HOROSCOPE by BERNICE BEDEKÖL. For Saturday, October 29, 1977. YOUR BIRTHDAY Oct. 29, 1977. You will make several changes this coming year that will produce fortunate results. They will seem minor at the time, but the residual effects will be extensively beneficial. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22). Joint ventures can be very rewarding and profitable for you today, particularly if the final decisions have your stamp of approval. Find out who you're romantically suited to by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 498, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10101. Be sure to specify your birth sign. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21). You should be rather lucky today, but it will come about circuitously. You'll just happen to be involved with the right people at the right time. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). If you choose to mix business and pleasure today, they should blend well. Set up a luncheon or dinner with the boss or that important client. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Conditions generally will be to your liking today. A factor that could add even a greater dimension to your fun would be something creative. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Be all eyes-and-ears today. You might see or hear of an opportunity of considerable magnitude. A social contact could be the tipster. ARIES (March 21-April 19). Observe closely today how one you hold in high esteem operates. An opportunity will arise to emulate his technique in your own affairs. TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The type of wealth you'll be able to garner today will not be material. It will be the good will and golden thoughts of someone you'll help. GEMINI (May 21-June 20). For the next few days your material prospects look very encouraging. This is due to your talents and resourcefulness. CANCER (June 21-July 21). If there is something specific you need today, go directly to the person who can give you a definite yes or no. Success lies in dealing with key people. LEO (July 22-Aug. 22). A situation that has caused you concern is about to take a surprising twist. Keep the faith. It will end up far better than you dared hope. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Center your efforts today on projects or plans that are large in scope. The bigger the better. Retains will be in proportion to their size. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). A positive attitude is something we should strive for at all times. Today it's doubly important, for the results you can achieve will be astounding.

Ways To Regulate Body Heat Safely

DEAR DR. LAMB - I would appreciate your comments on relief from chills. The absence of both sensible and insensible perspiration creates a body temperature of 103 degrees plus in 80 degree weather. Would orthostatic hypotension with blood pressure levels of 70 over 50 being common contribute to this uncomfortable situation? DEAR READER - The low blood pressure and absence of sweating are probably caused by the same abnormalities. Individuals with these two disorders also often have problems with sphincters that may affect bowel or bladder function to some degree. We think these are related to abnormalities in the sympathetic nervous system possibly involving more than one area. I think you should be evaluated by a neurologist if you have not been already. Meanwhile, sweating is an important mechanism to cool the body. The insensible perspiration alone enables us to be air conditioned with evaporative cooling. You will need to take every advantage of mechanisms to keep the body cool that you can. So I am sending you the Health Letter number 74, Body Temperature and Fever, to give you a summary of how the body heat is regulated. Others interested in either fever or cooling the body who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for it to P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. DEAR DR. LAMB - Perhaps you may be interested in my case. I am a male in my 80th year and have been having trouble with my feet swelling. Sanford Family Accident Victims Two Killed As Truck, Van Collide

At least two young members of a Sanford family are dead this morning from injuries sustained in an accident Friday night in which eight other persons were injured—two of them seriously. Deed are Bobby Dallabrida, 15, and Robin Dallabrida, 16, his sister, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Dallabrida of Rt. 2, Miller Road off Sanford Avenue. The tragedy occurred at 6:45 p.m. Friday when the Dallabrida van with nine family members inside, was slammed broadside by a truck driven by James Lane, 23, of Jacksonville, on U.S. 1740 just north of Airport Boulevard near the Burger King restaurant. Two other members of the Dallabrida family were fighting for their lives Saturday morning at Orange Memorial Hospital. Although details of the accident were sketchy today as Sanford police continued their efforts to piece together the incident, this preliminary account was issued by police. The Dallabrida van was traveling north on U.S. 1745 just past Airport Boulevard and turned left at the beginning of the median divider closest to the exit lane leading from Burger King restaurant. The van, police said, had to travel briefly southbound in the northbound lane. However, police said the impact occurred before the van reached the exit or entrance

600 Enrolled In Seminole Schools The Gifted Children Program: What, How, Why

Gifted children. Who are they? Where do they come from? What does the Seminole County school system offer them in the way of education beyond what they might get in an ordinary classroom? Mary Witengier is program director of exceptional student education, which includes programs for the 600 gifted children in Seminole County's school population of 22,000. "Students who may be eligible for the Gifted Children program are referred by the classroom teacher," Mrs. Witengier said. The state Department of Education says those students who will be included in the Gifted Children program must meet the following definition: "superior intellectual development or outstanding talent and is capable of high performance including those with demonstrated achievement or potential ability. The mental development of a gifted student is greater than two standard deviations above the mean. (In most tests the mean intelligence quotient is 100.)" When a teacher thinks a child may meet that standard the child is referred to the guidance counselor or chairman of the "staffing committee" at the school. Then the child begins a battery of examinations designed to prove whether he meets the state's requirements. Not only is the child's intelligence and potential called into question, but "a teacher also has to express whether she feels the student has a need to be challenged by the program," Mrs. Witengier said. "Much of the testing is oriented to word skills," Mrs. Witengier said. She added that most gifted children are "very verbal." If the student passes all preliminary tests satisfactorily, further testing is done by a school psychologist. "The individual psychological examination calls for a lot of general knowledge, and the students are also given a wide-range achievement test," Mrs. Witengier said. The gifted child is assigned by Mrs. Witengier or office to a particular program which may be at his own school or another one. He will attend the program one day a week in addition to attending his regular classes four days. "Some children find they are unable to keep up with the gifted program and still complete their regular school work," Mrs. Witengier said, "so they drop out." Some talented children are never accepted into the program, according to Mrs. Witengier. "This program is set up for academic achievers and we have not yet tapped talent and creativity," Mrs. Witengier said. But the program is expected to provide a broad base of experience for children who do participate. "This program is supposed to involve some of a child's individual strengths, skills and leanings," Mrs. Witengier said. "Some children may be into experimenting, animal husbandry, perhaps genetics. Then a special program would be created for that child as well," Mrs. Witengier explained. Children in the Gifted Program share regularly in field trips, Mrs. Witengier said, which are designed to take them through a city or a facility in far greater detail than other children might receive. (From left) Jeffrey Gulgley, 10; Jill Buddenhagen, 10; Marie Shaw, 10; Eddie Hughes, 9; and Jackie Farr, 8—they're studying literature on Greece after trip to Tarpon Springs to study Greek culture. "These trips are designed to be exploratory," Mrs. Witengier said, and explained that some field trips made by the students included travelling to St. Augustine and Tarpon Springs, exploring the cities both on the bus and on foot. One class even simulated an archeological dig, allowing students to uncover objects and catalog them just as they would if they were uncovering the site of an ancient city, according to Mrs. Witengier. Parents who feel their children might be eligible for the gifted program should request a meeting with the school guidance counselor.

