

Yanks A Cinch To Win Pennant But Experts Are Leary Of Dodgers

On Paper Brooklyn Looks Invincible But Psychology May Be Against Them

By JOE REICHER
Sports Writer

Can you figure that the Yanks lead Cleveland by 2½ games while Brooklyn leads the Giants by three? The Yankees must play eight of their remaining 11 games on the road while the Dodgers have eight of their 11 at home.

Yet the experts—those who know baseball best—figure the Yankees a cinch to win the American League pennant, and declare the National League race a toss-up between the Brooks and Giants.

Why? "The Yankees have the confidence of champions," a veteran baseball man said. "They win the big ones. They don't scare easily. They have the solid men in Alie Reynolds, Vic Raschi, Ed Lopat, Yogi Berra and Phil Rizzuto.

"The Indians may be a better all-around club. But they lack the confidence of champions."

And the Dodgers? "If it were any team but the Dodgers," the learned baseball man replied, "I'd say I don't know how they could lose with a three-game edge.

Neither manager—Leo Durocher of the Dodgers nor Charlie Dressen of the Indians—is doing any talking these days. Not even after yesterday's victories that left them still three games apart with 11 to go.

Brooklyn received another shoddy pitching performance—this time from Carl Erskine—but their bats stoned for the pitcher's lapse. The Brooks posted out an 11 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Sal Maglie looked like the Maglie of old as he pitched the Giants to a six-hit, 12-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. A nine-run sixth inning—the biggest single inning of the season for the Giants—made it easy for the 35-year-old right-hander.

The Indians and Yankees were idle yesterday. They renew war today with the world champion facing the Tigers in Detroit and the Indians taking on the Washington Senators in Cleveland.

The Dodgers play host to Pittsburgh in a night game and the Giants took on the Chicago Cubs in the Polo Grounds.

In yesterday's remaining two games—both in the American League—the Chicago White Sox downed the Boston Red Sox 4-2, and the Detroit Tigers scored a 6-4 victory over the Washington Senators.

1952 FSL Season Produces Eight New Records And Four Are Tied

SILVER SPRINGS (Special)—Eight league records were established, and four old ones were tied during the 1952 season of the Class D Florida State League despite the fact that play was shortened by from three to five games per club.

Official and final averages released at league headquarters here this morning show the following new marks:

Tom Mills, Red Treadway, DeLand's 15½ game lead over Sanford in 1950 when Sanford led by 13 full games. DeLand's Jack Cade crossed the plate 160 times for a new mark that was four better than the 146 set by Dick Steller of Daytona in 1950.

DeLand, with a team average of 292 set a new club and league mark that was three points better than the 289 set by Gainesville in 1949.

Sanford, producing 84 home runs, broke a record of 69 set by Sanford in 1950 when Manager Ed Levy poked out 33 for an all-time league mark. When Daytona made seven and Sanford six errors, a new mark was set for errors by two teams inside nine innings—13. DeLand swamped Leesburg 22 to 0 for the worst shutout defeat in league history.

Red Roberts of DeLand set a new pitcher's won and lost average when he won 16 and lost only two for a .882 percentage. The old figure was .857. Finally, by recording three nine-inning no-hit victories, Jacksonville Beach became the first team in league history to get three in one year.

Records tied in 1952 were: Red Treadway and DeLand's Bill Mostrowsky each scored six runs in one game. Mostrowsky also was walked six times inside nine innings. Cade got three triples in one tilt to tie the old mark, and these three, plus a double, allowed him to tie the record for extra base hits in one game—four.

Two hundred and ninety men went to bat one or more times in 1952, while 14 times the 292 trios, their hands on the mound. DeLand led in virtually every field, taking batting honors with the record-breaking 292 men; fielding honors with a fine .957; and pitching honors with a mound staff that had an earned run average over the season of allowing but 2.96 earned runs per game.

Two new defensive records also were set when Gene Pollard of Daytona turned in a .993 fielding percentage at first base to break the mark set by Ed Turckel of Daytona in 1938 at .992, and when Dan Doy of Orlando fielded at a .965 clip to break the shortstop fielding record made by Bill Good of Leesburg in 1941 at .943.

Red Roberts of DeLand, the Class D Florida State League's most valuable player for 1952, not only had the league's lowest earned run average but set a brand new won and lost record, as revealed in official and final pitching averages released at league headquarters here today.

Scoring 15 victories and losing but two, Roberts recorded a record-breaking .882 percentage that was 25 points better than the mark first set by Sid Hudson in 1939 and tied by Myrl Hoag in 1948.

Roberts turned in a final report showing he allowed but 1.94 earned runs per game during his 23 appearances on the mound. However, outside of Roberts' new won and lost record, no other loop marks were either tied or broken except that Jacksonville Beach became the first club in the league to report three no-hit victories in one season.

Other home FSU games are with Louisville on Oct. 4; VMI on Oct. 10; Mississippi Southern on Nov. 1; Furman on Nov. 15 (Homecoming); and Tampa on Dec. 6.

A limit of 44 players has been set for each school regardless of its classification. A service charge of $80 will be assessed each player.

"It is our sincere desire that high school teams from all over Florida, Georgia, and Alabama will be with us for these ball games," Danford said. "We believe that this year's home schedule is a most worthwhile one."

LSU Being Groomed For Toughest Game Of Schedule Against Texas

By The Associated Press

A football squad large in numbers but only medium large in ability, once green with experience but now black and blue from maturing scrimmages, spent two hard hours Monday on a practice field in Baton Rouge.

The players were out with a single mission—to defeat mighty Texas on their home field Saturday night.

The squad was LSU's. The opening assignment against Texas is the toughest in the Southeastern Conference. As a rule LSU plays the hardest program in the SEC. This season Georgia is getting in on the act, playing not only a major opponent every week, but rough major opponents.

Georgia's job in Nashville Saturday afternoon is to whip Vanderbilt, but that assignment isn't as tough as taking on Texas.

Gaynell Tinsley, twice an All-American and now coach at his alma mater LSU, appeared satisfied with defensive work, especially that of Tackle Frank Horn and End Sammy Murphy. The tigers mixed in passing by Norm Steves, Cliff Stringfield, and Tommy Shepherd and kicking by Stringfield and Aal Doggett.

Other opening round games this week are Alabama vs. Mississippi Southern at Montgomery and Mississippi Friday night; The Citadel vs. Georgia Tech at Atlanta Saturday afternoon; Stetson vs. Florida at Gainesville and Villanova vs. Kentucky at Lexington Saturday night.

As the last pre-season week of practice began, Paul Bryant said his Kentuckians "appeared to be having some fun for the first time." Bryant says he has been disappointed so far.

MIAMI SUN SOX AND FLAMINGOES CLASH

MIAMI (Special)—The Florida International League champion Miami Sun Sox and the runnerup Miami Beach Flamingoes resume their 7-game playoff series in Miami Stadium tonight with Miami Beach leading, 1-0.

Miami won the regular season's pennant and defeated third-place Tampa in the best 3-of-5 playoffs to reach the finals. Miami Beach, which finished a game behind Miami in the regular season, beat St. Petersburg to go into the finals.

The second scoring drive covered yard touchdowns Janit. Grossman again converted.

Ken Franz, former Miami substitute, set up the Fort Jackson score when he recovered a fumble on the Miami 29. The soldiers were ruled on an end zone pass. Henry Blay of William and Mary then scored. The extra point was blocked.

The game, sponsored by the Quarterbacks Club, gave Miami its second straight over the soldiers. The Hurricanes won last year, 20-14.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (Special)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will not know until he reads this that he nearly got himself thrown bodily out of the Polo Grounds by an alert National League umpire one recent afternoon.

It seems the czar was watching a game from a window in President Horace Stoneham's office deep in centerfield, and was employing a pair of king-size field glasses to bring the action closer.

Our vigilant umpire, who prefers to remain nameless, caught the glint of the afternoon sun on the lenses and sensed a major signaling plot.

"Throw that guy out of there in a hurry," he yelled to Manager Leo Durocher, adding an ominous "or else."

Leo obligingly took down the dugout phone and held a short and earnest conversation, after which he turned innocently to the arbiter.

"Told 'em what you said," he announced. "That's the commissioner."

It was one time, they say, that Leo had the last word with an umpire.

Down in Havana, where the 13th annual "Amateur World Series" has been in progress between teams from Latin and South America, they at least took a victorious whack at cutting down the length of games. They've been having the same trouble we have.

The good seniors who ran the show simply slumped on a time limit: 2½ hours for afternoon games, two hours, 45 minutes for arc-lighters, with the provision that the inning in progress when time expired would be completed.

Worked fine, they say, and you should have seen the teams which were behind after the two-hour mark get out there and hustle.

Observing the great success of Hoyt Wilhelm as a reliever for the Giants this year, Carl Hubbell, the old Hall-of-Famer, predicts the woods will be full of young knuck-

Col. H. C. Gee Employed By Canal Group

Breckenridge Named Secretary As Plans Progress To Push Canal To Titusville

Col. H. C. Gee, former Army engineer and consulting engineer for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, was employed as consulting engineer by the newly formed St. Johns Indian River Improvement Committee at an organizational meeting yesterday afternoon at Silver Springs to prepare plans for a proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal.

