Sheriff Trial Opens; Media Is Warned

TAVARES, Fla. (AP) — As the second-degree murder case of suspended Lake County Sheriff Willis McCall goes to trial, the news media is under a court warning that an editorial campaign to convict the defendant could lead to a contempt citation. Florida Supreme Court Justice James C. Adkins, assigned to preside over the highly publicized trial, was scheduled to consider motions in a hearing here today. One motion expected was a change of venue request to try the sheriff outside his rural home county.

McCall, 62, is charged with second degree murder in the alleged beating death of a black Lake County jail inmate.

Adkins was warned that any publicity designed to effect the outcome of the case "may constitute a clear and present danger." As an example, he said a campaign to convict McCall may warrant judicial sanction and constitute grounds for contempt.

In his order concerning press coverage of the trial, Adkins cautioned reporters and editorial writers to refrain from publishing reports of any "discreditable" acts of the accused "unless it is made a part of the court record."

"There's been a lot of publicity in the past that's not been too beneficial to the defendant's character and that's what I want to avoid," Adkins said.

Besides cautioning the media, Adkins has instructed lawyers, court personnel, prospective witnesses and law enforcement officers involved in the case to avoid discussing it.

The judge said his order aimed at restricting press coverage was needed to reconcile "relative rights of the press and that of the individual to a fair trial."

He added, "These are guidelines merely to suggest press cooperation. If the media go out of bounds they are knocking on the door of the court."

The judge warned against publication of any statements, conclusions or "leaks" regarding the defendant's innocence or guilt, whether "implied or expressed."

McCall was Lake County sheriff for 28 years before Gov. Reubin Askew suspended him from office. The governor acted after a grand jury issued a three-count indictment accusing McCall in the death of a minor traffic offender who was in his custody.

McCall was charged with second degree murder, aggravated assault and aggravated battery in the April 23 death of Tommy Vickers, 37, of Miami.

A coroner's report said Vickers died of a blow to the stomach.

According to the grand jury indictment, the white sheriff "knowingly and intentionally caused bodily harm... by kicking him in the stomach and abdomen" with his boot.

Vickers was moved from the jail to a nearby hospital where he died.

AROUND THE CLOCK

Go ahead, John... put your neck into the noose (like you have a penchant on doing so frequently, anyhow). Even though the "big meet" is tonight between McGovern and Eagleton, and the rumor mills are predicting the removal of Eagleton from the ticket, I can't help but come forth and wonder aloud, "So what has the guy done which is so bad?" (And before it passes beyond my personal space limitations, the one who should be castigated is Jack Anderson and his ruthless devastation of the Senator.)

There's a heck of a lot of difference from writing an "opinion", much the same as this column; and a story of another color when one goes ahead and prints as "fact", a fabrication.

But getting back to the issue...Eagleton has not been proven to have uttered an untruth. And in listening to him on TV, he seems like an intelligent individual.

Were I placed into a similar position and asked about a "skeleton" I'd have responded much the same.

As an example, what's the difference between one who goes to a priest, as an example and confesses his sins and that of a man like Eagleton who went to a medical professional for much the same relief?

And if taking a drink is justification for prohibiting one from running for office...you'd have very few left in Washington...or Seminole County...or any other spot in this country of ours.

"Taint Necessarily So..." How many times have you heard someone say that you "must" refrigerate either mayonnaise and/or salad dressing after opening same, or else it'll spoil and maybe cause food poisoning, etc.

It's usually said right after someone gets ill at a picnic.

Truth of the matter is... there is no record in any of the technical or scientific journals, of any case of food poisoning from either of these two products. It can't be cause the organisms normally associated with food poisoning are completely destroyed in the acid medium of dressing products.

Ah, I'd better mention that this information was supplied to "yours truly" by the Mayo-Naisne and Salad Dressings Institute in Chicago.

One swallow doesn't make a summer...and it doesn't even begin to get a Saturday night bash under way.

Bacteria Breeds Fast Beware Of Some Picnic Foods

By PETER H. BROWN
Copley News Service
LOS ANGELES — Dr. Morze Hampton has spent more time looking at potato salad than anyone else in America. She has studied it with a microscope at the beach. She has tested it with chemicals in the aisles of a supermarket.

She has even counted potato salad bacteria in picnic baskets at a campground in the desert. Her conclusion: Potato salad is capable of starting colonies of dangerous bacteria while it sits at the beach campground or on a picnic table under the trees. One jar of the mayonnaise-laden salad, for instance, grew more than 10 million bacteria in five hours.

And what Dr. Hampton has done for potato salad, she has done for cream pie, chocolate cake, yogurt and fried chicken.

In each of these, Dr. Hampton, a University of California at Los Angeles nutritionist, found great civilizations of organisms — particularly in cold convenience foods bought at the supermarket and allowed to get hot on beaches or in parks. "For picnic bacteria, life begins at 40 — degrees," says Miss Esther Walsh, a therapeutic dietitian at a nearby hospital. "And it ends at 140 degrees. So keep food cold, or get it hot at the campground. In between, you have problems."