NATION IN BRIEF

Castro: We've Jailed 3 Or 4 CIA Agents

BOSTON (UPI) — Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Thomas P. O'Neill is back from a five-day trade delegation visit to Cuba during which Fidel Castro allowed him to interview two American political prisoners and bring home tapes of the conversations.

Last Wednesday night, Castro told the Massachusetts delegation of about 60 persons that the only American political prisoners still jailed on his island were "three or four important CIA agents."

Senate Votes Tax Credit Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, going into the home stretch on a major energy tax bill, voted Friday night to cut in half the tax credit for an industry that switches from oil and gas to coal, the largest business tax break in the bill.

CIA: 'Ice Pick' Lobotomies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA's fascination with brainwashing led the agency to consider, then reject, "ice pick" lobotomies — brain operations that could destroy a person's memory — according to documents obtained by the weekly newsletter Science Trends.

A-Fuel Ban For S. Africa?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department is considering banning the shipment of all nuclear fuel to South Africa, in addition to a total ban on military equipment sales and other measures, officials said today. The officials said shipments of highly enriched nuclear fuel to South Africa already have been halted because of the possibility that weapons-grade fuel is being stockpiled. Officials said a sufficient quantity of the 90 percent pure uranium-235 could produce a nuclear explosive.

Law Gears To Protect Kid Revelers

By JANE CASSELLBERY
Herald Staff Writer

As youngsters excitedly choose their costumes for another Halloween, residents' sleep up or treat for greed, goblins and area law enforcement agencies prepare for keeping things orderly.

Popular new additions to the costume field this year joining the traditional witches, ghosts, black cats and cyborgs, are super heroes such as Wonder Woman, Spider Man, the Bionic Man and Bionic Woman, characters from Star Trek and Star Wars and Donny and Marie Osmond.

Police Chief Justus East of Altamonte Springs is tripping the shift for Halloween night and Longwood Chief Greg Manning said every available car in his department will be on patrol to maintain as safe a holiday as possible.

A spokesman for the Sanford Police Department said there would be no increase in the number of patrolmen on duty Monday night, but patrols would be stepped up in residential neighborhoods. "Our main concern is for the protection of the children," he said, "we foresee no major problem with vandalism."

In Casselberry, police cars, fire trucks and other vehicles will be parading down the streets of Casselberry Sunday beginning at 6 p.m. as the Casselberry Jaycees distribute candy along the route starting at city hall.

Concern over the safety of youngsters, some of whom have been victims of cruel tricks in recent years, has curtailed some of the trick or treating and caused some organizations and neighborhoods to plan "haunted houses," block parties, and carnivals to keep the children safe.

The National Confectioners Association supported by government officials and police chiefs in many areas has fostered a nationwide public service program called "Meet 'n' Treat."

Parents are asked to make the treating round with small children in the afternoon or early evening hours. Neighborhood parties for a spirit of friendliness are encouraged.

Basic safety tips they recommend include the following:

Make sure costumes are light, non-flammable and short enough to prevent tripping. If they are dark, use reflective tape or carry something white such as a pillow case. Flashlights should be carried.

Use face makeup instead of masks which can obscure vision and cause difficulty in breathing. Children should call only on homes with porch or other outside lights on.

Flashlights should be lighted with flashlights rather than candles.

Children should follow the basic pedestrian safety rules developed by the National Safety Council:

— Cross only at corners, never between parked cars, never diagonally across intersection.

— Look in all directions before crossing the street.

— Walk, never run across streets.

— Use sidewalks, not the street, for walking.

— Wait on the curb, not in the street, until the street is clear to cross.

As Alternative To Direct Aid Tuition Tax Credit Eyed Favorably By Educators

By JANE CASSELLERRY Herald Staff Writer

Many of the strings attached to possible direct government aid to parochial schools, was private educators see the Tuition Tax Credit Act introduced recently by Sens. Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-New York) and Bob Packwood (R-Oregon) as an acceptable alternative.

Cannon Rees Hays, headmaster of Trinity Preparatory School operated by the Episcopal Diocese finds the Tuition Tax Credit plan attractive as it would be handled by the Internal Revenue Service as a part of the Income Tax System.

The proposal would provide a tax credit for tuition expenses of an individual, a spouse or dependent, enrolling in a parochial or private school. The amount is 50 percent of tuition payments up to a total credit of $500 per student. The credit would be subtracted directly from the amount of income taxes owed, and would be refundable if the credit is greater than the tax liability, Packwood explained.

To be eligible for the credit, an individual could be a part-

CANNON REES HAY

Hays. He thinks the proposed law would be a very desirable way of aiding parents with students in private schools.

"I wouldn't be interested in direct aid to local schools as I believe in the separation of church and state. That's why we have our school and that's why we feel this way," he said.

H. D. Kinsey, principal of Forest Lake Academy, Forest City, said the tax credit plan seems desirable. "Parents with children in private schools also contribute considerably toward the cost of public education, therefore I wouldn't be opposed to a tax break for those not using public schools," he said.

"If passed the tax credit would be available to students for tuition paid for school terms beginning Jan. 1, 1980.

"Some of the students who most need what a private school has to offer are from families who can least afford it," said Kinsey.

