Many Russians Die From Over Drinking

MOSCOW, Apr. 18.—(INS)—Twenty-five persons are reported to have died today of others suffering injuries or alcoholic poisoning as the result of the three-day Russian Easter holiday. It was one of the wettest celebrations in the history of the Soviet Union. More than 1,500 persons were arrested charged with drunkenness. It is estimated that $4,000,000 worth of vodka and wine was consumed in this city alone and another $10,000,000 worth outside of Moscow. The police first aid system was unable to respond to all the calls for assistance. About 25 percent of the workers failed to show up at the factories where they are employed this morning.

ANOTHER REPORT OF G. O. P. MONEY GETTING IS GIVEN

Senate Oil Inquiry Listens To Former Chairman Of Ways
And Means Committee Tell
Of Republican Refinancing

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—Another story of campaign fund collections was told by the Senate oil inquiry today by Claudius H. Huston, of New York and Chattanooga, a former chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Republican National Committee.

Huston said the Republican had a deficit of $700,000 in 1923 and that after he raised $400,000, he was told the whole deficit had been provided for. He could not tell where the other $300,000 came from.

Huston declared he knew nothing about the Continental Trading Company's $3,000,000 liberty bond "slush fund." Huston said the late Fred W. Upham, republican national treasurer, told him the deficit totaled $700,000 in 1923.

What did you know about Mr. Sinclair's contribution to the Republican fund? "Nothing at all until I read it in the newspaper."

Probably $60,000 that came from a meeting in St. Louis," said Huston. "We had a dinner with 65 or 70 people and told them what we wanted. The men there agreed to raise as much as they could and they sent in about $60,000. Cleveland raised a little less than that."

"Did you ever operate in New York?" "No, Mr. Upham told me New York and Chicago would be covered otherwise and I should confine my operations to other cities."

SMITH SHOWS BIG STRENGTH IN LATE POLLS

New York Executive Will Go Into Convention With Considerable Lead If Recent Showing Is Any Criterion

Opponents Say He Cannot Keep Pace

Tammany Candidate Has Won
Three-Fourths Of The Delegates Already Selected

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—The commanding lead which Gov. Al Smith is piling up in his march toward the Democratic nomination at Houston was exemplified today by the compilation of a table showing that of the 446 delegates thus far selected he has at least 326.

If he can maintain this dizzy ratio in the primary and convention-filled weeks ahead, his nomination at Houston is assured. His opponents, particularly those from the anti-Smith Southern States, grimly contend that he cannot keep up this pace, but irrespective of claims and counter-claims the fact remains that as of today Smith has captured approximately three-fourths of the delegates chosen.

The Houston convention is tentatively set for May 18. States and territories have chosen their delegates, either through primaries, state conventions, or by state committees, with instructions, pledges or understandings. They will comprise 21 of the 54 delegates to sit at Houston.

While there is some dispute between the Smith and Reed forces over the exact line-up in several states, notably in Oklahoma and Arkansas information reaching the various political parties in Washington is such that the following table is believed substantially accurate for the states that have thus far acted:

State Arizona 6 South 10
Arkansas 6 Reed 6
California 12 George 12
Colorado 12
Connecticut 12
Delaware 12
Florida 12
Georgia 12
Idaho 12
Illinois 12
Indiana 12
Iowa 12
Kansas 12
Kentucky 12
Louisiana 12
Maine 12
Maryland 12
Massachusetts 12
Michigan 12
Minnesota 12
Missouri 12
Montana 12
Nebraska 12
Nevada 12
New Hampshire 12
New Jersey 12
New York 12
North Carolina 12
North Dakota 12
Ohio 12
Oklahoma 12
Oregon 12
Pennsylvania 12
Rhode Island 12
South Carolina 12
South Dakota 12
Tennessee 12
Texas 12
Utah 12
Virginia 12
Washington 12
West Virginia 12
Wisconsin 12
Wyoming 12

Three states, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts will choose 100 additional delegates next Tuesday, and the Smith total will be increased proportionately, for the organizations in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts are favorable to the New York Governor. Both states supported him at Madison Square.

Taylor Addresses
Political Audience
For His Candidacy

BROOKSVILLE, Fla., Apr. 18.—(Special)—Before the largest political audience which has gathered in any local auditorium this year, John S. Taylor, of Largo, presented his plea for support in his race for the governorship nomination here last night at the Victory Theatre. A standing ovation only audience greeted the candidate, who discussed his platform at length, emphasizing his interests in the development of the state's school system, child welfare legislation and mothers pensions.

Orlando Police Chief And Four Deputies Are Seized On Negro Murder Charge

ORLANDO, Fla., Apr. 18.—(INS)—Chief of Police H. F. Baker and four detectives were this afternoon arrested on indictments charging murder of Haywood Rice by negro, on the 17th of April 10. The negro was shot and instantly killed when officers attempted to arrest him on a charge of assault upon a young white girl.

