HOOVER HOPES FOR ACTION ON REVENUE BILL

Military Committee Is Determined To Block Big Cut In Army Appropriations

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—President Hoover said today he is greatly encouraged over the hope of speedy action in the Senate on the revenue bill. Determined to block large slashes in army appropriations the House Military Committee invited Secretary Hurley to testify behind closed doors on pending war department supply bills. A program for the appointment of a special committee to frame a non-partisan economy bill was accepted by chairman Jones of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The billion dollar revenue raising bill was submitted by its finance committee. The compromise tax schedules were retained intact. Debate will begin Thursday.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, Democratic leader, proposed appointment of a special economy committee. Senator Watson, of Indiana, majority pilot, promptly accepted the suggestion.

President Hoover who called in Republican leaders over the week-end to emphasize the tax-economy program kept contact during the day with the Senate situation.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, called for an end of controversy and resignation over the economy issue in a statement off the floor. Mr. Borah was warned that most of the cuts in appropriations made so far merely amounted to postponement.

Senate leaders are now focusing attention on the necessary $200,000,000 in savings required to make the tax measure balance the 1932 budget.

The Senate appropriations committee resumed work on the supply measures yesterday, determined to stick by the policy of 10 percent reductions.

Plans Progressing For Celebration Of Farmers' Day

Large green posters, and other window cards announcing the Second Annual Farmers' Day in Sanford came off the press today, and were nailed to posts and other vantage points throughout this and adjoining counties. It is reported by committee chairman of the event.

The cards invite every person to come to Sanford to participate in the many events of the day, particularly in the free barbecue which is being prepared for 15,000 persons.

Another report from the Finance Committee indicates that merchants, candidates, and other individuals are responding generously to requests for donations for this barbecue. "Most everyone seems to realize the value and importance of this day to this county," chairman of the Finance Committee said.

Additional sport events have been arranged. It is announced, including three which should prove of wide interest.

Beginning at 2:30 o'clock on the lakefront, there will be a Boy and Girl Scout contest. The person playing the straightest furrow will receive a $5 cash prize. A $2.50 cash prize also goes to the winner of a mile race, with another $2.50 cash prize going to the winner of a 100 yard dash.

A feature of the new athletic program is a double consisting of 10 athletic events. The winners of these events will be awarded cash prizes totaling $175.00, divided as follows: $10 for first, $5 for second, and $2.50 for third place.

POLITICAL SUPPER

The Men's Club of the Longwood Episcopal Church is staging a Political Supper at the Longwood Hotel Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock, to which every person in Sanford is invited. Supper will be served before public speaking which begins at about 9:00 o'clock.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The Salvation Army is an institution embodied with the highest American ideals and principles, and has for its aim the helping of mankind and suffering humanity, and

WHEREAS, this organization has contributed to Sanford by placing its representatives in our City and has shown by its merits to be entitled to our whole-hearted support, and

WHEREAS, The Salvation Army, in Sanford, needs financial assistance so that its work for the coming year may be carried on.

NOW THEREFORE, I, T. L. DUMAS, Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, call attention to this important matter, and urge all the people of this City to cooperate and lend all possible assistance on May 11th and 12th, which have been designated as "Salvation Army Days," when we are to help others.

Done under my hand and the official seal of the City of Sanford, Florida, this 10th day of May, A. D. 1932.

T. L. DUMAS, Mayor.

ADMIRAL SAYS IDA CONFESSED BEING ATTACKER

Hawaiian Also Implicated 2 Others Who Assaulted Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—(A.P.)—The Chronicle, in a story headed for by Rear Admiral William C. Cole, commander of the Twelfth Naval District, says Ida confessed to a group of nine men who kidnaped her last Dec. 12, he was one of five natives who attacked Mrs. Thalia Massie in Honolulu.

Further, the story says, Ida implicated Joseph Kahahawai, for whose slaying Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and two navy enlisted men, were convicted of manslaughter.

Other than Kahahawai, Ida named Henry Chang, another of the five men tried for attacking Mrs. Massie. The trial ended in a jury disagreement and a retrial set for May 25 probably will not be held, since Mrs. Massie left Honolulu Sunday.

The story reveals also it was planned to kidnap individually and separately upon the same night each of the five men charged with the assault.

"I believe the information given to the Chronicle is correct," Admiral Cole said.

The story continues: "Ida was taken up in the Fall mountain region overlooking Honolulu, and he was requested to state his version of the Ala Moana affair."

"He announced he knew nothing of the assault and commended (Continued On Page Four)

Over 1200 Persons Attend Village Of Indians During Saturday, Sunday

What was termed as a "tremendous crowd" visited the Seminole Indian Village and the Sanford Municipal Zoo Saturday afternoon and Sunday, according to figures released at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce offices this morning.

Over 1200 persons passed through the gates of the village, to bring the total attendance to over 4500 persons, a figure which exceeds the fondest hopes of the sponsors of the appearance of the Indians in this section.

