JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann said today that the orders which sent six million Jews to their deaths came from his Nazi secret police bosses and that he himself had nothing to do with them.

Tornadic Winds Batter Southland

By United Press International A cold front rimmed the East Coast and tornadic winds battered the South and upper Midwest today in a violent summer weather debut.

Rain hit hardest in the east at Elizabeth City on the North Carolina coast and at Scranton, Pa., and the Weather Bureau predicted a shower blanket over most of the Atlantic states and southern Appalachians.

Tornadoes and high winds Wednesday killed an elderly woman and injured at least 13 persons. In Texas, flooding on the Guadalupe River forced 25 families from their homes at Victoria and neighboring lowlands.

By contrast, chill winds buffeted New York City amid rains that drenched 39,000 members of the Jehovah's Witnesses in a meeting at Yankee Stadium.

Storm winds measured 82 miles per hour at the Isle of Palms near Charleston, S. C., and injured at least eight persons at Charleston and Marion, S. C.

Friday evening is the deadline for reservations for the luncheon given by the Armed Forces Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in honor of Capt. Frank G. Edwards and visiting Naval officials.

The luncheon is scheduled for Monday, June 26, at 12:15 p. m. at the Sanford Civic Center, and because of the large number attending the affair, the Friday deadline has been set so that proper arrangements can be made.

Reservations can be made at the Chamber of Commerce office. Judging Set SARASOTA (UPI) — Preliminary judging for the Miss Florida Pageant gets underway tonight with 35 beauties competing for recognition.

Elise Owens, 45, another employe, fell to the floor with a soft moan. She was dead. Miss Ashcraft screamed.

Roe Akers, 29, a third employe, rushed up to the front desk. "Get out of here," he yelled. Billy Joe shot him in the shoulder. Then he turned the gun on job applicants trying to scramble for cover.

He fired three or four more shots, killing another Billy Joe. This was Billy Joe Buis, 21. Mrs. Buis was waiting for her husband outside in an automobile with their 7-month-old daughter.

Virus Attack Bids President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today suffered a mild infection which his doctor forecast would run its course in another two or three days. The infection was described as bacterial-viral.

Reds Halt Army Cutback?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Tough military talk and tightly drawn positions on international problems cast a new diplomatic chill over Soviet-American relations today.

There were strong indications here that the Soviet Union either has halted or will halt the Red Army cutback of 1.3 million men which it announced more than a year ago.

army seems likely and the blame will be placed at the doorstep of the United States. Khrushchev's other, main point: Wednesday repeated the strategy he laid down last week in his television report to the nation on his summit talk with President Kennedy in Vienna.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's statement Wednesday that Russia will resume nuclear testing if the United States does was viewed here as a clear sign of a growing strain between Moscow and Washington.

Khrushchev made his statement in a speech marking the 20th anniversary of the 1941 invasion of Russia by Nazi Germany.

controls over a nuclear weapons test alone without general disarmament "impose such control would in fact be empty."

The Soviet leader said this country has developed several new nuclear weapons which might require testing.

Diplomats in Moscow saw in this an obvious attempt to shift to President Kennedy the blame for any resumption of nuclear testing and increase in the arms race.

The Minnesota Democrat said he did not expect President Kennedy to break off the lagging test ban talks in Geneva but rather to reduce them to a token status.

Although the U. S. and Soviet governments still are on talking terms—both on a two-nation level and in international conferences—the lines of opposition are becoming stiffer on such crucial issues as Germany, Berlin, Laos, disarmament and nuclear testing.

From Khrushchev's speech an increase in the Soviet budget for

At the same time, he expressed the belief that Kennedy would "reserve the right to resume testing" if this country's national security required it.

Alert!

BERLIN (UPI) — The 5,000 troops of Berlin's American garrison sped to action stations at dawn today in a surprise alert designed to test their ability to move fast in case of trouble.

The rumble of tanks surging through the streets awakened West Berliners at 5 a. m. as armor and infantry moved from suburban barracks to key positions in the Communist-encircled city's American sector.

At important intersections combat-clad soldiers replaced traffic policemen as they would in a real emergency. The Army officially described the maneuver as a "routine operational readiness exercise designed to test the mobility of the Berlin garrison in the streets of West Berlin."

Berserk Negro Kills Two; Shoots Six Others

MALVERN, Ark. (UPI) — Just about every town and hamlet across this nation has a fellow like Billy Joe . . . a nice kind of a guy, not too bright, but harmless.

Just about everybody in this southwest Arkansas town knows Billy Joe. Particularly today. For 30 minutes Billy Joe held the city of Malvern in a grip of terror like nothing that had ever happened before.

William Schuler Joe, 25, Negro, although few knew him by anything other than Billy Joe went berserk with a high-powered rifle. And before he was stopped he had killed two persons and wounded six others, all white.

Billy Joe hadn't worked in about two months. He had never held a steady job. Mostly he did odd jobs for the townfolk and ran errands for the merchants.

"He was definitely unbalanced," Bailey said. "But nobody ever thought he would do anything like that."

Billy Joe went to the State Employment Office Wednesday looking for a job. Billy Joe thought he was being treated unfairly. The girls behind the desk handled applications of other people ahead of him. It seemed to him he was being brushed off.

He stalked out of the office and went to a Western Auto Store. He grabbed a .30-30 rifle off of a rack and a box and a half of shells. The manager of the store tried to take the gun away from him, but Billy Joe, a 6-foot-3 and 200 pounder, was stronger. He ran out the door with the gun as the manager called for police.

It was just a few steps back to the employment office. Billy Joe walked inside. He didn't say a word. He just started shooting. Miss Shirley Ashcraft, an employe, said she thought she heard an explosion. Then she saw Mrs.

Elise Owens, 45, another employe, fall to the floor with a soft moan. She was dead. Miss Ashcraft screamed.

Roe Akers, 29, a third employe, rushed up to the front desk. "Get out of here," he yelled. Billy Joe shot him in the shoulder. Then he turned the gun on job applicants trying to scramble for cover.

He fired three or four more shots, killing another Billy Joe. This was Billy Joe Buis, 21. Mrs. Buis was waiting for her husband outside in an automobile with their 7-month-old daughter.

