Longwood Women Meet For Christmas Luncheon

By BETTIE SMITH

The Longwood Home Demonstration Club met Thursday for its December meeting in the Civic League Building with Mrs. Oden Brown, Mrs. Arnet Byers, Mrs. Fred Heuberger and Mrs. B. C. Greene as hostesses for the noon luncheon.

Gifts were exchanged with secret pals whose identity was revealed during the afternoon Christmas Program under the supervision of Mrs. Arthur Putnam.

Plans were made for supplying the USO Club with Birthday Cakes for the month and a report on the Nov. 30 Workshop meeting attended by 22 members was read.

Christmas decorations were made and displayed at the workshop held at the home of Mrs. Milton Tinsley in Orianta Gardens, Altamonte Springs. The hostess, assisted by neighbors, served refreshments as lovely in appearance as they were delicious in taste.

Members from the club attending the annual installation ceremonies in Sanford last Friday reported on the event. Mrs. George Otto, long-time member of the Longwood Club, served as installation officer for the County Council and Mrs. B. R. Gray, another longtime member, was presented with a certificate for her attendance at last July's Short Course. Mrs. Gray also was featured as a soloist on the program.

The Longwood women expressed regret that County Commissioners and their wives were unable to attend the annual meeting in order to see the work accomplished during the past year and to enjoy the evening with the some 100 women present for the occasion.

$1.3 Million In Contracts To Dynatronics

Contracts totaling $1.3 million were awarded to Dynatronics, Inc. during the past month to build instrument equipment for Atlantic Missile Range tracing ships and to build a receiver sub-assembly for the NASA Ranger moon-probe program.

George F. Anderson, vice president and general manager of the Seminole County electronics firm, announced the new work, involving advanced telemetering and data handling equipment for various missile and space projects.

Largest of the contracts announced was a near $1 million award to supply equipment for tracking missiles on the AMR. The award was by IIT Federal Laboratories, Nutley, N. J., a member of the team headed by Sperry Gyroscope Co., selected by the Air Force to modify and instrument two C-4 cargo ships as missile tracking stations for the Air Force Missile Test Center. Under a $100,000 contract with RCA Astro-Electronics Division, Dynatronics will build a receiver sub-system for the NASA Ranger moon-probe program. This work covers special equipment for receiving telemetry data and also scan, high-resolution television pictures of the lunar surface.

RCA is prime contractor for both airborne and ground elements of the TV camera system which will be carried by Ranger spacecraft to be hard-landed on the moon.

A third contract, for $165,000 covers an advanced PCM data handling system for recording test data from experimental missile flights.

Rotarians Hear History Of Christmas Story

"Christmas is observed in some form in almost every country in the world, although on different days, and in different manners," Father John W. Thomas, rector of Holy Cross Episcopal Church told Rotarians recently.

"Out of this wealth of tradition and custom, in its many forms and celebrations, has come the essence of our belief—that God himself came to earth," said Father Thomas.

"Because he gave the Gift of His Son, so we give gifts to each other and to those less fortunate than we, thus demonstrating the spirit of love and giving," he said. Father Thomas said that more and more, American churches are observing the custom of the observation of Advent, the four week period before Christmas, with the lighting of the candles on each of the four Sundays preceding Christmas.

The figure of Santa Claus or St. Nicholas as he was originally called, came into being about 325 A. D. in honor of St. Nicholas, the Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor, a great and kindly figure, who gave bags of gold to the poor, anonymously, on December 25th.

which had become traditional in the Christian world as the day of Nativity.

Father Thomas explained the "Twelve Days of Christmas," which are renowned in song and story but not well understood by many people. The 12 days run from December 25 to Jan. 6th, which is the Feast of Epiphany.

