FDR Modifies Demands For Revamp Bill

President Said To Have Decided On No Change For Education Department

Agrees To Give Congress Power

Executive Takes New Stand After House Setback Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Apr. 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, upon the advice of house leaders, agreed today to modification of the controversial government reorganization bill.

Informed sources said today as the House convened to consider the program that Mr. Roosevelt had given approval to a demand that the education office remain in the Interior Department and that Congress be permitted to set aside by simple majority any of his reorganization orders under authority of the bill.

The President's modified stand was taken, it was learned, when some of his leaders talked with him by telephone this morning about the setback they suffered last night when the House balked a move to shut off debate on the measure.

The action came after a day of searching debate and crafty parliamentary tactics, in which the opponents of the measure used every device available under the "filibuster-proof" rules of the House to delay action.

Their purpose, they repeatedly asserted, was to postpone final action until a flood of telegrams protesting against passage of the measure could have an effect upon wavering supporters of the bill. More than 50,000 telegrams were received today.

Striving to offset the effect of these messages, Representative Rayburn (Democrat, Tex.), the Democratic floor leader, recalled "faked" telegrams which were sent during the battle over the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, and said at least one of the messages received today could be proved false.

A Pennsylvania member, receiving a message purportedly from a ward leader in his district, checked back to the supposed sender of the telegram and received a reply that no such message had been sent.

Monkey Island To Be Next Zoo Addition

A "Monkey Island" may be the latest improvement to the Municipal Zoo, according to Supt. of Parks James Moughton.

This method of caging monkeys, Mr. Moughton said, has been adopted in some of the largest Zoos of the nation and he declared that he expected this to be the best improvement at the local menagerie.

The "monkey island" Mr. Moughton explained will consist of an island with trees and a monkey house surrounded by a moat about 10 feet wide filled with water. On the outer edge of the moat a wall approximately 4 feet high will be constructed as a protection to visitors. Monkey's have a natural horror of water, and will never attempt to cross the water filled moat, thus no feeding around the island will be necessary, it was pointed out.

Mr. Moughton further explained that he had almost enough money in the Zoo fund to complete this project and purchase additional Ethiopean monkeys which will be the inhabitants of the proposed island, but that any contributions of materials or cash will be appreciated.

Mr. Moughton reported that during the past weeks several hundred parakeets and canaries have been born at the Zoo and that others will be hatched soon. A number of the birds are nest-

Doctor Says Serum Bottle Contaminated

Briskly striding down a street is Dr. T. A. Neal of Orlando, Fla., who recently explained that one bottle of a serum used for treating 11 persons at a clinic must have become contaminated. 10 patients died following injection of the serum.

Hangar Razed By Flames At Miami Plane Terminal

Fourteen Ships Valued At $1,000,000 Totally Destroyed

MIAMI, Apr. 2.—(AP)—An early morning fire today razed a hangar at the municipal airport, destroying 14 planes and attendant gear valued at $1,000,000 or more.

W. R. Davis, airport Weather Bureau employee, received face and arm cuts when he broke into a window to reach fire extinguishers.

Al Hansen, city aviation director, said the planes were expensive custom-built craft costing from $45,000 and $85,000. Among them were a Palmair stratosphere plane, an amphibian owned by Alexander de Soveraky and a plane built for Jimmy Matern, said to be valued at $100,000 each.

Origin of the blaze was undetermined. An explosion of gasoline storage tanks which destroyed part of the hangar kept firemen back from the blaze.

Celery Group To Continue Heavy Protests

Compromise Of 610 Cars Is Reached After Controversy Between Sections

With growers and shippers in the Sarasota-Manatee section advocating "removing the lid" and allowing shipment of a available celery, and growers and shippers in this section desiring a drastic prorata to continue through next week, even to extent of allowing only one-third of the available supply to go to market, the first controversy between the two principal celery producing sections of the state developed at a meeting of the Celery Control Committee last night.

The decision to ship 610 cars in interstate commerce next week was reached only after several compromises and heated arguments which found members of the Sarasota-Manatee section hurling accusations that the nine members here were trying "to throw the books" into the industry in that section.

In advocating at least a 100 percent shipping allotment for the coming week, Committee members at Sarasota declared that the market could satisfactorily absorb the entire amount of good quality celery available for shipment from this state. They charged that this section had very little good celery left and would be only slightly affected by a heavy prorata while the section in the South must discard a large quantity of "good" celery under the heavy prorata.

In upholding their contention, members in this section pointed out that although there was a large amount of celery in this section adversely affected by nature this was taken into consideration in the estimates of the available supply for the week. Chief Estimator, V. Y. Bowman reported estimated yield ranged from 244 to 800 crates per acre in this area.

Localities further pointed out that this section is more affected by heavy prorata than the southern section as they are being made during the peak of the celery season while the peak weeks for the other section are just beginning. Members here declared that the market decline was largely a result of the shipment of 800 cars to terminal markets several weeks ago and declared that the industry could not withstand a similar decline in the markets due to over shipments.

The compromise in which members of the Committee commended shipment of 610 cars was passed by a vote of 10 to 5 and came only after five other motions had been killed.

Another surprise move at the meeting came when the Committee members voted to dispense with purchases through the Stripps Celery Corporation for the coming week. Reasons given for this action were "a psychological movement to improve the market" and to ship all the best quality celery to market. It was pointed out that much of the best quality celery had been sold for distribution through several channels during past weeks.

Reports at the meeting indicated that there will be no shipments from California during the coming week and that the celery supply of the nation will be shipped solely from Florida.

J. C. Lettice, secretary of the Committee, reported one flagrant violation of over shipment to the Committee which he noted to report to the Secretary of Agriculture and recommend that action be taken. Celery acreage reported for shipment from the Sanford-Oviedo district this week was 430 acres with 153 acres for the Sarasota-Manatee section. This figure is somewhat higher than the available acreage for last week.

RECORD SET ST. PETERSBURG, Apr. 2.—(AP)—An all-time record for visitor registrations at the City Information Bureau was set Thursday night when books were closed for the winter season with a total of 68,507 persons registered.

The figure was 5245 more than registered last season when the previous high mark was established. All of the 48 States, every province of Canada and 51 foreign countries were represented on the visitors' books.

