

Multiple Tax Bills

(Continued From Page One) House Speaker Murray deferred introduction of six bills because he was doubtful as to whether they came within Governor Warren's omnibus beverage board for the call for a special revenue raising session of the Legislature.

Other deferred bills would permit harness racing and provide for parimutuel betting on the races, designate all county roads and bridges as state projects for the purpose of receiving gas tax money and create a wholesale alcohol beverage board for the state.

One writer says consumption of wine in ancient Rome at one time reached 25 million gallons a year. Cigarette production in the United States reached one billion in 1948.

Railroad Strike

The scene this morning contrasted sharply with the previous two days of disorder in which squads of club-wielding unionists battled work-bound non-strikers, injuring at least 28.

About 15 unarmed pickets took up their stations at the main gate of the plant in a nearby wheat field. Police ranks were swelled by 100 newly-sworn volunteer sheriff's deputies.

State Line Closed To Fruit Shippers After Sept. 12

LAKELAND, Sept. 9.—(AP)—The Florida border which has been open since Sept. 1 to the movement of any size and grade citrus fruit will be closed again after Sept. 12.

Frank Seymour, executive secretary of the Federal Marketing Agreement Committee, reported today the U. S. Department of Agriculture had approved restrictions on citrus from Sept. 12 through Oct. 2.

Before retiring several weeks ago, the old citrus control committee adopted regulations which remained in force until Sept. 1. This was the first time any restrictions had been imposed on summer shipments of citrus.

New federal committees named after grower elections followed up by setting the regulations which the USDA approved today. A gap of no regulations remained between Sept. 1 and Sept. 12.

The committees took the stand that shippers could not bypass the federal agreement which sets regulations for sizes and grades of fresh fruit despite a state revision liberalizing truck shipments.

The so-called trucking amendment in the new state citrus law provided truckers could ship unwashed and ungraded fruit direct from groves anywhere if it met taste test requirements.

The regulations effective Sept. 1 require oranges to grade No. 2. The regulations effective Sept. 12 require oranges to grade No. 1.

Shelton Shooting

Today's attempt was the first on the life of "Little" Earl. But he was present when his uncle, Carl Shelton, was slain in October, 1947, and also was in the club seven hours last May when "Big" Earl was shot in the back by a gunman who fired through a second story window of a private club.

"Little" Earl had been associated with "Big" Earl in the gambling venture which has since been closed. He is married, has two small children and gives his occupation as a farmer with "Big" Earl. They operate horse and holdings in southern Illinois.

During the prohibition era of "Little" Earl's uncles "Big" Earl, Carl and Bernie were blamed for about 40 slayings in southern Illinois, including those of two mayors, and a state patrolman and his son.

Bernie Shelton was killed from ambush near Peoria, Ill., on July 26, 1948. Two younger brothers, Roy and Dalva, were not active in the gang.

The explosion had lifted him bodily, and the flying rocks had passed under him. He was, however, severely peppered by small bits, which had forced pieces of dungaree and flannel beneath his skin. Blood poisoning resulted but he recovered.

Steel Strike Is Debated By Union Leaders

Industry Leaders Ac- cept Truman Plea For Extension Of Truce On Strike

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The steel strike ends with an 11-day extension of the truce expiring tomorrow midnight. Steel industry's big five have accepted the extension.

Also in the union's hands is the working men's demands for a sharp round pay increase—specifically whether to accept the presidential board's formula for settling the steel wage dispute.

The board suggested a 10-cent hourly package covering pensions and insurance but not wages. Decisions on the board recommendations also are expected from more than 60 steel companies as soon as officers and boards of directors finish studying the fact finding report.

The steelworkers executive board went into session at 9 A. M. at the Hotel Sheraton. U. O. and steelworkers President Philip Murray, presiding, led the drive for a fourth round pay boost, got behind closed doors with other union heads to plot their course.

The executive board is made up of international officers and 25 district directors. It's recommendations must be ratified by the union's wage policy committee which was called together at 1 P. M. The wage policy group includes the executive board plus representatives of local unions.

Decisions of the executive group usually are made public by press communication and action by the wage policy body.

Murray has withheld comment on the truce and the fact that it is extended. He said, however, that the truce will be extended. President Truman's steel fact-finding board said that any agreement between workers and steel industry will help the nation's economy just when it's getting on an even keel.

The board, in its report to President Truman Saturday, gave what amounts to a declaration that the spiraling cost between wages and prices is over and that labor and industry should recognize it. The board said:

"The postwar race between rising costs and rising wages has become a vicious circle. It is now essential that the government take action to break this cycle."

Taylor Talks To Farm Bureau On Nematode Control

A. L. Taylor of the Shell Chemical Corporation spoke at an enthusiastic audience that overflowed the Farm Bureau meeting hall Friday night on the subject, "The Control of Nematodes by Soil Fungicides."

