His father served as a number of years, accepting Hoover's resignation. The President offered the can nominee his best wishes in the broader field to which he was called. It always was a satisfaction to have had the benefit of wise counsel in my problems which have arisen in my administration. My wife will always attend the broader field to which she is called."

Tom Mix Faces Two Warrants Because He Attacked Actor

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Aug. 21 (INS)—Who hit who and what for was still a matter of conjecture today in the film colony as officers prepared to serve a brace of battery warrants on Tom Mix, film cowboy.

Will Morrissey, actor, claims that Mix hit him on the jaw when he extended his hand as a token of friendship at the conclusion of a party at the home of George Beban.

Morrissey's wife, Midgie Miller, says that Tom "applied the boot" to her husband while he was in a prone position. She also stated that she was knocked down when she attempted to interfere.

Miss however, "alleges" it was Morrissey who started the rumpus and says he did not hit the actor until he was forced to defend himself. He denies that he used his famous boots for weapons.

Wearing a bandage over her left eye Mrs. Miller went to the prosecutor's office with her attorney, Mr. Scott, who has been confined to his bed.

WILSON SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (INS)—Jack Wilson, Chicago outfielder, was suspended today by president Tiedler of the National League for violation of playing rules in yesterday's game between Chicago and Philadelphia. Wilson argued over an umpire's decision.

Rockford Citizens Take Heart On Learning Canadians Will Begin Search With Planes

AUSTIN, MINN., Aug. 21 (INS)—Four persons were killed and at least 100 injured, some seriously, by the tornado that swept through two southern Minnesota counties late Monday afternoon before crossing into northern Iowa. Three were killed in Austin and a woman was killed at Glendale. Fifteen of the seriously injured are in Austin hospitals. Three are expected to die from their injuries. Property damage in Austin will reach $500,000. Damages to farm buildings, stocks and crops in the two Minnesota counties will total about $1,000,000.

Hundreds of buildings were unroofed here as the funnel-shaped cloud blazed its path through the business district. The Park Theatre, a $250,000 building and the Motor Inn Garage directly across the street from the theatre were virtually destroyed by the tornado.

Hundreds of theatre goers had just left a matinee performance at the Park Theatre when the storm broke. All escaped. The Grand Hotel, next to the Park Theatre was unroofed, but no deaths or injuries occurred there.

Canadian, Greenland and Danish fishing boats have joined the search at the request of the United States government. The Canadian government, it is understood here, has requested trappers in the northeastern wilderness to keep an extra sharp watch for traces of the missing plane.

BOCKFORD, IOWA, Aug. 21 (INS)—Rockford citizens today took new hope for the ultimate rescue of aviators Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, lost enroute to Sweden when it was learned a fleet of Canadian planes had been ordered out from Fort Burwell to search the course taken by the missing "Greater Rockford" man-of-war.

Seven deaths in the affected area were laid to violence of the storm. Three persons were reported killed at Clear Lake, Iowa, while two others were reported killed near Austin, Minn.

Fifteen cottages were razed by the terrific wind at Twin Lakes and tremendous damage to crops resulted. Rain of cloudburst proportions last night drenched flag-draped West Branch, Ia., where Herbert Hoover was to be feted today. According to reports from that section, roads were washed out and great damage was done to crops.

It was reported the damage to the roads will seriously inconvenience the motor cavalcade that had set out for West Branch to honor Mr. Hoover.

Throughout the city of Rockford, there is only one topic of conversation. "Hassell and Cramer" are they safe? Every family with a radio listened through the night for word of the fliers.

Four telephone operators are on duty constantly at the chamber of commerce headquarters to answer queries on the fate of Hassell and Cramer. C. E. Patrick, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has slept only three hours in the last 24.

Members of the fliers' families refuse to give up hope. Among these are Mrs. Rosalie Hassell, wife of the pilot, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Hassell, his mother and Mrs. Fannie Cramer, mother of the navigator.

"We feel sure they have landed somewhere in Greenland," said Hassell's wife. "It may be days before we hear from them, but we are confident they are safe."

