Louis Failed In All Rounds To Deliver Deadly Blow; Farr Given Great Ovation At End

Tommy Comes Back After Tough Seventh Round To Force Louis In Defensive Shell For Four Rounds

By ALAN GOULD

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Tommy Farr, the Welshman, who wasn't supposed to have a chance, took everything but the decision last night from Joe Louis in a heavyweight championship fight that upset expectations of going the full distance of 15 rounds.

Louis had no real difficulty getting up a margin on points that gave him the unanimous decision of Referee Arthur Donovan and the two judges but the Brown Bomber's first defense months ago from Irish Jimmy Woodcock found him up against much tougher opposition than he had anticipated. Farr not only stunned the experts who had unanimously picked him to become a quick knockout victim, but thrilled a comparatively small crowd, estimated at no more than 30,000 in paid attendance by the game and dramatic fashion in which he repeatedly carried the fight to the hard-fighting champion.

Louis finding Farr troublesome as well as durable throughout the 15 rounds, failed to score even a single knock-down and was actually in retreat as the final bell found the blond challenger charging the champion and swinging hard with both fists.

Louis fired his biggest punches sans without being able to do any thing more than stop the challenger's rushes, for him occasionally and inflict a series of heavy punches about Tommy's eyes and nose.

The challenger suffered a gash under his right eye as early as the third round. By the fifth, blood was streaming from cuts under both eyes. Near the close one of Joe's short left hooks started a stream of crimson from Farr's nose but these appeared only to be minor mishaps in the fighting life of the 23-year-old Welshman, who has never been flattened in his entire career.

Louis came closest to scoring a knockdown in the seventh round. Here the champion, who had spent most of the first six rounds spearing Tommy with left hands, really got down to business. He blasted Farr's head with both hands. Tommy gave ground, while the blood dripped from his face, but his knees refused to buckle and his spirit refused to be broken by the punishment he was absorbing.

As a matter of fact, between the seventh and eighth rounds, when it seemed the fight could not last much longer, Farr turned to some friends at the ringside, grinning and winking, as if to say, "Don't let that stuff worry you; I'm still in there and able to stay on my feet."

That's just exactly what Tommy did, and quite capably, for the remainder of the fight. Farr actually came out in the eighth with a rally that had Louis baffled and in frequent retreat. The challenger blasted away with both hands, scoring repeatedly with hard shots to the head. He forced Joe back into a defensive shell from which the champion did not emerge until the closing few rounds.

LOUIS WINS ON DECISION IN 15-ROUND BATTLE

Joe Louis was hard put to defend his world heavyweight laurels in his fight with Tommy Farr, the British champion, in New York's Yankee Stadium. Joe won on a decision after Tommy forced him to go the full 15 rounds. Farr (left) is shown wading into the champion in one of the early rounds.

Rain Keeps Many Away While 15 Men And Three Coaches Hold An Important Session

McLucas Announces Schedule And Opener Calls For Tilt In Jacksonville With Strong Julia Lions

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

Although rain prevented any outdoor work being done, Head Coach Leonard McLucas and 15 of his men went through their work inside of the large school gym while the eyes of the gridiron master and his two assistants taught much to the youngsters who reported about the new systems that the school will use this season, the new formations and many other things.

Exercising work on the stance, shifting and the running of a few plays were the high spots of the session while Coach Russell McCracken and Coach Woody Riser were in charge of the line. McLucas was giving some very valuable information to a group of backfield men.

Coach McLucas told his youngsters before the first session opened that this season the Ochsley Field men will use parts of four formations, the Notre Dame Single Wing, Double Wing and the short punt. With the use of these shifts it will automatically blunder the defensive play made the opponents.

Coach McLucas released his 1937 schedule yesterday afternoon and made a surprising announcement that Sanford would open the season on Sept. 24, in Jacksonville against the London Lions.

The 1937 schedule is as follows:

Sept. 24, Sanford vs. London
Oct. 1, Sanford vs. Eustis
Oct. 8, Sanford vs. Lake City
Oct. 15, Sanford vs. DeLand
Oct. 22, Sanford vs. Ocala
Oct. 29, Sanford vs. Orlando
Nov. 5, Sanford vs. Gainesville
Nov. 11, Open date
Nov. 18, Sanford vs. St. Augustine
Nov. 25, Sanford vs. Leesburg
Nov. 29, Sanford vs. Daytona Beach

Out of the entire schedule only two of the games have been so far scheduled to be played in Sanford. Coach McLucas announced that the lights and equipment for the field will be installed soon.