Mr. Taylor stressed the practical advantages of increased crops and larger monetary returns gained by this method.

He discussed the different types of fungicides available, particularly D. D. and outlined the preliminary preparation of land for soil fumigation.

After his talk Mr. Taylor answered questions posed by members of the audience.

The program committee chairman, J. W. Wilson, was called on by President George O. Swartz to introduce the speaker.

Rotary Governor Theodor Heuss Is Walter Kennedy Elected Head Of Makes Talk Here German Republic

Importance Of Carry- ing Out 4 Objects Of Rotary Stressed

Walter C. Kennedy of Sarasota district governor of Rotary International, addressed the Sanford Rotary Club today following a morning conference with the board of directors and committee chairmen, on "The Aims and Projects of Rotary."

Introduced by President George Touhy, who spoke of him as a "home town boy," Mr. Kennedy told the Rotarians that he had lived in Sanford 40 years ago, that he had gone to school here, that his father once owned a farm on Celery Avenue which he sold to the late Tom Hawkins, and that he had always regarded Sanford as his second home.

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht urged the Rotary Club to lend its support to the current drive of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation which is sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club under the direction of Mrs. Sally Alero Williams.

"For the first time since the organization of the Foundation it has become necessary to put on a special drive," Dr. Ruprecht said. "More than 40,000 cases have developed in the United States this year and have exhausted the funds of the Foundation."

Dr. Ruprecht stressed the importance of carrying out the four objects of Rotary: "To have high character men in every profession and vocation; to have good will and friendship between nations, races and religions; to advance the interests of science and art; and to promote the betterment of the world."

President Weizmann Says Israel Accept's Supervision Of Holy Places

FRIBOURG, Switzerland, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of Israel, said today Israel would welcome direct international supervision of the holy places and institutions in Jerusalem.

In Tel Aviv, at almost the same moment, the chairman of Parliament's foreign affairs committee declared "neither the Israeli government nor the Israeli parliament is contemplating a change in their declared policy regarding Jerusalem."

This policy is against international rule for the Holy City. There was nothing inconsistent in the two statements, since President Weizmann was referring to international supervision and action while the parliamentary spokesman concerned himself with the United States proposal to make all Jerusalem an internationalized area similar to Trieste.

Dr. Weizmann, who has been residing in Switzerland, spoke at a ceremony in his honor at the University of Fribourg, where he received his doctor of science degree 20 years ago. He was handed a honorary copy of the diploma by the Swiss government.

The ceremony at Fribourg is one of the many honors that have been bestowed on Dr. Weizmann since he was elected president of Israel last year.

Senate Groups Vote 20-3 For Arms Aid Bill

Bitter Fight Faces Measure On Floor Of Senate Where Cuts Are Feared

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott said today the United States, Britain and Canada have agreed on a program of immediate steps to combat Britain's dollar crisis.

Meanwhile, Democratic leaders ordered night sessions of the Senate in a drive to complete action this week on the Reciprocity Trade Agreement Act.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Two Senate committees today took stamped formal approval on a $1,314,000,000 plan for reuniting friendly nations against Communism.

The final vote—20 to 3—cleared the way for the arms bill to go to the Senate. There it faces another fight by a group determined to make a deep cut in the total spending.

The Senate Foreign Relations and armed services committees voted for this arms program: $1,000,000,000 for the North Atlantic Pact nations; divided 50-50 between cash and contract authorization and with some restriction on use of the cash; $211,370,000 for Greece and Turkey;

$27,540,000 for Iran, Korea and the Philippines; $25,000,000 to aid anti-Communist in China with President Truman to spend the money where he sees fit without making any report to Congress.

The bill is in the form of an authorization. Funds must be provided later by appropriation. Votes against the legislation were given by Democratic Senators George and Russell of Georgia and Byrd of Virginia.

George plans to lead a fight in the Senate to slash the amount of Atlantic Pact nations by $700,000,000.

Meanwhile, the two committees apparently avoided another prospective battle by amending the bill by accepting a slight compromise concerning the aid for China.

This compromise, changing language of the bill to aid more closely to China, was proposed by Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee.

Truman Expected To Defer Filling Cout's Vacancy By Bilked Women

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—President Truman is expected to defer filling a vacancy on the Supreme Court until after the election.

It is generally expected that if Truman chooses Attorney General Tom Clark as his successor, he will not be confirmed until after the election.

Clark was appointed to the court and McGeehan was named to succeed him as attorney general. The understanding around Washington was that McGeehan had been named to a Supreme Court vacancy.

That vacancy was created by the death Saturday night of Justice Rutledge at York, Me. McGeehan was a central figure in the political life of the city. He was a member of the city's elite and was a close friend of Justice Clark.

Increased Restrictions Placed Against Catholics By Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic bishops have offered to negotiate anew with the Communist government on a church-state accord—but only if all present restrictions against religious freedom are removed.

