

Louis Odds Gain On Eve Of Titular Bout

Fighters Reported In Peak Condition For Go Tomorrow Night

NEW YORK, June 21.—(AP)—Biting in the high temperature of their own arguments, as well as the current June heat wave, the fists faithful gravitated toward the big town and the big fight.

The approach of the near million dollar spectacle the Wednesday evening in the Yankee Stadium, featuring dusky Joe Louis and Teutonic Max Schmeling in a 15-round match for the world heavyweight boxing crown, seemed to be conducive to more fever than facelifting.

Although the climax of training camp activity produced nothing more startling than reassurances that both gladiators had worked themselves into the traditional peak of condition, it developed that week-end betting had made Champion Louis a more pronounced favorite to turn the tables on his challenger.

There has been little tendency to "go overboard," either financially or for literary effect, but Broadway Jack Doyle reported his latest warring quotations as follows: 1 to 2 against Louis to win, 17 to 10 against Schmeling, on a decision; 9 to 10 against a knockout by Louis, 5 to 2 against a repetition of his 1936 K. O. by Schmeling.

Barring sudden development, calculated to sway pre-fight opinion, there's little reason to doubt that Joe and Max will enter the ring as closely matched as any title pair since the Dempsey-Tunney days. The usual eleven-hour rumors have begun to develop, along cauliflower row, most of them designed to hint that "Louis can't lose"—but this is characteristic of the fight game, in its bigger business dealings. It can be discounted now, as heretofore.

Behind some "inside talk" is the idea that Schmeling, if he relimit than to end quickly, beats his victory of 1936 and becomes the first champion to regain the crown, will put the championship "on ice" back home in Germany.

This, of course, would be a severe blow to the industry now dominated by Promoter Mike Jacobs. It doesn't hold very much weight, however. Schmeling is already under contract to defend the title, not later than 1939, and probably could be persuaded to stake it against Max Baer this fall, for a substantial cash consideration.

It is no secret, however, that Jacobs will be much better pleased if Louis gets the revenge he is seeking and remains the king of the heavyweights. The negro is under long-term contract with "Uncle Mike" and is certain to defend the title again this year, if he turns back the German.

Louis, satisfied that he is on edge tapered off yesterday at Pompton Lakes, N. J., with roadwork, with the gloves on, impressed a capacity gallery of fans and critics yesterday. Joe will motor to New York Wednesday morning for the official weigh-in.

Schmeling, after a brisk four-round drill in the ring at his Speculator, N. Y., camp yesterday afternoon, echoed his handlers' assertions that he is in the best fighting trim of his career. Said Max: "I'm satisfied that I've reached unsurpassed condition. I expect to win over Louis again."

The German's confidence is no less superb than that of the negro, who insists he will try to finish Schmeling quickly, possibly within two rounds.

It will surprise most observers, however, if either fighter gambles at the outset or takes undue risks. Both are counter-punchers at heart, relying chiefly upon openings created by the other fellow's mistakes. The bout seems more likely to go the

John Contreras Is Comedian Of Local Ball Club

Cuban Catcher Makes Debut In Pro Ranks With Lookout Nine

By JULIAN STENSTROM
So that you may be better acquainted with John (Cuba) Contreras, member of the catering staff of the Sanford Lookouts, songbird and a comedian of the crew, we will give you a few facts concerning the little but mighty man.

John, sometimes called Don, is a full-blooded Cuban and is a native of a Latin colony in West Tampa. He is 27 years of age, stands five feet six inches tall and hits the scales at 135 pounds. This is Contreras' first attempt in professional baseball, largely because of his small build.

Until this season, John played among semi-pro and amateur circles on the western coast of Florida. During the latter portion of the 1937 season, Contreras ventured to Alabama and played with Bridgeport in the Tri-State League, a semi-pro circuit. This spring he decided to make an attempt at pro ball and contacted Henry Watson former prey of the Sanford Baseball Association.

