Stetson And Maryville Will Play Football In Sanford On Thanksgiving

Sanford football fans will have a chance to see one more game of college football before the curtain is drawn.

Stetson University of DeLand and Maryville College of Maryville, Tenn., will clash on Municipal Grounds here Thanksgiving Day. The game has been transferred from DeLand to Sanford by an agreement between Coach McQuillan of Stetson and Maryville College athletic authorities.

The game will be played under the auspices of Campbell-Lossing Post, No. 53, American Legion. Coach McQuillan of Stetson conferred with American Legion officials here late Monday afternoon. The Stetson mentor asked the legion officials, M. B. Hutton and Leroy P. Chittenden, respectively retiring and incoming commanders of the legion post, to make the Stetson athletic authorities a business proposition.

A tentative proposition contingent upon the terms offered by the Maryville College authorities was made at the conference. This morning a message was received from Coach L. S. Honaker of Maryville which contained financial terms that were satisfactory to the Stetson and American Legion officials. The receipt of this telegram clinched the game for Sanford. A special meeting of the legion will be called for this week when the proposition will be placed before the members.

Stetson and Maryville, meeting strong foes, have either vanquished them or held their opponents to low scores.

Maryville clashed with both the University of Kentucky and University of Tennessee and held them both to low scores.

Tennessee, a strong contender for Southern Conference honors, met its defeat last Saturday by Vanderbilt, beat Maryville three weeks ago by a lone touchdown. The final score was 8 to 0.

Maryville turns out strong teams in football, basketball and baseball. The college operated by the Presbyterian church, has control over the student body in many respects similar to Notre Dame University, famous for its athletic teams, particularly football. The students live on the campus. They eat, sleep, study and play on the college property. Maryville has five dormitories. The solidarity of college life makes for a strong school spirit and is responsible for the development and student support of fine athletic teams.

At Notre Dame, more than half of the 2,500 male students live in the residence halls. The men eat, sleep, play and study on the campus at this Catholic university and are under the close supervision of the faculty. The discipline and campus life has played a great part in providing Coach Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame mentor, with plenty of material and men of an athletic trend and sound bodies. Maryville College athletic teams have benefited in the same measure as the result of the discipline and campus life.

Stetson University spirit is running high this season as the result of the marvelous victories of the Hatters. When the Stetsonites clashed with the Rollins Tars in Sanford on Rollins Home-Coming day, the Stetson student body attended the game almost 100 per cent. Friends of the Baptist school in DeLand have also supported the team enthusiastically.

Stetson easily defeated the Rollins Tars, 33 to 0. The Hatters won over the Southern Moccasins, 17 to 0. Southern held the University of Florida Alligators to a score of 16 to 0 early in the season, and on a comparative score basis, Stetson would be reckoned to be on equal scoring terms with the Alligators. Stetson clashed with the strong Spring Hill College eleven of Mobile, Ala., in Tampa three weeks ago and the game ended in a scoreless tie. Spring Hill usually turns out football teams that can hold their own with Harvard, Birmingham-Southern, Tulane and other strong Southern football teams.

GOPHERS WILL BE STIFF OPPONENTS FOR WOLVERINES

Minnesota With Rejuvenated Eleven Comes to Michigan Saturday for 2nd Contest; Northwestern Due for Win

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A queer twist in the 1926 conference football schedule threatens to toss the Big Ten championship just beyond the grasp of Michigan. For of the two eleven fighting it out in the stretch of the title race, Michigan has the harder final leg because of a schedule irregularity that makes Minnesota a foe for the second time of the season.

Northwestern, on the other hand having had two easy victories over Indiana, has benefited by the twist and is a decided favorite to down Iowa while the Wolverines brace against Minnesota's assault.

Six weeks ago the two teams looked like good fortune for Michigan; just after a 20 to 0 victory in the first of the series. The fall has shown that defeat to be the turning point in Minnesota's fortunes, however, and the Gophers now loom in Michigan's path after an ominous 81 to 0 conquest of Butler.

