Four Teams Above; Four Below Sanford In Final Standings

Coach McClellan's Celery Feds of Seminole High School rate No. 5 in the Northeast Conference for 1936, according to the Dickinson system of figuring percentages. The Sanford rating is 15.7, above that of Ocala, Tallahassee, Palatka and St. Augustine, and below the ratings given Landon High of Jacksonville, Daytona Beach, Leesburg and DeLand.

Landon High wins the championship by 22.5, one point above

Daytona Beach which scored 21.1. But Leesburg with a scoring of 21 was only one-half point below Daytona, with DeLand coming in fourth with a final rating of 19.

The Celery Feds are in the center of the percentage table, 1.4 points ahead of Palatka which is given a rating of 14.3, and 1.7 points ahead of Ocala and Tallahassee which are each rated at 14. St. Augustine is in the cellar position with a conference rating of 11.4.

By playing only four games, one less than the required number to be eligible for the championship, Leon is not entitled to a rating.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—

A gradual reduction to bring Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment down to 300,000 by next July 1 is announced by Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work.

Fechner said in an interview that improved business conditions prompted the move, but he emphasized that the reduction will be accomplished by limiting new enrollment rather than by forcing out any of the present 475,000 corps members.

Buried Treasure Pays
For College Course

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 4.—(AP)—

If Robert Gelpi didn't believe in superstitions he might not be a freshman at Ohio State University.

In his native Puerto Rico people say that whenever a strange,

wavering light appears at night

it marks the unburied burial

of some person, with about freezing, light frost on extreme south coast. Thursday fair,

one night he saw such a light hanging near a group of trees

on his father's plantation near San Juan.

Following the gleam, he marked the spot where it shone brightest.

He employed a young native boy,

and together they dug. Gelpi says

they found a chest filled with old

Spanish gold coins and less containing three valuable emeralds.

They divided the treasure.

Arkansas Deputy Is Arrested In Florida

TAJAWASKEE, Dec. 4.—(AP)—

sheriff, complained to the Governor's office yesterday that when he went to Miami City last week and to April 4, man, he was arrested himself and held in jail

overnight without a charge being placed against him.

He asked for an investigation

claiming he was falsely imprisoned, denied the right to see a lawyer, and transferred from

Miami City to the Dadeport

city jail without any authority.

The Governor's office told him

the Sheriff has no authority over municipal officers.

and Tuesday, Dec. 17.

The festive spirit and beautiful decorations maintained in downtown Sanford last year as a result of the campaign conducted by the commercial committee of the Chamber of Commerce received considerble comment from visitors to the city, and in the press of the state, and an effort is to be made this year to excell

the decorations of the 1934 Christmas season.

Streamers, banners, flags, etc.

Wonder if the children will have the same kick out of Christmas as they used to before Uncle Si

whole year round.

One of the first accidents of the hunting season occurred near Brookville the other day when a 16-year-old high school student was drowned in Lake Coopers.
Having shot a duck, he proceeded to swim out into the lake to retrieve it, and, suddenly, seized with a cramp, drowned.

Professor Rex Tugwell, chief of intellectual on the Brain Trust, calls for an end to the "peasant system" in the South. Closer to Professor Tugwell's former home at Columbia University, in a district known as Harlem, where many Negroes live, there is a "peasant system," which perhaps should be the first to be cupied by the Professor's attention.

Even dry assessors have their advantages, if the report of the First National Bank of Boston
means anything. "Depressives," it says, "are no fools, for they do cause a necessary purging whereby wastes, inefficiencies and unsound business practices are eliminated, and the system is brought back into better balance.
Without these depression persons serious maladjustments would accumulate in a short time and cumulate in a short time and break the national law. And so potato'—Arthur Brisbane. The best thing to do is to play safe and eat grits . . . which is what most of us crackers have been doing all the time anyhow."

It is interesting to note that the candidate who was nominated in Michigan a few days ago on a Townsend pension platform was a Republican. His opponent, nominated by the Democrats, is a conservative lawyer. The election is to be held on Dec. 17. Now if the Republicans should win, and the Townsendites should be given credit for it, wouldn't it be funny
if the Republican party should incorporate its platform for next year's presidential election a plank supporting the $200 a month idea?
And if any old, what would become of the New Dealers' Social Secu-

Gate Receipts Increase

For the first time in three years, the Harvard Athletic Association has shown a profit, according to the financial report for the twelve months ended June 30, announced recently by Henry L. Shattuck, treasurer of Harvard College.

