Gobel Is Working Hot Movie Stage

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lonesome Gorge Gobel just doesn't have time to get lonesome any more. The "Lonesome" tag is a hold-over from George's days as a hill-billy singer on radio. He still hangs onto it for sentimental reasons, but it hasn't applied to his own life for the past two years.

Right now, when most TV stars are in other parts of the world getting refreshed for the fall channel wars, George is working over a hot movie stage. He is making for RKO "I Married a Woman." He also sacrificed his summer vacation last year to make "The Birds and the Bees."

George had a whole week between the end of his TV season and the start of the movie. So how did he spend it? By playing a night club date at Lake Tahoe. Reservations for the entire engagement were sold out before he even arrived there.

An able told George he would have all of three weeks between the end of the picture and the start of the new TV season. "Don't you believe it," the comedian replied skeptically. "Something will come up. Of that you can be sure."

Strangely enough, he didn't seem too upset by it all. Usually he is moaning and groaning about the time he has lost off the golf course, but he confessed, "I like making pictures. I get a big kick out of it."

He added that he was enjoying his work with his co-star, England's most famous body since the Rolls Royce—Diana Dors. And not for the reason you wisecrack think, either.

"This girl is a really fine performer," Gorge enthused. "She's going to fool a lot of people by proving she is a good comedienne."

A TWO-PIECE OUTFIT is never out of place—be it work on town dates or country weekends. Designed by Abe Schrader this white shantung sheath has a beautiful blue cornflower print and a brief matching blue linen bolero. The necktie, cut as a cool, shirred halter, completes the simple lines.

Commission Approves City Manager's Capital Improvement Program

Perkins Is Named As Head Of DCT Advisory Group

Representatives of Sanford Civic Clubs formed the advisory committee of the Diversified Cooperative Training program last night at its initial meeting in the board room of the Educational Building Commercial Ave.

Representatives from the Business and Professional Women's Club, Pilot Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, and the Sanford Merchants Association heard the complete outline of the DCT program at Seminole High School which will be instituted this year.

B. L. Perkins Jr., President of the Sanford Merchants Association was named chairman of the Advisory Committee. Raymond T. Milwe, Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction introduced the Coordinator of the DCT program, Louis J. Girard, and gave the civic club representatives an outline of the essential values to the community, school, and individuals of the Diversified Cooperative Training program.

Girard presented a description of the Advisory Committee, its operation, purpose and values while, at the same time, giving a background picture of the entire program which will begin operation at Seminole High School at the beginning of the school year.

Highlighting the meeting was a report of the coordinator as he gave an overall picture of all that had been accomplished up to date. The forming of the Advisory Committee rounded out the organizational part of the program and gave impetus to the selection of employers and trainees who will take part in the first and initial program for Seminole County and Sanford.

Also on the advisory committee for the DCT program will be a representative of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. R. F. Cooper will represent the Board of Trustees of the Seminole County School system.

Andy Bracken, principal of Seminole High School, immediately prior to a question and answer period at last night's organizational meeting of the DCT Advisory Committee gave representatives the "school's viewpoint" on the DCT program.

Fred Murray, Adult and Vocational Education Director for Seminole County invited the representatives to the office of the coordinator.

The next meeting of the DCT Advisory Committee will be held after the first of the year for the purpose of a coordinator's mid-year report. Individual members of the coordinator will work with the coordinator in carrying out the program.

TRIGG COUNTY GOES BUGGY
CADIZ, Ky., (AP)—Trigg County has gone slightly buggy, but no one's worried.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night approved the Capital Improvement Program presented by City Manager Warren E. Knowles and put into motion the planning and exploring of various projects proposed in the written presentation.

At a special meeting of the commissioners, called for the purpose of studying the program, several items were eliminated by proposing that the requested improvements be added to the annual budget, while other projects were delayed until further study could be made.

As a prelude to the study of the Capital Improvement Program, Mayor F. D. Scott told the Board of Commissioners "You can invite people to come to town with an attractive structure." However, the Mayor qualified his statement with "All up and down First St. people have told me that now is not the time to reduce taxes — some even old me that we should try to reduce our indebtedness."

Mayor Scott left off the discussion with "I am now willing to go along with the improvement program."

Every member of the Board of Commissioners commented on the tax structure of the city, the improvement program, and the attraction to Sanford of tourists and visitors.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham stated "We have a smaller millage than most of them," as he spoke (Continued On Page Eight)

St. Johns Called Big-Bass Spot

"The Fabulous St. Johns Bass" is the subject of an article written by Jason Lucas which appears in the August issue of "Sports Afield."

"A question about it, lurking in this subtropical lush river are many bass that would break the world's record," said Lucas as he wrote extensively about the big bass along the St. Johns.

Written in May, according to the article's explanation, Lucas said that he had been fishing the St. Johns for over a month and prefaced his remarks with the statement that "The St. Johns has always been the world's most fabulous big-bass spot, and still is."

Lucas explains in his story of The Fabulous St. Johns Bass the reason why he believed that bass here are the "biggest in the world."

Ardent fishermen should read Lucas' article which describes the river and the best spots for luring the big bass to the end of a line.

"The St. Johns has such fabulous bass fishing simply because it's by far the most fertile larger body of bass water in the world," states the writer for Sports Afield.

Lucas describes the type of tackle to use for the "bring in" of the big ones, the effectiveness of lures, and tips on the use of the fly rod.

Sports Afield and the writer, Jason Lucas become big boosters for the St. Johns and its renowned fishing waters.

De Bary Cub Scouts Receive Awards In Rites Sunday

By MARY FOWLER

An authentic tepee flamed bright colors out on Sunset Drive of De Bary Sunday afternoon, the focal point of an excited group of young men, plus families carrying baskets of goodies and substantial supper rations. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stumpf Jr. were hosts to the Cub Scouts and father Will Neider brought his own wigwam. A camp fire burned merrily through the celebration and when it died down slowly at sunset there were fitting rites observed by the Scout officials, giving awards to the young braves as they at solemnly on the blankets and each arose to accept his honor.

William Blakemore Jr. received a gold and a silver arrow; Patrick Nolte both wolf and bear badges as did Ralph Stumpf III; Ellsworth Lawton was taken in, with ceremonies, as a new bobcat; Richard Nolte as an apprentice bob cat; Richard Gurchardt had a shower of arrows, three gold and three silver; Edward Redman, a bear badge, a gold and two silver arrows.

As they fondled with pride these testimonials to their summer activities, Howard Smith of Orlando, the Scouting commissioner for this district, presented their new charter and asserted that he was happy to state that this is the first 100 per cent banner award he has given for the Boys Life subscriptions and that it is unique in his history as commissioner.

Possibly den three who hosted for soft drinks was the highlight, for they could sample their wares at will. All reported a most hilarious and rewarding night of picnicking.

Roadblocks Tighter Around Fruit Fly Infestation Centers

MIAMI (AP)—Rings of roadblocks were tightened today around three centers of fruit fly infestations but they were removed from Palm Beach, Broward and most of Dade counties.

Speakers for the state plant board said heavy aerial spraying had killed 99 per cent of the flies from Miami to West Palm Beach. Roadblocks set up to take fruit from cars leaving that area were removed.

The three main centers of infestation are now Pinellas County, Fort Myers, and Homestead, said Robert T. Rathbone, U. S. Department of Agriculture spokesman.

He said the three areas will be placed behind roadblocks to keep the pest confined to them and to prevent new flies from being brought into the Miami to West Palm Beach area.

Roadblocks will be placed on U.S. 1 and U.S. 27 south of Miami and already are in operation on U.S. 41 and State Road 82 near Everglades City and on U.S. 80 between Alva and Ocala.

Rotarians Hear Safety Talk

If Seminole County maintains for the next five months the same ratio as it did during the first six months of 1956, its record of highway accidents and fatalities will show some improvement over that of 1955, was the statement of "Chuck" Saunders, Safety Education Director of the Florida Highway Patrol to the members of the Sanford Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting yesterday noon at the Yacht Club.

Saunders, well informed on the subject he was discussing, stated that last year, state-wide, there were 978 killed; 25,682 hospitalized with an economic loss of over eight million dollars. The number of accidents approximated 72,000. In Seminole County, last year, he stated that the total number of accidents reported were 357, with nine killed and 165 injured. For the first six months of this year, there were three people killed in 38 accidents involving injuries and 71 other accidents reported. Saunders expressed the hope that each Rotarian would personally assume the responsibility of reporting road violations. He said that every citizen had the right, in fact, it was the duty of law-abiding citizens to cause the apprehension of drunken drivers, particularly, who were endangering life and limb.

In answering questions put by some of the members of the club, Saunders stated excessively slow moving vehicles that impeded the normal flow of traffic were guilty of a law violation. He discussed the financial responsibility law and many other items of interest and importance. His talk was regarded as one of the best ever presented and he received an enthusiastic round of applause at its conclusion.

Myron "Mike" Beck, in charge of the day's program, did the honors in introducing the speaker while Dr. Charles L. Persons, club president, was in charge of the meeting which included songs by Charlie Morrison with Harry Kudell at the piano. The Rev. Lucian W. Scott pronounced the invocation.