The Butler game found the traditionally crushing Gopher attack away to a slow start this fall, almost at its peak, and Yost finds himself this week worrying about defense than about the offense which swept aside Ohio State last Saturday by an unacceptably narrow margin.

Both Yost and Spears labored today with teams in perfect condition, machine was given a preliminary running over and Minnesota Spears plunged into the series of new plays given his team last week, but not, as Michigan coaches used in the crushing victory over the Hoosier eleven.

Northwestern turned to the finale with Iowa. Stagg marshaled his Chicago forces with an additional chance of turning back Wisconsin in the renewal of their old warfare.

Illinois is grooming the drop-kicking Frosty Peters and his mates to catch Ohio State's and the above the Buckeyes for a possible second rank in the Big Ten standing. Indiana and Purdue are working for the fifth of the series which rings down the season's curtain with every team in

40 Pro Golfers At Pinehurst For The Mid-South Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 16.—(AP)—With Jim Barnes, former American and British open champion, leading the procession 40 professional players had arrived here today for the annual mid-South amateur-professional best ball championship tournament which starts at the Pinehurst Country Club on Wednesday.

Many of the professionals booked for the best ball matches had not arrived today. Among those arriving besides Barnes, who is paired with Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge, N. Y., are Henry and Al Ciuci, of French Meadows; Freddie McLeod, Washington; Tommy and Sandy Armour, of New York; Al Espinosa, Emmett French, Southern Pines, N. C., and Carl Rocco, Vero Beach, Florida.

Donald Parsons, of Youngstown, Ohio, will be paired with Emmett French, Halbert Blue, of Aberdeen, S. D., Ellis Maples, Pinehurst, and Dick Wilson, Southern Pines, are among the amateur contestants already entered.

Wednesday will be occupied with amateur-professional best ball, four ball matches and Thursday with best ball matches for amateurs paired together and similar matches for teams of professionals.

Ohio State To Have Harvard Place On Princeton Schedule

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Ohio State is to have Harvard's place on Princeton's football schedule next year.

The announcement came at the same time as news that the Princeton student council had accepted Harvard's invitation to a conference to consider the difficulties between the two universities that resulted in suspension of athletic contact last week.

Both Harvard and Princeton will meet Western conference teams next fall. Indiana has been given a place on Harvard's schedule. No announcement has come from Harvard, however, in regard to a successor for the date left open by Princeton's break in relations.

The Princeton schedule follows: October 3, Amherst; 8th, Lehigh; 15th, Washington and Lee; 22nd, Cornell; 29th, William and Mary; November 5th, Ohio State; 12th, Yale. The Yale game is the only one which will be played in

Sanford, N. C., on Thanksgiving Day. The game will be played under the auspices of Campbell-Lossing Post, No. 53, American Legion. Coach McQuillan of Stetson conferred with American Legion officials here late Monday afternoon. The Stetson mentor asked the legion officials, M. B. Hutton and Leroy P. ## Conflict Between Harvard And Yale To Furnish Most Colorful Saturday Event

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The drama of the annual Harvard and Yale battle, robbed of much of its importance by early season defeats and Princeton domination of the final Big Three series, provides the colorful feature of Saturday's conflicts as the eastern football season nears a close.

Although Tad Jones plans little change in the front that will face Harvard, the Crimson machine is due for a complete overhauling. Coach Arnold Herwee announced that a sweeping reorganization of the eleven would take place this week. Only two men are certain of places in the starting lineup. Pratt will be at guard and Sayles at fullback. Captain Coady, injured in the Princeton struggle will fill a tackle berth if his condition permits.

While Navy, Brown and Army, the three leading candidates for the eastern laurel wreath, take "breathers" this week in Loyola, New Hampshire University, and Ursinus respectively, Lafayette and New York University, the two other undefeated and untied eleven, bring their successful seasons to a close. Lafayette expects little competition from the Lehigh team but New York must fight hard against the University of Nebraska, in Lincoln.

