Service in Orlando, has proven to be of great help in placing trainees.

Welding, in connection with our country's ship building program, has been recognized as one of the bottle necks of our present war program. As our country asks for greater numbers of ships to be built, new ship yards are being constructed over the country. This calls for welders in larger numbers. Welding, therefore, has become one of the vital classes in our country's defense training program. The demand has become so great that courses in all defense training schools are being streamlined to fill the need. This streamlining has taken the form of allowing trainees only 200 hours of training, and then placing him on the job.

Large ship yards are now taking men who have had a limited amount of training in defense schools and placing them in their own schools, paying the men to continue their training. This insures the yards an adequate number of welders at all times. The trainees who are accepted for the various shipyard schools usually receive around $18 per week while training. As soon as they go out on the job, their pay is raised to prevailing standard wages.

The local school has placed welders in the following yards: Ingalls Ship Building Corporation, Pascagoula, Miss.; Gulf Ship Building Corporation, Mobile, Ala.; Alabama Dry Dock Company, Mobile; Brunswick Marine Construction Corporation, Brunswick; St. Johns Ship Building Company, Jacksonville, and The American Machinery Company, Deland.

At present the Seminole County Defense Training School has welding instructors, Manuel P. Roberts and Leland D. Litchfield. Mr. Roberts was born in Hillsborough County, and came here from Tampa, Feb. 2, to take over one of the classes in Arc welding. He is well qualified for his job as instructor, having had six years' actual experience in shipyards and in structural welding. He is married and has two children, a boy and a girl. The family is residing on West Eighth street. Mr. Litchfield, who also teaches a class in arc welding, has had experience in ship yards as a welder and came to Sanford from Lakeland, where he was working with Food Machinery Corporation. Mr. and Mrs. Litchfield and young daughter are residing at 207 Holly Avenue.

W. D. Hofmann, instructor in Radio Repairing in the school, is a local man and lives with his family in San Lanta. Mr. Hofmann has had experience in wireless operation in the Signal Corps, Radio and telephone operation in the U. S. Army and for the past 20 years has managed his own electrical and radio shop in Sanford. He now holds a second-class commercial operators radio license and is chief operator of Station WORA, Sanford Police Department.

Dudley E. McCown, instructor in airplane engine service, was educated in Augusta and Savannah. He has owned and operated his own airplane business, having had seven years' experience as an aircraft engine mechanic in Savannah. He is a licensed engine mechanic. Mr. McCown resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Betts on Palmetto Avenue.

Frank L. Barnum, instructor in automotive mechanics, is married and lives on West First Street. He has had 23 years' experience as an auto mechanic and in metal work.

George G. J. Gringus, instructor in wooden boat building is a Louisianan by birth and comes to Sanford from Cocca. For the past 40 years he has been a boat designer and has operated his own boat construction works in Cocca. His yard has constructed boats for the Coast Guard and done private construction on yachts.

The newest instructor in the Defense School is a local man, Carl H. Moss, who resides with his family at 2631 Willow Avenue. He is teaching the Airplane Woodworking Class, which is being run by carpenter workers for the Babcock Aircraft Corporation in Deland. Mr. Moss has had 19 years' experience in cabinet making, log work and precision work.

Airplane woodworking includes the construction of precision plane wings and parts. Training also includes precision work on a Curtis-Dawh.

If we wish to be free, if we wish to preserve inviolate those inalienable prerogatives for which we have been so long contending—we must fight!

Evening Train

(From Voices)

Under the new moon, the late train goes down
from our town,

oh fast—
past the place where the old boy in his time whittled out of mahogany eyes,

remembering how one time on the Santa Fe
he caught them going faster, be-young, being quick: a far time among the cactus and the yucca blooming, and the painted mountains.

Under the moon the rails gleam like ribbons (salgraph wires hum as all day bees sang in apple bloom; the late train goes by with the brake drumming of home and wife and kids, soon reached,
and the engineer's eyes hard on the way ahead, out of Sac Prairie to another Sac Prairie and another.

