County Commission Chairnan Sid Vihlen Jr. has met with representives of a proposed tricounty industrial authority and pledged Seminole County officials will keep an open mind towards funding the agency at some future date. Designed to lure new industry to the Central Florida area, the authority's creation has top priority next year for the Central Florida Development Committee (CFDC). Before any Seminole County funds are committed, it would require approval of the full board.

"I'm sure the board will have an open mind, because this is the first time in modern history when it's important not to get involved in controversy, but to work toward a unified effort to solicit and bring in new ousiness," Vihlen said.

The authority's aim, ac-cording to its president Craig inton, is to woo industry to this area and to correct present "fractured" efforts by conducting more intensive efficient campaigns to bring in ndustry.

Though agencies designed to attract new industry already exist in Seminole County, Vihlen said the depressed economy mandates that officials keep an open mind. In fact, Jim Daniel, the director of the Seminole County Industrial Development (SCIDA), is Authority scheduled to meet at some later date with officials of the tricounty industrial authority, Vihlen said.

Also located here are the Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) and an airport authority, both designed to lure new business to this area.

Although some 55 business are located at the airport and room for only a few additional exist, airport officials say the agency is always on the lookout. And SCOPA spokesman Dennis Dolgner said that port at present has some "viable prospects" in the hopper. "Some are confidential,

United Way Aids County YMCA The Young Men's Christian

Association (YMCA) of Seminole County offers a wide variety of healthful activities for both children and adults. Located on State Road 434 near Longwood, the Seminole YMCA is occupying a former residence on five acres of land, but Senior Program Administrator Paul Morgan said recently that the YMCA is hoping to obtain a new building in the near future. In the meantime, the Seminole YMCA is making the best of the situation by offering a slate of activities that range from cheerleading to karate. The Community Projects

Department, which is directed by Jay Clark, sponsors the Gray-Y ports program for boys in grades 3 5, and the Tri-Gray-Y program. The Middle School Department, directed by Jerry Dixon, provides the youngsters in grades 6-8 with sports activities that include tackle football and soccer. The YMCA also sponsors the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y service clubs in high schools. "No child is ever turned away because he can't afford YMCA activities," Paul Morgan said. "If a child can't pay, we provide a scholarship so that he or she can participate."

The Seminole YMCA, now serving 8,000 people with its programs, is a member of the Central Florida YMCA Association.

Ford Pushes Food Stamp Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford 's plan to change the federal food stamp program will concentrate benefits to the nation's needlest families and reduce costs to taxpayers by at least $1 billion. White House sources

Ford spent part of Sunday finishing his proposals, which will be presented to Congress today by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

The 11-year-old food-stamp program in August was serving an estimated 18.8 million persons at an annual cost to the federal government of $5.2 billion.

Corruption Attack Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) - Justice Department officials are preparing a major attack on government corruption and lucrative national and international fraud schemes, says the department's chief criminal prosecutor. Assistant Atty. Gen. Richard L. Thornburgh said the i iminal division will hire more lawyers and devote more attention to investigating and prosecuting corruption, organized crime and white-collar crime. But the effort could be hampered if the Internal Revenue Service gets out of criminal investigations, Thornburgh said in an interview.

Congress To Mull Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) - After a week's recess, Congress is returning to work today to tackle the problem of natural gas shortager and the question of whether there should be another tax cut next year. The legislative load facing the lawmakers is so heavy and includes so many controversies that congressional leaders say the 1975 session will run to Christmas and perhaps even New Year's.

PSC To Start Studying Phone Information Charges

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - The Public Service

Commission is expected to start a study today to determine what methods telephone companies should use in charging customers for information calls. The Winter Park Telephone Co. wants to start charging for information calls only for numbers listed in directories, while the General Telephone Co. is already charging, on an interim basis, 15 cents for each directory assistance call after six a month. Wayne Freeman, assistant vice president of Winter Park's system, said the expense for selective charges will be only slightly more than a plan to charge for all information calls - whether the numbers are listed or not.