The association, organized recently following a revival of interest in the canal which would connect the Lower St. Johns with the Indian River on the East Coast, agreed to pay Col. Gee a fee of $4,000.

He will also serve as the Association's representative at hearings on the project.

The association also adopted the charter of the original St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association which functioned before World War II.

Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, was chosen as secretary of the new organization at a meeting attended by more than 100 representatives of the communities up and down the St. Johns River.

Earl Brown, Deland, who presided, stated that Col. Gee is well qualified to help develop the St. Johns River canal project, and said that he had made an offer to get information from all departments in Washington which have made previous surveys of the St. Johns River.

These, including surveys for the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal, will be correlated according to Col. Gee, and thousands of dollars will be saved by not having to send engineers into the field.

Ernest Merrill was appointed chairman, and George Gibbs, advisor, of the Finance Committee.

Another committee was formed with George Gibbs as chairman to represent the Chamber of Commerce Ways and Means Division meeting Friday at Orlando.

The committee includes Mr. Breckenridge, Al Lee, Capt. Noah Tilghman, Palatka; Col. Gee; Bill Morse, Kissimmee; George Tanner, Palatka.

A publicity committee was appointed by Mr. Brown and includes Mr. Breckenridge, George Gibbs, who is chairman of the board of directors of the Gibbs Shipbuilding Co., Jacksonville, and Leigh Bush, manager of the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Lee, chairman of the C. Waterways Committee, who attended the meeting, said that he is optimistic regarding the new set-up in relation to the St. Johns-Indian River canal project.

"I feel better about this project than ever before," he declared. "The meeting was a big success, with the slogan of Let's (Continued on Page Two)

Florida Told Of Taxes By Sen. Sparkman

"The Egg And Ike" Is Reviewed By Democratic Nominee On Trip Through State

By BELMAN MORIN, SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson will invade Ohio, Sen. Robert A. Taft's home state, later this month and speak in major cities, his campaign manager announced today. The Democratic presidential candidate starts a swing through the Eastern Seaboard states Thursday.

By W. LAYTON DUNNING, JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Sen. John Sparkman talked about taxes and farm prices today and joked with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower whose remarks he said were being put into a book called "The Egg and Ike."

He refused to take issue with Florida Democrats who last week refused to go along in support of the Democratic ticket.

Gen. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential candidate, on his recent swing into the South had mentioned that there was a vast amount of taxes even on one egg.

Sparkman, Democratic nominee for vice president, arrived by plane from Washington for a four stop Florida campaign visit and was met by a handful of people at the airport.

Gen. Eisenhower was met by about 500 at the airport and crowds estimated at about 15,000 heard him speak at downtown Jacksonville today.

Sparkman was asked at a brief news conference for his reaction to the action of Florida Democratic House nominees at Tampa Bay today referring to Sen. Sparkman (Ike) as "the egg."

"I don't have any particular reaction," he said. "Any group has the right to resolve any way it wants. I hope before election day all Floridians will see the reason for supporting the Democratic ticket."

Peter Buker Is Named President Of High School Band Association

Holding their first meeting for this school year, the Seminole High School Band and Orchestra Association met in the high school band hall last night. The group is organized to foster the activities of the high school band and assist financially planned activities for the year. New officers are as follows: Peter Buker, president; Mrs. C. J. Wilkinson, vice-president; Mrs. W. L. Vance, secretary; Martin Stineslpher, treasurer; and A. L. Collins, member on the board of directors.

Ernest Cowley, band director, welcomed the new members and announced the coming activities of the band. "The band is looking good this year," he stated. "We have six football shows and each show is planned as a pageant. We plan to use lighting effects and will give shows combined with bands from visiting schools."

Discussing the finances of the band, H. E. Morris, principal, urged the parents to help advise the managing which is being sponsored by the high school student council which is making every effort possible to help the band get out of the secured debt. Mr. Morris stated that the subscriptions being sold by the high school students are at the regular subscription rates, but the high school receives a percentage from the sales whether it is a renewal subscription or a new one.

The association voted to leave the annual dues as they were last year and also voted that the principal, Mr. Morris, will automatically be a member on the board of directors.

Peter Buker, president, urged the members to help build up the membership of the association. According to the Association's Constitution any person or firm that is interested in the welfare of the Seminole High School Bands may become an active member of the association. HST Brands As 'Big Lie' Reports On Communists

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman asserted today that it is "a big lie" to say he tolerates Communists in this nation's government.

Sen. Joseph B. McCarty, Wisconsin Republican seeking re-election, has denounced Gen. Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson as "monstrous liars" and has said that Marshall had "opened the floodgates" to Communism.

The President said that anyone who resorts to "the big lie technique" is not a good man.

And he singled out for special attention those who call Gen. George F. Marshall traitor.

He told the conference: "It is a big lie, for example, to say that we tolerate Communists and other disloyal persons in our government. It is a big lie to attack one of the greatest generals and patriots whom this country ever had and call him a traitor."

McCarthy, addressing a conference attended by a group of men and women about to be admitted to United States citizenship, declared that "communism means this country has been badly beaten."

"But communism never gives up its efforts to conquer other nations from within," he declared. "It seeks to use all the weapons of propaganda to stir up and confuse the people, and it also seeks to place its hidden agents in positions of trust and power."

"In this country, we have been waging a relentless fight against this internal attack of communism."

But he said that "the big lie" is another major threatening demerary from within.

The committee was formed to take whatever action is necessary to secure a hospital in Seminole County at the earliest possible time.

Newspaper Editors See Florida Split Evenly In November Vote

By MALCOLM B. JOHNSON, TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The consensus of Florida news editors is that the state's vote would be split about 50-50 between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson if the presidential election were held now.

But many of them representing counties with substantial votes said they expect the balance to swing toward Stevenson when the campaign from Eisenhower's recent four years off the Democratic campaign opens up, and the inherent tendency to vote Democratic starts working.

Forty-eight newspaper and radio editors from 35 counties which have 88 per cent of the state's registered voters participated in the Associated Press survey of the political outlook.

Their county by county percent estimates were translated into votes and totaled. The consensus was that as things stand right now Eisenhower would get 52 per cent of the vote, Stevenson 48.

However, the missing counties with 12 per cent of the voters are predominantly in areas where the tradition of voting Democratic is strongest. They probably would

McGrath Denies Blough Describes U. S. Presidents To Kiwanis Club

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today denied that anyone in the Justice Department tried to "sit on" St. Louis tax scandal cases in 1937.

McGrath told House investigators that the department "did all we could to cooperate" with U. S. Judge George H. Moore in carrying out a special grand jury probe.

"There was no treason in the world for anyone in the Department of Justice to take an interest in any St. Louis tax cases," he declared.

McGrath testified before a judicial committee which is investigating the Justice Department's handling of the case.

Department Judge Moore sent a sworn statement last month saying there was delay in getting McGrath's answers to questions from the U. S. district attorney, the late Drake Watson, to work with the grand jury.

He said he finally telephoned McGrath and that the attorney general told him he could prefer that tax cases go through "regular channels"—that is, be presented to a grand jury only after going through the Treasury and Justice Departments in Washington.

Judge Moore made it clear, too, that he believed Ellis N. Slack, a St. Louis attorney who was instrumental in getting the grand jury to return a preliminary report which one juror later characterized as a "whitewash."

The judge ordered a further investigation and the grand jury returned a number of indictments, one of them against James H. Duggan, district collector, and close friend of President Truman. Finnegan was convicted of misconduct in office.

Also Opposes Amendments Weakening Rights Of Working Men And Women

By JAMES DAVIN, NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told the American Federation of Labor today that he favors "anti-labor" amendments to the Taft-Hartley law, but does not favor its repeal.

"I will not support any amendments which weaken the rights of working men and women," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the AFL annual convention here.

The GOP presidential nominee said "America wants no law lessening union-busting. Neither do I."

Eisenhower's speech followed by a day a message to the convention by President Truman in which Truman said he planned to make the Taft-Hartley law more "oppressive and unfair" to labor.

Allan Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has advocated repeal of the act and writing a new law.

Administration spokesmen appearing before the convention have urged repeal of the act and have been badly rebuffed.

The convention, which will hear Gov. Stevenson Monday, is expected to endorse him, thus departing from a long held tradition not to endorse a presidential candidate.

The GOP executive and he believed that the AFL's own Executive Council had stated that it was prepared to take what it called a "realistic view of amendments to the Taft-Hartley law."

"And that is my position too," he said. "I give it to you simply and clearly. I am in favor of repealing, but of amending the law."

Eisenhower said some of the principles he thought it was important to continue in the law were:

"The encouragement of collective bargaining, the right to strike, an advance notice before a strike is called, a requirement that both unions and employers live up to their contracts."

4 Children Killed When Freight Train Rams School Bus

MONROE, La. (AP)—A freight train rammed the rear of a crowded school bus today at nearly 40 miles an hour, killing four pupils and maiming 14 more, 13 of them seriously.

