LONDON, July 30 .- (AP)-A reliable source stated tonight that the British government has learned that an official statement issued in Berlin last Wednesday proclaiming the overthrow of Chancellor Hollfuse of Austria in "A great papular revolt 2 x x an important as it is welcome." This statement, according to the same source, was withdrawn a balf hour later before it could be published in any of the newspapers of Germany. Quarters close to the British government attach great importance to the fact that this statement was purported to have been insued by an official German news agency in Berlin in view of pretests emanating from the German capital disclaiming say connection with Barnrian activities and Austrian internal affairs. The German statement was said to have toon bound be "official and private reports from Austria" and rescinded "the new government will see to it that order is restored und that pan-Germaniam is given a home also in German Austria."