Epiphany is the day on which Christmas is celebrated in the Eastern sector of the world. This is not observed as the day of Christ's birth but in some countries it represents the day of the Christ-Child's baptism, and in some countries it is observed as the coming of the Magi, (the Three Wise Men). In Scandinavian countries a great deal of emphasis is put on the care and feeding of animals and birds. France is one country where very little attention is given to the secular figure of St. Nicholas, Santa or Father Christmas as he is variously called. There the observance is almost exclusively religious.

Father Thomas urged his listeners to observe the holiday as a Holy Day, and keep the religious concept of Christmas in its proper aspect, for "this is the real meaning of Christmas."

Improvements In Unemployed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Administration officials were elated today over the first substantial improvement in the unemployment rate in a year. The Labor Department reported Thursday that while total unemployment went up to about four million last month, the seasonally adjusted jobless rate dropped to 6.1 per cent of the labor force.

Born in Lancaster, Ill., in 1934, Barnett graduated from Danville High School in 1952, having been a member of the National Honor Society.

He attended Eureka College as a freshman but later transferred to the University of Illinois where he graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree. While in college he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and at present he is studying toward his Master's degree at Stetson University.

During a four year tour of duty in the Army, Barnett served two years in Germany as a member of the Intelligence Corps where his duties were aided by his ability to speak German and Arabic. Barnett is occupied in the adult education program in Seminole County, as well as teaching his daily high school classes. He teaches American history, Civics and Science, and is also a member of the Educational Television committee in the county.

Aide in teaching five classes of World History, he is sponsor of the sophomore class and was instrumental in the establishment of the boy's chapter of the Future Teachers of America and is on the advisory committee of the National Honor Society.

He enjoys sports activities such as skiing and sailing, as well as tennis. He regularly attends the Christian Church where his brother Rev. James Barnett is pastor. Barnett is an excellent example of a teacher who is dedicated to the task of qualifying young men and women of Seminole High School for a full and complete life. Richard Barnett, SHS Science Club salutes you!

Teachers Guests At Breakfast

Teachers of the Southside School were feted Thursday with a breakfast, hosted by Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal, assisted by Mrs. Ruby Davis and Mrs. Clara Swain. The breakfast tables were gay with Christmas decorations, highlighted by a silver Christmas tree, standing on a red cloth and hung with red and white striped candy canes. Place card favors were tiny Santa Clauses which were worn by the teachers later for corsages. A delicious breakfast of ham and eggs, orange juice, hot biscuits and breakfast rolls and coffee were enjoyed by the 20 teachers and two men guests, Dr. J. F. Darby, president of the P-T-O, and J. C. Mitchell.

$111.90 Added To United Fund Total

A report from Mrs. Louise B. Foster, chairman, to United Fund headquarters lists a total of $111.90 given by residents of the Altamonte Negro section. This boosts the latest total of pledges and money received up to Friday to a grand sum of $31,708.90, according to an announcement by UF president for this year, Bill Bentley.

"There are still some areas unreported," Bentley said, "which will bring the final total even higher."

Christmas Concert Set Wednesday By SHS Glee Club

The annual Christmas Concert of the Seminole High School Glee Club will be presented Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium, Miss Ollie Reese Whittle announced today.

The public is invited to the presentation, which will have a completely religious theme and always serves to call up the spirit of Christmas each year as the beautiful Christmas music entrances the capacity audiences. A cathedral setting is planned this year and promises to greatly enhance the richness of the presentation. The set has been creatively designed and built by Larry Gilstrap and Terry Collins. A candlelight procession will open the program and Rev. Grover Sewell of the First Presbyterian Church will pronounce the invocation, read the scripture and the benediction.

Inspired by the cathedral setting, the entire Glee Club will present a special number, the "Ave Marie," sung in the original Latin.

Many Students Receive Torch

John Boniface, president of the Andrew J. Bracken Chapter of the National Honor Society said today that more than 75 NHS "torches" were inserted into Seminole High School report cards this six weeks. These coveted slips of paper, printed in the shape of a torch, are presented to all students who achieve a 3.0 average for the six weeks. The inscription reads: "The National Honor Society recognizes your scholarship."

