

FARM BOARD IS SEEKING WAYS TO AID FARMER

Details Being Worked Out To Spur Funds For Cotton Men

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—The federal farm board has another session today with members of the federal farm loan board and presidents of federal intermediate credit banks in southern states with a view of speeding relief to cotton growers.

Details of the handling of the loan it has available in an effort to insure directly marketing were being worked out. The board hopes to complete arrangements in time to afford relief on a year's crop.

Under plans outlined Monday, the new farm agency will advance to the cotton growers funds sufficient to make his borrowing power 90 per cent of the estimate value of his crop. Already the intermediate credit banks have authority to lend up to 65 per cent of the value. The farm board plans to loan an additional 25 per cent. It hopes to enable the farmer to withhold his product from a flooded market, letting it go as prices are stabilized under gradual shifting of the supply.

Methods of advancing the loan will be worked out in the conference here, which lasted all of yesterday and probably will consume a greater part of today. Five members of the board, Alexander Legge, chairman, James E. Stines, Carl W. Murray, C. B. Brennan and W. F. Schilling expect to leave for Chicago tomorrow, where they will visit wheat interests or organizing their industry so as to meet the aid of the board.

New York Launches Investigation Into Fake Diploma Mill

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Investigation of the Illinois "fake diploma mill" in which more than 1,000 fake licenses are said to have been issued, spread to the New York today as officials attempted to learn the whereabouts of Samuel Lerner, one of those indicted on charges of conspiracy to practice medicine with fraudulent licenses.

A query from Pat Roche, chief investigator of the state attorney's office here, to Dr. Harold Ryans, secretary of the board of medical examiners of New York, was made to ascertain if Lerner obtained his license there.

Ryans' reply stated that Lerner had obtained his license from the New York state board. He had presented credentials showing that he was a graduate of Northwestern University. At the latter place, however, it was revealed that no such person had ever been enrolled in the school.

Discovery of the scheme used by Lerner to obtain his license came up a renewal of investigation for officials other than merely the checking of licenses to determine if they are fraudulent but also the means by which they obtained them.

Stocks Sweep Ahead In Spirited Advance

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(INS)—As was expected, sentiment today in a heavy "bull market" today a down of more issues soaring to new high ground. From time to time profit taking set in but when offerings were quickly absorbed and renewed buying kept prices up close to their best levels of the day.

Mother Whose Negligence Caused Baby's Death Says It Was Only Will Of God

ATLANTA, Aug. 23.—(INS)—"My baby, Daisy, died only because it was God's will." In this way, Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, 25, explained the demise of her 11-month-old daughter for whose death she and her husband, P. M. Jacobs, 34, are held in the Fulton county jail.

The child died after she contracted the whooping cough. Neighbors charged the little girl was neglected and left to die. As a result the man and woman are held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

"My baby did not die because she failed to receive all the care, love, tenderness, devotion, and attention which a child born only of God should have, but because God knows I loved my baby."

"I know before the higher being, that I am being held in this awful place on a charge that is wholly untrue. It is true I have washed my precious baby under the hydrant in the backyard. But that was only during very hot weather and before she contracted the disease which took her away from us."

"I believe some of the charges were that we failed to give my baby the proper food and care. This is untrue. My husband and I might have suffered during the time he was unemployed but the baby always had everything our limited means could provide."

A double session was held, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. At the conclusion of the morning session, Mrs. Jacobs, of Belgium, visited Snowden and acquainted him with the results.

EXTENSIVE FARM COURSE PLANNED FOR COMING YEAR

Johnson Outlines Program Which Includes Work In Community

An ambitious program for the coming year, contemplating not only a thorough course of training for the pupils enrolled in the course but also projecting an extensive community work, has been outlined by Alex R. Johnson, head of the High School Vocational Agricultural Institute, in a statement of plans which have been approved by the County Commissioners.

The institution of a four-year agricultural course, compulsory project work on the part of the pupils, instruction in farm mechanics varied experience in field and contest activities, in addition to an enlarged agricultural library are among the features of the year's program insofar as the high school work is concerned.

