Appointments of Judges, Foreign Policy Causes Debate Among Congressmen

U. S. Will Fight To Keep Freedom

Hull Warns America Will Defend Cherished Interests

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Disputes over presidential judgeship appointments and the Administration's foreign policy continued today in a legislative session shortened by adjournment out of respect to Pope Pius XI.

Senator King (D-Utah) blocked for a second time Senate confirmation of James V. Allred to be a federal district judge in Texas. Opposed to the nomination of the former Texas governor on the ground he was not a resident of the judicial circuit involved, King said he would ask for a voice vote on confirmation later.

The Senate Military Committee rejected, 10 to 6, a motion to make public the testimony it had taken on the sale of American-made warplanes to France.

Ways and Means substitute for the National Security Act, which would increase the Federal Reserve Board's power to increase the money supply, was reported.

Don't Residents Fishing License Is Given Support

ORLANDO, Feb. 13.—A dollar fishing license for all residents of Florida will be sought at the forthcoming session of the Legislature, it was announced today by officials of the Florida Wildlife Federation, who will sponsor the bill.

At present there is no license fee for citizens fishing in their own counties but there is a $2.25 license charge, if persons fish outside their counties. Under the new proposal the $2.25 license law will be repealed and replaced by the $1.00 law. This license would permit fishing in any fresh water in the State.

The bill would apply to persons above 15 years of age and only those persons fishing with a rod and reel, artificial lure or fly. Florida Wildlife Federation officials said the bill in substance was designed to affect only sports fishermen and not those who fish with a line and pole.

It was reported here that Dr. I. N. Kennedy, Tallahassee, executive secretary of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, had approved this dollar license law legislation.

The State Federation will also ask the lawmakers to revise the fishing license charges for non-residents. Under existing law a three-day trip license is available for $1.75. This would be changed to $2.00 for a 10-day license.

CORRECTION

With the view of correcting any erroneous impression which might arise from the statement in Saturday's Herald, as reported by the Sheriff's office, that the trip involved in the fatal accident near the Lake Monroe bridge Friday afternoon had previously stopped at the Cow Drop for "several drinks," Jack Zimmerman, proprietor of the Inn, today declared that the persons involved had been at the place for sandwiches and a bottle of beer. He stressed the point that no hard drinks had been sold to the trio.

Foreign Policy Of U.S. Sterner Than Messages

FDR's Methods Show Aggressors Stand Off This Nation

By MORGAN M. BEATTY WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. —(AP)—To get a strangle hold on the elusive question of American foreign policy, go back to the President's annual message to Congress a month ago and speak up in this puzzling sentence:

"There are methods short of war, but stronger and more effective than words, of bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people."

Washington observers are sure now that he was talking about such things as:

- 1. The expanding national defense program that may cost the peacetime record sum this year of a billion and a quarter dollars.
2. The Navy's suggested plan to improve Guam, right under Tokyo's nose.
3. The $25,000,000 loan made recently to China for industrial improvements in the face of Japan's known disapproval.
4. The visit of Foreign Minister Aranha of Brazil to Washington, perhaps to discuss a loan to Brazil and other possible loans to Latin American republics.
5. The State Department's re-

Early History Of Sanford Is Given By T. W. Lawton At Meeting Of DAR

A historical sketch of Sanford's early history was given by T. W. Lawton, county superintendent of schools at the regular meeting of the local DAR chapter last Friday during which Mrs. F. K. Roumillat, chairman of the Founders' Day Committee, also expressed appreciation on behalf of the Sallie Harrison Chapter to all those contributing to the success of the observance of the city's 102nd anniversary last Wednesday.

In outlining the history of early Sanford, Mr. Lawton told of the labors of General Hamry, for whom Lake Hamry was named, in connection with the Indian wars and also of Capt. Mellon who was killed in a fight with Indians at Camp Monroe which was later named Fort Mellon in his honor.

Mr. Lawton spoke of Gen. Sanford who purchased 12,500 acres of land which now comprises Sanford and of Col. Fanning who was in charge of the Fort Mellon for a short time. He also told of the labors of Col. John Reed, for whom Fort Reed was named and of Joseph J. W. Tucker and his son who established the first grade schools in this section. One of the earlier settlers whom he mentioned as playing a prominent part in the development of the city was Capt. R. F. Williams, Major J. H. Whitson, and

Nuisance Reports

Time was when a little business like most of those in Sanford was far removed from the trials and tribulations of governmental red tape...

Nowadays the little business, like the big corporation, is besieged on every side for reports of one kind or another.

According to the Central Statistical Board, during one year more than 135,000,000 questionnaires were filled out by various business concerns...

Such probing into private affairs by government agents whose primary purpose is to hold a job for themselves, vastly increases the cost of doing business...

Some time someone is going to run for office on a platform of going away with questionnaires and he is going to be overwhelmingly elected.

