END OF CAPONE CAREER SEEN IN GUILTY PLEA

Czar Of Gangland Admits His Guilt To Indictments Brought By U.S. Government

CHICAGO, June 17.—(AP)—Alphonse Capone, scar-faced czar of Chicago's gangs, pleaded guilty to three federal indictments yesterday, surrendering in a three-minute federal court hearing to a mass of evidence and a striking record of prosecutions.

Two indictments charging him with evading income taxes, and another naming him and 68 others on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws on 8000 counts were read in Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson's court.

After each indictment the burly gangster meekly said "Guilty." On a defense motion, the court deferred sentence until June 30.

Fifteen minutes after he had entered the federal court building, Capone was gone, escorted through the crowds by a squad of police, a monarch stripped of his rank, still the object of almost unparalleled curiosity.

And immediately George E. Q. Johnson, district attorney, who is credited with much of the success of the campaign against Capone, telephoned the news to Attorney General Mitchell at Washington.

Thousands jammed the streets outside the federal building, rushed from one entrance to another in hopes of catching a glimpse of Capone, and tried to "crash" the closely guarded doors of the courtroom.

In throwing himself on the mercy of the court, Capone became subject to a possible 30 years imprisonment and a $50,000 fine. Maximum sentence on the (Continued on page four)

New York police are seeking to learn the cause of the death of Starr Faithfull, above, 25-year-old daughter of a wealthy family, whose body was found in the waters of the ocean at Long Beach, Long Island.

U. S. TO CONDUCT FURTHER DRIVES UPON GANGSTERS

Will Carry Activities To Other Cities After Work In Chicago

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The surrender of Al Capone in his plea of guilty to violating the income tax and prohibition laws, brought definite encouragement yesterday to federal officials in their widening drive against gangster activities.

It was made clear almost immediately through authoritative channels that New York will be the next major objective of the combined federal forces.

Agents of the department of justice already are at work in that city. It was said, while official source that an augmented force of internal revenue agents will join them in an effort to obtain results similar to those in Chicago.

Anti-gangster warfare also will be carried into other major cities, among them Detroit, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland, but officials were reticent regarding these moves, contending that results would be small if they announced their actions with a "brass band."

Word that Chicago's "public enemy No. 1" had surrendered to the law without an effort to fight the charges in court was received enthusiastically by officials here as an indication of the strength of their case. Prohibition Director Woodcock said: "That's fine! That certainly is fine!"

Wires to Chicago were kept open in the department of justice, and officials there knew of Capone's surrender at once. Assistant Attorney General Youngquist, in charge of prohibition, who has helped direct the long investigation from his desk here, clearly was pleased by the success of the government's drive but would not comment publicly upon it.

The apparent consensus among officials, all of whom asked that they not be quoted directly, was (Continued on Page Four)

POLICE SEARCH FOR 2 FRIENDS OF DEAD GIRL

Mystery Of Death Of Starr Faithfull Is Said To Be Nearing Its Closing Stages

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Along a half hundred new trails the state yesterday pursued closer to the mysterious death a week ago of Starr Faithfull, beautiful young Greenwich Village girl. At Mineola, her mother, a step and step-father were questioned lengthily again for initials facts of her troubled life.

Prosecutor Elvin Edwards, adhering to his belief the 25-year-old beauty was murdered, pressed his search for two men with whom Starr told her mother she spent a part of the day before her disappearance.

Edwards described the men as Jack Greenway and Bruce Winston. "These men," he declared, "are highly important. If we can find them and learn where Starr Faithfull was the day before she disappeared, we'll have the mystery solved, I believe."

He emphasized they were sought merely for questioning and were not suspected of any connection with her death. Starr had said she was with them in the apartment of Harry Stomer, an artist. Stomer said they had not been there.

A statement was issued in Boston by Alexander Whitehead, an attorney, in behalf of former Mayor Andrew J. Peters, of the Massachusetts city, declaring that Peters had no evidence to give in the inquiry into Starr Faithfull's death.

The district attorney scrutinized carefully the report of Mr. Alexander G. Gettler of Bellevue Hospital, noted toxicologist, who has been a witness in many murder trials.

The prosecutor said he attached great importance to the finding that the girl was under the influence of a sleeping potion when she met death by drowning in the surf at Long Beach. Edwards indicated, he said, in try to find where the girl got the drug. In line with this, detectives combed Long Beach yesterday for the source. Every drug store in the resort was visited.