Under the new moon's yellow sickle,
the rocking cars on the rickety,
single-track line
speak mutely of America in worn printing on their walls:
C. M. & St. P.,
Union Refrigerator, Chesapeake
Ohio,
Milwaukee Road, the Penny Line,
the Santa Fe and the old U. P., going past fast, fast,
under the new moon's rind,
past the rising mid-spring's hydrant in the choler, past the old angler and farmer's wife,
red eyes and green
dwindling down the track as sometimes he and angler and farmer's wife dwindle and pass an dare gone into yesterday fast, oh fast.

A New York doctor has come out with a brilliant pronouncement that love creates in man a desire for the simple foods like carrots and spinach. He goes into a long dissertation about the emotional and psychological effect of love in respect to diet, but the poor doctor reveals unmistakably that he has never been in love. Any man, who has known that the necessity for resisting in spinach and carrots arises solely from economic reasons caused by his girl's hearty appetite for steaks, hamburgers, ice cream sodas and Coca-Cola.

A specimen of Germany's new Focke-Wulf fighter plane, which is credited as being plenty hot, has been captured and is being examined by aeronautical experts with the obvious purpose of learning its secrets. We have seen that one of our troubles has been that we are trying too hard to keep up with the Germans, examining their equipment and attempting to bring our own equipment up to the German level.
The German plane has been captured and the Germans are now studying it.

In Behalf of Bicyclists and Horsemen

Now that the horse is back in the limelight and bicyclists are no longer a novelty, it might be well to call attention to the need among the few remaining motorists of being extra careful in their driving.

Driving or riding a horse is not the easiest thing in the world under the best of conditions, and one not only has to be alert personally but must figure on the sometimes unreliable temperament of his animal. Horses don't always react the same way and are frequently inclined to do the opposite to what their masters order. If to the ordinary hazards of horsemanship there is added the peril of careless motorists, some very serious accidents are bound to occur.

We have a feeling that most automobile drivers have an unusual sense of security when passing a horseman, either riding or in a buggy. The reasoning may be that "if I sideswipe a horse, it won't hurt me or my car, so I needn't be concerned about giving the wide berth I would reserve for a truck."

This sort of reasoning is bad, for a mix-up with a horse and rider or horse and buggy is about the messiest thing that can happen to a motorist, and the chances for causing a fatality is immeasurably greater than in the ordinary crash between two automobiles. The mere glancing blow against a horse or buggy means serious trouble and a certain trip to the hospital for somebody.

The same thing goes for bicyclists. Of course, anyone driving a car, who sideswipes a bicyclist, will probably suffer no hurts, but his victim likely will not will end up as a cripple, that is, if he escapes with his life. Don't take chances with people riding bicycles, slow down and allow for plenty of room and make believe you are about to pass a ten-ton truck which would pulverize you if a collision occurred. We can't imagine anything worse than running over someone on a bicycle or brushing into a horse or buggy.

Chance to Push Florida Fruit Drinks

With limitation being placed on soft drinks, the Florida Citrus Commission sees an opportunity to promote the sale of fruit drinks in their stead.

Many drinks stands and fountains throughout the state are unable to secure a sufficient quantity of soft drinks and the commission urges that merchants invite them to try a glass of delicious orange or grapefruit juice instead.

Most people will accept the suggestion, particularly when it is pointed out that such drinks not only quench thirst but offer added health value.

Of 22 leading fountains and outlets checked by the commission this past week in Lakeland, Tampa and Orlando, all were found to be serving fresh oranges and grapefruit and some were featuring limeade with much success.

While most concerns were depending on fresh fruit some were doing a brisk business serving canned juice and others will turn to the canned product as the supply of fresh fruit diminishes.—Pensacola Journal.

Things Grandpa didn't know: The advertisement of the American Air Transport association names 20 member lines and says there are three Canadian ones.

In Boston they have a new name for it—Ultras Chasing New-Orleans.

The U. S. cotton acreage for this year has been estimated at 21 million, an increase of 3.3 percent over last year. North Carolina increased here six percent, but South Carolina could go that one better, her acreage being about 1,427,000.

Herb Thomas, sports writer, says that after the war he is going to get fish. Yes, Herbie, and if we lose the war you may be obliged to add crayfish, mud turtles, muskrats and ground-squirrelage.