Several negro witnesses, held incommunicado in the county jail for the past several days, were held as material witnesses, testified that the chief shot the negro while the latter's hands were handcuffed and held in the air, it is reported.

"It is a political frameup," Chief Baker told International

News this afternoon. "The negro drew a gun on me and I was faster than he was."

The chief was excoriated by a coroner jury last Wednesday, but the case was revived by the grand jury. Chief Baker and his four detectives furnished bonds of $5,000 each and were immediately released from custody. Their cases will be tried during this term of court. Chief Baker demanded an immediate trial.

The Orlando police lead is the second police head to be indicted on murder charges by a grand jury. The Supreme Court at Tallahassee today denied Chief H. Leslie Quigg of the Miami Police Department a writ of habeas corpus on similar charges.

TENTATIVE PLAN FOR ALLOCATION OF RADIO IS MADE

Fifty Cleared Channel Plan
Will Give Better Reception
To Largest Number Of People, States Commissioner

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—Tentative plans for the allocation of high power and other broadcasting stations, based on the assumption that the Federal Radio Commission would adopt the report of engineering advisers by clearing fifty channels, were outlined today.

Ten full time stations operating on 5000 watts or more, would be allocated to each zone, 18 stations from 500 to 1000 watts and 40 stations under 250 watts.

Under this plan New York would be awarded four high power stations operating on full time and one station of this power class on 3 1/2 hours. California would get four stations over 5000 watts, Pennsylvania 3 3/4, Texas 3 1/2, Ohio 2 1/2, Illinois 2 1/2, Michigan 2 1/2, Missouri 2 1/2, Nebraska 2 1/2, New York 2 1/2, North Carolina 2 1/2, South Carolina 2 1/2, Virginia 2 1/2, West Virginia 2 1/2, Wisconsin 2 1/2, Wyoming 2 1/2.

Robison ADMITS FALL HAD SHARE IN SINCLAIR DEAL

After Savage Cross Examination, Former Admiral Says
EX-Secretary Had Secret
Understanding About Lease

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—A savage cross examination of Admiral John K. Robison, late witness for the defense in the criminal conspiracy trial of Harry E. Sinclair, minimized considerably today the testimony he had given previously relative to the circumstances leading up to the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

JOB ASPIRANTS SEEK VOTES AT POLITICAL BEE

Seminole County's Array Of Office-Seekers Descends On Lake Monroe To Plead For Support In Coming Primary

"Tax Appeal" Seems To Be Keynote Plea

One Candidate Claims He Will Be On Exhibition From Now
Until Election Time In June

Seminole County's array of office-seekers last night descended on Lake Monroe for the first political rally of the present Democratic primary campaign. More than 30 of them took five minutes apiece, more or less, to tell the voters of that little community why they should cast their ballots this way or that.

In keynote of each and every plea, with a very few possible exceptions, was "I need this job for what it pays. I'm hard up and if you'll put me in office I'll draw my pay check like a man."

Of course none of the sterling candidates seeking the honor of getting the most votes said those exact words, but they all did, in some language or other, indicate that was what they were after—a good, solid job.

A substantial number of men, women and children filed the auditorium of the Lake Monroe School. They gave each candidate a generous measure of applause and found a good deal to laugh at in most of the speeches. It apparently seemed to them just as good as a tent show and at times considerably better.

Candidate for the board of county commissioners, superintendent of public instruction, legislator, sheriff, county judge, clerk of the circuit court, prosecuting attorney, tax assessor, justice of the peace and constable each told his or her story.

Phonics for the honey tax, honey raised by state, county and city, and the honey tax, theme of the night, whether there were names for tax levying bodies or not, it seems that even the race for county judge will have a tax appeal in it.

R. W. Pearson, Jr., whose job is gathering in the citizens' checks in exchange for the price of a commonly called automobile license plates, told the crowd that if they would sign his little card he would ship him their votes to buy a good scheme to reduce this so-called tax burden. He said it wasn't his scheme, that some really smart fellows had worked it out, but that he was the fair handed boy to put it just the legislature. His scheme, or rather the smart fellow's scheme, is this: The state has no bonds to retire. The road department get five cents for every gallon.

Candidates will speak at the Geneva School House Friday night of this week at seven thirty. The ladies of Geneva will serve a chicken supper at the Old Fellows Hall from five to seven for the small sum of fifty cents and anyone who member that the ladies of Geneva have ever been to Geneva will receive real chicken suppers.

Senator Attacks Niagara Policy

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(INS)—The pact under which the United States agreed to supervise the 1928 Niagara elections was characterized as an agreement obtained by force, intimidation, coercion, and alleged bribery by Senator Blaine, (R) of Wisconsin in the Senate today. Blaine made this statement in introducing an amendment to the Naval Appropriations Bill which would prevent the United States from making any hostile moves towards foreign nations without the consent of Congress.

