

Districting Proposal Gets Closer Look Today

The Sanford City Commission was to consider at a 3:30 meeting today "Step one, the big one"—a districting proposal—in the effort toward settling a lawsuit filed in federal court by five black city residents.

The proposal from David M. Lipman, attorney representing the plaintiffs, calls for the city to be divided into four geographic districts, from which city commissioners would be elected. The proposed districts include one that is predominantly black, two predominantly white, and a fourth almost evenly split between whites and blacks. Under the proposal the mayor would run at large.

The city commissioners instructed City Attorney Bill Colbert several weeks ago to discuss districting with Lipman.

Colbert said he made the suggestion to Lipman that they explore a four district concept with the mayor running at large.

If the city commission approves the proposal at its meeting today or the regular city commission meeting Monday night, a number of other issues will also have to be agreed on.

The two attorneys are facing a deadline of Dec. 15 to report to Federal Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich in writing of the status and progress in the negotiations.

Colbert said the additional matters which must be settled, if the commission agrees to the proposal, include:

- How the districting will be implemented. Colbert said the city has an election in December, 1984. At that time two commission seats and the mayor's office will be up for election.

- But two other commissioners will still have two years to go in their terms from previous elections. "I'm not sure we can disenfranchise those elected officials," Colbert said. "Lipman and I haven't discussed the timing for putting districts into effect."

- The number of polling places. The city in its elections has had one polling place in the past because all elections were at large. Colbert said if the districting proposal is accepted, it may be necessary to have a polling place in each district.

- How often the districting plan will be reviewed. Colbert said in some instances the plans have been reviewed every five years to make sure each district continues to represent about the same population. In some court cases, he said, the time for review is every five years when new district lines are drawn.

"I'm sure Lipman is as aware as I am that these problems must be addressed," Colbert said.

"If the commission approves the proposal, the next step for the attorneys is to work out stipulation to be entered into by the parties," Colbert said.

He and Lipman advised Judge Kovachevich two weeks ago that they were having some discussions, expected the city commission to consider a plan and would report back to her by letter by Dec. 15.

The lawsuit was filed by Alfred G. DeLattibeaudiere, currently a candidate for the county commission; E.N. Smith, Samuel Wright Jr., R. Fletcher McGann and Hannah Pinkney.

The plaintiffs filed the suit on behalf of themselves and others in the same class in late September.

In the suit, they said "at-large, city-wide voting for members of the Sanford City Commission ... excludes black representation and participation and minimizes and cancels out black voting strength (in violation of the federal) ... Voting Rights Act."

The lawsuit also noted that "not one black citizen in the entire history of the city of Sanford has ever been elected to any seat on the city commission."

Today's meeting was to be held in the city manager's conference at city hall, 300 N. Park Ave.—Donna Estes

Longwood Colleagues Voice Support

Grant Shoe-In For Mayor

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Commissioner J. Russell Grant, to begin his 10th year in office in January, is also slated to become that city's mayor in 1984. He is expected to be elected by the city commission at its first meeting of the new year, Jan. 9.

Commissioners-elect Harold "Ed" Myers and Harvey Smerilson say they intend to vote for Grant to hold the largely ceremonial office in 1984 and Grant says he not only will accept the office, he will also vote for himself. The mayor also chairs the city commission meetings.

"I think I am perfectly capable of being mayor. In fact, I'm more than capable," Grant said today.

"Some years I haven't wanted the office, but this may be the last year I serve," said the 66-year-old partially retired businessman.

According to the city charter adopted in 1978, the city commission elects the mayor from among its members.

Commissioner June Lormann, re-elected Tuesday to a sixth consecutive term, is mayor this year.

Before the 1978 city charter when the mayor was elected by the people and the governing body was composed of five members in addition, Grant was elected chairman of the board by his colleagues four years consecutively from 1975 through 1978.

Grant, elected to five consecutive terms on the city commission, won two of those contests unopposed. In three opposed elections since 1974, he outpolled opponents by 2-to-1.

'Some years I haven't wanted the office, but this might be the last year I serve.'

Myers said Grant "will be mayor. He has earned it and I'm going to vote for him."

Smerilson said, "I predict Russell Grant will be mayor. I feel the present members on the city commission will favor Grant and I certainly do not disfavor him being mayor."

Commissioner Bill Mitchell, also a Grant supporter, was out of town and not available for comment. Mrs. Lormann could not be reached.

Meanwhile, Grant says he has some goals he plans to accomplish when he is elected mayor. "But I don't want to reveal them at this time. But I do want Longwood to be a good and fair city for everyone. I want to see the city be fair to all the people."

Prior to his election to the city commission, Grant served on the city's planning and zoning board. A native of Florida, born in Mayo near the Florida panhandle, he was educated in Cross City and has been a resident of Longwood since 1945. He has been the city's Santa Claus at the annual community Christmas Party for children for 35 years. Married to the Rev. E. Ruth Grant, a Pentecostal minister, he is the father of five children. The couple have seven grandchildren ranging in age from five years old to 23.

J. Russell Grant

Grant went into office in 1975 when the city was facing bankruptcy as revenues went down while spending continued in previous years. Within a year, the city was on firm financial footing again.

"That time the city was at its greatest need and they were the most stressful years the city has gone through," he said.

Grant opposed the $1.1 million bond issue for various city projects which the voters of Longwood shot down Tuesday, defeating each of four separate proposals by 2-to-1.

He said today the purpose of the bond issue was to obligate the city for repayment of a bond issue and require the raising of taxes to pay for that issue in case Proposition 1, the proposed constitutional amendment, passes a vote of Florida's citizens next year.

The proposed amendment requires that taxes and spending be rolled back to the 1980 level, except for bond issues approved in a referendum by the people.

"That is what the bond issue was organized for and I said so amongst the commissioners," Grant said. "I opposed the bond issue, but I didn't campaign against it. The people did not want it and they made that clear at the ballot box."

Meanwhile, Myers said that he almost missed his own "thank you" party after the election results were announced Tuesday night.

"I went to the courthouse, leaving Longwood after the officials who were taking the ballots there for counting. I couldn't understand why I got to the courthouse before the officials did. We waited and waited before I found out that the city car had been in an accident," Myers said.

The accident in which a city car driven by Police Chief Greg Manning was involved in a rear-end collision, jamming the trunk lid. A power cutting tool had to be used to retrieve the ballots from the truck, delaying the count of the votes for nearly an hour.

Of his own goals during the next two years, Myers, 66 and retired, said he hopes to get some facilities in the city for senior citizens. "And, I would like to upgrade our streets and sidewalks."

"I don't think the people would mind if taxes were raised a little bit if they could see what the money was being used for," Myers said.

Doctor Teams With Car Dealer

County Eyes Bid From New Ambulance Firm

The Seminole County Commission has directed its staff to review an application from a new ambulance company, Med Ambulance Corp., for a franchise to operate an emergency and non-emergency transportation service, before scheduling a public hearing to determine if a certificate of need should be granted.

The company formed by Dr. Stevan M. Van Ore, a Maitland physician, and Casselberry car dealer Scott Smith, wants to take over the county's ambulance franchise now up for bid.

Van Ore is asking for a county subsidy of $175,000 a year for two years to operate the service with the idea that by the third year the subsidy would not be needed. He is proposing operation of five advanced life-support ambulances for emergencies and two basic life-support ambulances for non-emergency transportation. They would operate out of Sanford, Altamonte Springs, Casselberry, Goldenrod and Five Points.

Since Med Ambulance has not previously operated an ambulance service, Assistant County Attorney Bob McMillan doubts it can meet the county's minimum requirement of one year's experience.

Although the commission has agreed to offer its ambulance service contract for bid, county officials are unsure whether the franchise can be awarded exclusively.

The commission authorized the re-bidding of the contract, which has been held by Herndon Ambulance Service, Orlando, for more than 10 years, at its Tuesday meeting. The bid specifications will require the contractor to post a $100,000-performance bond and provide four life-support ambulances for full time duty in the county.

Meanwhile, Herndon President Idus Willis promised to continue his services on a month-to-month basis until May 1, when the new contract is expected to go into effect. Herndon's 1982-83 contract has already been extended twice.

Willis, speaking to the commission at its Tuesday work session, stressed that if the ambulance-service franchise is not exclusively his, the county may be forced to pay a higher subsidy to the company. The commission now pays Herndon a subsidy of $228,000 for emergency service using four advanced life-support ambulances. The county allows the company to operate the only non-emergency transportation service in the county.

According to Assistant County Attorney Bob McMillan, Herndon is the only ambulance service that has obtained a required certificate of public need and necessity from the county. The certificate allows the operation of non-emergency ambulance businesses and is a preliminary step in obtaining state licensing to operate an emergency transportation service, he said.

Willis explained that Herndon's profits come from non-emergency transportation and the company loses money on emergency calls, which are often left unpaid. In Orange County, where Herndon also holds an ambulance-service contract, a franchise ordinance is only in effect for emergency service. Non-emergency service can be provided by any county-certified company meeting the criteria for operating such a business.

According to Tom Ackert, Orange County assistant administrator, county certificates of need must be obtained by ambulance companies wishing to do business there. The criteria for obtaining the certificates are "routine matters" requiring the companies' vehicles to meet certain specifications, he said.

In Seminole County, the certificates of need are also required by ordinance, but the Catch 22 situation is that the county board of commissioners issues the certificates and has, up until now, limited them in quantity.

Last fall the county asked for bids on a new ambulance contract that required a $500,000-performance bond be posted, but contractors claimed the amount was exorbitant. The posting of such a bond ensures that the county is financially covered if the contractor does not perform the services.

Willis said he declined to submit a bid to renew his contract because the $500,000 performance bond had been increased to $500,000.

At that time, the county received only one bid, from a company in Alabama, but was forced to reject it on a technicality.

Zoning Board Nixes Schools' Plan

The Seminole County Planning and Zoning Board has denied a School Board request for rezoning of a 64-acre tract of land near Lake Mary. The board had planned to use the tract for a school bus garage and maintenance facility.

The commission voted unanimously Wednesday night not to rezone Forest Green, located on County Road 427 across from the Cardinal Oaks subdivision, from single-family residential to public lands and institutions.

The school board can appeal the P&Z ruling to the county commission which may hear the case at its Jan. 24 meeting. School officials were not available today to say whether they would appeal or what they would do should the commission deny their request.

The school board has an option to buy the land for $840,000 and intends to consolidate its bus storage and maintenance facilities on the tract.

However, Lake Mary Mayor Wall Sorenson, Cardinal Oaks

developer Larry Dale and several subdivision residents crowded into Wednesday's meeting to argue that such a facility would not fit in with the surrounding neighborhood which contains homes valued up to $400,000.

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce has also gone on record opposing the school board's plans.

"The general consensus of those speaking (at Wednesday's meeting) was that this area is not the place for what the school board has in mind," Sorenson said today. "It was pointed out that there are several other pieces of land around more suitable to this kind of thing and (P&Z) board members apparently agreed."

Prior to the meeting, however, Assistant School Superintendent Benny Arnold said the need for a central garage-maintenance facility is critical. Forest Green, which is large enough and has access to main roads, is the best site for the complex, he said.

NATION IN BRIEF

Sentry Bandits Guilty; $10 Million Still Missing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two men convicted of staging the theft of $11 million from a Bronx security firm face up to 30 years in prison, but $10 million of the loot is still missing.

Christos Potamitis, 24, a security guard at the Sentry armored car company, and his friend Eddie Argitakos, 25, both of Queens, were convicted Wednesday by a federal jury of conspiracy and bank larceny.

Potamitis and Eddie Argitakos face up to 30 years in jail for masterminding the theft, one of the largest in the nation's history. Sentencing was set for Jan. 6.

Only $1 million of the missing money has been recovered, most of it in the homes of friends and relatives of the defendants, who are part of Queens' close-knit Greek community.

Authorities are still hunting for the remaining $10 million cash.

Panda Home Remedies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Zoo is getting calls from panda fans around the nation suggesting home remedies — from a faith healer to avocado leaves — for the ailing Ling-Ling, victim of a potentially fatal kidney ailment.

Dialysis is among the options doctors are considering for the 14-year-old gift from China, a mother of America's first panda cub, zoo officials revealed Thursday.

But fans of Ling-Ling — with her mate, Hsing-Hsing, the zoo's most popular attraction — have called with their own cures for the kidney dysfunction and severe anemia threatening the life of the 227-pound giant panda.

Doctors said the problem could be related to last summer's delivery of Ling-Ling's 4.8-ounce male cub, which died of a respiratory ailment three hours after birth.

Does It Shoot Seeds?

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI) — A man who robbed a bank while armed with a zucchini was sentenced to six months in jail and 4½ years probation.

Westchester County Judge Also Nastasi told the defendant, Walter Strong, he would not have to begin the jail term until after Christmas.

