Reds Thrown Back By Allied Bayonet Charge Near Seoul

Chinese Assaults On Both Flanks Fail; Fighting Shifts To Mountain Area

TOKYO, Feb. 16—(AP)— Allied bayonets slashed back Red attempts to outflank both ends of the Central Korean warfront today.

On the left flank, southeast of Seoul, American infantrymen—almost out of ammunition—bared bayonets and charged. They chased the fleeing Chinese survivors half a mile.

The doughboys killed some 56 Reds. Artillery already had killed about 100 of a dug-in force of 300.

On the right flank of the relatively quiet central front, South Korean infantrymen used bayonets and grenades to throw back Chinese troops north of Chechon. But Communist pressure in that mountainous sector continued.

On the western front south of Seoul, an American tank-infantry patrol ran into more than 500 Chinese just south of the Han river. The Reds were dug in but lost at least 100 men.

Action all along the curving battlefront was relatively small in comparison with fighting in the past five days, in which a Communist drive on the central front was checked.

The Eighth Army counted Red casualties at 4,938 for Thursday, of which 2,878 were on the central front between Chipyong and Wonju. This brought to more than 100,000 the Red losses since the Allied limited offensive jumped off Jan. 25.

Chinese action on the right flank of the central front indicated a renewed drive.

Four Feared Dead As 2 Boats Sink Off Gulf Coast

Coast Guard Searches For Texas Explorer While Storm Rages

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Feb. 16—(AP)— Two boats sank in heavy seas off the Texas Gulf coast—and the four-man crew of one may have been lost.

The wild waves yesterday disabled another boat, two reported they were leaking badly, and another was rescued by a coast guard cutter.

Sunk were the trawler Rosella and the tug Texas explorer.

The crew of the Rosella was taken off by another boat.

There was no definite word that the crew of the Texas explorer had been rescued.

A PBY plane searched for almost ten hours, but failed to sight the craft or its crew. The explorer reportedly went down somewhere between Corpus Christi and Galveston.

The trawler Belle Passe picked the crew of the Rosella off the sinking ship, 150 miles south-southeast of Port Isabel, Tex. Later the Belle Passe reported it was leaking badly.

A Coast Guard boat went to the aid of the sinking vessel. The Belle Passe reported it was in a "sinking condition" eight miles west of Padre Island.

The trawler was pumped out and proceeded to Corpus Christi under its own power.

The Coast Guard said the trawler Texas reported it was leaking badly 100 miles from Port Isabel in the same area where the Rosella sank.

Britain Opposes Passing Parallel, Spokesman Says

Tokyo Headquarters Says Problem Is Purely Military

LONDON, Feb. 16—(AP)— A foreign office spokesman said today Britain will seek clarification of President Truman's statement that a decision whether U. N. forces should cross the 38th Parallel in Korea rests with General Douglas MacArthur.

The spokesman said Britain still sticks by its view, stated in the House of Commons recently by Prime Minister Clement Attlee. He said then that Britain felt a decision on whether to cross the 38th Parallel should be taken only after consultation in the United Nations and among those countries with troops in the U. N. forces.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday in Washington that a decision on crossing the 38th Parallel was a military and strategic one in the hands of the commanding general in the Far East. The U. N. Assembly gave tacit approval to the crossing of the 38th Parallel in a resolution adopted October, after South Korean forces had crossed the line, but no others.

Earlier this week, General MacArthur had said the question was academic because of the present situation.

Defense Problems To Be Discussed At Orlando Meeting

Civil Defense Personnel From Sanford and Other Counties Will Attend

Notice of the meeting was made this morning by Lieut. Col. A. P. Phillips, Jr., USAF, who pointed out a surprise attack simultaneous with that of the plans will be based not only in this section but throughout the United States.

A. E. Patterson, director of the Seminole County Defense Council, stated this morning that these are problems in which the Orange County Civil Defense Council will be primarily concerned, but in which the Seminole County Defense Council will cooperate.

