IN BRIEF

Israeli Prime Minister Pressuring For Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin is keeping up persistent pressure on President Ford to restore the half-billion-dollar cut in arms aid to the administration plans for next year.

Using every available opportunity, including private meetings today with Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and a speech to a joint meeting of the House and Senate, Rabin played the same theme: If the United States wants Middle East stability and peace and wants Israeli concessions, it must make sure Israel is militarily strong.

In a toast at a formal dinner given in his honor by Ford on Tuesday night, Rabin noted that Israel is the only Middle East democracy and said, "No totalitarian regime will tolerate a weak democracy."

And he said it at a Tuesday lunch, telling Kissinger, "everywhere in the world you can't achieve peace but from the standpoint of strength... I know one thing for sure, with a weak Israel no one will negotiate and only a strong Israel is a help for peace."

ITT Testimony Scrutinized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department lawyers are scrutinizing the testimony of ITT Chairman Harold Gense and others about the firm's role in Chile because of apparent conflicts between that testimony and evidence taken by the Senate intelligence committee.

Gense testified under oath before the Senate subcommittee on multinational corporations in 1973 that ITT did not supply money to block the election of Marxist Salvador Allende. But last December, the Senate intelligence committee staff reported that, with CIA knowledge and advice, ITT passed $50,000 to Allende's main opponent in Chile's 1970 election.

The Senate intelligence committee staff report said its findings were based on the record of the multinational subcommittee plus "new information," including CIA documents.

Jail Complaints Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says it has substantiated nearly 250 complaints by Americans who say they have been mistreated, denied access to American officials or subjected to physical abuse while being held in Mexican jails.

Reporting the results of a study of such complaints, the department said Tuesday it could reach no conclusion on the validity of some 400 complaints and found approximately 130 others to be unsubstantiated.

The study, conducted by a special panel under the supervision of the department's Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, was prompted by congressional pressure following reports of inaction by the U.S. Embassy and consular officials in Mexico to assist the Americans, most of them young people held on drug charges.

Defeat Not Conceded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite overwhelming congressional votes to end U.S. aid in Angola, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger declines to concede defeat in the administration's efforts to convince Congress to send more military supplies to pro-Western forces there.

The House rejected a last-minute appeal Tuesday from President Ford and approved a Senate-passed Angolan aid cutoff 233 to 99. House leaders argued the United States cannot bring victory in Angola and thus should get out entirely.

Asked if the vote means that the United States has lost its attempt to help block a takeover by Soviet and Cuban-backed forces in the Angolan civil war, Kissinger replied, "I'm not prepared to make this judgment."

Distortion Plot Claimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam says he doesn't blame Congress for the Saigon government's collapse because the lawmakers' vote to bar further American military aid was prompted by "organized campaigns of distortion in the United States."

Graham A. Martin told skeptical lawmakers Tuesday that the aid decision was "inevitable" in view of the impact of the American antiwar movement, which he called "one of the best propaganda and pressure organizations the world has ever seen."

He named one group specifically — the Washington-based Indochina Resource Center.

Shrimp Controls Discussed

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Should the U.S. Government set up quotas or impose tariffs on imported shrimp to protect what has been described as an ailing domestic shrimp industry?

The U.S. International Trade Commission listed Tuesday to the pros and cons those questions as industry representatives from Boston, San Diego and Texas testified at a public hearing.

Commission Chairman Willie E. Leonard said the hearing resulted in part from a complaint filed last December by the National Shrimp Congress (NSC). The NSC contends that the U.S. shrimp industry, already hurt by rising fuel and labor costs, is being further damaged by imports.

FAA Testing Bomb Detectors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration will test airport bomb detection devices that could increase the price of airline tickets and cause passengers delays of up to three hours.

FAA Administrator John McLesca told a news conference Tuesday the tests, if successful, could lead to a recommendation that all major airports be required to have such bomb detection equipment.

However, he said the FAA would consider the delays caused by the equipment and the cost of the machinery before making a final decision.

Presidential Requirements Examined

Efficient Management Needed: Jackson

'76 the campaign and the candidates

EDITOR'S NOTE: Candidates for the presidential nomination of their parties, and other political leaders, were invited to contribute articles concerning presidential character: what sort of person should be elected President on Nov. 2, 1976, and why? Following is one of these contributions.

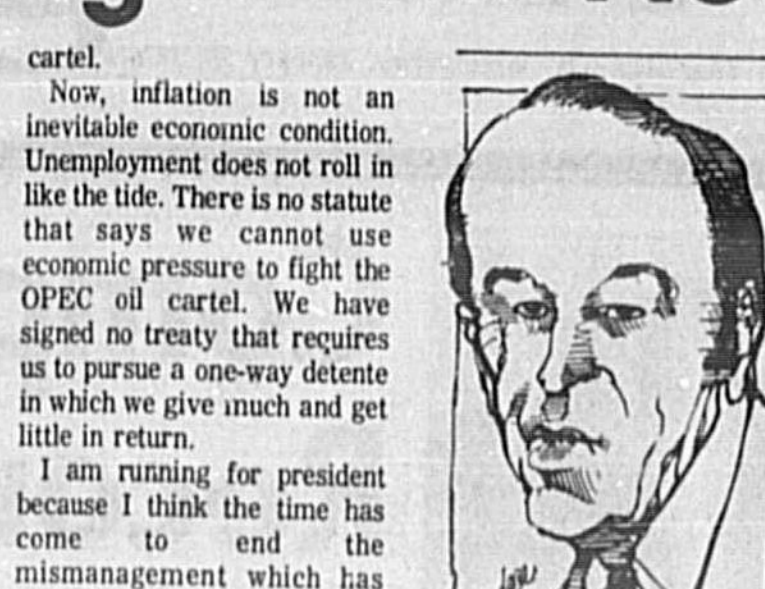

By HENRY M. JACKSON

Many Americans today are disillusioned with their government. This is not surprising. They have watched Watergate, they've seen our economic and political assets squandered in a one-way detente; they've seen our standard of living reduced by recession and inflation.

