AN FOUNDER YES OPINION OLD ORDER

is Reason For His Resignation

Members For Bringing About Its Ultimate Downfall

PLANTA, Ga., Feb. 24.—Emerging from a year silence following withdrawal from the Ku Klux Klan, Colonel William M. Simmons, former "father" of the organization, today predicted speedy death of the order he launched beneath burning crosses on top of Mt. Vernon in 1916.

Simmons, former "father" of the modern Klan, today predicted speedy death of the order he launched beneath burning crosses on top of Mt. Vernon in 1916.

The Klan as conceived and led by me was the greatest movement of its kind ever present in this country. It was morally, physically and patriotically sound, purpose noble and its ideals high.

American Legion Makes Elaborate Preparations For Pageant And Ball

Elaborate preparations have been made for the coronation pageant and ball, which will mark "Miss Sanford" election, according to officials of the Camp.

Jordan Begins War Upon Delinquent Autoists Who Have Not Procured Tags

With the arrest of six persons yesterday and another this morning, L. E. Jordan, auto tag inspector for this district, today reiterated his determination to prosecute all persons in this county who have not yet purchased 1928 licenses for their machines.

Assisted by deputies from the sheriff's office, Mr. Jordan for the past two weeks have been busy making personal calls and giving final warnings to those who had not procured tags. With the completion of this task, the inspector said prosecution will be pushed to the limit.

ATTORNEYS FOR 20 BANKERS ATTACK LEADER OF WHITE ARMIES TO MAKE ATTACK ON REDS

Court recesses until Monday to give state time to file pleadings to issue. Many pleas and motions are filed.

Following the filing of various pleas and motions attacking the 20 indictments, which have been returned against Forrest L. Lake and A. R. Key, former officials of the Seminole County Bankers' Association, recessed Friday afternoon until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the state will file pleadings in answer to the defense contentions.

Attorneys representing the accused bankers placed before the court numerous documents and papers in their effort to pick some flaw in the indictments, which were recently found by a special term of the grand jury. Pleas in abatement, motions to quash the indictments and others asking for bill of particulars were among the papers filed. The defense also filed several of the presentments and in two instances filed motions to elect the indictments.

The bankers' attorneys announced they would no further plead in the State's Attorney Millard B. Smith asked for time to examine the papers before presenting his pleadings. Judge DeWitt T. Gray, presiding because of Judge Wright's disqualification, set Monday afternoon for the state's reply. The defendants are scheduled for arraignment on Tuesday if the court finds the indictments valid.

City Court Fines Total $151 Today; Rum Case Delayed

The City coffers were enriched by $151 this morning when eight cases were disposed of in Municipal Court before Judge W. E. White. Heading the docket was the case of Beatrice Hooper, who paid a fine of $100 for disorderly conduct.

Gardner Mingsard and Conella Harris paid $10 for the same offense. Mose Allen and Anna Belle Wade were dismissed on similar counts. Willis Brown and Olive Thurston each paid $5 for speeding.

Senate Investigating Committee Interviews Workers On Conditions Which Exist In Pennsylvania Coal Fields

Miner's Wives Tell Of Police Brutality

Tour of District Is Conducted By Unions; Operators Will Show Their Side Tomorrow

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 24.—(INS)—Within an easy half hour's automobile drive of Pittsburgh, one of the world's richest industrial centers, a group of long, low barracks and bunk houses squat crazily in a veritable ocean of slum mud.

The scene is dingy, a six by eight kitchen is in one of the barracks. A woman, her face scarred with the heavy lines of toil, her hands gnarled from washing clothes in hot tubs of water, holds a young baby girl in her arms. She is the wife of one of the striking soft coal miners.

Baron Wrangel, who tried to overthrow the Russian Soviet Government, declares that he will make 2nd effort

BRUSSELS, Feb. 24 (INS)—Baron Wrangel, who commanded one of the "White" armies which tried to overthrow the Russian Soviet Government, today declared he is only awaiting another opportunity to return to Russia at the head of an army to fight the Reds.

Woodmen Officials "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" Is To Be Settled Here

Do gentlemen really prefer blondes? And if they do, why? This is the question which the Marquette, manager of the Milne Theatre, wants Sanford citizens to answer. That now famous look and equally famous play has been depicted on the screen with 12m scheduled to be shown in Sanford next week.