Regional and county directors in the state and such key members of their staffs as may be desired will be invited to attend the meeting.

The hypothetical attack considered would include a sudden bombardment from the sea simultaneously by means of submarines, heavy explosive and incendiary shells against St. Augustine, Daytona, Daytona Beach, New Smyrna Beach, Melbourne and Cocoa Beach, Mr. Patterson pointed out.

Destruction and fire resulting from the attack would be from these cities and might move into Sanford, DeLand, Orlando and other inland cities.

The problem does not anticipate any destruction of Sanford and as far as we are concerned in this area, it is a refugee problem that might be complicated by the blowing up of bridges by saboteurs," said Mr. Patterson.

James E. Matthews, as defense director of Area No. 4, in the Seminole area, and C. P. Brasington, as director of Area No. 2, said Mr. Patterson.

Split Develops In Wage Board Over Ban On Increases

DiSalle Asks Farmers To Cooperate In Holding Price Line

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP)— Economic Stabilizer Erik Johnson tackled the problem of whether to order a proposed new wage ceiling amid mounting concern today over how far labor unions might go in backing up their representatives' angry denunciation of the formula.

The tough question reached Johnson this way:

The six public and industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board voted early today to ban wage raises—of more than 10 per cent between Jan. 15, 1950 and next July.

The three labor members walked out of the board, condemning the restriction as unfair to workers.

The walkout brought the whole matter to a head.

Porter H. Lansing of Sanford, president of the Florida Wildlife Federation, will preside at its second district meeting of the year Saturday night and Sunday at the Roosevelt Hotel, Jacksonville.

He will be accompanied to Jacksonville by Mrs. Lansing and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ekers, the latter the secretary of the organization with headquarters at the local Tourist Center.

Among the speakers at the meeting will be E. H. Chamberlain, naturalist from Tallahassee, who will tell of a proposed canal from the St. Johns to the Indian River.

The canal project, concerning which a hearing was held at the Mayfair Inn last year with representatives of leading Florida communities in the vicinity of the St. Johns river attending, was (Continued on Page 5)

Tampa Officials Get 2nd Summons From Crime Group

Ban On Slot Machines Aids Punchboards, Committee Is Told

TAMPA, Feb. 16—(AP)— State Attorney Rex Larson has been ordered the second time by the Kefauver Committee to appear before that group in Washington tomorrow.

Farrar and Sheriff Hugh Culbreath were subpoenaed to testify before the committee. Culbreath, who has been ill with flu, obtained a delay from today until tomorrow afternoon.

Farrar explained he was sending a 17-page sworn statement to the committee in lieu of his appearance, adding that he was tied up here on an important law case.

In Washington, however, spokesmen for the committee said a second summons was sent to Farrar, ordering him to be on hand tomorrow morning.

The State Attorney said he had not received this second order and declined comment.

Former Police Chief J. L. Edgings was "invited" but not summoned to testify at the hearing. Edgings declined, saying he would have to pay his own way.

The Tampa Junior Chamber of Commerce offered last night to pay his expenses for the Washington trip.

Sam F. Davis, president of the Tampa Crime Commission, declared the officials were "stalling." He wired the committee in Washington that Culbreath was seen on Tampa streets here yesterday and appeared to be in good health.

Textile Industry Is Crippled As 70 Thousand Strike

Union's First Nationwide Strike Halts Wool Production

BOSTON, Feb. 16—(AP)— The centers were crippled today by a nation's wool and worsted mill strike of 70,000 CIO workers which the union said was "universally effective" and the companies reported as "quiet and orderly."

Picket lines at plant gates throughout New England and in Eastern and Southern states. It was the first industry-wide walkout in the union's 11-year history and involved about half of all wool and worsted workers in the country.

About 700 were in line in Lawrence, Mass., where American Woolen Company has two of the largest woolen mills in the world. Elsewhere only a handful of pickets turned out.

In Skowhegan, Me., a union official said:

"We hope it will be a friendly strike."