What we need today is some hard thinking and straight talk about government, and about America—and then the sharp, efficient management to translate plans into reality. Our foreign policy is an example. Every real effort to stop inflation gets a cold shoulder from Mr. Ford for he might offend some of his big business supporters if he asked them not to raise prices.

Nowhere is this clearer than in the area of energy policy. No single factor has been more responsible for the increase in oil prices. But this administration's policy is a sorry mess, unable to carry the coal we must use to meet our energy needs. Shall we sit by and watch all these needs go unmet, while 10 million Americans stand on unemployment lines?

I say no. I do not accept the currently fashionable theory that government is our enemy. Bad government is the enemy, and that is what we have had too much of.

Sen. Henry Martin Jackson was born in Everett, Wash., May 31, 1912. He received an LL.B. degree from the University of Washington in 1935 and began practicing law. Jackson was Snohomish County prosecuting attorney, 1938-40, U.S. Representative from Washington's second district, 1941-53, and has been a U.S. Senator ever since. He was chairman of the Democratic National Committee, 1960-61. Jackson sought the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972, but withdrew after being overshadowed in the primaries. He was an early environmentalist though he later stressed a balance between economic growth and conservation. He is an internationalist supporter of a vigorous U.S. role abroad. Jackson chairs the Senate Interior Committee and serves on the Senate Armed Services and Government Operations Committees and the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. He is married and has two children.

The problem is the quality of government activity. We do too much, and not enough well. The answer is to replace mismanagement with new management, dedicated to problem-solving and an efficient use of limited resources and manpower to meet the needs of the people. That is the kind of government I pledge in the Jackson administration.

And let me add this: The management of the tasks of government these days is complex and difficult. It requires the dedicated efforts of the best informed, most experienced men and women we can find.

In a Jackson administration, the best people will be coming to Washington—not leaving would just go away. It won't. It can't. The answer is not a government which abandons the responsibilities placed on it in the Constitution—to establish justice, to insure domestic tranquility, to secure our liberty and our property. The answer is to restore government, at the federal, state, and local levels, dedicated to meeting its responsibilities staffed with men and women capable of doing so—and able to manage the programs and policies we must develop today to meet the needs of tomorrow.

Washington. I am absolutely committed to, and will demand, frank and open discussions in the councils of government. I will not select advisers whose sole qualification is that they make me "comfortable"; and I will not exclude men of brilliance and dedication simply because they cannot make small talk with the other guys on the team. Let's remember we're staffing the White House, not the "house."

I understand the view of so many Americans that the government is not doing things for them, but is doing things to them. They sometimes wish it

Two Reside At Central Florida Zoo

Majestic Buffalo Alive, Well In Sanford

By SCOTT ABRAHAMIS
Herald Correspondent

Taking careful aim down the long barrel, the cowpoke eased into the trigger and fired straight for the lungs of a grazing buffalo.

His perfect shot felled the animal, and it lay wheezing and gasping for breath, dying slowly.

Now the fun began. Other buffalo, curious why one suddenly dropped, gathered around in silent confusion. The cowpoke proceeded to fell as many as he could. He knew that once he missed the vital area, and struck in any other vital area, the wounded animal would go into a frenzy and stampede the rest.

If the hunter was lucky, he could kill as many as 80 or 90 animals during the session, called a buffalo "stand."

Such killing for sport accounted for much of the reason why the once populous buffalo dwindled in number to a mere 54 by the year 1899.

Today, a stable population of 5,000 ensures the species will live on. Two of those 5,000 are in the Central Florida Zoo, donated by an Orlando veterinarian who raised them from calves.

Sanford's Fred Antonio is the caretaker of the hooved animals at the facility—his official title is "Curator of Ungulates"—and along with the sheep, deer, elephant and hippo, he feeds and waters the two 1,800-pound buffalo.

"Most people are astounded by their size," he said. "In addition to their weight, they're about six or seven feet tall at the hump. Buffalo skulls have been found in Yellowstone Park that weighed 30 pounds, and that was just the skull itself."

Lifting its head and peering through dark brown eyes, one of the animals stepped closer, curiosity, until it was about seven feet away.

"There's no way we'd be born close if they had been born wild," Antonio said. "They aren't pets. You don't just go around petting them."

These two should live to be about 30," he said. "They get good diet, and they are treated for parasites. They'll live longer here than they would in the wild."

One of the hazards buffalo present in the wild isn't present at the Sanford zoo—buffalo jumps.

Before white men settled the west and brought the guns that almost wiped out the herds, the Indians had to rely on buffalo jumps to kill the animals they needed for food and clothing. Herding a group of buffalo toward a cliff, the Indians would stampede the beasts in the general direction of the dropoff. Some animals split off, but many of the unknown creatures lumbered straight for the cliff.

By the time the lead animals saw the trap it was too late. They could not stop with several hundred kn pushing behind them.