The offer was made in a memorandum adopted by the Council of Bishops in a meeting Aug. 11 at Trnava, Slovakia, and recently submitted to the government.

Church sources, meanwhile, accused the government of imposing increased restrictions on bishops and priests to hinder their work and break their loyalty to the Czech hierarchy and the Vatican.

They said these measures ranged from infringements on freedom of movement to confiscation of property of priests who refused to pay fines imposed for reading pastoral letters received from bishops.

The complaints came after a weekend in which leading government and Communist Party officials had issued new warnings and threats against what they termed "dissidents" who attempt to disrupt church activities.

Church authorities said that in January diocesan more than 60 priests had their salaries suspended. (Continued on Page Two)

Daytona Is Ousted Krider Keeps Mum By St. Augustine On Gruber-Butler In 6 To 3 Game Baseball Wrangle

DAYTONA BEACH, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Lanky Don Vike, 20 year old Stoughton, W. Va., righthander, pitched St. Augustine to a four hit, 4 to 3 victory here last night in an elimination Daytona Beach from the Florida State League semifinal playoffs four games to three.

St. Augustine opens the best four out of seven final playoff against Palmetto tonight in the Ancient City. Stan Karpinski has been nominated to pitch the opener for the Saints.

Last night Vike stopped the Islanders flat, spacing the four skippy hits. All five Daytona runs were unearned.

In contrast, the Saints lashed Lou Bevil for 11 hits and all six runs in eight innings. Walter Gladis, who pitched the ninth gave up two more runs.

Pete Pichan honored for the Saints in the seventh with none out to make the score 8-3. Pichan also had two singles, Carl Butler and Red Pennington joined in the hit parade with three hits each.

It was Vike's third series win. St. Augustine AB: H O A

Russian Dance Team Goes In For Soccer

AP Newsfeatures MOSCOW—A Soviet newspaper reports the dire results of the attempt of an enterprising club director in a small Russian city to convert a song-and-dance ensemble into a soccer football team.

The song and dance ensemble of the Central Home of Culture of the Railroad Workers, according to the paper, had been giving concerts in the town of Iul in Kostroma District without any particular financial success.

So the director of the club told the group that their concert season was over. However, he offered to pay them for playing soccer if they would organize a team. He would arrange the games, he said.

The director's plan was simple. The initials of the ensemble are T. D. E. K. H. and the initials of one of the most famous soccer teams in the USSR are T. D. K. H. He posted signs all over town advertising the forthcoming game between the singers and the initials of one local team, but had the posters printed so the "Z" on the end of the name of the team was so small it was hardly noticeable.

Thousands of soccer fans turned out under the impression they were to see the champions of the Soviet Union play the local eleven.

Mobilized To Combat Polio Spread Special Classes At Stetson Start Sessions Oct. 1st

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(SPECIAL)—Vast facilities mobilized in all parts of the country to treat today's polio victims, reflect a decade of progress in research and education financed with March of Dimes funds by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, National Foundation of medicine care and public health, declared today that, "never before has this nation had so many treatment centers available for polio patients. And never before have so many physicians been so well prepared to meet the current outbreak of this disease."

Only ten years ago, less than 300 hospitals in the nation would accept these cases, he pointed out. Today, with the very best of acute polio patients may be cared for safely in general hospitals using simple isolation techniques, more than 1,200 hospitals will accept these cases, he pointed out.

Fuller utilization of existing medical and treatment facilities has been effected in half the states, where State-Coordinated polio Planning Committees have been organized through the State Health Officer, Dr. Landauer said.

"Through the coordinated cooperation of official and voluntary health groups included in these committees, provision is being made, not only for emergency epidemic needs, but for the continued care of those who will require long-term convalescent or treatment after discharge from the hospital," he said.

Establishment of treatment centers for respiratory cases in various localities is a National Foundation objective, Dr. Landauer said. One example of this is the Respirator Center at Children's Hospital, Baltimore, which is maintained with the aid of the National Foundation there.

"We have some a long way since 1916, when armed guards barricaded state lines during that first major epidemic," Dr. Landauer continued. "Now people know you can't run away from polio, that it is most often spread through intimate personal contact, hospital staff realize that simple isolation techniques will eliminate danger of infection within hospitals, in polio as in any other communicable disease. Fear has definitely diminished. We are ready for prompt hospitalization is often necessary to save lives and minimize possible crippling."

RETURNS TO U. S. LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Shirley May Frances took off for the United States today in a trans Atlantic plane.

There will be another time, said the 17-year-old Somerset, Mass., school girl who made a gallant effort to swim the English Channel Tuesday. "I am determined to swim it eventually," she said.

Shirley was dressed attractively in a dove gray two-piece suit. She wore a powder blue hat.

Polio Victim Gets His Route Carried

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Polio-stricken Walter Berthlaume, 11, was pretty worried about his newspaper route.

