BIG REAL ESTATE DEAL PULLED OFF IN SANFORD WELAKA BLOCK IS SOLD

J. D. Bowman, of North Carolina, Buys the Finest Block in City
WILL RESIDE IN SANFORD

In Future and Engage in Business.—
Rose Investment Company Makes Deal.

One of the largest and most important real estate transactions ever accomplished in this city by any real estate firm has just been closed by the Rose Investment Company, of Orlando, when the Welaka block, owned by Douglass & Symes, was sold to J. D. Bowman, of Winston-Salem, N. C., but who will now be a resident of Sanford. The purchase price being approximately $140,000.

This beautiful new two story structure has nine spacious stores on the ground floor and twenty-one furnished apartments and two large lobbies on the second floor.

The deal was consummated by H. A. Coggins, who has been connected with the Walter W. Rose Investment Co. for the past three years, and who is considered to be the premier real estate salesman of Orlando. Evidently Mr. Coggins is a hustler owing to the progress he has made in Sanford during the past week and we congratulate him upon his success. When approached yesterday by one of the staff of the Herald, Mr. Coggins stated that his firm expected to close several large real estate deals in Sanford within the next sixty days, and when asked if the Walter W. Rose Investment Co., was considering opening a branch office in this city, said no doubt they would if a suitable location could be obtained.

The Rose Investment Co. is one of the most substantial and successful real estate agencies in the state of Florida and Sanford welcomes a real estate firm such as this to continue its growth and advancement and to make it one of the largest and most prosperous cities in Florida.

We believe Sanford, as a commercial city, should rank third in the state inasmuch as its waterway to the ocean is certainly a great advantage and there is no question about it being the logical distributing point for the state in the near future providing the people of Sanford evince the same spirit in the next twelve months as they are now doing.
Messrs. E. A. Douglass and Roy Symes, who a few months ago, had the foresight and faith in Sanford to buy the building and spent thousands of dollars on it in repairs are receiving the congratulations of their friends. They deserve to be complimented for their great work in helping develop Sanford and both the former owners and the new owner are to be congratulated.

NATIONALISTS START PLOT AGAINST ARMY

WARMER WEATHER IS COMING

Well, the weather man made a pretty good prediction, although his promise of warm weather is a little slow in materializing. It's coming all right, for the temperature has been rising ever since its sudden fall to 39 degrees. Clouds may hover around Thursday, but there will be no rain. Tampa and its environs will experience some real pleasing weather Thursday afternoon, and the local prognosticator tells us the nice temperature will remain through Friday, and perhaps without any appreciable break for several days. The lowest temperature in the vicinity of Tampa Thursday morning was 44 degrees, and a ho frost was reported; 38 degrees was the lowest temperature in South Florida, Bartow being the locality that experienced the coldest spell.—Tampa Times.

An investigation will be made at the distillery, it is said.

PARIS, Dec. 30.—The proposed meeting of the French, British and Italian prime ministers at Nice or Cannes will not be held, it was announced today but it was said an early meeting of the premiers would be brought about by the French government to discuss disarmament of Germany, the situation created by the latest resistance of the Berlin government being taken very seriously here.
The attitude of the French foreign office is that the einwohnerwehr or civic guards, must be dissolved effectively, even if the extreme measure provided in the Spa understanding, namely, an extension of the occupation of German territory, is necessary to enforce it.

LYNCHINGS GROW LESS, TUSKEGEE RECORDS SHOW ONLY 61 KILLED THIS YEAR

MERCHANTS TO DETERMINE INCOME TAX

ON COST OF MARKET WHICH EVER IS LOWER AS BASIS FOR INVENTORY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Merchants and manufacturers may adopt "cost of market, whichever is lower" as a basis for valuing their inventories for 1920 income tax returns under regulations issued today by the bureau of internal revenue. The regulations also provide that the difference caused by the fall of prices during the year may be deducted in arriving at the value of stock.

Secretary Houston and officials of the internal revenue bureau were without estimates tonight as to the difference in revenues which may result from valuation at market rather than cost. The belief was expressed in some quarters the difference would run into many millions of dollars. Internal revenue bureau officials explained that the law permits of a choice of basis and under present conditions "market" reflects more accurately the state of business conditions. To require inventories at a cost higher than "market" it was added, would be to put a tax on investment rather than on income.

Under ordinary circumstances, "market" is defined by the regulations as meaning the current bid price prevailing at the date of the inventory for the particular merchandise in the volume in which ordinary purchased by the taxpayer. The regulations, however, further provide that where, owing to abnormal circumstances, the taxpayer has regularly sold such merchandise at prices lower than the current bid price the inventory may be valued at such prices.

Inventories of taxpayers on whatever basis taken will be subject to investigation, the revenue bureau announced, and taxpayers must satisfy the bureau of the correctness of the prices adopted.

Taxpayers are permitted under the regulations to value their inventories at cost or market, whichever is lower regardless of past practice, but in the future a change will only be permitted with the consent of the bureau.

AND PREVENTED MANY LYNCHINGS IN STATES NORTH AND SOUTH

(By The Associated Press)
TUSKOGEE, Dec. 31.—Lynchings were less numerous in 1920 than last year the Tuskegee Institute records show. Sixty-one persons, including eight white men, one negro woman, lynched compared with eighty-three last year and sixty-four in 1918. Authorities prevented lynchings in fifty-six instances this year of which forty-six were in the South. Armed forces used to repel mobs on fourteen occasions. In four instances mobs fired upon, seven attackers killed, number wounded. Lynchings by states: Texas, 10; Georgia, 9; Mississippi-Alabama-Florida, 7 each; Minnesota North Carolina Oklahoma and California three each; Arkansas, Kansas, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio, South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, 1 each.

OFFER WILSON $150,000 FOR ONE ARTICLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—For just one article a publishing house has offered President Wilson $150,000, it was learned today. And the president declined the offer.