The walkout got underway last night, after breakdown of New York negotiations between the CIO Textile Workers of America and the American Woolen Company, traditionally the wage pattern maker for the industry. Twenty of its 25 mills held CIO contracts.

TWUA President Emil Rieve said American Woolen failed to make a reasonable offer. The company said it had offered an increase of four cents an hour.

The union demanded a 15-cent an hour pay boost and reported the industry's average wage is $1.12 an hour. The TWUA also wants annual raises of 6 cents an hour, quarterly cost-of-living adjustments and other contract benefits.

In Fitchburg, Mass., union official James J. Ellis charged that American Woolen "asked for the strike so they would have a talk" in the past week with Washington to (Continued on Page 5)

West's Advantages In Atomic Weapons Is Being Overhauled, Acheson Declares

Secretary Acheson Said Today He Expects Western Europe to Double Its Defense Forces in the Next Year

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP)— Secretary Acheson said today he expects Western Europe to double its defense forces in the next year. He also expressed hope Spain, Turkey and Greece can be linked into the Atlantic community's mutual defense plans.

The Secretary of State was before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees to support the Administration's plan to send 100,000 additional American Army troops to Europe as part of a combined defense force against Communist aggression.

In general, Acheson developed these arguments:

1. The western world's advantage gained from this country's atomic weapons is now the main deterrent to Communist aggression, but time is erasing that advantage. The Allies must, therefore, build balanced forces which will make Russia hesitant to move after the West's atomic advantage diminishes.

2. Any policy of waiting for Europe to catch up is a (Continued on Page 5)

Rise in Cigarette Receipts Reported During December

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 16—(AP)— December cigarette tax collections in Florida weren't as high as a year ago but the cities got more.

Beverage Director Lewis W. Schott, who collects the tax, reported today that total receipts from the nickel-a-package levy in December, 1950, were $1,435,222. The total for the same month of 1949 was $1,196,586.

However, the total odd cents received, $1,118,134 from collections in December, 1950, compared with only $1,106,588 the same month a year before. Cities get all the taxes that are collected inside their limits.

The State Tuberculosis board reported $307,188 from December, 1950, collections, compared with $360,063 a year before.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 16—(AP)— Mrs. Ralph W. Carson, prominent Clearwater woman who was sentenced to five years in prison for the death of two men, was struck when she lost control of her car, will be released on parole Feb. 27.

Chairman Joseph T. Cheney of the State Parole Commission announced the board's action.

She has served 11 months of the sentence. She will remain under supervision of the parole commission for the remaining four years.

She was charged with manslaughter for the deaths of George W. Kenner and Henry W. Glick. They were fishing from the Clearwater Beach runway when her car struck them.

She said she lost control when her foot slipped off the brake and onto the accelerator. Prosecutors said she had been drinking.

Her husband, a Clearwater attorney, was assistant city judge at the time of the accident.

Old, Ramshackle German Embassy Put Up For Sale

By ARTHUR L. EASON
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP)— The old German Embassy, home of Hitler's and Kaiser's diplomatic representatives, is about to be sold.

Bids on the old place, a thing of no beauty, were to be opened today. The Justice Department has 45 days to accept, or reject, the best offer.

The money eventually will go to the War Claims Commission, and will be used, among other things, to pay claims of American prisoners of war.

In calling for offers, the Justice Department acted as an enthusiastic buyer of real estate. It gave this description:

"Valuable downtown location, 1135-41 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., improvement of brick construction, consisting of 70 rooms, large ballroom, 13 baths and 5 additional toilet rooms, garages and storage space; situated on (Continued on Page 5)

Quota Is Raised By Seminole County

The Children's Home Society of Florida of which Marcus C. Pace has been president for more than 40 years, reports that Seminole County was well over its quota of $1,000 in donations during 1950.

Total gifts from this county were $1,422 of which Sanford citizens contributed $1,197. Other donations were: Ovidio, 107; Longwood, 119.50; Lake Monte, 45.00; Lake Mary, 22; Geneva, 510 and Altamonte Springs, 11.00.