'YOU CAN GET OUT HERE'

The approval of the sale of hundreds of airplanes to democratic France and Great Britain. All of these bits of action are methods short of war but stronger than words to the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo triangle.

These "methods" raised the question in the minds of the more or less isolationist group of senators: Where is all this economic and military aid to democratic nations going to lead America?

Both sides can summon up plenty of evidence to support their cases. The Johnsons, the Borahs, the Bridges, the Nyes, and others who oppose the President's position have logic for queries.

On the other hand, the President's careful, formal statements make a perfectly logical case. President Monroe himself told the world that we were bound to the Latin American nations by the common bond of democracy.

So much for the basic logic of the situation. The current hue and cry is for a handle on which to swing the respective arguments.

The talk about secrecy in airplane sales, the hint apparently from senators that the President has suggested our frontier is the Rhine, or France, were used as handles by the isolationists to get their cases before the public.

The President's retort that the hint is a deliberate lie also served as a handle to swing in a re-statement by him of American foreign policy.

Both the President and his opposition are fully aware that the international situation is so much dynamic, and that it may explode before 1940. If it does, then foreign policy will be the issue in the forthcoming campaign, and all figures on the political stage want themselves on the record favorably.

In the light of long-term facts, the discussion about our frontier, and the retort from the White House takes on the appearance, historically, of so much spinach.

America's frontier has been expanding and contracting with international events ever since the continent was discovered.

Washington and Jefferson warned against alliances just before 1800, our frontier was the 13 colonies.

In 1803, Jefferson bought the great Louisiana purchase within that frontier, and in 1823, Monroe flung it around the western hemisphere.

The Spanish American war era stretched it westward to include remote Guam, the Philippines and Hawaii. The World War stretched it eastward to include France and the British Isles.

When the senate refused to ratify the Versailles Treaty and declined to enter the League of Nations in 1920, many lines of our frontier were rubbed out.

The present debate may help to re-establish them. But where? that's the question, and only time can answer it.

Secretary Hull warned the world last night that the American people would reply with "determined defense and resistance" to any challenge to their "most vital and cherished interests."

Speaking in a broadcast arranged by the New York World's Fair, the Secretary of State said: "So long as such a possibility (of challenge or attack) exists, it is the sacred duty of a government worthy of the name, to maintain adequate defensive forces."

"In times like the present," he continued, "when the specter of a new major armed conflict haunts the world, the issue of war and peace becomes an intensely personal one. It touches every one of us. It is ever present in our homes, in our places of work and recreation in the cities and on the farms."

He added that this Nation is sincerely devoted to the cause of peace and believes there are no international differences that cannot be settled peacefully.

"Yet," he declared, "we also know that circumstances may arise in which a Nation's will to remain at peace may be thwarted by the actions of others. Peaceful settlement is possible only if both sides are willing to resort to it."

"This Nation's most vital and cherished interests, however, may be challenged and attacked by another nation, and to such a challenge a free people like ours can offer no other reply but determined defense and resistance."

The maintenance of adequate defensive forces to parry such a peril, Hull added, "must go hand in hand with unflinching efforts to prevent war by perfecting the machinery of peace and by eliminating the causes of conflict."

Both of these problems loom large in the government's work in the field of foreign relations.

Hull called for the observance of international law as "the primary basis of civilized relations among nations."

"Such a code of international conduct," he explained, "is essential to an international peace."

With no more games scheduled for the local gym, the Feds meet DeLand and Orlando in the final week of their campaign.

Sanford and Ocala will play the opening engagement in the Regional High School basketball tournament which was awarded to Daytona Beach at a meeting of coaches and officials in the coastal city yesterday, according to Coach Leonard McClucas, local mentor who was among those attending.

Coach McClucas stated the tournament will open Thursday night Mar. 2 at 8:00 o'clock when his proteges meet the Ocala Wild-cats.

The winner of the Sanford-Ocala game will play the Robert E. Lee quintet of Jacksonville, which was seeded Number 2 berth. During the cage session, the locals won their last encounter with the Cats by a score of 23 to 26 after dropping their first, an overtime tilt, by a 26 to 28.

The regional tournament will be held on March 2, 3 and 4.

Andrew Jackson was seeded No. 1, Robert E. Lee No. 2, Orlando No. 3 and Daytona Beach No. 4.

Males' Dog Expected To Set Pace In Feature Race

Valentine's Heart, back after a second surge of illness, will be entered in the feature event tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club and out to hang up his eighth victory in nine starts this season.

The big son of My Valentine and Al's Baby has been slower breaking the box than usual in his last few outs and unless he gets away in a hurry tonight he is liable to have to overcome a long lead run up by Parmak or Gay Hop' who have drawn the Nos. 1 and 2 holes.

Valentine's Heart is in the eight box.

The three box is empty, Big Ick has the four hole, Agricola Sam the five, Dark Grove the six and Lizzie Tactician the seven.