Buffalo stands and buffalo jumps—two hazards of the wild the Sanford animals will never know.

"There's one buffalo jump in Montana on the Madison River," said Antonio. "It's about 80 feet high and at the bottom, researchers have found over 58 feet of nothing but buffalo bones."

Dickinson is charged with three counts of evading $30,000 in 1970-72 federal income taxes and three counts of filing false tax returns for the same years. He faces maximum penalties of 24 years in prison and $24,000 in fines if convicted of all six counts.

It is the second time in less than eight months that Dickinson has been indicted in a federal trial at Jacksonville last June of conspiring to extort money and stocks from bankers he considered a competitor.

IN BRIEF

Jury Begins Deliberations In Dickinson Tax Trial

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A 12-member federal jury was to begin deliberations today in the income-tax evasion trial of former Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson Jr.

U.S. District Judge William Brevard Hand of Mobile, Ala., said after lawyers completed their closing arguments Tuesday that he would turn the case over to the jury today.

Dickinson is charged with three counts of evading $30,000 in 1970-72 federal income taxes and three counts of filing false tax returns for the same years. He faces maximum penalties of 24 years in prison and $24,000 in fines if convicted of all six counts.

It is the second time in less than eight months that Dickinson has been indicted in a federal trial at Jacksonville last June of conspiring to extort money and stocks from bankers he considered a competitor.

Disease Strikes Again

MIAMI (AP) — First, his 4-year-old son died of leukemia. Then, a second son underwent surgery for cancer, and a third son had a leg amputated to stop the spread of the disease. Now, Raymond Southerland lies in a hospital with a brain tumor.

"We told them what would happen, the pros and the cons," Southerland, a Dade County policeman, said Tuesday. "It was a bad blow, but they handled themselves well. They tried to keep my spirits up."

"My children, after what they have been through, are very sturdy," said Southerland, 37. "When we talk about cancer, we don't leave anything out."

Fuel Shortage Cited

ORLANDO (AP) — Dividing supplies of fossil fuels will not permit the continued expansion of energy-consuming farming methods to the developing world, a top agriculture scientist says.

Dr. John Krummel of Cornell University's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences says the known world reserves of petroleum would last only 13 years if techniques of the American "green revolution" were applied today worldwide.

The techniques include a heavy reliance on petroleum-based nitrogen fertilizer and fuel-burning machines, he said.

Minister Found Guilty

MIAMI (AP) — The Rev. Temperance Wright, a South Florida political figure, has been found guilty of selling two courses of occult to a policeman.

A circuit court jury deliberated 39 minutes Tuesday before finding Wright, 62, guilty of selling the drug, N7, in a deal set up by a police informant.

Showing no visible sign of emotion, he said he was "let down" by the verdict but was confident he would be vindicated on appeal.

Wright, who recently resigned as pastor of a number of African Methodist Episcopal churches, is a former chairman of the Miami Planning and Zoning Board.

He ran unsuccessfully for the state House of Representatives in 1972 and was found innocent in 1973 of charges he schemed to bribe a judge.

PSC To Consider Proposal

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Public Service Commission says it will consider a proposal by Public Counsel Woodie Liles aimed at saving money for electric companies.

Liles, who represents consumers before the PSC, said the companies should not be required to send highly paid officials and lawyers to every PSC hearings on fuel adjustment charges.

"When there is no dispute, it is not necessary for companies to send all their top brass to the hearings, which sometimes last only 30 minutes," Asst. Public Counsel Donald Weider said.

Payment May Be Delayed

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The Seminole Indians, who have agreed to a $18-million settlement for their 150-year-old claims to Florida, may have to wait a few years more before they are paid, their lawyer says.

"There's no way of telling how long the Bureau of Indian Affairs will take" to compile the necessary tribal rolls for paying the Seminoles, lawyer Roy Struble said Tuesday.

Struble said the deal "undoubtedly will be approved" by the Indian Claims Commission and then be sent to Congress, which previously agreed to pay any settlement reached in the dispute.

Traffic Toll Down

By The Associated Press
Forced by the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit and stringent enforcement of traffic laws, the death toll on Florida roads declined by more than 10 percent last year and is at the lowest level since 1967, officials say.

State-computed statistics show 2,623 traffic fatalities were recorded in Florida in 1975, down 247 from the previous year and reflecting a national trend, officials said Tuesday.

Detente Status Is Now Critical

Other critical issues may have been on the agenda when U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger met with Soviet leaders...

To the United States, detente means three things, according to Henry Kissinger. First it is the control of nuclear arms to avoid mutual annihilation...

The Kremlin perception differs. As the position of the Soviet administration has not changed, the Soviet Union is willing to negotiate limits of strategic arms, cultural exchanges and scientific projects...

The differing perceptions between East and West make the collapse of detente inevitable unless Mr. Kissinger and the Soviet leaders define it better...

To an increasing number of American people, the Soviets have reneged in all of these areas in the last four years...

"The success of detente... depends upon new behavior patterns that give life to all solemn declarations... The people... are thoroughly tired of having their hopes raised and shattered by empty words and unfulfilled pledges...

WASHINGTON — The situation within the Department of Labor makes clear one reason the Ford administration has not developed workable policies to deal with unemployment...

When government's approach to unemployment have failed as miserably as has been the case in the last several presidencies one would expect a serious search for new approaches...

But no. The Labor Department's research and development program is small. It is spotty, fragmented, highly opinionated, divorced from reality...