When a housewife picks up a cream pie in the supermarket, notes Miss Walsh, the pie will probably have a temperature of 38 or 39 degrees.

In the picnic hamper it will begin to get its summer picnic fever, inching up to 65 or 70 degrees by the time the hot dogs are ready. "This is a fertile ground for bacteria," she says. "A warming pie is excellent as a start for bacteria food poisoning."

She wishes people would either redefrost their picnic menus or get ice chests. "For instance, an ice chest will adequately keep foods cold enough to stop the growth — as long as you keep it well stocked with ice."

RESTING ON THE BOTTOM
"Paddle Wheel Queen," the tourist cruise boat which has been plying the St. Johns River in recent months, sank Sunday at its dock along U. S. 17-92 on Lake Monroe. The boat was afloat at 9:30 a.m. and was discovered sinking at about 1:30 p.m. Workmen were searching today for the cause of the sinking. (Gary Taylor Photo)

Three Other Trials On Docket 3 Drug Suspects Plead Guilty

By MARION BETHEA
The drug scene in Seminole County occupied the attention of Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson Jr. with pleas being taken this morning in the cases of three defendants, each charged with drug violations.

Each of the youths were teenagers and were high school drop-outs, some continuing their education at Seminole Junior College.

Derek O'Donoghue, 18, entered a guilty plea to possession of drug paraphernalia. In the negotiated plea with the state O'Donoghue pleaded to a misdemeanor in admitting to the possession of less than five grams. Judge Johnson advised the defendant that, if he has a previous drug record, he faces a maximum sentence of five years in state prison. If he has no previous drug record the maximum sentence is one year in county jail.

The court accepted the plea, and allowed the defendant to remain on his present bond. A presentence investigation (PSI) was ordered.

On another plea, Steve

Donald Payne Jr. pleaded guilty to possession of a dangerous drug (marijuana) on April 22. In the negotiated plea with the state, Payne's offense is also a misdemeanor, being less than five grams. Assistant Public Defender Gerald Ritzberg told the court the youth has no previous record. This being the case, the court advised the maximum sentence is one year in county jail. The court placed the defendant on PSI and allowed him to remain on bond.

Under the negotiations, the state agreed to nolle prosequi (drop) charges of possession of drug paraphernalia.

Mike Lane, 19, pleaded guilty to the sale of a narcotic drug, when on June 17, he illegally delivered marijuana. The state agreed to nolle prosequi charges of possession of a narcotic drug. Judge Johnson told the youth the maximum sentence is five years in state prison and that the offense is a third degree felony. Lane was allowed to continue on bond, and placed under PSI.

On another plea, Steve

Cummings entered a guilty plea to breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, also a negotiated plea. The 17-year-old youth was charged with a two-count infraction of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

Defense Attorney James Freeland told the court it is his understanding, in the negotiations, that the state will drop charges of grand larceny in the information, as well as all other charges against the defendant pending in the county. The court admonished this to be too broad a scope, and finally elicited the information that there is only one other pending case of a similar nature, and subsequently the charges were dropped by the state.

Judge Johnson told the defendant he faces a maximum of five years in state prison in the incident in which he entered a dwelling at Red Bug Road. McConiums was allowed to remain on bond and a PSI was ordered by the court.

Three defendants, Eugene Terrell, Jimmy P. Sparlock and Gary Vallant are docketed for trial the remainder of this week.

Sparlock, 31, Longwood, is charged with buying, receiving, intent to commit a misdemeanor.

Vallant is charged with possession of a central nervous stimulant and sale of the drug.

mental depression. Askew, who denied interest in a vice presidential bid throughout the Democratic campaign, was offered second place on the ticket but turned it down.

Harling was with Askew over the weekend in Penacola, where the governor went to celebrate his mother's 72nd birthday.

Askew held an early birthday party for his mother since he, his wife Donna Lou and their two children, Angela, 11, and Kevin, 9, are leaving Tuesday for a vacation in the North Carolina mountains.

These items will also be available one hour in advance of the time of the hearing at the center.

Persons wanting to submit written or oral statements may do so at the hearing. Written statements or exhibits may also be submitted to be documented as part of the hearing if received at the DOT Deland office before the hearing.

Tentative schedules for rights-of-way acquisition and construction will also be discussed as will the DOT's relocation advisory assistance program.

The replacement of the present Osteen Bridge has been a project for several years of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce roads and bridges committee. Douglas Stromstrom, committee chairman, asked all members to be present for the hearing.

Dear Abby

Babies available for adoption

By Bigaill Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every time I read a letter in your column from parents complaining because of a problem with a child I could scream! I would give my right arm to have their problem.

I am 23, married, and have been to several doctors dealing with fertility problems, and I have been told I am sterile. We want to adopt a child, but there is a long waiting list of at least three years.