Labor has been getting the long end of the string. Beginning with 1929 as the 100 percent basis, a graph of employment and payroll comparisons shows their relative increase as 1924 percent for payroll and 187 for employment. The figures are based on federal Department of Labor statistics.

A writer in the Saturday Evening Post says there is a wide opinion that "New England has died up—lost its vital sap and pulse; turned into an old fogey; some for customs or antique furniture, and traditions. The idea that once bathed its shores with the salt of life, they say, have receded, leaving the Atlantic of America in a stagnant back-water, spacial city, nothing but old memories." Maybe so, but I don't think it's true. I think we are still in the middle of a transition period.

Sanford Naval Air Base Beams

A freight steel 'dola, carrying about 40,000 pounds of steel for reinforcing concrete at various buildings, was unloaded, piece by piece, by hand—each weighing varied amounts, each with a tag and number—some bundles totaling as high as 5000 lbs. Three small pieces about a foot long came out of the 'hold.' The bunch weighed about three pounds bore the suspicious symbol "A-34-1-WA13" or "words to that effect." Had that little piece failed to have arrived there might have been a serious delay. Yesterday's romance in steel.

W. W. "Woody" Riser has been engaged as head football coach and assistant athletic director at the Lake City High School for this season. Woody's a Sanford III and Florida U. grad, knows his athletics, recreation. He's a material checker here. He's graduated from Sanford III in '35, and Florida '37, and for three years was assistant Sanford coach, then at Monticello III last season where his team won 3, lost 4. At Florida he won his letter, was on the football squad for 3 years under Coach Dutch Stanley. He leaves next Wednesday. Good luck, Woody.

HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 5. (WW)—The way things have been going in the movies, taking tutelage in dramatics to crash the movie is less effective than tottling a horn. That neighbor boy who drives you to a bad-neighbor policy with his trumpet-torture may be 1954's answer to the movie. This is the year of the great band bonanza, Hollywood's mammoth bassoon bubble—a bubble which will grow larger and rosier before it bursts.

There's never been anything like it in pictures before, anything like the way the maestros and their men have taken over Hollywood. When the movies got their new toy, sound, they thought at once of music, and they brought out a few bands—Rudy Vallee's, Paul Whiteman's, Ted Lewis's, later Ben Bernie's, and so on.

I say it's anybody's jam session. They're all coming, and most of them have plans to stay or to return at intervals. They're the answer, so Hollywood has come to believe, to all of Hollywood's box-office uncertainties.

The studios are even handling out contracts to some of the maestros. Glenn Miller played Glenn Miller so well, so unaffectedly in "Sun Valley Serenade" and "Orchestra Wives" that 20th Century-Fox made certain he'd come again. Kay Kyser started the maestro-movie star combination at RKO, where he's done four pictures already.

You know they want band leaders when a studio starts looking for vehicles for them. The bands used to go along for the ride now they're pulling the movie wagon. Harry James of the high trumpet is doing the musical sequences of "Springtime in the Rockies" at 20th, and M-G-M already has a story ready for him which must wait until James' next road tour is done. The Zane lot is vehicle-hunting for Sammy Kaye because that outfit hit the groove for Sonja Henie—"Iceland."

At RKO Freddie Martin's hit in "Sinopation" brought him back to compete with Les Brown in "Sweet or Hot." Martin is the "sweet" and Brown the "hot" of the combination, Brown being a younger, almost unknown, and here but great on the juke box—back east.

RKO knows already he'll be a picture hit, and you know how they know? Because Les Brown never hit at the Palladium. That's the mammoth dance hall which gives the beat of the new bands night work while they're making movies by day. If the over-crowded theatre spreads the word the band is in.

M-G-M, after "Ship Ahoy," is holding "DuBarry Was a Lady" until Tommy Dorsey can get back, and Paramount is just as hot over brother Jimmy. Universal is the happy-hunting-ground of bandmen—Harry James, Woody Herman, Sonny Dunham, Ted Lewis, Ozzie Nelson, Skinny Ennis all have been featured in pictures here.