Strong held up the Village Savings Bank in Port Chester, a suburb of New York City, on Sept. 9 after he was denied a $2,000 auto loan. He pulled the heist by pointing to a bulge inside his jacket and making the teller believe it was a gun.

Sanford Optimist Club Selling Christmas Trees

The Optimist Club of Sanford is selling Christmas trees from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. daily on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, one half mile north of Sanford Plaza.

Proceeds from the sale of the fresh Christmas trees go to youth activities in the community.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — The six astronauts aboard the space shuttle Columbia were forced to delay today's landing by more than six hours because of unexplained problems with the ship's crucial computer system.

The astronauts were not endangered by the computer problem but controllers in Houston did not want to risk a descent to Earth with unexplained troubles with the vital computer system.

Two of the ship's five computers failed but veteran mission commander John Young reported later that one had been re-started and the other had "hard failed." Only one computer is necessary to control the complicated re-entry and landing operations.

Officials said a late afternoon landing was possible, with the ship ending its 10-day mission on the 165th or 166th orbit, with the shuttle landing from the north instead of the south as has been the normal path. Columbia was to have come down on their 162nd swing around Earth.

The earliest possible landing time was approximately 5:20 p.m. EST.

"We have waved off for this morning's landing opportunities," reported Steve Nesbitt in mission control.

Young, Brewster Shaw, Owen Garriott, Robert Parker, Ulf Merbold and Byron Lichtenberg had enough oxygen and hydrogen aboard the veteran spaceship to stay up two more days if necessary. Weather was reported good for a Friday landing if necessary.

The decision to "wave off" the 10:59 a.m. EST landing was radioed up to the astronauts before they closed the ship's payload bay doors.

Two previous shuttle flights have had similar landing delays but those postponements were caused by bad weather at the landing site. Weather was good at Edwards today.

"We would not want to do a re-entry not understanding this particular computer problem," said Nesbitt in mission control.

Columbia had performed almost flawlessly up until five hours before landing time when Young reported one and then a second computer had failed. He said the failures appeared linked to control jet firings.

"I think it was up-firing jets that made this thing fail," Young said. "I really do. It really hit the vehicle hard."

The astronauts earlier had closed up the $1 billion Spacelab workshop in Columbia's cargo bay today.

Columbia has five flight computers. Four are redundant and the fifth is a separate machine with a different program. Any one of those units could perform the crucial flight control functions for the return to Earth.

The scientist-astronauts earlier won praise from scientists of 14 nations for carrying out 70 experiments during the 4-million-mile-plus expedition.

Still ahead for the four scientists on the longest, most enterprising shuttle mission to date were eight days of intense medical tests duplicating those carried out in orbit to see how the fliers re-adapt to Earth's gravity.

Seminole Bank Robber Escapes From Courthouse

Central Florida law enforcement officers were looking today for a man serving time for a Seminole County bank robbery who escaped from the roof of the Orange County courthouse jail Wednesday.

Authorities discovered that Robert Lee Rawley, 31, formerly of Sledgefield Apartments, Winter Park, had fled along with another inmate about 1:15 p.m.

The two escaped during a recreation break and authorities say they don't know how the men got away from a group of other inmates and made their escape.

Rawley was awaiting trial on three bank robbery charges and is serving 15 years for the September 1983 robbery of Sun Bank in the Altamonte Mall.

Orange County sheriff's spokesman Joyce Drazen said Rawley and his companion, Albert B. Stalano, 30, were still at large early today and are considered to be very dangerous. She cautioned the public not to approach the men, but to call authorities if they are spotted.

Stalano was being held on a charge of armed robbery and aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

The pair were wearing blue prison pants, grey sweatshirts and tennis shoes when they escaped.

Rawley is 5-foot-11 and weighs 182 pounds. He has brown hair and blue eyes.

Stalano is the same height and weighs 170. He has brown hair and eyes.

FALSE IMPRISONMENT CONVICTION

A Sanford man has been convicted in Seminole Circuit Court of false imprisonment, grand theft of an auto, petty theft and battery.

Larry Johnson, 25, of 1505 W. Eighth St., was convicted Wednesday of tying up Major Lawson, 40, of 127 Bethune Circle, Sanford, stealing Lawson's car and taking his air conditioner.

According to Assistant State Attorney Mark O'Mara, Johnson faces an 11-year and 60-day maximum sentence for the two felony and two misdemeanor convictions, though O'Mara said it may be possible, because of Florida's new sentencing guidelines, for Johnson to receive a sentence of between 12 and 30 months.

The charges against Johnson stemmed from a July 31 encounter Lawson had with Johnson and Gloria Ann Bennett, 25, of 32 Lake Monroe Terrace.

According to reports, Johnson and Ms. Bennett had been visiting with Lawson at his home when they tied him then took his car and air conditioner. After the couple left, Lawson, still bound, went to a neighbor and asked them to call the police. Johnson and Ms. Bennett were arrested a few hours later at Ms. Bennett's home.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Violent winds moved out to sea today from a Northeast rampage that spread fires, closed schools and toppled a flagpole onto a group of children, killing one and injuring six. A winter white-out spread inland from the Pacific Northwest. Winter storm warnings for half a foot of snow stretched from eastern Washington to the Rockies because of a new storm that hit the coast Wednesday night, buffeting Cape Blanco, Ore. with 100-mph winds. Winds whipping to 40 mph drifted snow across Colorado and Wyoming, cutting visibility to zero in spots and for the second day closing a long stretch of Wyoming's "Snow Chi Minh Trail," otherwise known as Interstate 80. Near blizzard conditions hit the high passes of the Cascade Mountains, and travel was miserable today throughout inland Oregon and the northern Sierra Nevada because of snow, freezing rain and strong winds.

AREA FORECAST: Mostly sunny today with a high in the mid-60s to near 70. Wind northeast to east around 10 mph. Tonight fair with a low in the mid- to upper-40s. Light east wind. Friday partly cloudy with high in low to mid-70s.

BOATING FORECAST: St. Augustine to Jupiter Inlet out 50 miles — North to northeast wind around 15 knots today and 10 to 15 knots tonight becoming easterly around 10 knots Friday. Seas 3 to 5 feet today and 3 to 4 feet tonight. Mostly fair becoming partly cloudy Friday.

According to O'Mara, Ms. Bennett committed suicide Aug. 31 shortly after she learned of the possible sentences for the charges.

The one-day trial was before Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr.

MOTORCYCLE STOLEN

A Sanford man watched a friend ride his $2,000 motorcycle from his home Tuesday afternoon only to find out later the man was not a friend but a thief.

According to a Sanford police report, Douglas Taylor, of 2511 Highlawn Ave., was at home about 12:30 p.m. when he heard someone start his 1983 Yamaha motorcycle. The cycle, fitted for racing, can be started without a key. Taylor looked out his door in time to see a slim blond man in his 20s ride away on the bike.

Thinking it was a friend, Taylor didn't pay much attention. By 3:10 p.m., however, he realized a friend had not borrowed the bike and reported the theft.

FISHY THEFT

Fishing equipment valued at $500 was reported missing from a garage at 3314 Arnel Court, Winter Park. Margot Farr, 41, said her husband's fishing gear was removed from a wall rack in the unlocked garage between Nov. 18 and Dec. 2, a sheriff's deputy reported.

Deputies After Drunk Drivers During Holidays

The Seminole County sheriff's department is intensifying its war on drunk drivers during the holiday season.

Beginning today and continuing through Jan. 1, five patrol units will concentrate on detecting and arresting drunk drivers on week nights and an additional two will come on board for special patrol on weekends.

Sheriff John E. Polk today announced the formation of the task force which will supplement the regular patrol units which cover the county.

Polk said the additional officers will also be on the lookout for other accident-causing violations such as reckless driving.

From April 23rd to Nov. 24th, 559 persons have been arrested for drunk driving in Seminole County, Polk said. These include arrests made by city police as well as by sheriff's deputies.

Thirty eight of those arrests involved traffic accidents with injury to persons or property damage. There were no fatalities caused by drunk drivers during this period, Polk said.

Ten percent of the arrests involved persons under 21 and 483 of the total were men; 76 were women.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Gunter Backs Airbags Or Automatic Seat Belts

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Citing personal and economic loss, Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter has called on the federal government to implement regulations requiring automakers to install passive restraint devices on new cars.

In a letter to Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole, Gunter said the safety devices had the potential for saving 500 lives and $138 million in economic losses in Florida alone.

He said National Highway Traffic and Safety Administration statistics in 1980 indicated passive restraints, in addition to saving 500 lives, would have eliminated 4,300 serious injuries in Florida.

"Of the options available to you, I would urge that you use considerable influence either to retain and implement the rule promulgated during the previous administration or to modify the rule to specify and require a choice of airbags or automatic seat belts," Gunter wrote Mrs. Dole.

Eastern Rescue Hits Snag

MIAMI (UPI) — Eastern Airlines negotiators said they were "99 percent" finished with a financial rescue plan — but the final step could depend on whether the carrier's pilots will contribute more money than other employees.

Eastern is asking its 39,000 employees for about $360 million in cash and productivity concessions. It says it needs to return to profitability.

George Smith, chairman of the Eastern contingent of the Air Line Pilots Association, said the fairest solution would be to have all employees contribute an equal percentage of their salaries.

He said Eastern's 3,900 pilots are willing to contribute at least 20 percent of their pay, or about $70.6 million, to the effort.

But officials from the flight attendants and machinists unions said a flat percentage formula would hurt their members more than the higher-paid pilots. They're pushing for a graduated scale of donations similar to the one used by the Internal Revenue Service.

Sophomore Test Racist, Black Educator Says

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The state's new sophomore-level test will be an "educational earthquake" that will reduce the number of black professionals in future years, according to a black educator.

Walter Mercer, an education professor at Florida A&M University, said the test was symptomatic of a new form of racism being used to shut blacks out of higher education.

"It is a conscious effort to exclude blacks," Mercer said. "It (standardized testing) is the new racism. It's the new segregation. It's present all over the country ... Standardized tests are used to keep blacks down."

Mercer said racism was present in the education bureaucracy, among "safe" blacks who serve on education panels and "think white" and the governor and Cabinet.

Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington discounted the charges, saying the new College Level Academic Skills Test would benefit all students. He said Mercer may have just been trying to attract media coverage.

"Dr. Mercer is a very good friend of mine ... but he has never been in favor of the testing program," he said. "I'm sure his statements should not be taken literally in all cases."

The CLAST test has been used in the past year to counsel students and to try to determine an appropriate passing score. Blacks have scored considerably below other ethnic groups on each part of the four-part test.

Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet are scheduled to set passing scores early next year after hearing recommendations from a special committee.

Mercer said he was disappointed at the composition of the committee, which he said included only blacks from state agencies or "safe" blacks. He said the committee should also include blacks who represent black organizations.

Under an early proposed cut-off score, 56 percent of the blacks who took the test in October would have failed all four parts, while the failure rate among whites was only 17 percent, he said.

"CLAST could be an educational earthquake whose rumblings will effect the number of future black professionals for generations to come," Mercer said. "The CLAST passing scores is the latest edition of racism. Racism can also originate from high level blacks who think 'white.'"

Turlington said the proposed scores were "very reasonable" and it was "high time we stopped coddling people."

Americans Feel Presence of 1984's 'Big Brother'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With 1984 less than a month nearly 70 percent of Americans believe the "Big Brother" government of George Orwell's classic book is almost ready to begin peering into their personal lives, a poll revealed.

Pollster Louis Harris said it is the pervasive computer gadgetry that has convinced many Americans they are close to being a part of the government-monitored society Orwell described in his 1949 novel "1984."

"By a massive 84 percent, most are convinced that it would be almost no problem at all, to put together a file on them that contains all their credit information, employment records, phone calls, where they have lived over the past 10 years, their buying habits, their payment records on debts, the trips they have taken," Harris said.

Many believe that such information files are already being kept for unknown purposes, and 69 percent of Americans think the government-monitored society in George Orwell's 1984 is at least "somewhat close," he said.

But Harris said, "Overwhelming majorities see real and serious and abiding benefits from the dramatic growth of computers in their lives."

He said although many Americans fear nuclear research could lead to the destruction of mankind, 83 percent think science and technology have done "more good than harm."

Most Americans also look forward to shopping, getting news and banking via two-way TV sets in the information age, but he said the poll sponsored by the Southern New England Telephone Co. found a dark side to the new technology that "shoots right out of this study as a bright red warning flare."

More than half of all Americans, including those most familiar with new technologies, think computers are a threat to personal privacy.

The survey also found the public thinks five scenarios in Orwell's book are possible in the United States and four of them are "likely."

Eighty-seven percent said it is possible "individuals will be threatened with disclosure of damaging facts about them" in the new era and 70 percent say it is likely. Eighty-six percent believed

Washington could use information to intimidate groups it thinks are its enemies and 70 percent say it will likely happen.