Frost And Flood Threaten South Over Wide Area

Sanford Has Driest March Experienced Through Many Years

A cool wave bringing predictions of frost moving into the south today followed a heavy rainfall which set rivers rising in several states. Near freezing temperatures were reported in parts of Arkansas and Tennessee. Excessive rains damaged early crops near Selma, Ala., flooded small streams and washed out several roads. Flood threats in Arkansas abated, however, with predictions of continued fair weather. Creeks were expected today and tomorrow on all Arkansas streams.

Salvation Army Drive For Funds To Begin Monday

Officials Ask Earl Lehmann To Give Talk At Breakfast

A number of the campaign workers met at Campaign Headquarters yesterday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock to discuss plans for the Salvation Army fund drive which begins Monday morning. At the meeting it was decided that the majors representing the various civic clubs and fraternal lodges will take a number of the prospect cards and contact these prospects as quickly as possible.

Campaign Officials have invited Karl Lehmann former Secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce to speak at the kick-off breakfast Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock in the Valdez Hotel. Fred R. Wilson, general chairman, has invited Mayor Edward Higgins as a special guest at the breakfast.

The prospect cards have all been prepared and grouped by business firms of the city and surrounding territory, and they have all been arranged in such a manner that it will be very little trouble for any worker to do his share in the drive. Rose stated adding that pledge cards, workers' report forms and other material have been sent to all of the county committees so that they may contact prospects beginning Monday also. All County Committeemen are invited to the breakfast, and officials hope that as many of them (Continued on Page 2)

Tests Reveal Tetanus Toxin In Two Vials

Physicians Believe Entire Lot Of Serum Contaminated; 10th Death Occurs

ORLANDO, Apr. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Horace Asa Day, president of the Orange County Medical Society, announced today that laboratory tests and animal experiments had proved that the tetanus toxin was present in two vials selected at random from the shipment of cancer serum received by Dr. T. A. Neal, 10 of whose patients have died in the past four days.

Four others of Dr. Neal's patients who had received injections of the serum were in hospitals, three in critical condition. Dr. Day said he, Dr. J. N. Patterson, director of the State Board of Health laboratory in Jacksonville, and Dr. W. G. Workman of the United States Public Health Service gave serum injections to guinea pigs in reaching their conclusion.

Some guinea pigs were given serum and anti-tetanus toxin simultaneously and others were given only the serum. Those given only serum were dead today. The result of the test, said Dr. Day, caused physicians to believe the entire lot of serum received by Dr. Neal had been contaminated by tetanus toxin.

E. F. Bolte, 70, retired vice president of the International Harvester Company was the 10th fatality. He died shortly after four o'clock this morning.

Young Negro Wants To Fight For U. S.

"Where do I go to sign up to go to war?" a patriotic young negro asked County Clerk O. P. Herndon this morning.

"In which War do you want to fight?" the Clerk asked the sincere negro, "there is a war in Japan, in Spain, and recently there was one in Ethiopia."

"I don't care where I fight," the negro replied, "I just want to fight for the United States. I've been reading about wars in the newspapers and I want to fight for the United States."

"Do you want to fight for the City or for the country," the Clerk asked.

"I lives in the City but I want to fight for my country," he replied.

The pugnacious young negro was directed to the County Welfare Office where he could "sign up" to go to a CCC Camp.

Tourist Club To Hold Final Meeting Monday

The final entertainment for members of the Sanford Tourist Club will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Building Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, Mrs. C. C. Earl, president of the Club, announced this morning.

The program will be devoted to a discussion of hobbies, and several members plan to exhibit their hobbies, including handicraft, needlework, etc.

Guest entertainers of the evening will be Willard Connolly, with his guitar and Charles DeWane with the accordion. Mr. DeWane will also lead singing.

Negro Man Injured In Truck Accident

Josh Moore, negro, was in the hospital today suffering from a broken hip and arm sustained when he evidently stepped in front of a truck driven by Frank Jones on Geneva Avenue yesterday evening. It was learned at the office of Sheriff C. M. Hand today, Deputy Sheriff Jack Hickcox investigated the incident and stated that, according to witnesses, the negro stepped into the street and was run down by the approaching truck which he apparently had not noticed. The driver of the truck was not held.

SIX SAILORS DROWNED LE HAVRE, France, April 2.—(AP)—Six French sailors were drowned yesterday when the Norwegian tanker Mosell collided with a tug that was attempting to make fast to the vessel in the harbor.

One Of Ten Dead After Taking Serum

Mrs. Jack Sweetman, 42, (above) of Orlando, Fla., was one of 10 patients in Orlando who died following an injection of a serum used for the treatment of cancer. Doctors believed that one bottle of the serum had somehow become contaminated.

Work Progresses Satisfactorily On WPA Park Project

Over 50 Men On Relief Roles Have Been Given Work

With the removal of debris and with the grading well under way on the $30,000 WPA project for improvement of Fort Mellon Park, much has been acquired by the City and materials have been ordered by the WPA officials so that the project may be pushed to completion with the least possible delay, according to City Engineer Fred T. Williams.

Over 50 men on work relief rolls have been assigned to this project and at least half as many more will be added as work is further advanced, local WPA officials indicated.

The next step in the project will be the hauling of 3,000 yards of muck to cover the area to be improved by this project. D. L. Thresher solved the worries of the City Commissioners in regard to purchase of muck by donating the entire 3,000 yards from his property in Sanford. Tests have shown this muck to be of high quality; it is easily accessible and will not necessitate a long, expensive haul.

Installation of the sub-irrigation system prior to the mucking was planned. City Engineer Fred T. Williams stated but added that the materials for the sub-irrigation system had not arrived, and that the muck could be hauled while awaiting material.

The sand piled from the park is being dumped at the West Park Street Dump, Supt. of Parks James Moughton stated, adding that this former muck bed is being made into desirable property because of the large amount of filling that has been done by the City during the past few years.

The cable gas pipes on the park property are now being removed and workers are repairing damaged palms on the parkway bordering the lake between the St. Johns River Line rock and the Maple Hotel.

