Committee Stirred By Sensational Charge District Attorney Wouldn't Prosecute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Stirred by sensational testimony of alleged corruption and malfeasance in office of District Attorney J. D. E. Meyer, of Charleston, S. C., in failure to prosecute prohibition cases there, the Senate's Brookhart patronage committee today sent out subpoenas for Meyer and others involved.

A. B. Seabrook, of North Carolina, former prohibition agent, was the witness who started the committee so that Senator Hootchings (R) Delaware, declared if the story were true, "the whole country has gone mad."

Senator McKellar (D) Tennessee, explained, "If what this man says is true, then I think there exists a rotten condition down there which the government ought to know about."

Seabrook declared Meyer refused to prosecute dozens of prohibition cases, and made protest "the most important liquor case in South Carolina," and even gave the defendant a prohibition enforcement job after he had been held for 14 months.

He named G. D. McKnight as the bootlegger in the case, and told the committee when he arrested the man he seized approximately 8,000 gallons of whiskey, 10 stills and two automobiles. Seabrook said he reported the case to J. H. Shaffer, prohibition director in Charleston for the Charleston district, who in turn reported to Meyer.

When he saw a warrant for McKnight, he testified, Meyer purchased it. New McKnight, residing around in a high powered automobile and has a home on Solomon's Islands, Seabrook said.

STOCKS DROP IN BEAR WAVE HITTING MART

MILLIONS ARE LOST IN AVALANCHE OF SELLING WHICH BRINGS ON QUICK DROPT IN PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Millions of dollars were lost by "bulls" in an exciting market on the stock exchange today when prices, under an avalanche of selling, dropped precipitously, the declines ranging from a point to 18 1/4 points by Westinghouse Electric.

It was a tremendous active session, 1.141 shares for the two-hour market aggregating $1,440,000, compared with 2,119,000 shares for the two-hour session of Saturday, at the close today the ticker was an hour's trading session.

It was pulled around the trading posts on the floor as stocks after stock was hammered down including such substantial issues as General Electric, Montgomery Ward and American Can. A large crowd viewed the scene.

The struggle between the bull and bear centered around the "steel" which had gained in yesterday's last period reaction. Montgomery Ward was pushed off nearly 3 points to a new low of 95.58 and International Combustion broke under 20 for the first time, completing a loss of $4 point, the more stocks of the public utility companies and holding companies in the same group sank to the lowest price level of the week.

The market appeared to rally from the flood of opening sales, but encountered another big sell-off which put back the ticker and clipped values of leading stocks from 1 to 2 points. The bear pounded and slashed at high price speculative favorites as 4000 shares appeared in the hands of the bulls. U. S. Steel slid down to 389 for a new 3 point low. General Electric crashed a new low for the year of 92.70, and United Gas was down 1/2 point at 124 1/2. American Foreign Power, Westinghouse and Westinghouse Electric.

It was made plain last night at the government house where the Prime Minister is staying, that if naval conversations with France, Italy and Japan through representatives of those countries do not prove wholly adequate, he might consider personal, frank discussions to further his mission of peace.

Two unfounded rumors, both of which were officially denied, disturbed the MacDonald party yesterday. One connected Miss MacDonald with Lord Arnold, the prime minister's life-long friend, in a romantic way. The other misinterpreted from MacDonald's speech Thursday night that he intended to return upon his return to England.

Coalition Of Senate Passes Debenture Plan In Tariff Bill

ZERO HOUR NEARS FOR DEFENDANTS IN MURDER TRIAL

Beal And 6 Other Radical Organizers Will Know Fate Monday

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 19.—(INS)—The zero hour for Erwin Beal, communist leader of the Gastonia strike and six other radical organizers charged with the murder of Police Chief O. F. Auld, will be reached Monday morning.

The state claiming that the defendants entered into a long conspiracy to slay the officer, and to buy him without a conviction in the second degree.

It was made an appeal to the jury on the ground that Beal and his men "came into the peaceful community of Gastonia like a snake creeping into the Garden of Eden, bringing disorder and bloodshed, and doctrine of anarchy and atheism."

