

Bithlo

The Vigorous heart of a Growing Commonwealth

Overlooking the heart of Florida

100 square miles of the best land from the ridge to the sea

This is the outlook that Bithlo people will have from their 125 foot water and observation tower.

And this typifies the broad vision and outlook that the builders of Bithlo conceived when planning the development of this crossroads of commerce, Orange County's new economic center.

Already a regular stop on the main line of the East Coast Railway to Miami, Bithlo will enjoy the advantages of a trading center serving a large and fertile citrus and truck farming territory. Experts declare that the soil near Bithlo is the same that makes Sanford the wealthiest truck and celery section of Florida, while its rich Norfolk sand is the secret that has long made Orange County, Florida's citrus center.

The Cheney Highway crosses the railroad at Bithlo and this intersection of two great arteries of commerce assures its future prosperity and a profit to investors.

Bithlo

The new "BUY-WORD" of Central Florida

Not only is Bithlo assured commercial prosperity, but being situated in beautiful scenic territory it is bound to appeal to home lovers as an ideal place for permanent residence.

To insure attractive municipal surroundings, the builders of Bithlo have retained nationally known architects and landscape specialists who are laying out streets, parks, country club and golf course, and designing municipal and semipublic buildings.

Values in certain sections of this rich Commonwealth are often based only upon seasonable or purely artificial demand, while others depend upon commerce and industry or products of the soil. Bithlo possesses all these advantages. It has agriculture. It is a trading center. It is a delightful homesite. It has transportation and conveniences and it has a permanence of values that will return its investors many fold.

Reproduced is a sketch of the 125 foot water and lookout tower designed for Bithlo by Harold Field Kellogg, the construction of which will soon be under way. Ornamental in itself, this tower will form an essential link in the municipal water system and afford a bird's eye view over 100 square miles of Florida.

COAST LINE MAY BUILD NEW MAIN ROUTE TO TAMPA

Completion Of Branch Line Is Expected To Result In Rails Being Shortened 40 Miles At Point In Tampa-Tribby Route

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 20.—Reports from Tampa that the Atlantic Coast Line expects to extend its Tampa-Thonotosassa branch within the near future from Thonotosassa to Dade City is taken here to mean that the Coast Line, if it does this, may within the next year or two carry out a plan which has been simmering for some years and which would revolutionize the transportation system of Florida.

Extension of the Thonotosassa branch to Dade City would give Tampa direct access to the Coast Line's western outlet via Ferry and Monticello, and under construction, making it unnecessary to enter Lakeland and saving approximately forty miles between Tampa and Tribby. This extension, however, is one of the most important features of a plan to provide a new route between Jacksonville and Tampa and cut the distance to less than 200 miles and if it is undertaken early announcement of steps to provide the Jacksonville-Tampa short route would not be surprising.

The Coast Line's main route from Jacksonville to Tampa now is via Palatka, Sanford, Orlando and Lakeland. The new route would be via Palatka, Pierson, Astor, Port Mason, Leesburg, Webster, Tribby, Dade City and Thonotosassa.

The Coast Line now reaches Astor, on the St. Johns river, with branch lines from Leesburg via Port Mason. For years it has considered leaving the Jacksonville-Tampa line at Pierson below Palatka, bridging the St. Johns at Astor and tying in its Astor-Leesburg line. Construction of the Thonotosassa-Dade City extension and building from Pierson to the St. Johns and into Astor is all the work necessary to provide the new through branch.

Another eleven or twelve miles might be saved by building a line about four miles in length from Webster to Terrytown, on the Sanford Tribby branch, making it unnecessary to operate trains into Croom and down the heavily travelled Croom-Tribby main line.

OIL AT TULLOS, LA.

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 20.—(P)—Oil operators of the Tallos Oil Field near here, have announced their intention of starting important tests soon in an area about one mile west of Tullus. Reports received here today indicated that a well brought in with a flow of 1,000 barrels of "black gold" in the new field Saturday night by Love Brothers Co., and still yielding quantities of oil.

A goose egg weighing half a pound hatched a splendid pair of twin goslings.

Sets Record

Meet Sabin W. Carr, sensational Yale pole vaulter, who bettered the world's indoor record at New Haven, Conn., the other day. Carr cleared the bar at 13 feet, one inch. Sherrill of Pennsylvania held the former mark, an inch less, though Dean Brownell, one-time Illinois star, is credited with a vault of 13 feet 5-8 inch on a dirt runway.

New $20,000 Wurlitzer Organ Arrives For Installation In Milane Theater

A crew of trained employees working under the direction of J. H. DeWolff, southern representative of the Wurlitzer factory, today began the task of installing the new $20,000 combination unit orchestra and organ purchased by the management of the Milane Theater, and delivered in Sanford two weeks after it was shipped from North Tonawanda, N. Y., despite existing rail congestion.

In commenting on the delivery of the organ, which is described as one of the largest to be placed in operation in this state, Mr. Marenzette said that the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce was directly responsible for its rapid trip to Sanford. The instrument which is said to be equivalent to a 20-piece orchestra, includes bass and snare drums, cymbals, harps, telephones, bird whistles, cymbal, Surf machines, tambourines, thunder machines, castanets, automobile horns, and all the weird and sundry accessories necessary for the colorful exhibition of the wildest of the wild west shows and the most classical of the "heavy" productions. Three keyboards are necessary for the operation of instrument, which is in the form of two organs, played either individually or together, and "Professor" George Brookman is expected to have his hands full; both of keys and trouble.