Mr. Yates, for the past 30 years, and Mr. Perrell, a resident of Jacksonville, where they were feted by the three camps of that city. Following their visit here, they departed this morning for Miami where they will attend a session of the grand council on Feb. 28.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(INS)—President Coolidge today signed the new $100,000,000 public building appropriation bill. The sum is to be expended throughout the country during the next five years in construction of new federal buildings.

Family Holds Reunion For Mother Who Regains Sight After Years Of Blindness

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—(INS)—Thirty years ago—back in 1898—in a different era, in a different life, after forty years of happiness in her simple homelife, the light went out for Mrs. Carrie Silvery of Carpentersville, Ind., and she became blind, Stone blind.

Cabinet Member Has Gained Securing Miracle By Giving Position On Touchy Matter Without Offending Anyone

Practical Politicians Grant Hoover The Palm In Meeting Sore Issue With Such Tact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover appeared today to have accomplished the seeming miracle of stating his position on prohibition without irritating either the fanatical Drys or the wringing Wets.

Neither side is entirely satisfied, but neither side is entirely disappointed. Hence the practical politicians of Washington were ready today to accord the palm to the cabinet candidate for the Presidency for shrewdness in handling an explosive subject.

SENATE'S SEARCH POLICE TO SEIZE FOR 'SLUSH FUND' TORCH SLAYER' CENTERS ON G.O.P. WITHIN 24 HOURS

Government Experts Examine Deposits Placed In Chicago Banks By Republican Party Which Amounted To Millions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(INS)—The Senate's search for new traces of the Continental Trading Company's mysterious $3,000,000 slush fund was centered today upon the activities of the Republican National Committee in the Continental and Continental Trust Company at Chicago.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(INS)—The identity of the "torch slayer," hidden in his letter of confession, which he enclosed with the two $1,000 bonds and one $500 banknote, he sent the police yesterday, is believed to be known and his arrest only hours away.

Three things made the Senate Public Lands Committee view the account with interest. First, that the $1,000,000 deposit in a single month, exactly three weeks after the 1920 campaign and at a time when the Republican National Committee faced a huge deficit. Second, it was this bank to which the Dominion Bank of Canada shipped more than $2,500,000 in 1921 in behalf of the Continental Trading Company.

State Constructs Chain Of Evidence In Flogging Trial

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 24.—(INS)—The state today began the construction of a chain of circumstantial evidence by which it hopes to convict 12 Wake County men of the flogging of E. A. "Dolly" Jones, one armed country merchant, and Sam Green, his negro helper, note that 14 negroes appear.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—(INS)—President Coolidge today signed the new $100,000,000 public building appropriation bill.

HUNDRED LIVES IMPERILED BY BLAST IN MINE

Early Morning Explosion Entombs Over Hundred Workers In Depths Of Coal Pit

Twenty Believed To Have Perished

Rescue Outfits Blast Way Towards Those Entrapped In Shaft

JENNY LIND, Ark., Feb. 24.—(INS)—Twenty miners are believed to be dead in Mann Coal Mine No. 3 here following an explosion early today which entombed 125 men.

Rescue crews blasting their way to the entombed men, reported shortly before noon that 105 of the imperiled miners, had been rescued. About 25 of these were injured in the explosion and others were suffering from effects of gas, they said.

Every miner in the district and volunteers were hurriedly formed into rescue parties and an entrance was blasted into the tomb where the miners were trapped.

At an automobile rescue crew station at McCallister, Okla., probably the nearest to the scene of the disaster, was aboard the rescue car at Ardmore, Okla. The two crews will work together.

ATLANTIC & PACIFIC

WE want to tell you how proud we are of our right to use the above insignia of the Quality Bakers of America, which stands for Quality in its truest sense and is a constant source of inspiration to us to stand fast and true in our determination to give the public consistently reliable and satisfactory service.

There is a story associated with our membership in Quality Bakers of America that we believe will interest you. We will not attempt to tell all of it to you at one time. We will present it to you in short talks, touching on one or two high spots each time. In this way, we hope to sustain your interest in what we think is one of the most far-reaching series of Business Letters yet given to the public.