The House Resolutions Committee, one of two committees to which the measure was reported by Speaker Ted David, approved the bill by a 4-0 vote.

No meeting of the Appropriations Committee, which also must clear the bill, has been set by Chairman James Moody of Hillsborough County.

The measure would create a committee of three senators and four House members with authority to investigate any person or group whose activities are conducive to violence, which violate state law, or are detrimental to the state. The committee would have subpoena powers and a $50,000 appropriation.

Board Complains About Littered Downtown Alleys

ALLEYS in downtown Sanford are filthy and scattered with trash that is blown all over the city, commissioners complained at last night's special meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Commissioners demanded that some means be provided for places of business to conform to city ordinances.

It was a unanimous decision of the commissioners that all places not abiding by city ordinances in regards to the proper placing of trash and garbage in alleys will be informed and "if they fail to comply will be prosecuted in Sanford City Court."

Board of Sanford City Commissioners were, also notified that the Sanford Police Department is handing out notices to violators who place articles on sidewalks. Commissioners complained at last night's meeting that articles were being placed on sidewalks over which pedestrians might stumble and seriously injure themselves.

"We can't place the city in the position of being charged with negligence," it was said.

Senate Declines To Okay Hobby's Suspension

Committee Okays Bill To Investigate NAACP

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida legislators seeking to force through a tougher segregation program budget a determined move for adjournment of the 9-day-old special session at 5 p. m. today.

The Senate passed the adjournment resolution unanimously late yesterday after completing action on the final three bills asked by Gov. Collins to head off integration by legal means.

Six other proposals, including an interposition resolution and a local option private school bill, were sidetracked to a House subcommittee despite a statement by Atty. Gen. Ervin that he administration program was "merely a stopgap."

Referral of the bills to a subcommittee of the Committee on Education and Internal Affairs aroused speculation the measures might have been relegated to their death to avoid floor action on them.

However, Rep. Prentice P. Pruitt of Jefferson County, who introduced the interposition resolution and private school proposal, served notice he would attempt to force the measures out if the proposals were not given quick action.

Rep. Lacy Mahon of Duval County, chairman of the House committee, announced he would name the subcommittee this morning.

The Senate-adopted bill to set up a joint interim committee to investigate the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People cleared another House hurdle today.

The House Resolutions Committee, one of two committees to which the measure was reported by Speaker Ted David, approved the bill by a 4-0 vote.

No meeting of the Appropriations Committee, which also must clear the bill, has been set by Chairman James Moody of Hillsborough County.

The measure would create a committee of three senators and four House members with authority to investigate any person or group whose activities are conducive to violence, which violate state law, or are detrimental to the state. The committee would have subpoena powers and a $50,000 appropriation.

The NAACP is not mentioned by name but the Senate sponsors said it was the prime target of the bill.

The House Rules Committee rejected the bill as being outside the scope of Gov. Collins' special session call, but the House membership gave it the two-thirds vote required to put it before the chamber for consideration.

Key measure in the program already has been signed into law. It authorizes county school boards to assign pupils to schools to which they are considered best suited.

The three other measures, which now go to the governor, are a teacher assignments bill and measures increasing public powers of the governor and giving the governor the right to make regulations governing use of public facilities.

The Senate accepted House amendments to the three bills yesterday without debate. The bills (Continued On Page Eight)

FPC Is Assured Florida To Get Natural Gas

The possible realization of a program for natural gas, planned to come into Sanford, came from Washington this morning when double-barreled assurance of natural gas for Florida, the nation's fastest growing market now unreserved, was given the Federal Power Commission this week.

First came the supply issue, prime question before FPC since natural gas producers have shunned many markets beyond state boundaries after federal price regulation was imposed. On this, the only applicants now ready to submit their case to federal decision are reserves for 20 years totaling one trillion, 800 million cubic feet, to be delivered at an initial rate averaging above 250 million cubic feet a day.

Next came scores of witnesses from state, municipal and industrial positions, backing the demand for this fuel, which has grown from unranked position to sixth largest industry in the nation as interstate pipelines reach across thousands of miles in all directions in the last decade.

Current hearings are on the applications of the Houston Texas Gas & Oil Corp. and Coastal Transmission Co. for a $45,000,000 development, with 1,500 miles of main pipeline from Texas to Cutler, south of Miami, and 640 miles of lateral in Florida. It would be the first extension of this fuel supply to the state beyond a small area in northwest Florida and would give residents' commercial establishments and industries of the state the benefits of competition with what is in most cases a single source of supply.

The system will have a deluge capacity of 300 million cubic feet a day when fully powered. F. E. Stanley, president and chairman of the board of the Houston corporation which would build the major part of the line in conjunction with Coastal, estimated that once the system reaches 350 million cubic feet a day savings to Floridians would exceed $10,000,000 a year.

Testimony of Floridians as to the demand and promised savings on fuel continued to mount as scores of officials added to the record before FPC.

R. H. Fuller Jr., executive secretary of the Florida Industrial Development Commission, which has endorsed Houston's application, is to testify, as is P. M. Schuchart, director of the public utilities department of the Florida Railroad Commission. Another is Harold Cole, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, backed up by the resolutions of numerous local chambers of commerce throughout the state. Action May Reinstate Sheriff

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, in a telephone interview with The Sanford Herald today, shortly after 1 o'clock said that "Under the law the Governor is required to send executive orders of suspension of public officials from office to the Senate at the next regular or special session of the Legislature."

Stenstrom said "In compliance the Governor submitted his order of last December suspending Sheriff J. Luther Hobby from office. Approval of such orders by the Senate," said Senator Stenstrom, "constitutes permanent removal for the term to which the official was elected."

Sen. Stenstrom said "The Senate, upon my recommendation as the member whose county was affected, declined to approve the order."

"I would not recommend removal of a public official," Senator Stenstrom told The Sanford Herald this afternoon. "Who has not been convicted of the charges against him, and who has again submitted himself to the people and won a new term of office."

"To do otherwise," said the Senator, "would be not only to ignore the clear mandate of the people, but to deny to the official a principle basic in American Jurisprudence—that a man is innocent until he is proved guilty. This I will not do."

Jaycees To Get Insight Into Drug Addiction, See Film

Lester L. Marx, a representative of Narcotics, Inc., with offices in Orlando, will give the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce an insight into drug addiction at its noon luncheon meeting Thursday at Jim Spencer's Restaurant.

Marx will show a documentary film on lung cancer released by the American Temperance Society. He said that the film entitled "One In 20,000," is a documentary record of a lung cancer patient showing the effects of a form of narcosis.

"Twenty thousand die from lung cancer each year," said Marx, "and the film story is about the one man that escaped."

Narcotics, Inc., is an organization dedicated to the prevention of drug addiction, said Marx.

Prisoners Protest Work Conditions; Break Own Legs

HUFORD, Ga., (AP)—Thirty-six prisoners broke their own legs yesterday in protest against working conditions at Rock Quarry State Prison, the "Little Alcatraz" of the Georgia penal system.

Jack Forrester, state director of corrections, said a prison doctor told him 29 white and seven Negro inmates shattered bones in their legs during an afternoon rest period at a rock quarry where they were working half a mile from the prison.

He said the men placed their legs on rocks and "started whacking away" with the sledge hammers normally used to crush rock at the 34-acre quarry. There were no cries of pain, he said.

Guards watching the 189 prisoners in the fenced-in quarry were taking a rest at the time and said they did not notice what had happened until they ordered the men back to work.

Warden Hubert Smith said the injured men told him after the incident that they felt their wheelbarrows were too heavily loaded and the sun was too hot. Temperatures were reported in the low 90s at the time.

MAN GETS GOOD DEAL
DENVER, (AP)—Reginald E. Bayley, 54, told police he got a better deal than expected when he asked for a dollar back from two men who robbed him.

One of them tossed him a $10 bill, he explained, adding that the pair made off with $30.

Retiring Agent Recalls Events Of Last 30 Years

Today is C. R. "Charlie" Dawson's last day in the office of Seminole County Agent.

Dawson retires after 30 years service, 27 1/2 of them with Seminole County and 2 1/2 years military service and service at the Experiment Station in Gainesville.

The retiring County Agent this morning was clearing his office of thousands of pages of literature, mimeographed material and keepsakes that had gathered in the Court House office over the years.

Dawson, who is now 62 years old, taught school at Seminole High and was principal at Oviedo High School prior to becoming County Agent, a position he has held continuously for the more than 27 years.

Establishing of the first State-owned Farmers' Market in Sanford and of the Farmers Auction Market on 17-02 are among the hundreds of accomplishments through his tenure as County Agent.

W. Brown Miller, chairman of Seminole County Commissioners recalled that Dawson headed the closing of open and flowing wells in Seminole County and said "I personally closed 52 of them with my own hands and then prevailed on the Board of County Commissioners to make it unlawful to have a flowing well on private property."