From what this reporter can gather, therefore, it is probably just as well that top management pays little attention to these studies...

As a result, the Labor Department doesn't know what it is doing or where it's headed. It continues with an aimless gathering of statistics...

The department gives little or no evidence, for example, that it is concerned or even vaguely aware — that there are, by immigration service estimates, 10 million illegal aliens in this country...

The trouble is, as we see it, that the studies have a tendency to become pregnant. Each piece of research seems to breed a flock of little "studyettes" and sometimes "grandstudies" and nothing practical is done until all the votes are in...

Council Tables Equipment Issue

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The city council has tabled action until next week on equipping a laboratory for daily testing at the city's two sewer package plants — Skylark and Columbus Harbor.

And the ultimate costs will be much more than the $1400 announced last week as the price of equipping the laboratory, Brady Mitchell, sewer plant operator, told city councilmen this week.

Mitchell, who appeared before the board at its request, said the $1400 will not take care of the city's problems with sewer effluent testing required by the Department of Environmental Regulation (DER).

"The city has been in violation of the law since the first of the year," Mitchell said. He said in addition to daily testing, weekly effluent testing, will cost $35 per test at each plant. The weekly testing is being done by a private company currently under an agreement whereby city personnel deliver samples to the firm, Mitchell said.

During the discussion it was pointed out that a building to house the laboratory also must be constructed and furnished. Mitchell was asked to gather cost estimates for all the needs of the laboratory while Councilman Gerard Connell, councilman in charge of the water and sewer departments, determines if another laboratory in the area could be used by Longwood personnel. Mitchell also told the board the city currently has no vehicle which he can use for transportation between the sewer plants. He said that the van, which formerly had been used by the humane officer, was repaired and operating and to be used when special license tags were acquired.

He said, however, that the council transferred the vehicle to the police department for surveillance purposes.

Two weeks ago, the council was told that the vehicle was not in operating condition but that police officers were willing to accomplish repairs at no cost to the city in exchange for it being transferred to that department.

In other business, the council authorized the public works department to open and extend the platted right-of-way for Northeast Lake Street if no outside equipment had to be used. The work is to be accomplished when Public Works Director Ralph Fisher can fit it into his schedule.

The council voted unanimously that Fisher is responsible for seeing that water deposits are posted with the city before service is turned on.

A letter was ordered written to the police department instructing that members of that department are not to give orders to the water department's operations.

The board passed on first reading and scheduled a public hearing for 8 p.m. Feb. 15, followed by second reading of an ordinance, granting an exclusive franchise to Florida Public Utilities to provide natural gas service in the community.

Cherry said he has pleaded guilty to two burglaries and is being held in Orange County jail pending sentencing next month.

Cherry said Williams told him at the apartment in Altamonte Springs that he'd pay $150 for the guns and that they carried the weapons to Williams' Orlando residence where Williams paid Cherry with a check.

Theresa Albert, 24-year-old former Fern Park go-go dancer, testified that she was present when Cherry broke into the Watts residence and that she deposited Williams' $150 check in her Maitland bank account the next day and gave Cherry $150.

She testified that she hasn't been charged in connection with the burglary. "I was told I was supposed to testify about the whole incident," she told the jury.

Williams told the jury he wasn't told the guns were stolen and that he earlier had bought a motorcycle from Cherry, who he turned out to be a "reliable informant," and had received clear title to the motorcycle.

Williams also said a fellow officer had bought an auto from Cherry and received a good title.

Williams said he is a gun collector and had once worked with an uncle who is a gun dealer in Arizona.

Williams said Cherry told him that he was selling the guns for "a good friend" and that he

Pre-Sentence Probe Ordered Police Sgt. Convicted Of Buying Stolen Guns

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A Winter Garden police sergeant was free on bond today pending completion of a pre-sentence investigation after being convicted Tuesday by a circuit court jury at Sanford of knowingly buying, receiving, and concealing guns stolen in a Longwood burglary.

Circuit Judge Joe A. Cowart Jr. ordered the pre-sentence investigation (PSI) for Lowell Williams, 25, an Orlando resident, following the jury verdict rendered after 20 minutes deliberation.

Wylie Grant, Cherry, who was a confidential informant for Sgt. Williams for two years in Winter Garden narcotics and burglary cases, testified that he broke into the Longwood residence of Orlando businessman Hal Watts on Aug. 5 and took three rifles, a shotgun, an M-1 carbine, two pistols and a short sword.

Cherry said he took the weapons to a south Seminole apartment and went to Winter Garden and returned with Williams. Cherry testified that Williams examined the weapons and bought the sword for $10 cash at the apartment.

Cherry said he told Williams that the weapons "were hotter than a firecracker" and testified that Williams said "he didn't care."

"He said if anyone asked that he'd say he didn't know the guns were stolen," Cherry testified.

Williams said he was a gun collector and had once worked with an uncle who is a gun dealer in Arizona.

If The Uniform Fits, Wear It, Soldier!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I am nitpicking, but I just don't like to see an ex-serviceman make a fool of himself.

I refer to the gentleman who had been a high-ranking Army officer in World War II and instead of wearing his uniform consisted of a tuxedo to social functions.

I am sure there are many more like him who hate to give up the prestige they once had. On the other hand, I am glad to know that there are still men who are proud to have served their country.

However, it would be a kindness to let him know that unless he is on active duty, it is not only improper to wear his uniform, it is against the law!