While the installation of the machine would normally require about two weeks, according to Mr. DeWolff, a special corps of laborers working both night and day is expected to complete the job in about eight days. The organ formerly used in the Milane will be moved to the Princess Theater. Mr. Marenzette stated that a new piano will be installed at the Milane for use on special occasions.

Big Bond Issue In Holmes County

BONIFAY, Jan. 20.—Holmes county has voted a bond issue of $80,000 as its contribution toward construction of the Alabama-Gulf highway to be built from Esto, on the Alabama line, to Phillips Inlet, on the Gulf. The State Road Department is to begin construction of this highway in the immediate future and the Alabama highway department is preparing to meet it at the Florida line with a road which will connect with the highway system of that state. From Esto the highway will run through Bonifay, Veron and other points on its way to Phillips Inlet. Washington and Bay counties are prepared to assist in building the highway through their confines.

Vote To Extend Bradenton Limits

Bradenton, Fla., Jan. 20. (AP)—The city council has set February 23 as the date on which an election will be held to determine if the city limits shall be extended. It is proposed to include a $475,000 bond issue in the election to pay for the city expansion improvements. The council has also instructed the city attorney to draw up a law that will require telephone and light companies to exercise particular care in stringing the wires for the protection of the trees on the streets of the city.

JUDGE'S CITES PROBED

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 20.—(P)— Posses today continued search for a negro, who last night shot and killed three members of a family and injured a fourth. The dead are Clarence Bryant, 38, tenant of a farm near here, his eight year old daughter, and five year old son.
His wife is in a serious condition at a local hospital today.
The posses are headed by Sheriff
Fuller and are aided by blood hounds brought to the scene shortly after the crime.
Mr. Bryant, his wife, and two children had returned home last night, according to Mrs. Bryant's story to police when the negro, who she said, was John Henry Jones, 45, former employe on the farm, confronted them at the front door with a shot gun. He began firing without saying a word, she said, shooting first her husband, then the children and herself, the negro then fled.
Mrs. Bryant said she then crawled to a nearby farm house, and told of the shooting. She gave no apparent reason for the affair, saying if her husband had any enemies she was unaware of them.

The Wide World was his Address until he saw Asheville

WE'LL call him McAllister, but that is not his name. A br-r-rawny Scot—a globe trotter: in the Alps today and the Riviera tomorrow. A letter addressed to him care of General Delivery at any post office might reach him. A professional man, and like most wanderers, his one great ambition was to find a place which would tempt him to settle down.

One morning, several years ago, McAllister arrived in Asheville, and he hasn't left yet! His name is in the directory, his real estate holdings are increasing in number and in value. He is prospering in his profession. Asheville has cured his wanderlust.

Sitting on the wide veranda of his beautiful house on a mountain-side overlooking a glimmering lake, we asked McAllister why he had stayed in Asheville.

"First of all," he said, "I've always loved the mountains, and here are the most beautiful peaks and valleys I have seen. The country is high—but not too high—a generous half-mile is just about right. I've been chased by cyclones, earthquakes and tidal waves, but none of these will bother me here. Mosquitoes and malaria are my greatest fears and you Asheville people don't even know what they are. The even climate—neither extreme, winter or summer. The people are American, friendly and cultured. Business opportunities are all around.

"I stay in Asheville because I'm happy here."

Those who are searching for an all-year home will find Asheville the dream they've feared could never come true. Those who want a winter home will find few of the winter's chilly blasts here. Those who seek a summer place will experience few of the mid-summer discomforts.

Come to Asheville. When you drive home, come by way of Asheville and see with your own eyes the beauties of nature which defy description.

Detailed information and descriptive booklets will be sent on request by the Chamber of Commerce, Asheville N. C.

THE SKY SAILORS

I saw three ships come sailing in, Three argosies of clouds and air, And all the dreamers used to spin, It seemed had found fulfillment there.

Mankind has watched the ships go out, And stood to see the ships come home, And woven stirring songs about, A spreading sail and dashing foam.

The ships have lured brave boys away, To ride the waves and breast the gales, But now they face a newer day, And ships have neither masts nor sails.

Now over land and aerie and tree, The argosies are set out, As earlier vessels of the sea, The liners of the sky are stout.

The pilot waves a brave farewell, A motor engine, the ship ascends, The course is set and all is well, God grant the trip as bravely ends.

Now may a little boy, as I, Once yearned to know the salty sea, Shall long to know the realms of sky, And pilot such an argosy.

And for the daring lads who roam, I find this prayer upon my lips, God keep and bring them safely home, Who go up to the sky in ships.—Edgar A. Guest.

Airplane Legislation

Of the many who viewed with admiration the trim little plane flying low over the city Tuesday afternoon possibly few realized that one of a hundred little accidents may well have transformed the graceful, birdlike contrivance into an engine of destruction, hurtling through traffic on First Street at terrific speed, maiming and killing and destroying property.

A sudden gust of wind, a jamming of controls, a side slip on the steep turns, or a dead-motor would have forced the machine down in the very heart of the city, the pilot having insufficient altitude to glide to uninhabited areas. Flying less than two hundred feet above First Street, the plane represented a distinct menace to the lives and property of innocent people, and legislation designed to prevent a repetition of this occurrence should be enacted by the city at once.

