

Maine Election Will Be 'Barometer'

(By The Staff, Sept. 2)
By RAYMOND LAMB
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Maine election next Monday will be the most important barometer reading so far this year to judge the political climate in November.

It also will be the last time that Maine will be jumping off to a head start in the congressional elections. Under a change in its constitution, the state will join the rest of the country in future years and vote early in November.

The vote Monday should provide important evidence as to whether this is a Democratic year—at the Democrats believe whether Republican strength is waning—as the GOP hopes. The GOP abandoned its old chant, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," in 1962 when that state was one of but two to give their presidential electoral votes to Alfred M. Landon, the Republican nominee. In percentage terms, however, the Maine vote does reflect national trends.

Democratic Strength
In 1954, the September vote in the once rock-ribbed Republican state forced the Democratic strength revealed in congressional elections in the other 47 states two months later. But it misled Democrats who thought it foreshadowed a Democratic presidential victory.

The GOP in 1956 lost one of three House seats in Maine. It won another by a bare 9 votes and took the state easily, Democratic Gov. Robert S. Minkus was re-elected.

Since Minkus was out he ballot and President Eisenhower was not, his personal popularity presumably drew votes for the Democratic nominee for Congress. The GOP polled 51.4 per cent of the total vote, compared with 55 per cent in 1954 and 65.9 in 1952.

Two months later, Eisenhower polled 70 per cent of the presidential vote in Maine. Nationally, he polled about 57 per cent of the two-party presidential vote while GOP candidates for the House polled only 48.5 per cent. Thus the spread between the presidential vote and the congressional vote was greater in Maine than in the nation as a whole.

TROUBLED WATERS—Icelandic coast guardsmen boarded a British fishing boat on the second day of a "cold war" over Iceland's imposition of a 12-mile limit on foreign fishing vessels. The British Navy said a frigate, on escort duty with the British fishing fleet, was speeding to the rescue of the trawler. This newsmag shows the extension of Iceland's home waters.

Correspondent Tells Of Big Naval Battle

EDITOR'S NOTE: United Press International photographer Norman Williams and UPI correspondent Charles Smith were aboard a Nationalist LST off Quemoy today which was attacked by Communist gunboats as it unloaded troops. Smith made it to Big Quemoy with the troops. Williams was forced to remain aboard. Their two dispatches follow.

By NORMAN WILLIAMS
United Press International
ABOARD A NATIONALIST LST OFF QUEMOY (UPI)—Communist artillery and attacks by Red gunboats broke up an attempt today to reinforce the Nationalist garrison on Big Quemoy.

Some 30 Nationalist soldiers, 8 correspondents and 2 Nationalist navy escort officers managed to get ashore despite the Red attacks but the rest of us returned to the Peacelords.

We zigzagged all the way back because of a submarine alert, but there was no word whether the alert was caused by Soviet submarines or underwater craft supplied to the Chinese Communists. Typhoon Grace, the most powerful Pacific typhoon of the year, churned up the waters of Formosa Strait into huge waves when we approached Big Quemoy, a few miles off the Communist coast.

We were about six miles offshore when the Red artillery began firing at us, probably in the biggest naval battle yet in the Formosa Straits.

There were two British, one Australian, two French, 11 American and 15 Chinese newsmen aboard, on route to Big Quemoy for a look at the war. We got it sooner than we expected.

Despite the rough sea, Nationalist soldiers and some of the correspondents—eight Americans and seven Chinese—managed to board the small boats for the rough trip to the main island.

But just as we started boarding the landing craft two Communist barges loomed and Red artillery opened up. Our landing had started about 12:30 a.m. and the shelling started at 12:40 and lasted until 1:50.

The Communists had the island so well surrounded it was impossible to put more of us ashore.

One Nationalist patrol craft in our convoy was hit by a torpedo. A minesweeper took it in tow to the Peacelords. I saw a number of injured men on the crippled patrol craft.

Our LST was not hit, but many shells exploded nearby causing thunderous vibrations throughout the vessel before it was ordered back to the Peacelords under the escort of one Nationalist patrol craft.

Bank Might Name Smith As Director

ATLANTA (UPI)—Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta announced today that McGregor Smith, Miami, probably will succeed Joseph T. Lyles, Tampa, as a member of the board of directors of the bank.