People who have "problems" with their children should thank God every day of their lives that they are able to have children—no matter what kind of problems they have with them. They are blessed and don't even appreciate it. I envy them their problems with their children, and I couldn't mean it more sincerely.

HEARTBROKEN FOR REAL

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Apparently you want to adopt a newborn, American, Caucasian baby, which is not easy to come by. Babies of mixed parentage are available. Also Korean babies. Also children in orphanages, some of them handicapped. If you are sincere, and consider "problems" a blessing, you need not remain childless.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a man whose house is framed with pictures of himself? He has them in every room, cluttered on the walls, and sitting around in expensive frames on every end table, and even on the window sills.

This man is now fat and bald, and most of these pictures were taken long ago when he was young and handsome and had lots of hair and a trim physique. Nobody would recognize him as the same person.

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Nothing need be "wrong" with him. Maybe he just enjoys seeing himself as others SAW him.

DEAR ABBY: Is it improper to put a return address on a card of sympathy?

A friend of mine said this should never be done. HUBRON, S. DAKOTA

DEAR HUBRON: Your friend is mistaken. All mail should have a return address. And my sympathy goes to those frustrated postmasters and mail handlers who find millions of pieces of mail undeliverable because of insufficient, incorrect or illegible addresses, and NO return address.

Problem? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6790, L. A., CALIF. 90008 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Carroll Righter's Horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You find there is a decided conflict between ideas and performance today, between financial activities and intellectual outlets, and it is necessary that you do try to harmonize the two different systems by scheduling longer hours to give you a chance to build up both avenues of expression rightly.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) That monetary plan you have cannot work out successfully if you do not get the support of a backer who also has the necessary expertise. You would only work yourself literally to death otherwise.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Those of the female gender are most helpful in a.m. and p.m., but males are apt to be most demanding, so be guided accordingly. Show high spirits that finances are not unpermitted in your mind. Get bills paid early.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Run over accounting records and you find you can make new investment, or find ways to economize. Follow through with advice given you by experts. Being with intellectuals later in the day is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Avoid one who has nothing but money on his or her mind and enjoy the company of good friends you like. You are able to gain that idealistic aim today, if you work at it wisely. Think constructively.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you in any way try a bargain which is most important to your way of life, you will certainly regret it later on. Get busy on personal matters that are vital and keep out of trouble. Pay that bill instead of arguing about it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas for advancing, so set up the right new policy quickly for future living, but do not let a good adviser. Plan that new trip also. Forget those things you can do nothing about.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Let a good pal guide you on just how to have more pleasant relations with others, but avoid a highfalutin financier who has an eye on your assets. Not a good day for business, but fine for social, cultural matters. Be more sure of yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Listen to what a partner has to say and cooperate with his ideas, instead of following an irascible bigwig today. Bigwigs have conflicting ideas, so keep neutral now and all in fine for you. Grow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have fine new ideas that require only openmindedness to derive many benefits from them, plus good hard work. Plan those changes that are necessary, and also handle transportation matters well. Change your diet, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Fine day for enjoying amusements during spare time, forget going to that adviser who is too busy today. You have specialized talents that should be put to work now. These can lead to excellent benefits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to understand what it is that your associates expect of you, and you find you come to a far better understanding. Don't bring up little frustrations at home that can start a big argument. Show you have power.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be active at shopping, keeping appointments and getting everything operating much more efficiently now. Do not let that old-fashioned idea already in a bad mood. Evening is fine for whatever it is of a social nature.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who like to please others, but who is also a very practical turn of mind, so be sure you understand your child and do not try to change him or her to suit your own ideas, or the fine promise here will be lost. Start the education along lines that will place your youngster in the limelight, whether on the stage, in political circles, on the lecture platform, or whatever. Encourage your son, daughter.

"The Stars smile, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

'Anti-bus' Drive Now Statewide

By A.F.N. BOWWELL
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP)—Parents against "forced busing" have enlisted Wallace, rears and Javeres in a campaign they believe will change Florida's constitution.

A statewide coalition that includes nine anti-busing groups, currently gathering signatures to put a proposed constitutional amendment on the state ballot in November, plans to go the attack to the press and the courts as well.

The Florida Federation for Neighborhood Schools, directed by Ralph D. Wyman, of Fort Lauderdale says it aims to bring an end to busing for purposes of racial balance in public schools.

Ironically, the federation's ultimate success or failure may be determined by federal courts whose authority Wyman has called into question.

"We're just parents," explained Wyman, 37, operator of an own dental laboratory and the father of three.

Members of his anti-busing alliance have been feeling good in the last few weeks since the ranks of petition volunteers have been reinforced by new faces. Thousands of petition sheets have been handed over, Wyman said, the three groups that recently endorsed the amendment—the Florida Jayces, the State Board of Realtors and the Florida Delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Seventy-five of Florida's 61 delegates to the Democratic Convention were pledged to support Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

"We're really glad to have their help," said Wyman. "We were all completely pooped out because we'd been carrying this whole thing ourselves."