It was Parmak that set such a hot pace the other night in the feature event that it made My Valentine Jr. mad and he stopped to have it out with the flying Parmak.

Dark Grove won a feature last week in close to record time while Lizzie Tactician showed signs of returning to the form that made her one of the most dangerous greyhounds at Longwood over any distance last season.

The race tonight will be run over the futurity course and a good clear chance to run around the first turn will be a big advantage to any of the greyhounds who figure to get into the money.

There are 10 races tonight with the daily double on the second and

French Cabinet Split Over Giving Recognition To Regime Of Franco In Spain

Germany Launches New Battleship

Body Of Pope Plus Laid To Rest In Basilica Grottoes

The Spanish government today braced the Madrid-Valencia zone against a new assault Generalissimo Franco was expected to launch in central Spain attempting to clinch the victory in the civil war which still disturbs Europe.

French political quarters said Premier Daladier's cabinet was split over the question of giving recognition to Franco. Action was delayed at a cabinet session called to consider the recognition question.

Germany launched her greatest warship, the new 35,000-ton battleship Bismarck, named for the "Iron Chancellor" who guided Germany to unification as a modern nation and to victory in the Franco-Prussian War.

Bischoffberger Hitler said Bismarck led in creating the "pre-conditions for the present-day greater Germany" and of the new battleship named for him, the present Chancellor said: "As the sharpest instrument of war, it is to take under the protection of the German people."

Peace between the Italian government and the Vatican, which Pope Pius was instrumental in bringing about, was signified anew by an announcement of the Premier Mussolini, the Fascist government and members of the royal family would attend a special mass Friday paying tribute to the late Pope.

The body of the Pope was laid to rest in the grottoes below the Basilica after additional thousands had passed the bier for a final look at the pontiff.

Anticipating a complete insurgent victory in the near future, Generalissimo Francisco Franco yesterday promulgated a decree imposing penalties on persons in conquered territory deemed hostile to the insurgent cause.

Exile and loss of citizenship are two of the penalties provided for in the decree, which covers activities of Spaniards for nearly two years before the outbreak of the civil war. Insurgent officials here said these two punishments were the most severe imposed.

The decree also provided for dissolution of all parties of the pro-government popular front and confiscation of their property, and set up special tribunals to determine the civil status of persons in conquered territory.

J., Feb. 14. —(AP)—The New Jersey Trust Guaranty and Trust Company failed to open today and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation announced it would pay claims of approximately $23,000,000, the largest payoff of insured deposits it has ever made. A statement issued by FDIC Chairman Leo T. Crowley, as the trustee of the closing, was posted on the bank's doors here, said that more than 20,000 depositors would be reimbursed. The bank's board of directors had voted to have the institution in the hands of the State Banking commission.

Chamber Officials Make Plans For Canal Hearing

Lack Of White House Harmony Hit By Demos

Cox Says Administration Will Do Well To Work With Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. —(AP)—House Democrats heard complaints at a party conference today that there was not enough co-operation between the White House and Democratic legislators. Several members who attended the closed meeting in the House chamber asserted that Rep. Cox, (D. Ga.), had made a rousing speech, the tenor of which was that the Administration would do well to go along with Congress and not insist so much that Congress go along with it.

While the conference was described as harmonious, a number of those present said Cox had spoken of the lack of consultation between the White House and the Democratic legislators.

Administration leaders in the House were said to have urged harmony and better attendance at House sessions.

Grapefruit Price-Fixing Program Heads For Test In Supreme Court

WINTER HAVEN, Feb. 14. —(AP)—Florida's price-fixing program for grapefruit apparently was headed for a court test last night after Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo sought to strengthen enforcement by suspending the license of a Bradenton cannery accused of violation.

Hubert Blakey, attorney for President Fred Elder of the Florida Grapefruit Canning Company, said he would study Mayo's suspension order before deciding in which court he will appeal.

At issue in a hearing conducted yesterday by Mayo was a plan announced by Elder for purchasing grapefruit while the minimum price of 23 cents a box was effective.

Elder told growers he would pay them 20 cents a box cash and hold 13 cents in escrow to be turned over to them if the courts upheld the State's 1938 cost guarantee law under which the Florida Citrus Commission fixed the minimum price.

City To Begin Foreclosure On Property

Commission Decides On Drastic Course Against Those Who Failed To Settle

Foreclosure proceedings will begin immediately against property owners in Sanford who made no effort to settle the delinquent tax adjustment program which expired on Jan. 31, members of the City Commission unanimously agreed at a regular meeting in the City Hall last night.

Pointing out that every inducement to settle the past due claims has been offered the owners, including settlement of all liens for 1933 and prior years for 10 percent of the total amount and extended payment over a period of seven years, Mayor Higgins stated that the City must now follow the course plotted before the adjustment program was instituted which was to foreclose on all who made no attempt to pay delinquent assessments.