At this dawning of the airplane era, practically every city of any consequence in the country has taken cognizance of the hazards entailed by the low flying plane, and has sought to guard against this evil by adopting legislative measures establishing a zone limit in which no planes may fly. There are many here who would scoff at the suggestion of local airplane legislation as too futuristic, but an analysis of the situation recently completed by experts shows that low flying over a city of Sanford's size represents greater menace to citizens than low flying over a metropolis, where skyscrapers prevent the machine from swooping down into the streets at full landing speed.

Several times during Tuesday's flight, the pilot brought his machine over the First National Bank building less than fifty feet above the flag staff. This excessively low altitude was unnecessary. The clearness of the skies and excellent visibility made it possible for the pilot to advertise his wares just as advantageously from a safe height. His continued low driving was merely a foolhardy practice that is just as dangerous as a speeding automobile on a public highway, and the City Commission should recognize this fact and take steps to prevent its recurrence.

If plans sponsored by the Kiwanis Club materialize, Sanford will in the near future become one of Florida's principal airports, and planes will visit the city in large numbers, bringing passengers and express shipments from far distant points. Just as traffic regulations adopted several years ago are now inadequate to control ground transportation, so may the coming year witness the development of air-traffic beyond the bounds of existing flying restrictions, and city officials would do well to profit by the lesson of the automobile, and take early steps to reduce the dangers of traffic in the air.

Time To Widen The Avenues

Regulations which prohibit the parking of automobiles in the business district for more than one hour will serve an important purpose. Doing away with left-hand turns at some of the busy street intersections will help the traffic situation. But in enacting laws of this kind the city commission has just begun a program of traffic regulation which is a big one, and becoming greater each day as the city grows.

Just as important, if not more so, is the matter of widening Park, Magnolia and Palmetto Avenues to a sensible width. Eventually these avenues must be widened to accommodate an ever increasing traffic. Some time these thoroughfares will have to be given attention. Why, then, should the work be delayed when now they are entirely too narrow to be safe?

Sunday afternoon those who drove out Park Avenue at the time when the band concert was in progress, had the matter brought plainly to their attention. Cars were parked on both sides of the avenue allowing insufficient room for other vehicles to pass. Scraping of fenders and slamming of brakes were common occurrences. The driver who negotiated the narrow passage between the two rows of parked automobiles showed marked ability as a driver, if he did so without scratching or denting the fenders on his machine. And The Herald is not exaggerating. Those who think the avenue is plenty wide enough should drive along it some time when cars are parked on both sides.

At very little expense, due to the foresight of those who planned Sanford, Park Avenue and these other through streets over which traffic is daily becoming more congested, may easily be made wider and safer as well as more popular drives.

The Herald hopes a progressive city commission will realize the importance of immediate action on this matter. It is time these avenues were made wider.

There is the story of the Texas cowboy from beyond Brownsville who made a trip to Dallas and upon his return visited to a group of his friends that he didn't believe he'd ever go up north again—he didn't care for "the way them Yankees lived."

Also there is the little yarn relating to the Death Valley prospector who, having made a strike, paid his first visit to Chicago and endorsed the press by saying: "She looks to me like she ought to make a permanent camp."

FLORIDA'S PRESENT

FORT MEYERS TROPICAL NEWS

Most writers in considering production in Florida deal in the future rather than in the present. We have become so accustomed to revealing in future possibilities as to agriculture, manufacturing and mining that we forget that in all three of these basic industries Florida has been a considerable factor in the United States for several years.

In 1923 the United States government figures show that the manufactured products of Florida aggregated $188,258,000; farm crops totaled $69,785,000; and minerals amounted to $12,568,000.

In 1925 there were 22,217 farms of which 77 per cent were operated by owners. Farm property was valued at $330,001,717 in 1920, while in 1910 it was $143,183,183. The value of farm lands and buildings in 1925 was $480,321,268. In 1920 it was $231,442,404.

During the last five years Florida has produced 96 per cent of the grapefruit grown in this country, and 58 per cent of the oranges. The average yearly value of the citrus crop for the last three years has been over $20,000,000.

Celery, cucumbers, snap beans, tomatoes, eggplants and lettuce are the most important vegetable crops

A Knocker Unwittingly Boosts

TRI-CITY NEWS

Mrs. R. F. Flowers, of this city, furnished The News a copy of a Denver paper containing what was intended as a Florida knock; but properly analyzed, is really a wonderful boost and might be used to good advantage by our readers in inducing tillers of the soil to flock to Florida.

John B. McGarry, a New York broker on his way to California, stopped in Denver and gave out a newspaper interview. His interest in California probably inspired his slap at Florida. He states in the beginning that he has spent a month in Florida and made a careful study of conditions here. He says:

"No commonwealth can exist without the workers, and in Florida nobody is willing to do the rough pioneer work necessary to build up a state. Ninety-nine per cent of the people who have flocked in there are figuring to make a cleaning and get right out again. They will not settle on the lands and develop them, and without that foundation on which cities are built for the mushroom cities to exist?"

"The great influx of wealth was caused principally by the law which cut all possible tax from the incomes and estates of rich men. Everything is on a gambling basis. City lots are selling at Wall Street prices. Hotels costing many millions each are being rushed to completion. One multi-millionaire has bought a whole county to be sold in tracts for orange groves. But there are few people in there who want to grow oranges, and who know absolutely nothing about growing oranges if they did want to. They are not farmers or fruit growers, they are little gamblers."