Wallace M. Davis, of New Orleans, chairman of a committee to recommend a successor, said Smith, chairman of the Board of the Florida Power and Light Co., had been recommended. Smith is a director of the Jacksonville branch of the Federal Reserve.

COLLEGE STAR SIGNED
BOSTON (UPI)—Second baseman Ted Schreiber of Brooklyn, N. Y., a sophomore at St. John's University, has signed with the Boston Red Sox organization and will be assigned to a Trips A farm club.

The South Texas county of Kennedy does not have a single incorporated town in it. The county seat is Sarita, a ranch settlement.

Authorities Hope Information Pool To Cut Accidents

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Military and civilian aviation authorities announced today a plan to reduce air accidents by pooling radar information.

The joint announcement by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Air Defense Command said the pooling arrangement would start this fall. One official said it might get under way as early as the last week of September.

Key of the program is installation of 31 high-powered and long-range radar sites to be operated by the CAA and ADE. Microwave delays will permit a detailed and constant exchange of information between the radar installations manned by the two agencies.

The new radars will have an effective range of up to 125 miles, a CAA spokesman said, compared to the maximum of 75 miles for CAA equipment now in use.

With the new facilities and exchange service, traffic controllers hope to do a better job of maintaining minimum separations of planes. Pilots who have drifted off their prescribed courses could be spotted and notified quickly.

ADE radar information will be made available to air traffic control centers in Kansas City, Spokane, Wash., Great Falls, Mont., Jacksonville, Fla., Oakland, Calif., Los Angeles, Washington, New Orleans, Fort Worth, Memphis and Seattle.

Transmitting radar data to military installations including some Army and National Guard units, will be the traffic control centers in Denver, Boston, Pittsburgh, Seattle, Atlanta, Miami, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Houston and Nashville.

Fatal Auto Accident Tragic Thing; Driver Should Exercise More Care

Sanford and Seminole County had a quiet Labor Day holiday. The city and county reported only minor accidents from 6 p. m. Friday until 6 a. m. Tuesday, the official holiday period.

Less than 24 hours after achieving this enviable record, a shattering crash took the lives of three persons. Three others were hurt in the accident involving two cars at French Avenue and First Street.

As always, it was a tragic thing. This accident was a greater tragedy because it could have been prevented. One moment, six people were alive and happy. In a very short time, three were dead and the other three admitted to hospitals.

All World News Not Dark

In these days of heavy propaganda bombardment, it is easy to get a picture of the uncommitted world flocking to Communist Russian and Chinese banners. But when an occasional news story gives us a view of the fundamental feelings of people in these nations we should pay close attention.

A conference was held recently in Jakarta at which representatives of the Islamic, Christian, Buddhist and Hindu-Balinese religions assembled to try to reinvigorate the mystical and spiritual side of Indonesian life. President Sukarno, in an address to this congress, said that the belief in "the one and only true God" was the only genuine path to nationhood for Indonesia. If Sukarno expressed an honest conviction, there may not be all the room one might have thought for the Communist dogma in that sixth most populous country in the world.

Certainly it is true that the Communist party represents an ominous factor in Indonesian politics. But if congresses of this type can be held and be supported by the chief of state it could be evidence of a strong spiritual undergirding that will not easily fall to the wiles of an atheistic Communism. One swallow doesn't make a summer, but a little more optimism about our own cause of freedom might not be amiss.

The word Texas, or Texas, is derived from the Spanish pronunciation of a Caddo Indian word meaning "friends."

The White House was designed by James Hoban, an Irish-born architect, in a competition that paid $500.

Farmers enjoyed a 22 per cent rise in income during the first half of 1958, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce reports.

THEY'RE WORRYING
 "When children are so busy with their school work, they don't have time to worry about their own health."

IT'S STILL SPELLED WITH A 'YOU'

A coroner's jury will investigate the accident. Officers already have made an investigation. These investigations are necessary to determine just what happened. The facts gleaned from such investigations should serve a more useful purpose, however.

The data made public by such officials should serve as a deterrent to future accidents. But no matter how "gory" accident reports become, motorists insist on killing themselves and others.

Statistics such as those released Tuesday should make an impression on drivers. Sixteen persons died in automobile accidents in Florida during the Labor Day holiday. More than 400 were killed on the nation's roads. These people died despite a pre-holiday warning that this number would die. The number of dead in the state exceeded the estimate by three.