According to the registration book at the village, nearly 125 persons from Orlando and 30 from DeLand, saw the Indian representation and their representation cities and their representation.

LABOR LEADER GIVES WARNING AS TO REVOLT

Delivers Message as New Drive Is Begun For Unemployment Aid For Government

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—A warning of possible revolt unless the federal government moves to prevent unemployment distress came from organized labor yesterday as a new drive was launched for federal jobless relief.

The possibility of revolt was voiced by Edward F. McGrady, spokesman for the American Federation of Labor before the Senate Manufacturers-Committee. Hearings were opened on the Coughlin bill to provide $500,000,000 for advances to states and municipalities through a bond issue.

The movement for federal aid was apparently gaining ground in the Senate, particularly among the Democrats. There was some discussion of calling a Democratic conference to consider the many proposals offered.

Senator Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, introduced a bill calling for immediate appropriation of $100,000,000 for relief of the jobless to be distributed by the President.

McGrady startled the committee with his frank warning: "If something is not done and starvation is going to continue and perhaps increase," he said, "the doors of revolution are going to be thrown wide open and leaders of the country ought to know it."

"The administration ought to know that more than balancing the budget is needed. Bread and butter (Continued On Page Six)

Final Rites Paid To Mrs. Anna Woodburn

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Francis Woodburn, 69, resident of Sanford for the past 27 years, who died at her home, 311 West Third Street early yesterday afternoon, were held this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock from the Erickson Funeral Home, of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated, and burial was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Officiating were: E. C. Woodcock, R. J. Holly, D. L. Thrasher, W. L. Henley, J. G. Sharon, and J. A. Harrell.

Mrs. Woodburn was widely known in this section. She was born in Gadsden county, Fla., on Mar. 26, 1863, and came to Sanford 27 years ago. She is survived by four children, Mrs. W. R. Brown, Sanford, Mrs. R. K. Harsh, Belle Glade, Fla., K. A. Woodburn, Jacksonville, and Ernest Woodburn, Sanford, a sister, Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Tampa, and two brothers, Henry McLaughlin, of Sanford, and T. J. McLaughlin, of Mulberry, Fla.

Gaston Means Is Indicted For Larceny Of $104,000.00 As Ruse To Get Lindy Baby

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—Gaston Means, still styled intermediary in the Lindy baby case, was indicted yesterday for larceny and embezzlement of $104,000 from Mrs. Edward McLean, estranged wife of the Washington Post publisher.

Means, ex-convict and former government detective, was employed by Mrs. McLean to effect the return of the child. He admitted receiving the money but maintains after she demanded it he gave it to a mysterious stranger who he believed was an authorized representative of her.

A fantastic tale of an attempt to buy a North Carolina baby resembling the infant Lindybergh was investigated yesterday. Among the leads they obtained was a story that a man and woman Sunday tried to buy the adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Camp at Shelby, N. C.

Means, ex-convict and a spectacular government detective of the Harding era, was jailed last week on a charge of larceny after trust of $100,000 from Mrs. Edward M. McLean, estranged wife of the Washington Post's publisher. In Concord, North Carolina, last night, however, Mrs. Fannie Hill and her 27-year-old son, who was supposed to be the baby, Sunday and suggested he should charge admission to see the child because of its resemblance to the Lindybergh baby. They denied offering to buy the baby.

Mrs. McLean says she gave Means $100,000 last March, and later $4,000. He is charged with having appropriated all of this for himself after promising to use it to obtain the return of the Lindybergh baby. The grand jury's action will be announced today.

Officials were not ready to link the North Carolina incident with Means. The Justice Department, however, turned the information over to investigators who are seeking the $100,000 in Means' old home in Concord, N. C.

Advisors of Mrs. McLean said that the story fitted in with what they believed—before they went to the authorities—would be denouement of the weird negotiations. Means often promised Mrs. McLean, it was said, to bring the (Continued On Page Three)

GLASS BLAMES DADE OFFICIALS FOR ACTION OF JURY

MIAMI, May 10.—(A.P.)—County Solicitor Fred Pine, Sheriff N. P. Lehmann and the sheriff's chief deputy, Jack Gross, were indicted yesterday by the Dade county grand jury charged with participation in a gigantic gambling syndicate controlling operation of slot machines.

Several other men were indicted with them on similar charges. Pine was named in three other indictments charging malpractice in office; obstruction of justice and failure to prosecute alleged criminals.

Circuit Judge H. F. Atkins fixed bond of $3000 for Pine and bond of $1500 each for Lehmann and Gross. He instructed Circuit Clerk E. B. Leatherman to serve capias on Lehmann and Gross and named the sheriff to serve the Pine indictments.

Sheriff Lehmann Sunday announced his candidacy to succeed himself in the coming Democratic primary.

Prefacing their indictments with a blistering denunciation of the officials for alleged breach of office, the 18 members of the grand jury alleged conspiracy to permit evasion of gambling laws and operation of a lottery.