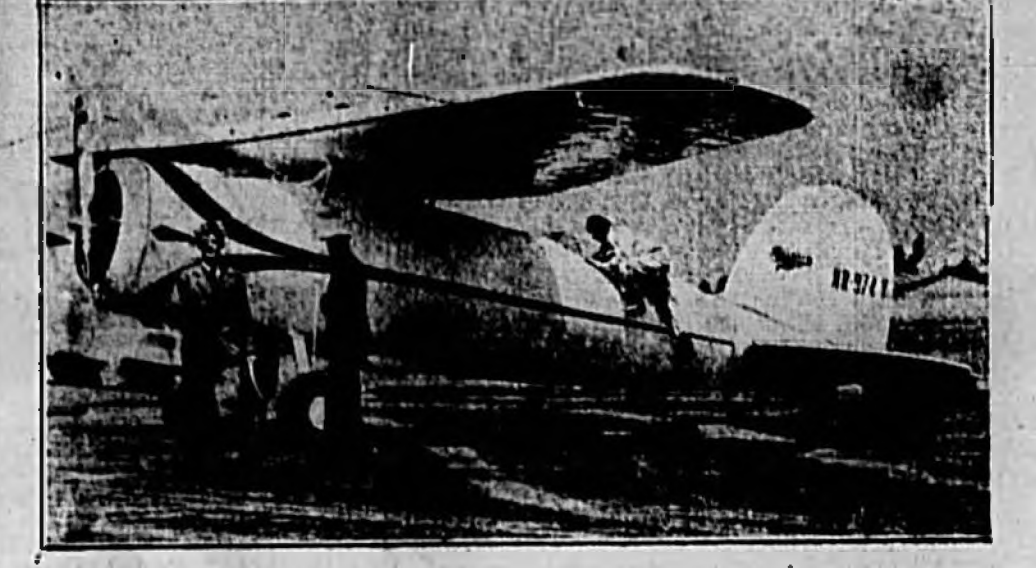

Stanley E. Faithfull, the girl's stepfather, yesterday reiterated his belief Starr was murdered. When asked if he had any idea who killed her, he said: "Absolutely none."

Tucker Faithfull yesterday was quoted by Edwards as saying after long questioning: "I'm not sorry Starr's dead. She's happier. Everyone is happier."

Edwards said Tucker described Starr as "completely dominating the Faithfull family, even in deciding where they should live." Inspector King said he was not convinced that Starr was murdered.

He said he believed that, even in a stupor from narcotic, she might have been able to walk to the beach and drown herself.

'OHIO GANG' HAS LED ROUGH ROAD SINCE ITS HEYDAY

Death, Jail, And Ignominy Have Pursued Harding Betrayers

WASHINGTON, June 17.—What became of the famous "Ohio gang" that rode into Washington on the heels of Warren G. Harding to mar his administration with corruption and scandal, is a question that is being asked today following the dedication of the Harding memorial at Marion, Ohio yesterday.

Retirement, resignation, death and the penitentiary have crossed its members from public life.

It was the "Ohio gang" that put Harding in the presidency with one of the greatest majorities in the nation's history—the Republican landslide of 1920. It was this "Ohio gang" plus later acquisitions of the same stripe, that made a president the victim of misplaced confidence in faithless friends and brought on the great oil scandal, the Veterans Bureau scandal and the sensational Senate investigation of the Department of Justice.

The story both begins and ends at Marion, O. It was there that the gang forgot their original Harding's "front porch campaign" in put over his election. It is there that President Hoover now, after three years of delay, is dedicated for posterity the stately white memorial whose President and Mrs. Harding are buried.

What of the "Ohio gang" now and what are they doing today?

Henry M. Daugherty, who was Harding's attorney general and was later tried in a conspiracy case involving a bribe of $44,000 in which Colonel Thomas W. Miller, former aide properly exiled, Daugherty acquitted, is living quietly in Columbus. Miller served 18 months at Alcatraz.

It was Daugherty, Harding's political mentor for years, who is credited with having put over Harding's nomination at Chicago in 1920 by secretly rounding up second-choice votes with which he made a surprising success of a seemingly forlorn hope.

His banker-brother, Mal S. Daugherty, who turned the books showing Daugherty's deposits and thereby balked a Senate investigating committee, today is under sentence of 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary and a $5000 fine in connection with the recent troubles of his defunct Ohio State bank at Washington Court House, O. He has appealed.