The signature gatherers are nearing their goal of 176,000 certified names in six congressional districts. Wyman said, but they could fall short because of "uncooperative" in Hillsborough and Pinellas Counties.

Sanford Juniors Win, 5-2; Enter State Tournament

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

Sanford's Junior League All-Stars knocked off Ormond Beach, 5-2 Friday night to capture the Florida Junior Major League District IV title and earn a berth in the state tournament, which opens August 7 in Tallahassee. Sanford had lost their first game against Ormond Beach. Then they had to defeat Holly Hill to stay alive in the competition. They finished the tourney with two consecutive wins over the Ormond nine. Jeff Patton was the starting pitcher for Sanford, with Curtis Wolf turning in a clutch relief job. Patton pitched two and two-thirds innings, but had to leave the mound when his arm started bothering him. Wolf, who pitched seven innings Thursday night, gave up only one run and two hits in the four and a third-innings he pitched.

Robert Smith went three for five at the plate to give the Sanford team one of the three hits as a triple. Jim Brodie, Patton and Mark Russi had a pair of singles each. Nicky Mergo had a double and David Wiggins and Terry Smith each had a single for the winners.

Ormond Beach had only three hits. They were all singles, one made a fine stop and just beat the runner to second, McLarnen collected by Sandy Parker, Terry Smith and Larry Lanier.

Sanford jumped ahead from the start as they scored a pair of runs in the top of the first frame. Robert Smith led off with a triple and scored on a single by Brodie. Brodie stole second, moved to third on a ground out and scored on a wild pitch.

Mergo doubled to open the second inning for the Sanford all-stars. He moved to third on an infield single by Robert Smith. Brodie walked before Patton drove in with only one out. Jim Brodie then walked to fill the bases with only one out. The next two men fanned to end the inning.

Ormond Beach scored for the first time in the bottom of the fourth inning. Edelman was the first batter for Ormond, struck out but was safe at first on a single. Lanier then hit the ball to second baseman Russi, who made a fine stop and just beat the runner to second. McLarnen scored on the play. Patton

Stengel Observes Number 82

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—"I was surprised that 82, at his home here Sunday. It also represented one of the shortest complete, absolutely coherent sentences. Charley Dillon Stengel, a baseball Hall of Famer, has ever uttered."

Casey said he was aware that some baseball record books list him as having been born in 1889. Dates other than July 30 are also listed. In typical Stengel fashion, however, he has an explanation for the seeming confusion, as if anyone can confuse the confusing, Casey is the man.

When it was a young man of five, Stengel, Casey, was elaborately palming back his ice-cream cones. "I used to look at the schedule."

"He meant the baseball schedule, of course," Casey said. "In those days we'd hit town for three or four days, and if my birthday was approaching, I'd see that 82 was observed in one of several cities."

"Once in Kansas City, they baked a big cake which was big big they had to hold it to the ballpark in a truck. So, they weren't doing so good in Kansas City so they observed it in one of several cities."