"Raw land covered with scrub and canebrake and palmetto trees is selling for $300 and as high as $400 an acre. If it were planted in producing orange trees, it would not be worth much more."

"Another serious condition is the load of bonded indebtedness incurred by the state and by each county and town for good roads."

"The greatest delusion of all is the pride the people take in narrating what the millionaires are doing. This one has bought up so much land, and that one has a million-dollar home. That one has bought the adjoining stretch, and so on. In April these millionaires will take their yachts, close their doors and go home for the summer. All they want is a pleasant place to live three months."

"A little sane thought is sufficient to tell anyone that this millionaires' plan is not going to build Florida. What the state needs if it is to continue on a substantial basis is a million or so farmers and workers producing something and developing the land. But it is not getting this kind of immigrant."

"After the boom there will be a premium on workers, small farmers and laborers, and Florida will be paying off the bonds that have been piled up, and they will not be so fond of their winter homes."

"Need a 'mushroom' city whose inhabitants have already spent their wealth and are having a good time spending it, worry about its existence?"

"If nine-tenths of the people go here to 'clean up' why do they figure on 'getting right' again? If conditions are that good they would be foolish not to stay, would they not?"

"If the people there will not settle on the lands and develop them there must be a fine opportunity for thousands of farmers who are willing to do so, is there not?"

"If everybody with big incomes are going to Florida where they will not be taxed by income and inheritance taxes, will that state not soon be the richest state in the country?"

"Are city lots in Florida selling at Wall Street prices because so many more people would rather live in Florida than Wall Street?"

"If all the people with millions of dollars are being rushed to completion, is it not a good indication that there is a great demand for hotels to house the visitors? Why do all the people coming there there is nothing worth while in Florida? Why do men of wealth put so much money in such wonderful hotels if the boom is going to collapse. Are they all crazy?"

"Is it not better to live in a country with good roads and a bonded indebtedness than to live in a country that is in debt and still is lacking in good roads? If the state highways are paid for by a four-cent tax on gasoline does the cost not fall on people who are most able to pay it?"

"Will people build ten-million dollar homes to live in only three months? And if they go away for the summer will they not want to leave their property in charge of someone else?"

"Would a little sane thought not tell anyone that Florida is not going to be developed and built up by paupers?"

"If the state needs millions of farmers and workers will it not get them? And does it not offer a wonderful opportunity for the poor man as well as the millionaire?"

"If there is going to be a 'boom' in Florida is it not a 'boom' for them who will be the 'boom' last?"

"And the last question that occurs to the thoughtful mind is: Was Mrs. McGarry not hard up for some thing to throw at Florida if these are all the things he could pick in the wonderful progress of this state after a month's careful investigation?"

HUNTING FOR SOLID ICE

HIGHWAY COST

ORLANDO REPORTER-STAR

It is estimated by government engineers that a billion and a quarter of good American dollars will be spent by the federal and state governments this year in road building. This is a huge sum. The people of the United States were started a few years ago when it was announced that the United States government for all purposes was spending a billion dollars a year. Now we are spending more than a billion dollars for roads alone.

This shows the estimate we place on good roads. For the federal and state governments have no money to spend for roads or any other purposes except what the people turn over to them. But the people of the United States will give money more freely for good roads and for public schools than for any other purpose. This is so because they have come to know the vital importance of both.

The best civilizations, and the most prosperous people are found in the countries that have the best highways and the best public schools. These are fundamental in human progress from a material and a cultural viewpoint.

Florida's marvelous progress began with the building of good roads. No argument is necessary for the establishing of this fact. Every person familiar with the progress of the last twenty years knows the truth of this. While we are paying out immense sums for good roads, the returns on that investment have been so satisfactory that few people longer hesitate to vote bonds. People fully understand that money invested in highways is an investment that enhances the value of every foot of real estate within a reasonable distance of those highways, to say nothing of the time that is saved to those who travel over the highways, and the pleasure that is added.

In our own country we know what hard roads mean to agriculture. And after all is said and done, agriculture and horticulture are basic in our growth and development. Anything we can do to encourage the cultivation of the soil is a contribution to the general prosperity and happiness of the people of the whole country. City lots backed up by a prosperous country are more valuable and desirable. Even the tourist that sits at our hotels gets enjoyment from a ride through our garden and farm sections, our groves and our plantations.

Ask a Washington correspondent to discuss modern trends at the nation's capital and the chances are he'll tell you that one of the most amazing is the great growth of organizations of the type known as "uplifters." There are many.

During the last decade or so Washington has seen an untold number of offices opened by different outfits that, by impressing congress, seek to imprint their particular plans of salvation on the suffering of the country.

Some of these groups are small and weak, some are large and powerful. But all issue reams of printed statements and put up a din that in the aggregate, has a volume like Niagara's only shrill.

It's easy to sympathize with them. Most of them are honest and have the best intentions in the world. And yet— Wouldn't it be simply wonderful if 90 per cent of them would shut up shop, go home and keep moderately quiet for a time?

America is far from perfect, that is admitted. There are many ways in which we can be improved.

