

PONY BALLET IN THE MUSICAL SPECTACLE "THE PRINCE OF TONIGHT" IMPERIAL THEATRE FRIDAY NIGHT, MARCH 12th

AN EGYPTIAN SOLDIER

Type of the native Egyptian soldier in the British infantry service.

ARE QUICK TO HEAL

MODERN BULLETS MORE HUMANE THAN THOSE OF THE PAST.

Soldiers Are Not Long Absent From the Front, Even When They Would Be Considered Quite Seriously Injured.

The bullet covered with hard nickel now in use makes the surgeon's task very simple, as a rule. Formerly, when large bullets of soft lead were used, the soldier's lot was not a very happy one. These often broke up inside the body, shattered bones, and frequently remained embedded in the muscles, bones and other parts.

The result was slow-healing, festering wounds which kept the soldier ill for a long time. The modern long, slender bullet generally passes through the body without doing any vital injury. Even when it goes through the intestine, the stomach, the kidney, etc., the wound closes up without any very serious after-consequences. A good deal, however, depends on circumstances. If the soldier's stomach is empty—as it generally is in a battle—so much the better for him when he gets a bullet through it.

When he is tired and half starving, however, the shock is very great, and he may become utterly helpless from a slight wound. A curious fact, difficult to explain, is that a bullet fired at a range of 300 to 600 yards has more penetrating power than one fired at a range under or over that distance. In the former case it passes through the bone without doing very much damage; in the latter it shatters the bone and makes recovery slow. A ricocheting bullet causes a very bad wound as a rule. Small as it is, if a bullet strikes a large bone, like the hip, it gives a blow like that of a crowbar.

We are hearing a great deal about dum-dum bullets in this, as in all wars, both parties making charges against one another. The probability is that neither side is using them. The bullet now in use consists of a core of lead covered with a hard nickel case.

The Pled Piper.

Recently occurred the anniversary of the visit to "Hamelin Town in Brunswick," in 1876 of him "who, for the fantastical coat which he wore being wrought with sundry colors, was called the Pled Piper." Old Vestegan told the story in prose of how "the Pled Piper, with a shrill pipe went through all the streets, and forthwith the rats came all running out of the houses in great numbers after him; all of which he led into the river of Weaser, and therein drowned them." It is to Macready's young son that we are debtors for the poem, for it was he who persuaded Browning to weave the prose into poetry to amuse a sick child. Its preservation was due to a lucky accident, for in Browning's next collection of poems was a blank page or two to be filled, and "The Pled Piper of Hamelin" was just big enough to do it. So if in his life the Pled Piper destroyed hundreds of children his biography has amused thousands.—London Chronicle.

Armenia.

May we call the region in which the Russians are attacking the Turks Armenia? For convenience, certainly; but, as Sir Charles Elliot points out, strictly speaking, "Armenia does not exist. The name is absolutely forbidden in Turkey, and all maps marking any district as Armenia are confiscated. Then there is the rival name of Kurdistan, also unofficial. Kurds and Armenians being mixed up, one may unofficially call portions of Asia Minor Kurdistan or Armenia, according to one's sympathies. The Armenians themselves do not use the name given them by friendly foreigners. They call themselves Haik, and after their country Halaadan—tracing their descent from Haik, the grandson of Japhet."

Convenient Rule.

The editor of a newspaper published in central Pennsylvania tells of articles that he frequently receives from a certain citizen. They are always pertinent and worthy of publication, says the Evening Post, Saturday Magazine, but they are punctuated in a most peculiar way.

Meeting his correspondent one evening at a friend's house, the editor said, "That was an excellent letter I got from you this morning, and I am going to print it Saturday. But tell me, what rule do you follow for punctuation?"

"Why," said the gentleman, "the same rule that I learned when I was a boy. I put a semicolon every twelve words, and two commas between each pair of semicolons."

His Hobby.

"I can say this much for Dobson—you never see him wasting his time in a foolish argument."

"That's because Dobson takes no interest in the subjects most men argue about. Just wait until somebody comes along and tackles him on the subject of Egyptology. Then you'll hear an argument that will make politics, religion and the war in Europe pale into utter insignificance."

But She Didn't Mean It That Way.

"Madam, I am visiting the rural districts in the interests of diversification. Have you a hog on the place?" "You'll find my husband out in the barn."

The Brain's Control.

It has long been a common physiological knowledge that the left half of the brain has full command over the right side of the body, while the right half of the brain exercises a like command over the left side of the body. An electric shock applied to the right half of the brain will cause movement on the left side of the body, similarly the left half of the brain so stimulated affects the right side of the body.

Destroying Nature's Barriers.

There are four kinds of barriers or divisions set up by nature upon the face of the earth—mountains, forests, deserts, rivers. The first, the mountains, man cannot remove, but he can and does go through them to save the trouble and difficulty of going over them. The second, the forests, he has largely cleared away altogether. The third, the deserts, he is beginning to treat like the forests. The fourth, the rivers, he is beginning to shift when it suits his purpose and to regulate their flow at will.

What Being Nervous is.

The mental state of a person suffering from "nerves" is very much like that of a man who is wanted by the police, or who has just heard a rumor that the ship on which his wife and children have sailed has been sunk in a collision, or who has cried "fire" in a theater and been thrown out, and knows his name has been obtained by the reporters. Very often, says a writer in the Metropolitan Magazine, it is a combination of all three, with perhaps the added sensation of a man in doubt if he closed the safe before leaving the office.

Help Wanted.

We have a splendid answer for a first-class conundrum, but somehow can't fit them, which is: One looks after the marriage altar and the other alters the marriage. We suspect a minister and a lawyer are involved.—Philadelphia Ledger.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HAVE PURCHASED A HOME

SEMINOLE COUNTY IS TO HAVE AN INFIRMARY SECOND TO NONE IN THE STATE

Seminole county has a home and it is probably one of the finest homes in the entire state. This does not mean a court house but a home for the indigent who through old age or sickness or misfortune have been deprived of a good home and in their old age turn to the county authorities for assistance.

The county commissioners of this county have been contemplating the purchase or the erection of a home ever since the county was formed, for they recognized the need or the economy of having a place where the indigent could be cared for and lodged properly.

Several weeks ago J. A. Harrold offered them his home place on Mellenville avenue for a price and on terms that appealed to them as it did to every one else and after casting over the environs of Sanford nothing as good was offered at the price and yesterday the deal for this place was closed.

The place is on Mellenville avenue about one mile from the center and is just outside of the city limits. It is known as the Vaughn place and contains about forty acres, about two hundred bearing orange trees, some timber, some excellent farming lands, a good house and out buildings.

The house is surrounded by some magnificent oak trees and the place is so attractive that there will be many applicants for the position of buying there.

The new home should be able to pay expenses from the crops that can be raised by the inmates who are able to do some work on the premises and it is the opinion of the tax payers that the county commissioners have made a good deal and one that will be a benefit as well as a boon to them.

The indigent of the various counties of Florida and every other state are one of the problems of the commissioners and the only way out seems to be the purchase of good places where the indigent can be cared for and lodged properly.

The deal for the Harrold place is a good one and is to be commended.

Beachey is Killed San Francisco, March 14 Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, was killed while making an exhibition flight at the Panama-Pacific Exposition today. At an altitude of about 3,000 feet Beachey began a sharp descent. The wings of his aeroplane collapsed and the machine plunged into San Francisco Bay.

Beachey was completing his second flight of the day when the accident occurred in view of thousands of spectators. Having electrified the crowd with a series of aerial somersaults the aviator sought to add an additional thrill with one of his sensational perpendicular drops.

The fatal line was attributed to the fact that Beachey entrusted his life to day for the first time in several years to a monoplane.

The machine was at an altitude of about 3,000 feet when Beachey shut off his power. For over a thousand feet he dropped head-on for the earth and then the aviator grasped his control levers to adjust his planes for a graceful descent. The wings crumpled and the aeroplane turning over and over in its fall plunged into San Francisco Bay, narrowly missing a vessel at the Government transport docks.