Sugar Lease Guide Expected TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Harmon Shields. director of the Department of Natural Resources, will make a recommendation early this week on a controversial proposal by U.S. Sugar Corp. to lease state land in the Everglades, officials say.

The proposal is to go to the Cabinet Nov. 4. But even as a decision approaches on whether the land can be used for sugar cane, a compromise proposal to settle the controversy has fallen apart.

U.S. Sugar last month cut the amount of land it was proposing to lease in Palm Beach County from 8,644 acres to 3,845 in an attempt to placate Florida Wildlife Federation opposition. But the firm notified the DNR last week that it was going back to the full proposal.

Camil Lauds Jury's Verdict

GAINESVILLE (AP) - Former Gainesville-Eight defendant Scott Camil, cleared in what he claims was a second attempt by federal agents to frame him, says the most recent verdict has a simple meaning. "I think that it just says there are certain things we won't stand for," Camil said after the verdict Saturday by a 12-member federal jury. The jury deliberated three hours before finding Camil and co-defendant Larry Taylor innocent of charges of selling cocaine and assaulting two federal undercover agents. Camil was shot by one of the agents during the March 31 incident that led to his arrest.

Disabled Motorist Robbed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Oscar P. Snyder says hundreds of motorists passed him as he lay slumped in his car, slipping into a diabetic coma. The first to stop, after two hours, were two men who robbed him of $150. "About a half-hour later, the same two came back and they didn't bring any ambulance," Snyder said Sunday as e recuperated in a Hollywood hospital. Instead, he said, this time they took his watch and ring. "The last thing I expected was to get robbed," he said. "I was praying that someone would stop - but not for

Colson: We Are Marked Men

BUSHNELL (AP) - Convicted Watergate figure Charles Colson, who is campaigning for prison reform. has warned prisoners here not to expect to be accepted back in society upon their release. "We are marked men," the former White House special counsel told about 50 inmates Sunday at Florida's Sumter Correctional Institute. "Society is not forgiving. Society is going to turn its back on you." But Colson, released from prison in January after serving seven months for obstruction of justice in the Watergate affair, said he is thankful for the time he spent in jail because he "grew closer to the Lord."

Reagan Aide Optimistic

ORLANDO (AP) - The top southern strategist for Ronald Reagan has predicted that the former California governor will do "very well" in Florida's Republican primary March 9.

"We are going to make a major effort in Florida, David Keene said as he kicked off a statewide campaign Sunday to drum up voter support in 20 big counties.

Air Strike Talks Resume

MIAMI (AP) - Federal media ors resumed today their attempt to settle a 52-day-old strike by flight attendants that has shut down National Airlines. The afternoon negotiating session was called for by William J. Usery, President Ford's special assistant for labor. There have been no negotiations for a month.

Sensitive Issues In Mideast Crisis

A period of suspended animation in carrying out the Israeli-Egyptian agreements appears to be ending. Although Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is unhappy about a Senate committee's decision to publicize documents he believes should be kept secret, the way is clear for congressional approval of the assignment of American civilians as truce monitors in the Sinai.

Senators who voted to publish some of the confidential background of the agreements say the information has been leaked to the press anyhow. That is not the point. Congress is running the risk of damaging the confidence which Middle East governments must place in Mr. Kissinger if his role as a mediator is to continue.

Mr. Kissinger now faces the formidable task of finding some ground for communication between Israel and Syria on the issue of the Golan Heights. the strategic position on their border which the Israelis have occupied since 1967. Some movement on that negotiating front may be necessary to avoid a reconvening of the Geneva conference with all the parties locked into irreconcilable positions.

The Golan Heights problem may represent an even steeper obstacle for Mr. Kissinger than it did before the Sinai agreements. The commitments and "intentions" linking the United States of America to Israel's support, and the aid promised to Egypt under the agreements, leave our government with less to offer to sweeten the terms for any agreement between Israel and Syria.

