

Professor Favors 'Disposable' Cities

THE HAGUE, Holland (UPI)—An American professor started a lively argument at the First International Seminar on Urban Renewal by going on record in favor of "disposable cities"—made of structures built for short-term use.

Dr. J. Marshall Miller of Columbia University told town planning experts from 22 countries: "Too many people try to build buildings for all eternity. We should design structures, perhaps whole cities, to be written off more quickly."

"Since people's needs for housing change from generation to generation, we ought to plan a disposable city rather than attempt to make our cities into monuments."

Dr. Miller urged the building of schools of a simple and temporary structure.

"I am appalled," he said, "at the monument-building going on in new schools, when we know that school needs will change with a generation."

But many of Prof. Miller's fellow planners objected vigorously. Gabriel Andrade, City Planning Director of Bogota, Colombia, said studies made in his country had shown that housing built to last only 10 years cost three-quarters as much as a house built to last 30 years.

Claude H. Boister, Inspector of Planning and Housing for the French Ministry of Reconstruction and Housing, declared that so-called temporary housing has often turned into permanent housing, as has been the case with temporary housing built in France after World War I in war-damaged areas and still in use today.

Another opposing opinion came from Richard L. Steiner, U. S. Urban Renewal Commissioner, who said that there is in fact not much difference in cost between temporary housing designed to last only 25 to 40 years and the house with a life of 130 years.

The real problem in most cities is to have housing and schools in the right place to accommodate new population groups and needs, Steiner asserted.

A last word on the subject came from Antonio C. Kazanjan, Technical Secretary of the recent United Nations seminar on regional planning in Tokyo.

"Perhaps more houses should be like Japanese clothes," he said. "They are made of expensive materials—with temporary sewing—so they can be adjusted to the owner's changing dimensions."

United Press International Kansas State and Texas Christian hold "locks" on automatic bids to the NCAA basketball tournament today but the race for the national championship is once again a wide-open affair involving at least five teams.

Kansas State clinched the Big Eight's invitation and Texas Christian won the right to represent the Southwest Conference Saturday night while the race for national honors was intensified by Kentucky's easy 75-56 victory over Auburn and Maryland's upset of first-ranked North Carolina.

With about two weeks of the regular season left, that means a battle among Kansas State, Kentucky, North Carolina and Cincinnati plus possibly Michigan State and North Carolina State. Cincinnati is closing in on the Missouri Valley title and has an 18-2 overall record while Michigan State clinched a tie for the Big Ten title with its 91-87 Saturday night win over Purdue.

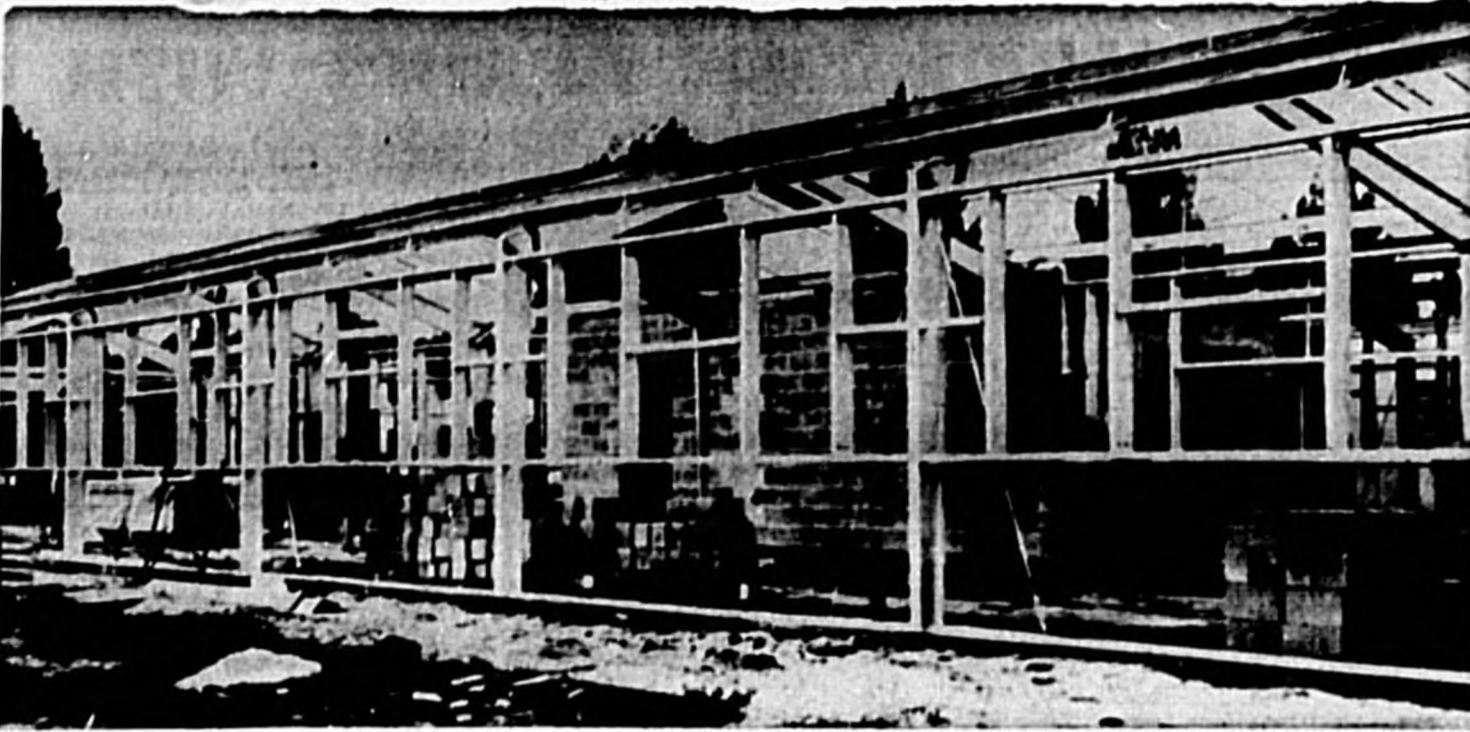

Kentucky, Cincinnati, Auburn, eighth-ranked St. Louis, ninth-ranked California, 10th-ranked Mississippi State and 12th-ranked Bradley all see action tonight so the national picture may be even further scrambled. Kentucky plays Alabama, Cincinnati meets Tulsa, Auburn tries to bounce back against Tennessee, St. Louis opposes North Texas State, California plays Oregon State, Mississippi State takes on Tulane and Bradley plays Wichita.

Johnston's lapse enabled Tom Nierotte of Ironville, N. Y., to slip in and tie him, also at 276. Both runners-up collected $1,050 while Ellis got $2,900.

Doug Furd, of Paradise, Fla., and Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., each had a total of 280 and a tie for fourth place. They were paid $1,150 apiece. Big Mike Souphas of Groesbeek, N. Y., was sixth with a 281 and he collected $1,050.

Some groups supporting tougher measures had been prodding Celler to get House hearings started. A number of members said they had heard rumors that Johnson tried to persuade Celler to wait for the Senate hearings to start.

Celler's move apparently caught his committee members by surprise. He cancelled other hearings scheduled for March 4 to clear the way for the civil rights drive.

Already completed in the improvement program at the station are three hangars and a large warehouse.

Governors Talk 'Mix,' Trip To Russia

By FRED T. FERGUSON
BLOOMING, Miss. (UPI)—Racial integration and a proposed trip to Russia will be discussed at a national governors conference executive committee meeting which opens here today.

Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, conference chairman, has said he favors accepting an invitation from the Soviet Union for committee members to visit Russia in June.

But at least one of the other eight governors on the committee has said privately he will oppose the trip during the two-day meeting on grounds such visits should be made by representatives of the federal government, rather than state governments.

Finances No Problem
Collins said finances for the trip present no problem. Several foundations and schools have expressed interest in footing the bill.

Gov. William Stratton of Illinois said he thought the trip was basically a good idea but that he will see to know more about it.

Collins said the plan would come up here, probably Tuesday, but that he does "not intend to press for it."

Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey said he felt no Northern Democratic governor would accept a civil rights plank in 1960.

Wes Ellis Takes Texas Open Title

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Wesley Ellis Jr., 27, shot a four-under-par 67 to win the $20,000 Texas Open golf tournament Sunday, but he fought a neck-and-neck battle with defending champion Bill Johnston that was undecided until the final hole.

The four-day tournament was plagued until Sunday by cold and rain, and it affected the scores. The winning total of 276 was the highest winning score since 1934.

Johnston, of Provo, Utah, and Ellis came up to the final hole all even. The 18th hole at the Brazosridge Park course is a par three 185-yard hole.

Ellis banged his four-iron too shot to the back of the green, which enabled him to get a par three and a four-round total of 276. But Johnston pulled his four-iron too short and the ball fell into a creek guarding the green. It cost him a double-bogey five and he finished two strokes behind Ellis with 278.

Johnston's lapse enabled Tom Nierotte of Ironville, N. Y., to slip in and tie him, also at 276. Both runners-up collected $1,050 while Ellis got $2,900.

Doug Furd, of Paradise, Fla., and Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., each had a total of 280 and a tie for fourth place. They were paid $1,150 apiece. Big Mike Souphas of Groesbeek, N. Y., was sixth with a 281 and he collected $1,050.

William Hathaway, Ex-Resident, Dies

William E. Hathaway, former Sanford resident, died Feb. 8 in Swampscott, Mass.

He was born Oct. 22, 1863, and resided in Sanford for 30 years. For the past three years he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Wilham, in Swampscott.

Mr. Hathaway was among the original members of the "Fidelity Association" and presided over their barbecues for more than 50 years.

Russians Used Short Cut To Jet Age; Plane Poor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia beat the United States to the commercial jet age by a full two years.

But the Reds achieved their victory with an easy short-cut: they merely modified a medium jet bomber, revamped its n o a e, stretched the fuselage and put in seats.

The result was the TU-104, a plane that Russia's state airline, Aeroflot, has been flying all over Europe for two years. The TU-104 (Aeroflot has an estimated 40 in service) also has made three trips to the United States.

But American aviation experts who have closely examined and flown in the TU-104 reported it would never be accepted by U. S. airlines or even U. S. passengers.

It is under-powered, short-ranged and gorges fuel in such mammoth amounts that it would bankrupt an American carrier. Swiss airlines, or even U. S. passengers, TU-104, with a view of buying a few, said even if the Russians gave the plane away free, no private airline could afford to operate it.

The TU-104 also lands at 150 miles an hour, too fast for American safety standards. Its brakes also are reported to be inadequate, causing several TU-104s to overshoot runways. Its pressurization system is weak; fountain pen leaks.

Celler Schedules 'Rights' Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Northwest liberalists were assured today that the first congressional civil rights hearings will concentrate on the strong proposals they support rather than more moderate measures.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), one of the liberals, stole the initiative from the Senate by scheduling a House Judiciary Subcommittee hearing March 4 on civil rights legislation.

The Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights had planned to open civil rights hearings March 15. Some lawmakers believed this inquiry would center on the moderate proposals of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, President Eisenhower also has recommended a similar approach.

Some groups supporting tougher measures had been prodding Celler to get House hearings started. A number of members said they had heard rumors that Johnson tried to persuade Celler to wait for the Senate hearings to start.

Celler's move apparently caught his committee members by surprise. He cancelled other hearings scheduled for March 4 to clear the way for the civil rights drive.

Betsy Rawls Cops Lake Worth Golf

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (UPI)—Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. was $1,347 richer today because she won the Lake Worth women's open golf tournament despite a wind which sent all scores soaring.

Miss Rawls scrambled to a four over women's par 74 for a winning four-day score of 285 Sunday. She won only because Louise Bugas of Sea Island, Ga., tied with her when the final round started, was battered even more by the gusty wind and shot a 75.

Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., shot more consistently than either for a 78 but her total score of 291 left her far back in third place. The best round of the day was a 71 by Mary Ann Reynolds of Albany, Ga., but she finished out of the money Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., was low amateur with 806.

Miss Rawls had second and third round scores of 68 and 69 which pulled her through. She got an injection of what was to come, though, when she bogeyed the first two holes of the final round. She got only two birdies—with sterling iron shots which left her short putts on two par three holes.

Miss Bugas got only one birdie with a 40-foot putt on the 14th hole. She had taken a double bogey when she three-putted the first hole.

At Pioneer Night, Tall Tales And True

Tales tall and true were told last night at Lake Mary's annual Pioneer Night.

From every part of the state came the Pioneers, 210 strong all over 60 years of age.

Frank Evans, Lake Mary pioneer and chairman of the celebration, introduced the "oldtimers" with amusing anecdotes and historical data.

Entertainment included selections by the Triple Trio and the Double Quartet from Seminole High School and dances to the Duetta School of Dance.

Twenty-year-old Dottie Jardine and her doll, Ollie, went through a routine created for Pioneer Night. Ollie saved the day when Dottie forgot her script and was forced to improvise; he conveniently confused the "over 60" requirement with Florida traffic laws.