When he was admitted to children's hospital a month ago he told doctors: "I have to get well real soon. I have a newspaper business to attend to and I want to set up a baby-sitting service this winter. Grandma needs my help, too."

Today Walter could stop fretting about the paper route, thanks to his pal, Carl Johnson, 13. Dressed in his Sunday suit, Carl walked to his friend's bedside yesterday and said: "Hi, Walt. I got a little present for you."

It was a big glass bowl holding change and bills. "Polks around home think a lot of you, Walt," Carl said. "They gave me more than $75 to get you well. If it ain't enough, I'll get more."

Young Johnson said he took over Walter's newspaper route and went to his friend's bedside to help his pal, who was stricken at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Eagen, with whom he lives.

As the youngsters shook hands, Carl told Walter, never mind how long it takes to get better, you've got yourself a partner.

Then he came back and he shot my father two more times. Then Naney stood up. She pointed at Carmine (Charlie) Pettilo, 47, accused of killing her father, Frank Falotta, 35, in an argument about $50.

"That's him," said Nancy. "That was all of Nancy's story. Before King County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz had permitted the little girl to tell it in court, he had asked her if she knew what would happen if she did not tell the truth.

"I'd have a sin on my soul," Nancy replied.

Girl Relates Killing Of Father Over $20 NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(AP)—In a small, trembling voice, 10-year-old Nancy Falotta spoke from the witness chair: "I put my baby sister to bed and went to the window. I saw my father coming up the block, saw Charlie coming up the block."

"I heard my father say 'Please, Charlie, don't shoot.' Then Charlie shot my father. After he shot my father he went up the block.

Tito and his Yugoslav Communists lay claim to being better Communists than Stalin and his Russian ones.

McKEEVER TO LEAD BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—Ed McKeever, now backfield coach for Louisiana State, is holding his fifth football teaching job since 1944. The Texas Tech graduate, who began his mentoring career at that school as backfield coach in 1935 and remained until 1939, moved to Boston College and held the same job under Frank Leahy for two years.

McKeever moved with Leahy to Notre Dame, and in 1944 when the Irish mentor went into the Navy, he took over as head coach. He served as head coach at Cornell in 1945-46, then at San Francisco U. in 1947 and last season was chief coach for the Chicago Rockets of the All-America Conference. He is proud that he has "never been associated with a losing college football team."

TODAY'S HOLE YERK

Young people who reflect the fruits of experience are pathetically foolish. Parents wish only the best for their children. A foolish son is the ruinousness of his mother.—Prov. 10:1.

We see where the "Miss America" of Atlantic City is really "Miss America" of California, and has three children.

Unfortunately the little country of Paraguay in South America now has its sixth president in 17 months. That's one way of avoiding a dictatorship.

Industrial production in this country is on the increase again for the first time in ten months, and if a rash of strikes doesn't cripple it, business should continue good for some time to come.

Why do you put all that stuff in the paper about arthritis, a young man said to us the other day, after reading a story about some new medical discovery bogged as a cure for this particularly ailment. He does not know that to a man suffering with arthritis there is no story quite so interesting as one dealing with a possible cure for arthritis.

Negroes voted in a Mobile, Ala. city election yesterday for the first time, and there was no particular opposition to it. Negroes have voted in Sanford city elections ever since we can remember, and no one has objected to it. However, widespread voting by the negroes makes more impressive than ever before for negroes. There are many things worse than negro voting, and one of them is innocent voting.

Tampa has undertaken a $5,000,000 public housing program which will provide some 1,500 new homes in a slum clearance project. The federal government will bear the cost of most of it. Other cities all over the country are doing this sort of thing. Sanford taxpayers will have to pay their share of the taxes for what is done along this line in other cities. It should not neglect its own improvements here.

A bill has been introduced to cut the 1949 General Appropriations Act by $47,000,000 though it was generally supposed when the special session convened that nothing was to be considered except new tax legislation. The bill would wipe a heavy axe on many departments of government regarded as essential, but the belief is growing that the only way to get economy in government is to abolish all appropriations and start over from the very bottom. Florida will never allow its needy aged or its dependent children to suffer, but there are many not now receiving as much as they should because there are others getting benefits they do not need or deserve. This is a condition which has got to be corrected.

Economic experts who take a long range view of international relations and business trends are convinced that free trade between the United States and the British Empire, rather than hating American industry or creating unemployment in this country actually would benefit both. Some industries might be displaced by imported goods from Britain, but other industries would prosper and broader markets for their goods as a result of the increased buying power in Britain. Tariffs, as everyone knows, is one of the principal impediments to trade among nations and anything which hinders trade, the hinders production and full employment. That tariffs have done to international trade, we in this country understand better than our Congress did not permit the creation of a tariff which would have

Money For Tito

In August the United States granted Yugoslavia a license for purchase of a steel mill, breaking the pol-y against export of any "war potential" goods or machinery to Russian satellite nations. Now, it appears, we also will lend Yugoslavia the money with which to pay for this mill and a number of other things.