As work on the park progresses members of the Garden Club are making preparations to aid the City in furnishing necessary plants and shrubs for beautification of the park, according to Mrs. H. M. Papworth, president of the Club.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Papworth stated, a canvass will be made to find what each member is planning to donate for beautification of the park so that some definite idea of the trees and shrubs still required may be ascertained.

WPA officials also reported that materials for the construction of shuffle board, roque, tennis, and other courts included in this project will be forthcoming soon. The project is drawn up on a 7-months basis and, according to local WPA officials, will be easily finished within that time.

Rebels Seize Gandesia, 21 Miles To Sea

Last Important Loyalist Stronghold, Barring March To Sea, Is Captured

French Prepare To Leave Barcelona

Vatican Censures Vienna Bishop For Accepting Hitler Coup

By Associated Press Insurgents moved a step nearer their goal of dividing loyalist Spain as Navarrese forces under General Garcia Valino occupied Gandesia today, only 21 miles from the government's eastern coast.

It was the last important stronghold in Tarragona province barring the insurgent march to the Mediterranean. The insurgents reported the capture of 2,000 prisoners in the seizure of the city.

Insurgent dispatches said the entire northeast Spanish front was moving forward except at Lerida where persistent government resistance forced Generalissimo Franco's forces to circle the besieged city.

France made preparations for a quick evacuation of French citizens from Barcelona if the insurgent march to the sea should cause an emergency there. The possibility of similar aid to U. S. citizens was shown by the fact that the U. S. Cruiser Raleigh was within 12 hours of the threatened Spanish Republican capital.

The French studied the problem of the disposition of 3,000 Spanish government soldiers on French soil and thousands of civilians who fled before the sweep of the insurgent armies in the northeast.

A Vatican radio broadcast referred to pastors who "no longer recognize a wolf in sheep's clothing" and was regarded as censure of the week-old pastoral letter of Theodore Cardinal Inghier of Vienna which asked Austrian Catholics to vote for the Austro-German union in the Apr. 10 plebiscite on Hitler's coup.

French Deputy Saloman Grumbach in an address to the People's Front demonstration warned Germany against any effort to engulf Alsace-Lorraine in Pan-Germanism.

The Chinese sent fresh mechanized units into the battle raging at Taierchwang on the Grand Canal—a bulwark against Japanese attempts to reach the East-West Lunghai railway. Japanese guns blasted at the walls of Taierchwang but the Chinese held fast.

Oviedo FFA Chapter To Compete At Meet

The Oviedo chapter of future farmers are planning to enter the majority of contests to be held in DoLand May 14, and will take part in the following contests: public speaking, diamond ball, horseshoe throwing, string-bend, quiet, and parliamentary procedure. The winners of these district contests go to Gainesville to compete in the state convention in June.

The date for the Father and Son Banquet was changed from Apr. 4 to Apr. 12. H. E. Wood of the State Department will be the guest speaker.

The Oviedo chapter is planning to put out a winning diamond ball team for the district meet. Edward Jordan was elected captain of the team and Spencer Wainright was selected alternate. The chapter won first place in quartet singing and diamond ball last year and also first place in the oral presentation in public speaking.

LOCAL WEATHER

The newspaper business is a narrow business, says the Palatka News. Speaking as one screwy to another, boy, you sure said a mouthful!

A funny thing about the reorganization bill which was supposed to be designed as an economy measure is that it will save only about 34 million dollars out of eight billions in annual expenditures.

It may be a good thing that President Roosevelt has confiscated the property of American and British oil companies. It will be interesting to see if such methods, even when employed for the benefit of the poorer classes of people, will really bring prosperity to a country.

If you've heard this one, stop us. A friend of ours was returning from the North a few years ago when, driving through Kentucky, he stopped his car on a country road to gaze at a horse in a nearby pasture. "That's a good looking horse," he said, as if he might like to buy it. It ought to be," his companion exclaimed. "It's Man O'War."

At a late hour this afternoon Claude Pepper still seems to be in the lead in the race for re-election to the United States Senate. Little birds tell us that the Townsendites are split over the fact that he can never do anything for them as long as he has his orders from the White House. WPA workers are lined up for him solidly from one end of the state to the other since they project which comes through from Washington is announced by his office and Labor generally, whether A. F. of L., C. I. O. or railroad brotherhood, seems to be convinced that he is their man Friday. All in all it is an admirable combination and nothing short of a miracle will give anyone else more than a look.

Fighting Towns

One of the quietest and most peaceful towns in the United States is Sanford. Rioting and bloodshed are practically unknown. Factionalism and civic strife are probably at a minimum to be found anywhere. There are just about as much unity of spirit and co-operation among various groups here as there are in most places of this size and type.

And yet the most oft-repeated crack at Sanford by local people is the feeling of dissension which is said to exist. There is a belief among some people that the animosities prevailing between various small groups is the greatest obstacle this town has to future growth and prosperity. The clash of opinions, the political controversies, the vigorous discussions and dissensions, are blamed for every failure.

Those who take this stand and who always cite Orlando as a city blessed with a unity of purpose and a cohesiveness which defies a conflicting point of view, will be interested in the following comment by Martin Andersen, publisher of the Orlando Sentinel, on the current controversy which is raging in "The City Beautiful" between the city hall and the utilities commission over the purchase of a generator.

"Some people recall there were no squabbles in Orlando prior to 1926," Mr. Andersen writes in his daily column. "We may answer that by saying that there was not much real growth in Orlando until then. Growing towns are fighting towns."

"When citizens of Orlando lose interest in million-dollar expenditures and allow them to occur without a thorough discussion, and perhaps a heated one, there will be no safe for business property on Orange Avenue. A fighter need never apologize. When human beings fight they quit living."

As a matter of fact Orlando seems always in the midst of some heated controversy, where to locate the new state highway, where to build the airport, how to get the right kind of a trailer camp, what to name the new park, how much authority to give the beautification committee, and so on ad infinitum. And every one of these subjects has been the source of strenuous argument.

But they have spelled progress. And so it is with every other city which has grown and developed. The trouble with Sanford is not that it is divided into factionalism and distracted by discord, but that it may be lulled into a state of complete inertia by its own complacency and quiescence.

