Draft Call

of about 1,000,000, is aiming at a goal of 1,254,000 by next July—perhaps even more if the foreign situation worsens. It needs more men to build up the mobile reserves and defenses here to complete the demand of the Korean War, and to start augmenting American troop strength in Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty organization system for defense.

The Army casualty total for Korea is now something more than 27,940 (the most recently announced figure which covered the period through Dec. 1, since which Chinese Communists attacks rose to a crescendo). The pool of manpower in the United States must be tapped for reinforcements. They can be recruited by draftsmen or volunteers.

Along with the draft call there is expectation of increased calls of reservists, especially in event of a national emergency proclamation. A slow-down in the reserve program, put into effect in October, has been abandoned. Moreover, speculation persisted that additional National Guard divisions would be summoned to federal service. Four are already

One defense official, discussing with a reporter the purpose of a national emergency declaration, said it would be of value not only for its impact on home front morale but "to take clear this is a real peril, a national peril," existing not only in the Far East but in Europe.

Pentagon officials thought, too, that such a declaration would quicken the flow of badly-needed material to the armed forces by making more flexible the provisions under which the services buy their buying.

One Army official summed it up this way:

In peacetime, the objective is to save money; in an emergency, under war conditions, to save time.

Among other things, the military in an emergency can speed up its contract negotiations; decentralize time-consuming procurement programs; buy materials anywhere in the world where they are available; increase mobilizable lines in its armaments and in contrast plants; speed up factory manpower recruiting; expand the stock of machine tools needed for the manufacture of intricate weapons.

One authority estimated the speeding up of procurement possible through an emergency declaration might cut as much as one-third off the lag between the time funds are voted and the equipment is actually available.

Nothing further happened until yesterday morning when police, after fitting the evidence in the case, arrested Stapler and took him to the Police Station for questioning.

Confronted by the officers he confessed the attempt to enter the Mather Store, but denied the Jewelry and Luggage Store robbery, said Chief Williams.

Questioned again this morning, Stapler broke down and confessed to the Sanford Avenue robbery. With police he went to an apartment where he had hidden an assortable lot of jewelry and merchandise weighing several hundred pounds and valued at more than $2,000 was found.

In most of these cases, the insertion was a quotation from an American correspondent in Washington, and Pravda added not a word, except to identify the writer and newspaper involved.

However, in that part of the dispatch using the term "completely," the Kremlin made a paragraph concerning the Chinese "volunteers" in Korea was deleted.

The publication of these inserted paragraphs, as far as can be learned, informed the Soviet people for the first time that the danger of a third World War, with the Soviet Union and the United States as the chief antagonists, was real and close at hand.

Also for the first time, as far as can be learned, the Soviet newspaper reader has read paragraphs referring to Chinese troops in Korea without the adjective "volunteer" affixed, or

Kemler Says Jaycees Seek Opportunity

National Jaycee President Declares American System Must Be Preserved

Opportunity and freedom are what all young men in America are talking about today, Richard Kemler, United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, president, told the combined civic clubs at a Mayfair Inn luncheon today which was sponsored by the Sanford Jaycees.

Speaking of that service to humanity is the best way of life, Mr. Kemler pointed out that an addition has recently been made to the Jaycees creed, reading "We believe that faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life," providing the great international organization with a Christian meaning for the first time.

Mr. Kemler was introduced by State Jaycee President J. Bradley O'Fallon who welcomed visiting delegations here from Eustis, Daytona, Groveland, and Orlando and said that "If our way of life is preserved, our young men will be the greatest benefactors". Pointing out the need for leadership, he said that Mr. Kemler is the No. 1 young man in America.

The meeting was presided over by William H. Stempel, president of the Sanford Jaycees, who welcomed other Sanford civic clubs to the luncheon and thanked Gordon Brinkley who presided over a combined meeting. Rev. H. Lytleton Zimmerman announced the invitation and Charles Morrison led the singing accompanied by Harry Wester at the piano.

Mr. Kemler pointed out the tremendous growth which has been made by the Jaycees organization since it was founded 50 years ago. He attributed this primarily to four reasons:

1. The purpose of the organization which has in every improvement making the town a better place in which to live. In attacking the problem at the community level, he pointed out that the Jaycees afford an opportunity for young men to acquire training in leadership.

2. Unselfishness. Nobody gets anything out of it for himself, he said. Who ever heard of a Jaycee being paid for his civic work?

What he does, he does for the good of the town and with the desire to make it the best place in the country in which to live. If he is not doing that, Mr. Kemler added, he ought to get out of town. The only thing the Jaycees gets out of the civic work he does is the personal satisfaction of a job well done.

Police Recover More Jewelry Store Loot

More loot which was stolen on Nov. 25 from the Sanford Luggage and Jewelry Store was recovered last night by police. Chief Roy G. Williams said today.

An aunt of Bernard Stapler, 23 year old Negro druggist who is charged with the theft, notified police that three grips had been placed back of the settee in her home by Stapler, who lived next door to her, at Twenty-Second Street and French Avenue.

The small grips of the zipper type contained jewelry, cigarette lighters, fountain pens and other articles.

Fast Breaking Convict Goes Back To Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Dec. 14—(AP)—Ralph Burns Egan, exponent of the "fast break" in basketball, was back in the state penitentiary today.

Tuesday night Egan, a reserve guard on the prison's city basketball team, was six points before coming up missing at the YMCA.

Last night he returned to the "Y" and telephoned the prison, which provided him with gratis "taxi" service back to his "quarters." He did not explain his absence.

