Watch That THUMB!

Peter loves to "fix things," even though he sometimes gets hurt in the process. Yesterday he pinched his finger with the pliers. Today, he'll probably end up by banging his thumb with the hammer. But tomorrow he'll be right back at it again... learning the hard way!

From childhood, we learn best by personal experience. Our natural curiosity makes it difficult for us to accept advice from others. We want to find out for ourselves... and life has some hard lessons to teach us. Among other things, we have to discover that material possessions are no guarantee of happiness... and that money can't buy love or health, or peace of mind.

Religious faith is another aspect of life that must not be left unexplored. Christianity has been tested by time... and stands ready to be tested by YOU. Don't miss the greatest experience of all. Visit the church of your choice this Sunday.

Texize Takes Over Freewax March 1; Will Expand Sales

No decisions have been finalized yet on expansion of Freewax plant here, but Texize Chemical, Inc. definitely will assume operations of the Chemical Corporation of America manufacturing concern.

W. N. Woodward, controller of the Texize plant in Greenville, S. C., was in a telephone interview this morning. According to him, Texize will assume the plant, equipment and inventory on March 1, and will continue to manufacture the Freewax line of insecticides and furniture waxes.

"We have not yet decided to enlarge the operation," Woodward said, "but we do intend to enlarge sales. As to future possibilities of expansion, we can't say at this point."

According to Woodward, virtually all the present staff of the Freewax plant will be retained, and the plant will continue to operate only as a manufacturing location.

The Sanford plant will be in charge of manufacturing the Freewax line of insecticides and furniture waxes. This manager has not been named.

Negotiations for the assumption of the Freewax plant by Texize began in the latter part of 1965. There has been no monetary talk put on the transaction.

As to expansion of the present operation, "that decision has not been finalized," according to Woodward. "The four space available given to Texize is a very good example opportunity to add other products," he added.

Texize, a leading manufacturer of cleaners, detergents, starch and other products for the textile industry and for home consumption, operates another plant at Jacksonville.

Texize is a subsidiary of the Chemical Corporation of America, which was founded in 1950 and is a Florida firm. Texize is a subsidiary of the Chemical Corporation of America, which was founded in 1950 and is a Florida firm.

Luci, Pat Marriage To Be Family Affair

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President and Mrs. Johnson bid the Nugent family farewell today with all in agreement that Luci's marriage to young Pat Nugent will be a family affair.

The Nugents, Gerard and Tillie, planned to drive the 900 miles to their home in Washington, D.C., after a White House weekend that was the first meeting for the families and the first time Luci and Pat were together.

Luci and Patrick are to be married in late summer. Luci is active duty as an airman and is stationed at nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

Lucy was a blushing bride on the day which the two families met in a leisurely fashion, chatting and recapping the Saturday night party for Luci and Pat.

ISAAC NEWTON DISCOVERS MERCURY!

"If Sir Isaac had had a car like this, he would have been too busy having fun to discover gravity," says Delaware Insurance executive.

Isaac B. Newton, 52, of Milford, Del., didn't believe such a car existed before he drove the new Mercury.

Here's what he said about some of the discoveries he made, after looking over the full line of Mercury cars:

"About the power steering," he said. "Driving with such little effort and so stable on the road! Made parking a cinch."

"About the 410-cu.-in. 4-barrel V-8 power plant! 'So quiet! Can't hear it at all. That pickup's really terrific!'"

He summed up: "Mercury's my choice after that ride."

And what did Mr. Newton discover? "Living room comfort! And the lines of the car are as beautiful."

Floods And Tornadoes Rip Southland

United Press International — Heavy rain and winds that threatened thousands of homes and businesses from the East Coast to the Mississippi Valley, residents in Georgia and North Carolina cleared away wreckage caused by Sunday's killer winds.

An interlocking system of cold and warm air collided over the Southeast Sunday, spawning tornadoes that ripped through Albany, Thompson, Eastman and Mason in Georgia and Statesville, Waxhaw, Mount Olive and Clinton in North Carolina.

Premature spring thawed snow and frozen ground triggered record rains in the East. It poured for 17 hours in New York City. The 2.4 inches of rain broke a 73-year-old record for the date.