As the older generation munched on refreshments, guest speakers addressed them briefly. County Commissioner, Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, Sheriff J. L. Hobbs, Dr. J. Bernard Hood, R. T. Milwee and others were on hand to take a bow and say a few words.

William E. Gray, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presented Evans with a gavel made of wood from the original White House.

Two oldtimers introduced from the four swags Barney and Jay Beck, whose father was killed saving the life of the Sanford postmaster during the gold rush in the Klondike.

Another tale was told about Mr. and Mrs. William Ferguson, who each had children when they were married. They produced several more of their own. One day Mrs. Ferguson called her husband to the door to see his and her children beating up their children (True story).

Azalea plants in bloom were given to each pioneer, courtesy of the Sanford Atlantic Bank. Other gifts were donated by the lists and merchants.

Evans said, "None of the gifts was solicited. These people just wanted to do something nice for the old folks."

Recipients of gifts were O. B. Mearns, 91, oldest man; Mrs. Charles Howard, 89, oldest woman; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tiner (married 60 years); Mrs. Hattie Atkinson (birthdays closest to Pioneer Night, Feb. 22).

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pechham who have attended 31 of 34 Pioneer Nights were given a lamp from Mather Furniture. Others also received gifts during the evening.

All pioneers wearing badges will be guests of manager Milton Halloway of the Ritz Theater tonight for "Rally Round the Flag, Boys."

Flowers and gifts came from the Ritz Theater, A. K. Rosetter, William K. Kirchhoff and J. L. Hobbs.

Just Can't Quit, McKibbin Is Told
The resignation of the chairman of the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission was refused last night by City Commissioners.

Clifford McKibbin Jr., said in a letter of regret that, due to "personal considerations," he felt it was time for another to take his place.

The Commission's answer: "No logical reasons were given for his resignation, and the ones given were not acceptable."

Just couldn't find another was as good, Commissioners felt.

Bernard L. Salecky, president of a hat firm, said Monday his company is developing a "he-be" derby for the ladies.

Khrushchev Rejects West Plea

Commission Nixes Highway Fund Plea

The Highway 17 Association was turned down last night by the City Commission.

A request for $500 was made by David Gatchel, representing the Association. Funds would be used for publicity purposes on the highway.

Commissioners told Gatchel they already had appropriated $10,000 to the Chamber of Commerce, and felt that publicity for Highway 17 belonged to that group.

County commissioners last week approved $500 for the Association, which has a budget of $1,000. Volusia County has given $1,500.

Gatchel said that the method of approaching cities and counties had been patterned after the Orange Blossom Trail Association.

"If the city does not see fit to go along, I'm not going before the Chamber, because I'm following the plan suggested," he said.

Earl Higginbotham spoke for the Commission when he answered. "We have contributed liberally to advertising if the Chamber doesn't spend it for that, the money will be channeled into other projects attractive to the man in charge. I don't believe in taxation to support the Chamber of Commerce."

Box Seats On Sale Thursday; 18 Sign Sanford Contracts
Box seats for the upcoming baseball season in Sanford will go on sale Thursday.

Ward Goodrich, business manager, said the tickets, good for 64 playing dates at home, will be sold for 14¢. A limited number will be offered to the public. Interested persons may call the baseball office, FA 21940.

Goodrich said that solicitation soon would begin for fence signs and the season's program.

At the same time, he announced that Sanford has 18 players, including Manager Percy Rogers, already under contract. Among the players signed is a $1,000 bonus youngster who performed for the Class C Elmira (N. Y.) team last year.

Sanford's Greyhounds will be joined for spring training at Fernandina Beach about April 1. Goodrich said this announcement came from Sherry Robertson, director of Washington's minor league system, with which Sanford will be associated.

Original plans called for the Greyhounds to report about March 9. However, the date will be later than expected. This probably is due to the "cut off" plans of teams in the Washington system which have a higher league classification.

Goodrich said some 150 rookies will be working out at Fernandina Beach during spring training. The season opens here April 22 against Orlando.

Two Cars Collide, Woman Is Injured
Two housewives collided at French Ave. and 25th St. yesterday afternoon. The accident caused combined damages of $50 to the automobiles.

Mrs. Gudejurg S. Hardester, Altamonte Springs, complained of pains in her right arm and was taken to her family doctor for examination. Thirteen-month-old Nellie Mae Hardester was jostled out of her car seat onto the floor, but was uninjured.

Mrs. Laura Myers Miller was charged with failure to yield the right of way by police officers. The accident occurred when Mrs. Miller attempted to make a left turn into the Winn Dixie parking lot, and pulled into the path of Mrs. Hardester's car, police said.

South Can 'Walk,' He'll Pack Lunch
CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) has invited southern Democrats to walk out of the party's 1960 convention if they cannot accept the convention's plan on racial issues.

"The Democratic Party does not want or need racial or religious bigotry," Douglas said.

"I would even be willing to pack a box lunch for them as they go out into the wilderness," the Illinois Democrat said.

Weather
Partly cloudy, through Wednesday. Temperatures about the same. High today upper 70's, low tonight 54 to 62. Southwest to west winds 10 to 15 miles per hour.

Mack Cleveland Lashes Development Commission

The Legislative Auditing Committee, headed by Mack Cleveland Jr., Sanford, yesterday suggested doing away with the Florida Development Commission.

The suggestion followed a blast at spending practices of the agency, some of which Cleveland labeled as an "obvious disregard for the law."

Cleveland said activities of the Commission should be curtailed severely. He added, "I'm not sure that it should not be abolished altogether."

The Seminole legislator said the big promotion agency may serve some "small" function, but nothing like six million dollars worth every two years.

To comply with the Auditing Committee's wishes the Commission must demonstrate that it has taken steps to correct complaints of State Auditor Bryan Willis.

Legislators today hinted they would take punitive action against the Commission's appropriations if action is not taken to correct such things as improper use of telephone and gasoline credit cards by employees, use of personal automobiles when state-owned cars are available and per diem claims for trips of less than a day's duration.

Cleveland said a full report on "lightening" measures had been demanded of the Commission.

Cleveland said action of the Cabinet in permitting the Development Commission to divert $50,000 in advertising money to salaries was an "obvious disregard for the law."

He criticized the Commission for advertising the sale of some county bonds on one day in Tallahassee, and then being unable to sell them because only one member of the Commission showed up.

Cleveland said no action would be taken on the Commission appropriation until the full report had been received.

A. L. Hackett, manager of accounting and purchasing for the Commission, said the agency, "has taken, and is taking, steps to meet all of the criticisms of the audit."

Charles Muir Dies At Longwood Home
Charles H. Muir, 81, died at his home in Longwood early this morning after a short illness. He was born Mar. 19, 1877, in Hollywood, Pa.

Mr. Muir was a retired carpenter and farmer. He was a member of the Christian Church of Hollywood, and has lived in Longwood for seven years.

Survivors include four children: W. Tyler Muir, Longwood; Arnold Muir and Mrs. Bell Graham, both of Hollywood; Britton Muir, California; one brother, Everett Muir, Hollywood.

Funeral services will be at 3 p. m. Thursday in Brison Funeral Home. The Rev. Lewis C. Fitch of the Longwood Baptist Church will officiate. Burial will follow in Longwood cemetery.

City Turns Down Proposal On Land
The Sanford Manufacturing Company's request to purchase the property behind its factory for $500 was refused last night by City Commissioners.

An appraisal of the property will be made, and the figure submitted to the firm as a fair price. The property is 200 feet by 150 feet.

Marvin Meltzer, company manager, has indicated that the firm wishes to expand. It now has 100 employees.

Commissioners said that the firm should expect to pay the market price "just like any other established business."

Satchmo Eyes Russia
V. KENNA, A. S. T. (UPI)—Trumpeter Louis Armstrong said today he may take his world-touring band behind the Iron Curtain through segregation.

Says Soviet Union Won't Ban Bomb, Or Discuss Berlin

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev turned down today the West's proposals on Berlin and Germany. He said it would be "unbusinesslike" and "unacceptable."

Speaking at an election rally, Khrushchev flatly rejected last week's Western call for a Big Four foreign ministers conference on Berlin and Germany. He said it would be "unbusinesslike" and "unacceptable."

He called anew for full and formal summit talks to decide the German question, nuclear test bans and the whole field of East-West dispute.

The speech appeared to blast hopes of a new approach to the German stalemate just when Khrushchev's "little summit" talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain had created fresh hopes.

Khrushchev scorned the Western stand at the Geneva nuclear conference.

"To accept the Western proposals (on inspection and control) would mean full capitulation," he said. "We regret it but we shall have to continue with our tests."

Khrushchev said a conference of foreign ministers, as suggested by the West to thrash out the problems of Berlin, Germany and overall European security could last for many months or years.

"It would be more expedient if the Western Powers agreed on a conference of heads of government which make decisions," he said.

Khrushchev objected to the exclusion of Poland and Czechoslovakia, which he described as "the first victims of German invasion" in World War II and Germany's neighbors from any talks on Germany.

The speech was delivered during a one-day recess in his talks with Macmillan.

Oviedo Expected To Cut PTA Ties

The withdrawal of the Oviedo PTA from the state and national bodies today appeared certain.

At a meeting last night, officials said "momentum for withdrawal is gaining." The Oviedo group was scheduled to vote on the question, but members were told that the vote could not be taken until the state and national organizations had been notified of the proposed action.

Speaking at the session was D. M. Ladd, brother of movie actor Alan Ladd and a former Phi Kappa Phi member. Ladd's talk concerned "Red Infiltration of the PTA."

Attending the meeting were many non-PTA members, some of whom urged the PTA to withdraw its affiliation from the state and national groups.

Last week, the Seminole PTA Council adopted a resolution which authorized the state and taken by the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers at its annual convention in Sarasota.

The resolution did not mention integration, but left little doubt that this is what PTA members had in mind.

Mother, 14, Gives Birth To Twins; Family Tradition

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Fourteen-year-old Mrs. Catherine W. Gordon gave birth to twins Monday, and the boys were reported "doing just fine" today.

The father, Richard W. Gordon, 17, is unemployed but "willing to do any kind of work." The Gordons live with Mrs. Gordon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Coakley.

The first twin weighed 3 pounds, 9 ounces at birth and the second 3 pounds, 2 ounces.

The infants inherit a tradition of having a young mother. Mrs. Caskey was 17 when Catherine was born. Caskey's mother was 16 when she was born and Richard's mother was 16 when he was born.

Thieves Make Haul At Grocery Store

Thieves stole clothing, cigarettes and $8 in pennies from the Panley Grocery Store, 606 West 11th St., last night.

Entry was gained by tilting the screen on a door and forcing the lock. The jar of pennies contained the money.

Jesse Freeman, 47, Dies In Hospital

Jesse Freeman, 47, died at 5:30 a. m. today in Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Freeman came to Sanford in 1956 from Dalton, Ga. He was a member of the Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge (Dalton Lodge No. 105, F. and A. M.) and the Oddfellows.

Mr. Freeman resided at 201 1/2 West First St. He was a machinist with the Sanford Manufacturing Co.

Survivors include his wife Inez; two sons, Jesse Freeman Jr., Aiken, S. C., and Thomas Freeman, Sanford; two daughters, Mrs. Sylvia McClure, Sanford, and Mrs. Barbara Trent, Jacksonville; his father, Earl Freeman, Ringgold, Ga.; one brother, E. B. Freeman, Detroit; four sisters, Mrs. Edith Castle, Detroit, Mrs. Beatrice Tillson, Rossville, Ga.; Mrs. Essie Erard, Shell Knob, Mo., and one in Detroit, Mich.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Grambow Funeral Home.

Legislators Inherit Salary Hike Problem

Proposals to increase salaries of public officials always cause considerable discussion, no matter the merit of such proposals.

In Seminole County, four officials have withdrawn a joint request for $2,400 more per office per year. At the same time, local legislators were asked to keep "an open mind" about the question of some increase in compensation for the sheriff, circuit clerk, tax collector and tax assessor.

Brought up for discussion at the time the $2,400 per year request was withdrawn was the salary scale of the five members of the County Board of Commissioners.

Soon to appear on the scene will be a proposal to increase salaries of members of the Legislature. Although this has not been announced, it is almost certain that legislators will ask that the current $15 per day be increased. Last year, legislators proposed a $5 per day increase. They retreated in the face of the ensuing storm of protest.

County Commissioners exhibited a list of the pay scales of all such county governing bodies in Florida. Seminole was very near the bottom, lower than some counties with about 8,000 people.

Commissioners feel that a pay raise is justified. But, they aren't planning to ask for one. A couple said they prefer to work for free, rather than "stick my neck on the chopping block."

All of this adds up to another problem for the local delegation in the Legislature. Pay hikes for the four county offices, the Commission and for themselves must be decided by Sen. Doug Stenstrom and Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick.

These three not only must decide if, they also must decide how much, if. This is no easy task. In a discussion of the subject, informally, the three emphasized the problem: they want to be fair to the public and to the officials concerned.

"Fair" defies definition. Stenstrom, Cleveland and Frederick know that their decision, whatever it might be, will be criticized. These men know that they cannot please everyone. They will attempt, however, to render justice while attempting to represent the views of a majority of Seminole voters.