Eighty-four percent said closed circuit television might be used by government to document compromising activities of many individuals. 67 percent felt it will happen. Seventy-nine percent thought it is possible "confidential information will be used to take away the privacy, the freedom, and the liberty of individuals and groups of individuals. 58 percent said it is likely. Sixty-three percent think computerized information could be taken over by the government to control the population under a totalitarian state. But only 37 percent thought such a development is likely.

Whiff Of Grapeshot

The lesson of Grenada is that the Reagan administration will not shrink from using force when necessary and feasible as an adjunct to diplomacy. The point has not been lost on Fidel Castro, who has assumed an uncharacteristic humility in recent weeks. Nor, we are pleased to note, have the implications of Grenada escaped attention in Managua, Nicaragua, where that country's Marxist dictatorship is rendering the hated yanquis a rare bit of deference.

Washington does not like Nicaragua's Cuban connection. It does not like the enthusiastic cooperation extended to foreign Marxists who use Nicaragua as a haven from which to subvert other Central American states. And Washington wants Nicaragua as a haven from which to subvert other Central American states. And Washington wants Nicaragua's ruling Sandinista junta to start granting some of the democratic freedoms promised during a 1979 revolution that has long since been betrayed.

As recently as a few months ago, the Sandinistas felt safe enough to treat Washington's expressed wishes, not to mention those of many Nicaraguans, with rude contempt. No more.

1,200 Cuban advisers and technicians recently left Nicaragua and returned to Cuba at the request of the Sandinista regime. Foreign guerrilla leaders — El Salvador's Reuben Zamora for one — are reportedly being asked to leave Nicaragua for safer sanctuaries in Mexico and elsewhere. Indeed, there were rumors out of Managua recently that the Sandinistas might possibly select a date a year or two in the future for some kind of elections.

This is all largely window dressing of course. The Cubans who went home were all civilians. An estimated 1,500 military advisers from Cuba and other Soviet bloc countries remain in Nicaragua. The Reuben Zamoras who packed their bags and flew to Mexico City could be back in Nicaragua tomorrow, as could thousands of additional Cubans. In any case, no one believes that the Sandinista regime is likely to give up all of its clandestine support for Marxist revolution elsewhere in Central America.

As for democracy, the Sandinistas are hardly good bets to become the first communist government in history to permit free elections and genuine civil liberties. Nicaraguans who want democracy rather than dictatorship should be joining the anti-Sandinista guerrillas, not waiting for a Marxist regime to repudiate its own ideology.

But even sham concessions make a point. The Sandinistas, already harassed by thousands of anti-communist guerrillas receiving U.S. aid, must now worry that Nicaragua may be the next Grenada. If the Americans themselves are unlikely to invade, the Sandinistas can still find reason to fear an attack by Salvadoran, Honduran, and Guatemalan forces with logistical help from the United States. So, the Sandinistas are eager to suggest that they are open to compromise with even so reactionary an outfit as the Reagan administration.

Put another way, the administration's policy of getting tough with Cuban-backed Marxists in Central America and the Caribbean is achieving results. After Grenada in particular, no would-be Castro in Central America or the Caribbean can be positive that the next yanqui he sees will not be a U.S. Marine. The world can look a lot different from that perspective.

President Reagan has said that, in the long run, peace and stability in Central America are probably incompatible with the continued existence of a Castroite regime in Nicaragua. We agree. But until that happy day when the Sandinistas pack their own bags for Cuba, there is every reason to expect that interim pressures on Nicaragua will produce results. And the more pressure is applied, the better the results are likely to be.

So keep CIA money flowing to the contra guerrillas fighting to pry Nicaragua out of the Cuban/Soviet orbit. Keep the Nicaraguan economy off limits for U.S. aid and trade. Keep up the political pressure on the Sandinistas to honor their pledges of political pluralism and respect for human rights. And keep the Sandinistas mindful that what happened in Grenada could happen elsewhere. Who knows? Doing all this just might make another "rescue operation" unnecessary.

Never mind how tough it was — were you able to buy a Cabbage Patch Kid or not?

By Susan Lodon

Seminole County sheriff's spokesman Tuesday afternoon he showed his first production to a captive audience of new sheriff's department employees.

The 30 employees, who were the first group to see the video tape, met and were reintroduced to the leaders of the different divisions of the sheriff's department by seeing the tape. A tour of the Seminole County Jail was also included.

Spolski said in-person tours are difficult to coordinate, because the key people aren't always available when a new employee is given a tour of the department.

The informal production was produced and directed by Spolski and Lt. Beau Taylor was cameraman. About 3 months ago they surveyed the departments and recorded off-the-cuff comments from people Spolski interviewed and felt a new employee needed to meet. The stars of the tape explained the function of the division they work in and welcomed the newcomers to the team.

The tape emphasizes that there is much more to the sheriff's department than Sheriff John E. Polk himself, or the deputy on patrol, who Spolski said are what most people think of when they think of the department.

Some techniques behind criminal investigations were explained and visualized. The complexities of intake and processing of information were covered and the duties of all employees were outlined.

Polk made an appearance. He said his door is open to the employee who has a personal problem, which might relate to their duty. But he encouraged them to take departmental problems related to their work up through the chain of command. He said if the problem isn't resolved before he is called on for assistance he will determine the final solution.

Deputy Lynn Petta, 29, who has been on patrol five months, said, "The film made me realize how what we do on the road fits into what the other people do to follow up."

Communications department worker Carol Castello, 37, said she wished the tape had been available when she accepted her job five months ago. She had no previous law enforcement experience and said that made it difficult for her to determine who to field what calls to. She said the tape clarifies exactly who is responsible for what within the divisions.

Jacqueline Vesta, 30, also a communications worker, said she thought it was better to work in the department for a while before seeing the tape, because it took a while for her to learn what she didn't know and the film answered all of her questions.

Spolski said the tape will be shown to new employees on a regular basis in groups of five to 10 people.

Sara Albritton, 80, of Sanford, was not mentioned in an earlier article that named the RSV volunteers who assist visitors to the Seminole County sheriff's department. Mrs. Albritton has worked at the sheriff's department for three years.

Reagan's Policy Dilemma

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has not had a news conference since Oct. 19 — his 20th in office.

Since that time the Marine death toll has gone up to 254 from a terrorist bombing and from other hostilities in Lebanon; a U.S. invasion of Grenada; the start of deployment of Pershing-2 and cruise missiles in Europe, causing the Soviet delegation to walk out of the Geneva talks on intermediate range nuclear missiles; and an escalation of violence in Lebanon.

Reagan has made policy statements from time to time, and taken a few questions on the run, but he has not submitted to full-scale questioning. Meanwhile, the administration also initiated an unprecedented blackout so that the media could not cover the first stages of the invasion of Grenada.

Reporters did not demand to be told that an invasion was in the making beforehand, although the press in the Caribbean had reason to believe a military action was afoot. But neither did they expect to be misled. A "no comment" would have sufficed.

Over the past several weeks, there have been reports that Reagan has been in high dudgeon over "leaks" to the press, and has ordered an FBI investigation of his staff to find out who has been talking to reporters. The inquiry also involves the use of lie detectors if thought necessary.

When asked when the president will hold a news conference, spokesman Larry Speakes tells reporters tersely that when Reagan decides to hold one, he will announce it.

No president particularly relishes undergoing questioning. And yet, most have understood that there is a basic "people's right to know" what is going on and where his policies are headed. No formal speech can cover all the bases, and at best is highly selective.

Meanwhile, Speakes has adopted a more confrontational style with the media. He has not had a real vacation in a long time and the strains are beginning to show.

He was kept in the dark when Reagan decided to move into Grenada, and his answers to inquiries the day before were not on target.

Recently, he tried to convey the president's displeasure with chief economic adviser Martin Feldstein over the question of the relationship between taxes, defense spending and deficits. But Speakes was so heavy handed that he appalled some of the White House insiders.

The message that Speakes was conveying was correct: Aides said that Feldstein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, was not on board as a team player. But he used a tone of ridicule, and told reporters at one point with a smile: "I do not really think they actually asked him (Feldstein) to resign."

In his own defense at a briefing, Speakes accused reporters of engaging in most of the ridicule.

Navy's Armada Plagued By Failures

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Navy has put on an awesome show of force recently, with its dozens of gray ships arrayed in battle lines off the shores of Grenada and Lebanon. Viewed from afar, the fleet has been impressive. But viewed up close, in its particulars, the Navy is less inspiring.

Some of its ships are simply unfit for service. Others are plagued by equipment shortages and failures. Only four or five of the Navy's 13 aircraft carriers can be deployed on a sustainable basis. The combat planes they carry are short of vital spare parts.

Over the last four years, the money squeezed out of the taxpayers for new ships and planes has increased 99 percent. Yet the money allocated to keep our existing naval forces combat ready has gone up only 17 percent.

Worse, the admirals have vastly inflated the "mission capability" rates, which measure the Navy's combat

SCIENCE WORLD

Correcting Poor Vision

By John DeMers
NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — An innovative cornea treatment that behaves like a "living contact lens" could give sight to thousands whose vision is so impaired spectacles or contact lenses are useless, Louisiana surgeons say.

The Louisiana team has been working on a sophisticated technique developed by a Bogota, Colombia, doctor decades ago, streamlining it so ophthalmologists anywhere can use it, said Dr. Marguerite McDonald, an assistant professor of ophthalmology at Louisiana State University School of Medicine.

"People who had to put up with thick heavy spectacles and a tremendous amount of distortion were prisoners of their own visual world," said Dr. Miles Friedlander, a clinical professor of ophthalmology at LSU. "Now they can have a safe operation that will let them function normally."

"This is going to be the surgery of the decade, and there's no reason it should be in the hands of a few. We're trying to make it so any competent surgeon who wants to can do it."

Friedlander learned the method in Bogota in 1977. It involves surgically removing part of the patient's cornea — the transparent tissue covering the pupil — freezing it, reshaping it on a lathe, and re-implanting it.

The lathe equipment is too expensive for most ophthalmologists. Dr. McDonald said. The LSU team developed a method whereby donated corneal tissue can be frozen, shaped to a patient's specifications at a central processing area, then freeze-dried and shipped anywhere.

This way, she said, ophthalmologists can fill orders by mail the same way they do with contact lenses.

The freeze-dried tissue, which can be kept indefinitely, is rehydrated in the operating room and then attached permanently to the patient's eye.

"It's a living contact lens," Dr. McDonald said.

Eventually, animal or even synthetic tissue could be used, Friedlander said.

LSU is running a study on whether the operation is any better than a transplant for patients with keratoconus, a warped, steep cornea, he said.

Centers involved in the study are located in New Orleans, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Kansas City, Mo., Minneapolis, Tucson, Ariz., New York, Baltimore, Ann Arbor, Mich., Chicago, Morristown, W.Va., Seattle, Omaha, Neb., and Cincinnati.

A full-fledged report on the operations is expected in about two years, Friedlander said.

A special course in the LSU technique, which carries the tongue-twisting name of "epikeratophakia," was presented at the recent American Academy of Ophthalmology meeting in Chicago.

Friedlander, who is teaching the technique to other physicians, said about seven surgeons in the country perform the operation now — so few because the tissue wasn't available.

Friedlander, who performs epikeratophakia and the Bogota version of the operation, has worked exclusively with people whose sight was so bad even glasses or contacts could not give them normal lives.

His work in about 90 cases has been successful, granting the patients the ability to see with spectacles and vision good enough to escape from a fire or other emergency.

Among those, 12 were infants suffering cataracts. Such patients would probably suffer a loss of visual acuity known as "lazy eye," or amblyopia, after cataract surgery, but Friedlander found the new operation improved their sight when done in conjunction with removal of cataracts.

Recently, Friedlander extended his work to severe cases of astigmatism, an irregularity in the curvature of the eye's lenses.

How Uncle Sam Uses Our Cash

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The final figures are in: For fiscal year 1983, which ended Sept. 30, the federal government spent $795.9 billion and took in $600.6 billion. This means that, officially, the 1983 deficit was by far the largest in history: $195.3 billion.

Where did this money go? Conservatives point to the fact that the top four spending categories were all non-military — Social Security, interest on the public debt, Medicare and unemployment benefits — which proves, they say, that we spend more on social services than on the Pentagon. Liberals might argue that government accounting puts myriad facets of military spending in separate accounts — and that when these accounts are combined, considerably more is going to the Pentagon than to social spending. This is especially so if we count Social Security as a separate category, since it isn't funded out of general tax revenues.

More than 95 percent of the entire federal outlay in fiscal '83 went to 34 categories, each of which totaled more than $4 billion in spending — and since most taxpayers really don't know where their tax dollars go, it might be valuable to list all of these categories.