Among the subjects of the department in a community way are listed as follows:

1. The complete organization and efficient functioning of an advisory board of prominent farmers whose advice will be sought in considering various local agricultural problems.
2. The promotion of mixed-crop shipments of vegetables.
3. The promotion of production of a better grade of corn and the institution of a program looking toward an extension of the poultry industry.
4. The revival of interest in home gardens and home canning of products.
5. The formation of evening study classes for growers.
6. The compilation of a county-wide agricultural survey, the purpose of which is to obtain data for a closer study of the farm needs of the County.
7. Provision of a free agricultural service for growers by individuals throughout the County.

Sanford Woman Hurt In Atlanta Accident

Mrs. J. C. Wainwright, a member of the Junior High School faculty, is in a serious condition at the home of a friend in Atlanta, the victim of an automobile mishap securing several days ago according to word received here today.

Mrs. Wainwright suffered internal injuries, severe lacerations and contusions when a large truck, wrested from the control of the driver because of a broken radiator rod, pinned her against the brick wall. Her companion, Mrs. S. E. Hope, whom Mrs. Wainwright had been visiting, was also injured. Mrs. Wainwright was caught between the left front wheel of the truck and the wall. Mrs. Hope was pinned against the wall by the radiator but escaped with only minor injuries.

NEW ATTEMPT MADE TO SAVE HAGUE PARLEY

Delegates Meet To Effect Scheme Satisfying 75 Per Cent Of England's Demands

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Aug. 23.—(INS)—A new attempt was launched today to save the Hague conference on reparations and post-war problems from collapse.

Delegates of France, Belgium, Japan and Italy met with the German representatives in an effort to work out a scheme to satisfy 75 per cent of the demands made by Philip Snowden on behalf of the British government.

According to German sources, Snowden turned down the offer in its present form. Another meeting of the five-power group was then announced for the afternoon.

Meanwhile, an agreement was made that the six-power plenary session, scheduled for today, has been postponed until tomorrow. The plan calls for the added British and French proposals, but the amount demanded by Britain in excess of the reparations total provided for under the Young plan, while Germany would supply the remaining third.

UTILITIES MONEY HAS LATELY BEEN USED BY PAPERS

Power Company Funds Defrayed Expenses As Late As August

MADON, Ga., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Money supplied by the International Paper Company, a holding corporation for the largest paper utility in New England, continued only a few weeks ago to defray the expenses of the Augusta, Ga. Chronicle, it was testified today at the Lavarre Hall hearing.

The money continued to be furnished the Chronicle despite the wide publicity given efforts of the power trust to suppress a string of front-page newspaper articles "leading" funds to the ostensible purchasers, and the fact that the Georgia newspaper has been thrown into temporary receivership by a row between William Lavarre and Harold Hall, the young men who laugh the papers, it was revealed in the testimony.

Two checks, dated respectively July 23 and Aug. 3, 1929, totaling $5,599 were sent to the Chronicle by the International Paper Company, a concern allied with the International Paper and Power Company, according to verbal and documentary evidence.

This line of testimony was given into when W. S. Morris, auditor of the Chronicle, called as a witness for Hall, was cross-examined by counsel for Lavarre. Hall, through the courts, is seeking control of the Augusta paper, together with the Chronicle, S. C. Record, and the Spartanburg, S. C. Herald and Journal, which Hall and Lavarre purchased with money borrowed from the paper company.

"Did you as auditor of the company know that the International Paper Company was furnishing the Chronicle money directly?" he was asked.

The witness admitted that he did. Further questions elicited from him: "Mr. Hall said the International would furnish us money to defray expenses?"

COMMIT ATROCITIES

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—It is reported from San Francisco, Calif., that the British and German governments had agreed to these proposals, but even this would not leave Britain to be considered.

A startling black may be in the reported demand of Snowden that the remaining 25 per cent of unmet demands be covered by an "economic understanding" designed to revive Britain's home situation.

CALL FOR BIG NAVAL PARLEY MAY BE MADE

Satisfying Progress Of Present Negotiations May Lead To General Conference

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Negotiations for an Anglo-American naval agreement continue to progress with present satisfactory results. It is highly likely a call for a general naval conference will go out from Washington sometime in October, with Premier Ramsey MacDonald at the White House expects Mr. MacDonald to come to Washington about the middle of October.

By that time, it is expected the naval experts will have worked the general negotiations to a point where the British Premier will be able to announce that "substantial accord" exists between Great Britain and the United States on the knotty question of naval parity.

The definite date for MacDonald's trip to the United States may be announced this afternoon. The White House, it was said, would have a strong opinion to make the naval disarmament question face in the day.