The rains fell on the Upper Ohio River Valley, adding billions of gallons to streams already filled to near capacity. Ice jams formed dams which backed up water and rained levels to the flood stage.

The Allegheny River was expected to reach its 25-foot flood stage at Pittsburgh today and rise to 27 or 28 feet by afternoon. An eight-mile long ice jam on the upper Allegheny isolated the community of East Brady, Pa., and forced complete evacuation of Hillville, Pa., population 60.

The weather bureau at Cincinnati said the Ohio River would crest there at 16 feet Thursday, three feet above flood stage.

Flooding along creeks and rivers was reported in West Virginia and Ohio.

The New Jersey civil defense at Trenton issued a major flood warning for five northern counties in the wake of Sunday's rains. The rains forced evacuation of the homes of the fastest means of transportation until the invention of the locomotive.

The Saturday night dinner dance, a romantic affair with the accent on valentines, hearts and flowers, was the first post-wedding party for Luci and her fiancé.

It was given at the fashionable city Tavern Club in Georgetown by Luci's debutante friend, Helene Lindow, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lindow of Washington.

Fifteen cars piled up at Oklahoma City in the snow. Two inches of snow was on the ground at Enid, Okla.

Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were issued for northern Maine. Elsewhere, snow fell in light showers from Michigan to Oklahoma and a few snow squalls were reported in the Rockies.

FLOODS, TORNADOES LASH DIXIELAND

At Greenville near Gatlinburg in the Great Smoky Mountains, high water forced at least 80 families from their homes. Gatlinburg and Sevier residents returned to their homes late Sunday as the flood waters receded.

Gatlinburg Police Chief William Ogle said the damage in the resort in the heart of the Smokies would top $1 million. He said it was the "worst flood in the town's history."

The raging waters washed cars away, in some cases piling them together in heaps. Numerous small roads in the Smokies were closed and some guests were evacuated from resort motels as the water rose.

Tornadoes struck in Georgia and North Carolina and high winds lashed Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee and Alabama.

Mel 'Impassive' During His Trial With Aunt Candy

By H. D. Quigg

MIAMI (UPI) — Melvin and Patricia Powers, a big and brazen couple with rather sleepy eyes, poked marked checks and a curving thrust of his lower jaw. His courtroom demeanor fits one word, impassive.

The twelve men who are sitting in judgment on Powers must wonder as they look at him, and must have wondered during their three-day week-end recess from his murder trial, about his behavior as it has been alleged by recent state witnesses.

Powers, 29, and his mother's sister, Mrs. Candace Mosler, who will be 46 on Friday, are charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of her husband, rich financier Jacques Mosler, 65.

The jury must wonder why a man with a design to kill would be announcing to his trial lawyer, manager just a couple of months before the murder that he "ought to kill the old S.O.B." and why, if the witnesses are to be believed, Powers went around telling people that he loved candy so much that he'd kill for her, that he wanted to get Mosler "out of the picture."

And why he came so publicly to Miami from Houston the day before the murder and by accident be seen buying a possible bludgeon weapon, which is what the state claims he did.

Candy was back in court today for the start of prosecution's final half-hour of direct evidence. It expects to rest its case by Thursday 10 o'clock.

SAIGON (UPI) — Scores of Vietnamese rice farmers were killed or injured today when they were caught in the harvest hit Viet Cong mines along a road in the Central Highlands. In military action, U. S. and Allied forces claimed 158 Communist troops killed in a series of battles.

Although February 14 is traditionally reserved for romance, the six top 10 basketball teams playing tonight should be reminded of the motto: "Be a Valentine's Day mess."

While some members of the college elite may be taken in by the romantic overtones, the sports experts are plotting an ambush comparable to similar to the one in Chicago 3½ years ago.

Purple could have lost second place in the national rankings when two of its stars celebrated St. Valentine's Day by spending the night with each other by day's ending in the moonlight. All-American candidate Bob Verba and forward Bob Dickinson still are in the thick of a stiff contest against the Dayton Flyers tonight.

Providence, No. 4, finds itself a two-point underdog against the DePaul at Chicago tonight. The Friars pumped St. Bonaventure 84-62 Saturday for their 11th triumph in 19 years.