Scores of publishers have come to the White House with offers for the output of the president's pen after he leaves the White House next March 4th. While one man has intimated that he had an agreement with Wilson, it was said at the White House that all offers have met a refusal just as the $150,000 one did.

The president's reason for refusing the offers was given as a desire to market his literary output for what it will bring rather than accept a definite sum for an article that, when completed, might not measure to the standard the president has set for himself.

Just what the nature of the president's writings will be is not known to anyone but him, but the interest he has always shown in the economic history of the United States, it is probable that he will write further along those lines. According to White House officials there will be no memoirs.

Merchants and Farmers Bank Will Incorporate Next Week.

IN THE WELAKA BLOCK

HAVE ALREADY ARRANGED FOR NEW QUARTERS—TO START NEW BUSINESS

Sanford is going ahead at full speed these days and big deals in real estate and improvements in buildings and the starting of new lines of business are of daily occurrence. It all signifies that not only have the home people the confidence in their city but visitors to the state and outside investors are recognizing the fact that Sanford offers more to the investor right now than any other city in Florida. The time to invest in real estate is when a city starts a new growth and the same is true of new business enterprises.

The news then, of a new bank and trust company to be started here in the near future is only another indication of the confidence of home people and new residents in what Sanford is now and what Sanford is bound to be in the next few years. Among the new enterprises of a more substantial nature is the starting of the Merchants and Farmers Bank, the articles of incorporation of the firm will be published in the Weekly Herald at an early date as it is understood the stock has already been subscribed by local and new capital.

The firm will be known as the Merchants and Farmers Bank and will be located in the Welaka Block at the corner of First street and Railroad Way in the room now occupied by the firm of Walthall & Estridge, who will take the room just north of their present location they having given up their lease on the corner to the new owners.

The presiding spirits in the new bank are headed by J. D. Bowen of Winston-Salem, N. C., who this week purchased the Welaka Block. H. A. Coggins of the Rose Investment Company of Orlando, was here all this week and assisted in getting the subscriptions for the stock together with several of the local citizens.

Messrs. Bowen and Coggins and associates expect to organize a trust company in connection with the new bank that will be able to loan money on real estate and farming propositions and assist in the material development of the city and county.

GOODBYE, OLD YEAR, GOODBYE

We had thought you might have a decent funeral in the church; but if not, then in our quiet homes on bended knees while the solemn bells are tolling we can commit you with all your memories, glad and sad, to the long host of the departed!

There are many reasons for gratitude as you winged the hours away—gratitude that as a city we were spared the anguish of pestilence—the horrors of famine that others are suffering—terrible losses by devastating fire.

Gratitude for the brilliant prospect you have afforded of our growth—our prosperity, our importance.
Gratitude that you gave us a fine new form of government which has been so successful and promises much for our municipal future.

Gratitude for the successful management of our schools through which flows the young life of our coming metropolis.

Gratitude for all the bright and happy influences of uplift and hope and prosperity. We thank you!

We know the blessed source of your inspiration, Old Year, and we bow in reverence, in appreciation, in love.

Goodbye, Old Year, Goodbye!—Contributed.

REAL CHRISTMAS UNDER TENTS

CHRISTMAS TREES, AND EXCHANGE OF GIFTS AND MANY DINNERS

Those who make merry for others paused for an interval yesterday and made merry for and among themselves. It was "Christmas on the lot" for the show people of the Johnny J. Jones Exposition. In the forenoon, before the crowds gathered for the afternoon exhibitions, and when they had the lot to themselves, the street through circus town was as a glow with the Christmas spirit as at night it glows with electric lights and span-gles. Nowhere in the city was there a better time or a merrier people.

There is poetry and romance in the hearts of the modern "trouper's" true heirs to all the glories and traditions of the ancient troubadours and harlequins. In their land of make-believe there are fairies; should they, of all others, not believe in Santa Claus? Their business is to give pleasure; their sincerest admirers are simple-minded men and women and tender children, and these, the pure of heart and the children—is not Christmas for them first of all? The Christmas spirit is in their hearts the year round; the humblest roustabout, who troups with the show because of its near approach to adventure, and the highest salaried performer of artistic instincts. There is no melancholy among the troupers who bravely and happily make their homes wherever their business calls them to go, adaptable folk who amiably fit the traditions of their profession to the necessities of their lives.

In the sand of the Wild West show arena Friday night there stood upright a brave little tree, illuminated with lights, glowing as beautifully as any Christmas tree in a drawing room. Cow ponies dashed about the ring, and there was nothing incongruous in it. Christmas was there.

It was Christmas as truly for the "Siamese twins," the tattooed man, the fat man and the other "freaks," as for anybody in the world. Outside the hallyhoo went on; inside the tent there was a Christmas tree which, a few hours later, yielded in packages with holiday labels the fruits of love and friendship. The twins spent the afternoon sorting and packing their gifts, tendered by friends they have made during their stay in this city as well as by their friends in the show. Christmas is the children's day and on the "lot" as elsewhere in all the world of Christendom it was around the children that all the activities centered. Mr. Jones had a tree in his private car, and one of the favored guests was little Miss Francis Scott, daughter of a lady connected with the animal show. The tree bore presents for her and the midgets and other members of the show.

In the quarters back of the tents there was everywhere a touch of Christmas. A table set in the wagon that contains the paraphernalia of the Stella show rivaled the display of a hotel dining room, and there Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Vaughn and their daughter had as the guest for dinner Ed. R. Salter, the show's publicity man. In the animal show Robert Irvin, the managed had at dinner "Admiral" George Dewey, the lion tamer; Captain Money and Captain Houston and Mlle. Hurd, Miss Etta Louise Blake entertained the posing girls of Superba. The Miller family of "the battlefields of France" had as fine a dinner and as good a time as if the Christmas dinner was served in other surroundings. The midgets had dinner in Mr. Jones' car. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wilson of the jazz house, and the monkey hippodrome entertained friends in their tent.