The bus en route to Rosewater High School was almost jostled in a street in Monroe, La., when the train rammed its rear end and dragged it about 50 feet.

The number of passengers on the bus was estimated at 35. They included about 30 pupils packed up in Columbus on the trip to the school at nearby Prichard in Smithtown, Pennsylvania.

Only two of the dead were identified immediately. They were James Everett, 17, a senior Collinsburg, and Dorothy Beckman, 14, a freshman, school officials said.

James Everett, 17, a senior Collinsburg, and Dorothy Beckman, 14, a freshman, school officials said. They were killed by a motor, who was at first reported dead by Mt. Pleasant Hospital was found to be seriously injured at Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh. Mercy received only two of the dead, two of them badly hurt.

Mrs. J. W. Metcalf, wife of a funeral director and one of the first to answer frantic calls for ambulances, said she was with the bus when it was struck.

"We got there about 10 minutes after the crash. It was the most horrible thing I have ever seen. There were injured school children all around. Nearly all were unconscious. I saw only one who was able to walk."

"We loaded the youngsters into a lot of ambulances. We put several in my car and another driver took them to the hospital."

"The motor and wheels of the bus were torn out. The body of the bus looked like a battered tin can."

One of the injured pupils, Tommy Smith, 15, West Newton, said: "I didn't hear the train at all. No whistle or anything. All of a sudden I saw the freight train coming right at us, only a few feet away. There was a big crash and then I don't remember any more."

Tommy has a possible pelvic fracture and internal injuries.

Work Progressing On Masonic Temple

Work is progressing at the Masonic Temple on a number of improvements, including air-conditioning, Frank Miller, senior past master, pointed out today.

Wooden benches with high backs which lined the walls of the Temple hall have been moved to the dining room and are to be replaced with metal, theater-type chairs with red leather seats. A total of 101 of these have been ordered, said Mr. Miller.

Other improvements include blue tile flooring in the main hall and carpeting at the stations.

It is expected that the improvements will be completed in October or November, depending on when the new chairs, which were furnished by the membership, arrive. Paneling will be placed on the walls in the space formerly covered by the high backed benches.

Pvt. Richard Bass Is At Camp Rucker

CAMP RUCKER, Ala. (Special)—Pvt. Richard L. Bass of Lake Monroe, Fla., has arrived at this Southern Alabama Army camp to undergo his initial infantry training.

Inducted Aug. 20, 1952 and processed at Ft. Jackson, S. C., he will receive basic training from the 47th "Viking" Infantry Division here. The new soldier will undertake a rigorous schedule including a wide-range of military courtesy and field sanitation to machine gun and bazooka familiarization.

After finishing eight to 10 weeks of primary training, the recent inductees will be eligible for further infantry or specialized training.

The 47th Division, the first permanent Army assignment for the new soldier, is a Minnesota-North Dakota National Guard unit. Activated for service on Jan. 16, 1941, the Division now is completing its second year at Rucker. Since activation, the 47th has trained men from all 48 states and three territories.

Prisoner Is Shot At Oviedo Camp

A prisoner was shot and wounded by guards in an escape attempt from a road near an Orange county road near Oviedo, this morning, Road Captain Bob Massey reported this noon prior to his investigation.

The escapee of the thwarted convict was still waiting a doctor's report at the Oviedo Clinic, where the prisoner was taken for treatment.

Capt. Massey could not give any further details until he had completed his investigation, he said at noon today.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 17, 1952

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
No one has caught the magnificence of a sun rise or a sun set, the glory of a storm or a starry sky at night. The heavens declare the glory of God.—Ps.
19:1.

You can tell that an election is not far away. The government has relaxed its credit controls on new housing.

Occupational accidents resulted in 16,000 deaths and 2,100,000 injuries last year and cost American industry a staggering total of some $2,650,000,000. That is one of the things which, like taxes, make prices
so high. "The problem," says Chairman Haldane Huelck of the Florida Mutual Insurance Committee, "is to insure safely practices in the man who operates the machine and to get him to do the job the safe way."

We are glad to see the City making an effort to improve Sanford's streets. At one time we thought Sanford was the best paved city in the United States. But that was a quarter of a century ago,
and not much has been done since that time to keep them up. Streets, like everything else, deteriorate. If the roof is not patched when it begins to leak, the whole house sooner or later will fall down. And so it is with streets. We can fix them now for relatively little expense. If we wait too long, it will cost us millions of dollars.

Did you see where a grandson of Stonewall Jackson died the other day in Jacksonville? Stonewall Jackson was, next to Lee, the greatest general of the Civil War, not excluding the victor in that war, General Grant. Superintendent of Virginia Military Institute before the war began, Jackson was the hero of the first great battle at Bull Run and there gained his nickname
"Stonewall". The following spring
he defeated four armies in the Shenandoah Valley in one of the most brilliant campaigns in history to join Lee just in time to drive McClelland from the Peninsula. Then came Second Manassas, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville where he received the wound which led to his death. Worth remembering is that Jackson had scarcely two years of active service, not counting his brief experience in the Mexican war, and made a name for himself that ranks with all the great captains of history.

"You can't make the best modern medicine available to everybody
— as it should be — unless there is some way for people to pay for it," says President Truman in defending socialized medicine. Well, there are several ways of doing it under our present system. One is to work hard, save your money, and pay your own medical bills. Another is to take out medical insurance with some private insurance agency — a very satisfactory way incidentally. Another is when some costly tragedy strikes, like polio or tuberculosis to get aid from national charities like the Infantile Paralysis Foundation or great state institutions like the tu-bererculosis sanitarium. And finally we have our county welfare funds which provide medical care for indigents and our great charity hospitals which do the same thing to an even larger extent.

Wouldn't it be too bad if in our aggressiveness to get some particular kind of a hospital, we lost our chance of getting any hospital at all? We have pointed out before the danger of quarreling among ourselves over which side of the sidewalk the camellia bush should be planted until we reach the point where agreement on any bond issue at all becomes impossible. We have been talking for years about building a county hospital, but the question has not even been put on the ballot yet for the November election. We have been hoping ever since Judge Fish died in 1945 that his estate would build a hospital, but the time has passed for that. An incident in the history of our county.

Bolting Has Started

With the campaign hardly begun, both parties are already troubled by defections. Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana announces that, though a Democrat, he will vote for Eisenhower. He dislikes Stevenson's opposition to the bill giving the states control of tidelands oil, his support of fair employment legislation, and his desire to end filibustering in the Senate.

On the other hand, Senator William L. Langer of North Dakota, a mailman's convention that he does not like either candidate. Langer is a Republican who often deviates, along with Senators Wayne L. Morse of Oregon, Charles W.
Tobey of New Hampshire and George D. Aiken of Vermont.

Now nearly every campaign sees some bolt of a prominent partisan. This tendency to be less hidebound in partisanship is a good thing. It means that politicians cannot count implicitly on as many voters as formerly, and therefore must put up better men.

So Goes The Nation

Maine's one-time reputation as a political barometer dates back to 1840. Then the Democrats, who had been in office 12 years, had their backs to the wall. In the September election Maine, hitherto Democratic, chose Edward Kent,
a Whig, as governor, giving the Whigs a new cry:
"And have you heard how old Maine went?
Maine went, hell-bent, for Governor Kent."

This September Whig victory was one followed by another, more decisive, in December, and the Maine legend was born.

From 1872 to 1880 it was said that if the usual September Republican victory in Maine exceeded 25,000, then a Democratic sign. Woman suffrage, doubling the electorate, threw out this formula. Since then, except in 1932 and 1934 the Republicans have carried Maine overwhelmingly time and again.

In 1936, when only Maine and Vermont stayed true to Republicanism, Jim Farley quipped "As goes Maine, so goes Vermont."

Stevenson may win in November. Or may Eisenhower.
But Maine gives no reliable indication.

Health In Russia

Has the general improvement in public health particularly marked in the United States, been reflected also in Russia? Dr. Howard A. Rusk of New York City College of Medicine, writing in the New York Times, does his best to report, despite the handicap of the censorship prevailing behind the iron curtain.

Malnutrition is common, escaped refugees say, and the diseases it brings, such as tuberculosis. Medicines such as quinine are hard to get and inordinately high priced. A great difficulty is the burden placed on the medical profession.

Doctors must do much health work for the state and handle a quota of six patients an hour. Medical students must study, in addition to the normal courses, Marx and Russian history. Failure to pass examinations in these subjects brings dismissal, no matter how brilliant the student may be in purely medical fields. It suggests that in time the number of trained doctors will be far below the need.

This last consideration may be exaggerated. At the outbreak of the war it was thought that, as many German physicians were Jews, the Nazi crusade against non-Aryans would cripple military medicine. If that happened, there was no evidence of it.

In general, however, the mental straight jacket which the Communists put on all citizens cannot but have a bad effect on the progress of medical science.