Fifth-ranked Texas Western has a tough hurdle tonight in Arizona State. The Miners, who are 10-1, are er, the only unbeaten team in the nation, will play their 18th Saturday by overcoming a 16-point deficit whip New Mexico 67-50.

Sixth-ranked Kansas (10-0) will battle Oklahoma State (9-1), seventh-ranked Vanderbilt (17-3), which faces Auburn tonight, ranked Alabama (17-1) and Duke (16-1), which conquered Iowa State (7-1) and 10th-ranked Michigan (13-5) set a school record by a lopsided victory over Illinois Wisconsin 120-102.

Eighth-ranked St. Joseph Pa., like Saturday, has game plans against Davidson, Creighton and Providence left on the schedule.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Gardner Dickinson's back is hurting more than ever—and that's bad news for the rest of the field today as the final round of the $60,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament begins.

Dickinson's back, which has bothered him for years, has ached throughout the tournament and almost forced him

State Asks Death For Accused In Girls' Murder

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — James C. Cross Jr., 21, a handsome son of an advertising executive, went on trial today, charged with strangling two pretty University of Texas coeds in a sexual frenzy.

The biggest jury panel in the history of Austin was summoned in a small district courtroom.

Judge Mace B. Thurman Jr., expecting an overworked courtroom, said he would admit only four newsmen during early stages of jury selection.

The state wants Cross, who has never been in trouble before, sent to the electric chair.

Cross, a former English major at the university, is accused of strangling Susan Ripley and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21 and from Dallas, last July 18 when they came to his apartment to change clothes and take a shower. He once had dated Miss Stark.

The girls had just arrived in Austin after driving from Dallas. Susan was to enroll in summer school.

and learning how and why they live as they do," Martha said.

Martha has an unusual record at Ovidio—she has made all "A's" during her entire school career.

The newly-chartered Ovidio Jaycees will sponsor Miss Miller for the Florida Festival queen.

The winner at Apopka will go to Mobile, Ala., to compete in Azalea Festival.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller, is a 16-year-old junior at Ovidio High School. She is five feet, six inches tall, has dark brown hair and hazel eyes.

In the contest at Apopka she will give a talk, play the guitar and sing.

Barbershop Sing Scheduled By Sou-Sem CTP

By Jane Casselberry

The Orange Blossom Chorus will present a program of barbershop quartet singing under the sponsorship of the Council of Teachers and Parents at South Seminole School in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

Tickets will be available at the school office in advance or at the door on the night of the performance.

The Orange Blossom Chorus is in its 10th year existence and is the Orlando Chapter of the SIBERSQA.

It was the district title in 1961 and 1962, qualifying to compete in the international contests at Kansas City in 1961 and Toronto in 1962.

The chorus, under the direction of Pete Hargis, music director at Colonial High School, is a very active group in Central Florida averaging a "singout" a week.

Officers include Robert Dillion, international board member; William O'Brien, district vice president; and William Wood and Charles Aderholdt, area counselors.

There are three organized quartets within the chorus — "The Nocturnes," "The Hypnotics," and "The Four Scores."

Everyone is invited to enjoy this entertaining program of quartet singing. This is one of the major fund raising projects of the CTP for the year.

Carver Papers Given To State

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State University has been given thousands of documents and letters by veteran Public Service Commissioner Jerry Carver.

The library said the collection represents Carver's work in Florida politics for nearly 30 years. Carver was elected to the Railroad and Public Service Commission in 1934 and has served there since.

Prior to that he was appointed state hotel and restaurant commissioner in 1917 by Gov. Sidney Catts.

Pretty static performance from Bradford Dillman, but an interesting plot.

10-11 P.M. CBS. Special. "Gene Kelly in New York, New York." (Color) A delightful, musical, funny and heartwarming hour of dancing and singing around New York City. Woody Allen, Tommy Steele (star of "Half a Sixpence") and singer Dan Aykroyd are Gene's guests. The old pro is as smooth and effortless as ever, but one of the high spots is the first time Kelly and Allen have ever danced together. Don't miss it.