ANTI-RABIES VACCINATION

MIAMI NEWS

Announcement by the City Division of Health that 23 persons are now under Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia in the Miami district should be a powerful incentive to all dog owners to have their pets vaccinated against rabies without delay. Indeed, failure to take this simple and inexpensive precaution might almost be characterized as a criminal neglect, to be punished severely in the event of the dread disease being transmitted to a human being by the bite of a dog that had been protected against infection.

Hydrophobia is one of the most virulent diseases recognized by medicine, in that its symptoms are transmitted with irresistible certainty whenever they are contracted. Rabies is the name of the disease which is transmitted to a human being by the bite of a dog that has been protected against infection.

It should be remembered that no dog or cat can be protected against hydrophobia except by vaccination. Inoculation may come as a result of sniffing a stray dog, or in order to insure yourself against the possibility of infection, have your dog vaccinated today.

Crop Report For The South Atlantic States Given By Farm Bureau

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Winter truck crops made only slow growth in south Atlantic districts because of the cool weather, but fair to good advances was reported from East Gulf sections, the Department of Agriculture said today in its review of crop and weather conditions in southern states for the week ending yesterday.

Frost or freezing weather killed or damaged tender truck in parts of Florida, but the hardest varieties, such as celery, lettuce, and cabbage, were not harmed, materially. Citrus fruits were not affected, and the low temperatures in the south west were favorable.

Condition by states: Florida: Freezing several days in north and central, and damaging in killing frost to southern division killed or seriously harmed strawberry blooms, potatoes, beans and other tender truck; celery, lettuce, cabbage, and citrus not affected, as a rule, and truck near coast suffered to less extent.

Forty-seven Federal prohibition agents have been killed on the line of duty by unscrupulous rum runners and bootleg vendors.

Mrs. Coult Appears In Recital Assisted By Mrs. Emma A. Lyman

One of the best afternoons of music given this year by the Music Department of the Sanford Woman's Club, was that of Tuesday when Mrs. Abel Amheart Coult, Jacksonville pianist, gave a recital, assisted by Mrs. Emma Abbott Lyman of Altamonte Springs.

The spacious club auditorium was decorated with potted palms, autumn leaves, tall pedestal baskets of foliage and calendulas, bright jars and baskets of cut flowers and greenery carrying out the color scheme of green and gold.

Mrs. Coult is a musician of merit and is widely known throughout the South. Her artistic playing and interpretation of Mac Dowell music brought forth generous applause. Mrs. Lyman, whose warm and sympathetic voice is so well known and loved by Sanford people, was never more lovely than on this occasion. Both artists graciously responded with thanks.

Late in the afternoon, a social hour was in order, so that all might meet these two charming visitors. The guests were seated at small tables, centered with miniature pots holding calendulas and ferns. Refreshments of orange ice and individual angel food cakes let in white and yellow were served by a bevy of young maidens.

The entire program for the afternoon was as follows: Dvorak "On The Holy Night"; Dvorak Mrs. Abel Amheart Coult. (a) "Joyous Morning"; Harriet Waga. (b) "The Pine Tree"; Mary Turner Salter. Mrs. Emma Abbott Lyman. (a) "Araguace"; Mac Dowell. (b) "To a Water Lily"; Mac Dowell. (c) "Morning"; George E. Boyle. Mrs. Abel Amheart Coult. (a) "Nursery Rhymes"; Pessi Curran. (b) "Pierrot"; Robert Curran. Mrs. Emma Abbott Lyman. (a) "The Holy Night"; Schubert. (b) "The Pine Tree"; Mary Turner Salter. Mrs. Abel Amheart Coult.

Letters were read in length to tell of the success of the "Ball" given last year, which was an all-star of 2,000 and was the top of the world. The program was a success and the receipts were $1,000.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Chicago National League baseball club, the Cubs, have turned to the Irish to recover from their disastrous season of last year and owner William Wrigley, has thrown away the rubber band on the bank roll. He was general manager of Calumet and Arizona Mining Company and lived at Ajo, Arizona.

do not think there is a player on the Riviera at present who can compete with her, with the exception of Suzanne Lenglen, but I believe Suzanne's superior technique will win over the American girl. The battle of the tennis ball manufacturers for supremacy on the Riviera courts is attracting nearly as much attention as the possibility of a Lenglen-Wills match, but the difference in the balls used is proving a great handicap to players, especially Miss Wills.

What We Are Actually Doing to Prepare for Our Opening Next Monday

Ninety men are at work at Sanford Manor. Ninety men, from eight in the morning till five at night. They have been working, working steadily for two weeks—clearing, grubbing, discing, plowing—transforming a tract of high pine land a mile in width by half a mile in depth, seven minutes from the center of Sanford. Preparing for the development of Sanford Manor.

The work of scores of men, the investment of thousands of dollars—that is the initial history of Sanford Manor. An honest, and successful effort to offer improved homesites—not a platted wilderness. Here streets are being cut and graded. Combination curbs and gutters are going in. Sidewalks of Portland cement—five and six feet wide—are being laid. The Manor Entrance—thirty-five feet in height and one hundred feet long—is rapidly nearing completion.

We Are Defying the Embargo

Twenty-seven cars of coral rock for streets has been received. Macadam rock base and asphalt wearing surface is in transit. Ornamental posts, street signs and fixtures for Sanford Manor's White Way are enroute. Sanford, the Inland Port, is successfully evading the embargo which holds all inland Florida in blockade. Well directed effort is rushing improvements forward for the opening of Sanford Manor next Monday. Further facts tomorrow!