The defense, asserting that one of Auld's own men shot him in confusion of the melee, presented when the officers came on the ground with the "banquet" asks for absolute acquittal.

It has 678 the jury that the defendants are victims of Gastonia labor hysteria martyrs persecuted by "Gastonia law, controlled heart" and soul by the "textile barons," that they were oppressed, assaulted and intimidated frequently by officers sworn in especially for strike duty and that the case against them is an organized attempt to rid Gastonia of unionism.

Coalition Of Senate Passes Debenture Plan In Tariff Bill

Warning President Will Veto Measure If It Has Debenture

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(INS)—Bowling over administration forces again the Democratic-insurgent Republican coalition today approved the export debenture plan of farm relief as a rider to the tariff bill.

The action was taken in the face of warnings by administration spokesmen that President Hoover would veto the tariff bill if it contained the debenture. The vote was 42 to 31 in favor of the debenture.

In again smashing the power of administration forces the Senate apparently in need power to dictate the new tariff bill over to the coalition which is lacking a program to lift agricultural rates and limit industrial tariff boosts to a few "pick" industries.

The debenture victory was not unexpected, the Senate having voted to include the plan in the $500,000,000 farm relief bill last Spring by a vote of 47 to 14 only to take it out at the insistence of the House.

Under its provisions, the federal farm board would be empowered to put the plan into operation, to issue debentures on exportable farm products equal to one half the tariff on them, with a straight bonus of two cents a pound on exports on cotton. The plan, it is estimated, would cost the Treasury $140,000,000 to $200,000,000 a year.

The roll call follows:
For debenture, (42)—Brookhart, Borah, Cutting, Egan, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, McMaster, Norwick, Norris, Nye, Pae, Schall and Thomas of Idaho.

Dem crats (28)—Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Bratton, Brock, Brown, Cawley, Caraway, Connally, Dill, Fletcher, George, Harris, Harlan, Hawes, Hayden, Heflin, McKellar, Overman, Pittman, Robinson of Ark., Sheppard, Simmons, Steak, Stephens, Thomas of Okla., Transwell, Walsh of Mont., and Wheeler.

Against debenture (31)
Republicans (14)—Allen, Bingham, Capper, Clegg, Crouse, Cull, Goldberger, Gould, Greene Hale, Hastings, Herbert, Jones, Keen, Keweenaw, McNary, Metcalf, Moore, Oddie, Patterson, Phillips, Reed, Robinson of Ind., Sackett, Shortridge, Smead, Stewart, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, Warren and Walton.

Democrats (17)—Kendrick, Wagner and Walsh of Mass.
Fifteen Senators were "paired" on the vote.

These pairs were Blaine with Hatfield, Shipstead with Deneen, Tydings with Egan, Copeland with Burton, Swanwick with Glass, Glass with Dale, Smith with Glenn, the first named senators in each pair favoring the debenture, the others opposing. Two pairs, Goff with Beane and Randall with King, were announced without any statement as to how the senators would vote.

Local Gridders Are Prepared To Resist Fast Tavares Team

Whelchel's Charges Have Had Strenuous Week Of Practice

By Peter Schaal
Thirty five scrappy, alert and spirited Seminole High boys went through their paces this afternoon at Municipal Field under the watchful eyes of Coach Hugh Whelchel, and all is in readiness for the third game of the season, the invasion of the fast stepping Tavares team, to be staged tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The hardest week's practice that the squad has ever undergone ends not an hour too soon for many of the men today. The coach has kept them under a strenuous schedule every day of the week from 3 o'clock until dark, and enough football lore has been spilled to make the local outfit a world beater, if only they absorbed some of it. Stressing particularly the lack of an offensive style of play, and drilling the men over and over again in several new scoring plays, the Coach was determined that the game tomorrow would be totally different from the poor showing the men made against the light Winter Garden team last Saturday. That he has been successful is reflected in the snappy way the backfield performed yesterday afternoon. All indications point to the fact that in the future Seminole High games will be the last word in excitement and thrills.