For fiscal 1983, final U.S. spending figures show the following outlays:

Social Security, $153.8 billion; interest on public debt, $126.8 billion; Medicare hospital fund, $38.5 billion; unemployment benefits, $29 billion; Navy operations, $22.6 billion; Navy procurement, $21.8 billion; Civil Service retirement, $20.8 billion; Air Force procurement, $19.8 billion; Air Force operations, $19.1 billion; Medicaid, $18.9 billion; health trust fund, $18.7 billion; agricultural price supports, $18.7 billion; disability trust fund, $17.5 billion; Medicare medical insurance fund, $17.4 billion;

Army personnel, $17.4 billion; Army operations, $17.2 billion; Navy personnel, $15 billion; veterans benefits and pensions, $13.8 billion; Air Force personnel, $13 billion; foreign military sales grants, $12.4 billion; food stamps, $11.8 billion; Army procurement, $11.4 billion; Air Force research and development, $9.1 billion; Highway Trust Fund, $8.7 billion;

Supplemental Security Income Program, $8.7 billion; Social Security Assistance Payment Program, $7.8 billion; veterans' health care, $7.6 billion; Navy research and development, $5.8 billion; Pentagon general operations, $5.8 billion; railroad retirement fund, $5.6 billion; NASA research and development, $5.3 billion; revenue sharing, $4.6 billion; low-income housing assistance, $4.9 billion; and student financial assistance, $4 billion.

In fiscal 1983, the administration introduced its payment-in-kind (PIK) agricultural support program, in which farmers are paid not to plant, getting government-owned-and-stored commodities in return. The cost of the program skyrocketed well above estimates; as a result, agricultural price supports showed the largest increase in any federal program — 61 percent over the previous year's total.

secretary. Afterward, an aide denied that Schoultz said it.

Classified reports provide examples of the kind of ships Lehman wants to buy with big bucks that might be better spent on essential weapons and supplies. Here are three.

— The billion-dollar, Aegis-equipped cruiser: A secret report by the GAO reveals that the cruiser's radar defenses have yet to be tested in a realistic situation.

— The LHD-1, the Marines' newest assault ship: Internal Pentagon notes indicate that the vessel is over-priced and badly designed.

— The DDG-51, a guided-missile destroyer that Lehman wants as the backbone of his 600-ship fleet: A secret GAO assessment concluded that this floating fortress is way over-priced. Yet there are 60 of them on the secretary's wish list.

Researcher Links High Salt Intake To Stomach Cancer

WARSAW, Va. (UPI) — A researcher who linked high salt consumption to stroke in some eastern Virginia areas believes the same habits also contribute to stomach cancer.

Dr. George Moore, director of the Northern Neck Health District, studied the Northern Neck, Middle Peninsula and Eastern Shore, where diets traditionally have been high in salt.

He compiled statistics showing the rate of deaths attributable to stomach cancer in his jurisdiction from 1974 to 1978 was double that of the rest of Virginia.

In the Middle Peninsula and Eastern Shore, the rate was 120 percent of the rest of the state, he said.

Residents of those coastal areas tended, in the past, to have diets high in salt, he said.

"The diet of most residents in the Northern Neck up to the 1950s consisted largely of salted fish, pickled meats and vegetables," and salt-cured bacon, ham and sausage," he said.

In March, Moore published an article in Virginia Medical, a health journal, linking salt ingestion and stroke mortality in eastern Virginia.

A Belgian epidemiologist wrote afterwards and sought further information for a study of salt intake and stomach cancer. Dr. J.V. Joosens has found higher death rates from stroke and stomach cancer where salt intake is unusually high.

He wrote Moore and suggested the Virginian study a possible link to stomach cancer mortality.

Moore used state Health Department data for his analysis. "When we correlate stroke to stomach cancer mortality for the same populations, we find that the risk of both stomach cancer and stroke is proportionately the same," he said.

Joosens, Moore said, "has developed a rather convincing argument that high salt ingestion leads both to gastric cancer and stroke disease."

Joosens' research reported salt has been suspected as a possible factor in stomach cancer among Japanese since the early 1950s.

High salt intake, the Belgian found, caused an increase in bacterial growth because of high acidity levels in the stomach, and slowed the path of food through the small intestine.

"These factors allow conversion of nitrites in foods consumed to nitrates, and the subsequent development of nitrosamines, which have been shown to be potent cancer-producing chemicals," Moore said.

Florida Ranks 5th In College Funding

By United Press International

Florida ranks fifth in spending for higher education, but because of its high enrollment, students are getting a smaller piece of the pie than the totals indicate, a new study shows.

Florida appropriated $956 million for colleges and universities this year, the fifth highest college expenditure in the nation, according to a study by M.M. Chambers, professor of education administration at Illinois State University.

'Florida is one of the lowest among the states in dollars appropriated for each full-time community college student.'

—Dr. Edward Eissey
PBJC President

But the nationwide study by Chambers also notes that because of high college enrollment in the Sunshine State, spending per student is 16th in the nation. Florida spent $4,038 for each college student this year.

California's spending was the highest in the nation with $3.1 billion, but California ranked 40th in per-student expenditures, with $3,224.

Alaska led the per-student grouping with $12,000 followed by two other smaller states — Wyommunty colleges. That makes Florida third in community college funding behind California and Texas, but officials say comparisons are difficult.

Palm Beach Junior College President Dr. Edward Eissey pointed out that many states don't have a community college system and Florida "has the second or third largest number of community colleges in the nation."

"Florida is one of the lowest among the states in dollars appropriated for each full-time community college student," he said.

Chambers said his nationwide figures showed that state legislatures responded to President Reagan's reduced federal funding by providing more state money. He also said every state had increased its taxes in the last three years.

The 50 states appropriated $25.4 billion for colleges and universities this year, an increase of 5 percent over last year and 12 percent over two years ago.

A new study detailing state funding for higher education underscores the importance of state and local sources to the U.S. education system. A government analysis of 1982 education financing found more than half of all school dollars came from local or state sources.

The Big E now has even lower rates!

You can still get the mortgage package that offers a rock bottom rate and a down payment of only 5%!*

Right now, you can still get one of the best mortgage packages offered anywhere. It's the Big E ARM (Adjustable Rate Mortgage), a revolutionary new plan which combines an incredibly low rate with a down payment of just 5%. The Big E ARM makes home buying affordable for almost everybody.

With the Big E ARM, your low rate is guaranteed for the first year. Then it can be adjusted up or down once yearly. Because your rate is tied to the One-Year Treasury Security Index, adjustments are not random but are kept in step with the economy. You're ensured a fair rate for the life of your mortgage!

The sound thinking behind the Big E ARM has produced some impressive response. In less than one year, we've accepted nearly $930 million in applications for the ARM. Scores of businessmen and consumers nationwide have rallied behind the package. Their support has been echoed personally by President Reagan, who has praised the Big E ARM as a "bold plan" which has had a "tremendously positive effect" on the economy.

Besides offering incredible rates, the Big E ARM has some very strong advantages. Should you decide to sell, the ARM is fully assumable at the then current rate - with no points to you the seller. It carries a 2% ceiling on any annual rate increases. And, because you get a low initial rate, your payments are lower and you get more house for the money!

But the biggest plus is getting your home now, on solid terms. With all the proven advantages of the Big E ARM, there's no reason to wait! Why not visit a Big E mortgage expert today?

*Loans of $108,300 or more will require a down payment larger than 5%.

Hillery's 18 Rebounds Wash Away Seabreeze

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

When a team is coming off a big victory over an arch rival, it is often hard to get up for the next game. Sanford's Lady Seminoles, after routing Lake Mary on Monday night, were a bit sluggish Wednesday night against the Lady Sand Crabs of Daytona Beach Seabreeze.

The difference, however, was again Deldre Hillery. Seminole's senior center poured in 16 points and grabbed 18 rebounds, both game highs, and she also did an outstanding defensive job on Seabreeze's Michelle Tolliver to lead the Lady Tribe to a 52-49 victory in Five Star Conference basketball action at Seminole High.

"We left our game over at Lake Mary," Seminole coach Ron Merithie said. "We weren't ready to play and we didn't execute at all."

Seminole improved to 5-1 overall and 2-0 in the Five Star Conference. The Lady Tribe hosts Daytona Beach Mainland tonight at 8 with junior varsity action starting at 6. In other county action, Lake Mary travels to Lake Howell for a crucial Five Star Conference battle while Lyman is on the road against Apopka.

Hillery, who has recorded double figures in both rebounds and scoring in all six of Seminole's games this season, held Tolliver to just seven points. Tolliver is considered one of the top players in Central Florida.

Both teams came out slow in the first half with Hillery's work underneath enabling Seminole to keep from falling behind. Hillery had 11 rebounds in the first half and the Lady Tribe held a slim 22-20 lead at halftime.

The Lady Seminoles came on strong in the third quarter, hitting 7 of 10 shots from the floor, and taking a 39-26 lead into the fourth quarter. Mona Benton, who was scoreless in the first half, scored eight points in the third quarter. Seabreeze went into a shooting slump in the quarter, hitting just 2 of 11 shots from the floor.

Seminole took its biggest lead, 15 points, early in the fourth quarter as Sherry Carpenter hit a layup for a 41-26 lead. However, numerous turnovers and missed shots enables the Sand Crabs to crawl back into the game.

five points, 48-43, with 1:33 left, out-scoring Seminole, 17-7, since Carpenter's layup. The Lady Tribe came back to take a seven-point lead with less than a minute left, but Seabreeze cut it to four, 52-48, with 12 seconds left. A Seminole turnover gave it back to the Sand Crabs, who had a chance to cut it to two. But, Seabreeze missed two shots and the buzzer sounded just in time to save the Lady Seminoles.

Behind Hillery's fine performance, Benton added 10 points and Maxine Campbell tossed in eight. Tolliver added nine rebounds to her seven points for Seabreeze. Diane Wesley led Seabreeze with 12 points and she also added nine rebounds and Sheila Tolliver added 11 points and 10 rebounds.

Seminole made 23 of 54 shots on the night from the floor for 43 percent while the frosted Lady Sand Crabs were 19 of 67 for 28 percent. The Lady Tribe out rebounded Seabreeze, 32-30.

At Lake Brantley High, the Lady Patriots went on a 23-3 third quarter blitz en route to a 60-36 victory over Orlando Boone. Lake Brantley turned a 21-21 halftime tie into a 44-24 lead going into the fourth quarter. The Lady Patriots scored the first 14 points of the third quarter.

Lake Brantley, 3-3, travels to Daytona Beach Friday to take on Five Star Conference foe Seabreeze.

Lake Mary Flattens Mainland; Lyman Crushes Sand Crabs

Lake Mary's wrestling Rams are slipping — but just a little. The Rams accumulated eight pins Wednesday night as they flattened Mainland's Bucs, 60-12, in Five Star Conference wrestling action at Lake Mary High.

It was Lake Mary's second straight win, the first a 10-pin, 63-12 victory over Leesburg Friday night. The Rams look for win number three Friday night at home when they take on Seabreeze. Lake Mary's junior varsity also won its second in a row with a 48-21 decision.

"We wrestled pretty well again," said coach Frank Schwartz. "But I expected them to be stronger. Mainland and Seabreeze used to be two good wrestling schools. I don't know what happened to them."

It was obvious Wednesday night. The Bucs spent too much time looking at the ceiling.

Craig Johnson (100), Ivan Carbia (114), Matt Broberg (128), Todd Beauchamp (140), Bob Olson (147), Walter White (157), Ned Kolbjornsen (222) and Robert Rawls (UNL) all flattened their opponents as the Rams won 11 of the 13 weight divisions.

Carbia turned in a quickie, sticking Willie Mitchell to the canvas in just 17 seconds with a double-leg to a half-nelson. Broberg needed just 38 ticks to subdue Pete Franklin with a single-leg pick which dropped Franklin to his back. Kolbjornsen went with a basic head-and-arm to smother Frank Gordon in just 40 seconds.

"Ned's kid was pretty big, but he just muscled him," said Schwartz. "The weight program really paid off for Ned."

Coach Skip Pletzer's Lyman Greyhounds didn't have much more of a problem with Seabreeze, crushing the Sand Crabs, 50-16, at Lyman High.

"We either win big or lose," said Pletzer about his team's second win in three outings. "We got beat by Colonial because of the pins. We decided to use more basic moves. We didn't use anything fancy, just the basics."

Lyman used five pins to crumple the Crabs. Senior Derek Smith (157), whose brother Dirk was a standout performer for the 'Hounds last year, ran his record to 3-0 with a pin of Charles Grant. It was Smith's first match at 157 after opening the season with a pair of victories at 169.

Bobby Williams (107), Mike Koski (140), Scott Bogden (187) and David Yerashunas (222) joined the pin club with Smith. Williams used a spiral ride to a half-nelson while Bogden used a cross face to a half-nelson. Yerashunas and Koski also used half-nelsons.