Sanford Forum

Editor,
The Sanford Herald
Dear Sir,

The sham battle is on. Eisenhower lambasting the Trumanites, and Stevenson laying it on the Republicans and Trumanites. What makes it hard to fathom is that while Eisenhower is wasting all of his breath in painting the Democrats, he has taken under his wing two of Truman's advisers, one of which is no other than Paul Hoffman, an out and out Truman man.
All of which proves what I have written several weeks ago, that regardless of which one wins, it will be Truman's choice.

Let's quit guessing and see the true issue. In the Cosmopolitan Magazine of July, 1951, William Bradford Huie gives some eye openers of interest, even though over a year old. In Eisenhower's book, Crusade in Europe, the General went considerably out of his way to recall that Truman once promised that he would help him get anything he desired — and that the offer specifically included the Presidency.

Then on Apr. 14, 1951, at the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner in Washington, Truman went out of his way to praise that Great American, My Friend, General Eisenhower) and all the Democrat diners broke into war whoops. Mr.
Taft will learn a bit later, his lesson in soft soap. It is hard to believe that a man that has the invitation from one man to run for the highest office in the land, will not obey him, even through a lot of campaign talk.

There are so many gullible people in the country, that will believe anything, Federal or Local. Listening to the candidates reminds us of the gentleman who said sometime ago that there was no gambling in the City of Sanford. We'll

we can shut our eyes, can't we?
There are many corrupt practices in the Nation's Capital, and there are gambling places running, not all behind closed doors right in Sanford.

It's a true saying that politics
make strange bed fellows, but why must the public apologize for seeing the corrupting that is before its eyes? Why should Eisenhower masquerade in the garb of a Republican, and take Truman's advisers under his political wing?
Again I repeat, they all three eat with the same spoon. Stevenson no doubt holds his nose shut, while he gets his lesson in political achievements from no other than H.R.T.
We hear folks saying about the prosperity of the Nation presently,
but if it were not for the credit given, a lot of our visible prosperity would not be here. Is before it? If the blood of American soldiers stopped flowing, America would be in the worst depression in its history. But Mr. Eisenhower is a European first, as Mr. Huie says, so if he becomes our next President our great prosperity will continue, because he approves the Truman Foreign policy. See the advantage of an election under these circumstances! Wonderful isn't it? There can be a continuance of milk coat incidents, and all of the other things that made interesting reading.

Respectfully,
Rev. B. W. Miller

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — If six men exchange their blood with one another in a multiple transfusion, each of them would have a rugged time ever trying to reclaim his own red corpuscles again.

Six European nations — France,
Italy, West Germany, Belgium,
The Netherlands and Luxembourg — are trying to give one another a transfusion by moving toward a unity and pooling of interests from which they can't disentangle themselves.

It is a triple unity and pooling toward which they're heading:
economic, military and political unity. But more research and more patient care calls for expenditure of more money each year.

The steps they have taken, and are considering, require each of the six to yield some of its ancient sovereignty.

If what they are doing succeeds
it may lead some day to a United States of Europe and include other nations.

Here, briefly, is what has been done:

Economic unity
They have made most progress in this field. The six have approved freely pooling their coal and steel resources, an arrangement called the Schuman plan, named for France's foreign minister who proposed it several years ago.

Military unity
Five of the six are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) which also includes the United States, Britain, Canada and others. West Germany is not a member of NATO.

The six are forming their own organization called the European Defense Community, linked with France and others. West Germany which these six will pool their military resources and defenses.

EDC will come into existence when the six governments have approved the EDC treaties, may be by the end of the year.

Political
The six last week set up machinery to propose plans for their federation or further unification, which would involve pooling not only their defenses but foreign affairs, trade and finance problems.
They set March 10 as the deadline for pooling their plans.

increase over the 1951 total of $687,184.07.

"There is greater need now than ever before to win the fight against this crippling disease," Mr. O'Connor said. "So far this year polio has hit 60 per cent more children and adults than last year at this same time and about that many more than the average for the past five years."

"We are making real progress in our efforts to prevent paralytic polio and we hope that before long we can prevent the disease completely by using a simple vaccination. But more research and more patient care calls for expenditure of more money each
year."

"We feel sure that the people of Florida will follow Mr. Hall's leadership in this crusade to give every polio patient the best care possible and to continue the research program which one day will prevent this dread disease."

Mr. Hall was born in Menton, Ala. Sept. 29, 1909. He received his early education in Alabama, Georgia and Florida and, a bachelor's degree from the University of Florida in 1932. After receiving a master's degree from New York University, he studied for a doctorate in education at a number of universities.

He was principal and athletic coach at Leon High School, Tallahassee, and at the Carrabelle public schools. From 1937 to September, 1948, he was connected with the State Department of Education as consultant and director of physical and health education. Since September, 1948, he has been assistant superintendent of schools in Dade County.

At the University of Florida
Hall starred on the football, track, boxing and wrestling teams. He was in the ROTC at the University of Florida and served as a combat intelligence officer in the Navy from October, 1942, to January, 1946. Now operator of a 40-acre citrus grove near Bradenton, he holds the rank of lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve.

BENEATH that big broad bonnet is the reason for this headline.

It's a four-barreled automatic carburetor—Airpower by name—which has a way of gulping in what the dictionary defines as "a sudden blast of wind" when extra power is needed.

And the way this gorgeous performer can step out as this occurs is something you'll always remember.

For ordinary driving, two barrels are all you need — and two barrels are all that are working. They give you an extra thrifty flow of fuel for round-town cruising.

When extra power is wanted in a hurry — the "reserves" swing into action — feeding extra fuel and extra air in an ever-thrifty mixture, which delivers the greatest horsepower in Buick history.

This is one of many distinctions that endear ROADMASTERS to fine-car owners.

It's a car as rich in finish as it is in power — a car of expansive room — restful silence — level in gait — beautifully responsive to your mood and will.

And it offers the effortless ease of Power Steering* especially engineered by Buick to save your strength in

Feminine Florida

Have you ever noticed a beautifully groomed woman who had a nice figure, lovely clothes and charming hair styling who just didn't look attractive? Most of the time you'll find that her posture is one of the most important factors for good looks and health.

David Belasco once said, "The most necessary and the hardest lesson an actress has to learn is to walk across the stage." The same applies to women in all walks of life and although it sounds easy as drawing a straight line — it is not!

No woman, no matter how beautiful her face, how perfect her figure, how nice her clothes, how good her hair, can look good, look graceful without perfect carriage. If one stands first on one foot, then on the other — a common practice in the abdomen protrudes and the chest is flattened. As for your shoulders — they can be a woman's most attractive feature — except when rounded and hunched over.

You've heard this expression many times — STAND TALL! Your feet should be fairly close together, tummy pulled in and chest lifted. Your figure will be vibrant.

Grace while sitting is also essential. Sit well back in the chair, with the lower part of the back touching the chair back; hands relaxed and neatly poised.

When walking, wear a light step. Never allow hip swingers make themselves conspicuous. Look slightly as if calling attention to their figures. The old exercise of walking with a look on your head will straighten that back up and help you achieve a light step.

Good posture is so important that doctors, when making physical examinations of children, make a point of finding how the child stands and runs. Unless his or her stance is correct, development will not go on normally. It is very important that your child develop correct posture habits when young. Don't let them slouch with shoulders forward, chest contracted. Such poses lead to shallow breathing and interference with the normal functioning of the inner organs.

To impress us with the importance of good posture, the National Chiropractic Association sponsors a National Good Posture week each year. We should make every week "Good Posture Week."

There have been some wonderful books and articles written about correct posture. It should be lots of fun to get the whole family together and put into practice some of the good exercises and rules. Good posture will mean better health and a happier, finer looking family.

Betty Jean Aulin Weds Joel E. McGill

OVIEDO (Special)—In brilliant style solemnized last night at 8:00 p.m. at the Oviedo Baptist Church, Betty Jean Aulin and Joel E. McGill were united in marriage.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aulin, of Oviedo, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGill, of Geneva, spoke vows and exchanged rings before the altar in a setting of palms, fern, gladioli and candlelight.

The Frank C. Morgan, pastor of the church, officiated at the nuptials and a program of wedding music was presented by William Henry Martin, Oviedo, organist and Mrs. J. H. Staley, Oviedo, soloist, who sang "Because" and "Promise You."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her gown of bridal lace over taffeta. The bodice of the gown featured a sequined nylon net neckline, the voluminous skirt being extremely full and extending into a cathedral train. The long fitted sleeves came to a point over the hands. Small covered buttons extended down the back of the dress. Her veil of blue tulle fell from a crown formed of orange blossoms and pearl beads. The bride carried a white Praying Book, topped with an orchid show, and a bouquet of white and orange blossoms.

Mr. Richard B. Hunch of Orlando served as her sister's matron of honor. Her dress of lavender lace over tulle was fashioned after that of the bride. She wore roses in her hair for her headress and lace mitts to match her dress. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers and orange blossoms.

The attendants, Miss Sadie Beth Fleming of Oviedo and Orlando, and Mrs. E. R. Summers of Oviedo and Geneva, wore dresses of pink lace over tulle which were also fashioned after the bride's.

Charles Entzinger of Sanford served as best man and usher. Groomsmen were Tommy Summers of Oviedo and Geneva, Johnny Calpepper, of Cocoa; Robert Ward and Larry French of Oviedo.