Coach McLucas stated that tomorrow kicking and passing will dominate the practice while the usual exercises and the practice of the offenses by both back and line. The men will also assemble their equipment which will be in Wednesday morning and the first uniforms will be issued Wednesday afternoon.

Venomous Creatures Fill Back Yard Of California Catcher

ORANGE, Calif., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Rattlesnakes, gila monsters, tarantulas and the like are just so many pests to the Puchert family. They have a back yard full of venomous things.

Their pets are deadly but not dangerous, Otto Puchert, WPA lecturer, paradoxically explains.

Puchert who put the venom selling business on a commercial basis and then quit when the bottom dropped out of the rattlesnake poison market, willingly demonstrates his point.

He stretches himself on the lawn for a little "snuggling" party with Lethal, a veteran diamond back that had busied in threatening fashion when he was removed from the cage.

Lethal squirms across his master's chest, all idea of striking gone.

"Rattlesnakes," Puchert says, "need only a little understanding to be handled safely. They won't bite unless they get excited."

There's a catch in handling deadly spiders, too.

"Want to pose with the tarantula," he asks his small daughter, Betty Rose. She does.

So Otto places the sturdy, silken spider on her cheek.

"Nothing happens."

"It takes a relatively moist skin surface to allow the tarantula to inject its poison," he explains.

The line, "Whoever loved that loved the world," is quoted by Shakespeare in "As You Like It."

Although A. E. Housman's first book of poems, "A Shropshire Lad," became an immediate classic its publication was financed by the author.

Leon Lawson's third year, Sam Wain's third year and many of the others.

These Seminole Gridlers surely have a tough battle coming on Sept. 24, when they meet those touring Lions of London at the Jacksonville Municipal Stadium in that city.

Rain and what a rain forced the Ochsley Field to hold their first practice session inside of gym doors yesterday afternoon while the rain also forced the postponement of the Sanford-St. Augustine game which was scheduled for last night.

But today the weather is clearing and it looks as if Coach McLucas will be able to go ahead with his plans with only a day short and that it makes no difference with the baseball club for the rain last evening definitely forced the Florida State League standing to say that Sanford has automatically clinched the second spot in the standings.

We don't wish to seem anybody but Robert Howell and Darrell Ferguson will really have to show Coach McLucas and Coach Riser something very good for the two tackles that were present yesterday showed us a form of power as well as weight and in fact the two tackles put together hit the scales at 425 pounds.

The tackles, Ashy Jones and Warren Odham, are built for power and winking holes in these lines and as Ferguson and Howell will really have to get down to work and get back that lead start that Odham and Jones took the privilege of getting that jump on the rest of the Ochsley hits the scales at 215 pounds while he stands about five feet ten inches tall.

Jones weighs 215 pounds and stands five feet eleven and one-half inches tall.

Robert Stinoff should have a good season as this will be his third year while it will also be Johnny Morgan's third season that to beat.

Death Awaits Natives Selling To Foreigners

TIENTSIN, China, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Death will be the fate of the Chinese in Tientsin who sell their property surreptitiously to foreigners, according to an order issued by General Sung Che-yan, chairman of the Hopei Chahar Political Affairs committee.

Although the edict specifies foreigners in general, the general Chinese opinion is that its purpose is to prevent the Japanese buying up the land.

Germany May Ask Shorter Shirtsails

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—(AP)—The cry "S-O-S—save our shirts"—may be heard in Germany ere long.

The average German man's shirt is 37.4 inches long in front 39.4 inches behind. Will it make much difference if the shirt is cut 2 inches shorter both ways?

A small matter, but since the Reich's shirt production is 20,000,000 a year, a saving of four inches of material on each shirt would mean 120,000,000 inches, or 2,333,333 yards or 1,894 miles, almost two-thirds of the width of the United States.

So why not try it, the "Textil Zeitung" suggests.

Hopes can be had as small as 3-16th of an inch in diameter.

Opium Addicts Must Get Tourists License

Shanghai, China, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Tourist licenses will be issued for traveling opium smokers in Greater Shanghai. They are being put out to help officials keep track of addicts.