It would seem that a driver, warned that he might never live to return to his home, would exercise more care. It would appear that a man would care more about his family and friends. Apparently, however, a driver leaves home with the feeling that "it couldn't happen to me." If the average man would admit to the possibility that he might die on the road, he might exercise a little more caution.

Surveys have revealed that there is no such thing as a "poor" driver. Each person believes himself, or herself, the best on the road. But even the careful driver can become a victim. It is time that people realized that an automobile is dangerous.

Few Teachers In Congress

A state university history teacher, Prof. Dale McGee, has been nominated for senator by Wyoming Democrats. It is worth noting that if elected he will have at least a few colleagues with a professional background, including Mike Mansfield of Montana, Paul H. Douglas of Illinois and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

All the same, the more striking fact is that down through the years so few teachers have been sent to Congress. Once it was popular to gibe at professors as absent-minded and impractical. This notion is refuted by the many corporations which have found former professors to be among their most valuable employees. And it will be remembered that one of our outstanding presidents, Woodrow Wilson, for years taught history at Princeton University.

Europeans often express surprise at the heavy proportion of lawyers in Congress and state legislatures. They feel, probably with some justification, that our legislative bodies would be improved if more of their members were drawn from the ranks of business, labor and the other professions.

Pretty Girls Bring Airman To Earth

By CLAIRE COX
 United Press International
 ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—Two of the prettiest girls in the Miss America contest brought a handsome young airman down to earth with a jolt today.

They let it be known that he has been living in a sort of captain's paradise by courting them both right under the noses of their Air Force officer father.

Sandra Lee Jennings, 18, Miss California, and Joanne Lucille MacDonald, 20, Miss Iowa, said they really have quite a bit in common, including the fact that they both still like the guy.

Not only does Sandy have Air Cadet E. D. Hopkins' Air Academy class pin and Joanne his identity bracelet, but—

Both of the girls are shapely. MEN vs. WOMEN LONDON—(UPI)—"Nazging wives and crotchety mother-in-law" have drawn the ire of a British psychiatrist in coming to the defense of males. Dr. Desmond Curran told a medical congress recently that such women can cause a man to fall apart faster than an unpleasant job—or almost anything else.

green-eyed brunettes, with almost identical measurements.

As for Hopkins, a student at the new academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., he was surprised. Sandy, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. A. M. Jennings of Riverside, Calif., and Jo, daughter of Col. and Mrs. G. C. MacDonald, now living at Kelln Air Force Base, Fla., discovered their mutual romance during a casual conversation Sunday night.

The girls were sitting around a New York television studio waiting to appear on the Ed Sullivan show. Jo knew Sandy was from an Air Force family and sought her out. They began talking about Air Force friends, and the first thing they knew, out came the name of tall, dark and handsome Hopkins.

It did not take them long to analyze the situation, and within a few minutes, they were on the long distance telephone, talking to Hopkins.

"I asked him, 'Did you think Sandra and I would ever meet each other?'" Joanne said. "He said 'I knew it was inevitable.'" "I probably won't see him again."

Jo's father, and Air Force engineer, reached at his home in Shalimar, Fla., thought the whole incident was very funny.

"Joanne said she and Miss California got to talking and decided they had dated the same boy," he said. "So just to have some fun, they called Ted long distance at the Air Academy and let Joanne talk while the other girl listened. They just made him squirm a little."

Sandy's father, a Strategic Air Command officer, was not available for comment.

Neither was Hopkins.

Herlong For Pepper

Similar Viewpoints Cited as Cause

One of the questions that is being asked with more and more frequency in this district is why, with the democratic primary fast going hot and heavy, does Representative Byrd Herlong continue to deny that he is a supporter of Claude Pepper? Certainly the former senator would welcome some support in this primary, and an open endorsement from Mr. Herlong would be a great help in the fifth district.

These two men see eye to eye about such important things as foreign aid, federal aid to education, and Point Four programs in the tradition of the New Deal and Fair Deal. They differ slightly about spending money for government projects in the U. S., but if the applicant for a billion-dollar handout speaks English, the race is on.

It may be, of course, that Mr. Herlong's powerful but silent backers feel that any involvement in this primary fight might be detrimental to Herlong himself in the forthcoming general election. These backers may have advised or even commanded Herlong to stay out of the primary in order not to commit himself to any specific platform. If this is the strategy it may well backfire, particularly since more and more of the Pepper supporters are asking where is the expected support from Mr. Herlong, and it is possible that he does not, after all, intend to openly endorse Pepper.