9:10 P.M. NBC. The Andy Williams Show. (Color). A soft, gentle hour of folk songs, ballads and some pretty funny jokes for Valentine's Day. You don't think Andy would forget, did you? The musical end is held up by Nancy Wilson and Peter Paul and Mary, and Bob Newhart is back to join Nancy and Andy in a very funny medley of movie title tunes.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: Recently, someone I know very well told me that he had a heart condition. He didn't want her to make the trip, but she convinced him that she should have made the trip with her husband to see the daughter and a new grandchild. Vera insisted that her presence at the time of the child's birth was necessary and appreciated, and she had no choice but to go. What do you think?

"CURIOUS" DEAR ABBY: I would have to know more about the husband's "heart condition." And how he really felt about Vera's making the trip. Also more about the relationship between Vera and her daughter and her respective financial situations. I would also have to know how accurate your reporting is, who YOU are, and why you are so "curious."

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend, a married woman, who has a collection of HUB CAPS you wouldn't believe. She said she "bought" some, and others were given to her, but I found out different. Last evening I saw this woman walk over to the curb, and remove the hub caps from your car. What would you do in a case like this?

A FRIEND IN FAIRMONT, W. VA. DEAR FRIEND: Your friend is a thief. Tell her what you know and urge her to stop "collecting" before she collects a jail sentence.

DEAR ABBY: I seldom saw my daughter studying so I want to know how she is doing. She is a very feminine person. The way men can't understand it.

And unless in a few brief years the American woman becomes less feminine than she is at present, it's going to be hard to tell her on the radio or on television and ordering it over the telephone.

Donors Called By Blood Bank

Seminole County Blood Bank is experiencing a critical shortage of blood, Mrs. Louise Bauman, recruiter, has announced.

"Due to the rising rate of accidents, diseases and surgical cases, more blood is needed than ever before to supply the constant demand. The blood bank was able to supply Seminole Memorial Hospital with only half the number of transfusions needed in the month of January," Mrs. Bauman declared.

"Despite the increase in population in Seminole County, the number of blood donors is dropping. Only 54 units of blood were donated while 108 transfusions were given during the last month. Additional blood has to be brought in from Orange and surrounding counties and even out of the state," she added.

Seminole County Blood Bank is a nonprofit organization branch of the Central Florida Blood Bank. It operates on a part-time schedule since the volume of donors does not warrant a full time operation. A registered nurse is on duty at all times during open hours.

Plans are underway for the annual appeal of the Muscular Dystrophy Association in Seminole County.

The residential appeal will be conducted on March 13 and volunteers are urgently needed. Residents are urged to call the residential coordinator, Mrs. Lavene Geiger, in Sanford, and volunteer a half hour of their time.

Funds from the appeal are used to assist local patients and to conduct extensive research to find a cure for this and related diseases.

Muscular dystrophy is primarily a childhood disease and there is no known cure.

In addition to the residential appeal the Loyal Order of Moose is placing coin collecting campaigns in place of business and are planning a tag day.

12 Brush Fires In Seven Days

The Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department covered a total of 12 brush fires, all in populated areas, over a period of seven days ending Friday morning, Chief Ralph Abell reported today.

The fires involved some 42 acres and all were threats to structures, Abell said. Breakdown shows one in Grapewille, two near Grapewille, two in Sunland Estates, one in Five Points near the Chain plant, two in Evernside at Lake Mary, one on 27th Street in Sanford, one in Loch Arbor, one in Lake Monroe, and one in Midway.

Firemen logged 65 man hours.

Abell said property damages were held to a minimum due to quick response of the volunteers and cooperative assistance from Forest Ranger Al Harris and his men from Longwood Tower.

Phone Canvass Bids Comments

R. F. Shelden, Sanford manager for Southern Bell Telephone Company, is really a "bear for punishment."

In addition to releasing the 1966 edition of the Sanford telephone directory, he is sending out special post cards to all "322" subscribers in this area. The cards invite comments (good or bad) concerning telephone service and the company that provides it.

Shelden calls the project a post card canvass. "In making the canvass, we'll be sending out cards over the next 30 days and we hope that a substantial number of people will take time to return the card to us," Shelden said.

"We're not necessarily seeking compliments and if any of our customers have criticisms, we would like to know about them."

The company plans to contact everyone who replies unfavorably and then make every effort to clear up the source of dissatisfaction.