Tavares is listed on the Sanford schedule for the first time in 10 years, and, with two victories to its credit, both of them by large scores, the invader from the Lake County capital are expected to put up a stiff fight against a team which will probably outweigh them. It is expected that the game will draw the usual large attendance that is a feature of high school football in Sanford, and football fans can expect much more than a fifty-fifty chance that the local will be returned the winners.

Coach Hill, one of the stars of last year's Clemson outfit, has assembled a light, but fast-moving team and it is reported that he has a style of play that is unique in high school circles. His backfield combination is said to be fast, and most aggressive, and are well acquainted with the new system introduced by the coach, each man having learned it with much enthusiasm and spirit.

It is believed that Coach Whelchel will take few chances in this game, and that he will start his first team is almost a certainty. The men of the first string line have not been scored on this season, and they promise that during the time they are in the game, not a point shall be scored. The possible starting lineup: Edensfield and Echols, ends; Hollis and Ayres, tackles; Hyatt and Costan, guards; Kanner, center; Heiter, quarterback; Entzinger, right half; Hall, left half; Moyer, fullback. That includes the 186 pound line and the team as it will average 175 pounds.

Arrangements for a game Saturday Nov. 2, have not materialized as yet, and unless a quick date is arranged, the Sanford outfit will be idle until the first of their really hard games, which will be played in Orlando, Armistice Day. Effort to secure a game with the strong Ocala team for Thursday, Oct. 31, were unavailing and the Coach is making every effort to secure a major attraction. Next week, Sanford meets one of the strongest teams on the schedule, the powerful DeLand outfit, this year-out for blood. The game will be staged in DeLand next Friday, to allow local fans to witness the Florida Georgia game in Jacksonville the following day.

Another monster parade will pass through the downtown section of the City prior to the game, and once more the students, and the football team are calling upon all of Sanford to respond and come out and boost the team. Only two other games are scheduled for Sanford this year, and you will be amply repaid in that you will see a fighting band of youngsters giving their best for Seminole High. Be on hand tomorrow at Municipal Field. The boys expect you, and promise you a game chock-full of excitement.

WEST SIDE WINS CLOSE ONE FROM PIGGLY WIGGLYS

Atlantic Coast Line Is Also Victor Over Professional Men

By J. M. Blinnepher
Both games last night were won by close scores. The first ended with the West Side Farmers 17 and the Piggly Wiggly 10, and the second finished with the Atlantic Coast Line 12 and the Professional Men 10.

The first game was expected to be a walk away for the West Side Farmers, but with Patrick doing the hurling for Piggly Wiggly, and several more changes being made in their line-up, the West Side was extended to win. The Piggly Wiggly, scoring 5 runs in the seventh inning, tied the count at 10, then the West Side came back in its half of the seventh and scored one run to win the game. Whelchel hit a home run for the West Side in the sixth with men on base, which was the only home of the evening.

The Atlantic Coast Line led in the second game by a small margin most of the way, however, the Professional Men threatened to force ahead many times. As the score indicated, it was a close affair, with Tillis pitching for the Coast Line having a slight edge over the hurling of Hoyt for the Professional Men. Cantwell, who has won a game for the Professional Men at right field and second base.

Hail And Farewell!

The Herald regrets to announce that with this issue Earle Jones, managing editor, severs his connection with this paper. After six years of service faithfully performed, he is leaving Sanford to make his home in Jacksonville. Where he has accepted a position with the Times-Union. Mr. Jones came to The Herald from Fort Myers in the Fall of 1923, when he himself, the Daily Herald, and its publishers were quite young. He has served it continuously from that time, through an early adjustment period, through the nerve-racking exertions of the boom, through the gloomy mental strain of the depression that followed, through the heat of political campaigns, and through the tension of libel trials. Never once throughout these six years of strenuous ordeal was he called upon and found wanting. No task was so small that he did not give it his most careful attention. Whether it was handling the wire for a forty-eight hour stretch on election nights, or covering treacherous trails where the slightest slip might spell disaster, or investigating the intricate complexities of municipal records, or reading anonymous letters from persons who learned that he could be neither bribed nor frightened, Earle Jones never faltered in his loyalty to The Herald or his duty to the public.