Business Declines

An interesting announcement was made yesterday by the General Electric Company explaining a policy of the company which in general is in line with other business institutions. General Electric, makers of electric turbines, generators, ice boxes, radios, stoves, and hundreds of other articles, is one of the biggest "big businesses" in America.

But in March business declined 50 percent as compared with March of last year. That means that it sold just half as many turbines, generators, ice boxes, and so forth in March of this year as in March of last year. That also means that not nearly so many workers are kept busy by General Electric this year as last, and that expenses have to be cut considerably in order to avoid bankruptcy.

So yesterday, Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, announced a wage reduction. But General Electric did not cut the pay of the poorest class of employees. It cut the pay of the salaried workers in the highest brackets most, cut those in lower brackets less, and cut those in the lowest brackets none at all.

Swope's posted statement, explaining the reductions read:

"The first $2000 of salary per year will not be affected. That portion of salary over $2000 per year up to and including $10,000 per year, will be reduced 10 percent. That portion of the salary over $10,000 per year up to and including $25,000, will be reduced 15 percent. That portion of the salary over $25,000 per year will be reduced 20 percent."

The announcement said this means that a man, paid $2200 a year for example, will have his salary cut 10 percent of the $200, or $20, a slash of one percent of his total pay.

What could be fairer than that?

Mrs. I. D. Hart will be hostess Thursday evening at a Farewell party given for Graham Hunter who has been drafted and is leaving soon for duty.

Miss Annie Cameron returned to Election Sunday after a few days stay here.

A very interesting demonstration was given Wednesday on war bonds at the home of Mrs. Martha Gust on Colony Avenue. Mrs. Berry presided in her usual interesting manner with a large party of ladies present.

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA OLIVER DEAN

"I did three needle point chair covers, and we have them in our house now."

No, the speaker wasn't a fluffy feminine housewife. It was six footer Dr. Rollin D. Thompson, one time captain in the A. E. F. during the World War with two years service overseas to his credit, and now head of the Florida State Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Tall ruddy-faced white-coated Dr. Thompson in his office at the Sanatorium was telling about his own experience with tuberculosis when he spent a year and a half in bed in "River Pines", a private sanatorium in Wisconsin.

"I got tired of reading—didn't even want to read medical books. Then the occupational therapy teacher taught me how to do needle point, and it gave me a new interest in life."

Dr. Thompson's grey eyes which can look very positive held a twinkle. "You should have seen a great full size man patient of mine, when I had charge of the Wisconsin State Sanatorium, knitting little booties to send home to his baby."

"I've often wondered," I said "whether the importance of occupational therapy had been over-rated. I see that it hasn't been."

"Indeed it hasn't," the doctor replied. "There is a very definite psychic factor in the curing of tuberculosis. Making these booties may have been a very small job for that man, but it gave him the feeling that he wasn't lost to the world, that he was still doing something for humanity."

Dr. Thompson said that the Florida State Sanatorium would soon have a full time occupational therapy teacher, and the patients will be taught to make jewelry, and baskets, to paint, and work in leather. The Sanatorium already has a lot to be proud about. When the members of the Florida State Tuberculosis Board were deciding between 41 possible sites, smart Orlando offered the land as an outright gift, which gave the pendulum that last final swing in the direction of Orange county.

The building, which was a P. W. A. project, stands on the crest of a hill in the rolling back country near Orlando and is surrounded by pines and oak trees. The landscaping is being done by the W. P. A. and already there is the pleasant sound of the Florida wind in the palm trees on the young lawn that is in the making.

The Sanatorium is a cheerful looking place with a green trim on the windows outside and a glimpse of Venetian blinds from within. In fact, it gives just the opposite of the impression, "Abandon hope all ye who enter here."

"People used to think that you had to die of tuberculosis, but all that is changed now," said Dr. Thompson. "The mortality rate was so high that tuberculosis ceased to be a medical question and became a public one. The people did something about it and built sanatoriums. Now they know that to be a 'lunger' doesn't mean you're done for."

"I should think you would prove that to anybody," I answered as I looked at him so full of vitality and so alight with enthusiasm about the hospital and his plans for it.

The doctor showed me over his castle "from tower to foundation stone." He went swinging along opening doors, running elevators, smiling in at patients, greeting his staff, demonstrating a salad mixer in the kitchen and a fine microscope in the laboratory, all with the same zest. He unlocked the linen closet with the pride of a good housekeeper and held up a towel for me to see how each piece was marked, even with the date of purchase. "If this particular towel doesn't wear well, we won't buy it again."

That man could teach most of us how to live a thing or two about how to run a house! He even has a color scheme for the china, one shade for the white patients, another for the colored, and still another for the staff.

"You like all this, don't you, Dr. Thompson?" I asked.

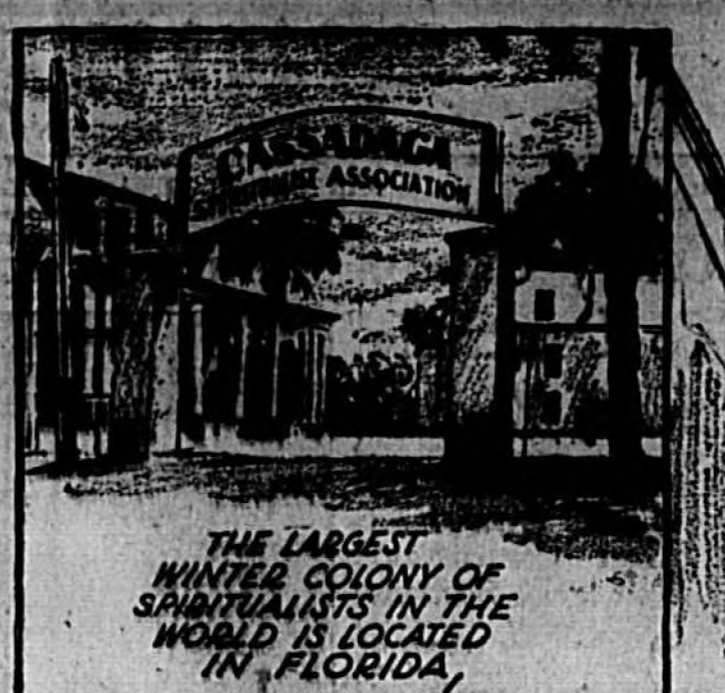

"Well, it's been a dream of mine to have a brand new sanatorium. My father died with tuberculosis, and I've had it, and am cured and I know what it means to people to be in a well equipped properly run sanatorium."