He Finds Fads Fade

Fads fade fast. Joe Smith, Corpus Christi, Tex., is impressed with this fact. His knowledge, however, came the hard way.

He possessed 1,440 hula hoops when interest in the novelty dropped to zero. First he slashed the price to 10 cents. No takers. Then he tried to give them away. Still no takers.

Then he tried a special sale. He'd pay anyone 10 cents to accept a hoop. A few takers. He still has plenty on hand. The sale is over.

This story has its humorous side. It also emphasizes a point. Merchants, whether they sell novelties or stable goods, run the risk of having no takers if they do not stock items demanded by the public.

The fault does not always lie with the "sale" or the advertising and promotion. Nobody wanted a hoop, at bargain rates, for free or with a dime profit.

'Criminal No. 3' Executed In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—A. Col. Luis M. Grau, Cuba's "war criminal No. 3," fell before the guns of a firing squad in the dry moat of the Cabana Fortress prison here just before midnight Monday night, it was announced today.

Gray was the last of the three army officers described as Cuba's "war criminals" to be executed earlier.

The word "Christian" was first applied to the followers of Jesus Christ in Antioch, Turkey, site of St. Paul's first ministry.

THE ELEPHANT'S TRUNK

Assignment Washington

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Today it will be C. F. Knickerhohn versus the Wall Street Journal, a kind of David and Goliath contest in which Knickerhohn, like David, is loaded.

Knickerhohn is a farmer and a manager of farm properties in St. James, Minn., a small town in the southern tier of counties. His county is Watonwan, an area of lakes and rich farmland. It for corn, wheat, sugar beets, flax, dairy and beef cattle.

About 260 Watonwan County acres are mine under Knickerhohn's management. He is a good manager. A check for $1,600 (flattered out of the envelope which reached me Wednesday with Knickerhohn's report on how things were on the farms in the upper Mississippi Valley).

Knickerhohn's report seemed not to jibe precisely with a survey which appeared this week in the Wall Street Journal. This was a survey of the farm machinery business at the manufacture and retail levels which the Journal reported were booming fit to bust.

Manufacturers and retailers alike were happy. Resale prices for used farm equipment were substantially higher. Farmers were making larger down payments and even paying off their equipment notes well ahead of due date to save interest. This was a happy-days-are-here-again survey. It unquestionably was accurate because the Wall Street Journal is well edited and its reporters are experienced newsmen.

The survey, however, reflected the seller's point of view. The point of view of the buyer—the farmer—is something else again. Hear this from my friend Knickerhohn who, in typical farm fashion, begins with the weather report:

"We have had some real winter here the past four weeks. The thermometer has been below the zero line quite regularly. And the past week we have been getting some snow. We have had about five inches of new snow since Monday, Feb. 2.

"Our markets on the farm produce have been somewhat uneasy the past weeks. It seems since the livestock prices are slipping, especially the hog markets, everything else is uneasy.

"Farmers are all hoping it won't get going much worse than it is. The price of farm produce alone would not be so much hurting if the cost of farm equipment would not be climbing up higher and higher. Many of the smaller farmers do not have enough income to keep on farming, after paying all the expenses such as taxes and cost of repairs or machine hire where it is not advisable to have all the necessary machines such as combines and corn pickers and hay balers and other large equipment.

"The small farmer either needs to get more acreage to farm, if there is land available, or else rent his land to someone else, and find work elsewhere.

"I guess the farmers are not the only ones that have problems, so I think we will all just have to try and work things out, best we can for all. We people in our American country have much to be thankful for. We have freedom of speech and religion and many other conveniences.

" Hoping that you and all of yours are enjoying good health, as I can say for myself and family."

NEWS FROM YARM
The girl, Frances Parco, a freshman at Pace Business College, was reported in fair condition today with a fractured skull, cuts and bruises on her legs and arms and frostbite of both feet.

A neighbor, awakened by Miss Parco's cries, found the girl crawling on her hands and knees, incoherent, in a driveway nearby her Bronx home at 8:45 a.m. Sunday.

Miss Parco, returning home from a religious club dance in midtown Manhattan, had ridden a subway train to the end of the line and was walking to her home when she was attacked.

Hours after she was admitted to Moseley Hospital she described her attacker as a Negro about 20 years old, of medium build, about 150 pounds and about 5 feet, 7 inches tall.

Funeral Tomorrow For Joseph Gibbs

The Rev. George M. Yates will officiate. Burial will be in Sylvan Lake Cemetery.

Gibbs died of injuries sustained Feb. 12 in an accident. Death came at the age of 31 in Orange Memorial Hospital. He was born in Sanford Sept. 20, 1927, was a lifelong resident of Paola, and a member of the Sanford Church of Christ.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Bertha M. Gibbs, Paola; one sister, Mrs. Thelma Hobby, Sanford; six aunts, Mrs. Mattie Altman and Mrs. Marie Thomas, Daytona Beach; Mrs. Edith Carson and Mrs. Rosa Masey, Sanford; Mrs. Jack Davis, Palatka; Mrs. Wilma Ostrahl, Orlando; two uncles, Joe Bennett, Daytona Beach, and W. J. Bennett, Orlando.

Bliss Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Tax Repeal Sought By DeBary Group

The repeal of two issues burdening retired people with heavy expenses continuously was endorsed by the DeBary Chamber of Commerce last week. Both were in the form of resolutions.

The Chamber opposed the increase in the state intangible tax passed by the 1957 Legislature and a Mill Road and Bridge tax on homesteads in the Orange City-Enterprise road district.

The resolutions will be presented formally at the legislative hearing, Feb. 27, at 7:30 p. m. in the Circuit Court Room, Deland. More than 100 members attended the Chamber of Commerce meeting. Speaker was DeBary's Methodist minister, the Rev. Wilfred C. Aldridge.

Color slides and information about "World Ways" from Norway in Yugoslavia, were shown by Rev. Aldridge, who made the trip last summer.

Washington Calling

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
WASHINGTON — A hard dilemma faces Congress and the country, and the Administration itself in a way, over the issue of President Eisenhower's military budget. And the unpleasant fact is that this dilemma cannot really be resolved.

The central and obvious question is whether in asking for some forty billions of dollars the President is asking enough. For at least in missiles, which may become the ultimate weapon, the Russians seem chillingly ahead of us.

But it is not possible for Congress and the country to find a rational answer to the big question without first answering another question. Here it is that the rub comes. This is the query: How far may the professional military officers properly go in appealing to Congress over the heads of their civilian superiors, including the President himself as commander in chief, for higher military expenditures than their civilian superiors have decided upon?

No one, not even the President himself, is absolutely sure. It is plain that the Secretary of Defense, Neil McElroy, is not entirely easy in his mind, either.

Thus members of "the brass" go one by one before Congressional committees carrying heavy and delicate burdens. These admirals and generals have a compelling need, and also a high responsibility, to fight for what they honestly believe their services require in a world of danger.

But, again, they have the plain constitutional duty to bow in the last analysis to the civilian authority. And, finally, they must think of themselves. They are aware that outright rebellion from the Administration's high defense policies may cost them their careers.

For Secretary McElroy has passed the word that while he wishes to weigh independent judgments with sympathy he will not stand for out-and-out disloyalty to the Administration's budget policy. Given all this, it is easy to understand why the eyes of high officers and their inflections of voice sometimes seem to speak these days before Congressional committees rather louder than the words actually uttered in support of the budget. For where does independent judgment stop and disloyalty begin? This is the situation.

1. The Administration at the top (that is, the President and his chief civilian advisers) is satisfied that the budget is enough to maintain a "reasonable" margin of safety.

2. The professional officers, by and large, are by no means so satisfied — though it is fair to add that they almost never are.

3. Congress itself simply does not know whether to feel satisfied or not. Congress does not know precisely what "reasonable" safety means. And when Congress does not know, the public cannot know.

Though believing itself to be right about the budget, the Administration nevertheless is not happy to seem to be muzzling the officers or imperiously shutting off public debate. But, again, it feels — and quite properly, in this correspondent's opinion — that it simply cannot allow the uniformed men to seem to challenge civilian control of the military. That is the way, if pursued long enough, to dictatorship. The constitutional system requires that the civilian leadership have the very last word — even if that last word be terribly wrong.

Congress, on its side, feels cut off from the genuine opinions of

Baked Applesauce
NEW YORK (UPI) — Baked applesauce with elder topping is a good cold weather dessert. Place (1 1/2-pound cans) applesauce in 1 1/2-quart casserole. Combine 1/2 cup each sifted flour and sugar, cut in 1/4 cup butter, sprinkle over applesauce and bake in 450 degree oven 20 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Serve warm or chilled, topped with elder-whipped nonfat dry milk. Combine 1/2 cup each in sauce nonfat dry milk crystals and well-chilled apple cider. Whip 3 to 4 minutes, or until soft peaks form. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and continue beating about 3 to 4 minutes or until stiff peaks form.

Bathrooms Get Priority
NEW YORK (UPI) — Attractive, comfortable bathrooms rank high on the list of advantages desired by homeowners. Bathrooms also receive more attention from people planning to build or buy than any other room, except the kitchen.

GEORGE STUART
100 EAST PENNSYLVANIA, SANFORD, FLA. 32157

Refreshments will be served and a surprise program of entertainment will be offered by some of "Sanford's star performers". This annual event is eagerly looked forward to each St. Patrick's Day by the crowd of happy participants of parties of former years. This year the proceeds will go toward improvements of the playground of the school as it has become imperative that the youngsters have the place and facilities necessary to carry out Physical Fitness programs.

Table reservations must be made in advance in order that the committee can plan for adequate refreshments. Those accepting reservations are Mrs. R. Petropinto, Miss E. Kruger, Mrs. R. Van Dujne and Mrs. F. Uhn.

The committee in charge of this party is Mrs. D. H. Mathers, Chairman; Mrs. R. Petropinto and Miss E. Kruger, tickets; Mrs. E. Vanuzza, Mrs. M. Kuhn, Mrs. E. Swigonski, refreshments; Mrs. F. Uhn, Mrs. L. Fay, Mrs. M. Luzzier, prizes; Mrs. M. Parole, Mrs. A. Miller, decorations; Mrs. E. Roumillat, Jr., entertainment; Mrs. J. Von Herbulis, facilities; and Mrs. L. R. Bauer, publicity.

Tickets can be purchased from members of the Catholic Women's Club and are on sale at Roumillat's Walgreen Drug store.

holding an election of officers, I introduced myself to Mrs. Stephen Oliver, leader, and Mrs. C. B. Atkinson, assistant leader, and in turn met Pam Atkinson, Barbara Hill, Donna Davis, Linda Ethell, Valerie Hamilton, Pat Howard, Delorah Kinney, Molly McGinnis, Susan Padlock, Sally Peterson, Karen Simmons, and Mary Slinger. All bubbled with information. Upon asking the stock question, "What was your favorite activity this year?" I received a deafening answer as all 12 abouted in unison, "NO! NO! NO!" but "HORSEBACK RIDING!"

Undoubtedly this group will insist on riding "horseback" to camping trips. I can hear their leaders groaning at the thought. However, cookouts were declared "next best!"

The electioneering was resumed with great vigor and I was informed that they elect new officers every three months in order to spread the experience of leadership and responsibility. For the information of non-scouters, Bronx work in a group as a unit rather than in the patrol system favored by the older girls.

This past year this troop has been working on crafts and made Christmas presents for relatives, and also made calendars. Their service project is being planned for Easter. And of course another cookout is eagerly anticipated.

Most of these youngsters will be "fly-ups" next fall, so they are scheduled to start work on Ten derfoot requirements in another two weeks so they may be invested in "green" at the end of the year.

This troop now meets in the morning as they were shifted from morning session in the afternoon classes at Pinecrest School. It seemed odd to meet with a troop at 10:00 A. M. of a week day morning but it really is a pleasant time to hold a meeting.

The church has provided them with a pleasant place to meet and of rooms for outdoor activity. This year's cookie Chairman is Mrs. Barbara Simmons, and Mrs. R. B. Peterson has acted as refreshment chairman.

To Meet On 26th
The Altamonte Springs Civic League will be hostess to the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs on February 26th at the clubhouse.

Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Federation President requests that representatives from all Federated Clubs be present as an important item will be discussed and acted upon.

Garden Gate

By Hazel B. Moughlon

Surely you have enjoyed your trees' friendly shelter the last few weeks. And don't the azaleas, especially, formosa, thrive under the oak's shade? And if there be citrus trees 'mongst the oaks you will early see grapefruit and orange blossoms are putting forth. There's a delicate green showing from some sweet gum kind of a new awakening in all nature to birth enthusiasm for spring. It's trees of every description to think again. Life I realize it when I visit some of these subdivisions, a barren feeling as if the loss of friends, comes when I see not a tree.

Mentioning citrus trees—I have in my yard that has never been sprayed—never been fertilized, but friends marvel over the taste of its fruit—quite sweet. Here's a little secret. For years the tree has had woad ashes from my fireplace. Ever try that? After all, we all read from books and find there experience of older persons but we may add to them. As to consulting you what to do, be sure you love your trees enough to do what you KNOW you SHOULD do.