IT'S THE ATTITUDE

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 5. (AP)—Standing firm on a psychological standpoint, the best approach to a customer in hot weather a Tulsa merchandising firm suggested is "Tall the customer, if the subject must be mentioned, that the heat isn't bad at all; tell him that he will feel much cooler by adopting a cheerful attitude. For after all the discomfort from heat is mostly in the mind."

"That may be so," said one of the sales girls, "but my mind sure doesn't perspire like the rest of me does."

Jim Tobin Homers But Loses 4 to 2 Contest To Phils

Old St Johnson Handcuffs Boston Club With Seven Blows

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5. (AP)—The Philadelphia Phils made five hits yield for runs and victory yesterday but it was losing pitcher Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves who stole the show as the Phils triumphed 4-2.

Tobin blasted a seventh-inning pitch into the upper left field stands for a home run, scoring Sibby Sisti ahead of him, and thereby tied the National League mark of season home runs for pitchers which Hal Schumacher of the New York Giants set in 1934. Yesterday's circuit-clout was Tobin's sixth of 1942.

Uncle Sisti Johnson, veteran hurler, went the route for the Phils, limiting the Braves to seven hits, to gain his first victory since July 5.

The Phils scored in the second on a walk to Nick Eitzen, Ron Northey's single and Bobby Bragan's infield out. They added two more on a pair of hits and Tobin's wild throw in the fifth. And in the following inning, Danny Litwiler, who had been grazed by a pitch, scored on Eitzen's infield out, Northey's single and Flaky May's double.

Reds Halt Cards' Rally To Win, 4-3

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds stood off a seventh-inning push by the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday to save a 4-3 victory for Johnny Vander Meer.

The Cards scored all their runs on Vandy in their big inning, but Fireman Joe Beegs stopped the proceedings and the Cards never threatened again.

Vandy had complete command of the Cards for a while. Then came the seventh. With one away, Ray Sanders singled and Martin Marion walked, with Sanders the second Card to get past first.

Creepy Crepi walked, too, filling the bases. Navarro batted last Gumpert and fanned, but Jim Brown singled to score Sanders and Marion. Moore doubled, scoring Crepi, and Beegs took over.

Ernie Slaughter was purposely passed filling the bases again, but Stan Musial batted for Coaker Triplett and lined to Tric Tip-ton to end the nightmare.

Australia Has Gold In Plane Runways

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, Aug. 5. (AP)—Anta have cemented some Australian airports, and Army engineers carrying all-terrain out of northern Australia forests and jungles have discovered that giant anthills, common throughout the area, and the strange cement within them make excellent surface material for airplane runways.

Some airfields were built near deserted gold mines. Engineers discovered that the best runway surface material came from the great mounds of gold-speckled slag which come day may be worth crushing a second time.

Army Engineers Build Town For Jap Evacuees

CODY, Wyo., Aug. 5. (WW)—In the sage country of northern Wyoming, Army engineers are finishing a town for 10,000 Japanese in just 60 days.

A barracks-type apartment building for six families is built from foundation to roof in 59 working minutes.

There'll be 486 of these apartment houses in the 15-block site of the Heart Mountain Japanese relocation center. The center is 12 miles north of Cody, familiar to American travelers as the eastern gateway into Yellowstone National park.

The Heart Mountain camp, complete with modern sewerage disposal plant and a water system with a million-gallon reservoir and filtration plant, will become Wyoming's fifth largest city, five times larger than Cody itself.

The first nail on the center project was pounded June 8, Japanese evacuees including million-acre industrialists, fishermen, farmers and laborers — will be moved in about Aug. 15, from crowded temporary assembly centers in California, Washington and Oregon.

Ten such camps now are mushrooming in the empty spaces of the mountain states and in Arkansas.

All are rush jobs because the western defense command wants the Japanese shifted as quickly as possible into interior areas where a saboteur can find little but wide open spaces to work on.

The Heart Mountain center offers an example of American talent for organization and assembly line output.