A French chef—a real French chef who proved it by the "cats" he served, prepared the dinner in a wagon for "the crew." Ted Steinberg, manager of Murphy's Lunch, served for 75 cents a special Christmas dinner which his customers said would have cost $1.50 elsewhere.

Parke Prentiss, director of the big band, entertained the twenty-five members of that organization at Knight's Shop on Clematis avenue, and in addition there was present his wife and Mrs. Kreiber, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Clair, wives of members of the band, and Al Beck, treasurer of the show.

Without request from anyone but out of consideration for the proprieties, closing of the performances on Friday evening was advanced half an hour because of the knowledge that services were to be held at the Catholic church and care was taken not to disturb the worship.—Palm Beach Post.

WOMEN'S CLUB BALL

Brilliant Event in Society Circles
The Christmas holidays have been marked by many gay parties and many more have been planned to cheer the last days of the old year and the infant 1921 will be born amidst much merry-making.

Among the most attractive and charming of the season's gayeties was the Women's Club ball, given by the social department at Hotel Valdez on Tuesday evening, an annual event of much social importance, that brings together the members of the social department and their many friends.

Amid the beauty of Christmas decorations, blending harmoniously the club colors of red and green, beneath the rosy glow of shaded lights and to the fascinating strains of the Million Dollar Orchestra, the gay assemblage enjoyed one of the most brilliant dances for which the social department is noted. There was a large representation of the college set and interesting groups of out-of-town guests added much to the charm of the occasion.

HUGHES TO HEAD CABINET ACCORDING TO LAWRENCE DOUGHERTY, ATTORNEY GEN.

done of select a cabinet that will fill the general promise to pick able executives.

Mr. Penrose isn't worried about the Pennsylvania situation. Another significant fact is that to date Senator Harding has not asked Senator Knox to come to Marion and has not indicated to Mr. Knox that he wants him to become secretary of state.

It is known that Mr. Harding has been thinking seriously of Mr. Knox for the secretaryship of state and in his heart there is no man he would rather select. But the next cabinet will not be a group of personal favorites. Mr. Harding has felt it his duty to map out a general policy for his administration and then try to get men to fit that policy.

Conferences of the last few weeks at Marion have convinced Mr. Harding that he cannot afford to take any extremist view and he fears that Mr. Knox's announced position on foreign affairs is such that it would be embarrassing for Mr. Knox to reverse himself or trim his views to suit the Harding policy.

Moreover, Mr. Harding doesn't want to antagonize any groups in the party by selecting one who has been so completely identified with the "irreconcilable" group in the senate. The unwisdom of such a course from a political viewpoint has been urged upon Mr. Harding through at first he was inclined to pay no attention to it at all.

To select a cabinet that would meet the expectation of the country Senator Harding has realized that he must get a top-liner, a man whose abilities have been well advertised and in whose judgment and integrity the whole country has confidence.

It was natural that having eliminated Mr. Root on account of advanced age he has turned to Hughes, who has made a brilliant record as governor of New York and who had distinguished himself on the supreme court of the United States and who had, furthermore, come within a few electoral votes of being elected president of the United States himself. Messrs. Borah and Johnson supported Mr. Hughes for the presidency in 1916 and can hardly go back of that fact.

Mr. Hughes is known throughout the world as a distinguished jurist and Mr. Harding is said to believe Hughes' appointment will create confidence everywhere that the foreign policy of the United States was in the hands of a man of extraordinary capacity and fairness.

Every report received by the writer from the men who are in the confidence of Senator Harding and who are in Washington and New York conferring on his behalf with the celebrities in question, indicates that the next cabinet will be a much better one than earlier gossip would indicate and that while Warren Harding has been taking his time, sifting the various aspirants and candidates he has by no means fallen victim to the purely political temptations which are still athwart in his path.—David Lawrence in Jacksonville Metropolis.

GALA WEEK IN SANFORD

Johnny Jones Big Shows

Will Furnish the Amusements and There Will Be Something Doing Every Minute With Plenty of Music, Attractions, Noises and Fun of the Right Sort. Read what the Palm Beach Tropical Sun says of the JOHNNY JONES SHOWS This Season

The Seminole Sun Dance committee were wise in selecting Johnny J. Jones to come to West Palm Beach to give a show to help in making expenses for the next Sun Dance, March 9-10-11, next spring. He has the best Carnival we have ever seen. He has everything and so much of it is new. He has undertaken a new departure in amusements and is cutting out the clap-trap and filling in with educational and art work. His free war museum is a wonder and is a liberal history of the war in itself. The European battle front with a thousand moving figures, siege guns and disappearing batteries and regiments of soldiers in trench and shell proof dugout and in trees and on mountain tops is an exact picture of an engagement, and all electrically controlled. And to think that an American from Urbana, Ohio, took away the special job of the Swiss music box makers—why it is more wonderful than the Strasburg clock.

In art the classic "Stella" that cost the St. Louis collector $100,000 is the most talked about picture of the modern painters and is the masterpiece of Napoleon Ninni, the premier Italian artist. In the same list is "Superba" a beautiful combination of painting and life sized human figures representing the masterpieces of the European and American galleries.

The feature here is the lighting effects and the artistry of posing, in pictures so famous and so artistically reproduced that nothing lewd or suggestive ever enters the mind of the beholder. It recalls the electrical shows at the Chicago World's Fair with colored storm effects. It should be seen for its educational value and art expression.

The Lilliputians are meritorious in the extreme for they are the most refined and commanding since the days of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thumb and Commodore Nutt. Prince Denison, M'le Salome, Princess Marguerite and Baroness Leonie, are very attractive and hold receptions with true courtliness.

The educational animal show where a whip would seem unnecessary except for show. Lions, jaguars, leopards, elephants, camels, goats, performing monkeys, pumas and a wild West Show of real plainsmen and trick riders in an original border drama, in which the trick mule is a star and the horse thief is caught, the audience encored and on all sides was exclamations of "That's some show ain't it?"

