key to Balough win

By PAUL MARSEGLIA
 Special to the Herald

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — A dedicated and hard-working crew were responsible for Gary "Hot Shoe" Balough winning the Late Model feature event Saturday night, Nov. 12, at New Smyrna Speedway. Balough's car received extensive damage Friday night at Orlando Speedway when Raymond Lovelady rode over the top of it during a first-lap melee. But after Balough somehow managed to drive the car to victory lane, his crew spent the rest of the night getting the car ready to run at New Smyrna.

"The crew did one hell of a job today," said Balough, who now has four wins in four starts on the new season. "The three guys worked seven hours and used more than 500 rivets getting the car together. Even though the car got tore up, it didn't affect the handling."

Balough started the race from the ninth position, but a second-lap caution helped him work his way into third place by the third lap.

The caution came out when Wayne Anderson, Bobby Blake, Robbie Thompson, Charlie Barnham, and Dick Douglas were involved in a chain-reaction fender bender on the way out of turn two.

Anderson, the only one to return to competition, trailed Balough to victory lane ahead of Bruce Everett, Bill Keeton, and Guy Thomas.

Conrad Grenier took advantage of a mid-race caution to win the Modified feature event. Grenier was running in second place when leader Keith French spun to the infield. After inheriting the lead, Grenier raced unchallenged to claim the checkered flag.

Rounding out the top five behind Grenier were, in order of finish, Brian Van Alstine, Harland Sanford, R.J. Arnone, and French.

Chris Lawrence outpaced the field to win the Sportman headliner.

At the drop of the green, Lawrence bested fellow pole sitter Terry McDowell in an early duel for the No. 1 spot. Once in command, Lawrence led every circuit to pick up his first win of the season.

Five laps to the checkers, Joe Randow passed McDowell for second place. John White and Craig Conway were fourth and fifth.

Wayne Parker — with Bill Gunn in tow — took command of the Modified feature when leader Dave Savicki fell off the pace. Savicki came back to finish third behind Parker and Gunn and in front of Joe Middleton and Bob McKenzie.

Tommie Elliott withstood several challenges by Bill Morris and Claude Collignon to win the Limited Late Model main event. Tony Newsum and Bobby Sears came in fourth and fifth.

The rest of Saturday's card was cancelled due to rainstorms.

IN BRIEF

Bookstore celebrates book week

LAKE MARY — "National Children's Book Week" is a time-honored tradition. Celebrated since 1919, it is dedicated to spreading the word about children's literature and encouraging the joys of reading. Annually, the week before Thanksgiving, schools, libraries and bookstores applaud books and reading by coming up with fun ideas to mark this special event. This year's theme is "Read Across America."

Little Wing Books invites you to join them in celebrating the 75th year of "National Children's Book Week." Nov. 14-20. Spot the dog will be the mascot for this special celebration. Join Spot on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 19 and 20 between the hours of noon and 4 p.m. for activities and giveaways.

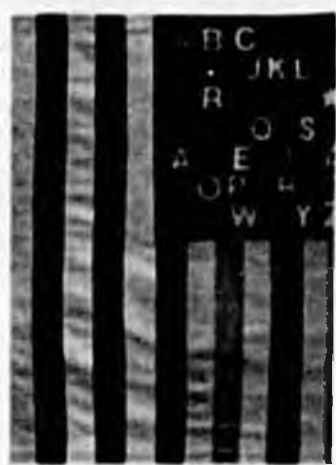

On Sunday, Nov. 20, Gail Radley, author of the children's fable, "The Spinner's Gift" will be signing her books between noon and 2 p.m. Radley is the author of more than nine books for children.

In addition, artwork created by students at Lake Mary Elementary, based on the works of Eric Carle (The Hungry Caterpillar), will be on display. The bookstore provided a video from the publisher, which demonstrates how Carle creates his illustrations. The students of Diane Neetz's art class used the same techniques to create the artwork that will be displayed.

Author Dawn Reno will also be on hand at the bookstore Sunday, to meet with students of the Lake Mary Elementary Children's Writers' Guild. Reno will be editing work done by the students. Five finished pieces will be submitted to a New York publishing house for publication in some manner.

Reno said, "Children's Book Week is really important because it opens kids up to reading."

Little Wing Books is located in the Lake Mary Village (Publix) Shopping Center.

He has flown more than 10 different aircraft, and flown more than 300 missions in Vietnam. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and nine additional air medals.

Appropriately on Veterans Day he addressed National Defense and praised the ROTC program. The mission of all branches of the service is to preserve, protect and defend our country.

Although the face of the services have changed dramatically within the last 45 years, Col. Gibson encourages young people to aim for a service career. He spoke on the vital need for education stating that today 98% of the service officer personnel have college degrees.

He said women comprise 12% of the Army enlisted personnel, 4% Marines, 11% Navy and 15% Air Force. The changing profile of the services reflect 54% are married.

Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, past Kiwanis Club Woman of the Year, was an honored guest. She presented a picture of Dr. Herberta Leonardy to the Sanford Museum to Alicia Clarke Curator. Leonardy was past Regent of Sanford's Sallie Harrison Chapter DAR and went on to serve as State Regent of the DAR. She received a J.D. degree from Stetson University and distinguished herself as Organizing President of the Florida State Association of Parliamentarians in 1953. A personal friend of Mrs. Smith's, she is listed in several editions of WHO'S WHO of American Women. Before her death in 1981, she wrote "An Elementary Course in Parliamentary Law" and conducted seminars in Parliamentary Law throughout Florida.

Virginia Mikler, Regent, presided over the business meeting. Pat Fox read the President General's message and Skip Oritzki presented the National Defense message. An article from the National Defender was read informing the members that President Clinton has signed a government edict putting our troops under the jurisdiction of the New World Trade Organization. This organization allows only one vote for each country and submerges United States interests. Members were urged to write to their Congressmen.

Chaplain Esther Anderson urged members to observe National Bible Week Nov. 20 through Nov. 27. Librarian Grace Parks announced that the book written by Chapter member, Grace Marie Stinecoper, titled "A History of the First Baptist Church, Sanford, Florida 1884-1984," has been donated as our annual selection to the State DAR Library in Orlando.

Registrar Cathy Wiley officially welcomed new member Mary Anne Cleveland to the chapter. She introduced as guests Maureen Bravo, Ann Bray and Julia Sartin. Historian Libby Boyd thanked all who participated in the Veterans Parade and expressed the thanks of Joanne Smith, VFW Auxiliary, for Veterans gifts donated.

Virginia Mikler announced the resignation of Vice Regent Alynne Faughnan due to the death of her mother and subsequent move to Williamsburg, Va. Other announcements were that New American Heritage chairman will be Ann Howland and a New Car Chapter is being formed with an organization meeting to be held in February.

It was announced that the Salvation Army has requested Bell Ringers. Heidi Haines will call to obtain a day for Chapter members to participate in this community effort. At the December meeting a memorial service will be held for Emogene Heismann.

Hostesses Heidi Haines and Pat Elliott were thanked for their outstanding Thanksgiving centerpiece and refreshments.

Church may answer a single's prayer

DEAR ABBY: Last month, one of your columns included a letter from Manless in Alabama, asking where women could go to meet decent men. Your reply included 10 likely places to meet single men.

While you offered some very good suggestions, you failed to mention the best, most reliable place — in a house of worship.

In most churches today, a great deal of interest and effort is directed toward "singles" — that group long neglected and expected to fit in wherever they could.

Here in Charleston, S.C., many churches, temples and synagogues have "Singles Departments" for Sunday school, Bible study, fellowships, retreats, and a host of other opportunities to socialize. While the purpose of singles ministries is certainly not for matchmaking, it is an excellent place to meet decent, interesting, unmarried people.

ADVICE

I have seen drastic changes in recent years. We are now finding an unusual imbalance — more single men (ages 22-60) than single women in the same age group.

So, Abby, please tell "Manless in Alabama" to call her local churches and inquire about single ministries.

A SINGLE FEMALE IN THE CHARLESTON AREA

DEAR SINGLE FEMALE: An excellent suggestion. As the Good Book says, "Ask and it shall be given to you; seek and ye shall find..." (Matthew 7:7)

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter from the 93-year-old hostess whose guests stayed and stayed, and talked and talked, while another guest played the piano and sang endlessly, I was reminded of the story they tell about my wonderful great-grandfather.

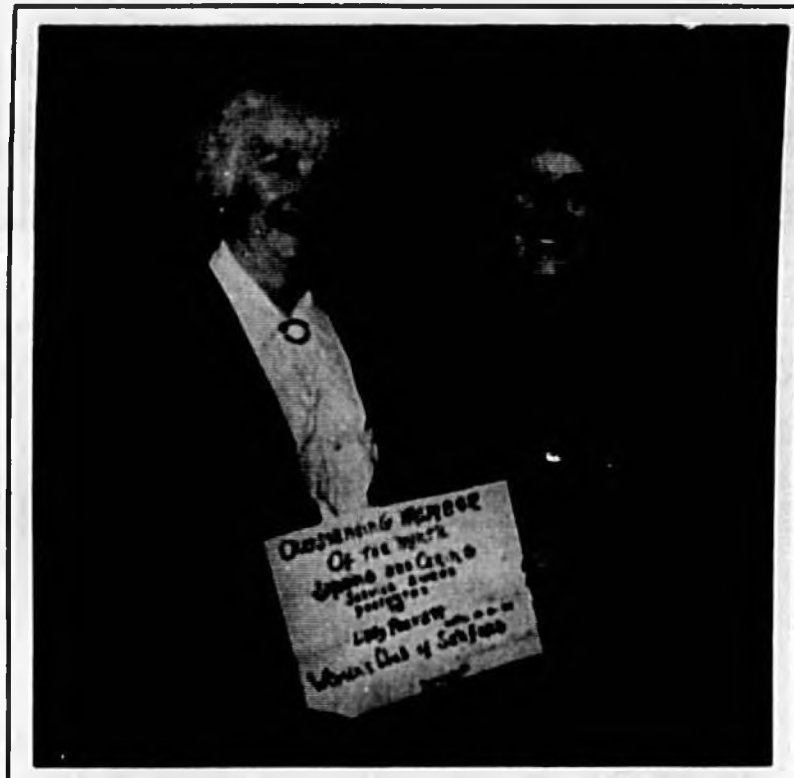

One evening when he and my great-grandmother had dinner guests who would not leave, he finally stood up and said, "Come on, Gladys, let's go to bed so these nice folks can go home."
DIANA HUTCHINSON, PORTLAND, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: In your response to "Humiliated," you said, "It is inappropriate for fathers to tell their daughters dirty jokes."