Lebrun Is Successor To Slain President

VERSAILLES, May 10.—(A.P.)—Albert Lebrun was elected the fourteenth president of France today to succeed the assassinated president, Paul Doumer. He opposed Paul Faure, noted socialist leader. In the interest of harmony there was virtually no opposition to the veteran statesman whose sermons as president of the senate put him in line for the presidency.

Lebrun's first act was to go to the Elysee Palace to pay his respects at the bier of his slain predecessor. Then he went to the town of the unknown soldier and later to Luxembourg Palace to receive the diplomatic corps and high officials when they made call of congratulations.

Committee Of Fifty To Meet Tomorrow

Sanford will be the host tomorrow for many members of the Committee of Fifty of the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association who will be holding their May meeting at the City Hall.

The Executive Committee of the organization will meet at 11:00 o'clock and will be guests of Harry M. Spaworth, Seminole County member of the committee, at the Colony Club at noon, while the general committee meeting begins at 2:00 o'clock in the Commissioners' room in the City Hall.

Asher Frank Enters Race For Congress

TALLAHASSEE, May 10.—(A.P.)—Secretary of State Gray today announced he qualified Asher Frank, Tampa, for the June primaries as a candidate for Congress from the state at large. The time for qualifications expires Sunday at mid-night but qualification papers which were in the mail at that hour were accepted here.

HATHAWAY IS SPEAKER HERE ON CANDIDACY

Says He Is Only Candidate In Race Who Has Said Where He Would Cut Expense

Striking vigorously at the state governmental evils, Foss A. Hathaway, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Florida, speaking last night at the Court House, declared that tax reduction is the paramount issue in his present campaign and that it only can be obtained by drastically cutting the state's cost of government.

Launching an attack upon ex-Governors Hardee and Martin for not offering the people any definite program of tax relief, Hathaway declared that he is the only candidate in the race who only candidate in the race who has placed his finger upon the exact spots where he would apply the pruning knife in cutting the unwarranted cost of government and thereby reduce the people's tax burden at least fifty percent.

Declaring that government is on the verge of complete collapse due to the inability of the people to pay their taxes, Hathaway said that it is imperative that the burden be reduced, "if we are to survive as a people and as a government."

The people, he said, "are losing their homes, their businesses, their farms, their groves and even their courses" and yet while starvation (Continued On Page Six)

Church Conference May Be Asked To Vote On Dry Referendum

ATLANTIC CITY, May 10.—(A.P.)—The Methodist Episcopal general conference probably will be asked to sanction a resolution for a national referendum on prohibition but indications today were it would be bitterly opposed when it comes on the floor for action.

The proposal has been the subject of lively debate in the committee. Colonel Joseph Shy, Ohio attorney and ardent prohibitionist, introduced the referendum proposal saying he believed the prohibition question should be settled once and for all by a nationwide vote. He said he did not expect the resolution to pass the conference but that the matter should at least be brought up for discussion.

Salvation Army Leader Gives Talk At Rotary Club's Weekly Luncheon

Expressing the opinion that Sanford Rotarians will be among the leaders among the men and women extending aid in the Salvation Army's annual maintenance appeal drive which begins tomorrow morning, Captain Annetta Turkington, of the Lakeland Army post, concluded a well-received address on "The Value of the Salvation Army to Society" before members of the Club at the Colony Club today.

The theme of Captain Turkington's talk was modeled from a statement which the speaker had heard expressed by an individual some months ago. That the Salvation Army has chosen a village ground which no other organization has, the background of life in the every-day life of the average citizen, few looked into the background of life, where the Salvation Army has a firm hold, and where it is respected and loved for the good it does.

"Love is the most essential need of this backward," Captain Turkington said, "and love is the inspirational gift which we endeavor to offer to the fallen, the afflicted, the needy, and the hopeless. Through love, the man who has drifted into the depths of despair for any reason finds comfort and inspiration which often is reflected in a return to the principles of right living which once guided his life. Through love, the girl who has

City Attorney Holds Taxpayers To Bear Brunt Of Burden Under Court's Ruling

The opinion of City Attorney Fred R. Wilson, expressed before the City Commission last night on the Florida Supreme Court's recent decision relating to state, county, and municipal tax liens, is that although paving liens against property may be extinguished where funds realized at tax sale are not enough to cover more than state, county, and city taxes, the taxpayers' burden becomes greater, since the paving bonds remain as general obligations of the City.

This opinion and its subsequent discussion, as well as a letter from the Bondholders' Protective Committee which virtually turns down the City's request for an immediate debt settlement, and Frank L. Woodruff's denunciation of the "dictatorial policies of the Bondholders' Committee," formed the highlights of the regular Commission meeting.

Mr. Wilson's opinion was expressed early in the meeting. It followed a brief recital of the early history of the case of J. C. Dial, holder of two state and county tax certificates which he foreclosed on, making the City of Sanford part defendant since it had paving assessments against the properties.