Prison officials today said the team would not be penalized for Egan's A.W.O.L. activity, the first breach in five years of "outside" athletic participation at the pen.

Crime Committee Says Authorities Can End Gambling

Crippling Railroad Strike Spreads Despite Federal Restraining Order

CHICAGO, Dec. 14—(AP)—A sudden, crippling strike by railroad workers spread today from Chicago to Washington and St. Louis despite a federal court order to end the walkout.

Rail traffic was disrupted in St. Louis and Chicago. Passengers and express service were affected in Washington.

The yardworkers' work stoppage cutaded passenger service on eight rail lines serving the nation's capital. A similar walkout has tied up considerable freight and left some passengers stranded in Chicago, rail crossings of the nation.

There had been a hint from chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods that the strike might spread. The first walkout, in Chicago, took 10,000 men out of the yards yesterday.

A federal judge last night ordered the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen to end the strike or face fines. The government charged the railroaders' strike last August after a strike threat stemming from a wage hour dispute, said the stoppage was "unjustly interfering with the war effort."

The walkout, which the union termed unauthorized, virtually halted freight movement. It caused some passenger train delays and disrupted other industries. Continuation of the stoppage threatened a major delay in the Christmas mail, which is a major traffic point for transcontinental mail.

The steel industry was hit almost immediately. Some blast furnaces were banked. There were shutdowns and curtailment of operations throughout the Chicago area.

At the same time, presidents of four operating rail unions, including the B.R.T., said in Washington the Chicago strike may spread unless White House and government mediation efforts are stepped up to settle the wage-hour dispute.

"We ought to be inducing some public officials," said Tobey, "to make some of them show 'no more backbone than a chocolate eclair.'

In New Jersey, deputy state attorney General Nelson F. Stangler said he too is in favor of prosecuting officials if they are in collusion with gamblers. Stangler, who has been conducting a statewide probe of gambling, said he is not convinced "that gambling can go on without somebody knowing about it."

He added, however, that "it's not necessarily illegal if officials, I'd put it in the moral or count class."

The Crime Committee also to seven its list of missing witnesses, originally totaling 11. It announced the subpoena had been served in San Francisco on Martin M. Hartman.

Hartman has been identified by Committee Chairman Refauven (D-Tenn) as a stock salesman for the Mountain City Consolidated Copper Mining Co. of Nevada. Refauven said the company has no substantial but sold stock to per-

Speed-Up In War Production Urged By Gen. Marshall

Defense Costs Mount To $41 Billion As Big Build-Up Begins

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—President Truman discussed how fast mobilization with a broad congressional group today and was urged by several of the legislators to go ahead with wage-price controls. There was no word as to whether Mr. Truman had made up his mind about that, but Senator Maybank (D-S.C.) said he was "hopeful" the President will declare a national emergency and put into effect swiftly "whatever wage-price controls can be administratively handled."

Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) told reporters he had advised "all-out" controls. "This is one of the darkest hours in the history of this country and the world," Tobey said. Maybank is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee which handles controls legislation. Tobey is the top Republican on the committee.

On Jan. 20, a hearing was held by the Interstate Commerce Commission on five days of hearings in Chicago on operations of what's left of the late Scarface Al Capone's gang.

The curtain was going down on the New Jersey hearings, for the time being, at least, and these developments:

1. Senator Tobey (R-N.H.), a member of the Crime Investigating Committee, said state authorities could put a stop to the activities of gamblers and racketeers if they wanted to.

"We ought to be inducing some public officials," said Tobey, "to make some of them show 'no more backbone than a chocolate eclair.'

Government To Begin Largest Annual Tax Harvest Tomorrow

By CHARLES MOLONY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—The government, faced with mounting defense costs, starts its biggest tax harvest season tomorrow. Expectations are for an intake of $16,000,000,000 or more—about 40 per cent of annual revenue.

The government can use it. Since this fiscal year began last July 1, it has run up about $1,100,000,000 in the red. It expects to be twice as bad off by next June 30.

The big tax season begins with the deadline tomorrow for corporations to make final tax payments on 1949 income. It will mark their last payment at the old 30 per cent maximum rate. A 45 per cent top will prevail on 1950's record-size profits.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Those who are disobedient to higher vision and hopes do not always have a return of such inspired moments; I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.
—Acts 26:19.

"Bills Mount But Treasury of State Is Low" — headline. Aren't we all?

There isn't enough steel to make

Why not use plastic license plates?

Russia turns down India's cease-fire proposal for Korea. It would give the United States time to prepare for some new aggression somewhere else, says Malik.

Listen to Truman's speech on the state of the nation tomorrow night and see if he is as aware of the seriousness of the situation as the average man.

This country has finally waked up to the menace of Communism.
Even Claude Pepper now says,
"The Communist drive into Korea was dominated and designed by Russia using Chinese Reds as puppets". And when Senator Pepper wakes up to the menace of Communist, everybody is awake.

"Nobody ever reads the Herald", people love to tell us in their charming way. Well, may be not, but we get a tremendous bang out of it when somebody's name is left out of a circle notice and our phone faintly crackles for two hours while we find out just what kind of a so and so we really are.

Bertrand Russell, Nobel prize winning British philosopher, has a hot idea for preventing wars. He would place man-eating sharks in swimming pools. Every city should have something to meet the primitive impulses of its citizens, he says.
Everybody preaching war should spend at least two hours a day among the sharks. That would help to satisfy their emotional instability and relieve their tensions.
Especially if we could get the Russians to swim in them.