JURIST AT D. A. R. MEET IN CAPITAL HITS COMMUNISM

Labor Lawyer Of New York Is Opposed To Recognition Of Soviet Russia By U. S. While
It Has Marxist Principles

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(INS)—Opposition to recognition of Soviet Russia by the United States so long as that country is dominated by the Communist Party and Third International, with Russians advocating Marx tenets of world revolution, was voiced at the 37th Continental Congress of the D. A. R. today by Silas Blake Axtell, labor lawyer of New York, who recently entered Russia with the so-called trade union delegation as an observer.

Expressing the belief that Communism would never operate beyond the Russian border, and would in a few years be unrecognizable even there, Axtell drew a graphic picture of the life of the Russian peasant under the existing regime.

The true Communist is a fanatic, Axtell found, and in Communism the Russ in him has discovered the cure for all of the world's evils. Revolt in Russia against the present regime, he said, is not likely to occur with the dictators ruling with an iron hand.

"It is not a matter of our how the Russian people live within the borders of their own country or what kind of government they have or what they do with the borders of their own land, but when they extend their national policy outside their own country and into the territorial confines of our own, then we have a definite right to object."

MOSCOW, Apr. 18.—(INS)—Joseph Stalin, secretary general of the Communist Party, and one of the powers behind the Soviet Government in an address to the Moscow Communist group today warned that action must be taken to prevent "Western capitalists from accomplishing the formation of a long-since Russian republic."

He declared that active foreign economic interference has replaced military intervention in the Soviet Union.

OCEAN FLYERS MAY RETURN IN SISTER PLANE

"Duke" Schiller States
He Will Carry All 3
Airmen To Mitchell
Field If They Wish

Awaits Reply In Clarke City Que.

Story Of Spectacular
Finish Of Flight Is Thrilling Narration

SEVEN ISLANDS, Que., April 18.—(INS)—The three heroes of the latest epic of the skies—Capt. Herman Koehl, Baron Von Huenefeld and Major James E. Fitzmaurice—may return to civilization out of the frozen northland in the Junkers plane F-13, a sister ship of the trans-Atlantic conqueror Bremen, according to information received here today.

Fitzmaurice, who flew from Greenely Island with aviator Charles ("Duke") Schiller to get parts for the Bremen, so that repairs could be made, rested overnight at Clarke City, near this place. Schiller had sent word to Greenely Island that he would carry the three trans-Atlantic flyers to Mitchell field or to Murray Bay, turning back from Clarke City. Schiller is awaiting reply. Both the meager land lines and the radio are swamped with messages and hampered by foul weather.

The storms which drove the Bremen to earth, when its gasoline supply had become practically exhausted, have continued intermittently since Friday. Gales of wind and snow sweep the Gulf of St. Lawrence, driving dangerous ice floes through the water and darkening the air with whirling snow flakes. Flying conditions are perilous.

Miss Herta Junkers, who flew from Curtiss Field, N. Y., to Montreal in the F-13, traveled on to Murray Bay by rail. There is an air depot at Murray Bay owned by Trans-Continental Airways, Ltd.

John Martin Talks Before Palm Beach Crowd On Big Issue

WEST PALM BEACH, April 18.—A smoke screen of abuse for Everglades drainage by Everglades opponents cannot conceal the fact that he has ignored the Everglades as completely and successfully as he has overlooked every harbor and other government projects in Florida. Gov. John W. Martin declared in a speech here last night. More than two thousand five hundred people filled the city park and stood up around three blocks to hear him.

"I promised I would finance the Everglades to completion as well as build your highways and today both are accomplished facts," he said. "My opponent has gone about the state with an attack on the Everglades in an attempt to cover up his own incompetence and indifference and his inability after twelve years in Washington to get the simplest kind of appropriation for flood control in the Everglades."

Governor Martin was given a warm welcome in this city and left for Lake Worth at noon today feeling that this part of the Everglades is solidly in favor of completing the reclamation with the new bond issue recently approved by the supreme court. The executive will speak this afternoon in Lake Worth and tonight in Okechobee.

Governor Al Smith Shuns Politics On His Present Outing

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Apr. 18.—(INS)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, outstanding candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, is spending a two week's vacation at Asheville and is not on a political tour.

The governor himself had to make this plain today to various Southern party stalwarts who sought his appearance in scattered sections of the South.

He is not even talking politics with such a vacation. Although his candidacy has been formally projected by the New York State Democratic Committee, he revealed today that he planned to make no pronouncement regarding his platform until he returns to Albany. "I'm taking a vacation," the governor reiterated.

Twenty Thousand Young Bass Are Released Throughout Seminole

There are many thousands of these fine bass yet to come for distribution in the lakes of this section and the St. Johns River. A consignment of fifty thousand fish expected to arrive in the near future.