The city government has a plan that calls for the extermination of the narcotic evil by 1940. Smokers have been required to register and pay a fee. Each year the license must be renewed and the addict's allotment of drugs is diminished.

IT TAKES TWO of the average tourist to equal the record of Joe (Ducky) Stalder of the Gardeners' Club of the Big League.

Big Offensive Against China Is Commenced

21 Jap Cruisers And Destroyers Shell Chungking And Kiangwan In New Drive

Wosung Falls Into Jap Hands

Warning Is Issued To Neutral Shipping To Avoid Japanese

SHANGHAI, Sept. 1. (AP)—A terrifying series of great new fires roared in Shanghai tonight, kindled by the opening of naval guns and aerial bombs of Japan's big offensive against all of China.

The blaze, one of them in the Soochow Creek area facing the American-occupied sector of the International Settlement, formed a magnificent background for the military drama.

Twenty-one Japanese destroyers and cruisers puffed shells into the Chapel and Kiangwan sectors of Shanghai's north end. Japanese war planes rained bombs on Chinese positions.

Wosung, Shanghai's historic defense post at the wide river bend where the Whangpoo meets the Yangtze, already was in Japanese hands but the hard-pressed Chinese were fighting on with unmatched courage and tenacity holding firmly to many important positions.

The Shanghai curtain raised for the Japanese offensive which is to extend all over China found American and British naval commanders considering the possibility of uniting their protective strength to force a way to sea for their refugees.

That consideration was the result of Japanese naval warnings to all shipping to steer clear of the Japanese warship concentrations crisscrossing both the Whangpoo and Yangtze.

Shellfire demolished the American-mortarized Wing On Company mills at Wosung. The mills had been flying the United States flag.

An open route to the sea is demanded in Shanghai because with the International City jammed in by fighting the Yangtze and Whangpoo are the only hope of escape.

It is estimated that between 4000 and 7000 Americans still are in China. Officials pointed out that facilities must be made available to evacuate them if commercial ships whose owners were shocked by the bombing of the President Hoover, give Shanghai and other Chinese ports a wide berth until hostilities end.

Now anchored in the Yangtze river off Shanghai are the Argus, flagship of the Asiatic squadron and which recently was fired on by unidentified gunners; the gunboat Sacramento; the destroyers Edson and Farrer and the cargo and transport vessel, Gold Star. A dozen other naval vessels are riding at anchor at Chien and could be mustered into service in short order if necessary.

The last great concentration of American sea strength in the Far East came in 1905 when Theodore Roosevelt sent several American battleships around the world chiefly, it was said, to impress the Japanese with American sea power.

Using as their slogan, "Stop the Bullheads," the seagoing soldiers today in demand that the neutrality act be invoked to prevent the delivery of American airplanes in China and Japan. The organizations urged that this government either must go to war or be humiliated if Japanese stop the steamship Whitehall which is reported on route to China with 39 Bellanca planes.

The petition making the demand are the World Peacekeepers, National Council for Prevention of War Emergency Food Campaign, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom and the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

JAPAN HONORS HER WAR DEAD

Shinto services are held by Japanese soldiers at Peiping for their fallen comrades in the North China campaign. The ashes of the slain, reposing on the temporary altar, later will be returned to Japan.

Gulf Coast Tick Menaces Cattle In Gulf States

Entomologists Warn Against Pest Which Aids Screw Worm

The Gulf Coast tick, the deadly ally of the screw worm in attacks upon livestock, has made its appearance in states along the southern Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, according to entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They explain that a mass attack by the pest upon the ears of animals causes them to swell and the skin to crack and scab, and the wound where the tick attached itself to the animal remains raw for several days. This gives an ideal location for the screw worm fly to deposit its eggs. The cure often becomes so swollen and stiff that the animal can no longer use them in a natural way to ward off flies.

The sneezing instinct of the screw worm fly often detects the presence of a fresh wound before the owner of the animal notices it, and before proper preventive measures have been taken, the animal is infected with the creature, the department warns. According to Dr. W. E. Dove, in charge of the division of screw worm control in the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of San Antonio, Texas, the tick may be controlled by the application of pine tar oil to the ears of animals at intervals of two weeks.

Not only kills the ticks, but aids the healing of the wounds, prevents the attachment of other ticks, and prevents screw worms from laying eggs in or near the bites, he states.