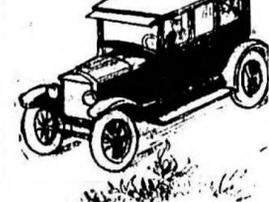

The mighty Georgetown outfit brings a massive squad to New York for the annual Fordham engagement. West Virginia has a tartar in Carnegie Tech. "Whippet" Carr, flashy Syracuse back, is working lightly in the hope of seeing action against Niagara Saturday. Holy Cross has a tilt with the much defeated Boston University eleven and Boston College takes a final workout against Providence College.

Colgate will rest for the annual classic with Brown on the Thanksgiving holiday card.

The Navy alone of the service eleven can work for national recognition in the annual Army struggle in Chicago on Nov. 27. A commanding victory for Navy in the coming classic, not only would settle the Sailors at the eastern pinnacle but would replace Navy on a par with Notre Dame for country-wide honors.

Scholastic Requirements For Athletic Team Players To Be Debated At Meeting

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Scholastic requirements for members of athletic teams and regulation of absences brought about by athletic games are expected to have a prominent place in the discussion at the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools when that body assembles here on Nov. 30, for a four-day session.

The tendency in the association has been to uphold high standards for athletes and to restrict absences to a minimum. Professor J. Reed Lin, of Millsaps College, aid in discussing this phase of the meeting. The professor considered action to enforce regular attendance as probable at the coming meeting.

The 72 colleges and 48 secondary schools from twelve southern states will come to Jackson as guests of Millsaps and Mississippi College, although all members of the association in Mississippi joined in the invitation. Reservations for 250 delegates have been made and officials are expecting an attendance of more than 300 of the South's leading educators.

The routine of business is established so as to speed action as much as possible and to thrash out the many problems during the four-day session. Following the usual plan the commission on colleges and the commission on secondary schools will meet on Nov. 26 in order to present the definite plans before the first general meeting of the association on the morning of Dec. 2.

All problems will be thoroughly thrashed out by the commissions before being called to the attention of the general session. Two full days will be taken up in this manner with the commissions holding separate sessions to consider the problem of their groups.

The commission on colleges, headed by Dean H. D. Campbell of Washington and Lee University, permanent chairman, will take up the much-discussed problem of the scholastic requirements for members of college athletic teams and is expected to have definite recommendations for presentation before the general meeting. Dr. A. L. Bondurant, of the University of Mississippi, is secretary of the commission.

A number of new institutions of higher learning have filed membership applications with the association and these will be placed before the commission at the opening of the meeting. Practically all of the standard literary schools of the South are now members but few of the technical schools have been admitted. Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and the Georgia School of Technology being notable exceptions.

Revision of the list of accredited schools and the admission of new secondary schools to membership will be the principal business before the commission on secondary schools, according to Professor Lin, a member of the committee. The graduates of the accredited schools are admitted to only and all colleges and universities in the United States without examination except those schools that refuse admission on the certificate plan. W. L. Spencer, state high school supervisor for Alabama, is chairman of the commission on secondary schools.

Princeton-Crimson May Renew Relations As Result of Parley

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Prospects for restoration of relations between Princeton and Harvard appeared brighter today.

An invitation for "a complete and frank discussion of the grievances of each university" tendered by Harvard to Princeton, will be accepted by Princeton, judging from the opinion of a spokesman.

The invitation was sent last night by the Harvard student council to the Princeton senior council. It was in reply to a letter sent by the Princeton council before Princeton decided to break off relations.

Princeton's letter referred to an attack on Princeton morals in the Harvard Lampoon last Saturday, the day of the Princeton-Harvard football game, and asked for a definite expression of opinion as to Princeton from the Harvard student council.

The meeting was devoted to work of the club's "Big Brother" committee of which Heyward is chairman. Fred R. Woodworth, chairman of the Seminole Welfare Board, spoke of work being done by the board. Mrs. Woodworth said that in the 156 months of the past year a total of 345 individuals were in need of help. She was given a vote of appreciation by the club in appreciation of her efforts.

Dance and banquet will feature "Indian night," at the Fort Lake Hotel late in December. Early in January, it was announced today. Orlando Kiwanis will be invited to be the guests of the Sanford club.

