Half of the billion-dollar sick bill represents wages lost-subtracted from the total of earnings expected to finance the budgets of millions of families. The other half represents the bill for doctors, nurses and medicines. THE CITY GOVERNMENT

There is too much knocking-senseless knocking-of the city government, The commission-manager form-of government has only been installed here since January and yet there are some who are already talking about it being Bot back yard improvement can be a failure. Two swallows do not make a summer and two months of govern- bitious way. Any group of neighbors ment with some mistakes do not constitute a failure and wherever there is some slack in the present government it will not take long to discover it and take a reef in the string. The idea is new here and there will be mistakes made by the commissioners and the officials in many instances as none of them are infallible. So did the former city alderman make mistakes and so did the former city officials and yet they were given a chance.

The Herald intends to point out their mi-takes only after they have been brought to their attention and they fail to take action. --0---THE BACK YARD PRIBLEM.

There is a popular supersotition that you can dump anything unaightly in a back yard and no one will see it. As a result, the back yards in most towns are a mess of eyesores, which take all the shine off the handsome front yards D. H. Blanding, clerk and treasurer of Sumter, South Carolina, makes some quite original suggestions.

He would remove fences and sheds and other unsightly objects in the rear lots, and have the land of a neighborhood thus thrown together, used in common by abutting households.

Then he would have a community made out of all these combined back yards, to supply vegetable and flowers to the abutting dwellings.

He also suggests that this rear land could be used for a community heating plant to furnish steam heat to the adjoining homes; a community kitchen laundry to do the neighborhood wash-

A group of back yards thus combined and developed for use and beauty would make the real estate enough more valuable to pay all costs of development

Community laundries and kitchens might be considered a radical form of back yard improvement that would change family life a good deal. Yet they may be common in a few years carried on equally well in a less amcould mutally agree to clean up and beautify their grounds, and the change would be marvellous.

If a lot of the householders of Gainesville would agree this spring to plant trees, shrubs and flowers in their back yards, the improvement would soon be noticed. It would give this city a reputation far and near for superiority attractiveness and standards of taste. --0--

A community that does not keep up with the times cannot expect to thrive. In these days of real competition the development of a town or a county depends principally upon the enterprise and energy of its people and the intrest they evidence in the development and up-building of that section in which they have business intrests or their home. Certain sections of Florida are growing much more rapidly than others, which is quite natural, but the streets of paradise would be filled with weeds and tin cans if only drones inhabited it.

Florida is a state of great promise. It is very much in its infancy and it has promise of a wonderful future provided its citizens will but let it grow. Beauty of country, with a climate unsurpassed any where on earth, are strong attractions, added to those where it is only necessary to wave the magic wand and wealth is found on every. hand, but it requires more than this if "The State Admirable" is to come fully into its own. Where selfishness and greed has reached the vitals of a people, and there are too many such. hope of all the essentials that make life worth the living is despaired of. Florida is considered by too many people as being the state where people eke out an existence, principally from the tourists, and this conception is radically wrong, but it will take time for the tens of millions of people who live to the north and west of us to understand that this state can more, than hold its own independent of transent visitors, and that wealth is easier and quicker obtained here, other than in speculative features, than in any state in the Union. The object of this article, however, is to bring to the attention of our home people the evil which prevails in our midst, one which the sooner it is done away with, the better for Seminole County, that of prohibiting cattle to rove our streets and highways and feeding upon the property of others.

It is more than an imposition, it is in fact nothing short of a robbery of one's rights and property. People try to build up a grove and to raise garden truck or have a garden, yet cattle will break down fences or enter property at night where some careles person has left the gate open, and destroy tha labor and property of defenceless people who have no remedy against the pest. If a few cattle owners, who will not take care of their own stock, have sufficient influence to control the highways and are permitted to bring this plague on property holders in general, that county which permits this injustice will not and should not be classed as a fit place to live in.

'Sis Feet Four" An Extraordinarily Well-Acted Picture At The Princess Tomorrow

From any angle you look at it, "Six Feet Four", which is on the program of the Princess Theatre, for tomorrow is a corking picture. It is the latest production of the American Film Company, Inc., and fully bears out the large promises that have been made for it during the six months it has been in the making.