This work is being accomplished through the efforts of the Isaac Walton League and the Chamber of Commerce. The fish are placed in private lakes where the owners will permit rod and reel fishing. Mr. Wallich highly praised the hearty co-operation given the local organizations by Captain A. A. Meyers who is in charge of the Hatchery at Welaka.

Geneva To Be Scene Of Next Political Rally Friday Night

Candidates will speak at the Geneva School House Friday night of this week at seven thirty. ## City Extends Time In Which To Pay Taxes

The time for paying city taxes has been extended fifteen days giving the taxpayers until May 1 to meet their payments without a penalty being imposed according to an announcement made yesterday by City Clerk F. S. Lamson.

This action was taken at a meeting of the City Commissioners Monday night. Payments since the tax books closed are reported to be fair and inasmuch as the time for paying County taxes has been extended until May 1 it was decided to accord a like privilege to city taxpayers said Mr. Lamson. This extension gives delinquent taxpayers considerable time in which to meet their assessment without the imposition of a penalty.

Folks are already worrying what we'll do for excitement the trial and election are out they seem to forget that a little matter of bond-hedness to be met in July.

It has been several days now my candidates for the big offices have visited Sanford. We to hear MacKenzie, Taylor, Trammell speak their views this campaign gets too big.

Bremen was only about a hundred miles off its course when it ran out of gasoline. In words if it had aimed at all it might have hit below Miami. The ship, to say the least, is.

Reading the St. Petersburg explanation that "it Senator Taylor's fault," only say that we hope, in at of his election, that he more, luck in making his cents than he has had in his campaign organization.

The Y. M. C. A.

An eighteen year old orphan boy was arrested for having participated in a hold-up in another city nearly two years before. Persons who knew him recently were surprised. They knew nothing of his past, but they had come to regard him as any normal, fun-loving boy who had to work hard for his living and who was honest and industrious. He was a member of the Y. M. C. A. and the officials of that organization were shocked at the charges brought against him.

It seems that in another city several years before he had been running with a bad crowd. Boys older than he planned a hold-up and they, aided by him, though only sixteen at the time, executed it. Shortly afterward he moved away, and in his new environment happened to come under the influence of the Y. M. C. A.

There he found companionship with an entirely different class of fellows under a wise and capable leadership. He learned to let off stored up energy in athletic contests. He joined one of the many clubs, and frequently listened earnestly to the "Y" talks on vocational subjects, Bible study, physical culture, and other things. He went on camps with the other boys of his club and learned things about birds, fish, the woods and streams.

He acquired an entirely different outlook. He began to realize the mistakes he had made in the other life he had formerly led. He saw how different were the boys with whom he now associated from those of that other time. He liked these better. He was sorry for what he had done before. He made up his mind that he would go straight and that he would never do anything again that he would be sorry for.

Then one day he was arrested and he was afraid that he had reformed too late. The policemen said they were going to put him in jail. His new friends whom he had found in the Y. M. C. A. headquarters came to his aid and when they showed the prosecuting attorney he was no longer the kind of boy he used to be, the judge and all the lawyers got together, and it was decided to give him another chance.

This did not happen in Sanford, but it shows the kind of work the Y. M. C. A. is doing in many cities throughout the United States. Everywhere it is meeting the problem of young manhood and finding the solution in proper environment and the right kind of leaders to inculcate in the youth of the land higher ideals and a better understanding of moral principles.

The Y. M. C. A. in Sanford has been doing a work comparable to the best in the country and on limited funds has been a guiding light for almost every boy in Seminole County. It is this week conducting a drive in an effort to secure additional funds with which to continue the good work they have started and it is the earnest wish of The Sanford Herald that it meets with complete success.

What To Print

Newspaper editors are confronted every day with the problem of what they shall put in the paper. Well knowing that practically every item of news will make some super-sensitive person sore, the editors naturally weigh the various stories carefully. But the yawning columns must be filled with something and the formula usually used is "What will appeal to the most people most?"

"The sort of newspaper," says the Tampa Tribune, "that would be published if everybody edited it would be something wonderful, but nothing anybody would subscribe for. The newspaper business is perhaps the most competitive of any in existence. People who make up newspapers must have the mass of the people in mind every moment. No newspaper can live by catering to a chosen few."

"There is not in any community," the Tribune continues, "enough business to support a large newspaper designed especially for what are slangily called the highbrows. The highbrows are a vague class, but are commonly supposed to be the type of citizens who take no interest in any subject except one concerning things that would be discussed in a faculty or a fine arts convention or a symposium of the higher clergy. No daily newspaper made to fit a clientele of intellectuals or near-intellectuals could subsist on what the intellectuals would be willing to pay."