For those of us who are inclined to be pessimistic about the course of world events, it should be refreshing to learn that London Lloyd's is betting 50 to 1 there will be no war before Sept. 21, 1951. Lloyd's is a big insurance company which takes all kinds of risks in protecting its clients, and usually knows what it is doing.
However, it would be a wise man indeed who could guess what goes on inside the big head in the Kremlin.

The South has its racial problems but it does not have riots with scores killed and hundreds injured. India, Malaya, and South Africa might do well to send in investigators to Florida to find out how to get races of opposite colors to reside peacefully side by side.
In Singapore a Dutch girl, reared by a Malay woman, was ordered returned to her white parents by the Supreme Court. At least ten people were killed and 140 injured in the rioting that followed. Things like that sometimes happen in New York, Detroit, and Chicago, but not in the South.

We are not alone in believing that more important than saving face in the Far East is saving American boys in Korea. "My own view", says Walter Lippmann, "is that our paramount and immediate preoccupation should be the preservation of our forces, that our aim should be to effect an ordinary withdrawal to Japan. Then with salt water between us and the Chinese Soviet masses, there can be a temporary communication, an interval of relative calm, and the world and all kinds of the United Nations". It is true that sometimes men who are not the characters but also not the choice of weapons.

Training Bodies

Netted by the aspersions cast on the physical condition of American youth in connection with military induction examinations, some schools are revising their physical education programs. During World War II the statement was made repeatedly that the proportion of physically unfit young men was shameful for a nation supposed to have the highest nutrition and health standards in the world. Selective Service experience in the Korean conflict shows little change. The number of rejections for physical reasons continues to be astonishingly high.

School men who accept this frequently heard accusation as a slur against their programs are largely correct. Physical training in general has been woefully inadequate. It is likely to consist of a couple of class periods per week devoted to light calisthenics or moderately active games. The physical training period is very often the one which gives way to an assembly program or other special activity. It is normally listed as a required subject but it has usually been easy for the student who wishes to escape these small rigors to do so, by substituting participation in competitive sports or some other activity.

In part the trouble may be a lack of awareness on the part of officials of the need for a sound program of physical training. More of the blame probably should rest on the public, whose awareness of the need is much less than that of school people. Parents sometimes are inclined to regard physical education as a frill. A poor program is little more than a frill. But an adequate program rigorously carried out might work wonders with the physique of the average youngster.

Germany's Deadly Peril

Any thinking German must lie awake nights, facing the nightmarish possibility that his country might disappear off the map, having gone down the Russian gullet. A few years ago such an idea would have seemed fantastic. Germany was not only the strongest state in Europe, but she terrified her neighbors. In the two world wars it took the combined efforts of a large part of the rest of the world to pull her down.

Now Russia and her vassal, Poland, own large parts of Eastern Germany, including East Prussia and Silesia and such cities as Königsberg, Stettin and Danzig. The Soviets have half of Berlin, and clearly desire to merge their zone of Germany into the Russian state. But for American resistance, this would already have been accomplished. It still could happen.

The disappearance of Germany would surpass in importance even the reduction of the historic Austrian empire into a petty region, hardly more than Vienna and its suburbs. Only once in history has there been such a dramatic end of a nation. That was the destruction, almost in a single moment, of Assyria, the terror of the ancient Orient. After the fall of its capital, Nineveh, in 612 B. C. the Assyrian nation utterly disappeared from history. Could that be the fate of Germany?

Challenging Space

Doctors hail the development of a new X-ray machine which, in combination with television, will enable doctors in widely separated cities to view the interior and bone structure of a patient's anatomy simultaneously, thus facilitating diagnosis in troublesome cases by specialists who are far from the patient.

The machine, which has been developed by Dr. Russell H. Morgan, chief of radiology at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, magnifies the weak images transmitted by X-ray from three hundred to three thousand times. They are then viewed on a television receiving tube. At a recent trial, doctors in Baltimore, Chicago, New York, Washington and Columbus peered simultaneously at the X-ray picture of a patient's chest.

The advantages of this new development are obvious, and lead one to wonder how far men can go in the annihilation of space. Having telescoped distances on this planet to the point where, under proper condition, they almost cease to be a barrier to human activity, the scientist will doubtless go farther afield and tackle universal distances, enabling him to attack many questions now crying for an answer.

Mr. Rolland Dean, Editor

The Sanford Herald

Sanford, Florida

Dear Sir:

An important action of the City Commission was not reported in article in the Tuesday's Herald which mentioned several items upon by the City Commission on Monday, 11 December. It appears that your source of information is incomplete and not reliable.

The City Commission, by a vote of three to two, on Monday evening authorized $100,000 bonds to finance nearly two-thirds of the Memorial Stadium now under construction, pledging for security and to amortize the bonds, the net revenues from the stadium, the admission tax, and such funds as may be available from present utility tax. The most important fact about this financing is not simply the $100,000 bonds but the fact that three men should obligate the City and its taxpayers on a bond issue without submitting it to a vote of the freeholders. The State Constitution provides:

"MUNICIPALITIES OF THE STATE OF FLORIDA SHALL HAVE POWER TO ISSUE BONDS ONLY AFTER THE SAME SHALL HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY A MAJORITY OF THE VOTES CAST IN AN ELECTION IN WHICH A MAJORITY OF THE FREEHOLDERS WHO ARE QUALIFIED ELECTORS SHALL PARTICIPATE."