The Lookouts signed him but shortly after the season opened they released him. However, he learned about the managerial change slated to take place so he remained in this city until Bill Rodgers arrived to replace Guy Lacy.

Rodgers watched him in several practice sessions and immediately signed him. Since then, he and Freddie Holland have been dividing the platter work. Although Contreras is small, he has a wonderful throwing arm. He was the first catcher in the Florida State League this season to throw out Manager Lyle Judy of the Saints when he attempted to steal second base one evening.

His throws well, hits well and his movements are fast. He has saved himself many a passed ball by being agile and he is alert in the game at all times. Contreras is very entertaining and mirthy times, on long one day trips to St. Augustine or Gainesville, he entertains the entire roster. His favorite pastime is imitating political speakers while making election addresses and could probably give Dave Sholt's a valuable lesson along this line. He can talk and sing in three languages, English, Italian and Spanish.

Goat milk is more easily digested than cow milk.

Rain Prevents Lookout, Saint Game Last Night

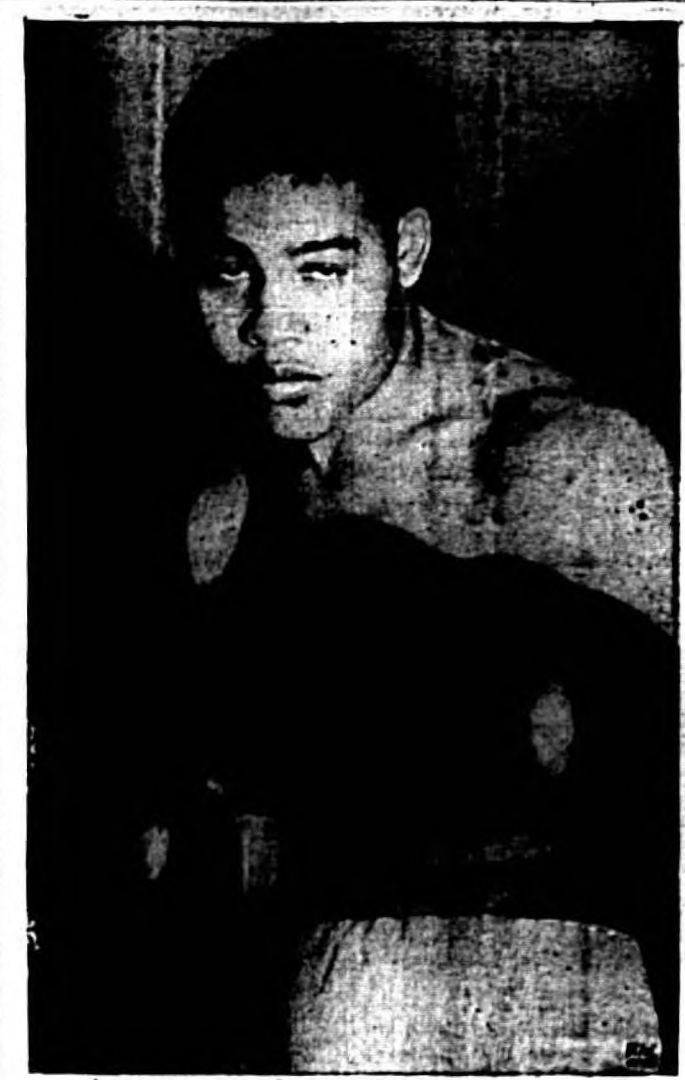

Pinder May Hurl As Clubs Clash In Ancient City Tonight

The scheduled Florida State League tilt between Sanford and St. Augustine was called off last night after a heavy rain flooded the Municipal Baseball Park about two hours before game time.

The Lookouts will travel to St. Augustine tonight for a contest with the Ancient City crew but Manager Rodgers failed to announce his starting hurler. It is expected that it will be Joe Pinder, who was slated to begin last night's battle.