MIKE IN AURORA, ILL.

DEAR MIKE: Thanks for the info. I realize that there are several reasons, but I think that the ex-serviceman (or woman) who can still button his uniform from W.W. II should be allowed to wear it in a duplex apartment building. The lady who occupies the other apartment has access to mine. I gave her a key for security reasons because I work out of town.

She doesn't have a phone so I gave her permission to use mine. She does not abuse the privilege, but because she is in my apartment almost daily a problem has arisen.

I keep a bottle of whiskey in my kitchen cabinet for guests who drink. My neighbor tips a little, and during the last year my liquor supply has dwindled about two inches a week.

I have devised a method that should eliminate this problem. First, I make a pot of hot tea. To this I add a liberal amount of salt and add some lemon concentrate to lighten the color. Once in the bottle, the mixture resembles the original contents and surprisingly enough, it tastes like sour whiskey.

Do you consider my solution in bad taste?

B.F.

DEAR B.F.: Not if you can get away with it.

DEAR ABBY: Re that Peeping Tom, whose wife caught him peeping on one of her sisters who was taking a bath and again on another sister who was changing her clothes:

You said he was a "voyeur" and suggested that he get help at the nearest mental health clinic.

Are you kidding? Most homes have window shades to pull down and bathroom doors with locks. Sounds to me as though the sisters were asking for it. But if they were not worth peeping at, by all means the guy should be hauled off to a mental health clinic.

Meanwhile, Bon voyeur, Tom!

Cooks Of The Week

Screen Stars Handy In Kitchen

"I probably make the best popcorn in the world!" claims screen idol Paul Newman.

Newman reportedly has an excellent palate and never has to be drafted to get behind the range. "I love to cook. Most of my cooking is done out of doors, but I do make bouillabaisse and various gumbos."

According to Newman, the best popcorn is the pop dry variety. And a popper with handles on the sides is the best.

Most people don't know how to butter popcorn, says Newman. "Get a great pot of melted butter and take the pan filled with corn and, with a knife, evenly scatter the melted butter over the top layer."

"Then flip the pan like you were making an omelette so you expose another layer of corn, and butter that the same way. But you mustn't shake it," he admonishes.

Newman may sound as if he's flipped out, but he can hold his own in the kitchen with as much expertise as he shows in front of the camera.

CREOLE GUMBO

1/2 lb. fresh okra (or french)
one-third cup vegetable oil
1 large onion, chopped

1 large green pepper, chopped
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 handful chopped fresh parsley, minced
2 stalks celery, chopped about 5/4 cups water
turkey carcass (or hambone) salt to taste (less if ham is used)

freshly ground pepper to taste
few dashes of hot pepper sauce

1 bay leaf
1/2 tsp. ground thyme
large can (1 lb. 12 oz.) tomatoes
2 cups flour
1 lb. green shrimp, shelled (or 1/2 lb. crabmeat)

dozen large oysters
2 tups gumbo file powder
Wash okra, cut off stem and tip ends. Slice in thin circles. Heat half the oil in large stock pot. Sauté okra until it begins to brown and is no longer slippery. Add onion, pepper, garlic, parsley and celery. Sauté lightly over low heat, stirring often until vegetables soften. Add water, turkey carcass (or hambone); bring to slow boil. Add salt, pepper and Tabasco to taste along with bay leaf, thyme and tomatoes. Simmer gently about 1 hr. Heat remaining oil in skillet, add flour, cook over low heat stirring few mins. until flour mixture turns brown. Stir browned flour mixture into gelbo to thicken.

Add shrimp (or crabmeat), oysters, barely cook (only until edges of oysters begin to curl). Stir in file powder, but do not cook after adding file powder, or gumbo will become rogy in texture. Serve over bowls of hot rice. Makes 6 servings.

William Conrad, who plays the post-bellied private eye Cannon on television, is another celebrity who claims his gascacho is so good "it won't stop because it's so beautiful."

"I don't do much cooking around the house, a few — except to prepare a few favorites."

CONRAD'S GAZPACHO
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup ground cumin
1/4 cup Spanish olive oil
2 cups canned tomato purée (or 8 large, sun-ripened tomatoes, peeled, seeded, cut in dice)

1 tsp. vinegar
1 cup bread cubes
Olive oil for sauteing.
1/2 large cucumber, peeled, coarsely chopped.
Dress: small cleaned radishes, thinly sliced.
1 sweet red (or green) pepper — coarsely chopped
Bottle of chilled club soda.
2 scallions, diced.

Mix garlic with salt and cumin, beat in olive oil, then combine with pureed tomatoes and vinegar. Beat in skillet until smooth. Cover, chill thoroughly 3 or 4 hrs. Prepare croutons by frying bread cubes in olive oil until gold and crisp. Drain croutons on absorbent paper. Pour chilled tomato mixture into 8 soup dishes. Add small amount of club soda to each bowl. Mix. Add croutons and pass diced vegetables served in separate bowls for garnish.