Thousands rushed to the nearby water front, but with the exception of a few splintered fragments of the aeroplane floating on the surface of the bay, no signs of the wrecked machine could be seen. Launches put out immediately and a boat's crew from the battleship Oregon joined in an attempt to recover the body of the aviator, which was strapped to the machine, under forty feet of water. The body was recovered shortly after noon.

Hillary Beachey, a brother of the aviator, witnessed the tragedy from the deck of the United States transport Crook. He said he heard a cracking sound like the breaking of a ship's mast. He cried out as the monoplane began to plunge toward the bay. There was a faint red glow from the wreckage.

That Beachey was killed when he struck the water and had sustained no major injury except a broken leg was the opinion expressed by Dr. Frank E. Starnes, surgeon in command who examined the body at the morgue today.

The face, said Dr. Starnes, was discolored from choking and strangling, indicating that death was due to drowning. Cuts on the aviator's head, which were caused by the fall, were thought to be superficial.

When the body was recovered it was protected by the engine, propellers and hood of the monoplane, which struck the water first. It was pointed out that if Beachey could have disengaged himself he probably would have managed to keep about long enough to be rescued.

said Dr. Apperson.

The Apperson-Lack Rabbit car is beginning to show here and the people after having noticed the merits of other cars compare the merits of the Apperson. Last week there were two Appersons sold here, one to the Colbert Bros. and one to Chas. Stokely of Mt. Dora. C. F. Williams, the agent here announces that he will have several more Appersons on display in the next few days and any one desiring one of these fine cars can see them at the Sanford Machine & Garage Co., where Edward Higgins, the sales manager will take pleasure in demonstrating the car. The Apperson is bound to prove popular in Florida as it has thirty years of good records to back every claim made by the manufacturers. Ask those who have an Apperson car about its good points.

J. W. White Here

Hon. J. W. White, editor of the Fraternal Record of Jacksonville and one of the most prominent members of fraternal leaders in the state is in the city attending the Red Men's convention. Mr. White is treasurer of the Florida Press Association and is a well known journalist.

SANFORD CAPTURED ENGLAND BLOCKADES BY THE RED MEN AGAINST GERMANY

HOSTS OF RED WARRIORS NO VESSEL OF ANY NATION WILL START BIG POW ALLOWED TO ENTER OR DEPART FROM PORTS

The Thirty-Second Great Sun Session of the Improved Order of Red Men of Florida opened their session here this morning at the Imperial Theatre. The city is filled with the delegates representing every city in the state and they are a fine body of representative men of Florida. There are also many Red Men of other states who are visiting Florida and they are in the city to attend the session.

The exercises this morning were public and attracted many to the theatre to witness the opening of the meeting.

The first number on the program was an instrumental duet by Mrs. Thrasher and Mrs. Butt. Rev. Arthur Searing Peck of the Episcopal church gave the invocation.

The address of welcome by Mayor Thrasher was a hearty invitation to the visitors to enjoy themselves and take the key to the city.

John T. Dale, G. C. of R., of Orlando responded in his usual happy vein, followed by some excellent music by the Mixed Quartette composed of Mrs. Edward Higgins, Mrs. John Thomas and Messrs. D. E. Becker and J. A. Harrold.

The welcome from Ojus Tribe of Sanford from John Stempier prompted the aviator everything not already promised by Mayor Thrasher, and the response by J. W. White of Jacksonville was just what one expects from this war horse of fraternalism. Mr. White is a member of every lodge on earth and his words are always gems of thought.

Miss Apperson rendered one of her best songs in her usual excellent manner and her singing was a most inspirational present.

R. J. Holly gave the welcome to the delegates from the Commercial Club and in his address extolled the city and country and if the city is taken away from it will be just as if the stumper and Holly.

The response was by Hon. J. B. Spelman, G. S. of E. of P. and was given as Spelman knows how to give it.

The address of welcome by Frederick A. Downs of Boston. This address was replete with good logic, sound advice and deep thought and was enjoyed by all those present.

Adjournment was then made to dinner and the visitors and the Red Men felt that they had enjoyed the most delightful morning of their lives. The day is now over and the goal of the order.

The rest of the day will be a busy one for the Red Men for they expect to put in their time with some lodge work, business sessions and big meetings at the wigwam.

Following is the program for tomorrow:

8:30 a. m. Business session. 12:00 m. Adjournment till 1:30. 12:45 p. m. Barbecue at French place, Sanford Heights. 1:30 p. m. Reconvene at Lodge Room. 3:00 p. m. Closing Great Council. 3:45 p. m. Auto ride through Colony Delta.

Will Build Two Residences

N. H. Garner has started the building game again and having purchased the most desirable lots on Magnolia avenue lately will erect two fine residences thereon. Mr. Garner purchased the lot on Magnolia south of the Roumillat residence on Magnolia avenue and will start the building of two nice houses at once. The houses will be for sale or rent and will add much to this popular avenue.

Mass Meeting for Men

The mass meeting for men will be held at the Baptist Temple on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. An interesting program has been prepared and a luncheon will be served. This meeting promises to be one of the most interesting of the kind held in our city. Prof. B. F. Ezell is the chairman of the committee putting this on and has given much time to the making of the same a success. The men are invited to attend and the real welcome will be awaiting them.

ENGLAND BLOCKADES AGAINST GERMANY

NO VESSEL OF ANY NATION WILL START BIG POW ALLOWED TO ENTER OR DEPART FROM PORTS

London, March 16. No vessel of any nationality will be allowed to enter or depart from any German port is a decree issued by order of the British council, decreeing retaliatory measures to meet the declaration of Germany that the waters surrounding the United Kingdom are a military area. The decree was made public today.

London, N. Y., March 16. Captain Thierichens of the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich has made no request of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company to repair his sea raider in dock here, it became known today. This fact, it was believed, accounted for failure of the German commander to forward to the White House his formal request for a name in which to make his ship seaworthy. Today, however, the United States National Board of Survey, headed by Naval Constructor Dulose is to visit the Eitel Friedrich. After thorough examination has been made of the boilers and machinery, Commandant Thierichens is expected to forward his request to the collector of Customs Hambley, whose request for a stipulation of how long wanted in port has been answered for several days.

London, England, March 15. Mystery envelops the movements of General von Hindenburg in his latest operations in Poland, but observers in the United States, according to the New York Times, say he cannot be kept much longer from developing his intentions to the Russians.

The British succession in Nave chapel is expected to have been settled by the time that the aeroplane raids are being reported there.

Press Raps Fletcher

Arundel, March 15. The DeSoto Press Association has just published a report on the activities of the DeSoto Press Association. The report is a most interesting one and is a most valuable contribution to the knowledge of the press in this section. Hood Still Unconscious

J. E. Hood, of Sanford, Fla., the man who was injured in a motorcycle accident Tuesday night while on the way from Fort Lauderdale to Miami to deliver a motion picture film to one of the local show houses, is reported as still unconscious and in a critical condition. He is at the railway hospital, where he was taken at 11:30 Tuesday night, suffering with a fractured skull.

Douglas Whitnall, the other rider of the motorcycle, was not so seriously injured as to cause uneasiness on the part of his friends as to his condition. Miami Herald.

Mr. Hood is a brother of Gordon Hood and J. D. Hood of this city. Later, Mr. Hood died on Sunday night.

Death of Mrs. Rockefeller

Tarrytown, N. Y., March 12. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, wife of the richest man in the world, died suddenly Friday in her 76th year at the Rockefeller country home in Pocantico Hills. She had been an invalid for a year but during the last few months here health had so improved that the rapid turn for the worse which her illness took was not anticipated by her family.

For this reason it happened that the only relative at her bedside when she died at 10:20 a. m. was her sister, Miss Lucy M. Spelman. Her husband and son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were at Ormond, Fla., where they went. Mr. Rockefeller, Sr., on February 28 and his son last Friday, accompanied by his wife, believing that Mrs. Rockefeller was growing better. Notified by telephone of the critical change in her condition they left at once for Jacksonville, where arrangements were made for a special train to bring them to New York.