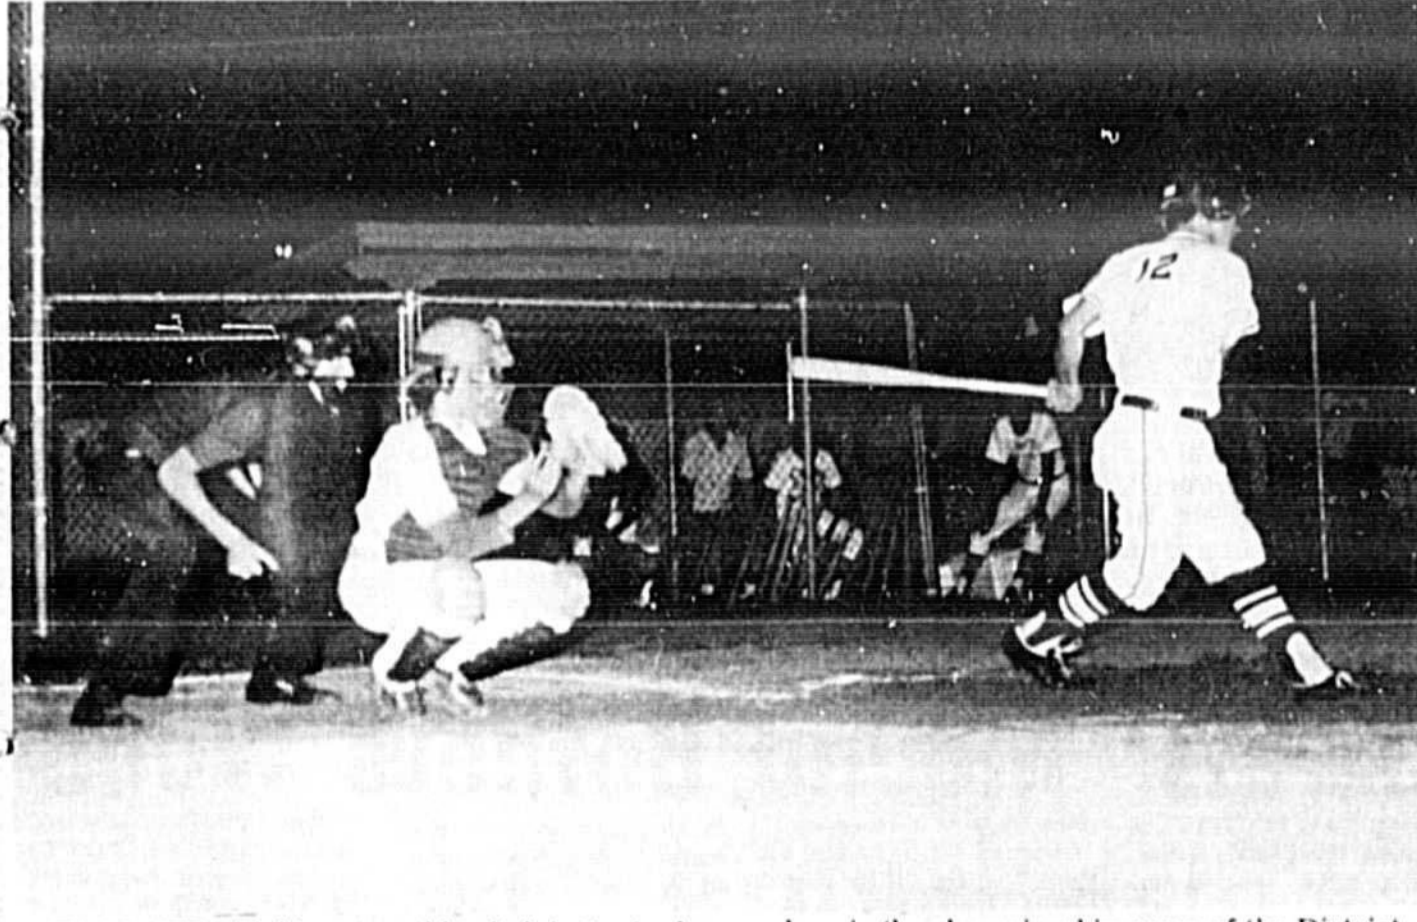

"Stengel didn't identify the year but it must have been in the late 1920's when he was finishing his playing career in the old American Association following his legendary years in the National League.

"Then there was the time," Casey continued, with barely a pause for breath. "I was managing Milwaukee for Bill Veeck. He was out somewhere in the islands during the war and I told him I had another pitcher I could win the pennant for him."

"So there was my birthday, or the birthday, and out comes a truck onto the playing field, and sure enough, there was this immense cake, only it wasn't a real cake because out it steps the new pitcher, who was from I think, Puerto Rico or something."

"The Stengels, Casey and his family, had a party to have three 'birthday dates' for their calendar. One was a small family party at the Robin Hood Inn, Saturday night. The other was a party with the American League president Joe Cronin, they'll be honored guests at the Baseball Hall of Fame celebration at Cooperstown, N.Y. Aug. 6-7.

"Finally they'll be feted at an Old Timers' dinner and game in San Diego Aug. 17-18: Casey's old friend, Buzzie Bavasi, president of the Padres.

Seminole LL Has Experience

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole's Little League All-Stars may have an edge over their opponent, whoever it may be, when the Major Division All-Star State Tournament commences Monday in St. Petersburg.

That edge, if indeed it's there, comes in the form of pitcher-third baseman Tim Haines and shortstop Bob Robinson who were starters when Seminole's played in this event last August.

Haines has all the tools needed to "make it" in Little League Tourney competition, regardless of the opposition.

And that applies to many of his teammates as well.

But many Seminole followers and fans in "the know," so to speak, say Haines is the key figure in the Seminole machine. He's a team leader and in that sense alone his value cannot be measured. In five tourney games he's hitting .386 but has not had a base hit in his last five trips. On the mound he's worked ten innings, allowed one unearned run and two hits. He fired a no-hitter in the Area 2 title game against Winter Park.

Note of the aforementioned is intended to make it appear as if Seminole is a one-man team. Nothing is further from the truth. The fact that Seminole has reached the state tourney in St. Pete indicates they indeed have a solid "team" machine.

Holden has the only hit in the loss to Deland in last year's game. The Seminole shortstop and leadoff hitter has done everything a manager could ask of a youngster and then some. "Holdie" leads the team in hits in this year's tourney (9) and is tied with catcher Tony Shefflett for runs scored (8). In five games Holden has reached base 14 times and had seven straight hits earlier in the tourney. His .647 average leads the team.

Holdie File plays second and last second and often has the job of moving Holden up via sacrifice bunt. He has yet to fail to complete that assignment in tourney action. He's batting .507 in tourney games.

Cassellberry Legion '9' Bows To Parkers, 12-2

DELAND—A trio of former Trinity Prep High School diamond stars provided the highlights for Winter Park to defeat Cassellberry, 12-2 in the District Six Legion tourney here Friday night.