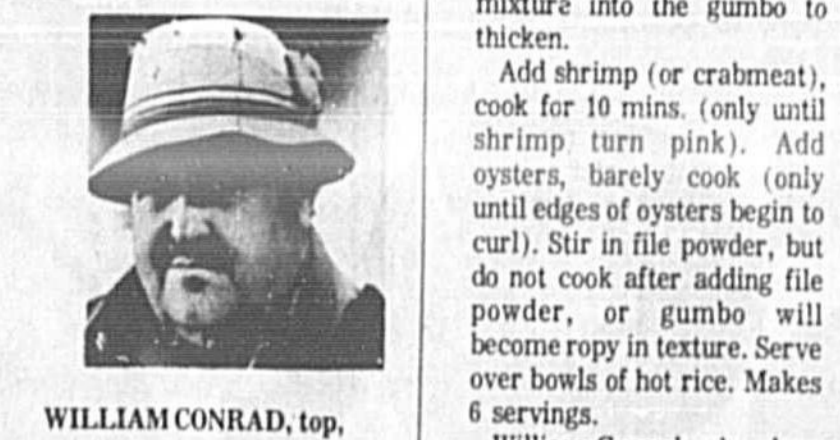

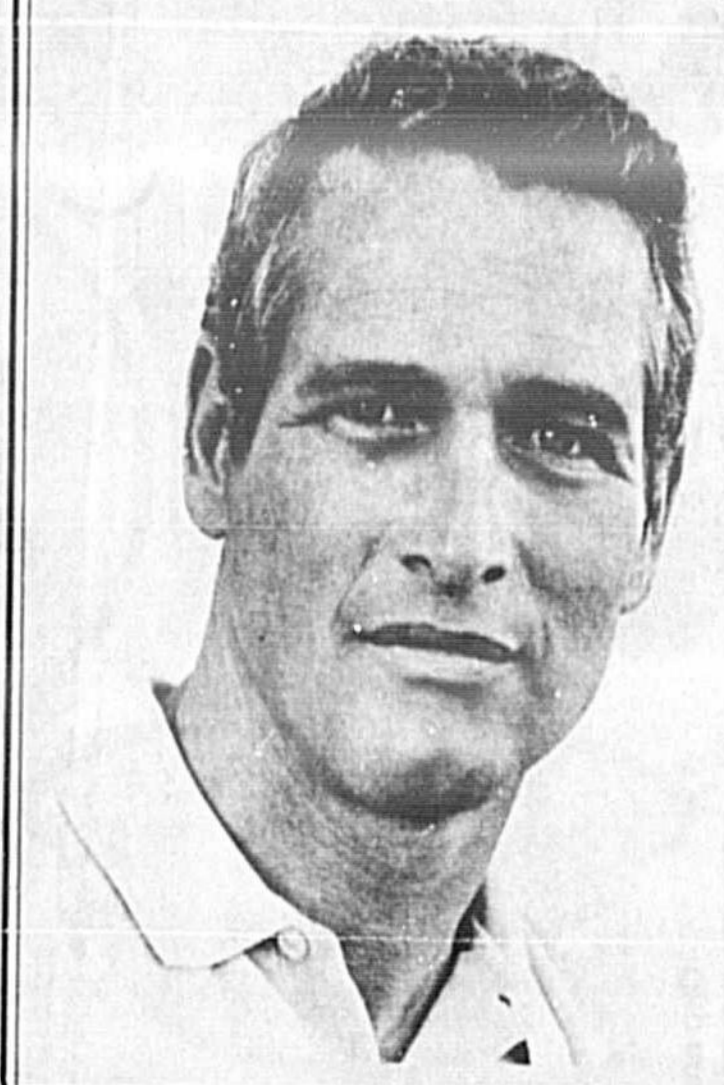

Warren Beatty is honest about his limited culinary abilities. He does a commendable job cooking on camera in his movie, "Shampoo," but admits to being a failure in the kitchen most of the time.

"I really appreciate good food, but I'm a pathetic cook!" he grins.

However, he knows what he likes, and delicately flavored desserts are a favorite, especially coconut soufflé.

"Another thing I like very much is meatloaf, but that's something I don't eat in restaurants because I never know what goes into it! I like to know what I'm eating."

Songwriters Celebrate Bicentennial

The Songwriters Guild of Central Florida, with a continuous flow of original compositions, will say "Happy Birthday, America!" in a Bicentennial Musical to be presented at the Maitland Civic Center on Feb. 22 at 2 p.m.

What started out to be a patriotic program, has turned into a huge patriotic party honoring Uncle Sam, with the entire community involved in the musical treat the Guild has prepared for the area citizens.

Original songs presented in dance, singing, mas ching band, poetry and dramatic skills will say happy birthday in a most unique way. The highlight of the performance will be a huge patriotic theme birthday cake sponsored by the V.F.W. Post 2920 Women Auxiliary, which will feed one thousand, and will be accompanied by hot and cold drinks and fanfare for the audience.

Ivy Davidson is director of the show and will also participate, with her charming family, in several numbers.

The entire community is invited, children are welcome, and all is Free!

Turlington Hopes To Defeat 'Cap' On Enrollments

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington is seeking to have the Cabinet's decision to plan to cut university enrollments to leave no doubt that the matter is dead.

Turlington said Monday that he would ask for a negative vote at the next Cabinet meeting after initially agreeing last week to a request by Chancellor E.T. York to have the matter withdrawn from the agenda.

Frank Mirabella, an aide to Turlington, said the commissioner was worried that a plan to cut university enrollments to leave no doubt that the matter is dead.