Clean Up Day and Flower Show

By joint arrangement of the Woman's Club's committees on Civics and City Beautiful a most interesting program has been planned for April 22, 23 and 24. On April 22 there will be a general Clean-Up Day. Householders are requested to cooperate in an effort to have their premises entirely cleared of rubbish, their lawns cut and flower beds at their prettiest, because on the next day, the 23rd a committee from out of town will inspect every garden in the city with the view of awarding the City Beautiful prizes. For convenience in covering the ground the city has been districted and numbered as follows:

District 1—West of French avenue to Ninth on the north, to lake on the north and city limits west. District 2—East of French to Myrtle avenue, east from Ninth to the lake. District 3—From Commercial avenue to Fifth street, Sanford avenue to Myrtle. District 4—From Fifth to Tenth street, Sanford avenue to Myrtle. District 5—Tenth street to city limits south. District 6—Sanford avenue to city limits east.

There will be given two prizes to each district, one for most attractive spring flowering garden, the other for best effects of plants on grounds. As the object is to improve the general appearance of the city, the prizes will be given to the district which has the most attractive garden.

The fair and flower market will be held down town at a place to be announced later, on the afternoon of April 21. Again the prizes will be plants and bulbs. Mrs. Merrill of Ocala and Prof. Sterling of Gotta have made donations of their magnificent specimens and Resolute Board of Orange and other parties are expected to contribute to the gift from their nurseries. SANFORD PEOPLE WILL ARRANGE FOR MIAMI TRIP

VERY LOW RATE AND A FINE SCHEDULE FOR FLORIDA PRESS MEETING

The very low rates on the railroads and hotel rates, etc., arranged for the meeting of the Florida Press Association at Miami March 25th, 26th and 27th are attracting the attention of the people who would like to visit the Magic City at the very best time of the year. The rate from Sanford to Miami round trip is only $7.95, the sale of tickets being good on March 23, 24 and 25, good returning on March 31st. This gives practically a week in making the trip to and from Miami and is probably one of the best rates and best schedules that has ever been made by the railroads.

The trip arranged primarily for the newspaper men of the state is open to the general public, and the people of Miami are expecting a large crowd in the city during the three days' session and have made all arrangements to take care of the excursionists. There will be a large number from Sanford and in order to arrange for the trip for those who contemplate going from this city the editor of the Herald has requested all information regarding same and the following schedules will be of interest.

Good Schedules and Connections—Sanford to Miami Trains Shown Run Daily

Leave Sanford Train No. 84, A. C. L., 11:05 a. m. Arrive Orange City Junction, 11:46 a. m. At Orange City Junction change to F. E. C. R. Leave Orange City Junction, No. 202, 11:50 a. m. Arrive New Smyrna, 1:05 p. m. Leave New Smyrna on No. 33 Palm Beach Limited, 1:40 p. m. Arrive Miami, 9:30 p. m., same day.

Note: The Palm Beach Limited is solid Pullman-selling berths and seats, and is the only solid Pullman train going into the Royal Poinciana and Breakers at Palm Beach. Train leaves West Palm Beach at 7:00 p. m. and arrives at 9:30 p. m. Passengers crossing on this train have the opportunity of seeing the hotels and the ocean from the car.

This same schedule and train (33) can be made via Enterprise Jet and Titusville. A. C. L. No. 81 due out of Sanford makes both Enterprise Jet and Orange City Jet connections with the F. E. C. Should you go via Titusville you will arrive there from Enterprise Jet at 1:00 p. m. and No. 31 leaves Titusville at 2:28 p. m.

The Date Has Been Set

Many people in the city have been very much interested in the coming of the next Lyceum attraction. A recent letter from the Alkabeat people place the date on April 14th. The Boston Lyrics will be the attraction. They comprise a trio of which presents a delightfully varied program of vocal and instrumental music, readings and cartoons. The instruments used include a cornet, trombone, and also that interesting instrument known as a marymbaphone.

Further announcements will be made in regard to the coming of this attraction from week to week. The place for the Lyceum will be the Temple, corner Park avenue and Sixth street. The date is April 14th.

WINTER VEGETABLES IN FLORIDA

COUNTRY GENTLEMAN THINKS THAT THE GREAT INDUSTRY IS JUST STARTING

Florida has received more free advertising during the past three months than any other state in the Union. Leading magazines and newspapers of the nation have devoted page after page of space to setting forth the matchless attractions, limitless resources and incomparable opportunities of the Land of Flowers and Eternal Sunshine. As a result thousands upon thousands of people throughout the land are laying their plans for homes or investments in Florida and the state is about to enter upon an era of vast development and prosperity.

The Country Gentleman, one of the most popular agricultural publications of this country contained in a recent issue a very interesting account of the trucking industry of Florida. Seminole county possesses thousands of acres of fertile land admirably suited to all kinds of truck farming, and since the industry is fast assuming greater proportions in this section we reproduce part of the article referred to as follows:

Three-quarters of all the wonder stories about sudden wealth in Florida turn on winter vegetables. Everybody has heard about the fellow frozen out of the north, who cleaned up a thousand dollars on an acre of tomatoes or lettuce during his first winter in Florida and how net profits last season from a small farm in celery ran to ten thousand or twenty thousand dollars.

Most of these stories are true. To be sure, there are often suppressed details. Very often the northerner who cleared a thousand dollars on his acre crop of tomatoes the first winter had his crop frozen the second, and was wiped out by a pest the third, and finally in the fourth year went into the real estate business, where he finds his agricultural experience very handy. Facts of this sort lurk in the background to qualify the wonder stories.

Yet, with all the off years and the setbacks and the fellows from up north who fail because they refuse to adapt themselves to Florida conditions, it is certain that most Florida truckers who know their business make money from one season to another, and that some seasons some of them make remarkable money. For trucking is Florida's big boom industry.

When the man from the north arrives he usually has an orange grove in mind. Oranges make a strong appeal to the northern imagination, probably because they are so different from the crops of New England or of the wheat belt. Ever since he began to hear of Florida at all he has wanted an orange grove.

But orange groves cost money and require time. To bring one into profitable bearing takes from $200 an acre upward, and seven or eight years. Unless he has a capital to buy a bearing grove outright he must raise something immediately for a living. Probably nine out of ten settlers in Florida are men of moderate means, a large number are northern farmers with about enough money to buy a piece of land, put up a shack and move the family. So the newcomer usually begins with a crop of winter vegetables for shipment to northern markets. With tomatoes, string beans, head lettuce, cabbage, beets, Irish potatoes, cucumbers and eggplant he can get quick results, harvesting his stuff from ten weeks to four months after planting, and raising two or three crops during the season on a well tilled piece of land. From the truck standpoint Florida is a peculiar state. It hangs down below the other states, with the tempering ocean on three sides, and stretching so far toward the tropics that the railroad mileage from Jacksonville to Key West is more than half that from New York to Chicago.

Winter truck is absolutely a matter of calendar and prices. Starting far south before Christmas, and bringing the highest prices, the supply increases and the prices decrease as advancing spring mature the crops in the middle portion of the state, then in its northern sections, then in Mississippi, Texas, the Carolinas, Virginia and so on northward. The difference between one section and another in ripening truck crops may be a matter of only two or three weeks, and market advantage, as a matter of freight rates and freshness, is naturally to be shown in a number of Florida cities, with the idea of spreading as wide as possible the instruction on health and sanitary matters.

This exhibit was prepared for the Southern Medical Exhibition which was held in Jacksonville last December. Many thousands came and studied its features and went away impressed with the practical work that is being done by the Board for the state. With some additions and changes it was prepared to be shown in a number of Florida cities, with the idea of spreading as wide as possible the instruction on health and sanitary matters.