Dawson recalled the heyday of celery in Seminole County when at times, he said, as many as 85 celery farmers would gather at the High School for a meeting of an organization then known as the Seminole County Agricultural Association which he served as secretary-treasurer.

The retiring county agent recalls the establishing of the Farm Bureau in Seminole County and of personally establishing the Seminole County Soil Conservation District on August 10, 1945.

"I served with the Gentlemen's Association," said Dawson, "and served on a sub-board of the Nation Board during the War." Dawson recalled meetings held each Saturday afternoon in his office to ration tires, gasoline and other farm equipment needed then.

"I also cooperated with the draft board relative to farm labor," said Dawson.

Going back ever farther, Dawson said that he served with the State Home Guard as a Technical Sergeant.

Dawson served in France during World War I as a 1st Lieutenant in Infantry and was overseas for 18 months with the 82nd Division where he received a Silver Star for "bravery in action."

Through the years Charlie Dawson has been one of the foreleaders in baseball clubs in Sanford. However, he stated that he did not have an opportunity to play professional ball, even though he felt, at one time, that he could play.

Dawson is a former member of the Kiwanis Club, a member of the Presbyterian Church, and at one time taught a Bible Class at the Oviedo Methodist Church.

Dawson headed the Seminole County "Scrap Drive" during World War II when the local unit was declared "champions." He stated that a million pounds of scrap was gathered here, a fact that was publicized on "Kate Smith's" radio program.

"I don't know what I'm going to do now," Charlie Dawson said. However, he was attired in Bermuda shorts, new sports shoes, and a bright red checked sport shirt. "I'm going to sit on the front porch in a rocking chair," chuckled Dawson and then added that he would probably spend a lot of time with civic work such as the Red Cross and the General Sanford Memorial Library Association.

He concluded his interview with "I'm going to spend a lot of time with my pet project, Wildlife," his amateur radio station over which he talks with radio enthusiasts around the world.

Capital Improvement Program Would Be Progressive Move For Sanford

One of the soundest progressive programs for the City of Sanford has been proposed to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

The Capital Improvement Program, when finally adopted by the Board of Commissioners, will provide facilities for the citizens of the Sanford community that have been needed for years.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles can well be proud of his proposal to the Board of Commissioners. It may not be a finished, polished, and completely assembled proposal, but it provides the basis for needs that have been called for during the past decade. And with a progressive Board of Commissioners studying the proposal, Sanford could certainly become equipped to serve its citizens better in every way.

And, mind you, without one penny's cost to the city.

Based on the city's income from the power franchise agreement with the Florida Power and Light Company, the investment in capital improvements will give Sanford's citizens an opportunity to share in this added money.

It would be penny wise and pound foolish to add the annual payments from the power franchise to the city's general funds for widespread spending in categories that would not present a pattern of improvement to be realized by the citizens themselves.

There were no wasted words in the Capital Improvement program presented to the Board of City Commissioners at their regular meeting and studied at length last night at a special meeting of that body.

Each item appearing in the program, as proposed by the City Manager, has been through the careful gathering of ideas from many sources and the elimination of those things that would not benefit the community as a whole.

Sanford has felt the impact of several improvements because of the necessity to raise money through the adding of extra taxes or charges which struck at the pocket-book of everyone in the community.

Top item on the proposal is a Sanford Civic Center—or as it is called in the Capital Improvement Program—a new community center. This project has been one of wide interest on the part of the entire population—from the older folks on to the smaller children. For eight years this type of structure has been proposed and now, without the need for raising money through taxation or burden, we can have this important addition to the city for recreation, civic use, and for the combination of uses.

This building, which would become a cultural, recreational, and general gathering place for Sanford folks, is needed above all to fill a vacancy in the services of the city.

In City Manager Knowles' proposal, the community center would be one story air conditioned building utilizing glass walls and containing an auditorium, three meeting rooms for civic clubs and other organizations, a dining area, lounge room, outdoor patio, and public library.

What we especially like about this addition to Sanford's economy is the fact that this building could become the recreational center of the area. Its auditorium floor would be so built that it could be used as a skating rink, a dance floor, an auditorium for dances and meetings of large groups.

The building would overlook Lake Monroe at a location on Seminole Boulevard at Sanford Avenue.

Cost for such a structure has been estimated at $150,000. However, a $3,000 fund from the Youth Council could be utilized as well as proceeds from the sale of the present public library building and the Yacht Club.

City Manager Knowles stated in his proposal that "Such a building would indeed be a great asset toward obtaining conventions which will be materially helped by the year 'round operation of the Mayfair Inn with its new annex." Not only this asset, we can think how much such a building would mean toward establishing a year 'round recreation program under the supervision of a director. In addition, there are civic club meetings which could be drawn to our city with a new auditorium and facilities to attract them.

Such a move would also enable the Celery Crate to be moved from the City Hall whereby the space available there could be utilized for a modern court room for the City Court and the present court room created into a squad room for recreational and training purposes of the Sanford Police Department personnel. It would also provide for space in which to locate welfare offices, storage rooms and a detention room.

This is not a spending program of the city—it is an investment on the part of the city of the monies received from the power franchise agreement. Yes, it is an investment in the well-being of our Sanford children and adults. It is the elimination of wasteful spending on maintenance and upkeep of old buildings and the bringing together of the city's facilities whereby they might be maintained at a minimum cost.

We believe that this is the finest and most progressive move the City of Sanford could make. It is something we have needed for many years. Our only regret is that the dream of an auditorium is coming late.

But good things never spring up overnight—they are planned and well thought out such as the Capital Improvement Program.

We urge the citizens of Sanford to get behind the Board of City Commissioners and boost them in their efforts to add those things that will benefit everybody.

July Is National Hot Dog Month

By MAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—In a troubled time in which Nasser holds the Suez Canal and the New York Giants are in last place, let us pause and honor one symbol that stands unchanged.

It is the hot dog, the hungry man's best friend.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce named July as National Hot Dog Month, and it would be a doggone shame if we let August dawn without paying melodious heed to America's favorite delicacy.

The hot dog is, narrowly speaking, no more an American invention than the motor car or ice cream. But, like them, it has become recognized now everywhere—except possibly in Russia—as peculiarly typical of our culture.

The ancestor of the hot dog is the sausage, and the sausage is older than recorded history.

It was undoubtedly broiled by the Greek troops besieging ancient Troy, because blind Homer in the 8th Century B. C. wrote:

"As when a man hears a great glowing fire turns to and fro a sausage, full of fat and blood, anxious to have it quickly roast, so to and fro Odysseus tossed, and pondered how to lay hands upon the shameless suitors."

There are almost as many kinds of sausages as there are nationalities. But the modern hot dog, according to culinary scholars, springs from the frankfurter, developed by a forgotten genius in the 16th Century in Frankfurt, Germany.

It is also generally accepted that the frankfurter first won popularity in America at Coney Island, where it was introduced by Charles Feitman, a German immigrant, in 1871.

He put out an all-beef product. Other Coney Island hawkers, quick-to try to cash in on his success, began peddling adulterated franks that seemed to have in them everything from chicken feathers to ground up mattress stuffings. Reform elements set up a hue and cry.

Quick to seize on this political issue, Boss Tweed slapped a $200 license fee on the vendors, and Police Captain, Elias Clayton was given the task of "finding out what breed of dog went into the making of frankfurters."

This slighting reference to the possible canine content of frankfurters tickled Coney Island tourists, who promptly began calling them "hot dogs." The name has stuck ever since.

Some historians contend, however, the hot dog sandwich as we know it today didn't come along until the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904. A concessionaire who loaned customers white gloves to eat the hot moist frankfurters found many of the gloves weren't being returned. So he started wrapping buns around the hot dogs as finger protectors.

Who first wedded mustard to the hot dog? Alas, so far as I can find, he is as nameless as the first guy who joined ham and eggs.

But here are a few more important facts and milestones in the career of the hot dog:

Business Boom Gets New Life

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Three factors may soon put new life in the business boom that showed signs of tiring:

1. The end of the steel strike—just before it would have started to hurt other industries badly—with the inflationary implications of a wage-price hike after demand for steel had been increased by the month's production spurt.

2. The upcoming spurt of new model activity on the auto assembly lines.

3. Industry's still growing plans to expand—with the steel needed for new plants and equipment now assured, although at a higher price. Many observers feel that these three factors will unite this fall to assure the economy of a nice rally in the last three months of the year.

Three uncertainties that might dim this bright prospect center on that fairly unpredictable creature, the consumer.

Will he be able and willing to buy the new cars and appliances? If prices rise further on manufactured goods will sales to consumers shrink? And if the consumer tightens his purse strings will business get wary about building more capacity to make things they can't sell?

Both the strength factors and the uncertainties seem due to jell about the same time.

It is likely to be two or three weeks before the steel mills can again be producing at the rate they were before the strike. It will be even longer before they will have caught up on the backlog of orders for certain steel products.

By then the auto companies will be busily producing the new models they think will rekindle consumer interest.

And when the steel mills can turn out the structural steel for new buildings, the plants for making freight cars, the pipe for the oil well drilling crews, industrial expansion plans—already at a $5 billion dollar a year level—are expected to push ahead.