Colonel Charles B. Forbes, first director of the Veterans Bureau and another friend of Harding during his days at Marion, was released from Leavenworth penitentiary in 1927, after serving two years for grafting on a huge scale in hospital contracts. According to men who investigated for the Senate, during the two years Forbes was in charge of this bureau that expended approximately a half billion dollars a year, 25 per cent of this—$225,000,000—was graft or waste. Until just a few weeks ago he was operating a gambling station near Los Angeles.

John E. Hill, the small-town Ohio banker who had a desk and confidential duties at the department of justice and was accused during the Senate investigation of handling huge sums in graft for liquor permits, paroles and pardons, is dead—a suicide. He shot himself through the head on May (Continued on Page Four)

HOUSE RENEWS BATTLE OVER GAS TAX BILL

Also Asks Treasurer For Detailed Information Regarding State Investments

TALLAHASSEE, June 17.—(AP)—The House today renewed its battle over gasoline tax revenue distribution and called upon the state treasurer for detailed information on the investment of state funds.

The fight centered around plans—one adopted by the Senate and sponsored by the governor and the other the compromise measure passed by the House after a deadlock of the regular session on the same question was broken.

Shifting forces brought a new alignment of representatives in discussion today with the large county bloc that fought over distribution in the regular session dispersed. No action was taken on the distribution plan although the administration proposal was denounced as being probably unconstitutional by three representatives who favored the House compromise plan.

The Senate had a quiet morning and asked Treasurer Knott to supply information on the amount of the state's reported $4,600,000 treasury balance invested in bonds and of the market value of the securities now.

Governor Carlton yesterday cautioned the House to "brave yourselves" for an added tax on (Continued On Page Four)

TALLAHASSEE, June 16.—The House was busy all the morning Tuesday hearing the report from the Governor regarding the State's financial condition. Then by questioning from the members, several of the cabinet members brought out further facts relating to the situation. Many of the questions were friendly, but some were not. Mr. Knott, who was under fire most of the time, is well posted on the State's condition, and had the figures on the end of his tongue, and stated in reply to a statement by Mr. Robinson, that it was awfully hard to embarras him, which it was.

The discussion revealed that the State is "in the red," so to speak, some $1,250,000, which is $100,000 less than it was on Jan. 8, 1929, when the present administration took office. The further fact was revealed that although there has been a large decrease in the value of the securities owned by the Public Free School Fund, which amounted to some $4,000,000 about three years ago, the present value is not nearly so low, as all of the money is invested in county, district and city bonds of Florida municipalities among them $50,000 in City of Sanford bonds. It has been estimated that the fund is probably not worth more than $1,000,000 today, BUT I believe that eventually it will be back at its former value. Here's the most in the account, though, ONLY $178,000 of the $1,000,000 was invested in the present administration, and on this amount, only $2,200 in interest is in arrears, and no principal is in arrears. It is a sad state of affairs for the School Fund, and there is little consolation in the fact that it is directly the fault of others than those who are in charge of our State now.

The above figures on indebtedness do not include about $1,000,000 which has been transferred from one fund to another, as that money is all the property of the State to be used in any way that the officials and Legislature may see fit. The only fund that has been transferred that has to be paid back is the $100,000 borrowed from the School Fund. This will be paid in due time, with regular interest.

However, it is necessary to raise $1,250,000 more money than is needed to run the State during the next two years, to retire this indebtedness.

We are well on the way to adopt the gasoline distribution plan offered by the Governor, and already passed by the Senate. This will give us in Seminole County about $7,000 more than the Compromised Plan, and is about $4,000 more than we received last year.

Even if it did not, I would be willing to agree to it, in order to get the matter out of the way so the can go ahead with the appropriation bill and get it passed, and ADJOURN BINE DIE.

The House Committee was busy Tuesday afternoon considering the whole state bill. Many independent merchants want the bill passed, but I do not believe that they realize that there is in the bill a 2% license tax on their stock of goods. If this is reduced to about 1%, it may pass. I believe the committee will take some such action.

Many members of the House seem to take a great deal of pleasure in delaying action on many of the important bills. This was brought out forcibly by me on Tuesday, when Mr. Caldwell, of Santa Rosa county, attempted to postpone action on the bill. I charged them on the spot that I thought as chairman of the rules committee had been appointed to bring to the present session, and that if he kept them from doing so, he would be a disgrace to the State. He denied this.