"We say far-reaching series of Business Letters" because of the influence we believe they will exert in establishing a more intimate and more friendly relationship between the Public and Business—not only our business but every other business.

There is no discounting the fact that in these days the public wants to know how Business is Conducted before it will voice its confidence or give it loyal support. It wants to know who are back of business—whether they are men who can be counted on to give them full honest value for the dollars they spend. It all simmers down to a question of Faith on the part of the people and Sincerity on the part of the men of Business.

We do not want you to think for a minute that we propose to set ourselves up on a pedestal, reaching far above the heads of business men in our line or in any other. That would be foolish. It would make you accept what we say with a grain of salt; in fact, you would not hesitate to classify us as blow-hards, those fellows that proclaim their virtues so blatantly nobody with any sense believes them.

In this letter we want to make this point only:

We are able to conduct our business on a Uniform Quality and Service basis because we are obligated by a solemn pledge to co-operate with a body of 90 wholesale bakers who in turn are backed up in their efforts by a Central Bureau that is always helping and checking all of us for the common good of every member of Quality Bakers of America, but more particularly to see that we do not slip at anytime in our dealings with the public which are maintained through the grocers who are our earnest co-workers in the distribution of our products.

With 90 men using their combined talents to produce unquestioned Quality and to give the Public full and satisfactory Service, we are stronger as a body than any one of us could possibly be standing alone. Is not this just common sense?

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE CAUSE FOR PRAISE

Praise ye the Lord, Praise God in His sanctuary: Praise Him in the firmament of His power. Praise Him for His mighty acts: Praise Him according to His excellent greatness.—Psalm 150:1, 2.

PRAYER—My soul shall make her boast in the Lord, the humble shall hear thereof and be glad.

THE PASSING OF A STOIC

(From Vanity Fair)—Now stiff who once was willow, Now bent who once was tall, He walks along the garden At noon and afternoon, And while the buds are yellow His life is at the fall, Yet will he ask no pardon Who never asked a boon.

With death he will not quarrel, Nor bid the gods be kind, The shadow of disaster Has been his place of school, And now he makes no moral Of echoes in his mind, That tell of life the master With whips for man the fool.

With eyes upon the gravel He does not heed the year, Among the lives that waken He moves but does not live, A bitter way to travel He travels without fear, But with no blessing taken Goes on with none to give.

JOHN DRINKWATER

Before election politicians run for office "to serve the people," afterwards they help themselves.

The Tampa Tribune wants to know if "an Appleyard a day will keep Dr. Hathaway," Yes, it may keep Doyle Carlton away too.

A despatch says that the old Ku Klux Klan has disbanded and that a similar organization is forming called the Knights of the Forest. That's right. Only one "K".

We live and learn. We heard a fellow say yesterday that "the reason celery is bringing two dollars and a quarter a stalk is because so much of it was frozen in the bank."

Political platforms are just made to run on. Don't vote for a candidate on account of what he says he is going to do, vote for him, or against him, because of what he has done.

A preparatory school out west tells its pupils that they can smoke and drink if they want to. Consequently very few of them care anything about it. Such a plan might work other places.

A companionate marriage doesn't mean anything except that a pup doesn't struggle to get loose if he isn't tied.—Deland News. True, brother, true. But a trout on the hook is worth two that aren't.

Frank Lockhart drove his Stutz racing car into the Atlantic ocean at Daytona Beach going two hundred and twenty-five miles an hour, and wasn't killed. And yet some elites still insist upon a fifteen mile an hour speed limit.

Mammans speak proudly of surviving the "Three Big B's," the big boom, the big bust and the big blow. Over here we too can point with pride to a similar record with slightly reverse order, the big boom, the big blow and the big bust, and we have survived equally as well.

Rumor seeps in to us occasionally that squawks are raised because this or that special item is left out of the paper. It is of course attributed to intentional animosity. Nevertheless we will make this promise: If the advertisers will guarantee sixty per cent advertising in eight pages, we will get everything in the paper.

Know Your Candidate

Almost every day sees the announcement of some new candidate for office. Present indications are that when the people go to the polls in June to say who shall conduct their public affairs, the choice will lie between a wide range of individuals. It may be a sincere desire to serve the interests of the people, or it may be that "hard times" make it difficult to earn a living, that this year causes so many to announce.