Before the strike the mills were working at their capacity to produce these types of steel, and some others similarly in short supply. The loss of a month to six weeks of production won't help the situation.

The shortage assures the steel companies and the fabricators of being able to pass along the price hike in steel to the ultimate users of structural steel, machinery, tools, pipes.

Union leaders and steel executives minimize the inflationary implications of the increase in manufacturing costs.

A business rally is a pleasant prospect unless it has to be bought at too high a price—a rise in the cost of living that would cancel out the benefits.

Demos, Republicans Show Similarity

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, AP—What Democrats and Republicans showed in the 84th Congress, just ended, was their similarity. But to hear them, from now till election day, you might think they were as far apart as an apple and an egg.

...differences between them are more in degree than in kind. In this period of prosperity and relative peace, there was no public demand for new or radical changes. None was made.

At times differences within the parties seemed greater than those between them. For example: between Democrats and between the Republican "right" and "liberal" wings.

...And the Republicans, for as years protesting the New Deal and "Fair Deal" programs, have not attempted to repeal any major one of them since Eisenhower took office. Instead, they worked to expand some of them.

For example: This year Eisenhower broadened the Social Security, who originated Social Security, broadened it more than he asked.

The minimum wage law was a product of the New Deal. Eisenhower last year wanted the minimum wage raised from 75 to 80 cents an hour. The Democrats have a tough time convincing anyone the label doesn't apply to them too.

In foreign affairs the Democrats offered a civil rights program. The House passed it in the closing days of the 84th Congress and it died in the Senate. He should have fought harder for it and offered it earlier.

But no matter when he offered it, it was almost certainly doomed by the Southern Democrats.

Democrats have tried to build a campaign issue by blaming the Republicans for the "giveaway" of natural resources. But they'll

Are You Thinking About Marriage? Read This Column

ARE YOU TOO YOUNG TO MARRY?

Before that summer romance sweeps you off your feet, ask yourself, "Is it really love?" Or perhaps you really think it fizzled out before you had a chance to count the stars.

Too many young people confuse love with "emotional elation," Lester Kirkendall who teaches courses in marriage and family relations at Oregon State College writes in a current pamphlet.

SOMETIMES IT'S REALLY ONLY FUN, HE SAYS. Just because you have a rollicking good time on a number of dates, it doesn't mean you are in love. Two partners who are good at play or recreation aren't necessarily suited to sharing financial responsibilities together. The fact that he is a good dancer won't insure a good marriage if he is a skinflint and you are a spendthrift. A married couple occupied with making a living and rearing children will lack time, desire and money for recreation activities that kept them happy before marriage.

YOU MAY CONFUSE LOVE WITH GLAMOR, if you marry a football hero, just because that's his role if someone chooses you because you've won a popularity contest, there is no insurance for a happy marriage. The qualities of the individual are more important than the glamor connected with the idea.

PHYSICAL ASPECTS OF YOUR RELATIONSHIP MAY INDICATE LOVE. Necking and petting parties confuse the issue and one may not be able to tell whether they are entranced with that emotion or the individual.

LOVE AND MISERY MAY BE CONFUSED. Two miserable people, especially those from unhappy homes, are likely to form a union believing their happiness lies in being together.

The desire to escape from family supervision or school work is likely to make love a confusing issue. Parents are likely to forbid marriage or disapprove strongly of it, making a young person want it all the more, moving more rapidly in that direction.

JEALOUSY AND POSSESSIVENESS MAY BE CONFUSED AS EVIDENCE OF LOVE. These are never sound emotions upon which marriage may be built because they are signs of insecurity and a desire to control and dominate. Jealousy may be an imprisonment where one partner is cut off completely from others.

LOVE MAY BE CONFUSED WITH THE CHALLENGE OF COMPETITION as in instances where a young man may pursue a girl just because he wants to cut four other fellows out, and then find out after marriage that he really isn't interested.

THE DESIRE TO HURT SOMEONE ELSE by marrying "on the rebound" is another instance of confused love. It is a way of saying to the one who has "killed" you "see I don't care for you. I'm marrying someone else."

Material gifts may be a genuine expression of love, but on the other hand they may obligate the receiver to insure the outcome of a relationship that is not based on genuine respect, friendship and love.

Kirkendall also advises going slow when you contemplate marriage if there is a feeling that you must "get married now or never", when the feeling for the marriage is one-sided, when your intention is to reform your partner or when there are strong parental objections.

KEEP APPLIANCES CLEAN To keep satin-finish stainless steel appliances bright, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association advises, wash often with plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinse.

Restaurant Supper Honors Couple Saturday Evening

By MARIAN JONES

OVIEDO—Miss Beverly Ann Jones, bride-elect, and William H. Morgan, bridegroom-elect, were guests of honor Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Jones, uncles and aunts of the bride-elect, entertained with a dinner party at Norwood's in New Smyrna Beach.

The long serving table was centered with a pink lace basket filled with pink and white rosebuds, interspersed with fern. Streamers of fern extended the length of the table.

Small pink miniature chairs, tied with forget-me-nots—and bearing the placecards served in that capacity as well as favors.

Present for this occasion were, in addition to the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morgan, parents of the bridegroom-elect; Mr. and Mrs. J. Malcolm Jones, parents of the bride-elect, of New Smyrna Beach and Orlando respectively; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, Johnny and Jimmy Jones, Robert A. Dewberry, Misses Peggy and JoAnn Fleming, Miss Ann Pierson and Bob Ward, all of Oviedo.

The hosts presented a gift of china to the couple as a memento of this occasion.

Tim McCoy Returns To Film Acting After 14 Years

HOLLYWOOD.—"After you've been a star, it's a tough thing just to do parts in pictures."

This was Tim McCoy talking of his return to film acting after a 14-year absence. The famed cowboy actor, who never played anything but a starring role in films until recently, commented on his own feelings had nothing to do with it.

"Heavens, I don't mind playing supporting roles," he said. "The thing that worries me is how it will affect other people."

"Except for a tight little group of pioneers, I consider most of today's movie makers newcomers. I fear that when they consider me for a part they'll say, 'Tim McCoy? Why, I remember him as a kid. He must be 70 years old and confined to a wheel chair.' Or they might think I will ham up the picture because I come from the old days in pictures."

I can testify that Tim is no invalid. He presented a sharp figure when he arrived for lunch in his gardening suit, boots and broad-brimmed white hat. I was astounded when he confessed he was 65. His face has the skin of a boy. He attributed his youthful appearance to a life of exercise and outdoor living.

"As for hamming it up," he added, "I always underplayed in pictures."

Tim returned to films to play a general who makes peace with the Indians in "Run of the Arrow."

He doesn't count his guest appearance in "Around the World in 80 Days."

Tim appeared for many years in MGM films, then had his own series at Universal, Columbia and Monogram. Although over-age, he got back in the Army on his reserve commission in 1942. He served in Europe as a full colonel, acting as liaison between air and ground commands.

"After the war, I decided not to come back to pictures," he said. "I had other activities, and the program Western was just about dead." He credits singing cowboys with helping to kill it.

"They'd whip out a guitar instead of a gun."

Despite his Western background he felt the urge to buy an old Eastern house and settled in one built in 1758 in Bucks County, Pa.

He left it for the lure of television. He won a TV Academy Emmy for his local show in which he tells youngsters of his vast knowledge of Indian lore. Now he plans

MRS. DONALD HARDY

Wedding Vows Are Repeated By Nancy Parker, D. Hardy

By MARIAN JONES

OVIEDO—Seven tiered candle-lights, garland of Virginia smilax, white eucalyptus, cushion pom-poms and white chrysanthemums formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Nancy Georgene Parker and Donald Hardy Friday evening at the Killarney Baptist Church in Winter Park.

The Reverend W.R. Clark and M. R. Barnes performed the double ring ceremony while the couple spoke their vows before an arch formed of these same flowers. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dick Parker.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Nan Parker, of Goldenrod, and the late G. E. Parker. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson A. Hardy, of Oviedo.

The bride's brunette loveliness was enhanced even more by the wedding gown of peau de soie, which featured a molded bodice with appliques of alencon lace outlining the cameo neckline and short sleeves. The skirt was finished with a soft swag of self material caught at intervals by pearl encrusted medallions of lace. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls.

She carried a white orchid surrounded with feathered white carnations.

Miss Martha Jean Hardy was maid of honor. She wore a dress of aqua crystalite fashioned like that of the bride with a headdress of matching material. She wore short white gloves and carried a bouquet of rose feathered carnations.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Erwin Abell, of Gainesville; Mrs. Ray Beasley, of Oviedo; Miss Pat Revell, of Briston; and Miss Dena Avery, of Leesburg; were gowned alike in rose crystalite, made identical to that of the maid of honor, and wore short white gloves. They also wore headpieces of matching materials. They carried bouquets of blue feathered carnations.

The little flower girl, Jan Powell, a cousin of the bride from Dayton, Ohio, also wore aqua crystalite, fashioned with a molded bodice and a bouffant skirt. She scattered rose petals in the path of the bride.