Receipts for the period totaled $554,150.05, while the expenditures amounted to $398,107.56, and visiting teams received guarantees of $153,736.31, leaving the Crimson's athletic treasury a surplus of approximately $2,300.

The receipts of the last twelve months were about $50,000 lower than for the previous period, but guarantees to visiting teams were reduced by almost $70,000 from the last year.

Every one of the five major sports showed an income over the last report, while all of the sports except football decreased expenses. The net receipts for football, with visiting teams' guarantees deducted, totaled $291,465.32, as compared with receipts of $265,498.39 for the previous year. Harvard's football expenses totaled $75,738.01 and football was the only sport which showed a profit for the year.

The receipts and expenditures of major varsity sports:

	Receipts	Expenses
Baseball	$8,614.56	$16,758.15
Crew	18.36	17,849.76
Football	291,465.32	75,738.01
Golf	5,190.61	18,391.68
Hockey	5,885.56	11,153.03

Amino Acid

Barber shop hair sweepings, slaughter-house debris and cottage cheese went into a hopper at the University of California at Los Angeles recently and came out as chemicals, worth as much as three times their weight in gold. The particular chemicals are amino acids, used in treating anemia, to halt the wasting away of atrophying muscles, and as a remedy for gastric ulcers. They may hold the secret, it is said, of creating life artificially.

Fifty students under Dr. Max S. Dunn formed a non-profit manufacturing unit at the university to supply the hemicals to hospitals, universities and research institutions. This is believed to be the world's only source of relatively pure amino acid. Prices range from $100 to 2,000 a pound.

As no fields, of which there are twenty-two, also are under 1 pt. train, principal part of protoplasm, the jelly or substance that is the foundation of all living matter, the type is found in human hair, so Dr. Dunn had his students range campus barber shops for hair sweepings, separated from an accumulation of cigarette butts, the hair boiled in sulphuric acid, and the amino acid extracted by evaporation. This type, known as cystine, is one of the more expensive amino acids. The residue of hair cuttings sells for only $167 a pound. The cost is in the process. It takes weeks to fill an order for a few ounces.

Another type is concentrated blood, it is said. Dr. Dunn sends students to slaughter houses for gallons of blood. The red corpuscles are separated and boiled down for an amino that sells at $1,066 a pound. Cottage cheese takes an amino worth $182 a pound, and ordinary dessert gelatin, one selling at between $400 and $500 a pound. Other amino are made from various chemicals.

The university has received some sixty queries and is equipped with orders. Amino acid has been sent to the University of Illinois, Johns Hopkins, Harvard and Mellon Institute of Pittsburgh.

A congenital party that motorized Mrs. W. E. Watson motor to Orlando for the day on Sunday. Wednesday was composed of Mrs. E. Pace, Mrs. W. J. Hill, Mrs. A. Newman, Mrs. H. W. Hern, and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher.

Mrs. F. P. Strong and little daughter, Isobel, have returned from Orlando where the latter their quick work saved the house and part of the roof was only for appendicitis at the McEwan Sanitarium.

Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Phillips, Miss Marian Phillips, and Raymond Phillips motored over to Daytona Beach on Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving.

Miss Zoe Munson has returned to Gothic after spending the week-end at home with her family.

The many friends of Miss Laura Cittenden will rejoice to hear that she is again at home, having returned Saturday from Jacksonville.

We are experiencing the first real cold wave of the season today. The juice ran down to about 40 this morning and unless the wind changes before night it will go some lower. This is just the kind of weather needed to make the lettuce head up properly and bring good prices about the holidays.

Sanford has within its grasp securing a national baseball club for their training season. Through the personal friendship existing between Otha Wathen, the owner of the Louisville Baseball Club, and Walter Adams of the Thatcher Realty Co. of Sanford, Mr. Wathen is agreeable to bringing his club and newspaper men, number 25 in all, to Sanford for their winter training season under more favorable terms than is offered elsewhere.

Polygamy In Siam Is Banned By New Laws

BANGKOK, Siam, Dec. 4.—(AP)—No man may have more than one wife, but divorce can be affected by mutual consent or by court order, under new marriage laws announced for Siam.

Equality of man and woman in marriage and divorce has not, however, been established. Infidelity on the part of the wife entitles a husband to a divorce, comes effective this year, it is announced here, but this does not apply when the husband here.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 4.—Assassination never ended anything—except a human life. Assassination commences.

When Booth killed Lincoln, he ended the life of the best friend the South had, and started the evil days of reconstruction. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand precipitated the World War, which caused this depression. So, too, the bullet that cut short the life of Huey Long has settled nothing. Rather it promises to prolong the bitter feud between the opposing factions.