As compared to a state goal of $2,830 the total gifts in Florida were $69,370.

"This is a notable record," said Mr. Pace, "and one for which the Society is deeply grateful." He pointed out that the Society gave aid, care, study and supervision to 1,550 "less-changed" Florida children during 1950.

"All indications are that we will need to add many more during the coming year," he added, "for we started out the new year with 627 children under care."

Masons To Meet

Sanford Lodge No. 62, F. and A.M., will meet Saturday night at 8 o'clock and the Master Degree will be conferred.

Nation Is Warned That Protestant Colleges Face Fight For Survival

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 16—(AP)— Dr. E. Fay Campbell of Philadelphia warned today that Protestant colleges—as a result of the national emergency—face the most critical struggle for survival since the Civil War.

He urged adoption of emergency financial measures by supporting churches to keep the colleges going.

Dr. Campbell is executive director of the 80-member Commission on Christian Higher Education of the newly-formed National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. His statements were in a speech prepared for delivery before Protestant leaders of more than 30 Protestant denominations at the first session of the commission.

Dr. Campbell pointed to dwindling college enrollments and resulting financial losses because of the draft and defense jobs. But the biggest loss, he added, is in the morale of American youth of college age, "who seems to have lost his grip on the future."

"None yet is on the verge of closing," Dr. Campbell said, "but many Protestant-affiliated institutions now are wrestling with the problem of how they may stay open beyond next June."

Some of these colleges, he added, are older than the United States.

Dr. Campbell said the 475 Protestant-related colleges and universities have assets of $500,000,000 in buildings and $600,000,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP)— The Red Air Force battle-testing a new, ultra-high-speed jet fighter in Korea.

American airmen, it became known today, recently have caught a few brief glimpses of a mysterious, unusually fast jet fighter, presumably well to the north where the Communist jet air force prefers to make it's sorties from fields in the Manchurian sanctuary.

Whether the fighter is an entirely new design or an improvement on some known type, such as the MIG-15 or the LA-17, is not yet known. Because the United States Air Force is not yet sure, it has tabbed the Red plane with an arbitrary type number but without attempting to designate it as a product of either of the design teams of Mikoyan and Gurevich (from which the names MIG comes) or of Lavochkin. Those two organizations are Russia's foremost designers of jet fighter types.

What concerns American fliers is the report that the mysterious Red jet was able to keep ahead (one report said it pulled away from) the fastest operational jet fighter the USAF has, the P-51 Sabre.

News And Policy

The Army has been having a tiff with a news correspondent in Germany, one of its own former employees who resigned because, he declared, news was being suppressed to meet policy rules. The news outlets involved are the Armed Forces radio and the Stars and Stripes, Army newspaper. An Army spokesman said there was not any censorship, but that "we try not to scare people nor the Germans."

The official statement suggests a failure to grasp what news is and what censorship and bias are, a common failing of government news controllers. A newspaper, or other news disseminator, can try to be truthful, to be objective and to be fair, and those rules of policy will help it to present an accurate and faithful picture of the news. If it tries to scare people, the news will certainly suffer. If it tries to follow any other policy rule, beyond those of truth, fairness and objectivity, the news, in being trimmed to fit the rule will be distorted.

The American press, since it won its first struggles for freedom, has always upheld the principle that the people are entitled to know the facts of what goes on around them and in the rest of the world. The people do not need to be sheltered from grim facts any more than they should be deprived of happy ones. The people can decide for themselves whether or not to be scared.

The support of this principle requires the American press to be forever alert for attempts on the part of government or other institutions to slant them down. Newspapers detect such attempts and to slap them down. Newspapers in this campaign not in order to be free, for their own sakes, to say what they please. It is done because every confirmed newspaperman has an unshakable belief in the right of the people to have all the news, and he wants to be free to present it.

Papers Of Writers

Princeton University has just received by gift from Booth Tarkington a collection of his books, letters and other papers amassed during his half century of authorship. The gift comes to the university because Tarkington was a Princeton graduate.