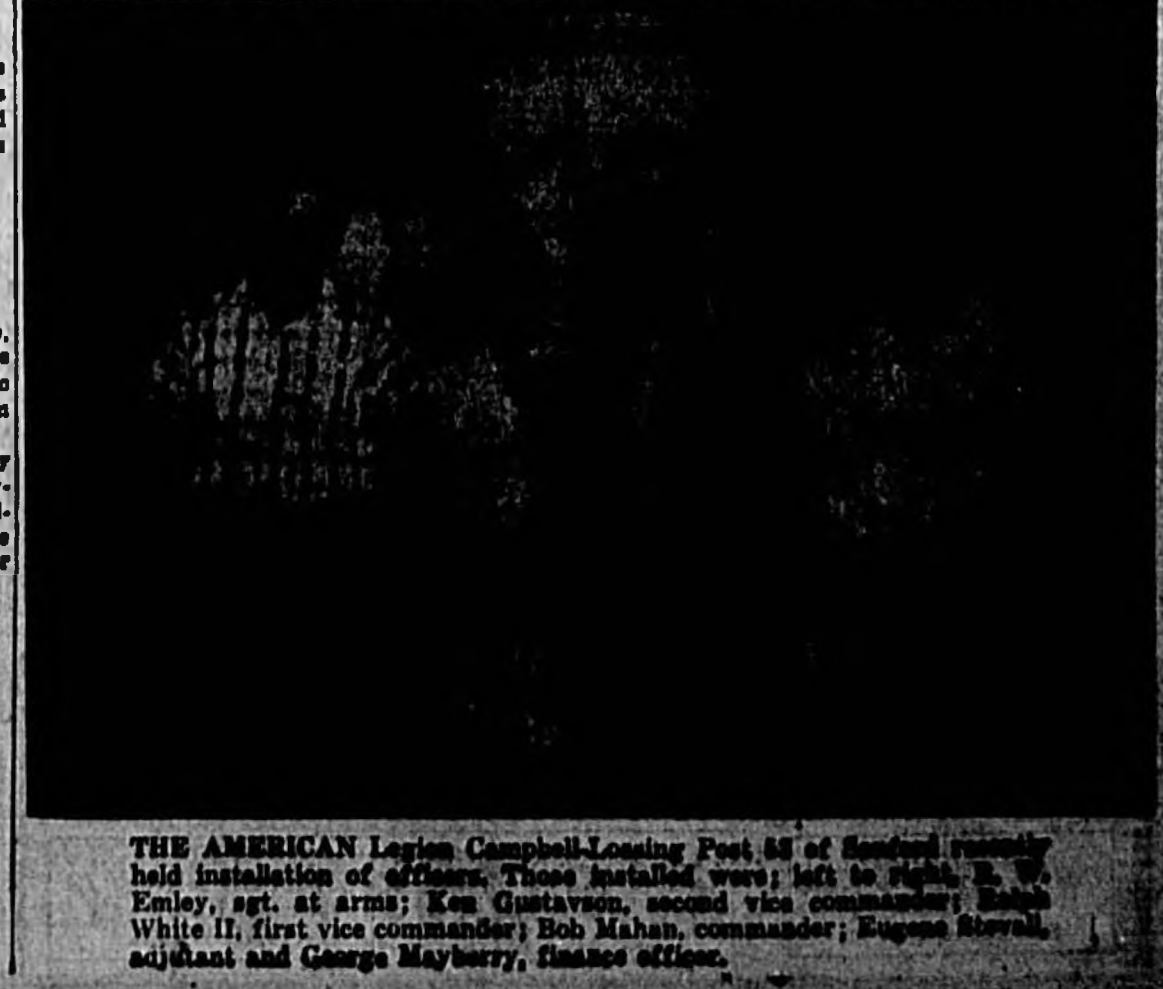

Billy Joe gave up as the posse shot at him and lobbed tear gas shells into the weeds. "I've never seen anything like it," said Bill Funk, Malvern police chief. "He was just shooting at anybody that moved."

He saw Phillip Dedman, 42, and J. D. Sheffield, 31, standing near a truck. He shot them both.

By this time a posse of deputies and volunteers were trying to find Billy Joe. He ran to a nearby field with weeds four feet high and hid. Dorsey D. Glover, 38, wasn't actually hit by a bullet, but splinters from the tree he was hiding behind seriously cut him when Billy Joe sent a bullet his way.

Billy Joe gave up as the posse shot at him and lobbed tear gas shells into the weeds. "I've never seen anything like it," said Bill Funk, Malvern police chief. "He was just shooting at anybody that moved."

Funk had Billy Joe taken to a jail out of town and refused to say where. "It's for his own protection," Funk explained. "Why did he do it?" "He said he was just mad at the world," Funk said. "He said he was tired of being mistreated."

SKYWARD BOUND, a flashy rocket atop the billboard holds a promise of things to come when on Independence Day the Longwood Volunteer Firemen sponsor the first "old fashioned" celebration to be held in the area in many a year. An 8:30 a. m. parade, with all Seminole County businesses and organizations invited to take part, will open the gala Fourth activities. (Herald Photo)

Plans For Giant Longwood 4th Outlined

Chief Claude Lajo of Longwood, general chairman of the big Fourth of July celebration at Reiter's Pasture on SR 434, today announced working committees and more detailed plans of the event.

Pointing out the chief's statement that "this isn't going to be just a small community celebration... it's going to be one of the biggest events that's ever taken place in this part of Seminole County," is the number of townspeople serving on the entertainment committee.

Working together to provide amusing and varied activity from 8:30 a. m. until, are Carl Lommler, Ken Barbone, John Krull, John Farina, Fred Escalvone, Harry Scott, "Butch" Muir, Ted Waltz, J. D. Kirkland, Rudy Carlson, Jim Reiter, Jim Norris, Ken Inman and Bill Braumhauser.

Serving as auctioneer will be J. Russell Grest who will be sounding the gavel with "going, gone, gone..." from his stand throughout the entire day.

Garrison Shaw, who'll take care of greasing the pig and presiding at the contest, says "anybody who catches him, will get him!" while Roy Kennedy will lure the crowds to his greased pole by offering the greenback attached to its top as the prize.

Directing traffic and parking at the entrance lot will be Linton Cox and Morris Rudolph. Harold Willis, in charge of the day's finale, says the fireworks have arrived and promise to give more than a full hour's entertainment.

In operation on the field during the day will be some 20 booths providing amusement for adults and children with Mrs. Carl Lommler chairman of the fish pond, and Mrs. Ralph Stevens in charge of the first aid station which will be manned at all hours.

The Johnsons of the Longwood Supermarket have donated cold drinks which will be on sale with hot dogs all day long.

Other attractions, Lajo says, will include Elsie, the Borden Cow, a band for dancing and, once each hour, free donated gifts from bathing suits to sugar cured hams will be awarded to lucky persons in attendance.

Awarded during the evening will be the used car donated by Bud Scott of Scott's Garage, the 30 gallon electric hot water heater donated by Bill Lalroe and the electric pressure cooker donated by Ted's TV Shop. Winners of these free gifts do not have to be in attendance in order to receive the items.

And, to get Independence Day off to a gala beginning in Longwood, a parade has been set with the South Seminole VFW in charge. Lajo reports that invitation has been extended to the whole of Seminole County to participate in the parade which starts from Sunnyside Park promptly at 9 a. m. Floats, car-mounted riders, Kadets of America groups and all fire fighting equipment, including that from departments of neighboring towns, are to meet at the park at 8:30 a. m.