"In a rehearing of the case, the Supreme Court now says that City paving or other liens against properties affected in foreclosure sales will not remain as liens when proceeds of the sale will not cover more than state, county, and city tax liens," Mr. Wilson said. "In other words, if the property does not sell for enough to pay state, county and city taxes in full, the paving lien is extinguished. This does not mean, however, that the bonds are wiped out."

Mr. Wilson continued, "The Supreme Court did say one thing of importance, and that is that state, county, and municipal tax liens are on an equal basis, and shall be paid ratably from the proceeds of a tax sale, if the proceeds will not cover all the liens of that nature. The Dial case never involved anything but state, county, and municipal tax liens. The Supreme Court knew it was dealing with a state-wide problem, and I think that is why it was as broad as it was in the matter."

Concluding, Mr. Wilson said, "In my opinion, as I said before paving liens are wiped out as one of the results of this decision, but the bonds are still outstanding against the city, and in that respect we are hurt more than helped by this decision, because the burden is on the general taxpayer. The person who has already paid his paving lien now stands to be taxed again to pay the general obligation of the City."

The Commissioners all seemed agreed on Mr. Wilson's opinion before he made it, and therefore, the matter was dismissed almost at once, and the Commission turned its attention to the letter from Kenneth M. Keele, chairman of the Bondholders' Protective Committee.

It reads as follows: "Your letter of May 8, has received the careful consideration of the Sanford Bondholders' Committee.

"The serious concern of the Commission about the City's bonded debt which is evidenced by the Commission's communication of Apr. 6, and your letter of Apr. 15, is a natural result of the Commission's solicitude for the welfare of the community for which it is responsible. On the other hand, the members of the Bondholders' Protective Committee are equally impressed with the serious responsibility which existing conditions impose upon them. The Committee is anxious to pursue a just and reasonable course for the protection of the large interests which have been confided to its management."

PHILIPS AID 4-2 DEFEAT AT HANDS OF COCOA

PHILIPS HURTS WELL,
But Miscues Fatal;
Reds, Islanders Win

COCOA, May 9.—The Cocoa Islanders, a former hold on first base in the Central Florida Baseball League by taking advantage of Sanford errors to score a 4 to 2 victory.

Joiner was unsteady in the first inning, but set the Reds with only one hit thereafter.

Both the second and third he struck out two men with Sanford on bases.

Phillips pitched a fine game, but the breaks were against him. He gave up nine hits, including two doubles and a triple.

An error by Brown, Cocoa shortstop, gave the Reds their two runs. Brown rode around himself later hitting a triple. He scored, as did Harrell on an error by Barnes.

Harrell threw a pitch over the catcher, trying to get Harrell.

Not fielding by the Indians, in a circus catch by Joiner an overthrow of third base, followed by a snappy double play cut two Sanford runs in the second.

Gunmen Retaliate Against Detectives

CHICAGO, May 9.—(A.P.)—Five gunmen retaliated being chased by a pair of detectives across the city today. They recognized the detectives and jumped into a car, outdistancing the police while shots were exchanged. A half hour later they returned to a hotel to get revenge. Using a machine gun they sprayed lead over the police car and restaurant where the detectives were eating. Detectives and four others in the restaurant dropped to the floor and missed death.

BRADLEY IS GIVEN FELICITATIONS ON WINNING DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 9.—(A.P.)—There was jubilation in the blue grass region of Kentucky yesterday. Friends from near and far gathered at Col. E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Farm near Lexington to felicitate him on being the only turfman to win three Kentucky Derbies.

There was jubilation in Louisville, where one of the Falls City's native sons, Jockey Eugene James, received the acclaim due a former newboy who had piloted a staunch thoroughbred to victory in the 1932 renewal of the historic $50,000 added stake.

There was loving care and kindness lavished on Burgoon King, the fine piece of horseflesh which made a show of the Derby field of 19 other horses Saturday, as his handlers at Churchill Downs placed him on a train for the East in quest of further triumphs.

At Idle Hour Farm Burgoon King's famed sire, Bubbling Over, which won the Kentucky Derby in 1928, was on display. He is one of the two thoroughbreds in history which has won the Derby and sired the winner of a Derby. Only Halma, which won in 1905 and sired Alan-a-Dale, 1902, winner, shares Bubbling Over's record.

Jockey James, $5,000 richer than he was 24 hours before, also left for the East, perhaps to ride Burgoon King in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday. Colonel Bradley had promised the 19-year-old former newboy that amount if he would win the Derby.

Burgoon King, present king of thoroughbreds, won his first race of the year when he galloped home five lengths in front yesterday. He had won three races at Laurel last year, but this year failed to show his best form until Saturday.

In fact, Colonel Bradley had thought his other Derby entry, Brother Joe, was the better horse, and had wagered accordingly in the future books.

Laverne Fator was of the same opinion. He was Bradley's leading rider and was given his choice of mounts. He chose Brother Joe, James, whose contract Bradley purchased from the Joseph Latta estate just last week, was assigned to Burgoon King. Brother Joe went lame and finished last in the Liberty Limited broke down.

It is fortunate that Mrs. McLean had the means to lose a hundred thousand dollars to him.