In the United States there can be no justification for assassination of public officials. No fairer method of government can be devised than that which gives to each citizen one vote. Everyone intelligent enough to realize he is subject to the law should have an equal voice in making or changing the law.

We can understand why people without ballots resort to bullets. "Taxation without representation" means taxation without opportunity to vote for representatives to enact laws is tyranny. The most dangerous proposal made during this depression was reported as coming from Roger Babson—to deprive those on relief of the right to vote. The ballot is the only peaceful means of their improving their drab and desperate condition. To destroy that opportunity is to invite assassination and civil war.

For if men possessing the right of suffrage resort to bloodshed when dissatisfied, what may we expect from those denied even that means of redress?

The one indefensible tax, especially during widespread unemployment, is a poll-tax. Its effect is to take the ballot away from millions, and it promotes crooked and expensive elections. For even many honest voters, after deciding on a candidate, expect him to pay their poll-tax for them. It is to the credit of Louisiana and Huey Long that the Legislature recently abolished that tax.

The Long faction contends that his assassination was the result to be the public will. The young off a plot, a view shared even by "progressives" undeniably both officers and some of his opponents, and it is argued that to elect anti-Long candidates will put the stamp of approval on government by murder.

The drama is something on the order of a Central American revolution. An extract in the New Orleans Morning Tribune from the speech of the candidate for Attorney General on the anti-Long ticket quotes him: "You have had a bullet in your back, and your father and grandfather would have shouldered rifles to get rid of."

Violence breeds violence. To heal the animosity inflamed by assassination evidently requires less politics and more religion.

The August issue of American Progress (the Long paper) printed a certified transcript of an alleged dictograph record of a conference held by anti-Long leaders in a room of the DeSoto Hotel in this city. Mr. Cheneberry, the late senator's secretary told me positively that these records are in a safe deposit box of a New Orleans bank. The following are marks alleged to have been interposed in the conference:

Voice: I am out to murder. All bull-dogs, stand on anything to win this election. Voice: Our plan shows that the company's flag-ship Normandie, world's largest and fastest merchantman, is scheduled to re-enter the trans-Atlantic express service on Mar. 25 when she leaves New York for New York by way of Southampton. The liner's first round-trip voyage in 1936 will start from New York on Apr. 1.

According to sources from abroad the Normandie, which was withdrawn from the trans-Atlantic run some weeks ago to undergo structural changes with the view of eliminating vibration, returned to New York last week from a four-day trial run during which engineering experts conducted a number of tests in an effort to find a means of synchronizing the ship's huge propellers, which will mean the elimination of the vibration.

The engineers are studying the data collected on the trial trip, and the suggested alterations will be carried out. It was decided not to send the big liner to the St. Nazaire docks on a survey showed that all necessary work could be turned out of St. Nazaire.

Nothing so far connects Dr. White with that conference. He was a stranger to town. Both in and out of Louisiana many people were frank in hoping that the Louisiana Kingfish might be bumped off. When murder is in the heart of many, mass psychology may easily implant one with a grudge, and to execute what he believes now.

THE SANFORD HERALD, SANFORD, FLORIDA

Mrs. Scott Tells Of Girl Scout Training

Ed. Note—The following is a resume written by Mrs. Douglass Scott, of the three-day training course for Council Members and Troop Committees, Captains, and Lieutenants of Seminole County Girl Scout Workers conducted by Miss Katherine Park:

Have you ever tried to sum up the activities and discussions of a three-day conference even after a day or so of reflection? I am sure if you have you know the helpless feeling this committee has in trying to give to the patrons of Girl Scouting some of the more important features of the recent three-day conference held at the Sanford Girl Scout Little House with Miss Katherine Park, Regional Director of Girl Scouts Incorporated in the Juliette Lowe Region.

Here is a starter. Did you know that our own South fostered the Girl Scout Movement in this country first? It came about this way: Miss Juliette Lowe of Savannah, Georgia, while abroad became acquainted with Lord and Lady Baden-Powell and the splendid things they were and are still doing for the boys and girls of England and other countries. She wished very much that our own United States might have such an organization. Her efforts were untiring in bringing the Girl Scout Movement to the United States. In honor of her and her birthplace the southeastern states are known as the Juliette Lowe Region of the Girl Scouts Incorporated.