The Gulf Coast tick has four stages of development, the egg, seed tick, nymph, and adult. It has been stated that a single female may deposit from 4000 to 10,000 eggs which may hatch in three or four weeks during warm weather.

When the seed tick has emerged from the egg, it crawls upon a nearby bit of vegetation and lies in wait of a passing animal. If the animal, called a "host," does not come near it for 170 days, the tick dies. If a host is found, the seed tick feeds upon its blood and drops to the ground in about five days. When on the ground again, it molts its skin from seven to 121 days, according to the temperature.

After molting, the tick is in the nymphal stage, and again crawls to vegetation to await another host. The nymph may live for several months. If a suitable animal victim is found, the nymph feeds upon it and drops back to the ground in six or seven days. It again molts from 10 to 21 days later and then becomes an adult tick.

An adult tick may live for 10 to 14 months without feeding another (Continued on page three)

NANKING, Sept. 1. (AP)—In an effort to cut China's annual tuberculosis death rate of 1,000,000, welfare organizations have embarked on a nationwide campaign. Exhibitions, posters, newspaper ads are being used.

CAMP ROOSEVELT, Sept. 1.—Dr. John W. Wingate, Associate Professor of Merchandising, New York University's school of Retailing, will be here today, Wednesday and Thursday of next week as head instructor in a Short Course in Retailing at Ocala.

W. K. Mitchell, secretary of the Ocala Retailing for Florida Merchants of this type.

Dr. Mitchell, said today that Wingate's experience includes not only the highest theoretical training in the country, but sufficient up-to-date, practical knowledge to make his work of prime importance for local merchants.

In addition to his duties as professor of merchandising, Dr. Mitchell for the past three years has acted as head instructor in a ready-to-wear shop near New York City with the special purpose of raising an interest in the problems of the retailer. He has been his custom during his summers to take over the management of a dry goods store so that he might keep in contact with the problems of retail merchandising.

Author of several authoritative books on retailing practices, Dr. Wingate established in 1922 the Journal of Retailing and has remained chairman of its Board of Editors. Mack Roth, Daytona Beach, chairman of the program committee, recommends Dr. Wingate's practical instruction and says he is the best man the school of Adult Education could have secured for this particular course.

Young Trouper

Mickey Rooney's sudden leap to film popularity was not occasioned by any curly wave of his hair or sparkle in his Irish eyes but because of his brilliant acting performances in pictures such as "Captains Courageous," "The Devil is a Sissy" and "Slave Ship." Mickey's most recent role in his portrayal of the "Hoosier Schoolboy" in the picture of the same title playing Thursday at the Rita Theater, in which he delivers a standard of superb acting, unexpected from a juvenile performer.

British Tanker Torpedoed By Unknown Sub

England Indignant At Attacks On Shipping, Destroyers In Mediterranean Sea

Cabinet Orders Re-Inforcements

Fleet Of Destroyers Searches For Sub With Guns Bared

LONDON, Sept. 2.—(AP)—Great Britain, roused to indignant action by the mysterious sinking of a merchantman and the close escape of a destroyer, ordered its fleet reinforced today in the western Mediterranean.

Informed circles reported the government suspected Italy of responsibility for the strange and repeated assaults on the shipping of many nations off the Spanish government coast on the narrow British Empire "lifeline."

The tanker Woodford, flying the British flag, went down off the east coast of Spain, torpedoed yesterday by an undersea craft near where the British destroyer Havock dodged a torpedo Tuesday night. The Woodford's second engineer was killed and six of her crew were wounded.

The order for reinforcements was announced after tense cabinet members had attempted at two long sessions to shape the Empire's policy against attacks.

A British war fleet searched the Mediterranean last night with bared guns and official freedom to sink an unidentified submarine that fired a torpedo at the destroyer Havock.

Quarters close to the admiralty indicated that the mysterious submarine would be sunk if possible. The government considered such a step "entirely justified" after the submarine's crew has been removed.

Britain was incensed by the attack off the Spanish coast, the latest of a series of raids on ships flying the British flag. There was a mounting pressure on the government to stiffen its resistance to "these promiscuous acts of barbarism."

Eight Ships In Hunt

At least eight swift destroyers were rushed into the search and each commander was told explicitly that he was free to use his own judgment.

All the destroyers were equipped with depth charges capable of sinking a submerged submarine and guns heavy enough to blast a sub off the surface.