With all the trouble Congress is having in balancing its budget, it is not a bad idea for the average citizen.

And the man who assassinated President DuBois of France was a Russian Bolshevik. Another victory for communism!

It is quite generally believed that figures don't lie; but what about the registration figures?

With both the Republican and Democratic conventions meeting in Chicago this Spring, who is there that can say the gangsters have been driven out?

Getting money under false pretenses is a crime unless you are big enough to sell $10,000,000 worth of stock in a $10,000 business.—Muskegon Phoenix.

It begins to show as if some of the candidates for governor are not running so much for governor as they are for some of the other candidates.

Al Capone should have used some of his money to have employed an attorney smart enough to not have overlooked anything.—Lake County Citizen. Is there such a one?

Candidate DuBois needn't feel so festered about the Tampa Tribune. It isn't supporting any of Jacksonville's gubernatorial candidates. J. R. in St. Petersburg Independent.

The world is too much, it seems, for Don Lochner, for recently he wrote, "Hell hath no fury like a tender corn."—Sanford Herald. What does the man with a tender corn care for the world and its corn?—Clermont Press.

"Florida Bond News" is a new publication in Tampa. It deals largely with municipal bonding matters and to persons who are interested in that important subject it offers a wealth of valuable information.—Clermont Press. It should have a big circulation these days.

Germany has served notice that it cannot pay reparations. Recognition of this inability will doubtless be taken by the creditor nations. Sealing down of obligations is in process all over the world. It is in Sanford. When it has been accomplished, if we do not lose our heads in the meantime, we will have prosperity again.

Not being able to dig up anything uncomplimentary in the record of Cary Hardee, Martin supporters are resorting to the old political trick of setting up a straw man. They say if he's elected he will make Carlton senator. If he ever gets a chance, we imagine Hardee would be at least as eager to find the best man available for this job as Martin would, and would probably be more successful. Hardee made a good governor once; he can do so again.

The United States Steel Corporation, having lost $48,000,000 last year, and having passed a dividend recently for the first time in fifteen years, has decided to put into effect a 15 percent reduction in salaries and wages of officers this month. U. S. Steel has been one of the last to cut, and that fact that it does so now indicates a very serious situation.

The Work Of The Salvation Army

In calling attention to the Salvation Army drive which begins tomorrow and extends through Thursday, and in urging our readers to contribute to the very limit of their ability, we would remind them that out of this year's budget of $6,383.00, a total of $8,521 remains in Sanfords. Only $862.00 goes out of town. The rest is spent here to feed and clothe the poor and to give spiritual aid to floundering souls.

The two day drive itself centers upon an effort to raise $4,561.16. The balance of this year's budget will be raised during the course of the year through the activities of the Army itself. This may seem like a considerable sum in view of present economic conditions, but this very adverse situation makes the raising of so large a sum all the more imperative. Probably never before in the history of Sanford has there been greater need for charitable contributions.

Those who have never had occasion to seek the shelter of a Salvation Army home probably fail to realize the importance of this organization to those who are absolutely destitute. One case we have in mind concerns a poverty stricken family whose name we omit to avoid unnecessary embarrassment. Laid off during a retrenchment program of the concern for which he worked, the head of the family saw his cupboard empty as he looked for other work. Then sickness seized the younger members of the family. The Salvation Army stepped in, obtained the services of a physician, filled prescriptions, and furnished them with food.

Another case was that of an outcast girl of seventeen who finally came under the protecting arm of the Salvation Army. Her mother and father had refused to recognize her as their daughter any longer. But the consecrated women of the Salvation Army took her in, protected and sheltered her in her re-habilitation, and finally prevailed upon her mother and father to forgive her and give her another chance. Today she has regained her faith in humanity and is prepared to face the future with courage and uprightness.

Such cases as these are common to Salvation Army workers. The public generally knows too little of them. But the work of the Salvation Army must go on. The very existence of our civilization demands its continuance. Those of us who have anything at all cannot afford to see its services lapse. During the dangers and deprivations of the World War there was an expression "Give until it hurts." That expression must be revived tomorrow.

Not Much Chance

The recent report of a hurricane brewing in the West Indies and sweeping northward across the Bahaman Islands, probably to expend itself over the waters of the North Atlantic, calls to mind that the season for tropical storms is at hand. Few of these storms occur so early in the Spring and the one just mentioned must have gotten an unusually premature start.

The big season for hurricanes is in the latter part of the summer, in August and September, when numerous cyclonic winds get under way somewhere south of the West Indies and begin their trek slowly northward. The hurricane moves along in the shape of a wagon wheel, revolving anti-clockwise, and progresses in a forward direction at the rate of from five to twenty miles an hour.

The whirling winds within these creeping, ponderous storms, whose diameters range anywhere from five to 50 miles, however, attain a very high velocity sometimes recording as high as 150 miles an hour on government gauges. It is obvious that when such a wind hits any inhabited place much damage will result, but what is not generally realized is that the chances for a hurricane striking any given spot is about a thousand to one.

