

SENATE VOTES DOWN PLAN TO BOOST TAXES

One Billot Brings End To Plan Of Adding 10 Percent To Individual Income Returns

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—By 46 to 44, the Senate yesterday refused to pass an additional one-year emergency tax of 10 percent on all individual income tax returns in 1935.

It also rejected without a roll call a proposal to boost surtaxes beyond the Finance Committee rates which already are higher than existing levies.

The 10 percent emergency tax, proposed by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, would have raised an estimated $55,000,000. The higher surtaxes, suggested by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, would have yielded another $40,000,000.

There still was conceded to be a chance of adopting higher inheritance levies which would bring in an additional $25,000,000. Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, will propose such an amendment.

Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, of the Finance Committee swung the decision against the Couzens amendment. He previously had announced he would accept the proposal and let it go to conference with the House, but explained, "considerable opposition had arisen and since he was speaking only for himself and the committee had not recommended the proposition he elected to stand by the committee. House Administration leaders also had expressed opposition to the proposal.

The bill and no longer a resolution as it was referred. It is expected to move forward. He expects to reach another vote later.

Couzens argued it was "concededly" to refuse to adopt higher income taxes to help pay the expenses of the huge recovery program. He contended the 10 percent, which would have meant a tax return of $110 on a $100 tax due, would have hit the higher income and meant no increase over existing taxes until net incomes of $9000 were reached.

LaFollette supported the amendment, saying the "actual additional burden is a very reasonable requirement in times like these."

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, thought the added 10 percent would bear too heavily on the small taxpayer and would discourage investment in small business, but voted for it on the ground of emergency needs.

Orlando Trade Body Seeks To Put End To Bad Publicity

ORLANDO, Apr. 11.—Spurred to action by adverse publicity appearing in the northern press against Orlando and Orange county and emanating from winter visitors who charge that they were held in the county jail for minor traffic violations, the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted to dig down to the bottom of the matter in an effort to have more courtesy and consideration shown to visitors.

An article appearing in the lead column in the Meyersdale Republican, a paper published in a nearby town of Pennsylvania and which contained a Trade Against Winter Visitors' article was the impetus for the action. The article was written by Perry Burkhardt, an Orlando winter visitor, and charged that he had been held in the county jail for minor traffic violations. He was arrested on the charge of driving a car without a license.

He announced that preliminary steps were taken yesterday looking toward the organization of an association in Seminole county, and that application had gone to Washington requesting such an organization here.

HOPE OF PEACE IN AUTOMOTIVE LINES MOUNTS

NEW YORK, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Hopes for peace in the giant automotive industry now in the midst of its highest production program in nearly four years grew last night as tool and die makers and their employers planned a conference to consider demands for a 20 percent wage increase and a five-day week of 36 hours.

The conference is set for today, a little more than 24 hours before the deadline fixed for a walk-out by the Mechanics Educational Society, the tool and die makers organization. An offer was formulated last night by the Automotive Tool and Die Manufacturers Association.

Sixty-two job shops are members of the association. Union officials have claimed that 18,000 men would obey a strike call.

Violence broke out anew in the strike at the plant of the Detroit Michigan stove works when strikers, workers and police engaged in a 20-minute battle in front of the gates at the noon lunch hour.

After order had been restored police reported only minor damage had been done, although first-strikes and stones flew freely. Three men were arrested.

Ordered by the settlement of a Motor Products Corporation strike that resulted in the return yesterday of 1000 strikers, 4000 other employees of that factory and 18,000 workers in the Hudson Motor Car Co. plant, federal mediation agencies were concentrating on the tool and die makers controversy.

Hopes on the labor side for a solution of the tool and die workers' controversy was based to some extent on the announcement that eight tool and die manufacturing plants not identified with the manufacturers association had agreed to meet the demand for a 36-hour week and 20 percent increase.

Tool, Die Makers Meet With Employers To Consider Demands For Higher Wages

NEW YORK, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Hopes for peace in the giant automotive industry now in the midst of its highest production program in nearly four years grew last night as tool and die makers and their employers planned a conference to consider demands for a 20 percent wage increase and a five-day week of 36 hours.

Grim Undertone Is Prevalent In Meet On Disarmament

REPEVA, Apr. 11.—(AP)—A grim undertone, including an indication that Russia will disarm only if Japan does and emphasizing the possibilities of armament races of war, characterized speeches during a short meeting yesterday of the disarmament conference steering committee.

Boris Stein, soviet spokesman declared Russia will sign a disarmament convention but only on the condition it is universally accepted by all neighbors of Russia.

Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal and leading armaments expert, emphasized that a substantial reduction in war materials remains for Great Britain a "fundamental condition to any agreement on any arms convention," thus giving the impression that England expects French armaments reduction in return for British security guarantees.

Delegates noticed that Rene Mangin of France did not reveal his government's eventual attitude but confined himself to the statement that the "armament of Germany" changed the entire problem and that this course was incompatible with the disarmament of other nations.

Drastic Action Promised Against All Persons Failing To Pay Tax This Year

Joe L. Earman of Vero Beach, Chief Personal Property Tax Assessor for Florida, told Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins and Assistant Tax Assessor Sanford Douney yesterday that Comptroller J. M. Lee expects all taxes, real or personal, to be paid this year, and that unless they are paid, the limit of the law will be invoked against delinquents.

Mr. Earman came to Sanford to find out what has been done here in gathering returns on personal property, both tangible and intangible, and to advise local officials as to the campaign which is to be pursued in forcing tax collections this year.

He learned that delinquencies are not as great as in past years but that, as has been only a spasmodic answer to personal letters from Collector Jenkins who has reminded many taxpayers that they are delinquent and that they should make an effort at payment at once.

Mr. Earman indicated that Comptroller Lee is expecting a record of efficient collection from all of his collectors and assessors this year, and that if local collection problems become too difficult, he will send a man to the city to remain until the situation is cleared up.

While here, Mr. Earman indicated that the Comptroller's office "means business" this year, told of one Florida city where two well-known attorneys had advised clients and friends that it wasn't necessary to pay personal or intangible property taxes.

Investigation revealed that they not only spread this story widely, but that they had failed to pay their own taxes. Shortly after, sheriff's deputies backed trucks to their doors, loaded them with all available law books and salable property, and carried the lot to the Court House where a tax sale was avoided when the attorneys hustled into the building with cash to pay their delinquent taxes.

Mr. Douney stated that intangible property returns should have been filed by Apr. 1. He pointed out that among the items that must be listed as intangible property is the cash value of all insurance policies held by the taxpayer.

NRA COUNSEL RIDICULES REVOLT TALK

NEW YORK, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Donald Richberg, general counsel to the NRA, said last night that the United States "is not in the slightest danger of a political revolution so long as we preserve our national unity."

Addressing the Forum on the Legal Aspects of the National Industrial Recovery Act by long distance telephone from Florida, where he went to consult with President Roosevelt, Richberg said:

"We cannot possibly escape from an economic revolution because that is in process throughout the world, brought about as the inevitable product of the industrial revolution.

"The only present menace to our national unity and consequent danger of a political upheaval lies in the spread of that insanity which animates the League of Stuffed Shirts—that fears of brains that have already exposed the incompetency of their past war leadership, brains that will always oppose their return to power, and brains that are seeking to establish a new morality for the conduct of public and private affairs in order to prevent those irresponsible uses of economic power for private gain that destroy the economic and political security of the people."

Richberg described a "class of business men of bankers and politicians who have begun to conspire a mythical brain trust" as the group who seemed to be organizing when he called the "League of Stuffed Shirts."

He also told the Forum, conducted by the Trade and Commerce Bar Association, that the "League" probably will enroll "most of the discredited economists and financial writers and oracles of editorial wisdom who helped inflate the bubble property that burst in 1929."

"When all the warped minds in the country rally round the knowledge-doing school of politicians and demand a business government," said Richberg, "it will be interesting to find out how many of the American people are afraid to trust their government to men who are accused of having brains and of desiring to devote them to public service."

Tiny Girl Abducted By 13-Year-Old Boy Dies Of Starvation

CHICAGO, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Little Dorotea Zolnow, two-year-old, died today of cold and starvation a short time after a 13-year-old boy confessed holding her captive for two days in a crumpling attic.

He stripped her naked he was quoted as saying, but he did not attack her. Doctors found no evidence of a criminal assault. The boy was locked up by juvenile authorities.

He induced the child to go with him last Sunday, his statement said, by promising her candy.

Rogalski, despite his age, had police said, a previous record of molesting girls.

Dorotea lived with her grand mother because her mother is a patient in a hospital for the insane and her father is an unemployed laborer.

Lynch Denies Charges Made By Governor

ST. PETERSBURG, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Capt. George M. Lynch has denied that he and Assistant Superintendent G. V. Fugitt had been paid "while teachers waited," as charged by Governor Dave Sholtz in a speech in Sanford Friday.

Lynch said that his salary at present was two months in arrears. He said further that Fugitt's salary was $2,000 a year in lieu of the $4,000 mentioned by Sholtz.

Lynch also could not understand why he had been singled out for attack by the Governor. He said he was only one of several superintendents in the state who received salaries of $6,000 a year. This salary is set aside by state law rather than the county school board, he declared.