Lyman host a tri-match Saturday with Mainland and DeLand beginning at 11 a.m. The Greyhounds' junior varsity also stomped Seabreeze, 58-15.

In other prep wrestling action Friday, coach Kevin Carpenter's Lake Brantley Patriots will hit the mat for the first time when they host Seminole and Orlando Oak Ridge for a tri-match.

Lake Howell travels to Bishop Moore and coach John Horn's red-hot Oviedo Lions look for their sixth straight victory at Orlando Evans. Oviedo goes to Winter Garden to take on West Orange Saturday while the Patriots follow up with a match in Gainesville against Buchholz.

Tribe Holds Off Scrappy Lions, 60-43

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Oviedo basketball coach Dale Phillips remarked before Wednesday's with Sanford's Fighting Seminoles, "that if the score gets too bad (in Seminole's favor), we'll pack up and go home at halftime."

Phillips, of course, was being facetious.

Even without Ronnie

Murphy or Troy

Kassinger or Horace

Roland, his Lions

have always been a smart and scrappy bunch.

Wednesday night, nevertheless, the Lions were smart and scrappy, but too sloppy to pull a second upset over the Seminoles. Oviedo committed 30 turnovers — including three straight in the fourth period when the Lions were within striking range — and eventually fell to Seminole, 60-43, before 500 fans at Seminole High School.

The victory evened Seminole's record at 1-1 after Tuesday's opening-season setback Tuesday to Lake Mary. Seminole faces fifth-ranked Daytona Beach Mainland at home Friday. Oviedo is 1-2. The Lions host Wymore Tech Friday before traveling to Lake Brantley Saturday.

As it did in Tuesday's loss, Seminole had trouble handling a 1-3-1 defense. The Lions collapsed on 6-3 center Willie Mitchell, making it difficult for the all-state prospect to get the ball.

"We're not executing our zone offense," said Marlette. "We have a baseline offense, but we can't get the ball down to the baseline. Our guards are waiting until they're trapped to pass the ball."

Oviedo started quickly, hitting its first six shots to take a 12-10 edge. Seminole, however, was controlling the offensive boards and Jimmy Gilchrist went sky high for a tip in and the next time down the floor junior Kenny Gordon slam-dunked the 'Noles into a 16-12 first quarter lead.

Seminole spurred to a 20-12 bulge in the second period as forward William Wynn hit Bruce Franklin for two breakaway buckets, but Oviedo closed to three points as Mike Schwab countered with two short jump shots.

Gilchrist, though, tipped in another bucket and the left-handed Wynn slammed one right-handed to send Sanford into halftime with a 32-20 lead.

Gilchrist (6), Mitchell (6), Wynn (5) and Gordon (4) helped the Tribe out rebound Oviedo, 22-5, in the first 16 minutes. Mitchell total 12 points while Gilchrist added eight and Franklin seven. Schwab and Darrin Reichle each had six for the Lions.

Mitchell, who had an off night shooting (3-13) against Lake Mary, regained his touch in the second half. The senior center was just 4 of 14 in the first half, but had several "around and outs." In the final half, Mitchell hit 4 of 5 shots to finish with 22 points and nine rebounds.

"I was overexcited against Lake Mary," said Mitchell. "I couldn't get my shot together. But it will improve. I went inside more the second half and it helped. I'll have it together for Mainland."

Despite Mitchell's eight, third-quarter points, Oviedo hung tough by making 6 of 7 free throws — five by Schwab — to close within 45-36 at the end of the third period.

Guard Steve Cohen hit a jumper and Mike Wicks added a free throw to pull the Lions even closer, but Franklin picked Kelly Klukis clean for a breakaway layup and Gordon dropped two free throws for a 51-39 bulge with four minutes left.

Seminole promptly went to its delay game, but Ed Norton came up with a steal and fed Wicks for a layup to pull Oviedo within 51-41 with 3:09 to play.

On the next three possessions, however, Oviedo threw the ball out of bounds after missed Seminole shots. Klukis finally converted two free throws to cut the margin to eight, but just 1:40 remained.

Sanford then ran off the final nine points to close out the game.

"If we play like this against Mainland, we'll get embarrassed," said Marlette. "We haven't worked on our 1-3-1 offense much in practice, which is my fault. But we will work on it Thursday."

Franklin joined Mitchell in double figures with 10 points while Gordon finished with nine and Gilchrist, who was bothered by foul trouble in the second half, chipped in eight. Gilchrist had eight boards while Wynn had seven and Gordon nine.

Schwab led Oviedo with 16 points.

Hill, Williams Lead JV Rout

In the junior varsity game, coach John McNamara's Seminoles improved their record to 2-0 with an easy 59-35 victory over the Lions.

Forward Robert Hill continued his devastating board work as the muscular sophomore collected eight points and 14 rebounds. Against Lake Mary Tuesday, Hill ripped 18 rebounds and scored 26 points as the Tribe routed the Rams.

Hill received some outside firepower from 5-7 Daryl Williams who hit several corner jumpers and finished with 22 points as Seminole built a 22-13 halftime lead, then outscored Oviedo, 19-8, in the third period to pull out the game.

Oviedo received a strong effort from 6-2 freshman Rob Hughes who tossed in 13 points and Burnell Simmons who added 10.

Alvin Jones was also in double figures for the Tribe with 13 points while Mike Wright chipped in six.

Freshmen Wallop Lake Howell

Coach Bill Klein's freshman eagles, 6-0, made it a clean sweep for the Seminoles as they walloped Lake Howell, 59-20, at Lake Howell Wednesday.

Big Rod Henderson tossed in 18 points, Jerry Parker threw in 12 and David Kneubel add 11 as the freshmen rolled to an early lead and never looked back.

Shane Johnson led the Hawks with 10 points.

Rams' Relentless Attack Tips Lions — Seminole Falls

Lake Mary's relentless offensive attack was too much for Oviedo's Lions to handle as the Rams outshot the Lions, 32-6, en route to a 4-1 victory Wednesday night in prep soccer action at Lake Mary High.

The Rams now stand at 2-1 for the season and go up against Five Star Conference foe Lake Howell in a big game Friday night at Lake Mary with junior varsity action starting at 6 and varsity at 8. Oviedo, 0-1, travels to Winter Garden to take on West Orange High Friday.

"It wasn't a picture-perfect game, but we needed it to build our confidence," Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle said. "We're going to have to play better than we did tonight to beat Lake Howell."

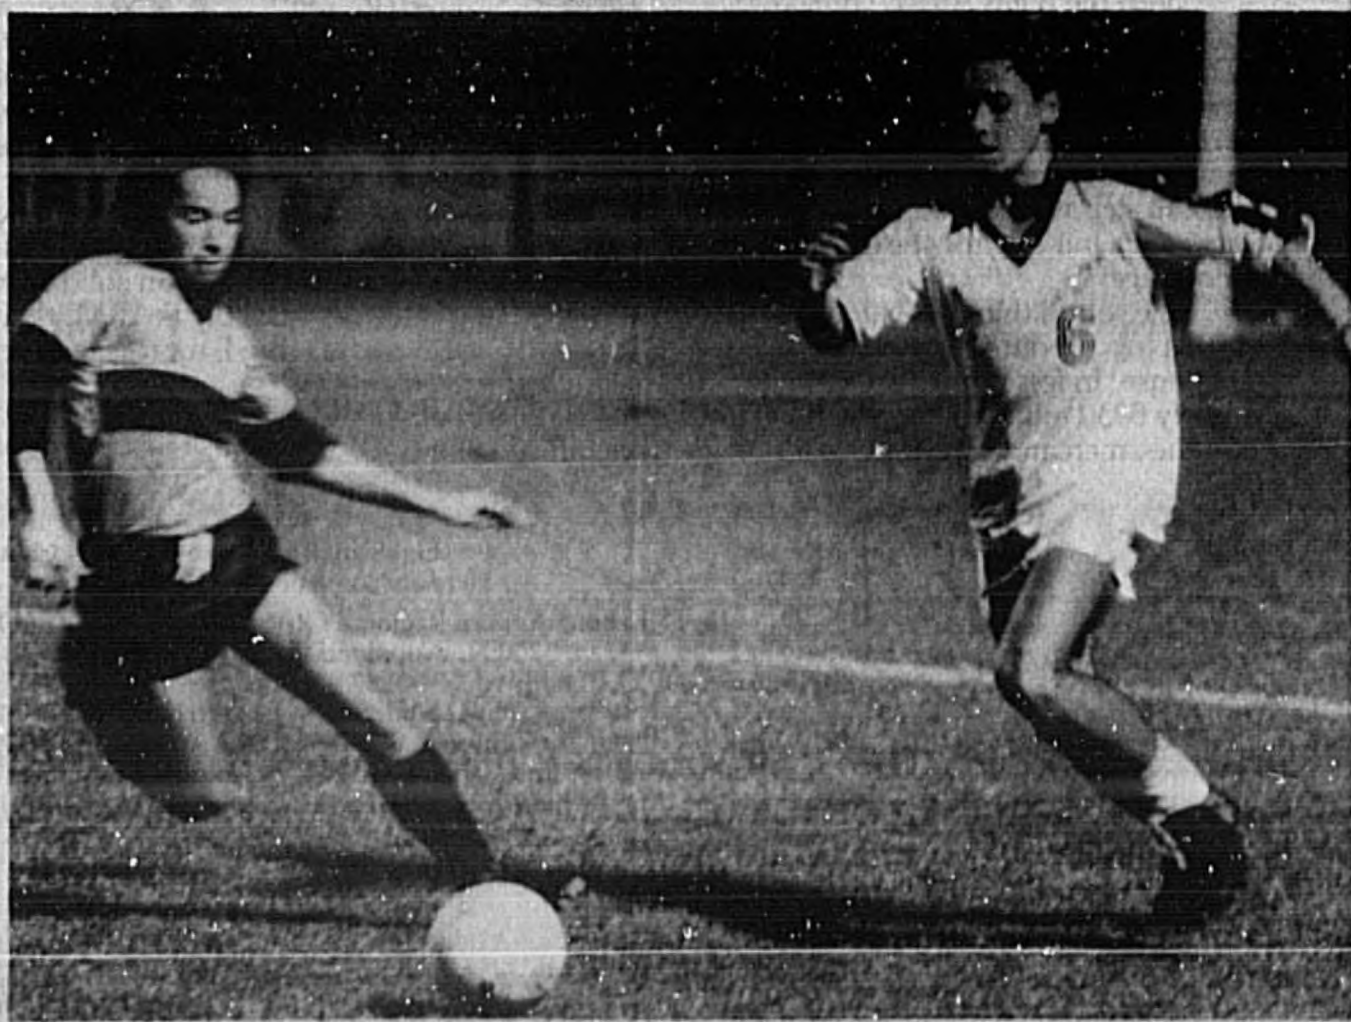

Lake Mary, which had lost two game to the Lions last season, came right out and took control. The Rams' first goal was scored 12 minutes into the game, but the player who scored it had only been in the game for 20 seconds.

McCorkle put Louis Rosen in for Donald Kelly so that the coach could give Kelly some instructions. Twenty seconds later, Rosen received a cross from Andre Sanders and scored the game's first goal.

Marcus Siebmann gave Lake Mary a 2-0 lead as he scored from 12 yards out with the assist again going to Sanders. The Rams' 2-0 lead held up at halftime, but Lake Mary was turned away on some other opportunities on nice saves by Oviedo goalkeeper Gordon King. The Lions' freshman keeper had 13 saves for the game.

In other varsity action, powerful Orlando Bishop Moore exploded for six goals in the first half en route to a 7-1 victory over Seminole at Bishop Moore High.

Parker Takes Voluntary Shave To Ease Cincinnati Transition

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — We've still got that crisis in the Middle East, and there's one thing you can say for Dave Parker. He wasn't going to start a new one in the Midwest.

What was the point when it was so easy to avoid? He knew all about the policy the Cincinnati Reds have about their players wearing any facial hair. The Reds don't like it at all. He also remembers that Vern Rapp's first big problem after taking over as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals six years ago was with Al Hrabosky when The Mad Hungarian refused to shave his beard.

Rapp was going to be Parker's new manager now with the Reds. Rapp still isn't thrilled over guys with beards. Neither is Bob Howsam, the man who runs the Reds from the front office. So Tuesday night, after agreeing to a two-year contract for something like $800,000 a year with the Reds and before showing up at the baseball meetings here, Dave Parker raised the white towel of surrender and shaved off the beard he has worn the past eight years. You think he's a dope? Not on your life. Who needs more problems?

"It was something I did voluntarily," Parker revealed, laughing over a question he anticipated before it was even asked.

Parker had to do something very few ballplayers do nowadays. He had to take a cut. For one of the most fundamental reasons in the world, supply and demand.