The following motion was made by me, and seconded by Mr. Stempfer, which was defeated by a three to two vote:

"Inasmuch as I moved on March 13, 1950, that Mr. Moughton be authorized to prepare complete plans on a proposed master site with alternate plans for constructing the main section or such sections as the City is able to finance, and inasmuch as at the time the motion was held on whether the stadium would be built, the stadium was informed and understood that the cost of the project would be in the neighborhood of $70,000 to $80,000, and whereas since that time it has developed

The railroad platform at Gau-pur, India, extends 2415 feet and is believed to be the world's longest.

Jan. 1 also opens the season for Later he learned to play on a guitar, an instrument that has enjoyed great popularity since it was featured in the music for the musical theme of the motion picture, "The Third Man." He took up cello after that and came to America.

Among the Oldsmobile innovations for which he and his department are responsible is the hydromatic drive, the Kettering and rocket engines and the future American car.

Still retaining a fondness for the hills of the race track, he rode two years ago at the Indianapolis Speedway in the lead car with Will Shaw.

Elks Charity Ball Is Saturday Night

Proceeds from the second annual Elks Charity Ball to be held at the Mayfair Inn Saturday night will help 20 victims of paralysis at the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home in Umatilla, Lee County, and prominent Sanford Elk, said today.

The Home, which is sponsored by the 47 Elks Clubs in Florida, requires approximately $90,000 per year to maintain, and this money is raised by the lodges through such affairs as the charity ball.

Last year the Sanford Lodge exceeded its contribution quota by 100 percent to place second to Lakeland in contributions throughout the state.

Formerly a hotel, the Home was given to the Florida State Elks Association 20 years ago by Harry and Anna Miller of Umatilla, and preparations were immediately made for the treatment of paralytic-stricken children who could not afford to pay for treatment elsewhere. The Home accepts only those cases which can be covered.

There are three children from Seminole County now in the Home, and in recent years there have been as many as five.

Paul Colle and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing from 9 till 2 o'clock after the grand march to be led by Mayor and Mrs. Allen Clark.

William L. Kitch is in charge of the reservations, and tickets may be purchased at Touchton's, Yowells, Mayfair Inn, and the Elk's Club.

Sewanee's Iron Man Eleven Won Twelve Games In Six Week Period

EDITORS' NOTE: The following story is the fifth and final chapter of Zipp Newman's History of Southern Football. The chapters were moved for afternoon papers Dec. 18. NEW YORK, Dec. 14—(AP)—It doesn't make sense . . . Foot-ball coaches everywhere are quitting or being fired because of ulcers—in their stomachs or won-and-lost records—and Frank Leahy gets paid rather often for several reasons . . . And he's a couple of good ends more than the dough . . . in the course of their "play happy" meeting, the major league baseball guys didn't do much about that radio-television problem that was supposed to be such a hot potato. It won't help the minors much merely to suggest that big league clubs shouldn't increase their too-big networks . . . Now that Kroc has shown what can be accomplished by wailing personal fouls in basketball, how about a similar baseball rule to let a batter waive an intentional pass? He could make the pitcher keep throwing until he had a chance to connect.

Dutch Meyer, the Texas Christian U. coach, is getting a few laughs on the banquet circuit these days. When Sammy Baugh was playing for TCU, colorful Ernie Quigley referred to him as "Uncle Charlie Moran's Prayin' Colonels" beat Harvard on Bo McMillin's 32-yard run for a touchdown.

The first mention of great Southern players was of Walter Camp's All-American team.

Sammy Baugh was the name of Gussey Manning, Vanderbilt's great back in 1907.

He was on the third team, Jimmie Day, Georgia Tech center, was the first Southerner to make Walter Camp's first All-American in 1918. And some say Mr. Camp got him confused with Joe Guyon, who was backing up the Tech line. Since then the South has been contributing its share of All-Americans.

Southwestern Conference has had 23 winners, 19 losers and four teams to tie in 40 bowl games. Alabama (6-3-1), Georgia (4-1-1) and Georgia Tech (5-2) are the top teams.

Probably the greatest of all inter-sectional wins for the South was Alabama's 20-19 victory over Washington in the 1936 Rose Bowl game. It started new era of football in the South and helped bring around better coaching and better football.

The South is proud of its foot-ball tradition—thankful to the East and Michigan for those hearty, pioneering head coaches, Sanford's basketball team got off to an excellent start last night by beating tough Eustis five on its home court.

The Colleyfeels were far from being a smooth working association, but they fought for every rebound and out-ran, out-hauled the Panthers.

The two forwards, Smith and Claude, are a study in contrast on the court, but their styles mesh well, alternately calming down and firing up the team.

Smith was top scorer with 15 points and almost exclusively on shot baskets, as fresh as any in basketball. When the ball leaves his hands he is high in the air, legs spread wide apart and in a half lunge toward the basket. To top it off the shot is an overhead, two-handed throw which looks impossible—but goes in the hoop.

Smith is an ever-moving will-o'-the-wisp on the court either in and out of the right hand corner with free-style reboots, shooting in one quick motion with a one-handed push shot which is either dead in or way off. He seems to find the grave late in a game since most of his points were scored in the second half against Eustis.

"Do you think that two-platoon football is dividing the teams into 'haves' and 'have-nots'?" Many answered merely yes or no, but a majority expressed themselves at some length. Following is a cross-section of their remarks:

"Yes, it over-matches the have-nots, and if continued it will break up many traditional series."

"No, it is the best innovation in recent years. Two platoons are in all, exceeded 1,000 yards quite remarkably in this era of the forward pass."