If you prune your trees of their diseased or frozen wood, paint their wounds. Trees' bark is their skin covering and they can bleed.

And if your trees the fruit or ornamentals flower prolifically, be sure you water them very often to keep them reseeded. This note too don't dry them out if they become too dry. That can be a mistake. Water a little often.

I am still reading to me! new information about trees. It seems palms have been found in Siberia and are now being shown in museums of Moscow. During a certain cataclysm in Central Asia, great forests of trees were destroyed, and "was then the climate became colder and of course, less favorable. After the trees disappeared new races of people appeared and began eating meat. There were no nuts and fruits. It is said according to various documents and traditions that the dominant races following had a shortened span of life.

You will recollect that last week when we wrote of trees it had been suggested that at some fruit and nuts daily because that is LIVE food. Trees have the long life. Even if we breathe the air among trees we can immediately observe a great difference between such air and the air of the treeless regions. Referring to trees, we remember trees accumulate in their fruit those parts of the solar rays which the human organism cannot capture and absorb. You see we absorb those radiations of the sun which we cannot get directly through the skin. The water in the fruit is free from inorganic material.

I was interested, further in my reading, about the Chinese, their civilized habits. Instead of eating bread fruit from trees they learned to like better baked white bread. But some of the older Chinese still prefer nature's bread fruit. They declare it to be more strengthening. WE are cautioned, you know, too, that fruits act more favorably upon our glands and nervous system. Both these represent the capital of our vitality.

Back to the subject of solar energy for which a tree yearns. I remember when first we planted some young trees we noticed how they responded to the sun's rays. You watch that, they'll be really crooked. Probably you new home builders will observe the young trees you plant, reaching for solar energy. Remember though, don't plant them too deep. Nature doesn't sink them too deeply in the woods, or even in your yard. I guess the roots enjoy finding their own fitting comfort. Notice the tiny seedlings that surprise you, perhaps in inconspicuous places where they took root from forgotten dropped orange or grapefruit. If you are that fortunate by all means preserve it as you would a treasure for its fruit will be most tasty. It costs so little or nothing to plant a young tree. You bless it. It shall bless Thee. Only God can make a tree.

Farewells Said To The E. J. Mills

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Phillips entertained with a dinner party at their home Saturday evening in honor of Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Ernest Mills who are leaving Sanford to live in Pensacola, Florida.

Invited to the farewell courtesies were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Conning, Mr. and Mrs. William Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robson, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison, Mrs. Ann Bear, Mrs. Ann Sinabarger, Kenneth Lefler, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walling of Leesburg.

The Mills were entertained on Friday evening when Mr. and Mrs. William Stearns had a cocktail party in their honor.

Guests were Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Akeley, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Burks, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cook, Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Earles, D. R. Mills, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Tugwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pulich, E. J. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Winters.

A Valentine theme was used in decorations, place cards and in the program presented.

Seated at the head table were Mrs. M. N. Cleveland, class teacher; Mrs. C. H. Goethe, president; Mr. Goethe, Mrs. John K. White, Toastmistress, and Dr. Earl Joiner, guest speaker.

A warm welcome was extended to the group by Mrs. White and Mrs. Cleveland gave the invocation.

Dr. Joiner, professor of religion at Stetson University, gave an interesting talk on Church life with emphasis stressed on class interest. Benediction was given by Mrs. Della Galloway.

A delicious ham dinner was served to the following members and guests: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Landreth, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Doudney, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goethe, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Deke, Mrs. Richard Galloway, Mrs. A. W. Woodall, Mrs. John K. White, Mrs. C. S. Muse, Miss Bobbie Morion, Mrs. H. C. Patterson, Mrs. Stanley Coleman, Mrs. J. A. Court Upholds Sentences For Boys In $5 Robbery

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The State Supreme Court today upheld prison sentences given three Tampa youths for robbing a man of $5.

Steve Stanford, 17, and Robert G. Rowell, 18, each were given six years, and Ray G. Pillsbury, 18, was sentenced to 10 years.

The three boys were charged with robbing Paul Gonzales of Tampa at knife point after Gonzales asked them to help him start his stalled car.

Attorneys for the three contended the youths made were not freely and voluntarily made. Another youth involved in the robbery did not appeal the case.

But the court, in a split opinion written by Justice E. Harris Drew, said it could find no basis to overturn the decision of the Hillsborough Circuit Court.

"The fact that a small amount of money was involved is of no importance," the court said. "The fact that whatever property the victim had upon him was taken from him forcibly by the use of a dangerous weapon is the crime which is condemned by society."

Chief Justice Glenn Terrell and not agree with the majority opinion. He said he could not express an opinion on the confessions, but he thought the sentences were "cruel and unusual" because of the boys' ages.

Terrell said a sentence of 10, 6 and six years, for taking five dollars, a dollar and a half for each defendant, even if they took it, is "cruel and unusual" and entirely disproportionate to the nature of the crime for which defendants were convicted.

Assessor Is Late With Own Taxes; Pays Fine, Too

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Last month city tax assessor Joe Hicks dutifully mailed himself a tax form for the purpose of listing his personal property.

Then he became one of the 95 per cent of Memphis residents who failed to fill out the form and return it.

He announced Tuesday that he had levied an arbitrary assessment upon himself, as he does with other citizens who fail to list for taxes.

After paying the $45 levy, Hicks expressed a feeling that probably is shared by many of his fellow citizens:

"This tax makes story tellers out of so many people they ought to throw it out the window."

Commies Getting Bolder After Rulings Of Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The word today from Communist Publisher William L. Patterson is directly to the point.

"Let's be bolder," is Patterson's proposal to the Communist and fellow traveler leaders of the party's weekly newspaper The Worker.

"McCarthyism has sustained a heartening defeat in our country," Patterson continued. "American reaction has in fact sustained a number of defeats on the political as well as the moral front."

"We say this because it must be made clear that the prevailing political atmosphere permits increasing activities with lessening danger of victimization."

Patterson is general manager of the Communist newspaper. The foregoing quotations are from a statement which appeared over Patterson's signature in The Worker of Feb. 15.

It could not be often that Patterson and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover would agree on anything relating to the Communist Party. They are in accord, however, in believing that Communist in the U. S. can conspire more safely right now against the general welfare than they could for some time previously.

On Dec. 22, 1958, Hoover put it this way:

"Seeing a more favorable atmosphere, the Communist Party, USA, and its dupes and sympathizers gained further courage and became more vocal in their attacks upon law enforcement and other professions which are dedicated to preserving our freedoms."

This more favorable atmosphere to the Communist conspiracy has come about coincidentally with a series of decisions by the U. S. Supreme Court in the field of subversion and national security. The overall impact of these decisions is a matter of controversy, usually angry.

There is not much dissent from the proposition that these decisions greatly weakened or in considerable degree nullified federal and state laws enacted to protect the U. S. against subversive activities. None, other than Communist and their stooges, would be likely to argue that such weakening or nullification of itself, was good for the U. S.

5 Elephants Visit Queen Elizabeth

JINGA, Uganda (UPI)—The footman came impassively up to Queen Mother Elizabeth and said: "There's an elephant at the door, madam."

It happened Tuesday night as Queen Elizabeth finished dinner in her special air conditioned safari camp lodge in Uganda's Murchison Falls National park.

The queen mother rushed to the window and saw a guard shooting a large elephant from the door step.

Then the royal party, which is touring British East Africa, went out on the veranda.

"I'm sure there are still animals near," said a nervous voice. It was Lady Jane Rankin, a lady in waiting.

"I hear something breathing," she muttered.

Game Warden Bruce Inloch turned over the veranda edge.

There were five elephants, looking at the queen mother and her party.

Liz Buys Bonds, Then Joins Eddie To Buy Some More

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor pledged to buy $100,000 in Israel bonds at a banquet Tuesday night and also made a joint pledge with singer Eddie Fisher for an additional $10,000 worth.

A total of $1,250,000 was received from the star-studded audience in pledges.

Abraham Feinberg, national president of the Development Corp. for Israel, caused an embarrassed titter at the plush banquet when he said:

"A $10,000 contribution was made by Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds (pause) er, ah, Elizabeth Taylor."

Eddie Cantor praised Miss Taylor's contribution, saying: "I'm delighted the academy has nominated Elizabeth Taylor for an Oscar as best actress of the year and not for someone who has fallen in love."

Labor Plans Drive On South's Plants

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI)—The AFL-CIO announced today a new drive to organize six million industrial workers in the South and 14 million white collar workers throughout the U. S.

Organizing director John Livingston said the new drive would be in addition to plans to charter a new Puerto Rican truckdrivers' union to oppose efforts by James H. Hoffa's Teamsters Union to gain a foothold on the island.

Livingston and President George Meany, who presided at the nine-day executive council meeting which ended here Tuesday, belittled the teamster drive to gain a foothold on the island.

He said his organizing department now has more requests for aid from affiliates than at any time since the merger, especially in Louisiana, Florida, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, the Carolinas, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia.

Rossellini Dodges Marriage Question

PARIS (UPI)—Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini confirmed his "deep respect and admiration" for Indian scriptwriter Sonali Das Gupta today, but as for marriage—"it's a little difficult to say."

Rossellini, asked to comment on French and British newspaper reports that he planned to marry Mrs. Das Gupta as soon as he received an annulment from his marriage to actress Ingrid Bergman, told United Press International:

"The press does not always combine the wishes and desires of people with facts."

"Life is subtle, discreet and intimate and what can be in the wishes of people does not always correspond with the facts."

"Everything is very uncertain. I am awaiting for an annulment of my marriage and I don't know whether that will come through or how long it will take."

Rossellini confirmed that Mrs. Das Gupta, whom he met while filming a picture in India, has been living with American millionaire William Copley and his wife at their home outside Paris.

Asked whether he visited her there regularly, Rossellini replied: "Yes—often. Several times a week."

The director declined comment on the daughter Mrs. Das Gupta was reported to have borne in Paris in December, 1957. French newspapers said the baby was christened Paola Raffaella Mary and that the parents were not listed on the birth certificate.

Insanity Is Ruled In Boys' Slays

KINGSTON, England (UPI)—Mrs. Diana Bromley, niece of actor Boris Karloff, was ruled insane today at her trial for the murder of her two sons.

Mrs. Bromley, 40, wife of government official Thomas Bromley, was found "insane and unfit to plead." Judge Austin Jones ordered her indefinite detention in an institution.

The boys, Martin, 13, and Stephen, 10, were found dead last December by their father on his return to the family home in suburban Haslemere. Mrs. Bromley was found wandering in the garden. Martin was dead of strangulation and Stephen of drowning.

Dr. Mervin Williams, senior medical officer of Holloway Prison, testified that Mrs. Bromley had been treated three times in mental hospitals before the killings.

Karloff, who was born in England as William Henry Pratt, is the brother of Mrs. Bromley's late father.

Sir Christopher Ween was 78 years old when he finished rebuilding St. Paul's Cathedral in London in the early 1700's. He had himself hauled to the 365-foot-high dome in a basket, where he would dangle for hours.

X-Rays Bring Early Detection Of TB

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease that can be cured. It is not inherited, and can best be found by a chest X-ray.

There is no disgrace in having tuberculosis. It is like having the measles or a cold, only far more dangerous.

Free chest X-rays are now available in Sanford and Seminole County through the mobile units of the State Health Department. The process takes less than a minute; there is no need to undress. Metal objects around the neck or chest should be removed, however.

The film will be studied by specially trained physicians with the County and State Health Departments. The X-rays can indicate lung cancer, heart disorders and chest conditions other than TB. If the X-ray is normal, the patient will be informed within three weeks.

If it isn't normal, and this happens to only one out of 1,000, a confidential report will be sent to the patient. He will be instructed to have a larger X-ray made.

The county unit will be at the Fosgate Citrus Plant tomorrow from 8:45 a. m. and 2:45 p. m. The Sanford unit will remain at Yowell's in the downtown area. The free X-ray service is provided by contributions to Christ-

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Screeney and daughter, Pat, were visited by approximately 100 guests when they were hosts at an open house Sunday afternoon.

Rev. George Granger of Christ Episcopal church and candle-bearer Tommy Stevens, preceded the number of callers into the lovely new home on Grant Street. Each room was blessed and candles were lighted to remain aglow until all visitors departed.

Mrs. William Mott of Fern Park was in charge of the guest-book. Mrs. George Granger cut the cake while Mrs. I. L. Cox presided over the punch bowl.

Miss Eleanor Carter of the School of Music, Orlando, played background music on the harp throughout the afternoon.

Serving hostesses were Miss Lorette Werner, Fern Park, and Miss Margaret Stevens.

Floral arrangements of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums were placed throughout the home.

Bailey Says State
Needs Federal Aid

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey says federal aid will be needed if the quality of Florida's educational program is to meet the demands of the space age.

Bailey predicted that within 10 years, the federal government will be paying 25 per cent of the cost of all public education. He said he doubts that Florida's present tax structure will provide enough money for increased school costs.