Fee Of Al Smith Says He Will Not Cast Vote

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 21 (INS)—The statement of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, for Gov. Al Smith, that he would vote for neither the Republican nor the Democratic presidential nominee, occasioned little surprise in the state capital today in view of the Senator's recent resignation from the National Executive Committee.

Simmons, who said he would support the state district and county Democratic ticket, declared he reserved for himself the right of all Democrats to exercise their "conviction and judgement without proscription, coercion or restraint."

Governor Smith Has Dress Rehearsal In Preparation For Notification Affair

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 21 (INS)—Gov. Al Smith, his face weathered in smile, went through a dress rehearsal shortly after noon today in preparation for the notification ceremony at 7:30 tomorrow night when he will formally accept the democratic presidential nomination.

Accompanied by two score newspapermen, the governor walked up to his private office, down the wide front steps of the capital, and, mounting the temporary rostrum, gave the amplifiers a thorough test.

Several hundred spectators who were watching workmen complete final preparations for the notification ceremony broke into wild applause as the governor came down the central steps. "Hurrah for Al!" shouted one large admirer as the governor stepped up to the rostrum.

In a brief speech the governor thanked Mayor John Boyd Thacher of Albany, the citizens of Albany, the citizens of Albany "and in fact everyone who has had anything to do with the setting of the stage for the notification."

The governor expressed the hope that it would not rain for the notification ceremony. "I hope it won't rain tomorrow night and I said,

RIFT MAY RESULT FEDERAL AGENTS IN DRY RANKS AS START PROBE OF TRIAL IS HALTED TOOMB'S CHARGE

Assistant Attorney General's Action Of Calling Prominent People As Witnesses Vexes U. S. Attorney Tuttle

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (INS)—Possibilities of a break between Charles H. Tuttle, United States attorney, and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willard, assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, were seen today following Tuttle's action of halting the questioning of socially and politically prominent men and women in connection with eight club liquor cases.

Tuttle in halting the inquiry by the grand jury said that the subpoenas issued while he and other members of his office were absent and without his knowledge and sanction.

Mrs. Willard was to return to Washington today from Kansas, Washington officials in New York said. It was intimated by Mrs. Willard's secretary that she would turn back and attempt to reach Fort Burwell.

The Rockford chamber of commerce also called the Danish government asking that its ships in the vicinity of Greenland and Labrador instruct their operators to listen constantly for radio news of the aviators.

Throughout the city of Rockford, there is only one topic of conversation. "Hassell and Cramer" are they safe? Every family with a radio listened through the night for word of the fliers.

Four telephone operators are on duty constantly at the chamber of commerce headquarters to answer queries on the fate of Hassell and Cramer. Tuttle said, "I would not ask any of them to come to the office and tell me and then use his statements against him."

The inquiry into the liquor situation in night clubs will be continued but along other lines," Tuttle said. "I do not approve of this wholesale publicity, advised Tuttle, and I hope that my action prevented the editor of the Daily News from doing so."

State examiners are at work on the books of the bank but have failed to find any shortages.

Restoration Of Albania Monarch May End In International Complications

BERLIN, Aug. 21—Conflicting claims, which may lead to international complications, are being forwarded for the throne of Albania, where, for the first time since the war, Europe is about to witness the restoration of a monarchy.

Dispatches from Tirana today state that demonstrations demanding the crowning of Prince Abdallah Zogu as king of Albania have broken out in all parts of the country and that Zogu is scheduled to proclaim himself within the next week. For four years Zogu has ruled Albania with an iron hand, and it is only a short step from his present dictatorship to monarchy.

Another claimant for the Albanian crown appeared today, however, in the person of Prince William, who ruled Albania for six months in 1914. Prince William accepted the Albanian crown at Neuweil, Germany, in Feb. 1914, after the independence of Albania had been proclaimed, and the London ambassadorial movement.