The line-up for the locals will include Joe Ruggiero on second base, Van Brown in rightfield, Bob Pitman on third base, Max Langston in leftfield, Pete Mahalic in leftfield, Fred Holland on first base, Lelloy DeLamais on shortstop, Don Contreras behind the platter and Pinder on the mound.

The line-up for the Saints will include July on second base, Oler on first base, Heim in leftfield, Balan in centerfield, Retzki on third base, Kirkland on shortstop, Schweigerath in rightfield and either Wrenn or Gonzalez catching. Carl Weigle may be the starting moundman for the Saint outfit.

DROOPY-LIDDED Joe Louis will be with enough goods June 22 in New York, defending the heavyweight title.

Joe Lohr, veteran State League umpire, who worked behind the plate and on the bases during the seasons of '36 and '37 probably will be back in the familiar blue uniform soon, it was learned yesterday. Lohr probably will be drafted to take the place of a present umpire who is taking sick leave.

Palatka Downs Senators To Tie Saints For Fourth Place

VENETIAN PARK, LEESBURG, June 21.—Leesburg's Goldoliers unleashed a power-house attack in the eighth inning of their game with Gainesville's G-Men last night in the Venetian gardens and when the slaughter was over, a dozen Goldoliers were crowned the plate, and the Leesburgers had won a ball game from the league leaders, 12 to 7, according to the Associated Press, and had pulled into a tie with Daytona Beach, ranked out for second place in the stand ings.

The G-Men scored five runs in the seventh to break a 1-1 tie which had existed since the third and then came the Goldoliers' eighth and the ball game.

AZALEA BOWL, PALATKA
June 21 Palatka drew into a line with the team and St. Augustine Saints last night for fourth place in the State League standings, victory by virtue of a 6 to 4 decision over the Orlando Senators, according to the Associated Press.

The Palatkans and the Saints were scored in bursts of two, but the Palatkans had one more dash of talismans than the Senators.

Holy, holy, holy all the saints adore Thee. Maybe they'll get the cross-state tunnel and all our subterranean caverns dry up, we can use the remaining underground passages for protection against bombs. It is reported to us that we had an important name year when something Sanford was who have gained recognition. One Nordgren, who had high school graduation in the Caucasus. The Expanding South

A few days ago we printed a picture of a Detroit manufacturer who moved his plant to Columbus, Georgia because of labor difficulties in the northern city. The fact that workers in the South are mostly of old American stock and have not been touched by the radical influences of agitators, had some effect on this manufacturer's decision to move southward, but that was not his only reason by any means.

We, below the Mason Dixon line, would not appreciate the industrial trek this way if it were predicated on the exploitation of our people. We do not desire to have our workers forced into sweat shops, at starvation wages, and without a say as to the conditions under which they will work.

However, it is apparent that the factors of natural advantages such as water power, equable climate, which means a saving on clothes; plentiful land, which means a worker can raise his own vegetables; plus the inherent disposition of the Southerner to be satisfied with a fair deal and to be suspicious of "foreign" interference are responsible for making the South more satisfactory as an industrial center.

The invasion of Dixie by northern dollars has been led by companies producing kraft pulp and paper. During the two years of 1936 and 1937, two-thirds of the country's new investments in the process industry—pulp and paper, rayon, petroleum, refining, heavy chemicals and so forth have been made in the South. This expansion has been aided by the activities of groups in cities and states to induce manufacturers to locate in their respective areas.

Business Week tells of a law passed by Mississippi empowering communities to bond themselves to buy land, erect buildings, buy equipment for new industries and even to operate enterprises. In most cases the buildings will be leased to operating companies—with land and buildings tax exempt for five years. The city of Natchez is building a factory for a New England tire company.

"In Alabama," says Business Week, "the ensygoing old port of Mobile is in the throes of a boom. Here the Aluminum Company of America is putting up a plant to cost millions. National Gypsum has moved in. A plywood plant has just been erected, and there is talk of a Maine mill moving down to make fine papers out of yellow pine.