Abby, isn't it just as inappropriate for fathers to tell their sons dirty jokes?

What's the difference?
KRIS GRAVEN, FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ.

DEAR KRIS: Very little, actually. But assuming there are degrees of impropriety, it would seem more inappropriate for fathers to tell their daughters dirty jokes.

Warts can readily be transmitted

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please enlighten me regarding warts. If they are contagious, how is the virus transmitted - touching, drinking out of the same glass, kissing someone with warts, having sex with someone who has warts, and so on? Can a person be a carrier but not have warts? Why would a wart that appears similar be more contagious if it appears on the penis or vagina than if it were on the hands, feet or chest?

DEAR READER: Warts are caused by viruses, which are spread by direct (and often prolonged) skin-to-skin contact. In general, the more active the likelihood of transmission.

For instance, brushing against the wart on a person's hand will probably not result in infection with the virus, whereas sexual intercourse favors transmission.

Some warts are more easily spread than are others. Wart viruses can exist in the skin for variable periods before warts actually appear. In particular, men without visible warts on their genitals can infect their partners. (Condoms can effectively protect against this.)

Warts often disappear without treatment. Those that remain can usually be cured by the application of prescription medicine, chiefly podofilox.

One final comment: Genital warts in women have been associated with cancers of the reproductive tract. Therefore, any woman with such warts should be treated by a gynecologist and her partner should be meticulously examined for non-visible warts by a urologist or dermatologist, using special tests.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Viruses and Cancer." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband has been advised by his doctor to have knee replacement surgery. As an artificial knee lifespan is about eight years, he is concerned that a second replacement down the road might be necessary. In Europe, ceramic is presumably used for knee replacement instead of metal, and appears to fuse better. What is your opinion?

DEAR READER: I am not familiar enough with European ceramic prostheses to advise you. To my knowledge, the U.S. artificial knee is a splendid product that works well and enables patients to maintain normal lives for many years.

The lifespan of the prosthesis will, of course, depend on how strenuously it is used. A sedentary person may well enjoy his artificial knee for a lifetime; a runner may find his wearing out in a matter of years.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder

In yesterday's deal it helped if the declarer could visualize the layout of the club suit and how he could overcome a bad break in that suit. Here is another deal in which the club suit was critical.

North appears to be overbidding by using Blackwood, but he does have good distribution and controls. Moreover, the ninth trump is usually worth about a king.

Upon winning the diamond lead in his hand, South drew two rounds of trumps, getting the bad news. He ruffed his diamond loser in the dummy and played on spades, discarding a club on the last round as East ruffed in.

When East exited with a club, South put in his nine and won West's jack with dummy's ace. Now South finessed his club 10, but West produced the queen:

one down.

"Boy, that was unlucky," said South. "I make if either the trumps come in or the club honors are split."

True, but what did South overlook?

Assuming West's diamond-four lead was an honest fourth-highest, East had to have five or six diamonds. East was also known to have three hearts, so he had at most two clubs. After the third spade, South should have played a club to his king and a club to dummy's ace. Then he leads the last spade. If East doesn't ruff, declarer continues with a trump. If East ruffs, he is endplayed immediately. East must return a diamond, which declarer ruffs in hand while discarding dummy's club loser.

Counting hands saves contracts.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osof
YOUR BIRTHDAY
Nov. 18, 1994

In the year ahead, your leadership qualities will become more apparent, especially in your career and social life. You'll want to make more of your own decisions, and your choices will be good ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Think twice today before committing to a complicated collaboration. It is a good idea to steer clear of all endeavors having basic information that's fuzzy. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If something doesn't work out as you'd hoped, don't blame your mate. Today's domestic arguments could have a prolonged and negative effect.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Co-workers might gang up on you today if you fail to see any merit in their ideas. Be a good listener and keep an open mind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Financial recklessness may result in steep penalties today. Let logic, not impulsiveness govern your bank account.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you want others to rally behind your banner today, you must truly believe in yourself and what you are doing.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) When you've been treated unfairly, it's sometimes hard to let bygones be bygones. Today you might have to wrestle with this emotion.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Resist banking on things that have not been finalized and don't spend funds you've not yet received. Live in reality's realm.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Establishing objectives is admirable, but today make sure the result will be worth the effort.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is not a good day to take on other people's responsibilities. The extra burden might be too much for you right now.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be extremely careful today not to repeat a costly business mistake from the past. Act professionally with everyone, including your friends.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today, your way of doing things might conflict with the desires of your mate. Be prepared to compromise or you will create unnecessary tension.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This could be a day when you have to contend with distasteful tasks. A negative attitude will make what you have to do much harder.