Republican Nominees Returns To Place Of Birth Where He Will Expound On His Plans For Relief Of Agriculture

Thousands Gather To Hear His Speech

Leaders Of Party Hope That Former Cabinet Member's Sympathy Will Win Votes

WEST BRANCH, IOWA, Aug. 21 (INS)—Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee for president, met the farm problem face to face as he returned to the place where he was born at the death of his grandfather, farmer Christopher Hoover, in the town of St. James and caught the name of two American presidents.

The death of Colonel Harvey, recently from a heart attack, was unexpected. He had been ill for months at his summer home here from asthma and bronchitis, but appeared to be on the road to recovery. He was stricken suddenly in Cedar Rapids, during a two day stay, he will participate in a campaign rally with farm leaders and attend a rally of farmers.

"I have just learned with profound sorrow that Mr. Harvey passed away. My close acquaintance with him for many years brought him to my real and true. His distinguished career as a journalist and a diplomat will long be remembered by his country. Mrs. Coolidge joins me in sending sincere sympathy to you and in the other members of his family."

Hoover breakfasted in the house of his birth this morning, leaving his special train to visit the old homestead. He was accompanied by Miss Teague and his two daughters. Her mother, Mrs. Coolidge, joins me in sending sincere sympathy to you and in the other members of his family."

The funeral service will be held Saturday morning at 10 a. m. at the First Methodist Church. The services will be conducted by Dr. John Fisher, pastor of the church, and Rev. George Harvey, his son, will officiate. The services will be followed by a memorial service at 1 p. m. at the First Methodist Church.

"I am glad to have the services taken out of the whispering woods and put into the open. Once and for all I shall meet it now," the governor declared. "I regard it as purely political and when the campaign begins, I do not propose to have the issues of that campaign begetted by a discussion of irrelevant things, such as the division of my votes as a legislator some 20 or more years ago."

White charged that Smalls, when a member of the legislature, always voted to protect the saloon, gambling and vice. Before he settled for Europe recently the Kansas editor retracted that part of his charge relating to gambling and vice. Subsequently, however, through Henry J. Allen, public director of the Republican National Committee, he withdrew the retraction about gambling and prostitution.

"My record as an opponent of saloon, gambling and vice is well known," White wrote in reply to White. "Publicly and in many letters in my possession, the late Rev. Canon P. Peters, when chairman of the Committee of Foreign Missions of the Episcopal Church, New York, repeatedly thanked me for my co-operation with that organization."

Clues Are Lacking In Mysterious Attack

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 21 (INS)—Police today have made little progress in the investigation of the mysterious attack on the night of Aug. 18, in which a man was found hanging from a tree in a wooded area.

Investigation of several recent sensational police probes who was found hanging from a tree in a wooded area, however, has not yet led to any significant information.

Police reported the detective was suffering from a burning sensation in the eyes, causing temporary loss of sight, probably produced by smoke and gas. Detective Littlejohn last week concluded an investigation which resulted in the arrest and trial of six persons alleged to have been involved in a "poison plot."

Neither the Federal Office nor the State Office of Investigation is investigating the case.

Another probe was conducted by the FBI, which has been unable to find any significant information.

GATORS GET STAR GRIDIRON PLAYER FROM DUVAL HIGH

Monk Dorsett, Triple Threat Backfield Ace, Is Described As One Of Jax's Greatest. Also Starred In Basketball

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Aug. 20.—(ANS)—

When he used to gallop about in rompers, and to be a fire truck driver or a policeman, was the life ambition of all his buddies. Monk Dorsett had his mind riveted upon being a football coach. Now calling in life had a greater appeal to Luke, or "Monk" as he perhaps is better known, and for many years he has harbored that desire with a great devotion.

Next month when he matriculates at the University of Florida, Dorsett is to enroll in the four-year coaching course which is being installed this fall for the first time. Incidentally, Florida is the first institution in the South to provide students with this type of training, leading to a B. S. degree in education.

The brilliant record of "Monk" Dorsett in scholastic athletics in Florida is known to all. Under the colors of Duval, and last year Andrew Jackson, the boy who has often been called "Million Dollar Monk," schitzed upon the gridiron and on the basketball court. He is proficient in track and baseball, though his opportunities to develop along these lines have been limited.