The fact that two hurricanes hit Florida points with disastrous effect within two years of each other caused the general impression to prevail throughout the United States that this state was a dangerous place in which to live. As a matter of fact the two storms which occurred in 1928 and 1929 were the result of the workings of the law of averages which happened to have Florida "on the spot", so to speak, in those two years.

This state's chances of being visited by a hurricane are about the same as they would be of being in the line of a shell, fired at random from a gun 1200 miles away (if it could carry that far) over an arc of 45 degrees, and with only about five to ten shells being fired in a year. Florida is not immune to hurricanes, the same as no one is immune to being hit on the head by a brick falling from the top of a building, and the cause for alarm in the former case is just about as much as it is in the latter.

SUCCESS OF candidates will depend very largely on the vigor with which they prosecute their respective campaigns during the three weeks ahead of them. This is a year when voters are analyzing the published platforms of candidates as never before; they are also looking into the background of candidates for measurements of character and dependability. The platform is only a snare in the hands of a clever politician. With the honest and capable man, the platform is a declaration on which people may depend; with the politician, it will be pursued by the candidate should he become a public official. Candidates can not sidestep any issue this year; they are being put to the test.—Orlando Sentinel.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

"From all indications it will be but little more than a year when he dream of the centuries will be realized in a waterway ready for the passage of ships across the isthmus of Panama," said Senator Miles Polk of Washington, in the course of an interview today on the Panama toll question.

From all indications, Mother's day will be more largely observed this year in Sanford than it has been during the past few years since the custom was adopted. With its beautiful sentiment and its earnest appeal, the response will not be wanting, and next Sunday, May 12, which will be the day this year, the emblem of the occasion, a white carnation or a white daisy, will be worn by hundreds of men, women, and children in this city.

MIAMI DAILY NEWS

Continued efforts of John W. Martin to make it appear that he is running against Doyle E. Carlton in the present primary, so that he may take advantage of the such unpopularity as attaches itself to any administration in hard times, indicate the slight regard he has for the intelligence of the voter. He proceeds, as usual, upon the theory that "the stupidity of the people cannot be over-estimated."

Whom Governor Carlton will vote for in the Democratic primary is quite naturally, because of his position, is not announcing, and despite the temptation he doubtless feels to answer the charges made by Martin, he has maintained silence throughout the campaign. It would be quite natural to assume that he would not be enthusiastic over the candidacy of the man who passed on to the present administration a heavy debt, incurred by extravagance, to be paid off in times of great economic stress. It would be natural, likewise, for the governor who has borne these burdens to resent attack by the man who was responsible for them.

Such statements from an unprejudiced observer, seeking to advance no particular candidate's interests, merely confirm our belief that John Martin has underestimated the intelligence of the people of Florida and will be caught in his own smoke screen, the utterly irrelevant charges with which he now seeks to hide the real measure of his ability as a state executive—the record of four years that made Martinism a synonym for profligate waste of public funds in Florida.

perodical. The wine cup or strong drink is more expensive than a large library. These habits are pernicious. They are very injurious. This is the worst feature in the case. Smoking is a terrible shock to the nervous system, a shock that many persons can not long endure, and strong drink is much more terrible. It will ruin your health—God gave you your bodies, not to abuse, but to guard and cherish as you would a precious gift. And there is but one standard of morality for the boy and girl. Avoid the use of slang, vulgar and obscene expressions. They lead to profanity, and pave the way for more fearful sins. But, again, these bad habits once formed, are often stronger than the strongest will. If you would not be governed by bad habits, then form good ones, for we are all creatures of habit, and be very careful about the company you keep wherever you go. Bad company has ruined many boys. Rely largely upon yourself. Dare to do the right.

The violator of moral law can find no exemption from his penalty. Boys, cultivate a happy, cheerful disposition. Don't give up to despondency—don't be a fault-finder, but learn to be gentle, polite, courteous, and kind to every one, and especially your loved ones (the home folks) they have the strongest claims upon you for your kindest words, smiles, and tenderest affections. They are your trust and most appreciative friends. You may have a home of your own one day, and now is your time to cultivate a good disposition.

Boys, never so far forget yourself.

BOYS' SERMON

By MRS. E. M. CARROLL

We often wonder what the boy will be as we see his heedless life winding its way towards the sea of sober years.

Boys, you are now in the spring-time of life. The precious gift of time is in your hands; with its opportunities and passing moments to return no more. The average life of a man today is about 38 years. What a short time you have in which to accomplish all that you would like to do in life—You have no time to waste.

If you would draw largely from life's bank when you are older, you must deposit liberally, while you are young. You must sow, if you would reap, and you will surely reap what you have sown. Do not sow any wild oats. Curb all carnal desires—Your boyhood virtues will richly adorn your character thru life. It is a shame that there are many men who are immoral, and are wrecks gone down upon the rocks of skepticism and infidelity. Shun them and look for some fine good men who are worthy of your friendship and who will be a good example for you to follow. Remember you are now forming character upon which your future manhood must be built. Live with a steady, stalwart aim in view. Your lives are in your own hands and will be largely what you make them.