Nation's Railroads Seek 15 Per Cent Increase In Rates

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The railroads of the country today presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition for a 15 percent increase in freight rates as a means of meeting the emergency caused by a drastic decline in operating revenues.

Last Thursday executives of eastern, western, and southern roads, meeting in New York, decided to request a blanket increase designed to yield annually $400,000,000 in additional gross income.

As evidence of their desire for assistance without undue delay the carriers recommended that the commission's investigation of their application be of "limited character" for the purpose of determining whether new schedules should be allowed to become effective without the 90-day suspension usually ordered when rate revisions are made.

Jury Finds Mrs. Purdon Guilty After Deliberating Less Than Half Hour

The case of Mrs. Annie B. Purdon, Lake Monroe woman who was on trial for the second time this term on a charge of having purchased property she knew to have been stolen, came to an end late yesterday afternoon when a jury found her guilty.

A jury of six, after having heard the testimony of seven witnesses since Monday afternoon, returned a verdict of guilty less than half an hour after it was given the case.

The jury was composed of A. L. Bells, A. VanNess, J. M. Hunsinger, Paul Lucas, F. S. Verney Jr., and A. K. Rooster.

Millard B. Smith, Titusville, an attorney produced as witness, Sheriff J. F. McClelland, Alex Mitchell, and Joe McChes, while S. A. B. Wilkinson, counsel for Mrs. Purdon, produced Mrs. Purdon, and Annie B. Purdon, and Mrs. Purdon's sister, Mrs. Walter Jackson, as witnesses.

When that case had been disposed of, Circuit Judge Walker W. Wright temporarily recessed his spring term until next Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock when the first of four civil cases will be tried. On that day he will also pass sentence upon Mrs. Purdon.

Before leaving for his Titusville home yesterday, Mr. Smith stated that all indictments which went untried, were continued for the term. Two indictments still remain against Mrs. Purdon, while several may be tried against the Heckstrom brothers, who were sentenced to Raiford after pleading guilty to one indictment charged breaking and entering.

The following civil cases will be heard, beginning next Thursday: Mae F. Albis versus John M. Kelley, damages involving the removal of trees from the Albis property; Lyman M. Beckes versus Forrest Lake, damages involving a survey bond; E. W. Adams versus Tom Smith, damages involving a note of Mr. Smith's; and Flora H. Spurling versus O. J. Pope, involving the death of Mr. Spurling in an automobile accident in which the Spurling automobile and an automobile driven by M. Pope's daughter, were involved.

Bandits Enter Home And Seize $150,000

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Three robbers today forced their way into the home of Stanswood Menken, former chairman of the National Security League, bound two maids, forced Mrs. Menken to open a vault containing $150,000 in jewelry and escaped.

When one of the maids answered the door bell, the men drew revolvers, forced her into the house and bound her with beads and draperies. Ascending to the second floor the men met another maid who was bound before she could make an outcry. Entering Mrs. Menken's room the bandits forced her to the basement where they forced her to open the vault. When they had taken all the gems they found her and fled.

TWO WIDOWS HANGED

BUDAPEST, June 17.—(AP)—Two self-same widows were hanged today for the murder of their husbands in the first double execution of women in Hungary.

The condemned were Frau Ludmila Szabo and Frau Bilint Cordas convicted of poisoning their husbands. People came from miles around to witness the execution.

Everglades Section Menaced By Drought

WEST PALM BEACH, June 17.—(AP)—One death was attributed by authorities today to the drought in sections of the Upper Everglades. Deputy J. H. Lawrence reported the water on a narrow strip between Belle Glade and South Bay that white people are buying drinking water in bottles while negroes are digging holes to get meagre supplies.

H. Ruffin, aged negro, went to one water hole and fell in head first. The hole was so narrow he couldn't get out. His body was found yesterday. Lawrence reported some drainage canals very low and between the Herworth and Gladview farms he saw hundreds of fish dying.

POLITICAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND ENDS AMID LAUGHTER

Labor Government Is Again Victor In Fray With Conservatives

LONDON, June 17.—(AP)—The mother of parliaments yesterday uproariously laughed off the political crisis that had threatened to overthrow the Labor government.

With the House of Commons all set for a debate and a critical vote late last night, the presiding officer ruled the whole show out of order.