This exhibit is made up largely of panels on which are shown in attractive and striking form the important facts that are involved in the fight for better health conditions in Florida. Some of these subjects are vital statistics, the part the laboratory plays in health observation, malaria and how its spread is prevented by the use of screens; the fly and mosquito and how they work in carrying disease germs; typhoid fever and its prevention; smallpox and the results gained by vaccination; diphtheria, its prevention and cure; meningitis, whooping cough and other infectious diseases; the work of carrying Florida's indigent crippled children, hookworm, its cause and cure; statistics in hog cholera and black tongue; its dangers and cattle tick; six panels illustrating the campaign against tuberculosis; its ravages and the details of the opening treatment as compared with institutional treatment; the care, feeding and dressing of babies and some startling figures showing the results of the lack of proper attention to the newborn child. There are models of sleeping porches and of properly constructed and located dwellings. To these have been added more recently panels illustrating mosquito extermination, rabies among animals, cancer and pellagra, their development and the methods of treatment so far developed.

Everywhere in the industry there are signs of greater volumes of truck grown and shipped on closer margins, and a broadening of the demand among northern consumers. For one thing, the drainage of the Everglades will bring into tillage enormous areas of fine truck land, ideal for truck and most of it lying far south, where the earliest winter vegetables are most easily grown.

Last season's Florida shipments of fresh tomatoes during the winter and early spring ran up to more than 6,000 cars, counting express and mixed car lots. There were 5,870 cars of tomatoes alone, or more than a quarter as many as all of the citrus fruit shipments, 21,500 cars, and other green vegetables ran to at least 12,000 cars additional. Despite this impressive volume, however, Florida winter vegetables are still regarded as a luxury, and the industry is keyed to fancy prices and wide profits.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH IS DOING FINE WORK IN "SHOWING"

The eye is a better medium of educating than the ear. Pictures, movies and others, make more definite and lasting impressions on the popular mind than do lectures or sermons, and the statement is made without intending to minimize the Chautauquas or the ministers.

Taking advantage of this psychological fact, the State Board of Health has at last realized a long cherished idea of furthering its campaign of educating the people of Florida by illustrating in graphic form, by panels and photographs and models what it has been writing about for a good many years.

This exhibit was prepared for the Southern Medical Exhibition which was held in Jacksonville last December. Many thousands came and studied its features and went away impressed with the practical work that is being done by the Board for the state. With some additions and changes it was prepared to be shown in a number of Florida cities, with the idea of spreading as wide as possible the instruction on health and sanitary matters.

There are models of sleeping porches and of properly constructed and located dwellings. To these have been added more recently panels illustrating mosquito extermination, rabies among animals, cancer and pellagra, their development and the methods of treatment so far developed.

The splendid value of this exhibit has been shown by the active interest taken in it in various cities in Florida. Forty thousand people visited it in Tampa in four days; three thousand in Tallahassee in four days; three thousand in Orlando in two days; fifteen hundred in Lake Land in two days; two thousand five hundred in Palatka in two days; three thousand in Ocala in two days. This attendance was equal to three-quarters of the estimated population of these six cities. At the time of this writing, the exhibit is being taken to Pensacola and it is to be taken to Tallahassee next.

A remarkable and satisfactory feature of this attendance has been the carefulness with which it has been studied, especially by the children. It has been a splendid object lesson to emphasize the training that has been undertaken by the progressive teachers in many Florida schools. The indifference, the preconceived notions and the unwillingness of older persons to accept the advances made by modern medical science, do not have to be combated among the younger element in the community. Their anxiety to learn is a promising augury for increasingly better health conditions in Florida in the years to come.

Oil Your Rubbers. Before wearing your rubbers rub them well with vaseline, lard or sweet oil. Letting it remain on for a day or two. The greater part will be absorbed by the rubber and the grease will prevent the rubber from breaking. The superfluous oil can be removed with a soft cloth.

Restoring Stock Ranges. It has been demonstrated that overgrazed stock ranges can be restored to their original condition faster than if they are left ungrazed.

Show Florida to Millions

To bring a section of Florida and her floral charms to New York is the object of a unique exposition which will be held in New York from December 4 to 11, inclusive under the auspices of the Florida Travel Company, 489-5th Avenue in cooperation with railroads, steamship companies and the Hotel and Fruit Growers' Association of this state.

New Yorkers have their flower and land shows, which they patronize freely, but they have never yet had an opportunity to see the products of semi-tropical Florida growing as they do in their native environment. Hence, it will be a complete novelty for them to see orange groves in fruit, and this fact alone will insure a liberal amount of patronage.

Of course the exhibition will not be devoted wholly to the agricultural and horticultural resources of Florida. It will reveal to the visitor the varied delights of the state as a place for rest and recreation, and it will also direct attention to the many things to be seen and done in Florida, a host of tourists who are now seeking new playgrounds.

It should be noted in regard to New York is the starting point for the great bulk of American travelers. To winter especially the population of the metropolis is augmented by thousands of the wealthy people from the New England states and the middle-west, and most of these can be reached through the medium of the Florida show.

Oil Your Rubbers. Before wearing your rubbers rub them well with vaseline, lard or sweet oil. Letting it remain on for a day or two. The greater part will be absorbed by the rubber and the grease will prevent the rubber from breaking. The superfluous oil can be removed with a soft cloth.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 1113

The Mulberry Herald has resumed which will be good news to all the state press.

The Kissimmee Gazette is getting better. We received half a paper last Saturday and are looking forward to a two-thirds portion this week.

The Lakeland Advertiser has developed into a real weekly newspaper in the past few weeks.

"Powell says he hopes the $10,000 appropriation secured for the Seminoles will be used to teach them how to tuck their shirts inside their pants."

All of which brings on more talk. If it cost $10,000 to make the Seminoles tuck in their shirts how much more would it cost to make Rube Allen tuck in his American flag.

The Wauchula Advocate is just fourteen years old and Geo. Goolsby is coming in for his share of congratulations.

FISH LAWS
There are many laws framed at each meeting of the legislature to stop fishing or rather to stop seining in the spawning season.

ing industry by passing laws making it illegal to seine at any season of the year.

There are two sides to this question, just as there are two sides to every other question and from the monetary standpoint the fishing industry properly applied in this state is a great industry and brings thousands of dollars to the various towns where it is carried on.

This will stop this nuisance and save the people of Florida much annoyance and law breaking.

THE FLETCHER INCIDENT

Senator Fletcher has taken it back and states that he did not mean the Florida newspapers.

Senator Fletcher has taken it back and states that he did not mean the Florida newspapers. This is very magnanimous on his part and we give him due credit for same.

Those days have passed. The paper towel is unsympathetic and invites no confidences. Its crackle is unmelodious. You cannot sigh into it after a day's work.

The people are fighting for their very life when this happens and it is not only up to the members of the press but also to the people of Florida to see that they have a free and unbridled press to take care of their interests.

Big Time for Press Gang

That Miami will be visited by a great many people other than newspaper men, during the convention of the Florida Press Association, on the 25th, 26th and 27th of this month is evidenced by the fact that R. J. Holly, president of the Florida Press Association writes that about twenty people will come to Miami from Sanford alone and that many more cities will have a large representation here.

It is quite evident that the Miami convention will be the largest in the history of the association.

Col. Thomas J. Appleyard, secretary of the association states that he has received many inquiries regarding rates, and J. D. Rahner, general passenger agent of the Florida East Coast Railway has received a number of inquiries regarding rates.

The local committee has arranged for the entertainment of the editors and their companions, and indications are that the convention will be one of the most interesting in recent years.

A concert is being arranged by the Woman's Club for the editors, a fish dinner at the Miami Beach Casino, automobile rides, boat rides, a banquet at the Royal Palm hotel.

President Holly has announced that the convention will have a great deal of important business before it this year, and urges all members to be present and assist.

The badges for the members have been ordered, and will be sent to the various members by Secretary Paddock of the Miami Board of Trade just as soon as they are received from the manufacturer.

To a Departed Friend

A sad blow has been dealt the newspaper and other printing offices in New York state. A cruel legislature, bent on imposing the principles of hygiene and disregarding entirely custom and comfort, has banished the printing office towel.

A wall accompanied the departure of the tried and trusted friend as many an old time printer gingerly held the printing office towel between his fingers and escorted it to its last resting place—the ash can.

Not alone for itself, for its comfort and utility was the printing office towel held in high esteem, but also because of the fact that its mutual use established the bonds of friendship among men.