The invitation to Japan, France and Italy, the other great naval powers, to join with Great Britain and the United States in a general conference would logically follow. The invitation of such a call from Washington by a British leader, however, would have a great significance as a recognition of a partnership aspect of considerable naval parity.

This is the way administration officials would like to see things work out, it is realized, however, that the chief obstacle is a great number of constitutional hurdles to overcome before such a program can be carried.

There is the matter of ratification on which the British are known to be long made but on which neither the British nor American cabinets are well known to desire.

Here, finally, Stevenson, chief British foreign minister, and cabinet members have been working on the question, but the fact that the Georgia newspaper has been thrown into temporary receivership by a row between William Lavarre and Harold Hall, the young men who laugh the papers, it was revealed in the testimony.

Two checks, dated respectively July 23 and Aug. 3, 1929, totaling $5,599 were sent to the Chronicle by the International Paper Company, a concern allied with the International Paper and Power Company, according to verbal and documentary evidence.

Former Florida Man Held On First Degree Charge For Killing Officer

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Joseph Douglas Choate, 36, formerly of Orlando, Fla., today was held under a warrant charging first degree murder in the death of plain clothesman Earl C. Wright who was killed here yesterday.

Meanwhile William W. Smith, another officer, was recovering from severe wounds about the head, alleged to have been inflicted by Choate when he attacked the two policemen.

The attack occurred in front of Choate's slater. The officers were wounded upon their assault as they stepped from their parked automobile, and both felled by blows from a heavy instrument. Smith, in reporting the case, said that Wright was shot as he attempted to rise from the pavement after being knocked down. He was shot through the chest and died instantly.

FLASHES OF LIGHTNING PLAY ABOUT AIRSHIP AS SHE BUCKS WORST STORM OF EXISTENCE

Mrs. Lindbergh Wins Spurs On Solo Hop

HICKSVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh won her spurs as an airplane pilot here today when she made three solo flights in a Boeing training plane. Each flight lasted for several minutes and was marked by success as the former Anne Sawyer Morrow gracefully brought her sky mount to earth. Mrs. Lindbergh made her first flights on the field of the aviation country club here shortly after she and her husband landed here in the plane in which she later ventured aloft alone. Prior to today Mrs. Lindbergh had received a total of nine hours of instruction from her husband.

The storm was of greater intensity than that which the Graf encountered over the Atlantic last October during the first flight from Lindbergh to Lakehurst, and was far more dangerous.

The storm rumbled in the distance about the Graf, and the Ekener and his officers, then that experience with an electric storm while in flight.

For several minutes, which would have been those to the great danger, the Graf was steadily flying about the great air bulk of the ship. Any one of those brilliant moments the commission of which would have been the ending of the flight, would have blown the Graf down, and its human cargo would have been a direct but brief flight on one of the gas bags.

At the time Dr. Ekener was flying over the field, the Graf was with a whole lot of people on board, but the Graf was steadily flying through the storm. The storm never once lifted, and the Graf was steadily flying through the storm. The storm never once lifted, and the Graf was steadily flying through the storm.

Believers Postpone Their Preparations For Big Celebration

Because of the short time remaining in which to complete the numerous arrangements, Sanford plans for a special observance of Labor Day have been postponed indefinitely, according to an announcement today by those who had charge of the event. Conflicting celebrations in several nearby cities were also cited as reasons for abandonment of the local arrangements.

The proposed celebration was to have been staged under the auspices of the Believers in Sanford with the cooperation of Sanford merchants. The tentative arrangements called for a radio broadcast, street dance and a special sales event put on by the merchants.

Georgia Men Settle Row With Shotguns

CLOVER, Ga., Aug. 23.—(INS)—Behind the acid smoke of shotgun shells, a row between two men from the Georgia town today settled with the characteristics of an old frontier gun battle. As a result, Pat Huddleston, 53, and Marcus Brown, 42, are dead. They shot it out in the center of town by prearrangement fighting a duel with backshot.

A good-sized crowd was attracted by the impending tragedy which they were powerless to prevent. The duel marked the culmination of a long, enmity between the two men which started when Brown, who is married and the father of eight children, began paying marked attention to a divorced daughter of Huddleston.