"A new author" concludes the Tampa paper, "made himself unpopular some time ago by saying that as far as he had observed most of the criticisms of his book had come from that class of readers who never buy books, but are keen for borrowing them and picking them to pieces. It might be said of some of those who are severest in their condemnation of the daily press that they do not have to pay its bills nor do they contribute greatly to its support."

NOT SENATOR TAYLOR'S FAULT

ST. PETERSBURG INDEPENDENT

Up-state newspapers have taken a job at Senator John S. Taylor, candidate for governor, because some one of his campaign organization telegraphed to Pensacola inquiring if that city had a landing field for airplanes. Because of his late start in campaigning—having been held up by a technical charge of ineligibility which the state supreme court had to remove an airplane to keep speaking dates, and telegrams have always been sent to cities where he expected to speak inquiring about landing fields.

It must be admitted that to ask Pensacola if it has a landing field sounds like Rip Van Winkle stuff—Pensacola, the chief air station of the department of the largest flying fields in the United States! Naturally it would seem that a candidate for governor of Florida would, if he were taking his candidacy seriously, surround himself with an organization of sufficient intelligence to avoid blunders of that rather ludicrous type. If the organization did not know any better it might at least have inquired of Senator Taylor.

However, giving the organization the benefit of the doubt, it may be that there was some question in its mind as to whether the naval landing and flying field could be utilized by a political candidate—hence the telegram that has so roused the risibilities of the Hathaway, Catts, et al newspapers. Still, even if that question caused the organization to commit what one newspaper labeled as a faux pas, the organization has no alibi because it should have asked the senator.

Similar telegrams have been sent to a number of other Florida cities, asking either other landing fields or golf courses in which the Taylor plane could land. It seems almost incredible, but such an inquiry was sent to Tampa. The organization wanted to know if Tampa or Hillsborough county had a golf course large enough for a big airplane to make a safe landing—Tampa, with a brand-new over-sized landing field of which it is inordinately but justly proud; Tampa, one of the big air ports of the country. It is quite probable that the trouble with Senator Taylor's campaign organization is that it is made up of "publicity experts" who rushed down to Florida to get their share of the easy money. That such "experts" may never have been in the state before and are totally unfitted to attempt to give it any kind of publicity means nothing in their ambitious lives. Such "publicity experts" have been giving Florida lots and lots of damaging publicity; damaging because most of it is ridiculously exaggerated, if not wholly—oh, well, a mistake.

None of this is Senator Taylor's fault, of course, but it might be a good idea for him to shake his campaign organization.

LET'S HOPE

TAMPA TIMES

So far as this away from Illinois it looks that Tuesday's election in that state as the republicans are concerned, amounts to a defeat of the Small-Thompson-Crowe combine by the Deneen machine. And based only upon newspaper and magazine information, it appears that it was a devil's choice, almost, that the G. O. P. had between the two.

The Deneen machine did a thorough piece of work. It got out the opposition one both "down state" and in Chicago. Small was defeated for renomination for the governorship. Crowe was turned down as district attorney. Thompson was beaten for committeeman from his home precinct. Frank L. Smith, running for the United States senatorship which the senate itself had denied him because of the corruption in the primary in which he was first named, lost to Otis F. Glenn.

Down at the bottom the whole thing likely means that the Deneen forces manipulated more shrewdly than did their opponents. Such is mostly the case regarding the victors in republican primaries in Illinois. It is at least stimulating, however, to hope that something

WEST FLORIDA IS BEING SLANDERED

MARIANNA FLORIDIAN

In his speeches in Sanford on March 24, and in other places former governor Sidney J. Catts in reply to the attacks of J. M. Carson, who is proving Catts' alliance with track gamblers, said:

"Let Carson go to West Florida and say something against old Catts, and when he does, those crackers out there are gonna sharpen their knives on wagon wheels. They are gonna ask him 'Brother, have you got any more business out here besides abusing Catts?' and when he tells them 'no' they are gonna say to him, 'Well, by God, you'd better take to that road out there.'"

Mr. Carson had been to West Florida, and spoken in Catts' stronghold. He followed the Catts challenge by going into nearly every county Mr. Catts carried for years ago, proving his charges. The Floridian is a Marianna institution—a West Florida institution, and hence, being loyal to West Florida, objects to former-governor Catts going into South Florida and trying to convince the people of that section that West Florida is composed of a lot of yahoes, cut throats, ignoramuses and scoundrels.

West Florida is rich in progressive thought—rich in progressive men—rich in fair flowers of sweet womanhood—rich in leaders who are marching on advanced lines—rich in good schools—rich in agriculture—rich in beautiful towns and cities—rich in respect of law and order.

We have some who might sharpen knives on the wheels of ox-carts, and who believe Catts is an incarnation of Jesus Christ, but no more of such people than can be found scattered in all sections of the United States.

Mr. Carson all over West Florida has been as cordially received as any candidate.