Those days have passed. The paper towel is unsympathetic and invites no confidences. Its crackle is unmelodious. You cannot sigh into it after a day's work.

Yes, there is no doubt that fond regrets follow the departure of the printing office towel, but when you come to think of it wasn't it awfully

The new and sanitary individual paper towel may be a heartless thing, it is true, but anyway it is clean.

The introduction of new things into the printing office is going on apace. The old towel had to go sooner or later to make room for something better, for something which will improve conditions, even if it is only the temporary condition of face and hands, and obviating the risk of piling upon our skins the germinated gatherings of alien ink and dust.

The new way is better. American Press.

Low Rate To Miami

The annual meeting of the Florida Press Association will be held at Miami Mar. 25-27, 1915. Very low rates have been secured to this gathering and the rates are open to the general public.

FLORIDA, THE OPPORTUNITY
BY EX-GOVERNOR GILCHRIST

Hon. Albert W. Gilchrist, ex-governor of Florida has the following to say about Florida in the Tampa Times:

Florida offers the best opportunity to homeseekers of any portion of the world. The United States census for 1910 shows the increase in population for Florida to be 42.1 per cent.

The people who have come and are coming represent the enterprising, progressive and best element of the various states, with some few from the nations of the world at large.

The population of Florida is cosmopolitan. The churches extend the right hand of fellowship. The various societies recognize a brother.

The climate is moderate in the winter sometimes just cool enough to make you want the "good old summer time."

Florida is filled with lakes and rivers. It has 2,200 miles of sea coast. It is a peninsula. During the day the land becomes warm more quickly than the water.

This is a great cattle, poultry and hog country. Hay, velvet beans, beggar weed, various grasses are grown.

Our hens delight to cackle when they produce results. The roosters crow, too.

Some homeseekers may be miner, Florida mines phosphate, enriching the soils of the world; mines Fuller's earth and porcelain clay for pottery.

Some of the homeseekers are necessarily interested in manufactures in machinery. Florida is getting to be a great manufacturing state, manufacturing lumber turpentine, also many of the smaller articles.

Though the climate is invaluable, the soil is specially adapted to the uses to which it is put. Intelligent, well directed labor and thrift produces larger results in Florida than all other clouds and wrap you in delight. The homeseeker need not fear that he will have to decide as Kipling did in his "Betrothed."

All the counties of Florida are alive to the necessity for good roads. Homeseekers find Florida a good road to health and happiness.

My advice to the homeseeker is to examine the land before purchasing. His wife ought to be selected too as a homemaker.

Men are good for some things and not so good for others. The man who plies to soil is a good man.

Its owners will produce more than that they raise. The man who applies to the soil is a good man.

On each acre of land the number of pines standing per acre weight. The soil will produce 50 and 30 short tons of pine.

Even the Supreme Being cannot make any soil contain more than 100 per cent of any one substance.

Considering the variety of products grown on Florida soil it is quite apparent that good soil contains all the elements, in a high per cent necessary to all such plants.

This is a great cattle, poultry and hog country. Hay, velvet beans, beggar weed, various grasses are grown.

Our hens delight to cackle when they produce results. The roosters crow, too.

DAUBERT AIDS MATES BY STOPPING ERRORS

Jake Daubert, Captain and First Baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers.

In Jake Daubert the Brooklyn team has the greatest little animated telescope in baseball today. Six feet one inch in height, the first sacker in the Dodgers' possession can and does snag many a wild toss and still manages to keep his foot on the bag to the great discomfort of the batsman trying to get to the initial corner. It takes a mighty wild toss to knock Daubert from the bag.

It is figured that Jake can get a throw nine feet from the bag when the ball comes to the right. Straddling his full length and still looking in position with his toe.

Having to reach across the body with his gloved hand when a ball is thrown to the left of the bag he naturally loses some distance in making these throws, but he can get those that come within eight feet and two or three inches. Of course if the worst comes to the worst, the Dodger shoves out his left hand, and, although bare, takes a throw with it. In this way getting the benefit of a nine-foot reach.

When reaching into the diamond for a ball he never hesitates to use his left hand to stretch out to get the ball. He has a few inches of extra reach and takes a ball that would otherwise be out of play.

Going after a ball one night at the first starts that Daubert pulls. When he gets a ball that is thrown a mile or two over his roof he cannot keep his foot on the bag and get it. But he can get it on a night after the all-time record and the ball has to be ten feet above the ground to get by him safely.

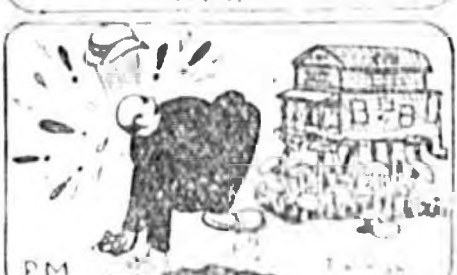

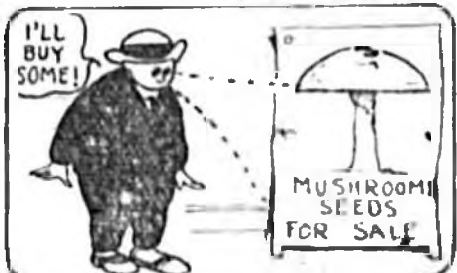

In 126 games during the season of 1914 Daubert, who is captain of the Brooklyn team, is well considered as a man, hit for the first average of .329

Gossip Among Sports

John Hummel, the veteran Brooklyn Dodger, has signed a two-year contract.

Holly Zombro is the first 2-30 trotter this year, having taken a mark of 2:17 1/2.

After Grand Opera rounded to sleep they say he was up to a mile an hour on the ice.

Odd is it not, how great a college athlete becomes the moment the faculty bars him from playing?

Harvard coaches bar athletes who dance, perhaps fearing the tango is too brutal for football players.

Another good outfielder is all Manager Herzog wants for his Reds, then he will be satisfied with his team.

Carlisle's football schedule is out; in the absence of Glen Warner the redskins will not play double-headers next fall.

The Crescent City is now deluged with fight clubs. That condition is not bad. Tho' undeserving will starve out quickly.

Athletics develop lopsided men, according to an Ann Arbor professor; and mental athletics evidently develop lopsided brains.

Leslie Nunamaker affirms that he signed a four-year contract with the Yanks last season for $6,000 a year with the ten-day clause out.

Rog Bresnahan says he will teach his pitchers to slide. That is foolish; he should teach them to fall down, then they could reach from base to base.

If all these bushers who are breaking in this spring live up to what they say in their letters Ty Cobb and Eddie Collins will have an easy summer on the bench.

Possibly the fact that so many major league clubs lose games to Class B teams during the spring training accounts for Freddie Welsh being beaten in the exhibition bouts.

WEIGHT LIMIT DISREGARDED

Pugilistic Champions Object to Making Poundage - Gibbons Weighs 145 at Three O'clock

Pugilistic champions pay just about as much attention to weight limits as the Federal league does to Ban John's threat.

The bantam limit is 119. Kid Wilkerson, who weighs 120, is a bit over the limit.

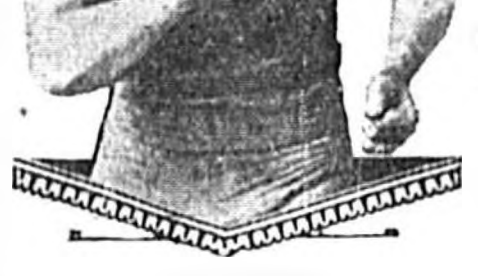

Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champ, won't hop into the ring under 126, although the limit is 122.

Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, won't do 133 ring side. The prescribed limit. Willie Ritchie makes 135 and no less.

Mike Gibbons, the acknowledged welterweight champion, won't submit to weighing in at 145. He'll do 145 at 3 p. m., and then gain about five pounds between that time and the hour set for the fight.

The middleweight limit is 156. George Chip, leading claimant for the title of that division, will make 158 at 5 p. m., but he won't make it at ringside. His ringside weight is 160 and over.