There are hundreds of things not on the bill with this show aggregation. It is a constant surprise and everything is a novelty and so clean and devoid of the rough house speller that one thinks he is in a museum. The one show is laid out on both sides of our concrete roadway through the park and runs from Althea north through the park to the railroad bridge for two long blocks and every twenty feet is something else. It would take us a week to see it, and hear entertainer Ed. R. Salter tell how good Johnny J. Jones was and how particularly he scrutinized all shows daily and all new acts to see that no vulgarity or short change acts are given. There is only one Ed. Salter and he is with Johnny J. Jones and there is only one Johnny J. Jones on the show map in the carnival routings. We are trying to get him here for the Sun Dance March 9-10-11.

A Raffald and Miss Esther Fleischer have returned from a week-end stay in Bradentown, as the guests of Mr. Levine, one of the most prominent celery growers in the state of Florida. A cordial reception was given in their honor.

MISS BERNICE AUSTIN GIVING PARTY

One of the most delightful parties of the holidays was the one given by Miss Bernice Austin at her apartments on Magnolia avenue Thursday evening.

The decorations were in keeping with the Christmas season. Shaded lights gave a soft glow upon the merry group as they played lively games and danced.

During the evening two beautiful readings were given by Miss Rosimond Radford, which was indeed an enjoyable treat.

At the conclusion of the games hot chocolate with whipped cream and marshmallow toasts, was served.

Those present were: Misses Martha and Katie Brown, Dorothy Stokes,

May Parson, May Holly, Gladies Wilson, Alberta Aycock, Irma Smith, Kathleen Brady, Evelyn Biggers, Rosimond Radford and Virginia Neely, and Messrs. James Schall, Arthur Moore, George Smith, Billie Pitts, Francis Lyons, Ralph Lyons, Billie Parks, Mathew Tarbell, Robert Denton, Lowell McLees, Newton Lowell, W. A. Adams and Ed. Moye.

DEATH OF MRS. SIEG.

Word came today of the death of Mrs. K. M. Sieg, of Geneva, to her daughter here, Mrs. David Speer. Mrs. Sieg had been ill for some time but was not thought to be in a serious condition. Her death was due to paralysis. Mrs. Sieg had been a resident of the Geneva section for the past ten years, coming from Americus, Georgia, her old home. She leaves two daughters in Geneva, Mrs. Culpepper and Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Speer, of this city, a daughter in Georgia and two sons in Georgia and one son in Pennsylvania.

The remains were taken Friday morning to the old family burial lot at Americus, Ga., for interment. The many friends of Mrs. Sieg express their sympathy to the family.

She Knew.

The girls in the seventh grade all wore large hair bows made of beautiful, bright tissue paper. They were not only inexpensive but so pretty that they were declared a great success until one day it rained and the bows faded all over the little owners' hair. Then great was the lamenting.

One of the boys looked from the girls with their spotted red and blue and purple hair to two spinner teachers in the fifty-year-old class. "I don't know as they're so badly off," he remarked to the teacher who was young and pretty and with a strong sense of humor, "I'd rather be faded on account of having beans than to be on account of not having them."

Then teacher smiled. She too had preferences.—Indianapolis News.

Belt Full of Sea Lion Scapls.

As the sea lion is regarded as the worst enemy of the salmon, the state of Washington pays a bounty of $2.50 on every sea lion scap and recently William Hunter, who devotes his entire time to hunting sea lions, collected $880 for 352 scapls which he gathered during the season. This man is also paid by the salmon fisheries for his efforts to rid the waters of the sea lions. He is known as the "king of the sea lion hunters."

Sweet Marie says she has two very good reasons for wearing short skirts.

PROGRAM FOR COMING FAIR IS ELABORATE

The program of sensational entertainment provided for the forthcoming Five Counties Fair is more elaborate than heretofore. The fair officials have closed a contract with the International Fire Works Company of Trenton, N. J., for a pyrotechnic display by these well-known producers of illuminated night spectacles that promises to surpass similar displays heretofore beheld in Florida for its lavishness and striking gorgeousness. The particular reason for this is found in that the occasion of the Midwinter Subtropical Exposition, which is always largely attended by officials of various southern fairs, affords this company a timely opportunity to demonstrate before these visitors the character of entertainment they will furnish for the season. For this reason elaborate features will be included in Orlando's fireworks exhibition that are not found in regular programs elsewhere.

Other amusement features include a program of hippodrome acts daily before the grandstand of which the headliner will be "the Flying Wards." This troupe of world-famous acrobats consists of seven people, of which three are ladies, and constituted the real talked about sensation of the Florida State Fair at Jacksonville. This act was considered the most meritorious and striking feature at Jacksonville, and so pretentious that it was considered to "fill" the gap occasioned by the absence of horse-racing in anotherwise rounded program of amusement features. At Orlando this feature is shown between the erases.—Reporter-Star.

INDIA'S MILLIONS OF "GODS"

Country is Certainly Deserving of Its Appellation, "The Mother of Religions."

St. Simeon Stylites, the noted Syrian ascetic, is the first of whom we have record of the many thousands of religious enthusiasts who have believed in punishing the body that the soul may be raised nearer heaven. St. Simeon, it is recorded, passed the last 30 years of his life sitting for the most part of the time upon a high stone pillar, set up in the ground, near Antioch, "enduring the scorching heat by day and the biting frost by night that he might thus overcome evil passions and be better fitted for heaven."

Enthusiastic followers today of the tenets of St. Simeon are the Sadhus of India, says Grit. While the practice of doing penance to earn merit is prevalent in other countries, there is no land where it is so universal, or where it is carried to such a degree of physical suffering as in India. Every form of torture than can be applied to the human frame is witnessed in the land of the Sadhus. India, that "land of mysticism and romance," has so great a variety of religious faiths as to have received the name "The Mother of Religions." The Hindus have more than 30,000,000 gods, and their worshippers wear upon their foreheads distinctive "god marks" to show which god they follow. Out of these religious beliefs have come the various castes, the bane of India today, the giant hand that stays the wheels of progress.