High is speed. As for mentality, it is impossible to tell whether a man has a good baseball head until he has been in at least several games. My observations during thirty-six years have taught me that a 'dumb' player is always 'dumb.' You can't get it out of them. This fault has kept many a player from being a second Cobb or Wagner. During a training season, McGraw devotes as much time to rookie as he does to his regulars. Each man has to be handled differently. Faults have to be corrected in most anyone. "I believe a recruit has real ability. I stick to him through his poor exhibitions," he said. "Take Marquard as an example. I got him from Indianapolis and, for three years he was wild. Then he found his control. Schupp was the same way—two cases of nerves. "Boss Young came to me as an infielder. I told him he was an outfielder and farmed him out for experience before he came back and made good in the outer garden. Occasionally, I get a man like Greenfield, our kid pitcher, who on his first appearance pitched like a veteran."

McGraw said he "hadn't given a thought" to retiring.

Old Time Rivals In Golf Meet For First Time In 30 Years

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 20. (AP)—The recent Texas open golf tournament brought together two golfers who had not seen each other since they competed in England two decades ago.

Twenty-one years ago two British youths were engaged in an 18-hole play off of an important golf tournament over the famous Westward Ho course. They had been born and reared within a few doors of each other in Liverpool.

Finally one of the stripling, S. H. Fulford, forged to the front and was crowned the winner over his friend, Al Hearn, the defeated, congratulated his conqueror and they departed. The winner went into the merchant marine; the loser accepted golf seriously and became a professional.

The two never saw each other again until last Friday, Fulford now Lieutenant Commander S. H. Fulford, had docked his ship, the "Monroeth" at Galveston and came to San Antonio to witness the golfing classic. Forz, now of Hastings, Neb., was one of the great field of professionals who came here in search of the $6,000 cash prizes.

Recognition was instantaneous with both. Their mothers still live within a few doors of each other in Liverpool.

Mother's Whipping Caused Sweetser To Rise In Golf Circles

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Strange as it may appear, Jesse Sweetser won the national amateur golf championship only because he was beaten, it was related today by an old friend of the family who knew Jesse as a barefoot boy in St. Louis. The beating that caused Sweetser's ultimate rise to national amateur champion resolves itself into a play on words.

Jess, it seems, refused the maximum that golfers are born and not made. He dislike the game, much preferring fishing and playing around the river front. He evaded chances to caddy and learn the Scotch game, much to the annoyance of his mother who felt he might become an idler and fall among evil companions.

She had heard that her boy could play golf tolerably well and had been advised that the championship of the links would instill high ideas in the lad. So it turned out that whenever Jesse played hockey from the links and went to dangle his toes in the murky Mississippi or watch the stern wheelers labor up the father of waters, his mother, switch in hand, sought him out and removed from his mind any notion of emulating Huckberry Finn.

It became a local ruse and with removal to New York soon worked his way to the topmost pinnacle of American golfdom.

SEEK HISTORY OF CLIFF DWELLERS IN VALLEY OF NILE

Scientists Are Now At Laxor Engaged In Sifting Sands For Traces Of Pre-Historic Natives Who Once Existed

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Seeking to piece together the history of a crude cliff-dweller whose existence was crowded into oblivion by the glory of the Pharaohs, James H. Breasted is sifting the sands of the Nile valley for trace of Neanderthal man.

He hopes to establish definite connection between a cliff-dweller who preceded Egypt's glittering civilization and the primitive savage who roamed the forests of Europe. Recent discoveries in the caverns overlooking the Sea of Galilee presage success in the effort.

Breasted and a group of fellow-scientists are at Laxor conducting an epigraphic study, working 40 feet above the sands to read what the Egyptian wrote on temple walls that are fast being worn away by sand storms. They are endeavoring to collect fragments of the history told in the hieroglyphs, concerning themselves with man after he began to build temples, set up pyramids and establish society.

The findings will, in a manner, complement Breasted's previous work. He expects to supply additional details of life during the succession of great dynasties, but no sensational discoveries are anticipated.

Breasted is engaged in a project that has passed preliminary stages, but extensive excavation is awaiting the arrival of favorable weather conditions in the spring.

War Department Outlines Plans To Help In Drafting Bill For Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—For the fourth time within a year the virtues and short comings of the army air service came under review here Tuesday at a public hearing.

With a view to correcting legislation, the House Military Committee began covering ground similar to that traversed in turn by the House Aircraft Committee, the president's air board and the Mitchell court martial.

To aid in the drafting of an air service bill the War Department made public an outline of the congressional action it considers necessary to carry out the recommendations of the air board. This outline proposed the following amendments to the present law.

Changing the name "army air service" to "air corps."

Appointment of a second assistant secretary of war to supervise aviation.

Appointment of three assistant army air chiefs with the rank of brigadier general.

Temporary increase in rank for certain classes of air officers.

More pay and extra government life insurance for fliers.

Revival of the decoration "order of merit" to reward extraordinary peace time achievements in any branch of the army.

Authorization for purchase of air craft without competent bidding.

Provisions to expand training of enlisted men as pilots.

The war department expects to propose a five year project to bring army aviation up to the desired strength.