Starters in Regattas.

Mike Gibbons.

According to figures kept by the secretary of the Yacht Racing association of Massachusetts, 2,411 racing yachts took part in the 37 open regattas sailed in Massachusetts bay and off Marblehead last summer. On Long Island sound the starters in regattas probably exceeded 3,000 and if Buzzards bay, Narragansett bay and other Long Island sound points are included the number of starters in all regattas between Sandy Hook and Marblehead will number about seven thousand five hundred.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. 'HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

On again, off again, gone again, is the policy or has been of the people who have been trying to solve the brick roads tangle for the past few days and for one I am glad they have decided to get together and each one of them give a little bit toward settling this puzzle. There has been no time in the history of the brick roads question when the principals could not get together if they had shown each other some consideration and in this as well as other problems of the day a heart to heart talk of those concerned would have been fruitful of results. We want the roads finished and the only way to finish them is to take the material in hand and build as much as possible and finish the width at some future date. The average man is willing to take a nine foot road at the present stage of the game and be content. We want a general get together camp meeting in this vale of tears and the sooner we all get down to brass tacks and stop this child's play the sooner we can build a great community here. What helps me helps my neighbor and it should be my duty and my neighbor's duty to think about this in everyday life and all the problems of the commonwealth should be settled by the golden rule and not kept alive for the sake of argument. Now that we have settled the matter let the good work start now and never cease work until every foot of the roads are laid in the district. We are all of the opinion that we should have good roads and the best way to convince the other fellow we are good roads advocates is to build them. We have paid taxes for two years on something that is not bringing results and this is poor business. Let the roads go down and we can start on some others and soon the entire county will have a system of hard roads.

The bulkhead is progressing and it is time to think about the harbor for boats that should be made now. Some think a breakwater would be the proper thing but it will have to be some distance out and this would be an objection. Others want a turn basin that would be inside the bulkhead and there are objections to this also and now is the time for some man to come forward and let us know just the kind of harbor we need and one that will not be too expensive. It is my opinion that the end of the bulkhead would be the proper place for the turn basin and in connection there could be a boat building factory, something that is needed here and one industry that will pay as soon as the bulkhead is finished. We should look into this matter now while there is yet time, for if the basin is made at the foot of Park avenue it is high time to construct it. Sanford will never get the full advantage of the lake until some such place is made for the benefit of the passing tourists who would like to live here and have boats if they could be assured of protection in case of storms. Lake Monroe is one of the prettiest sheets of water in the state and should be the most valuable asset of this city. One start toward making it valuable was the bulkheading and another would be the harbor for boats. Then will follow the yacht club and the idea of every fellow having his own launch to take advantage of the good boating and fishing. After that it will only be a question of time before this city would be filled with tourists and you could not keep them away from this city if you tried. Let us get busy on this harbor idea at once.

I note in several papers the "Build Now" movement which sounds very well and I hope that the people here will build now but there is also a good slogan that could be used here with good effect and that is the "Tear Down Now" movement. This city is burdened with a number of old shacks and they are not confined to the suburbs either that could be torn down and new buildings erected in their place. Sometimes it seems to me that Sanford people are very lax in their method of treating these subjects, for in some cities they would not stand for the ancient landmarks that we allow to grow and thrive in our midst. I see many shacks starting up on the water front and other places that are bound to become eyesores along this boulevard. There are other dilapidated buildings in the business portion of the city that are partly torn down or are tumbling down and they are allowed to hang halfway between heaven and earth as long as the laws of equilibrium will allow them, for no laws in Sanford will disturb them. Other cities have ordinances and they are enforced in regard to old shacks and they should be enforced in this city. We will never have a decent looking place with these ancient buildings on the principal streets.

The city of Eustis has a Raze-Now ordinance of the following nature:

"Whenever any building or shed standing within the fire limits shall become a nuisance or dangerous to persons or property, the owner shall, upon written notice given him by authority of the town, remove such building or shed, or cause the same to be removed, within a reasonable time, and upon failure to do so, the town shall remove the same at the cost and expense of the owner of said property, and the cost of removal of said building shall become a lien upon the said property, and be enforced in the same manner as a mechanic's lien. When any building or shed, or any addition, to any building or shed standing within the fire limits established by Sec. 1, shall be removed from any cause, it shall not be again rebuilt with wood or frame or veneered building. Any violation * * fined, etc."

Having studied land propositions at close range in Florida for many years I have often wondered why so many people who come down here and buy lands fail to make good and it has occurred to me that too much money is exacted from them in the start when they needed all their ready cash.

The Atlanta Georgian puts forth a new idea in the matter of purchasing land for farms on the installment plan: that of grading the payments just the reverse from the time honored plan of the largest payment at time of closing the sale by making the first payment trivial in amount and gradually increasing the periodical installment. The idea has merit, even though it may be regarded as revolutionary. Says the Georgian:

The common method of selling small farms on installments ought to be reversed. Instead of requiring the heaviest payment first and then small payments extending over a long time, the first payment should be the smallest and the succeeding payments should increase in amounts. Why? Well, for one thing, the man starting to earn a living and the purchase price of the land out of a few acres needs every cent he can spare to put into his plant. He needs a horse, a cow, some pigs, chickens, seed, young trees, farming implements—all the things that go to make his land factory productive. These things are all assets, too—not operating expenses.

The man's ability to pay for the land is smallest at the beginning and increases steadily with each year of work. Many and many a man, who has failed would have come through successfully if he had had the use of the cash he had to pay on the first installment.

Then, again, many industrious and intelligent young couples who would make a success of small farming do not attempt it because they cannot pay the first heavy installment and equip their little place for work—and they have too much business sense to try under these conditions. These are the very persons who would win out and finally pay for the land if given a chance to work it awhile before making a substantial payment.

The first payment on a small farm should be simply the interest on the purchase price for the year. In that case, the seller is sure of two things—cash interest on his investment and an increased value of the small farm through the buyer's work on it. And even if the buyer fails to make good, the owner has made a winning.

Frankly, we have little use for charities and sob-sisterly philanthropies. But we have an earnest sympathy for the industrious who lack opportunity. And we believe that the introduction of this common sense method of selling small pieces of land would go very far toward relieving the distress of deserving persons, and would rapidly build up the agricultural production of the state—to the benefit of course of everybody.

ANENT THE SPINELESS CACTUS

SOME FACTS ABOUT THIS GREAT PLANT FROM THE EXPERIMENTAL STATION

The spineless cactus is taking the attention of the people of this state as a cattle food. There are many points in favor of the cactus as a plant for sandy wastes in the west and the real value of the plant as compared to other forage crops is given below. This report is from the Experimental Station at Gainesville:

Cactus is a crop suited to semi-arid regions, and we have no evidence that it will be profitable for Florida. We suggest that farmers who plant cactus should do so on a small scale at first.

Yield per Acre

There are few or no data to be had here in Florida as to the probable yield that we may expect from this crop. In California with the best care and cultivation yields are reported of from 20 to 25 tons per acre. These yields were obtained from a field where all missing plants were replaced from time to time during the year, so that these ought to be maximum returns.

Feeding Value

The following table gives the average composition of cactus and a few other crops grown in Florida. This shows clearly that the cactus contains a higher percentage of water and a lower percentage of protein, nitrogen-free extract, and fat, than the forage crops usually grown.

	Average Composition
	Water	Ash	Crude Protein	Crude Fat	Nitrogen Free Extracts	Crude Fibre
Cactus	92.25	1.75	.63	.16	4.08	1.19
Bermuda Grass	71.70	2.30	2.20	.90	17.2	5.90
Sorghum Silage	76.10	1.10	.80	.30	15.3	6.40
Sweet Potatoes	68.30	1.10	1.90	.70	26.8	1.10
Natal Grass (hay)	9.75	5.02	7.45	1.80	39.23	36.75

Planting

Cactus is usually grown from cuttings. Whole slabs may be used, or the larger slabs may be cut into smaller pieces. The slabs or pieces should then be set in the ground with about one-half of their length under ground. Plant in rows 4 to 6 feet apart, and 3 to 4 feet apart in the row.