FACTS ARE NOT MUD-SLINGING

SARASOTA TIMES

There are some people who attempt in political campaigns to characterize the publishing of facts regarding candidates for public office as mud-slinging. Such is not the case. Any person running for public office is presenting himself to the public on his record as public official, if he has one, and it is correct that the people should be informed as to their performance as public officials. Such records and facts cannot by the wildest stretch of the imagination, be justly termed mud-slinging.

The voters have a perfect right to know that qualifications and public record of any man asking for their vote to a public trust and it is only on such facts that they can determine their choice.

When a man or woman is employed by an industrial or business institution, their business record and qualifications are the main factors that influence their engagement and this same rule should apply to those aspirants who want to serve the people in public office.

The voters of Florida have arrived at that time when they are giving their support more and more on the basis of the qualification of the candidate, and we predict that the propaganda being used in the governor's race and the side stepping of the real issues will get a negative vote from the people of Florida in the June primaries.

It might be worse. Consider being a Chinaman and having to work cross word puzzles in Chinese.—Tampa Times.

When a man or woman is employed by an industrial or business institution, their business record and qualifications are the main factors that influence their engagement and this same rule should apply to those aspirants who want to serve the people in public office.

Bridge Party Given To Aid Building Fund

The subscription bridge party held Tuesday evening at the Woman's Club for the benefit of the building fund, with Mrs. Braxton L. Perkins, Mrs. David Caldwell and Mrs. W. A. Pitts Jr., presiding, proved a most delightful affair financially as well as socially. An unusually lovely setting was arranged for this affair with quantities of exquisite Spring cut flowers and ferns, with petunias, larkspurs and gladioli predominating. The pastel tints were featured in every detail.

The games of progressive bridge proved exceptionally enjoyable and after the fifth progression, scores were collected by Mrs. M. S. Wiggins and Miss Mable Bowler. The prize for highest score, a pretty hand painted plaque went to Miss Bowler, while W. T. Fields scored the most points among the men, receiving a belt with silver buckle. Mrs. Hill won the low score prize, a box of stationery, and David Caldwell won the men's consolation prize, which was a box of handkerchiefs.

Refreshments of fruited gingerale salad, nut bread, olives, and coffee were served at the conclusion of the games by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Walter Morrison, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins and Mrs. Clarke Leonard. There were favors of corsages for the ladies and Boutonnieres for the men on the plates. Ten tables of players enjoyed this pleasant affair.

New York Yankees Lead American League While Athletics Trail Crowd

NEW YORK, Apr. 17.—(INS)—Connie Mack, who took the rubber band off his bankroll effort to win another American League pennant, today finds his Athletics in last place—the only team in either league which has failed to capture a game. The Yankees, bitter rivals of the Mackies, regarded a week ago as a serious contender in the opening season, in view of their miserable training trip record, are leading the league as usual.

All Connie knows today is what he didn't read in the papers—that the Yanks are the same old bunch of murders and that the Athletics must start winning ball games pronto if they are going to get anywhere, if that far. Ty Cobb has been doing fairly well at bat with a mark of .333 but his fielding has been termed atrocious. Tris Speaker, Mack's other expensive luminary, is roaming the outfield with his usual brilliance but sports a batting average of only .071.

Yesterday Babe Ruth, of the A's, lost a 6 to 4 decision to Horace Lisenbee of the Senators. Goslin's homer and a singler caused injury of damage. Buster Gehrig smacked his second homer of the season as the Yanks smothered the Red Sox, 7 to 2. The Sox got only five hits off Phipps.

Alphonse Thomas twirled the White Sox to their victory of the season, blanking the Browns, 7 to 0, and hitting a home run which helped tumble the Browns out of first place. Johnny Mostil broke into the Sox lineup and performed acceptably.

Cleveland shaded Detroit, 5 to 4, and jumped into a triple tie with St. Louis and Washington for second place. Strong-arm work by McManus on throws from third to first helped Cleveland score four runs.

With two men on base, old Cy Williams was carried to the plate for his pinch-hitting act and he clouted a home run which gave the Phillies a 7 to 5 win over the Giants. The New Yorkers still lead the senior circuit; however.

The St. Louis Cardinals were trounced by the Cubs, 6 to 3, but hung on to second place. Chicago put on a five-run rally in the fourth which ruined Jess Haines. Earl Webb got a homer.

Burleigh Grimes regained his pitching cunning and the Pirate sluggers got their eyes on the ball simultaneously. Which resulted in an 8 to 1 landslide for Pittsburgh over Cincinnati. Rogers Hornsby got three hits as the Boston Braves to a 3 to 2 decision over Jess Petty, Brooklyn southpaw. It was Boston's first victory of the season.

SMITH SHOWS BIG STRENGTH IN LATE POLLS

SMITH SHOWS BIG STRENGTH IN LATE POLLS

Garden four years ago.