The authorization of the steel mill purchase presumably was a gambit on widening of the rift between Belgrade and Moscow. The recently announced loan of twenty million dollars must be presumed to involve a horse trade, inasmuch as it is to be made through the Export-Import Bank, the function of which is to aid and finance trade with the United States.

Officials laid stress on plans to develop the non-ferrous metals industries of Yugoslavia, some of which might purchase supply metals needed by the United States for the uses of both ordinary and defense industries. It is hoped officials were sufficiently hard-headed about the Yugoslav loan to get some firm commitments regarding these metals and possibly other items of trade. It might be too much to assume such, since some Americans are pretty soft-headed about anything which can be pictured as opposition to Russian Communism.

In playing the name of power politics, which is what the United States is doing, gambles must be taken. Denying with Marshal Tito's dictatorship is admittedly a long-odds gamble. All odds are that the Tito quarrel with the Kremlin might be short-lived; indeed it might even be a sham. But if the break is permanent, it could shake the whole structure of Russian influence.

Hand In Government

The school board of Oglesby, Ill., took back a dismissed teacher in repudiation to the demand of a crowd of persons which descended on a meeting of the board. Then four members of the board and the superintendent of schools resigned their posts, declaring that the incident was "school violence."

In most communities the people take precious little interest in what the school board and town council do. Some matter of extraordinary interest would be needed to bring them out in any force at all to attend a meeting of one of the local governing bodies. It is frequently argued that local government would be better if the people took enough interest to attend a board or council meeting occasionally. If the Oglesby board's statement of the situation is correct, the affair there does not alter the argument, but strengthens it.

The board said the teacher was fired because her ability was not up to standard. It said members of the teachers' union to which she belonged, and of the Oglesby Trades and Labor Council, picketed schools to prevent their operation and formed the crowd which induced the board to rescind its dismissal. That makes it sound like a case of ordinary labor union coercion. If his view is correct, active interest of the whole citizenry of the community could have prevented the incident.

If a truly representative group of citizens brings pressure on the local government, only good is likely to result. If a non-representative group is able to stampele local government, then true community interest is more than ever needed.

New Finds In Alaska

Geographers have not completed their task of mapping the world, even for a region as relatively accessible as Alaska. Bradford Washburn, director of the Boston Science Museum, announces that two unrecorded mountains have been found in the Mt. McKinley region. Both are over 12,000 feet high. Washburn would like one to receive the name of Joe Crosson, a veteran Alaska pilot who flew the bodies of Will Rogers and Wiley Post to Seattle after their fatal crash in 1935.

Mt. McKinley itself was not really discovered until 1896, though the Russians had left vague record of it during their ownership of Alaska prior to our purchase in 1867. The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, that Arctic Yellowstone, was not found until 1916. The new finds suggest that Alaska still has secrets to yield to the dauntless explorer.

Average American Hits New High In Liquid Assets, But Saves Less

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—You are always being told what you—"the average American citizen"—own, own, make, spend and save. And, somehow, it never seems to fit your own case very well. For instance, there are Federal Reserve Board figures to show that Americans as a whole own a more "liquid assets" than ever before—some $45 billion before the war. But at the same time you are told that the "average spending unit," a family, had only $300 put away in liquid assets in 1948, whereas the year before it had $360, and in 1946 had $400.

Liquid assets are savings you can turn into cash easily when you need it, such as demand and time deposits in banks, savings and loan shares and United States government securities.

The growth in total liquid assets and drop in average holdings becomes the more confusing when you are told that last year three million families used up their savings, but the same year as many or more started nest eggs for the first time. It all adds up to the suspicion that maybe there isn't any average American.

If you are one of the three million to have spent your liquid savings, but you may have put them up when the cost of living was rising. But you may have them into a home or other real estate or into starting a business. That scarcely makes you a spendthrift. It does make you below average when it comes to compiling statistics.

Before you get too worried about the average holdings of liquid assets being lower now than in 1946, look at some other figures. There are 880 mutual banks in the United States. Their total deposits are just under $16 billion, up from $10 1/2 billion in 1945. There are more than 39 million depositors now, a gain of 3 1/2 million in ten years. The first seven months of the year, while every one was getting ready for the coming year, the average monthly deposits were $1.2 billion, up from $1.1 billion in 1948.

The Department of Commerce puts total personal income last year at $100 billion. That is the total paid out in wages, salaries, net income of unincorporated firms, dividends, interest, rents and benefits from social insurance and veterans' pensions.

The monthly peak was reached in November. Since then it has receded, but the year's total was $100 billion, up from $95 billion in 1948.

March Of Dimes Is Yielding Dividends In Polio Epidemic

NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—Dimes invested by the American people in the March of Dimes for twelve years are yielding a dividend beyond mathematical calculation in this year of polio incidence: expert and more abundant treatment for patients throughout the nation.