Financial interests, railroads and other organizations are also doing their best to merchandise the industrial advantages of the South. The Commonwealth and Southern Corporation is doing an outstanding job in searching out prospects, and keeping in touch with business organizations where inquiries center. In each state where this utility company operates it has an official whose business it is to show prospects about and furnish them with complete details on freight rates, raw materials, housing, financing, etc."

That such activity is adding to the spending power of the South goes without saying. It has been shown that the average cotton farmer produces four bales of cotton a year which sells at the current price for a total of $170.00. One of his children working in a factory will make $12.00 a week, or a total of $624.00 a year, a sum which is three times as much as the head of the family makes.

THE AMERICAN DESERT—that barren southwest region of whining, wind-driven sands—ceases to be desert when Spring rain comes; within ten days dunes that were Sahara-like show primroses bigger than teacups, snowy little popples, whole valleys of lupines and heliotrope. Against the sky rise hills of beaten gold—yellow popples and tulips so thick one cannot step without crushing them. Sand verberna, prettier than any New England garden's, crowd between wild hollyhocks and desert lilies; the ocotillo's crimson flame mingles with ground-cherry and tiny white daisies to form a flat covering as intricately patterned as a Persian rug. Rain may skip some areas for two or three years, but about every five years widespread rains transform practically the whole desert into radiant bloom.—Oren Arnold in Travel.

TO PERPETUATE DESERT SACRAMENTO, Calif. —(AP)—Five hundred thousand acres of desert never are going to "blossom like the rose," despite the government's great irrigation projects. California is negotiating to set aside a tract of that size, near the Mexican border, as a state park to preserve native beauties of the desert. In the West Highland museum, Fort Williams, Scotland, is one of the strongest portraits ever painted. It looks like nothing but a mere colored panel; but when a panel episode of the night sky and shape is placed at a certain angle on the museum, the reflected colors on the cylinder become a portrait of Bonnie Prince Charlie, commander in the British throne in 1746.

Yet, strange as it seems, Charles Snow is blind. A quarter century ago he was robbed of his eyesight by an explosion of a rabbit hut, he says, the accident failed to rob him of his sense of humor.

FOUNDING A TOWN

Ancient Romans followed a strange practice in laying out new towns. First they traced the town limits on the ground with chalk, then followed the line with a furrow, ploughed with a team consisting of a white bull and heifer hitched together. Mussolini followed this ancient custom recently in founding the town of Aprilia in the Pontine Marshes near Rome.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS. ELECTIONS—The elections in Iowa in which Senator Guy M. Gillette defeated Congressman Otha D. Wearin for the United States Senate may make reprisals against those who voted against the Supreme Court Bill. Of course, it is to be observed that the administration did not make a very strong endorsement of Mr. Wearin, however, any endorsement at all would be indication that they were opposing Senator Gillette. One of two things must happen. If the Administration is not to lose prestige, and that is, that they either make a strong endorsement of their favorite candidates or hands off completely. Making these half-hearted endorsements in Washington is not helping their prestige. I hope the Administration has not missed the point that it is very difficult to unseat a United States Senator, even if he does not have a particularly good record, and if he has a good record, it is impossible to unseat him simply because he voted in some instance against some favorable legislation. I hope the light will dawn on them and they will have adopted a policy of "hands off" except in certain justifiable instances.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—How long can Japan hold out? The answer to that is sought diligently in the United States because the pressure on the U. S. government to "do something about those bombings" is growing in intensity.

Almost within the shadow of the White House one of the most important church congregations in Washington, the Foundry Methodist, adopted a resolution condemning both the Japanese bombing of Canton and the failure of the administration to take a more hardheaded policy. Churches and other organizations elsewhere have taken similar action, also urging boycotts.

Already the State Department has indicated it would like to see shipments of airplanes to Japan slacken off. It could stop such shipments altogether under the neutrality act, but there are a whole pocketful of reasons why it has refused to call that measure into force.