His transfer to the Times-Union is the inevitable result of the successful achievement of a year's purpose. He has in his mind to be a great newspaperman and nothing can stop him. He has outgrown the field which Sanford can offer, and when opportunity came from Florida's largest daily, he could not wisely turn it down. On the Times-Union he will have a chance for further development which is all he needs to arrive at the head of a big newspaper of his own in due time.

We cannot wish too well for Earle Jones. The fruits of the noblest career are none too good for him. The joy and happiness of the highest achievements of life should be his. If an ungodly, hire of such national virtues as loyalty, honesty, courage, generosity, faithfulness, intelligence, and ambition, still count for anything in this judgment world of ours, he will go far.

Till we meet again, then, we can only say: In his new sphere of duty.

Marriage And Divorce

Charles Darrow, in addition to being a criminal lawyer of such capacity that he was able to save the brandy-bottle murderer of Eddie Frank, from the electric chair, is also something of a modern philosopher. He has in various times expressed himself fully and interestingly on such controversial subjects as prohibition, companionate marriages, happiness, and evolution, being one of the most noteworthy characters of the day. In an evolution trial in Dayton, Tennessee.

Yesterday he expressed himself in no less unequivocal terms on the subject of divorce. Married couples who cannot get along together should try to get along alone, Mr. Darrow's idea of it. He does not see any Christianity in remaining tied to some woman, or to put it the other way, to some man, with whom each morning's sun sees a raw and cruelly hellish fight. It would be better, better, perhaps, he believes, to take hands with her, or a better husband, and go away, and with out leaving her to seek new worlds to conquer.

"They (American courts) do not divorce," he writes. "I do not divorce, but divorcing fast enough. They should divorce the factor between there are too many unhappy marriages. To divorce all over the world it is a far better idea than having being kept in unhappiness, so that they may be happy in heaven." It is only natural, he thinks, that evoked persons should tire of each other after a certain length of time. "They tire of everything else, why not each other?"

"A man gets tired of everything after twenty years," continues Mr. Darrow. "For instance, how many of you know that you had twenty-five years ago? They hardly anything I care for today that I had twenty-five years ago. So it is not only possible but probable that matrimonial pairs may change in their minds. Certainly the best thing for them to do is to separate."

We do not entertain quite so radical a view of the matter, Mr. Darrow. It does not seem to us wholly likely and right that with the changing of one's mind, unless it is a complete one, it seems to us entirely without reason to suppose that a man or woman should be allowed to go off with a new partner, leaving the old one to be a wreck.

But if such a condition is not possible, if that is not an unattainable ideal, it is not possible that a man or woman should be allowed to go off with a new partner, leaving the old one to be a wreck.

THE REAL CAUSE OF PRISON RISES

The real cause of prison rises is the failure of the agricultural industry. The agricultural industry is the backbone of the Florida economy, and its decline has led to a corresponding increase in the prison population. The failure of the agricultural industry is due to a number of factors, including the depletion of soil, the loss of labor, and the competition from other states. The depletion of soil is a result of the intensive farming methods used in Florida, which have led to the exhaustion of the land. The loss of labor is a result of the migration of workers to other states in search of better opportunities. The competition from other states is a result of the fact that other states have been able to produce agricultural products more cheaply than Florida. The failure of the agricultural industry has led to a corresponding increase in the prison population, as many of the unemployed have turned to crime for a means of survival. The prison population in Florida has increased steadily over the past few years, and this is a direct result of the failure of the agricultural industry. The failure of the agricultural industry is a serious problem for Florida, and it is one that must be addressed if the state is to have a future.