There are 172 patients in the hospital, 72 percent of these are far advanced cases, and 23 percent are moderately advanced. Since opening, the Sanatorium has turned out four healed cases. The building has a special wing for colored patients, and there is a colored doctor in charge of it, Dr. Harrison Green of Miami.

Rest and food are important aspects of the treatment for tuberculosis. Dr. Thompson punched a mattress to show me how comfortable it was and said, "When you get a poor devil to bed, you ought to give him a good one."

"I met the doctor, Miss Davis," I said to the doctor, Miss Davis, a Tallahassee graduate who has

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

Comparatively few Floridians know that right in their midst is located the LARGEST WINTER GATHERING OF SPIRITUALISTS IN THE WORLD. For 41 years they have been coming to Cassadaga, Florida, from all over the earth for the annual assembly meeting which extends from January through March. Here on Sundays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, outstanding mediums give public demonstrations of group clairvoyance, independent writing and other phases of psychic phenomena. Cassadaga is quite an interesting community. It has a smart hotel, modern cottages, beautiful auditorium, library, woman's club and many diversified amusements, including concerts, dance pavilion, shuffleboard and croquet grounds. The lectures on spiritualism, as a science, are always well attended and attract many people from all parts of the state. One of the strangest catches in history was enacted by A. D. Turner of Columbus, Ga., in 1933, while fishing in Lake Dexter on the St. Johns River. A nine pound bass struck his lure bait which worked its way through its gills stringing the bass on the line. A seven-pounder made another terrific strike on the now free minnow and became securely hooked. To Mr. Turner's amazement, he found he had two great bass, running in all directions, on the line, but he landed them both after a hard struggle.

LIBERTY AGAIN UPHELD

OCALA STAR

In an unexpected opinion handed down Monday the United States supreme court has given the widest sort of interpretation to the first amendment to the constitution in which this language is used:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or of the right of the people to peaceably assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

In a case taken up on appeal from Georgia, the court ruled, in upholding the rights of free speech, that the humblest pamphlet is as much immune to censorship and licensing as any other publication. It denounced, as "invalid on its face," a Griffin, Ga., ordinance requiring distributors of circulars to take out a municipal license.

"The liberty of the press is not confined to newspapers, and periodicals; the opinion said. "It necessarily embraces pamphlets and leaflets. These indeed have been historic weapons in the defense of liberty, as the pamphlets of Thomas Paine and others in our history abundantly attest. The press in its historic connotation comprehends every sort of publication which affords a vehicle of information and opinion."

When the decision was first announced, the impression gained was that municipalities, by ordinance, cannot restrict the distribution of circulars within the incorporated limits. But the court's ruling appears to be much broader than that. It has upheld, in effect, the right of any one to express themselves in any form of printed matter, and to wipe away all barriers to the distribution of such printed matter.

Coming at the time it does, when freedom of thought and action, through the press or by the printed page, is being denied to

Members Of Board Defend Selves In Ouster Proceeding

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 2.—(AP)—Two members of the State Industrial Commission, defendants in ouster proceedings, said yesterday Governor Fred P. Cone made no designation of affidavits when he appointed them last June 30.

They are Chairman Wendell C. Heaton and C. A. Britton. They filed answers, through their attorneys, to a Supreme Court suit which contended they represent labor while the Industrial Commission law provided for only one labor representative in its three members.

Britton sent his resignation to Governor Cone immediately after the ouster suit was started, but the Governor has not acted on it. He said he would not act until the Supreme Court decided the contest.

Governor Cone said he appointed Britton as labor representative named E. T. Lay of Jacksonville as industry's representative and "said nothing about who fits on represented."

To the Supreme Court, Britton and Heaton said neither the appointments by the Governor, nor the commissions issued to the three members designated any group representation. Heaton is president and Britton is vice president of the Florida Federation of Labor. Lay is secretary of the Associated Industries of Florida.

Britton and Heaton said Britton's resignation was effective and he has exercised no powers or duties on the Industrial Commission since it was submitted Mar. 12, even though Governor Cone has not accepted it.

The Suez canal was begun in 1859 and completed in 1869.

Townsendites Honor Member With Dinner

W. I. Hughey, a leading Townsend worker and vice president of the Club, was honored with a banquet at the regular social and business meeting held in the Welaka Building on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock.
The banquet hall and assembly room were beautifully decorated with pink gladiolas which were furnished by the Mayfair Hotel, and the long banquet table was centered with a birthday cake in compliment to Mr. Hughey's birthday.
Arthur Kirchoff made a few brief remarks in regard to Mr. Hughey's long and faithful service in the Townsend Movement, and the honor guest then fittingly thanked the Club. The blessing was led by the Reverend Elin Greenleaf of Lake Mary.
Following dinner a short business meeting was held in the assembly room with W. R. Dupree presiding. The Reverend Charles Deward offered a prayer for the organization.
At the conclusion of the evening's program the Townsend orchestra played "Recruiting" and "Victory" Marches, which are Mr. Deward's own compositions.
A few interesting short talks on the Townsend movement were given by some of the members to a well filled hall, it is reported by Mrs. Martha Moffitt, publicity chairman for the club.