Neal Vetrano, of Dallas, Texas, to augment that career with movie work.

Miss S. Wall, Tom C. Norris Reveal Plans

A candlelight ceremony will unite Miss Shirley Ruth Wall and Thomas C. Norris in marriage on Wednesday evening, August 1, at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.

The reception will be held in the Patio of the church following the ceremony.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend.

DR AND MRS. H. WAYDE Rucker have returned from a visit to Tennessee with relatives. They were accompanied on the trip further west by Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Rucker of Union City, Tenn. Included in their sight-seeing were the Grand Canyon and Sunset Crater, an extinct volcano in Arizona; a trip into the Mollee Kathleen Gold Mine in Cripple Creek; Colorado Springs; Pikes Peak and Mt. Evans which is higher; Idaho Springs; Denver and the vicinity at Denver's open air amphitheatre. They heard the Denver Symphony with guest soloist Marian Anderson; in Central City "Tosca" and the new opera, "Baby Doe" which portrays the historic true life of that section of Colorado. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Holtzclaw Wentworth, "Dick" sings in both operas in Central City. Though the weather was invigorating, Mrs. Rucker, both she and Dr. Rucker are glad to be back to the land of "their dreams, dear old Florida."

"Fishing is much better here," Dr. Rucker declares.

GERTRUDE DINGFELDER writes from "Mass." that she has had quite an exciting summer with a month in New York City viewing a number of "top notch" plays including "My Fair Lady" and attending the regional convention of the American Cancer Society for three days and "not missing a single session." Another exciting event was the birth of a grandchild, Seth Joel born June 14, "a real personality kid."

She and her daughter Margaret will leave for Boston to join Margaret's husband Dr. Arthur L. Corey who is receiving additional training. She says that she will probably stay about a month and during that time "will have a family reunion with Simon and Del who came up from Tampa." She then plans to go back to New York City for another visit and perhaps "come back with the "Dings Jr."

Mrs. Fred (Georgia) Ball called me the other day to say that her niece Peggy Boers, 30 years old and from Clarion, Pa. is visiting here and will be in Sanford for a month. She said that they had gone to the beach at Ft. Pierce in Florida and that "she is kinda plunk."

THE NEW ARRIVAL LIST introduces to Sanford Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bishop here from Magnolia, N.C., and now living at 18 Park Ave. He is an X-ray technician for the Seminole Memorial Hospital. They have one son, 30 months old. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Shank now living at 308 Holly Ave. here from Lancaster, Pa. The Shanks have one daughter of 13 and his occupation is a carpenter. Leaving Bainbridge Ga. to come to Sanford are Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Roberts now at 1825 Randolph Street with their two children. Mr. Roberts is with the national guard advisory group and a member of the Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Walley of New Orleans, La. at 1708 Park Ave. He is with the U.S. Navy. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Prior from Cambridge, Iowa with their four children. He is a CPO in the Navy and the Priors are planning to buy a home here.

A WHISTLE of admiration goes to Pig W. Whistle for their face lifting. If you haven't noticed drive by. They have extended the front and have planted the most gorgeous tropical plants in the surrounding planter boxes you have ever seen. They weren't stingy with the glass either and the front now looks "real" modern.

The GOLDEN WITCH

By ZOLA ROSS

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

MICHAEL'S SENSES responded to Charlotte's soft seduction. He followed her. He came to her, pulled her to her feet, kissed her, unthinkingly, his fingers digging into her wrist. Her lips stiffened beneath his own, then parted, and he felt surrender in her. Once he had kissed her like this at an Illinois picnic. He pushed her away as abruptly as he had seized her.

She smiled, showing no distaste. She came to him, pressing against him, her mouth again lifted to his. Despairing his own weakness, he kissed her, aware of her lips, her soft body, her fire and demand. Her yielding restored his tenderness; he returned to her, holding her gently.

In the corridor beyond his door there was the sound of steps. Instantly, Charlotte was out of his arms. She slid into her chair, her fingers busy with her disheveled hair. He looked at her, with shame battling desire. The steps passed his door and died away.

Charlotte smiled at him and got gracefully to her feet. "Come and see me, Michael. I'll be waiting."

Undisturbed by his silence, she answered to the door, glanced once over her shoulder, and was gone. A few long moments, Michael remained in the office and made for the nearest bar.

The next day at lunchtime Michael was still entering to a hangover worse than the one he'd owned on his graduation from law school. He sought the nearest bar.

David Larkins joined him, mentioning that Anna was at a church affair. "May I join you?"

"Of course," Michael finished his whiskey and ordered a second lunch. He put trivial words between him and David. "I don't think I'll be able to go."

"Darcy Fenner, Louise's brother," David agreed. "Sometimes I'm sorry for the child. She must be off the streets by five o'clock though she's often alone until two in the morning. I'd ask her to make other but Anna's taken an unreasonable dislike to her." He shrugged. "Sometimes I wonder if Anna doesn't resent Darcy's previous acquaintance with my father."

"Your father?"

"Darcy worked for him in San Francisco. Louise mentioned it, thinking I'd be glad to hear about my family." He smiled ruefully. "Father hasn't spoken to me in years. We're not compatible."

Michael realized that he'd heard.

David's father was a wealthy man who disapproved of his son's vocation. Families could raise the devil, all right.

He was still lingering over lunch, reluctant to return to law and Larkins' silent disapproval, when Tim O'Brien appeared, preternaturally solemn as he ordered a beer.

Alone, Michael studied Darcy Fenner. He was a neat, wiry man with dark eyes, narrow forehead, light curly hair that sprang in a wide wave from his brow.

Tim returned from buying cigars, and Michael mentioned casually that Fenner knew David Larkins' father. Tim snorted.

"Probably worked in the old man's kitchen then. The Larkinses wouldn't be knowing bartenders social like."

"Too bad David hasn't some of the family money."

"Let him live long enough, he will." Tim had a talent for acquiring information. "Larkins won't give him a bit piece while he sticks to music, but no Larkins ever leaves a note outside the family and David's the only son."

Michael left the dining room but he did not return to the office. He loitered through the town, dodging business and social invitations. It was evening when he joined Jason on the docks, superintending Tom Eych cargo going north.

When Jason finished, he turned to Michael. "Drink?"

They fell into step, moving away from the lights into the shadows of the lumber piles.

"Carry much money on you, Michael?"

"Never much to tote. Why?"

"Lots of rolling in the last few weeks. I've been slugged twice myself."

"I got much?" Michael was sure Jason hadn't notified the police. Like most of Seattle, he settled his own issues.

"No." He changed subjects. "Meg hear from her husband again?"

"No."

"Probably dead."

"I hope not. If Meg's letter about the child reached him, he may manage to get her before spring. The ice is still there."

"Child? Jason stopped short.

"Yes," Michael couldn't see him in the enveloping darkness. "She expects her second child in May."

He had never heard a more profane silence. Yet when Jason spoke, he was calm. "Michael, you could get her a divorce, couldn't you?"

So Jason's intentions were honorable. Michael was a little ashamed because he had doubted it. And yet less hell's brew might have resulted if Jason didn't want to marry her.

"She'll never ask for a divorce." "How the devil do you know?"

Before he spoke, he heard a throat of sound, half-turned. Weight crashed down on him; pain blazed through his neck and shoulder. He pitched forward, not completely out as his face scraped the rough planks of the dock.

Michael came to, fighting the necessity, rolled painfully on his back, heard his own groans. The wind had risen. Rain fell in sheets as a spent, dreary daylight struggled over the stormy waters of the Sound. Boasting himself to his elbows, he managed to struggle upright by degrees, every bone in him protesting the effort. He looked about, saw Jason flat on his face.

"Jason! On your feet!"

With Michael's help, Jason made it. His eyes were bloodshot, his face pale and moist. Dried blood oozed from an open cut on his forehead; his mouth was bruised, puffed. He fingered the back of his head.

They searched vainly for their hats. Jason fell in his coat pocket. "What the devil did they want with my loading invoice? Well, let's get along to my hotel. No use advertising this, is there?"

"I guess so." The money was gone. They had no notion of the identity of their attackers. Why phantasies their poor showing?

"Any ideas, Jason?"

"A sneak thief. Or thiever. The town's full of 'em."

They met Clyde Ryerson in the hotel lobby. He nodded to them. Jason brushed past but Clyde halted to stare at Michael. "Brawling? Who came out second-best?"

"We weren't introduced to them," Michael said.

Clyde's green eyes were amused. He waited for Michael's explanation, asked no questions when it was not forthcoming. His smile lingered as he moved on.

"Ryerson noisy?" Jason jammed his key into the lock.

"Hinted he thought you and I had missed it."

"He knew better! I wonder how much better."

Michael, in the act of peeling off his coat, turned. "Good heaven, Jason, you don't think Ryerson robbed us?"

"Maybe he knows who did."

Aaron, Badball Hitter Gives Dodgers Fit

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Joe Adcock rocks Brooklyn with his home runs and Bob Buhl rolls 'em with his fast stuff, but it's Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's badball hitter, who really gives the Dodgers fits.