STRAWBERRY BEETLES

Many of the local agricultural problems are being solved by diversifying and rotating crops. Strawberry experiments made in different sections of the state demonstrate the possibility of doubt that strawberries can be grown anywhere in Florida advantageously and profitably. It is claimed that from three to four thousand acres of strawberries are planted yearly in Florida, and the average gross revenue is approximately five hundred dollars per acre.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting Wednesday

By Kate S. Dutton.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club held its regular meeting Wednesday, Oct. 16 with Mrs. Henry Wight presiding. Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting after which a short business session was held which included a talk by Mrs. W. T. Wheeler, manager of the Thrift Shop. It was most interesting, telling how its beginning was in ideas only, the realization of them being in its present activities, especially in the scope for its successful future. Mrs. Wheeler gave a detailed account concerning the methods of its carrying on.

Each member was then requested to tell what she likes best about Sanford and the wish she had for it. The responses given bespoke of a forgetting of material losses, domination of fear, and holding our ground with unshaken confidence in proving that Sanford is the city substantial. Mrs. E. C. Bullock brought up in her remarks the keynote of all true cooperation, "She loved much," the people, the city and all its right activities.

After the meeting adjourned, the social feature of the afternoon was held in the beautiful garden of the chairman, Mrs. Wight, 1700 Park Avenue. Mrs. Harry Heeren met the party at the side entrance to renew the welcome and to direct the way to the formal garden. The guests audibly expressed their delight in meeting together in a garden that Sanford could boast of so truthfully and beautifully planned; its beauty, every tree and plant seemed as if it were ordered and placed as if by the keeper of the garden, Henry Wight, combined with the true spirit of hospitality.

Upon leaving the formal garden, Mrs. L. P. Hagan and Mrs. K. S. Dutton directed the guests according to their choice, tea or coffee. If tea, they continued their walk to the Shadow House, a cool beautiful spot just the place for tea, sandwiches, pickles and salted nuts, where Mrs. Louise Berkley presided in her pleasing manner.

If the choice were coffee, this table with its refreshments was placed in the open, with a beautiful view of the city. Mrs. C. R. Kirtley did the pouring in her usually happy style. She introduced the ladies to M. Ther Kirtley of Ohio, who were all glad to meet her.

It will be a choice memory as we think of Mrs. Kirtley and Mrs. Bullock the older members of the party, manifesting their interests in life's enjoyments. After lingering for a while, admiring the garden from its various vantage points, the guests departed expressing their enjoyment of the entertaining in such a beautiful setting, to the genial and beloved hostess, Mrs. Henry Wight.

His Glorious Night Stars John Gilbert In Comedian Role

Turning abruptly from grim drama, Lionel Barrymore and John Gilbert delve into sparkling comedy for the joining of their talents in the new Metro-Talkie "Glorious Night," which will open Sunday at the Milane Theatre. This new Gilbert starring vehicle, with Barrymore at the directorial helm, is a distinct departure from recent films in which they have participated separately. Gilbert's last picture having been "Desert Nights" and Barrymore having directed "Madame X" and "The Unholy Night."

"His Glorious Night," a screen adaptation of the noted Ferenc Molnar stage play, "Olympia," which captivated audiences throughout a London season and a season in New York, brings Gilbert under Barrymore's direction for the first time, with the exception of a brief skit they made with Norma Shearer for "The Hollywood Review." It also marks Barrymore's first essay at the direction of a feature, length comedy drama. "Madame X" has been grim tragedy and "The Unholy Night," a mystery play. Katherine Dale Owen, New York stage star, noted for her work in "The White Town," "Talkies," "White Collar" and "Bootleggers," plays opposite Gilbert in the leading feminine role. Others in the cast are Hedda Hopper, Nancy O'Neil, Doris Hill, Margaret O'Sullivan, Richard Ciole, Yvonne Traubetsky and Edward Davis.

Willard Mack wrote the screen adaptation.

The Stamp Mart

By C. R. Mason

Some of the earlier postage stamps issued will soon be in the antique class. The first postage stamps were issued by Great Britain in 1840. Brazil followed in 1843, and the United States in 1847. We wonder whether Great Britain will have commemorative in 1910 on the hundredth anniversary of the first postage stamp. How many local collectors have this stamp in their collections, or Great Britain? It is not so rare or expensive as might be expected.