Like many another play about the Great Oudoors, "Six Feet Four" abounds in thrills-hard riding, fast shocking and hair-raising hold-ups. Where it stands alone in its class, however, is in the strength and power of its dashing, well-knit plot. So swiftly and skilfully are the various twists and turns of the story maneuvered, and so brisk and effective is the work of the star and his associates, that intreest never lags for a single second. Incenious incident leads smoothly to rousing climax, and there is interwoven a wealth of romatic and humorous detail to lighten the serious voin of the main story.

Special credit is due to the members of the perfectly balancell cast which support William Russell in this picture. Whoever is responsible an id an excellent job. From Vola Vale. leading lady, to the youngster who plays the boob, one and all work with vim and skill to put over the story in the best form possible. The cast includes such oldtimers in the screen a Harvey Clark, Charles K. Clarence Clarence Burton, Jack Brammall, A Garcia, Jack Collins, Perry Banks, Calvet Carter John Gough and Anne

DIXIE M. HOLLINS

For State Superintendent Of Public Instruction.

Dixie M. Hollins, county superintendent of Pinellas county, who is a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction has long taken a prominent part in state-wide educational matters. Mr. Hollins first came into educational prominence through his record as principal of the Clearwater high school during 1908-1912 inclusive. In 1912 when Pinellas county was created he was appointed by Gov. Gilchrist to fill the office of county superintendent and has held this office continually for nearly nine years. In 1917 Mr. Hollins was a big factor in securing the passage by legislature of a bill to take advantage of Smith-Hughes money for vocational education and later was appointed by Supt. Sheats to represent the state at a meeting in Washington where plans were made to take care of the allot ment to this state. Again in 1919, as chairman of the county superintendent's committee he helped through the legislature the state-wide compulsory education law. Mr. Hollins is also the author of the bill to abolish the county treasurer's office and to place this money in banks thus allowing the fund to accumulate interest and increasing the sum:

The Hollins club of Pinellas county is behind Mr. Hollins and pledged to elect him to the office for which he is a candidate and they are receiving unusual support throughout the state The Pin llas, superintendent announced his candidacy as follows:

"If elected I pledge you my supreme efforts to the end that ever boy and girl in Florida may have the best educational advantages the state can possibly give." (Advt.)

Largest Pipe Veran. What is undoubtedly the largest and probably the greatest tipe organ ever made was that which was played in Festival hall in St. Louis, during the, exposition in 1904. It was originally made for Convention hall, in Kansas City, but was never accepted. It remained in storage for years and was then bought by John Wanamaker and installed in his Philadelphia store, where it is played every working day. The organ weighs 375,000 pounds.

Express Company Asks Permission

To Increa e Rates Washington, March 13 - Increased express charges, ranging from 10 to 75 per cent and estimated to yield 25,000,000 additional revenue annually were asked by the American Expres Company in a petition filled today with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Increasee cost of conducting its buliness as well as the urgent reed for more complete facilities and equipment was given by the company as grounds for asking additional revenue. Expenditure of "many millions of dollars" was necessary, the petition sail, and additional funds could not be obtained under the present rates

The company e timated its deficit for 1919 at $22,036,000 and for the last six, months of 1918 at $15,723,000 A delicit "even greater than for the corresponding period of 1919" was declared probable for January and Feburuary of this year.

While explaining that previous rate increa-ea added approximately $12,-000,000 to the annual revenue, the company said this money was given immediately to employes in the shape of increased wages. Granting of extra wages for overtime on the basis of an eight hour day was said to have resulted in a monthly outlay of $1122,000, as compared to less than $50,000 before the eight-hour fday and overtime pay was given.

cover a lot of territory when we say that you can look a long, long time, and then look some more before you will find anything nicer than the new Spring Clothes coming into our place every day at the same price we are asking for them. But we mean to cover a lot of territory in saying this because its a fact.

We played in luck by purchasing several dozen suits a good while back, and got them bought at the right price and we are going to pass this good luck along to you. This particular lot won't last long. Better come early