The line of march will be from the park on Church St. to Grant St., on Grant to Wildmere, on Wildmere to E. Lake and on Lake to W. Molnar and on Molnar to the field.

The entire celebration is being sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. with cooperation of businessmen, civic and social organizations.

Business Briefs

Another step in progress will be marked this weekend when Leonard D. Blackford opens the modern streamlined Blackford's Market at the corner of St. 436 and the Longwood Road in Altamonte Springs.

Housed in a new 85 x 50-foot concrete block building, the Blackford Market and one store rental unit is directly across the street from the Altamonte Food Store, which Mr. and Mrs. Blackford have operated for the past seven years.

The old building will not remain vacant for long. After extensive remodeling, the Blackfords plan to reopen as a dry goods and hardware store under the management of Mrs. Blackford.

The new Blackford Market will carry complete lines of groceries, meats and produce, and be open for business from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. Monday through Saturday, and from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. on Sundays.

Among other periodicals, the Sanford Herald will be on sale in the new market as it was at the old Altamonte Food Store. Mr. Blackford welcomes all his old friends to his Grand Opening Friday and Saturday, and is marking the occasion by giving away 25 baskets of groceries.

Yardner's Corner

By ERNIE LUNDBERG
In driving around the county, or perhaps looking out your window, you can see poor looking lawns. Brown areas, yellowish, poor growing sections are abundant in many yards.

In a number of cases chinch bugs or worms are the cause, but it is important to remember that many other things can cause problems. Two of the main problems in this area, at the present, in addition to insects, are improper watering and fungus diseases.

Since we have been short of rainfall watering has been a necessity. For this area an inch of water should be applied at each application. This can be checked by putting cans or pans under your sprinkler and noting how long it takes for an inch of water to collect in them. To aid in preventing fungus diseases the watering should be stopped by about 4:00 p. m. Contrary to popular belief there is no harm in watering in the morning or in the heat of the day, in fact it is the preferred time so as to reduce disease damage.

There was considerable fungus damage during the periods of excess rain. This weakened the grass and caused it to have a limited root system. When we got into our dry period the limited root system dried out rapidly and considerable watering was required to keep the grass alive and healthy. This dry period has continued for a long time and it has been difficult to keep lawns sufficiently watered.

A nice lawn is acquired at considerable expense and is a valuable asset as the setting for your home.

Brown patch (caused by Rhizoctonia) is probably the most serious fungus disease of our grasses. It affects St. Augustine, bahia, rye, Bermuda, Zoysia and centipede. It kills the grass in a more or less circular patch. These patches begin as small spots and may expand to several feet in diameter. It may also cause a thinning out of the turf over a large area and usually occurs during warm humid weather. FSNB, Thiram, Kromad, mercury chlorides and organic mercury compounds can be sprayed on grass to control brown patch. Don't spot spray but spray the entire lawn. A small amount of a wetting agent such as a liquid detergent should be used in the spray to insure

Do not use a dull rotary lawn mower because grass that is shattered instead of being cut is more susceptible to fungus diseases. In fact in some cases, improperly set mowers with dull blades can cause as much damage as chinch bugs or diseases.

Vital Statistics Stressed By County Health Director

By DR. CLYDE BROTHERS
The first law requiring birth and death registration proved ineffective, however, in 1915 the "Model Vital Statistics Act" was enacted and since that time the records, with a few exceptions, are complete. The certificates are filed with the local registrar. The Director of the County Health Department is the local registrar and copies are made of each certificate for local files. The original certificate is permanently filed at the Florida State Board of Health in Jacksonville, Florida. Marriage, Divorce and Annulments are also filed with the State Board of Health in Jacksonville.

The registration of births and deaths is becoming more important each year. They are of value as legal documents, life insurance claims, veterans benefits, social security benefits and statistical data for public health authorities. These are just a few of the many reasons why births and deaths should be recorded.

The physician or midwife attending the birth of a child is responsible for filing of the birth certificate. Soon after the birth certificate has been processed the State Board of Health sends the parents a notification of the registration. If any information is incorrect or incomplete the parents should notify the State Board of Health in order to have a correct certificate on file. Certified copies of birth certificates can be obtained from the State Board of Health for $1.00 each. Blanks for request can be obtained at the County Health Department. Errors and change of name, on certificate can be changed at any time provided sufficient evidence can be presented. The kind of evidence required depends on the type of correction. Any person who desires to change a certificate should, contact the State Board of Health.

A "Delayed Birth Certificate" is one which is filed after the person's fourth birthday. It must be accompanied by documents which verify the date of birth, place of birth and parentage. Requirements for documentary evidence must be sufficient to minimize the filing of fraudulent certificates. In 1960 a total of 3241 delayed birth certificates were filed. This is approximately the same as for the preceding year.

Legal adoptions have increased rapidly in this state. In 1960 a total of 4,384 adoptions decrees were received from the courts. This represents a 12.3 per cent increase over 1959. When an adoption decree is received for a person born in Florida a new birth certificate is substituted for the original certificate. The new certificate shows the new parents and does not disclose the fact of adoption.

Altamonte VBS Plans Program

Commencement exercises of the Altamonte Springs Baptist Daily Vacation Bible School will be held in the church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

At least 150 students will receive award certificates for their attendance, study and crafts work during the daily sessions which began June 12.

Following the program, refreshments will be served and parents and friends will be invited to view the arts and crafts displays from the school.

The original certificate is sealed and is only available upon court order or request of the registrant if of legal age. Adoption decrees received for persons born in other states are forwarded to the Vital Statistics Office of the State of birth for similar processing.

The funeral director is responsible for the filing of death certificates and it must be signed by the nearest relative to verify the particulars. The local registrar issues burial-transit permits before remains are buried or moved out of the county. Certified copies of death certificates are issued by the registrar at the County Health Department for the fee of $1.00 each.

In addition to enforcing the "Model Vital Statistics Act" provided by the legislature, health agencies use the records to learn what is happening to the population; how many births each year, how many deaths and from what causes; is a particular age group or section of the state affected more frequently. These questions and other information can be answered in whole or in part from the records. The results of this information is an important tool in evaluating public health programs and outlining future programs.

No Shangri-La

America's mistakes and embarrassments usually are well paraded before the world. Not too often do we have the chance to watch the Communists squirm in discomfort.

Such an opportunity comes now from remote Tibet, where Peking's puppets for the second time in four years have had to delay what they call "democratic reforms." The Tibetan peasants simply refuse to co-operate in Red Chinese efforts to collectivize their farms.

Trying painfully to make retreat sound like victory, the chief puppet said that "to consolidate the achievement of democratic revolution in Tibet" the Reds pledge they "will not launch socialist transformation (there) in the next five years."