Lynch added that his salary included a traveling and other expense allowance which reached $700 last year.

Mrs. Roosevelt At Issue With Dr. Wirt Over 'Communism'

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today contradicted contentions of Dr. William Wirt that a substantial homestead project at Beedsville, W. Va., is a "Communist effort."

The wife of the President gave these views at a White House conference with newspaperwomen.

A while before, Dr. Wirt, on a visit to the capital, had been told that the House Investigation Committee desired no further testimony from him, and he was free to return to his Gary, Ind., home.

The inquiry will resume next Tuesday with the appearance of the six persons named by Wirt as having attended a September dinner in Virginia at which he testified he heard talk of revolutionary plotting.

Mrs. Roosevelt said, "Never in this country to my knowledge has it been considered communistic for the opportunity to be given to people to earn their own living and own their homes."

She added that while it is a fact that the government will provide for initial capital for this particular project, any private enterprise that wishes to do so may establish the same sort of communities.

The six persons who attended the dinner party, will tell a House committee about it next Tuesday but all indications last night were the inquiry would end right there.

Wirt made it plain he felt Rexford G. Tutwiler, assistant secretary of agriculture, was the leader in a movement to undermine the constitution. But the three Democratic committee members did not express great concern after the hearing.

Perseping profusely and standing on tiptoes in his excitement, Wirt referred to Tutwiler then and again. He also wanted the committee to call Lewis Douglas, director of the budget, and William I. Westervelt, former AAA official, to see if they would substantiate his charges.

Once the committee room that was crowded with celebrities and plain citizens emptied, the members talked it over and decided the three men and three women at the Virginia dinner would appear next week—and that was all.

JAMESON SPENT OVER $170,000 IN ATTACK ON SMITH

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—(AP)—Testimony that Edwin Jameson, New York insurance executive, contributed $172,800 in 1928 to aid in defeating Alfred Smith for President was given a Jury today in the trial of Bishop James Cannon, J. Southern Methodist churchman, and Miss Ada Burroughs, on trial in District of Columbia Supreme Court on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal corrupt practices act by failing to report all of the $65,300 reported received from Jameson.

Reports made to the Congressional committee and read into the court record showed that Jameson also collected and contributed many thousands to various other anti-Smith causes.

Robert H. McNeill, chief of defense counsel, told the jury he expected to show that the bishop looked the money and spent it and distributed it in accordance with the great desire of the contributor.

The contributor himself, look the witness stand for the prosecution shortly after this opening statement of the defense.

Jameson, in the two hours he was on the stand, told the court and defense counsel agreed that he gave Bishop Cannon $58,000 before the election of 1928 to support a campaign of anti-Smith Democrats.

McNeill asked if he gave any instructions as to the disposition of his contribution.

"I assumed," Jameson replied, "that Bishop Cannon would spend the money for legal objects and would comply with the law."

"Have you," continued McNeill, "ever complained of how Bishop Cannon spent the money?"

"I had no knowledge, I was only the contributor," Jameson answered.

Nerves

If you have nerves, you should be complaining about it. Hard times get on everybody's nerves. When crops fail to bring a price which provides a decent living...

One of the principal symptoms of nerves is the short word. "Have you got the money for the rent this morning?" inquires the worried wife.

Nerves are something which one should not allow to go without attention. A bad case of nerves either gets better or worse. If they get worse, the ultimate outcome is broken crockery, battered noses, divorce courts, more sleepless nights, bad dreams, perhaps insanity, murder or suicide.

'SIGHT TESTING' OF PUPILS' EYES HELD NOT ENOUGH

Child May Be Able To Read Yet It Suffers Nervous Exhaustion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Apr. 10.—More "sight testing" of school children's eyes by a nurse or teacher is of very limited value, according to a study made by Dr. E. B. Alexander, Director of the Optometric Extension Program.

"All physical activities of the body are made possible only by the expenditure of nerve force, which is our vital motive power," he explained. "The eyes, by making an extra effort, are able to overcome a considerable amount of defect and hold themselves in focus so that the owner seems to see as well as anyone, although he is using more nerve energy than he should. For this reason the usual 'tests' are of limited value. A child might be able to read every letter on the test chart and yet be suffering from nervous exhaustion due to eyestrain.

"Parents, teachers and nurses should observe carefully for certain symptoms of eye strain, easily noticeable, that will enable them to determine with some degree of accuracy the visual condition of the child.

These symptoms include: (1) Headaches, the majority of which are caused by visual defects and readily yield when the eyes are put in focus.