DIFFICULT TO HANDLE FORKS

When First Introduced, Diners Could See Little of Benefit in the Innovation.

It is hard to believe the sensation produced when forks first came into use. It was in 1074, at a dinner given by Henry III of France. Here is an account by a royal lady guest. "The guests never touched the meat with their fingers, but with forks, which they carried to their mouths, bending their necks and bodies over their plates."

"There were several salads. These they ate with forks, for it is not considered proper to touch the food with the fingers. However difficult it may be to manage it, it is thought better to put the little forked instrument in the mouth than the fingers. "The artichokes, asparagus, peas and beans were brought. It was a pleasure to watch them try to eat these with their forks, for some, who were less adroit than the others, dropped as many on their plates and on the way to the mouth as they were able to get to their mouths. "Afterward a great silver basin and a pitcher of water were brought and the guests washed their hands, though it seems as if there would not be much scent of meat and grease on them, for they had touched their food only with those forked instruments."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Tricking Fate.

Every Hindu must have a son to perform the proper rites in his behalf so that he may be released from purgatory after death. Especially cursed, therefore, is he whose fate is to be sonless. One such, a Brahman, propitiated the god Vishnu and obtained a boon. He asked for a son, but, since a son was not in the man's fate, Vishnu refused. Twice this happened, but the third time the Brahman asked that his meriments might be shared by gods and men alike. This was granted. He then went home, locked his door and, with his wife, began to sing and dance. Thereupon, all the gods and men, by the terms of the boon, were compelled to sing and dance with him, and the business of the universe was brought to a standstill. "Stop!" begged the gods. "Only when you grant me a son," answered the Brahman. And he had his way.—W. N. Brown in Asia Magazine.

Where Ice Makes Crops.

We are accustomed to think of Alaska as a moist part of the world, but except in the southern portion it is rather arid, having a rainfall insufficient for the production of crops.

When an area is first cleared for planting the soil is moist enough, being frozen nearly to the surface the year around. Then the ice in the ground gradually melts, so that the first few crops require only a slight rainfall—the melting of the ice furnishing sufficient moisture to the roots of the growing plants.

In the course of a few years, however, the ice recedes to a depth of six or more feet, and this reservoir of moisture is no longer available for the crops. It then becomes necessary to resort to various expedients, such as "mulching," for hindering evaporation and economizing the available water.

Tangled Tongues.

Through the kindness of several correspondents we are able to present a few more humorous mistranslations, as follows:
Exempli gratia—Samples free.
Causu belli—A question of stomach.
Splendide mendax—Lying in state.
Puris omnipara—Boys will be boys.
Flagrante delicto—In fragrant delight.
Chacun a son gout—A man with a dog and a gun.
Another youth, painfully conscious of his vaccination, rendered the last phrase: I sing of arms and the virus.—Boston Transcript.

EVERYBODY WILL HAVE ONE BIG TIME ALL NEXT WEEK

The following from the Daytona News tells all about the surprises that Johnny J. Jones has for us:

Daytona's 1920 Mid-winter celebration is the best ever, without a doubt, the Johnny J. Jones program arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, of every class, kind and attractions is of a nature to suit the most critical taste. The Johnny J. Jones own band provides the best of music, of the free acts there is no doubt in the world, but what for the love of Mike would we do without the midway. Where would we tollworn mortals be without the jovial, dazzling, tinselled, jazzy midway, the midway composed of the wonderful attractions of Johnny J. Jones.

Sounds of the Midway
What is it, when even the stagiest old stager enters the show ground, that makes him hold his head a little higher, prick up his ears and quicken his pace. Nothing more than the burst of harmonious discordancy that breaks upon his ears from the midway. When we can hear the sound of the hoarse voices of the perspiring showman roarin' through his megaphone, the weird howls of the wild man, the clash of cymbals, the deep rub-a-dub-dub of the drum, the triumphant strains of the merry-go-round, the shouts of the lemonade seller, the earnest exhortations of the hot dog man, the impassioned appeal of the artist with the balloons and the whips, the seductive tones of the lady with four rings for a dime—when he hears all these things he becomes young again, and promises himself a couple of hours on the midway.

Much to See
A couple of hours? Try it and see. Johnny J. Jones has provided a whole lot more than two hours' amusement this year. Ask the Daily News reporter who made the rounds of the many attractions last night jilted round by the courteous Ed. R. Salter publicity man on the shows, and who is called Johnny J. Jones' "hired boy." In one door, out again, and in at another, and still another, and another one after that.

"Well," said the reporter, after a while, "I think I had better be going," as he unconsciously bought a couple of balloons and pressed one on the astonished Ed. "I suppose I have seen about all."

"Seen it all?" exclaimed Salter, "Why, there's a whole lot more to see. Why, you haven't seen the animal show, 'Superba' and 'The Dodger,' nor the Siamese Twins, the fat man or the Midgets, or the Wild West Show, or the performing monkeys, and there's the—oh oBy! 'Stella' and a lot more and you simply must go and see the bug house."

"Yes, I'll finish up in the bug house," said the dazzled reporter.

Anyway, the pair went and refresh themselves with a hot dog and one of those big fluffy things that can only be found on midways, and are retailed at a nickel a piece, and continued the rounds. And the newspaper man thoroughly enjoyed himself. The fact of the matter is that the reporter is not particularly enamored of midway shows, but when he was through, he was delighted with all he had seen. Every one of the Jones' attractions are well worth seeing, and there is not a catchpenny in the bunch. All are interesting. Some are thrilling many are educational, others are funny, and all are clean and it was noticeable on Tuesday the number of people down there whom one would not expect to see patronizing midway. Why, the reporter saw no less a person than—well, never mind, he was enjoying it thoroughly, because the entertainment was good.