Pet Raccoon Causes Consternation At Zoo

A pet raccoon owned by E. W. Holmes, a negro, caused consternation in the Florida zoo sector of the Sanford Municipal Zoo this morning.

The little black and white animal, held securely by a long chain leash, seemed to be very interested in the cage containing his furrier brothers. After climbing the railing and being scolded by four of the inmates which immediately came forward to see what it was all about.

Apparently curious as to how one so nearly like themselves should be on the outside, they seemed determined to pick a fight with him. The maneuver would probably have been successful had it not been for the screening.

After taking his pet away in order to curb any further disturbance, the owner explained that the animal had been captured when very small and had been completely tamed. He added that it spent most of its time sleeping in shady spots on the roof of his house.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD A BRIDE

Far from the glamour of the stage on which she won international fame, Tallulah Bankhead was married to John Emory, Broadway actor, in the home of her father, Speaker William B. Bankhead, at Jasper, Ala. "I married for love," says Tallulah—and this picture seems to prove it as the newlyweds gaze into each other's eyes just after the ceremony.

500 Are Known Dead In Blow At Hongkong

Worst Typhoon Since 1927 Strikes British Colony Devastating Ships And Houses

HONGKONG, Sept. 2.—(AP)—More than 500 persons believed today to have perished as the most devastating typhoon in 10 years lashed the British Crown colony. Officials expressed the fear that deaths might mount into the thousands.

At least 20 vessels were sunk by the fury of the wind. Ship after ship was torn from its storm mooring in the crowded harbor and sent careening helplessly in the maelstrom.

The business section of Hongkong was a veritable shambles. Scores of buildings were unroofed and their floors smashed in as if they were tinder. Streets were littered with wrecked motor cars, countless pieces of small craft were tossed like chips against the seawall and those who made them their homes were drowned. Fifty Chinese were reported to have been killed almost instantly when a block of buildings collapsed at Tai Po.

Fire Losses Amount To $1,979 Since Jan. 1

As a result of the thorough work of the Sanford Fire Department and the cooperation of the citizens of Sanford in the prevention of fires, Sanford has suffered on losses amounting to only $1,979 since Jan. 1. It was learned today.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland reported today that the department had made only one run during this year and only $1,979 in damage reported to the month.

Although the local department does not have as modern equipment as numerous other cities in the state, local firemen, time after time, have proved their efficiency in emergencies and have prevented serious conflagrations in this city.

Fire Chief Mack Cleveland indicated that he greatly appreciated the co-operation the citizens have shown in this city and he feels that the Department can depend upon the continued co-operation of Sanfordites in the protection of their property.

Some of the most desperate fighting of the Shanghai invasion has occurred in that district, much of which has been destroyed by fires and bombing. The chain behind the soldier in the center indicates he believes in comfort, even under fire. (Associated Press Photo)

School Principals, Superintendent Discuss Problems

County Nurse Urges Dental Inspection For School Children

The principals of all the white schools of Seminole County met in the office of the Superintendent T. W. Lawton yesterday to discuss various matters relative to the coming year.

At the session Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, County school nurse, outlined her health program for the coming year. In it she advocated dental inspection and immunization of all students of Seminole County Schools.

The fact was also brought out that the regulation requiring students to be in the state for two weeks prior to entering school or presenting a health certificate from an authority in the vicinity visited stating that there were no epidemics of communicable diseases in that locality, would be more rigidly enforced this year than ever before because of the spread of infantile paralysis throughout the nation.

Mr. Lawton discussed with the school heads definite goals of improvement for the coming year and advocated in his discussion closer contacts with the parents of students and encouragement of attendance.

Statement On Crash Issued By Company

MIAMI, Sept. 2.—(AP)—The Florida Power and Light Company in a statement yesterday said it was "incomprehensible" that the airport personnel was not in full knowledge of the erection of a pole against which an Eastern Air Liner crashed at Daytona Beach Aug. 10.

The statement was issued by Bryan C. Hanks, president of the company, after a Department of commerce report found the utility failed to give notification that the pole was erected the previous night.

"It is extremely regrettable that the plane crossing the heavily traveled Daytona Beach-DeLand highway at such low height struck the pole," the statement continued. "However this unfortunate accident will bring home to all concerned the necessity of preventing the operation of planes over highways and other property at such a low altitude as endangers plane operators and passengers and persons opening and operating property in the vicinity of airports."