Translated, that means progress is being achieved by doing nothing at all.

Worry Clinic

Larry's father thought he was never in concealing the misdeeds about the west pack. But he deceived Larry's faith in the father as during his teens.

LARRY J. - 621: Larry T., aged 15, usually asked his father: "Daddy, where did I come from?"

"The startled parent cleared his throat and then replied: "Well, son, I was out hunting one day. I saw a pack of wolves sniffing and howling behind a tree."

"I shut over their heads to chase them off. Then I walked over to the trunk pile to see what they had been interested in."

"And there I saw you, wrapped in a blanket and crying for some milk. So that is how I found you."

"This misdeed tale may have made the father feel proud of his ability to fabricate a yarn.

"But it didn't satisfy the third grader on the part of his son.

"Larry later realized his dad had cheated him. So he never went back to his father for any more advice about sex problems."

"Because his curiosity had been left unsatisfied, Larry decided to find out for himself."

"As a result, in the teens he constructed venereal disease from his own attempts to learn some facts about sex."

"Now, as an adult, he is a bitter husband who is sterile and thus cannot procreate any children of his own."

"He blames his father for his early sexual data."

"If Dad had told me the truth," he informed me, "then I would have been satisfied."

"But he just teased my curiosity until I resolved to find out the facts by myself."

"At the tender age, children begin to wonder about their origin."

"Recently, I mentioned the case of a four-year-old who asked his father concerning an episode that had happened before his arrival."

"Was that while I was still in the catalogue?" he queried, for he knew much of their home furnishings had been selected from the pages of a mail order catalogue.

"His logical deduction was rather clever, but it shows the fact that children wonder about their origin."

"Mommie, where did I come from?" is thus an unexpected query hurled out by the pre-kindergarten child.

"If his mother gives him the run-around, as Larry's father did, the youngster may be apparently satisfied at that moment."

"But he will soon find out that he has been tricked. Then he will show any more "facts of life" interviews with his parents."

"So keep your child's respect and give him the truth when he raises these early sex queries."

"Children are very sensitive at that age and do not like to awake at night reveling in salacious imagination."

"If you answer directly, they dismiss the idea from their mind."

"You came out of Mommie's tummy," is thus the simplest way to put the idea across to a four-year-old.

"That word "tummy" isn't the exact anatomical answer, but a child regards the whole abdomen as "tummy" so it makes sense to the youngster."

"Later he will ask how he got out, and finally, how he got into his mother's tummy."

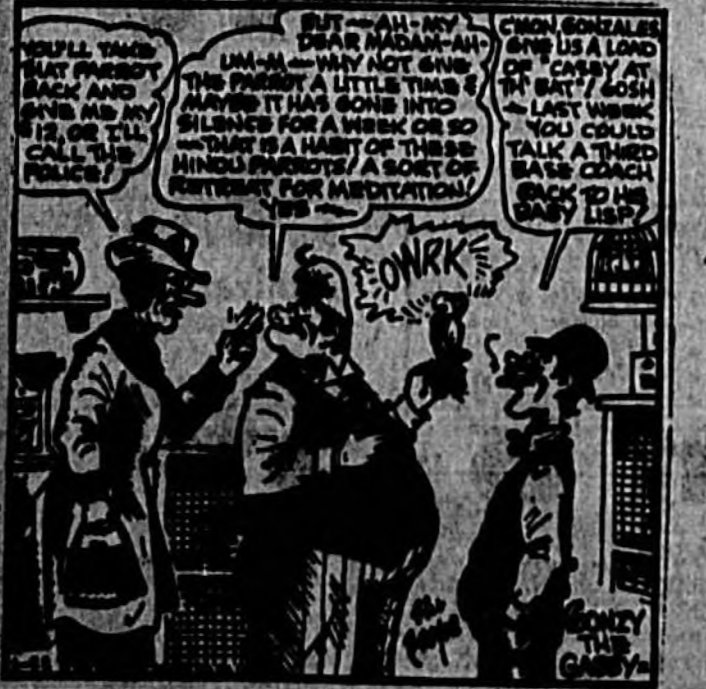

"To answer all such sex queries, send for my booklet, "Sex Problems from 1 to 20," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON — The red two-decker chemical truck of the District of Columbia Fire Department stood outside the wrought-iron driveway gates of the White House. The crew of seven firefighters lagged by the machine, waiting . . .

Presence of the emergency truck added a measure of suspense to the impending drama — the arrival of the Presidential helicopter. There is no sight more thrilling on the Washington scene than the sudden burst of the whirring blades through the White House alley of trees.

White House — that was as close as they'd let the press view his arrival — and took a position at a large window. The giant green Marine chopper dipped down over the south lawn fence — just a few arm lengths from the gaping tourists. Now the nameless heroic pilot churched up the 150-foot-wide swath, unloading tree limbs by inches on either side.

Your Pocketbook

Can you afford that second job? According to latest figures, some 2.5 million men are "moonlighting" and 24 million women now are working, many to supplement their husband's take-home pay.

your means; you may be too heavily in debt or too wasteful of your resources.

How often, I wonder, have these men and women figured what the extra job costs them and appraised whether it is truly worth while? Here is a formula to follow.

The best money management guide for the individual and family that has come my way recently is John L. Springer's book, "Make the Most of Your Income," published by Prentice-Hall. It is from this book that I have gleaned the information to show you how to figure whether you really need that second income.

List all expenses connected with the second job—transportation, extra meals, necessary clothing, perhaps union dues. Women should include what they spend for child care, extra household help, the laundry they now must send out, the thoughtless costly food buying, the extra services they buy because "they are working." Make these estimates high and total them.

If you are bent on continuing the second income make certain you are achieving a goal thereby. For instance, Springer's book suggests that if a husband and wife both work they should try to meet their regular expenses on his income and deposit the wife's earnings, minus the expense of her work, in a savings account to use for major purchases. If this is done, the income is not dribbled away, and should she give up working, the family will not have to make drastic changes in their day-to-day living.

Next figure the tax bracket that the extra income puts you in. How importantly will Uncle Sam figure as a partner? For example, if one income puts you in the 22 per cent federal income tax bracket, you'll wind up keeping less than 78 cents out of each additional dollar earned. And don't forget state income taxes.

As Mr. Kennedy snored down on his crutches, there was a soft chorus of "o-oh's" in the room. The watching reporters, not a cynical one in the bunch, were feeling his pain.

Add these costs to the expense created by the second job and deduct the total from your second income. Does the second job now seem as worth while from a dollar-and-cents standpoint?

There are little pictures one retains from a vignette such as this. Watching the President hobble grimly from the helicopter was a touching scene. But more indelible was the next moment—when he spied Caroline on the balcony.

Next appraise your family life. Are man and pop spending precious hours away from home. How disruptive is the schedule to either or both?