Five years ago, he not only was able to write his own ticket, he did. Named the National League's MVP after winning the batting title two years in a row, he was the best player in the game at the time.

The Pirates were so anxious to lock him up and keep him happy, they gave him a five-year contract that escalated to $1 million plus a year making him the Dave Winfield of his time because nobody had ever gotten a more lucrative contract up to then.

But things never were quite the same after that for Parker. First he was hit by injuries and when he was unable to play, being a big man, he naturally put on weight sitting around and ballooned to Goodyear proportions. His batting average nose-dived to .258 two years ago, and worse yet, he stopped doing what he always did best, driving in runs.

Sports Parade

He started out the past season wretchedly and needed a strong second half to finish up with .279 and 69 ribbies. Generally ignored when he went through the re-entry draft as a free agent last month, Parker was selected by only three clubs.

For years, Howsam shunned players in the re-entry draft. He lost players like Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Tony Perez through free agency and dealt Ken Griffey, Dave Collins and George Foster before they became free agents.

Parker is the first player the Reds have signed coming out of the re-entry draft and Howsam couldn't have looked more pleased standing alongside his new 32-year-old right fielder.

He talked about how happy the Reds were to have him in their lineup. Rapp said much the same thing, adding that he felt the addition of Parker would make the Reds a contender. Standing in the glare of the tv lights, Parker somehow looked years younger. Maybe it was because he had shaved his beard.

He said he was "totally delighted" to be with the Reds and his expression showed it. He was coming "home" to Cincinnati, where he was raised and had been an all-star football player in high school.

But he still felt "a lot of allegiance" to Pittsburgh, which had given him his first opportunity to play professional baseball and where he had developed a deep and genuine affection for his manager, Chuck Tanner.

In this day and age, it isn't too common for players to speak with any great warmth about their managers, particularly after they leave him, but Parker's regard for Tanner is sincere.

"It was very close to Chuck Tanner, but it came time for me to move on," Parker said.

The two men said their goodbyes to one another near the end of the season when both had a pretty fair idea Parker wouldn't be with the Pirates anymore next year.

Parker came into Tanner's office and the Pittsburgh manager told him he had to decide what was best for him and his family insofar as his becoming a free agent was concerned.

"I consider him like a son," declared Tanner, who is among the baseball men here when he learned Parker had signed with the Reds.

"Without question, he's one of the greatest players I ever managed. I put him in the same category as players I had like Richie Allen and Willie Stargell. He knows how I feel about him as a person and a player. He's one of the most misunderstood players in the entire game. He has so much compassion for young people and he has done so many things for others without publicity.

"They called Pete Rose 'Charlie Hustle.' Dave Parker is out of the same mold. He's a leader and he's a competitor, and I don't know of anyone better when there's money on the line. He'll be a big plus for the Reds. Will we miss him? You bet we will."

Managers don't talk about too many players like that, either.

Baseball Trading Heats Up; Dodgers Deal Baker To A's

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Dusty Baker, a major contributor to three Los Angeles Dodger pennants, has been traded to the Oakland A's for two minor-league prospects.

The trade was completed late Wednesday night by Dodger general manager Al Campanis and Baker's agent, Jerry Kapstein. Baker had veto power over the deal since he is a 10-and-5 player (10 years in the majors and five with the same team) and has a no-trade clause in his contract.

The names of minor-leaguers from the Oakland organization were not announced.

Baker, 34, is the fourth member of the Dodger championship teams to be let go in the past three years. Second baseman Dave Lopes and third baseman Ron Cey were traded and first baseman Steve Garvey was allowed to play out his option and signed as a free agent with the San Diego Padres.

One of the most popular Dodger players, Baker was bothered by injury much of last season. But he had a strong second half and finished with a .260 average and 15 home runs. He has been the club's left fielder the past eight seasons since coming to them in a trade with the Atlanta Braves.

It was also a day of activity for four of baseball's lesser lights: the Seattle Mariners, Chicago Cubs, Texas Rangers and Minnesota Twins.

Seattle bolstered its offense by getting outfielder Gorman Thomas from Cleveland. Chicago improved its starting pitching by obtaining Scott Sanderson from Montreal. Texas added some punch by acquiring outfielder Gary Ward from Minnesota and the Twins helped their pitching staff by picking up Mike Smithson and John Butcher from the Rangers.

In another transaction, the Cincinnati Reds, who traditionally have shunned the free agent market, signed outfielder Dave Parker to a two-year, $1.4 million contract that includes additional performance bonuses.

"I think I'm still a quality player," said Parker, who the two-time National League batting champ who has been plagued by injuries the past few seasons. "I think I'll prove that in the coming year. I feel I'm still capable of hitting .300 with 20 to 25 homers."

For all of the day's wheeling and dealing, George Steinbrenner never made a sound. The principal owner of the New York Yankees did not fire his manager, Billy Martin, nor did he wish to discuss the situation.

Baseball

However, it is still believed he will make a managerial change, although it may not come until next week in New York.

Steinbrenner probably will be too busy today to do anything about his manager. He will be involved in the American League owners' meeting in the morning at which Dr. Bobby Brown, the noted cardiologist and former major leaguer, is expected to be named league president.

The Search Committee also will address the subject of the new commissioner at today's joint meeting. The committee is expected to recommend Peter Ueberroth, president of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee, and James Baker, the White House chief of staff.

Most of the talk in the hotel lobby, however, was about Wednesday's trades.

The Cubs, Expos and Padres got things started early Wednesday morning with a five-player deal. It began with the Padres sending reliever Gary Lucas to the Expos for Sanderson. Then the Padres turned around and sent Sanderson to the Cubs for reliever Craig Lefferts, first baseman Carmelo Martinez and third baseman Fritz Connally.

Martinez and Connally were considered top Cubs prospects, but General Manager Dallas Green and Manager Jim Frey jumped at the chance of getting a quality starting pitcher.

"We came here trying to get two starting pitchers and we're halfway there," said Frey. "We had to give up something and that's the way we decided to go."

Sanderson, 27, is coming off a subpar season in which he went 6-7 with a 4.65 ERA. Lucas, 29, is a left-hander who went 5-8 record with a 2.87 ERA and 17 saves for the Padres.

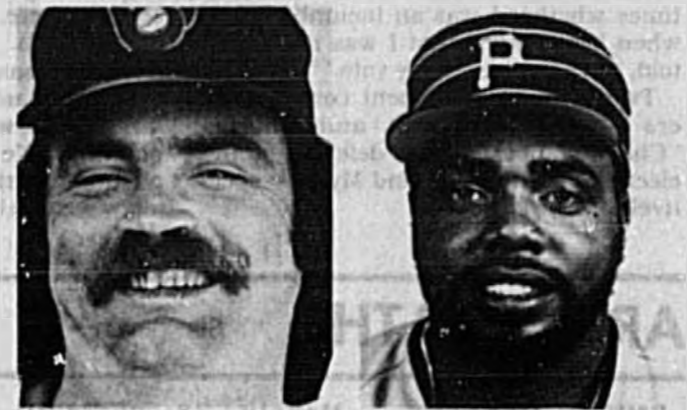

In Thomas, the Mariners have one of the AL's premier power hitters. The 33-year-old outfielder had requested a trade and he dealt, with second baseman Jack Perconte, for second baseman Tony Bernazard.

Thomas hit only .209 with 21 homers while splitting the season between Milwaukee and Cleveland. He tied for the league lead in homers in 1982, Bernazard, 27, batted .265 last season while splitting time with the White Sox and Mariners. He will be the Indians' second baseman.

In acquiring Ward, the Rangers surrendered pitchers Smithson and Butcher. Ward hit 19 homers and knocked in 88 runs last season and hit 28 homers and knocked in 91 runs in 1982.

Smithson, a 6-foot-8 right-hander, went 10-14 with a 3.91 ERA in 33 games as a starter. Butcher was used mostly in relief and went 6-6 with a 3.51 ERA and five saves.

In other developments, the San Francisco Giants acquired outfielder Tommy Francis as the player to be named in the trade that sent Champ Summers to the Padres for Joe Pittman two days ago; the Yankees signed free agent catcher Mike O'Brien; the Toronto Blue Jays signed shortstop Alfredo Griffin to a five-year contract, and the Twins signed infielder John Castino to a four-year pact.

Cards Rout No. 5 Iowa; Tide Rolls To 4th Straight

LOUISVILLE (UPI) — It happens a lot like this in Louisville.

"When you are outcoached and outplayed there's nothing much you can do," said Iowa coach George Raveling.

Iowa, ranked fifth in the country and coming off a strong victory over Oregon State, was pressed and rebounded from one end of Freedom Hall to another Wednesday night as the Cardinals administered a 79-58 beating.

Lancaster Gordon hit for 20 points while Charles Jones took on Iowa's bruising frontline for 14 points (7-of-8 shooting) and seven rebounds.

Louisville led 30-29 at halftime and hiked it to 49-35 with 13:58 remaining. The best Iowa could do was pull within 6 points with 7 1/2 minutes left.

Jeff Hall and Milt Wagner each added 15 for the Cardinals. Jones, a 6-foot-8 senior, had to bang bodies with 6-10 Greg Stokes and 8-11 Michael Payne and made for considerable trouble.

"(He) had an outstanding game on me," Stokes said. "I wasn't really mentally prepared to play and he was hard to keep off the boards."

The Hawkeyes, 3-1, were led by Steve Carlino with 17 points and Stokes with 16 points and 14 rebounds. Louisville already has lost twice this year — to Kentucky and Purdue — but Raveling isn't about to let the won-loss column cloud the issue.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Buck Johnson fired in 23 points and Terry Williams had 21, including 13 straight in the second half, to lead unbeaten Alabama to an 87-64 romp over East Tennessee State Wednesday night.

Johnson had 18 points in the first half and Williams took command after intermission as the Tide blew open a close game to run its record to 4-0.

Center Bobby Lee Hurt added 16 points and 10 rebounds for Alabama. Johnson led all rebounders with 12. East Tennessee, 1-4, was led by James Tandy with 22 points and Marcus Reese with 12.

The Bucs trailed 43-37 at the half but our minutes after intermission Williams hit a baseline jumper, starting a six-minute spurt in which he would score 13 straight points for the Tide. East Tennessee could manage only 6 points over the same period to fall behind 69-47 midway through the second half.

In other Top 20 games, No. 12 Boston College ripped Brown 90-59 and No. 13 North Carolina State downed Western Carolina 82-61.

At Newton, Mass., Jay Murphy scored 17 points and Michael Adams added 16 as the Eagles ran their record to 5-0. Brown, down 47-32 at the half, was paced by Mike Waitkus with 12 points.

At Raleigh, N.C., Lorenzo Charles struck for 27 points to highlight N.C. State's home-opener. The Wolfpack, 6-1, had 16 points from Terry Gannon. Quinton Lytle led Western Carolina with 19.

Elsewhere, Dan Federmann's 24 points paced Tennessee over Morehead State 75-63; Miami of Ohio dropped Dayton 67-59 behind Ron Harper's 30 points and 15 rebounds; Vince Kelley's 20 points led Colorado over Colorado State 69-58; Washington beat Missouri 54-49 with Detlef Schrempf scoring 17 points; Art Aaron's 16 points lifted Northwestern past Notre Dame 40-36 in overtime; Providence edged Marquette 64-60 in overtime behind the late scoring of Brian Waller and Ray Knight; and Dannie Jones had 19 points as Nevada-Reno upset California 57-54.

Duke dunned Ohio U. 82-63 as Johnny Dawkins scored 21 points; Gary Springer's 24 points carried Iowa past Detroit 91-81; Quentin Anderson struck for 21 of his 23 points in the second half and Texas Tech stopped New Mexico State 79-66; Wisconsin defeated Northern Illinois 90-68 behind Cory Blackwell's 18 points; Tim Kearney's 16 points pushed West Virginia past Robert Morris 72-62; and Granger Hall scored 21 points as Temple knocked down Bowling Green 79-70.

All-American Midget Rebels Capture Crown

The All-American Midget Rebels claimed their second consecutive Pop Warner State Championship with a hard-fought 22-15 victory over the Orange Park Chargers this past Saturday in the Timucua Bowl at Keystone Heights High School.

The Midget Rebels, 10-0 for the regular season, defeated the Orange Park team, 9-1, on the strength of defense and a ball-control offense. Safies Mark Ogier, Phillip Page and Joe Baumgardner were put to the test by Orange Park's wide-open passing attack.

After a scoreless first half, the speed of the Chargers was evident as they scored touchdowns on a 80-yard kickoff return and a 60-yard run from scrimmage. Except for the two long touchdown runs, Orange Park was held in check by the awesome Rebels' defense led by Scott Stiles, Greg Markham, Sean Casterline, Steve Ogier and Robb Boss. Boss came up with an interception to thwart the last Orange Park drive of the game.