For three consecutive years "Monk" Dorsett was named on the all-state basketball team.

He has the honor of being selected a different position each year—forward, center and guard. Florida high school basketball has never known a more colorful, outstanding figure. Known as one of the greatest triple-threat backs in the history of scholastic football in Jacksonville and the state, Dorsett was for three years a prime factor in the success of the teams on which he played.

Dorsett will be but one of many who enter the four-year coaching course at Gaterland this year. And while he is preparing himself to go forth as a competent coach in all sports, "Monk" Dorsett will be participating on Gater athletic teams. With a summer of strenuous labor under his belt, and scaling 190 pounds the name of Dorsett is expected to resound loudly in Tuckerman and Athletic camp this year, and no college days are over, there are many who believe he will join the ranks of Taylor, Jones and other Florida immortals.

MARYLAND TAKES STEPS TO PLACE BAN ON HANGING

Recent Executions Of 2 Men Are Made Gruesome Sight When Noose Slips To Leave Them Dangling 18 Minutes

BALTIMORE, Aug. 20.—(INS)—The noose must go. This is the era of statesmen and legal officials following the gruesome sight every person saw in the Maryland Penitentiary's deathhouse August 1. Two white men, Charles P. (Country) Carey, a "lifer," and Benjamin F. Sprague, Jr., of Takoma, N. C., were hanged for the murder of Guard Alfred H. Walker.

The noose slipped in both cases and the condemned men hung for eighteen minutes before three physicians pronounced them dead. Spectators leave.

During that time their moans were so audible that only thirty of the sixty spectators remained to see Sprague, the second man mount the concrete platform and fold. Many of the thirteen who remained to see both men die were newspaper men, forced to remain to report the execution.

Descriptions of the execution reached State Senator John L. Meyers. He declared such a method of putting condemned men to death was horrible and stated he will introduce a bill at the 1929 legislature abolishing the scaffold for the electric chair.

Coroner George C. Blades, who witnessed the execution, said the electric chair was as inhumane as the noose. He pointed out that it is more difficult to properly strap a man in an electric chair than it is to fasten a noose around his neck. The prison warden evinced a belief that perpiration of the prisoners caused the noose to slip, the knot not striking behind the ear and fracturing the neck. The neck of neither Carey or Sprague was broken.

Whether they suffered is not known. Blades said "they were the worst deaths I have ever watched." He advocated the use of lethal gas.

Miss Wills Slated To Win Net Meet At Forest Hills, N.Y.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(INS)—With Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, eight times a holder of the women's national lawn tennis title, as the only possible obstacle in the path of another triumph for Miss Helen Wills, national French and English champion, the forty-first annual tournament for the women's national lawn tennis championship of the United States will get under way on the turf courts of the West Side Tennis Club here this afternoon with the outcome virtually foregone conclusion.

Nothing short of a phenomenal reversal of form by Miss Wills or miraculous playing by some one of her opponents stands in the way of a successful defense of her title by the California marvel.

Besides the California girl and Mrs. Mallory there are two other former holders of the national title listed to play. Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, also of California, who a quarter of a century ago won the National and English championships and held a position in the lawn tennis world of 1904 and 1905 quite as conspicuous as that occupied by Miss Wills today, is one of this pair of ex-champions.

GIANTS TAKE TOP SCOTTISH GROUSE AFTER DEFEATING SHOOTING SEASON CARDS 3RD TIME TO BREAK RECORD

New Yorkers Invade Cincinnati Today As Red Birds Take On Brooklyn; Yanks Split While Macks Are Idle

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(INS)—John McGraw's dream of winning his eleventh National League pennant this year took on a rosy hue today as the Little Napoleon and his fighting Giants, in first place for the first time since May 13, pulled into Cincinnati for a three-game series with the Reds.