Mrs. Aulin chose for her daughter a wedding dress of light blue of turquoise puckered nylon with white accessories. Her corsage was of carnations and roses. Mrs. Summers, mother of the groom, chose a dress of light blue with pink lace. Her accessories were also white and her corsage of roses.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church until 11:30 p.m. There, decorations were tall baskets of white gladioli, pastel hibiscus, fern and candlelight.

Mrs. Ben F. Ward greeted guests at the door. Mrs. George C. Means, at the piano, rendered soft music during the evening. The bride's maid was Miss M. L. Gentry, of the household of Tampa, and the bridesmaid was Miss M. L. Gentry, of the household of Tampa, and the bridesmaid was Miss M. L. Gentry, of the household of Tampa.

The bride's veil, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, the base of which was surrounded with fern and double pink hibiscus and flanked on either side with crystal candleholders holding white candles.

After a dooey party (by the way, it's going to be alive!) All those who checked at the door, this was the dooey prize will be awarded. Dooey is information sent near on pedal pushers. The dooey will be at 8:00 o'clock and it'll be at 10 cents drop or 10 cents stay.

The decorating committee consisted of Mrs. Wight Kirtley, Mrs. Charles Hayes, Mary Ann Wilke, Ann Rabin, Joe Hutchinson, Johnny Gentry and Ray Davis, who is president of the Glee Club.

Two omelets of the Hip will include: Sonny Haskins and Jo Ann Moore; Terry Correll and Eleanor Six; Joel Moss and Jennie Lane Miller; and Elsie Benton and an alumnae, John Kridler. There it is! That's all for now! Be seen by them.

SEMINOLE HI BY BEVERLY GRAY

The Sally Staff has chosen the outfits for the Senior and Junior girls. The Senior girls will wear light drapery effect with a white collar and two strand choker necklaces. The Junior girls will wear Kelly green sweaters with Peter Pan collars. The semi-dark color of the sweaters will make the white collars, as the green shade will come out a medium gray. The Junior boys will wear white shirts and ties. These ideas were decided upon because they not only were attractive, but would suit any neckline or various shaped faces.

Coupled at the Gate:
Among those having a wonderful time Friday evening at the Shipwreck Banquet were: John Wright and Buddy Greek; incidentally, Buddy is from Nashville. Noted Sammy Jacobson and Pally Graham having fun, too. Ray Davis, Believe it or not, but thank McLaughlin decided to give the girls a break and he and Colleen Engelbrecht made a two-on-one dance. They were quite a few. Fred there, too! Robert Samuels and Mary Ann Wright, Sarah Jacobson and John Clark were just a few. Not every one seemed to have a grand time, tho', and I don't think the Gate has ever been so packed! We had had crowds like that all the time.

The Christians will present a play before the long, entitled, "Smarter and Smarter." It's really a cute one, so when it comes on, be sure you see it.

The Glee Club will have a dance the Friday evening at the Glee Club and it's called a "Shook Hop." This is another new idea and a really good one. It's also a real break for the Glee Club. The girls will buy a pair of socks for herself and one for her date. Then they decorate them any way they want to. They can have "striped" polka dots, multi-colored, etc. The best couple will win a prize of $2.00, so they may have a date at the Glee Club's expense! They will also have a dooey prize (by the way, it's going to be alive!) All those who checked at the door, this was the dooey prize will be awarded. Dooey is information sent near on pedal pushers. The dooey will be at 8:00 o'clock and it'll be at 10 cents drop or 10 cents stay.

Plans Are Made By Democrats To Win Florida For Ike

TAMPA—Leaders of the Florida Democratic drive for Dwight Eisenhower are going to emphasize to Democratic voters that they can vote for the Republican candidate for President without losing their Democratic Party standing.

This will be one of the principal objectives of a campaign planned here Tuesday by a four-man policy committee of "Florida Democrats for Eisenhower," an organization coordinating the activities of all local Democratic groups backing the Republican standard bearer.

The committee is composed of Charles E. Leffler, area director, Dyer, Orlando; Al Laney, Jacksonville; and Sumner L. Lowry, Tampa. These four will be co-equal directors of the program with no chairman, the committee said.

Attending Tuesday's session were Lowry; Dyer; Richard Tugle, Miami, representing Leffler; and Herman Ulmer, Jacksonville, for Laney.

They said they are interested only in the presidential race. Every effort will be made to let voters know they can split their vote—voting for Eisenhower for President but sticking to local and state Democratic candidates.

There will be a strong drive at the precinct level and the women's vote will get special attention, the committee said.

It called on "all Democrats to join in the great crusade led by Gen. Eisenhower to overthrow the corrupt, so-called Democrats who have captured the Washington headquarters of the Democratic Party."

Weaver Explains Civil Defense Plan For Observation

Members of the Civil Defense Council, including personnel of the U. S. Army, met Friday at the American Legion Hall in South Park to discuss organization of ground observer posts in this area.

O. E. Weaver, area director, told the group of his appointment as head of the Ground Observers Corps of Seminole County in addition to his other duties in the Civil Defense.

The Ground Observers Corps will function when directed to locate aircraft by sight or sound, and to report their location to Filter Centers, he said.

Organization of ground observer posts is already completed in other parts of the county, and plans made at the meeting Friday, point to an early completion of the work in this area.

Already, calls have been organized in Gainesville, Lake Mary, Oviedo and Altamonte Springs.

All patriotic and civic minded people are asked to contact and offer their assistance to the supervisors of the posts in their respective areas, and it is hoped that this line will be completed before the week is over.

Mrs. Ruth Hamilton of the Red Cross Disaster Committee of Casselberry and Fern Park outlined ways in which both the Civil Defense and Red Cross can work together.

They're tall, tough and terrific! Men of the Foreign Legion, ready for adventure and romance in the picture "Ten Tall Men" opening at Noveltyland Theatre tomorrow night and starring Jody Lawrence, Kieron Moore and Gilbert Roland. Color by Technicolor.

Newspaper Poll

Democrat or Republican. They're the only ones on the ballot. Will the States Righters break away from the Democratic Party entirely this time and vote for Stevenson? Or will they find Stevenson more acceptable than Truman was?

And there are about 275,000 more voters this year than Florida had in 1948. Nobody quite knows whether they are newcomers from Republican areas of the South, union laborers from Democratic strongholds, immigrants from farms and small towns of neighboring Southern states, young men thrust out of military service and colleges, or Negroes voting for the first time. They probably make up a general mixture of political backgrounds and leanings.

Most of them are registered identical candidates always far out poll their party membership in Florida. Thomas E. Dewey's total vote in 1948, for instance, was more than three times as big as the total number of registered Republicans.

Many voters register as Democrats simply because the real election for state and local offices is in the Democratic primaries. The Republicans generally offer token candidates or none at all for such posts.

Most of Eisenhower's strength in the survey of Florida editors came from Dade County, which has almost a fifth of the state's voters in Miami and its suburban area.

A consolidation of the Miami editors' estimates indicates that Eisenhower would get 57.5 per cent of the vote there. The other two major reversals of political trends, because Dade's record in recent years has been distinctly pro-New Deal. Truman got 53.5 per cent of the vote there four years ago, and Sen. George Smathers couldn't carry it as a home town boy making good against Claude Pepper two years ago.

One political writer said he was thinking strictly of today, and Eisenhower's recent general election. He said he expected the pendulum to swing back to Stevenson by election day.

Another said he also was basing his opinion of Eisenhower's strength on the general's reception, and the fact "there is no more Republican activity now and so little Democratic." Eisenhower's tour did much to prod the Democrats into action in Florida, though.

Only one of the 48 participating editors took anything that resembled a formal poll or straw vote.

John Thomas Pearson, for many years an attorney with the United States Department of Agriculture, came to the faculty of the College of Law at Stetson University for the summer term and will remain for the fall semester.

Editor Herbert M. Davidson of the Daytona Beach News-Journal said he "polled 200 voters at random. Results: Eisenhower 100; Stevenson 75; undecided 25."

Davidson, whose paper has endorsed Stevenson, said despite the poll he believes "the big bulk of back county vote and mass vote will stay in the Democratic column. Most of the undecided will go Democratic" and Volusia County will vote for Stevenson.

Horgan Welch of the DeLand Sun News, on the other side of the county, said it was a tossup right now. On the combined basis of Welch's estimate and Davidson's, the county was listed 51-49 for Eisenhower as of now. Four years ago, it cast 9,200 votes for Truman, 7,700 for Dewey and 2,400 for Thurmond.

Editors gave Eisenhower 60 per cent of the vote in Broward County; Eisenhower, 50 per cent in Orange; Eisenhower, 50 per cent in Putnam and Sarasota Counties; 57.5 per cent in Dade, 55 per cent in Duval, Manatee, Palm Beach and St. Johns; 53 per cent in St. Lucie; 51 per cent in Polk and Volusia. All of them but Dade and Polk failed to give Truman a majority four years ago.