But It's Worth It When Ready To Eat

Making Jewish Rye Bread Can Take A Long Time

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

JEWISH RYE BREAD

2 packages active dry yeast
1 1/2 cups warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
2 cups medium rye flour
1 cup room temperature beer, measured after foam subsides
1 tablespoon sugar
3 tablespoons caraway seed
1 tablespoon salt
6 1/2 cups (about) unbleached white flour
2 eggs
3 tablespoons vegetable shortening

In a medium mixing bowl stir 1 package of the yeast into the warm water until dissolved. Add the rye flour; stir together well although mixture does not have to be smooth. Cover bowl tightly with plastic wrap. Let stand at room temperature (68 to 72 degrees) for 3 days and 3 nights. This provides the "starter."

On the fourth day pour the starter into the large bowl of an electric mixer. Add the remaining yeast and the beer; stir together well. Stir in the sugar, 2 tablespoons of the caraway seed, the salt, 2 cups of the white flour and one of the eggs; beat at moderate speed until smooth—about 2 minutes. Add shortening; beat at high speed for 2 minutes. With a wooden spoon work in enough of the remaining white flour (about 4 cups) to make a soft dough.

Turn out on a lightly floured surface; knead, working in the remaining white flour (about 1/2 cup) until smooth and elastic—5 to 10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl; turn to grease top; cover with plastic wrap. Let rise in a warm draft-free place (about 80 degrees) until doubled—about one hour. Punch down dough.

Turn out onto a lightly floured surface. Cut into 3 equal parts. With a floured rolling pin roll out one part to a 12 by 18 inch rectangle; sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the remaining caraway seed. Starting from the 8-inch side, roll up dough tightly and pinch "seam" to seal. Tuck ends under. Roll out and shape remaining two parts the same way. Place two of the loaves seam-side down well apart on a lightly greased large cookie sheet; place the other loaf on a lightly greased small cookie sheet. Cover and let rise about 15 minutes.

Slash top of each loaf diagonally in 3 or 4 equidistant places. In a small mixing bowl lightly beat remaining egg, with 1 tablespoon of water. With a pastry brush, brush tops and sides of loaves with the egg wash, being careful to add just a little at a time so it does not run down onto the pan. (Excess egg wash may be frozen and used another time.) Sprinkle loaves with extra caraway seed. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until browned and bread sounds hollow when tapped with fingers—35 to 45 minutes. Place on wire racks to cool; delicious served while still faintly warm.

To store overnight, place in a brown paper bag and fold over top several times, securing with paper clips. Plastic bags soften the crust. For longer storage, wrap appropriately and freeze. Makes 3 loaves.

Ford's Veto Of Unemployment Aid Bill Rejected Congress Saves 90 Seminole Jobs

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Congressional override of President Gerald Ford's veto of an unemployment aid bill Wednesday saved an estimated 80,000 and the jobs of 90 Seminole County workers, Jim Bedsole said today.

Bedsole, director of the county's Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), said today he was elated at Congressional action because the money is needed here to combat the ever-rising unemployment rate.

The Senate overrode Ford's veto of House Resolution 8069 Wednesday, making it official that the measure is still viable. The bill contains funding for on-the-job training programs, in Seminole County. "Our unemployment rate is over 13 per cent and has been steadily increasing since July of 1974," Bedsole said.

"Without additional money, we can expect unemployment to continue," he added.

Bedsole said without the congressional override, layoffs would have begun in four or five months.

Bedsole said the bill also contains money slated for emergency health services and some other "very important functions" in this county.

In his veto message, Ford called the bill "inflationary." However, Bedsole said 17 Republicans in the Senate crossed over and joined Democrats to override the President's veto.

Bedsole said one reason unemployment here keeps rising is the tide of jobless workers that keeps coming in from other states.

These workers apply for CETA jobs and are accepted. Thus the Seminole County unemployment rate continues to hover at the 13 per cent mark.

Bedsole said this county should have some method of applying for CETA money given to other states. That money, he said, could be used to pay out-of-state workers who land CETA jobs in Florida.

The CETA program pumps federal money into states in an effort to slow down rising unemployment. In Seminole County, that money is utilized to hire workers in cities, the county and in the school system.

The theory behind the program is that employers will realize a CETA worker's worth and continue his employment after federal funds are cut off.

However, in some instances—notably in the cities—off-funds have been quoted as saying that once CETA funds stop—so will the jobs the program once financed.

Chuluota Property Donated

CHULUOTA — Eighty-five-year-old Don A. Loftus, developer of modern day Chuluota, presented a deed for the Chuluota Community Building and surrounding property to Fire Chief Marvin Van Wormer, representing the Chuluota Volunteer Fireman's Association, in a ceremony Wednesday morning.

Confined to a wheel chair, Loftus, accompanied by his daughter Miss Noel Loftus and two nurses, stopped off on his trip from New York City to Miami for the presentation.

Built in 1925 for a school house, for many years the building has been used for community gatherings and in recent years has been used by the fire department volunteers and their auxiliary for meetings.

The Volunteer Firemen, in return, have kept the building in repair, painting and installing heat and air-conditioning in the meeting hall. The Seminole County Fire Department trailer, housing paid full-time firemen and communications equipment, is located on the property.

Several acres surrounding the building, to be renamed the Don A. Loftus Civic Center in honor of the donor, will be developed for use by the public. Old Chuluota was the center of a major land development project in 1914, initiated by the Model Land Co., a Flagler System enterprise, to attract settlers to Florida and make business for the Florida East Coast Line Railway.

Thousands of acres were cut up into 16-acre grove sites, but few people came to buy and the community lay dormant for many years.

In 1957 Loftus purchased land in the area and developed the modern Chuluota community. He spent many years here, living in the old Lake Katherine Inn, and told the group Wednesday, "Chuluota has always been my love."