The Kiwanis club decided to assist in furnishing automobiles to be used in escorting delegates and visitors to the state convention of the Y. M. C. A. next Monday and Tuesday. Other civic organizations are also expected to furnish automobiles. R. A. Winston is chairman of the committee on automobile donations. Drivers are asked to bring their cars to the First Presbyterian Church at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

W. W. Lawton and G. E. McKay were appointed as a committee to have school children present at the showing of an educational film at the Milane Theatre at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Ten undernourished children will be provided for in the "Big Brother" committee's budget, it was decided.

garments, the Tulk woman was in deshabille. Asking but few questions, the troopers gathered the flock together and rushed them to jail for questioning.

The raid was made as the result of information given the police by Mrs. Bessie Woodworth and her husband, both former members of the cult and complainants against the rule which holds members under sovereign sway of the king, self-styled "Brother to the Saviour."

Torn from his realm and faced by his accusers and acquaintances of former years, Purnell broke under the quizzing of police to admit his identity.

Fate of Man Unknown
What will be done with the prisoners has not been decided. Facing Purnell are a series of charges, serious both to him and the colony. First plans to rush him at once to Lansing were abandoned.

Charges sworn to by Ruth B. Reed and Gladys B. Rubel, face him as well as several civil suits, one of which seeks dissolution of the colony.

Ready to appear against him is an array of witnesses brought together in previous investigations and grand jury proceedings which so far have resulted in but little.

Rewards for the capture of the "King" have been posted totalling approximately $4,000. Repeated attempts to disclose immorality in the colony have resulted in the starting of lawsuits that are still hanging fire.

Accompanying the raiders in this morning's attack were Mr. and Mrs. Woodworth, both of whom formerly lived within the mysterious realm where Purnell held sway. Their mothers are still members of the cult.

Probe Made 3 Years Ago
Three years ago a grand jury investigation conducted by Judge Harry J. Dingeman of Detroit, into the affairs of the cult brought forward Mrs. Woodworth as a complainant. At that time she told of her forced marriages as the King's command and related that young girls were brought to perform strange religious practices at the bidding of their leader.

It was she who vouchsafed the information that the king still maintained his residence among his people and still exercised sovereign powers there. "Shiloh" where Purnell had lived before his escape, was abandoned, but it was not until today that the outside world realized the real purpose of the administration building close by.

Shielded by shrubbery and trees this building defied inspection of inquisitive eyes.

Among the features of government to which the state object has been that of requiring the deeding of all properties to the order by those who adopted the faith.

Fraud Practiced by Leader
In actions brought against the colony by the state, it has been charged that it has fraudulently obtained control of property valued "in excess of $50,000," that the colony has in effect set up its own government which it holds to be greater than the state; that members have been deluded in conveying property to Purnell by "fantastic promises of immortality," and that immoral acts were induced and permitted under the guise of religious discipline.

The Tulk woman, apparently favorite of the King, disappeared from "Shiloh" at the same time as the leader, after the Misses Rubel and Reid had started action for recovery of property which they claimed was due them.

Rumors that the fugitive king had never left but remained hidden resulted in a fruitless raid three years ago. It was charged that information had been forwarded to the House of David followers and that the King was spirited away from harm.

Remained Through Probe
Asked this morning if he had remained here throughout all the investigation Purnell nodded affirmatively.

Coincident with the completion of plans for this morning's raid came news of the apprehension in Fort Worth, Texas, of a man, re-

Day's First Nights Become Big Showoff for Rooters And Fashion

Nov. 17.—Roosters and the large personal following of stars which overflowed the theatres with flowers on a promise, also have virtually disappeared.

First nights now are self-appointed fashion shows, the leisurely movement of smartly groomed men and women to their seats, constituting a parade of styles. Evening apparel or formal dress are the usual thing. Just how attractive is this feature of an opening was pointed out by one of the producers. One chronic fire-nighter complained of being given seats in row "M" because "my wife would be displeased at sitting so far back." The tickets were exchanged for row "AA," which afforded an excellent view of the orchestra conductor. However the couple had the advantage of a trip the full length of the aisle. Lady Astor and her party occupied the seats in "M."