Our Conference, however, did not start off with an "ask me another" question. It was a faring of the Girl Scout problems in Seminole County and especially Sanford. Miss Park met the council members in the mornings and went over the various problems of the standing committees and the council in general. We anticipate that the results of these conferences will be felt throughout the year by the community when they learn of the beginning of a new Girl Scout Troop and a new Brownie Pack in Sanford and when they attend the annual meeting in January as well as enjoying a little later the Martiniette Show. It is hoped that the Girl Scout Troops will be knit closer to the National Girl Scout Movement through the cooperation of the council in helping them carry out their program.

In the evenings Miss Park met the leaders, that is, the captains, lieutenants, and troop committee members of all troops in Seminole County. Her knowledge of scouting and how to put it across is an inspiration to leaders. Her kindly advices were mixed with suggestions and activities suitable for Girl Scouts. When the evening sessions were over we all went home ready for healthy rest and dreaming over fresh ideas to try out in future council meetings. The climax of the three days of meetings was the investiture of the captain of the Sanford Troop and a report of future investments of told for scouts.

On Saturday, Dec. 7, all the Girl Scout leaders in Seminole County are going for a nature hike to Pelican Island with Miss Park as their special guest. It will be from dawn to dark. The Seminole County Council of Girl Scouts has invited Miss Park to remain until after Monday evening so that she may attend the December meeting of the Council which is to be held Monday evening, Dec. 9, from 7:30 to 9:00 P. M. at the Girl Scout Little House located at the west end of Commercial Street. At that time a definite program for the 1936 Girl Scouting in Seminole County will be adopted.

A discussion of the annual report was held and plans were made for a Christmas tree party. Following the program refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Marvin Williams, Mrs. John Whittaker, Mrs. S. J. Nixon, the Misses Blanche Cunningham, Irene Franklin, Vera Phillips, Eva Cunningham, Louise Packard, and Kathleen Calhoun.

Agricultural Extension Service Men Spend Day Looking Over Sanford Plan

Seen As Aid To Many Growers

Satisfactory Results Cannot Be Obtained On Leased Lands

It is believed that government funds will be made available for the experimental station in Sanford, a WPA project that has been approved in Washington, two officials of the Agricultural Extension Service in Gainesville spent today in Sanford, looking over the plans and conferring with County Agent C. R. Dawson and City Commissioner K. O. Shishakov. The latter assumed the project when it was presented to him and approved by the City Commission several months ago.

The two Gainesville officials here today are Dr. F. S. Jamison, truck horticulturist, and W. T. Nalle, in charge of the East Coast district of the Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Jamison said the service is especially anxious that the experimental station be established in Sanford so that more satisfactory experimental work can be carried on. Some of these experiments, he said, must be continued for from three to five years and the agricultural impossible to lease land.

Continuing, going on page two.

Kiwanis School Held In Sanford Well Attended

Search Will Also Be Made For Ellsworth And Pilot Lost On Flight In Antarctic

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Dec. 5.—(AP) A rescue expedition headed toward the Dutch Guiana jungles today in search for Paul Reiffen, United States老人 who disappeared on a flight eight years ago. Art Williams and Art Wendt took off in a flying boat for Paramaribo, where they hoped to pick up an Indian guide who claimed he met Reiffen in the jungle. The search is sponsored by a George town merchant who is convinced Reiffen is alive but crippled.

Reiffen was lost on a planned non-stop flight from Brasilia, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro in August, 1927. After leaving the North American mainland, he never was heard from again.

William Lavate, American explorer, recently reported Redefining with the Indians in the Dutch Guiana back country. He based his reports on stories told him by Djuka negroes inhabiting the region between the Surama and Maroni Rivers several miles inland from Paramaribo.

Hunt for Ellsworth

CANBERRA, Dec. 5.—(AP) The Australian government announced today it is equipping its air force planes with wireless floats and skis to be used in the Antarctic search for Lincoln Ellsworth and his pilot, Herbert Hick-Kenyon. Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons called President Roosevelt and said this is being done as a gesture of friendship for America.

Ellsworth and his pilot have not been heard from since their radio "failed" on an Antarctic flight on Nov. 23.

New Toys Acceptable To Elks Committee

Approximately 50 discarded toys were given to the Elk Christmas Cheer Committee yesterday as a result of house-to-house calls by a Western Union uniformed messenger boy, and these will be picked up Saturday and sent to the High School where Alex R. Johnson's class of boys will rehabilitate them.

Chairman C. E. Adams of the committee said today that every Elk is grateful for the gifts, and they hope many more will be given.

"We are glad to get these discarded toys and appreciate the spirit with which they are given," said Mr. Adams. "But persons desiring to help us make Christmas a happy day for the young boys and who haven't got any old toys can, if they wish, give us new toys. They will be more acceptable."