Though Tarkington died as recently as 1946, already his name is seldom heard. The period stories, which the movies have helped to perpetuate, are probably as well remembered as anything he ever wrote. Yet he wrote smoothly and with a good deal of craftsmanship, depicting faithfully the life of the reasonably prosperous city-dweller. One wishing a good picture of the social scene in the first quarter of a century will find it in the amusing and carefully written stories of Tarkington.

The same day brought news of a similar benefaction. The Dartmouth College Library has received from Mrs. Bella C. Landauer of New York City a collection of first editions of the plays of Eugene O'Neill, plus 68 O'Neill letters. O'Neill's later work has been infrequent and not so well remembered as anything he ever wrote. Yet he wrote smoothly and with a good deal of craftsmanship, depicting faithfully the life of the reasonably prosperous city-dweller. One wishing a good picture of the social scene in the first quarter of a century will find it in the amusing and carefully written stories of Tarkington.

The Moscow press, marking the first anniversary of the Russo-Chinese alliance, makes much of the claim that the joint actions of a faction will have a powerful influence on the future of humanity.

Whether this is a correct forecast depends heavily on whether the Russo-Chinese alliance is a genuine one or a mere facade. The Moscow press, marking the first anniversary of the Russo-Chinese alliance, makes much of the claim that the joint actions of a faction will have a powerful influence on the future of humanity.

Former Sanford Brothers Return After 60 Years

Two former Sanford citizens who went to school here in the early 90s and made in Texas in the horse and buggy days were recently much surprised at the growth and size of the city when they stopped over here Sunday to talk to J. A. Takach, an old friend.

The two, Alfred and Perry Pronger of Stratford, Texas, who are in the cattle business, are sons of a former deputy sheriff of Sanford, late E. Pronger, and arrived here Sunday en route to St. Petersburg where they are spending the winter. They had left here with their father about 1890 to take up ranching in Texas.

They had with them an old clipping from the Gate City Chronicle, published in Sanford on May 26, 1893. At the time T. Applegate was editor and publisher and W. James was associate editor. The clipping revealed the following story about Deputy Sheriff Pronger:

"Deputy Sheriff E. Pronger, of this city, on Saturday night last was recipient of a very neat and handsome present. During the evening he was invited to call at the office of Justice H. S. Adams, and went, as he supposed, on official business. Upon arriving there he was surprised to find sixty or seventy of his friends assembled, with some definite purpose in their minds, which was soon made apparent when Judge Welborne, who occupied the Chair, arose and explained the object of the meeting.

"It then appeared that in appreciation of the official services of Mr. Pronger, that his friends were about to present him a beautiful solid silver badge. The presentation of which was accompanied by appropriate speeches from Judge Welborne and several of the company. The medal is a circular badge, surmounted by an eagle with extended wings, while in the center is a shield and coat of arms of the United States. Inlaid around the shield are the words, 'E. Pronger, Deputy Sheriff of Orange County.' The medal is about one and a half inches in diameter, and is a gift both fitting and ornamental, as it has been well earned in the faithful discharge of duty."

Porter Lansing

A certified project of the late Edward Higgins during his service as manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Herald Colonist of the State Chamber of Commerce, will address the meeting with the subject, "Interest in Wildlife." Another leading speaker will be Francis White of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, who will talk at the initial session starting at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

A second session will be held starting at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning and the third session will be conducted from 1:30 P. M. to 4:30 P. M. During the latter session Marion Harman of Sanford will talk on "Public Relations and Publicity" and Mr. Lansing will make his report.

Mrs. Ekern stated today that she is well pleased with her office in the former Chamber of Commerce headquarters here, and pointed out that the central location of Sanford makes it convenient to attend meetings in various parts of the state.

All equipment from the former office in St. Petersburg has been transferred here including filing cabinets, a mimeograph machine and a wire recorder.

German Embassy

plot containing 20,000 square feet. The property is ideally located and offers unusual opportunities for development. The neighborhood is improving. The idea is any showplace. Even the Germans never thought that.