"Aaron doesn't come into a ball park looking for bases on balls," said Brooklyn right-hander Carl Erskine. "He'll swing at anything he thinks he can hit. A pitcher gets nowhere going outside the range of his hat."

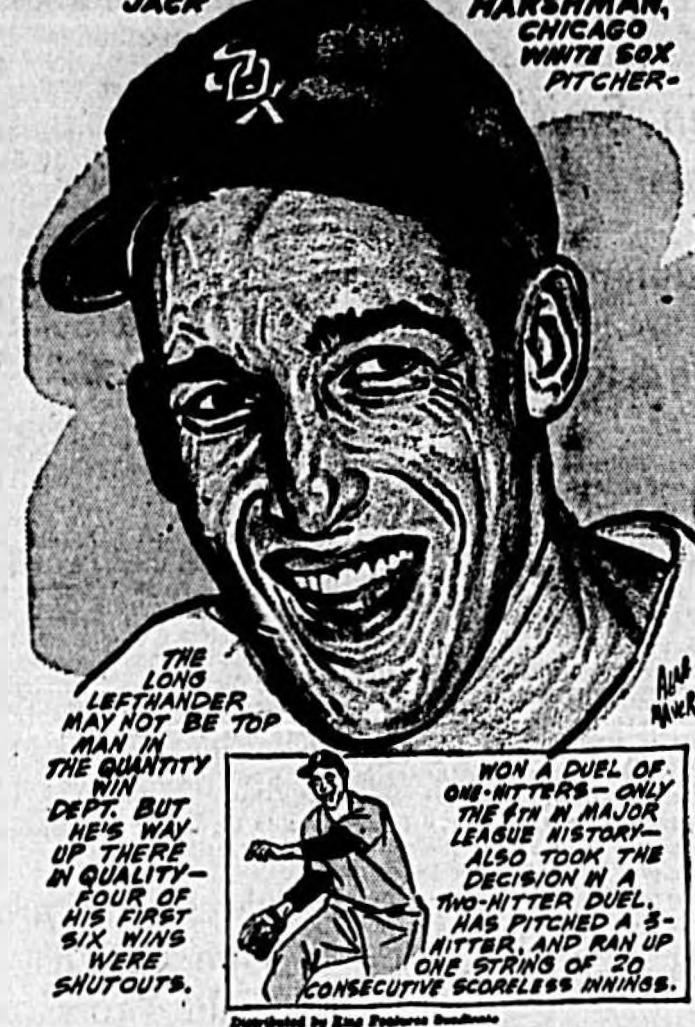

Right-handers Roger Craig and Ed Roebuck and southpaw Ken Lehman got nowhere against Henry, batting .417 against Brooklyn and leading the National League at .342, last night. He smacked three hits in five trips, driving in four runs—including the clincher with his 18th homer—as the first-place Braves socked the Dodgers 8-6 in the opener of a four-game set at Ebbets Field.

It was Milwaukee's seventh straight against the Brooks and knocked the third-place world champs five games behind while keeping the Braves 2 1/2 games ahead of Cincinnati, a 4-3 winner at Pittsburgh.

In the only other NL action, Philadelphia jumped past Pittsburgh into fifth place by beating the Chicago Cubs, 5-4 and 4-2, in a two-night twin bill.

In the American, Mickey Mantle socked his 33rd and 34th home runs, one his first grand-slammer

300 Pros Tee Off In All-American Golf Tournament

CHICAGO, (AP)—Some 300 men pros, gunning for 60 qualifying spots in the All-American Golf tournament at Tam O'Shanter, tee off today to round out a field of 160 which will begin play Thursday.

The Tam tourney began yesterday with qualifying rounds in the men and women's amateur divisions.

All four tournaments, men and women's pro and amateur, will start Thursday. There will be no women's pro qualifying round.

Woodgie Reich, a 19-year-old freshman from Stanford, shot a three-under-par 69 yesterday to lead 25 qualifiers in the men's amateur division over the 6,918-yard course.

Robb Roberts, now 11-11, in the opener. Ernie Banks tagged Robin for his 34th.

Mantle, who has smacked nine homers against the Tribe, got No. 3 off Bob Lemon with his bases-loaded job as New York scored seven runs, all unearned, in the second. Whitey Ford struck out 10 to win his 14th with Mantle getting his other homer—going one ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace—off reliever Bob Feller.

Trucks, who walked eight, gave up singles to Billy Klaus and Don Buddin and a homer to Mickey Vernon while the Tigers, who had lost 11 in a row to Sullivan, won it with two runs in the fifth on two-out singles by Frank House and Jim Small.

Nieman's bust-up homer, his 10th, was off reliever Tom Gorman. Oriole starter Ray Moore homered with a man on for a 2-1 lead, but gave way as the A's rallied. Mike Fornieles won it in relief.

Gainesville, Cocoa Palatka Steal FSL Top Spot for Week

By PETER MCNAUL
League Statistician

ORLANDO — Gainesville, Cocoa and Palatka stole the Class D Florida State League headlines for the week ending at midnight Thursday July 28. It is revealed in official averages released here today for that period.

Gainesville climaxed a stiff uphill fight for first place during the second half by breaking a two-year old jinx which saw the G's lose 18 straight games at Cocoa, a feat which found them riding on top of the standings by one game over Cocoa.

Cocoa's sluggers continued their assault on the league's home run record of 84 set by Sanford in 1932. Through Thursday, Cocoa had 82 with Cockrell with 18 and Alou and Pearson each with 16, having 50 of the 82.

Palatka dropped Ralph Hodgins as manager with Detroit's approval, and proceeded to win four straight for new but former business manager Charlie Baird. It was a sixth win in seven starts during the best week yet turned in by the Tigers. Baird will be a playing manager, and he has eyes on the second half flag which was only six games away as of midnight Thursday.

Felipe Alou, Cocoa outfield ace, continued to pull away from second-place Don Dillard of Daytona in the race for the individual batting crown. Alou had a .404 to .380 for Dillard.

St. Petersburg and West Palm Beach continued their fight for second half honors, too, the former adding former Orlandoan Dike Wilson as "insurance" toward that end, with the latter under Walt Nevick counting on hurling for the drive.

Orlando officially changed its name from Sortomans to Colonels after the parent Louisville club which now owns the franchise.

New players signed during the week included rookie Bob White-

Bill Voiselle Is Getting Suspicious

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Numerology has never bothered big Bill Voiselle, Montgomery's busy reliever specialist, but the 6-foot-3 righthander is getting down right suspicious of the combination of 10 and 8.

The former major league moundsman has figured in the last three Rebel decisions, losing the last two by 10-8 margins. Tom Brown produced Nashville's victory bulge in the 18th inning last night, clubbing Voiselle for his ninth homer with one on in the third extra round.

Big Bill lost by the same score Sunday when Birmingham belted him for four runs in the eighth. Saturday night he was a 7-5 winner in 10 over the league leaders.

The O'Brien twins, Eddie and Johnny, of the Pittsburgh Pirates lost their bonus designation on July 2. It means they had served two full years in the majors and on that date were subject to option.

Tony Ware, a member of West Virginia University's 1946 and 1947 football squads, is coaching at Marietta, Ohio High School.

Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves played third base for the Detroit Tigers from 1922 through 1923 and with the Boston Red Sox in 1926 and 1927.

Mantle Swatting Cleveland Out Of Pennant Race

CLEVELAND, OH — Mickey Mantle is swatting the Cleveland Indians out of the American League pennant race.

The New York Yankee slugger smacked two more homers off Cleveland pitchers last night, as the Yanks reclaimed a 10-game lead over the second-place Indians with a 13-4 victory.

Cleveland's pennant hopes, already dim, were reduced to a mere flicker. If the Yanks play only .500 ball the rest of the way, the Indians will have to win two out of three.

Mantle's two homers, his 33rd and 34th of the season, put him one game ahead of Babe Ruth's pace when he hit 60 in 1927.

He's hit safely in all 18 games against Cleveland, and is batting .378 against them. That's a major reason why the Yanks have won the last eight contests between the two teams.

No. 33 came in the second inning off starter Bob Lemon, who also was the loser, and it landed in the lower right field stands.

That was the inning in which New York scored seven unearned runs while making only three hits. No. 34 came off Bob Feller in the fifth, scoring Billy Martin, and was a sharp blow over the right field fence.

Commissioner David Gatchel, commenting on the improvement program said "Those things we can point our finger at won't be noticed only by the citizens here but by everyone who comes to Sanford either as a visitor or as a business man."

The street lighting program was approved first as the topmost item on the proposed expansion and improvement program of the city. Under consideration are new lights for French Ave., Seminole Boulevard to First St. on French Ave., First St. from French Ave. to Sanford, and additional lights on Park Ave. from the intersection of French Ave. to 23th St.

Second on the priority list for capital improvements receiving the go ahead from the Board of Sanford City Commissioners is the proposal to construct a Sanford Civic Center or community center on Sanford Ave. at Seminole Boulevard to house an auditorium, meeting rooms, recreation area, library and patio. The City Manager's presentation pictured the new center as a large, single story building with a large portion of glass walls.