Giant Dirigible Makes Wonderful Speed On First Part Of Flight Over Pacific Ocean

By James R. Young, International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKIO, Aug. 23.—The giant air-liner, Graf Zeppelin, carrying a complement of 18 passengers and 41 members of the crew, late tonight was over Northern Japan, well on its way toward Los Angeles, via the great circle route, making wonderful speed.

Just four hours after Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the round the world airship give the order "let go" at Kasumigaura Airfield, near here, to begin the third leg of the world-famous flight, the airship was sighted passing over Sasebo, Annual perimeter, 341 miles northeast of Tokio.

The Zeppelin was accompanied at the start of its flight by a fleet of five Japanese military airplanes which took off from Kasumigaura shortly before the Graf launched herself into the air.

As the probable time of the hop-off had been announced several hours previously, a mammoth crowd had assembled at the aerodrome to bid the aerial monarch farewell. It was estimated that several hundred thousand persons, including German and other foreign residents as well as Japanese, were on the field when the Zeppelin started majestically into the sky.

The Graf had been ready since midnight to take off on the long trans-Pacific flight. At that time reports to the rear motor gondola, damaged when the ship was being walked out at a hangar for the take-off early yesterday, had been completed, and the passengers had assembled for the start.

By a crosswind of sharp velocity was blowing across the field and Dr. Eckener decided it would be risky to attempt to take the ship from its hangar until the breeze subsided.

About noon it was seen that the wind was decreasing in velocity, and Dr. Eckener again ordered all ready for the start.

The ground crew of four Japanese soldiers, sailors and marines were assembled, and the passengers took their places in the main gondola.

There was some delay while Dr. Eckener bid farewell to a number of Japanese dignitaries and government officials who had come to the airport to see the Graf start. He departed before three o'clock, the Graf before the order for the ship to be removed from its hangar.

Extreme care was used by the ground crew to prevent a repetition of Thursday's accident when the gondola housing the rear motor engine on a door jam, bending the struts and distorting supports and necessitating the first 24 hours' delay.

The Kasumigaura hangar was built for ships of much more modest dimensions than the Graf Zeppelin and there was only 18 inches of clearance space between the top of the dirigible and the roof of the shed.

But the ground crew, obviously anxious to avenge for the mishap (Continued On Page Six)

Airplane Factories Use Many Workmen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(INS)—Airplane manufacturing plants in 32 states are giving employment to 25,000 workmen, thus providing work for many thousands of jobless labor-saving devices in other industries. The labor department announced today. New York State leads the employment list, with 4,300 workers employed in airplane building. California is second.

In addition to this direct employment, the department pointed out, thousands of men are given work indirectly by the manufacture of planes. Some of these are pilots for mail and passenger planes, mechanics and other ground personnel of airports, workmen to build hangars and other airport equipment and structures in aviation.

BRUINS TROUNCE NEW YORK AGAIN TO TAKE SERIES

Browns Defeat Macks And Homers Down Yankees In Chicago

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Add striking contrasts: The National League in 1929 when the clubs were closer than the next endurance flight and the fans going to sleep not knowing who would lead in the morning, and—

The National League in 1929 when, following the Cubs taking such a commanding lead, things have reached such a state of languor that yesterday a fan was forced to explode a giant firecracker to keep things alive as the Cubs whipped the Giants, 9 to 2.

It was the Chicago's last appearance here for the season and they made a neat job of leaving. They lapped three Giant pitchers beginning with Larry Benton, for 14 hits, two homers being included.

The Phillies continued to show little or no brotherly love for the Pirates, taking their fourth in a row from the Corsairs. Lefty O'Doul produced a home run with two on in the fourth inning when the score was tied at 6-6.

The Braves and Cincinnati divided a double-header, Boston winning the first game, 7-1, but dropping the second, 8 to 7. Clyde Duce, the Red, Valley of baseball scattered six singles among the Cardinals and gave them no runs while his teammates eked out a single tally to win the ball game. Babe Herman boosted his already fat average by getting two singles in three trips to the plate. Dudley's victory came after 11 straight defeats.

Ed Wells, had it not been for his home run ball, would have turned in another for the Yanks, but homers by Kerr and Reynolds gave the White Sox a 4 to 3 win. Byrd and Koenig accounted for two of the New York runs with homers.