Well, it is hard to start in to describe the attractions. First of all, we saw our little friends the Midgets, in a very beautiful new home very pleasant as ever, with an excellent memory for faces, and glad to be in the wonderful city of Daytona. There is Prince Denison, M'le Salone, Princess Marguerite and Baroness Leonine. Then there are the Siamese twins, born in Brighton, two delightfully bright little girls, getting on well with their lessons, and now in grade four. They are well worth seeing.

"Stella" Here.
"Stella" that magnificent painting by the gifted Italian Napoleon Ninni, is on exhibition and well worth seeing. As the lecturer points out, the artist no doubt reached the peak in realism in painting the human figure. That delightful and artistic attraction Etta Louise Blake's Theatre De Beaux Art, introducing "Superba" will draw big crowds. There is nothing here for the low born, but a show of artistic merit and originality.

The trained Wild Animal exhibition and one ring circus, with performing elephants, lions and pumas, is an evening's entertainment in itself, and the six different trainers put their four-footed friends through some very clever tricks. The Mary Mack Wild West exhibition is one of those performances that will always delight any audience, redolent as it is one of those wild scenes that were common in the early days. The capture of the horse thief is quite thrilling and amusing. Mabelle Mack's mule show is another that is sure to attract large crowds, for it is just about as full of action as anything ever seen here.

Trust a mule for action. It must be remembered that the admission to several of these tents includes a number of smaller exhibits, such as the fire eater, the tattooer, the disappearing lady and a large number of others.

Outstanding in the exhibits of a more educational nature is "The Battle Fields of France," the model of a European battle front. It took two years to build and six months to assemble. It is a wonder of clockwork, and every figure in its moves. Shells explode, guns appear and disappear, soldiers shoot, and all the hundred and one activities of war are, faithfully depicted. Another excellent exhibit of this nature being the models of the electrical battleship, the submarine and the tank. Well constructed and very educational. The exhibit of war souvenirs is a free show and contains many new and novel items never seen in Daytona before. This is an attraction owned and managed by "Oversens" boys.

The youngsters will be very much interested this year in Lady Little's Toyland. This consists of a variety of riding devices for the smaller girls and boys, such as a miniature ferris wheel, a smial merry-go-round, and a revolving table where there is all the fun of the fair. They should provide one for the big folks. However, the bigger people will have all the thrills they require in the 12 riding devices that Johnny J. Jones has this year. There is, of course the merry-go-round, the whip, that combination of speed that twists; the whirl, airplane swing frolic, ferris whele, roulette table, "The Dodgem" and a number of other wild and exciting forms of amusement, guaranteed to please all who love to romp sometimes in their lives. Mention must be made of the elephant for the youngsters, and our patient friend, the camel.

Two new trick houses, including Jazzer and Crazy Kats, both of which were designed and built to be operated only by the Johnny J. Jones exposition, create joy and laughter on the "Joy Plaza." The trouble and sorrow immersers are past the description of print.

Well that's the Joy Plaza of the midwinter celebration, and a cracking

Better weather today.
It is good enough at that.
The Million Dollar Band played right on yesterday in the rain.
And the crowd stayed right on to get another earful of that fine music.
There is nothing like a band to enliven the city generally and make you forget your troubles.

Holiday week has been a better week for having had the Million Dollar Band in our midst for one whole week.

Such a spirit could build cities and we should all get together after New Years and build those auto camps, those new buildings, that Rod and Gun Club, those hotels and apartment houses.

According to dispatches from the firing line Governor Catts is right on the job of removing more members of the state road department.

The big Weekly Herald goes out today with twelve pages filled with good reading matter and advertisements. The Weekly Herald will cover this county in every part of it with double the present list before the new year is over and with a better mail service to every part of the county.

The Herald wants to thank the Million Dollar Band for their fine music this week. It has been close enough that we could hear it while grinding out the news for the public and that little, red-headed, sweet singing mocking bird that they have with them has delighted us beyond measure. Any time that he wants a job on the paper we will try and make room for him just to hear him sing occasionally.

We note many and divers plans for developing Sanford with much joy for it seems that when new people come in to invest their money that Sanford at last is on the upward climb. And we should welcome the new people and give them the glad hand and make them feel at home. It is new money that is needed here for Sanford money has been almost worn out by the constant exchange of business courtesies.

And tomorrow we turn over that new leaf that has been turned so often that it is almost worn out now and needs a bookmark to show us how to find it. However, there is some satisfaction in trying and making good resolutions each year is helping some even if the fine ideas do not always pan out. And this year let us all resolve to build a bigger and better Sanford even if we fall by the wayside at times. Eventually we shall do it and it looks like the year 1921 is the year.

NEED DIRECT DELIVERY

sent there from any distance makes the time of delivery longer than it would to mail a letter to New York. This paper has a personal interest in the mailing of newspapers of this section aside from the fact that we want better service all the time for the people living in the urban part of the county. They should have all the conveniences possible and in these days of quick delivery the mails have not kept up with the pace. Now there is a remedy for this defect in our county for the mail could be carried on the auto bus line that goes to Geneva twice each day and it is to be hoped that this will be done for it will be a big service rendered to everyone concerned. Those folks in the Geneva section are up-to-date in every particular and do not care for mail or newspaper two or three days old. They want today's news today and they are entitled to it and we hope the postoffice department will heed the requests of Postmaster Elder of this city, and many of the patrons of Geneva and Chuluota and all over the county to deliver this mail by the bus line and grant the relief asked by them. It should not cost the department any more money and if it does the service rendered will overshadow any small cost entailed and with better service there will be more mail and with more mail the department will get more business and more money.