Seeking the office of governor, six are already in the race. Hathaway, Carlton, McKenzie, Taylor, Catts and Appleyard have announced their sincere desire to serve the people. Into the ring which symbolizes the candidacy for sheriff of Seminole County, four have already tossed their gay looking sombreros. Other offices are attracting similar throngs which no doubt will be increased before the final sprint occurs.

While it is not yet time to call men names, to tear the cloak of righteousness from off the figure of the devil, and aspirants themselves have not generally been inclined yet to take to the stump, we are nevertheless unable to refrain from issuing a word of warning to those who take their politics seriously that we find among the candidates many wolves in lambs' clothing waiting for a chance to eat the choicest morsels of the public body.

If we are to protect ourselves from these gluttons, we must make it our business during the coming months to acquaint ourselves most thoroughly with those who would represent us and with their qualifications for office. If we find among them men who cannot stand close scrutiny, men who do bear watching, these men we should avoid. We should not give them our consideration because they make great promises as to what they will do if elected to office.

When we go to the polls we want to cast our votes, first of all for men who are honest. It does not make any difference how smart, or efficient, a man is, if he is dishonest, the public will suffer by his election. Then we should elect men who are fearless, men who are willing to take a stand when they know they are right, on the side of a question which might not be the popular one with their colleagues. We should elect men who are willing to fight for the interests of the people against, if necessary, the interests of the powers.

In order that we can vote wisely in the coming election and not make such mistakes as we have made in the past, we should investigate most carefully the various candidates and their records. And then vote for the one most ably qualified to serve honestly and well.

About Slot Machines

A New York patent attorney predicts that an automatic ice machine is facing us, with the prospect of slot machines for every imaginable purpose. This forecast seems to most of us a bit too optimistic, but when we consider that there are some eight hundred kinds of vending machines already in use, we are forced to admit that inventive genius seems to know no limitations and that anything is possible in these days and times.

As we see it there are many advantages to the slot machines. They serve admirably for the purchase of matches, cigarettes, chewing gum, stamps and candy. These are simple transactions performed with a promptness that gives us unmistakable pleasure. We pay for what we get and that is the end of it. There is no danger of short change waiting for clerks nor bills being sent later. We get what we want and not a substitute that is "just as good."

Still the patent attorney's dealings with the inventors may have been too extensive, as to impair his vision and perhaps dazzled him to such an extent that he can see no future which is not dominated by their work. There will always be purchases, which cannot be consummated so easily through a slot machine. We'll never be able to have one of the devices fit us for a suit of clothes nor for a pair of shoes. We fear, too, that no contrivance will be rigged up to put into the proper amount of cherry in our coca-colas, nor concoct an ice cream soda with the ingredients mixed to satisfy our palates. We also strongly suspect that we'll never live to see the day when we can purchase our groceries from machines nor put our faith in a device which will select the meat with as painstaking care as we now do.

Florida Celery and Strawberries

This is the time of the year when Florida celery and Florida strawberries are attracting general attention. The two crops mentioned are features of the early spring in this state, and while perhaps not the greatest money-producers, they are very important and no doubt can and will be extended. Florida celery is well known the country over, and announcements from Sanford, which is often called the Celery City, is to the effect that the crop now going out usually to that point will bring a return of about $6,000,000, which is something to talk about. Conditions are said to be excellent in the celery section this spring with plenty of labor available and fair prices offered for the extra fine product that the season has made possible.

Sanford reported a few days ago that more than sixteen hundred carloads of celery had been shipped, which was estimated as seventy-five per cent of the crop, the movement being several carloads daily at this time. The celery fields are showing great activity as the succulent vegetable is cut and packed and put on board refrigerator cars for shipment. There has been excellent demand for celery this season with a probability of slightly higher prices. The splendid quality of the product is causing better demand, and Florida is pleased to be able to furnish a great quantity of the healthful, delightful stuff now so greatly prized as a food. For a long time celery was regarded as a relish and little attention was given to its food value, but it is now high on the accredited lists and is expected with any well-balanced menu.

Down at Plant City, the big shipping point of the earliest strawberries, the growers of this delicious small fruit are busy as bees getting the product to market. The Plant City Courier a few days ago announced the beginning of