The invasion of the Rhinebank holds no great terror for the McGrawians, masters, for they have downed the Reds 10 times in 18 starts this season. Meanwhile the Cardinals, trapping the Giants by three percentage points, as a result of three successive setbacks at the hand of the New Yorkers, face the cheerful prospect of battling against Darryl Vancie. Cheerless because the Brooklyn streak is just about as unbeatable as a straight flash right now.

Since July 24, when they were 19 of 25 games, the Giants have won 19 of 25 games, including five straight victories over the Cardinals. The Cards began to slip since beating their last invasion of New York, and since then have lost nine out of 12 starts.

Forty thousand persons saw this game, while 65,000 a record baseball crowd for any city this season, watched the Yankees divide a double bill with Cleveland in New York, with one man on base in the tenth inning of the opener. Chick Austin, Cleveland catcher and former Yankee hit a home which gave the Indians a 3 to 2 verdict.

Heimach, New York's new southpaw, allowed only five hits and the Yanks got the same number of Shantz, Hudson and Hayes.

The Yanks battered, Ute, and Miller in the nightcap and breezed home to a 10 to 2 win. Henry Johnson yielding only six hits. The reformation of New York's pitching staff was not particularly pleasing news for the "Athletics" who were idle and remained idle gamer, the leaders.

PRAAYER—All people that on earth do dwell, Sing to the Lord with cheerful voice.

So little 's time
We lie awake
That few things matter
Not heartbreak;
But half-hours watching Content and still Wet wind ruffling
A grass grown hill;

Skies ignoring
(So wide above!)
Little hot things
Like despair and love;
Dusk coming freshly
With no one by
To touch your soul
Or move your eye;

Bright blue water
Flashing to show
With high gulls swerving
To a curve below;
Gold-violet sunset.
Gold-rose, gold-green
Sliding to grayness
And no change seen;

A white hand moving
Silky cut and slim,
Or moonlight raining
On a black tree limb,
Fish silver-swift
Through a clear brown lake,
These things matter,
Not heartbreak!

Pioneers who blaze the trail must make the sacrifice in order that others may learn and succeed where they failed.

Set In Its Ways

England, which lies in the same latitude as Labrador, enjoys a temperate climate only because a current of warm water known as the Gulf Stream originates somewhere near the Equator, makes its way northward, swerves into the Caribbean Sea, up through the Yucatan Channel, skirts the Florida coast and finally pushes its way across the Atlantic expending itself on the shores of the British Isles.

If this body of tepid water should change its course so as to miss the land of Britshers, England would be covered with ice and snow most of the year. No more could sport loving Londoners lie themselves over the week-ends to golf courses, cricket matches, rugby and Epsom Downs to watch the races. Ice-locked would be most of the harbors and existence within the country would be very hard, too hard for a race which cherishes the verdure of its countryside, famed in song and story.

Disturbing, therefore was the report last week that captains of the White Star Line had observed that the Gulf Stream had changed its course ten points. Alarmed were many who put too much credence in the accounts of the mariners, often prone to report strange happenings at sea in order to gain publicity. However their fear was somewhat dispelled when captains of the rival Cunard Line advanced the information that they had noticed no change in the action of the Gulf Stream and that as far as they knew it was still on its customary course.

Without going into a discussion of ocean currents we hazard the prediction that as long as the world remains something near its present semblance, people of England will not have to fear the possibilities of an Arctic existence. Not even "all the King's horses and all the King's men" can alter that irresistible current which appears to be mighty "set in its ways."

A Test For The Parents

A question in which parents should be greatly interested because it affects the home and every member in it, has been recently raised by a prominent American educator, Joy Elmer Morgan, leading figure in the National Educational Association. Mr. Morgan challenges the methods that are used in rearing children in many families, and supplements his criticism with an appeal for a more systematic plan of family management. He urges a co-operative scheme that would give the children their rightful place in the home life.

The St. Augustine Record, commenting on the subject, declares that "parents seemed to get by for a long time because they had the children well in hand, and trained along disciplinary lines," but adds that "somehow or other a good many of them have lost out on that score." The Record deplores the apathy of many parents toward an efficient and systematic plan of management.