"A person who chooses to send children to an independent school chooses to bear the cost," he added. But as far as direct aid to parochial schools is concerned Kinsey said he has never yet seen the federal government give aid to anything they did not want to run. "We have to maintain our financial integrity, especially religious oriented private schools," Moynihan said. "They derive their support primarily from tuition, but those who pay tuition, and simultaneously a needed, albeit indirect, boost to our hard-pressed schools and colleges, particularly to private institutions forced by their lack of state subsidies to charge higher tuition than their public counterparts.

"While everyone pays taxes in support of schools, virtually none of that tax money makes its way into non-public schools," Moynihan said. "They derive their support primarily from tuition, but taxpayers all — derive little or no assistance from their local, state or federal governments." The Joint Committee on Taxation estimates the proposed legislation will result in a 1980 calendar year revenue loss to the treasury of $4.7 billion. This figure represents less than 1 per cent of a projected 1980 budget of $550 billion and is only four per cent of what the nation's taxpayers currently spend each year for public education on local, state and Federal levels. If the 7.1 million students now enrolled in private elementary and secondary schools or institutions of Higher Education were enrolled in tax supported schools, the education bill to the taxpayers would be an additional $17 billion every year, sponsors of the bill say.

The Senate Finance Committee will hold hearings on the legislation in January. Currently 12 of its 15 members are sponsors of the tax credit bill.

TEEN SUICIDE... What To Look For

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK UPI Education Editor

Dear Mom and Dad, "I've thought it over carefully and I've decided life is just too much of a hassle.

"Please don't blame yourselves, you've tried really hard and I know you love me and I love you. I just want all of the feelings to stop.

"P. S. I fed Buffy and changed her litter box. Please take good care of her for me.

That suicide note from a girl, 16, is in a report by psychiatrists at the University of Louisville School of Medicine in Kentucky.

The report is not in a medical journal. Rather, it is in Today's Education, journal of the National Education Association.

Dr. John J. Schwab and associates aim their words on suicide at teachers for a sad reason: "Depression and suicide among American youth have become massive health and social problems that are reaching epidemic proportions.

"Suicide is the third most common cause of death (after accidents and homicides) in young people between the ages of 15 and 24. Each year more than 4,000 persons in this age group kill themselves."

Schwab, head of the University's Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, said alarming as these figures may be, adolescent suicides are underreported.

The actual number is higher. Due to social and family pressures, many suicides go down as accidental deaths. Authorities estimate that the annual rate of suicide among teen-agers 15 to 19 has more than tripled since 1954.

Educators working with teenagers often are among the first to spot the symptoms of depression and other indicators of possible suicide.

"Teachers should treat their own feelings in assessing a potentially suicidal young person," the psychiatrists said.

"Often gut reactions are the most sensitive yardstick. Teachers may have an uneasy feeling that a child might hurt himself or herself."

Teachers can discuss these feelings with the young person and can actively assist the student to find help. The first sign might be marked behavior changes. Some examples:

- An outgoing child or an obnoxious child suddenly becomes quiet, sullen and withdrawn.

- A hostile child suddenly becomes overly solicitous and ingratiating toward the teacher and peers.

- A quiet child becomes very active and restless or perhaps becomes the clown. Clownish behavior may be a mask for underlying depression and helplessness.

- A child gradually becomes preoccupied with ideas and thoughts of death. He or she may say, "Oh, I don't care. I won't be around anyway to find out what happens." Or, "I would like to sleep forever and never get up." Or, "Who cares for a tomorrow? There won't be a tomorrow." Or, "Sometimes I would just like to take a gun and blow off my head... but I'm only joking."

The psychiatrists asked teachers to remember that suicidal youths frequently are grieving over a loss: loss of human contact, loss of love, loss of face, or loss of ideals.

"Material things cannot compensate for this feeling of loss," they said. "Only a relationship with another human being can remedy the feeling to some extent."

The psychiatrists said parents often deny the problem or sweep the storm warnings under the rug.

In keeping a suicide watch in the schools, teachers were urged to remember:

- It's simply not true that those who threaten to commit suicide won't. The majority of those who commit suicide do so on the first attempt and may have talked about it.

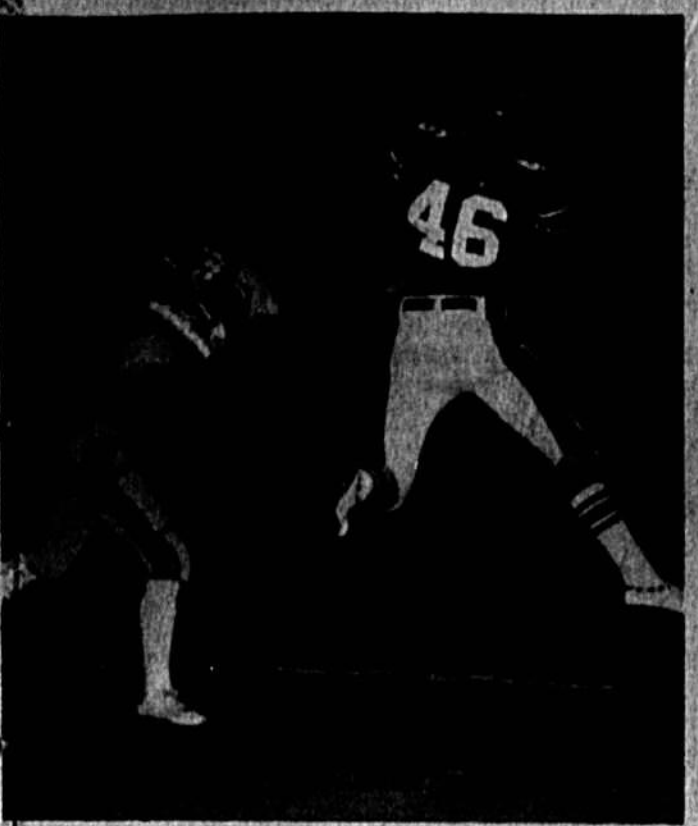

- Fewer adolescent boys than girls attempt suicide. But boys are more likely to succeed in killing themselves on first try.

- More suicides occur in late spring and early summer.