Israel has put down deeper roots in the occupied Golan Heights than it had in the Sinai territory to be ceded back to Egypt. There are now 20 Israeli settlements in what was once part of Syria. In military terms, the Golan Heights have greater strategic significance than the Sinai passes Israel is giving up.

While Israel could be expected to attach a high price to any surrender of territory along the Syrian border, the Syrian government is under pressure to refuse to deal with the Israelis unless the territorial issue is linked with the political demands of the Palestinians.

The task for Mr. Kissinger is to persuade the Israelis that new arms aid coming from the United States will compensate for any pullback from the Golan Heights, and to persuade president Hafez Assad of Syria that he would not be betraying the Palestinians by going along with the step-by-step approach to peace.

The compromises which Egypt and Israel made to produce the Sinai agreement may look pale in comparison with those that Israel and Syria must make to come to terms over the Golan Heights. Mr. Kissinger now must seek some profound changes of attitude both in Jerusalem and Damascus

Reason Returning

After months of unnecessary wrangling the U.S. House of Representatives did the right thing by clearing the way for a resumption of arms sales to Turkey

The House action is but a first step. Much remains to be done by Congress and the Administration before the relations between Turkey and the United States approach normality. Wounds on the Turkish pride that have been inflicted by Congress are deep and raw.

Moreover, the House did not help matters by taking another jab at the sensitive issue of Turkish opium growing by mentioning the subject gratuitously in a "minor" amendment to the arms sales bill. The amendment does not have the force of law but simply requests the President to negotiate on the subject which he already is doing.

Nevertheless the door that was swinging shut between us and Turkey now is at least stationary. We urge Congress to start pushing it open by withdrawing from all of the areas of foreign affairs that constitutionally belong in the jurisdiction of the President.

In addition to the ban on arms sales, these areas include intervention into the sale of Hawk missiles to Jordan, unnecessary needling of the Secretary of State about what he said to whom and an unconstitutional House intervention into negotiations for a Panama treaty. Now that the House has taken the first step, succeeding ones should be easier.

RAY CROMLEY All Study Proves Is Expense I have just finished reading a series of studies on marijuana, alcohol, tobacco use and attitudes. They've cost somewhat over $1.2 million to date.

One section relates alcohol and marijuana to crime. After showing statistically a strong association between use of both and shoplifting. theft, breaking and entering - the greater the use, the closer the correlation with crime - the study goes on to say we should make nothing of the matter

Some of the individuals studied committed these crimes before turning to drugs, some after. And the data is such that one can come to no conclusions at all about any relationship between crime and the use of either marijuana or alcohol - either to say that drug use leads to crime or a proclivity for crime leads to drug use. So what do we have?

Other sections of the reports are equally yes, no, perhaps, but don't put any credence into it. We need more money to make further studies. Some of the researchers believe their work shows the use of tobacco among some major groups of the population may be increasing. Others think this may be a statistical anomaly giving a result which may or may not be true in fact. Some believe their studies indicate tobacco use is declining percentagewise in the same

There seems to be agreement among the researchers that marijuana and alcohol are growing in popularity among the younger groups, the ages from 12 to 17. Percentage use is seemingly highest among the 18 to 25 year olds. But it's not clear what happens then - whether this group keeps on with marijuana in the same numbers, or whether, once settled down with a wife and family, as one researcher put it, there's a tendency to give up marijuana, if not alcohol and tobacco.

The mushiness of these studies is typical of much of the research now being funded by the federal government in an attempt to attack crime, welfare, drug addiction and other contemporary social problems.

Helmets: Shared Concern

DON OAKLEY

A nationwide effort is underway to repeal laws that require motorcyclists to wear helmets when they ride on public streets and roads, reports the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

The effort is spearheaded primarily by motorcyclists and motorcyclist organizations concerned about their alleged loss of con-, stitutional rights. Those fighting helmet laws also claim that helmets which meet the federal standard are actually a hazard.