Usually this column begins with some pleasant happening. This week however, all of us in DeBary are saddened over the sudden death of Mr. Jens Mortensen of Asturians.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen were on their way Tuesday to Daytona Beach Airport where their niece, Mrs. Esther Jackson, Hartford, Conn., who has been visiting them for quite some time was to take a plane back north. Mr. Mortensen was seized with a fatal heart attack.

Mr. Mortensen was 82 years old and both he and his wife were well known in DeBary and loved by all who had the pleasure of associating with them. They were the oldest couple living in DeBary having come here about two years ago from Connecticut.

One of their sons was Mayor of Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Mortensen and Mrs. Jackson left Wednesday afternoon with the body for the funeral in Hartford. The DeBary Civic Association, Inc., The DeBary Garden Club and all of their friends and neighbors extend their deepest sympathy to the widow and family.

The regular monthly meeting of the DeBary Civic Association was held Tuesday afternoon. After the invocation was delivered by Chaplain Vincent Valentine a minute of prayer was offered for the late Mr. Jens Mortensen.

The meeting was well attended with five new members joining; several issues for the betterment of the community were discussed and all were reminded and urged to vote at the coming election.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion by Mrs. Gus Rapprich. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Henry Ashmore and Mrs. Vincent Valentine.

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. Vincent Valentine last week by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Young of Medina Road. A buffet supper was served and a birthday cake baked and served by Mrs. J. Mortensen. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Valentine, the H. Youngs, Mrs. Esther Jackson of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. Mortensen and her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Preston of Hartsdale on the Hudson, N. Y. are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moller of Smyrna Drive. They have been visiting many of the interesting places in Florida.

Mrs. Gus Rapprich of Lakeview Cabins returned home from her sad mission up North, her mother's funeral.

After a months vacation with relatives in the North, Charles Young of DeBary Drive returned home.

Other new members to DeBary are Mr. and Mrs. John Schoendorf of Babylon, L. I. Mr. Schoendorf is retired from the New York City police and their new home is near completion.

Mr. and Mrs. James Young of the Panama Canal young moved in.

Mr. Peter Brown is reported to have left the Mather Memorial Hospital in Port Jefferson, L. I., N. Y.

Lewis Heitman of Medford, L. I., N. Y. is visiting cousins Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Brenner on Smyrna Drive. He brought Dr. and Mrs. Fred Jones home furnishings in his large truck from Long Island. The Joneses have purchased a home in Orange City.

Florida Power And Light To Continue Local Construction

Continued activity in construction, particularly of homes, is indicated in the Florida Power & Light Company's North Central Division, composed of Sanford, Cocoa, Melbourne and Titusville districts, according to the utility's latest report issued yesterday.

Figures on the connection of new electrical services, a reliable index to the number of new buildings completed, show that Florida Power & Light Company during November in its North Central Division completed 110 new electric services compared to 91 during November of last year. This year's increase amounts to 21 percent.

To meet this anticipated increase in demand for electric service, we've installed seven large new generators since the war and we are constantly making improvements locally such as increasing the size and capacity of transformers, replacing old lines with new circuits and installing automatic equipment to increase continuity of service to our customers."

These new homes are a sign of prosperity and reflect favorably on the conditions of our section," Mr. Coleman stated.

"Instead of declining, as some experts predicted, building activity in our North Central Division generally has continued at a busy pace, as evidenced by the new homes and business places to which we've extended new electric services.

During the first 11 months of 1949, in this division, we made 996 electric service connections.

During the first 11 months of this year we made even more, 1,298, to be exact, and this year's increase over last year amounts to 24 percent!

To meet this anticipated increase in demand for electric service, we've installed seven large new generators since the war and we are constantly making improvements locally such as increasing the size and capacity of transfor-mers, replacing old lines with new circuits and installing automatic equipment to increase continuity of service to our customers."

Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Sprague of Great Neck, L. I., arrived Monday morning from their furniture came Tuesday and they are busy getting settled in their home on Delray Lake. Mr. Sprague retired from the Merchant Marines.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hibbons of New

Baltimore, Md., also arrived and moved into their home on Smyrna Drive Monday. To all these we bid welcome to DeBary.

We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Youman and Mrs. and Mrs. Chas. Kostan spent the day in Daytona Beach with friends.

The infant death rate also is down by more than two thirds with 33.8 deaths and 1,000 live births. In 1917, the board's "most wanted" list of 19 newborn babies were destined never to see their first birthday."

Diphtheria deaths went down from 314 reported in 1948 to 102 in 1949. Typhoid and paratyphoid deaths were reduced from 112 to 73. The number of tuberculosis cases discovered advanced from 4,853 in 1948 to 6,465 in 1949.

This was taken to indicate more cases were being uncovered rather than that the tuberculosis rate is increasing. The Board made 30,000 chest x-rays during the year in its anti-TB drive and discovered 3,247 cases through the survey.

There were 61,642 births in 1949 and 25,011 deaths.

Plan To Reorganize Florida Railroad Nears Acceptance

By WILBUR JENNINGS

AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14—(AP)—The acceptance of a plan of reorganization for the bankrupt Florida East Coast (FEC) Railway will be oral arguments before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

After the arguments by attorneys representing various interests who have offered reorganization plans to end 10-year receivership are completed some time is expected to elapse before the commission arrives at a decision. It may seek additional evidence or clarification in the form of written reports.

New evidence in prepared form also may be introduced during the arguments but normally the commissioners will base their decision on the record of the case.

The arguments were ordered after a hearing held here in July and August.