She was in white, jumping up and down in a happy frenzy. She seemed to be saying, "Daddy's home, Daddy's home!"

If you now discover that your second job does not produce even half the income you believed it did, or that it disrupts your family life, consider whether the added income and disruption are worth-while. Ask yourself what hard you to seek that second income in the first place.

He reacted instantly. He laughed. His teeth shone in the sun and he waved to her.

If you probe, you may discover that it was caused by some mismanagement of your primary income. You may be living beyond the first place.

Then, with Pierre Salinger at his side, he turned and bobbed in a side door. . .

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — To get perspective on what the U.S. national defense picture will look like in the 1970s, a good view can be had by looking back on the 1950s. If changes in the next 10 years are as great as in the last 16, you can expect really sensational developments.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric made this survey in a talk before the recent Aerospace Industries conference in Williamsburg, Va., and in a press conference here. Ten years ago Gilpatric was Air Force undersecretary. So he has first-hand knowledge of the changes in this era and what's ahead.

Ten years ago the Air Force was buying 15,000 airplanes. This year it is buying 1,500. Ten years ago the armed forces were spending $1.5 billion for research. Next year it will be $4.7 billion. As recently as 1955 the space program was costing only $600 million. For next year $3 billion have been asked for—$1 billion for defense, $2 billion for the space agency. And this is just a beginning.

The Air Force does not now plan to buy any more B-52 or B-58 manned bombers, though Congress wants it to. Squadrons of these two planes will completely replace the B-47 of today and will remain in service during the 1960s. Their striking power will be stepped up by air-to-ground missiles.

The controversial B-70 and the Dyna-Soar vehicles which were to succeed the B-52s and 58s are on the doubtful list. Their development has been slowed to a stand-by reserve basis. Neither may ever become military weapons carriers.

The interesting possibility for both these concepts is that they may provide the technological base for a new generation of transports in the supersonic era ahead.

Though manned superbombers may thus be headed for limbo, smaller tactical aircraft for limited wars are not.

Defense Department is now trying to develop a triple-service plane that Army, Navy and Air Force can use interchangeably, at least for similar missions of reconnaissance, interdiction or close support of ground troops. The Navy has special problems because of its operation from carriers. But triple-service planes should make all military missions more flexible.

The same principle applies to other air vehicles like the helicopter and VTOL—vertical take-off and landing craft. Army Chief of Staff G. H. Decker is particularly interested in this, in developing new tactical doctrines for countering Communist guerrilla operations in limited wars.

The Army is now at work on a complete reorganization of its division structure and its reserves to give it a more quickly mobilized, mobile striking power. Future size of United States armed forces is now undetermined.

The controversial B-70 and the Dyna-Soar vehicles which were to succeed the B-52s and 58s are on the doubtful list. Their development has been slowed to a stand-by reserve basis. Neither may ever become military weapons carriers.

Whatever form of organization the armed forces of 1970 take, they will need more modern high-speed personnel carriers for land, sea and air and a whole family of new weapons, including more mobile howitzers and a light recoil-less rifle.

As aircraft and conventional weapons become obsolete, so do missiles. The 13 Atlas and 12 Titan squadrons will be completed as now planned. But they will be augmented and probably replaced by the Navy's efficient solid fuel Polaris, developed for submarines, and by the land-based Minuteman on mobile mounts.

What is really needed before 1970, however, is a break-through in solid fuel chemistry research. This would lead to an entirely new series of strategic missiles. Similar research breakthroughs are needed to develop effective defenses against ballistic missile attack.

There is a host of military requirements for orbiting satellites for communications, weather, reconnaissance and for a system of inspecting and destroying hostile satellites.

There is, finally, the development of both liquid, solid and nuclear-fueled missile boosters announced by President Kennedy for putting men on the moon, which will lead to nobody knows what.

Sievers Giving Hurlers 'Fits'

United Press International
Roy Sievers has the poor pitchers going ga-ga, and if they don't stop him soon, those go-go White Sox are liable to be going, going, gone.

Ordinarily, Sievers is a hard man to arouse.

He doesn't care much for politics or the stock market, rarely gets into any hassles with the umpires and usually can be found quietly laboring over a crossword puzzle before a ball game.

But maybe Manager Al Lopez got under his skin a little recently when he benched him for missing an easy throw and bobbing a ground ball.

At any rate, Sievers is taking it out on the pitchers — which is perfectly okay with Lopez.

The slugging Chicago first baseman hit three home runs Wednesday night and drove in a total of nine runs as the surging White Sox ran their record to 13 victories in the last 14 games by sweeping a two-night doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 15-3 and 11-1.

The two victories stretched the White Sox' latest winning streak to six in a row and dropped the slumping Indians into third place.

Sievers drove in seven runs in the opener with his 18th and 19th homers, then accounted for two more runs in the nightcap with his 17th homer plus two singles.

Minnie Minoso also homered in the first game off loser Gary Bell while Al Smith hit two homers and drove in four runs in the nightcap.

Don Larsen, who relieved starter Frank Bauman in the opener, pitched scoreless ball over the last seven innings to win his third game of the season and the first of his career against the Indians. Juan Pizarro was the winner in the nightcap, losing his shutout on a ninth-inning homer by Bubba Phillips.

The New York Yankees moved to within a game of first place with a 5-3 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics; the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox, 5-1, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Minnesota Twins, 11-5. The Detroit-Washington game was postponed because of rain.

In the National League, the first place Cincinnati Reds beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers took two from the Chicago Cubs, 4-1 and 4-3; and the Milwaukee Braves downed the San Francisco Giants, 5-3. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game.

Two tape-measure home runs by Mickey Mantle paced the Yankees to their victory over the A's. Mantle's first homer, a 475-foot blow with two on in the first inning, was merely a warm-up for his 525-foot blast in the seventh with one on. Both came off Bob Shaw. Bud Daley won his first game since joining the Yankees and his fifth of the year although Luis Arroyo helped out in the ninth.

Ken McBride of the Angels, who had gone 28 innings without his teammates scoring a run for him, posted his sixth victory when he drove in the go-ahead run himself against the Red Sox after Ted Kluszewski had tied the score with a homer. Rookie Don Schwall suffered his first loss after five straight wins.

The Orioles broke loose for seven runs in the ninth inning in their victory over the Twins. Jim Gentile hit his 15th homer to tie the score at 4-4 in the eighth and then drew a walk off Chuck Stobbs with the bases full to force in what proved to be the winning run in the ninth. Harmon Killebrew hit his 18th and 19th homers. Reliever Hoyt Wilhelm won his sixth game.

TOOL OF HARD KNOCKS

Tax Collector John Galloway has called the attention of boat owners to an announcement by the director of the Florida State Board of Conservation about the method of re-registration of pleasure and commercial boats.