Boys Who Were Guests At Great Show Tell Of Visit

Jan. 20.—The boys who were guests at the great show held at the stock yards where the meetings were held. It certainly was a big crowd. There were 1900 girls and boys and about 400 leaders. They have a fine Girls and Boys Club building at the stock yards where the exhibits from all over the United States are shown.

The demonstrations put on by the teams from different states were given here also, and we were certainly proud of the work done by the Florida team, who gave a demonstration in preserving citrus fruits. Tuesday morning we went to Swift's for breakfast. We also went through the Armour packing house, which was quite interesting for anyone to see. We went Wednesday morning out to Montgomery Ward and company for breakfast. They gave each one two pairs of scissors. After breakfast they had an employee for each state to take us through the building which covered 40 acres. It was certainly an interesting trip.

"We were given a banquet every night while we were there. The banquets were given in the different big hotels and were certainly fine. After the banquets they would have a good program of music, singing, speaking and dancing.

"Miss Settle's brother was so nice to us. He arranged for us to have a car and driver to take us on a sightseeing trip over the city. It seemed that we must have seen all of it, but they told us it was only a small part.

"We visited Marshall Field and company. This is a beautiful store. If you stand on one side you cannot see the other side. We went out to the Art Museum and passed some of the World's Fair

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Attorney General John Garibaldi Sargent is vast of bulk and level full of inertia—"that quality of matter by which it tends, when at rest, to remain at rest, and when in motion, to continue in motion."

Bulk is hard to handle anyway. Given plenty of inertia to go with it, and you've got a combination it's difficult to beat.

If Attorney General Sargent once gained headway it's a safe bet he'd be about as easy to stop as a runaway freight carload of pig iron on a steep down grade. But at rest, believe me, he's an awful job to start up.

On our way back we stopped at St. Louis. Mr. Ralph Reed met us and after breakfast he had a car there to take us on a ride over the city.

INSIDE LABELLE, Fla., Jan. 20.—(P)—The voters of this city have just authorized, at the polls, a bond issue of $400,000 for city improvements. There was practically no opposition to the proposal. The issue was carried by a 13 to one ratio.

During the past year about $2,000,000, including the issue just passed, have been issued in public bonds in Glades and Hendry counties, it was stated.

At any rate, the Senate Committee on the so-called aluminum "trust" got a taste of the attorney

Jack Dempsey And Will Rogers Are To Join Miami Colony

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey, world's heavy-weight boxing champion and Will Rogers of theatrical fame, are expected here Monday to join Miami's rapidly increasing winter colony. These two celebrities will likewise augment the assistant of the stage and screen stars jobbing here, which included, among others, Gloria Swanson and Elsie Janis.

By an unusual coincidence, Dempsey on his arrival here will find two of his playmates including Gene Tunney and Jack Remahl, both heavyweight contenders. Tunney has become an erstwhile real-estate salesman, while the Canadian pugilist is spending several days in the city. Another prominent ring champion, Paul Bertram, world's light-heavyweight title holder, passed through Miami a few days ago en route to Cuba.

Dempsey, by gubernatorial decree, will not be allowed to fight while in Florida.

Unblemished SKIN

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or blackhead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that activates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you look.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

Get S. S. S. from any drug store, and get the larger bottle. It's more

Citrus Estimate To Be Made Soon

TAMPA, Jan. 20.—(AP)—A revised government estimate of the Florida citrus crop can be expected about Feb. 5, J. B. Shepperd, director of the crop reporting bureau, Department of Agriculture announced today while in conference with officials of the Florida Citrus exchange.

Revised estimates in December and February of each year, and possibly more often if needed Mr. Shepperd said, would be made.

The bureau, in its study to learn the actual commercial production of citrus this season is studying its methods of estimate, admitted to have given very incorrect figures in the past two years, and improvement is being made, he said.

BILIOUS ATTACKS

From Which Kentucky Man Suffered Two or Three Times a Month, Relieved by a Black-Draught.

Lafayette, Ky.—Mr. J. P. Nevins, a local coal dealer and farmer, about two years ago learned of the value of Theodor's Black-Draught liver medicine, and now he says:

"Until then I suffered with severe bilious attacks that came on two or three times each month. I would get nauseated, I would have dizziness and couldn't work. I would take pills until I was worn-out with them. I didn't seem to get relief. After taking the pills my bowels would act a couple of three times, then I would be very constipated."

"A neighbor told me of Black-Draught and I began its use. I never have found so much relief as it gave me. I would not be without it for anything."

"It seemed to cleanse my whole system and make me feel like new. I would take a few doses—get rid of the bile and my usual clear head, feel full of pep and could do twice the work."

Loch Arbor

A country club property of lakes and hills

action today
means profit tomorrow

There is still an opportunity for shrewd investors to take advantage of original prices in Loch Arbor. Hesitancy will mean that chance to participate in price increase has been lost. With present improvement being rushed, prevailing low prices cannot continue. It is being highly improved and is protectively restricted, possessing complete advantages in accessibility and convenience. Loch Arbor is pre-eminently a residential home community of merit.

You owe it to yourself to investigate Loch Arbor before buying elsewhere. Prices are amazingly low. A few hundred dollars will secure an eminently desirable homesite and make an investment that means real profit.

The Country Club Entrance Section is now open for reservation. Have one of our representatives explain the improvement and development program that is now under way. Be sure to have your choice location secured before the opening announcement is made.

ed Johnson, Who ndiana Village, Is American Citizen

The girls ought to rub some of the paint off his fellow can see what he's getting," says Johnson.