A maintained average of 3.5 (B-plus) is required before a student is tapped for admission to the National Honor Society and there are 26 students in Seminole High School who are now members of this top-ranking scholastic organization.

"The presence of a 'torch' in a report card does not indicate that the student is eligible for the NHS. It is the Society's method of recognizing and encouraging effort, achievement and initiative," Boniface said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to add my two cents to the debate of whether parents should teach their children to fight back:

When our son was young, he was picked on by every bully in the neighborhood. My husband forbid our boy to raise his hands in violence against another. Yes, even in self-defense. We held back the tears when the little fellow would come home bloody and whipped. My husband taught him that the difference between man and animal was that man was endowed by his Creator with the intelligence to reason. Animals relied on their brute strength. Today our son is an outstanding lawyer. In his childhood he lost many a fist fight, but since he has achieved manhood he has lost very few cases.

PROUD MOM

DEAR ABBY: The letter from MRS. A., who didn't know what to do about her son who took a licking from all the kids in the neighborhood, reminded me of my own experience:

When our boy was seven, he took numerous beatings from a neighbor boy who was the same age, but much bigger. From my window I saw the bigger boy pick a fight with mine. My boy would run away, but the bigger boy would chase him and continue to hit him. I got so furious I ran outside, took my boy's fists and literally FORCED him to pound the other boy, but good. The boy's father came out and do you know, he TOOK ME TO COURT! It seems there is a law against what I had done. From then on I let the boys fight it out themselves.

LEARNED A LESSON

DEAR ABBY: I have news for MRS. A., whose son was the neighborhood punching bag. I was once in that spot myself, but fortunately we had an uncle living with us who used to be a prize fighter. He taught me how to take care of myself if anybody got rough. I didn't have to use my dukes many times, but when I did, it came in very handy. You should have told the mother to give the kid boxing lessons. SMALL BUT POWERFUL

DEAR ABBY: I used to live by the rule, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." If someone slugged me, I'd slug them back. I never lost an eye, but I lost plenty of teeth before I learned that knocking out somebody else's teeth didn't replace my own. PEACE-LOVING

DEAR "PROUD MOM, LEARNED A LESSON, SMALL BUT POWERFUL" and "PEACE-LOVING": A compromise is usually the best way to settle an argument. In answer to the question, "Should a small boy be taught to fight back?", I quote Theodore Roosevelt: "SPEAK SOFTLY—BUT CARRY A BIG STICK."

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Did you ever take tests just for fun?

Well, I've just finished one — a test dreamed up by the Humane Society of the United States to help us find out whether or not we have a high P.Q. — pet quotient, that is.

I must admit some of the questions stumped me.

"Are you planning to regard the new pet as a full member of your family and to be responsible for it 24 hours a day, 365 days a year?"

It works out that way, all right. But actually I've never faced that fact BEFORE taking on a pet. At that point everyone in the family is saying, "It won't be a bit of trouble, isn't it the cutest thing?" You always have to agree to the latter—and then it's too late to think about the 24-hours-a-day, 365-days-a-year responsibility. You've got it, and that's that. "Do you know the cost of caring for the contemplated pet? Are you able and willing to meet that cost? In 10 years a city dog will cost a minimum of close to $1,000."

I must admit that I've never figured the lifetime cost of a pet in advance. I've never figured it up afterward, either.

To tell the truth, it seems almost as hard-hearted to keep track of a pet's expenses as to remind a child of all you've done for him. You just do whatever is needed and whatever has to be done and that's that.

Besides, how could you possibly balance the books? What's a dog's happy tail wag worth, for instance? Does it balance a bill from the vet?

Come to think of it, maybe that's the fun of taking tests. So rarely is there a simple "Yes" or "No" answer — even when that is all you are expected to give. At best you usually have to answer "Yes . . . but" or "No . . . but on the other hand."