Minimum Program Explained

By Maryann Miles

The Minimum Foundation Program, core of financial support for public schools in Florida, was explained by Ernest Cowley, president of the Seminole County Education Association, for members of the Bear Lake School Parent-Teacher Association.

Through the program, total cost of which is primarily determined by number of students in attendance, the state and counties contribute money for support of the school system. Each county is required to supply funds on basis of its ability to pay with the remainder provided from state sources.

Cowley pointed out "the MFP was never intended as the sole source of school support but it provides a plan through which every student, regardless of where he may live in the state, may have an opportunity for at least a minimum education."

"In those areas where aspirations, financial ability, and political machinery are of appropriate nature and quality, the educational program provided can be on a much higher plane than that guaranteed through MFP."

Top Of The Hill

We happen to begin our year on January 1. Although this roughly coincides with the winter solstice when, for the northern half of the world, the nights begin shortening and the days slowly lengthening, it is a purely arbitrary convention.

The ancient Greeks, we are told, began their new year on June 21, at the summer solstice. The Egyptians chose September 21, the day of the autumnal equinox.

In the modern world, Moslems begin their calendar year on the first of Muharram, about June 15. In Iran, the year begins in March; in Ethiopia, in September.

The point is that in all times and all places, people have had their equivalent of New Year's Day.

In the beginning of course, the new year was a priestly function, attended by ritual and ceremony. Upon its accurate determination depended such all-important activities as the sowing or reaping of crops.

Primitive man in the cold north believed that the return of the sun from its apparent journey south in the winter would not occur without his prayers and exhortations.

We know better today. We know that the seasons will come and go, that the earth will continue wheeling about the sun, no matter what we do, even if we devastate its surface.

But New Year's Day is still important to us. If we didn't have it, we would have to invent it all over again.

For the new year is a crisp, clean, unwritten-upon page of time, when new hopes are born and old ones rekindled. No matter how good or bad the old year was, we feel that things will surely be better during the coming one. It is a fresh start, something which a messed-up world sorely needs every 12 months.

Two often, though, we tend to think in terms of what the new year will bring to us rather than what we will bring to it—that it is merely one more cycle of our aging rather than a new cycle of our growth.

Perhaps we could take a lesson from our ancestors after all, and instead of being passive spectators to the march of time, act as if the very turning of the world itself depended upon what we did.

Who knows? Perhaps it does.

Thought For Today

But test everything; hold fast what is good, abstain from every form of evil. —1 Thess. 5:21-22

Little progress can be made by merely attempting to express what is evil; our great hope lies in developing what is good.—Calvin Coolidge, 20th U.S. president.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Fred asks some perplexing questions. In fact, if the ancient philosopher Aristotle were now alive he would have an interesting debate with him as to the location of the soul within the human body. See if you can prove to him that the soul is in the brain. Then why do we use heart-shaped candy boxes?

Dr. Crane, "she began, 'why do we speak about the heart and understand it as the seat of the soul?'"

"Aren't sympathy and love due to our brain, instead of our heart?"

"Yet we hear such terms as heartbeated, chickenhearted, warmhearted and the like, why?"

Nowadays we realize that the brain is the center of consciousness, including our ideas and sentiments.

Dr. Aristotle decided that the brain was simply the cooling system for the blood. It served much as a modern radiator.

Consequently, we have several words in our modern vocabulary that are still in wide use but reflect Aristotle's false notion.

These include coldhearted, flustered, and all those mentioned by Fred.

Clergymen, too, tell us to "open our hearts" to God. They also "appeal to our hearts."

Famous Dr. Robert B. Pierce, of the Chicago Temple, always asks his congregation to "bow your hearts and heads in prayer."

And Cupid is pictured as aiming his darts at our heart, not our brain.

Candy on Valentine's Day is boxed in heart-shaped containers.

And red is the familiar hue for this gala date in our calendar, since it suggests the color of blood.

Last you may sneer disdainfully at Aristotle's mistake, just try to prove that the brain is the center of our thinking.

The ancient decided the seat of the soul should be in close connection with all other parts of the body.

"Don't the nerves all lead to the brain?" you may thus triumphantly argue.

"True," Aristotle would answer, "but don't the blood vessels all connect the heart with every remote part of the body?"