They bought the place, second hand, in 1893. Since then several additions have been made. The site, as early as 1908, though, the Germans bought a lot and planned a brilliant new, $1,000,000 embassy. But what with World War I, and one thing and another, they never got around to building it.

In 1937, Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff gave up, and moved to a rented place further out Massachusetts Avenue, where most of the larger embassies are located.

Except for a caretaker, the place has been vacant since Dec. 19, 1941. That's the date Charge D'Affaires Hans Thomsen and 300 helpers were moved to Internment at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Incidentally, Senator Langer (R-ND) has protested the sale of the embassy. He says it should be saved for the German representatives who will come here.

The sale, he told the Senate, will bring bowls of glass from Communists.

But a State Department man who looked the old building over said a "superior" $1,000,000 "horrible" plan is being developed.

He said the furniture has been sold, the plumbing is in bad shape, and the whole thing is a mess.

That joy, beauty, healing, and harmony inevitably follow man's willingness to leave a material basis of thinking and accept government by God, divine Principle, is the central theme of Christian Science services next Sunday, when the subject is "Soul."

The Golden Text: "Truly my soul waiteth upon God; for my soul saveth my salvation" is from Psalms (62).
Included among citations from the Bible (King James Version) is the following from Isaiah 55: 6, "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near."

Isaiah's admonition is amplified in this statement from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, in the Lesson: "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony. Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the measure, and use all to exchange for the joys of Soul" (p. 300).

Korean War

called the Chinese may have shifted much of their strength to the area north and northwest of Chechon.

They struggled over some of the highest ridges on the backbone of the peninsula to apply reinforced pressure to Chechon, 14 miles southeast of the major road hub of Wonju.

A South Korean regiment was ready for them at one point. There the Chinese met stern resistance 10 miles north of Chechon. First reports indicated more than 2,000 Chinese were being held off.

The flanking development came after a ship-down battle at Chipping, 20 air miles northwest of Wonju. Allied reinforcements bolstered the finger-in-the-dike force of French and Americans at Chipping that hadly crippled three Chinese divisions in checking the main Red push on the central front earlier this week.

To the east of Chipping, an American-Dutch force stood off mauling Red forces above Wonju. Chinese divisions in checking the main Red push on the central front earlier this week.

But a menacing build-up of Chinese war and Korean reports was reported in the hills and valleys above the central front—the area beyond Chipping and Wonju.

AP correspondent John Randolph reported Eighth Army intelligence estimated the Red strength at five Army corps.

A Chinese army corps consists of three divisions, of from 6,000 to 10,000 men in each division. Hence, up to 150,000 troops could be massing for a new onslaught.

Southeast of Chipping, were some 2,000 Reds had forged the last link in a long, around-the-hill ringed town, Hirth, Scottish and Australian troops ran into a hot fight and failed to reach Chipping.

However, tank-led American troops were more than 20,000 enemy casualties inflicted in four days by the central front defenders and the more than 1,000 sorties of Allied planes against them Thursday.

Spontaneous fighting was reported on the central front Friday. Correspondent Randolph said during the night Allied troops heard the Chinese digging in. Intelligence reports indicated the battered Reds were regrouping.

Allied troops in the west still held port Inchon, Yongdungpo and Kimpo airport in the Seoul area. The ravaged South Korean capital itself was under artillery fire from U. N. guns south of the winding Han River.

British officials reluctantly agreed when the U. N. force first crossed the former dividing line between North and South Korea last fall.

Many British officials believe that crossing of the Parallel, coupled with MacArthur's northward drive, were the direct causes of Red Chinese intervention in Korea.

Meanwhile officials at General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo expressed gratification that President Truman had cleared "muddy waters" concerning a military crossing of the 38th Parallel in Korea.

The President told his news conference Thursday that General MacArthur still has authority to decide whether to thrust north of the political boundary.

Key officers here said there never has been any doubt of that. The United Nations approved the first drive across 28 by Allied forces and this directive has not been altered, they said.