Here it is:

Pleasure boat owners will re-register their vessels Aug. 1. Owners will take their certificates of registration to the tax collector and he will issue a new one. At this time, the owner will be given a decal which shall be displayed on the right or starboard side of the craft alongside the registration number. This decal will be effective for 1961 through 1963.

Boat owners will be permitted to operate their boats during July with the present certificate and markings.

Commercial boat owners will re-register their craft July 1 in the same manner as in the past and will also display a decal on the starboard side alongside the present markings. Director Ernest Mitts of the conservation board said that there will be no additional charge for the decals to either pleasure or commercial boat owners.

Boat owners have been reported hitting well in several areas during the past week although water levels continue in the "dry" stage.

Henry and Harriet Johnson and Guy Bailey landed 11, averaging more than three pounds, in the river north of the Osteen bridge in two and a half hours of fishing. They said the black sel was the best bait.

Seven boats anchored in one section of the St. Johns near the entry to Lake Jessup all had bass aboard, indicating that business was picking up in that location. Bass already were reported biting good in Lake Jessup.

Bob Thomas and his wife, who are operating Camp Seminole again, reported that bass and bream have been doing "real well," with some limit catches of bass in the Wekiva.

"They've been hitting the red and black worms and the Orange shiner, and the bass have been good sized ones—up to five and a half pounds," Mrs. Thomas said Wednesday.

She's bringing some pictures to the paper to show off some of the catches, she said.

ACL Takes Lead In Business Loop

The Atlantic Coast Line team took all four points Tuesday night to take the lead with 19 wins in the Businessmen's Bowling Loop.

Deposed Faron's Builders follows closely with 18, while Owens Guild and Betty Anne's Hair Stylists have 17 each.

Also tied are Ride-A-While Stables and Florida Forestry Corp. with 15 points.

Though Ride-A-While had a man absent and lost four points, it was not the fault of members Dearliph and Barrington who rolled 645 and 607 series.

Patterson, McNeely Title Fight Moves Near Reality

BOSTON (UPI)—A heavyweight title fight in Boston next fall between champion Floyd Patterson and undefeated Tom McNeely was one step nearer reality today.

New York promoters Tom and Al Bolan applied Wednesday to the Massachusetts Boxing Commission for a license to stage the 16-round bout, which would be held, presumably outdoors, in either September or October.

The Bolans, former Lynn, Mass., residents, said they were forming a corporation called Massachusetts Championship Sports Inc. The Bolans head Championship Sports, Inc., and Feature Sports, Inc., which promoted the last two Patterson title bouts.

Massachusetts law requires that promoters of fights be residents of the state.

The Bolans, following an hour-long closed-door conference with the boxing commission, said the new corporation would have all Massachusetts residents as its principal stockholders.

The attempt to hold the fight came as Atlantic City, N. J., promoters Herman Taylor and Al Soffer offered Patterson a $500,000 guarantee to make a title defense against the winner of the Harold Johnson-Eddie Machen bout at Atlantic City. The date of that defense would clash with the Bolans' proposal.

The Bolans — Tom, 37, and Al, 32—said that if the Boston bout were approved there would be a $100 top on tickets, thus practically insuring the bout as the richest in Boston history. The fight site, as yet undecided, would be either Fenway Park, Boston University, Braves Field or Boston Garden.

Dodgers Battle In Fist Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Shortstop Maudy Wills and first baseman Norm Larker, stars on the pennant contending Los Angeles Dodgers, got in a free-swinging fist fight behind clubhouse doors last week, the Los Angeles Examiner reported today.

Baseball writer, Bob Hunter, writing from Chicago, said the fight, in which diminutive Wills injured his shoulder and had to miss two games, took place Wednesday, June 14, prior to the club's first game with the Chicago Cubs at the Coliseum.

Hunter said the Dodger front office tried to cover up the fluff, but a member of the Cubs told him about it.

Check Facts, PGA Tells NAACP

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI)—The Professional Golfers Association said today that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People "should have taken a moment to check" Negro golfer Charlie Sifford before charging that the PGA is guilty of "un-American practices."

"It is unfortunate that the NAACP did not take the trouble to learn the facts in the case before making unwarranted charges," said PGA President Lou Strong.

"If they had taken a moment to ask Sifford about the PGA and the PGA championship, he could have given them the facts and cleared the air."

NAACP officials were quoted Tuesday as saying that the 1962 PGA championship was withdrawn from Los Angeles when California's attorney general asked that Sifford be permitted to play.

"No such request was ever received by the PGA from the attorney general of California," said Strong. "Moreover, the cancellation of the championship at Los Angeles had absolutely nothing to do with Charlie Sifford. Nor is there any truth in the implication that Negro professional golfers are barred from the PGA championship."

According to estimates, a bushel of wheat can yield more than 60 loaves of bread.

Signs With Chargers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Bob Scarpitto, Notre Dame's leading scorer last season, has signed a contract with the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. Scarpitto was a half-back in college, but probably will be switched to an end position with the Chargers.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After twelve years of marriage, I have come to the conclusion that I don't love my husband. I have grown accustomed to him as you would to a pet. I didn't realize this until I met Mr. R. He is the man I wish I were married to. I would not be foolish enough to break up my home because I love my children, and they need me. Mr. R. also has a family, and he feels the same way about his family. Our situations are similar in that he doesn't exactly hate his wife. He just doesn't love her.

stand this treatment. I am 32 and he is 35. Neither of us has ever been married, and all our friends think we would make a wonderful couple. CANT' FIGURE IT OUT

DEAR CANT: Don't include this man in your plans for the future. A woman your age needs someone who sleeps less and remembers more.

DEAR ABBY: A certain relative just furnished her place. It is no fun to go there any more. She follows you around like an FBI agent to see that you don't put a wet glass down anywhere. And the minute I light a cigarette, she keeps her eyes glued on me to see that an ash doesn't fall on the rug. When she has a few people in, she polices everyone every second. She makes me nervous. And she makes everyone else nervous, too. Should I tell her, as one sister-in-law to another, that she was a better hostess when she was more relaxed and didn't have all that fancy furniture? Or would she think I was jealous? NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: If your furnishings are not as fancy as hers, she will probably think you are jealous. Skip it, and be careful where the ashes fall or somebody will be burned up.

DEAR ABBY: This is for your readers who would rather not answer when someone asks them how old they are: Just say, "I'm old enough to know the score—and young enough to play the game." TWENTY-ONE PLUS

DEAR ON: You have dressed up a shabby old theme in fancy language. A "silent sweetheart" is a guy on the side. And to be "discreet," under such circumstances, means to cheat behind locked doors. Direct some of that romantic energy toward your "pet." The adventure you are considering is loaded with dynamite.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about a man who makes a date with you several days in advance, and doesn't show up or phone to tell you he won't be there? The first time he told me he fell asleep, and the second time he said he "forgot" we had a date.