- Teen-agers most frequently tend to commit suicide between 3 p.m. and midnight. Most, at home.

Big Blue Machine Wins Big One By 24-13

Brantley Whips Bucs Soundly

By ANDY GIRARDI Herald Correspondent

The Big Blue Machine no longer has state playoffs at the back of its memory bank.

It's first and 10 with three yards to go following Lake Brantley's impressive 24-13 victory over Daytona Beach Mainland Friday night.

The news that Spruce Creek knocked off district leader Gainesville Friday night put Brantley's Patriots in the enviable position of needing wins over Deland and Seminole, plus a win by Mainland over Gainesville, to outside state playoffs berth. Otherwise, a three-way tie is a possibility.

Friday's game was played before a full house of 3,500 and found the host Patriots playing some excellent football against a previous unbeaten district foe.

The Patriots are now 4-1 in the district while Mainland and Gainesville are 6-1.

The Patriots were again led by their tremendous defense which stopped Mainland on key situations.

As usual Tommy Albers led Brantley offensively, showing his quickness and tackle-breaking ability as he chalked up 118 yards in 18 carries.

Albers was again without much help from running mate Dean Shackleford who only gained in one offensive series.

Shackleford drew a loud ovation when he carried the ball for the first time in five games picking up only a half yard.

On his only other carry he ripped seven yards on a plunge up the middle for a first down and helped sustain the second quarter scoring drive.

The first quarter was a scoreless one with both teams threatening to score but falling short.

The Pats got on the board first when Baird Lyons fired a 47-yard scoring strike to Dewayne Honaker. When Mike Kavanaugh's extra point try sailed off, the Pats had to settle for a 6-0 lead.

The Bucs, showing they were not ready to roll over and die, stormed back and scored on a 12-yard touch down pass from Ed Carter to Benson Weaver.

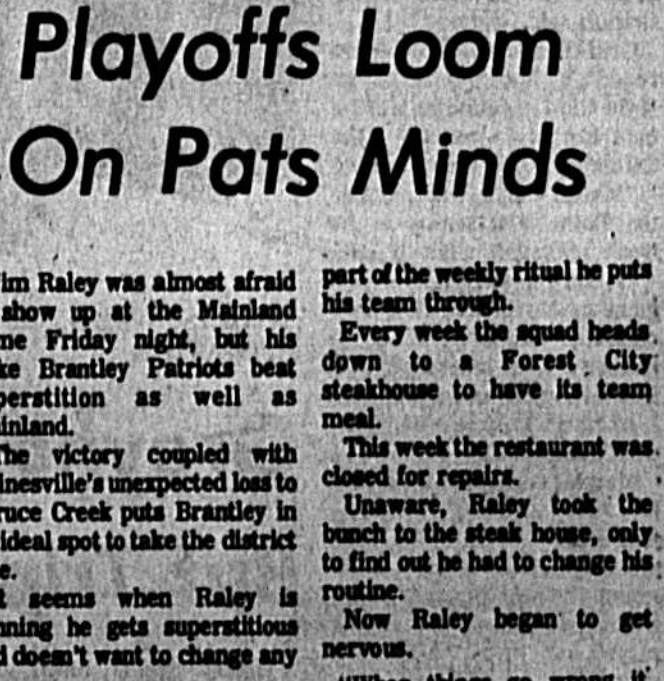

Robert Johnson like Kavanaugh missed his attempt and the score was tied, 6-6.

On the very next series Brantley went 51 yards in six plays capped by a halfback pass from Tommy Albers for a touchdown.

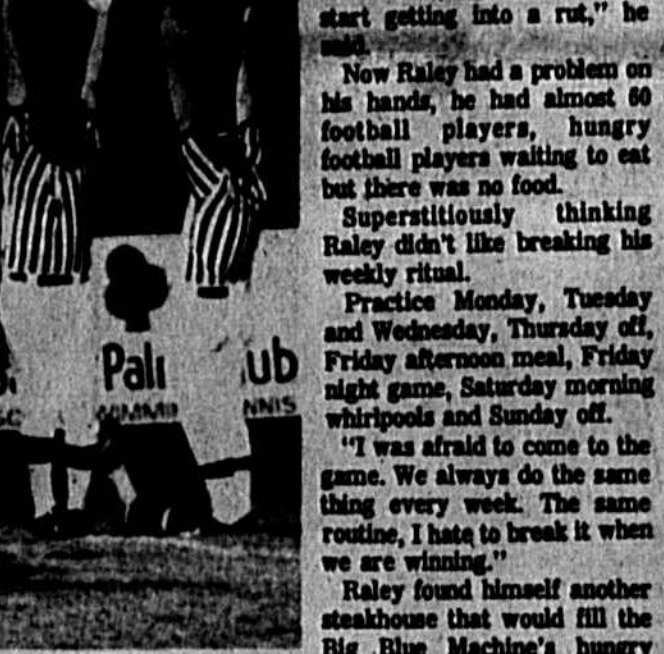

Baird Lyons flipped the ball left to Albers on his first down play from the 23 yard line. Albers rolled to the right and under tremendous pressure faked a pass to the far left leading Lyons all alone at about a five-yard line. Lyons dove in to score after grabbing the ball and when Brantley tried to back the points they lost, he missed extra point.

Seminole Wins 'In Overtime, 18-12

By DAN RUTLEDGE Herald Correspondent

It couldn't have been much closer. Seminole's 18-12 overtime victory at Lake Howell Friday night.

It was an Alka-Seltzer kind of game — the kind in which the sixes you see at halftime never quite settle — no matter which side you were on.

A crowd estimated at 1,500 were kept on the edge of their seats from start to finish.

It could be said that Lake Howell "almost" won; or that Seminole "almost" lost — but "almost" doesn't describe what happened.

The only time anyone was in command of the contest from the first, and Posey's Tribe thought they had the momentum more than once — but the Silver Hawks kept coming back, and coming back.

It shouldn't have been done, but it was," said a tired and happy Jerry Posey after the game.