The win put Winter Park into the championship series with Deland but the Parkers ran out of gas and pitchers after forcing the series into a deciding sixth game Saturday night.

Mark Hanna, John Kennedy and Jack Zimmerman were the trio of Trinity Prep stars who sparked the Winter Park victory over Cassellberry.

Hanna, a hard throwing slugger, got down to Cassellberry's batters and struck them while walking five and allowing seven hits. The Parkers saw had a comfortable 6-0 margin before allowing the first run in the seventh inning. Winter Park took a 1-0 lead in the second when Jim Hinnan tripled to left-center and scored on John Seay's single to left. Four straight walks gave the Parkers another tally in the third frame.

In the fourth with two down and 10 on, Stengel drew a pass and hit Donnington to draw a two-run homer to the outfield.

"The real showstopper period starts in my football this week as the pre-season exhibition schedule goes into high gear. A total of 12 exhibitions are listed for the weekend following Friday night." Hanne said.

Hiskey-Zarley Cop PGA Team 'Laurels'

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—"Great-just absolutely great." Kermit Zarley repeated when asked how it felt for him and partner Babe Hickey to break the Arnold Palmer-Jack Nicklaus domination of the Professional Golfers Association National Team Championship.

"But you know," Zarley reflected, "they probably would have won again if they tied up."

The long-haul partners, close friends since their college days at the University of Houston a decade ago, forged a better-bet score of 66, five under par, in the final round to score an easy victory Sunday.

Their 262 total was 22 strokes under par on the 7,045-yard Laurel Valley Golf Club, Palmer's home course where he won the U.S. Open.

Pro Football Slate Has 12 Exhibitions

Three of the 12 games this week are slated for Friday night at Battleground vs. Washington at Tampa, Fla., Buffalo vs. St. Louis at Buffalo, N.Y. and Los Angeles vs. Cleveland at Los Angeles.

Eight games are listed for Saturday, starting with an afternoon game at South Bend, Ind. between Kansas City and Chicago.

The other Saturday games, all after 11:00 a.m., include Green Bay vs. Cincinnati at Green Bay, Dallas vs. Houston at Dallas, Detroit vs. Miami at Detroit, Oakland vs. New England at Oakland, New York Jets vs. San Francisco at Jacksonville, Fla., Pittsburgh vs. the New York Giants at Pittsburgh and San Diego vs. Atlanta at San Diego. Roundouting out the schedule is a single match.

Other individual bouts on the card will Johnny Walker taking on Mike Webster and Mike George meeting George McCreary.

Vocational Ed Vs. A College Degree

By JEFF CUSHING Copy News Service. Five years ago, Al Miller was a college freshman, but he has since become an English teacher. When he was graduated, however, he was unable to get a job... Vocational training is reaching into the high schools, attracting students as never before. In fact, many college enrollments are actually down because students who would otherwise be entering as freshmen are instead learning as trade school students.

Private Schools Decline?

By JEFF CUSHING Copy News Service. "Fourth Catholic School in County To Close Doors." "Military Academy Here Hangs Up Swords." Enrollment Dip Hurting School Budgets. These are but a smattering of headlines that are appearing in newspapers across the United States these days as the nation's private schools face the most dramatic decline in their history. For years the nonpublic schools worried little about enrollments. The post-World War II baby boom plus the rising affluence in the suburbs had kept the private school dormitories filled. But now such institutions are facing drops in student applications, higher operating costs that mean higher tuition — sometimes as much as $4,500 per student per year.

Year-Round School Makes the Grade

By TOM TIEDE. DALE CITY, Va. — (NEA) — A little boy named Billy stopped at a frog pond here after early morning. To reflect on the process of being a little boy named Billy, he stretched his feet on the water's edge, chucked a stone at a partially submerged log — and his foot was hit by a heart obviously heavy, he rubbed his hands on his trousers and up to those leaf notebook, and trudged on down the rural road. "I gotta go to school," he said.

Dr. Mueller. "They saw the 12-month school interfering with their way of life — summer vacation, etc." So, rate parents organized. Political sound-bites were quick to offer opposition. And at one depressing point the entire matter was thrown into a local court.

As it happened, early in the local debate, not many people wanted the year-round school either. Area educators stressed the experimental aspects of the plan and that only four of the county schools (three elementary, one secondary) would be tested. Still, Well. "People are set in their ways," says

School Zeroing On Job Training

By RON WELLS Copy News Service. The time has passed when a high school graduate has no idea what field he wants to enter or what course of study he wants to pursue. Why? Because more and more high schools and junior high schools are supplying their students with information about all types of occupations. "There was a time when a kid went to college even if his main interests were in a field not taught at a four-year school, or he didn't seek any further education at all," said Eugene Brucker, head of counselors for the San Diego City Schools.