You can't even test a person's P.Q. (or what kind of a pet owner he'll make) by any flat yes or no answers to a lot of questions. For how can you tell how much you are going to love a pet until he has had a chance to wag or purr or clown his way into your heart?

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

A few years ago, John Hathorn of Houston had an acute attack of poliomyelitis. This has interfered with his bridge playing and now John has turned to writing about the game. In addition to a magazine called, "Texas Bridge," he has turned out some short books. His latest work is "How to Play the Hand." The book is a joint project. The co-author is Bobby Nall, one of the very best of the crop of young bridge players who are making things so tough for us oldtimers.

Today's hand from this book shows a percentage safety play, if South were in seven spades, he would lead a low spade from dummy and finesse the queen. If that worked, he would lay down the ace and hope to drop the king. If that did not work he would be set. Fortunately, South is in the proper six spade contract and while he has no objection to making seven, his main concern is to make the small slam.

He does make it if he lays down the ace of trumps and drops the singleton king. Why does he make the play? Because it is correct. If trumps break 3-2, he is going to make his contract. If trumps break 4-1, he can only make it if the king is singleton and he drops it.

Hypnotist Is Guest Of Casselberry Lions

By JANE CASSELBERRY
The Lions Club of Casselberry heard a fascinating talk by Guest Speaker Richard Wells Bowen of Forest City on the subject of hypnotism at its meeting Thursday night at Bill's Diner on Hwy. 17-92.

members of the medical profession. Bowen told something of the history of hypnotism and its place in modern medicine. He also described some of the results of training in self-hypnosis and its uses.

Lion Ray Morris introduced his guest, Rev. John Montgomery, new minister of the First United Presbyterian Church of Casselberry and Frank Rademacher introduced Bud Schukert, as his guest.

Birthday greetings were sung to Ray Morris, Frank Morris, Carl Jack, Charles Howlett and Elmer Ashley.

Ben Evans, chairman of the sight conservation committee reported that 10 pairs of glasses were purchased by the club during the month of November and read a letter from County Nurse Mrs. Grace Fisher expressing her appreciation for the work the club is doing by arranging eye examinations and supplying glasses for needy individuals.

Evans also reported on the annual Lions Christmas Food Basket project of which he is chairman.

Working on the committee with him are Miller Evans, Tom Hueston and Elmer Ashley. For the ninth year, the club is collecting food and will pack baskets on Dec. 22 for distribution the following day to needy families in time for Christmas.

Grocery collection stations have been set up at the Hots Market in Casselberry; at Dolly's Market and Public Market on Hwy. 17-92; at Super Value Food Store on SR 430; Johnson's Market in Longwood; Blackford's Market in Altamonte Springs and at the Little Giant Food Store in Forest City.

Coin jars have been placed in Sheppard's Drug Store, Lang's Hardware, Sparkle Cleaners and the Buckhorn Bar in Casselberry; at the Deck Bar and Grill, Sweeney's Grill, Bill's Diner and Dolly's Market on the highway and at Chubb's Drug Store in Forest City.

Evans reported that several individuals had made generous contributions totaling $64.56.

To help finance the sight conservation work, the Lions plan to set up a rack for pocketbook editions which will be on sale for 10 cents in the Casselberry Shopping center. The club requests that anyone who has books to contribute leave them at Hueston's Appliance Store in Casselberry.

'Do It Now' Mailing Urged By Postmaster

With the peak of the big Christmas mail rush just over the horizon, Postmaster Guy Allen said today that every postal employee is digging in harder than ever to insure delivery of all Christmas cards and gift packages before Christmas Day. The flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts is about equal to the torrents of incoming mail that are getting larger every day.

The Postmaster urges that everyone make it a point to "Do it now!" A delay of a few hours at this critical time may mean disappointing friends and loved ones on Christmas Day.

Be sure to tie Christmas cards in bundles, with addresses all facing one way, using labels you can secure from the Post Office marked, "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out of Town Delivery."