The Browns made it three out of four for the series by trimming the Athletics, 7 to 5. The victory was a costly one however, as both Manush and Schulte were badly hurt in a collision while Chas. French's drive. Schulte suffered a concussion of the brain. Manush suffered a broken nose and badly split lip.

Wesley Ferrel pitched his second successive four-hit game and his fourteenth victory of the season as Cleveland turned back Washington, 3 to 1.

Uhl held Boston to five hits while his team-mates pounded Bayne and Carroll for 15 and the Tigers swamped Detroit, 13 to 2.

Prison Population Of United States Is Getting Larger

Federal prison population comparisons were: 1910, 1,204; 1923, 4,664; 1927, 6,403; and 1928, 7,722.

The last official count for Atlanta and Leavenworth prisons showed a population in excess of 7,400, listing the total number of prisoners at over 8,000.

Passage of the Harrison anti-narcotic law was partly responsible for the large increase in Federal prisoners. More than 98 per cent of those sentenced for drug offenses have been convicted in the federal courts.

In 1928, virtually one-fourth of the prisoners in state and federal penitentiaries and reformatories were in institutions of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

The New England states had 12,535 prisoners; Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, 12,371; and Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, 10,131.

In Nevada there were 245.5 prisoners per 100,000 population in 1928, and in South Carolina 23.6.

ALEX IS RETIRED REST OF SEASON BY CARDS' OWNER

Recent Violations Of Club Rules Leads To Suspension With Pay

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Retired for the remainder of the season, "with pay," Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran hurler of the St. Louis Cardinals, plans to leave tonight for his home in St. Paul, Neb., to finish the season "fishin'."

The action to retire the "grand old pitcher" climaxed a violation of training rules in New York and his being sent to St. Louis last Monday by Manager Bill McKechnie.

Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals, in making the odd decision to lift the suspension and retire Alexander with pay, declared that his move was dictated by "baseball sentiment."

"We cannot forget Alexander's heroic work in baseball," Breadon said. "Particularly, we cannot forget his great pitching in the final world series game of 1926, when he brought the Cardinals the world's series."

Final decision as to the status of Alexander, who on Aug. 10 of his year, broke the all time record of the late Christy Mathewson, by winning his 373rd game in major league competition, will not be made until the end of the season, Breadon added.

An interview with Alexander, appearing in the St. Louis Times, he veteran hurler is quoted as saying that if Breadon doesn't want him anymore, he is afraid he has pitched his last game.

"I don't think I would want to play ball anywhere but St. Louis," Alexander is quoted as saying. "In an interview, Alex also outlined his long struggle against the drink habit. Following the conference with Breadon, Alexander emerged wearing a broad smile on his weather beaten features."

"I have only Mr. Breadon to thank," he said simply. "So it has been a hard year, eh? Well—I'm going to forget it. 'I am going back to St. Paul, Neb., tonight where the fishin' is good. And let me tell you that I'll be back with the Cards next year."

Hoover Sets Aside Group Of Florida Keys As Bird Park

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—President Hoover, by executive order has set aside as a refuge and breeding ground for birds, Snake Key, Dead Man Key, and North Key, in the island group known as Cedar Keys, off the west coast of Levy County Florida, west of Wacarcass Bay. The refuge will be known as the Cedar Keys Bird Refuge and will be administered by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The islands in the new reservation are an important nesting and wintering grounds for hundreds of aquatic birds, including several species of herons, pelicans, and cormorants, some of which are becoming greatly depleted in numbers. It is understood within the refuge to hunt, trap, capture, willfully disturb, or kill any wild animal or bird, or to ake or destroy the eggs of any wild bird.

COLD AND SWEET

COLD and sweet and oh! so popular is ice cream when summer rolls around. Regardless of whether it is served at dinner or at a party, or the afternoon luncheon for children, properly bedecked in their parents' outmoded clothes and grandly playing "come to tea," ice cream is an ever-welcome dessert.

Easy to Make And ice cream is an easy dessert to make. Only a few rules are necessary for success.

Another rule is never to fill the can more than three-fourths full of the ice-cream mixture; if it is too full the resulting dessert will be grainy.

Turn the crank slowly and steadily by hand, when the cream is frozen to a mush the crank may be turned more rapidly.

Today, the woman with an iceless refrigerator can make frozen desserts in her ice box with no more attention than an occasional stirring. Gelatin, eggs, or cream should be added to the mixture, for a plain water ice will be too granular if frozen in this manner.