Greek Groups Growing

By RON WELLS Copy News Service. Fraternities and sororities are dead. Fraternities and sororities have never been stronger. Fraternities and sororities are hold their own. These are the statements being made by fraternities and sorority rows. And the interesting thing about each statement is that each is very true for a particular campus or region. "Interest in Greek organizations, especially fraternities, has greatly diminished on East and West Coast campuses," said a spokesman for I. G. Balfour Co., one of the largest manufacturers of fraternal jewelry. "Yet in the Midwest or 'Bible Belt' region the Greek organizations are so strong or stronger than they've ever been. In fact, several Midwest schools have been adding five to seven new chapters a year," he said. "And fraternities and sororities have continued to be popular on campuses in the South and Southwest." There are approximately 400 fraternities chapters, and an equal number of sororities on 600 campuses across the country. According to the National Intergovernmental Council membership is one again showing an increase, about 10 per cent over 1971.

Year-Around Classes Are Catching On

By FRANK MACMORER
Copley News Service

Last summer was no great shakes for 12-year-old Robert Barton of St. Charles, Mo. In other years he had earned some pin money by picking strawberries at 12 cents a quart.

In the summer of 1971, however — and again this summer — Robert will be spending his vacation time attending the Becky-David Elementary School at St. Charles, confronted with such midyear problems as modern math, the language arts (probably Spanish) and social science.

Many educators favor it. Robert, you see, is one of the thousands of American students across the land whose schools now keep their doors open the year-round.

"I'd rather be out running," Robert says. So would a lot of other midsummer students be running, or doing something besides attending regular classes during the hot months. However, economic, educational and even sociological considerations are contributing to the spread of the 12-month school idea.

The parents, educators and taxpayers like it more than the students dislike it.

Already there are more than 100 school districts, ranging from the huge Chicago system to Molalla, Ore., operating under some form of all-year classrooms. Five years ago there were only a dozen or so, and these were strictly experimental. Now the 12-month school is here for real.

George Jensen, former president of the Minneapolis school board and now chairman of the National School Study Calendar Committee, says at least 1,000 other districts are studying the wisdom of all-year instruction.

Probably the chief motive behind year-round schools is money — or lack of it, rather. Taxpayers all over the country are voting down school bonds for new classroom construction.

The two most widely used variations of the 12-month school system are the "45-15" plan and the 12-week quarter program. Under the first, students are divided into four groups, each of which attends school for nine-week periods followed by three-week vacations throughout the year.

The second approach, used mostly in high schools, involves four 12-week quarters, with students attending three of four terms on a suggested year-round basis.

Leonard Mendonca, an 11-year-old at Park Elementary School in Hayward, a suburb of San Francisco, says "it's a three-week break. Unlike the 45-15 plan, all Park students are in school and on vacation at the same time."

Not all communities, of course, favor the 12-month school plan.

"When I used to go to Winton Grove, I had my vacation all at one time. This way you don't forget everything."

Park School is on the quarter system. Youngsters attend school 10 weeks, then go on a three-week break. Unlike the 45-15 plan, all Park students are in school and on vacation at the same time.

Unable to convince presidential candidate George McGovern that the issue of Eagleton's history as a psychiatric patient would go away, the Missouri senator sadly stepped down Monday night and cleared the way for McGovern to look for a new running mate.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine head most speculators' lists of likely replacements for Eagleton, who became the first man in American history to give up a major party's nomination for vice president.

But Florida Gov. Reubin Askew, R-Sargert Shriver, former director of the Peace Corps, and McGovern's close aide, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Connecticut and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin are also major possibilities. And in Atlanta, Georgia State Rep. Julian Bond, a leader in the "Blacks for McGovern" campaign, quoted a high-placed McGovern aide as saying Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter is being considered to replace Eagleton.

McGovern's first choice to fill the vacancy may still be Edward M. Brooke Jr., former U.S. ambassador to the United Kingdom, who is being considered by McGovern as a possible running mate.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who served as McGovern's vice-presidential pick, is also being considered by McGovern as a possible running mate.

Board Hassles On 45-15 Plan

Question Raised On Sufficient Finances; Angel Promises To Deliver Facts At Next Meeting

She added the extended year concept was the "great answer" her, Angel said he would have all information on costs ready at the next board session.

Culpepper indicated he had plans to place the matter before the public in November when he explained, "I want all the facts."

However, acting on a recommendation from Angel, Culpepper withdrew his motion to await the superintendent's report.

The board voted to pay architect Eoghan Kelly a $9,800 bill for his study on costs to air condition classrooms in order to implement the 45-15 concept.

Some Educators Favor Classes For 4s And 5s

By ROBERT BETTS
Copley News Service

Should the school-starting age be lowered?

There has been a great deal of discussion about having children attend public school before age 5 — at 4, say, or even earlier.

Many educators favor it. Scientific studies have indicated that the first five years of human life are crucial for learning. One conducted by Benjamin Bloom, a University of Chicago psychologist, attested that half of all growth in human intelligence takes place between birth and age 5. Other experts put the estimate even higher.