After considerable study of the matter, Mr. Morgan has devised a parents' score card, which he declares forms a self-rating scale for homes. In an effort to introduce his plan to the whole nation, Mr. Morgan is interesting members of hundreds of parent-teacher associations. The card, which the educator recommends as a means of checking up on your own efforts, is similar to a child's school report. It contains ten questions and it is suggested that the report be filled out each month and the record be kept for several years.

The questions propounded on the score card are as follows:

1. Does the home maintain an atmosphere of mutual love and respect?
2. Is there sufficient income to maintain a reasonable standard of well-being for all members of the family?
3. Is the family housed in a way that takes care of the needs of each of its members?
4. Is there a proper amount of wholesome food attractively served to meet individual needs?
5. Does the family have an intelligent daily routine that safeguards the energy and time of its members?
6. Are the duties and responsibilities of the family fairly divided among its members according to their strength?
7. Does the family have a common social and recreational life that appeals to all members?
8. Does the family have a growing library and a common intellectual life?
9. Does the family have an intelligent attitude on important moral, civic, and spiritual problems?
10. Does the home promote the maximum happiness and growth of each of its members?

DEEP JOY IS A SERENE and sober emotion, rarely evinced in open merriment.—Madame Roland.

CANCER
TAMPA TIMES

Cancer is one of the most dreaded of all diseases, because it is one of the most deadly. It is also an insidious disease, striking at many points and in ways that the average man and woman would never suspect. The cancer commission of the Georgia State Medical association has issued a bulletin on the diseases—which is taking a dreadful toll and which baffles doctors greatly—that deserves to have general distribution. It says, in part:

Did it ever occur to you that 11,398 people in the state of Georgia died from some form of cancer last year? Yet facts furnished by the state bureau of vital statistics tell us that such is the case.

Can this be prevented? If so, how? By education! First, the people must be taught the early symptoms of the cancer and what to do. Second, the doctors must cooperate by giving prompt attention to early lessons. They must thoroughly familiarize themselves with all forms of cancer and prevent, so that they will not mistake early, well developed malignancies on the one hand or sacrifice unnecessary tissue in the treatment of benign or pre-cancerous lesions on the other hand, for want of proper education, conducted on a high plane by the medical profession; the people have resorted to quacks who live by deceiving the public, creating false hopes regarding incurable diseases, issuing false statements using every means at their command to wrest money from a confounding public. Cancer, therefore is one of the chief diseases exploited by them.

Cancer of the skin can be prevented, if people will have scaly places on the face and hands given early treatment. A hard lump growing in the edge of a deep scar may be a cancer. Be sure to find out!

Now, remember the following points: early cancer seldom causes pain.

A cancer is something that can be seen or felt unless it is in the deep organs and then X-ray may reveal it.

Cancer of the mouth can be prevented. Dysentery that persists may be cancer of the bowels.

Any unnatural discharge may be cancer of the womb.

A painless lump in the breast should be investigated at once.

Do not delay—the road to the cemetery is paved with good intentions. See your physician!

Preventable diseases and diseases that can be cured in the initial stages ought to be carefully handled. Cancer is declared to be curable, if efforts towards a cure are started in time. So the very best thing one who has even a suspicion of cancer can do is to see a physician. The worst thing such an one can engage in is to resort to quacks and nostrums.

Mary Lambert Circle Meets At Epps Home

The members of the Mary Lambert Circle of the First Methodist Church were hostesses to the members of the Women's Misionary Society Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Epps on Palmetto Avenue. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with quantities of marigolds and asters, which were artistically arranged in crystal baskets and bowls.

Mrs. E. H. Laney had charge of the program, which was most ably presented, and was assisted by Mrs. Kyle Shoemaker and Mrs. M. L. Wright. The subject of the program was "The Social Case Presented the Old Way and the New" and between the interesting talks on this subject a number of musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Burke Steele on the piano and Mrs. Roy Pippin on the accordian. The program was closed with the Victrola record, "Hold Thy Hand."