Notting Hill Is Nervous; Race Riots Not Amusing

By CHARLES W. HEDLEY
 United Press International
 LONDON (UPI)—A haze of fog hangs around yellow street lamps and the lights shine dimly on the peeling yellow walls of the tenements in London's Notting Hill district.

White and Negro residents cluster in front of the building on the stairs leading up from the pavement, looking nervously down the street for new outbreaks of trouble.

This is Notting Hill, a Harlem-type area where recent race riots have eroded demands for a legalized color bar in Britain. Tuesday night Notting Hill was quiet but tense under the eyes of 1,000 police.

Race Riots Are New
 Race riots are a new phenomenon in Britain which looks down its nose at the integration issue in the United States.

The British riots started in Nottingham, a war-shattered city 100 miles north of London which is noted for its pretty and sporty girls.

As far as anybody can see after an evening in the trouble center, the provocations come from both sides.

The rioters seem to see themselves as heroes in a cheap gangster movie. Their entertainment costs nothing.

Tuesday night was quiet, in sharp contrast to the previous three nights in the Notting Hill area around Blenheim Crescent.

It began to look like a dull night. The pubs closed, and the streets emptied.

Trouble Flares
 But soon troublemaking youths drove up in cars from other parts of London. A truck unloaded six armed with clubs. A boy not more than 15 stood in the road in a leather jacket, flaunting his club.

Negroes emerged from the tenements. Many live six to a room. With them were white girls wearing bright clothes, light-fitting sweaters and dyed blonde hair.

Suddenly a bottle of flaming gasoline arched across the roadway from a hidden alleyway and crashed in the middle of the Negro group.

The flames roared up the paintwork of a liquor store next door to the club. The Negroes scattered

Westside P. T. A. Officers, Teachers Have Meeting

The Westside P. T. A. executive board and teachers held a "get-acquainted" meeting Monday morning in the school lunch room. Mrs. Bill Hardin, president, presided.

During the coffee meeting, plans were made for the coming year. The calendar of meetings was tentatively set as the first Tuesday of October, November, February, and April.

Activities for September will include a "get acquainted" tea at which time the parents will have an opportunity to meet the teachers and new P. T. A. officers.

Mrs. Jesse Carter, vice-president and Budget and Finance chairman, announced that the Halloween Carnival will be held on Thursday October 30. Final plans will be announced later.

Mrs. Hardin announced that there is a P. T. A. bookshelf in the public library with materials available to all P. T. A.'s. Materials for programs, fund-raising, and specific committee activities are available and may be checked out of the library.

An interesting questionnaire is being made up and will be sent home soon after school starts to help in choosing room parents, committee workers, and carnival helpers. The executive committee hopes that more people will be given an opportunity to take part in Westside activities due to this questionnaire.

It was voted to purchase an attendance banner to give to the meetings with the best parent attendance at the P-TA meetings. The banner will be kept in the winning room between P-TA meetings and re-presented at each of the meetings during the year.

The bond issue was discussed and Mrs. Elizabeth Sharon, principal, distributed pertinent material to those present. Mrs. Jim Buckler, bond issue chairman, will have copies available.

Present at the meeting were: teachers, Mrs. Sharon, Mrs. J. C. Hampton, Mrs. Irene Watt, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Walter Holmes, Mrs. Cordie Chapman; lunchroom personnel, Emma Lee, Mrs. R. D. Dekler; P-TA board members, Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Soderblom, Mrs. Geneva Brantley; and school secretary, Mrs. Carl Prescott.

Fall Fashion Features In Review

Fall fashions are really worth exclaiming over this year. A new look, a new style in fabrics and new colors, all feature this season's fashion.

Like them or not, the controversial chemise and trapeze fashions have set the style pattern for the fall of 1936.

Slightly curved waistlines, high waists, waistless styles and belts located somewhere between the waist and bust line are all part of that "relaxed look".

Real news! Yes, it's the over-shortened hemline that is "wending" its way back into the fashion world. Short skirts, just covering the knees, are a must for the balanced look of the new silhouette.

Bulky, furry, exciting — these are the words to describe this fall's fabrics. Fall fabrics with surface interest such as brushed, looped, hairy, nubby, and tweedy textures lend themselves best to this silhouette.