"The increasing evidence from research, declaring that perhaps as much as 80 per cent of a child's intelligence is developed by age 4 or 5, has galvanized the interest of parents and educators alike in the importance of early childhood learning," said U.S. Education Commissioner Sidney P. Marland Jr.

There are 12.5 million 3, 4, and 5-year-olds in the United States. Some four million are enrolled in preprimary schools. They include children in nursery schools, kindergartens, church-operated preprimary schools, some combination nursery-day care and other private schools and federal preschools like Head Start.

Educators say 4-year-olds who attend nursery school appear to have an advantage over those who enter school for the first time at age 5 (kindergarten) or 6 (first grade).

The American Association of School Administrators has recommended "that schools, in appropriate fashion, serve all children from at least age four, not excluding those with special needs, who are under age four."

The Education Policies Commission of the National Education Association also believes "all children should have an opportunity to go to school at the public age beginning at age 4."

Other groups that have advocated for early childhood education include the American Federation of Teachers and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

In California, state Superintendent of Schools Wilson Riles has proposed an education program to expand the public schools to include classes for 4-year-olds and to revamp teaching from kindergarten through third grade.

Under the five-year, $51 million program, local school districts could use

McGovern Dumps Eagleton

Eight Eyed For Veep Candidate

By GREGG HEHRINGTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The search for a new Democratic vice-presidential candidate centers on eight men following Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's precedent-setting withdrawal from the ticket.

Unable to convince presidential candidate George McGovern that the issue of Eagleton's history as a psychiatric patient would go away, the Missouri senator sadly stepped down Monday night and cleared the way for McGovern to look for a new running mate.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine head most speculators' lists of likely replacements for Eagleton, who became the first man in American history to give up a major party's nomination for vice president.

Gov. Askew Still Refuses Veep Job

By DONNA ESTES

It is unlikely Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern, of South Dakota, will carry Sen. Reubin Askew, of Florida, as his vice president, McGovern's campaign officials said Monday.

The unprecedented and historic withdrawal of Sen. Thomas Eagleton, of Missouri, from the ticket Monday night, however, brought sympathy locally for the first term national legislator.

Harry Kwatkowski, new chairman of the County Democratic executive committee, decried the fact that the withdrawal was necessary. The chairman noted that mental illness for a long time has been something hidden in the closet although it should be treated in the same manner as a physical illness. This he said if McGovern had kept the young senator as his vice presidential running mate the ticket would have definitely been hurt.

John Kader, past chairman of the committee, said he perhaps may be no more than three persons who could aid McGovern at all here. In order of preference he listed them as: Humphrey, Sen. Edmund Muskie, of Maine, or Sen. Henry Jackson, of Washington.

The obstetrician and gynecologist was of the opinion concerning Eagleton that the American public is far too intelligent to let someone's opinion. He pointed out that thousands and in fact millions of Americans have had similar health episodes.

He said from what he has read and seen of Eagleton he appeared to be an extremely healthy man.

Schools' Budget Record

By BILL SCOTT

School board, at a public hearing Monday, officially adopted its 1972-73 school budget calling for a record $28.6 million, approximately $1.6 million more than the previous 1971-72 budget year.

Millage levied by the board's contingency fund has been cut to the new $100,000.

In an effort to build up the fund, the board has adopted its own moratorium on spending funds from the account until a sizable amount has accumulated.

Walter Teague, associate superintendent, said the new budget would increase during the course of the year to $28 million and added that last year's $24,991,586 budget was increased to $27 million before year's end.

In order to fund the new budget, which became effective July 1, 10 mills limit operating assessment was levied and the district-wide interest and sinking fund, the board levied 4.8 mills, bringing the total levy to 14.8 mills of taxation for schools.

The board renewed agreements with Orange County District School Board for that body to provide education in its facilities for 35 Seminole County exceptional children.

At a cost of $38,150, the board agreed to send 17 students to Forest Park School and 18 students to Park Lake School.

Another agreement approved was a continuation of the use of instructional television at $9,200 a year from Orange County.

The charge is based on one dollar each for all Seminole County students in grades kindergarten through five.

Teague said money was reserved for the two expenditures.

Teague said the board's total assets, including the ownership of schools, land, etc. was $54,282,360.10 June 30.

Boat Explodes; Girl Hurt

By JANE CASSELBERRY

CASSELBERRY — Fourteen-year-old Kimberly Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. E. L. Darley, of 321 Seminole Boulevard, received three degree burns on her legs and first degree burns on her face at 8:35 p.m. Monday when the boat in which she was riding exploded and burned.

Also in the 17-foot craft when the accident occurred were her half-sister, Brad Darby, and Peter Patchell, who was helping the family. Both dove overboard into Lake Kathryn to escape the fire ball which formed when the motor was switched on in the boat. They were not injured.

The youngsters had been riding on the lake and water skiing with the boat which belonged to a neighbor, Herman Joyce.

The boat and motor were a total loss and Joyce valued them at $1,600. Cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Kimberly was taken to Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando where she was treated and released.

The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department responded to the fire with fire fighting equipment and emergency vehicle.