Conditions for Growth

Ideals conditions for the growing of spineless cactus are about as follows: A warm, loamy, well-drained soil. The temperature should never fall below 21 deg. F. There should be little or no rainfall during the winter, so that plants may have a dormany rest period.

Harvesting

Cactus may be harvested and fed at almost any period of growth, but stock appears to relish them most when the slabs have matured. Best results will be secured with this crop if it is fed during the drier portion of the year when other green or succulent feed is scarce. No success will be had in storing this crop.

Where Slabs May be Purchased

At one time the following parties had slabs for sale at reasonable prices: Hugo Thum, Lakeside, Cal.; A. A. Anderson, El Centro, Cal.; and Teo E. Craig, Merced, Cal. The above parties were at one time selling slabs at 5 and 10 cents per cutting. Griffling Bros. Co., Little River, Fla.; Mohr & Son, Little River, Fla.; and C. F. Redgrave, Lakeland, Fla., have been selling slabs at somewhat higher prices. More information can be obtained free by sending for a copy of Farmers' Bulletin No. 483, to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., Fla. Agric. Expt. Station, Gainesville, Fla.

BERLIN HAS MANY MAIMED

Soldiers Swathed in Bandages Are Seen Everywhere in the German Capital.

Berlin.—No fair picture could be drawn of the Berlin of war time that did not include mention of the thousands of wounded in the streets. In motor cars, in wheel chairs and in the crowds on the streets, they are everywhere, limping, maimed and swathed in bandages. At one dinner table in the Hotel Adlon were four officers, every one of whom had his arm in a sling, and two of whom had their heads in bandages. One, a captain, had lost his right hand, but he had the iron cross of the first class and he seemed the happiest of the party. Indeed, the cheerfulness of the wounded contrasted strikingly with the sad eyes of the many women in mourning.

FRANCE HAS NEW AIR BOMB

Liquid Missile Can Be Used Three Hours After Filling—Guarded With Secrecy.

Paris.—A liquid air bomb has been perfected which can be used in three hours after it has been filled. A considerable factory has been observed in regard to the bomb, which M. Painlevé, the academicien, made practical from the inventor's design.

Shot Carried Gold Coins.

Paris.—Three gold pieces have been extracted from the skin of Private Hobery in Paris. A piece of shrapnel pierced the pocket of another soldier, who had coins, and who was marching ahead of Hobery. The shrapnel and the coins lodged in the leg of Hobery, who didn't have a cent before he was wounded.

Significant Madagascar Dance.

In Madagascar when the men are absent at war the women dance for the greater part of the day, believing that this will inspire their husbands with courage, and doubtless many a man had pressed on the field of battle does feel a peculiar access of determination to vanquish the enemy when he thinks of his wife dancing tirelessly all day that he may win.

Death of Little Child

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Calhoun will regret to hear of the death of their baby boy, Donald Lee which occurred Wednesday morning at 9:30.

The death of this little child is peculiarly sad. Creeping about the floor in the early morning the little fellow found and attempted to swallow a peanut, which lodging in his throat caused his death. All the efforts of two skilled physicians, Drs. Denton and Miller proved unavailing, although they worked untiringly until the end. An operation was performed in an effort to save the little fellow's life but that too was useless. They could only relieve the agony of suffering. Little Donald was but thirteen months old, the pride and joy of his parents' hearts, the sunshine of the home. The tiny body was taken to Plant City Wednesday night for interment. The sympathy of many friends go out to the grief stricken mother and father in their hour of trial.

Special Sermons at Star Theatre

There will be a series of sermons preached at the Star Theatre each Sunday night for the next six weeks. The general theme of these talks will be "The Christian in Modern Life." Every one is cordially invited to be present and enjoy these occasions with the Methodists of the city. The special subject for next Sunday evening will be "The Home—Husbands and Wives." Every married man and woman and those who expect to marry should attend this service. The subject will be treated sanely and interestingly.

There will be a song and praise service beginning at 7 o'clock in which every one will be made to feel at home and invited to take part in the services. The sermon will begin promptly at 7:30.

Florida a Summer Resort

When Florida is mentioned in the north as a pleasure resort it is thought of only as a winter resort, when the fact is it is much more pleasant in the summer than in the winter. Sounds strange, doesn't it? But it is true. The same cause for cool weather in the summer exists in the winter. That is the humidity and contrast shifting winds. The air is laden with moisture. In the winter it is cool, not cold, for the thermometer rarely shows weather conditions below a freezing point, but the water is in the air and the person who sits awhile, without a fire will feel it much sooner than he would in a cooler climate, where the air is dry. In the summer the air comes, moving, laden with water. It fans the brow and cools the person. The sun may shine with vigor, but look at the mercury. You will hardly ever find it 90 degrees. Get in the shade and you will be comfortable, and when night falls there is nearly always need for covering on the bed. Speaking of the night-fall. The term is used correctly in Florida. There is no twilight. When the sun goes out of sight it is dark. The night has absolutely fallen, and the coolness is delightful.

Tell me not of the cool summers on the coast of Maine, where the sun blisters in the middle of the day and where the waters of the ocean are so cold that a man will freeze to death if he ventures to take a bath in August. Tell me not of the mountains of Colorado, where to get to the top of the mountain takes a week and the air is so rare that you can sweat or boil beans. But rather sing of the soft, cool evening in this southland, where there is rest and quietness and coolness and peace. Where every one and everything is so optimistic and looks forward with such bright hopes that even the lightning bugs carry their lights in their eyes, instead of in their tails.

Florida is pre-eminently a summer resort, and it is a mighty good place to live even in the winter, for if you halfway take care of yourself you will get well of any disease with which you may be afflicted. Areadia Enterprise.

Florida Drainage Association

To the People of the State of Florida

The Florida Drainage Association will meet in second annual convention on Thursday, March 25th, 1915 at 9 a. m. at Board of Trade Chambers, Jacksonville, Florida.

The objects of this convention are to discuss questions relating to drainage and reclamation of the wet and overflowed lands in the state of Florida, to propose such amendments as will make more effective the drainage laws of Florida, and to further the development of the agricultural resources of the state by creating and developing a sentiment throughout the state in favor of the reclamation of the vast area of the most fertile lands in the state which are now not only non-productive, but in many instances a menace to the healthfulness of the citizens of the state.

It is thought that these objects can best be obtained by organized effort on the part of all those interested in these matters, and in the general welfare of the state of Florida.

Florida Drainage Association, by George W. Oliver, Pres't.

The Road to Yesterday

One of the largest audiences ever attending the services of the Baptist church was present last Sunday evening. The series of sermons on "The Prodigal Son" being delivered by the pastor, Rev. George Hyman is attracting considerable interest. The topics are dealt with not in a theological way but as practical helps. The subject of the address for next Sunday evening will be "The Road to Yesterday." Services will begin at 7:30. Polite ushers will meet you at the doors and welcome you, seeing that you receive a comfortable seat. The music under the direction of Prof. Wildman is excellent.

The other services for Sunday will be as follows:

Sunday school at 9:30 Morning worship at 11:00 Jr and Senior B Y P U at 6:30 Seats are free to all Sunday services. Welcome, always welcome.

JACK FROST HERE; LUCK AGAINST HIM

COULD DO NO DAMAGE AT ALL WITH THE WELL PROTECTED SANFORD SECTION

Again this season Sanford has demonstrated beyond any doubt that in this section there is sufficient water protection to prevent the frost from doing any serious damage to the tender spring vegetables. The report came here Wednesday that a killing frost would occur as far south as the twenty-sixth parallel, which made cold shivers chase down the backs of the growers who had many acres planted in beans, tomatoes and other tender vegetables.

The frost did appear in a lighter form and it probably did go down the peninsula some distance south of here but Sanford hardly knew that the visitor had been here, for in only a few instances did it nip the vegetation. Some report that the tops of the beans showed the effect and several cauliflower patches were touched where the heads were open. As Thursday remained cool the sun did not affect the vegetables after the frost and today with another gentle drizzle, drizzle, O, don't we love the rain, it seems that there has been no frost in this section.