"Yes," you may continue, "but shouldn't the center of soul be well shielded by bone, so doesn't the skull do that for the brain?"

"True, enough," Aristotle will argue, "but don't the bony ribs, breastbone and shoulder blades shield the heart?"

"But a blow to the brain produces unconsciousness!" you proudly exclaim.

"A blow to the heart," adds Aristotle, "also produces unconsciousness."

"O.K.," you may retort, "but a blow to the brain destroys consciousness and at autopsy is often proved to have caused death."

So how can you prove that Aristotle was wrong? Debate this topic!

Revolutions Devour Sons

Algeria lies warm in the winter sun on the southern shore of the Mediterranean. Away from the harbor, there is a small park and then broad stone steps that lead upward to the sprawling government palace where Algerian Arab administrators have replaced the French.

Off to the left, the Casbah reaches toward distant hills, and to the right a descending cluster of red-roofed roofs the university rises.

Last week Algerians launched a three-day strike against the government which has ordered the Algerians section of the National Students Union dissolved.

It had begun as a small thing over an issue not even concerning Algeria—as a protest demonstration against the kidnapping and apparent murder in Paris of a left-wing Moroccan politician named Mehdi Ben Barka.

But within the demonstration and subsequent strike were political ramifications which it was feared could spread.

There is a saying that revolutions devour their sons. In Algeria there had been six "historic" leaders of the Algerian revolution. By the time of June 19, 1965, on that date, Ahmed Ben Bella, the last, was eliminated by his trusted commander of the Algerian armed forces, Col. Houari Boumedienne.

Boumedienne's take-over had both economic and political repercussions.

Under Ben Bella's haphazard economic management, there had been mounting unrest both within 20,000-man Algerian labor federation and among 600,000 peasant families whose promised aid had not been forthcoming.

BOIL MANAGEMENT COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—Good soil management is as important to a farmer as a well-run office is to a businessman, John Box of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service says.

Crop production directly reflects a soil's physical condition and fertility status. Physical properties can be controlled by good use of real-time rotations, cover crops and manures to maintain deep, mellow soil condition.

Wrong End Of Shovel

By Lyle Wilson
United Press International
In his campaign to bury for the Supreme Court's rule of one-man-one-vote for apportioning seats in state legislatures, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen has made a basic mistake. The Senator has grabbed the wrong end of the shovel. Gripped at the wrong end, Dirksen's objective is a doubtful tool.

Congressional resolution which would submit to the states a constitutional amendment. The amendment would override the Supreme Court on legislative apportionment. It would permit states to apportion one legislative house on terms other than population.

The Senator's objective is excellent. The weakness of his plan lies in the considerable odds against bringing it off. Senate liberals are prepared to filibuster against such a resolution. The House leadership is headed against it. Dirksen may be able to bring it off, but the odds are against it.

"Morton told his audience that the 1960 Nixon Presidential campaign was a big and important hedge against failure. The purpose of legal action to invalidate the winner-take-all system under which electoral votes now are allocated between Presidential candidates would be to life the heavy, unfairly weighted hand of the great cities off the necks of the country folk. How the big cities overbegan the country areas is well explained by Sen. Thurston Morton, R-Ky., as reported by the Republican National Committee.

"Morton showed that Nixon, who lost by 84 electoral votes, dropped 151 electoral votes in six states since Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, and Missouri. Except for the largest city in each of those, Nixon held a majority in all six states. Kennedy's big-city margin overrode all down-state Republican votes."

Kennedy actually won the Presidency in Philadelphia, St. Louis, New York City, Newark, Detroit and Chicago. For typical example: Nixon carried Missouri outside St. Louis by 210,000 votes. Kennedy carried St. Louis by 109,000 votes and took all of Missouri's 21 electoral votes.

The winner-take-all system. The United States is expected soon to okay a $12 million surplus funds and technical assistance program.

But it is at home he remains in trouble. Socialized farms, technicians, Unionists and military aid. He has retained French aid coming from the United States.