More physicians are alert to polio symptoms, experienced in diagnosis and care. More nurses and physicians therapists are trained to apply latest treatment methods and techniques. Virologists, pediatricians—terms once little known beyond medical circles—are becoming familiar household words, as parents realize the role they play in specialized polio research and treatment.

Development of the existing army of professional polio fighters is a result of careful planning and financing by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, was started today by Miss Catherine Worthington, director of professional education for that organization. Since 1938 more than $10,000,000 of March of Dimes funds has gone into a comprehensive educational program to help train experts, she said.

"The single indispensable key to good medical care is personnel qualified to minister it," Miss Worthington declared. "Through fellowships and scholarships awarded in 21 categories of medicine, health and basic science—and the support of 46 approved schools and professional organizations—the National Foundation has made it possible for more patients to be cared for by well-trained men and women and has increased the ranks of research workers seeking an answer to the polio problem."

Miss Worthington listed the following numbers added to the professional polio army through National Foundation scholarships and fellowships: 38 virologists, 48 orthopedic surgeons, 20 pediatricians, 5 neurologists, 17 psychiatrists, 47 public health physicians, 93 health educators, 1,166 physical therapists, 25 physical therapists, 118 orthopedic nurse supervisors and teachers, 65 medical record librarians, 55 sanitary engineers and 239 medical social workers.

Two new services to insure better patient care were instituted by the National Foundation this year, she added. One was the establishment of epidemic orientation centers, where recruited nurses inexperienced in polio would receive intensive training in the basic principles of polio nursing before accepting emergency duty. The first such center in Little Rock, Arkansas, is also available to local graduates and student nurses in that hard-hit state.

The other service is the recruitment of resident physicians, urgently needed for hospitals where patient loads too large for staff physicians to handle. The National Foundation has sponsored special short-term training courses for resident physicians and generalists who may be called upon to care for polio patients.

The New Federal Judge

Florida may get a new federal judge hand-picked by President Truman rather than by Senators Holland and Pepper. Until now the Senators have been unable to agree on a man for the newly-created roving judgeship and the word from Washington is that if the deadlock continues the President may name a deserving Democrat of his own selection.

Since the appointee must be approved by the Senate, Truman said hardly afford to name the personal choice of either Holland or Pepper if the other objected. Pepper is closer to the White House, but Holland probably could muster more votes in a floor fight, say the politicians.

Pepper is known to be backing his and Governor Warren's good friend, W. J. Steed, Orlando attorney who now holds a state job as counsel for the Florida Citrus Commission. Holland is said to be willing to accept one of a half-dozen attorneys, but is known to be definitely against Steed.

Geography as well as politics enters into the wire-pulling for the $15,000-a-year life-time job. The County has points out that the last two federal judges appointed in Florida came from Orlando and Sebring, in Central Florida, and argues that the Miami-Palm Beach section has a right in representation.

to duty in epidemic areas as needed. Fifty such residents already have been made available to epidemic areas.

In addition, short courses for physicians, nurses and physical therapists, in polio diagnosis, and the services of four polio Aid units which go into stricken areas upon request of state or city health officers to help organize care, have been made available through the National Foundation. Contributions from the American people have paid for the protective benefits and services of many trained medical experts providing care for today's polio victims. The large number of patients whose treatment will reach into 1950 and beyond requires the training of more experts to meet the continuing need. That is why, reckoning costs in terms of human lives, support for the Polio Epidemic Emergency Drive is needed.

Charge That Naval Offensive Force Is Being Scuttled Gains Support

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—The head of the naval air training program spoke out strongly today in support of the flying captain who charged that Navy offensive strength is being scuttled.

"When John Crommelin, a great Navy aviator, speaks, the American people should listen to him." Those were the closing words in a statement by Rear Admiral Arthur G. Doyle of Glenview, Ill.

"Captain John Crommelin is one of the greatest naval aviators of all times," Doyle said, adding: "He has always had the country's interest at heart. He has never thought of his own interests. He is a man of the highest and noblest integrity. I find it impossible that he be off-line in any great degree in any statement that he may make."

Crommelin issued a statement yesterday in which he said that Navy power is being wrecked in the Pentagon, headquarters of the armed services. He said it is being "diluted to death" and Navy morale destroyed.

The Navy and Air Force for several years have engaged in a bitter dispute over their respective roles in strategic warfare. The 3-year-old captain, who works under the joint chiefs of staff, said that in speaking out he was throwing overboard his 30-year Navy career, but added: "I hope this will blow the whole thing open and bring on another congressional investigation."

That wish won one congressman's endorsement. Rep. Sasser (D-Md.) said Congress should take a hand in the row. Sasser, a top-ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee, indicated he feels such a review might help settle the dispute which flared into public view during the recent congressional investigation of the Air Force's B-36 bomber.