Revue Crowds Colorful

The most colorful of the theatrical crowds are those that attend the opening of the musical shows and revues, and which are the exception to the general rule of first night. They have capacity attendance, made up of persons who can pay the $11 to $55 for a seat. They go to some of these shows anticipating art and to others expecting filth.

Much of the pomp, circumstance and fanfare that once belonged to the stage now marks the premiere of a screen play.

The photoplay opening is a thing of glamour and eclat, according to one producer, partly because of the publicity it gives the picture elsewhere. The "noise" about a big picture in New York City comes no time, he said, in reaching exhibitors at such points as Little Rock and Spokane, and it stimulates contracts for the picture.

the first public announcement of the discovery by Dr. McCollum, now of John Hopkins, of vitamins, the which have since all systems of nutrition were to show might be accomplished by correct feeding. That new knowledge was applied to the young fellow, just out of school in 1907, working in Experiment Station at Wisconsin," he said. "I determined relative nutrition values of the then known food elements (proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and oil).

"White mice, used in the experiments, were fed pure protein, carbohydrate, etc. But the animals did not thrive. Neither would a carbohydrate diet suffice, nor a straight diet of any pure element. Combinations of two, three, or all these elements in pure form also failed."

Tried Different Foods

During the first period of experimentation, the first three elements, A, B, and C, were found. In the last three years, D and E have been revealed.

Dr. McCollum does not believe there are yet undiscovered vitamins. Scientific attention is now being given, he said, to the problem of isolating these Xs, the unknown quantities, of food. When that is accomplished, it is possible that the future man's menu will be: protein, eight ounces; carbohydrates, three ounces; fats, minerals and oil, one ounce each—providing always that the whole is garnished with a sauce of the essence of the vitamins.

Permanent Place For County Seat Is Martin County Need

STUART, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A permanent location for a county seat of Martin county and the issuance of bonds approximating $1,500,000 were advocated by representative landowners at a conference held here, who decided that the two problems should be placed before the people of the county at an early date.

The bond issue, it was said, would provide for expenditures for new county roads and improvements and additions to existing roads and bridges. Two-thirds of the sum or $1,000,000, would be spent on back county projects, namely, the Martin highway, McCrary road, Olympic road, Gaines highway and the Britt road, and two bridges leading to those roads, it was agreed. A half million dollars will be needed, it was added for additions and improvements on connecting links in the road system of the coastal section of the county.

The conference adopted a motion approaching the contemplated issue and asking the county commission to call an election to decide on the permanent location of a county seat, with the provision that only $500,000 would be spent on the court house, new or additions thereto, within a period of five years from the formation of Martin county.

Pensacola Banking Case Is Announced

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Formal notice of appeal in the case of the American National Bank of Pensacola, vs. the tax collector of Escambia county, has been entered by Assistant Attorney General H. E. Carter.

The case has been made returnable before the Supreme Court on Dec. 12.

The bank was granted a temporary injunction by Circuit Judge A. G. Campbell against the collection of county, district and state taxes on its capital stock. The basis of Judge Campbell's ruling was that the collection was unconstitutional and discriminatory.

If the Supreme Court does not set aside the injunction, hundreds of thousands of dollars derived by the state from such taxation will be cut from the revenue, because it will mean that the capital stock of all banks of the state is exempt from taxation under the present constitutional provisions.

Betting Odds Are Against Ex-Kaiser To Live In Berlin

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The German betting odds are strongly against ex-Emperor William and his wife ever taking up their abode in the Prussian country estate reserved to them for life as a potential residence in the settlement between the State of Prussia and the Hohenzollerns.

It is generally agreed, however, that it was quite natural for the ex-Kaiser to pick the particular place he selected, as Bad Homburg where the estate and castle are located, has long been famous as a resort to which royalty flocked for health and recreation.