Post Office windows will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. for convenience. Don't forget to put your name and address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

Tying in with the National Improved Mail Service program, the Postmaster urges that you divide your mailings into various groups, with those for most distant places going first, making it a point to

Altamonte Civic Club Creates Holiday Wonderland For Meeting

By SHIRLEY WENTWORTH
The Educational Building of the Altamonte Springs Community Chapel was transformed into a Christmas Wonderland last Wednesday for the December covered dish luncheon meeting of the Civic Club.

Throughout the hall, gay and colorful decorations added to the festive atmosphere while the bright merry-go-round centered on the serving table and flanked by ceramic holy dishes proved to be a conversation piece. Gracefully draped red net gave added color to the white cloth while silver grapes, tucked here and there in the folds, lent a holiday sparkle.

Ceramic sleighs complete with Santa and reindeer, snowmen and angels were placed advantageously about the room while straw plaques decorated in the traditional red and green graced each window.

Following the luncheon and conclusion of the business session, the group was entertained with a poem written in red lettering by Mrs. V. L. Gleaves and entitled "The Smallest Gift," which received enthusiastic acclaim.

The Angelus Choir of Orlando added to the enjoyment with Christmas carols and ballads, concluding with such songs as "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" and other popular favorites for for which the audience participated in group singing.

Gifts, brought by the ladies, will be distributed at a later date to the patients and staff of the County Home.

Mrs. A. N. Rust, president of the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, was special guest at the meeting.

Responsible for the many novel and lovely decorations were members of the special committee with Mrs. Milton Tinsley as chairman. Others assisting were Mrs. Jefferson Hodges, Mrs. Joseph Schmidt, Mrs. Sally Anderson, Mrs. Helen Rasmussen and Mrs. Curtis Jones.

Hostesses for the day were members of the executive board and chairman of special committee. Included in this group were Dr. Gertrude Furman, president; Mrs. A. N. Burks, vice president; Mrs. C. L. Seymour, recording secretary; Mrs. G. D. Humes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. C. Morrow, treasurer; Mrs. S. W. Rasmussen, historian and Mrs. W. R. Hoberg, chaplain.

Chairmen taking part were Mrs. B. D. McIntosh Jr., beautification; Mrs. W. L. Telford, membership; Mrs. J. D. Morrison, program; Mrs. M. G. Pate, hospitality; Mrs. Jefferson Hodges, house; Miss Constance Maley, civic; Mrs. W. L. Wigley, publicity and Mrs. Tinsley, publicity.

Past Presidents Honored At Kiwanis Meet

The 40th Anniversary of the Kiwanis Club in Sanford was celebrated by its members Wednesday, with 20 past presidents seated at special tables. A traveling gift was presented to the group by the club president, James Grant, and it changed hands until it reached the earliest president, Ed Lane. From among the ranks of the 40 men who once served to lead the civic and service organization in Sanford, 20 were present, 10 are deceased and most of the 10 others have since moved away. Ed Lane is the only remaining active charter member and Gen. I. C. Hutchison holds the position of "privileged member." The gold trophy which has been won by the club many times for the best club bulletin was brought out and it was announced that the Sanford Club had been awarded the trophy permanently. Speaker for the meeting was Clifford McKibbin, president of the Sanford-Seminole Development Co. who spoke on the aims and purposes of the company, and gave examples of how the plan of the company works in regard to encouraging and supporting new industries in the county. "Primarily we plan to encourage, develop, promote and stimulate the growth of industries that employ men, for if the head of the household is gainfully employed, it is of the greatest benefit to the community and all concerned," said McKibbin. He said that ads in the New York Times and the Wall St. Journal had been the most successful in producing the most inquiries. "But we aim to take great care in selecting the industries that we might accept," he said. "We check for good background, history, experience, financial status, permanency and then determine if they want and need what we have to offer."