Days and nights of anxious negotiations, conducted under the threat of a general election, terminated in an anti-climax. For a moment, parliament was dissolved. Then David Lloyd George started chaffing.

Ramsay MacDonald, grave chief of the ruling Laborites, joined in laughter, plying to the opposition Conservative benches which had hoped for a definite break up of the Liberal and Labor alliance and saw the whole chamber was laughing with laughter over the chaos of Great Britain's latest political crisis.

A Liberal amendment to Chancellor Philip Snowden's land tax proposals was declared out of order on a technical point of procedure. The amendment altered the basis of assessment for the proposed land tax but the House of the finance bill which it sought to amend dealt not with the basis of assessment but with the question of relief from the tax.

In effect, yesterday's events constituted another reprieve to the Labor government, but brass much as it lives and thrives on reprieves Prime Minister MacDonald and his colleagues were contentedly satisfied at the outcome.

A revised Liberal amendment will be introduced again in the discussion of the proper clause of the finance bill, probably early next week, but it will not be surrounded by an atmosphere of political crisis.

Hoover Eulogizes Lincoln In Address In Springfield, O.

SPRINGFIELD, June 17.—(AP)—Standing before the tomb of Lincoln, President Hoover today called for a re-education of the citizenry to service and ideals of the nation. "The eternal principles of truth, justice, and right, never more clearly stated than by Lincoln, remain the solvent for problems and perplexities of every age and of our day," he said in dedicating the remodeled tomb of the civil war-time president.

"It is to those who like Lincoln have made these principles serve the needs of mankind that the world pays its homage at his shrine. We light the torch of our redemption to service and ideals of the nation which he loved and served with the last full measure of devotion."

Before the dedication ceremonies the President emphasized the duties of state governments before the Illinois assembly and warned that "our machinery of government must be shifted some" to meet the change in economic and other conditions.

Contest Will Be Held To Select Girl To Represent Sanford At Pageant

The mythical title of "Miss Florida," more than $100 in gold, and three days of interesting entertainment, all of which is being offered by the Clearwater Chamber of Commerce, will be the goal of hundreds of Florida girls next week.

Sent to Clearwater after an elimination contest in theaters in their own cities, the girls will compete in a bathing beauty parade in that city on July 4. Already 21 cities have signified their intention of co-operating with the Clearwater trade body, making the event a success, and Sanford has been asked to enter a girl.

Joe L. Marentette announced this morning that plans for an elimination contest at the Milane Theater next Wednesday and Thursday were already well under way. Any merchant or professional man may enter a girl in the contest, as well as any individual, provided she be entered under a recognized business trade mark.

The preliminary selection of the girl to represent Sanford will be made by ballot, in the same manner in which a recent contest was conducted at the Milane. Entries will be received until Thursday night, and all contestants are asked to bear in mind that it is primarily a bathing beauty contest with no special costumes allowed.

Wednesday night the contestants will appear at the Milane in a pajama parade. The five girls receiving the most votes will be joined by the five girls receiving the most votes on Thursday night when the girls will appear in bathing suits. From the 10 girls thus selected, a group of judges will select the girl who will represent Sanford.

All the expenses of the local winner will be furnished by the Milane Theater, including bus or railroad fare, hotel accommodations, meals, and entertainments. The girls will be chaperoned by members of the Clearwater Chamber of Commerce. On the night of July 3, the girls will appear at the Florida Theater, 23, Petersburg, with the final selection to be made at Clearwater Beach Saturday afternoon, July 4.

Fire This Morning Is Thought To Be Incendiary Origin

Damages, amounting to about $100 were sustained by Kleantia Arca, Ninth Street grocer, as a result of a fire, believed to have been the work of an incendiary, which brought out the Sanford Fire Department shortly after 2:00 o'clock this morning.

The fire started in the attic of the Arca home at Ninth Street and Elm Avenue, and had reached considerable head-way before S. C. Graham, railroad employe who was passing, was able to notify the fire department.

Chief Mac Cleveland and Firemen Tatum, Thomas, and Duran responded to the call, and quickly extinguished the blaze. Investigation revealed that a pile of newspapers in the attic formed the central point of the fire, which fact, coupled with the absence of electric wires near that point, led Chief Cleveland to believe that an incendiary was responsible for the blaze. An investigation is being conducted.