Ex-Sanfordites Found Church In Germany

Rev. William J. Gues, former pastor of Pinecrest Baptist Church, Sanford, is pastor of English-language Munich Baptist Church, which he and his wife organized in May, 1966, less than three months after their arrival in Munich, Germany, as missionaries of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

The Munich church, located in an area where there are many American soldiers, businessmen and their families, meets in the sanctuary of the city's German Baptist church, which Southern funds helped to rebuild after World War II.

"Many of the Americans trying to make a home here are without Christ," says Rev. Gues, "and they are sometimes more receptive to the gospel here than when they are in their usual stateside environment."

"We have a full church program but we find it takes more time, planning, and effort to have such a program on foreign soil."

In addition to church activities, Rev. and Mrs. Gues study German. "I have a deep need for a speaking knowledge of German in my relationship with the German Baptist people as well as in my daily living needs," he advises. "We are having a wonderful, but sometimes confusing, experience."

Rev. Gues is a native of Opauga and Mrs. Gues, the former Barbara, is from Sanford. He graduated from Stetson University, Deland, and from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Gues also attended Stetson and Meredith College, Raleigh, N. C.

Buffalo skins, which now would probably sell for more than $500, cost $12 to $25 when the skins were the prime.

Auxiliary Police To Aid Regulars

Casselberry Police Department announced today that a 12-member auxiliary unit will be formed. The group is endorsed by Chief Kenneth P. Triplett and will be under the direction of Sgt. V. G. Weinhart, who has been with the department since December, 1964.

Both men and women will be considered for membership in the group, whose purpose will be to assist regular police officers in the performance of routine duties. A school "Basic Police Procedures" will be held. It will be open to any other interested members of local law enforcement groups. Graduates of the course will be given a certificate of completion. On-the-job training will also be given to auxiliary members. Projects planned for the group include: a violator's traffic school, bicycle and motor vehicle safety checks, and a "Cadet" program for persons under 21 who may be interested in a police career. First consideration for membership will be given to residents of the city.

Rules for using the Youth Wing of the Civic Center don't appear to be too severe. We have heard complaints that strict rules have forced young people away.

The rules are these: 1. No one will be allowed to leave grounds and return the same night.

2. Drinking of intoxicating beverages prohibited.

3. Gambling or profanity will not be allowed.

4. Equipment or facilities destroyed shall be charged to persons responsible.

5. Violation of any rules or misconduct will draw a suspension of Recreation Card.

6. Parents must pick up their children by 10:30 p.m. or their cards will be revoked.

7. No smoking.

New voters signed up in Seminole County since Jan. 1 now number 40. A total of 371 registered at the courthouse and 30 in the branch office in Seminole Plaza.

Casselberry OKs $107,000 Budget

Balanced Against Revenues

By Barry Lawes

The City of Casselberry Monday night adopted its 1966 budget totaling expenditures of $107,385. The budget was balanced against anticipated revenues for the year.

The police department was granted the largest single amount in the proposed expenditures, with $33,240 allotted for operation.

Salaries for the mayor and city council members — an item totaling $5,400 which came in for heavy criticism during the public budget hearing Jan. 31 — remained in the budget and was approved as the purchase of recreational property. Another $25,000 was proposed for use in paving city streets, and $20,000 was designated for the purchase of land and the first year's payments for a police station and jail.

The remaining $12,285 was set aside as an emergency surplus.

It was pointed out by council members that the money not used as designated will not be spent.

Some of the money set aside for paving will be used for paving of the "Y" or Queensway East, at a cost of $7,750. Council approved the motion to enter into a contract with Orange Paving Company to complete the project.

Council also set a deadline of 5 p.m. on Feb. 28, by which time the $1,410 must be expended, or the council will be obligated to pay the balance.

The city is exercising the health and welfare section of the city charter to even up into the controversy. The city is putting up the largest share of the paving costs.

The city also began negotiations with Casselberry utilities company for renewal of its franchise, which expired Jan. 1. It was pointed out the city has not received any communication from Casselberry utilities setting forth exact specifications and contract for continued operation or renewal of the franchise.

In other business, the council was informed a city attorney's ruling indicated there would be a "conflict of interest" if C. L. (Chief) Overman were allowed to remain as building inspector. Overman is engaged in the construction business, and the attorney ruled there are restrictions on persons furnishing labor, construction materials and such serving in the position. Overman has been appointed to the post contingent on the attorney's ruling.