Japan isn't rich in natural resources, except that of cheap labor, but, as one well-informed source here pointed out, it has a business system well adapted for war—at least in one respect. The "withholding portion" of a business house in Japan is enormous in comparison with that of an American business. The "withholding portion," as this source described it, is the portion of the gross income that the business house keeps for its own use in comparison with the amount it pays out to its employees and domestic producers.

The net result, he explained, is to provide a heavy accumulation of taxable wealth in a few hands where it can be reached without a complicated taxation system such as is necessary in the United States.

But Japan, a trading nation is being hit where it hurts most. To conserve her cash for purchase or manufacture of munitions it has been necessary to restrict imports, even of such staples as cotton. And as the cotton import is restricted, her cotton mills lose the raw material to manufacture one of the nation's most important means of getting more money—finished goods to be sold abroad. Already the cycle's effect is observable in trade reports.

The fight started under circumstances leading the Japanese to believe it would be a mere weekend scuffle. Instead it is rounding out nearly a year (July 7) and the cost has reached an estimated $5,000,000 a day, about two times what it costs to run the Japanese government.

Strategically Japan is in an uncomfortable plight, as military observers point out. Like Napoleon in his ill-fated expedition to Moscow, the line of communications has been desperately extended.

In capturing Shanghai, Japan took China's New York. In closing in on Hankou, it is striking at China's Chicago, its central rail terminal. The bombing of Canton seems intended to stop supplies reaching Chiang's troops from that port, which is China's New Orleans. So far it has not been especially effective.

Wynns To Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Milton Wynn, pioneer settlers of Sanford, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, June 25. On Sunday afternoon from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock they will be at home to their relatives, neighbors, and friends at a reception given in their honor at their home in Citrus Heights.

Mr. Wynn is the son of the late W. J. and Elizabeth Wynn, and was born in Toombsborough, Wilkes County, Ga., on June 20, 1865. This was the last of the war and the following year the family settled in Columbia County, Fla., where Mr. Wynn lived until young manhood. In 1885 he came to Orange County and settled in the section which is now known as Citrus Heights in Seminole County.

On June 25, 1888, Mr. Wynn married Frances Catherine Lord, daughter of the late J. M. and Jane Lord, who was born in Columbia County on Apr. 12, 1871, and who had come to this county at the age of three.

At this time Fort Reed was a thriving town, there being no city of Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wynn are the parents of ten children, seven of whom survive: Mrs. R. J. Overstreet of Longwood, J. W. Wynn of Kissimmee, Howard Wynn and Mrs. Horace Sanderson of Coral Gables, Minton Wynn of Miami Beach, and Clarence L. Wynn and Clifford B. Wynn of this city. They also have nine grandchildren.

Pinder Walks In Final Run As Saints Win 3 To 2

Both Hurlers Nicked For Five Hits During Contest

Local Hurler Turns In Best Performance Of Season On Hill While Contreras Leads Hitters

FRANCIS FIELD, St. Augustine, June 22.—The St. Augustine Saints pushed across a run at the ninth inning of the contest with the Lookouts last night to win one of the best ball games seen this season by a score of 3 to 2.

Joseph Pinder went to the mound for the locals while opposing him on the hill was Lefty Brewer of Jacksonville, who hurled the first and only no hit ball game in the loop this year. Pinder did well throughout the contest although he worked slightly in the final frame. Pinder was nicked for five hits during the encounter while his maces were collecting five off Brewer.

The St. Augustine crew started the scoring in the second frame when Pete Schweigerath singled to short center field to score two runners. However, the Lookouts got them back when Contreras walked and went to second when Pinder was safe at first on a hit, thrown by Kirkland. Joe Roggerio advanced them to the next bases and Win Brown cracked a single to center field to score Contreras and Pinder.

The battle was on from that point and no scoring was allowed until the fatal ninth. The Lookouts had men in scoring positions as did the Ancient City crew but none were able to score.