The statements also declined to express gratification that President Truman had cleared "muddy waters" concerning a military crossing of the 38th Parallel in Korea.

Europe To Double

before contributing American forces, would dissipate the opportunity of this time interval and damage Western Europe's morale.

To follow a policy of acting Western Europe into a mood of only after an attack would plunge non-resistance—"a mood of 'neutrality' which is, for them and for all of us, a short cut to suicide."

Before the Senate committee is a resolution by Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) which would record the Senate as opposed to sending of U. S. troops to Europe without congressional approval.

Administration leaders in Congress are aiming to substitute some sort of resolution approving the dispatch of troops.

Acheson, wearing a gray suit set off by a red-figured blue tie, appeared before the committee with a prepared statement which outlined his general argument.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the combined committee rapped his gavel and told him to start.

"I suppose you now the subject matter before us," Connally said Wherry, Wherry resolution.

A crowd, which started gathering in the hall, can be seen in the opening, crowded the 300-seat Senate caucus room.

News reel and television cameras began grinding away as Acheson, in his usual clipped voice, read his statement.

the price freeze.

Ellis, business agent of the union's central Massachusetts joint board, said the company had 75 days in which to prepare for contract negotiations and met "only three times" with union chief.

Robert Montgomery, counsel for the American Woolen Company, answered Ellis in this way:

"The company did not want the wool price freeze. The price freeze didn't want it. The price freeze has only this to do with it—it makes uncertain the amount we could afford in increases. If we don't get relief on price ceilings we would have to operate at a loss in our civilian department."

The view here was that President Truman had considered it time to clarify the situation.

General MacArthur pointed out in a statement Tuesday that talk of crossing 38 is "purely academic." The reason was military not political, he said.

The general in a special tactical statement, then, might be "scattered patrol action" across the boundary but that "we must materially reduce the existing superiority of our Chinese Communist enemy before we can seriously consider conducting major operations north of that geographic line."

Three days earlier Army officials had announced that Republic of Korea (ROK) forces had pushed five miles north of 38 on the east coast, capturing Yangyang, five miles from the line. Subsequently military authorities retracted the announcement.

It was known here that the ROK forces at that time were in position to cross the line and unofficially it was believed likely they had done so. The belief was expressed in military circles but never confirmed that denial of the crossing was made in order to quiet possible repercussions from British leaders.

ROK Marines landed Wednesday on the two islands in Wonsan Bay about 80 miles north of 38. Although the operation appeared much smaller than first reported, it did carry the war far north of the parallel again.

stabilization program to a crisis point. Many officials fear that unions will not support the formula so long as their representatives on the board withhold approval. The possibility of a pro-labor-crippling wave of strikes thus lay ahead.

One aide said Johnston plans to give "very careful, very thorough" study to the formula, with the help of his special assistant on labor problems, George M. Harrison.

The wage board voted 6 to 3 for the order which would restrict wage boosts to 10 percent between Jan. 15, 1950 and next received such a boost would be free to bargain for up to that amount.

But the three labor members of the labor-industry-public board withdrew after the vote early this morning, denouncing the formula as being "unfair and unworkable."

Under the majority's proposed formula, workers who had already had their pay boosted 4 percent since Jan. 15, 1950, for example, would be held to a 2 per cent boost until July 1.

DES MOINES, Feb. 15—(AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle made a bid today for farmers' cooperation in controlling prices and battling inflation.

He backed his bid with this stiff warning:

"But should the next two or three months indicate that the parity concept interferes with our efforts to secure economic stability, we shall have no other course than to recommend its modification."

Parity is the formula set by law to assure the farmer gets enough from the sale of his products to give him a fair break on the things he has to buy. Parity of farm commodities below parity were exempt from the recent government freeze.

Recalling this and other government moves aimed at stabilizing the farm economy, DiSalle said in a speech prepared for the National Farm Institute:

"But the very reasons that make agricultural products vital to the national strength and security also make it inevitable that in time of national emergency, when governmental controls are applied to the