(2) Head tilting, which indicates muscular trouble and is a frequent cause of headaches, nervousness, indigestion, dizziness and other nervous symptoms.

(3) Squinting. The child with defective eyes often squints or frowns to shut out light irritating the eyes.

(4) Crops of sties and inflammation, which are frequently caused by defective vision.

(5) Holding books too closely is a habit that does not always mean near sightedness but it does mean the eyes are seriously defective.

(6) Poor readers, which is an indication of defective eyes.

(7) Nervousness and irrita-

RETURNS SHOW LITTLE INCOMES OFF, LARGE UP

1st Tax Reports Under New Deal Note Up Brackets' Growth

WASHINGTON, Apr. 10.—A decline in small taxable incomes, a substantial increase in individual taxable incomes of more than $5,000 and an even larger increase in corporation earnings during 1933 are shown in a preliminary Treasury report of income tax collections for the month of March. This indication, inconclusive as it is, that the first nine months of the New Deal witnessed a greater concentration of wealth in the hands of the middle and upper income groups occasioned considerable curiosity, and no little concern in Administration quarters recently.

The Treasury's report was based on telegraphic reports from Collectors of Internal Revenue. Total income tax collections for the month were $230,549,089.33, as compared to $177,242,351.38 in March, 1933.

Total collections on current returns for the year 1933 were $219,904,345.73, as against $166,370,118.17 in March, 1933. Collections of back taxes for the month were $15,443,744.10, against $10,867,233.21 in March of the preceding year.

The increase was gratifying to Treasury officials, but it was approximately $20,000,000 less than their estimates. Personal income tax payments on the 1040-A Class of return, for incomes under $5,000, showed a decrease to $12,936,731.76 for the tax year 1933, as compared to $14,274,689.63 for the year 1932. Payments on the 1040 returns for incomes of $5,000 or more increased to $109,766,752.19 from $88,599,235.68 for 1932. Corporation taxes increased by al-

MRS. ROOSEVELT URGES PAY RISE FOR TEACHERS

EDUCATORS NEED LEISURE AS WELL AS ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Apr. 10.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has uttered a warning against the tendency to exclude married women from the teaching profession and appealed for a scale of salaries in education that would give teachers economic independence. In the principal speech of the day's program of the Citizens' Conference on the Crisis in Education, the President's wife declared that "a woman who has become a mother is better fitted than ever to understand children."

Mrs. Roosevelt, whose address was delivered last Friday, passed a busy day, marked at intervals by enthusiastic cheering whenever she appeared in public.

In presenting Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. Zook urged the Ohio legislators provide for state support for schools, asserting that the district locally supported was as outmoded as the ocean.

He praised Mrs. Roosevelt for her "deep concern for the welfare of the country."

Mrs. Roosevelt's subject was "Teachers and their Preparation," but she said frankly that she would depart from the narrow limits of the text.

"I have gone about the country," she said, "in order that I might learn what others think about the crisis in our educational affairs. The trouble is that we often feel that teachers ought to function perfectly with as little trouble to us as possible. Teachers are expected to throw the subjects to be taught at the children who in turn are expected somehow to get part of them. As classes grow larger, due to attempted economies, the personal touch becomes impossible. On their part the teachers are expected to make up in increased devotion if their salaries are inadequate."

In her plea for economic independence for teachers, she said that they must have a chance for leisure and a chance to continue their education. "A teacher," she said, "cannot do good work if forced to eke out an existence by other work on every holiday."

Mrs. Roosevelt also urged equality between men and women teachers, asserting that it was a great mistake to pay women less merely because they were women, and pointing out that women teachers frequently had as many dependent upon them as men teachers.

"The public," she said, "must provide for adequate preparation for teachers, and that preparation must cost the public more. Unless this is appreciated, the efforts of educators will have failed miserably."

In this country, she said, the people are in the midst of great changes. "Rugged individualism gives way to co-operation for the good of all. This in itself requires more education on the part of all of our citizens and the schools must supply the foundation."

Mrs. Roosevelt criticized the policy, which she attributed to New York state, of engaging home town girls for teaching merely because they had influential relatives on the boards of education. New locations and new contacts, she said, will contribute to broadening the educational outlook.

Turning to the talk of school wastes, she said: "There is no waste in teachers' salaries. There may be waste in brick and mortar and marble, but these things do not make a school. There are communities which have bonded themselves so much for buildings there is nothing left to pay the teachers. Economies must not be on salaries, books, training and equipment."

Mrs. Roosevelt was a guest at a dinner Friday night attended by Governor George White and others. The President's wife departed Friday night for Syracuse.