"Florida has reached the practical limits of educational improvement through state and local tax sources," he said. And every time Florida finds itself in financial difficulties, the Legislature starts cutting away at the school program, he noted.

Legislators are now talking about reducing programs for free textbooks, kindergarten, exceptional children, adult education and summer enrichment.

The Budget Commission has reduced by $1,207,000 the estimated state appropriation for schools in the coming two years. It hopes the money will be made up by additional county contributions made possible by increased valuations of property for tax purposes. But Bailey doubts this plan will make up all the reduction.

Reedy Would Educate North; Problems Big

W. H. (Bill) Reedy, Lake County legislator, has authorized a plan which he hopes to sell to the legislatures of all southern states. Aim of the plan is to educate the North about conditions in the South.

Called "The Voice of the Southern States," the plan would entail a public relations-advertising campaign in behalf of the modern South. Reedy, in a speech to the local Rotary Club on Monday, said he is convinced that the average northerner views the South in pre-Civil War terms.

Reedy would exclude from his campaign all proponents of rabble-rousing, race hatred, court-condemning and North-condemning. Instead, he would use movies to show that Negroes do have fine schools; interviews with Negro leaders to prove that Negroes are well-treated, and statements from Negro doctors and lawyers concerning the status of the Negro in the South.

Reedy suggested that the South go on the offensive. Throughout the current hassle, the South has been busy defending itself.

Each southern legislature would appropriate $1 million for the campaign. Under Reedy's plan, the money would be spent to "educate" those in America who need it most.

The Reedy Plan has merit. But, it shouldn't be viewed as something certain to bring success. Many obstacles must be surmounted, even if all legislatures appropriate the $1 million each.

Combating the South's "pay-as-you-go" campaign to educate the North will be a free anti-South campaign on behalf of the North. This cold, hard fact must be faced. The free anti-South campaign is waged on television, radio, in national magazines and large newspapers. Home base for all of this national media is in the North.

In many instances, the men who control this national media are not nearly so interested in truth as they are in popularity. It is very popular for metropolitan newspapers to denounce the South. They have great Negro readership, in addition to the multitudes who think the South is composed only of magnolia trees and mint juleps.

The same "desire to be popular" is the guiding star of many magazines and other media.

How else can media explain the omission of news of race trouble in their home towns, but at the same time dispatch reporters and photographers to integration scenes in the South?

Official Can't Quit

Usually, when an appointed official wants to resign, he does just that.

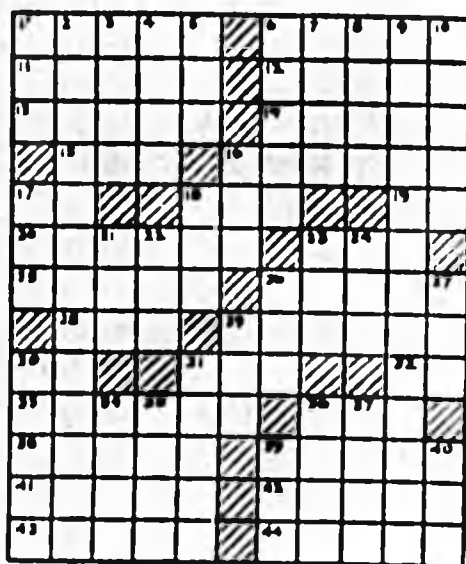

However, such was not the case in Sanford Monday night. The appointed official, Clifford McKibbin Jr., wrote the usual "I very much regret . . ." letter of resignation. City Commissioners, just as "regretful" about the resignation, said McKibbin couldn't resign his position as chairman of the Planning and Zoning Board.

In his letter, McKibbin said in part "I have always felt that each citizen should give of his time and talents for the good of his city." City Commissioners think so, too. Commissioners, however, disagreed with McKibbin's next statement, which was to the effect that he felt it was time for another to assume these duties.

Commissioners think they have the best possible man on the job. For the good of Sanford and its future, they want to keep him there.

SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Assignment Washington

By Ed Koterba
WASHINGTON — There's been a secret preserved far beneath the front steps of the United States Capitol for more than a century and a half.

One day this old secret, rapt in a wealth of history and drama, may be reverted into a shrine which would well become one of the country's greatest tourist attractions.

I speak of the original cornerstone of our Capitol building which was laid in an aura of glorious pomp on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 18, 1793, by President George Washington.

Right now, workmen rebuilding the East Front are digging for that stone with hand tools. No one knows just where it is. The mystery was preserved when the British destroyed the Capitol in 1814 — and burned the only drawings which showed where the stone was located.

I stopped by the basement of the Capitol's genial white-haired architect, George Stewart, to learn more about the proposed shrine. Stewart talked about it with cautious optimism.

The room would be built around the stone and illuminated and made accessible to tourists. Stewart, who keenly recognizes the importance of historical things in the makeup of our American heritage, was keeping his fingers crossed.

The shrine will be built if it's architecturally possible to do so. After all, Stewart figures, the mystery of the cornerstone has been preserved long enough.

What does the cornerstone contain? No one knows. In all the archives in Washington which I have searched, there is no indication of its contents.

One thing sure, Stewart would not open that original stone, once it is located. It would be a sacrilege, he said.

Apparently no one has laid eyes on that historical block since the year 1793. Earth was pushed over it in the processes of construction, and there it lies, somewhere in the southeast corner of the East Front.

This much is known: The stone bears a silver plate on which is inscribed the account that Masonic Lodge No. 22 of Alexandria, Va., took part in the ceremony. News articles of that day tell how a company of volunteer artillery crossed the Potomac from Virginia to meet the President.

"The artillery discharged a volley," the dispatches read. "The plate was then delivered to the President who descended to the Cavation trench and deposited the plate on the cornerstone on which were deposited corn, wine and oil."

The stories tell how "the whole congregation joined in reverential prayer which was succeeded by Masonic chanting honors and a volley from the artillery."

After the ceremony, President Washington and the guests feasted there in front of the Capitol on a barbecued ox of 600 pounds.

Incidentally, Stewart has on his desk the near-perturbed joint bone of an ox unearthed the other day under the Capitol. He believes it may have been a remnant of the ox feast.

Bar Prexy Anxious To Get Back Home

United Press International

The president of the American Bar Association likes his work, but he is anxious to get back to his own private practice in Roswell, N. M.

During his term as head of the ABA, Ross L. Malone, 48, has had time to handle only one case. It involved $100 and was before a jury for four days.

Malone, a balding man with quick wit, has been sitting with the New Mexico delegation to the mid-winter meeting of the ABA in Chicago. He listens intently to every committee report and shakes hands with just about everyone passing by.

Malone said he probably has traveled more in the last six months than in his 28 years as a lawyer. He has spoken in about 23 states and Mexico City and plans to appear in Alaska and Australia in the near future.

"I've enjoyed my work with the ABA," he said, "but it's sure been tough on my law partners. I'll be glad to get back."

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs
WASHINGTON — For 10 years the vast mainland of China and 600,000,000 Chinese have been walled away from the knowledge of the American people. During this decade of revolutionary change in China we have had only the most incidental and peripheral reports of what is happening there.

Nothing quite like it, certainly not in the age of fast communication, has been known before. In the years from 1917 to 1933 when the United States withheld recognition from Communist Russia a number of Americans — newspapermen, travelers, students — visited the Soviet Union. Scarcely a dozen Americans, and only one journalist with the approval of the State Department, have visited the great unknown of China since 1949.

It is as though in the days before Columbus the air about the seas around mainland China were nonexistent on Western maps and charts. To paraphrase the words of the greatest man of our time, seldom have so many been ignorant of so much. So much, it is necessary to add, that so profoundly relates to their future.

Now there are beginning to be signs in the country of concern over the great wall around China. While cautious, it still the rule, some people are beginning to ask whether the time has not come to consider recognition of Communist China. Others are asking if it would not be helpful to have prominent Americans visit Peking and talk with Chinese Communist officials as such Americans have talked in the past year and a half with Russians in Moscow.

Prompting this concern are reports out of China of the profound and pervasive hostility of the Chinese people toward America and Americans. This is taken as evidence of the effectiveness of the incessant propaganda disseminated by every means with fanatical zeal under the driving force of the small group of men who exercise total control.

When Pierre Mendes-France, the former French Premier, returned last fall from a tour of China he reported that never before had he felt reason to fear the hostility of a whole people. Their leaders, yes, but not the masses. In China, he reported, he sensed a mass hatred of the West and particularly America.

A little recent history indicates, however, that United States policy on China will almost certainly not change in the last two years of the Eisenhower Administration. One of the truly dedicated men whom the President brought to Washington in a position of great responsibility sought within the past year to get at least a review of this policy. He used all his considerable influence but in the end he could not even get the subject on the agenda of the National Security Council. This is believed to have been one of the frustrations that led him to resign.

Those in the government, and some of them are influential, who advocate considering a change come under attack from the violent partisans of Chiang Kai-shek. These partisans, many of them motivated by a real love of China, others by more dubious motives, know that they have in Assistant Secretary of State for Far Eastern Affairs Walter Robertson one who will hold the line. For six years Robertson has persisted in the belief that internal conflict and spreading revolution will bring the Communist regime down.

Advocates of a change in policy, or at the very least a re-examination, frankly acknowledge that Peking would respond to recognition with a rebuff. One estimate is that for every year of the boycott three years will be required to normalize relations. Under this computation it will take 20 years to get on normal relations with the most populous country in the world.

So the great wall around China will not soon be breached and Americans will continue to have only the vaguest notion of what is perhaps the most radical revolution ever undertaken. The shock, when and if reality breaks in, may be very great.

Kefauver Opposes Financing Of Cars By Manufacturers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today banks and independent money-lenders would lose more than 60 per cent of the nation's new car financing business unless auto manufacturers are barred from the credit field.

Kefauver, chairman of the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, made the statement in opening hearings on bills to prohibit auto makers from financing sales of new cars.

Initial testimony was scheduled from witnesses representing the Federal Trade Commission and financing groups from various sections of the country. Kefauver said that in 1954 the General Motors Acceptance Corporation (GMAC) financed about 68 per cent of the time-payment sales of General Motors dealers.

"If Ford and Chrysler re-enter the finance business and are successful as General Motors," he said, "independent finance companies and the banks would be excluded from more than 60 per cent of the total financing of new cars."

Kefauver's bill, co-sponsored by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) would bar auto manufacturers from financing the retail purchase price of passenger cars for any purpose other than resale. The ban also would extend to insurance policies and would become effective next Jan. 1.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" — The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sways and leans disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability on "curvy roads" so you can offer.

FREE! If you would like a report of the complete illustrated article with all the test and evaluation on which Motor Trend named Pontiac "Car of the Year" 1959, send your name and address to Pontiac Motor Sales, Division, Department 10, Pontiac, Michigan.

Jable Talk

REV. ERNEST BOLICK JR., Good Shepherd Lutheran Church

Two of the most important items in a Survival Kit are the knife and the life raft. Most kits contain a flare pistol, C Rations, water and fishing tackle. These are comparatively useless items unless the raft is included. The survivor may eat the food, he may shoot the flares, but his rescue in most cases is relatively hopeless unless he can board the raft. If he manages to get to land aboard the raft, he will use the knife to protect himself, to build a shelter, to gather food. The knife, too, is a mainstay. Only the most hopelessly foolish man would take the knife to his raft while floating in the middle of the sea.

In a sense, many persons actually do that very thing. Judas followed through with suicide. There is a form of suicide, however, that does not require a knife, a rope, or gun. It is that which sees man's reason... his sin as the knife, and sees Jesus Christ as the Raft on the sea of life. Only a fool would deny that Jesus is his Lord... the only means of getting him to shore in safety and with assurance.

But our world is full of fools who like Peter, at one time, deny the Gospel that Christ is the only life raft available... Some keep hoping that they can swim to shore without Him. They hope that the false prophet who talked to them last night will come along in his cabin cruiser and help them on board. The boat looks stronger and more seaworthy, and the knife of reason is raised... "Christ is too small... too weak... One man alone for the sins of all"... therefore slash!... I no longer need Him! It is over... the fool dies. The raft still floats. To all outward appearance, he is alive... inside, he hates the world, and he thinks the world hates him. He is dead, but he won't sink... a victim of the sea of the world... a fool to his own reason. His last gasp is "I want no bloody charity... I'll get there alone... on my own!"

This seems to be a gloomy picture to paint of the self-sufficient fool of our day, but this is the frame of mind Lent demands of man look within... are you foolish or wise? Lent is much more than a period of 40 days before Easter. This is a period of soul-searching. Now we can examine ourselves and ask if we will accept this little Life Raft of bloodstains, tearstains and thorns. And we behold the Captain... a man offensive to our reason... Who looks least of all like a mariner. He is "A man of sorrows, acquainted with grief. He bows us up, and as we come aboard, we smell the scent of ashes, and feel the coarseness of the sackcloth rub against our soul.

We are cleansed... and we are assured that this craft is seaworthy, and the cross that we thought was too heavy suddenly becomes a mast, and we fairly sail through our journey glorifying God for His great mercy. A Cross, a Mast, a Crown of thorns, they must mean something to you... don't be a fool, hang on and live.