Smith's total of 326 delegates to date is only 12 delegates less than his peak strength on the 1930 ballot at Madison Square Garden.

This is considered a remarkable showing in view of the fact that only little more than a third of the delegates have been chosen.

That, for the New York Governor, has endeavored but little opposition from other candidates in his march through primaries and state conventions. Reed has given him some, but nothing of a strenuous nature.

The California primary two weeks hence may tell a different story, however. There, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana is entered and the contest is expected to provide a showdown fight between the wets and drys. Walsh is as dry as Smith is wet, and California is considered by the party leaders in Washington as an interesting field on which to stage the showdown.

Notwithstanding Smith's progress, Senator Simmons (D) of North Carolina, one of the Democratic leaders in the Senate, declared in a statement today that he "does not believe Mr. Smith will be nominated, or elected, if nominated."

"I am as much opposed to Gov. Smith as I have ever been," said Simmons. "Indeed, late developments have strengthened my conviction that his nomination would be disastrous to the Democratic Party, and especially dangerous to Democratic harmony and unity in the South."

Talk of Gov. Smith being certain of the nomination, Simmons said, "is largely the result of metropolitan newspaper propaganda."

Banker Condemns Notable Increase of Banditry Cases

AUGUSTA, Ga., Apr. 17 (INS)—During the past few months there have been more bank robberies than have occurred during a similar length of time several years, according to James E. Baum, manager of the Protective Department of the American Banker's Association.

"The six months ended Feb. 28 showed a greater upsurge in bank robbery than any other six months in recent years," Baum said, in addressing the executive council of the banker's association, in convention today.

There were more than 280 bank holdups during the six months period, which more than doubles those reported a year ago, he said. The recent upsurge of banditry has offset all ground gained by banks against banditry during the past few years, Baum declared.

ion of gasoline sold. Therefore, the idea is to take a couple of cents out of the gas tax and give it to each county in the state to use for repairing its bonded indebtedness. He says the state road department is five years ahead of schedule and can well afford to give the counties the money. He also favors the elimination of the personal tax from motor vehicles, but says it will take a constitutional amendment to do it, the opinion of his friends.

C. W. Entzinger, another candidate for the legislature, said he had only two pledges to make the people of the county if they elected him to the legislature. One was that he will back no local measure in the legislature unless it has been first thoroughly thrashed out in the county. The other is that he will not be stampeded by the other 90 odd members of the legislature and will do everything he can to reduce taxes. He said the only way to reduce taxes is to stop spending so much money for roads, schools and everything else the government has to pay for.

The candidates for the office of Sheriff all said they were good friends. But E. E. Brady, one candidate, accused Sheriff Hand of collusion with J. F. McClelland to beat him out of a chance at the office, and also, that Hand with his gorgeous sombrero was a swell movie sheriff and that was about all. Sheriff Hand reported saying his hat must be off right because Brady had tried to copy it with another big one and couldn't make it fit. Brady referred to himself as a wear-riding, broke-down, lamed-up sheriff during his time in office some years ago. But he said he wasn't that kind of a fellow any more.

Sheriff Hand made a serious plea for the support of every citizen in an effort to enforce the liquor laws. He explained the difficulties of apprehending liquor law violators because of the search warrant provision, which makes it necessary to obtain an affidavit charging violation of the law before a man's house can be searched.

McClelland, another candidate for sheriff, admitted Brady's charges that he and Hand were friends. But he said that fact didn't keep him from trying to get the office himself. He said his platform would be the oath of office.

E. E. Walker, another candidate, admitted that the liquor law was a difficult one to enforce but that he'd do it. He told how he had been the only night policeman in Sanford at one time, and how he, single handed had caught some of the worst criminals who ever roamed the county.

F. H. Kilbee, present county commissioner from Geneva and candidate to succeed A. Vaughan as tax assessor, drew the big laughs of the evening from the house. He said he had the pep, vigor and ambition in his craw to make a good honest tax assessor. He compared himself with Andrew Jackson because neither had a college education. He said he would see that taxes were equalized by has proved he owes the bank. But Judge DeWitt T. Gray has overruled each time.

That Lake's personal account in the bank was overdrawn more than $10,000 the day the bank closed was testified to by one of the defendant's own witnesses, W. M. Cathrae, an accountant in the employ of the defense. He also testified to the fact that Lake himself after the bank closed held $132,341.71 in cash items which were owed from his account.

Fabisinski drew from Cathrae and the records of the bank the fact that Lake's account was continuously overdrawn from before Christmas in 1926 to the day the bank closed. None of these over drafts showed on the statements given Lake each month. Checks issued on Lake's account were all paid from the bank's own money many times when his balance was not sufficient to pay them. At times, the bank records showed, the former president's account, aside from the large overdrafts which didn't appear was reduced to as little as 31 cents. His balance frequently was only a few dollars and only once over a thousand dollars.