"Lake Howell played a tremendous game. They just wouldn't give up," the Seminole head coach stated.

for 20 yards with 7:50 left to play in the half.

Even when Pat Reno missed the conversion kick, off to the right, it looked as if the Tribe was readying for a massacre.

On first down, Seminole quarterback Mark Renaud threw his first pass of the night, and Dickson picked it off at his 45.

Dickson ran laterally across the field, picked up some blockers, and zipped 55 yards down the right sideline to tie the score at 6-6, with 4:34 left before intermission.

Seminole then attempted to take control again — taking the ensuing kickoff and moving downfield to score.

After a good run by Tim Hardy had put the Seminole in Howell territory, at the 44, Renaud threw his second pass.

This one was also caught, but by the intended receiver, Joe Baker, who took the ball at the 25 and outran two pursuers into the end zone.

The Hawk's defender had fallen down on the play, and Baker caught the ball with no one around him for 15 to 20 yards.

Renaud tried to keep around end on the conversion attempt, but was stopped inches short on a good tackle by Bobby Luby.

So, the Seminole went into the dressing room at halftime again feeling as if they had the momentum.

The Hawks quickly dispelled that notion, however, when play resumed.

Howell received the second half kickoff, and promptly marched 68 yards, in three plays, to tie the score.

The big play in the drive was part of the weekly ritual he puts his team through.

Every week the squad heads down to a Forest City steakhouse to have its team meal.

This week the restaurant was closed for repairs.

Eustis Hands Lions Seventh Loss

Oviedo Bites Dust Again, 36-15

By LEE GEIGER Herald Correspondent

EUSTIS — When Joe Montgomery took over as head football coach at Oviedo High School he figured it would take three years to bring a winning tradition to the Seminole County School.

That was three years ago. Now, Montgomery realizes it will take longer — at least two more seasons. "I really didn't think it would take this long," the Lions mentor commented recently. "But I now can see it is a five-year program. It will take that long to accomplish all the things I am after."

One of those things Montgomery is after is a schedule that includes teams Oviedo can be competitive against. Friday night Oviedo played a Class AA school when it journeyed to this citrus belt town and took on the Panthers in their own backyard.

The outcome was not one that Montgomery would have liked. While AA schools are the teams that Montgomery feels his squad should be matched up against, he was still on the short end of the stick.

end of the side department. Eustis outperformed us by 20 pounds per man," Montgomery said immediately before getting back on the bus for the long ride home. "They are a big, physical team and we were just not strong enough."

On the positive side, Montgomery was pleased with his quarterback's performance. "Randy Willis did a real good job. He never gave up, and I was very proud of his effort."

That lead was short lived, as Eustis slammed back with the next three scores to go up by a 21-3 count.

The visitors tried to rally by driving down the field and scoring on another Lions run. This came late in the first half, bringing the score to a 21-13 deficit.

Willis then hit his tight end Dan Nash for a two-point conversion and the Lions were as close as they were going to get for the night, as the teams took intermission with the scoreboard reading 26-9.

The final half was all Eustis, as the home team added another couple of TDs to close out the contest.

Next week the Lions will try to get back on the winning trail when they play arch rival Lake Howell.

RANDY WILLIS SQUIRMS FOR FIRST DOWN YARDAGE

Griffith Won't Let Mauch Go

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Gene Mauch will manage the Minnesota Twins next season or he won't manage at all, Twins President Calvin Griffith said Friday.

Griffith said he turned down a request by Mauch to be let out of the third and final year of his contract to manage the California Angels next season. "Mauch either will manage the Twins next season or he won't manage," Griffith said.

"I don't know whether he's going to stay or not. He's on a vacation playing golf in a celebrity golf tournament in Hawaii now. When he gets back I imagine he'll let us know what's happening."

Mauch was quoted as saying he was "sick of managing expansion teams." He was unhappy about prospects of losing outfield stars Lyman Bostock and Larry Hite, who played out their options this year and haven't come in terms, and he was interested in the Angels because they are close to the home of the Palm Beaches.

Griffith said Mauch approached California's owner Gene Aday and Griffith's son, Clark, before talking with him. "It was quite a shock to me when he approached me in California," Griffith said. "I was going to make a request like that should have done it at the end of the season before the playoffs."

He said he first told Mauch he "didn't give a damn." "I don't think it would be good to have a manager who wants to be somewhere else," he said. "But I also told him I would have to talk with the rest of the family and club officials."

WILLIS MONTGOMERY DISCUSSES GRIM SITUATION

Greyhounds Lead Early, But Tripped Up, 21-16

Victory seems much like fame at Lyman High School's football field — it is fleeting as the season goes on.

Both coaches who called signals the first seven games were moved to end this week. He started and played split end and tight end.

Lyman had a hot hand in Lyman's first-half success. He hit Frank Frma with touchdown passes on plays covering 21 and 30 yards. He was 4-for-9 in the passing department, also adding 60 yards rushing.

It was the final home game of the season for the 'Hounds, playing at Apopka Friday night and closing out with a road game at Seminole.

Howell Running Out Of Hawks; Mourns Death Of Coach's Mom

Lake Howell is running out of Silver Hawks... that's the word from Hawk's head coach Curtis Keen.

"It is a hard day over here," said Keen, after his Hawks had lost a close — as close as you get — 18-13 decision to Seminole Friday night.

"We are hurting, not just for today, but for the rest of the season. Injuries are really getting us down," said an obviously down Keen.

Keen received word late Friday night that his mother had passed away and Saturday morning he flew to Louisville, Ky. to be with family members and for the funeral.

Keen said that the first half of the game was just "shades of the Lake Brandey game."

Bucs At Frisco, Dolphins Host Chargers

The Baltimore Colts lost their first game of the season last week. They'd better not lose their second game this week. The Colts' offense, averaging better than 20 points a game on route to win in their first five games, thunders to a screeching halt against the New England Patriots last week with a meager field goal their only score in the 37-0 loss and but 86 net yards to show — this against the American Conference's second-best defense.

Pittsburgh, the opponent this week, will have to overcome a stout defense. The Steelers have won an additional 11 to earn their seventh straight playoff berth. They've beaten Baltimore in key games the last two times out, each time in an opening round of the Conference playoffs.