Stevenson was rated at 90 per cent of the vote in Taylor County, 80 per cent in Washington, 70 per cent in Jackson (all three in West Florida), 70 in Bradford and Monroe, 62 in Leon, 60 in Bay, Citrus, DeSoto, Escambia, Hernando, Madison and Marion, 58 in Seminole and Suwannee and 52 in Sumter.

The candidates were declared running even, at 50 per cent each, in Alachua, Charlotte, Collier, Hardee, Hendry, Hillsborough, Holmes and Lee Counties.

In 1948, Truman got slightly less than 49 per cent of the vote cast in Florida. Dewey got about 34 per cent. Thurmond, 15 per cent, and Henry Wallace 2 per cent.

Truman led in 54 of the 67 counties. Dewey in 10 and Thurmond in three. Truman got 50 per cent in 40 counties. Dewey in 12, Thurmond in two and Wallace in one.

Editors who look for Eisenhower to lead or run strong in their counties gave these typical reasons:

"Discontent with the Democratic platform." "Ike's personal popularity and the belief Stevenson will mean stepping up of new construction."

He sees as new customers those who could not pay the high down payments that Regulation X required (up to 40 per cent on a $25,000 or more home).

Others see a strong demand for homes in the next five years. Donald E. Ryan, vice president in charge of the mortgage department of Investors Diversified Services Inc., Minneapolis, says the nation can build, and sell, more than four million homes in the next five years.

He thinks any drop in the mortgage rate will be offset by a rise in incomes which will mean increased ability to buy homes.

Replacement of obsolete housing will run to at least 100,000 a year, Ryan estimates.

Wife Gives Wilbur Prune Juice For Voting For Ike

By MAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife quarreled over politics he has been getting prune juice for breakfast instead of orange juice.

He knew it was just one way that Trellis Mae, who is madly for Adlai, was getting even with him for backing Dwight Eisenhower.

But everytime he groaned, "I don't like prune juice!" she replied:

"It's prune juice for you from now on. We're lightening up our domestic economy. That's part of the good program, isn't it?"

"It isn't good—it is G-O-P," objected Wilbur.

"Well, it's good to me," said Trellis Mae. Adlai and I think you are all scops.

Forecasting four long years of prune juice if the Republicans win, Wilbur decided it was time to compromise.

"I'm tired of all this fussing over politics," he said. "If you'll go back to serving orange juice—and keep your mouth shut about Adlai for the full week—I'll buy you a pair of shoes."

Trellis Mae agreed. All her married life she had wanted a pair of shoes she would have someone to talk to on the night Wilbur was bowling or playing poker.

"It's a deal," she agreed. "But it has to be a talking parrot—not one of those old dumb ones."

That very morning Wilbur went to a bird store and picked out a fine parrot, which, oddly, was named Polly.

Trellis Mae said she got the best vocabularies she had ever had.

The conversation went from birds to the weather, from women to baseball, and from baseball to politics.

"Who's going to win?" asked Wilbur.

"A number of people who come in here are for Gov. Stevenson," said Trellis Mae, "but with a little 'em' all that I like Ike."

"I like Ike, too," said Wilbur.

And every lunch hour for several days he dropped into the store to talk to the bird with the owner on politics. Meanwhile Trellis Mae never mentioned Adlai once, although the strain of staying silent was making her nervous.

"On Wilbur, she's beautiful. Can she really talk?" said Trellis Mae clapping her hands. Miffed at being doubted, Polly turned three slow somersaults on her perch, then looked out upside down and said "I like Ike."

Wilbur smiled and started to the bathroom to take a shower. Excited, Trellis Mae ran into the kitchen and called out to her husband as he came in. "I like Ike!" she called out. "I like Ike!"

She was quick to close the door behind him and was a long time taking his shower. When he re-entered the living room, the bird came flying.

"Who's going to win?" he asked.

"I like Ike!" she called out. "I like Ike!"

"I put her in the refrigerator to punish her for saying she liked Ike. She isn't funny."

their contracts, the assurance that union members get a regular report on their union's finances."

Eisenhower told the 800 delegates "you know me well enough to know that I have not come to curry any special favor."

"I have not come to bid or compete for your endorsement," he said.

"My views toward labor will be the same as they long have been, regardless of the action taken by the AFL at this convention in the matter of endorsing a presidential candidate."

"My guide in this vital matter, as in others, will always remain the same:

"What is good for America—all America."

In reference to his Democratic rival for the presidency, Eisenhower declared:

"My opponent made plain on Labor Day that he wanted power, as President, to compel arbitration. That is exactly what I am against. If you want the best, irreconcilable difference between his position and mine, there it is. It is his and my party embrace compulsion I reject compulsion!"

Eisenhower asked "Can labor have forgotten the extraordinary proposal of the present administration for dealing with a threatened railroad strike?"

"It was the demand from the head of the Democratic Party that the strikers be drafted into the Army."

(This referred to President Truman's action in 1946 when he seized the railroads and asked the men to stay on their jobs. When his request was ignored, he took drastic steps, including the threat to use troops to run trains. The strike then was called off after it had lasted two days.)

Eisenhower continued:

"As chief of staff of the Army, I found myself involved in that affair. That was in the spring of 1946. I had just returned from a tour of inspection in the Pacific. I was trying to get some rest down in Georgia. I got a telephone call from Washington. The message asked that I return to Washington immediately to assume command of the railway strikers, who were going to be drafted into the Army. With a bitter protest, I refused. Then I was told that I was considered the only soldier with whom the railway workers would even talk. So I agreed to meet with them. I was a soldier, not a strike-breaker."

"So far as I am aware my opponent in this election did not object to the draft of strikers into the Army. His running mate (Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama) voted for it. It was the members of my party in the Senate who finally defeated the proposal."

Andrew Johnson did not have much school training. U. S. Grant was a colorful character. Ruth-erford Hayes was very upright. James Garfield was a lawyer. Chester A. Arthur was noted as a playboy.

Benjamin Harrison was another lawyer president. William McKinley was the friendliest president, and Theodore Roosevelt the most dynamic. William H. Taft was the most genial and Woodrow Wilson the most idealistic. Warren Harding was the most betrayed and Calvin Coolidge, the most reserved. Herbert Hoover was an engineer and a millionaire at 40.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was noted as the most politically astute president. Henry Truman had a great opportunity to be above the average had he surrounded himself with capable men, said Mr. Hough. Visitors from Winter Park included Herb Barnum, who assisted Mr. Wilson in the introduction, Bob Johnson, Sam Wright, Arthur Schultz, F. Hayes, Jiggs Denning, J. Martin Stinecoper, president.

"The amount of notes or bonds that could be issued by Seminole County and financed immediately through this State fund would be approximately $1,050,000," he said.

"This amount, he brought out, will take care of the most urgent needs for the next few years."

"The proceeds of such notes or bonds would be carefully guarded by the county school board and State Board of Education to see that none of it would be wasted or expended in an unwise manner," he further explained.

Mr. Lawson said he urged every PTA member to make it her personal responsibility to persuade voters to vote for the certification of this amendment which means so much to the state.

lance in his prepared talk.

"I've been told that Gen. Eisenhower brought a Republican flag down here in Florida with him, and that he has been carrying that same flag with him through Indiana along with Sen. William Jenner," he said. "The Republican National Committee, I understand, has been putting his remarks together in a book to be called 'The Flag and Ike.' It may well become the Republican issue of the campaign."

"The general says there are 100 flags on his egg. Of course, since he is running for federal office, he must know that there is no federal tax on eggs. There are some state taxes and, if the general were running for, let us say, governor of Kansas, it might be useful for him to take a stand on such state egg taxes."

More Houses Are Expected To Be Sold During Year

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Many builders think they can sell more homes now that Regulation X follows the Federal Reserve Board's dust bin.

They count on easier payment terms on new homes to revive the housing boom which shows signs of fading.

Builders count on the death of Regulation X (which set down payment terms for home buying) to do for them what the scrapping of Regulation W (which curbed installment buying) did for the appliances and auto dealers. Sales of cars and cars increased when curbs died, and installment credit is now at an all-time peak.

Many bankers, however, doubt if there'll be the same sort of a spurt in home buying as a result of the lifting of Federal Reserve curbs. Most lending institutions won't lend more than two-thirds of the cost of a new home.

Trust, Federal Housing Agency and Veterans Administration down payment terms are being lowered, but they represent about 30 per cent of total construction mortgage volume. The other 70 per cent, or conventional mortgages, will be subject to considerable lenders' caution—and also to a tight money market.

With interest rates rising, and the Federal Reserve tightening up the supply of money and bank credit as an anti-inflation measure, the death of Regulation X may not open wide the gates of easy terms for would-be home buyers. Money isn't as cheap as it was. There has been considerable debate as to whether the nation was over-building. In the last three years some four million new homes have been built. Slowness of sales in some sections indicates that the postwar housing shortage had been licked finally.

Now the marriage rate is falling, meaning that fewer new families are being formed and requiring houses.

Many builders, however, deny that there has been any decline in housing demand. A former president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Alexander Summer, Newark, N. J., predicts that the removal of rigid controls will mean stepping up of new construction.