In the St. Augustine half of the ninth, Schweigerath led off and was hit with a high pitched ball. Wrenn sacrificed him to second for the first out. Brewer grounded out to Davis for the second out and Otero worked Pinder for a base on balls. Heim came up with the bases full and also worked Pinder for four straight balls and the ball game. Pinder's performance was much better than the 16 inning tiff he had against the Deland Red several nights ago. Pinder gave up five walks and fanned five as

Joe Louis Remains 1 To 2 Favorite To Avenge 1936 Kayo

17 To 10 Odds Quoted Against Schmeling; Promoter Expects Gate Of $1,000,000

NEW YORK, June 22.—(AP)—The gabbiest, gaudiest and all things considered, the greatest heavyweight boxing rivalry in a decade reaches its climax tonight in what promises to be a billion-dollar setting at the Yankee Stadium.

The 15-round return match between Joe Louis, 24-year-old American negro holder of the world championship, and Max Schmeling, 32-year-old German challenger, may not crack any fistic records. Nevertheless, it has whipped the fight faithful to a high emotional pitch, created more international sporting excitement and proved the biggest box office magnet of any title bout since Gene Tunney rode the famous "long-count" to victory over Jack Dempsey at Chicago in 1927.

With the advance sale reported slightly over $800,000 last night, the promoter figured to have a reasonable chance of achieving his goal. Counting $75,000 already paid for radio and motion picture rights Jacobs expected the aggregate "take" to exceed $1,000,000. No matter what the final tabulation shows, there will be no financial losers in the latest extravaganza of the boxing industry.

Louis was still a 1 to 2 shot to win in the latest call-over of betting odds, with 17 to 10 quoted against the chances that Schmeling would make ring history by becoming the first champion to regain the world heavyweight title.

They're as fit and, from all last-minute broadcasts, are confident as two fighters can be under the strain of furor and fanfare. Schmeling left his Speculator, N. Y., camp yesterday afternoon for an undisclosed retreat in or near the city. He will join Louis at noon (E. S. T.) today at Madison Square Garden for the official weighing-in. The champion will leave his training quarters at Pompton Lakes, N. J., just in time to make connections on the scales.

Few, if any signs of weakening were manifest among those who think that (a) Schmeling will repeat his knocker or (b) Louis will prove his first defeat was just a fistic accident. Three out of five newspaper experts, as well as betting men, prefer Louis, but offered no eleven-hour argument calculated to change the

Advances On Leading Issues Range From $1 To $5 In Fourth Day Of Optimism

Better Business Outlook Reported

Many Factors Credited As Responsible For Trend Upward

NEW YORK, June 23.—(AP)—"Bulls" had everything their own way again in the stock market today as prices of leading issues advanced from $1 to $5 a share in the fourth consecutive day of "bid 'em up" optimism. The demand for stocks was so heavy that the ticker tape got six minutes behind. General reports of a better business outlook was credited with causing the market upswing.

Optimism also was fired by a number of factors, including:

1. The price increases for steel, lead and export copper.
2. Higher steel mill operations, reinforced by the opinion expressed by "Iron Age" the Summer outlook in the field is better than had been expected.
3. Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper's revelation whole-sale inventories are 14.8 per cent below a year ago, leaving room for manufacturers to expand production; and his statement "Economic slides are definitely clearing."

Equally potent, in the opinion of Wall Street analysts who follow the market, was the fact that prices appeared to have broken definitely through the trading range "roof" which has trapped all attempts to push the market up since the break of last November.

Such action, indicating a buying urge greater than for months past, brought many short followers to the bull side, and caused shorts to cover, brokers said. The drive forward was completed on a turnover of 1,713,050 shares, the best volume since March 26, and leaders in the advance included the shares of some of the country's biggest corporations.