The Steelers and Colts both own shares of their divisional leads, with Pittsburgh tied with Cleveland for the AFC Central lead — a game ahead of Houston — and Baltimore and Miami at 5-1 in the AFC East, so a loss for either in the division would be very detrimental to post-season hopes.

Baltimore is a one-point favorite at home and in the other Sunday games.

The Union: It's Dividing A Town

Many business and civic leaders in textile towns agree. They contend the southward move of the textile industry over the past 50 years has brought prosperity and that the unions will bring inflation.

Whatever the reason — and the union claims it is threats by management to close plants and lay off workers — fewer than 10 percent of southern textile workers are organized.

Wilson Lambert and a number of other Stevens workers, most of them over 50, are trying to organize an election that would throw the union out of the plant. They call themselves the Education Committee.

Businessmen say Stevens has brought a lot to Roanoke Rapids. "If Stevens hadn't taken over those mills, there'd be nothing here and everyone would be on welfare," says Robert Towne, who runs The News and Photo Center.

Stevens management and people like Towne bridle at the union's boycott literature, which tends to make the plants sound like 19th-century sweatshops.

Union stalwarts show equal disdain for Stevens' self-portrayal as a benevolent modern employer, with clean plants and the most up-to-date equipment, wishing nothing but the best for its employees.

The company says it has raised wages an average of 7 percent to $3.96 an hour in Roanoke Rapids. The union puts the figure 30 cents below that, but there is little argument that textile workers are among the lowest-paid manufacturing workers in the United States.

DEBATERS: DOT PENNINGTON AND BOB WISHOFF

Bob, a poet, has just been hired for Seminole County's "Poets In The Schools" program, and will be teaching poetry at seven local schools.

Bob and Don agreed that wasn't a bad idea at all. When they are not busy exercising the in-laws right to debate, both Bob and Don are deeply committed to their work.

The students Bob will be teaching are not special classes. They are "ordinary" students, Bob says, neither unusually bright nor slow.

'Displaced Homemakers' Lead Seminars

The Displaced Homemakers' course was developed through the "Project 21st Century Women" program at SCC and will be headed by Pat Landry and Gloria Simpson.

"We have eventually to publish a directory of these agencies," says Mrs. Simpson. The directory would include the Seminole County Mental Health Center, which has a sliding scale and offers help to anyone who needs it.

"Our job search section will include how to handle job applications, cover letters, resumes and job information," says Mrs. Simpson.

The section on coping with children will include advice and assistance from experts and sessions in the area, the women agreed, and should include not much of the other information, helping parents to cope with the uncertainty of working.

The first unit on coping with children, said Mrs. Simpson, "is an examination of ourselves as human beings, finding skills which are suitable for the job market."

"We feel we have many experiences in common with the people who will be in these classes," Mrs. Simpson said.

Arts Enthusiasts Welcome Huskeys To Host Ballet Reception

DORA LEE RUSSELL (L TO R), MARTHA YANCEY AND SUE HUSKEY PLAN BENEFIT

By DOBIE DIETRICH
COURTESY THE EDITOR

Visiting the Sweetwater Oaks home of E. Everett and Sue Huskey is as warm as reuniting with longtime friends. Hospitality reigns supreme in the distinctive dwelling. The Huskey mansion located at 800 Sweetwater Blvd., Longwood, is the perfect spot for a fancy party with a festive flair in luxurious surroundings.

Since the couple moved into the sprawling home a few years ago, Sue has done more than her share of entertaining. Her Southern hospitality has beckoned notables from all corners of the globe.

And Sue, who is an advocate of promoting the arts, and a lady who has it all together, is a natural in the gracious business role.

As Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole, a non-profit-making dance company, observes its Tenth Jubilee Celebration, the Huskeys will host a benefit reception at their home Friday night between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Admission to the season's social gala is through subscription, ranging from donations of $15 to $1,000, life membership. Each tax-deductible subscription entitles the supporter and spouse or guest to the reception and the Annual Spring Concert scheduled in March, 1978.

Persons interested in the continued support of the arts and the 10-year-old ballet company are cordially invited to the reception. Advance subscriptions can be arranged through the Ballet Guild office, 2310-D Oak Ave., 323-2810, or at the Huskey home Friday night.

The reception is under the command of Mrs. E. A. (Martha) Yancey and her committee. Expect the finest, Nick Pfeiland and his orchestra will provide musical entertainment, ranging from favorite nostalgic tunes to today's pop selections.

Vivian Buck is exercising her catering expertise in arranging the refreshments to feature bubbling champagne fountains and a variety of tempting hors d'oeuvres.

'Come Meet Candidates'

Citizens of Winter Springs will get to see, hear, and question the candidates in the upcoming city election. There are several candidates nights in the plans.

Nov. 3, is the night picked by the Tusavilla Homeowners Association as their candidates night. The event will be held at the Tusavilla Club House on Winter Springs Blvd. and will begin at 8 p.m.

Candidates will be timed on the length of their speeches and a question and answer period will follow. The public is invited.

Stella Sines of Tusavilla recently returned from an extended trip to Virginia and Maryland.

For the first week, Mrs. Sines visited with her son and daughter-in-law, Lynn and John Sines of Hampton, Va. The occasion was the celebration of her granddaughter's first birthday. Mrs. Sines says it was a pleasure to "spoil Abigail for a week."

From there she journeyed to Manassas, Va., where she was the guest of Les and Audrey Schatz, friends from whom the Sines were in the service. She finished up the trip with a four-day visit with Dick and Rosemarie Holmes of Ocum Hill, Md. She had an opportunity to "go camping" while in Maryland.

There is still time to decide to take part in the Winter Springs Beautify Program sponsored by the Winter Springs Ladies Auxiliary in the Volunteer Fire Dept. Sign up day is Nov. 19 at the Winter Springs City Hall (Fire Station No. 1) from 2 to 4 p.m.

Wouldn't one of you lovely young ladies love to be crowned Miss Winter Springs and be able to take part in all the festivities planned? All you have to do is enter.