A member of the original real estate firm, Wallace Lynch, still resides at Lake Katherine Chalet in Chuluota.

Instrumental in obtaining the deed for the building for the Volunteer Fireman's Association was Walter Succov, a member of the fire department who was employed to oversee the development when Loftus returned to the north.

Among those interested persons attending were Loftus' attorneys, Dwight Hostetter, Cleveland, Ohio; and Edwin Eagan of New York; Don Ryan, of California; Fred Kestler of Winter Park; representatives of Seminole County Fire Department and members of the Chuluota Fire Department and the auxiliary.

Also participating in the ceremony were fire department officers Ivan Eichler, president; Alfred Van Wormer, vice president; Deanna Van Wormer, secretary; and Helen Price, treasurer. Deanna and her mother-in-law, Shirley Van Wormer, are full-titled members of the volunteer firefighters.

Disease Of St. Johns Fish Reported To Be Spreading

By AUDIE MURPHY
Herald Staff Writer

A bacterial disease that attacks fish has spread into Lake Harney and Lake Jessup and is getting worse in the St. Johns River, according to a local adviser to the state's Department of Natural Resources.

Delbert J. Euga said today he estimates that 20 per cent of the fish caught yesterday by American Bass Fishermen tournament entrants at Lake Monroe are infected with the disease.

Euga said he hasn't had time to examine thoroughly the 75 pounds of fish caught by participants of the tournament, but added, "When I cut them open I think I know what I'll find."

The disease, aeromonas liquifacia, causes open ulcers to appear on fish and slowly devours the infected fish.

Euga said he had a report that two catfish were seen yesterday, in Brevard County southeast of Lake Harney, swimming around with their bones exposed.

"They were infected so bad, their flesh was all gone, exposing their backbones," Euga said. "I don't know what was keeping them alive."

According to Euga, the disease appears in fish when a "stress condition," involving a build-up of bacteria in water, is present.

The St. Johns River system is now in such a stress condition, he said.

Euga said Jerry Banks, assistant chief of fisheries for the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, is scheduled to arrive in Sanford today to check on the spread of the disease.

Although Euga said the Federal Food and Drug Administration has begun an inquiry into the situation, he refused to speculate on whether commercial fishing in the river system will be halted by state or federal agencies.

"We don't believe there's any danger in eating the (infected) fish if they are cooked properly," Euga said, "but if someone were foolish enough to eat one raw..."

The Game and Fish Commission has been monitoring water conditions in area lakes and rivers, and those conditions "are not getting any better," Euga said.

"At first we thought warm water temperatures were aggravating the situation, but the water is pretty cold now," Euga said.

He said that infected fish specimens are being tested at a laboratory at Auburn University. "We're not sure the laboratory and effects of the disease."

Police Believe Thieves Struck In Virginia

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford Police, FBI agents, Seaboard Coastline Railroad investigators and Lorion, Va., authorities today were conducting a joint investigation into the ransacking of at least 22 automobiles on the Auto-Train that arrived in Sanford about noon Wednesday.

Police said 14 ransacked cars belonging to Auto-Train passengers were processed by evidence technicians after auto carrier cars were opened and autos were found with trunks and doors open with personal property scattered about.

Detective Tom Bernosky said today that items valued in excess of $3,000 have been reported missing from one auto.

"They passed up big furs and televisions," Bernosky said.

He said preliminary investigations lead police to believe the autos were ransacked after they were loaded on the train at Lorion and before the train started south to Florida.

Bernosky said also that at least four of the carriers, with eight autos each, were entered but the carriers were scattered through the long train leading doors can't be opened from the inside, Bernosky said, and it isn't possible to go from one level to the other after the train cars are secured.

Officers said the bi-level auto carrier car doors were intact when the train arrived at the Sanford terminal. The train cars can't be opened from the inside, Bernosky said, and it isn't possible to go from one level to the other after the train cars are secured.

Police said keys are left in the autos being transported so they can be quickly off-loaded at the destination.

"We're sending what we have to the Lorion authorities," Bernosky said, as the train thefts probe continued.

Two Mobile Homes Are Guttled By Fire

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

CASSELBERRY — Two mobile homes were destroyed by fire Wednesday within less than 18 hours in the same neighborhood.

Brian Peine Sr., 20, his wife Sharon and their five-month-old son barely escaped with their lives through a 14 by 14 inch bathroom window after flames engulfed the inside of their mobile home at 1700 Holiday Drive.

Peine's brother-in-law, Jerry Wilson, sleeping in a bedroom in the opposite end of the home, was awakened by the 2 a.m. fire and ran outside where he shouted to awaken the family and helped them out the window.

Longwood Official Wounded

ALAMONTE SPRINGS — Longwood Public Safety Director Douglas Keller was listed in fair condition at Florida Hospital North today after accidentally shooting himself in the left thumb, police said.

Sgt. Greg Manning, who investigated the incident, said that Keller underwent surgery Wednesday evening to have a pin placed in the thumb.

Manning said Keller's revolver, which has a trigger adapter, caught on the safety director's shoulder holster as Keller was preparing to put the holster on and return to work at about 6 p.m.

"It (the gun) went off and hit his thumb," Manning said. The police sergeant said after the incident he (Manning) tried to place the gun in the holster four times and two of the four times the pistol went off.

Manning said it is expected Keller will be released from the hospital Friday.