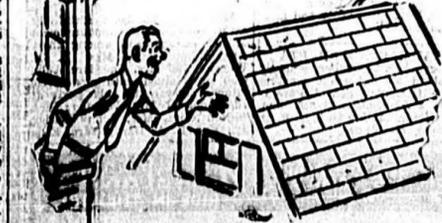

He sees as new customers those who could not pay the high down payments that Regulation X required (up to 40 per cent on a $25,000 or more home).

Others see a strong demand for homes in the next five years. Donald E. Ryan, vice president in charge of the mortgage department of Investors Diversified Services Inc., Minneapolis, says the nation can build, and sell, more than four million homes in the next five years.

He thinks any drop in the mortgage rate will be offset by a rise in incomes which will mean increased ability to buy homes.

Replacement of obsolete housing will run to at least 100,000 a year, Ryan estimates.

Of course, from the man's viewpoint, the real beauty of the Barrett's Asphalt Shingle is its durability. It's a tough shingle—made of high quality asbestos and surfaced with fire-proof asphalt granules.

Anyway you look at it—there's a real beauty.

The Lashes Out At Waste In Capital

GOP Candidate Says Taxpayers' Money Is Being Drained Thru Crack In Floor

By JACK DELL
ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower asserted today that the American taxpayer's money is being drained through a crack in the floor of the Truman administration "waste" in Washington.

Carrying his campaign into politically doubtful Iowa, the Republican presidential nominee told a crowd of 4,000 persons gathered in front of the Davenport Courthouse that it is the time to open some windows and let the fresh air in our government.

Eisenhower said that beyond what he described as "corruption in Washington" is "inexhaustible waste."

He cited a report of a congressional committee that five million dollars in Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) funds had disappeared.

The secretary of agriculture (Brannan) said that five million dollars was not very much to lose in a 10 billion dollar operation, the Republican nominee remarked.

He said it could disappear through the cracks in the floor.

"Now my old Dutch ancestors never had five million dollars but five cents could never have been lost in our house without someone having to answer for it or go hunting for it on hands and knees."

Eisenhower said five million dollars represents taxes paid by 3,200 people earning $2,500 a year.

Eisenhower said people all over the country are worried.

"Why should we be confused?" he asked. "Why should we be indecisive? We came back to the proposition that we must have a change in leadership."

He noted that 18 Communists had been arrested in the West, observing that all these years they had done nothing.

"For the first time since he has started campaigning, Eisenhower ran into threatening weather in Davenport. He spoke in the open air to about 4,000 persons massed on the lawn."

On a half mile ride through Davenport, Eisenhower was greeted by only a scattering of citizens.

As his train moved its whistle-stopping way across Iowa toward a major farm speech at Omaha, Neb., tonight, Eisenhower pointed out what he calls the "mess in Washington."

City Budget Is Estimated As Up By About $68,000

Commission Decides To Leave Tax Rate At Previous Millage

Tentative estimates on the City budget for the coming year, now being compiled by City Manager Tom Lemon, indicate an increase in the new operating budget of approximately $68,744 over last year, he stated this morning.

With the new operating budget estimated at $440,000 and the City's income for the year put at $433,252, efforts will be made to pare down the present budget or raise the rate within the income, he declared.

The City Commission, Monday night, decided to let the present year, 9 mills for debt service and 8.4 mills for operating expenses, a total of 17.4 mills.

Including debt service, the total budget for 1952 is estimated at $616,072, according to H. N. Sawyer, city clerk.

The commission, which met Tuesday night, to work on the qualification board, will meet again next Monday night, and it is hoped that work on the budget will be renewed, said Mr. Lemon.

He added that he will release figures for publication, following Commission approval.

Commissioner Andrew Carraway, whose three year term expires on Jan. 1, appears to be "still on the fence," and has not indicated yet, whether or not he will run again. Mr. Carraway last year declined to run for mayor again.

Oct. 15 is the last day that candidates may qualify to run for this office, said Mr. Sawyer. Voting will take place on Nov. 4, a date of state and national elections.

Meanwhile, the books are still open for registration of new voters at the City Hall and will remain open until Oct. 24, he declared.

Mr. Sawyer said that he wished to clarify the fact that voters who qualified to vote within the (Continued on Page Five)

Warren Odham Hurt In Auto Accident

Three People Were Injured Last Night When Car Driven by Warren L. Odham, 31, Miami School Teacher and Formerly of Sanford, Struck a Telephone Pole at French Avenue and 24th Street.

Mr. Odham was treated for fractured ribs at the Fernand-Lambert Memorial Hospital and released. Two passengers, Leo Rayman, 1920 French Avenue, and George Harwood, Sanford, Naval Air Station, suffered minor injuries.

Mr. Rayman was treated for head injuries at the local hospital while Mr. Harwood received treatment at the base hospital for minor cuts under the left arm.

According to a police report, Mr. Odham was attempting a left turn after passing south on French Avenue. The car, a 1950 model Mercury, jumped the curb and struck the telephone pole, the report stated, causing damage to the vehicle estimated at $250. It was towed to a local garage. The telephone pole was snapped almost in two.

Police notified of the crash at 8:17 p.m. and L. Max Ross and Philip Joe T. Hickson made the investigation.

No Left Turns On First Street Allowed

No left turns at First Street and Park Avenue will be allowed on any day of the week, starting Saturday, when signs will be put up to that effect. It was decided by the City Commission Monday night, said City Manager Tom Lemon.

The City will continue its rule there also on right turns on the red light, he added.

Commissioner John Kauler this morning declared that the experiment of allowing no turns at all on Saturdays at the intersection in an effort to solve traffic tie-ups and congestion had been abandoned for the time being.

Police, he said, reported that the rules worked out very well during morning hours when traffic on the two streets was heavy, but was not practical when there were fewer cars later on in the day.

He pointed out that the program is still in the experimental stage in an effort to solve traffic tie-ups of some duration during busy days. No signs will be levied during the time that motorists are being "educated" in the new rules, he said. Signs to be put up at the intersection will be larger than those formerly placed on the clock.

He Gets Enthusiastic Welcome

Overflowing onto the tops of nearby buildings and signs, a vast crowd estimated at 10,000 persons listens to an address by Republican Presidential candidate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (arrow) from the steps of the Town Hall in South Bend, Ind. Eisenhower criticized Gov. Adlai Stevenson's campaign humor, in his address, asking, "I'm so amused that we have stumbled into a war in Korea, that we have already lost in casualties 117,000 of our American killed and wounded." Caulle Says Tax Case Was Not Pushed

Atty General Clark Said To Have Given Orders To Drop Slated Prosecution

By HARRY P. SNYDER
WASHINGTON—F. Lamar Caulle, under a trumf of questions, told congressional investigators today that a price violation charge and a 1947-48 income tax case were dropped against a wealthy lumberman in his home town but never prosecuted.

Caulle, dismissed former Justice Department official, said the price case was dropped on direct orders from Tom Clark after Clark had a conference with Claude H. Hoey, attorney for F. C. Cox, Wailesburg, N. C., the lumberman whose case was in 1944. At that time:

"Clark now a Supreme Court justice, was an assistant attorney general."

Hoey, now a senator, was North Carolina Democratic national committee man and had just won his party's nomination to the Senate.

"Caulle was the district U. S. attorney."

The income tax matter came along four years later in 1948. Clark then was attorney general. Caulle had come to Washington as one of Clark's assistants and headed the Tax Division.

"Caulle said the Bureau of Internal Revenue recommended prosecution of an income tax case against Cox and forwarded it to the Justice Department for action."

"Caulle said he did not know the amount involved but Robert Collier, counsel of the House Judiciary committee, put in that it totaled $292,991 for five years."

"I disqualified myself from the case," Caulle said.

It was brought out that Cox was not prosecuted but the committee passed on to other matters without digging into just how the case was handled and what was the disposition.

Caulle said that as the district attorney, "I did not think the facts of the price case warranted its going to a grand jury."

However, attorneys for the office of Price Administration believed "they had a strong case" for a charge of price violation, he said.

Clark first ordered him to press the case, Caulle related.

He said he advised Cox's brother that he had been ordered to present the case to a grand jury. Cox retained Hoey, who telephoned Caulle and he would seek a conference with Clark.

And a few days later, Caulle said, orders to drop the case came directly from Clark by telephone.

"Clark later became attorney general and brought Caulle to Washington as one of his assistants at the time."

Law November, President Truman fired Caulle on grounds his outside activities were incompatible with his official duties.

J. Howard McGrath, former attorney general who was himself fired from the Truman administration last May, told the House group Wednesday that Caulle was "wrongly treated."

Cabinet Decides To Finish Work On State Capitol

$237,000 Made Avail On Job Estimated At Over $600,000

TALLAHASSEE—The Cabinet made $237,000 available to finish a remodeling job on the Capitol today after taking a committee of state legislators on a tour of the most crowded offices in the building.

The total for the remodeling now stands at $238,500. The 1951 Legislature appropriated $150,000 and the Internal Improvement Fund, previously advanced $231,000.

The work includes improvements to House and Senate quarters and to parts of the attorney general's office, extension of air conditioning and remodeling press quarters.