The public library, now on Fifth St., could be sold as well as the present Yacht Club for additional funds for the construction of the new center since civic club meeting rooms and library space would be provided in the new structure. The Youth Council, Commissioners were told, has $3,000 available toward such a project.

In approving the project Mayor Scott said "The way to increase the size of the city is to have a few conventions and let the people see it." The city will now explore the possibilities of a Civic Center and negotiate for an architect to work out the preliminary plans. Included in the approval for exploration and architectural plans were the Goldsboro Recreational Area swimming pool and the breakwater for a Sanford boat basin.

Plans for a boat basin and breakwater met a cold shoulder from the commission at first. Mayor Scott suggested that consideration of this item be delayed until the Sanford-Titusville Canal is approved. However, the need for such an attraction for Sanford overcame the reluctance of some to bypass the project and it was added to the proposed improvement program.

Different ideas from members of the Board of Commissioners highlighted the discussion of a proposal to add new equipment to the Sanford Fire Department and build a new central location for a portion of the apparatus and department personnel.

Commissioner Gatchel said "I feel that we need a minimum of one new pumper retaining all of the old equipment. I consider a new station as a crying need, but our immediate need is for one new pumper," he said.

Commissioner Higginbotham remarked "We should scatter our equipment out a bit."

City Manager Knowles presented a blackboard diagram of the proposed new fire station and the necessary for two new pumps to convince the Board of Commissioners of Sanford's present needs.

Commissioner Gatchel said "The plans would practically assure our city lower fire insurance rates." He then proposed that the city pursue the recommendations of the City Manager.

Also meeting the approval of the commissioners last night were two new packers for the city's refuse department, dump trucks, street sweeper and a duster-loader.

However, the replacement of automobiles for both the Police Department and the Fire Department were eliminated from the Capital Improvement program. These items would be considered in the city's annual budget.

Set aside for further study were proposals for a public works department radio network and air conditioning for the City Hall and Police Department.

The City of Sanford will immediately begin exploring the possibilities of the various projects proposed and negotiate with architects for preliminary plans and specifications.

Committee

increasing powers of the governor were amended to limit the increased powers to five years. The House had amended the teacher assignment bill to give the county school boards greater latitude in making replacements of teachers.

Yesterday's House committee meeting on segregation bills was highlighted by appearance of Sumner L. Lowry and by Atty. Gen. Ervin.

Lowry, who campaigned unsuccessfully against Collins in the May primary on a segregation platform, told the committee the Legislature should defy the U. S. Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling even if public officials went to jail.

Lowry urged adoption of an interposition resolution and said all Florida had to do to prevent integration in public schools was to say to the U. S. Supreme Court "we openly and officially defy you."

Ervin also urged adoption of an interposition resolution and said the emergency amendment proposal which would permit operation of a private school system was the only effective means of avoiding integration legally.

Only administration bill still hanging in the Senate is the proposal providing stiff penalties for false or misleading advertising by real estate promoters. It is designed to prevent out of state buyers of real estate from being defrauded by misleading advertising.

The measure was approved by a Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday after it was amended to exempt licensed real estate brokers from a provision that copies of planned out of state advertising be filed with the Real Estate Commission. Another amendment would exempt from the filing a person advertising five or less parcels for sale.

The Senate cleared up details of various other important legislation.

It completed action and sent to the governor a bill requiring State Road Department maintenance of former primary roads dropped when a new system was adopted last month.

The senators also accepted House amendments to bills to permit the game commission to trade a tract in the Jim Corbett Game Management Area near West Palm Beach for an adjoining tract and to repeal the 1935 Development Credit Corporation Law.

The game commission property is wanted as a site for a jet aircraft engine plant.

The Senate refused to accept a House amendment to its bill setting admission procedures to the state hospitals. The amendment would have required patients to be committed to the mental institution nearest their homes.

Explosions Knock Out Jacksonville's Electric Current

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A series of transformer explosions in the underground distribution system knocked out electric current in downtown Jacksonville for two hours early today, caused minor injuries to a cab driver and shattered plate glass windows.

Dillon Kennedy, utilities commissioner, said the cause was not known immediately.

The most spectacular blast came at Main and Forsyth streets where a taxi driver was knocked out of his parked vehicle. He had a bruised hip and his taxi had minor damage.

Eight plate glass windows in a nearby store were shattered. Kennedy estimated damages to the distribution system would run "better than $10,000."

George Kinman, vice president of Florida Power & Light has testified twice in support of the application. His testimony was similar to that of Dick W. Among city officials from Florida who have appeared to tell FPC of the widespread demand for natural gas and the substantial savings promised amounting to more than 25 per cent in the delivered fuel prices in many cases—were:

Bartow, City Manager Charles Odom; Blountstown, Mayor R. W. Foster and City Clerk W. H. Hiles; Clearwater, Mayor Herbert M. Brown and City Manager F. M. Middleton; Gainesville, John Kelly, public utilities manager; Lake Alfred, City Manager George Costello; Lakeland, City Manager David Payne and City Attorney J. C. Rogers; Leesburg, Mayor Alfred Smith, and City Manager J. K. Mizell; Madison, Mayor Van H. Priest; Orlando, Curtis H. Stanton, secretary of the city utilities commission; Plant City, City Attorney Paul Ruchman; Starke, Mayor W. T. Jackson and City Clerk Carl Jones; Tallahassee, City Manager Arvah B. Hopkins.

Other cities throughout the state and many officials of utility companies, both municipally and privately owned, as well as engineers and fiscal agents for numerous Florida cities, also have appeared in support of the application or plan shortly to express their endorsement.

Congressmen Will Inspect Stockholm

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine congressmen will go to a Brooklyn dry-dock tomorrow to inspect the Swedish ship damaged in the collision that sank the Italian luxury liner Andrea Doria.

The congressmen, members of the House Merchant Marine Committee, will look over the liner Stockholm as the first step in a probe of safety at sea.

The captains of both lines have declined to state publicly and in detail the "how's" and "whys" of the disaster. They say the full story must await official investigations.

In the congressional probe that starts tomorrow, Chairman Herbert C. Bonner (D-N.C.), said, "It is not the intention of the committee to determine questions of liability as between the two ill-fated ships."

He said in Washington the group will try to find out what examination and inspection was made during the building of the Doria and whether the two ships had conformed with the international convention for safety of life at sea.

Leary To Relieve Hamrick As Special Services Officer

Lieutenant Commander L. J. Leary, USN, will assume duty as Special Services Officer of Sanford Naval Air Station, in early August, relieving Commander Lawrence L. Hamrick, USN, who is presently Flight Division Officer of the station.

As Special Services Officer, he will be responsible for providing a constant recreation program for all station personnel, and fleet units based at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

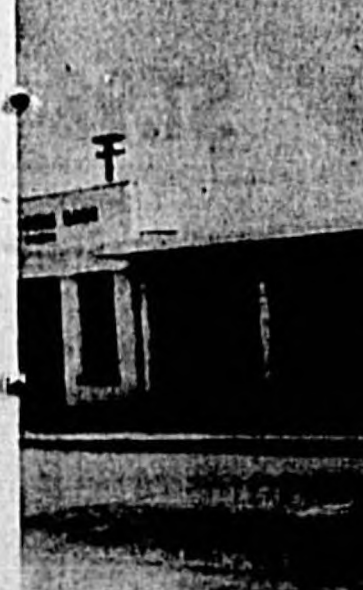

Lieutenant Commander Leary relieved aboard Sanford NAS from the Whidbey Island NAS, near Seattle, Wash., where he was Executive Officer of F-800N 112.

Since entering the Navy in 1941, he has had various duties as Flight Instructor, Transport Pilot, Administration Officer, and Communications Officer, with different squadrons and shore establishments throughout the world.

Lieutenant Commander Leary was in the American Area European-African-Middle Eastern Area, Atlantic-Pacific Area, WW II Victory, and National Defense medals. He is married to the former Miss Dorothy Blanchard, of Newport, R. I. They have two children, Patricia, 4 and Michael 2. They reside in Sanford.

NATIONAL CEMETERY IN FLORIDA TO BE CONSIDERED RIVERIA BEACH — Establishment of a national cemetery in Florida would ease numerous hardships facing relatives of armed service veterans who die in poor circumstances, a Veterans of Foreign Wars post said yesterday.

VFW Post 4143 said it was urging government officials and other veterans' groups to consider such a cemetery.

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida House voted 51 to 35 today to reconstitute itself into a committee of the whole House to consider a resolution of interposition.

The motion was made by Rep. Farris Bryant of Marion County, a leading proponent of interposition.

An attempt by House Speaker Ted David to dissolve the committee before it had an opportunity to consider the resolution failed by voice vote. David left the rostrum when the committee was formed and former House Speaker Tom Chasley of Walton County took over as chairman.

The red-hot floor battle over the interposition resolution, two potential 1960 candidates for governor—Bryant and David—locked horns in heading up opposing sides.