THURSDAY:
The Junior Christian Endeavor will have choir practice at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. H. Brown, 1114 Park Avenue.

The members of the Young People's Service League of Holy Cross Church will sponsor a subscription bridge party at 8 o'clock at the parish house.

MONDAY:
A hardy luncheon should follow the morning's drive.

Play games between courses. An "Auto Repair" contest is fun. For this, trace simple outlines of an auto from an advertisement onto white paper, but in making the drawing leave out various parts of the car.

Each contestant should be furnished with a colored pencil and told to repair the missing parts to her drawing.

The winner of the contest might receive a toy tool chest as a prize.

Traveler's A. B. C. is also amusing. Begin by mentioning the name of some place beginning with "A" to which you are going.

After lunch, bridge might furnish entertainment, or if there is a golf course nearby your guests may prefer to spend the afternoon out of doors.

A DISH A DAY

BREAKFASTS
The American breakfast is one of the world's most neglected meals.

At the present season, however, it is better to plan dishes which furnish protein, vitamins and even fruit acids without supplying an undue amount of heating carbohydrates.

Some of the dishes which will do this are creamed dried beef, baked apples, fish cakes, scrambled eggs with minced ham, baked peach halves with bacon, thin slices of broiled ham with sautéed pineapple, eggs benedictine, omelettes, fried bananas, etc.

Banana fritters are always a popular breakfast dish. Halve the bananas and then cut crosswise.

Fads have made a great many cereals popular which are not only without nutritional value but in some cases definitely harmful.

A whole wheat or rice cereal usually contains the proper amounts of roughage to give the body the cellulose necessary for proper digestion.

In winter, of course, the variants on the main breakfast dish are numerous. Ham, bacon, liver, sweetbreads, fried mush, sausage, even thin pork chops and small breakfast steaks are suitable.

OHIO GANG HAS LED ROUGH ROAD SINCE ITS HEYDAY

GERMAN GIRL DEFEATS ENGLISH MISS

Here you see Betty Nuthall of England, left, congratulating Cille August of Germany after their recent tennis match in Paris, when the women's singles tennis title of France went to the German girl. She defeated Miss Nuthall 6-6, 6-1.

They are Henry J. Blackmer, former president of the Mid-West Refining Company, and James O'Neal, former head of the Pacific Oil & Gas Company. They participated in the formation of the Continental Trading Company of Canada, a dummy corporation guaranteed by Sinclair, which was used to raise huge sums that later went for bribes to Fall and for other mysterious purposes.

Blackmer, wealthy, is living in Paris, apparently unconcerned by the fact that Congress, by a special law, forfeited $200,000 of his property after his refusal to return and testify. His offense is not extensible under French law.

O'Neal, likewise rich and now getting old, has sought seclusion and peace within his church. He is known in France for his Catholic benefactions and has been variously reported as living in a villa near Cannes and in a monastery in the Italian Alps.

A few years ago O'Neal, apparently feeling the twinges of conscience, traveled secretly to Montreal and through his son in New York, turned over to his former company, $200,000, representing his share of the profits in the Continental Trading Company deal.

BATTLE OVER GAS TAX BILL

(Continued from Page One) gasoline as he "valued" state indebtedness of $1,147,000 which he said must be paid.

Accompanied by his cabinet, the governor appeared in the House twice, once to give preliminary prepared information on the state's condition. They were received by the House to answer questions.

On the second visit, State Treasurer W. V. Knott was the spokesman, with two important questions as to the state's financial condition were answered by the governor or by Comptroller Ernest Amos.

Governor Carlton's appearance in the House open session Tuesday contrasted with his visit last week to a secret session of the Senate. Galleries were crowded with spectators during his presence.

He requested that the hearing be open and said he would "a thousand times rather have the dignity and integrity of our official acts brought out in the sunlight than made the subject of whispering in the dark."

The governor outlined the state's debts prior to 1929, which he said were caused by the previous administration. Owed to banks—$608,000. Owed to internal improvement fund—$900,000.

Owed to state school fund—$100,000. Total—$1,508,000. The governor and the treasurer gave different reports on the amount of the deficit. Knott's figure was $2,774,000 as of Jan. 1, 1931, but he explained, on questioning, that permissible fund transfers made up the difference between the governor's figure and his.

On the other hand, Knott said Florida has a treasury balance of $4,200,000, much of which is in securities. The governor declared there had been "no waste, no pilfering and no unwise investment of public funds," and further, that if current accounts were paid, the state would owe only $500,000.