Schmeling Has Two Fractured Bones In Back

Joe Louis' Powerful Punch Puts Contender In Hospital

NEW YORK, June 23.—(AP)—Two bones in his back fractured in the process of Joe Louis' fight, Schmeling lay in a hospital with a fractured neck and a fractured back, the result of a powerful right hand punch to the kidneys partly paralyzed the German challenger in the opening minute of his 15 round bout with Louis last night. Then the negro champion knocked him out in two minutes and four seconds of the first round.

Just how seriously Schmeling is hurt remained to be determined by physicians said he probably would be in the hospital for two weeks or more. The fight drew 72,000 persons and with radio and movie contracts grossed more than a million dollars.

Following the fight Harlem's humusity rushed shrieking into the streets, glad to escape the sudden knots at the loud-speakers for a breath of air that was filled with unprecedented ecstasies in that Upper Manhattan section noted for its noise and squalor—like that night two years ago. Horns, drums, kettles and all kind of noise-makers sounded in the muggy air north of One Hundred and Tenth Street, and staided paper showed down on the merry-makers.

John F. Rogers, local chairman of Division 260 Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, W. F. Declaring that a great deal was accomplished in contacting members of the convention, Mr. Bagwell said that work accomplished at the party was worth a great deal more than advertising in magazines, newspapers, or similar media. Mr. Shelley served on the rules committee.

The convention began Monday morning and was held in the George Washington Hotel. Delegates from 11 southern states attended the convention, which came to a close with a fish fry yesterday afternoon and last night at Jacksonville Beach.

Represented at the sessions of the two railroad bodies were members from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Lawton Is Speaker At Parley Of School Superintendents

Superintendent T. W. Lawton spoke at a parley of Florida school superintendents held at Daytona Beach today. The parley was held at the invitation of the Florida Education Association.

Mr. Lawton said that the greatest difficulty has been brought about by the failure to receive even conservatively estimated funds from taxes and tax redemptions. Even in a county as small as Seminole, he pointed out, tax receipts and redemptions was up to June first of this year, $30,000 less than for the same period last year.

Some time ago, he said, it was estimated that monies for school purposes, exclusive of State appropriations, would be about two million dollars less than for the year ending June 30, 1937. This loss of revenue is due not solely to the immediate operation of the Murphy Act but also to its psychological effect on prospective taxpayers who prefer to wait a few years and have their taxes cancelled for one dollar, he continued.

Mr. Lawton said that wide publicity should be given the so-called Parley Amendment which should be ratified in the November general election. He explained that interested citizens who vote for this amendment will be insuring the counties in the future the appropriation of $500 of state money for every instruction unit in the state.

New Moves For Peace In Sino-Japanese Conflict Reported

Reflecting the stringency of Japan's economic position, the government at Tokyo today announced the drastic new retrenchment program to enable it to continue the war in China. The program is to be modeled on sections of the German Nazi plan. The conflict in China will be a year old on July 7.

In Sino-Japanese, who on July 14 will have fought for two years against the Madrid-Barcelona government, made scant mention in a drive against the Mediterranean seaport of Valencia. Some observers said they thought insurgents would abandon a plan to take Valencia and concentrate on an attack on Barcelona.

In China peace moves to halt the spreading Chinese-Japanese warfare were reported under way today. The reports came as Japanese warplanes struck three times at the South China Port of Swatow, threatening large-scale invasion of South China, and new Japanese-American friction erupted up at Nanking and Shanghai.

Embassies of the Japanese sponsored North China provisional government were said to be holding preliminary negotiations with representatives of the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The German Transocean quoted T. Wang, Chinese foreign minister, as emphasizing the usefulness of mediation by a third party, since China and Japan desire to terminate hostilities but neither is willing to take the initiative for reasons of prestige.

Wang also was quoted as declaring Japan must make the first overture. It was recalled that the North China government last Saturday issued a plea for peace, apparently with the approval of the Japanese army mission at Peiping.

In Shanghai, a Japanese embassy spokesman declared that Japan would "discuss peace with any Chinese government except that of the Kuomintang (Chiang's regime)."