Defends Prohibition

Johnson upholds the dry law and does not believe in its modification in the slightest degree.

"I've taken a drink or two," he says, "but liquor does no good. I guess we can get along without it, besides there's too many automobiles nowadays."

Johnson, while he fails to get a kick out of politics, thinks President Coolidge is making good, although Johnson is a Democrat at heart.

And here is his philosophy of life:

"I only want money enough to get along on. What's money any good? I just want to lay away a little for a rainy day."

"I want the children to have a chance. That's why I live in this small town. I could make more money in a city."

"Success is not money. Success is having friends. I'd rather have for my friends the 50 people who live in Whitehall than go to a city and slave for riches or fame."

"If you have friends and they love you and you love them, why, man, that's living."

Totsky says, "Whereas England has most of her future behind her, the whole world is America's field."

What Are You Doing For Your Punny Child?

One boy gained 11 pounds in 7 weeks and is now strong and healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 80 cents at Union Pharmacy and all druggists—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Give them to the sickly, frail child for 30 days, and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

Time Producer First Gambled With 75 Foot Thriller In The Movies

Sanford, Fla., Jan. 18.—(Special to Herald.)—The first time a producer gambled with a 75-foot picture was in the late nineties. Theater men who at that time were using motion pictures as between-the-acts features complained that 75 feet of picture was too much for an audience to absorb at one gulp. They suggested that the picture be cut into two 30-foot and 15-foot features.

Now even a movie mathematician can figure out just how much film it will take to make a film play. The length of film actually shown in a five-reel goes far beyond the exhibition length. Cutting the film for elimination of tedious sequences and all unnecessary action has become an art in itself.

Sells found his pioneering in long pictures easier after the nicked Edison started the amusement field and began giving the public entire programs of motion pictures. Here was a market for his longer lengths. But it was a long time before "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" reached the screen. No less than 1,000 linear feet of celluloid, or 100 feet per bar room night, was consumed in telling the thriller.

When "Two Orphans" was offered to exhibitors in 1911 as a three-reel super-feature 3,000 feet long, showmen took a long breath. They felt they did not dare offer such a long feature at one sitting, so they ran the three reels on consecutive nights.

Soon it was not unusual to run a three-reel film at one sitting, and then as a natural development came the five-reel feature. Approximately 3,000,000 feet of film have been shot at a cost of upwards of $3,500,000 in the latest super-production, which has not yet reached completion. This probably will be trimmed to 10,000 or 12,000 feet before film fans view it.

Speculators are unable to say what the top limit of celluloid length will be in future years.

The same finish used on 25 leading automobiles available for your car

DUCO, the finish developed by the du Pont Company, has so proved its unusual durability and beauty, that it has been adopted by twenty-five leading car manufacturers. It is the first time that any one product has been adopted by such a large group—covering every price class.

This same Duco is available for refinishing your car—applied by the same du Pont system used in the large factories.

- 1 Fenders, tires, bumpers, etc., are removed; all glass and upholstery protected.
- 2 The old finish is painstakingly removed leaving chemically clean, bare metal.
- 3 A smooth surface (filling dents, scratches, file marks, etc.) is secured with a number of coats of primer, putty, glass, sanding, etc.
- 4 Several coats of Duco are sprayed on by carefully trained experts.
- 5 The Duco is rubbed smooth—to be finished either dull, satin gloss or polished.

The result is a finish which is waterproof, weatherproof, wearproof—one which will remain attractive indefinitely.

Bithlo

The Vigorous Heart of a Growing Commonwealth

Overlooking the heart of Florida.

100 square miles of the best land from the ridge to the sea

This is the outlook that Bithlo people will have from their 125 foot water and observation tower.

And this typifies the broad vision and outlook that the builders of Bithlo conceived when planning the development of this crossroads of commerce, Orange County's new economic center.

Already a regular stop on the main line of the East Coast Railway to Miami, Bithlo will enjoy the advantages of a trading center serving a large and fertile citrus and truck farming territory. Experts declare that the soil near Bithlo is the same that makes Sanford the wealthiest truck and celery section of Florida, while its rich Norfolk sand is the secret that has long made Orange County Florida's citrus center.

The Cheney Highway crosses the railroad at Bithlo and this intersection of two great arteries of commerce assures its future prosperity and a profit to investors.

Bithlo

Not only is Bithlo assured commercial prosperity, but being situated in beautiful scenic territory it is bound to appeal to home lovers as an ideal place for permanent residence.

To insure attractive municipal surroundings, the builders of Bithlo have retained nationally known architects and landscape specialists who are laying out streets, parks, country club and golf course, and designing municipal and semi-public buildings.

Values in certain sections of this rich Commonwealth are often based only upon seasonable or purely artificial demand, while others depend upon commerce and industry or products of the soil. Bithlo possesses all these advantages. It has agriculture. It is a trading center. It is a delightful homesite. It has transportation and conveniences and it has a permanence of values that will return its investors many fold.

Reproduced is a sketch of the 125 foot water and lookout tower designed for Bithlo by Harold Field Kellogg, the construction of which will soon be under way. Ornamental in itself, this tower will form an essential link in the municipal water system and afford a bird's eye view over 100 square miles of Florida.