Navy Luau To Be A Gala Event Of May

One of the most colorful parties ever to be held in Seminole County will be the Navy Relief Luau, sponsored by the Officers' Wives Club of the Naval Air Station to be given on May 16th.

One thousand tickets are now available for this party which will include fabulous Polynesian food and drink, a professional floor show, dancing to orchestra music and a beautiful fashion show of authentic Hawaiian clothes flown to Sanford for this fantastic evening.

Mrs. Rollins Swedish Recipe

Those who attended the wonderful Smorgasbord at the Congregation Christian Church recently found an array of tasty foods including many original Swedish dishes. And the person responsible for the Limpa was Mrs. Howard E. Rollins who passed the recipe on to other members of the church who prepared this Swedish bread.

Mrs. Rollins (Allen) says that at home she mainly specializes in "plain old" American food but her Swedish influence pops up occasionally and then she turns to the recipe book that she received years ago while a nurse at the Swedish Convent Hospital in Chicago. And since she was located in the northwest side of Chicago, where one will find many first generation Swedes, she has attended many a Smorgasbord.

In Sweden the Smorgasbord is a traditional prelude to a several course meal. In America we have altered it somehow so it may be called a buffet supper and serve it as the main course.

The Rollins family found Sanford through the Navy. When retirement time came they built the Rollins Hobby Shop which they now own and operate. They have two sons, Thomas and Paul. Here is Mrs. Rollins recipe for Limpa, a sweet yeast bread.

1 cake compressed yeast; 1 T. lukewarm water; 2 c. milk; 6 c. white flour; 1 c. dark corn syrup; 1/2 c. molasses; 1/2 t. fennel seeds; 1 t. anise seed; 1/2 c. shortening; 8 c. rye flour; 1 T. salt; grated rind of 2 oranges.

Dissolve yeast with lukewarm water, scald milk and allow it to cool to lukewarm. Combine the lukewarm milk with 2 c. water, the yeast and 6 c. of white flour and beat well. Allow this sponge to double in bulk. Combine syrup, molasses, fennel seed and anise seed in a saucepan and bring to boil and boil for one minute. Strain the mixture through a fine sieve to remove the seeds. Add shortening to strained syrup and allow mixture to cool. Add this to the light sponge with 8 c. of rye flour, salt and grated rind of oranges. Mix dough well, turn out onto a lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in lightly greased large oval cover and let rise until double. Shape into round loaves, place on greased pan and again allow the dough to double in bulk. Bake the loaves in a 400 degree oven for 15 mins., then reduce the heat to 350 and continue to bake for about 40 minutes longer or until done.

Church Calendar

A recent meet was held at the home of Mrs. Hal Lang and the following committees were appointed.

General chairman, Mrs. J. D. Ramage; captain of tickets and publicity committees, Mrs. D. E. Brubaker; ticket chairman, Mrs. L. M. Rowell; publicity chairman, Mrs. L. R. Bauer; captain of facilities, Mrs. N. K. Melnick; housing chairman, Mrs. L. D. Tammy; decoration chairman, Mrs. J. B. Sangster; captain of food and beverage committees, Mrs. H. Lang, beverage committee, Cdr. E. Yates; Luau chairman, Mrs. S. Day; captain of program, Mrs. F. Jablonski; music and entertainment chairman, to be announced; fashion show chairman, Mrs. J. W. Crawford; chairman of leis, Mrs. E. Yates; Navy Relief Luau treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Langford.

The usual and wonderful cooperation and friendship between town and Navy people has already been shown.

This is a party where everyone can help and many people have volunteered their help with the decorating, making of leis, straw mats and numerous other jobs.

To show their appreciation, the volunteer work the Navy wives have done at the Seminole Memorial Hospital, a large group of Seminole Hospital Auxiliary "Pink Ladies" are taking instruction in making leis and promise to deliver a box of these colorful decorations for the Luau.

Many women are already on the "look-out" for Hawaiian style clothes and gay Hawaiian shirts for their husbands but although costumes will add to the atmosphere of the party it is not necessary to wear Hawaiian clothes.

The Luau will be held at Lake Golden, the outdoor recreation area of the Naval Air Station, and it will be transformed into a Hawaiian paradise with grass huts, a blue lagoon, thousands of flowers and greens, and the soft sound of ukuleles will be heard to make this Luau a night to be remembered.

Proceeds of the Luau will go to the Navy Relief Fund which is an organization whose purpose is to assist in times of need, the members of the Naval service and their dependents, and the dependents of deceased members.

Ward - Thomas

Mrs. Marjorie Ruth Thomas and Charles Woodrow Ward were united in marriage Friday evening, seven o'clock, at the First Baptist Church of Winter Park.

The Rev. Lane A. Patrick, pastor, officiated at the double-ring service.

Mrs. Beulah H. Merrill, mother of the bride, and Sumner M. Sanborn, Winter Park, were the couple's only attendants.

Mrs. Ward is a native Floridian and presently is employed in Orlando. Mr. Ward is a native of Sanford, attended schools here and is presently engaged as a dealer in farm and grove equipment.

Following a short wedding trip through the southern part of the State the couple will be at home on Virginia Drive, Altamonte Springs.

Learning To Live Program Topic

The Xi Beta Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. J. W. Protosch and had as its program topic "Learning To Live".

Mrs. Harold Chapman and Mrs. G. Andrew Speer were in charge of the program during which time each member displayed things they had made and discussed their favorite hobby.

Mrs. V. B. Hardin, president, presided over the meeting and read "Thank You" notes from two members not present, Mrs. Volie Williams, Jr., and Mrs. C. M. Nichols. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carlton Bliss on March 9th.

Members present were Mrs. Hardin, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Speer, Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. J. L. Horton, Jr., Mrs. Frank Melbane, Mrs. R. B. Saxon, Mrs. Don Bales, Mrs. E. C. Harper, Jr. and Mrs. W. G. Fleming.

Big Deal

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Orator F. Woodward bought the formula for a gelatine dessert for $450 just before the turn of the century and founded a company to produce it. Twenty-five years later, the Woodward family sold the Jell-O Co. for stock in the Postum Co. valued at $67 million.

JUST LIKE BETSY ROSS, Mrs. Henry Roes and Janice Herrmann, 6, of West Hempstead, N. Y., are busy making their own 49 star U. S. flags. Their work is made easy by a new do-it-yourself kit. It consists of a one-yard square of washable cotton fabric printed with three flags. One flag is 24 by 36 inches, and two are 12 by 18 inches. The three flags are cut apart and hemmed.

In Sanford 25 Years Ago

February 26, 1934 The home of Mrs. James G. Sharon, 918 Magnolia Avenue, was the scene of the regular meeting of the N. de V. Howard Chapter of U. D. C. held Friday afternoon with Mrs. G. D. Bishop presiding. Mrs. C. P. Herndon opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer.

During the business session it was decided to send a donation to state headquarters for the annual reunion of Confederate veterans to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., in June. It was also decided at this time to sponsor the Florida League for Better Schools.

Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff announced that she ordered the monthly U. D. C. magazine. The meeting was then brought to the close with the song, "Fencing Tonight On The Camp Grounds." Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Jane B. Smith.

Those present were: Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. F. E. Rountell, Mrs. C. P. Herndon, Mrs. P. M. Elder, Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. James G. Sharon and Miss Margaret Roberts.

Winners Known

The Sanford Duplicate Bridge Club met at Community Center last Thursday evening and the following winners have been announced.

First award, Mrs. J. E. Baker and Mrs. Bertie Roberts, second, Mrs. Leonard Munson and Mrs. Charles Bone. Third, Mrs. Irene Buckley and son, Jim Duway; fourth, Mrs. George McCall and Mrs. Margaret Davis.

The next games will be Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Community Center.

Planning ahead EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Instead of making sandwiches each day for school or work lunches, Michigan State University home economists suggest that you make several at a time and freeze them until you need them.

You will get best results by using butter as a spread, as mayonnaise or salad dressing tend to make sandwiches soggy when thawed.

Sauce for Chicken NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's an easy barbecue sauce for chicken using very little oil. Put 1/2 cup prepared mustard in a 1-cup measure. Add 1/2 cup unsulphured molasses and stir to blend. Add 1/4 cup lemon juice, 2 tablespoons each salad oil and Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon tabasco and 1/2 teaspoon each salt and monosodium glutamate. Mix well. This makes enough sauce for 2 broiler fryers serving 1 person.

Three Clubs Talk Big Player Trade

By TIM MCHARTY
United Press International
The Milwaukee Braves, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds are looking up player trades under the hot Florida sun that could develop into a three-team smorgasbord.

All three clubs need help at vital positions. The Braves are searching for a replacement for their hospitalized second baseman, Red Schoendienst; the Cardinals would like to acquire a hard hitting outfielder, and the Reds need a first baseman and/or pitcher. General managers Bing Devine of the Cardinals and Gabe Paul of the Reds exchanged views during a trade talk at St. Petersburg Tuesday and John McHale, the Braves new GM, conferred with Devine earlier this week.

Here are some of the trades reportedly being kicked around under the sheltering palms: Jerry Lynch of the Reds for Vinegar Bend Mizell of the Cardinals; Gene Cooley of the Braves for Irv Noren or Bobby Gene Smith of the Cardinals, Don Blasingame of the Cardinals for Bob Buhl of the Braves, Johnny Temple of the Reds for Conley and Bunt or Don McMahon and Joe Adcock.

Seminole Beaten By DeLand, 67-34

The Sanford cagers went down to defeat last night in their tilt against the DeLand Bulldogs, 67-34.

The fast, but small, basketballers got off to a bad start. The score at the end of the first quarter was 13-7. From then on the Seminoles could get on their feet. The game was the last of the regular season for Sanford.

Little Ray Lundquist led the Seminoles with 10 points, Cecil Dandridge scored six, Wally Phillips and Christenson each contributed five points, and Lin Huser, Clifford McKibbin and Jim Gracey each had two points. John Alired and Alex McKibbin each had one point to their credit.

Late Cocoa Rally Tops Oviedo Lions

The Oviedo cagers gave Cocoa a rough time last night, but were defeated in the last quarter, when Cocoa bucketed 21 points against Oviedo's three.

The Lions led at the end of the first quarter, 11-10, then dropped back one point at the end of the second, 27-26. At the end of the third quarter, the score was tied 27-27.

In the last quarter the fast Lions couldn't find their range against Cocoa, and lost, 58-40.

Jimmy Brookshire led his team with 21 points, followed by Mike Duda with 8, Wallace Kelley bucketed 6, Joe Duda made 5, Smith and Wainwright each scored 4, Ternasky made 2, and Arndt, Alford and Willis made no points, but contributed to the fine playing effort.

$25,000 At Stake In NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Boston Celtics or St. Louis Hawks can earn as much as $25,000 if they go all the way in the National Basketball Association playoffs next month.

Each team already has earned $5,000 for clinching first place in their respective divisions. Another $1,000 bonus will go to the team with the highest win-loss percentage.

In the playoffs, the semifinal winners will earn $1,000 each. The winner of the championship final will get a $12,000 out of the pool and the loser will earn $7,000.

The various bonuses were announced Tuesday at a meeting of the league board of directors, who also agreed to send their expansion and alignment committee to Chicago March 9 to survey prospects for a new franchise.

Judge To Listen To Chisox Story

CHICAGO (UPI)—Probate Judge Robert Jerome Dunne will hear both sides of the Chicago White Sox story today when Charles Comiskey and his sister testify in the family skirmish over the club's stock.

Comiskey, who seeks to nullify the sale of Mrs. Dorothy Higney's stock to Bill Veeck, Tuesday challenged the sale through his attorney, Alice Bright.

Comiskey has petitioned the court to remove Mrs. Higney as executrix of the estate of their mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, and to rule invalid the estate portion of the stock sold last week to Veeck, former owner of the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians.

BOX OFFICE BET? - - - By Alan Maver

ROCKY COLAVITO, OF CLEVELAND, WHO'S EXPECTED TO BE ONE OF THE BEST BOX OFFICE BETS FOR 1959.

This Is Colavito's Year To Become Power Hitter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball's spring training swings into full blast this week and one of the major expectations is that it marks the start of a season in which young Rocky Colavito will make himself felt as one of the game's top power hitters.

The 23-year-old Cleveland outfielder was right up there last season. He batted only .301 but finished one blast behind Mickey Mantle in home runs and second in Jackie Jensen in runs batted in.

Which isn't bad for a lad who, (they say) could be the fastest pitcher in baseball. Rocky has a phenomenal arm, one with which he fires the ball prodigious distances and, in baseball parlance, capable of flinging the ball through a wooden plank.

J. W. Porter, the former Cleveland catcher who during the off season was traded to Washington, swears that the powerful Colavito throws harder than either Herb or Byrne Duren. Those two, incidentally, are regarded as the fastest pitchers in baseball.

Joe Gordon, the Indian manager, last season pitched Colavito in an exhibition game against Cincinnati. Before the game started, Gordon offered to wager that Rocky would fan four batters in a two-inning stretch. He did better than that. He struck out five of the six hitters—no one caring or daring to take a toehold against him.