He asked the legislature to forgive politics and develop new revenue sources, meanwhile stating that tax collections in the state to June 1, were only 84 percent against prior average of 84 percent.

When the question of legality of transfer of money from our current school funds was brought up by Representative Robinson, Doherty, Knott declared no law permits or forbids such transfers.

END OF CAPONE CAREER SEEN IN GUILTY PLEA

(Continued from Page One) higher conspiracy count was two years. A 32-year sentence was possible under the two income tax indictments, but precedent would indicate a much lighter sentence.

The longest sentence for income tax evasion on a plea of guilty has been two years. Of Capone's henchmen who have been brought to trial on such charges, two who pleaded guilty received sentences of 18 months and a year and a day; two who fought the charges were sentenced to five and three years, respectively.

For Capone the hearing was a severe blow, the certain abdication for a time at least of the throne he has held for 10 years. With the exception of a year spent in a Philadelphia jail for carrying concealed weapons and a federal sentence of six months, all on appeal, for contempt of court, Capone had gone his way, working to the head of his own gang and then wiping out the others, almost unopposed by the law.

He had achieved a world-wide reputation for the ruthless way he ruled the underworld, and the many audacious murders supposedly executed by his surrogates. Last night the talk centered on Capone's successor. It was two weeks before sentence was to be passed, possibly longer before he actually goes to prison, but Capone was spoken of already as "out of the way."

Will Johnny Terria come back? was a question frequently heard, referring to the man who taught Capone the ways of Chicago's underworld and then fled with several bullet wounds in his body, leaving the field to Capone.

To government authorities the day was the crowning achievement in the drive against gangdom. Back of it was the work of a score of agents of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau, piling up the mass of evidence on Capone's income; the work of young prohibition agents, known as "untouchables," who supplied information leading to the prohibition conspiracy indictment alleging 5000 separate offenses.

District attorney said he planned to go to Springfield today to discuss the government victory with President Hoover. Capone said he "hoped everybody was satisfied," signed and ducked through the crowd under protection of city and federal officers.

The guilty plea was not entirely unexpected, since Capone's followers who had made that plea had fared from two to four years better than those who chose to fight the charges.

The most friendly heard report around the federal building was that he would be sentenced to two and a half years on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently, but federal authorities refused to discuss the reports.

Disposal of the terminal charge against Capone does not alter the government's claim for $215,080.48 delinquent taxes. The indictments charged that during the years 1924-1929 his total income was $1,038,654.84, ranging from $100,000 in 1929 to $267,265 in 1925. Until he makes some settlement the interest on this claim grows every day.

New Christian Science Publishing House

BOSTON, Mass.—Continued growth of the activities of The Christian Science Publishing Society has necessitated expanded facilities. To meet this condition The Christian Science Board of Directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, will erect, as soon as plans and arrangements are completed, a new Publishing House.

Here provision will be made for the needs of The Christian Science Monitor, The Christian Science Journal, the Christian Science Sentinel and all other literature published by the Society.

The new building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000, will occupy approximately 52,000 square feet of ground bounded by Massachusetts Avenue, Norway, Falmouth and Clearway Streets, Back Bay. Operations are to be hastened in accord with the public and private building program which Mayor James M. Curley of Boston has been urging in conjunction with President Hoover's recommendations for relief of unemployment.

The structure will have a varying height. The Massachusetts Avenue end of the building, which will be used for offices, will be nine stories in height, while that part which is opposite The Mother Church edifice will be three and four stories in height and in scale with this edifice.

The publishing building will be re-erected in architectural style to The Mother Church, and its design has been influenced by the fact that in the future it probably will become one of a group of buildings which will surround and form a sitting architectural setting for the Church. It will be an all-stone building of the Italian Renaissance type, the lower story to be of granite and the upper stories of limestone.

Special attention will be given to the installation of modern heating and ventilating devices. The central plant will be housed in a building adapted to it, with an ornamental tower inclosing the stack, the tower to be of brick and stone conforming with the beauty and symmetry of the main building.

The building now occupied by The Christian Science Publishing Society, completed in 1908, will be used for the administration offices of The Mother Church.

The architect is Chester Lindsay Churchill, and with him is associated Lockwood-Greene Engineers, Inc., of Boston, which will have charge of the plant layout.