He said he favored an inquiry into the roles of the Army, Navy and Air Force in defense and security. A Crommelin attack on the Tydings law passed this year to tighten unification of the services was called "silly" by its author, Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Crommelin said the law would help along a trend toward dictatorship which he said had developed in "silly" by its author. He also complained that the Navy is subject to decision of two men on the joint chiefs "who may have a landlocked conception of national defense."

That body is made up of one representative from each of the three services. Its chairman, General Omar N. Bradley, has no vote. Said Tydings: "One trouble with many high-ranking members of the armed forces is that they think of their own service alone to the detriment of others."

Crommelin had prepared his statement for an expected appearance before a naval court of inquiry. The court is looking into the source of information in a once-anonymous document that set off the B-36 investigation.

When the court recessed Saturday until Sept. 21 without hearing him, Crommelin decided to release his statement anyway. Capt. S. B. D. Wood, Judge Advocate for the Navy court said yesterday that Crommelin will be called upon to testify when the court reconvenes.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, declined to comment on Crommelin's statement. His committee will meet Oct. 5 as planned to continue investigation of the B-36 and any other matter on the agenda. Sasser, however, said he thought such officers are entitled to let their opinions be known. "Care should be taken that a differentiation is made between scurrilous and unfounded statements and an honest expression of opinion by Navy officers lost valuable officers be purged and their services lost."

He made it clear he was not weighing Crommelin's statement specifically in making these observations. Crommelin meantime reported he had gained support in his "campaign."

"The phone has been ringing almost continually all day," he told a reporter. "I have had calls from Army officers, quite a few naval friends, and some flag officers. They said they admired my courage and I think they'll help the crusade, every one of them."

One of the calls he said was from Admiral Doyle.

Crommelin called on Congress to change some legislation because, he said, "it has got the system of checks and balances disturbed."

"We've got to get this mess straightened out, quickly," he added, "so we can get back to work." He planned to report for work as usual with the logistic planning group of the joint chiefs in the Pentagon.

Crommelin is not new to capital investigations. Two years ago he touched off a study of the Naval Academy's former secret society, "The Green Howlers." He told a congressional committee that members held each other out promotions in the Navy and that the club had turned into a vicious clique.

A Navy Department investigation followed, ending with an announcement that it never did an officer any good or any harm to have been a Green Howler.

Temperatures of 150 to 180 degrees have been taken in the sun along the coast of the Persian Gulf in southern Iran, but these are unofficial records since official records must be taken in sheltered and ventilated locations.

Southeastern Conference Squads Put On Heat For Season's Openers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southeastern Conference football squads tried a bit of everything yesterday—everything but a water ballet, and Tulsa almost tried that.

Coch Henry Frick didn't let a water-logged field slow things down as he popped the whip to get his Green Wave ready for Alabama Sept. 24. Paul Benz, reliever for all-Southeastern Eddie Price made two of the best runs of the day when emphasis was turned on Tulsa's long neglected ground attack.

Florida and Alabama backs and ends got a workout in the passing and receiving departments. Gator and Tommy Bishop was a stand-out, snaring several passes by Angus Williams, Bob Spetsmacher and Tom Sebring.

Ed Salem, a likely successor to Austin Hairy, was seen by Coach J. D. Riddam, Dutch Avinger and Jack Brown filling the air with footballs at Alabama. Brown looked up by leading several booming punts down the field.

Georgia Tech and Louisiana State University put in a lot of time on kicking and punting. Tech Coach Bobby Dodd wasn't very pleased with the punting of Huber Bykes, Mackey, Muhlner and Buster Humphrey. None of them was getting the ball away fast enough. The frosh gave the Yellow Jacket varsity a rough go of it in scrimmage practice.

Three LSU backs got better results. Quarterback Ken Koss booted the pigskin farther down the field, but fullback Elbert Van Buren and Soph halfback Jimmy Barton weren't doing badly. As a whole, the LSU squad worked on punt formation, protection of the punter and blocking.

The boys took things easy at Kentucky and Mississippi State. The Maroons had to tangle with practice sessions were cut short. The Wildcat varsity brushed aside the frosh in a scrimmage game. The regulars picked up a pair of quick touchdowns, then left it to the second and third stringers. The scrimmage ended rough work before the game with Mississippi Southern Saturday.

The Auburn Tigers took the morning off to re-register, but went through a stiff workout in the afternoon with special attention to pass defense, punt protection and blocking errors.

Georgia's Bulldogs continued against the freshmen, with Al Hodins and George Ford bulging through the frosh line successfully. Left half Ed Marchant went the length of the field on one sprint.

Kickoff returns were under the watchful eye of Coach Bob Neyland at Tennessee. Five separate teams were returning the boots of Soph halfbacks Bert Reichar and Gali Kyker and senior halfback Ronald Hoffmeyer.