Color-wise, we will see coppery oranges, burnished golds, purplish reds, yellowed greens, and greenish blues. Black, charcoal, and blackish brown take care of the always-needed neutrals. Fawn and rich walnut are brown shades noted in the color picture.

COAT LINES
For coats this fall we are likely to see three silhouettes stand out in importance. The draped or oval-back designed for women of all ages is a comfortable version, being one of fullness from a high yolk or from just below the collar.

Chill exiles in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. They will burn evenly and will not drip.

When barbecuing chicken, first place it on the grill with the skin side up. Allow the underneath side to cook a few minutes before turning.

Roses last longer if cut in the late afternoon, just as the petals start to unfold.

To crack a coconut easily, pierce it in a slow oven (325 degrees) for about 30 minutes or until it is warm. It will open with a slight blow.

The brine from a jar of sweet pickles makes a good substitute for vinegar in potato salad.

Spahn Wins 18th Of Season

By FRED DOWN
United Press International
Warren Spahn, closing in rapidly on that record ninth 20-victory season, moved up still another notch today on the list of all-time great southpaws.

The 37-year-old Spahn scored his 18th win of the season and the 20th of his career Wednesday night when the Milwaukee Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies.

Spahn, who has won 18 of his 20 starts, pitched a nine-inning, one-run effort to lead the Braves to a 3-1 victory over the Phillies. He struck out seven batters and walked only one.

Spahn was far from his best Wednesday night as he gave up 10 hits and six walks but he yielded only one run until the Braves scored six runs in the eighth and gave in the ninth to give him an 11-1 spread. The Phillies' last four runs, which only prolonged their agony, came on Rip Repulski's grand slam in the ninth.

Joe Adcock ended Seth Morehead's shutout bid and gave the Braves a 3-1 lead when he homered in the eighth after a walk and Hank Aaron's single. The Braves added three unearned runs off Jim Hearn in that inning and they scored five more, three unearned, in the ninth. In all, the lumbering Phillies made five errors to make six Milwaukee runs unearned.

The Los Angeles Dodgers dealt the San Francisco Giants another staggering blow when they beat them, 6-5, on Duke Snider's ninth-inning homer, the Cincinnati Reds scored three runs in the seventh inning to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-1, and the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Chicago Cubs, in 12 innings in other National League activity.

In the American League, the New York Yankees maintained their 12-game lead with an 8-5 win over the Boston Red Sox, the Chicago White Sox nipped the Detroit Tigers, 1-0, the Kansas City Athletics downed the Cleveland Indians, 6-2, and the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Washington Senators, 4-3.

Player Of The Day

United Press International
—DICK DONOVAN—
Dick Donovan, the Chicago White Sox's 6-3, 205-pound right-hander, is proving elms really does pay off in the end.

Donovan, rated one of the top pitchers in the American League, got off to a disastrous start this season and at one time had a 3-10 record. But he's won nine of his last 11 decisions to square his season record at 12-12 and Wednesday night turned in one of the top efforts of the year.

Donovan, 36, of Quincy, Mass., pitched a five-inning, one-run effort to top the Detroit Tigers, 1-0. He blanked the same team on three hits last Saturday.

Donovan started out with the Milwaukee Braves' club in 1947 but was acquired by the White Sox from Atlanta in 1953. He led the American League pitchers in percentage with .777 (16-6) last season and also tied for the most complete games.

Anthony Defeats Archie McBride

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—
Tough Tony Anthony today admitted there's a big difference between the light-heavyweight and heavyweight ranks but figured with a few more pounds he could find his way in the unlimited class.

The 23-year-old New Yorker had his streak of four straight knockouts end Wednesday night as he took a split decision over Archie McBride, 29, a Trenton, N. J., heavyweight.

Anthony's first venture with the big brawlers convinced him he'll need more weight and more work before he's ready to mingle with the headliners of the heavyweight ranks, although he twice floored his heavier opponent, Anthony figured 117 to 181 for McBride.

The only diamond mine in North America is located near Murphree-shoot in Southwest Arkansas.

But attorneys for the NAACP argued that the committee can't invade the secrecy of the organization unless it has concrete proof in advance of some subversive or illegal act.