Mechanized Germans Develop New Pincers Threat To Stalingrad

Nazis' Sacrifice Of Lives Is Reported To Be Tremendous; Reds Lose Ground

(By Associated Press)
Germany's mechanized armies, fast closing an octopus-like stranghold on the upper Caucasus, reported the fall of Tikhoretak on the Caucasian railway 90 miles south of Rostov today and developed a new pincers threat to the great Volga River steel center Stalingrad.

Tikhoretak is on the Stalingrad-Novorostak railway, terminating at the Black Sea just below the Kerch strait. Moscow said the Germans were sending in reinforcements along a "strong line east of the Don River," driving back a powerful German tank assault 95 miles southeast of Stalingrad.

A second big-scale battle is in progress in the Kletskaya sector, 80 miles northwest of Stalingrad. The Soviets are sending in carefully saved reserves as the battle rages on. The Reds said the upper claw of the Nazi pincers aimed at Stalingrad has been stopped dead.

Danger in the Caucasus mounted, however, as the Germans drove new wedges into Soviet lines as a great sacrifice of lives in Egypt. British light bombers and fighters attacked Axis positions west of El Alamein today and blasted shipping off the North African coast. The activity is limited to control skirmishes and artillery exchanges.

German tanks charging in herds of up to 100 smashed through the Red army's defenses around Belaya Glinka, 50 miles southwest of Stalingrad. The fighting below the city.

Head fighting Communist cavalry and Red Army men in the Kuzchka some 60 miles to the northwest were threatened with being cut off by the drive down the railroad toward Tikhoretak, and evidently fell back to avoid the menace.

South of Belaya Glinka our troops fought tenacious battles with enemy tanks and armor. Infantry, the high command said.

"In another sector a large detachment of German riflemen penetrated to the rear of our units. By rapid counter-measures the Germans were surrounded and completely annihilated."

South of Kuzchka, the communists said, the hard-pressed Russians repulsed repeated German attacks. One unit destroyed six German tanks, four guns and 10 machine gun nests, and more than 600 enemy corpses were left on the battlefield.

Step Is Taken In Support Of Pipeline Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6. (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said Wednesday a group of oil companies has offered to install gasoline storage tanks for installation in the Eastern seaboard to offset the Eastern seaboard gasoline shortage.

E. T. Brooks of Jacksonville, Fla., and A. H. Phillips of Tampa, Fla., said the tanks would hold from 18,000 to 25,000 gallons of gasoline each and six tanks could be placed upon each wooden barge.

The barges they said can be built readily in Florida and in other parts of the country.

Brooks said that an experienced management group of skilled mechanics and welders assembled to begin construction.

Details of the proposal, in which Edward E. Philpott of Tampa also is interested, have been presented to the Federal agencies, Pepper said.

James Jones, Secretary of Commerce, has announced that the Defense Plant Corporation in cooperation with the Army Corps of Engineers, Inland Waterways Corporation and smaller war plants corporation, has agreed to finance a program designed to provide additional barge facilities for the transportation of oil while maintaining and improving existing inland waterways transportation.

The program calls for the conversion of existing steel oil barges into tank barges equipped to be furnished by the Inland Waterways Corporation and privately-owned carriers.

Equipment to replace the steel barges will consist of the boats, tanker barges and dry cargo barges with wooden hull.

622 In Seminole Get Old Age Assistance During Fiscal Year

DADESBORO, Aug. 6. (Special)—Payments to Seminole County recipients of old age assistance and to the blind and aid dependent children for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, totaled $108,236 according to an announcement today of the State Welfare Board complete figures.

The fiscal year, which began June 1, 1941, and ended June 30, 1942, was the first year that the Florida recipients of old age assistance or more than the regular appropriation of $1,000,000 annually for all purposes. The increased amount was due to the increase levied by the 1941 act of the Legislature for the aid of old age assistance and dependent children.

At June 30, 1942, there were 622 persons receiving old age assistance, 2,100 dependent children and 1,600 families receiving aid to dependent children.

During the year, Florida's total received free agricultural supplies of a fair retail value of $4,350,000, through direct contribution to certified clients at schools participating in the school lunch program, and in four counties where the food stamp plan has been set up. That made in WPA sewing rooms the value of $440,793 distributed by the welfare agency.