Among the best-liked frozen desserts are those containing fruit. Left-over fruit, whether fresh or canned, may be used.

Following are some recipes for frozen desserts which will be greeted by the family with cries of "More!"

Frozen Fruit Mayonnaise: Beat one cup of heavy cream, add two-thirds cup mayonnaise and one cup sugar.

What to Make Loganberry and Banana Mousse: Chill two cups of evaporated milk thoroughly. Add one unbeaten egg white and beat with a rotary egg beater until stiff, in a bowl set in a pan of cracked ice.

add one and one-fourth cups of sugar and cool. Add one cup of cold water, one cup of heavy cream and the apricots from a number two can. The fruit should have been pressed through a sieve. Freeze. This recipe will serve eight people liberally.

Frozen Apple Sauce: Mix together the contents of a number 2 can of apple sauce, one-fourth cup of lemon juice, one-half cup of orange juice, one-half teaspoon grated orange rind and one-half cup sugar.

Junket Ice Cream: Scald together one quart of milk, one cup of evaporated milk and three-fourths cup of sugar.

Florida Was Being Exploited In 1827 In Old Newspaper

(Continued From Page One) suit, which are in the highest degree favorable. Meantime, however, the surveys of the St. Mary's of St. Johns, the Atlantic coast of Florida to Boca Raton, and the interior course of the St. John's up to Lake Monroe, lay open a field for internal navigation and intercourse, of a magnitude and interest wholly unexpected.

"Let us first consider the navigation of the St. John's with its tributary streams, and the line of lakes, which it connects with each other."

"This is truly a magnificent river," it proceeds, "an average breadth of two miles, for a hundred miles from its mouth; after spreading out into lakes of four or five miles in width. Its banks are colored with forests. It is navigable for large vessels, and for vessels of 20 tons as high as lake George, and on the bay of that lake is six feet water; beyond this the water deepens and it is navigable for vessels of the same size to its source, or in other words it admits of steam-boat navigation as far north into the territory as 28 degrees and 20 minutes."

The Western Museum refers to the early exploitation of the states as a resort but is frankly skeptical. It has this to say: "The climate of St. Augustine, Mr. White informs us, is the best to be found in any part of our territory. This, the writer does not believe—the climate of the Florida is probably very similar to that of Georgia and South Carolina, neither better nor worse. Few of the natives of the northern states emigrate to that section of our country with safety."

The editor voices his dubiousness still further, declaring "highly colored pictures of any country are to be viewed with suspicion; and experience teaches us that Providence in his wisdom has distributed his blessings, perhaps, equally in every part of the globe."

Western Museum was issued in eight pages. It was three columns and carried very little advertising. Most of the matter was editorial in expression as was the story of Florida, which covered nearly six columns.

A decision unique in the annals of American courts was given here by Common Pleas Judge Harrison W. Ewing, who imposed a stipulation of three years of birth control on Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kouim when the couple applied to him for a divorce.—News despatch from Cleveland, O.

And a woman might brief this case with the following notes:

1. The dissemination of information about birth control methods is forbidden by law in Ohio as well as in New York. Therefore, how can the Judge enforce this ruling? If the Kouirms have another baby, will it be declared "in contempt of court?"

2. The Kouirms eloped when the bride was only seventeen. No girl of that age should be allowed to make a pseudo-romantic runaway marriage. But it was done five years ago, and what can be done about it now?

3. For the Kouirms are the parents of three children, although the husband only occasionally makes as much as $24 a week. What woman can bring up three children properly on $24 a week—occasionally? Yet, what man of twenty-seven, earning only that, can be shown how to earn more?

4. Six months ago Mrs. Kouirm ran away and got a job. Yet, even the most ardent advocate of fifty-fifty marriage advise that solution for a woman with three little children?

5. But Mr. and Mrs. Kouirm have filed divorce petitions charging cruelty. Life seems to have been cruel enough to both of them, striking at each through the other. Yet there are those three children who need a father's support and a mother's care. How can any man pay alimony on an "occasional" $24 a week? How can any woman take care of three babies and take another job?

And a woman might conclude that such a problem of unhappy youth, marriage and parenthood can be solved, if at all, by a Wise Woman. For this tragic tangle of human lives, as for many another, is not the "mother-wit" of a woman a Solomon needed? It seems to us that there is a vacant bench waiting for her in every court of domestic relations.