Practice What You Preach Will Make A Wonderful Catch

By ANIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Your recent answer to the 17-year-old girl who wanted to know what was wrong with premarital sex was good, but incomplete. Here is how I would have answered:

Dear Speaking For Them: There are several reasons other than fear of V.D. and pregnancy for saying no, even if the moral code or religious beliefs provide you with insufficient guidance. Among them:

1. If you ever marry, and most people still do, remaining "pure" beforehand will give your spouse less reason to be distrustful of you. This is bound to lead to a healthier and happier relationship.

2. Sex between unmarried people usually results in guilt, shame and loss of self-esteem.

3. If you're really in love, sex isn't needed to have a fulfilling relationship. And if you should discover that you aren't really in love, having had sex will make breaking up all the more painful.

hasn't. His mother did everything for him, including washing his hair. The big fight is over his leaving the bathtub dirty for me to clean. Abby, I find this revolting, but if he refuses to do it, then I have to, which is the way it's been lately. I agreed to wash out the tub after him until we hear from you.

He said he would go by your decision. He says if I loved him, I'd do it. I say if he loved ME, he wouldn't ask me to. Who is right?

DEAR ABBY: Someone told me that girls who wear glasses look more intelligent than girls who don't wear glasses. Do you think this is true?

DEAR QUESTIONING: Possibly. But it's only an optical illusion.

BETTY ASH AND MACRAME CRADLE

Macrame Planter Grew And Grew To Unique Cradle

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Macrame is an age-old art that has suddenly found itself in just about the "number one" spot in the craft world of today.

If you admire the many beautiful macrame items shown in all stores, and feel a qualm about trying to make one yourself, then have no fear.

Betty Ash, who owns the Misty Illusions Arts and Crafts Shop, in Longwood, said, "Anyone can do this! I didn't know one thing about macrame when I opened my shop. My husband, Claude, said, 'Well, if I can build an airport or a high-rise, then I can sure tie a knot!' So we got some books and learned how to put the whole thing together!"

According to Betty, there are 167 knots involved in the macrame procedure. "There are only six basic knots, and if you know how to tie them, then you can do any of the others by reading your instructions," she said.

One unique item of macrame that is on display at the shop is a white cradle. "Well, it was really supposed to be a planter, but I made it entirely of white nylon, and it turned out so pretty, I couldn't see putting potted plants in it. So I placed a pretty coverlet in it, and turned it into a cradle," she said.

It measures seven feet, from top to the bottom, and will hold 250 pounds. The cradle and several other beautiful articles, will be entered in the Homearama Show, to be held in Orlando, from November 10-13 at the Fairgrounds.

"People enter arts and crafts from all over the country," she said.

With Christmas just around the corner, Betty suggests handmade gifts of ceramics or macrame. "They are really appreciated and people know that you put a lot of work in their gifts."

WIN AT BRIDGE

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

South won with West would hurt South. West could not lead a spade successfully. Any spade South played the club ace, played the king of clubs and jack of clubs. East took his queen, led a spade and he was bingo time.

Before a hundred readers were in to tell us that South could still make his contract after misplaying the clubs, we know that he could have done just that.

South is the one who should pass. You have 14 high-card points but your hand is completely balanced with spades your only four-card suit. A bid with this holding at this point invites the under-taker.

Instead, he led the ace to guard against a possible singleton queen in the West hand. Not that a club trick

YOUR BIRTHDAY

Oct. 26, 1977. Some secret ambitions you've been unable to do anything about have an excellent chance of being fulfilled this coming year. Persons working in the background will be instrumental in aiding you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You will not go unnoticed today. Others will come something intense, yet magnetically attractive in your manner. This mystic aura will draw admirers. Find out who you're romantically suited to by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Agreement made today will be beneficial and enduring. Desire to make it will be equally strong with both parties.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not shy away from competitive situations today. Challenges awaken your finer qualities. You will learn something about yourself you weren't aware of.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your ability to retain what you learn is excellent today. Do things to broaden your mind.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Instead of going out looking for ways to enjoy yourself, stick around the house and do

For Monday, October 31, 1977

Your Birthday

Oct. 31, 1977. This coming year you are likely to set very specific targets and goals regarding your career, finances and status. You will know where you're going and how to get there.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Experience is a good teacher today. You'll learn something to help broaden your outlook. The next time a similar incident occurs you'll manage it with ease.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) As for situation today is far more potential than you realize. Before seeking fresh ventures, analyze first what's at hand.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're available and proud today, but also you're not ready to take a calculated risk. Your sporting instinct tips the odds in your favor.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Associates are cooperative today, but try not to be overly dependent upon them. You'll be far more productive if you're free of a tandem harness.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Attend to necessary tasks today, but also take time to smell the roses. It's more than you deserve. Since I make 11.5 such local calls each month, I can anticipate a boost in my annual premium which will come to about $10 a month. As a possible way to prepare us for the day of the $16-gallon gasoline, neighborhood service stations have jacked up the price by 5 cents a gallon at the gas pumps, which costs me $4 a month extra.

Although I have heard there'll be a bumper coffee crop in Latin American countries, I haven't noticed any drop in the retail price for a pound of coffee. In fact, prices generally seem to be higher for other items on the supermarket shelves and in the drugstore.

Oh, yes, in July my wife and I had a cost-of-living increase show up on our Social Security checks. Since we both had been long time maximum contributors to the Social Security Fund, we probably were luckier than many others and our new added benefits came to $28.20. Special gift for brides-to-be PHOTOS FOR WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS Call 322-2887 Bob Orwig, photographer

Nureyev Had Hard Time Playing No Talent Homosexual

Ken Russell's conception of Valentino is an untalented homosexual dancer exploited by the machinery of Hollywood, says director Ken Russell's latest film "Valentino." "It was hard for me to play a homosexual, and nearly impossible to portray an actor with no talent."

Although widely renowned for his dance, the Russian-born Nureyev is not a novice when it comes to acting. Says Nureyev in Rolling Stone: "Start acting. My dear, I've been acting for nineteen years. It's like somebody else said, 'After this film you'd be used to acting.' The audacity to say such a thing! After nineteen years!"