Down through the years of his minor league wanderings, including such way stations as Daytona Beach, Cedar Rapids, Spartanburg, Reading, Indianapolis and San Diego, Colavito's arm became a legend. Every place he went, one of the first things demanded was that he throw a ball over the centerfield fence. The distances this 190-pounder heaved the ball when he wound up his 6 foot, 3 inch frame were amazing.

Baseball Birthday
AMHERST, Mass. (UPI)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and the presidents of both major leagues are expected to be on hand for the 100th anniversary celebration of the first intercollegiate baseball game between Amherst and Williams. The game will be split between the two campuses March 15-16.

Tomorrow night another Ladies Night is slated at the oval. All women will be admitted without any charges.

Probation Ordered In Near-Riot Case

GREENSBORO, N.C. (UPI)—All Wake Forest and North Carolina basketball players were on strict probation today while both schools and their athletes, coaches and students were on notice to halt the "deteriorating" relationship between the institutions.

Commissioner Jim Weaver of the Atlantic Coast Conference announced the action following his investigation of the "near-riot" Feb. 12 when the schools clashed in a basketball game at Winston-Salem. North Carolina won the game, 73-66.

Weaver released his report and ruling Tuesday night after more than 10 days of talking to players on both teams, game officials and school authorities and watching several different movies of the game, which he did not witness as a spectator.

The commissioner singled out a number of players for special censure and criticized Coaches Frank McGuire of North Carolina and Horace McKinney of Wake Forest. "One is compelled to conclude that lack of discipline on both benches has been the major factor in the deteriorating relationships between the teams under consideration," Weaver said referring to other incidents.

"Each coach has in the past been guilty of acts which could incite the players and spectators or intimidate officials," he added. "If coaches cannot practice self-control, they cannot expect to have disciplined players and, of necessity, discipline must be imposed from some other source."

The commissioner said he came to the conclusion as the result of his probe that the riot was started by Lee Shaffer of Carolina and Charlie Forte of Wake Forest. However, he noted extenuating circumstances.

"I am inclined to believe," he said, "that what occurred between these boys would have been of little consequence had not the Wake Forest bench rushed onto the floor, joined within seconds by the Carolina substitutes. . . . Naturally when the spectators arrived, bedlam was inevitable."

But he believed the bout with Boyd, now seventh ranked among the middleweights, would be a "good money fight to try to make ends meet while I'm waiting for a title chance."

Webb beat Boyd in their only previous meeting, in 1954, scoring a sixth round knockout.

Blonde Isn't The Hazard To Hubby That Home Is

NEW YORK (UPI)—It isn't the blonde in the office who is a hazard to your husband. It's the booby-trap in the home. One safety expert today urged women to switch the signals on chivalry and start protecting the men, if they want to keep the supply anywhere near the demand. One of the best places to begin: Home, sweet home, where most accidents occur. Mrs. Marjorie May, home safety director for 13 years with the Greater New York Safety Council, said that more male than female babies are born each year in this country. But a lot of the males never reach the marrying age.

Deaths
BEDFORD, Va. (UPI)—Dr. Robert S. Barrett, 81, former grand exalted ruler of the ELKS, died Tuesday after a short illness.
NEW YORK (UPI)—August Hannibal Jr., 63, mayor of Teaneck, N.J., died Tuesday in New York Hospital of a coronary thrombosis.
VIENNA (UPI)—The Rev. Albert Egon Turscani, 63, former personal secretary to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, has died in a Hungarian prison, the Austrian Catholic Press service reported Tuesday.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International
MIAMI BEACH—Teamsters President James Hoffa, predicting his union would beat the AFL-CIO in a race to organize workers in Puerto Rico:
"We'll meet this situation as we have met others forced upon us by the AFL-CIO. And...we'll be on top when it is over."

WASHINGTON—Chairman Otto F. Passman (D-La.), predicting that the House appropriations subcommittee would trim President Eisenhower's "wasteful" four-billion dollar foreign aid request despite veto threats:
"The threat of veto — or bluffing tactics — will not shake the integrity of the members of the subcommittee."

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Luther Evans, former director general of the United Nations Economic, Social and Cultural Organization, denying that United States aid was contingent on whether an underdeveloped nation was anti-Communist:
"This is not really the genuine explanation of our efforts. Our moral position is greater and more noble than we have stated it to be."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—They have just finished a big overhaul job on the Washington Monument. One result is that it's even harder to climb. Most sensible people don't try. They ride the elevator, and that's been made easier, quicker, and pleasanter than ever before.

The National Park Service has put a fresh coat of paint on a superfluous sign at the base of the stairs. This says it's illegal to run. For anyone over 20, they ought to make it illegal to walk. Bingo Is Lottery, Barred From Mail

Noting a marked increase in questions about "bingo" as a lottery, Postmaster General Arthur W. Summerfield today released some questions and answers on this subject:
Q. Does State law making bingo legal within individual states make it possible to use the mails to advertise bingo so long as such advertisements go only within state borders?
A. No. Changes in state laws do not affect the federal statutes restricting bingo.

The Postal Lottery Law prohibits any mailing of lottery matter—and bingo is considered a lottery—whether such mailing is a ticket, payment or advertisement. It makes no difference that such mailing is confined within the borders of the state where such lottery may be legalized.
Q. Does the restriction against lottery "advertisements" apply only to newspaper advertisements?
A. No. The restriction applies equally to magazines and periodicals which go through the U. S. mails, as well as to any form of notice advertising a lottery sent through the mails by individuals or organizations.

Paraguay Dictator Is Facing Unrest
By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor
Paraguay has had so many revolutions they are difficult to count and this California-sized country in the heart of South America still is not out of the political woods. For the past five years Gen. Alfredo Stroessner has exercised virtual one-man rule through the army and the all-powerful National Republican or Colorado Party—the only legal party in Paraguay.

Extortionist Gets 5 Years In Prison
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 34-year-old movie studio commissary worker was sentenced to five years in prison Tuesday for attempting to extort $100,000 from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production chief Sol Siegel.
Herbert Strauch, a naturalized German, pleaded guilty last Feb. 2 to the extortion plot in which he threatened the life of both Siegel and his wife. He was arrested last Jan. 15 by FBI agents as he talked with Siegel on the telephone about payment of the extortion money.

Churchill Nearing End Of Vacation
LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (UPI)—The luxury yacht "Christina," with Sir Winston Churchill aboard, sailed Tuesday for Gibraltar, carrying the former prime minister on the last leg of an extended winter vacation.
Sir Winston and Lady Churchill are to fly back to England from Gibraltar, winding up the vacation that began last month. The yacht belongs to Churchill's host, Aristotle Onassis.

Athlete Breaks Bone
NEW YORK (UPI)—Joe Marchiony, Manhattan College's shot put star, has a broken bone in his foot and may not be able to compete in Saturday's ICA track and field championships at Madison as being in the same category as the big lotteries such as the Irish Sweepstakes. Why is bingo considered a "lottery"?

A. The law says it is a lottery. Under federal court decisions, the classic identifications of a lottery are "consideration, chance and prize." There is consideration in the form of the fee paid to play; there is no doubt that there is chance in bingo; and prizes of cash or merchandise are offered.
Q. Suppose the advertisement of a bingo game does not mention "bingo" at all? Is it still prohibited in the mails?
A. Yes, bingo, or similar games using different names, cannot be advertised in any matter carried through the mails. The law cannot be evaded by such words as "Party" or "Games" or "Big Game Wednesday Night" or by merely printing "R." If the advertisement in fact relates to a lottery, it is a violation of the federal law.
Q. Are lotteries conducted for charity exempted in any way from the federal prohibitions?
A. None whatever. The Postal Lottery Law makes no exceptions in favor of lotteries conducted for worthy causes, or which might be regarded as a "little raffle."

Polio About Same As Level Of 1958
JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Twenty-one cases of polio have been diagnosed in the state this year, as compared with 22 at this time in 1958.
Four more cases were reported last week, the State Board of Health said. Paralytic cases were reported in Dade, Hillsborough and Orange counties, and a non-paralytic case in Duval.

Camel outsells every other cigarette for 10th straight year

Latest published cigarette sales figures* prove that Camel continues its 10-year leadership over every other cigarette—every filter, every king-size, every regular. The reason is clear: the costly Camel blend of choice quality Turkish and domestic tobaccos has never been equalled. No other cigarette can bring you the rich flavor, the easygoing mildness, the downright comfort of Camels. Today as always, the best tobacco makes the best smoke.

Alabama Vote Suit Hearing Scheduled

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A hearing will be held here March 5 on a Justice Department effort to make the state of Alabama a party to complaints of discrimination against prospective Negro voters.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. took under advisement a motion by the state to dismiss the original suit aimed at forcing registration of "qualified" Macon County Negroes. He also set the hearing date on the government's motion to amend its complaint.

The federal government charged the Macon County Board of Registrars with violating Negro rights. The government asked for a permanent injunction against the board to prohibit alleged discrimination because of race or color.

State Atty. Gen. MacDonald Gallion claimed the suit should be thrown out on grounds the complaint cannot be enforced through the Civil Rights Act of 1957.

Named in the federal suit were Grady Rogers and E. P. Livingston, both of whom resigned as Macon County registrars Dec. 10. Gallion claimed they resigned "in good faith" and the suit was "completely preposterous." He said action under the Civil Rights Act must be against individual persons and is not enforceable against a board.

The Justice Department contends Rogers and Livingston used the "transparent device of hasty resignation to frustrate federal rights." The agency also claimed the two could not resign until their successors had been appointed since "someone has to turn records over to someone else and Rogers and Livingston have not fulfilled their obligation."

Illegal Vote Close

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The Indiana Senate came within a few votes Tuesday of declaring itself illegal.

A motion by State Sen. Marshall Kizer of Plymouth, Ind., contending the Senate is not a constitutional body because it has not been reappointed, failed by a 26-23 vote.

France mobilized about 20,000 dogs for service in World War I. More than 3,500 were killed and 1,500 missing.

Valentine Royalty
Crowned At Party

By MARIAN R. JONES
Amidst a large group of fellow students and in a setting of royal splendor, Miss Priscilla Tuhy, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Stephen H. Tuhy, and Wallace Kelsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelsey, were crowned Valentine queen and king, Saturday evening at the City Hall Memorial building. Both students, members of the senior class, were elected at a previous informal party by the senior high school student body. The throne was of regal beauty with two large hearts forming the background. Attendants Misses Linda Harris, Naomi Tuhy, Carol Parker, Bessie Fleming, Yvonne King and Julie Fleming were all attired in evening dresses of pastel colors and carried bouquets of red and white in heart shapes. The spacious room was lovely with a variety of valentines gracing the walls and red and white streamers decorating the ceiling. The serving table was overlaid with a Valentine cloth and centered with a large white heart made of net, interspersed with small red hearts.

Mrs. Eddie Parker poured punch. Mrs. John Courier, chairman of the refreshments committee, was assisted by Mrs. James E. Brookshire and Mrs. John Lundy with the serving of delicious Valentine sandwiches, sandwiches and cakes of the Valentine variety. Mrs. George A. Kelsey, recreation chairman, was in charge of the lovely affair with approximately 80 students attending. Proceeds were donated to the Oviedo High School annual fund.

Club Planned Demonstration
Miss Myrtle Wilson, agent, was guest at the Home Demonstration Club meeting last Friday morning at the home of Mrs. C. S. Lee on Lake Charm.

Members made plans for a demonstration at the fair in Sanford on Saturday, at which time Mrs. W. W. Dietrick demonstrated tiered trays for the local club. Mrs. Howard Hunt and Mrs. Dietrick spoke on the "Buying and Arrangement of Furniture."

At noon the members enjoyed sack lunches, supplemented by cake and coffee served by Mrs. Lee.

Those present included Mrs. C. G. Lee, Mrs. Lynn Mosier, Mrs. E. G. Cross, Mrs. W. W. Dietrick, Mrs. Howard Hunt, Mrs. Harbin and Miss Wilson.

Time Change
The time for the Blue and Gold banquet for the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts has been changed to 7 p. m., Thursday.

Mrs. MacLean Dies
Mrs. Bessie MacLean, who has been ill for several weeks, passed away Sunday evening.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of Lake Charm Circle, announce the birth of a son, Richard Henry, on Friday, February 20, at the Winter Park Memorial Hospital. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lee, of Oviedo; and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Seareast, of Limeport, Penn.

'This Old House Is Getting Shaky, This Old House Getting Old'

By Virginia Conn
Herald Staff Writer
First of Two Articles

The lady, half blind and feeble, rose from her bed. The pillow was covered with a burlap sack. "Is it someone to see me?" she asked.

She came into the narrow dark corridor from her room. Tattered curtains hung in shreds at the window. A scrap of rug, a cluttered bureau, a broken chair and a lumpy bed completed the furnishings.

"It must be someone to see me. Is it a man or a woman?" This is the house on the hill—the Seminole County Home.

Here the community bathrooms, one for men, one for women, are barely discernible. Lighted only by painted windows. Odors of age and sickness permeate the wooden floors, bare of paint. Rusty fixtures and cracked porcelain defy sanitation.