MRS. HOOVER RETURNS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover returned to the White House today after a stay of several weeks at the Rapidan River fishing camp in the Blue Ridge. Allan Hoover who has been suffering from a stomach ailment, remained at the camp. The President and Mrs. Hoover will motor to the camp again tomorrow for a week-end stay.

FACES MURDER TRIAL

GREENVILLE, Ga., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Charged with the murder of Reed Connell, 55, who was slain two days ago, Robert Brown, of this city, was scheduled to face trial in Meiwether superior court today. Brown, who was indicted yesterday, claimed he shot Connell to death and wounded his son, Walter Connell, 24, when they attempted to "give him a whipping."

HELEN WILLS IS SCORED EVEN IF SHE WINS MATCH

"Poker Face" Doesn't Seem To Be Able To Please All Critics

FOREST HILLS, L. I., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Pity Helen Wills. In international lawn tennis, champion. She's condemned if she does and doubly condemned if she does not.

Following her 8-6, 8-6, victory over Betty Nuthall in the Wrightman Cup matches, her triumph by such a narrow margin was interpreted in many quarters as an indication that she was losing her grip and taking less interest in the game in view of her approaching marriage.

Now comes her playing in the current women's national championship tournament in which she won her first-second and third round matches for a total of 36 games with the loss of only one.

Never, say the same critics who condemned what they thought was her lackadaisical play against Miss Nuthall, has the champion played with such seeming vindictiveness as she has put into her play against the second string girls she had been called upon to meet in the national title matches.

Certain it is that Queen Helen has played against Katherine Lamarche, Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin and Miss Alice Francis, her first three tournament opponents, as if the world hung on each and every point. In going after every shot, Queen Helen has been absolutely relentless and it is the very fury of play that has brought the wrath of the critics down upon her head.

All of which tends to prove that Miss Wills is not nearly as good a psychologist as she is a lawn tennis player. If she knew her critics properly she would have been relentless and vindictive to the nth power against the British Betty, while she would have toyed with the second rate American opponents in the national tournament as a cat with a mouse before finally executing the coup de grace. That would have made her more popular with the critics at the plaudits of the gallery. As it is she plays through her best relentless manner and gets no more applause than a finely adjusted buzz-saw.

But, that Helen Wills is just an excellent player as she ever was goes without saying and it is doubtful

THE WOMAN OF IT By Marguerite Moore's Marshall

I LOST A DREAM The pendulum of time swings back, And once again I rest Content and happy in your arms My head upon your breast,

And he is Spring in Gotham! And we are young and true: And I am your's my precious dear,

And you belong to me. But Spring fled fast, and you and I— No longer side by side— Looked out and saw the world And laughed and kissed and sighed,

A shattered dream lies at my feet. To seek you...you went away To seek new to-morrow— I still have yesterday! GATES HERBARD

A Dollar Dinner for Four

THIS dollar dinner takes careful planning and buying, but doesn't it sound good enough to please any family?

Tomato and Peasoup, 25c Baked Beans with Bacon, 25c Boston Brown Bread, 15c Lettuce with French Dressing, 10c Apple and Coconut Sauce, 25c Black Coffee, 4c

The foregoing menu totals 98 cents, leaving 2 cents for incidentals.

To make the soup, heat three tablespoons of peanut butter with contents of a can of tomato soup when well blended add a pinch of soda. Scald one and one-half cups milk with one slice of onion, remove onion, and pour tomato mixture slowly into the hot milk. Do not boil. Serve in cups.

In preparing the beans, fry one-fourth pound of bacon, remove about half the fat and to the rest add one sliced onion and sauté to a golden brown. Add contents of a number 2 can of beans, season and heat thoroughly. Serve with the bacon on top.

Heat a few ounces can of Boston brown bread in the can in boiling water, remove, and slice. Serve with butter.

For the apple and coconut sauce, beat two egg whites stiff (Yolks can be used in custard or mayonnaise for the next day's dinner.) Fold in contents of an eight-ounce can of apple sauce, one-fourth of a four-ounce can of moist coconut, two teaspoons lemon juice, and two tablespoons confectioner's sugar. Pile lightly in glass cups and put a dab of jelly or marmalade on top for a garnish. Chill and serve.