RUDOLPH NUREYEV CHERYL LADD

No Longer Second Choice

"I'm going to play myself so that people can easily relate to me," says Cheryl Ladd, Charlie's newest angel. "I'm kind of kooky and I hope my sense of humor shows. As for my clothes, I'll wear what I usually wear — black satin pants, baseball cape and visors. Then, when I dress up in gowns, I'll be an interesting change."

Cheryl, who is married to actor Alan Ladd's son David, is a veteran of TV walk-ons. "I had seven years of TV things you'd forget as soon as you saw them," she says in US magazine.

ON CAMPUS

OVIEDO HIGH SCHOOL

Class officers have been elected for the 1977-78 school year and Don Jacobs is senior class president. Also elected from the senior class were: Lynda Blackwood, vice president; Maria Rogers, secretary and Wanda Jo Granderville, treasurer.

Kathleen Green was elected president of the junior class while Kelly Kearney was named vice president. Kim Davis, secretary and Sharon Willis, treasurer.

In the sophomore elections, Susie Riggs won the president's race, Ruby Eubanks was elected vice president, Florida Granger, secretary and Lee Evans, treasurer.

LYMAN HIGH SCHOOL

Senior Laurie Owens has been named editor of the yearbook, while Ron Harrel is the new sponsor. Lyman's chorus department received $16,000 in donated piano equipment. "Miracle Worker," the story of Helen Keller is the drama club's fall play.

There are some changes at the school newspaper, including the name, "Greyhound Growl" is being edited by Lisa Miller with assistant editors Doreen Gruber and Lynn Grunow.

Crystal Milstead is student council treasurer and Wanda Barrett and Mark Stover were elected to Senior representative posts.

Kim Drury is junior representative while Mike Addison and Nancy Webber will serve as sophomore representatives. Freshman representatives are: Shawn Dancel, Lisa Givins, Jeff Horn, Michael Shison, Terri Statts and Lauri Williams.

SEMINOLE HIGH SCHOOL Seminoles High School has no problem with spirit this year. Students are speaking up, reaching out and taking action.

Now, you would think that the disappointment of the first of the football season might put a damper on support. On the contrary, the attendance at a major away game was sensational. When it looked stormy and depressing, the fans cheered louder and harder, and the term opened with an enrollment of 2,300. The fighting spirit of the "Big Blue Machine" is exemplified by Coach Jim Riley, who shaved his head to fire up his team — JIM BYERS AND LAURA HOFFMAN.

THE TRILL of entertaining also brought out the best of the students, with tremendous participation in the second annual "Bong Show." The demonstrations of talent were varied, ranging from dancing and singing to dressing up like fruits and acting insane! (Perhaps they weren't acting!) — AURA YOUNG.

What About Florida Taxpayer?

Growing Older

I live in Florida where thousands of elderly persons count on their monthly Social Security checks as the main source of their income. And it seems to me that Florida's state legislators and the Public Service Commission are more interested in protecting the salaries of officers and the dividends of stockholders of the large utility companies, instead of looking after the interests of ordinary taxpayers. But I hope such conditions don't exist for citizens in the other 49 states.

My Public Service Commission has granted another rate raise to the Florida Power and Light Company. After comparing my recent electric bill with one of the same month a year ago, I've made a quick estimate that I'll be paying $10 a month more for my electric current.

If I used 750 kilowatts or less electricity a month, I could avoid the 18.11 percent increase in my bill. But that would mean I'd have to shut off my air conditioner, which is pretty much a necessity during the summer months in the suburbs.

I'd have to disconnect the dishwasher, forego television watching except for a few special news shows when the President and federal officials tell us the country's financial picture is much brighter. I'd have to trade in my power-consuming new frost-free refrigerator for an old-fashioned ice box. If I could find someone who'd deliver a cake of ice each day, in effect, I have no alternative except to pay the extra $10 a month for these conveniences.

I anticipate paying about $5 more a month for my use of telephone services. First, there's the hike in the rate for my home phone. It's more than normal for other parts of the country, although it does give me unlimited phone calls within a small zone. Many of the elderly do not make too many calls, and have no need for unlimited phone service. They could do with a cheaper monthly rate.

I make several calls a month into a nearby zone, sometimes less than 10 miles away. This is a toll call, and the fee of these calls has been raised 25 cents for annual increases for auto insurance, and I'm sure I can anticipate a boost in my annual premium which will come to about $10 a month. As a possible way to prepare us for the day of the $16-gallon gasoline, neighborhood service stations have jacked up the price by 5 cents a gallon at the gas pumps, which costs me $4 a month extra.

Although I have heard there'll be a bumper coffee crop in Latin American countries, I haven't noticed any drop in the retail price for a pound of coffee. In fact, prices generally seem to be higher for other items on the supermarket shelves and in the drugstore.

Literacy Tests: To The Court?

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Lawyers, school officials and legislators say that Florida's literacy tests, given for the first time this month as a prerequisite for graduation, will ultimately end up in the courts.

State officials agree. They, too, expect blacks, migrants and Spanish-speaking pupils to fail in much larger numbers than most whites.

Education Commissioner Ralph Turington insists that the tests underwent rigorous examination to filter out racial and cultural bias. He and other officials are confident that it — and the basic skills tests given to third, fifth, eighth and 11th graders — can withstand any court challenge.

Rep. Bill Sadowick, D-Miami, notes that a desegregation case led the Supreme Court to affirm a judge's right to order major remedial programs to erase the vestiges of past discrimination. That decision, he says, could lead to litigation aimed at expanded remedial training in Florida.

McClung also suggests that the tests may be assailed if they are imposed with only a few years warning to high school students.

Even some school officials agree with that objection. They say lawmakers should have given students more notice.

McClung also suggests that the tests may be assailed if they are imposed with only a few years warning to high school students.

Two or three years' notice seems inadequate for a test which measures 12 years of cumulative learning; such notice may constitute a due-process violation, McClung says.