The Rebels first two touchdowns came at the end of sustained drives, which ate up the clock and kept the ball away from the Chargers. Skip MacMillan and Johnny Griffin scored behind the blocking of Derek Willong, Lance Stewart and Jeff Froemming. The consistent blocking of Jack Campbell, David Smith and Mike Mandeville allowed Rebel running backs Chad Groseclose and Todd Fuggi to pile up the yardage.

The Rebels' winning TD came on a 40-yard pass from quarterback Kelly McKinnon to Dennis Hoban with less than two minutes remaining in the game.

Pop Warner National notified the Rebels that, out of 3,200 teams that applied for the National Championship games, the Rebels ranked fourth in the Midget Division in the southern tier.

Soviets Break Off Nuclear Arms Talks

WORLD IN BRIEF

NATO Pushing For Shultz-Gromyko Meeting

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Western European officials concerned about tense U.S.-Soviet relations want Secretary of State George Shultz to agree at the NATO conference today to seek a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, alliance sources said.

The 16 NATO foreign ministers are to hold what is described as a "super-restricted session" to discuss the current problems facing the Western alliance.

Shultz also planned to meet with foreign ministers of the other three nations in the multinational peace-keeping force in Lebanon to discuss ways of increasing its effectiveness.

Oil Price To Remain Same

GENEVA, Switzerland — OPEC reached a general consensus Wednesday to freeze oil prices and production at current levels but a handful of the cartel's member nations, including warring Iran and Iraq, demanded increases in their individual output quotas.

The price for crude oil will remain at $29 a barrel, OPEC officials said after the meeting. But the sticky question of whether to increase output quotas remained for today's session.

Iran and Iraq are pushing for higher quotas in order to finance the war between them.

Coffee Harvest Disrupted

United Press International
One thousand Salvadoran soldiers, backed by U.S.-supplied warjets and artillery, attacked leftist rebel forces holding five coffee plantations and threatening the harvest of the vital crop.

Guerrillas stormed the five plantations in southeastern Usulután province early Wednesday in apparent retaliation for the refusal of large landowners to pay a rebel-imposed wage scale to coffee pickers.

The fighting paralyzed the harvesting of the coffee, El Salvador's largest export that nets the nation about $450 million a year.

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — The Soviet Union broke off strategic arms talks today two weeks after walking out of parallel negotiations on limiting medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe. The United States said it regretted the Soviet action.

Moscow refused to set a date to resume the Strategic Arms Reduction Talks — known as START — on grounds that the "global strategic situation" has been changed by the deployment of new U.S. medium-range missiles in Europe.

U.S. chief START negotiator Edward L. Rowny, in a statement to reporters, said, "We regret that the U.S.S.R. has chosen not to set a resumption date for the next round."

"We cannot agree with Soviet assertions that developments outside the scope of these negotiations require the Soviet Union to withhold agreement on a resumption date for the sixth round of START," he said. "We have proposed to resume round six in early February and we hope that the U.S.S.R. will soon agree on a date for resuming these negotiations which are in the interest of both our nations and of the entire world."

In Washington, initial U.S. reaction was cautious. Robert McFarlane, President Reagan's national security adviser, interviewed on ABC's Good Morning America program, said it might "take time, weeks, perhaps months," but "I think we can get it (the talks) started again."

Rowny said the United States made "a reasonable proposal" at START to reduce strategic nuclear warheads by one-third to 5,000 on each side.

Washington further proposed a "build-down" of heavy bombers and long-range missiles, he said.

On Nov. 23, Moscow broke off parallel negotiations on limiting medium-range nuclear missiles in Europe after the West German parliament approved the deployment of Pershing-2 missiles in its territory.

U.S. cruise and Pershing-2 medium-range missiles are being deployed by NATO in Western Europe to counter the Soviet arsenal of triple-warhead SS-20 missiles aimed at West European targets.

The more than 230 SS-20 missiles involved — a further 100 or so are deployed by Moscow in the Asian region of the Soviet Union — could destroy all West European capitals within minutes.

Up to 572 cruise and Pershing-2 missiles, capable of striking targets within the Soviet Union, will be deployed unless a limitation or elimination agreement can be reached with Moscow.

Pope To Visit Terrorist

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — In a surprise move, Pope John Paul II has asked to meet on Christmas with the Turkish terrorist who tried to assassinate him, Italian government sources said.

The pontiff wants to meet Mehmet Ali Agca as a special gesture for the extraordinary Roman Catholic Holy Year being celebrated on the anniversary of the death of Jesus Christ, the sources said Wednesday. Sources who asked not to be identified said the Italian government will not object to the meeting during a planned papal visit to the Rebibbia jail in Rome.

The Italian news agency Asca, considered authoritative on church matters, said the pontiff wants to meet Agca "as a renewed and viable act of pardon in the context of the Holy Year of Redemption."

"I would also like to see the city operate more harmoniously. I don't think some of the commissioners in the past have done their homework before the meetings and I would like to see the people feel freer to speak out at commission meetings. We need more input from the citizens," Myers said.

Myers also was not surprised that the bond issues failed.

"In campaigning door to door, I got input from the public on how they felt about the bond issues and how they felt about the incumbents. I was asked many times whether I was an incumbent and when I responded that I was not, I was told, 'then you've got my vote.'"

Two of three incumbent commissioners — Steven Uskert and Charles "Chick" Pappas — were defeated by the election by Smerilson and Myers respectively.

Smerilson, 41, said he plans to review all the city ordinances with a goal of updating the city laws to make them conform to the city charter.

"There are discrepancies between the ordinances and the charter," he said.

Smerilson added that since the proposed bond issue was turned down, the city's needs must be identified so that solid financial planning can be accomplished to get essential projects accomplished.

A 10-year resident of the city, Smerilson has served on the city's code enforcement board and on the Land Planning Agency. Employed by Martin-Marietta, he works in the engineering and business management section there. Smerilson is a native of Philadelphia.

He also said that growth in the city over the past several years has been "unreal. Growth must slow down and be planned. We must have long range planning setting where we are going to allow what is built."

Returning Marines Get Hero's Welcome

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (UPI) — Sgt. Armando Ybana, the yellow ribbon on his wheelchair whipping in the wind, joined a throng of family and friends in a hero's welcome for his Marine buddies who survived the terrorist bomb attack on their Beirut headquarters.

"It's great to see my friends. I just wish I would have been able to come home with them," Ybana said as Marines came up to him one by one Wednesday. "At least I know they are safe now."

Ybana of Austin, Texas, suffered leg injuries in the terrorist bombing at Beirut Airport that killed 240 Marines Oct. 23.

About 1,800 members of the 24th Marine Amphibious Unit were greeted by cheers, American flags and reunions with loved ones.

If You Lost Your Hearing Tomorrow, Would You Do Something About It?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

Send for this model, put it on and wear it in the privacy of your own home. While many people with a hearing loss will not receive any significant benefit from any hearing aid, this free model will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It is not a real hearing aid, and it's yours to keep free. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 45-107 Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria Street, Chicago, IL 60648.

Who do you miss who's 50 miles away?

Isn't that someone special who seems too close to call and too far to visit, really worth a surprise chat now and then?
In Florida, a 15-minute call this weekend within 50 miles, dialed direct without the operator, costs no more than $1.77 till 5 p.m. Sunday.
At that rate, you can visit long and warm. And often.

Make a short long distance call today.

Dial Station 11 + 1 charges apply. These charges do not apply to person-to-person, coin, hotel-guest, calling card, collect calls, calls charged to another number, or to time and charge calls. For direct dial rates to Alaska and Hawaii, check your operator. Rates subject to change.

Double Ring Rites Unite Couple

Suzanne Marie Unsworth and Michael Patrick Rupert are announcing their marriage today. They were married Oct. 15, at Grace United Methodist Church, Sanford. The Rev. Bill Boyer performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of William and Eloise Unsworth, 213 Woodmere Blvd., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Gene and Vicki Rupert, 280 Lake Shore Drive, Lake Mary.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride chose for her vows a formal gown of sheer polyester chiffon knit fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and sheer lace Bishop sleeves. The gown and train were embellished with lace and pearl accents. She wore a derby bridal hat trimmed with lace and pearls. She carried a cascade of white silk roses with peach and yellow accents and baby's breath.

Trudy Ryan of Jacksonville, the bride's roommate at the University of Miami, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a yellow sheer polyester gown fashioned with a bustle and carried a bouquet of yellow and white silk roses with peach baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Jane Sessions, Tammy Peters and Debbie Spangler, all of Sanford, and Lourdes Slazyk, Miami. Their peach colored gowns were identical to the honor attendant's and they carried bouquets of peach and white silk roses interspersed with baby's breath.

Mark Meadors of Casselberry, served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Harry Unsworth, brother of the bride, Sanford; Maxie Holleman, brother of the bride, Richmond, Va.; Dennis Rupert, brother of the bridegroom, Sanford; and Shawn Rupert, brother of the bridegroom, Lake Mary.

Ashley Smith of Sanford was the flower girl. The ring bearer was Mark Lee Meadors of Casselberry.

Following a reception at the Garden Club of Sanford, the newlyweds departed on a 4-day

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Patrick Rupert honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas, a wedding gift from the bride's parents.

They are making their home at 1136 N. Brickell Drive, Deltona. The bride is employed as a structural engineer for Don Moe Engineering Inc., Orlando. The bridegroom is employed as forman by Six Flags Nursery Supply, Longwood.

Among the out-of-town guests were Virginia Turner, the bridegroom's grandmother, Stuart; Patty and Kenny Loomis (the bridegroom's aunt); Stuart; June Page and Laura Zdanowicz, Chicago; Judy Samuels, Richmond, Va.; and several of the bride's friends from the University of Miami.

Best Rule For Gift-Giving: Try Using Common Sense

DEAR ABBY: Last year you devoted an entire column on what to give — and not to give — for Christmas. It was wonderful. Please give it another run.

SENIOR CITIZEN IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR SENIOR CITIZEN: Many others have requested a return, and here it is.

DEAR READERS: Can you believe it's time to prepare for the holidays again? Well, it is, so do yourselves a favor and do your Christmas shopping early.

If you're wondering what to give Aunt Jennie or Grandpa, who don't get out much, let me tell you what not to give them:

No dusting powder, after-shave or cologne. (They probably have several unopened boxes gathering dust on their closet shelves.)

Grandpa doesn't need another necktie, and Aunt Bertha doesn't really want any more brooches, necklaces or bracelets.

With the price of groceries so high, folks who live alone on a fixed income probably would be delighted to receive a basket of goodies. Include small cans of salmon, chicken, ham, tuna, vegetables, fruit, instant coffee, tea bags, crackers, cookies and instant soup mixes.

Older people who live in confined quarters do not need more "things" that are ornamental only. Don't send music boxes, statuettes or other bric-a-brac.

A truly thoughtful gift: postcards and some lined stationery with envelopes and a generous supply of postage stamps. (Enclose some felt-tip pens, too.)

The homebound will appreciate a box of greeting cards for all occasions so that they too can send birthday, anniversary, graduation, get-well and condolence cards to others. (Be a sport! Stamp some envelopes.)

Don't give anyone a gift of clothing unless you're absolutely sure the size is right. That goes for the color and style, too.

If you're tempted to pass along a scarf, purse, wallet — or some useless little doodad you received three Christmases ago — please don't; the recipient will probably find it just as useless as you did. (Besides, you might get it back the year after next.)

If someone on your gift list is living on a pension, a check for any amount would be much more appreciated than a frivolous, little trinket. Or give someone who's counting pennies a year's subscription to a newspaper or magazine you know he or she will enjoy.

If you buy a gift on sale, be sure it's appropriate, since if the recipient tries to take it back he will be told, "Sorry, sale merchandise is not returnable."

Dear Abby

Don't give anyone a pet unless you're absolutely sure it's wanted and will be properly cared for. And if you want to delight someone who considers his pet a "member of the family," include a tin of cat or dog food for the pet.

Don't give wine or liquor unless you're sure the recipients imbibe. Candy, nuts and fruitcake make wonderful gifts for those who aren't counting calories, but please have compassion for those who are, and lead them not into temptation.

Resist giving toddlers stuffed animals and dolls that are bigger than they are. And parents will thank you for not sending their children horns, drums, sirens or whistles. If you give a child a game or book, be sure it's in the appropriate age range.

Holiday time can be very depressing for people who are alone, so if you know someone who might be alone and lonely, give him (or her) the best gift of all — an invitation to spend the holidays with you and your family. Loneliness is the ultimate poverty. Love, ABBY.

UCF Recognizes 200 Scholarship Winners

Nearly 200 University of Central Florida 1983 scholarship winners will be recognized Dec. 9 by the UCF Foundation, faculty and area donors.

Scholarships for UCF students funded from private sources total close to $125,000 and the number of awards and number of donors have doubled, said James A. Donovan, executive director of the non-profit foundation.