SOCIAL LIGHTS

"Work don't do itself," says Mom in "PINK AND PATCHES" . . . and neither does PLAY . . . so WITH SUMMER already COME ON THE WHOLE TOWN'S tripping off to the BEACH at the mere flicker of an EYELASH . . . Not only does the NEWS report these SNATCHES of summer vacation . . . slightly out of SEASON . . . but the suggestion of a PINK NOSE HERE AND THERE on Monday morning tells its OWN story . . . The J. D. Woodruff's are enjoying the OCEAN AIR this whole week. Don't we at home enjoy them?
It's just TOO BAD, I say, that we all can't at least ACQUIRE that GORGEOUS GOLDEN tan that Elsie DeForest seems to KEEP so attractively . . . and, speaking of Mrs. DeForest, she and Ben and Mrs. Knox and I enjoyed the SENIOR PLAY on the same ROW Wednesday night . . . and I, sitting next to DON . . . couldn't keep my eyes off that BROWING GREEN BOW she had TUCKED in her hair at such a clever angle. By the way, Don prefers the DEAR OLD SOUTH to the NORTH even though we need not do things in a much smaller way . . . and GOOD TASTE she shows too THINK WE . . .
In spite of the BOW IN DON'S HAIR I did manage to grasp that "THE WHOLE-TOWN'S TALKING" was little short of COMEDY HIT.
Jane Gant expresses my sentiments when she wonders if Mrs. Maxwell selects the cast to fit the play or THE PLAY TO FIT THE CAST . . . Vol. Williams, as I CAN FIX IT, WIMMON, kept it chuckling all through the play . . . and by the way he maneuvered that ONE-TWO SWIRL SWIRL Saddle Bloom (Cecilia Truck) in much red and much ruffles) is so recommended as a ONE LESSON DANCING TEACHER . . .
Mrs. D. C. Cotes and Mrs. Bishop were "just a little nervous" wholly without cause . . . for Buddy as the fellow who "made you feel someone had left the room when it entered," lived his role almost completely . . . We felt the need to help him revolt against all the OATS "PIX IT" Papa had him sowing unwares . . . BEETIC HOLLYWOOD HOURS Joanne Azzarello most effectively added her corner to the TRIMMINGS . . . and Margie Cochran was especially good as "H" speak to you later "Ma Simmond" Nancy Bissetter played very prettily . . . and Little Helen Palmer in the FADE OUT scene suggested a SWEET DREAM in her dainty white frock . . .
Lil Dumban, a business manager for the play, looked most fetching in her ALICE BLUE POKE BONNET . . . and got at all MANAGER-ish.
Our ladies are still travelling APART to being in BROWN . . . this time it's the ANIMATED MAGAZINE they gave at the Palmetto Club in Daytona Beach . . . and wouldn't we like to have been there to hear MRS. ELVIRA GARNER give "Why Eeklele" and "The Men" 'T's surprising what our OWN FOLKS can do . . . and aren't we proud, Mrs. Olin King gave "A Day Singing" from her own original collection of poems . . . Nina Dean most appropriately gave the EDITORIAL . . . AND Mrs. Brown gave her original short story, "What Would You Do About It?" . . .
It seems to me we're doing plenty about everything at present.
Caroline Hill is now pursuing the WELL KNOWN GOLF BALL . . . and she has the most appropriate squash-baton woven shoes which are sure to help her same . . . though she says she simply CAN'T SWING it yet . . .
Raymond, encourage her by relating some of my EFFORTS . . .
Mrs. Tolar leaving for the Surgeons of the Atlantic Coast-Line meeting in St. Petersburg, looked just plain GRAND. Her navy blue ensemble with a DASH OF YELLOW had just VERVE that you always want in your clothes and seldom ever ACQUIRE . . . She took just a TERNY WENNY box of candy along . . .
Culbertson says "ordinary folk such as you and I will not have much success with the FIVE SUIT BRIDGE . . . But we're doing fine with it . . . we think . . . so that leaves just only Culbertson.
Don't forget "PINK AND PATCHES" to be presented here by the BIG and LITTLE WOMEN'S CLUBS on Wednesday.
SOMEBODY help Lib Bymes find that gray cat . . .

EVANGELIST

Fred A. Richey, Lakeland Evangelist, who will preach three services at the Full Gospel Tabernacle on the Orlando road tomorrow. The sermons are: 11:00 A. M., "Exceeding Great and Precious Promises"; 3:00 P. M., "Healing for All"; 7:45 P. M., "The Immutability Word."

LAKE MARY

Jack Evans, student at the Ashburnham School for Boys in Ashburnham, Mass., is spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans.
Monday night at the community building an entertainment was given for the benefit of the Community Church. Several musical numbers were presented by Dr. Deward and Mr. Connelly, trombone solo by Raymond Ball, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Florence Gilbert Hanson gave several readings and piano added, Mr. Kenneth Mayer baritone added much to the program with his musical selections.
Ettie Jane Gleason spent several days in Orlando visiting her aunt, Mrs. Luther Hobby.
Mrs. Charles Colby and her son, Richard Bassler have arrived from New York to spend a few weeks with Dr. Colby. They were accompanied by Mr. Allan Amann, Miss Majia Paavola and Miss Helmi Holm.
Janet and Billy Joiner visited relatives in Orlando for several days recently.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Mrs. Wm. Junkers and son Billy are leaving Monday for their home in Long Island, N. Y.
Go-in mixtures often require a little coaxing when removing them from the mold. Dip a clean cloth into warm water. Place it under the mold for ten seconds—no longer. Loosen the edges of the mold with a knife and then quickly invert the mold. The polatin should come out with even edges.
Cookie recipes which call for little liquid make usually crisp cookies which must be handled with care. Always loosen such cookies with a knife as soon as they are baked. If they cool before they are removed they are likely to break to pieces.
Cherry cobbler suggestion: Put a two-inch layer of cherry sauce in a shallow pan and cover it with three of biscuit dough sprinkled with brown sugar and cinnamon. Bake for twenty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve warm.

He-Man Of Screen Repays Confidence Of Movie Moguls

Every once in a while something comes along that revives a faded older's faith in youth and love. Such a heart-warming piece is "Love, Honor and Behave" which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Two of the most engaging youngsters ever to step before a camera, a true-of-life love story, rollicking with human comedy, fine understanding direction, and a love song which has already taken the country by storm are the component parts of "Love, Honor and Behave." But, seeing the picture, you won't bother to break it up into parts—you'll just laugh, shed a tear or two, live the story through and be awfully glad you came.

Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane are the youngsters. There's something about this Morris fellow. Something infectious that has lifted him clear out of the rank and file of young leading men and into the star class. In "Kid Galahad" and "Submarine D-1" he proved to his producers and the public that he was something more than a handsome young stripling with a delightful grin who could pack a wallop. In "Love, Honor and Behave" he proves that he's an actor of first rank capable of holding an audience captive in that sizable palm of his. As for his love-life, Miss Priscilla Lane, whom you will remember as the ubiquitous little vamp with the golden voice in "Varsity Show," say that she's a mixture of honey and red pepper and you'll get as close as possible to describing the indescribable. She's blond, she's twenty, she sings "Bel Mir Bis Du Schon," that haunting bit of swing, in a way that you'll remember and remember.

The story, which was adapted from Stephen Vincent Benet's "Everybody Was Very Nice," is about two kids who are childhood sweethearts. They grow up and marry—and that's the point where the picture really begins.

Star-Studded Musical Tells Story Of Jinx-Laden Transatlantic Race

Really the most lavish pot-pourri of music and mirth, fun and beautiful girls of the current season, "The Big Broadcast of 1938," Paramount's latest musical, makes its bow tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre, with a splendid cast starring W. C. Fields and including Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Bob Hope, Lynne Overman, Rufe Davis, Leif Erikson, Grace Bradley and Tito Guizar. And just to make the cast of stellar performers overflow from sheer abundance, the producers have tossed in special routines by Mme. Kirsten Flagstad of the Metropolitan Opera and Shep Fields and his Ripppling Rhythm Orchestra, currently heading the popularity list among dance orchestras.

Always hilarious, always tuneful, always girl-filled and most of the time more than a trifle mad, "The Big Broadcast of 1938" is the story of a transatlantic radio race and a handsome radio announcer who can never keep track of the number of ex-

New Glamor Girl Is Introduced To Screen Audiences

The gay, dignified swish of peacocks and its coming a cropper in a middle-European New-Deal offers a delightfully exciting theme for "The Baroness and the Butler," which plays Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre.

This Darryl F. Zanuck production for 20th Century-Fox co-stars William Powell and Annabella in a blithe screen version of the stage hit that had half of Europe agog.

Annabella, in her first American-made picture, believes butlers are born to obey... but debonaire Bill obeys such un-butler like impulses! She's so proud; he's so proper... and you'll be so surprised!

This film has caught the tone and flavor of an old regime—years of tradition and generations of escutcheon worship—suddenly confronted with a blue bloods' dilemma in which the self-effacing butler emerges from his cocoon to assume social equality with his noble employers.

Powell, at his suave best, tries to save the Count's family from the blow of learning that he has been elected to Parliament on the Socialist-Progressive ticket. By his very actions he brings down charges of impotence, fraud and trickery on his head.

He incurs the wrath of every one but his Count—whose chief worry is that he will lose a good butler. The solving of this situation and the ensuing battle of wits with "Baroness" Annabella and a brilliant cast, gives movie fans a treat, long to be remembered. Powell never was better. Annabella and a brilliant cast, gives movie fans a treat, long to be remembered. Powell never was better. Annabella reveals the most gloriously exciting personality ever to grace the screen.

The supporting cast of "The Baroness and the Butler" features Helen Westley, Henry Stephenson, Joseph Schickel, J. Edward Bromberg, Nigel Bruce and Lynn Bari.

LAUGH-RIPPLING ROMANCE

The gayest and brightest romantic-comedy sensation of the year, "The Baroness and the Butler," co-stars William Powell and Annabella. In her first American-made picture, Annabella, to the right, and Henry Stephenson, Joseph Schickel, William Powell, Helen Westley and Annabella in a scene from the 20th Century-Fox hit.

ROUGH ROMEO AND BATTLING BRIDE

This is an in-between-rounder photo of Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane who appear in their first co-starring comedy hit, "Love, Honor and Behave" produced by Warner Bros. It's a treat in rough, kiss and make up kind of a romance which comes pretty packed for laughs, next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

Starts Monday, April 4th

There is no better opportunity to give Charity than through the Salvation Army officials. They are trained in this work and they give aid only where they find it is needed.

When the Salvation Army quota has been reached and secured you will not be troubled with "pan handlers," as you can refer them to the Salvation Army and if they are worthy of aid they will receive it. The Salvation Army can make a dollar go farther for Charity than six dollars of the individual—but $3500 is the minimum necessary to carry on.

That Lacy Thinks Lookout Infield And Outfield Will Stack Against Any In Loop

Fifth Athlete Present For Training Drill That Stars Local Ball Year; Lacy Well Pleased With Workout

"As far as the infield and outfield are concerned, Sanford will have a team that will stand up against any ball club in the Florida State League and I say this without having had the opportunity of seeing the other clubs in the league yet," said Manager Guy Lacy, new skipper of the Sanford Lookouts for the forthcoming season.

Lacy was well satisfied with the work of the players and was glad to be told that many of them had been working out for several weeks and are already in condition for the strenuous workouts that will be held within the next 15 days.

A long batting practice was the feature of the season yesterday with such players as Buck Rodgers, Jack Murray, Pete Mahlich, Johnny He-ton and Joe Ruggiero packing many hard wallops. Manager Lacy believes that the local team will be blessed with a heavy line-up.

Among the pitchers hurling practice balls in the hitting session were Bob Fisher, Duke Fulton, Milton Leiber, Johnny Rook, Joe Pinder, Carl Tills, Bob Hope, Harold Giles, George Graniche, Harold Myers, Cortez Ward, and Bob Hunsacker.

Catchers working behind the plate were Big Babe Young and Rudy Randolph of Birmingham. Infielders undergoing an infield session were Bloney Scroggins, Joe Ruggiero, "Snowball" Kirby, Jodie Lyle, Billy Wells, Buck Rodgers, Manager Lacy, Frank Narvo, Spee Milling, Odrorone, Leon Addy and John Lacy, brother of Manager Lacy.

Many outfielders reported for the initial drill and those working out were Steve Parker, Johnny Helton, Win Brown, Jack Murray, Pete Mahlich and Ray Clark.

Approximately 200 local fans saw the first camp session under the direction of Lacy and appeared to be pleased with the situation.

The Lookouts will resume work this afternoon and Manager Lacy

REILLY WINS A CASE—HIS OWN

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

By JULIAN STENSTROM

Two young gentlemen who apparently have playing positions practically in the bag with the Lookouts this season are Little Joe and "Buckshot" Rodgers. Although yesterday was the first time they underwent drill under Manager Guy Lacy, both looked like veterans of the game.