The protection from killing frost is accounted for in many ways and the scientists could fill a book about the Sanford section in telling just why we are immune when the neighbors crops farther south are many times damaged by frost.

The greatest protection is Lake Monroe and Lake Jessup, the large sheets of water that almost surround the Sanford celery section and make possible the flowing wells. During the freeze in Florida when the orange trees went down the chute there were many groves protected by lakes that escaped the cold and today there are many instances every winter where the lakes protect the vegetables. The orange groves are not in any danger from cold now. The markets are taking care of that but the vegetable crop in Florida amounts to millions and the man who wishes to embark in the growing of winter vegetables is looking for locations like Sanford where nature has combined with man in making conditions ideal. Look, Sanford.

SOUTH'S PROGRESS ON THE INCREASE

MUCH ACTIVITY THROUGHOUT THE SOUTHEASTERN STATES DURING THE PAST WEEK

Columbus, Ga., March 17.—The Industrial Index says in its issue for this week:

"Steady and substantial progress toward wholly normal construction and industrial activity and volume of operations in the southeast is shown by the reports for the week. It is declared, for instance, that Monday last was the busiest building day in the history of Macon, unusually extensive erection of structures having been begun in Macon that day.

"Construction of school buildings, sewers, waterworks systems or paving has been begun in a number of cities, and in several of them the work combines more than one of these items.

"More and more industrial plants are resuming operations on full time, and the establishing of new ones has become of increasing importance.

"An occurrence of much importance was the formal closing of a contract by the state of Florida for the construction of the main canal in connection with the plan for the drainage of the Everglades, the contract involving about $1,850,000.

"One of the gratifying features is the beginning of resumption of the investment of money in the south-east from other sections of the country, this being true especially in regard to the purchase of large tracts of land for development and settlement.

"Among the items of construction work to be done, as reported this week are:

"Apartment houses, Atlanta, Ga., and Columbia, S. C.; bank building to be remodeled, Birmingham, Ala.; two steel bridges, Alcorn county, Mississippi; church building, Aniston, Ala.; Tallapoosa and Atlanta, Ga., and Charleston, S. C.; city halls, Clearwater and Largo, Fla.; club house, Atlanta, Ga.; factory building, Eatonton, Ga.; fraternal buildings, East Minette, Ala.; Columbia, S. C.; Macon, Ga., and Mayo, Fla.; jail, McDuffie county, Ga.; paving, Atlanta, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Greenwood, S. C.; East Christian, Mass.; and Fort Myers, Edsonville and Miami, Fla.; road construction, Alcorn and LaFayette counties, Mississippi and Tuscaloosa county, Ala.; school buildings, Apalachicola and St. Petersburg, Fla.; and Savannah, Ga.; and addition, Columbus, Ga.; sewers, Greenwood, Miss., and Fort Myers, Fla.; sewers and waterworks, Jefferson, Ga.; warehouse, Bay Minette, Ala.; wharf, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Manatee, Fla., has sold $100,000 of bonds and will proceed with the construction of paving, sewers and waterworks for which contracts have been awarded. Contracts have been awarded for the erection of a bridge in Duval county, Florida, for laying in Augusta, Ga., and Pass-a-Grille, Fla., and for church buildings in Charleston and Columbia, S. C.

"Industrial plants will be established as follows:

"Electric light plants, Gunterville, Ala., and Panama City, Fla.; bottling plants, Gadsden, Ala.; cannery, Live Oak, Fla.; ice factory, Charleston, S. C.; and ice factory to be enlarged, Camden, S. C.; cotton oil mill, Birmingham, Ala.; telephone systems, Stuart and Key West, Fla.

"A company is being organized with the announced purpose of constructing a railway across Florida. It is reported that a railroad operating in Florida and Alabama has sold $1,000,000 of bonds and will extend its line in the latter state."

THE ALLIES REFUSE TO RAISE BLOCKADE

Mass Meeting a Success

The mass meeting for men at the Baptist Temple on last Wednesday evening was a big success. A large number of men attended and the enthusiasm was very great. Prof. B. F. Ezell, chairman of the committee in charge called the same to order at 8 o'clock. After song and prayer Mr. Scoggin, recently from Wilkesburg, Pa., addressed the meeting on the subject of "A Large Man's Class in Sunday School." This address was full of information and imparted enthusiasm to all the hearers. The men were then invited to the banquet hall, where a luncheon was served under the direction of Mr. Geo. D. Ballard, Mr. George Thompson and Mr. Marvin Mitchell.

After the luncheon Hon. Jno. D. Jinks, the superintendent of the Sunday school took charge as toast master and the following toasts were responded to: Our Church, by the Toast Master; Our Sunday School, by Prof. B. F. Ezell; Our Men, by Mr. George Hyman; Our Big Class, by Mr. Scoggin. Mr. Scoggin in the course of his remarks introduced a resolution calling for the organization of the Temple Brotherhood as a large men's class and a unanimous vote was taken. After general discussion, in which some twenty or more men took part the following committee was appointed to nominate the officers for the new class: Mr. George McGagahin, chairman, Mr. T. O. Tynes; Mr. M. L. Wright; Mr. Hodges and Mr. Marvin Mitchell. This committee is to render a report at 9:30 Sunday morning. The mark of 100 was discussed as the average attendance for the class.

THE EFFORTS OF UNITED STATES TO NEGOTIATE HAS ENDED IN COMPLETE FAILURE

Washington, March 19.—Whether to acquiesce in or protest against the action of Great Britain and her allies in declaring a blockade on all commerce between Germany and neutral countries was the question which confronted the United States Government today, following the publication of the complete series of notes between the United States and the European belligerents regarding the safety of neutral shipping. Officials today were collecting data for what is expected to be a vigorous protest against the form of the proposed blockade against Germany.

The publication of the note by the State Department not only cleaned the slate of diplomatic correspondence, but recorded the failure of efforts on the part of the administration officials to bring the belligerents to realize the dangers which their actions place on the neutral commerce of the world.

Publication of the correspondence revealed that the allied blockade operations would not be conducted "outside of European waters, including the Mediterranean." For the first time the British use the word "blockade" in describing their new policy.

The communications revealed that the United States, realizing the difficulties of the allies maintaining an effective blockade of Germany by a close guard of the coast on account of the activity of submarines, asked that "a radius of activity" be defined. Great Britain and France replied with the announcement that the operations of blockade would not be conducted "outside of European waters, including the Mediterranean."

While Germany agreed, it is disclosed, to abandon her submarine attacks on "mercantile of any 'ag'" except when they resist visit or search, provided foodstuffs were permitted to reach her civilian populace. Great Britain and her allies rejected the proposal, originally made by the United States in an effort to bring the belligerents into an arrangement which would safeguard the interests of neutrals.

Furthermore, the documents show that the United States asked Great Britain and France whether the embargo of all commerce between Germany and neutral countries was to be carried out under the rules of a blockade or by interference with ships and cargoes "as if no blockade existed," the two together presenting in the view of the American government "a proposed course of action previously unknown to international law."

"The Detention City"

This subject will be presented to the members and congregation of the Methodist church in the Star Theatre next Sunday morning after the Sunday school session to which every one has a real welcome. The interest in the services of this church continues and those who do not attend are most earnestly requested to hear these subjects presented next Sunday. Each one who comes seeking to be benefited next expect the fulfillment.

Presbyterian Church

Rev. James F. Winnard of Tampa will preach at the Imperial Theatre both morning and evening Sunday. His visit here is in acceptance of an invitation given him by the session of the church.

The foundation of the new church has been completed and the contractor expects to begin work in a short time.

The Presbyterians are seeking some unusual means of helping mission work away from Sanford. The new church is requiring so much money that other methods of giving are being devised to supplement. One illustration, Mrs. J. H. Bruton was moving her stock of millinery and gave several hundred dollars worth of hats and trimmings to various mission stations in the mountains. It has occurred to us that other merchants might so dispose of their surplus stock.

The quartette which sings at the Sunday services is causing much favorable comment.