The present attempt is the fourth at reorganizing the Jacksonville to Miami road.

Principals in the struggle for control of the road are the Alfred I. DuPont estate, represented by the St. Joe Paper Co. of Port St. Joe, Fla., and the Atlantic Coast Line (ACL) Railroad.

The two have waged a long fight to acquire the road; St. Joe to acquire a majority of East Coast's common (voting) stock, and ACL to absorb the FEC into its system.

Each, in turn, has won tentative commission decisions, but in each instance these have been reversed either by the ICC or the courts.

Photograph, "I am fighting for my life".

Mr. Kemler admitted that that was true, but he added that he was also fighting for the American way of life, for freedom to organize into clubs like the Junior Chamber of Commerce, something which he said was not possible anywhere he had been on Circuit, freedom of opportunity, freedom of speech and religion, and the right to move from one job to another and from one part of the country to another.

What we are fighting for today is to preserve these rights for our children, Mr. Kemler said. And he said the Constitution of the United States guarantees everyone "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness".

per 10,000 in 1917, the first year reliable records were kept by the board.

The infant death rate also is down by more than two thirds with 33.8 deaths and 1,000 live births. In 1917, the board's "most wanted" list of 19 newborn babies were destined never to see their first birthday."

Diphtheria deaths went down from 314 reported in 1948 to 102 in 1949. Typhoid and paratyphoid deaths were reduced from 112 to 73. The number of tuberculosis cases discovered advanced from 4,853 in 1948 to 6,465 in 1949.

This was taken to indicate more cases were being uncovered rather than that the tuberculosis rate is increasing. The Board made 30,000 chest x-rays during the year in its anti-TB drive and discovered 3,247 cases through the survey.

There were 61,642 births in 1949 and 25,011 deaths.

Tense, Tired Marines Slog Wearily To Safety In Snow-Dappled Valley

By TOM LAMBERT
of THE PALM BEACH HERALD

WITH U.S. MARINES, Korea—(P) The weary, dangerous road to safety lay steep on the sharp-clipped, snow-capped mountains. Then it unfolded leisurely along a brown, snow-dappled valley crusty with frost.

The Marines came down the road slowly. Their eyes were red with fatigue. Their faces and hands were grimy. They still wore under the tension of the past terrible 12 days which shall be written boldly in Marine Corps history.

These were the last Marine troops to come out of the Chinese trap which the Leathernecks themselves had jammed apart. They were tired, dirty and beat up, but unafraid and proud with a pride which brought a lump in your throat.

They were not all there. Not all who drove far inland from the sea; through snow and ice and freezing cold to Changjin Reservoir, where the Chinese tried to spring a trap.

For many Marines died along side that great reservoir and on the snowy road back to safety. Their bodies will be forever in the barren and inhospitable wilderness.

This was the source of great bitterness for some, that other Marines had died in a battle which the living could not win. Those who came back halted in the shadow of the mountains. They dug dirty holes into earth of cold, vicious, their motions clumsy under the weight of winter clothing.

They were gentle with each other, like brothers, for this is the fraternity of danger and hate. And you knew that fraternal bonds by sharing danger and hate with them.

Some climbed wearily from their vehicles, many of which were gaudy, like gypsies' wagons, with the vivid red and yellow and white silk from parachutes which had floated food and bullets to them while they were cut off from all help except by air.

Then were the tired but joyful cries of the marines, like "Hey, Bob, you bastard, I heard they got you!" which failed completely to hide their regard for each other. And there were low-poken reports like "Bill got it at Hagaru."

As they halted briefly under a warming sun which half melted the road ice into slush, they ignored the nearby artillery which rocked the valley with thunders blasts.

They gave little attention to the ever-present Marine gunners which circled overhead tirelessly or darted down, strafing and bombing the serene mountain tops.

Then the Marines climbed stiffly back into their vehicles. A few drivers, grinning weakly, tested their horns in response to the peanut whistle shrilling from tiny locomotives which had hauled them miles toward safety from the valley railroad.

One giant, laugher Marine crawled into jeep trailer, one hand holding his BAR (Browning Automatic Rifle), and the other stroking the whimpering head of pup almost concealed in the Leatherneck's pack.

Then the convoy rolled south into the dusk, the vehicles faintly lighted by a thin sliver of moon and the evening star.

Shotgun Murder May Blow Lid Off Los Angeles Crime

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14 (UPI)—The shotgun blast that killed a former San Bernadino hoodlum has added another tragic moment to the last offshoot of gambling in Los Angeles. Two men off-duty police, Capt. Lawrence Schaeffer and Capt. H. Peacock, former head of the squad, are under suspicion.

The county grand jury is digging again into the case of the Granite Finance Co., an allegedly profited $6,000,000 a year from its loan and wire services and what connection Rummel has with it.

Particularly, the police and the grand jury want to know why Rummel called Peacock and Schaeffer to a secret conference about 10 minutes from San Bernardino, a few hours before the lawyer was found dead Monday morning.

Peacock was under contract by the grand jury which entered its order yesterday. Schaeffer took some Granite Finance reports from the sheriff's office to the meeting with Rummel.

Both Peacock and Schaeffer and they still are unsure whether Rummel was trying to be given information.

Sheriff Eugene L. Carter suspended the officers because they did not disclose their conference with Rummel and Peacock might have been hours after the law man was killed.

Gambler Mike Cohen, often represented by Rummel, took a temporary break and the same day ended investigation.