The two boys are already in good condition and have a slight edge on their many opponents since they are known to be good ball players by local fans while the new rookies still have to display their best baseball ability to get half a chance.

A glance at the infield which will more or less be together when the season opens finds on first base Manager Lacy, Rodgers at second and Ruggiero at the hot corner. However, the shortstop, vacated by the one and only Breeches Clary, is yet to be filled. There are a number of fair looking players attempting to make the berth but the shortstop department of play may never again be filled with an athlete as good as Clary.

Clary will be greatly missed this season but the local fans are still for him in a big way when he plays for Charlotte this season. In fact, the entire squad last season was taken away by Clark Griffith and the Senators and this columnist believes that for that reason the Lookouts can make more headway by operating an independent association.

Things are still a bit weary in

Batboy Al McMillian Reports All Ready For Season To Begin

Al McMillian, the bat boy who has no concern over anyone taking his regular berth this season, also reported for the first season under Manager Guy Lacy yesterday. Young McMillian was fully dressed in his home uniform and ready for action to start.

He was considered quite a novelty by the roster of the Lookouts and also by Manager Lacy but when they were told of Al's experience and standing they were completely stunned. Little Al says "I'll be right in there this season and drag in bats and runnin' the club as usual again this year. And, I'm ready for the season to start too."

Martin Reports To Charlotte; Clary Signs With Club

Edwin "Swale" Martin, ace left fielder for the Sanford Lookouts last season, has arrived in Charlotte where he is slated to play the outer gardens for the Hornets this season. It was learned today by the Herald Sports Editor whether Martin has yet signed his Charlotte contract is not known because Martin has been in a salary squabble with Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators for several weeks.

News also has reached this city that Ellis "Breeches" Clary has also signed on the dotted line with the Hornets.

Crisfield Released By Baseball Heads

The Earl of Crisfield, young hurler that displayed his wares for Henry Watson's Sanford Lookouts during the 1937 baseball year, was handed his release last night by local club officials.

No reasons for the releasing for Crisfield could be learned today but the New York youth is to go to Jacksonville where he will ask for a tryout with Bob Smith's Jacksonville Tars of the South Atlantic League.

Veterans Cut From Scope Of Revamp Bill

Administration Men Make Further Concessions To Insure Passage Of Measure

Other Exemptions Are Seen Likely

Additional Funds Appropriated For Use Of CCC Work Camps

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(AP)—House opponents of the government re-organization bill won a new concession from Administration leaders today when they agreed to an amendment exempting the Veterans Administration from any merger.

Representative Warren, North Carolina Democrat, said he saw no objection to such an amendment and it probably would be approved. He is author of the re-organization bill.

Chairman Cochran, Missouri Democrat, of the re-organization committee, said he would not oppose it. Representative Griswold, Indiana Democrat, a member of the House Veterans Committee, said the demands for exemption were based on fears it might be dropped in the proposed new Department of Welfare and "put in a hot tub on the shelf."

Some congressmen said the approval of the amendment would open the way for proposals to exempt other agencies.

The House Appropriations Committee approved a resolution to provide funds for continuing CCC conservation camps which otherwise would be closed July 1.

The bill would appropriate $15,000,000 and re-appropriate $10,000,000 of an unobligated balance of the present CCC funds for use in the year beginning July 1.

Leaders of the re-organization opposition group admitted privately that the compromise offer, giving congress power to override executive orders by a majority vote and exempting the bureau of education from reorganization, would insure passage of the bill. This, with Mr. Roosevelt's return to Washington, will bring the measure to a vote late this week or early next week, they said, but they promised a fight to keep debate open against further attempts to impose a gag rule.

Japanese And Rebel Armies Push Enemies

Meanwhile British And French Governments Are Facing Domestic Discord

Blum's Financial Program Okeyed

Opposition To Chamberlain's Policies Causes Near Riot

The Spanish government army with its back to Barcelona and the sea, and the Chinese army with its back to the Lunghai railway fought desperately today against destruction in the world's two wars.

Meanwhile the British and French governments, both aiming against the possibility of new wars to come, were faced with domestic discord.

The French People's Front cabinet approved Premier Blum's drastic financial program, including centralization of all foreign exchange operations in the Bank of France. The program will be debated in the Chamber of Deputies tomorrow and in the Senate Wednesday. It appeared the Chamber would give approval but Senate action seemed unlikely.

Opposition to the conservative ministry of Prime Minister Chamberlain threw the British House of Commons in an uproar. One member slipped another during a heated debate.

Japanese armies in northern China were fighting their way toward the sea. Government forces yielded ground but continued to fight desperately. Madrid suffered the heaviest aerial attack since the civil war began.

In China the Japanese army cracked the central China front near Yenchowang on the Grand Canal only 15 miles from the main railway which is the spinal cord of Chinese resistance.

It was believed that before war broke out a suburb of Barcelona had been captured by the Spanish army.

Before the final assault upon the city, which has been known for hundreds of years as one of the most impregnable fortresses in Spain, the armies of Franco and Mussolini formed contact at Alcaniz, 12 miles northwest along the highway to Barcelona.

From there the line of attack led along the broad highway to the Hamlet de Aragon on the northern section of Lerida, up steeply inclined streets blocked by machine gun nests and barricades.

Francisco sent a fleet of fast whippet tanks up the Hamlet, followed by African Mowra armoured cars for the opportunity to avenge the defeat of their ancestors driven from Lerida more than 1100 years ago.

The advance began in bright sunshine early in the morning, aided by 200 pieces of field artillery and scores of nationalist planes, and was terrific.

The loyalists attacked their last counter-attack at 6:30 o'clock when the nationalist infantry surged through the streets in a bayonet charge behind the whippet tanks. A half hour later the remnants of the government troops were fleeing eastward across the Negro river.

Headquarters reports said an enormous number of prisoners were taken, including troops of the crack El Campesino and Lister brigades pushed up from the southern fronts for a do-or-die defense of Lerida.

The fate of the city was said

Generally fair and warmer tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy, scattered in extreme south portion, slightly warmer in north portion.