He is a nice person, and has given me (and others) reason to believe he is very much interested in me. I cannot under-

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

The woman nobody remembers: Echoes the opinions of others, and finds it easier to answer with stock phrases than say what she actually thinks or feels. Has never realized the importance of getting herself known for something — that will stick in the minds of those she meets; whether for a nice smile, for playing the piano, or for being the best cook in town. Is neither pretty nor chic, but somewhere between the two, as though she couldn't decide just what she wanted to be.

Figures that it is enough to be Jim Brown's wife, that she doesn't have to be an individual. Is always a follower — never a leader, even in such little things as the way she wears her hair. Always waits for the other person to make the first move toward friendship. Doesn't know enough about what is going on in the world to open her mouth in a general conversation. Relies entirely on her clothes to make an impression for her. Believes that it is enough for her to be "nice" and "sweet" — not realizing that "fun" and "interesting" are much more complimentary adjectives when used about a woman. And, anyway, being "nice" and "sweet" is too easy a path. Is so unsure of herself that her whole attitude is an apology. You've met her — but you can't quite place her. For husbands: There are some good pointers in "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet, Reader Service, c/o Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

mere bid of six clubs. If he plays you for a better hand and bids either seven clubs or six no-trump you wind up with the fish eating you. Even six clubs is lucky. Not only does your partner hold the right king with his four aces, but he has no third diamond to embarrass him. All he has to do to make the hand is to win the opening lead;

If you're curious about sports, Australian style, here's an engaging filmed-on-the-spot of adventuresome games like fishing for sharks, hunting for crocodiles, racing jalopies, shearing sheep, as well as a relatively mundane sport known as Australian football, in which the ball gets kicked, thrown, and bounced around. 8:30 p. m. CBS. Bat Masterson — "Death By Decree." (Repeat) A mild episode involving that familiar friend of all western script writers, the larcenous sheriff with the quick trigger finger. How Bat does this one in takes up the half hour. 9:30 p. m. NBC.

Ernie Ford — Ernie entertains the Marines visiting the studio from southern California bases nearby. He has attractive Anita Bryant to help in the song department when he isn't drilling and confusing the Marines. (Color). 9:30 p. m. NBC. The Untouchables — "The Waxy Gordon Story." (Repeat) A movie-like production with Nehemiah Persoff playing the sneering, highliving Gordon keeps the episode humming. EDITORIAL COMMENT

Faith In Us

A major indication of just how strongly some of the nation's largest home building companies believe in Seminole County's future was evidenced in the Village of North Orlando early this week when a $2 million agreement was signed which calls for an immediate start on construction of an additional 1,000 homes in the community.

With the signatures of E. Robert Swartzburg, North Orlando Co. president, and William Deutsch, Landmark, Inc. vice president, plans also were set in motion for immediate expansion of the water and sewage plants, new roads and land preparation at a cost of another $2 million.

The North Orlando Co. is a subsidiary of the Silver Creek Precast Corp. of Buffalo, N. Y. and Landmark has been active in home building in Ft. Lauderdale and St. Petersburg.

Congratulations are extended to the Village of North Orlando whose growth will benefit the entire county.

Directors of the club include Jack Neal, Howard Wilborn, Bobby Hamilton, Mickey Nitt, Allan Saine, Cecil Sellers, Edwin Braddock and Mr. Sevier.

A meeting of the officers and directors was held recently to plan for construction of rest rooms and a bathhouse at the lake with a work day scheduled in the near future.

Delinquent members are being notified and payment of past and current dues must be made by July 1 or names will be dropped from the roll and those places filled by waiting applicants.

DeBary Catholics Plan Parties

Members of St. Ann's Catholic Parish, DeBary, met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dutch on Catalina Dr. to make preliminary plans for a fall banquet to be held at the DeBary Plaza on Oct. 7.

W. C. Miller was named honorary chairman; Oscar Pagnone, general chairman and Mrs. John Dutch, co-chairman.

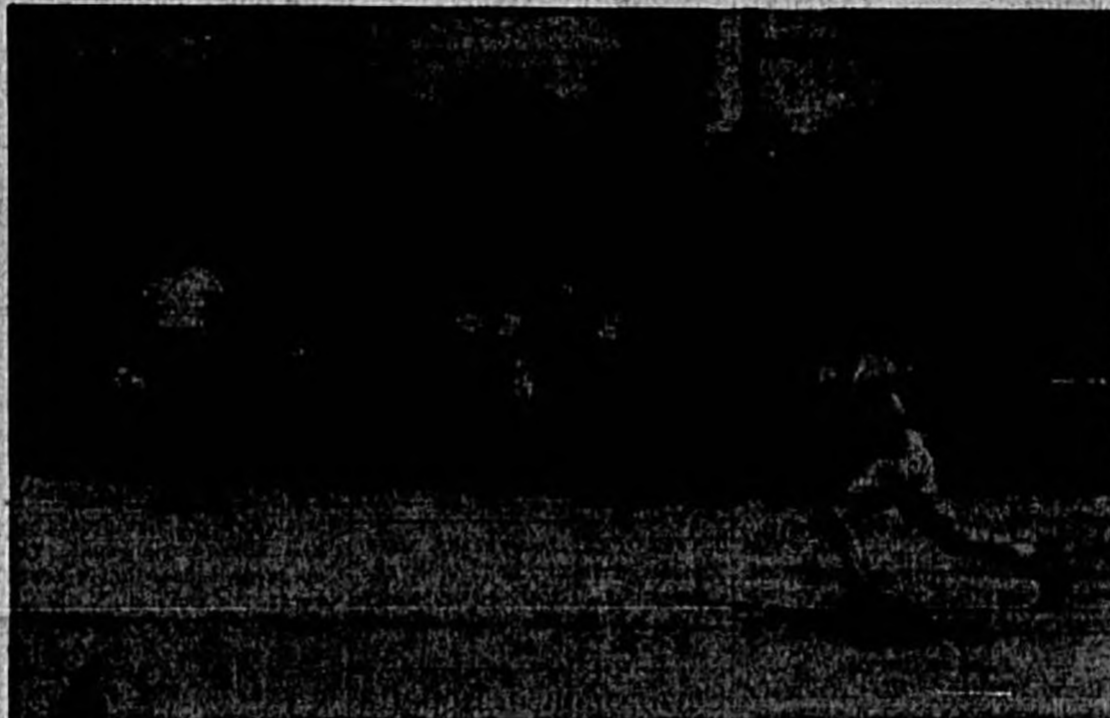

During the summer, parties will be held at members' homes with proceeds from the parties to be used to buy pews for the new church which is to be built in DeBary.