"They were the tired but joyful cries of the marines, like 'Hey, Bob, you bastard, I heard they got you!' which failed completely to hide their regard for each other. And there were low-poken reports like 'Bill got it at Hagaru.'

Richard Dufour, SCS Engineer who has been working in the Central Florida area, has been recalled to active duty in the Army. We all hate to see "Dick" leave. He has done a lot of contour grove layouts in the past year and his loss will be keenly felt.

George Harden, Sanford Dairyman and Seminole Soil Conservation Service Supervisor, said that the Pensacola Bahia seemed to stand the frost better than his other grasses. He has Carpet and Pangola grasses as well as Pensacola Bahia in mixture with Louisiana White Clover. He believes that Pensacola Bahia pastures should be fertilized with nitrogen in September and grazing deferred until November. In this manner, a heavy crop of forage can be produced which will be available after frosts.

Miss Marilyn Baker, 462 East Sycamore St., Evansville, Indiana, says HADACOL isn't good—it is absolutely wonderful. She says if she praised HADACOL every minute of the day, it would not be enough. Miss Baker's system was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, all of which HADACOL contains.

Here is Miss Baker's statement: "I had been sickly for some time. I had lost weight and had to quit school because I was so weak and skinny. My nerves were bad and shaky. Then my mother started me taking HADACOL. It seemed like my appetite improved with the first dose and now since I have taken HADACOL for over 5 months I have gained 15 lbs. Now my nerves are just fine. I feel wonderful, thanks to HADACOL. I recommend HADACOL to all my friends."

HADACOL is So Effective because HADACOL also builds up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ of your body. Thousands whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin are benefiting from HADACOL.

Refuse Substitutes:
There is only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is good. It's just plain old Genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial Size only $1.25. Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana, c. 1950. The LeBlanc Corporation.

Here's An "Expert" Example!

When our Main Street parking problem cropped up again, we announced a strict one-hour parking policy, and swore in extra deputies to enforce it.

We also sent over to the State Capitol for a traffic expert, to give us pointers. He turned out to be real helpful—spent a whole afternoon with us talking about zoning and such. And when he left the building he found a ticket on his car for overtime parking!

Could have gotten sore, I guess—or asked us to "fix" the ticket. But instead, he insisted on going

Truman Expected To Ask Americans For Big Sacrifices

4 Million Man Army, $100 Billion Dollars A Year For Defense Foreseen

By JACK BRILL,
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—President Truman calls on Americans at 10:30 tonight to unite in greater sacrifices behind the critical effort to build up the free world's military might.

The tempo of that effort was already being speeded up rapidly. But members of Congress and others were demanding definite manpower and production goals.

It was disclosed officially today that the government has picked a site near Paducah, Ky., for a $500,000,000 atomic energy project—the second expansion of the atomic program to be announced within three weeks.

And Secretary of the Army Pace was disclosed to have told Congress that the $41,841,000,000 voted or sought for the military establishment this year probably won't be enough. He said the latest request for $16,844,000,000 has been submitted before Congress can act.

Mr. Truman, speaking at 10:30 p. m. on radio and television, plans to outline the home front sacrifices he thinks are necessary to meet the grave crisis of military defeat in Korea and the threat of new Communist aggression.

A declaration of national emergency—to speed up military contract letting and put the country nearer to a war basis—seemed certain either as a prelude of aftermath of the President's speech.

This could be accompanied or followed by selective price and wage controls. Most speculation over the new defense program to be agreed while personnel is being built up to administrative form.

Administration officials said the declaration of an emergency may be quickly followed by a call for a 6,000,000-man Army and an eventual expenditure of 100,000,000 a year for defense.

Word that the armed services will need more money came from testimony by Pace before a House Appropriations subcommittee on Dec. 9. He was made public today. Pace told the lawmakers the huge emergency money bill they are considering "has already been overtaken by the rush of recent events."

Word of the new atomic energy project came from hearings on the same bill, which covers a Presidential request for $1,000,000,000 for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Testimony revealed that it will include two gaseous diffusion plants. The gaseous diffusion process of producing atomic materials is the one employed at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The commission disclosed on Nov. 29 that it will build a new project in South Carolina. Testimony released today placed its cost at $600,000,000 or more. (Continued on Page Eight)

GOVERNMENT WORKERS LONDON, Dec. 15.—(P)—One British worker out of every four is employed directly or indirectly by the government, Labor Minister George Isaacs reported today.

Giving figures up to last June 30, Isaacs said the total working population is 23,000,000, of which 5,712,000 work for local or national authorities.

State-owned industries alone employed 2,510,000.

JOHNSON BENEFITS TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 15.—Employment compensation payments for the week ending Dec. 8 totaled over $82,000, a decrease of nearly $9,000 from the previous week, according to a report from the Florida Industrial Commission.

Recipients also decreased nearly 1,000 during the week. There were 5,238 persons receiving weekly payments during the week ending Dec. 8 compared to the 6,226 the week before.

In Seminole County there were 11 receiving payments which totaled $147.

The group reported that in general it found "the same shortcomings and delinquencies" in the handling of the problem among congressional employees as it did with respect to workers in the executive branch of the government.

In a report to the Senate, an expenditures subcommittee assigned to the State Department for particular criticism. That agency, the group declared, "mis-handled" 81 homosexual cases by allowing many of the employees to resign "for personal reasons" and failing to bar them from other federal jobs.

The lack of moral stability which is found in most sex perverts, and the weakness of their moral fiber, makes them

Court Orders Still Ignored In Rail Striked By GOP Group

Industrial Output Is Slowed By Strike; Mail And Freight Embargo Imposed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—Attorney General McGrath announced today he will bring contempt actions in the federal district courts at Chicago and Cleveland this afternoon against the brotherhood of railroad trainmen.