AGAINST FEE SYSTEM

We don't know why any paper wants to take up for the abominable fee system. We don't blame the officials for wanting the fee system to remain in vogue, especially if the office effects them because the salary system reduces the possibility of their making money off of the general public. In other words it specifies just what a man or woman shall receive for his services and furthermore it eliminates all chance of graft and crookedness. Along with the salary system every county official should be required to give a personal indemnity bond to the county so that in case of shortage he can be held for the amount involved. In past years when a fellow absconds that is the end of it, unless he is arrested and prosecuted, but if bondsmen are required to back up an official and lose if there is a wrongdoing, conditions will be different.

But back to the elimination of the fee system. We have seen both ways work. Under the fee system you get good men now and then in office but under the salary system you always get competent men because the grafter and the fellow who wants something easy and the politician won't try to get an office that don't open a way whereby he gets a soft snap and some easy money. When the officers of the county are placed upon the salary basis, competent men will be put in the office and men and women who need the jobs and are glad to render a service in order to receive the pay that is due them. Under the fee system every little possible chance to stretch something onto the taxpayer for a little extra fee is usually found by the official and it comes out of the taxpayer's pocket. Under the salary system every taxpayer helps foot the bills and the service rendered one does not cost any more than the service rendered another. It means that the salaries are paid out of the general fund from taxes and the fees that usually go to the pockets of the office holders falls back into the funds of the county. In selecting men and women for office the politician and grafter and hanger-on is eliminated and by the due process of fitness they gradually fall into the ranks of the has-beens and the people themselves recognize merit and the person best fitted for the job rather than the one who has the most pull, the best "good fellow" and the biggest vote getter. There are some mighty good men in county offices who have been working under the fee system and who are entitled to their jobs and their fees as long as that system is in vogue, and these men the people generally are glad to put back on the job and keep them there as long as they show fitness and willingness to serve. Certainly no man who wants to be square with the people can object to the salary system replacing the antiquated, polluted, graft-producing fee system that has sent more men office holders to hell and the penitentiary than any other one thing.—Lakeland Star.

CUTTING DOWN REPRESENTATION

A proposition, backed by a strong organization, is before the census committee of the lower house of congress to cut down the apportionment of southern representation in congress because of the alleged disfranchisement of negro voters. It is pertinent, therefore, to inquire what power congress has in the premises under the amendments of the constitution relating to this subject.

Section 1 of the fourteenth amendment provides that all persons born or naturalized in the United States shall be citizens with equal rights and immunities. That section does not give, nor attempt to give, the right to vote to any new class of citizens. It left that question exactly where it was before.

But section 2, of the same amendment, provides that representation in congress shall be apportioned in proportion to the population of the several states, but where any state denies the right to vote to any class of its citizens its representation may be reduced in proportion to the number of citizens so denied.

If the fourteenth amendment stood alone, then, it is quite plain that congress could reduce representation, provided it found (which, as a matter of fact it could not) that any class of citizens was disfranchised by state laws.

But the fifteenth amendment put a new face on the whole matter. It provided that "the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." And congress was given authority to enforce that provision by appropriate legislation.

A statute restricting suffrage to white citizens, if passed under the fourteenth amendment would have been perfectly valid; and it would have been up to congress to say whether it entailed reduced representation.

But such a statute under the fifteenth amendment would be absolutely null and void. A void statute is exactly equivalent, in a legal sense, to a non-existent statute. It neither enlarges nor restricts the rights of anybody.

The southern states have not passed any laws denying the right of suffrage to any class of citizens, because they can not do so. That is not a quibble, but sound legal proposition which every court in the land has endorsed in principle. Therefore, as it appears to the Telegram, congress has no right whatever to apportion representation upon any basis other than that of population, because the conditions under which it might have made such reduction under the fourteenth amendment are wholly removed by the fifteenth.

If the association for encouraging race agitation, or whatever its name may be, wants to assert a grievance and secure a remedy its proper forum is the supreme court and not the halls of congress.—Lakeland Telegram.

MUST SELL EGGS 20 MONTHS OLD

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 30.—Following disclosures that one lot of approximately 25,000 dozen liquid eggs had been hoarded for from eighteen to twenty months, the state division of foods refused the request of the Badger State Creamery to keep the eggs in storage any longer and issued orders that they be placed on the market for sale. The owners had changed four times, making it difficult to keep track of them, it was said.

Hounds in Funeral Tribute.

Twenty-one pairs of hounds filed solemnly past the grave at the funeral of William Selby-Lowndes, a well-known English country squire of the old school who had been master of the Whaddon hounds for 25 years. The village churchyard overlooks the famous Whaddon Chase. After the burial service, the members of the hunt led the famous Whaddon Chase pack past the flower-lined grave.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 31.—The world is likely entering a maximum period of earthquakes and eruptions, according to Rev. F. L. Odenbach, astronomer of the St. Ignatius College Observatory, in Cleveland.

Commenting on the recent earthquake in Argentina and earthquake and typhoon in the Island of Yap, Rev. Odenbach said:
"Earthquakes and eruptions come in maximum and minimum periods. For the past year and a half we have been passing through a minimum period. Now it is probable that a maximum period is setting in."

There are three main causes of earthquakes, according to Rev. Odenbach:
Volcanic—causing tremors of the earth.
Downdraw—usually short quakes caused by the ceilings in large caves and mines falling in.
Tectonic—the most serious, caused by shrinking of the earth's crust.

Violent quakes of the past year:
Jan. 7—Mexico; hundreds killed; seven towns inundated.
April 21—California, Arizona and Utah; big property damage; small loss of life.
June 22—California; six earthquakes; damage, $200,000.
June 27—Italy; 15 earthquakes, 300 killed; many villages demolished.

July 16—Los Angeles; four earthquakes; many injured; slight property damage.
Sept. 8—Italy; five towns destroyed; small loss of life.
Oct. 12—Porto Rico; earthquake and tidal wave; many killed.