All the states except California, Illinois and Utah have laws that comply with the Department of Transportation's standards regarding motorcycle safety. For several years, motorcyclists have sought repeal of mandatory helmet laws by concentrating efforts in individual state egislatures, and 14 states currently have such bills under consideration. Repeal efforts have been thwarted, however, mainly because of the possibility of a state's losing all federal highway safety funds and 10 per cent of federal highway construction funds. Thus efforts are now shifting to the national level in an attempt to remove the threat of federal penalties against states repealing helmet laws. Five such bills are now pending in Congress. To the claim that helmets themselves cause accidents and injuries, the National Highway Traffic Administration replies that it knows of no factual data to support this contention. On the contrary, a 1974 analysis comparing helmet efficiency in Michigan (which has a helmet law) and Illinois (which does not have a helmet law) found that motorcycle crashes in Illinois resulted in "almost three times more serious or fatal head injury than similar accidents in Michigan." But what about the argument of motorcyclists that it's nobody's business but their own if they want to risk having their skulls smashed? Both the validity and the constitutionality of helmet laws are well established, says the Insurance Institute, It quotes the 1972 opinion of the Federal District Court for Massachusetts upholding that state's law (subsequently af-

CINNINNATI (AP) - All umpires should be officials of baseball and not instruments of the rival National and American Leagues, says former commissioner A.B. "Happy" Chandler.

"If this were the case, we probably would have avoided some of the problems we have had in this World Series," added the 77-year-old former governor of Kentucky who ruled the game with an iron fist after World War II.

"It seems pretty ridiculous to have high ball callers in one league, low ball callers in the other. designated hitters and no designated hitters and different interpretations of the balk rule.

"I know the league presidents oppose it bitterly and maybe most of the owners, but the umpires should be assigned to the commissioner. They should work in both leagues and follow a single code. "Umpires belong to the game, not to the leagues. They belong to the fans." Old Happy still is making sense after 24 years o ostracism by the game following his ouster by owners after the 1951 All-Star Game.

"For 24 years, I didn't hear from anybody - not Ford Frick and not that lieutenant general fellow who followed him - 1 forgot his name," Chandler said

Games will be seven innings and the team with the best record will be declared champion. Tournament tickets are $2. MVP will receive a trophy, presented by Zinn Beck, natch.

- There is a drive underway to raise funds in the name of the Seminole High Class of 70, to benefit the Seminole Stadium fund. Alumni members should contact Jim Talmadge at 323-1450 or Rick Smith at 322-6211.

- Things just seem to happen Devil's Advocate at the Seminole Turf Club. In that feature 10th race Saturday night, Advocate had the race won when he broke stride at the head of the stretch and switched from a trot to a pace. Few fans noticed driver Frank Rusin couldn't get him back on stride, and he paced the rest of the way. Decatur Boy, second all the way, was moved up to first in the trot feature. Cap Cole, the expected co-favorite, never got untracked and Winningest driver so far is Don Brainard with 10 victories.

Seminole Boosters Golf Tourney

- Seminole High Boosters Club is also getting in on the fund-raising bandwagon by staging a Nov. 1 golf tournament at Mayfair. Entry fee is $25, and golfers interested in kicking in toward the stadium fund are welcome to do so. Lunch, drinks and golf is included.

- Orlando-Seminole Jai-Alai got a good one when it signed Celaya, 25-year-old newcomer who formerly played in Miami. Celaya has 10 singles victories after 40 performances. He's played in the early singles so far, but watch for players-manager Juan Arrieta to move him into the feature 10th game soon. Sanchez, Celaya, Azpi and Fermin are off to strong starts in the most-wins chase.

-Sanford's junior bantam team in the Pop Warner League is within one victory of a bowl bid. A win against Pinecastle will assure the team, coached by Sonny Scott, of playing in either the Kumquat or Disney Bowl. The team is also scheduled to play in Atlanta Nov. 1.