He said these courts will be advised that the union has disregarded the restraining orders which they issued during the last two days directing an end of the railroad strike, which is continuing to spread.

A third restraining order against the walkout has also been issued by the federal court here. It was indicated that the government will give the union some additional hours to obey the local court order before bringing additional contempt proceedings in Washington.

Successful contempt action could lead to heavy fines against the union.

The strikers continued to ignore the court orders. The strike was spreading. It hit home front mail deliveries—particularly parcels—even harder. Today it struck at express.

The Railway Express Agency, Inc., announced an embargo on all shipments in and out of Chicago and St. Louis today. Exempt were drugs, hospital supplies, funeral supplies and government shipments. The agency said a partial embargo is in effect in Washington.

The union, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, is seeking a 10-hour week at 48 hours pay for its strength Navy.

The strike already had affected vital shipments of freight and mail, and slowed the industrial output.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company, Gary, Ind., had been shut down and other others may be affected shortly. In the company's south works in Chicago, four blast furnaces also have been shut down and remained down today.

The Post Office Department last night clamped a partial embargo on Parcel Post mailing.

An Army spokesman made it clear that the Army recommended contempt action.

He said that heavy industry and "heavy food"—that is, the steel and meat packing industries in the Chicago area—"will be in a difficult position if they are not relieved.

Besides, he said, the Chicago quartermaster depot, through which passes a great deal of army supplies of all kinds, is being affected.

Demand for swift and effective government action arose in Congress.

Rep. Barden (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Labor Committee, accused the trainmen of "paralyzing our railroad system with strikes—not only against the operators—but also against the government."

William C. Marlowe, 48, is Found Dead

William C. Marlowe, 48, of Maitland was found dead last night at 7:00 o'clock approximately 50 feet east of the Orlando Highway and between Death Valley and the San Orla Club.

The body was discovered by a neighbor whom Mrs. Marlowe sent to look for her husband when he failed to return home for supper.

No evidence of foul play was found, said County Judge Douglas Stevenson, who with Deputy Sheriff Charles Beck and W. H. McRae investigated the death. Mr. Marlowe, he stated, had been at work all day clearing the land and his automobile was parked nearby.

A post mortem investigation of the body was made at the Erickson Funeral Home, and further inquiry into the death will be made, said Judge Stevenson. Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe moved to Maitland from Ohio a few weeks ago.

Sex Perverts In Federal Service Called Easy Mark For Enemy Spies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—A Senate investigating committee today described sexual perverts as easy marks for foreign spies and said many federal agencies have been lax about routing such perverts out of government jobs.

The group reported that in general it found "the same shortcomings and delinquencies" in the handling of the problem among congressional employees as it did with respect to workers in the executive branch of the government.

Nazi and Communist agents have attempted to obtain information from federal employees "by threatening to expose their abnormal sex activities."

The group added that perverts also are "easy prey to the black-mailer." The committee quoted a report from the FBI that Russian agents have orders to seek out any private-life weaknesses of U. S. government and military officials to lay them open to blackmail.

The investigation of government

Owners of automobiles over 20 years old only have to pay $5.00 for a license tax. In order, however, to insure safety it is required that the antique jalopies be inspected by a member of the Florida Highway Patrol.

At D. Morrison, highway patrolman, announced today that such inspections will be made Tuesday evenings and Friday mornings at the Court House.

Republican Members Of House Demand Housecleaning Of State Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(P)—House Republicans today adopted a resolution calling for the ouster of Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The action was taken at a closed meeting of all House party members. GOP leaders said the resolution was approved "overwhelmingly."

The resolution will be sent to President Truman.

In addition to asking for Acheson's replacement, it urges "changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence" in the State Department.

Senate Republicans may take some stand concerning Acheson before the day is over.

While the House Republicans were in session, the Senate GOP Policy Committee called a meeting of all Republican senators for 4:30 P. M. to consider a formal resolution of no confidence in Acheson.

Chairman Taft (Ohio) of the policy committee said a resolution drafted by Senator Ives (R-N.Y.), together with certain suggested amendments, the two remaining asks that President Truman fire Acheson.

The resolution adopted by the House Republicans says:

"In this critical hour, confidence of the American people in their leadership is essential to our security."

"It is completely obvious that Secretary Acheson and the State Department under his leadership have lost the confidence of the Congress and the American people and cannot regain it."

"Recognizing this fact, we earnestly insist for the good of our country that Mr. Acheson be replaced as Secretary of State, and that there be a thorough housecleaning in the State Department, with changes in the personnel and policies responsible for this lack of confidence."

The resolution was offered by Rep. Martin (Mass.), the GOP floor leader.

Those attending the session said it was adopted by a voice vote after Rep. Jevitts (R-N.Y.) failed in an effort to have it referred to the house GOP policy committee.

The conference was well attended although there were many absences. Several senators had privately told reporters they had voted for the resolution and did not attend. They declined to permit use of their names.

By their vote, the House Republicans picked up a bill the senators of their party have been juggling.

Over a week ago, the Senate GOP policy committee named a subcommittee of four to consider a resolution of paralyzing our railroad system with strikes—not only against the operators—but also against the government.

The subcommittee, which includes Sen. Barden (D-N.C.), Chairman of the House Labor Committee, and Sen. Stevenson (D-N.Y.), has been unable to agree on a date for the bill's introduction.