Not only did members of the German royal families frequent Bad Homburg in the old days, but the late King Edward VII of England, then Prince of Wales, began coming to Bad Homburg in 1892. For a long period he spent several weeks there every year drinking the curative waters. The English colony that followed was for years the most numerous one from abroad.

FILM RAINS NOW OPENING TO THE 2ND GENERATION

Eleven Children of Screen Actors Have Already Made Film Debuts While Others Plan to Enter Cinema Work

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The second generation of motion picture players with familiar names is making its appearance on the silver sheet.

At least children of movie actors, the parents of some being stars have made their debut on the screen. They are Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Ralph and Virginia Bushman, Lincoln Steadman, Richard Walling, Edward Piel, Jr., Rita Carewe, Ann Rork, Lambert Hillier, Tim Holt and Dolores Costello.

After Father's Laurels

Young Walling is the 20-year-old son of William Walling, stage and screen actor. He had taken up commercial art and was working as a helper and studying photography in the Lasky studio laboratory when he was "discovered". His only previous experience in acting was at the age of six as "Jimmy" in "Salvation Nell", played by a stock company in San Francisco.

Ralph Bushman also recently made his initial appearance in the movies and immediately was placed under contract for another picture. He thus is competing for a place among the Kilg lights such as that of his father, Francis X. Bushman. Virginia, Ralph's sister, was married after her screen debut.

Young Piel, about 18 years old, is the son of the character actor who usually is seen in "heavy" roles.

Others On The Way

Lincoln Steadman is the 20-year-old son of Myrtle Steadman, former star and now a character actress.

Miss Carewe is the daughter of Edwin Carewe, Miss Rork the daughter of Sam Rork and Hillier the son of Edith York.

Tim, son of Jack Holt, has had a few small parts in his father's pictures.

Misa Costello, eldest daughter of Maurice Costello, the screen hero and idol of ten years ago, has been hailed as a "find" at the age of 19. Her sister, Helene, also is under contract.

Several movie actors and actresses have children who have not yet had their first screen tests. Florence Vidor has a young daughter, Suzanne; Gloria Swanson has a five-year-old daughter, Gloria, and an adopted son, Noah Beery has a young son, Junior, aged 12; Harold Lloyd and Mildred Davis have a very young daughter, Mildred Gloria Lloyd; Erich von Stroheim has a young son, and Richard Barthelmess and Mary Hay have a three-year-old daughter.

Head Hunters Are Gambling Casino Now

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Formosa's 120,000 head hunters have not caused the Rev. Thomas Barclay to lose any sleep in all his 32 years as a missionary on the island, and he has gone back to his work after six months' leave in England.

Dr. Barclay has often spent nights in the head hunters' villages and he always found them quite friendly. But, the minister explained, he always made his visits when the head hunters were not on the war path.

The head hunters inhabit the mountainous interior of Formosa. The Japanese, masters of the island since the war with China, keep them carefully cut off from the 4,000,000 other inhabitants. The Japanese have at times used live wires as barriers in some places, the minister said.

Popular in Spain

MADRID, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Picture convey the "news" to a large proportion of Spain's population.

Most of the newspapers in this country carry illustrations, and they have discovered it is the only way to reach a people in many districts overwhelmingly illiterate, as for instance in Murcia, where 75 per cent cannot read or write.

Madrid, like certain other foreign capitals, is well supplied with newspapers. With a population approximating 400,000, it once had 45 daily newspapers, 20 morning and 25 evening. Under the military directorate about half a dozen died, Barcelona, with a similar population, has 23 dailies. A few of these newspapers are purely official reports.

Many of the newspapers were founded by political party groups. Some are now moribund, having fallen on lean times owing to the cessation of subsidies.

Bradenton Gets Dredging Permit

BRADENTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The city of Bradenton has received a permit from the United States government for the dredging of a channel in Manatee River from the site for the new city pier to the present channel near the northern banks of the river.

Work on the channel that will give Bradenton its first deep water facilities, preliminaries of which were completed recently, has been resumed.