Robert L. Carter, New York attorney for the NAACP, charged the investigation was a smear aimed at maintaining racial segregation in Florida. He said the group was trying to give the NAACP a bad name by making it appear the organization is "riddled with Communists."

development. Chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy said circumstances of the loan and methods used to safeguard the union money would be scrutinized.

The loan was made from the Central Conference of Teachers Welfare Fund to Detroit promoters Alvin Green and Jack Winhall in 1966. Kennedy said Green and Detroit attorney George F. Fitzgerald would be among witnesses during the half-day session.

Fitzgerald was an attorney for Teachers president James R. Hoffa, who was back in the committee's spotlight now that the committee has ended its investigation of Teachers vice president Harold J. Gibbons and his St. Louis locale.

The committee wound up a weary day-and-a-half of questioning Gibbons. Hoffa's right hand man without leaving the St. Louis unionist's salaried, he runs a peace-loving, democratic and clean union.

Gibbons went so far as to agree Kennedy had made a "good case" for the argument he had violated the union constitution in a Teachers election last January.

But Gibbons said he would not be willing to give up the presidency of Teachers Joint Council 13, embracing all St. Louis activities of the union, because it was a violation if it was an honest mistake in interpreting the constitution.

He offered, however, to stake his presidency on a new election.

Ex-Speaker Wins GOP Nomination

BOSTON (UPI)—Charles F. Gibson, former speaker of the Massachusetts House, Tuesday night won Republican State Committee endorsement for the gubernatorial nomination to replace Atty. Gen. George Filmer, who died of a heart attack Sunday.

The committee took three ballots to pick Gibson over five other candidates at an extraordinary session.

The action clears the way for a November battle with Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo. Opponent to Gibson in the GOP primary next week was considered an likely.

Students 'Cheated'

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UPI)—The Mount Vernon Chamber of Commerce stole a march on apple polishing students Tuesday.

When school opened the teachers found a pungent odor in the classroom emanating from the C. C. reading "Welcome to Mount Vernon" and "We Hope You Have a Pleasant Year."

The Trustees canceled the lease Tuesday even after 11 families on the lake charged that "so-called spotlights are spoiling the lake."

Gov. LeRoy Collins said Bohm and the families living on the lake have a problem "because of hoodlums" and said the county will be asked to help curb the wild parties. He added, however, that he is certain all the people using the lake are not hoodlums.

Volusia Man Loses Lake Ashby Lease

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund have canceled a 10-year lease they agreed to give Gerald P. Bohm on a small beach on Lake Ashby in Volusia County.

The Volusia County Commission had filed an objection to the lease after the state agreed to it last May 12. The commissioners protested to the move because the small beach and an old trail through Bohm's property was one of the few public access roads to the lake.

Bohm, who owns the land adjoining the small beach, said he wanted to lease it so he could fence off all his land to keep off trespassers.

The Trustees canceled the lease Tuesday even after 11 families on the lake charged that "so-called spotlights are spoiling the lake."

Gov. LeRoy Collins said Bohm and the families living on the lake have a problem "because of hoodlums" and said the county will be asked to help curb the wild parties. He added, however, that he is certain all the people using the lake are not hoodlums.

Red Charge Snarls Atom Conference

By BARRE GARWOOD
United Press International
GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI)—The U. S. delegation denied today a Russian charge it had injected "politics" into the atomic force-peace conference here by advertising peaceful use of nuclear explosions.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, a member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and chief American spokesman, said, "We are here to discuss peaceful uses only. We want to keep politics out of it."

But, Libby emphasized, the United States is determined to put H-bomb explosions to work in creating harbors and canals, unloading oil and mineral reserves and generating underground steam.

The "politics" charge was made Wednesday by Dr. V. S. Emelyanov, head of the Soviet delegation. "I personally believe nuclear explosions of any kind whatsoever do not reach practical ends but only political ones," Emelyanov said.

He charged those who espouse heading nuclear weapons tests "are unable to justify their case" and are turning toward peaceful explosions in order to "continue the experiments."

Soviet scientist I. E. Tamm proposed Wednesday the United States, Britain and Russia pool programs designed to harness the H-bomb fusion process for peacetime civilian power.

Dr. P. R. Bell, of Oak Ridge, Tenn., predicted the United States will achieve a controlled hydrogen fusion "fire" (a miniature sun) in about two years. Bell stressed that did not mean immediate fusion power but would be the historical equivalent of the first fission chain achieved by the late Enrico Fermi in uranium in 1942.