You must grow. If you ever will meet, there must be a mental and moral development, as well as physical growth. To be capable in business, you must cultivate and honor in industry, you must develop your moral force, and to be truly good and great in the world, you must enlarge your spiritual growth. There must be a four-fold growth in order to reach the highest and holiest type of manhood, the physical, mental, moral and spiritual.

Boys have their trials, their troubles and temptations. These early trials are essential to the proper development of your character. If you learn to say "while a boy, you will develop into a strong man who will not yield to temptation."

Boys ought to learn to work, if they cannot learn to love it. Activity is essential to their continued health and happiness. There is no place in political economy, or moral science for laziness. "Idleness is the devil's workshop."

Boys, the first false step is the most fatal step in life. Early departure from the path of rectitude may be as silent, and slow, as a creeping cancer on the sinews, yet they are the first meetings of a deadly combination of sin. Your young lives should be perfectly free from smoking, late hours, drinking, gambling, and such matters.

You are now the best laid out, and you should be. Do not let your life be a mere struggle for existence, but let it be a noble and dignified one. You are now forming character upon which your future manhood must be built.

Jackie Cooper Stars In Picture At Milane

Jackie Cooper, the eight-year-old film star, undertakes a type of role different from anything he had previously attempted in "When a Feller Needs a Friend," which will open Wednesday at the Milane Theater.

In this picture the screen's newest juvenile sensation has the part of a crippled boy, with Charles "Chic" Sale co-starred in the other leading role of the story. It is said to be more gripping than "Skippy" or "The Champ."

"When a Feller Needs a Friend" is an adaptation of William Johnston's novel, "Limpy," the continuity having been prepared by Sylvia Thalberg and Frank Butler.

Harry Pollard, who directed "The Prodigal" and "Shipmates," directed the new picture. The supporting cast is headed by Ralph Graves and includes Dorothy Peterson, Andy Shuford, Helen Parrish, Donald Haines, Gus Leonard, and Oscar Apfel.

First attaining prominence as a featured actor in Hal Roach's "Our Gang" comedies, Jackie Cooper advanced in the space of a year to a top place among the real personalities of the picture world. His first full-length feature, "Skippy," established him as a brilliant, new discovery, and from there he has gone on to other notable triumphs.

MRS. HOOVER TO ATTEND FETE AT ANCESTRAL SITE

Will Go To Ohio For Historical Pageant And To Get Degree

WASHINGTON, May 10.—One hundred and twenty-eight years ago, William Henry left his home in Beaver county, Pennsylvania, and went westward to seek his fortunes in the new state of Ohio.

On May 14, his great-great-granddaughter, Lou Henry Hoover, wife of the President of the United States, will go to Wooster, the city he founded there, to participate in a historical pageant commemorating the city's founding and to receive from the College of Wooster the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities.

In his trek to the "West," Mrs. Hoover's forefather was accompanied by two adventurous companions. They went with their families in ox-team conveyances into the heavily wooded Wayne county, named for Gen. Anthony Wayne, of Revolutionary fame, who had, only a few years before, conquered the Indians at the Battle of Fallen Timbers and thereby opened the whole Northwest Territory to settlement.

The three pioneers cut a clearing in the forest and founded a village they named Wooster. Three streets in the present city are named for them—Henry, Bever and Lawrill. The land on which the city stands the men received as a direct grant from the federal government.

It was about 1857 that Mrs. Hoover's grandfather, Judge William Henry, of Wooster, took his sons, Charles and William, down to the newly laid-wooden tracks to watch the first steam train puff into Wooster over what later became the Pennsylvania Railroad. Charles Henry was the father of Mrs. Hoover.

To commemorate this event Judge Henry had a silver watch made with a lid (the first closed watch in Wooster) on which was elaborately engraved a picture of this first locomotive to enter the town. This watch is one of Mrs.

Hoover's most prized possessions. She also treasures a picture of her father and her uncle, (at the ages of 8 and 10, respectively, taken on that memorable day. Her grandmother's saddle, which she rode in Wooster, is also in Mrs. Hoover's charge.

Fourteen generations the Henrys played an important part in the development of the Ohio city, which grew to be the largest between Cleveland and Fort Wayne, while the land was still a trading post.

The enthusiasm of the pioneer was still in the Henry family, however, and they set off for Iowa, where his daughter was born. Later they moved on to California, where, in her college years, the daughter met her future husband, Herbert Hoover, also a native Iowan.

Means Is Indicted In Connection With Big Kidnap Swindle

United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, and yesterday he would ask for arraignment of Means on Friday if he is not indicted.

DOYLES TOWN, Pa., May 10.—(A.P.)—Local authorities, out of Crofton, placed a guilty yesterday to a charge of sending two threat-some letters to Ed. Charles A. Landwehr and was sentenced to one and a half to three years in the county prison.

