1966 - Year of Action The year 1965 may be remembered as a time when great plans were put forward for Sanford. Each month brought news of glowing proposals that would revitalize our community and bring us a new image of prosperity and progressive-However, getting the plans off the drawing board and into the actual construction stage proved more difficult than most of us imagined. The lakefront development project, ncluding building of the marina-moel complex, seemed to progress painfully step by step, month by month, yet the December construction deadline came and went with no indication that the project was at the "ready" mark.

Snag after snag apparently developed in moving this project from the drawing board to the bulldozer

There still is no overt sign that construction on lakefront development work is to begin any time soon. We are of the opinion that conscientious and sincere efforts have been made to move this project forward. However, we also believe that more eagerness and enthusiasm would speed it even faster. Sanford needs its lakefront de-ness which is madness .- Eccl. 7:25. veloped now if it is to compete with any of our neighboring cities for tourists and permanent residents and give its own longtime residents matist and poet,

With the possible closing of Sanford Naval Air Station within two years, it is even more important that this project be pushed forward with all reasonable speed.

As The Herald has said many times in the past, Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River are our biggest assets. A few fishing lines thrown off its shores and a few boats rolled down its ramps isn't our idea of capitalizing on these most valuable Lakefront development will make fishing and boating hundreds of