In the infirmary, patients use masonite jars for water pitchers. Medicines are kept in a wooden closet; the door opens the wrong way in the hall. Dressings and syringes lie covered on an ancient cabinet.

The infirmary is always full. Most of the patients draw their last breaths here.

Mattresses are too short for the makeshift hospital beds. "That's all right for that man, 'cause he doesn't have any legs," a nurse said. To call for help, men in the dormitory pull on cords attached to a treacherous looking chandelier.

Everything is too narrow; doors, corridors, rooms.

An old man who served the county for more than 20 years lies dying in a rear bedroom. The sun beats through the cracked shades. No curtains here.

Meals must be carried from the main house across the yard. A hot plate warms coffee that has gone cold during the transition.

The makeshift kitchen in the infirmary holds a battered refrigerator for juices and medicine.

Dishes are washed in laundry tubs, then placed back on trays. There are no shelves or cupboards for them.

Many of the keys on the upright piano in the living room are missing. Atop the piano is a tree made of Christmas cards, supplying some color in the bare room.

An old man sits before the blaring TV set. The floor is covered with linoleum. A new chair in one corner looks out of place. The fresh green and white dining room is pleasant and inviting. An old timer works a cross word puzzle on a table. On closer inspection, the oilcloth covering the tables is badly cracked. The curtains are faded and torn.

In all these rooms, paint would help, but it could never hide the large ceiling cracks.

The kitchen has no cupboards, no shelves to hold the vintage pots and pans. The modern refrigerator stands out in embarrassment, like the new deep freeze in the dining room. There are two electric stoves. The oven won't work in either.

Milk from the cows has just been brought in, and sits on the kitchen table, ready for straining. There is the smell of apricots cooking. The cook smiles. This is a happy room.

The bedrooms hold ampie supplies of canned goods, potatoes and onions. Linen closets are filled with sheets and pillow cases, all in need of repair. Blankets are stored above.

The bedrooms are like the blind old lady's, only she presses a burlap sack on her pillow. The furniture is from a bygone era. In this house that can hold many, there are few.

In the rain, or bright sunshine, those in the colored home walk to their dining room off a connecting porch from the kitchen.

The house on the hill doesn't look bad from the road. Its gray stucco walls are protected by huge mossy oaks and stinging cactus trees. Well fed, shoddened in a fenced yard.

Prison Guard Is Jailed As Burglar; Con Helped

OCALA (UPI)—A guard at the new men's prison farm near here and his brother were arrested early today in connection with a series of safe cracking jobs in the area which netted more than $25,000.

Superintendent Harvey West of the prison said Guard Samuel Altman, 25, and his brother George,

Court Okay Asked For Baseball Club

Organizers of the Sanford baseball club, Inc., yesterday asked Circuit Judge Volie Williams Jr. to approve the corporation as a non-profit venture.

The charter includes the names of proposed officers of the corporation, which will operate the Sanford franchise in the Class D Florida State League.

Proposed as officers are Dr. D. H. Mathers, president; W. K. McRoberts, vice president; and John Fitzpatrick, secretary-treasurer.

Officers are not elected as yet, but the official announcement hinges only on approval of the corporation by Judge Williams.

Meanwhile, Ward Goodrich, business manager for the Greyhounds said that orders are being accepted for advertising signs on the fence at municipal stadium. The first such sign was sold yesterday to Boyd-Wallace Insurance Agency. At least 24 such signs are sought for the fence, Goodrich said.

Manager Packy Rogers and 17 players have returned signed contracts to Goodrich. The team will start spring training at Fernandina Beach on April 1, according to an announcement from Sherry Robertson, minor league director for the Washington Senators, with which Sanford will be affiliated.

Car Wrecks Keep Patrolman On Run

Highway Patrolman Olin F. Garrett was busy working accidents last night.

The first occurred at 8:20 p. m. when Sam Emmett Finley, West Palm Beach, attempted a left turn into Church St. at Highway 17-92.

Finley's sedan was demolished by a semi-trailer driven by William Pierce Jordan Jr., Savannah, Ga. There were no injuries.

Finley, a dental technician, was charged with driving while intoxicated and taken to the county jail.

A driver from Orlando is being sought by Garrett after leaving the scene of an accident at 9:10 last night. The driver backed into a sedan parked on the Sunnysnow Road. Minor damage was caused to the car, owned by Marion Clay Eskridge, Denver, Col.

Two miles north of Oviedo on State Road 428, a tractor trailer jackknifed at 11:15 in the rain. Ervin Edward Brown of Jacksonville lost control of the truck as he rounded a curve on the wet pavement.

Garrett estimated damages at $100. The truck was loaded with pipe, which went through the front of the truck. Brown was charged with speed too great for conditions. Garrett went home at 3 a. m., a tired man.

Dulles Confident Of Full Recovery, Return To His Job

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported confident today that his cancer treatments will permit him to return to his State Department desk.

Physician Bernard Dulles' chief secretary quoted him as telling her he was going to resume his official duties.

"He did say that?" reporter pressed her.

"Yes, indeed he did," she replied.

Miss Bernau said she and three other girls from Dulles' office took the secretary to present on his 71st birthday Wednesday did not ask him when he would be back.

The aide said Dulles was "feeling pretty good" in his room at Walter Reed Army Hospital. "We had lots of good laughs with him. He was quite sharp as a matter of fact. He was full of beans."

Dulles will receive another dose of radiation today from the hospital's million-volt X-ray machine.

Schedule Listed For X-Ray Units

Free chest X-rays will be given tomorrow at the Midway Grocery, from 1-4 p. m. and 5-8 p. m., and at Yowell's in downtown Sanford from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 2-5 p. m. The service is provided by the Florida State Board of Health, the Seminole County Health Unit and the Seminole County TB and Health Association.

Two Will Attend Parks Workshop

Ronald Perry and James Dunn will attend the Southeastern Parks and Recreation workshop at North Carolina State College in Raleigh. The three day workshop will begin March 4. The program deals with planning, maintenance and operation of parks, stadiums and recreational facilities.

How's That Again?

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI)—Trooper Fred Brown arrested motorist Oliver H. Anderson for speeding and drove him to jail to lodge the complaint.

Anderson charged the trooper with exceeding the speed limit on the trip to jail.

So far, the charge against Anderson has been dropped. Brown's case still is pending.

Not Thirsty, Just Needed Some Cash

PATERSON, N. J. (UPI)—A teen-aged boy entered a liquor store Wednesday night and asked for two cans of beer "for my father."

Told he was too young to buy alcoholic beverages, the youth went away but returned later with a gun, robbed the place of $100.63 and left without bothering to pick up any beer.

Chief Is Absent; Thieves, Be Wary

Chief Roy Williams was not in the office this morning at the Sanford Police Department.

Vandals had broken into his camp at Blue Springs in Volusia County, and made off with practically everything portable, even the keys on the beds.

Man Cut In Fracas

A 26-year-old Sanford man was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment last night after his brother-in-law attacked him with a knife.

He was treated for a deep cut on the right arm and thumb. He did not press charges.

Khrushchev Gets Blunt Warning

MOSCOW (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has informed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in blunt terms that unilateral Russian action in Berlin can "only lead to a dangerous situation," it was disclosed today.

A British spokesman made the disclosure as Macmillan took off by plane on a "tourist circuit" of Kiev and Leningrad without Khrushchev who was to have accompanied him. The spokesman said Khrushchev did not go because of a "bad tooth."

The spokesman said he wanted to "make it clear" that it was not Macmillan's firm talking that caused Khrushchev to abandon his plans to escort him.

British sources said Macmillan's statements to Khrushchev Wednesday at dinner and during an intermission of the "Homo and Juliet" ballet apparently had caused the temperature of the talks to rise.

The source earlier described the atmosphere at cool as the result of Khrushchev's Tuesday speech in which he rejected the West's offer of a foreign ministers' conference and demanded a meeting at the summit instead.

Each side announced that deputies had reached agreement on cultural exchanges between the two countries. This will cover exchange of tourists and books and similar activities.

Earlier, diplomatic sources said Macmillan's efforts to reach agreement with Khrushchev had all but ended, and that relations had reached agreement on cultural exchanges between the two countries. This will cover exchange of tourists and books and similar activities.

Collins Urges 'Restraint' On 'Mixing' Statements

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. LeRoy Collins said, in effect, today that legislators, candidates, the newspapers and governors should quit popping off so much on the segregation issue.

"The time has come for exercise of considerable restraint" in this field, Collins told his news conference.

"I think the people can understand it (the manifesto) for what it is," he said.

"I have the feeling this whole subject is so fraught with emotion and so subject to unground interpretations and it is likely that any statement would be received in a different light than it was intended, that I will not comment."

107 Little Words May Spell Success For U. S. Missiles

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Aircraft and rocket experts today hailed 107 little words that may spell a military advantage for the U. S.

The words form a simple language which enables electric brains to plan and supervise the manufacturing of plane and missile parts by other mechanical equipment. The work will be done faster and at less cost.

The language, part of a system called Automatically Programmed Tools (APT), was made public at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

APT will enable this country to "build a war machine that nobody would want to tackle," said Lt. Gen. Clarence S. Irvine, Air Force deputy chief of staff for materiel.

Irvine told a news conference APT "is perfectly wonderful."

MIT scientists said APT works very simply. An engineer would take a rough drawing of a designed part and use APT language to write out a brief summary of its specifications.

The electronic brain would take the summary and, in a matter of seconds or minutes, plan the part in detail. The brain would then send instructions to an unmanned machine which would turn out the part.

APT will make production both cheaper and less time-consuming, researchers said.

Irvine said APT will mean better airplanes and space missiles at no increase in cost and may even greatly reduce the current cost of national defense.

Macmillan States Action Dangerous

MOSCOW (UPI)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has informed Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in blunt terms that unilateral Russian action in Berlin can "only lead to a dangerous situation," it was disclosed today.

Coffee Club Meets Ramey Executives

This was executives' day at the Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club.

Mr. John Miller, chief staff officer of Heavy Attack Wing One, introduced the "number two" men in each squadron at Ramey Field.

Known as the men who "do the dirty work," the executive officers included Lt. Col. B. C. Hamilton, Easton 51, and a former LSO with VAH-1; Lt. Col. Charles Guthrie, VAH-1; Col. Norman McIntosh, VAH-2; Col. Kenneth J. Howell, VAH-7, in his second tour of duty at Sanford, and Col. Earl (Buddy) Yates, VAH-9.

Charlie Morrison, public relations director of the Chamber, introduced Richard Parrish of the Sanford and Lee Park market on 20th St., Mayor Al Wilson and Jerry Edwards, son of retired railroad man Joe Edwards.

Young Edwards is presently with a Brazilian airline, and is visiting his father in Lake Mary.

Morrison announced the coming of the Coffee Club through the efforts of the Rich Food Plan. Morrison looked at the small group attending and said, "What we lack in quantity, we make up in quality."

Sanford Man Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Adolph E. Schreck, died in his home on Magnolia Ave. Officials said he shot himself in the right temple with a revolver.

Justice of the Peace Hugh Duncan ruled the death as suicide. Time was set at 8 a. m.

Mr. Schreck was a retired merchant. He came to Sanford four months ago from Land O' Lakes, Wis. He was born June 18, 1893, in Chicago and was a member of Masonic Lodge No. 216, Eagle River, Wis., and the Lutheran Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Schreck, Sanford, one son, Frank A. Schreck, Henderson, Nev.; two brothers, George Schreck, Harvey, Ill., and Frank Schreck, Land O' Lakes.

Remains will be sent to Chicago for services and interment. Brown Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

Ike Chooses Clare

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today nominated Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, to be ambassador to Brazil.

Policeman Jailed For Rape-Slaying

NEW YORK (UPI)—A 26-year old honor policeman and a 22-year old companion were arrested Wednesday night for the rape-slaying of a 60-year old grandmother who resisted their drunken advances.

A police department spokesman said Brooklyn Patrolman Francis J. Rogers admitted that he helped Mrs. Anita Mirman, 60, die Sunday night after he and Thomas Murtha, a truckdriver's helper, pulled the screaming grandmother of nine into their car. Rogers said Murtha raped Mrs. Mirman but he did not.

Rogers was charged with homicide and rape.

The widow was found unconscious in a parking lot Monday and died two hours later in a hospital. Authorities had searched in vain for her assailants until an unidentified patrolman supplied information that threw suspicion on Rogers, holder of a citation for meritorious duty.

Mite Bites Force Drive On Vermir At Tampa School

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Many students of the Gary elementary school staved home today and officials launched a new attack on vermin in the building.

About 30 mothers gathered in angry session at the school principal's office Wednesday and vowed to keep their youngsters out of school until rats, mites and fleas are cleared out.

Some of the mothers stripped their children to the waist to show newsmen what they said were caused by mite bites.

The widow was found unconscious in a parking lot Monday and died two hours later in a hospital. Authorities had searched in vain for her assailants until an unidentified patrolman supplied information that threw suspicion on Rogers, holder of a citation for meritorious duty.