Late in the afternoon a delicious salad course was served to the following: Mrs. John Sned, Mrs. R. F. Crenshaw, Mrs. T. F. Adams, Mrs. R. M. Mason, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. T. Wilson, Mrs. A. D. ### Miss Stuart Is Wed To Graham Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Stuart announced the marriage of their daughter Margaret Isbell to

Mr. Malcolm Graham Johnson on Saturday, August the eighteenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

The above announcement will be of interest to the many friends of the couple and will come as a surprise to some. The ceremony was performed very quietly at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stewart, 437 Vernon Street, Passau, Pa., by Rev. R. C. Hartman.

Mr. Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Stuart of this city. Mr. Johnson was a former resident of Sanford, having been at one time connected with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad here. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home at South Heights, Pa. They have a wide circle of friends who will join in wishing them much happiness.

Momenteers & Visioneers

CONFIDENCE is the empire builder. It is the dynamic force which penetrates mountains, breathes life into desert places and sends the human voice riding winds of the universe toward the stars. It is the pulse of achievement and the glory of ambition. Confidence knows no moment. It measures its strength by long reaches of time. A single realization does not satisfy it; a single disappointment does not destroy it. When Flagler had his dream of shining rails through the wildernesses of Florida he was justified in it only through confidence, through a faith more penetrating than the headlights which have followed it; and in the face of discouragement and advice inspired by the moment he set his stakes ---and carried on! Plant was of the same caliber, a man of vision, and in more recent years and in the same pioneering spirit Warfield created new arteries of transportation which have opened great areas to commercial contact with the world. In other endeavors thousands of believers have proved themselves, proved their confidence by challenging the future, are still proving the courage of the faith. The momenteer thinks everything should measure up to his expectations all the time and complains if it doesn't. The visioneer realizes that progress is a gradual upward movement filled with valleys and peaks and that confidence and work are its motive power. Florida must ignore the momenteer and enshrine the visioneer. The future is so great, so promising and so challenging that only confidence and work are justified, and practising these virtues our rewards will exceed our fondest hopes.

British Newspaper Wants Government Give Quick
And Unqualified Approval
To Kellogg's Peace Treaty

LONDON, Aug. 21.—(INS)—
Economy is the motto in supplying 4,217 animals and birds at Denver City Park Zoo with foodstuffs, according to Clyde Hill, superintendent. Hill's grocery bill for his large family amounts to only $15 a day.

Meat is the biggest item on the list, the sea lions alone eat 14 pounds of herring a day. Other lions eat meat only, while bears are on a varied diet. One bear is a vegetarian, refusing to eat meat when offered to him.

Each day it is carrying the views of prominent leaders in public life, all urging acceptance, and it openly asks the Government to accept, "promptly and without qualification or reservation," the American proposal to the outlawry of war.

Spurs Government
"If the Prime Minister of Great Britain was really in close touch with popular feeling in this country, he would," declares the journal,
"be aware of a growing apprehension that the British Government is not in earnest or that it is still seeking some means of steering a diplomatic march upon the authors of the treaty without appearing undisguised in the assassin's role."

"The Pact itself is a straightforward, plain-speaking document possibly the plainest international document ever penned. Received first by many governments with incredulity, with cynicism, and even,
in some quarters, with dismay,
it has withstood every challenge and every argument. It has given a new force and direction to American idealism.

"Why then does the British Government not make an immediate appeal, an appeal vouchsafed in language of eloquent simplicity?

America Anxious
"No member of the Government has so far dared to suggest that it will not sign the Pact. Yet America still anxiously awaits the decisive signal of assent. All America, all Europe, and most of Asia, is watching for Britain's lead, for on Britain's lead depends the fate of the Pact."

"There is no longer any doubt that the Kellogg Proposal has tapped the imagination of the British public. It perceives instinctively, if the British Cabinet does not,
that here is a great dramatic intervention which may change the history of the world, that the opportunity is one that may not occur again in our time.

"To allow it to pass or minimize its importance would be a blunder worse than a crime. Ever moment of delay and indecision is