Bryant and David clashed first yesterday before the House Committee on Segregation Bills rejected the resolution by a vote of 12 to 8, with David opposing the measure and Bryant urging its approval.

The floor fight held up adjournment plans, although many legislators forecast that the session would wind up some time today.

The Senate, waiting House action, adopted a resolution calling for sine die adjournment at noon. The resolution would have to be concurred in by the House to end the special session.

Yesterday Rep. J. Emory Cross of Alachua County offered a motion to bring the resolution to the floor despite the unfavorable committee report. Action was cut off by adjournment for the day.

House proponents of the resolution blocked a Senate plan for ending the special session at 3 p. m. yesterday.

During the heated committee debate, Bryant urged passage of the resolution as a symbol, even though it might lack legal effect.

"There has to be a time when we say 'So far and no further shall you go,'" Bryant declared.

Residents Submit Prize Winning Entries In Contest

Prize winning entries were submitted by four Sanford area residents in the Sealy $500,000 Posturepedic Contest. It was announced today by Sealy, Inc., Chicago, manufacturers of mattresses and convertible sleep furniture.

The winners, who will receive a Posturepedic mattress from the stores where they entered the contest, now are being considered for a grand prize of $20,000 in cash or common stocks or one of 31 expense-paid vacations for two in Jamaica via Delta Air Lines.

Entrants were asked to choose a name for the Sealy Posturepedic Girl, widely used in advertising the mattress. The contest, one of the largest ever held, drew hundreds of thousands of entries.

Some 5,000 qualifying winners in the United States and Canada are to receive Posturepedic mattresses from their dealers. They were selected by the Reuben H. Donnelly Company, Chicago, contest judges. Grand prize winners will be announced in mid-August.

Local winners are: Roosevelt Green, Rt. 3, Box 104; Aletha Evans, Enterprise; Mildred Ruth Luster, P. O. Box 66, Lake Mary; Teresa Katherine Martin, 613 W. First St.

Oviedo Residents Boasting Of Big, New Drug Store

By MARIAN JONES

OVIDEO —The wheels of progress must roll on. Such is true in the Oviedo area.

Jerry Arndt has opened a feed store in the building occupied by the Oviedo Variety Store but lying vacant for many months. Rob Haggdale has rented the C. T. Niblack building and has opened Radio and T. V. Shop there. Rob was in radar in the Air Corp for four years, and following his discharge he worked for RCA for a while then decided to take up TV for he had already had radio.

King's Radio and T. V. Shop, owned by Jack King Jr. moved from its location to the store formerly housing the Oviedo Drug Store. This store, recently remodeled, etc. by Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Jones, owner now displays a lovely arrangement of electrical appliances. Jack has his work shop in the back, but it is screened from view of the plate glass windows by shelves containing electrical appliances, and W. A. Ward Jr. is his assistant in the work.

We think that the Oviedo Drug Store warrants the greatest change for when Mr. and Mrs. Jones built these two modern buildings we had visualized a drug store located there.

Well, Ross Noegel, new manager of the Oviedo Drug Store, must have been looking at the same image. For three days in July the store was closed, and all helpers plus extra help, a hand and the mass movement was accomplished. The petition between the two stores had been removed and the huge store was the result. "What a store for this size town!" is the exclamation we have heard from many visiting the store.

A brand new soda fountain, the horseshoe variety, graces the East wall. Small booths are also on hand for customers. The new lighting system is much brighter and prettier than the old one and the store boasts a huge stock.

Mrs. Elsie Fleming, Mrs. Ann Reynolds, Roy Weisenberger Jr. and Miss Mary Alexander serve you at the soda fountain while Roy Weisenberger is the pharmacist. Mrs. Weisenberger is on hand to help out in most any situation even to the books too.

The only fly in the ointment is the fact that the lovely interior of the store is screened from the public view by shelves in front of those beautiful plate glass windows. At first it was believed that they were there only temporarily but it seems otherwise now. "What a shame to ruin such a lovely place like that," is the comment heard from many.

Due to the absence of a restaurant in town, complete facilities have been installed for this purpose, Mr. Noegel says. Now those who have had to resort to hamburgers, or sandwiches of some description, can have a better choice.

Weather
Mostly fair today and Thursday except for a few widely scattered afternoon thundershowers; low tonight 69 to 74.

Home Ownership Important

Home ownership, now appreciated by the majority of Americans for its contribution to pleasant and healthful daily living, was cited today as one of the bulwarks in family planning for future retirement by J. W. Hall, president of the Seminole County Board of Realtors.

"There is a great deal of talk these days about the fact that our population is tending to have a higher proportion of elderly persons Hall said. "And it is true that in 1950 only slightly over 4 per cent of our population was 65 or over, compared with about 8 per cent in that age group today, and an estimated 10 per cent of our people who will be 65 or over in 1975."

"These facts have given rise to a number of government plans—many of them impractical and at variance with our traditional principles—to ease the problems of the aged."

"The truth of the matter is," the Seminole County real estate executive continued, "that there are five concrete steps which many American families can take on their own initiative to assure a financially-secure old age. Home ownership is one of these, and like the others, the earlier in life it is realized the more pleasant the retirement years will be."

Hall listed the other four elements in a practical personal retirement plan as the maintenance of a savings or investment account, the creation of a life insurance program providing for a monthly retirement income as well as the protection of dependents, an understanding of federal social security benefits, and knowledge of the provisions of company pension plans that may be available to employees.

"The important thing here," Hall cautioned, "is to realize that no one of these elements is generally sufficient by itself to provide more than a minimum standard of living for the average person. But a combination of most of them adds up to what the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has called 'the best kind of retirement plan.'"

In support of the practicality of his advice, Hall noted that today over half of the persons 65 or older have some form of lifetime income from retirement plans, and that six of 10 non-farm families are in the home ownership status.

Pointing out that maximum feasible home ownership has long been a national goal of all Realtors and the National Association of Real Estate Boards to which they belong, Hall said also that average monthly home mortgage payments in this area are no higher than many rents, and that legitimate income tax advantages are often connected with home ownership.

"But the very real and direct benefits in buying a home new as a part of a retirement plan for the future are two-fold," Hall stated.

"First, by the time most wage-earners are ready for retirement, they will own their own home free of debt and subject only to maintenance charges and to the property tax which is very reasonable here because of home-stead exemption which we have here in Florida.

"Second, if the retired family should wish to sell their paid-for home, the money received can go far toward providing for the realization of the retirement life preferred—travel or whatever the heart might desire.

After all, what more could one desire, than to live in Florida and enjoy all its advantages?"

"Home ownership—the foundation of so much of great value in our national and civic life—can also be the foundation of a secure future for the young couples of today who will be tomorrow's senior citizens," he concluded.

County To Get Over $22,000 From Gas Tax

Seminole County's share in the June gas tax collections comes to $22,006.77, said Ray E. Green, State Comptroller, in his report of gasoline sales and tax collected.

"Gasoline sales during the month of June (with sales reported and tax collected during July) totaled 117,442,965 gallons, an increase of 5,432,591 over the 112,010,404 gallons used during the previous month," Green stated in his monthly memorandum.

June sales, the report included were also an increase of 19,306,048 gallons over the total of 98,136,916 gallons for the same month last year.

Gas collections on June sales amounted to $8,190,015, an increase of $379,296 over collections of the previous month and $1,348,899 over the $6,841,616 collected for the same monthly period last year, Green reported.

June gasoline sales this year were unexpectedly high, said Green. During past years, he commented in his report, starting with sales during May there is a leveling off, with only comparatively minor variations month to month, with September the lowest month of the year. In October, sales start to rise again. The rate of gasoline consumption during June would appear to be evidence that the summer tourist season in Florida has greatly exceeded that of previous years, Green said.

In Seminole County, during June, there were 877,150 gallons of gasoline consumed with a total tax collection of $61,600.50.

Tax returned to counties from gasoline tax collections are for road bond and road building purposes.

Deputies Not Revealed

Sheriff J. Luther Hobby said this morning that he will take over the Seminole County Sheriff's office as soon as possible.

"Arrangements must be complete for the transfer of automobiles and other equipment," Hobby said.

Earlier this morning, Hobby stated "From what I have heard and read, I have been reinstated."

"However," he said, "there has been no official notification from the Governor or from Senator Douglas Stenstrom relative to my reinstatement."

Later today, Sheriff Hobby informed The Sanford Herald, "I have been informed by Senator Stenstrom who is now in Tallahassee that the action of the Senate automatically reinstates me and I am now the Sheriff."

"My next move will be to take over the sheriff's office and equipment at the earliest possible time from Denver Cordell sheriff during the time of my who was appointed to serve as suspension," Hobby said.

"I am not quite ready to announce the names of those who will serve as deputies on my staff," Hobby informed The Herald today. He said, "Jimmy Singletary will remain as office deputy."

With the action of the Senate, Seminole County is immediately under the jurisdiction of Sheriff J. Luther Hobby, according to statements released to the Sheriff from Tallahassee. No further action or notification is necessary since the Governor's office of suspension was not approved by the Senate on its presentation yesterday.