Dec. 17—Argentina; earthquake heavy damage to property; big loss of life.
Dec. 21—Yap; one of Carolina Islands in Pacific Ocean; earthquake and typhoon; heavy damage; loss of life unknown.

SCORED ON THE PRINCIPAL

Young School Teacher Got Gloriously Even for Long Series of Sarcasmic Observations.

Now, the principal of this school is sarcastic as well as intelligent, and whenever she happens to mention a subject and finds that her teachers are ignorant on the subject she "bawls them out" for their ignorance. Especially is this resented by the newest recruit at the building.

Recently the principal acquired "a man," who was a widower. She is proud of the acquisition, mentioning him often in her conversations.

The other morning she began to ask the teachers about an article she had just read in the paper. Now, none of them had read it. Sarcasmically she asked: "Well, don't any of you read the papers?"

The newest recruit smiled sweetly and wisely. "Of course," she returned, "but not everything in them. We just have time to read the society page and then the death and funeral list so that we shall know who the new widowers are."—Indianapolis News.

MILLION DOLLAR

WILL PLAY THIS AFTERNOON, AND TONIGHT AND LEAVE WITH BEST WISHES OF SANFORD PEOPLE

With a concert this afternoon and a short one tonight on the streets the Million Dollar Band will close their week's engagement in Sanford and leave with the best wishes of the many hundreds who have heard them and who have been delighted with their concerts.

The concert given in the Princess Theatre last night was not as well attended as it should have been as there are many happenings this week and the majority of the people were hearing the band each day in free concerts but to hear this magnificent musical organization in real concert work in an auditorium is well worth double the price of admission charged last night and those who did hear them were more than paid for coming out to the theatre.

The Million Dollar Band can be recommended to any community anywhere as being one of the best musical organizations on the road. They are not only fine musicians but they are perfect gentlemen as well and while in this city have conducted themselves as such, making many friends here who will be glad to see them come back for a six week's engagement next season.

Harold Bachman, the leader of the Million Dollar Band, has carried out his contract with the "13" Club to the letter and has proved that he is not only a capable band leader but a square business man as well and he has been ready and willing to give the people the concerts in all kinds of weather and at all times and the many who have enjoyed these concerts are loud in their praises of the band and every member of the band and the sweet little singer, Walter Kelly.

They leave Sanford tomorrow for points on the East Coast and they are leaving Sanford with the thought that some day in the near future they will again have the opportunity to delight Sanford people with their splendid music that goes farther than ordinary band music and becomes a real art.

SHOWED ENMITY IN BOYHOOD

Encounter Between Youthful Cromwell and King Charles I Might Be Called Prophetic.

Cromwell and Charles I of England first met when they were children at Hinchbrook house, the home of a mutual friend of both the king and Oliver's father. The boys were told to play together while their elders talked over affairs of state in fashion. They got along well enough for a while, and then a dispute arose. The young king was not used to opposition to his princely will, and when Oliver stoutly clung to his rights the king struck him.

Oliver cared not a bit that the blow was aimed by a king's hand. He swung his somewhat grimy fist as hard as he could, and caught Charles on the nose with the to-be-expected result. Blood flowed in quantities, and the young prince set up a great howl. Servants came running, and all might have gone ill with the careless commoner had not Charles' father taken a hand and declared that the blow was to be forgiven, as it was given in defense of a right, and his son must learn to know that right was greater than kings.

Cough May Originate in Stomach.

In the Bulletin de la Societe Medicale de Paris, Dr. G. G. Hayen describes a patient, a man of fifty-three, who for twenty-five years had had vague dyspeptic disturbances for which he had taken pounds of sodium bicarbonate and other drugs in the course of the years. During the last six years he had been tormented with a cough and spitting of thick mucus from the stomach. Under treatment of the dyspepsia by lavage of the stomach and dieting, the cough disappeared. Hayen reiterates the necessity for seeking latent stomach disease with a puzzling cough, and also the necessity with chronic gastritis to restrict to two meals a day, with a nine-hour interval.

Lovers in the Next World.

A marriage ceremony in unusual circumstances is reported from Japan. A young man and a young woman committed shinju, or double suicide, for love, by throwing themselves into the sea. Both bodies were recovered and cremated with Buddhist ceremonies. The ashes were then brought to the home of the girl's father and he performed a marriage ceremony with the ashes of the two lovers. According to the Buddhist faith, the marriage is contracted in this world will carry over to the next. When circumstances prevent a marriage in this world, many Japanese men and women commit suicide in the hope of a happy married life in the world to come.

CALLS FOR MANY QUALITIES

Archeologist Must Be Scholar, Linguist, Engineer and Artist, and Expert Handler of Men.

The modern archeologist in Egypt must be more than a scholar. He must have studied history, it is true; he must be familiar with what is known of the art and life of Old Egypt and he must have mastered the ancient language so that he can read the hieroglyphs carved on temple and tomb.

But scholarship is only part of his equipment. He must know something of engineering and something of drawing; he must have a sense of organization; he must himself be ready to turn to with pick and shovel, should occasion arise.

The task of disinterring ancient structures and their precious contents uninjured is a delicate one, not to be done hastily or haphazardly.

In addition to being scholar and engineer, linguist and artist, the modern archeologist must understand how to handle men. The men employed in archeological excavation in Egypt are usually boys from 10 to 20 years of age. Older than that, in a country where men and women age tragically fast, they are likely to be stupid.

Usually they are irresponsible and, spurred on by the light-fingered "antika" dealers in neighboring villages. The wise archeologist puts them on piece-work—so much for every cubic foot of earth removed, with bakshish, carefully calculated on the basis of the "antika" dealers' current rates, for every object unearthed.

Since the bakshish varies with the condition of the object, it is to the interest of the worker to get each "find" out entire, if possible, or, if breakage is inevitable, with no part missing.

Half of the minor objects discovered go to the Egyptian government and half are retained by the institution conducting the exploration.