Vanderbilt's Jamie Wade will be in the quarterbacking slot when Vandy meets Georgia Sept. 24. Coach Bill Edwards, junking last year's single-wing for his version of the "T", says Jamie has edged out Bill Wade, no relation, for the post.

Foreigners Learning English In 2 Weeks

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—A sort of linguistic miracle is being accomplished here. Young foreign students, with little or no background in English, are achieving a fluency in eight weeks that might take as long as two years elsewhere. This is being accomplished by the University of Michigan's English Language Institute.

There's been as much advance in linguistic science in the last 15-20 years," Dr. Charles C. Fries, director, says, "as there has been in the field of physics and atomic research."

Dr. Fries looks forward now to gram tests on determination of the differences between the foreign language and English. Different sentence structure, different pronunciation of the same letter and different meanings of the same word provide the washing area.

Intense effort is then applied to eliminate "trouble spots." Proof of the system is that a third of the students are ready to hold their own in the English-speaking world after eight weeks. Each has a working vocabulary of about 1,500 words of usable English.

Dr. Fries looks forward now to the 30th institute session this fall. With it is almost sure to come again the student who learns "room and board", then tries to justify "eat our education" for "board of education."

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 12—(AP)—Three Birmingham business men today bought controlling interest in the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association, the News said.

The new purchasers had been negotiating with Baron President U. J. Jebel for about a week for his 50.7 per cent share of the stock.

They had been reported offering $300,000 while Jebel was asking $250,000.

Palatka Defeated Georgia To Play In Playoff Series Furman In Opening By St. Augustine Game On Friday

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 12—(AP)—St. Augustine spotted Palatka three runs in the opening inning here last night and then slammed out a 10 to 2 decision over the Azules in the opening game of the final Florida State League playoff series which drew a crowd of 2,010 fans.

Stan Karplinski, star St. Augustine hurler, who will join the Chicago Cubs after the series is over, failed to survive the first inning. He walked three, gave up an infield safety, hit a batsman and yielded three runs before an Azules reliever, Jim Benes came in and hurried credible ball the rest of the win.

The Saints came to life in the fourth with doubles by Benes and Pete Gasper and singles by George Pichan and Red Pennington sparking a six-run attack off Sanky Burns. St. Augustine belted Burns for four more runs on five hits in the next two innings.

It was a sloppy contest with eight errors being committed off the mound.

The second series contest is slated for Palatka tonight.

Ezzard Charles Comes Back To Georgia

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 12—(AP)—Ezzard Charles came home yesterday to the little north-central Georgia town where his friends remember him as "Snookie."

Lawrence made quite a day of the heavyweight's visit. The negro school was dismissed so the students could see the National Boxing Association's world's heavyweight champion.

Charles sauntered through the town of his birth, chatting with old friends, talking to school kids and visiting Dr. W. P. Ezzard, for whom he was named.

"I'm a prize fighter," Charles told the students. "My name is Ezzard Charles but here in Lawrence I'm Snookie. It wasn't too long ago that I went to school here and I'd like you kids to listen to your parents and teachers and get some of the things life has to offer."

It was Charles' first visit here in 10 years.

He returned to Atlanta where he fought a four-round exhibition bout last night with a sparring partner, Al Smith.

Flowers Play Big Role In Red Sports

AP Newsfeatures
MOSCOW—Flowers can play a pretty part in the Russian appreciation of sports.

Before the big league football games fans—sometimes as many as a couple of dozen—rush out on the field and present their favorite players with huge bouquets of flowers.

These flower-bearers are nearly always young fans—boys and girls in their early teens.

When the season is drawing to a close in the autumn and snow is often falling they still indulge in the presentation of flowers.

At big boxing matches followers of one fighter or another present him with flowers before the beginning of the first round. Some and football players are often photographed before the beginning of activities loaded down with bouquets.

Flowers also are presented before the beginning of an important match—played outdoors—in the depth of winter, and at occasions where they go both to the hard and the lucky, to the trotting race, to the drive, and his steed.

Harvard's football team scored 722 points in 14 games during the 1944 season.

NEW YORK—Sky Miracle ($4.50) captured the Little Neck Handicap at Aqueduct, with Pibroch second and Italian third.

ATLANTIC CITY.—Mom's Choice ($9.40), owned and trained by Carl Hanford and ridden by Brother Ira, won featured dash.

NEW YORK—Rutgers University, at New Brunswick, N. J. was chosen by a committee of grid authorities to become the site of football's hall of fame.

BASEBALL
MONTREAL.—Sam Jethroe, Montreal outfielder, set a new international league record for stolen bases, adding three in a playoff game with Jersey City for third place to make his season total 27. This broke the old record of 27 by Ed Miller of Newark in 1932.

RICHMOND, Va.—Sherrill Smith, former Major League center fielder, died at his home at the age of 54. He pitched for Brooklyn in 1930 World Series.