SPEAKER
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — University of Michigan graduate school Prof. Paul W. McCracken will be the featured speaker at inauguration ceremonies March 20 for Florida State University President John Champion.

He testified that about 20,000 men were inducted from South Vietnam in 1965. The Communists fully expected to defeat South Vietnam during last summer's monsoon season, he said. They didn't, he added. "They have not lost replaced their leadership and increased their strength and given every intention of raising the intensity of the conflict."

Despite an estimated 35,000 Communist casualties in 1965, McNamara said they showed every indication of further increasing their strength in South Vietnam.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) took the lead in criticizing what he called "playing house" with our airpower.

Censorship marked the views of top military spokesmen in the heavily censored transcript of testimony given last month before the Senate armed services committee on military appropriations subcommittee.

Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified during the same period that U.S. forces in Vietnam had reversed the tide of military events to a situation that is favorable to us.

In the testimony, McNamara and Wheeler were joined by the top officers of the Army and Marine Corps in criticizing the concept advanced by retired Gen. James M. Gavin that the United States should concentrate on defense of coastal enclaves in South Vietnam and restrict its ground and air operations.

Gavin expanded on his views last week before the Senate foreign relations committee.

McNamara argued vigorously against some suggestions that the United States should expand its bombing of North Vietnam. He said the military power of North Vietnam does not depend on its own industrial resources.

"There is every likelihood that we could take out all of their power systems, all of their oil, all of their harbors, destroy their dams and they could still carry on the infiltration of men and equipment necessary to support some level of operations in the south," McNamara said.

He testified that about 20,000 men were inducted from South Vietnam in 1965. The Communists fully expected to defeat South Vietnam during last summer's monsoon season, he said. They didn't, he added. "They have not lost replaced their leadership and increased their strength and given every intention of raising the intensity of the conflict."

McNamara States:
Reds Plan To Intensify War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The intensity of the conflict in Vietnam is likely to increase, McNamara said today. He said the Communists have shown "every indication of further increasing their strength in South Vietnam."

Despite an estimated 35,000 Communist casualties in 1965, McNamara said they showed every indication of further increasing their strength in South Vietnam.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) took the lead in criticizing what he called "playing house" with our airpower.

Censorship marked the views of top military spokesmen in the heavily censored transcript of testimony given last month before the Senate armed services committee on military appropriations subcommittee.

Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified during the same period that U.S. forces in Vietnam had reversed the tide of military events to a situation that is favorable to us.

In the testimony, McNamara and Wheeler were joined by the top officers of the Army and Marine Corps in criticizing the concept advanced by retired Gen. James M. Gavin that the United States should concentrate on defense of coastal enclaves in South Vietnam and restrict its ground and air operations.

Gavin expanded on his views last week before the Senate foreign relations committee.

St. Johns Paving Costs $67,000

Estimated cost of paving streets in St. Johns River Estates is $67,000, the Board of County Commissioners learned today.

County Engineer William Bush presented a report on estimated costs of building streets in the controversial subdivision near Sanford.

Bush said his cost estimates are based on the original 1959 specifications, assurance of necessary right of way and removal of a power line from Driftwood Drive.

Bush also said his figures included the cost of removing several feet of muck from one road at an estimated expenditure of about $10,000. He said his report did not give any credit for a small amount of work already done in the subdivision.

The board, at the request of County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick, authorized County Attorney Harold Johnson to purchase a police car to replace one demolished in a recent accident at 20th Street and Sanford Avenue.

Public hearing was set for Feb. 28 on a request to transfer a liquor license from Rex Liquor Store No. 2, 2510 Oak Avenue to 120th Sanford Avenue, as a package store. The hearing will be to establish proper zoning for the transfer.

Request for a beer and wine license for consumption of the premises of 7-11 Food Store at 1201 Park Avenue was granted.

Trailer Parking Hit By County

Trailers parked at Wildmere Avenue and U. S. 192 in Longwood came under fire at a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners this morning.

The board instructed Zoning Director Robert S. Brown to have the trailers moved back from the highway immediately.

Brown told the board that the county requires a 25-foot setback for trailers. He said the lot owners have not complying with the requirement.