The keynote speaker at the campus luncheon will be Edwin Beschler, president of Grune and Stratton, Inc., the medical publications division of Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, Inc.

Highlights will include a joint announcement by UCF President Trevor

Colbourn and Orlando City Commissioner Nap Ford establishing the John T. Washington endowed memorial scholarship, honoring the late UCF sociologist. Contributions will go to assist qualified and deserving minority students in the social sciences.

Scholarship aid over the past year stemmed from private sources that included the UCF Alumni Association, the Magruder Foundation, Selby Foundation, NCF Foundation, Ben Moss, Mrs. Marilyn Strohbehn, Citrus Golf Tournament Fund, Overstreet Foundation, Polasek Foundation and the estate of the late Julia B. Beensen.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY DECEMBER 9, 1983 Dealings with individuals who have proved lucky for you previously should enjoy a repeat performance this coming year. Put together ventures to take advantage of this. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you are plagued by restlessness today, select an activity that is fun and exciting even if it requires traveling a short distance to do so. Major changes are in store for Sagittarians in the coming year. Send for your Sagittarius Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 and your zodiac sign to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be aware of all the pertinent trends today, but also pay heed to your hunches in commercial matters. Together, this should produce a profit. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You have a charismatic air about you today and this will make you a standout in any crowd. Just be your pleasant self and others can't upstage you. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) One way to gain the esteem and approval of others today is not to use all the clout that you have. Power sheathed will be respected. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try to select companions today who are both optimistic and far-seeing. Those who think in expansive terms will help broaden your outlook. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Important changes can be put into effect today that could prove beneficial to you careerwise. Contact key people who have clout. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The odds are slanted in your favor today in negotiations where you are bargaining on a one-to-one basis. Stick to your terms. CANCER (June 21-July 22) It behooves you to be helpful today. The greater the incidence of service, the more you are likely to benefit in the process. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll evoke a good response in others today because persons will innately sense you want to treat them fairly. Follow your impulses. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you have a deep-down feeling that you're lucky in career matters today, don't disregard it. Instead, make the most of what you sense. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Saying and doing the right things will come easy for you today. This is a big plus, because you'll impress persons whose support you need. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Advantageous conditions could repeat themselves today. Be alert for an opportunity that may come from a benefactor who has helped you in the past.

Oil, Not Dirt, Is Major Acne Cause

DEAR DR. LAMB — My daughter has acne. It is mild but it troubles her so much. We went to see a doctor, but he charges $800 to solve such problems. I was wondering if there were doctors who would give her a prescription for Retin-A and tell her how to use it. Is there anything you can help her with along these lines? Will your Health Letter on acne help? Also, what kind of doctor should she see who won't charge an arm and leg to help her? Her life is almost destroyed because of this and we have tried everything.

DEAR READER — Not everyone who has a mild case of acne needs to see a specialist, and I would be surprised if a specialist charged that kind of fee. Have your daughter see her family doctor.

A physician in family practice is quite capable of handling most mild cases of acne, and he certainly can prescribe Retin-A if it is indicated.

Retin-A is a peeling agent that is derived from vitamin A. It helps to peel off the superficial layers of skin which leads to improvement of acne in some cases. It is only part of the treatment for acne. Measures to decrease or eliminate oily skin conditions are important and antibiotics often are helpful in preventing pustules. These last two measures often are just as important as any peeling agent.

Daily skin care is important. I have outlined the treatment used for most cases of acne in The Health Letter B-2. Acne Can Be Treated, which I am sending your daughter.

Cleansing the skin twice a day with an alcohol sponge helps to dry the skin and remove excess oil. But vigorous scrubbing of the skin usually is harmful. The problem is not dirt, but too much oily sebum that often is broken down into irritating products by bacteria.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Would you please explain demyelinating disorders? What can one do for them? Exercise, diet, medications? Is it possible for it to go into remission? DEAR READER — Your nerves have an outside sheath comparable to the outside insulation around an electric wire. This is called the myelin sheath and is vital to the nerves' ability to be electrically active.

In some disorders the sheath is damaged or destroyed and this process is called demyelination. There are a group of disorders called demyelinating diseases. The best known of these is multiple sclerosis. Since that disease may affect the myelin sheath in different spots and locations, it causes a variety of disorders.

The sheath also can be damaged in an inflammatory process called Guillain-Barre syndrome.

Most of the demyelinating diseases can have remissions and most people recover completely from Guillain-Barre syndrome. But of course, it makes a difference what the disease is.

There is not much that can be done with self-help programs, although a good diet and adequate vitamins are important. Physical therapy often is important in maintaining function of affected parts.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby Morrie Ellis, one of the great players of the '30s and '40s, hasn't played tournament bridge for many years. His daughter, Judy Tucker, is one of the nicest of our leading women players. She should be pleased with this hand played by her father in the 1938 National Championships. Morrie liked to bid as did his partner, who put him in seven diamonds after Morrie had done some bidding of his own. Morrie won the trump in dummy and ruffed a heart high. Then he led a second trump to dummy and noted that West held two diamonds. Now Morrie decided that the simple play of ruffing out a club and playing trumps to squeeze West between spades and the ace of hearts was not going to work. Instead he went after a dummy reversal to be followed by a black suit squeeze against East.

He ruffed a second heart high, entered dummy with a third trump, ruffed dummy's last heart with his own last trump, entered dummy with the king of clubs and played dummy's last trump to discard a spade.

East, who had already chucked a club on the second trump lead and a heart on the third trump, was hopelessly squeezed. He knew he could not afford to unguard the Q-J of spades so he let another club go. Morrie had four club tricks and the grand slam.

Lucky, but Morrie had made the luck by his line of play.

Performers Play Out Of Character

By Elaine Thompson

Back in the days of Joan Crawford, styling a role was easy. Most of the characters she played were very much like herself. Times have changed, however, and today more and more performers are taking on roles that are quite unlike themselves.

When she was playing Flo, first as a waitress in "Alice," and then as the proprietor of her own saloon in "Flo," Polly Holliday came up with a character so unlike her real self that she could shop New York's Fifth Avenue without once being accosted by an autograph-seeking fan. No one associated Miss Holliday in her own shiny greying, longish hair and expensive pale beige outfits with the flamboyant Flo, who wore tousled red wigs and stretch polyester outfits. Miss Holliday helped develop Flo's look and had fun doing it.

Then there is Vicki Lawrence, who appears as the crusty matriarch on NBC's "Mama's Family." Because she is locked into identification with a character at least 40 years older than she really is, she is having less fun with her role than Miss Holliday had with hers. But Miss Lawrence does like Mama, and says that Mama's look is uncannily close to that of her real Grandma Harper who died last year at 82. "My wig is styled very much like her hair, the glasses are similar and the dresses and shoes are practically identical."

That's where the similarities end. Unlike the Mama

Report Pilot Error

Blame For KAL Incident
TORONTO (UPI)—The International Civil Aviation Organization has concluded the crew aboard the Korean jet shot down by the Soviets "probably made a mistake" in programming the flight path, causing the plane to stray into Soviet airspace, the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. reported.

The CBC, quoting a confidential report by the Montreal-based ICAO on its three-month investigation of the incident, said the cockpit crew of Korean Airlines flight 007 "programmed the (on-board) computer with the wrong starting point."

That automatically forced the Boeing 747 off its intended flight path across the Pacific Ocean from Anchorage, Alaska, to Seoul, South Korea, and into Soviet airspace where it was shot down Sept. 1 by Soviet jetfighters, killing all 269 people aboard.

"The ICAO report concluded the pilots probably made a mistake," the CBC said Wednesday.

"Whatever scenario you choose, you have to conclude the crew wasn't paying much attention," the network quoted one ICAO official as saying.

An ICAO spokesman in Montreal refused to comment on the accuracy of the CBC report. "As of now," he said, "it's a confidential report in the hands of the council."

He said the 33-nation ICAO council would meet at the U.N. agency's Montreal headquarters next Monday to consider the report. He would not say when the report would be made public.

The KAL flight was off course for the time it reached the Kamchatka peninsula and the Soviet-controlled Sakhalin Island in the northern Pacific Ocean, both areas of sensitive Soviet military installations.

The flight was equipped with so-called inertial navigation systems whose on-board computers are programmed before the flight and can then guide the aircraft without further navigational aids.

The council last Sept. 16 ordered an investigation of the KAL incident. The resolution for the investigation was sponsored by Canada and backed by the United States and nine other Western nations.

Only the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia voted against the proposal. The Soviets subsequently invited ICAO Secretary General Yves Lambert to the Soviet Union to conduct the investigation.

The five-man investigating team also visited the United States, South Korea and Japan.

An interim ICAO report on the incident tabled in October offered a chronology of the events leading up to the plane's downing in the Sea of Japan. It made no recommendations and found no fault.

The Soviets have claimed the airliner was spying for the United States and deliberately flew over Sakhalin Island.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER THE ADOPTION OF AN ORDINANCE BY THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at the Commission Room in the City Hall in the City of Sanford, Florida, at 7:00 o'clock P.M. on December 12, 1983, to consider the adoption of an ordinance by the City of Sanford, Florida, as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 1647
 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA, TO ANNEX WITHIN THE CORPORATE AREA OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA, UPON ADOPTION OF AN ORDINANCE, A PORTION OF THAT CERTAIN PROPERTY LYING BETWEEN PALMWAY AND SANFORD AVENUE AND BETWEEN POINSETTA DRIVE AND ROSE DRIVE, SAID PROPERTY BEING SITUATED IN SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE VOLUNTARY ANNEXATION PROVISIONS OF SECTION 171.04, FLORIDA STATUTES; PROVIDING FOR SEPARABILITY, CONFLICTS, AND EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, there has been filed with the City Clerk of the City of Sanford, Florida, petitions containing the names of the property owners in the area described hereinafter requesting the annexation to the corporate area of the City of Sanford, Florida, and requesting to be included therein; and

WHEREAS, the Property Owners, Seminole County, Florida, having certified that there is one owner in the area to be annexed, and that said property owner has signed the Petition for Annexation; and

WHEREAS, it has been determined that the property described hereinafter is reasonably compact and contiguous to the corporate area of the City of Sanford, Florida, and it has further been determined that the annexation of said property will not result in the creation of an enclave; and

WHEREAS, the City of Sanford, Florida, is in a position to provide municipal services to the property described herein, and the City Commission of the City of Sanford, Florida, has determined that the annexation of said property to and to be annexed to the City of Sanford, Florida, is in the best interest of the City to accept said petition and to annex said property.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA:

SECTION 1: That the property described below situated in Seminole County, Florida, be and the same is hereby annexed to and made a part of the City of Sanford, Florida, pursuant to the voluntary annexation provisions of Section 171.04, Florida Statutes:

SECTION 2: That upon this Ordinance becoming effective, the property owners and any resident on the property described herein shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges and immunities as are from time to time granted to residents and property owners of the City of Sanford, Florida, and as are further provided in Chapter 171, Florida Statutes, and shall further be subject to the responsibilities of residence or ownership as may from time to time be determined by the governing authority of the City of Sanford, Florida, and the provisions of said Chapter 171, Florida Statutes.

SECTION 3: If any section or portion of a section of this Ordinance proves to be invalid, unlawful or unconstitutional, it shall not be held to invalidate or impair the validity, force or effect of any other section or part of this Ordinance.

SECTION 4: That all Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5: That this Ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage and adoption.

A copy shall be available at the Office of the City Clerk for all persons desiring to examine the same.

All parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard at said hearing.

Marines Destroy Bunker

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Leftist gunners pounded U.S. Marine positions at Beirut airport today and the American peacekeepers responded with their own barrage forcing the attackers to raise a white flag over a blown-out bunker.

"The Marines saw the white flag over a bunker they destroyed and stopped firing at 11 a.m. (4 a.m. EST)," Marine spokesman Maj. Dennis Brooks said.

He said there were no American casualties in the 90-minute battle, during which the Marines used wire-guided Dragon anti-tank missiles, heavy machine guns and tank cannon.

Beirut radio said the morning attack began when shells rained on Marine positions from Shilte Moslem and Druze fighters located in the suburban and hillside regions of Amrousyeh and Shouflat overlooking the airport.

Brooks and other U.S. officials had no immediate comment on a rightist Voice of Lebanon radio report that American warships also were used in answering the attack.

The body of U.S. Navy Lt. Mark Lange, 26, whose plane was shot down Sunday during an attack on Syrian positions in Lebanon, was turned over to American forces.

An aluminum coffin containing Lange's blood-spattered body, still wearing his aviator's uniform and flier's cap, was retrieved by Lebanese army troops acting as intermediaries. It was flown by helicopter to the aircraft carrier USS Independence offshore Beirut.

Syrian officials said Lt. Robert Goodman, 26, Lange's navigator-bombardier, will be held indefinitely as a prisoner of war.