One of the letters demanded $25,000 and the other $10,000 on a promise to return the kidnaped Lindbergh baby. The letters threatened to synthesize the Lindbergh case and expose the child if the funds were not paid. A third letter, arrested at Crofton, Pa., said it might be used in the Lindbergh kidnap case and sent the letters in the hope of being sent to Lindbergh's home. It was distributed with his job as a gardener.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why are other cigarettes silent on this vital question?

Do you inhale? Seven out of ten people know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Remember—more than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So be careful. Safeguard your delicate membranes!

TAMMANY SEEKS TO HAVE SAY ON PARTY NOMINEE

Forming Powerful Alliances To Help Pick Democratic Choice

NEW YORK, May 10.—(A.P.)—Tammany Hall, which has not in any way indicated its choice for the Democratic presidential nomination, is seeking to form alliances which would give it a powerful voice in picking the party's nominee.

It is an open secret that attempts have been made to lose the support of Illinois and New Jersey Democrats through agreements with Mayor Cermak of Chicago and Mayor Hague of Jersey City, both powerful Democrats.

There has been no concrete evidence that any of these three delegations will oppose Governor Roosevelt, who now is far in the lead of other candidates, as pledged and instructed delegates.

But it is known that at Tammany Hall there has been much discussion recently about the availability of Melvin A. Trencher, Chicago banker, while in New Jersey Mayor Hague is represented as favoring Alfred E. Smith or Owen D. Young.

Smith so far has only 46 votes. "In the bag," but his associates claim he will go to Chicago with nearly 200.

Young and Trencher, along with Newton D. Baker, are considered here and in Washington as the most likely "dark horse."

After John F. Curry, Tammany leader, and John H. McCuey, Democratic chairman, left for the Kentucky derby, their associates said they planned an important political conference, while in the South.

The convention, thought of as New York, New Jersey and Illinois, 184 votes.

Curry and McCuey expect through the aid of Albany and Troy leaders, to control a majority of New York's 94 votes from 100 delegates.

Hillman is well known to Senator James Hamilton Lewis on the Hill, but where they will go after that is uncertain.

New Jersey elects its 12 of a primary May 17. Smith, Young have been chosen as the favorite for the "happy warrior."

While the talk of "alliances" and "dark horse" has been heard in political circles more frequently since Roosevelt declared his formula, it is pointed out in the governor's quarters that already he is assured by a vote of 100 pledged, instructed and chosen votes to date of being the dominant figure in the nomination.

There are still 100 delegates to be picked in more than 20 states. The Roosevelt force, now counting on getting a big majority, will then maintain the lead.

Meanwhile, the news, because it subtly suggests the already have won, is the government may be certain of being the "big man" of the nomination, regardless of what happens between now and then.

to recall the fact that he had told the witness, "I don't know." The witness was broken into by several questions, one being "Was the woman in the front seat with you?" to which he replied "No." He replied "No," he was in the front with Chang and Ku.

"Ida suddenly realized the import of his answer and immediately announced again he was not there.

"His nervousness was quite apparent, yet those present seemingly paid no attention to his significant remark and urged him to continue his story. Shortly before his recall was finished a questioner asked him if he was the first to attack Mrs. Masse. He replied:

"No, Chang was first and last."

"Ida was so frightened after making this statement that he almost collapsed."

Ida's kidnapping stirred all Honolulu at the time and resulted in rioting and the calling of the military to aid police in preserving peace.

He reported to Honolulu police that he had been kidnapped and beaten in an attempt to wring a confession from him but that he did not confess.

HOOVER HOPES FOR ACTION ON REVENUE BILL

single dissenting vote of Commissioner Leffler

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(A.P.)—President Hoover would call in Democrats for conference.

In debate yesterday, Democrats chided Republicans about the President calling them in for consideration of a "non-partisan program."

"A contest is certain on the Senate floor over the tax bill, but leaders are confident of its adoption in almost its present form."

Senators LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and Capper, of Michigan, both Republicans who opposed the compromise tax plan, are planning to wage a fight for the high wartime income tax rates and elimination of some of the special excess levies. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Mississippi, will propose the sales tax but little hope is held for its adoption.

The compromise tax measure raises the income tax and corporation rates above the House income tax rates, but the House income tax rates are retained. The measure also raises the automobile and admissions taxes.

It is the plan to have the economy bill "rider" put by the House on the legislative appropriation bill detached and built up from its present provisions of about 30 or 40 millions in economy to round the $200,000,000 figure believed necessary.

The new income tax rates in the tax bill are 1 percent on the first $1000 income; 2 percent on the next $1000 and 3 percent above $5000. The present rates are one and one-half, 3 and 5 percent, while the House voted rates of 2, 4 and 7 percent, respectively. A maximum surtax of 15 percent on incomes over $1,000,000 is provided.

Mr. Parworth, Fred T. Williams, and James Maughan as custodians of the park, with full authority to deny the park to any persons they see fit, and to take care of its maintenance with proceeds they may derive from a $5 total.