Rare Stamps Found

Probably the most famous stamp in the world is the number 1 (Scott) of British Guiana, issued by the country in 1856. The only copy of this stamp believed to exist was purchased a year or so ago by Mr. Arthur Hind of New York for $25,000.

Any collector that keeps his eyes open is likely to pick up a rarity, though it may not appear in value the stamp just mentioned above. We are reminded of the philatelist who a few years ago published in one of our city papers a sheet of the 2¢ airmail with the centers inverted, a real prize in errors that had occupied the eagle eyes of the Post Office Department and brought real prizes to many through whose hands the sheet passed.

Last year there was found in a California Post Office some of the 2¢ Golden Gate stamps imprinted vertically. How many of these are available we do not know in this time but certainly this stamp will likely be one of the rare ones.

Philippine Stamps Withdrawn

Due to the fact of 50,000 of the two peso Philippine Islands stamps of the present issue, the Director of Posts there has declared the value obsolete as of August 1st, and they will not be recognized in postage thereafter. All of these stamps have been recalled and an effort is being made to recall the stolen ones. The stamp in question is Scott number 301, a 2¢ 1/2 watermark. How many sagged collectors are lucky enough to have copies of this stamp which will undoubtedly have been greatly demanded and will rise in value. The writer just changed to purchase a used copy of the two peso stamp early August before the notice issued. All of which goes to prove the uncertainty of the stamp market.

New Roman States Issue

The August 1st, the Vatican Post office was re-opened under the auspices of the Latin States with the Italian protectorate. This treaty restores to the Pope his temporal jurisdiction and after a lapse of fifty nine years, the Papal States again becomes a stamp issuing country.

These new stampings of fifteen denominations, the Latin values ranging from the Papal insignia, the coat of arms and the highest value the portrait of His Holiness, Pius XI. The stamps were printed by the Italian Bureau of Engraving and Printing but later in the year a second issue illustrating the history of the Vatican will be printed in the Pontifical Press and replace these.

The old Papal stamps, some of them quite rare, were in use for years, from 1852 to 1870. The following is the situation at the Italian states, the Vatican was declared its own postal service and the stamps of the Italian Kingdom included those of the Roman States.

French Colonial Popular

Stamps from the French Colonies now at the height of popularity, inspiring in the general collectors' heart the plan held by English colonies a few years ago. How many know where the French colonies are located? In a contest we'd wager that a stamp collector has or could add an answer to the question better than a non-collector mother or dad. In this column we shall publish each week the location of a few of these out of the where the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased. Open Tuesday and Friday from 2 to 5 P. M.

All are welcome to attend the service and to make use of the reading room.

Syria (Syria)

Madagascar Dependencies

New Law Requires Licenses For More Lines Of Business

License fees for county, and state have been placed on a number of different lines of endeavor under the provisions of an act passed by the last session of the Legislature, a bill to County Tax Collector, J. B. D. Jenkins.

Anyone who runs two rooms or more to practice must come out an apartment house. The amount is based on the number of rooms. A fee of $25.00 is charged for the holding of a bar or saloon. Beauty parlors must now pay a license tax and also back agents, taking orders for future delivery or selling from stock. Dealers in playing cards must obtain county and state permits. Jugglers, trained circus, dog peddlers, people dance halls and night clubs are also included among those who must have licenses under the new law.

Other lines upon which an occupational tax is required by the new law include billiard and pool rooms, shoe shops and shoemakers, stands, sign painting, fruit and dog, grain dealers, wash shops, pressing clubs, wood yards, contracting works and vending machines.

Edisons Arrive For Detroit Celebration

DETROIT, Oct. 19.—(1918)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison arrived today aboard Henry Ford's private railroad car, attached to a Michigan Central train. The inventor is here for the golden jubilee celebration of the invention of light, announced in his letter by Ford. The ceremonies are to be held at Dearborn Monday and distinguished persons from all sections of the country, including President Hoover, are invited.

Resisting as he can, railroad officials who attempted to keep heavy papermen away, Edison came out of the new platform of the car to talk with the reporter. Asked to say a few words about the reception and celebration at Dearborn, the aged inventor grinned.