DeBary Minister Moves To Sebring

Members of the DeBary Community Methodist WSCF, at their final meeting before the summer recess, were told by Mrs. Perry E. James, wife of the pastor, of her appreciation for their assistance and cooperation during the past two years.

Fire Information Stressed By Chief

A fire occurring in Paola last week which proved difficult to locate, brought out the fact that apparently many residents do not know just what information should be given when reporting a fire.

Sanford Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Jr. advises that in addition to using the fire department number, which should be in a prominent location near the telephone, someone thoroughly familiar with the area should make the report.

Many times, he said, unless some member of the department or volunteer crew happened to know the roads and general area, a smoldering fire in a brightly lighted locality could prove impossible to detect.

Immediately upon turning in an alarm, Cleveland said, provision should be made for a highway marker at the intersection providing the quickest access route, or, even desirable, a lantern with a flashlight should be posted in the vicinity of the fire.

As a concluding bit of advice, the Sanford chief reminded that should the fire department number be lost or otherwise unavailable, the nearest station can be reached by dialing the operator "0" on your telephone dial.

Veterans Groups Enjoy Picnic

The deadline for entering drawings, pastels and watercolors, as well as ceramics and other art crafts, for the second art contest and garden party of the Tri-City Suncoast Fiesta is July 27.

Three To Attend Girls State

Seminole County's Girls State delegates join their counterparts from schools throughout Central Florida early Saturday morning when they board a chartered bus in Orlando for a week in Tallahassee where they will be given the opportunity to observe and carry out functions of government.

Attending from Seminole High will be Jo Ann Ziegler and Ann Schumacher and from Lyman High in Longwood will be Faye Jones. Alternates are Debbie Scott and Bonnie Gielow from Seminole and Sharon Hardesty from Lyman.

Oviedo is not sending a delegate this year.

The week in Tallahassee for the girls is made possible through the American Legion Auxiliary which is allowed one representative for each 100 members.

Candidates are selected from members of the junior class on qualifications of scholarship, leadership, dependability, honesty and service. All selections must also bear the approval of the school faculty.

Expenses of the trip are paid by various organizations who act as sponsors in cooperation with the Legion Auxiliary.

Village Residents Should Tag Dogs, Mayor Advises

Mayor Frank Fasula advised North Orlando residents this week that dog tags are available at the Village offices upon show of the proper proof that the animals have received the rabies shot.

Possession of the tags can be valuable in a number of instances, Fasula pointed out, since they are numbered and each is registered in the Village Hall.

Should the family pet be lost or stolen, tags could aid in identification. Should the animal become destructive or create a nuisance, its owner can be found immediately by checking the records, Fasula said.

He urged that all dog owners register their pets at their earliest convenience.

North Orlando Plans Giant 4th Affair

Plans for the first Fourth of July celebration ever to be held in the Village of North Orlando, growing more exciting by the day, promise that the event will be second to none in this area.

Members of the North Orlando Civic Assn., working on various committees for the festivities, report that the North Orlando Corp. has donated $250 towards expenses and say that additional financial contributions are expected from other builders in the area.

Present plans call for an afternoon of games for all age groups. Beginning at 3 p. m., the Longwood Little Leaguers will take on the local All Stars with a softball game between the Men's and Women's teams of North Orlando to follow immediately.

While the ball games are taking place games and contests for the younger age group will be conducted. One such activity will be a contest in which the toddler-age group will fill a sawdust pile for "penies with a hole in them."

Prizes will be awarded to all who find the marked coins.

Promptly at 5:30 p. m. all North Orlando residents taking part in the celebration, will leave the park behind the Village Hall and will be led to the new picnic area, now under development, in a location which is being kept secret and will be a surprise announcement of the event.

At the picnic grounds, Boy and Girl Scouts will assist in a free wiener roast served with accompanying refreshments.

After eating, residents will return to the Village Hall Park on Fairfax Ave. for a children's talent show in which all young people of the community are being encouraged to participate.

Mrs. Robert Dean is chairman of the show and all village young people interested in appearing on the program are requested to contact her.

Although from the offset of the big celebration, fireworks will be set off at regular intervals, the grand finale of the day will come at 8:30 p. m., approximately, with a huge display.

The association has announced that the whole of Central Florida is invited to see the fireworks which will conclude with a large replica of the Star Spangled Banner appearing against the skies.

Altamonte Church Adds Annual Event For Graduates

Eight young people of the Altamonte Springs Baptist Church, who also were members of the Lyman High School graduating class this year, took part in the first Baccalaureate Sunday Breakfast to be held by the church.

The event soon became included among regular annual activities of the graduating class there and the pastor, in his first year at Altamonte Springs, will continue the custom here.

Also now done traditionally by Mrs. Haines, are the favors and place cards of miniature blown egg faces wearing mortar boards of the school's chosen colors for boys and girls and small hand rolled and tied diplomas bearing the name of each.

Expenses of the trip are paid by various organizations who act as sponsors in cooperation with the Legion Auxiliary.

Children appearing on the program who had a brother or sister also attending the school invited them on stage to dance.

On the last day of school, room mothers of each class honored the students at parties with morning sessions being entertained at 11:30 a. m.; afternoon sessions at 3:30 p. m. and the all day students at 1:30 p. m.

Tommy Chaires, vice president of the Jacksonville District, Florida Federation of Post Office Clerks, was elected to head the group at a convention held at the new Sarasota Terrace Hotel last weekend.

Other candidates for the presidency were Dittensworth from St. Petersburg and Friday of Sarasota.

Of particular interest in this area was the election of Ray Stowell, from Local 1426, as fifth district vice president. All Seminole County offices are covered by district five.

Stowell is well known in the area since he has served as an editor of "The Florida Post," publication of the clerks' group.

Local clerks serving at the convention were H. C. Madden from the Sanford office and Mrs. Marian R. Jones of the Oviedo office and a delegate from Local 4832 on the greetings committee.

Democratic Women To Install Officers In September

New officers of the Seminole County Democratic Women's Club will be installed, rather than elected, at the first meeting of the group when activities are resumed in September.

Officers elected at a luncheon meeting before the summer recess included Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, president; Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, vice president; Mrs. Hope Bennett, member at large; Mrs. Catherine Gehr, secretary and correspondent; and Mrs. Marie Taylor, treasurer.

City Authorizes Disposal Plant Cost Study

A Herald Editorial

Why Wait?

The City Commission has authorized a study of the most feasible financing for a city sewage treatment plant after being advised that the plant could be a factor in getting a $300,000 industrial plant located here.

The subject of the importance of a sewage treatment plant to the City of Sanford has come up again. The city was asked by the chamber of commerce to keep in mind that indications are that expanded sewerage facilities will become a factor in attracting industry to the area.

The commission already had discussed investigation of the costs and possible ways of financing a primary treatment plant after the State Board of Health told the city it would not approve any further extension of the city sewer lines until a plan is submitted for a plant.