Gov. Warren told the legislators that after the tour there "must be some collateral matters before understood."

However, no direct reference was made to a resolution passed by House Democrats at a caucus last week in which they protested against the state construction in Tallahassee, except for the Capitol remodeling—until facilities at state institutions are improved.

The state at present is acquiring land for a 3 1/2 million dollar office building to be erected a block east of the Capitol. The building would provide more work space for state employees. It would be financed by a long term bond refund out of rentals paid by state agencies occupying it.

The governor told the committee "rightfully overcrowded" state offices are a "peril to efficiency and a menace to human health."

He asked the lawmakers to keep that in mind "and give it the weight it's entitled to receive."

The lawmakers gave the Cabinet informal assurance the money advanced by the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund for the remodeling job would be paid back with a special appropriation when the Legislature meets in April.

Achievements Of Company 'I' Are Told To Jaycees

Capt. David Hat-hel, Commander of Sanford's National Guard Unit, Reviewed The Achievements Of Company 'I' During The Past Two Years While Several Of His Staff Members Demonstrated Various Rifle Weapons At The Junior Chamber of Commerce Meeting at the Yacht Club Today.

A fascinated audience lingered beyond the 1:00 o'clock deadline this afternoon to see and listen to the details of the arms demonstration. After the luncheon, Jaycee President Douglas Stenstrom introduced Capt. Hat-hel, who briefly outlined Sanford's position as a rifle company in the Third Battalion.

"I am quite proud of our Company and its achievements since I first joined in November 1949," he asserted, "since then the Company has grown from only one officer and 52 men to four officers and 80 men."

At the summer camp in 1951, Company I topped the 124th Regiment and the first Division rifle marksmanship competition to win the State National Guard trophy. Further statistical investigation proved that Company I's firing record surpassed every unit in the Third Army district, consisting of five states in the southeast.

The belated discovery enabled Company I to top the highly coveted General Pershing National Guard plaque for marksmanship. Capt. Hat-hel proudly showed the silver plaque to the Jaycees. A golden trophy for the "highest degree of merit in the Regiment" was also displayed by Capt. Hat-hel for the Company's work at the annual summer camp.

"We had a 100 percent of our unit at the camp this year," Hat-hel declared.

Sgt. 1/c Richard A. Frank, Jr., the best individual marksman on the Company's winning unit in 1951, described the use of the carbine.

Sen. Sparkman Warns Tampons Of Evils Of Voting For A Change

Republicans Accused Of Always Muffling Chances To Be Of Help To The People

By BENNETT DELOACH
TAMPA—Sen. John Sparkman told a substantial crowd today it would not be long before he would see the Republican cry of "We need a change."

The fall only heated Democrat race for presidential nominee and the Republicans have had chances to help the nation before but have muffed them.

Among the opportunities the Republicans had, said Sparkman, was to set up a two party political system in the southeast.

"I wish they would do something and come down here so we could set up our two party system in the South."

Sparkman spoke here after air stop at Jacksonville and Miami. He left immediately for Tallahassee.

The month one of the hottest days of the month to make his speech at each noon on the courthouse square. He spoke to a crowd of about 1,200 people.

Sparkman lambasted the Republican Party in general and the south congress which was controlled by the GOP.

"The audience cheered every time he said 'We've better off now,'" he noted. He called the Republicans "making promises and not being able to fulfill them."

Then turning to the GOP presidential nominee, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sparkman quipped that "we've had nothing out of the general except generalizations. Maybe a general ought to generalize, especially a five star general."

Sparkman was introduced by former Rep. J. Martin Peterson, Lakeland. Dan McCarthy, Democratic nominee for governor, sent the Alabama a telegram welcoming him into Florida and wishing him success in his political tour.

In Miami last night Sen. Sparkman explained to about 2,000 persons in Bayfront Park, a platform he called the Republican Road to Freedom—a new national motto, said Sen. Sparkman.

As he reminded the crowd, Sparkman said he had a "checkbook" which he took to the hall. "It was the most object attendee I have ever had."

Port Authority For Fort Pierce Rapped For Costs

Expense Accounts Of One Man Reported At $125 Per Day

TALLAHASSEE—The state auditor's office today criticized the Ft. Pierce Port Authority for excessive expense accounts which ran as high as $125 for one man for one day.

The auditor who checked the board's accounts, quoted an unidentified member as saying he "felt that they were entitled to the extra compensation in the form of inflated expense accounts for the time he was in going away from home on the board's business."

The auditor said he pointed out expense accounts "are reimbursements for actual cash expended on official business and that claims in excess of such expenditures are erroneous."

He added only one voucher paid by the board "had as much as a hotel receipt attached as evidence of the claim even though such vouchers are given by hotels as a matter of course."

The auditor also was critical of both the port authority and the board of commissioners of the St. Lucie County Sanitary District for allowing each member to charge 7 1/2 cents a mile for trips on official business even though the group avoided in one way or another a charge of $1.00 per day.

A port authority board member told the auditor the individual mileage charge "has been the custom."

The auditor also complained both boards bought flowers for individuals with public money "although this is a personal and not a public expense."

As an example of port authority expense statements, the auditor cited a claim by J. B. Brewer for $125.50 for a one day trip to Jacksonville. The figure included $37.50 for mileage, $15 for hotel bill, $22.50 for meals and $50 under the heading of "other."

Brewer's term on the board ended Jan. 1, 1951.

In contrast was a claim for $55.50 by Lane H. Jennings of the board for a three day trip to Jacksonville. He claimed $37.50 for mileage, $10 for hotel bill and $8 for meals.

The auditor said some of the sanitary district's "claims for hotels, meals and incidentals appeared high and quite often different travel vouchers for the same trip lacked consistency."

However, he had a good word to say about financial records of both the port authority and the sanitary district, describing them as "generally accurate and well kept."

In a separate audit, he praised St. Lucie County Tax Collector Curtis M. James for "excellent" records and noted his percentage to tax collectors was high.

Port Authority For Fort Pierce Rapped For Costs

TALLAHASSEE—The state auditor's office today criticized the Ft. Pierce Port Authority for excessive expense accounts which ran as high as $125 for one man for one day.

The auditor who checked the board's accounts, quoted an unidentified member as saying he "felt that they were entitled to the extra compensation in the form of inflated expense accounts for the time he was in going away from home on the board's business."

The auditor said he pointed out expense accounts "are reimbursements for actual cash expended on official business and that claims in excess of such expenditures are erroneous."

He added only one voucher paid by the board "had as much as a hotel receipt attached as evidence of the claim even though such vouchers are given by hotels as a matter of course."

The auditor also was critical of both the port authority and the board of commissioners of the St. Lucie County Sanitary District for allowing each member to charge 7 1/2 cents a mile for trips on official business even though the group avoided in one way or another a charge of $1.00 per day.

A port authority board member told the auditor the individual mileage charge "has been the custom."

The auditor also complained both boards bought flowers for individuals with public money "although this is a personal and not a public expense."

As an example of port authority expense statements, the auditor cited a claim by J. B. Brewer for $125.50 for a one day trip to Jacksonville. The figure included $37.50 for mileage, $15 for hotel bill, $22.50 for meals and $50 under the heading of "other."

Brewer's term on the board ended Jan. 1, 1951.

Big Mail Fraud Involving Auto

Luxury Model Car Is Sold To Park Bench Bum In Gyp Game

DETROIT—A two million dollar mail fraud involving the faked sale of at least one luxury model car to a park bench bum charged to two Michigan men.

A South Bend, Ind., automobile purchase finance company, National Discount Corp., is said to be the victim of the alleged scheme.

The government brought the charge Monday in a two-page indictment against Joseph J. Madison, 44 James Pontiac (Mich.) branch manager for the firm, and Fred V. Holbaugh, 30 one-time Michigan auto dealer.

Holbaugh demanded examination when arraigned in U. S. District Court and was held in $5,000 bond. His examination was set for Oct. 1.

The district attorney's office said Madison was expected to surrender today.

Federal men said that over a period from July 1950 until July 1952 the purchases of hundreds of non-existent automobiles were financed by Madison and Holbaugh.

Madison was expected to surrender today.

Warehousemen Are Given Yardstick On How To Vote

JACKSONVILLE—Florida warehousemen meeting here today urged voters to use a yardstick by which to measure a candidate for public office.

William F. Judd, Tallahassee executive vice president of the Association of Warehousemen of Florida, told the Southeastern Warehouse and Movers Association the ideal man should be one who:

Believes in economy in government operations; supports a sound fiscal policy; and an independent federal reserve system. He is all kinds of socialism, supports the Taft-Hartley Law, and rejects the FEPC.

He urged everyone to vote, saying "Socialism is a communism as you may call it, was established in Russia and Italy with bullets and in England with ballots. If we are not careful we may get the full dose in America through lack of ballots."

He said the present Washington administration, along with state and local governments, would collect 90 billion dollars in taxes this year, "just twice the amount needed and collected to run the government in 1945 when we had 12 million men and women in the armed forces and were paying the bill for the biggest, most expensive war in our history."