Paul Lake On Stand

The defense has repeatedly tried to contradict the testimony of A. R. Key, cashier of the bank who has already plead guilty to the charge. They have drawn these contradictions from two witnesses.

Lake and his nephew, Paul Lake, but the contradictor testimony has no direct bearing on the case beyond questioning the truth of Key's statements.

This morning defense counsel put Key on the stand and questioned him regarding a breakfast at Key's home soon after Lake returned from Philadelphia after the closing of the bank. They asked him about a discussion of certain records Key had taken from the bank and certain cash items belonging to Lake. Key denied Lake had told him to return the records and said Lake already had the cash items in his possession.

Lake and Paul Lake, who followed the former cashier on the stand contradicted Key's testimony. They said Lake had asked Key to return the records. They both also said that Lake had asked Key for the cash items and Key had refused to give them up.

Former Cashier Laughs

Key laughed at the defense counsel's effort to question him. He seemed amused by the picture they tried to present of his drawing of records from under the mattress of his bed, and denied it absolutely.

Fabisinski attacked Paul Lake in his cross examination of the bank president's nephew. He asked the nephew if he didn't know the records he saw in Key's possession were taken from the bank unlawfully. Paul Lake said he did. Fabisinski asked him why he had not reported the fact to the grand jury.

"I was here looking up records for Uncle Forrest," said Paul Lake, "and I had no intention of turning state's evidence."

This afternoon R. W. Deane, Key and Peter Schaal are scheduled to be placed on the stand by the state to contradict testimony given by Lake. They were all employees of the bank.

Forced down upon the surface a frozen lake on Greenely Island riding the clouds for 36 and a-half hours; Kochl and Von senefeld have maintained their fl over their damaged machine on the tiny, isolated and ice and island while the whole civilized world hangered for the details of their adventure.

Fragmentary news is coming out Point Amour, the nearest wireless station to Greenely Island, swing fresh night upon the arduous venture of the daring men.

Throughout Thursday night and Friday morning, alternately the controls held the airplane on westward course. They felt victory was in their grasp when they ran into treacherous other between 450 and 500 miles the New Foundland coast on lay morning.

The skies were so overcast with the blanket reaching 2,000 in the air—that the darkness midnight settled down over the ace of the sea. It is now reported that, except for the long, less cruise over Labrador and adjacent Atlantic while the men lost they would have easily e Mitchell Field. Below them they saw forests and mountains, a fresh steady blow and the lights failed and instead of south the plane appears to continued in a northwesterly direction.

ion of gasoline sold. Therefore, the idea is to take a couple of cents out of the gas tax and give it to each county in the state to use for repairing its bonded indebtedness. He says the state road department is five years ahead of schedule and can well afford to give the counties the money. He also favors the elimination of the personal tax from motor vehicles, but says it will take a constitutional amendment to do it, the opinion of his friends.

C. W. Entzinger, another candidate for the legislature, said he had only two pledges to make the people of the county if they elected him to the legislature. One was that he will back no local measure in the legislature unless it has been first thoroughly thrashed out in the county. The other is that he will not be stampeded by the other 90 odd members of the legislature and will do everything he can to reduce taxes. He said the only way to reduce taxes is to stop spending so much money for roads, schools and everything else the government has to pay for.

The candidates for the office of Sheriff all said they were good friends. But E. E. Brady, one candidate, accused Sheriff Hand of collusion with J. F. McClelland to beat him out of a chance at the office, and also, that Hand with his gorgeous sombrero was a swell movie sheriff and that was about all. Sheriff Hand reported saying his hat must be off right because Brady had tried to copy it with another big one and couldn't make it fit. Brady referred to himself as a wear-riding, broke-down, lamed-up sheriff during his time in office some years ago. But he said he wasn't that kind of a fellow any more.

Sheriff Hand made a serious plea for the support of every citizen in an effort to enforce the liquor laws. He explained the difficulties of apprehending liquor law violators because of the search warrant provision, which makes it necessary to obtain an affidavit charging violation of the law before a man's house can be searched.

McClelland, another candidate for sheriff, admitted Brady's charges that he and Hand were friends. But he said that fact didn't keep him from trying to get the office himself. He said his platform would be the oath of office.

E. E. Walker, another candidate, admitted that the liquor law was a difficult one to enforce but that he'd do it. He told how he had been the only night policeman in Sanford at one time, and how he, single handed had caught some of the worst criminals who ever roamed the county.

F. H. Kilbee, present county commissioner from Geneva and candidate to succeed A. Vaughan as tax assessor, drew the big laughs of the evening from the house. He said he had the pep, vigor and ambition in his craw to make a good honest tax assessor. He compared himself with Andrew Jackson because neither had a college education. He said he would see that taxes were equalized by