A Siamese kitten was recently rescued by a steamer in mid-ocean, from its perch on a floating hatch cover.

MEMBERS OF MUSIC DEPARTMENT ENJOY DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

By Mrs. Henry Wight

When Mrs. W. S. Leak, Music Department chairman, called her members to order at the Woman's Club yesterday, a very gratifying attendance testified to the successful carrying on of this group which was so popular in last year's work.

After some bits of routine business, including plans to bring a talented harpist to Sanford in January, and a thorough observance of Music Week in May, the program in charge of Mrs. Ned Chittenden began. Its first feature, current musical events, brought out the mention of a new American opera, quite well reviewed, and which is again an effort to combine music and drama.

The Beethoven Centenary of next year, the prize offer by the General Federation of Women's Clubs for a new setting for their national song "America The Beautiful," and a new song by Carrie Jacobs Bond, were some of the notable happenings brought forth.

Mrs. Tolar read a brief and intensely interesting sketch of Mana Zucca, famous all over the world as pianist, composer and singer, who is now a resident of Miami.

and exhibited a photograph of this beautiful woman which she sent autographed to Mrs. Julius Takach some time ago. The mention of her children's songs was exemplified by a little tone picture by Betty McKinnon of a child's grief over broken toys, and her hope of cheer up with the hope of new ones.

The voices of Mrs. Leak and Mrs. Phillips were heard in "Whispering Vows," two poems by Robert Browning set to music by Zucca were given by Mrs. W. E. Stone, a new resident of Sanford. Another new resident, Mrs. Ruth Barnett, played two brilliant piano numbers, Bolero de Concert and Prelude, and the program concluded with two numbers by Mrs. A. M. Phillips, "Love, You Are My Keeper," and "Just Something."

The words to these two songs were written by Irwin Cassell. All the music was written by Mana Zucca and the accompaniments to vocal numbers were played by Mrs. Ned Chittenden. The social hour over a cup of tea was a pleasant ending to a lovely afternoon. The Department is already busy with its plans for the Cecil Arden concert for Jan. 10.

Mrs. Green Is Honored By Class at Banquet On Tuesday Evening

The Gleaners Class of the Presbyterian Church of which Mrs. T. M. Puleston is teacher, entertained most delightfully Tuesday evening with a banquet at its class rooms at the church, honoring the president, Mrs. E. M. Green, who has recently returned from an extended tour abroad, during which time she was a delegate at the World's Christian Endeavor Convention held in London last summer. Mrs. Green also visited several other countries, and during the evening she gave an unusually interesting report of her trip.

Red and green were the prevailing colors and were carried out with baskets of chrysanthemums and hibiscus, as well as crystal candlesticks holding lighted red tapers. Flower-like nut cups filled with red and green mints helped to accentuate the color scheme.

A most enjoyable program under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Lilla was carried out, including individual greetings to the guest of honor from the class members and also an especially arranged song sung by the class. During the serving of the banquet Miss Pearl Robson rendered a number of lovely piano selections. Miss Hildred Taylor read "An Auto Ride From The Rear Seat"; Mrs. T. C. Loveless sang a number of "Half minute songs" arranged and composed by Carrie Jacobs-Bond; and Miss Adele Vineyard read, "The Way to Pray."

At 6:30 o'clock the following menu was served to about 60 persons:

Chicken Pilau	Potato salad
Hot Rolls	Cheese sandwiches
Jello topped with whipped cream	Pickles
Coffee	Home-made cake
	Mints

In the dining room the refreshment table was laid with a handsome late cloth and centered with a silver basket filled with bougainvillea. Grouped about the central decoration were silver candlesticks which held lighted yellow tapers.

Buys at the bottom and sells at the top—in the development of an area like Florida there must of necessity be a fluctuation of prices—but after each rise prices do not go back to former levels—not quite.

Many keen observers of our present situation are aware that right now there are many bargains on the market that justify investment—they are almost back where they were—probably will never go lower.

If you are prepared to buy at the bottom, we can show you real bargains, bargains that offer a splendid opportunity for making profits.