SENATORS AGAIN PICKED TO WIN LEAGUE PENNANT

Experts Believe Red Sox Will Jump Into 3rd. Place From 7th

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, Apr. 10.—(AP)—Compared with the 1933 results, the most striking feature of the 1934 American league pennant poll, tabulated yesterday by the Associated Press, is the fact that the majority of experts for the Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics to swap places in the standing of the clubs. It is no surprise that the major league writers and sports editors—97 of 'em, all told—pick the champion Washington Senators to run one-two again, but it is a novel testimonial to the prowess of Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, sore arm or no sore arm, that these observers consider him good enough to supply the main motive power in hoisting the Red Sox from seventh to third place this year.

The Boston club hasn't even been in the first division since 1918, when the late Harry Frazee began wrecking their last championship team. Outside of Grove and his former teammates, Rube Walberg and Max Bishop, the new Red Sox ownership has not supplied any startling changes or additions, but the experts nevertheless vote them the most improved team in the league. In fact eight habitues of the big league press corps are optimistic enough to pick Boston to capture the pennant. Simultaneously the Athletics, short of all their erstwhile pitching aces, are selected to best no club except the Browns. The A's were third last year. They have not been out of the first division in the past nine years.

Although the Senators enjoy a substantial margin of preference in the eighth annual pennant poll, they are not conceded a walkaway by the backers of the Yankees. Of the 97 experts balloting this year, 40 name Washington to repeat and 33 pick New York to ride back to the top.

Next to the Red Sox, the Detroit Tigers are labeled the most improved club and picked to land in fourth position. The Cleveland Indians, who were fourth last year, look ready to give the Tigers a real argument on this subject.

The poll's second division lineup, in order, consists of Cleveland, Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics and St. Louis Browns.

Valuations At Daytona Have Been Cut In Half

DAYTONA BEACH, Apr. 11.—Assessed valuation of property in Daytona Beach has been cut approximately one-half for the purposes of the 1934 levy, it was announced yesterday at the city hall. At the beginning of the year property valuation for city assessment purposes still stood at approximately $40,000,000, but this year's tax roll will be based on slightly more than $20,000,000. Higher millage compared to last year, but the revaluation, just completed after several weeks of appraisal of properties in all sections of the city, is expected to result in a more equitable tax roll.

N. R. A. WILL FALL OF OWN WEIGHT, SAYS ATTERBURY

Head Of Pennsylvania R. R. Insists Codes Have Hurt Recovery

PHILADELPHIA, Apr. 10.—General W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said he believed the National Industrial Recovery program "would fall of its own weight." "I think in many respects Mr. Roosevelt has done a great job," he said, "but I am convinced that it was a mistake to attempt to force codes on certain industries which were unprepared for them."

"The whole theory of the N. R. A. of increasing wages and shortening hours to hasten recovery is wrong. If that theory was correct, the President should immediately impose a two or three day week at greatly increased wages," he said.

Atterbury, who discussed his conception of the recovery program and outlined his own ideas for recovery at a press conference said he felt the Wagner labor bill was "too drastic."

"As a matter of fact, the labor provisions of the N. R. A. are too strong for me," he said.

"The original intent of the N. R. A. was to establish voluntary associations within each industry under government supervision and control. There was never any thought that industries would be forced to accept codes, but rather they would accept them because it would free them from the restrictions of the anti-trust laws," Atterbury said.

"The government, and I do not necessarily mean Mr. Roosevelt, has gone entirely too far in the legislation it has supported."

"I am certain that most of the radical legislation which has been enacted by the Congress will become negative by the inherent common sense of the American people."

Atterbury insisted that the "closed-shop principle" in industry was "the worst thing that could happen to the workers themselves."

"I am unalterably opposed to a closed shop," he said vigorously, "because it takes freedom from the men. They are forced to obey the dictates of an outside labor leader."

"When the recovery program falls of its own weight, I believe that the voluntary industrial association will remain with us."

Asked how he would control corporations which refused to join the industrial association, he said: "If the majority in the industry approved the association, then the minority would be compelled to come in."

The railroad executive said the Stock Exchange control bill and the securities acts were both "unfair to capital" and should be revised.

"The whole recovery program has gone too far," he said, "and it is a grave question whether we would not have had the same measure of recovery without it as we have had with it."

"In many of the countries of the world, and especially in Canada, recovery has gone far ahead of ours. They have no recovery program. It is difficult, I admit, to fairly judge that question."

Coming in the midst of a threatening cabinet crisis, the action was like a thunderbolt and, whether or not it was designed to draw Cubans' minds from a muddled political situation, it had that result.

Government leaders, business men, and people in the street showed no interest in politics, and it was difficult to find anyone willing to talk of anything but finance.
